NEW SENATORS ARE WELCOMED BY PRES. BIRGE

Emphasizes Importance of Work of Senate; Brown Elected President

Maynard W. Brown '23 was elected president of the new student senate at its organization meeting held last night in the law building. Ralph Ingraham '25 was elected secretary.

Election of committee members and a welcoming speech by President Birge to the new senate was the only other business conducted.

Good Results Important

"The student body with the faculty and employees composes a body of people numbering nearly 10,000," President Birge said. "Add to that the fact that this body is backed and watched by representatives and officials of the state and you will readily see the vast importance of obtaining good results from this body and of maintaining good standards in obtaining them. I hope the new senators will look at it in this light. They will have certain ordinances to enforce upon the student body and they will have to enforce them by methods not always to their liking. This will give them an idea of some of the problems confronting the faculty."

Advises Acting Carefully

"I would caution the senate to think deeply before taking any steps in any matter," President Birge said. "Passing measures which cannot be enforced only weakens the general opinion of the senate and makes it harder to obtain results in any matter. You will also find that the more jobs you get rid of, the better off you will be. This is the attitude taken by the faculty in all matters pertaining to student government."

The senate's handling of the hazing situation was applauded by the president. He also stated that he did not believe the liquor question would cause any great trouble.

Committees elected are as follows:

Judiciary committee: Earle Gill '23, chairman, Robert Aspinwall grad, Gamber Tegtmeyer '24.

Elections committee: Harold Seering '24, chairman, Wilber Wittenberg '24, Edgar Smith '24, Ralph Balliette '23, Oscar Kiesling '23.

Joint government committee: Oscar Kiesling '23 chairman, Gustav Tebelle '23, James Flickinger '26.

Drastic Measures Will Be Used Against Scalpers

Paul F. Hunter, director of ticket sales, declared yesterday that police and sheriff's forces will be on hand to prevent the sale of Illinois tickets at excessive prices.

A squad of plain clothes men and federal officers will not only arrest those who sell or attempt to sell tickets at a greater price than is printed on the ticket, but the original purchaser of that ticket will be placed on the blacklist and will never be permitted to purchase a ticket to any athletic contest from the University of Wisconsin, according to Hunter.

"The federal authorities are sending a large force of operatives to Madison this week to co-operate in every way possible with the athletic council and local officials, and both purchaser and seller of any ticket are taking a desperate chance," the sales director said.

HEOMCOMING CARDINAL

There will be no delivery of The Cardinal to subscribers on Saturday morning. Copies may be obtained from members of Theta Sigma Phi and at The Cardinal office.

WEATHER: CLOUDY

Overcast skies are predicted for Madison and vicinity tomorrow and Friday. Not much change in temperature is expected.

Student Directory Made Correct For New Edition

The proof of the corrected student directory including the list of the faculty members will be returned to the registrar's office today for final corrections. The last details will be inserted on this proof, and it will then be returned for final printing.

These late editions of the directories will not be issued to the entire student body. They will be issued to the entire student body. They will be ready in a few days, when certain business organizations and down town firms, will either receive copies gratis, or be charged a small sum for same, according to future determination.

Any corrections to appear in the completed directory must be reported to the office of the Registrar today.

CARNIVAL ACTS TO ENTERTAIN

Five Headliners Will Feature Bill to Please Old Grads Friday

Five headliner acts will constitute the big Homecoming carnival show that producer Ralph Sheinpung has ready to offer to the old "grads" and students who are expected to fill the university gymnasium at 8:30 o'clock on Friday night.

Since there will be no Union Vodvil show this season, the best talent in school has been procured for the Homecoming event, and every act on the bill is a feature attraction.

Charge 25 Cents

A charge of twenty-five cents per person will be made this year. This plan has been inaugurated in order to prevent the gymnasium from being over run by countless children.

Paulie Mc Donald and his orchestra will constitute the first act upon the program.

Two Haresfoot Skits

Two skits from the 1921 Haresfoot show, Kitty's Korner, will then be presented to the audience. The first will feature John Cassidy while the well-known pair, Cornelius and Butts, will execute the "Addison and Delicia" act.

Bobby Costello, of the University quartet, has prepared an act which is entitled, "The Dancing Fool."

Probably the feature act of the program will be the farce comedy which the university players will present. It is called "Julia Seezer" and was written by Heinz Rubel, whose offerings are read each day under the Ink Ally column of the Wisconsin State Journal.

ROLLIE FEATURES ON REVUE COVER

An action sketch of Captain Rollie Williams carrying the ball, done in three colors by Herbert Brockhausen '23, features the cover of the Homecoming Athletic Review on sale Friday and Saturday.

The cover is the salient detail of the artistic scheme which has been carried out by the editor, Porter F. Butts '24, to make the program a complete and permanent souvenir of the week end.

Seventy-five pictures and cartoons are used to illustrate the 56 pages of the book. Individual action photos of the men on the Varsity team appear in connection with three pages of humorous patter by "Chuck."

The Review this year is issued as the official Homecoming program, containing the Homecoming event schedule and the game lineup besides the feature material on football and Wisconsin sports.

Radio Breakdown Stops U. W. Broadcasting Plans

The Wisconsin radio station, W. H. A. will not be able to broadcast the homecoming game as had been planned for Saturday. A breakdown of apparatus and the lack of repairs at present will not allow the station to do any broadcasting for about two weeks.

$2,300 PLEDGED FOR MEMORIAL UNION CAMPAIGN

Milwaukee County Leads In Wisconsin; Chicago In Illinois

More than $2,300 has been pledged to the Memorial Union fund by the new students, in the last ten days, and the drive closes tomorrow noon.

"We want the whole thing cleaned up before the Homecoming festivities are in full sway," said Morton Frost, '23 general chairman of the campaign. "This is the last day in which to get track of the new students, and we want a report from every card that has been handed out."

Wisconsin has only $300,000 to go yet in order to reach the required million. It is the privilege of the new student, and those who have not yet subscribed to make up the present deficit.

All through the drive, Milwaukee county has lead the Wisconsin counties, with Dane county running close second. At one time the city of Chicago was ahead of Milwaukee county.

"We are glad to see that the counties from which there are only one or two students, have come across in fine shape," said Frost '23. "We are anxious that they get sold on this proposition, and that they take it home to their surrounding communities."

"Every member of this school will be proud to say that he is a member of the Wisconsin Union when he is far from the campus of his Alma Mater," said Prof. E. H. Gardner, campaign manager of the Memorial Union.

"We expect the Memorial Union buttons by Saturday in order to have them for use during homecoming," said Frost, "and we are doing everything we can to rush shipment."

Michigan men wear their Union button wherever they go, and it is the plan of the Memorial Union committee to have the Wisconsin Union button mean even more on account of its relation to the Wisconsin gold star men.

The button is gold and cardinal, and the design was planned by the Union board. It is to be given to every life member who has paid $25 or more on his Memorial Union pledge.

No Overflow Meeting For Big Pep Session

No overflow meeting for the Homecoming massmeeting will be held in Music hall, contrary to general rumor, it was announced last night, by Robert Stewart '23.

The entire band, composed of 126 pieces will be placed at the gymnasium for the meeting and the second band will not be held for Music hall.

The time for the meeting has been set at 6:45 o'clock.

HOSPITALITY

ONE of the greatest benefits of intercollegiate athletic competition lies in the friendly spirit of rivalry, good sportsmanship, and hospitality it engenders among the undergraduates of competing institutions. For years that friendly spirit has characterized the relations among students in the Big 10 conference.

That spirit should continue, undisturbed by the headlines of metropolitan newspapers.

Wisconsin showed Indiana a good time two weeks ago. Minnesota showed Wisconsin a good time last Saturday.

This weekend the Illini will be Wisconsin's guests. Let every Badger consider himself the host of every Illinois undergraduate in Madison this week end. Let every Wisconsin student meet every Illinois student in a spirit of friendly rivalry, good sportsmanship, courteous hospitality.

Must Order Michigan Seats Before Saturday

A total of 1,446 tickets for the Michigan game at Ann Arbor on November 18 went on sale at the gymnasium last night. The Wisconsin Alumni Association of Detroit has ordered 502 in one block.

Students must act promptly if they wish to secure a seat at the Michigan game as Coach Yost sends word that Michigan is entirely sold out and requests that all unsold tickets be sent back not later than Sunday. All seats are $2.50 and begin at the center of the field. Tickets can be secured by writing to the athletic department.

Special trains on both the Northwestern and Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul lines will be run to Ann Arbor.

THETA SIGS TO SELL CARDINAL

Regular Subscribers Will Not Receive Copies Next Saturday

The special Homecoming edition of The Cardinal will be sold Saturday by members of Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary and professional journalism fraternity.

Copies will be sold at 10 cents each. Orders for the sale are being taken at the present time. The regular Cardinal subscription list will be cancelled for the day. Local subscribers must purchase copies from Theta Sigma Phi. The mailing list will be accommodated as usual. Persons or organizations desiring to place orders for the edition are requested to communicate with Portia B. Lugoff '23 at either B-250 or B-2172.

Members of Theta Sigma Phi will sell from booths placed on Lake street, on Langdon street before the Union building and The Cardinal business office.

The edition is to contain 24 pages filled with special news and feature stories. A full page drawing of a football player kicking a ball will be printed on the pink cover sheet. Pictures of the entire football squad will be inserted in the drawing.

A full page of cuts showing members of the Homecoming staff will also be included in the edition. Two columns of sky rockets and historic reviews of past Homecoming games and activities will also be featured.

FORENSIC BANQUET HELD ON TUESDAY

Speakers at the Forensic banquet held Tuesday evening, although of the opinion that student interest in forensics is evidently on the increase at Wisconsin, stated that more students should tryout for the intercollegiate debates.

Prof. J. M. O'Neill showed, by statistics taken from Wisconsin records, that a good proportion of campus leaders have engaged in forensic activities. Carroll Heft '23, representing the student veterans debaters, emphasized the ever increasing need and advantages of supporting forensics.

Pearl Anderberg '23, stated that university women were taking a greater interest in forensics, and that several would compete in the coming tournaments. According to the records, there have been no women members of Varsity debate teams for the last 15 years, at least.

Alvin C. Reis, winner of the Northern Oratorical league, stated that by maintaining the standards of forensics at the university, eminent high school debaters would continue to enter the institution, thus providing new material for such activities.

Attorney M. B. Olbrich stated that debating, by providing keen competition in intellectual affairs, was enough in itself to keep it popular. He predicted that interest in forensics would never decline, for speaking practice is necessary for success in law, politics, education, and business.

ATHLETES RAID VARSITY TODAY IN BUTTON SALE

Homecoming Workers Will Start Campaign on Hill at Noon

Promptly at noon today an army of Homecoming button salesmen will invade the campus and university district in an effort to put across the sale of 6,000 official emblems.

The Homecoming button is an old tradition at Wisconsin, and is as much a part of the celebration as is the football game.

Balliette In Charge

The distribution of the buttons has been worked out on a systematic basis by Chairman Ralph Balliette, '23. All numeral and letter men who are in school at the present time and who are not on the football squad will carry on the active sale around the campus. W. G. Perry, who is in charge of the information booths, has contracted for 1500 of the emblems, and they will be sold from the booths.

Cooperation Wanted

Marjorie Severance has all members of the Women's Athletic Association as salesmen under her direction, and a vast number of buttons are expected to be distributed in this manner.

Since an unusually large expense is being incurred in carrying out of this year's Homecoming program and since the button is the sole means of financing the celebration, Homecoming officials desire that everyone cooperate and purchase button as soon as possible.

The buttons are to be sold at twenty-five cents each and only 6000 of them are on hand.

Balliette reports that he has received plenty of cooperation in the disposal of the emblems and he predicts that they will all be disposed of long before the demand ceases.

25 SENIORS GO ON ENGINEERING TRIP

About 25 seniors engineering students will make an eastern trip including such industrial cities as Buffalo, Cleveland, Detroit, and Niagara Falls, inspecting large manufacturing concerns, the week ending November 25.

They will leave on Friday, November 17, and go by the way of Ann Arbor to see the football game with Michigan on Saturday and will arrive back in Chicago in time to see the Wisconsin-Chicago on the following Saturday.

Another hundred or more students will leave on the following Monday on the western trip which has been customary since the war, and includes such cities as Kenosha, Milwaukee, Waukegan, and Chicago. This group will also stay in Chicago to see the football game.

Kansas U. Will Receive Reports Play-By-Play

Kansas university will receive play-by-play reports of football games by means of a Gridgraph installed recently.

HOMECOMING HOOCH

HOMECOMING in the past has been considered as an appropriate time for moderate drinkers to get tight. They have.

As Madison at Homecoming time is thronged with visitors, the performances of such moderate drinkers have made Wisconsin famous. The trouble has been that visitors did not know that the gentlemen they saw no State street were moderate drinkers.

Visiting Gophers have acquired the idea that Wisconsin is a den of alcoholic iniquity. Visiting Illinois have received somewhat the same impression. Visiting up-staters, lacking the sympathetic undergraduate point of view on matters festal, have taken home an impression considerably more vehement.

Such fame does the university no good. This year's Homecoming committee has recognized that fact and has advocated a limitation on the alcoholic content of homecomers' suit cases. Its suggestion has met with favorable response from alumni.

It is too much to hope that the student body will get behind its committee and make this a sane and sober Homecoming?

We think not. We believe that the student body which recently expressed itself against alcoholic intemperance will make its opinion felt this week end.

Of course there will be an obvious minority. We have no intense desire to hear that the Madison cooler is crowded, but we do hope that such over indulgent enthusiasts will keep to the back streets.

CONSTRUCTIVE IDEA

SOME time ago The Cardinal suggested that the Council of 40 take up the matter of inter-sectional athletics.

Students last year expressed themselves 99 per cent in favor of an inter-sectional contest with an eastern university. Efforts to bring about such a contest have been blocked by the athletic council, in spite of evident student opinion.

That student opinion is unorganized. The Council of 40 was founded to organize student opinion. A petition circulated among the students would certainly mobilize that opinion and make it felt. We can think of no organization more suitable than the Council of 40 to originate such a petition for inter-sectional sport.

We imagine that members of the Council are among the 99 per cent who voted last year for an inter-sectional contest, but so far that organization has evidently been too busy to consider the matter.

CO-ED ORGANIZATION

NORTHWESTERN co-eds have organized and agreed not to date with football shieks in the gridiron season. We have heard nothing to indicate that such an organization is needed at Wisconsin.

A closed season on dates at football games has been suggested, but that would be too much to ask, even if it were entirely advisable.

But here is a suggestion.

Why shouldn't each co-ed who is fussed to the game Saturday consider herself an individual organization and vote unanimously that she will not date again with an escort who is not hoarse after the game?

REPORTS THAT INJURE

(From The Daily Illini)

In all the history of Conference athletics nothing has aroused so great a controversy among the several institutions of the middle west, indeed throughout the country, as the professionalism ruling.

Opinions as to the fairness of the ruling differ widely, but the majority of schools appear to have pledged their support to its enforcement. Illinois took the lead last winter in barring nine athletes from further participation in University athletics, and since that time there has been scarcely a week without the report of an athlete's being barred in some school or other. Whether the rule is a fair one makes little difference. The fact remains that it exists, and that it must be observed.

It was with this in mind that Wisconsin was informed of the questionable status of one of her athletes last September, and it is to be assumed that the same desire for observance of the rule prompted the Wisconsin coach to report five of the Illinois men. At any rate, the affair concerned, primarily, the two schools.

It is unfortunate that one of the great metropolitan papers took it upon itself to tell of the alleged war between the Badgers and the Illini. It appears much like improvised material to warm the top columns. The outsider would naturally think after reading the highly descriptive article in the Friday's issue of that paper of the alleged furore on the two campuses

Communication

S. G. A. POSTPONEMENT

Editor. The Cardinal: An S. G. A. picnic for all university women was planned last spring. Publicity on this event started several weeks before the event was to take place. Arrangements were made at the sorority houses for the women to attend. At 4:30 o'clock the day the picnic was to have taken place, an announcement from the S. G. A. office said, "Indefinitely postponed."

A Hallowe'en party this semester, which received a great deal of publicity in the Cardinal was also "indefinitely postponed." When announcement to this effect appeared in The Cardinal October 30, it was stated Dean F. Louise Nardin declined to state any reason for the action.

The following evening, however, an item in The Cardinal stated that S. G. A. had called off the masquerade in order to avoid setting the precedent on mid-week parties for co-eds.

Are the officers of S. G. A. and the dean of women so lacking in foresight that such an idea did not occur to them until the day before the party was to take place? Or perhaps it is a favorite sport of our officers to indefinitely postpone S. G. A. affairs.

Publicity chairmen of S. G. A. affairs have a double task on their hands when it is necessary to recreate interest in a postponed event. It is a well known fact that S. G. A. parties are not particularly popular.

This is not especially flattering when one considers the membership of S. G. A. Is not the reason for such a small representation to be found in the fact that a co-ed would rather play with one of the opposite sex during a weekend than go S. G. A.—ing with friend room-mate.

Our Self Government association certainly fails of its purpose if it cannot have one or two mid-week parties during the year without setting a precedent for the entire school. A bigger attendance would result if these parties were held during the mid-week, rather than on a Friday or Saturday night.

Can't we at least have the announcement of "indefinitely postponed" events one week head of time if the reason for the postponement is such as was given in the Cardinal on October 31.

Traffic Regulations Issued for Homecoming Game

Information, concerning the route to the stadium and the gates to be used, at the Homecoming game, has been given out. All persons holding tickets for sections and boxes A-B-C-D-E in the west stand, take University avenue from downtown to Breese Terrace.

Persons having seats in sections and boxes F-G-H-I-J take West Dayton street from downtown to Warren street, thence left to Monroe st., and right to Breese Terrace.

People are urgently requested to follow the above directions in order to split the crowd of 15,000 people entering the west stand. Gates are lettered the same as the sections—that is holders of tickets for section or box A enter through Gate A.

Those holding tickets for sections and boxes AA-BB-CC-DD in the east stand enter through the Memorial Arch to the north end of the new concrete stand.

Persons holding tickets for sections and boxes EE-FF-GG-HH-II enter from Monroe street, opposite the gasoline station, to the south end of the new concrete bleachers. People having tickets for sections K-L-M-N enter from Monroe street opposite the gasoline filling station also.

Those holding tickets for sections O-P-Q-R enter through the Memorial Arch to the north end of the field. All gates will be open at one o'clock.

that the two student bodies were advancing upon each other with weapons drawn. There has been no evidence of such hostility on the Illinois campus; nor have there been reports of it from Wisconsin. The affair of the story is a regrettable one.

It is unfortunate that a newspaper must resort to stories such as this—untrue, unverified—to fill its columns. It gives the public a perverted impression of the code of ethics of universities in general.

WELL WELL WELL!!!

WE RAN cross some thing that will perhaps interest the Student Body.

ESPECIALLY those who had the good fortune to be able to attend the Minn. game in person.

THE FOLLOWING is an extract from THE MINNEAPOLIS JOURNAL, Nov. 4, 1922, evidently written before the game.

"With Senator La Follette and 5,000 other noisy Badgers in the twin cities all singing THEIR OWN praises in loud and confident measures, the twin cities were just about fed up on Wisconsin self-praise, and the big Maroon and Gold team was prepared to do a little badger baiting on its own hook at Northrop Field and to send the pesky crew from Madison back across the Mississippi, properly restored to a fuller realization of its own humble position."

NOW THAT IS what we call a nice, friendly, congenial bunch!!!

COME IN, cut yourself a piece of cake!!!

DRAW UP A CACTUS AND SIT DOWN!!!

AH! dear fellow student, hold your ire for there is more to follow.

From the same article—

"According to Old Man Dope Minnesota couldn't help winning. It is figured out this way. A Badger is a meline, musteloid, carnivorous animal, usually burrowing, nocturnal, and having a flat, stout body, short legs, long clawed toes, and a long snout."

BEG your pardon, far be it from us to throw the first cream-puff but have you heard—

AND TO CONTINUE

"The Minnesota forewall figured on helping the Badger burrow. In fact it intended to assist him by sticking his nose farther into the mud so he could make more rapid progress—going straight to China."

Can't you see the fellow who wrote that just sitting back in his chair, stroking the stubble on his chin and thinking to himself, "Gee, That's pretty clever."

Dear Mr. Skyrockets Editor,

I am writing to you because you are one of the most influential men in school as Mr. Goodnight would say and any way I don't want to write to the voice of the people because mother told me to keep out of politics and most people do not read them anyway for what I want to say is why don't we have a hello day when we can speak to anybody so I can get acquainted with a girl here that I see real often. But I haven't got the nerve to speak to her as I am only a senior and she is a junior for she is not in none of my classes and if you put this across I shall be glad to buy you the malted milk which I promised to another guy that he didn't get me introduced to this light of my eyes as I call her.

Trustfully Yours
Kay Emm.

Dear Kay Emm

I know just how you feel because once I was in the same predicament. We might arrange for a day such as you speak of but it really seems a waste of time. Really these women ain't so much. Just go up to her some day and give her a good friendly whack on the back with a book or a club or anything what is handy and say, "Pardon me, lady, but didn't I meet you at Kehl's?" and if she says "I'm sorry but we didn't have no open house" then say, "O yes, my mistake. It was at Kehl's" they have all been either one or the other of he places.

Lots of luck
Ye Ed

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

STIFF BATTLE IS EXPECTED FROM ILLINOIS SQUAD

Try Illinois Plays; Tebell Stars in Practice Games

Gus Tebell looked like a cool million dollars during the Varsity scrimmage at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon.

The star Badger wingman was in on every one of the Illinois formations that Coach Guy Lowman's all-Americans attempted. He tackled runners on his side of the line, ran around the battle zone to get men from behind, and fought through holes in the forward wall to pick off ball-carriers that linesmen had missed.

If Tebell plays as effectively against Illinois as he did against O'Brien and his team of omelettes, the Illini will shoot few plays off the right side of the line. Gus is due for the greatest year in a brilliant athletic career. His playing in the Indiana and Minnesota games was nothing short of marvelous. In addition to his other work the Badger end scored a touchdown in both struggles.

Although the all-Americans continued to pierce the varsity line by means of Illinois shifts, their gains were fewer and towards the end of the skirmish, the backs were stopped short.

When Coach John R. Richards called a halt to the scrimmage, he ordered quarterback Barr to run the eleven through new and old plays. The workout was concluded with a short signal drill.

On an adjacent field, the Varsity second team scrimmaged with the freshman eleven. The reserves were "roaring in there" and Richards will have two sets of men in tip-top shape for the Illinois tilt.

Determined to break the Wisconsin winning streak, Coach Robert Zuppke and his squad of footballers will arrive in Madison tomorrow. Zuppke has said that his team will make every effort to prevent Wisconsin from winning its fourth consecutive game in as many years from the fighting Illini.

The game is slated to be a grudge battle with both elevens fighting their hardest to win. Wisconsin has a shade on the Illini who have lost three games, two to Big Ten teams and one to Butler college. The Illini defeated Northwestern by only three points but was because the Purple have a strong team this season.

Lack of a heavy quarterback has been the greatest handicap to development of a winning combination. Coutchie, who beat Northwestern with two dropkicks, seems to fill the bill to perfection. He knows when to play safe and when to take a chance, and it is likely that Coutchie will supplant Rene Clark, brother of the famous Potsy.

If it turns into a battle of wits, Coutchie would have a mighty slim chance of besting Shorty Barr in direction of team play. Barr is probably the coolest field general on a Conference gridiron this season. The manner in which he throws forward passes, holding the ball until opponents are ready to hit him, indicates that he is a good judge of time and distance.

Little is known of the effectiveness of the Illinois backfield. The men have had little opportunity to carry the ball in previous games. Fans who viewed the Illinois-Iowa contest say that the Hawks were outplayed and won luckily when they scored a safety. The two markers were enough to hand Coach Jones' team a one-point victory.

Durant is known to be one of the best backs on the eleven. Chris Woodward, slated for the fullback job, appears to have slumped and is sitting on the sidelines while an understudy does the plunging.

Capt. Dave Wilson, end, is outstanding player in the Illinois line-up. Wilson was elected to the captaincy after Dan Peden had been declared ineligible. He is a clever wingman and should offer the Wisconsin defense considerable trouble if his team relies on a passing offense.

Camp Randall acquires more of the Homecoming atmosphere each day. The field is covered with hay to forestall possibility of a heavy

Will Indicate Penalties On Field Score Board

Large numbers indicating the penalties called in the Homecoming game Saturday will be posted on the score board, and the spectator, by comparing the figures with the numbered penalties listed in the Homecoming Athletic Review, will be able to know at all times the exact reasons for which the penalties are called.

The action, sponsored by the review, is a step toward making the great game of football still more interesting from the spectator's point of view.

The elimination of the confusion arising over penalty decisions is expected to be warmly welcomed by followers of the sport.

Coach Stagg Gives Backs Stiff Drill on Defensive Tactics

(Special to The Cardinal)

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. —Realizing that Ohio State has a tricky combination of aerial and line plays which are hard to stop, Coach Stagg is giving his men a stiff week's drill on defensive tactics. The Maroon Players are going into scrimmage this week with a spirit that shows they do not underrate their Buckeye adversaries, and expect to fight for victory.

Despite the fact that Captain Hal Lewis again injured his shoulder in Monday's scrimmage, it is believed that he will be able to play next Saturday. A general shifting of the line has put Lewis at end, where his speed and dash should help fill the gap by Strohmeiers shift to quarter.

Dickson has recovered from his injury and will probably take his old position on one of the wings. Lame is in fine form and should do his part in breaking up the Buckeye interference. Fletcher and Gowdy will play end next to King at the pivot position.

Coach Stagg has been working his backs in defensive tactics and will probably open the game with the following backfield: Strohmeier at quarter; the Thomas brothers at the halves; Bill Zorn at full. "Cullie" Byler, McMasters, Leggette and Caruso will be held in reserve.

SENIOR WOMEN MEET FROSH IN HOCKEY TILT

The seniors meet the freshmen this afternoon in the third game of the women's interclass tournament for the field hockey championship. Both teams have been defeated once in the previous games, but all the games have been extremely close and the competition is keen.

The sophomore and freshman squads also meet, and the preparation has been marked as the freshmen are anxious to counteract the defeat of 2-1 which their first team received from the sophomore team on Tuesday.

The hockey tournament will continue until next Wednesday when the last game between the seniors and juniors, will be played off, and the class championship will be determined.

Store Windows To Be Judged Friday Night

The best decorated and snappiest store window in Madison will be judged Friday night, as soon as it is dark, it was announced today. This is a feature of the Wisconsin homecoming this week.

The committee will be composed of Dean Frederick Roe, Prof. William Varnum and Maj. Orlando Wood. A silver loving cup will be the prize. Small windows will be given equal consideration with the larger ones.

CLINTON—Miss Irma Hahn, wearing the same veil used by her mother, a quarter of a century ago, was married here to Herbert Zindel, on the silver wedding anniversary of her parents.

rain slowing up the field for Saturday.

The vanguard of the incoming alumni is due to arrive tomorrow. For the first time, they will see completed portions of the new Wisconsin stadium. It is expected that 27,000 persons will witness the annual Homecoming battle.

STARS IN FAST GAME HERE

SHORTY BARR

In his last Big Ten game on the Camp Randall gridiron, Wallace "Shorty" Barr will pilot the Wisconsin football team against the "Fighting Illini" next Saturday.

Barr is one of the mainstays of Coach John Richards' eleven. He is the best forward passer in the Middle West, bar none, and is also one of the headiest field generals in the game this season. Shorty is a hard-working quarterback. He has the team fighting at all stages of the game.

In the Minnesota contest Barr threw eight successful forward passes of 17 attempted despite the wet ball.

Varsity "Y" Represented At National Convention

Wisconsin university will be represented at the international convention of the Y. M. C. A. at Atlantic City November 14 to 19, by Worth Shoultz president, Thomas Tredwell chairman of the boys work department, and Harry Augustine chairman of the finance committee.

The university was represented by Dr. William A. Scott, of the school of commerce, in a meeting last summer at Niagara Falls, which prepared for this convention.

Women Preparing For Interclass Swim Meet

Women's class swimming teams are putting in concentrated practices in preparation for the swimming meet which determines the championship. All of the teams are holding regular weekly practices and every effort is being made to work up the best speed, form, dives and strokes possible before the meet. Senior team practices are Tuesday at 5 and Thursday at 8:30; juniors practice on Monday and Thursday at 5; sophomores on Tuesday at 7 and Saturday morning at 9; and freshmen Monday at 8:30, Wednesday at 5, and Friday at 5.

FROSH GUN FOR SOPH GRIDMEN

Interclass Battle Set For Week From Friday Will Be Hard Fought

With excellent material, and good fighting spirit the frosh and soph football teams expect to give the students a rare treat a week from this Friday. Both teams are working hard, and the fighting spirit is in every man.

The frosh will no doubt concentrate the rest of their time on Michigan plays. These plays have proved to be some of the best in the conference this year. The frosh are working hard to perfect them so that they may say that they have as good a team as Michigan.

The soph team gave the varsity a real battle last night. The sophs are using the Illinois shift, and it was working to good advantage with the varsity last night. Ned Leavitt at half last night made long gains through the varsity team. Leavitt has made a better showing so far than any of the other new men that have reported.

In comparing the two teams in last night's workout it looked as though the sophs with the Illinois shift had the edge on the frosh who used the Michigan style. The second varsity team was holding the frosh, and many times throwing them for a loss, while the sophs were gaining through the varsity time and again. With only about a week to practice it will be interesting to see who can round out the best team.

PAIGN, all seniors, and "Dad" Wolf general secretary.

The student representatives will leave on Saturday night in order to attend a preliminary meeting for students at Philadelphia the day before the convention starts.

The university was represented by Dr. William A. Scott, of the school of commerce, in a meeting last summer at Niagara Falls, which prepared for this convention.

HARRIERS WILL FACE MAROONS HERE SATURDAY

First Cross Country Event Predicted as Victory For Badgers

In its first fall cross country event of the season, Chicago will come to Madison to meet the Badger harriers before the large homecoming crowds which will be here next Saturday. The race which begins and ends at the university gym, will be held at 11 o'clock.

Although all the advantages will be with Wisconsin in the meet, Chicago may provide some good competition. Egil Krogh, capt. of Chicago's track team will be running for the Maroons.

On the five-mile course at Chicago, Krogh steps the distance in 27 minutes flat. The best time made last Saturday against the Gophers by a Wisconsin man on the Minnesota five mile course was 27 minutes and 22 seconds.

Chicago Course Easy
The Chicago course is easy, being perfectly level running through the city parks. When the Maroons run on the Wisconsin course they will find the going rather difficult because of the rough ground and the hilly country.

The race Saturday will not be held over the regular three and one half mile course, but will be lengthened to 4.7 miles. Most of the Conference courses are in the neighborhood of five miles long.

Victory Predicted
While Wisconsin is fairly certain of a victory Saturday, it is hardly to be expected that the Badger harriers can duplicate their last year's performance. In the meet against Chicago last year six of the Badger runners finished before a Chicago man came in.

Coach Mead Burke is pinning most of his faith for a win Saturday on the speed of Tschudy, Wade, and Valley, men who have been taking high honors in the meets and in the practice tryouts this fall. In the Minnesota meet, Wade led until the home stretch when Tschudy passed him to finish first.

The Chicago team consists of: Capt. Egil Krogh, Henry Spruth, Sidney Bisno, Victor Levine, Norman Stitt, Walter Hollenstein, and M. Walker.

Men who have been picked to run for Wisconsin are: Capt. Ramsey, Eschudy, Wade, Moorhead, Rossmeissel, Schneider, Valley, and Perry.

Eight Feature Stories Comprise Varied Material For November Issue

Eight feature stories comprise the educational and entertaining reading material included in the November issue of the Country Magazine which will appear on the campus today.

In the Show Ring at Buenos Aires" is the leading story, according to C. L. Kutil, editor of the magazine. In the story, Prof. G. C. Humphrey gives one of his first press accounts of his experiences at the great national live stock show of Argentina.

How Wisconsin happened to be chosen as the home of the Miller Memorial Library," is revealed in George Marvin's account of Dr. C. C. Miller's service to the bee keepers of the country.

Snatches from letters written back to Wisconsin by Miss Abbie Marlatt, Director of the Course in home economics, are contained in the feature story, "Around the World with Miss Marlatt."

Accounts of trips among the Indians of Wisconsin, successful graduates of the Wisconsin short course, and home economics stories complete the feature section of the November number of the country magazine.

WORK DELAYED ON HOARD MEMORIAL

"There will be no further work done on the Hoard Memorial until the legislature appropriates more funds," Arthur Peabody, state architect, asserted yesterday. "However, now that the old buildings have been cleared away, work on the completion of the boulevard will soon commence."

It is planned to carry the boulevard effect through from University avenue to the road adjoining the Agricultural buildings. The green will be artistically laid out with trees, flowers, and shrubbery; the Hoard monument on the north end impressively completing the landscape scheme.

The entire project will not be completed until some time next summer. The Agricultural chemistry and engineering buildings will then face the boulevard on the north and the University high school on the south.

HARESFOOT TO CLOSE TRYOUTS

Last Opportunity to Notify Club is Offered Today

All men expecting to tryout for the acts in the Haresfoot follies to be held December 2 are asked to notify Alfred H. Hiatt '24, who has charge of the tryouts, today.

The tryouts will be held the evening of Thursday, Nov. 16, rather than on November 17 as previously announced. All sophomore and upperclass men are eligible for the tryouts.

Music will be furnished for those men desiring accompaniment, according to announcement made by Hiatt last night. Song and dance skits particularly are acceptable for the tryout, he said.

The new policy of tryouts for the follies has been instituted by the Haresfoot club in order that an early estimate of the material in school available for the spring show, "Kikmi," may be made and that a more representative follies entertainment may be given.

Men trying out for the follies will increase their chances for making the spring show greatly, according to Porter F. Barts '24 chairman of the follies.

AGS EXPERIMENT WITH MILK COSTS

"Why Costs of Milk Vary," facts compiled by P. E. McNall and Dr. R. Mitchel, is the subject dealt with in the September Bulletin issued by the Agricultural Experiment Station of the University.

A full discussion of the cow testing associations as a source of milk figures, the chief items that enter into the cost of milk, and the chief items of credit is given.

Statistics show that seasonal differences affect the costs, which vary from $1.88 to $4.00 for different seasons of the year, the costs of keeping a cow being higher in the winter than in the summer. Thus months of low production are months of higher costs per hundred weight of milk produced.

MORALS NOT DEGENERATING

—DEAN CLARK

Illinois Dean Says Boys Are Wiser But No Worse Than in 1887

ATHENS, Ohio. — "American boys of today are wiser, but their morals are not worse than those of thirty-five years ago," says Dean Thomas Arkle Clark of the University of Illinois, according to the Green and White, student publication of Ohio university.

"The change is largely due to economic changes," he claimed. "In those days boys who came to college were the exceptions in their communities, and they came for an education. Today it has become the custom to go to college and the students have a less clearly defined purpose.

"They are not different from the students of some years ago in the expenditures. In those days the students had less money, and there were fewer causes for expense. Times have changed, however, and there are more inducements and more real necessities," Dean Clark went on.

"The students of today do not know the lesson that can be learned from work, and it is largely due to the resolution of their fathers that their sons shall not have to undergo what they themselves had to do. The boys have as much character as the boys of years ago, but it has not been brought out as work would bring it out."

That the college student who is without money today is more resourceful than the boy of thirty-five years ago was affirmed by the dean. Then, the boy who had almost no money was content to endure the privations, and now the boy who is compelled to work his way thru school has learned to do it in a way that will give him a comfortable living.

"The student who used to cook his own meals at an expense of 75 cents a week, would now sell neckties, perhaps, and earn $30 a week on which he could live comfortably," Dean Clark said.

PRISONERS GET EDUCATION TOO

Extension Division Courses Are Offered to Men Behind Bars

In order that prisoners may be able to do something honorable when they get out of prison and that they may be able to fill long hours within prison walls, the Extension division has sent representatives to the prisons, according to B. G. Elliot, professor of mechanical drawing in the extension division.

The six cent surplus that 75 inmates of the Wisconsin state prison earn each day is spent for educational courses offered by the university.

Wisconsin was the first university to extend its work to prisoners. Five years ago the first attempt at this kind of work was made by the division in organizing a class in gas engines. An instructor was sent down from the university, but this experiment was not a success although it aroused the interest of the prisoners and showed that they were anxious to get education. One reason for the failure of this plan was the fact that the prisoners were not allowed to talk.

Warden Henry Towne later conferred with Dean L. E. Reber, of the extension division, and offered the suggestion that the prisoners be taught by correspondence. The final decision was that a university representative would be sent to the prison every two weeks and allowed to talk to the prisoners about their courses and advise them. The representatives chosen were C. A. Allen and W. H. H. Liesch, of the Oshkosh division.

Pennsylvania university began to offer courses to its state prisoners two years ago. Efforts of the university of Wisconsin representatives to organize this work at Nebraska university have not proved successful.

Not only to the prisoners at Waukon, but to the inmates of several other prisons does the university offer courses. Registered in courses given by the university are several political prisoners at Fort Leavenworth, inmates of Virginia and Colorado prisons.

"What we want to do now is to conduct classes in the prisons," said Professor Elliot. "Although the first attempt was not successful we intend to organize another experiment. We are now planning to start at the reformatory at Green Bay."

G. O. P. CONTROL IS THREATENED

Democrats Gain 71 Seats in House; La Follette Organization Sweeps State

The Republican control of the House of Representatives is threatened by the many Democratic victories in Tuesday's election. Reports show that the democrats have gained 71 seats thus practically wiping out the Republican majority of 183 in the present house. The Republican margin in the senate has been cut down from 24 to 16 or 17.

The La Follette-Blaine majority in Wisconsin is still expected to be about 250,000. The entire progressive ticket was carried but the majority in the lesser offices was not as great as that in the senatorial and gubernatorial contest. The vote throughout the state was favorable to progressive control in the house but both sides claim to have made gains in state senatorial contests.

The latest returns show the following victories:

U. S. Senator, La Follette 197, 839. Mrs. Jessie Jack Hooper 41, 156; governor, Blaine 158,745, Bentley 23,621; Arnold 34,121.

Congressional victories are:

First district, H. A. Cooper, Racine; second district, Edward Voigt, Sheboygan; fifth district, Victor Berger; third district, John M. Nelson, Madison; sixth district, Florian Lampert, Oshkosh; seventh district, J. D. Beck, Viroqua; eighth district, E. E. Brown, Waupaca; ninth district, George Schneider, Appleton; tenth district, J. A. Frear, Hudson; eleventh district, H. H. Peavey.

Lieutenant governor — Comings won over Georgeson and Pfiffner; secretary of state, Zimmerman over Boorman and Brzonkala; state treasurer, Levitan over Christensen and Tanck; attorney general, Ekern over Collins; county sheriff, Julius J. Krug, 10,637; Joseph Daggett, 6,692.
