BADGERS MEET MINNESOTA IN DEBATE CLASH

Affirmative Speaks Here Tomorrow Night on Court Plan

NEGATIVE AT EVANSTON

Wisconsin again meets Minnesota in debate tomorrow night.

Last year the debate at Minnesota was a no-decision affair, but despite that fact it was generally conceded at Minnesota that Wisconsin had completely routed her opponents. Tomorrow night Minnesota will meet two of the teams that defeated them a year ago.

Morse Will Open

Wayne Morse, who opened against the Gophers last year, will open the debate on Thursday night. The debate will be closed for Wisconsin by Halsey Kraege, who also participated against Minnesota a year ago. The other position on the team is filled by Clyde W. Gleason, who makes his first appearance as an intercollegiate debater.

The subject for the debate is the much discussed Kansas Industrial court, the question being "Resolved: That the several states of the United States should adopt the Kansas Industrial Court Plan for the adjudication of disputes between capital and labor." In the debate at Madison, Wisconsin will uphold the affirmative of the proposition and Minnesota will plead for the negative.

Appear Second Time

Wisconsin's negative team goes to Evanston to meet Northwestern. The Badgers' case will be opened at Northwestern by Arthur Inman, the second speaker will be Leo H. Kohl, and the closer will be Melbourne Bergerman, the veteran of the debating squad. Northwestern will not be new to this team, for here again two of the debaters appeared against their opponents.

The debate will attract a large number in the student body, for the question treats one of the great problems as a nation. Wisconsin debaters say they are going to beat the Gophers if it is within their power to stop them.

HOME ECS AND AGRIC FINISH PLANS FOR PICNIC

Truck Load of Eats Will Pacify the Hungry Mob

The third annual picnic of the agricultural and home-economics students will be held at the Raymer farm, two miles west of Madison, this afternoon and evening.

Two parties are scheduled to leave agricultural hall, one at 4:30 o'clock, and the other at 5:30. Red arrows will guide the picnickers along the lake shore to the picnic site.

A special committee on games and stunts will meet the students at the grounds with many varieties of plays and games. Singing and music will supplement the program or recreation and amusement.

When the appetites of the party have been sufficiently stimulated, a truck load of edibles will be brought on the ground. Buns, weiners and many other good things are listed in the menu.

Rumors are current that Punkin Holler fiddler will attend the picnic. If the jovial gentleman arrives, the rustics of Punkin Holler promise to entertain with a square dance.

ELECT REYNOLDS EDITOR OF MAG

Robert L. Reynolds '23 was elected editor of the Commerce magazine for next year and Herman O. Walther '23 was elected president of the Commerce club at a meeting of the club held last night.

Peter Moeller '23 will be business manager of the Commerce magazine next year. The other officers elected were: Peter Cheli '23, vice-president; Arthur Inman '23, secretary; Orvin Anderson '23, treasurer.

The following new members were elected to the club: class '23—Sidney J. Lang, E. Walter Anderson, J. Grant Bossard, Gordon F. Thompson, J. Vincent Conlin, Wilbur J. Heuer, Elmer R. Gesteland, Lester F. Schenkenberg; class '24: Henry Pope, Jr., Earl N. Cannon, Albert J. McGlasson.

W. A. A. GIVES HONOR TROPHY

Will Hold Women's Track Meet On Field Day, May 27

Wearers of the final emblems, the highest award given by W. A. A., were announced at the meeting of the organization last night: Auta Lyman, Mabel Winter, and Ima Winchell. Pins were awarded to: Helen Pratt '23, Ethel Mae Smith '24. The following new members were taken in: Hazel Weingardt '25, Dorothy Alshuler '24, Ernestine Troemel '25, Gladys Samson '25, Dorothy Haskins '25, Margaret Sichter '24, Valentine Van Tassel '25, and Annette Mayhew '25.

A telegraphic track meet between the women of Wisconsin and Northwestern universities was suggested.

The annual women's track meet will be held on Friday, May 27, the same day on which Northwestern will hold its track meet. For this reason the event could be easily scheduled.

Other events which will take place on Field Day are the tennis finals, championship game in archery, baseball, and quoits, and folk dancing. Varsity teams will be announced after the final games and a placard will be awarded to the class which has won the greatest number of points in athletics during the year.

The annual W. A. A. banquet, of which Helen Parker '24, is chairman, will be held on Tuesday, May 30, in Lathrop parlors.

Members of the association who wish to apply for the W. A. A. scholarship are asked to leave their application in the W. A. A. box in Lathrop hall.

Concert Features All American Music

The first annual concert of all American music was given by members of Phi Mu Alpha, musical fraternity, at Wesley hall on Sunday afternoon.

Special features of the program consisted of a violin solo by Max Peterson, and a group of songs by Earle Brown. Mr. Peterson played Concerto No. 1, a composition by Cecil Burleigh, an instructor in the Music School. Mr. Brown's selections were "If you would love me," by Mac Dermid, "The Gondolier," by Coombs, and "Inter Nos," by Mac Fadyen.

Other numbers on the program were a group of solos by Lester J. Cappon '22, and a group by Kenneth Damon '22. The quartette, composed of Messrs. Stearn, Brown, Dartnell, and Huff also gave a number of selections. The accompanists of the afternoon were Paul Sanders and Robert Nethercut.

'Twant the Moon 'Twas a Bonfire

A large forest fire on the other side of Lake Mendota, which started about 8:30 and burned brightly far into the night, caused groups of students to gather on the fraternity piers and conjecture on the cause of the blaze.

The light from the fire was so steady and strong that few thought it could be a marsh fire or a straw stack, and the general opinion favored a house and barn. Parties who visited the scene found a large area of forest and brush burning. The burning area was about one-half mile beyond the asylum.

Will Give Badger To First in Line

"A Badger will be given to the first person who presents himself on the day of distribution according to the usual custom," said Hap Powell, Editor-in-chief today.

Last year the pup tent which appeared in front of Music hall four days in advance of the distribution of Badgers, to house the earliest man for the book was ruled off by the deans. The deans believe that punctuality is an admirable quality but that was overdone in that instance.

The 1923 Badger goes to the bindery in Racine the end of this week, and will be in Madison for distribution a week or ten days later. Announcement of the exact day will be made in a short time.

Brodt Supervises Supper Orchestra

Two orchestras in charge of Cecil Brodt '22 will play at the annual Mortar Board supper to be held in Barnard court tomorrow at 5:30 p. m.

Dancing will begin about 6:30 and last until 8:00 o'clock. The feature of the evening will be stunts given by Porter Butts '24 and "Heinz" Rubel '23.

Sororities and fraternities are planning to give up dinner at their houses that evening and to attend the supper, the proceeds of which will go towards a scholarship fund maintained by Mortar board. Tickets are 75 cents, and may be purchased from Frances Beecher '22 and Dorothy Dwight '22.

OCTY WILL WEAR GAY COLORS NEXT ISSUE

Octy's final appearance of the year will be between a gorgeously colored cover. The cover which is done in rich maroon with buff and positive black, portrays a dinner scene in a university town, obviously not in Madison.

Charles Mueller '25, who was recently appointed associate art editor for next year, is the artist.

The issue will be on sale some time next week.

THOUSAND COMMERCE MAGS SOLD YESTERDAY

About 1000 copies of the May issue of the Commerce magazine were sold by 6 o'clock last evening, according to Humphrey Desmond '22, editor.

"I think this is larger than the number purchased the first day last month," he said, "because of the 'Gilded Peacock' feature."

Because of the fact that the major portion of the edition has been sold, the sale will not be continued on the Hill tomorrow, but the remaining copies may be purchased at all drug stores in town.

GOPHERS LOSE BAT - FEST TO WISCONSIN 12-2

Elliott Gets Triple and Double Badgers Pile Up 12 Hits

MAKE ONLY ONE ERROR

(Special to Daily Cardinal.)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 10 — The Wisconsin wrecking crew swung into action at Northrop field here yesterday and won its fourth conference game by walloping Minnesota, 12 to 2.

Schwedes, Minnesota, was knocked out of the box early in the game, and was replaced by Moony. The game was a bat-fest, with both Badgers and Gophers larruping the ball to all corners of the lot.

Bambino Elliott led his mates with the willow. He hit safely two times, once for a double and once for a triple. Combacker got a double and a single. Twelve hits were amassed by Wisconsin. Although pitcher Hoffman was touched for seven safeties he kept the northmen from bunching hits.

Minnesota stepped into the lead in its half of the first inning. The Badgers tied it up in the second, but trailed again when Minnesota pushed its second and last tally over the plate in the second.

The Badgers scored again in the fourth and from then on a procession of Wisconsin runs were eased over the plate.

The Badger work in the field was almost perfect, Hoffman being guilty of the only miscue.

CORSCOT TO SPEAK AT SQUARE CLUB DINNER

"Uncle John" Corscot will speak to members of Square club at a dinner which will be held in the Y parlors tonight. Corscot is the oldest member of F. & A. M. number 5, past grand master of the state, and was also city clerk of Madison for a number of years.

CANOEISTS GET COLD BATH IN LAKE MENDOTA

Moonlight Concert Breaks Up When Canoe Overturns

Three university boys were subjected to a cold bath last night when their canoe was overturned near the middle of Lake Mendota.

Neither of the students could swim, but were picked up almost immediately by other canoeists who were nearby when the accident occurred.

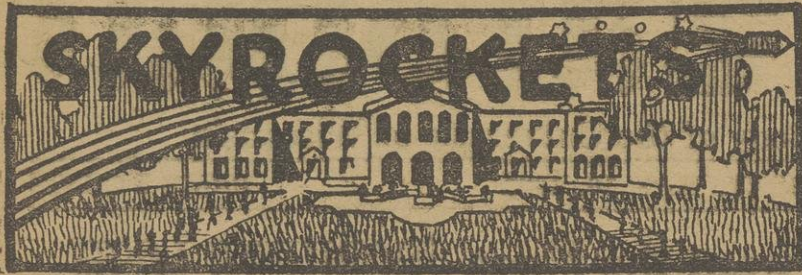

The rescuers were Henry Pear '25, Herman Fox, and John Hollister '25. Pear and Fox pulled two of the victims into their canoe, while Hollister rescued the other. The names of the bathers are not known.

The accident occurred while a number of canoes were grouped around one in which three musicians were rendering a moonlight concert. The occupants of the overturned canoe are thought to have drifted too near the edge of their craft, causing it to overturn.

Their cries brought help immediately. They were thrown life preservers to which they clung until their rescuers could maneuver their canoes to the spot where the boys were floundering. They were in the water altogether about ten minutes.

The Badger launch appeared within about thirty minutes to see if anything had happened and rescued the overturned canoe.

IT WAS A beautiful night last night—

BUT WE didn't enjoy it—

FOR ONE good reason.

TODAY'S HOROSCOPE

No contrary influences are potent today, according to astrology. Venus and Neptune are in trine, which is of good aspect and the patient are likely to be rewarded. Students are urged to get much accomplished before 3 a. m., especially if they have an exam at 8 o'clock. Those whose birthday it is will receive many cards wishing them many happy returns of the day. These will come either in the morning or afternoon mail, say the stars. People who are the least irritable are apt to fall into a rage if they are hit purposely with a baseball bat, but a rain of ten dollar bills will cause no one the least trouble. The stars presage a year of active fussing for the fussers and a year of quiet solitude for dumbbells. Children born today will be a year old a year from now.

Leather Bindings Going Out of Use

"Buckram binding is replacing leather in library books at present because it is more dependable in quality than the cheaper leathers," said Fank K. Walter, librarian of the University of Minnesota, who is giving a series of lectures on binding and printing to the students of the Library school.

A trip through the Democrat Printing company plant will be made to show the students the varieties of printing machinery and the way in which printing is done. "The lectures aim to give students a knowledge of what to look for in the way of printing and binding when they are selecting books for their libraries," said Mr. Walter, who declared that he had no intention of teaching them how to be printers or book binders.

BE A SPORT!

SPORTSMANSHIP is the fundamental characteristic of college athletics. Without it they would cease to be distinctive and be lowered to the level of the gladiatorial contests of old. With it they are one of the finest influences in American college life today.

Wisconsin has built up a reputation for true sportsmanship by the earnest effort of three decades of athletic teams in all branches of sport. She is just at present in grave danger of losing it through the inane thoughtlessness of some of those who attend the intercollegiate games here. Ostensibly they come to root for the team, but in reality they come to give vent to some of the lower instincts in them which they are forced to hold in leash while engaged in their ordinary daily pursuits. The situation is a serious one and the men of Wisconsin must face it squarely.

First it might be well to ask ourselves, what is sportsmanship? Sportsmanship may be expressed as the outward manifestation of those instincts of a true gentleman which accord to a rival the same considerations one could wish to receive from him. It includes that broadness of spirit which can applaud merit whether it be the cause of one's own downfall and another's elevation, or whether it be the means of further advancing one's own cause. In brief, it may be stated as applied courtesy, or a modern version of the Golden Rule.

Badger athletes are known throughout the Conference as hard, clean, fighters, who give to the game all there is in them, but who, in the excitement of the struggle, do not forget the fact that they might far better lose honestly and squarely than win with the least taint of unsportsmanlike conduct attached to their victory. It is time that those loud-mouthed individuals who frequent the stands armed with razzberries for any who happen to incur their displeasure, realize this and conduct themselves accordingly. Their present carping attitude indicates poor breeding, lack of good sense, and an absolute absence of any regard for Wisconsin's fair name.

The incident which occurred at the recent Michigan game was a most regrettable one and it is to be hoped that the great mass of gentlemen who go to make up the student bodies of both schools will soon forget the episodes which have marred both this year's game at Madison, and last year's contest at Ann Arbor. They are not worth remembering by the true sportsmen of either school.

We are writing this in hopes that it may reach the eyes of some of those prime offenders who are doing their best to smirch Wisconsin's proud record for fair play. If it does, may we ask them to heed it, and either to stay away from the games entirely, or to come to them prepared to root their hardest for the Badger teams, but also to afford the fullest measure of fairness to their opponents as well.

If a warning is insufficient to stop this rowdyism, the better and by many times the larger and more important element among the student fans, which stands for a square deal for everybody who ever has occasion to engage Wisconsin, must assert themselves and clean house.

Some folks have the wild idea that having paid their 50 cents admission fee they are privileged to heap slurs and personal insults upon persons engaged in the game. If they can't get this idea out of their heads they can at least get themselves, their heads and ideas included, out of the park. If it is necessary to use force to put them there, then we're for force. Wisconsin's good name is more important than such person's good will.

Let's not tolerate any more of their inanities.

The American College Student

HE'S a queer sort, the American college man. He is a man of as many different angles as Joseph's coat had colors. Few people even attempt to understand him; far fewer really do. He is a mixture of the sublime and the ridiculous, with first one predominating and then the other.

To his mother he is an object of love and pride and altogether the most brilliant and unusual boy that ever went to college. If his record fails to bear her out in this belief, it is not his fault; nor is her belief altered in the least. The stupid professors who failed to appreciate his genius are to blame, not the boy.

To his father he is a medium through which debts are incurred and the subject of warning letters from the deans. He is quite unlike the boys of father's day who were satisfied to attend school on $7 a week, and Dad can't quite understand why.

All of his professors tolerate him. Some of them do it because they really like him and are interested in him. Others of them do it because they have to, as he is a permanent attachment to their meal tickets.

The co-ed thinks him fickle, conceited, rude, and myriad other unpleasant things, but she finally admits that she shouldn't care to do without him. And so it goes. He is the subject of psychologists' investigations and of divines' exhortations, and he seems to be little the worse for either of them. He is just the American college man, a species unto himself, but not a bad sort after all.

PLAY GOING WAS COMPULSORY IN YE OLDEN DAYS

Prof. Prescott of Chicago U. Lectures on Roman Comedy

"As one of the many holiday festivities, going to plays in the Roman and Grecian days was practically compulsory in every city state," explained Prof. Henry Prescott, of the Department of Latin, Chicago University, yesterday afternoon in a lecture on a Roman comedy.

Professor Prescott has made an intensive study of the Greco-Roman comedy and epic, recently placing a new light upon the literary history and literature of the Hellenistic epoch and of Rome. He has just completed a series of his public lectures at Columbia and the University of California.

"Without the use of indoor theatres, modern scenery, except for a background of houses, and without comfortable accommodations for the people, the poets of the ancient Romans always lived in fear of losing their audiences," continued Professor Prescott. A one act play with continued action was the only type of amusement by which the onlookers could tell the end of the performance. A two act play would necessitate a special announcement to prevent the people from leaving at the end of the first act.

"The actors, slaves and freemen only, because of the low social rating of the profession in ancient days, presented their plays in mixed monologues, songs, and dialogues. To prevent the audience from losing the trend of the story, each actor appearing on the stage had to announce from whence he came; and a prologue of the play was always given before the reed orchestra struck up the opening selection."

Free Band Concerts Commence Tomorrow

Band concerts on the upper campus will start tomorrow at 6:30 o'clock, providing the weather is favorable according to an announcement made yesterday by Major E. W. Morphy, director of the band.

This is the second year that the spring concerts have been given on the campus. No admission is charged for the concerts. They will be given each Thursday from now until the end of school.

Mr. Morphy said yesterday, "We are repeating these concerts this year because they proved to be such a success last year and because it seems to work in as part of the spring life at the university."

VENETIAN FETE WILL SURPASS PREDECESSORS

Interscholastic Track Meet Will Be Bigger and Better

Five hundred athletes from seventy-five high schools throughout the state are expected to enter the Teweny-Eighth Annual Interscholastic track and field meet which will be held at Camp Randall on Saturday, May 27.

The Interscholastic this year will be bigger in every respect than it has ever been in the past. The number of prep schools to compete will be increased from forty last year to seventy-five this year. The total number of individuals entered in the interscholastic last year was about 350; this year, over 500 are expected. In view of the increased number of entrants, there will be four medals instead of three, as in the past. The medals will be better than they formerly were.

Because of the large numbers of high school students that are expected to come to Madison, not only to participate in, but to witness the events of the week-end, a rate of fare and a half for the round trip has been obtained from the railroads. A larger committee than usual is handling the affair this year, and much attention will be given to foreign publicity.

The events of the week-end of the interscholastic are as follows: May 25, Northwestern-Wisconsin baseball game; May 26, Second Annual Gymnastic Exhibition; May 27, Interscholastic track and field meet. Crew races between Wisconsin first varsity crew and the University of Manitoba, and between the junior varsity eight and St. John's Military Academy. Other events of the water carnival will take place in the morning and afternoon of May 27, and the Venetian Night celebration will occur in the evening.

FRATS START ON LAST ROUND OF PRELIM SERIES

T. K. E.'s, Alpha Sigs, Theta Chis, and P. A. D.'s Win

The T. K. F.'s, Alpha Sigs, Theta Chis, and P. A. D.'s were the winners in the four inter-fraternity base ball games which were played yesterday afternoon. These games mark the beginning of the last round of games in the preliminary series.

The Chi Psi-P. A. D. tilt was the most interesting of the day. The latter nine was able to eke out a win when they came up to bat in the final inning. The final score stood 7 to 6. Poor fielding by both teams was responsible for the majority of scores. Barwig pitched a fair game for the losers, but his mates failed to support him in the pinches.

Cheta Chi grabbed a close game from Alpha Chi Rho by a score of 6 to 5. The winners played a poor game in the field, but Wenzel and Cornwell each connected for homers which brought in sufficient runs to cinch the game.

The D. U.'s held the T. K. E.'s scoreless for three innings, but the latter aggregation pounced on Sarri's offerings in the last two frames and won, 4 to 1. The loser's lone tally came as a result of a homer in the last inning.

The Alpha Sigs reversed the dope when the Betas were taken into camp by a 5 to 0 score. Egelburger, pitching for the winners, allowed but two hits. Puchner and Porter were the stellar Alpha Sig performers. Taylor pitched a good game for the Bets, but Brader was the only player who gave him much support.

Yellow Tassel to Give Banquet May 16

Yellow Tassel, junior women's organization, will meet for the last time this year at a banquet at the Women's building on Wednesday, May 16. Louis Moore '23 is in charge of the banquet.

Nominations from the nominating committee and from the floor officers in Blue Dragon will be made at this time.

"We want all the junior women out," said Louise Moore. "Because our senior organization must be strong next year."

Council Plans For New Badger Stadium

Commerce and Agric soccer football players will resume play in the intercollege tournament when they meet at 4:30 this afternoon on the lower campus. Letters and Science will stack up against the Ags next Monday.

In the first game played last Monday, the Agric outfit defeated Letters and Science, 1 to 0. Basing his selection on the results of the intercollege series, Coach F. E. Schlatter will pick the best players in an attempt to form a Varsity team next fall. Minnesota, Chicago, and Michigan have regular squads which are eager to schedule matches, and if Coach Schlatter can make soccer a minor sport, contests will be arranged.

Lineups for today's game follows: Commerce—Leonard, Sun, Schaekel, Peterson, Engler, Guild, Yu, Gleason, Sherman, Begs, Bongey, Agrics—Matteson, Dennerlein, Vandermerue, Longenecker, Schaars, Vanderruet, Tenpas, Matteson. The T. K. E.'s, Alpha Sigs, Theta alact.

Track Men to Face Iowa in Radio Meet

Radio messages will crackle through the Mid-Western air this afternoon when the Wisconsin freshmen track team meets Iowa in a radio meet. The Badgers will go through their events at Camp Randall and the Hawks will perform at the Iowa City athletic field.

It will be second time that Wisconsin frosh have engaged in a radio track meet. They lost to Illinois in an indoor meet by a narrow margin in a telegraphic meet, they defeated Iowa during the past season.

Coach Meade E Burke's outfit is strong in every event. Capt. Eugene Tuthar hurdler, Vann Ells, weight man, Jones, pole vaulter, Bergstresser, distance man, and Valley, middle distance runner, are men who are counted on to better the records hung up by Iowa entrants.

Hancock, weight man who hails from Superior, Wis., is one of Coach George Breshnahan's best bets for points. Hancock has broken local records at Iowa City and is being fitted for the Varsity next year. He will fill the shoes of "Duke" Slater, bulky negro, who has finished his three years of Big Ten competition.

THREE SHIFTS MADE IN CREW GAIN IN POWER

Varsity Is Preparing For Venetian Fete

To get the maximum of power and smoothness in his varsity crew, Coach "Dad" Vail made three shifts in the personnel of the first eight this week.

Okerstrom has replaced Plettner at No. 4 position. Prehn is back to strokin Newcomb's place, and O. L. Jones, a member of the 1921 freshman eight, has been sent to the firstshell instead of Turnd at No. 3.

Th changes may be only tentative, but increased speed and teamwork are already noticeable in Capt. G. O. Toepfer's varsity eight. Toepfer, leading a Wisconsin crew for the second time in two years, is again demonstrating that he is one of the steadiest and most dependable men in the shell.

The new varsity lineup follows: Prehn, stroke; Johnson, 7; Crozier, 6; Schuetz, 5; Okerstrom, 4; Jones, 3 Puestow, 2 Capt. Toepfer 1; Hanley coxswain.

Although no time trials have been held as yet, Coach Vail has selected a second varsity crew which will be sent against the first outfit as soon as the two round into tip-top condition.

The second crew is lead by Capt. "Don" Newcomb, who has worked with the first eight. Klussendorf, an ex-varsity man, Plettner, regular on the 1921 crew, Pearse, another frosh last year, and Turner, former first team regular, are working together in the reserves' shell.

The lineup is: Capt. Newcomb, stroke; Bentson, 7; Klussendorf, 6; Smith, 5; Plettner, 4; Turner, 3; Pearse, 2; Walther, 1; Kitchen, coxswain.

The first eight will meet University of Manitoba here in connection with the Venetian night activities on May 27, and the second crew is slated to meet St. John's Military academy at the same time. Negotiations with the University of Washington, which is going East to Poughkeepsie, are also under way.
