MINSTRELS TO TOP DRAMATIC LISTS IN FALL

Big Show Comes With Homecoming; Other Plays Grouped

The Engineers' Minstrels is the first big production on the Dramatic calendar for next year. It will be presented at Homecoming, November 12 and 13, Friday and Saturday. The Illinois-Wisconsin game, the biggest home game of the year will be played here at that time.

It was originally planned to hold the Minstrels at the Fuller, but it will instead be held at the armory in order to accommodate the large crowds here for Homecoming. Foster Strong is general chairman for the Minstrels, and Ross W. Rogers is business manager.

Union Vodvil is not scheduled next year, because under the new faculty ruling the Vodvil and the Minstrels will be presented in alternate years. The complete Dramatic Calendar for alternating years follows:

1920-21

First Semester
Two Open Meetings of Dramatic Club.
Engineers' Minstrels (Nov.).
Joint Dramatic Club Production (Dec.).

Second Semester
Junior Play (March).
Haresfoot Trip (Spring Vacation).
Joint Club Trip (Spring Vacation).

Senior Play (June).
1921-22
Joint Dramatic Club (Jan.).
Two Open Meetings.
Union Vodvil.
Second Semester
Junior Play (March).
Haresfoot Trip (Spring Vacation).
Joint Production Trip (Spring Vacation).
University Circus.
Senior Play.

JUNIOR KILLED IN CAR MISHAP

Anson W. Mayhew Dies After Fall From Running Board

MILWAUKEE—Anson W. Mayhew, Jr., 20 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anson W. Mayhew, Sr., of this city, died at a local hospital this afternoon from injuries received in an automobile accident Sunday at Oconomowoc. The young man fell from the running board of his car and fractured his skull.

Mayhew completed his sophomore year at the state university several weeks ago. He had intended to spend the summer in Texas and was to have returned to Madison at the opening of the school term next September.

He was a member of Chi Psi fraternity and a number of his fraternity brothers attending the summer school will go to Milwaukee for the funeral tomorrow afternoon at 3:30.

CLAXTON TO TALK AT VISUAL MEET HERE JULY 14-17

U. S. Commissioner to Give Two Addresses; 48 Speakers Listed

Commissioner P. P. Claxton of the United States bureau of education, will deliver two addresses at the first annual conference of the National Academy of Visual Instruction, July 14-17, at the University of Wisconsin.

Men and women who are developing the art of teaching by means of motion pictures and lantern slides, through universities, extension divisions, welfare associations, museums, public schools, community centers, county training schools, churches, and state commissions, will come from all parts of the country to attend the convention.

The program, which has just been announced, includes 48 speakers from Michigan, Minnesota, Kansas, Kentucky, Texas, Iowa, Ohio, Oklahoma, Washington, North Carolina, Illinois, North Dakota, Montana, Nebraska, New York, Missouri, New Jersey, Indiana, Pennsylvania, as well as from various parts of Wisconsin.

Wisconsin men who will speak are Principal C. D. Lamberton, Berlin; Secretary C. G. Sprague, Beloit; Dr. L. L. D. Peaslee, Milwaukee public museum; Principal O. G. Gilbert, Milwaukee; as well as President E. A. Birge, W. H. Dudley, E. B. Gordon, K. L. Hatch, of the University of Wisconsin faculty.

Commissioner Claxton will discuss "Visual Instruction Service Available from the U. S. Government," on Friday afternoon, July 16, and will deliver the closing address of the convention on Friday evening.

TEXAS SPECIAL TO BRING 150 BOYS TO VARSITY MEET

The Texas Special bringing 150 boys to tour Wisconsin is expected early in August, according to T. L. Bewick, state boys' and girls' club leader at the University of Wisconsin.

"The purpose of the tour," says Mr. Bewick, "is to reward the boys for their club efforts and to give them an opportunity to see and study the farming methods of the most successful farming states. They will visit several middle western states. The trip will cover about 4,000 miles and will take the boys nearly a month. While they are in Wisconsin they will visit the College of Agriculture and State Experimental farms and make short trips out into the best farming sections of the state."

O'SHEA TO EDIT 12 BOOK SERIES ON CHILD LIFE

"Childhood and Youth Series" is the title of a new group of 12 volumes on education and child development now being written by authorities on the subject, under the editorship of Prof. M. V. O'Shea of the School of Education of the University of Wisconsin.

"Being Well Born," a book on heredity, has been contributed to the series by Prof. M. F. Guyer, chairman of the zoology department of the university. "Education for Character" was written by Prof. Frank C. Sharp of the department of philosophy. Other books in the series are being prepared by workers in juvenile courts and in child welfare societies, as well as by specialists in other universities. The series is being published by Bobbs-Merrill Co.

3600 NEW RECORD SET BY ENROLLMENT IN BIG SUMMER SESSION; RUSH DIRECTORY

Love in a Tent Looks Good to Youngest Campers

Even honeymooners are reverting to the primitive.

This is proven by the fact that there are specimens of the variety among the hardy inhabitants of the tenting colony which is situated upon university property, about two miles from the campus. Fourteen of the sixteen tents ranging along the shore of Lake Mendota are now occupied by families.

These sturdy campers, warned in the university bulletin of the inconveniences of the colony, assert that even the present weather, so primitive that it suggests Noah and the Ark, does not bother them.

Transportation to the camp is by means of bicycles, autobuses and launches. City grocers supply campers with provisions which are delivered by boat or wagon.

DEAN CONDEMNS IMPROPER DANCES

The attitude of the faculty toward improper dancing is shown in a letter from Dean Scott H. Goodnight to The Daily Cardinal, following observations made at the mixer last Friday night. The letter follows:

"These Friday evening socials are not dances primarily, but are for the purpose of giving summer session students, who are with us only a short time, the opportunity to get acquainted and have some social recreation.

"The situation is therefore decidedly different from that which obtains during the year where the students are giving their own affairs.

"These socials are given by the university and it is distinctly the desire of the university, as it is the desire of an overwhelming majority of summer session students, that these vulgarities of modern dancing such as, cheek to cheek, chin on coiffure, and cheek on shoulder, should not be practiced.

"The summer session students are, as a rule, older and more mature than the students of the semester periods. The summer session students prize highly these opportunities for social diversion and recreation, but they want to see the proprieties of good society properly observed.

"The insistence of a minority of the younger people upon bringing these inane extravagances in dancing into summer session affairs is objectionable to the majority of students as well as to those in charge.

"We therefore do not propose to tolerate objectionable dancing on the floor.

"A number of men will be on duty who will ask all couples who cannot refrain from objectionable practices to leave the building.

"In other words, the university flatly refuses to place any stamp of approval upon vulgarity and if it should prove impossible to continue these dances in conformity with right standards, they will be discontinued."

Final Count to Show Increase Above 15 Per Cent

Enrollment in the summer session has passed 3,600. Figures compiled last week showed a registration of 3,578, and many late comers have registered since then, especially from the Milwaukee schools, several of which closed last week. Final statistics, which are not yet available, will probably show an increase of about 15 per cent over last summer's enrollment of 3,217.

The directory for the summer students, which is already in the hands of the printer, will be ready for distribution from the Registrar's office Monday or Tuesday.

Students are here from several foreign countries, besides those from the insular and territorial possessions of the United States and practically every state in the Union. Students from the different parts of the country are forming sectional clubs in order to become better acquainted.

The great growth of the enrollment in the summer session is shown by the figures in recent catalogs; 528 summer students enrolled in 1905; 1,128 students in 1909; 1,925 students in 1915; and over 3,600 this summer.

CARDINAL TALKS

The Staff

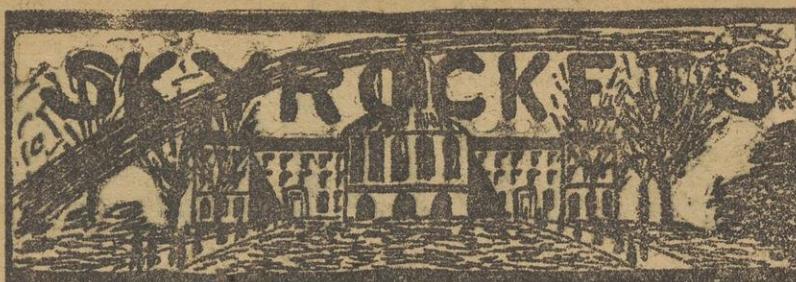

Appointments to the staff of The Daily Cardinal are listed in this issue. A number of editorial positions for both men and women are still open. Students who are interested in either editing or reporting have an excellent opportunity to get practical experience by working on the staff. The offices in the Union building are open from 1 to 2 p. m. daily. Students who are interested in trying out for staff positions should report during that time.

Feeding the Hungry

Students are complaining about the necessity of standing in long slowly moving lines in order to get a meal at the various cafeterias. Those who have classes during the noon hour find the cafeterias close too soon to permit them to get there without making a grand rush and other students must stand in line many minutes more than they believe necessary.

That an immense amount of time is wasted, and that appetites and dispositions are spoiled by the tiresome process of getting meals at Madison cafeterias cannot be denied.

To relieve the congestion the cafeterias should lengthen their serving hours. Several hundred persons should not be forced to spend a half hour or more each day in wearisome waiting merely because it is slightly inconvenient to serve luncheon until 1:30 and dinner until 7:30 p. m.

REAL-LY NOW, These safe and sane fourths may be quite THE thing but after seeing the BIG CELEBRATION which was staged in Madison Monday—ain't cha glad you're not a youngster now? Home was never like this!

The tests now going on in prof O'Sheas' Mental Laboratories, Inc., should be of great interest to thee, fair reader. It is expected that the results of their original observation will show to what extent smoking effects the mental capacity and intelligence of those who smoke. "The snakes" says the daily paper, "will be furnished free of charge."

Prof. O'Shea says that since this announcement was made he has had urgent requests that similar tests be made upon the mental capacity and intelligence of those who drink—the drinks being furnished free of charge.

FIVE STILLS IN STATE DESTROYED

Five large stills, more than 300 pounds of sugar, a dozen barrels of mash and several cases of cane molasses were unearthed in less than three hours in Superior Friday by state prohibition officials, assisted by city officers, according to B. E. Parkinson, deputy state prohibition commissioner who returned from there Tuesday. Mr. Parkinson says that a large quantity of moonshine was destroyed and some is being kept for evidence.

A scheme to manufacture liquor on a wholesale basis was unearthed at the first place. The proprietor John Migalski, is out on bail. According to Mr. Parkinson a great deal of information from various sources has been received about stills, and raids are being planned in a number of places.

OBSTACLES TO APPRECIATION OF POETRY LISTED

Prof. W. E. Leonard Puts Limitation of Vocabulary First

Why so many people fail to get anything out of poetry was explained by William Ellery Leonard, assistant professor of English, at a lecture on "Some Obstacles to the Appreciation of Poetry," given at the law building of the university yesterday afternoon.

"Most people have a working vocabulary of 50 words exclusive of prepositions, interjections and profanity," according to Prof. Leonard, and so fail to appreciate the poet's vocabulary as well as being unable to understand the background of the poem. They may appreciate the poetry of nature itself but fail to enter into the poem which is a man talking in impassioned concentrated form of something that has meant something to him.

He gave as other causes the incoherence of attention, the failure of the imagination to see the suggested picture and the failure to

VISUAL EXPERTS WILL MEET HERE

Many organizations and universities will send representatives to the university July 14-16 for the first annual meeting of the National Academy of Visual Instruction, organized this spring at the convention of the National University Extension association.

Among these organizations are the Philadelphia Commercial Museum, Welfare League of Louisville, Ky.; Louisiana and Kansas state normal schools, Mississippi extension department, Cleveland School of Education, Notre Dame University, Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, Universities of Montana, Florida and Minnesota, United States Department of Agriculture, Moving Picture World, Simpson Methodist church, Missouri State Teachers' college, and various Y. M. C. A. organizations.

The committee of nine appointed to organize the academy and P. P. Claxton, commissioner of education, will also attend. The committee includes G. E. Condra, director of state conservation and soil surveys at the University of Nebraska; W. C. Crosby, director of community welfare for North Carolina; W. H. Dudley, chief bureau of visual instruction at the university here; W. M. Gregory, curator of Cleveland educational museum; S. G. Reinertsen, superintendent of schools at Alta, Ia.; F. W. Picnickers Choose
Tenting Colony
For Site

The popularity of the tenting colony as a picnicking and a camping ground is being demonstrated every day. Thursday afternoon and evening a crowd of picnickers sought the trees near the colony; however, the big event of the day was a daisy party. The following young ladies were present:

Mae Schernecker, Alice J. Kirk, Jennie Heisig, Gertrude Heisig, Mary Elizabeth Feeney, Regina Feeney, and Helen Sherman. These merry-makers came loaded with wieners, cookies, marshmallows, and seven good dispositions, and proceeded to take the camp by storm with their wonderful soprano and alto voices.

After several hours of real enjoyment of the shady nooks and the green foliage, Mr. Neef, one of the citizens of the colony, donated his car for an excursion through the scenic lakeshore region.

The tent colony study hall, after having been thoroughly cleaned and renovated, has been reopened, and is affording a splendid place for the students of the colony. Mr. Gallislege; J. H. Wilson, director of visual instruction in Detroit public schools; Mr. Burchard, director of community center work at Chicago, and A. J. Klein, executive secretary of the National University Extension association.

ted is making plans for extending the tent colony pier. This will make it one of the finest piers on the lake, and it will accommodate the largest lake boats.

FRIENDLY BOUT IS STOPPED BY COP

Their shirts torn and spattered with blood two young men, Joe Caravello and Alfred Davey, sheepishly entered superior court this morning on a charge of disorderly conduct. Both pleaded guilty of fighting in Brittingham park this morning. The fight began as a friendly tussle, but as it became more and more strenuous the two were arrested. They were fined $5 and cost.

It has been estimated that the loss in metal due to the methods used at present for brass melting exceeds $3,000,000 annually.

STATE WINS O. K. IN COW TESTING

Wisconsin and Michigan are the only midwestern states which will continue to receive federal aid in their cow testing work next year.

This recent announcement by E. T. Meredith, secretary of agriculture, is considered by officials of the Wisconsin College of Agriculture to be a recognition of the unusual expansion of cow testing work in Wisconsin.

"Today," says A. J. Cramer, in charge of cow testing in Wisconsin for the University of Wisconsin, "the state has 110 cow testing associations, which are actively eliminating the low producing dairy cows of their members. This number is far in excess of any other state. Furthermore all of the members of 42 of these associations use only purebred sires—they have entirely eliminated the scrub bull.

"Recently reductions in federal appropriations for the department of agriculture, made it necessary for the department to abandon its financial aid for cow testing work to 10 eastern and mid-western states which were formerly on the list of states receiving federal support. Wisconsin is one of the few states in the country retained on the list.

"Yields of butter fat obtained in the cow testing associations of Wisconsin is an example of their constructive work," declares Mr. Cramer. "Thus in 68 associations 3,169 cows yielded over 40 pounds of butter fat, a considerable number yielded over 50 pounds, and some as high as 96 pounds in 30 days. A knowledge of how to pick the profitable animals, and how to handle them to secure high production is a part of the educational work done by the associations and their testers, which can hardly be estimated in dollars and cents. The work is progressing so well in Wisconsin because farmers find it to be a paying proposition."

Novel School Omits Class Drudgery Over "R's"

"School Days" is not the popular song in the school at Columbia, University of Missouri. Why? There is no "Readin', writin' and 'rithmetic, taught to the tune of the hick'ry stick." The aim of this school is stated by Prof. J. L. Merriam, who is in the education department for the summer session, but who, during the regular year is a member of the staff at the University of Missouri.

The school at Columbia, which was founded in 1905, in connection with a laboratory experiment of mine, includes the first six grades. Its aim is to aid in the improvement of the elementary school system. The children are taught that which comes closest to their interest, that which will enable them to live more fully in their every day activities; incidentally they are equipped for the future. Because the three R's are incidental in the child's experience, we attend to them only incidentally."

Professor Merriam has arranged an interesting exhibit of work done by these children. Handwork, booklets, views of the school are to be seen in room 112 at any time. Professor Merriam will be in the room from 10 to 1 each day.

LEAGUE GETS SPEAKERS.
GRAND RAPIDS—It was announced by Jack O'Brien of the Constitutional Defense league that at least one speaker representing that organization will appear here every week. Mr. O'Brien has already spoken, as well as two others. The next man scheduled is Capt. Hugh S. Martin, advertised as the "only American who ever participated in a Russian soviet."

MANY CHILDREN VISIT MUSEUM

About 2,182 pupils from rural and high school classes from nearby Wisconsin towns, from Madison schools, and from university classes have made use of the State Historical museum at Madison during the past year, according to figures just compiled by Curator Charles E. Brown.

Of this number, 696 were from nearby schools. They include the following: Baraboo, 38; Belleville, 22; Brodhead, 24; Brooklyn, 12; Burke, 37; Cambria, 18; Columbia county training school, 37; Cottage Grove, 25; Dane, 12; Evansville, 12; Gannon school district No. 8, 11; Hartland, 33; Janesville, 18; Lake Mills, 12; Mazomanie, 29; Milton, 20; Mt. Vernon, 35; New Lisbon, 18; North Freedom, 14; Oregon, 16; Pardeeville, 16; Rockdale, 7; Sauk City, 80; Sauk county schools, 52; Stoughton, 17; Sun Prairie, 15; Verona, 16; Wabeno, 10; Windsor, 14, and Algoma teachers' training school, 35.

About 263 pupils from the Madison public schools, 77 from other city schools, and 142 art pupils from the high school, totalling 482 Madison students, have visited the museum at various times.

Exactly 1,004 University of Wisconsin students have made use of the museum for their class work. Some 41 art classes, numbering 775 students, 80 biology students, 69 English students, 40 pharmaceutical students, and 40 members of a philosophy class are included in the total number.

Hayes May Speak Here—It is rumored that Will H. Hayes, chairman of the republican committee, or Victor Heinz, Illinois congressman and prominent republican, will speak before the conference of Wisconsin Stalwarts at the university gymnasium a week from today.

Beloit Man Arrested—Jack Meff of Beloit was arrested at his home yesterday by U. S. Deputy Marshal Touton on charge of having liquor in possession in violation of the prohibition act. He was brought to jail in Madison after having been unable to obtain a $500 bond.

Villa Signs Armistice—Francisco Villa has signed an armistice and agreed to cease attacks on trains, garrisons or towns.

SLIDES OF PORTS SENT OVER STATE

Colored slides showing the various large seaports of the world are being sent out through the state by the University of Wisconsin Extension division, to show the commercial activities of these cities and their geographic advantages.

The pictures, descriptive material, and data of the ports are obtained from chambers of commerce, National Geographic society, and other sources by the Extension division. Sets of slides, containing about 75 views, have already been prepared concerning nine ports and about 25 more will be included in the series when completed.

Five ports of South America, including Buenos Aires, Callao, Santiago, Valparaiso, and Rio de Janeiro, three ports on the Pacific coast, San Francisco, Seattle, and San Diego, and one in England, Liverpool, are among those completed.

A Leap Year Romance

How could you do it Mabel? Tell us the secret. How do you make them love you so? These questions were asked yesterday in an exclusive co-ed gathering in Lathrop hall. Well, says Mabel, I'll tell you. It was just this way. Dick and I went to the show the other night you know. After the show, Dick, as usual, asked me if I didn't want something to eat. I told him no, that late meals didn't agree with me. Then he asked if I didn't want some candy or something and I says no, I was getting tired of candy. You see I knew Dick just wanted to buy something and he had just been telling about the high cost of living, so I thought maybe he was worried by it. Well, as we were walking down State street I saw a crispllettes sign, so I says to Dick, what are crispllettes? and Dick says, I don't know. Let's buy some. So he bought me two packages, which we ate on the way home. Gee! Dick says. You are a wonderful girl to get me to buy those dandy crispllettes, it makes me want to hug you. Well, I says, you can if you want to. So he did and when he had his wonderful strong arms around me I looked up into his eyes and says, Oh, Dick, this is so sudden. Dick says, Oh Mabel, is it really true that you would be my wife? And I says, sure as your life I would, Dick. So he kissed me and says, that's a bargain, and don't you know—Dick's kisses are just like those crispllettes—so crisp and sweet you just want more of them all the time.

Uh-huh, crispllettes are on sale down at 408½ State Street. Get your fellow to buy you some of Prospect avenue, have returned from Arcadia, where they attended a family reunion last week-end.

Bird-Eaton

The marriage of Miss Carol Bird, daughter of Ossian F. Bird, and Everett Hall Eaton of Chicago occurred at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the University Methodist chapel, the Rev. Edward W. Blakemore officiating. The bride was attended by Miss June Bayha of Milwaukee, who acted as bridesmaid, and Robert Eaton of Chicago was best man. Mrs. Charles Elwood played the Lohengrin wedding march, and the double ring ceremony was used. About 50 guests were present at the wedding, and a reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony. Church decorations were carried out in a color scheme of pink and white, sweet peas being used.

Both bride and groom are graduates of the University of Wisconsin with the class of 1918, the bride finishing from the home economics course and the groom from the commerce course.

Out of town guests at the wedding were E. C. Bird, South Bend, Ind., brother of the bride; Mrs. O. C. Bird, Montgomery, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bayha, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Bird and Miss Anna Bird, Horicon; Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Eaton, Chicago; Miss Susan Hall, Elgin, Ill.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Schwebs, 523 West Dayton street, have as their guest Mrs. G. W. Becker of Akron, O., who will spend several weeks here. Mrs. Becker is a graduate of the class of 1917 and is now connected with the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. He will join his wife next week.

SERBS APPEAL TO BADGERS FOR AID IN HEALTH WORK

Program is Built On American Plan, Says Letter Received

Serbia, reconstructing its internal life, is starting to build up a national health organization on the American plan, and a letter to the Wisconsin state board of health from the Serbian Child Welfare association of America solicits a capable health official to head the extensive public health program developed for the devastated little nation. The person accepted for this task, it is stated, will have a great opportunity, and will be practically the expert consultant for the minister of social politics of the kingdom.

The new nation of the Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes is keenly alive to the importance of public health and child welfare work as a means particularly of saving the vast population of orphans and fatherless children in that part of the nation which was Serbia before the war.

The new health organization was planned by William J. Doherty, formerly deputy commissioner of charities of New York, with the aid of experts and a corps of nurses and doctors.

This association was organized sixteen years ago and the next meeting to be held in July of 1921 will come to Madison to meet in the new "4C" college building. The association was organized in Madison in 1904, and since then has been constantly growing in interest and value to commercial teachers and the profession as a whole in the state. It is expected that Madison will attract a large attendance at the coming session.

SCHOOLS SEEK HEALTH HEAD

Board Wants Supervisor for Health Work in Madison

That the supervision of health work among Madison school children is to be placed in the hands of a competent paid health worker to replace the medical inspector, was decided at a meeting of the board of education last night. C. S. Meek was recommended to find a suitable person for the position.

C. A. Jester, manual training teacher, was allowed to resign his position in the high school to accept a position at the Milwaukee School of Engineering at an increased salary of $600. The following persons were elected to positions in the schools for the next school year:

Miss Fern Brown, kindergarten assistant; Miss Marie McGill, kindergarten assistant; Miss Elfrieda Schmidt, kindergarten; Miss Pauline Maureaux, first grade; Mrs. John Shelhammer, first or second grade; Miss Mary L. Wheeler, third or fourth grade; Miss Loretta Werrill, third or fourth grade; Miss Amanda Kluth, English, high school; J. S. Douglas, English, high school; Miss Emma Damkoehler, Latin, high school.

Another matter which came up at the meeting was the question of changing the lighting system at the Lapham, Doty and Hawthorne schools, which are said to be in a dangerous condition. The question of securing two additional teachers in the commercial department was also brought up by Volney G. Barnes, principal of the high school, who declared that he had scoured the country and couldn't find teachers willing to accept the salary offered.

GET PERMITS TO BUILD GARAGES

JACK JOHNSON—MAN WITHOUT A COUNTRY

Jack Johnson, shaking hands with Bull Montana, ex-prize fighter now in the movies.

Word from Mexico states that Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion of the world, has been ordered out of Mexico by the officials of the provisional government. Where Johnson will go next is unknown. He had worn his welcome out in Europe when he went to Mexico. He became popular with the sporting element in Mexico for a time. He can't come into the U. S. unless he is ready to face arrest and trial on the charge of violating the Mann white slave act. He skipped the country to evade arrest.

LONG LIST WAITS FOR "WHO'S WHO"

The entire edition of Who's Who at Wisconsin has been exhausted and George Crownhart, the business manager, has announced that no further orders can be received.

"We have a waiting list of more than 300 students and alumni," said Mr. Crownhart. Requests are coming in every day for copies of the book and we are unable to meet the demand. Not only are orders sent to the office, but they are coming to us indirectly through students and faculty. No more copies are for sale."

Who's Who at Wisconsin was published during the week of June 15 by White Spades, honorary junior society. It contained sketches of prominent members of the faculty, alumni and students, and a section devoted to university activities. An edition of 1,500 copies was printed; 1,000 copies were sold on the campus in four hours.

DO YOU KNOW

BY J. G CROWNHART, '21

The University of Wisconsin began instruction in 1849 with 20 pupils?

The registration last year was in excess of 7,000?

The faculty in 1858 had 7 members?

The faculty today has more than 900?

There was only one senior in 1861—all the others were in the army? The University Library alone has 263,000 volumes in addition to 53,000 pamphlets?

The university has 1,350 acres of land?

North hall was built in 1851 and was used as a dormitory for a number of years?

PIANIST FEATURE OF SONG MEETING

The regular weekly "Sing" at the University Music hall will be held at 7:15 tonight. New songs will be introduced but a few of those previously used will be repeated. By this means an appeal will be made to all types of musical taste and capability. Last Monday night many persons who had come merely to listen, soon found themselves singing with the rest of the group.

The miniature recital, which is used as an interlude, will be given by Mr. Leon L. Iltis, pianist, of the University School of Music. He will exemplify various phases of Chopin's compositions by playing the "Nocturne in E," the "Waltz in C sharp minor," and the "Etude in C minor."

The songs chosen for group singing include "Annie Laurie," "The Heavens Resound," "Barcarolle," from "Tales of Hoffmann," Wagner's "Pilgrim's Chorus," "Santa Lucia," "Dixie," "Love's Old Sweet Song," "Juanita," "Sweet and Low," and "Aloha Oe."

ZOOLOGISTS TO STUDY SPARROWS

In order to investigate possible ways of limiting the numbers of English sparrows, the zoology department of the University of Wisconsin is gathering data concerning sparrows and especially concerning a flat-worm infection which attacks the sparrow, and which, as far as is known, has been found in but two places in the United States—Madison and Boston. It is again prevalent this summer in the vicinity of the university.

To determine the mortality of the disease and other matters of importance in solving the sparrow problem, English sparrows have been trapped, marked with bands and again released. The aluminum leg-bands are marked, "Rep't Zool. Depart., Univ. Wis." Any person who finds a sparrow bearing such a band, whether the bird is dead or alive, is requested to report the fact to the zoology department of the university.

AT THE GRAND

A real fight in which the only weapons used are bare knuckles adds to the many thrills included in "The Mollycoddle," the production offered by Douglas Fairbanks today.

In his long career as a screen star Douglas Fairbanks has had many "battles" of a more or less spectacular nature. In some cases he has had just the "villain" to handle and in others he has even gone so far as to "beat up" an entire gang. Without exception all previous fights indulged in by the athletic star have been rehearsed, but not so with the tussle in "The Mollycoddle."

"It was the toughest fight I ever had," smiled the star after the scenes had been filmed. "I'll say so, too," volunteered Wallace Beery, who was Doug's opponent and likewise the player who shoulders the thankless burden of "villain" in the picture.

The big feature was that even Director Victor Fleming did not know there was such a scene to be taken until it was over. Fairbanks had kept his own counsel, determined on having realism.

From the time Doug leaped on his victim at the top of a tree until he dragged him from the foot of a waterfall several miles distant there was no letup and several times when those who watched thought the finish had been reached Doug, cut and bruised and grinning, yelled, "We've only started."

When it was all over both Beery and Fairbanks declared that whether the cameras got it all or not, once was sufficient. But the cameras got it all.

DEVEREAUX TROUPE WILL STAGE FOUR PROGRAMS HERE

The Devereux Players, who are coming to Madison the 29th, 30th, 31st of this month, will present several different types of plays. From the American playwrights they will present on the first night here Thomas' "Her Husband's Wife." Three one-act plays by Lord Dunstaney will be given the second evening. At the Saturday afternoon matinee the French writer Rostand's "Romancers" will be presented, and Saturday night Bernard Shaw's "Arms and the Man" will be given.

Fairies and Mortals to Gather Here for Play

Fairies and mortals will mingle in fantastic play on July 23-24 when "A Midsummer Night's Dream" will be presented in the Open Air theater under the direction of Miss May Maude Babcock of the University of Arizona. Although the cast has not been announced, work has already been started on the production. Miss Greta Schultz, who is taking Miss F'Doubler's place here this summer, will direct the dancing. The competition for parts has been very keen and the enthusiasm unusual. The play promises to be one of the most important events of the summer school session.
