CARDINAL GETS COMPLETE COPY OF RESOLUTIONS

Statistics Attest Only 23 Per Cent of Spectators at Game
Were Students

A copy of the resolutions unanimously passed by the men's forum of the Kingsley Methodist church, Milwaukee, on Sunday night was received at The Cardinal office yesterday morning. The resolutions call for an investigation into the "general drunkenness" at the university by the school authorities.

Cardinal editorials on October 30 condemning drinking at Homecoming are the basis for the resolutions. The editorials were addressed to the student body, 7,156 of whom bought tickets at the student rate for the Homecoming game.

Statistics on the mail order sale for the Minnesota game given by the athletic department last night indicate the 6,455 alumni bought tickets, 9,950 tickets went to the general public and the balance of the 31,009 tickets were sold at open sale.

Many From Out of Town

Statistics also show that 23 per cent of the spectators were students. Madison is a city of approximately 40,000. If one out of every four persons in Madison attended the game, which is 32 per cent of the total attendance, there were 13,853 people from out of the city, or approximately 45 per cent.

No extra police force was provided for by the city of Madison to take care of the visitors which totalled 45 per cent of the Homecoming crowd or the 32 per cent of resident people. The resolutions call for a university investigation based on the conduct of 77 per cent of the Homecoming crowd which has no personal connection with the university.

Chief of Police Thomas Shaughnessy said yesterday afternoon that no extra police were on duty to handle the booze situation over Homecoming. State, federal and city police were down in little Italy for a week before Homecoming. Eight of ten arrests were made and their cases are pending before the

HOLD MASSMEETING FOR ALL WOMEN TOMORROW

There will be a compulsory mass-meeting of all women from 7 to 8 o'clock tomorrow evening in Music hall. The drinking situation on the campus will be discussed, and some action may be taken.

MICHIGAN DANCE PLANNED BY BOARD

Special Musical Act and Lighting Effects to Be Feature

Plans for the special Michigan dance were made at the Union board meeting Tuesday evening. Union Vodvil, convocations, and relations with the Forensic board were discussed.

Sam Thompson, chairman of the Friday and Saturday night Lathrop dances, is planning a feature dance on Saturday, November 17 for the entertainment of Michigan students who will accompany their team here.

A special professional musical act during intermission and novel lighting effects will be introduced at the dance. Similar features may be used at all future dances.

Union Vodvil is making rapid progress according to Gordon Wanzer, chairman. The bill is almost completed, but one more act is necessary. Those wishing to try out may apply at the Union board office any day between two and four o'clock.

Convocation plans have been upset by the unexpected inability of Samuel Gompers to appear for the first convocation. No speaker has been secured as yet.

Dandelions Don't Grow Only in the Springtime, Tra-la

The dandelions are in bloom at Picnic point. No, no, don't be alarmed, spring isn't arriving prematurely this year, nor is it a natural phenomenon to have dandelions in November, according to Prof. Arthur S. Pearse of the Zoology department.

"I have seen dandelions in every month in the year," said Professor Pearse yesterday. "They are one of the most adaptable flowers in nature, growing tall in tall grass, and short in short grass, and under many conditions of climate. Spring is the most favorable time of year for them and so we have the greatest number then."

"The past days have been spring-like enough to allow them to grow," he concluded.

KOWALKE DONATES TWO SILVER CUPS

Rewards to Be Given R. I. Ch. E. Students For Prepared Papers

Two silver cups have been presented by Professor Kowalke to the student section of the A. I. Ch. E. to be awarded to the members receiving the best original papers before the section during the coming school year. The larger of the two cups is to be awarded for the best paper read by a junior or senior and the other for the best freshman or sophomore paper. The cups are on display in the Chemical Engineering building auditorium and will become the permanent property of those who win them.

The criticism is often made that too much of their time on technical subjects and it is believed that these cups will stimulate interest in public speaking and in the preparation of technical papers. They are intended to serve as a recognition of extra-curricular interest in developing professional ability.

The subject to be discussed may be chosen by the student preparing the paper. The treatment of the subject may be historical, economic or otherwise, but it is planned to limit the subjects to technical ones.

A committee has been appointed by Stuart Fiedler, '24, president, to draw up regulations for the competition and to judge the papers. All members of the A. I. Ch. E. may enter this competition. Those desiring to enter are urged to see W. E. Ouweneel, '24, chairman of the program committee.

Foreign Flashes

BERLIN.—The government has denied reports stating that the former Kaiser is to imitate the ex-Crown Prince with an entree into Germany. An earlier Paris dispatch claimed that Chancellor Stresemann had issued passports to the war monarch for a return to German soil.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — President Coolidge is at work drafting his first message to congress. The first message of the new executive will be watched with interest by both parties, especially what it says about American participation in a world court. This issue was foremost in the late President Harding's policies up to the time of his death. Whether or not Coolidge will follow his former leader's plans is the cause of much speculation in national diplomatic circles. Should the present executive switch policies on this issue it might easily mean a break with Sec'y of State Hughes.

OKLAHOMA CITY. — Governor Walton has announced that whether impeached or not, he intends to carry his fight and expose the Klan to the limit, as far as the Supreme Court if necessary. The anti-Walton element in the house feels that it has secured evidence sufficient to secure Walton's impeachment and will try to put the issue up to the senate for a speedy decision.

HARESFOOT PLANS ANNUAL FOLLIES DANCE FOR NOV. 30

Arey and Wittenberg Manage
Club's First Public Activity of Year

The Haresfoot club announced last night that the Sixth Annual Haresfoot Follies dance will be held Friday, Nov. 30 in Lathrop hall. Gordon Arey '25 has been appointed chairman and Wilbur Wittenberg '24, business manager.

The Follies dance marks the beginning of the Haresfoot club's public activity for the year. Willard Sumner's and Cecil Brodt's 10 piece orchestra will furnish music for the evening.

Three acts chosen for the evening's entertainment will be presented by the Haresfoot club and will be staged at the intermission time between 10:30 and 11 o'clock.

There will be a distinct change in the type and management of the acts this year, according to Gordon Arey. Instead of selecting acts by means of competitive groups from the student body, all of the acts this year will be made up entirely of Haresfoot men.

About 250 couples attended the Follies dance last year and it is expected that tickets will be even more in demand this year. The sale will be limited," Wilbur Wittenberg asserted last night.

Places where tickets will be on sale will be announced later in The Cardinal.

C. R. MCKEE ADDRESSES CHEMICAL CLUB MEET

A regular meeting of the Wisconsin section of the American Chemical society will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in Room 202, Chemistry building. Mr. C. R. McKee, chief chemist of the United States Glue Co. will speak on "Chemical Control in a Gelatine Factory." Mr. McKee has had wide experience in this field and will emphasize the practical side of this important industry.

GILKEY WILL TALK ON "DADS' DAY"

Y. M. C. A. Members Will Entertain Fathers and Faculty With Talks

Dr. Carl W. Gilkey of the Hyde Park Baptist church of the University of Chicago will talk at the entertainment which will be given at the Y. M. C. A. Friday night, Nov. 16, in connection with "Dad's Week," Nov. 11 to Nov. 18, and "Young Men's Week," Nov. 18 to Nov. 25, both of which are being observed nationally.

"Doctor Gilkey, one of the most prominent Chicago pastors, and a graduate of Harvard, is the youngest man ever asked to talk at the Appleton Chapel of Harvard, an honor granted to but few pastors," said Frederic E. Wolf, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A.

Every member of the Y. M. C. A. is asked to bring as his guest either his father, a faculty member, or a Madison business man. In order to avoid confusion, Y. M. C. A. members should sign up as to which faculty men they are taking to the entertainment. Mothers of Y. M. C. A. members will serve refreshments at the party.

Comedy Stunts Are Wanted By Judges For Union Vodvil

Comedians, funnymen, folks with a line wanted by Union Vodvil. The call is sent out by Gordon Wanzer '24, general chairman, and Bill Purnell '22, production manager, who, with a committee of five judges, witnessed the staging of a dozen tentative acts during the past week.

"The trials have proved to be very satisfactory, but we need comedy. We have had a bit of practically everything so far, but we need something to pep up the show," Wanzer said last night. Folks interested can call Purnell at the Union board office in the Union building between 2 and 4:30 o'clock any afternoon.

THREE GIRLS BACK AFTER TESTIFYING

No Evidence Found to Complicate Car Occupants in Chicago Accident

Florence Killilea, '25 Margaret Pergande, '24, and Katherine Kennedy from Chicago Heights where they voluntarily remained for the inquest relating to the automobile accident which cost the lives of two persons Sunday morning.

The coroner's inquest held Monday from 10 o'clock to 12:30 o'clock attracted such a large crowd that it was necessary to move it from the coroner's office to the large police court room.

The three girls testified at the inquest telling their account of the accident. Other witnesses were John T. Murphy, Jr., Dorothy King and Joseph Marthaler, the other occupants of Murphy's car who were uninjured, and one man who had witnessed the entire affair.

Mr. Bluhm, attorney for the Milwaukee and St. Paul railroad, served as lawyer for the girls, although no evidence was presented which implicated them in the least with the guilt.

The jury handed in the verdict that the death of Murphy and Mrs. Erb was due to loss of control of the car by Murphy.

"Murphy did not sound his horn as a signal that he wanted to pass us until he collided with the rear of the car," said Florence Killilea. "He then swerved to the left, head-over to the telephone pole directly in front of the car which we were in."

They left Chicago Heights directly after the inquest and arrived in Madison at 8:20 o'clock that evening. They are members of Sigma Kappa sorority.

The funeral of John T. Murphy who was killed in the accident will be held this morning. He is survived by a wife and five sons in Chicago Heights.

O'SHEA RETURNS FROM SHORT LECTURE TOUR

Professor M. V. O'Shea of the Department of Education has returned from a trip which he took for the purpose of delivering addresses before a number of educational conventions and civic associations in Indiana, Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska. In Indiana he discussed "The Results of Recent Educational Experiments," and in Illinois, "Problems of Youth in Present Day American Life." In Iowa his subject was "The Psychology of Belief." In Omaha he talked on "New Times Bring New Problems in Teaching," and in Nebraska, his subject was "Human Nature in the Schoolroom."

AG PROFS AT CHICAGO TO ATTEND LAND MEET

Dean H. R. Russel and Prof. F. D. Morrison, both of the College of Agriculture, have gone to Chicago to attend the meeting of the association of Land Grant colleges which is being held November 13 to 15. Dean Russell and Professor Morrison are sent to represent the administration of the College of Agriculture of the University of Wisconsin.

CARS CRASH ON LANGDON, IMMEL SLIGHTLY INJURED

Lights in Vicinity Are Extinguished When Transformer Falls

On his way west down Langdon street at 8:30 o'clock last night, Jere Witter, in his Stutz touring car, crashed into a Buick coupe driven by Adjutant-General Immel, which was going north on Frances street, driving it into the telephone pole on the north-west corner of the street crossing. Although the Buick was transformed into an almost unrecognizable mass, Immel escaped with a slight laceration of the forehead. The occupants of the other car were not hurt.

Witnesses say that Witter, with Gerald Williams '27, put on his brakes just before he reached the crossing, evidently seeing that Immel was going to turn up Langdon. The heavy Stutz skidded into the lighter car with a crash that was heard for a block away, driving it back towards the telephone pole.

The impact of the two cars against the pole was so great that the 650 pound transformer, attached to the pole 30 feet in the air, loosened and crashed down on the hood of the Buick, missing Immel inside the car by a few inches, and rolled into the street.

Immel was rushed to the university clinic where his wound was dressed immediately.

The only injuries to the Stutz were a caved in right front wheel and smashed lights.

The accident to the transformer extinguished all lights in houses on Langdon street from Lake street to Howard place as well as the street lights on the north side of State street for several blocks. Electricians arrived on the scene within a few minutes, however, and the lights were soon in operation.

Witnesses say that the wet pavement made it practically impossible for Witter to keep his car from skidding and the slight application which it was necessary to make to the brakes rendered the car unmanageable.

BADGER DISPLAY IS ATTRACTING MANY

Chocolate Shop Window Holds Attention With Cuts From Year Book

The 1925 Badger display in the window of the Chocolate Shop at the present time is attracting more attention than any display we have ever had," G. J. Daniels, proprietor of the shop, said yesterday.

"Last summer we said that 4,925 finger prints and 3,351 nose prints adorned our windows when the summer Badger display was shown. We can't count them now, but take our word for it, we are kept busy cleaning the windows," Mr. Daniels said.

The display is widely declared to be the most elaborate ever prepared by the Wisconsin year book. Art work is shown in more advanced stages than the student body has seen before publication date. Plates prepared by the Stafford Engraving company of Indianapolis, Ind., which is doing most of the work for the 1925 Badger, are the center of the exhibit. Lay-outs for senior and class sections and color pages indicate the quality of the work which can be expected in the finished book.

Several designs submitted by Milwaukee and eastern jewelers for Badger staff badges are also in the exhibit. A badge will be chosen from the group by popular choice.

"The display will be removed from the window on Thursday," Mr. Daniels said. "This will be necessary to make room for a Michigan game display. We hope everybody has an opportunity before then to see what we consider to be the most interesting exhibit on Wisconsin life which we have ever been fortunate enough to have."

BLANCO NOT CHAMP OF PIRATE, HE SAYS

Raps Cardinal Reporter Who Called Him Defender of Spanish Corsair

An article which appeared in the Sunday's issue of the Cardinal under the title of "Blanco Defends the Spanish Pirate," directly misquoted Prof. Blanco's views on this matter, according to a letter received from him by the Cardinal editor this morning. A quotation from the letter is as follows:

"I suppose I should feel highly honored for being presented as the champion of the Pirate; it sounds so old-fashioned, you know. But the fact is that the distinction does not belong to me. If the bright young reporter had read my article in the International Book Review with any degree of carefulness, she would have seen that I did not defend the Spanish Pirate or any other kind of Pirate.

"Heretofore I had considered myself a peaceful sort of fellow, more or less meek, rather fond of the motto 'Safety First' and altogether a law-abiding, prosaic, inconspicuous citizen—but now, with one stroke of the pen, an enterprising reporter of the Cardinal suddenly elevates me to the stupendous rank of Champion of the Pirate. Verily, I feel overwhelmed."

Prof. Blanco, later characterizes the pirates as a disreputable people and hopes for the return of the confidence he has missed since the publication of the "fatal article" of last Sunday.

SALES FOR BADGER REACH 1,000 MARK

Orders Yesterday Exceed Record Make During Previous Day

More than 1,000 subscriptions for the 1924 Badger had been received by staff members at the close of the second day of the subscription drive.

Approximately 300 persons are busy soliciting subscriptions this week, in the hope of having a total of 5,000 orders by Saturday. The circulation staff this year is twice as large as that of last year, only 150 people taking part in the drive at that time.

No one soliciting is very far ahead of the other circulation staff members. The competition for the prize winning cups is keen among individuals, as well as among the sorority, fraternity and group teams.

Students on the campus are taking advantage of the fact that the Badgers may be secured now for $4, while in the spring the price will be at least $5. Many are also taking advantage of the time plan, which includes the payment of $2 now and $2.50 in the spring.

Solicitors are asked to report returns each day at the Badger office in order that a daily report of total sales can be made. Students wishing to enter the competition for gold staff badges offered as subscription prizes can obtain campaign information and material at the Badger office.

MAIER AND PATTISON TO PLAY JAZZ STUDY

When Guy Maier and Lee Pattison give their two piano recital at the University gymnasium on November 20, one of the program numbers will be "A Jazz Study" by Edward Burlingame Hill, of the faculty of music at Harvard University. It was written especially for Mr. Maier and Mr. Pattison. Maier and Pattison give the second of the three Union board concerts for this year.

Inspection Trips Upset Engineers' Plans For Sleep

"No more late hours for engineers!" one of the "phoolish predictions" of the Wisconsin Engineer at the first of the semester is upset, and many of the electricals can not find time to get nine hours sleep every night.

The annual trips for the inspection of electrical plants to be taken next week by senior electrical engineers are the cause of all this pledge-breaking. Professors J. R. Price and J. T. Rood are managing the arrangements for the trips.

The Western trip starts Monday morning with the inspection of the Allis-Chalmers and Lakeside plants of Milwaukee. The men will also visit plants in Chicago, Kenosha, Bloomington and Gary.

About 30 men have signed for the Eastern journey which includes Detroit, Buffalo, Pittsburg and Cleveland, and ends in Chicago for the game.

Many of the classes that the men miss next week are suspended, but there are always a good number of reports which must be in on time regardless of trips, even if the trips happen to terminate at the Chicago game.

PUNKIN HOLLER NOW IS ANNUAL PRODUCTION

The Punkin Holler which will be given this week-end has become an annual production of the Agric Triangle club.

All the members of the rural schools of Dane county have been invited to attend and take part in the Punkin Holler of this year and the hearty response guarantees a good turnout. The tickets for the event are being sold by members of the club for 25 cents.

200 ATTEND MEETING OF NEWMAN SOCIETY

About 200 members of the Newman club attended the meeting Sunday evening. A business meeting was held after the social hour. Officers elected for this school year were: John MacDonald, '24, president; Catherine Boyd, '24, vice-president; Florence Miller, '25, secretary; Verdi D'Ardell, '26, treasurer. The officers will meet this week to make definite plans for this year.

RESEARCHER TALKS ON "GASOLINE REFINING"

OVER PROPOSED
BIG TEN CHANGESAthletic Director Will Express Himself After Giving Matter Consideration

The proposal that the Big Ten change the rule by which it is permissible to protest athletes after the season has begun has not received much attention from T. M. Jones, head of the athletic department. He wants a few days to think the matter over, before expressing himself.

The University of Wisconsin club an organization composed of Wisconsin alumni, has gone on record as desiring a change in the present rule regarding the eligibility of players. The members of the club believe that the record of each player should be looked into before the season has got under way, and that after that all such questions should be absolutely out. A resolution to this effect was passed by the club at Chicago and sent to President Birge.

Minnesota Daily Speaks

The Minnesota Daily student newspaper in speaking of the Gerber case, says that the whole question of eligibility resolves itself into a case of "hang your clothes on a hickory limb, but don't go near the water."

George Huff, Illinois athletic director, says that the proposed change is useless. Huff says that if a newspaper found out that a certain player was a professional it would publish the information and that then the college could not play the man in question.

Huff Gives Opinion

Huff believes that if a player is found to be ineligible he should be barred as soon as the proof is forthcoming even though it is just before an important game.

Coach Stagg, of the Maroons, is in the same position as Jones and refuses to talk. He maintains that he isn't qualified to judge the merits of men on opposing teams because he is so wrapped up in his own men.

Nevertheless something will be done, and done quite soon. Practically all of the metropolitan papers have taken the matter up and are giving it plenty of publicity, and the chances are that when the officials of the Big Ten get together they will make the change.

Grid Graphs

By ORIE

It's an old saying around these parts that Wisconsin always has one game in its system that will surprise the other conference teams. Michigan is next, remember, and it looks like this will be the one they mean.

Jack Ryan is going to work those boys ragged to beat.. Michigan on the Camp Saturday. It's high time that Michigan is knocked off their porch by Wisconsin—a split in games in two years wouldn't be bad at all — especially if we put them out of a championship.

Last night the men were shown misplays that were pulled off in the Illinois game. Hope they will benefit by their mistakes, and play rings around that powerful Michigan aggregation. We need a win, men, so let's get some of that famous "go", and win.

Reports from Illinois say that Grange is still not right after the "knockout" play was slipped his way last Saturday. Zuppke hasn't worked Grange at all yet, and will probably give him a much needed rest for the entire week, insert him into the game against Missouri A. & M. win the game, and then reappear for Ohio State. Easy stuff.

Some of the best backs in the conference will be on Camp Randall next Saturday. Steger, Kipke,

Purdue Paper
Ignores Result of Grid Battle

No mention was made of Purdue's stinging defeat at the hands of Ohio State, 32 to 0, in The Purdue Exponent, the daily paper of the university.

Saturday's defeat was the worst the Boilermakers have suffered this season, a season of one defeat after another.

One column in the Exponent is usually reserved for the story of the game, but this morning the column was blank. Editorial columns, where a comment on the game usually appears, was also left blank.

Not a single item was printed on any aspect of the contest. Neither the Purdue team nor the Ohio State team was mentioned in any part of the paper. Losers are usually supported to the limit, but the student publication refused to consider the game of Saturday.

The Purdue squad was badly shaken up in the fray with the Buckeyes. Capt. Ralph Claypool is out of the game, probably for the remainder of the season.

W. A. A. AWARDS
"W" TO ALUMNAEMrs. C. R. Modie, One of Its Oldest Alumnae, Receives
Award

W. A. A. awarded its crimson "W" to one of its oldest alumnae, Mrs. C. R. Modie '07, who was one of the organization's founders and was a member when it was known as G. A. A. Mrs. Modie was president of W. A. A. as Grace Hobbs in 1907 and received her letter for the work of her undergraduate days.

New members taken into W. A. A. at last night's meeting are Mary Balir '25, Lillian Twenhofel '26, Bessie Simpson '26, Margaret Moses '25, Alen Goodspeed '26, Rhoda Koch '25, Rose Denton '24.

Pin wearers announced are Marie Carpenter '24, Lois Beattie '24, Grace Sherman '26, Lorraine Maytum '26, Hazel Miller '24.

Alumnae reminiscences constituted the program for the meeting. The speakers were Mrs. Modie, Mrs. William B. Bennett '04, and Dean F. Louise Nardin.

Mrs. Modie recalled the days when co-eds were forbidden to swim in Lake Mendota, but when W. A. A. members created a sensation with its crew members clad in the regulation gym costume.

Mrs. Bennett's recollections of W. A. A. 20 years ago were of a club of but 18 members. Men coaches for women's basketball played in "roughneck fashion" was the rule in those days, according to Mrs. Bennett.

The meeting of Phi Lambda Upsilon which was to have been held tonight has been postponed until Wednesday, Nov. 21.

and Miller rate high this year, and in all of their games have gained more ground than any one of our backs have. Kipke is the gent who gave Rollie a good argument at Ann Arbor last year—remember? Incidentally, he made All-American too.

There wasn't a single injury after the Illinois races. That seems to point to perfect physical condition, doesn't it? Some of our men were socked plenty hard, too.

That many of the students and townspeople are looking for a win Saturday is evidenced by the fact that they will take any 2 to 1 bet on Michigan that are offered. Looks O. K. doesn't it?

There'll be no laying down on Jack Ryan, folks. Remember that this is his first year in Conference circles, and so far he has made a darn good showing. Take a look at Phrue, Northwestern, and Indiana, all with new coaches. Would you rather be supporting a team like theirs? The old push gang.

CRITICS DISCUSS
ATTITUDE OF BIG TEN AUTHORITIESMethod of Enforcing Conference Laws is Censured
By Many

There has been considerable discussion the last few days relative to the attitude of the Western Conference toward amateur athletics. Strangely enough some of the critics have condemned the conference authorities for going too far in enforcing the Conference laws relating to amateurism and some have charged that college athletics are highly commercialized.

Regarding the criticism that the conference is too idealistic in its conception of athletics let it be said that every sport with the exception of amateur sport has at some time or other been viewed with suspicion. No one ever raises a question of the honesty of purpose and effort of college athletes. Those in control of the athletics of the Conference believe that it is worth while trying to keep college athletics on such a plane that they like Caesar's wife shall be above suspicion.

Funds Used for Improvement

Those who fear that college athletics are becoming commercialized refer to the large sums of money that are realized from the games, to the gambling on college contests, to professional activities of college athletes and to methods of recruiting high school stars. Regarding the profit from the games, it is not a question of how much money is taken in at the gate but what is done with the money that counts. Here in the Conference each university publishes each year a statement of receipts and disbursements. These reports show that a great deal of the money is used for permanent improvement—field houses, stadia, tennis courts and the like. Ohio State university used eleven thousand dollars for intramural athletics last year. No one need have any fear that the funds are used for private gain.

There will always be a certain amount of gambling on the price of wheat, on presidential elections and on athletic contests, but betting on Conference games by students has been reduced to a very small minimum in the Big Ten.

Few Disqualified Lately

In the last fifteen months the Conference directors have disqualified thirty or forty men for violating the professional rule. In that time the names of three thousand varsity and freshmen varsity athletes have been on file in the different universities. It is to be questioned whether any other group of colleges has disqualified such a large per cent of its athletes for professionalism. This does not mean that more men in this section are professional than in other sections of the United States in fact most of these men were disqualified for minor infractions of the rule, but it means that the Directors are enforcing the rules.

Record of Athletes Kept

As regards recruiting, acting upon a suggestion from Conference the state high school athletic association secretaries of the seven middle-western states have requested their four thousand principal to notify the Conference Commissioner of Athletics if they had information that any Conference athlete had violated the amateur rule or if any representative of a Conference college—student, alumnus or coach, had offered financial inducements to a high school or college star to attend one of the Conference universities. So far only a few cases have been reported and but one per cent of those cases reported were found to relate to violations of the Conference rules.

There is a great deal of loose thinking these days regarding college athletics. Perhaps one reason for this is in the fact that the colleges have not taken the time to provide the facts that the public may know what the true conditions are. The colleges of the Western Conference are conducting their athletics openly and have nothing

Frosh Net Men
Rounding Into Promising Form

Under the direction of Coach George Levis the freshmen basketball squad is rounding into promising form. Two nights a weeks are devoted to practicing fundamentals; especially passing and pivoting. Scrimmage with the varsity is held once a week.

There is a host of material for the forward positions. Martel, an all state man last year from Two Rivers, and Young of Peoria, both look good for a regular berth. Brooks of Louisville and Alexander of Chicago will fight it out for the pivot position. For guards Otis and Watson are displaying splendid form.

Although these men are showing up best at the first of the season there will be keen competition for every position on the team. Coach "Doc" Meanwell says this is the best squad he has seen on the floor for many years.

TICKETS FOR MICHIGAN
GAME SELLING IN BOOTH

Tickets for the Michigan game this coming Saturday are on sale in a booth in front of the gym. The usual price of $2.50 is being charged, and no limit is set as to the number one can get.

Mail applications for this game continue to come in at a rate that has surprised those in charge of the sale, more applications being received Monday than were received Friday and Saturday together.

SOCCER TEAM ELECTS
CAPTAIN AND MANAGER

The soccer team elected L. Weinreich captain and S. F. Wang for student manager at a meeting in Coach Schlatter's office last night.

The squad went down in defeat before the Chinese team on last Saturday, but there will be a return game at 10 o'clock next Saturday morning. At the same time the picture for the Badger will be taken.

In order to boost the team and gather supporters the team is planning a banquet at the Y. M. C. A. at 6 o'clock Wednesday, November 21.

Five years ago today, Nov. 14, a big extra was out telling about the future final game to be held at Camp Randall with the Michigan Aggies on "turkey" day. The squad was preparing to invade the Gopher field on Nov. 15—last practice on home ground. The coaches were Lowman; Kent, Breslabin. Jeanne Gray, hockey coach, was ill with the "flu."

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Nov. 14, everyone was getting ready to beat Chicago. The Badger athletes were inspired to victory by the smiling glances of actresses fair during practice. The Freshman basketball squad was hard at practice. The Badgers were hoping for a Maroon victory over the Gophers. The engineers issued placards calling for an army of rosters. The Scabbard and Blade was preparing for a dance. Mr. Lincoln Steffens highly praised the University. Field and Brown appeared at the Orpheum in a bit of "High Life in Jail."

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

Nov. 14, The Cardinal was composed of much larger sheets of paper. Pictures of "chick" college girls had the "hour glass" effect, and Girls! suits advertised at $9.75.

The Co-op was prominent. Red Domino dramatic society was presenting "Cousin Kate." Tau Beta Pi held an election and initiated ten members F. J. Fisher was toastmaster. Varsity coach was Barry and Cunningham, Osthoff, Culver were three of the regulars. Preparations for the Chicago game were being made.

GOPHERS BATTLE
IOWA SATURDAY
AT MINNESOTAMaroon and Gold Team Needs
Victory to Remain in Running

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 14.—While Minnesota was inactive Saturday, football history was written in the defeat of Notre Dame and Wisconsin in the west and in Harvard's victory over Princeton in the east. This week middle western fans will again center their attention on Northrop Field where Iowa, eliminated from the championship race, and Minnesota, which can leap at the pennant if it wins, will fight things out in what promises to be one of the season's hardest games.

Iowa's only defeats have come at the hands of Illinois and Michigan, which scored 9 and 10 points Hawkeyes. Minnesota is the only other Big Ten team with a clean slate, and a victory over Iowa will mean that the Minnesota-Michigan game the following week will determine whether Gopher or Wolverine is to go into a tie with Illinois for top honors.

Spaulding will throw against Iowa an eleven that has been chosen by the severest policy of test and elimination. In the test, every man has had an equal chance. In the eliminations, injury has stacked the cards against some gallant players who might otherwise be wearing the Maroon and Gold on Homecoming day. Freddie Oster, first string fullback, is definitely out of it, with his injured shoulder blade.

Minnesota fans feel confident that every position will be filled against Iowa by the man available who is best qualified to do the job. Cooper at center if he is in shape, Gay and Abramson at guards, Cox and Gross at tackles, and Eklund and Merrill at ends have everyone's confidence. In the backfield, Captain Martineau, Carl Lidberg, and Malcolm Graham seem certain to start. Loss of Oster leaves until the last minute the decision on a fourth in the backfield, with Peterson and Herman Ascher apparently receiving most consideration.

Gopher Play Changed

Minnesota's style of play is expected to be radically altered when the whistle blows Saturday. So many pass formations and end attacks were revealed against Northwestern that Head Coach Spaulding has thrown much of the old stuff into the discard and is developing some special plays for the Hawkeyes, knowing that they have done the same during the two weeks' lay-off that has been in effect. If the Gophers can score on Iowa by straight line plunging, it will be the first time that stunt has succeeded this year and Spaulding would like to turn the trick.

Gophers are chucking yet over the point after touchdown made last year at Iowa City by Captain Earl Martineau's running the ball across from the ten yard mark instead of kicking. Although Minnesota was beaten, that performance considerably lessened the sting.

Close followers of football feel that Minnesota will go onto the field this week at no disadvantage against Iowa. It will be a battle between teams that are nearly equal. If either can be called better, it must be Minnesota, despite the nearly impregnable defense of the Iowa line. The Gopher line is solid, also, and since the last quarter touchdown made by Northwestern by forward passing, Minnesota has been giving serious attention to blocking that means of advance.

Monday of this week was the first practice day this fall on which rain has fallen. Minnesota hopes for a dry field by Saturday, and most of the long distance weather predictors foresee one. But the team is not looking to fate or the weather for victory. It knows where there is a great big empty hook on which the Hawkeye scalp would look like a couple of flocks of United States treasuries.

She will like a Wahl Gift Set. Rider has the best assortment.—Adv.

THE CARDINAL'S STAND

As an indication of The Cardinal's active intent to carry out its stand against drinking at Wisconsin, the following telegram was sent to The Michigan Daily last night.

The Michigan Daily:

Prevailing student opinion here favors a clean-up on drinking at Wisconsin.

May The Cardinal ask the co-operation of the Michigan Daily in presenting to Michigan students this fact and in requesting their support of this stand during the coming week-end.

This request is made following nation-wide publicity given to our anti-booze stand made editorially during our Homecoming.

(Signed)

The Cardinal.

MORE ON BOOZE

When an editorial was written a short time ago entitled, "The Annual Drunk," it was little thought that the article would receive the wide-spread comment and publicity which was accorded it, not only in Wisconsin, but in many large national dailies.

The most recent result of the editorial, in the form of a communication from the Men's Forum of the Kingsley Methodist church, however, requires further comment from student interests.

While it is unfortunate that such publicity which modern sensationalism delights to broadcast and flaunt in unfavorable terms did arise, the good resulting from the editorial is found in the very discussion it caused. It always seems strange that the person who makes public these practices of a few unthinking youths is branded as being traitorous to his school and to good taste, while those unthinking youths themselves can disport themselves as loosely as they please and still be called "gentlemen."

On the other hand, it seems to those students at the University of Wisconsin who are attempting to clean up these things on the campus through the Cardinal and other direct means, that the action of the Milwaukee men in passing their resolutions, sending them to the deans, and in making them public was ill-advised.

Wisconsin students are not so unappreciative of a parent's feeling as not to realize that perhaps the first impulse after reading a denunciation of student conduct such as appeared in the Cardinal, Nov. 27, would be to demand a remedy from the faculty authorities.

It would seem, nevertheless, that a close perusal of the contents of that editorial, which it certainly must have had, according to reports, would have revealed the fact that there was a student sentiment against the evil and that things were being done to check it.

Is it a bit conceited to suggest that perhaps we would rather have these Milwaukee people write us and commend our opening an attack on a situation which has been prevalent for years, than to hear their complaint?

Is it unjust for us to suppose that the Milwaukee people would have the intelligence to understand that the faculty is opposed to promiscuous drinking and that it does and has endeavored to stop whatever cases it can, but must have the support of student sentiment before it can accomplish any definite results?

Then, it might not be beyond a mere student's officiousness to suggest to these men, serious and profound elders though they are, that if they wish to co-operate they might begin at home with Wisconsin alumni in Milwaukee who are in a tremendous measure to blame for Homecoming "spirits."

In other words, the students are roused, and will see an end to student drinking.

They would appreciate commendation of their stand by alumni, but do resent insinuations of "doing away with such functions" and this business of imploring the already over-tried faculty for remedies.

Let Wisconsin alumni and parents who are interested in cleaning up this thing at Wisconsin co-operate with, rather than rage against, the student and let him do his constructive work by educating the over-loyal Wisconsin rooter and alumnus to keep his hip pocket for his handkerchief alone when he comes to Madison.

FOR THE WEEK-END

An unusual opportunity is being offered in Milwaukee this week in the way of grand opera. Grand opera; perhaps it does not attract much attention in these parts, certainly from the size of the student part of concert audiences one would not think that it would. Nevertheless, there are students in the university, some hundred or so in the School of Music, who are interested in music and especially opera.

The number of students who commute to Milwaukee for the week-ends is amazing. It may not be as large this week because of the Michigan game. Nevertheless, there will be some who, for one reason or another, are planning to go to the nearest metropolis. There they are, with, perhaps an evening or afternoon on their hands. Will it be a movie or the vaudeville? Either one is a good time-killer.

But what of the opera? Those who have heard the company commend it highly. It is made up of singers from Germany and Austria with a scattering of natives of other continental countries, a fine band. If you do not want to think of it as a matter of education, try it with enjoyment in view. Residents of Madison have so little of this order in their own town, they should welcome such an opportunity as this.

Friday night the incomparable "Flying Dutchman" will be sung, Saturday afternoon Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel" and Saturday night the last of the Ring "Goetterdaemrung."

Other Editors Say—

INTERSECTIONAL FOOTBALL

Notre Dame's brilliant win at football over Princeton, following the win over the good West Point team, was unneeded evidence to show that football preeminence has ceased to be traditional and it has ceased to be eastern. One western coach has said that the eastern boys still begin college football better grounded in the fundamentals than the western. They have inherited more of it and have been drilled in it earlier. But along with that they have inherited some inhibitions. They do not take to the game in the air. Football games were not won in that fashion twenty years ago and the eastern team refuses to believe that they can be won in that fashion now.

The western team has no such inhibitions and no such traditions. It was readier for the new forms and takes to them. The stumbling block of the mid-west in football now is not New England and New Jersey but California. The effect of the climate on football players there seems to take a lot of beating and it has not yet been successfully administered.

We believe in the intersectional games as high spots in the best sport the country has and in spite of the dislike college administrations have for too much championship spirit in the game it could be wished that schedules were arranged to give one grand smash between the east, the midwest and the Pacific coast at the close of each season.

It would not do a school of young men any harm to hang up on the wall the trophy of the country, as indisputably won as arrangements for winning could make it. A great country of diversified climate and consequently of diversified habits and thoughts needs many emotional thoroughfares to keep it communicating and interlocked. A community of interests can be established in sports, affecting powerfully the young men from coast to coast.—Chicago Daily Tribune.

"No," she said, "I have a poor memory for jokes."

Undaunted we approached another fur coat and opened with—"Lo, what's your name?"
The fur coat was a little more amiable, and replied, "Iona Carr."
"That's nice," we came back (thinking this was the kind of a girl to get acquainted with) "What kind of a car do you own?"
"Oh, I don't know, but it starts with 'T'"

Emergency Board Fails to Certify Special Session

Prospects are very remote for a special session of the legislature, to consider the tax commission and appropriation of funds for state institutions.

This has been definitely decided, as a result of a conference held in the attorney general's offices, at which two members of the emergency board, Secretary of State, Zimmerman and State Treasurer, Levitan, it is understood, opposed the plan of appropriating funds through this body. A unanimous decision of the three members of the board is necessary to appropriate funds through this body.

GIVE INDIAN SKETCH

"The Pill Bottle," a dramatic portrayal of the caste system of India and the work of the church amongst the people of India, will be given by the dramatic department of the Student Cabinet of the Wesley Foundation, at 7 o'clock Sunday evening at the University Methodist church. A cast of 80, costumed in the dress of India will lend an oriental touch to the play. Leading parts are taken by Oliver Miller, '27, Eddis Mellor, '24, and Maynard Halverson; '25. J. E. Judson is directing. Costumes for the play are being made under the direction of Jean Cox, '24. The Forum orchestra will furnish special music Sunday evening.

Friend Octy Grins Consistency; Even Balance in Book

By E. H. S.

Octy is consistent this month. It's pretty evenly balanced throughout, with less flat material than usual and correspondingly less exceptional work.

We rather miss the Arrow Col-lar-Kelly Springfield type of pictures. But we probably miss it more because we have been used to it than because we like it immensely. Stiver's charcoal drawing on page 16 is one of the best bits of art work which has appeared in the Octopus for some time. It's title, too, has more in it than titles are apt to have.

It seems too bad that so little of the longer pieces of the Octopus are read by the students, for surely they contain the best humor in the book. It may seem to arduous to plow into a column story, but, as is evidenced in this issue, the longer story will reward your effort. So it is with "Questions pieces."

It is pleasing to see honest-to-goodness poetry in a university publication. It is a relief after vers libre, although perhaps the latter is more uproariously funny. "Nobody Loves a Fat Man," and "Revenge is Sweet," are the best bits of poesy.

Take a look at "Devilish Dialogues" on 14; it's probably happened to you. We didn't care so much for page 21 or 27, but 24 is good. Take a look at the edits.

BIRGE ATTENDING CHICAGO MEETING

University Head at Meeting of National Association of State Universities

President Birge is in Chicago attending a meeting of the National Association of State Universities. From there he will go to Columbia Mo., to be present at the inauguration of the President of the University of Missouri.

The meeting in Chicago had various objects, among them the formation of a permanent association of the presidents and trustees of tax supported schools. George H. Denny, president, University of Alabama; Chancellor Samuel Avery, University of Nebraska, W. L. Bryan, president of University of Indiana, and W. O. Thompson, president of Ohio University spoke at the presidents annual banquet last night.

At Columbia, President Birge will give an address on "the University and the Commonwealth", at the inauguration of President S. D. Brooks of the University of Missouri.

Prof. Max Mason, of the department of physics, represented the University of Wisconsin at the inauguration of Chancellor Herbert S. Hadley, at Washington university, St. Louis, on Nov. 10.

Dean C. S. Slichter, of the Graduate school, was present last week at the inauguration of the president of George Washington university, Washington, D. C., and has just returned from attending 3 meetings of the Association of American Universities, held at the University of Virginia, Charlottesville, Va.

While in Chicago President Birge also attended a meeting of the heads of schools having R. O. T. C. units.

GILLIN RETURNS FROM MEETING

Sociologist Attended Meeting of Social Research Council at Chicago

Prof. J. L. Gillin of the Sociology department returned Saturday from Chicago where he attended a conference of the National Social Research council, held Saturday afternoon in the Chicago University club.

The council was organized last spring for the purpose of devising means and standards of research in the three social sciences, economics, political science, and sociology. This council is composed of two representatives from the American Political Science association, two from the American Economic association and two from the American Sociological society.

The National Social Research council is at present cooperating with the National Research council in research work on the question of human migration.

Representatives present at the conference held last Saturday were Prof. C. E. Merriam of the University of Chicago, and Professor Crane of the University of Michigan, members of the American Political Science association; Professor Seerist of Northwestern university, and Prof. W. C. Mitchell of Columbia university, members of the American Economics association; Prof. F. S. Chapin of the University of Minnesota and Prof. J. L. Gillin, members of the American Sociological society.

Ringling, Lucchese Sing in Concert in Church Tonight

Josephine Lucchese, coloratura soprano, and Robert Ringling, baritone, assisted by Margaret Carlisle at the piano, will be heard for the first time in Madison at 8:15 o'clock tonight at Christ Presbyterian church.

Mr. Ringling is a Wisconsin boy and a former student at the University who has been making a name for himself in musical circles in grand opera roles with the San Carlo organization and in recitals throughout the country. Apart from a single appearance in Baraboo, his birthplace, he has not been heard in his native state until now.

Both Miss Lucchese and Mr. Ringling have appeared together in grand opera but tonight's concert, the first of a series of sixty, to be given en tour, marks their first appearance in joint recital.

The program follows:
1. Duet from the Barber of Seville—Rossini. Miss Lucchese and Mr. Ringling.

2. Drinking Song from Hamlet—Thomas. Mr. Ringling.

3. (a) Tu—Fuentes. (b) Vous Dances Marquise—Lemaire. Miss Lucchese.

4. (a) Old Spanish Song—Aubert. (b) Night in the Desert—Ross. (c) Memories—Thomas. Mr. Ringling.

5. Caro Nome from Rigoletto—Verdi. Miss Lucchese.

Intermission

6. Piano Solo—Eugene Onegin—Tchaikowsky—Pabst. Miss Carlisle.

7. (a) Evening—Hageman. (b) When We Were Parted—Hageman. (c) Invictus—Hubn. Mr. Ringling.

8. (a) Solveigs Song—Grieg. (b) Swiss Echo Song—Eckert. Miss Lucchese.

9. Duet from Rigoletto—Verdi. Miss Lucchese and Mr. Ringling.

Social Happenings

Five Greek organizations have made plans to entertain at house dances this week-end. This season, in particular, the tendency to hold all informal chapter dances on Saturday evening has been attributed to the larger number of Saturday classes on the hill this semester. All "tux" parties and formal dances, however, where one o'clock permission is granted, must be held on Friday evening.

S. A. E. Pledge party

The pledges of Sigma Alpha Epsilon will entertain the active chapter at a tux party to be given at the chapter house on Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Maisel will chaperone.

De Molay dance

The Madison chapter, Order of De Molay, is entertaining at a dancing party on Friday evening at the Woman's building. Invitations have been extended to all De Molay members of the university, members of Square and Compass and of Acacia fraternity.

Sigma Pi pledge dance

Tau of Sigma Pi fraternity is giving an informal dance in honor of its pledges on Friday evening at the chapter house. Prof. and Mrs. D. H. Otis have been asked to chaperon.

Chi Psi informal

Members of Chi Psi fraternity are holding an informal house dance on Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Schmidt will serve as chaperons.

Delta Zeta house dance

An informal dance will be held on Friday evening at the Delta Zeta chapter house. Those to chaperone include Mrs. Cook and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Ivory.

BEG PARDON!

Foreign students reception

President and Miss Nan Birge will hold the annual reception for foreign students at their home on the evening before Thanksgiving, Nov. 28. Elsworth Bunce '24, is chairman of the arrangements committee. Faculty members and fraternities are planning dinners for these students later in the semester.

DUNHAM WILL ADDRESS
SADDLE AND SIRLOIN

W. S. Dunham, owner of Oakland farm, known nationally as the home of good Percheron horses, will speak to members of Saddle and Sirloin club at agricultural hall at 7:30 o'clock on Thursday.

More than 3,000 horses of this breed have been sold from this farm. Mr. Dunham has acted as judge in many of the best horse shows in the United States and France. The development of the horse industry has been his and his father's life work.

All agricultural students are urged to hear Mr. Dunham speak.

KELMAN PRESENTS SKETCH OF GHANDI

Personality of Indian Leader is Described By Lecturer

Ghandi, as he appeared to the natives of India who look upon him as one to be worshipped, as he appeared at his trial, and as seemed in speech and ideals to an English woman living in India, was related by Miss Janet Harvey Kelman in a lecture yesterday on "Ghandi," the last of a series which she has been giving under the auspices of the economics department and of the Y. W. C. A.

"Ghandi is one of the great men of the world today because of his belief that the strength of a man lies in his adherence to the truth which he sees as a light within himself," declared Miss Kelman.

Describe Ghandi's Trial
Ghandi's trial was described by the speaker as being the most extraordinary in the history of the courts. She told of the reluctance of the presiding judge, who, about to sentence Ghandi to six years of imprisonment, addressed him as a man of high ideals and explained that Ghandi was against all violence but that violence was the inevitable consequence of his teachings as leader of the non-cooperative movement in India.

"The doctrine of harmlessness, the second of the vows which the followers of Ghandi must take, is the foundation of his revolt of passive resistance against all Western civilization," Miss Kelman said. "The vow demands not even thinking harmful thoughts about others even though one is not in sympathy with them."

Kelman Met Ghandi
Miss Kelman demonstrated the strength of this vow by telling of her meeting with Ghandi just after the signing of the armistice of the war. The Prince of Wales was about to arrive in India and Nationalist feeling ran high against all British subjects, but the Indian idealist, unperturbed, received Miss Kelman and discussed with her the industrial and educational conditions of India.

The vows of fearlessness, of celibacy, of moderation, the vow to uphold caste and the vow of home industry are other demands of the followers of Ghandi.

Gandhi Opposes Education
"Gandhi does not want any one to learn medicine or law. He himself took his degree in law in England, he formerly practiced law in Bombay," the speaker mentioned. "One should live the proper kind of life, he asserts, and one can live without doctors."

Miss Kelman, who has studied the conditions of working women in India and has incidentally observed the political situation in India is now completing a book on conditions as she found them. She will shortly return to Birmingham, England, where she will act as Dean of the Training school for Y. W. C. A. secretaries.

NARDIN DISCUSSES CO-ED EMPLOYMENT

Claims Women Have Opportunity of Working Way Through College

"Can girls work their way through college?" was the question discussed by Dean F. Louise Nardin in her speech before the Janesville chapter of the A. A. U. W. last Saturday.

Her answer to this was: "Yes. Most girls want to do clerical work. This is attractive to them because it means definite hours in their control so it does not conflict with their scheduled work. Also it is the kind of work that is not on their minds after it is done. However," Miss Nardin added, "clerical work is the poorest thing offered."

Housework was suggested as an alternative for clerical work and as a variance from the kind of work taken at school.

"Ought she work?" was the second point taken up in her discussion.

"Not the first semester if it can possibly be helped," she said. "The way a girl can get an estimate of the work she can manage and so decide for herself whether her college career is worth the extra effort of working her way through. And no girl should under any condition attempt any outside work unless her health is very good."

Dean Nardin also discussed what college women in groups were interested in. She suggested that all available funds of the home community should be used to finance any girl desirous of an education but who is unable to support herself the first semester.

PHILOMATHIA SELECTS MEMBERS OF TEAM

With the near approach of the active debating season among the literary societies, various organizations have selected their team representatives.

Philomathia has selected George Mitchell '25, Harold Sporer '25 and Harry Alberts '24, with Vernon Houghton '25 as alternate, as the team to meet the Agricultural Literary society.

For the two sophomore semi-public debate teams, Philomathia selected Harold Jordan '26, and I. G. Alk '26 as closers, and Lloyd Rooney '26, Carl Ludwig '26, and William Sheldon '26 with R. G. Hein '26 and Robert Paddock '26 as alternates.

Agricultural Literary society made the choice of David Skalitsky '26, Russell Perry '25, Herbert Schaefer '25, with Samuel Strauss '27 as alternate as the team to debate against Philomathia.

Hesperia will conduct Sophomore tryouts Friday evening while Atheneae has completed the team selection.

The University of Kentucky is to have a U shaped stadium with 32 tiers of seats and a capacity of 21,000.

CARDINAL GETS COPY OF BOOZE RESOLUTION

federal courts, according to information from the police station.

Dean Supports Cardinal

"It was the driest Homecoming in years," a federal officer stated yesterday afternoon. The cases pending before the grand jury which convenes in December are arrests made around October 30 by the regular federal agents in Madison.

President Birge and S. H. Goodnight, dean of men, are out of the city and probably will be in their office on Monday was the information given out at the offices yesterday.

Receipts of copy of the resolution from the Milwaukee church has been acknowledged by M. E. McCaffrey, secretary of the regents. When the board of regents meets on December 5 it will be brought to their attention.

"I have no doubt as to the purpose of the Cardinal in both editorials," is the comment made by F. Louise Nardin, dean of women, on the editorials themselves.

"Why Cover It Up?"

"Just a plea to keep as sober as possible when they are on display. It is no dark secret that students drink. Why cover up this fact. Its true so why not say it and help stamp out this evil."

"The Cardinal was fighting on the side of righteousness. The first editorial was written and printed in an effort to restrain the minority from disgracing themselves and the university."

"The second editorial was not a new outburst of indignation of the failure of the first. It was looking to the future. It wanted to show the element that disgraces us out of their habit," the dean concluded in her opinion of the editorials.

Approves Action of Church

"I think that it is right for any group in the state to ask that the university, city and all powers of the state unite to suppress what is unworthy of the state and university," is Dean Nardin's view on the power of an organization to send a resolution to the university.

The letter received by the Cardinal is as follows:

Editor of The Daily Cardinal.

The following set of resolutions were unanimously passed by the men's Forum of the Kingsley M. E. Church, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, at its regular weekly meeting of Sunday Morning, November 11, 1923.

Yours respectfully,

Signed—Andres Beernink, sec-retary.

The copy of the resolution are as follows:

"Whereas there appears in The Daily Cardinal, the student publication of the University of Wisconsin under date of October 26th, 1923, an editorial expressing fear of much drunkenness at the Annual Homecoming game on October 27th, 1923, and

"Whereas an editorial in the same paper under date of October 30th, 1923, entitled 'The Annual Drunk' shows that their worst fears were realized, and

"Whereas such a studied contempt of law among college men is a serious menace to the State, and to the proper spirit at the University where it exists, and

"Whereas said editorial indicates that this condition is obnoxious to a large portion of the student body, and

"Whereas, as parents of students we have a right to expect better things at the University which is supported by our taxes,

"Be it resolved, by the Men's Forum of Kingsley M. E. Church, Milwaukee, Wis.—

"That the proper school authorities and the student body be and hereby are petitioned to institute an investigation to determine what agencies at the University of Wisconsin, foster, promote or tolerate such conditions:

"That all school functions which by custom have become occasions for general drunkenness be abolished: and

"That a program be devised which will insure a higher standard of morality and respect for the law among the students of the University: and

"Be it finally resolved—
"That copies of these resolutions be sent to the board of regents of the University of Wisconsin, to the president of the university and to the public press.
