SENATE TO SET FALL ELECTION PLANS TONIGHT

Probable Date Nov. 3;
To Discuss New Representation

The fall election date will be set tonight when the Student Senate meets in room 1 of the Law building at 7:15 o'clock to discuss all phases of the coming student elections.

The election date probably will be Friday, Nov. 3, according to the election committee comprising Senators Maynard Brown '23, Horace Powell '23 and Ralph Axley '23. Two more senators will be added to the election committee. They will be elected tonight.

Elect Senate by Colleges

Members of the senate will be elected for the first time from the various colleges, according to the provision made by last year's referendum vote on elections, Brown said last night.

One junior and one senior will be elected to the senate from the Colleges of Letters and Science, Agriculture, Engineering, and from the Commerce school. The Medical and Law schools are also to be represented on the body by one man, and a graduate student will be elected to the senate by the school at large. The freshman class is to be represented by its president so that, according to the new regulations, the sophomores will be the only class not represented on the student senate.

"This state of affairs seems to me to be extremely unjust to the second year men," Brown said. "They surely have as good a right as any class to be represented on the Student Senate and I feel that they should not be deprived of the privilege. If the body is elected according to the referendum of last year, this will be the first time that no sophomore has been allowed to vote for or to hold a seat in the senate. Since this body is supposed to be representing the entire university, I feel that the sophomores should not be reckoned with according to the new regulations."

Fraternity Brothers to Attend Korthals Rites

The funeral of Albert W. Korthals '25, who died Sunday night in the infirmary as the result of poisoning which set in from infected tonsils, will be held at his home in Sheboygan at 1 o'clock Thursday.

Marshall Wallrich '24, Edward Aschbrenner '23, Melvin Ebert '24, Shores Walker '23, Sylvester Kalley '23, and Vilas Ruhmer '25, members of the Ihi Sigma Kappa fraternity, will leave Thursday to attend the funeral.

Dairy Course Draws 50; New Equipment is Here

More than 50 students already have enrolled for the Dairy course which begins November 1, according to Professor E. H. Farrington, head of the Dairy department.

Equipment is being received daily already enrolled for the Dairy course for the course. A new 300 gallon cream pasteurizer, and a new four-roll Vector combined churn are among the equipment that has recently been received. The churn is the latest design used in modern creameries, according to Professor Farrington.

Council of 40 Will Hear Gardner on Union Drive

A special meeting of the Council of 40 which will be held at 12:45 this afternoon in the Green room of the Y. M. C. A. will be addressed by Prof. E. H. Gardner. Professor Gardner will talk on the Memorial Union fund. The Council aims to aid this year in a continuation of the Memorial Union fund drive. The executive committee of the Council will be announced at the meeting.

It is expected that all changes will be completed within the next two weeks.

Boy, Age 4, Drowns In Monona While Playing

Reports that Robert Buchanan, four year old son of Milton Buchanan, 784 West Main street, had drowned near the Lake Monona pumping station yesterday were confirmed last night by physicians at the Madison General hospital.

Rushed to the hospital at 4 o'clock, the boy was worked over by four doctors until 5:20, but all attempts were unsuccessful. Life was extinct, it is believed, before the child's body was recovered by the father from Monona.

The boy was playing at the edge of the lake with his brother, aged five, when he fell in and was drowned in about three feet of water. Mr. Buchanan recovered the body after he had been notified by the little brother.

Plans Are Complete to Enlarge Biology Library

Plans to enlarge the library room on the fourth floor of the Biology building have recently been completed. A new room, adjoining the present one, has been added, in which will be placed all the reference books as well as the librarian's desk.

A number of new zoological journals and periodicals have been ordered and to accommodate them the book cases in the main room will be enlarged.

It is expected that all changes will be completed within the next two weeks.

GREEN BUTTON NOMINEES ARE HELD FOR O. K.

Recommend Many; Nardin Urges Green Button Wearing

Due to the ineligibility of some of the candidates, no official nominees for Green Button, freshman women's organization, will be announced until all votes have been counted and candidates checked. Cleo Parsley '23, president of S. G. A., stated last night.

A list of recommendations, one for each office, was presented by the nominating committee before the freshmen women at their meeting in Lathrop concert room last night, and a large number of other nominations were made from the floor.

Dean Nardin Talks

Dean F. Louise Nardin in an introduction to the freshmen women, "What a Girl Chooses When She Comes to College" declared "The college girl chooses to live deeply, not shallowly, to know herself, and express that real self that abides within. College is a part and a large part of remaking one's human nature. Life is not a blaze shopping tour, but rather it is going as deeply as one can into tomorrow's work."

Dean Nardin and Mary Devine '25 expressed themselves heartily in favor of wearing the green buttons sold at the meeting.

A flashlight picture of the entire group was taken on Lathrop steps following the meeting.

DISTRICT AND CENSUS SYSTEM IS EXPLAINED

Complete details of the district system and the census system of S. G. A. were explained at the meeting. Both are new systems that will be tried out this year for the first time.

The district system divides all the women into 12 groups each with a district chairman. She communicates directly with the executive committee of S. G. A. The object of this system is to secure better organization for social and educational features.

The census system has been originated to regulate the activities of the women. No woman can hold more than one major, or two intermediate, or three minor positions. For the purpose of classification, activities have been divided into three groups.

Five major offices are: presidents of S. G. A., Y. W. C. A., W. A. A., and woman's editorship of the Cardinal and Badger. These officers can hold no other position at the time. Presidents of all other women's organizations, cabinet members of the Y. W. C. A., and members of the S. G. A. executive board are in the intermediate class. All other offices are grouped as minor activities.

42 Extension Men Give Courses at Milwaukee

The Milwaukee branch of the Extension division is giving courses in commerce and engineering, with an instructional staff of 42 teachers and administrators.

Courses are being offered during the day for persons desiring a two year course of instruction, and work is given that corresponds to the regular freshmen and sophomore work in the College of Engineering here. The day courses in commerce are arranged to include the essential subjects in the two year course.

Courses in Engineering are vocational courses grouped under mechanical, civil and structural engineering and courses are given for students who work elsewhere during the day and who can only give part of their time to study.

WEATHER: FAIR
Fair and warmer weather will continue for Madison and vicinity today. A slight drop in temperature is predicted for tomorrow.

May Apply For Indiana Football Tickets Today

Application for the Indiana-Wisconsin contest on November 21 can now be procured in the gymnasium. Students can purchase as many tickets as they desire at the public rate. They can obtain two at the student rate. Application for seats at public rates must be received before 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, Oct. 14.

Students must purchase their tickets for the Carleton football game before Saturday noon to get the student reduction rate, according to Paul F. Hunter, who is in charge of athletic department ticket sales this year.

Upon presenting fee cards and paying the admission price of 50c, the students secure pasteboard at the gymnasium from 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon until Saturday noon. A charge of $1 will be levied for all tickets sold at Camp Randall.

MEN TAKE PART IN BADGER DRIVE FOR FIRST TIME

No Women to Sell on Hill; Campaign Starts Oct. 9

Twenty-five students, captains of subscription teams and members of the 1924 Badger staff, met last night at the Badger office to discuss plans for the subscription campaign which will begin October 9.

For the first time, men students will take part in the campaign. According to a new ruling, there can be no Hill subscription by women students. All subscriptions will be taken through teams of students who will solicit from house to house.

Eighteen teams of women students will work, according to present plans. Each team will consist of a captain, and ten girls. Each team will be assigned a definite district to cover.

Organization of the men's teams will be much the same, so that the fraternities and mens rooming houses will be canvassed thoroughly. Prof. E. A. Gilmore will speak to the teams on some of the main selling points of the campaign at Lathrop parlors Thursday evening.

Gold fountain pens will be given to members of the winning teams of both men's and women's organizations. The highest individual scorer in each organization will receive a gold pen also. The five men and the five women with the highest scores will be offered positions on the staff.

According to present plans no spring sale of Badgers will be held. The workers expect to get all subscriptions during the drive this fall.

UNIVERSITY AVENUE HAS NEW BUILDINGS

Several new buildings have been erected or are under construction along University avenue and students familiar with the avenue last spring are noticing the change.

The Lutheran Memorial Foundation building, which is being erected across from Lathrop at a cost of $150,000 is the largest and most pretentious of the new buildings.

A new restaurant, the College Inn, is being built at the corner of Charter street and University avenue. Mr. A. F. Rissing, the proprietor, expects to open the place within the next two weeks.

The new double building being erected at 727 West University avenue, will be occupied by a tea room and clothes shop. Both will be under the management of Mr. G. Wicwer, who expects to be open for business on November 1. Additional buildings already open are the Schmidt Hardware company and the Payson Plumbing shop across the avenue from the University post office. The Mentz Tailoring company and the Togery shop, also new houses, were open when school started.

CITY ORDINANCE ON PARTIES TO HIT STUDENTS?

Life and Interests Body May Modify 1 O'Clock Rule

Are 1 o'clock parties at Wisconsin to be abolished?

How will the annual Junior Prom be affected by a Madison city ordinance passed July 26, prohibiting public dances after midnight?

Whether university rules on private student parties are to be modified to coincide with the provisions of the city ordinance is to be considered at the next meeting of the faculty committee on student life and interests, according to Dean Scott H. Goodnight, chairman.

Would Include Prom, Ball

A public dance, as defined by the ordinance, is any dance for which admission is charged or tickets are sold. Under this definition the Junior Prom and the Military Ball are public dances and will be required to end at midnight. Fraternity and sorority parties, it is understood, are not definitely included in the ruling.

"The city passed the ordinance to aid in controlling unfavorable conditions," said Dean Goodnight. "The committee is wondering whether the university should not do the same. A uniform 12 o'clock rule would be of great aid to house mothers.

"The 1 o'clock party is also expensive. The orchestra costs one third more than for a 12 o'clock party.

Says Women Disfavor 1 a. m.

"There has been considerable comment, especially among women students, against the dances which last after 12 o'clock," he said. "We are anxious to know just what the general opinion is on this subject."

Regarding 1 o'clock parties, Dean F. Louise Nardin said, "If students would recognize the fact that Saturday is no longer a holiday for most university students, these late dances would be abolished voluntarily. A 1 o'clock dance is not necessarily any more enjoyable than one which closes at 12 o'clock, and several organizations did not have their usual 1 o'clock party last year."

Chemical Engineers Will Welcome Frosh at Mixer

The Chemical Engineers club will hold a mixer for all chemical engineering students to arouse the interest of the freshmen in the society, it was decided at a meeting of the club last night. The date of the mixer will be announced within a few days.

The student branch of the society is negotiating for affiliation with the American Institute of Chemical Engineers. Members of the society will alternate with speakers from the outside in furnishing the programs for the meetings.

Course in Radiophone Is Extension School Plan

A course in radiophone installation and use has been received by the Extension division, according to Prof. W. H. Lighty, secretary of the correspondence division.

The course consists of six assignments. Any student wishing to learn how to assemble, install, and operate radio receiving outfits may enter the course. No prerequisites are required.

Alice Cummings Chosen Soph Commission Head

Alice Cummings '25 was elected president of Y. W. C. A. sophomore commission yesterday noon at a meeting held in Lathrop concert room. Other officers elected were: Jeanne Palica '25, vice president; Alice Gilber '25, secretary; Grace Malot '25, treasurer.

Aged Woman Named Senator From Georgia

Mrs. W. H. Felton to Succeed Watson in Upper House

ATLANTA, Ga.—Mrs. W. H. Felton, 87 years old, of Cartersville, Ga., was appointed by Gov. T. W. Hardwick today to fill the vacancy by the death of Sen. Thomas E. Watson, until the people elect a successor in November. Mrs. Felton will be the first woman to become a senator.

At the same time Gov. Hardwick announced his candidacy to succeed Senator Watson, who died last week in Washington. The primary will be held Oct. 17.

Whether Mrs. Felton will actually have an opportunity to qualify and serve as a member of the senate is doubtful for her successor will have been elected when the senate meets in December.

Mrs. Felton is the widow of Mr. W. H. Felton of Cartersville, who served as a member of congress for several terms. She has long been active in Georgia politics. She was a friend of the late Sen. Watson, and supported Gov. Hardwick in his recent campaign for re-nomination.

Gov. Hardwick in a statement, said he had offered the appointment to Mrs. Watson, the widow of the late senator, but "to my deep and real regret Mrs. Watson has informed me that ill health and an aversion to the public station renders it impossible for her to accept. The statement then continued:

"In all the circumstances, I have therefore concluded to bestow the honor of this appointment upon another noble Georgia woman."

"She is splendidly fitted to adorn the highest public station in the land. She is known throughout Georgia as Georgia's foremost woman citizen."

Mrs. Felton at her home in Cartersville dictated a message to Gov. Hardwick accepting the appointment. She declared it was "with mingled feelings of personal gratitude and profound admiration for your courage in thus placing as far as your office allows, a woman in the ranks of the most exalted body in the known world," that she accepted the place.

Mrs. Felton was born in DeKalb county, Ga., June 10, 1835. She was married in 1853 to Dr. H. W. Felton, who died in 1909. Five children were born to them, but only one, Dr. H. E. Felton, survived.

Although Mrs. W. H. Felton probably will not have the opportunity of actual service in the senate because of the present recess of congress, she will have the pay and perquisites as well as the title of senator until a successor is chosen.

Highway Tax Program To Be Discussed

County Clerks Legislative Committee Will Convene
Here Tomorrow

A shift in the burden of highway construction costs from general property to incomes is suggested by Chester C. Platt, state manager of the Nonpartisan League. Let the expense of roads be borne by those best able to bear it, the individuals and corporations with large incomes, Mr. Platt urges in presenting a plan for consideration of the legislature.

This proposal of the Nonpartisan League head will be considered by the legislative committee of the association of county board chairmen when it meets here tomorrow to consider means of raising funds for the continuance of Wisconsin's highway construction program.

The first intimation that incomes might be called on to furnish funds for highway development came in the last session of the legislature when Senator Severson, in his bill calling for a surtax on incomes over $5,000, included a provision directing that a small percentage of the money raised through application of the proposed law would go into the state road fund.

Mr. Platt's suggestion revives discussion of the subject which is expected to come directly before the legislature when it meets in January.

Wisconsin is confronted with a situation where all present state taxes for highway development have expired. Only a licensing system, which raises approximately $4,000,000 each year, remains, while road building costs have risen to nearly $30,000,000 annually. Mr. Platt says that the legislature should reduce property taxes by about $10,000,000, and increase income taxes a corresponding amount to build roads.

Up to the present time legislators have been considering enactment of one of three types of highway tax laws to raise needed road building funds, namely, a highway privilege tax based either on horsepower, weight, or value, a gasoline sales tax, or an increase in licensing fee graded on the basis of automobile valuation.

The county board legislative committee here tomorrow will now have four proposed methods of revenue raising before it for consideration. Previous expression from board members gives the impression that they will recommend a highway privilege tax based largely on the plan proposed by A. R. Hirst, state highway engineer, at the last session of the legislature.

This proposal calls for a two percent tax on the valuation of automobiles, classifying them according to their costs. This tax if put in force would raise approximately $10,000,000 annually, removing the general property assessment for the like amount.

The second Xmas letter of the year passed through the post office today on its way to "Heaven". With letters arriving so early it is estimated that Santa will have ample time in which to fill the orders to the fullest.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

RICHARDS CUTS VARSITY SQUAD TO THIRTY-SIX

"Big Jawn" Working Hard to Build Stronger Line

Two weeks after the beginning of the 1922 football season, Coach John R. Richards yesterday lopped off dead timber on his football squad and reduced the number of Varsity candidates to 36 men. The remainder of the group that has been reporting will hereafter be under the wing of Coach Guy S. Lowman, All-American coach.

Another cut will be made within ten days, the coach indicated. He declared that he would be unable to tell fully the results of early season workouts until some of the men receive their "acid test" in the Carleton game here next Saturday.

Changes in the classification of squad members, as shown by the list Coach Richards issued, put Schneider at right halfback, instead of quarter which he has been playing regularly, and place Alton at center instead of tackle or guard. Alton worked at center with the reserves during yesterday's scrimmage and his hard tackling in the line gave the regulators no little trouble.

Drill Forward Wall

That some parts of the line are slow in rounding into form is shown by the increased attention coaches are paying to the forward. Lack of polish is evident and some of the rough spots will have to be ironed out before the offense has a perfect barrier behind which plays can be sprung.

The Varsity combination, with one exception, started against the second team in scrimmage yesterday afternoon. Barr piloted the team, with Williams, Gibson, and Taft in the back positions. Nichols was at center, flanked by Christianson and Bieberstein. Hohlfeld is withheld from scrimmage. Below and Murry were stationed at the tackle posts, and Irish and Tebell at the wings.

Quarterback Millman, Saari and Carlson, halves, and Radke, fullback, made up the scrub backfield.

Taft Punts Well

Taft started the battle by kicking off to Carlson. The scrubs were unable to gain their yardage in four downs and Radke punted to Williams. "Rollie" fumbled, but Taft recovered. Runs by Williams, Gibson, and passes to the ends brought the ball near the goal line. Irish and Tebell again excelled in nabbing throws from Barr, the longer heave superceding short passes which have hitherto been "Shorty's" favorite.

One throw near the goal line was intercepted by Carlson, scrub halfback, who dashed away from prospective tacklers in a long run. Sykes and Alton put up strong defensive games for the reserve eleven.

A feature of the drill was Taft's long punts. The tall fullback drove the ball far down the field, high enough to permit Tebell and Below to be down simultaneously with the pigskin.

Homecoming at Illinois To Open With Polo Meet

Homecoming at the University of Illinois will be ushered in Friday, Oct. 6, with an exhibition polo match. The cavalry units of the R. O. T. C. will participate, the professional officers opposing the student riders.

EYES TURN TO HUSKY BLONDE AS POSSIBILITY FOR BACKFIELD STAR

Welton W. Harris '24, from Racine is now in a position to disclose any "stuff" that he may have in an athletic way at Wisconsin. Many critics thought that as a freshman the husky Racine blond could have filled the shoes of some of our first string men in either football or basketball.

Jack had plenty of high school experience in both sports and evidently needs only a bit of polish and color to his work to make him a finished product. He played four years of basketball and two of football in the preparatory school. Indications are that in football Jack will deliver. His best work is being done as fullback, altho he has been shifted to half with good results. The same aggressive, hard-hitting style of play is characteristic of the Racine boy no matter what position he plays.

Minor accidents have kept Harris out of active scrimmage for several days. A strained shoulder incurred a week ago and a bruised knee obtained Monday kept the bristling blond from play.

He will probably get a chance at full on Saturday against Carleton. The Gopher squad promises to give Wisconsin a real test of her strength and incidentally Jack will pass his examination before the keen eye of John Richards and us.

VARSITY CREW IS MADE STRONG BY SEVEN VETERANS

Coach Vail Has High Hopes; Captain Platten is Optimistic

With the majority of last year's team back in their regular positions in the Varsity shells, Coach "Dad" Vail is hoping to develop a winning crew this year.

Two crews have been rowing the Mendota course every day. Outdoor practice will continue as long as the weather permits, said Coach Vail.

Captain Arthur Platten was optimistic concerning 1923 prospects when interviewed last night.

Peustow is temporarily training out the crew on account of injuries Prehn last stroke of 1922, who is not out this year, is supplanted by Jones formerly on the second crew.

Iowa Star Joins Strong Rock Island Grid Team

Jeff Slater, the giant colored star of last year's Big Ten champion University of Iowa team, has been signed to play in the Rock Island Independents, it was announced today.

The dusky all-Western tackle joined the Rock Island squad several days ago, and will take up training with them along the Rock river.

Masonic-Eastern Star

Mixer is Set For Oct. 14

Plans for the Masonic-Eastern Star mixer, to be held in Lathrop hall October 14, will be completed at the meeting of the Square club tonight according to Rufus S. Phillips '23, president of the organization. The first meeting will be held in the Y. W. C. A. at 7:15 o'clock.

Installation by the national organization, Square and Compass, will probably take place next month and arrangements for the official ceremony will be made tonight.

BONDI QUILTS WISCONSIN SQUAD; CLASSED AS PROFESSIONAL FOR RECEIVING MONEY WHILE COACH

Had Directed 'Y' Athletes; Receives Menacing Letters

Classed as a "professional" because he received money while athletic director of the Du Pont Powder works Y. M. C. A. at Washburn, Wis., "Hobe" Bondi, candidate for halfback on the Wisconsin football team last night declared that he will not report for work with the Badger squad in the future.

"Hobe" directed Y. M. C. A. athletics in 1919, coached the Washburn high school basketball that he received $3 a game for refereeing high school basketball contests.

Receives 2 Accusations

Bondi recently was the recipient of two letters, one from St. Paul and one from a town in northern Wisconsin, which accused him of being a "professional". Bondi admits that he received money for his work.

"Go ahead and train", said one of the letters, according to "Hobe". "We'd like to have you in there, but you might as well quit the night before the Minnesota game. You won't be able to play in it."

When he received the missives, Bondi discontinued his drills at Camp Randall.

"I don't want to have Wisconsin under the same cloud of professionalism that Illinois and Notre Dame were under," he said last night. "I will see Coaches Richards and Jones Wednesday afternoon and confer with them."

Bondi has been in Milwaukee during the past two days. He will leave shortly for New York and in four months will embark for China where he is an agent of the Standard Oil company.

"Hobe's" return to the Wisconsin football squad was hailed with great rejoicings last week. Although not in good condition, he worked with the squad in several signal drills and was looked upon as a valuable addition.

Bondi played his last Big Ten football when he was halfback on the team which also boasted of Eber Simpson, quarterback, Allen Davey, halfback, Jacobi, fullback, Weston and Kelley, ends, and Orton Keyes, linesman.

Monte Cristo Displays Many Unusual Scenes

One of the striking scenes from "Monte Cristo," which William Fox has produced for the screen is the one in which Dantes, the young sailor, is thrown over the edge of a chateau wall into the sea. In this scene he is tied in a bag and makes his escape under the sea. The scene is photographed by five cameras under water. "Monte Cristo" is now being shown at the Grand.

Saved $2000 On Paper Is Claim of Atwood

The state printing board saved taxpayers $2,000 through two purchases of paper before prices were raised Sept. 29, David Atwood, state printer, said today.

Paper on which income tax blanks will be reprinted was purchased for $2,419, just a few minutes before the increase went into effect, resulting in a saving of $274, according to Mt. Atwood. The printing board at the same time bought 3,000 pounds of book paper for the state Blue Book, saving $1,800.

SWIM TEAM MOVES INTO FIRST ACTION

The first step in preparation for the coming swimming season was taken last night by Coach Steinbauer at a meeting held in Lathrop hall where middle distance swimmers had their first strenuous workout in Lathrop swimming pool.

Thirty-five men reported for the varsity swimming squad and prospects seem favorable for a very successful season although the loss of Lamboley, Davies, and Captain Collins, mainstays of last year's team will be felt severely.

Coach Steinbauer plans to hold practices every Tuesday and Thursday evening in Lathrop pool until the improvements on the men's pool are completed.

MARVIN CHOSEN APIS CLUB HEAD FOR YEAR 1922

Club Holds First Fortnightly Dinner Tuesday Evening

Members of Apis club met at their first fortnightly dinner Tuesday evening in the Entomology building.

Officers elected for the ensuing year are: George E. Marvin, president; Walter Kuenzli, vice-president; and Richard Butler, secretary and treasurer. Plans for a bee culture exposition, to be held at the beginning of the new year, are under consideration.

The club is composed of students and members of the faculty interested in beekeeping. In addition to the 20 members there are three honorary members: Mr. E. R. Root, Mr. C. P. Dadant, and Dr. E. F. Philips, all international figures in the science of bee culture.

Ames college is starting a second American Apis organization, while Minnesota and Michigan universities are making plans for similar clubs.

A remarkable young woman is "Shireen," the X-Ray girl appearing at the Orpheum this week. She is not a code-worker or a mind reader, but a phenomenon unexplainable. While tightly blindfolded she goes through the audience describing persons and their actions. Working unassisted and with great speed, it is no wonder that "Shireen" leaves her audience spellbound at the end of her act.

Chuck full of laughs and original novelties is the offering of the black-face boys, Fenton and Fields, who are fast becoming the leading offerings in the vaudeville field.

Corradinis Animals, O'Malley and Maxfield, Beatty and Ebelyn, and the Humberto Brothers are the other acts appearing for the last times tonight.

"Shireen" will be held over for the last half of the week, together with five Orpheum Circuit features which have been booked for the week-end.

1 O'CLOCK PARTIES

A Madison city ordinance passed during the summer prohibits public dances later than midnight.

The faculty committee on student life and interests is considering the application of the same rule to student functions.

Student opinion on the matter of 1 o'clock parties was asked last year in the questionnaire sent out on the orchestra price problem. The student answer was emphatically in favor of retaining the privilege of one late party a year for each group.

The expression of student opinion on the matter is again invited. The response will doubtless be emphatic.

Student valuation of social privileges does not change radically in a few short months.

Madison passed the dance ordinance to reduce the social hazard of the public dance hall.

If university authorities assume that the same reason will justify an abridgement of student privileges, their assumption doubtless will be resented by the students. Student organizations will not take kindly to the implication that the moral conditions at their functions are comparable to those at public temples of Terpsichore.

It is argued that uniformity of the curfew hour would make detection more difficult for unruly co-eds who pretend that they are attending authorized 1 o'clock functions.

House mothers would, perhaps, have an easier time if the recalcitrant few were no longer able to sign up for 1 o'clock parties on the drive.

But do the laxities of a few justify abbreviating the privileges of thousands? Should students be refused the use of the library because a few deface books. Should canoeing be prohibited because a few misuse canoes?

Aside from the matter of justice, we are inclined to doubt if the subtraction of an hour from an evening on the drive would materially increase the membership of the Y. W. C. A.

Morality is not measured by hours. The temptations of 12:30 are no more alluring than those of 11:30.

If a few want to be wild and rules make impossible 1 o'clock wildness, 12 o'clock wildness will require merely slight adaptation to circumstance.

If one wants to arrive an hour sooner, one starts an hour sooner.

But, on the whole, the matter of continuing the 1 o'clock party privilege simmers down to whatever the faculty committee deems wise.

The faculty invited student opinion last spring; the opinion was given. The faculty committee cannot believe that student opinion on the subject has radically changed.

But whether this opinion of the multitude or the isolated opinions of the evangelical few is to be taken as valid, is entirely a matter for the committee to decide.

The city of Madison has made it illegal for public dances to continue after 12 o'clock; it is understood that this does not affect private student parties. The city has not set a curfew on private functions.

If the faculty committee desires to abridge the students' dancing privilege, such action is entirely within its prerogative. If such action is taken, the students will have to submit.

But the students doubtless welcome frankness. They will welcome a direct "yes" or "no" on the proposition.

Student organizations doubtless will be glad to have omitted from the discussion any reference to a piece of city legislation which does not apply to them, a piece of city legislation designed to regulate such a dubious institution as the public dance hall.

EQUAL REPRESENTATION

A VITAL American political principle is equal representation. That principle means that the political world is non-exclusive, that no discrimination is made according to class or position or party. Any one can run for office, and "freezing out" is condemned.

The same principle should hold for college politics. Where equal representation does not come of itself due to peculiar campus circumstances, it should be sought after. Equal representation is the antithesis of machine politics, and the less machine politics, the better off the university will be.

To put the matter squarely, there should be more equal representation of fraternity and non-fraternity elements in class office nominees. Since fraternities are organizations, it becomes fatally easy to keep up that organization in campus elections. This is no criticism of fraternities as such, but is it a criticism of the habit of running tickets made up of representatives of organizations. Machine politics merit severe criticism.

There is no reason why a ticket should not contain a fair representation of other groups. If tickets are essential, one that showed itself broadly representative would undoubtedly receive support, providing its nominee were desirable.

No charge is made against exclusive, close-knit machines on the ground of international "vote swapping". The circumstances surrounding their organization is such as to bring about unconsciously the undesirable political conditions which seem to suggest premeditated action.

The experience of the past has shown that there is always a tendency toward machines that evidence a selfish attitude. It may or may not be the case this fall and it is hoped that it is not.

The student body will gladly welcome broad college politics, politics making no distinction or discrimination between groups, but picking the best man.

SUPPORT OF FOOTBALL

Editor Daily Cardinal:
I believe a proper heading for this article might be "DO YOU KNOW YOUR FOOTBALL TEAM?" The time has come when the attention of the student body should be directed toward Camp Randall. As an alumnus of Wisconsin I cannot understand how any man with red blood in his veins and who holds himself to be a student of the university can resist the temptation, say nothing about the duty, of attending foot-ball practice.

I have watched foot-ball at Camp Randall for the last 15 years and I believe that I can safely say that there is a steady decline in the interest manifested by the students themselves in their foot-ball team. It is lamentable to note at the present time that over 50 per cent of the spectators at daily practice are citizens of the city of Madison, and that out of the student body of over 7,000 there is but a mere handful of students. This same student body should be there 7,000 strong.

Going out to the scheduled games is only a small part of the support that you should give to your team. GET OUT AND BOOST!

You can't encourage those men by correspondence or any other form other than your presence and your boosting. Yell for them; plug for them; let them know you are with them and not merely watching for what the papers will have to say.

You will see the result in the first game that is played. You will see some of the OLD WISCONSIN SPIRIT emanating from the stands, and you will see a team that will fight till hell freezes over before it will suffer you to be disappointed with defeat.

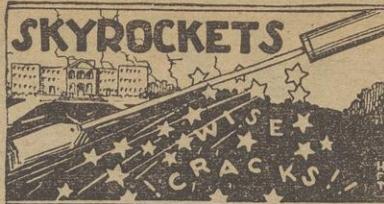

I'll wager that not over 25 per cent of the student body can go out to Camp Randall today and identify the members of the foot-ball squad at hand-shaking-range. I think it is a criminal offense punishable by the severest kind of hazing for a student to ask at a game "Who is that?". GET OUT, I say, GET OUT!

Community Union Drive $18,000 Short of Goal

Few students have contributed to the Community Union drive according to F. C. Leiser chairman of the committee. Four fraternities and sororities have contributed amounts ranging from $25.00 to $100.00.

A special committee of selected men and women will meet today at noon for the purpose of discussing the future plans of the drive. The goal has been set at $87,000.00 and thus far approximately $69,000.00 has been secured. The campaign probably will continue another week or ten days.

State Laws in Simple Form Brossard Aim

Revisor of Statutes To Call Committee On Revision Bills

Revision and codification of Wisconsin's highway and health laws will be made by the 1923 session of the legislature, E. E. Brossard, revisor of statutes, reported today.

Mr. Brossard announces that he will call the special legislative interim committee composed of Senators George Staudemeyer and George B. Skogmo and Assemblymen James B. French, Alexander E. Matheson and John L. Dahl, to meet during the first part of December to go over the revisor's bills before put into final shape for submission to the legislature.

Highway and health laws, enacted during the past 74 years are now scattered throughout the statutes, in many instances overlapping in their provisions, containing obsolete sections and is often nullified in part by later legislative action.

Mr. Brossard is also revising the index to Wisconsin statutes, amending them throughout as an aid to attorneys. Complaint is being made that the present index is too limited.

Renumbering of the statutes will be completed before the legislature meets, according to M. Brossard, who says that the legislature will be able at this session to complete the simplification of the numbering system used to classify Wisconsin's laws.

Revision of the highway laws is occupying the greater part of Mr. Brossard's attention. Hundreds of sections of the road statutes are being brought together and classified into a simple code.

Laws governing the construction and maintenance of fences are being rewritten and codified.

High Wind Fans Forest Fires in Minnesota

ST. PAUL, Minn.—A 35-mile an hour wind early this morning was driving the fires in the Kelsey, Meadowland and Fernay districts, according to reports received at the office of the state forester, and fire fighters reported that there was little prospect of preventing the fires from running together.

Should the wind continue, more than a dozen small villages may be burned. These towns include Ellmore, Cotton, Shaw and Palmer.

Lit Offers Cleverly Balanced Variety in First Issue of Year

By Prof. M. I. Rosovtzeff

Is the Lit worth reading? Is it representative of the mood and aspirations of the Wisconsin students? Worth reading it certainly is, and as for the strivings of the Wisconsin students it shows them from their best side.

There is in the Lit a nice and careful study, by Ida G. Gilbert, of Walt Whitman, a man and a writer whose works I used to read in Russia, where he was very popular in the first years of the twentieth century. Was it because he was so democratic or because he embraced in his soul the whole of the world?

Fiction Criticized.

There are three or four short stories. One of them "Those Nearest and Dearest", by Margaret Emmerling, is a nice little piece of realistic embroidery worth reading.

I was not very much impressed with Cheryl Dewey's "Sweethearts While You Wait." For a future inquirere into the vicissitudes of the Wisconsin student's slang it may give some valuable material. But as a story it is just a photo of what one sees every day on the campus. Just a snapshot. One gets not a glimpse in the psychology of these girls and boys engaged in vamping each other and creating "situations".

Poems Cited

Some of the poems are quite good, especially the pseudo-oriental one "Yacinth" by S. G. Weinbaum. But I am afraid this pseudo-orientalism is going to be quite out of fashion very soon by the efforts of Kemal Pasha. To sum up, I must say there is much promise in the Lit. Fresh literary aspirations are budding.

And I am glad to say that the pessimism which was somewhat prominent in the Lit last year is vanishing, I hope, forever.

Menorah Society Will Hold Welcome Tonight

The Menorah society will hold its first meeting at 7:45 o'clock tonight in Lathrop parlors. The meeting will be a welcome for freshmen, and the nature, purpose, and work of Menorah will be explained by the officers and members of the faculty.

On the program are: Mrs. Joseph Jastrow, Prof. R. E. N. Dodge, Prof. L. B. Wolfson, Prof. Selig Perlman, Dean S. H. Goodnight.

The Menorah society encourages the study and advancement of Jewish culture and ideals. Questions of Jewish history, literature, and art are studied. The meetings are open to the public and it is non-sectarian in character.

"Tell the students at the university that the boys and girls of China seem to like co-education quite as much as they do here," said Dr. Yu-Yue Tsu Ph. D. of Shanghai, China at a meeting of Chinese students and their wives which was held in the fellowship rooms of the Y. M. C. A. Monday night.

Dr. Tsu under the auspices of the Chinese Students, Christian association in North America is making a tour of all the larger colleges in the United States, striving to be of help to the 10,000 foreign students in this country, approximately 2,000 of which are Chinese. Dr. Tsu declared that the foreign students sometimes do not receive friendly treatment in this country and the organization which he represents is trying to overcome such conditions.

As another phase of his talk Dr. Tsu attempted to impress upon the Chinese students here, the fact that theirs is a wonderful opportunity for service to their country. Briefly he outlined the political situation in China and Education is making rapid progress in China according to Dr. Tsu. They are even experimenting with co-education and the young people of China seem to realize that unless popular education is widespread there can be no good, democratic national life in China.

The Mozart Club has received a telegram today from the Wolfsohn Musical Bureau, managers for Mario Chamlee, to the effect that the noted tenor has been suffering for the past week with inflamed vocal cords and that the doctor refuses to permit him to sing during the present week. His progress toward complete recovery is such, however, that the doctor gives assurance that he can perform next week.

Accordingly arrangements have been made by the Mozart Club to change the date of the Chamlee concert from October 5 to Wednesday, October 11, at the Christ Presbyterian church.

Reservations purchased for October 5 will be used for the postponed date.

Guyer Tells of Dangers From Our Foreign Blood

"One out of every three people in the United States is either foreign born or is of foreign parentage."

This statement was made by Prof. M. F. Guyer, of the Zoological department. Speaking on "Immigration from the Biological Standpoint" before a meeting of the Woman's club yesterday afternoon in the auditorium of the Woman's building.

"In only 14 of the 50 largest cities of America does the native population constitute one half," Professor Guyer said. "In New York, for example, three-fourths of the population are foreign born or the children of foreign born."

Present tendencies show that one sixth of the present population of this country will produce over one half of the next generation, according to Professor Guyer. Research and tests show that the qualities necessary for high grade citizens are lacking in this one sixth, which is composed of foreign born.

Because heredity is five to ten times as important as environment in the make-up of an individual, sociology students are alarmed at the existing conditions. Since the immigrants must be absorbed by the people of the country, the in-born fitness of those who come to this country to be citizens must be insisted upon, is the opinion of Professor Guyer.

Research shows that a large percentage of the inmates of asylums throughout the country are foreigners. It also shows that there are many foreigners with criminal records.

"An American committee of investigation found that crime had decreased in Italy, while it had increased in America," Professor Guyer said. "The explanation for this was simple, they found. 'The criminals had gone to America.'"

WHO WILL WEAR THE GREEK CROWN NEXT?

Truly, uneasy lies the head that wears a crown. Consider this royal Greek family of ex-King Constantine and ex-Queen Sophie of Greece. One member, Constantine, has twice worn the crown and twice has been forced to abdicate the throne. George, his son and crown prince, has now ascended the throne. Be-
