VOL. XXXIV. NO. 70

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN, MADISON, SATURDAY, DEC. 13, 1924

FIVE CENTS

OLIN BEQUEATHS UNIVERSITY NEW HOME FOR PREXY

$10,000 Fellowship Fund Left as Memorial to Harriet Laird

The beautiful Olin home in the University Heights district is bequeathed to the university as a memorial to Mrs. Olin to be used as the future home of the president, and a $10,000 fellowship fund, is provided in the will of the late John M. Olin, filed for probate in the county court yesterday.

In Wife's Memory
In memory of Mrs. Olin there is given to the regents of the university the homestead property, upon condition that it shall be kept intact and maintained as the residence of such person as may from time to time hold the office of president of the university, but with the provision that if the location of the property should become unsuitable for that purpose it may be sold and the proceeds used to provide for the president a residence in some other location. It is provided that there shall be placed upon the property a small bronze tablet to be approved by the president and the trustees of the will indicating that the property is given by Mr. Olin in memory of his wife. This gift is made contingent on its acceptance by the regents in the manner provided for, and in case the gift is declined the property is to be disposed of and the proceeds are to go to the residuary trust fund designated as the "Olin Park fund."

In memory of Harriet Remington Laird, there is to be given to the University $10,000 to be known as the "Harriet Remington Laird Fellowship fund," the net income to be annually or biennially awarded to some woman graduate student selected by the faculty and approved by the regents.

Has Large Estate
Petition for probate shows personal property of the probable value of $175,000 and real estate of the estimated value of $57,500. Life insurance is included in the personal property value and the real estate consists almost entirely of the homestead.

The total amount of the trust fund for the benefit of the city will probably aggregate about $30,000 which will be increased upon the death of Mary E. Olin, a niece, by $25,000.

Mr. Olin makes numerous money bequests in recognition of the kindness and assistance of those who have been long in his domestic service, and to his nurses and office em-

ENTER FINE BIRDS IN POULTRY SHOW

Contestants Exhibit Many Breeds in Annual Event Which Opens Today

Breeds of every important variety of poultry will be shown at the sixth annual Badger poultry show today, Sunday and Monday at the Poultry building.

The birds will be judged by Prof. J. G. Halpin, and awards will be made upon the amount of improvement shown in showing the birds. The entries will be judged Monday afternoon and the prizes will be given out immediately afterward.

"A total of 18 different breeds of birds will be shown, including members of the American, English, and Mediterranean classes. One hundred and twelve entries already have been received," declared O. A. Hanke, general chairman of the show.

A large silver loving cup will be awarded to the grand champion bird of the show and two cups will be awarded the best male and female birds. Other prizes have been donated by various breeders and poultry feed concerns. Baby chicks, poultry feed, water troughs, poultry magazines, and ribbons for the first five places will be given to the winners.

Young Bandits Lurk in Evening Shadows

Lurking in the night's darkness about 4:30 o'clock yesterday, a squad of juvenile bandits terrorized the upper campus, in the vicinity of Music hall. "Two bits" was the price. The alternative was an earful of snow or perhaps a wet collar, and most of the victims chose the alternative.

SUCCESS IS TOPIC OF NARDIN'S TALK

Dean Gives First of Vocational Series Planned By W. S. G. A.

"The qualities that you can contribute to your own success are health, ability to use time well, steadiness of temperament and a cheerful and generous attitude toward other people," said Dean F. Louise Nardin, at the freshman convocation meeting held yesterday afternoon in Lathrop hall.

The talk on "Personal Qualities in Success" by Miss Nardin was the first one given this year under the auspices of W. S. G. A. in carrying out the program of the vocational conference held for freshman women. The purpose of this conference is to get freshman women to think in terms of their future vocations.

More than 400 women filled the concert room in Lathrop hall when Mrs. C. B. Flett, assistant to the dean of women, opened the meeting. She told of the intention of the vocational committee of W. S. G. A. to collect information on all vocations for the use of women who are interested in making out their future work.

"What do you mean by success?" asked Miss Nardin. "Do you take 'Who's Who' as your guide in defining success? That, you know, is called 'what a person thinks of himself,' because it is self-censored."

"The success you want is not determined by the income tax you pay, or the offices you hold, but by the respect you arouse in those in your profession and in those with whom you come in contact."

"Don't dramatize your worries! And more than all, beware the spotlight of your own imagination turned on your moods. Those are the things that help to develop a negative personality—one that is over-conscious. If you are shy, conquer the feeling, do not play it up."

"Success is being good as a person as well as being good as a workman. Perhaps one of Franklin's maxims will keep before you one of the important factors in success. I mean the one that says: 'Do you love life—then do not squander time, for that's the stuff life is made of.'"

Dean Nardin's talk was the first step in the plans of the vocational committee. Other talks will probably be scheduled at intervals throughout the year.

The committee working on this vocational conference is Mary Devine '25, chairman; Jimmie Hughes '27, Dorothea Stolte '27, Alice Colony '26, Florence Reppert '25, Clara Hertzberg '25, and Grace Baird '25.

BOX CHAIRMAN ASKS GROUPS TO PLAN ON NUMBER ATTENDING

"Social chairmen of groups intending to attend prom should make plans as to the number that will attend," John Cavanaugh '26, chairman of the box committee, said yesterday.

"While we will not ask for the definite applications for boxes until after the Christmas recess, we will call for them the first thing when school begins in January. Chairmen who have all their information ready will thus be able to register first," he said.

Cavanaugh and his committee have charge of making all the arrangements regarding the boxes and their distribution at prom.

DR. ALLYN FOSTER TALKS TO BAPTISTS

Dr. Allyn Foster of New York gave a speech last night at a banquet given by the Baptist students at the First Baptist church. Approximately 80 students were present.

PHILOMATHIA WINS JOINT DEBATE ON COURT QUESTION

Athenae Loses Fifty-fourth Annual Event; Barnes is Judge

Philomathia defeated Athenae in the fifty-fourth annual joint debate which was held last night in Music hall and now holds the debating championship of the university. Philomathia has won fourteen debates while Athenae has been successful in thirteen. Prof. John Barnes of the speech department gave the decision.

Sporer Is Closer
George Mitchell '25, Harold Jordan '25 and Harold Sporer '25, closer, were the members of the winning team. Emanuel Goodman '25, Alfred Nicholas '25, and Glen Bell '25 represented Athenae.

The question of the debate was, "Resolved that the constitution of the United States should be so amended that any law or portion of a law declared unconstitutional by the supreme court should be valid law if re-enacted by a two-thirds majority of both houses of the next succeeding congress."

In advocating the affirmative, Athenae contended that the supreme court is influenced by political factors, that the court legislates law and that public sentiment is against the present system. Legislative power should be taken away from the court and placed in the hands of congress, they recommended.

"This congress will be elected in a campaign in which the people will voice their opinions," Bell declared. "If the people want a law passed and do not wish to wait for a constitutional amendment to be ratified, they will be able to elect a congress which will enact legislation at once."

The Philomathia team advanced evidence to show that the supreme court under the present system is subject to certain restrictions imposed upon it by congress. Congress may impeach supreme court judges, control appointments, change the number of judges and regulate judicial procedure in the federal government. That the La Follette plan would not be more effective than the present system in controlling the decisions of the court was pointed out.

Speakers were introduced by Governor John J. Blaine who presided. The literary societies attended in groups and gave their traditional songs and yells.

AGS GIVE ANNUAL "PUNKIN HOLLER"

Minstrel Show and Pie Feature
Party of Two Clubs

One of the features of the annual Punkin Holler community meetin', which was held in the auditorium of Agricultural hall at 8 o'clock last night, was a minstrel show. The male parts of the play were taken by members of the Agricultural Triangle club and the female parts were taken by members of the Euthenics club.

Farmers in true village style were portrayed by the two clubs, and little comedies were acted between acts. During the performance, real pumpkin pie was served to the entire audience.

Last night was Madison night. Tonight is the Dane county farmers' night. Farmers and their families from Punkin center, a small community just northwest of Madison, have purchased a block of 100 seats in the auditorium. The event is open to the public.

Leslie Klevay '26 is general chairman of the function and Fred Kaufmann '25 and Marlin Schnurr '26 are his assistants.

Will Not Announce Rhodes Winner Now

Wisconsin's Rhodes scholar will not be announced this weekend, according to information from President Birge's office today. The Wisconsin committee of former Rhodes scholars will meet in Madison today to interview the five university candidates. Its choice will be sent to the national committee in the east, which will announce the 36 scholars for the entire United States this year.

PLAYERS PRESENT "MOLLUSC" AGAIN

Play Will Be Given at 7:30 O'Clock Tonight in Lathrop

"The Mollusc," a play by Hubert Henry Davies, will be presented at 7:30 o'clock in Lathrop concert room tonight, by a cast of four members of the Wisconsin Players.

The play was produced earlier in the fall and is being repeated for the benefit of those who were unable to see it at the last performance. Prominent campus critics have declared the play desirable and entertaining as well as instructional.

The play is a farce in three acts portraying the character of a feminine mollusc, which is often seen in real life. The mollusc, Mrs. Baxter, is played by Maxine Walker '27. Mr. Baxter, her husband, who waits on her hand and foot, is portrayed by Louis Mallory '27. Miss Roberts, the governess, for the mollusc, is presented by Agatha McCaffrey '25. The part of Tom is played by Gordon Abbott '25.

An orchestra will play between acts and the club will hold a reception after the performance is over. Tickets may be obtained at the door immediately preceding the play. Women members of the club will act as ushers.

William J. Tannewitz, grad, is the director for the play and Mark C. Porter '25, is production manager. Properties for the setting have been obtained from various societies, fraternities and Madison stores.

"These men will wash dishes, wait tables, wash cars, run errands, wrap parcels, clean cellars, shovel snow, do clerking, and almost any kind of work," said the secretary.

WESLEY FOUNDATION WILL GIVE CANTATA

The choir of Wesley foundation will present its Christmas cantata at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening before the student forum. Prof. L. L. Iltis of the School of Music directs the choir this year and accompanies it for its programs.

BUDDING BADGERS ARE FROST-NIPPED, BUT WIN, 21 TO 20

Wabash Quintet Leads Until Martel Goes in and Makes Four Baskets

By KEN BUTLER
Wisconsin's basketball team, preparatory to the annual early spring blooming, budded out last night in the opening game of the season. The buds were nipped at times by Wabash frost but withstood the elements and came out after a whirlwind rally in which the entire team was eclipsed by "Red" Martel, a newcomer in the ranks, on the slim top side of a 21 to 20 score.

Playing was more or less ragged all the way through, but the gymnasium was filled with court followers and all seemed satisfied with the form displayed in the curtain raiser. Passing was poor at times and shots, both from the foul line and from play, were heaved more or less wildly. But the Meanwell short pass and pivot system showed itself to be far superior to the Wabash attack.

Wabash Leads at Half
The teams parleyed back and forth during the game, with Wabash leading by one point at the half. When the Hoosier lead reached 13 to 11 near the close of the game, Meanwell put in Martel to replace Merkle, who had played one forward. After a few seconds of furious passing back and forth in which "Red" Martel was the principle actor, he scored a basket, that brought the score to 18-13 and brought the crowd to its feet.

Wackman scored soon after and Martel missed a free throw after a foul by Chadwick, but popped back at the basket until he sent another through the hoop. With the Badgers within two points of the tiring Hoosiers, Varney fouled and DeVol made it 19-17 for Wabash. Martel, with speed and shiftiness that brought him into every play, popped at the basket time after time but had hard luck on his shots. From the side line he tossed the ball over to Diebold, who had loads of time to make an easy shot from under the basket, but missed. Finally Martel tossed a tying shot through the hoop, and a few seconds afterward hurled another overhand from the side line and he was acclaimed hero of the day as the scorer chalked up 21 for Wisconsin, 19 for Wabash.

Robinson tossed in a free throw on a foul by Barwig and Wabash breathed its last. The game ended

CHOOSE OFFICERS OF GREEN BUTTON

Freshmen Elect Leaders in Ludden, Loomis, Borchers, and Bradford

Florence Ludden '28 was elected president of Green Button, freshman women's organization, at the election which was held yesterday. The other officers are Ruth Borchers, vice-president; Elizabeth Loomis, secretary; and Eleanor Bradford, treasurer.

These officers will hold office until next spring when the present freshman class will elect the officers for Red Gauntlet.

Results were quite close in several cases, according to Martha Williamson '25, chairman of the elections committee. More than 50 per cent of the women in the freshman class voted. Three candidates had been nominated for each office. Nominations were made at a general massmeeting of the freshman women held earlier in the semester under the supervision of Dorothy Haskins '25.

Martha Williamson '25 was chairman of the W. S. G. A. committee in charge of the Green Button elections. Dorothy Haskins '25, Eleanor Rensch '25, and Isadore Clissold '25 were members of the committee.

SCRAP FOR HONOR
ON CINDERPATHQuality Overbalances Lack of Numbers in Track Events
at Annex

"When Greek meets Greek" is a phrase synonymous with the words clash and contest. The truth of this statement will be upheld this afternoon when the campus Greeks meet on the cinderpath in the annex.

The number of entrants is smaller than that of any of the past two years but the quality will more than make up for the lack of numbers. Only 11 fraternities had entered the meet last night. These are Delta Sigma Pi, Theta Xi, Alpha Gamma Rho, Kappa Sigma, Sigma Chi, Theta Delta Chi, Phi Kappa Psi, Delta U., Triangle, Chi Psi and Beta Theta Pi.

Pre-meet dope has it that the scrap will be a triangle affair with Theta Xi, Beta and Alpha Gamma Rho as the chief contestants. Theta Xi will rely upon Ellison to chalk up a first place in the mile and Tom Carter for a win in the quarter or half mile. Also big Schwarze may compete in the shot put, and that means five points more in the Theta Xi point column.

Stars Already Picked.

Alpha Gamma Rho will depend on Ross Perry to gather in a few points in the two mile. Although he has a "W" in cross-country he is not a "W" man in track and is thus eligible to compete in the meet. Beta will have a strong claim to the victory in the form of "Chuck" McGinnis, star hurdler, high jumper and pole vaulter. He can be depended on for at least 10 points in his four favorite events.

Other individual stars who will cut into the point column for a share are Reeves, Chi Psi half miler, who won this event in the frosh-soph meet a week ago, and McKee, Phi Psi miler, captain of the frosh cross country team. He will give Ellison a real race.

Award Three Cups

The relay will be a battle between Delta U., Beta and Theta Xi teams with the Delta U., runners having slight advantage when the teams are compared on paper. Three cups will be awarded for the first three places in the meet and a special cup for first place in relay. The meet will start at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and will be in charge of Coach Burke.

After more than four weeks absence from his duties at the courthouse because of failing eyesight, Judge O. A. Stolen will return to his office on Monday, it was announced Friday by his wife.

During the period of his absence, the judge has been confined to his home and for most of the time he has been wearing a bandage over his eyes to protect them from the light.

Failure to light their cars while they were parked after 11 p. m. on Madison streets cost J. McClosky and F. D. Cratcher fines of $5 and costs each in superior court on Friday.

All tickets for series C are sold, according to Paul F. Hunter, director of ticket sales, which proves that the Franklin, Ohio and Purdue games are the biggest attraction on this season's cage program.

Remaining tickets, including 25 for DePauw, Iowa, and Michigan, of series B, and approximately 250 tickets for the Minnesota and Illinois games, of series A, will go on open sale next Thursday at 8 o'clock, at the athletic ticket office. Tickets for the Butler game will go on sale Thursday also. The Grinnell game tickets, for December 22, will go on sale at 8 o'clock the 22nd.

WABASH TAKES BETTER ADVANTAGE OF OPPORTUNITIES THAN BADGERS

Figures of the game show that although Wisconsin had the most numerous opportunities to score, Wabash took better advantage of its opportunities and was able to finish up just one point beneath Diebold and his teammates.

The Wisconsin team attempted 46 field goals and made only 10, while the Wabash team attempted 21 field goals and made 8. Martell had the best luck with his shots, for he tried 12 times to hit the loop and was able to connect 4 times. Varney made 2 out of 8 tries, and Wackman connected twice out of 11 attempts.

According to the number of fouls the Cardinal team was the rougher or did the most guarding. The Badgers made nine personal fouls and two technical fouls, with the Wabash team committing only six. The fouls were about evenly distributed, Barwig, Diebold and Merkel causing two each and Varney three. Chadwick and Cowan caused the fouls of the Wabash team with three each. Of the free throws Wabash made four and Wisconsin only one.

Another significant fact of the game was that the Meanwell men attempted 25 short shots and the little giants only 10. Defense was better for it prevented many short shots, and on the other hand the Cardinal offense was much better for they were able to work through for twenty-five short tries. Long shots were about even, but the Badgers were able to try fourteen times to the Wabash men's five times for medium shots.

SWIM ACTIVITIES
RATE MORE HONORMost Big Ten Schools Award
Letters For Good Tank
Work

Many of the Big Ten universities recognize varsity swimming as a major sport, and many of those who do not nevertheless give a few major letters at the close of each season.

At Illinois swimming is also a major sport, large "I's" being awarded for total points, a first or second place, and to all members of the water basketball team providing it wins the title. Michigan and Iowa are two more conference universities that recognize swimming as a major sport.

Wisconsin is holding to the hard and fast rule of six major sports, and swimming has a minor rating and minor letters.

Several new rules have been made at a recent gathering of Big Ten swim magnates. The touch-off in the relay has been changed from the calf to the instep. The Branstetter spring board is announced as official for all conference teams.

Instead of playing water basketball in the 1925-26 season, the Big Ten teams will have their fights in the water over the hockey puck.

BOWLING CONTESTSchedule of Western Conference Games to Be Completed in January

That Wisconsin fraternities will again enter in the Western Conference bowling from January 8 to February 1 was announced yesterday by George Berg, director of intramural athletics.

The schedule will be left open until the first week of January in order that schedules here will coincide with those of the other teams in the conference. It is expected that many fraternities will enter this competition.

Ohio Offers Cup

Scores of the matches will be cleared through the intramural department of Ohio State university which has offered a handsome cup to the winning fraternity.

Twenty-seven teams were entered from Wisconsin last year, while Ohio entered 46, Minnesota 34 and Michigan 28. Alpha Chi Rho, Minnesota, stood high and the other teams finished in the order of Alpha Sigma Phi, Minnesota; Kappa Tau Delta, Ohio; Theta Chi, Wisconsin; Sigma Phi Epsilon, Wisconsin; Alpha Sigma Phi, Wisconsin; Psi Sigma Kappa, Wisconsin; Delta Tau Delta, Ohio; Tau Kappa Epsilon, Minnesota; and Sigma Kappa, Michigan.

Collective Record Good

Although a Badger fraternity did not succeed in winning either first or second place, their collective record was better than those of the other universities.

with Wisconsin only a point ahead, but a game ahead. The crowd gave Martel an ovation as he left the floor.

Robinson Wabash Star

Wabash started the game with a rush and Grater tossed in the first basket of the game only a few minutes after the starting whistle. The Hoosiers missed free throws consistently. Finally Varney tossed in a long one and the Badger assault began. Wackman tossed in a ringier, then the lone free throw after a Wabash player had knocked the ball out of his hands when throwing the ball from outside. Varney caged another, and Diebold hopped onto a long heave intended for a Hoosier and dribbled it down, passing to Merkle who scored. After DeVol put one through the net, Brooks went in for Varney.

The Badger attack weakened at this point and Robinson of the Wabash quintet came into his own with two free throws and two field goals. Brooks, following some clever floor work, sent his lone basket through the hoop.

Robinson was the shining star for Wabash, with DeVol as a worthy running mate. Chadwick, tall and gaunt center of the Hoosiers, figured in nearly every play, but had hard luck on baskets.

Frequent Fouling

Barwig was hot on the trail of the Wabash forwards and made a few trials on his own account, but his old hoodoo on baskets followed him and he could not make hingers. Martel's work has been told. Merkle played a good game, but lacked the precision that characterized Martel's play. Diebold, ragged at times on passing, leaped into the air several times and hooked Wabash heaves and fed the ball to his teammates. Varney was the best bet at center, in spite of his disadvantage in height alongside of Chadwick. Wackman was good on both defense and offense.

Frequent fouling on the part of both teams characterized the play. The Wisconsin five-man defense baffled the Hoosiers and the best they could do was to pass the ball back and fourth and try for an opening. Their baskets were made after bursts of speed that caught the Badger defense unawares.

The lineup and scoring follow:
Wisconsin, 21 Wabash, 20
Merkle..... R. F. Robinson
Barwig..... L. F. DeVol
Varney..... C. Chadwick
Diebold..... L. G. Cowan
Wackman..... R. G. Grater
Substitutions—Wisconsin: Brooks for Varney, Varney for Brooks, Martel for Merkle. Wabash: Burdette for Cowan. Goals—Merkle, one, Wackman two, Varney two, Martel four, Brooks one.
Free throws—Wackman one.
Goals—Robinson six, DeVol two.
Free throws—Robinson three, DeVol one.
Referee—Fred Young, umpire, J. J. Molony.

So It Seems

Well, well, well. Not so bad. The Badgers went in spurts last night, but just managed to squeeze out on the top end of the score. Martel saved the day when he went in with the score against the Badgers. In the rally that pushed the team ahead he was the offense and the defense.

Wabash had two stellar players in Robinson and DeVol. Robinson made 15 out of Wabash's 20 points. Chadwick got the tip-off nearly every time against Varney, but Brooks chopped the ball now and then to his teammates when he played pivot.

Wabash just couldn't get through the Wisconsin five-man defense and pattered around time after time to get the ball through the defense for a chance at the basket.

Meanwell strategy number one: The time is short, Wabash is ahead and stars stalling when the five-man defense seems impenetrable. Meanwell calls time out for his team to break up the stall.

Last night's play clearly shows the superiority of the short pass system. Wabash used the long pass almost exclusively and were able to get only 26 tries at the basket, while Wisconsin, with the short-pass system, made 41 attempts, most of them within good shooting distance of the hoop.

Wisconsin must get more practice on basket shooting. With twice as many tries at the basket the quintet was able to garner only one more point than Wabash. In foul shooting, too, the team was weak. One foul was made out of six attempts. Wabash did but little better with four successful throws out of 14 attempts.

The pep band started off the season with some wonderful playing.

Brooks didn't seem to go very good last night at center. Men got around him several times and baskets for Wabash resulted. Martel was the weak sister of the three new forwards—Martel, Harget, and Merkle—in the practice games, but he certainly showed big league stuff fast night. The "W" men took backstage during the moments that Martel popped 'em around and over and in. His pivoting is like that of Rollie Williams.

Old Timer, evidently a Madison business man, writes putting in a word for Coach W. E. Meanwell as athletic director. He believes that Meanwell has earned an advancement by his wonderful work in connection with Wisconsin basketball teams and would like to have him promoted to the position of director.

This is a big issue right now, since the athletic council is considering a list of prospects and since Dr. Meanwell is included in that list. What do you think about it? The sports editor is always glad to receive communications in regard to sport matters. But all such communications must be signed.

BERG INTRODUCES
SUPREMACY CUP

Invitations Sent to Fraternities to Enter Intramural Sport Contest

"This year," according to George Berg, "the intramural department will inaugurate for the first time a general supremacy contest, with a cup being given to the team registering the greatest number of points in intramural sports. This cup will be the permanent possession of the winner, and each year a similar prize will be offered."

The department has sent invitations to different teams to enter this contest, and already 11 fraternities have responded. It is not, however, too late to enter, because, according to Coach Berg, applications will be received until the meeting of fraternity representatives. This meeting has been set for 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night, at the trophy room of the men's gymnasium.

The fraternities which have already entered are Delta Sigma Pi, Alpha Gamma Rho, Theta Xi, T. K. E., Theta Delta Chi, Sigma Pi Epsilon, Chi Phi, Sigma Chi, D. K. E., Phi Kappa Sig, and the Beta Theta Pi.

BIG TEN COACHES
ELECT PYRE HEAD OF FACULTY BODY

Professor Played on Badger Squad When Game Featured Center Rush

Professor J. F. A. "Sunny" Pyre was elected to the presidency of the faculty committee for the ensuing year at the meeting in Chicago last week of the Big Ten coaches, athletic directors and faculty members.

In his undergraduate days Professor Pyre was a gridiron hero during the period when football was just one center rush after another, and a man was lucky to play a whole game without having an arm twisted off, a leg scattered over the field or his face smashed.

For the past few years Professor Pyre has been serving as faculty advisor on the athletic council and has done a great deal in the way of maintaining friendly relations between the athletes, the athletic department and the faculty and regents. He is peculiarly fitted for the position in that he can understand the viewpoint of both the athletes and the faculty.

GIVE THEM A CHANCE

They're playing for you, those basketball men, and you ought to give them a chance to do their best.

Students go to the gymnasium and cheer their heads off at a basketball game. They cheer for the players and the coach. They hope to see the team win, but most of all they hope to see it do its level best.

The basketball season is on and with it starts the "gimme" season. Every player on the team has a host of friends before the season starts, but he has even more friends after it has commenced. And he is hounded to death by these "friends" who want him to get them tickets for the game. It is not enough that a member of the team play, he must go further and secure tickets for all of his acquaintances. These people do not, can not according to the way they act, realize the nervous strain under which a player finds himself on the day of a game. He needs rest and quiet; in fact, the coach requires that his players sleep all the afternoon of a game.

But when a player is being hounded to death by his friends who want the coveted ducats, there is little opportunity for him to secure this required rest. One player declared that last year he could not get any sleep whatsoever the afternoon of the day on which a game was being played because he was forever being called to the phone by some friend or other.

Not only do these people ask the player to secure tickets for them, they go even farther and do not offer to pay him for them, whether in the belief that he could have them for nothing or not. One all-conference player several years ago declared that he dreaded the day of a basketball game because he knew that he would not only be unable to find the necessary rest from the mental strain but that he might also be out from $10 to $15.

Those men are playing for Wisconsin. Give them a chance to play their best and do your part to help them by securing your own tickets.

Last year there was some criticism among the alumni because, as they said, the 1924 football schedule included too few conference games.

Now that the 1925 football schedule has been completed we find that it will be impossible for anyone to launch such a criticism again this year. Everyone is glad to see that Wisconsin will play five conference games next year; everyone is glad that Wisconsin will continue to play Michigan; everyone is glad that Wisconsin will continue going to Chicago for the final game of the season.

Almost everyone is sorry that we will not have an intersectional game. But we can't have everything, and the schedule now appears very satisfactory.

ADVICE TO THE FRESHMEN

Freshmen, cling to those ideals (if you have any left). Perhaps already the foundation of your early training is beginning to weaken under the stress. "Ideals don't last long in college," some have been heard to say. Are yours going on the rocks? Maybe these words of wisdom come too late.

It seems as though everybody is doing his best to crib in an exam or plagiarize written work in order to get by the "pipe" courses which they have managed to take.

What there was to drink at the last party, how hot the music was, and what a keen date she turned out to be is often the favorite or only subject of conversation among groups on the hill. Getting drunk is a clever thing to do if one may draw conclusions from amused smiles that greet a "studes" story of his last drunk.

Do you think by this time that one must pet on every date whether it is the first or hundredth time, or be called "slow".

Staying up half the night, seeing a show, spending a few minutes in studying, and the rest of the time in "bull" sessions about the house often seems on first impressions to constitute real college life.

It's all sham, freshmen. Don't believe everything you hear.

If these are your impressions you are probably hearing only one side of this university life. Persons who write an honest exam don't come out to tell everybody about it. Those who get drunk don't take time to tell how sober they were last week-end. You never hear anyone exclaim, "I don't pet, I think it is vulgar and degrading." In fact most of us seem to acquiesce in those practices of the ultra-collegiate youth.

This is why you are getting the wrong impression of college life. Everybody doesn't crib exams, everyone doesn't make social success his main objective in college life. You are just hearing and seeing one side of this college life.

Look around, think a bit, analyze college life, then, not before, draw your conclusions.

Beyond Our Campus

By B. A. G.

National anxiety over the health of Samuel Gompers, aged president of the American Federation of Labor, was somewhat relieved yesterday when word was received from the special train which is bearing him from Mexico to the United States that he was slowly rallying from a heart attack. Mr. Gompers, after attending a session of the American Federation of Labor in El Paso, Texas, journeyed to Mexico City, where he was elected president of the Pan-American Federation of Labor.

The great side show that Mr. Gompers visited while in Mexico was the inauguration of General Calles as president of the republic. The inauguration followed an unusually quiet election. General Obregon, former president, is thoroughly satisfied with the people's choice, and is travelling northward in peace, to take his place as a private citizen.

Spiked steel helmets and red cloth are no longer popular in Germany. An overwhelming victory for the "middle" parties, especially the socialists, assures the discharge of all obligations involved in the Dawes settlement, and indicates that those with "moderate" views on public questions will be at the helm from now on. The two extremes, Fascist and Communist, lost heavily.

Premier Edouard Herriot's advent on the French political stage was hailed in many quarters as a "first step" in the direction of extreme radicalism. The opposite is unquestionably true. Herriot's attack on the "reds" resulted in several deportations and one death during the week. The death however was in the ranks of the Paris police department. A "red" bullet directed against a police inspector, found its mark.

What is most interesting about the situation is the fact that Royalists united last Sunday with their Communist enemies to hiss the Premier.

ONLY SIXTEEN SLOPPING
DAYS UNTIL CHRISTMAS

Well, well, we are glad to see so many shining faces before us this morning. Here is a secret—three women called Jay up for dates for last night, and the boy was so kind-hearted that he went out to the infirmary, so as not to disappoint any of them. He is now in the care of three Zeigfield nurses, and will probably change his course when he comes out, from journalism to pre-medics.

The Hoosier Kid wants to know why they are initiating so many pledges over the week-end. No, Hannah, they do NOT paddle them on the head. Anyhow, the Kid ought to know, he hasn't dared to sit down for three days without pillows beneath his West side.

By this time we suppose that everyone is used to our new head. Meth asked the other day who was the agile, clown, upon the Italian section of which the rocket is perpetually alighting? Sh-sh-sh. The lad in the openwork trousers is no less than the egg who wrote that editorial in Octy. Need we say more?

Private Peat, who flourished along with Hooverism and Win-the-War week, was here several days ago to give a talk panning war. Well now, Harold, if you were an innocent little engineer walking along with some other engineers, and if a great big rough lawyer came along and slapped you right in the face—I'll bet you would slap back, too.

SHE GOT ONE

Lena says that last week she went into the engineering lab and asked, "Are there any Popular Mechanics around here?" Some bright bridge builder came back, "Well, most of the popular ones have dates but I'll do the best I can for you."

'NOTHER DIRTY STORY.

"That's a dirty dig," said the coal miner as he came up out of the shaft.

NOT AN ANIMAL ACT.

Dear Hap Hazzard, Intoxicated: The other night I was discussing the possibility of entering the theatrical profession, with the girl friend. I said that I had the other man for the act—all we needed was a third member. She declined, saying: "About all I could do would be to go along and clean up after the act." I replied, "You wouldn't need to, this won't be that kind of an act," and she left in a Huff. What'll I do

HOOSIER KID.

Ans. "We don't know what speed

a Huff has, but we should have tried to catch her in a Yellow.

THE MEANEST MAN IS THE BIRD WHO POURED ASHES ALL OVER THE SIDEWALKS ON THE HILL. NOW THE MEDICS HAVE TO COAST IN THE GRASS.

Dear Rockets:

I was taken to a movie (on a pass) last week, by a Rexall Ranger, who then escorted me down to the Den of Thieves. He left me alone for an hour with a book of cross word puzzles, while he drew pictures on the wall with my best lip-stick. Then he decided that it was too late for us to eat so he hurried me to Barnyard hall. How can I have my revenge

GIN.

Answer: Give him another date, Virginia.

Listen, folks. Gin is our latest contributor. She has a mean line, as Meth and myself will bear witness. We ran her contribution because she promised us a date for tonight, but now that it is all set she pulls out of town. But we shall have our revenge, too. And may her date in Urbana have hallitosis and bunions.

BUT NICE

It's the thing to pan the co-eds We do it all the time In the Card and Lit and Octy In picture, prose, and rhyme.

We pan their little foibles Their smokes, and lines, and dress—

But do we try to date them? Oi! Oi! Yes, yes, yes, yes.

STEW.

WE HAVE RECEIVED LETTERS FROM ELLIS FULTON, MARYA ZATURENSKA, DEAN GOODNIGHT, THE UNIVERSITY CLUB, THE Y. M. C. A. AND THE INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL, ASKING US TO USE OUR INFLUENCE TO KEEP THE DOPE ON THEM OUT OF THE SCANDAL SHEET NEXT THURSDAY. WE ARE SORRY TO SAY THAT THIS IS BEING PUT OUT BY EVEN A MORE MALIGNANT STAFF THAN ROCKETS, AND THAT WE ARE WORRYING OURSELVES.

YOU MEAN SHE WAS CONVALESCING.

The Kid says that last night he called up his date and asked if she was ready, and she replied in the affirmative. But she could have been dressed if she had started soon enough.

You make me sick, said the patient to the germ.

This is the last date night before Christmas and we are going to sit quietly at home and read back numbers of the Lit. But our phone number is in the directory, STEW.

With the Alumni

The university has two of its alumni on the Interstate Commerce commission. They are B. H. Meyer '94 and John J. Esch '82. Both men have just been reappointed to the commission by President Coolidge. Mr. Meyer was an instructor here at the time that Robert M. La Follette was governor of Wisconsin in 1900. He received the Ph. D. degree in 1877 and the honorary degree of LL. D. in 1914. Mr. Meyer has been chairman of the commission and is recognized as one of the best authorities of the country on transportation problems. Mr. Esch received the B. A. degree in 1882, and was granted an LL. B. in 1887. He is one of the men responsible for the Esch-Cummins bill on railroad transportation.

Mrs. Albert W. Hall, formerly Reba C. Haner, is engaged in bacteriological research work at the Northwestern University Medical school. She received a B. S. in 1918 and an M. S. in 1920.

INDEPENDENT MEN PLAN FOR PROM

Action Started to Get More Individuals Interested in Prom

Individuals and groups who have not planned to go to prom or who do not feel able to make arrangements on their own account should get in touch with the men's arrangement committee, according to Rice Miller '26, chairman.

"The function of the committee is to stir up interest in prom among the unorganized groups and to arrange parties for them," Miller said. "Anybody who wants to go to prom and doesn't know how to go about getting up a group to go with should meet with this committee."

Miller hopes that if there will be enough students who get together and go to prom in these specially organized bodies a pre-prom and post-prom dance can be arranged for them. Because of the necessity of hiring the orchestra for special dances of this sort the committee desires that those interested make plans with it as soon as possible.

CONGREGATIONALISTS WILL GIVE "MESSIAH"

Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah," is to be given at a special 4 o'clock vesper service Sunday afternoon by the vested chorus of the First Congregational church. This is an annual event at which university students will be welcome, directors said.

Baptist Church Civic Body to Meet Sunday

W. L. Woodward, attorney, as chairman of the civic betterment committee of the First Baptist church will meet at the church Sunday afternoon with his committee to discuss plans of the work which is to be done. The committee consists of Harry W. Harri-man, C. D. Satterfield, Miss Leila Bascom and Miss Lillian Jasperson.

GOMPERS ARRIVES AT U. S. HOSPITAL

A. F. L. Chief Arrives at Border in Critical Condition; Is Some Better

LAREDO, Texas — President Samuel Gompers of the American Federation of Labor, arrived at the American border at 7:30 this morning in a critical condition suffering from bronchial infection. He is to be rushed through to San Antonio this morning and will be taken to the St. Anthony hotel there this afternoon.

His physicians said his life would be in danger unless he could be given hospital treatment shortly.

He sank low yesterday on the trip from Mexico City, where he had been attending the Pan-American Labor Federation meeting, but with remarkable vitality, rallied last night, and this morning was noticeably improved.

An official medical statement issued shortly after the train's arrival said that the patient's respiration was 94 and his pulse normal at 7 a. m.

No one, except his physician and his secretary, Mr. Giles, was permitted to see Mr. Gompers on board his train. He lay in his berth, apparently resting quietly.

Earlier dispatches had reported a turn for the worse as the train travelled from Saltillo towards Monterrey.

Reports were that he had collapsed at various places visited by the delegates and frequently it was reported that he had died suddenly.

Rockslide Crushed Cottage in Wales

LONDON—A big mass of rock broke away from the face of a cliff at Llanelli Hill, a tiny South-East Brecknockshire village near Bryn-mawr, crashed through the roof of a workman's cottage, and killed Maria Bevan, aged 46, and Glyndwr Evans, 13, who were asleep in one of the rooms.

All the furniture in the room was wrecked, and the bed on which the bodies lay was covered with a deep layer of earth and fragments of rock. So big were some of the pieces of stone that before they could be moved they had to be broken by chisels and sledge hammers. Helpers estimate that about five tons of stone crashed into the room.

It's all a matter of habit. An Eskimo would sit on a cake of ice on our coldest day and have the spring fever.

CHIEF OF POLICE MAY RESIGN SOON

Thomas Shaughnessy is Likely to Quit Department After 34 Years' Service

The possibility that Chief of Police Thomas Shaughnessy may resign became known publicly yesterday. The city council adopted an increase of $1,200 in the salary of the chief, effective January 1, when it approved the 1925 budget.

The police department executive has long contemplated retirement. He has given the best of his years to the city to build up a department of a handful of men to the present organization of some 50 men and women.

The new salary of the police chief will be $3,600 per annum. The laws of the state permit a chief of police to retire upon pension amounting to one-half of the salary which he is receiving at the time of his retirement. This would permit Chief Shaughnessy to resign with surety of receiving an annual income of $1,800. If he retired before this increase goes into effect his pension would be only $1,200 a year, and this he has told city officials would not be sufficient for maintenance of himself and family.

Near 34th Anniversary

On Jan. 1 Chief Shaughnessy will have been with the department exactly 34 years, for he joined the police force on New Years Eve in 1891. No definite date has been set for his actual retirement.

The salary of $3,600 placed in the 1925 city budget is the tentative salary of a new chief of police. Mayor I. M. Kittleson, announced at the council meeting last night. It was intimated by other officials that this sum would not be adequate.

Concerning the chief's resignation, City Atty. Roman A. Heiman, who has been in close touch with Chief Shaughnessy, made the following statement today:

"I am permitted to say that Chief of Police Thomas Shaughnessy is contemplating the resignation of his post in the near future. Chief Shaughnessy is 68 years old. He has served the city of Madison for 34 years as police officer and chief of police. He has seen it grow from little more than a village into a great city. He has seen years of hard service, of heavy responsibility and tireless labor. He feels that he has come to the time of life when he can lay down his public service and live a quieter life with the feeling that he has done his full part as a man and a public official."

Though Chief Shaughnessy's forthcoming resignation has been gossiped about for some time no official announcement was made until today. During the past few weeks in guarded circles there has been talk as to who would be Madison's next police chief, and in this connection the names of Sheriff Julius J. Krug, Dr. Edward H. Drews and Robert O. Quick, Capt. Harry C. Davenport and Under-sheriff W. H. McClintock have been mentioned.

Co-eddie and Co-edna Make Resolutions, But in Podunk--

Co-eddie and co-edna will leave Madison next week, filled with resolutions to make up the work which has been neglected during the strenuous excitement of a busy fall.

"I am going to do all my economics reading, and learn those irregular verbs in French, and copy my psychology notes," co-edna said as she dumped a pile of textbooks into her trunk, "I've got to drag at least a C."

But this good resolution, like many before it, will die when brought to actual practice. Co-edna will find the round of holiday parties, the frocks to be shortened and the thousands of other things, far more interesting than a mere text book, so they will be left in her trunk, not to be glanced at until during the first class after the holidays. And there is always the excuse that she needed a rest.

Although co-eddie will feel surprised because the brass band is not at the station to greet him, and because a committee of prominent citizens, including the mayor, do not come to extend their welcome; he will not feel slighted because in his podunk for 18 days he will be the man of the hour. Even the news that his one and only has married the soda water jerker during his absence will not come as a heavy blow. For he will strut down Main street, arrayed in the latest in collegiate fashions, which will call for admiring comments from the high school girls, and what-is-our-youth-coming-to comments from the elders. He will be the cynocure of all eyes.

The movies and Christian Endeavor meetings will consist of his chief recreation, but he will accept this gracefully, for he, as the sheik, will be able to keep the girls gasping over the wicked life in a college town as set forth by means of his hot line. He will, without doubt single out the most adoring one of the lot, and his fraternity pin will be left reposing over her heart when he leaves.

Thus the vacation will pass rapidly and uneventfully. Each town in Wisconsin will have its student, who will be admired, criticized and copied.

OLIN GIVES HOUSE FOR PREXY'S HOME

University Heights Residence is Given; Establish Fund

ployes. These gifts aggregate $18,000.

The Central Wisconsin Trust Co. and H. L. Butler are named executors of the will.

To Dr. A. G. Laird of the university, who has long resided in the Olin home, there is given the sum of $5,000. Job S. Olin, of Belleville, Ohio, the only surviving brother, receives a bequest of $5,000. The sum of $25,000 is placed in trust for the benefit of a niece, Mary E. Olin, the income to be paid to her during her lifetime, and the principal to go, upon her death, into the residuary trust known as the "Olin Park Fund," created for the benefit of the city of Madison. To his nephew Howard O. Moores, now of Madison, there is given $15,000. Williams college, of which Mr. Olin was an alumnus, receives $1,000.

To his nephew, Harold Remington Laird, whose mother died in his infancy and who has always been a member of Mr. Olin's family, there is given the income from a trust fund of $50,000, one-half of the principal of the trust fund to be paid to him on arriving at the age of twenty-five years and the remainder upon arriving at the age of thirty years. There is also given to Harold the furniture and equipment.

There is a bequest of $1,000 for the perpetual maintenance of the family lot in Forest Hill, and the oil portrait of Mr. Olin now in the home is given to the Dane County Bar association to be hung with other portraits on the walls of the Dane County Circuit Court room.

The residue of the estate is placed in a trust fund to be known as the "Olin Park fund" for the uses of Madison upon substantially the following terms: One-half of the net income from the fund is to be annually paid to the common council, and the other one-half is to be annually added to the principal of the fund, so that the amount payable to the common council is increased from year to year as the principal is augmented. The principal of this trust fund is to be thus augmented from the income thereof until the fund reaches twenty fold its original amount, from which time the whole of the net annual income is to be paid to the common council. The moneys which thus from time to time go to the City are to be used as follows:

"The net annual income from said fund so given in trust for the benefit of the City of Madison, shall be used by said city toward improving, beautifying and adorning the public parks, squares, boulevards and drives now or hereafter owned by said city, or held in trust for said city, whether located within or without the limits of said city, and for the acquiring by purchase or condemnation lands for park or boulevard purposes. But it is not my intention that the income from said fund, or any part thereof, shall ever be used for the purpose of maintaining or improving, for the purposes of travel, the ordinary public streets located within or without said City of Madison, but that the same can be used for the purposes of ornamenting the public streets within the city, or the drives without the city, it being my thought and purpose, especially, that the income from the fund hereby created will best help the city by being used mainly to meet the expenses of doing such things as the city might not feel inclined to do through funds raised by general taxation. And I hereby expressly authorize my executors and trustees, in their discretion, to withhold the payment of said income for a period of not to exceed five years at any one time, when in their judgment it is deemed wise so to do, to enable them to meet the expense of erecting some work of public or municipal art determined by them to be for the best interests of the city. The net annual income from said fund, subject to the directions as to accumulations and to the discretionary power vested in said executors and trustees, shall be by them paid to the treasurer of the city of Madison, and shall be expended under the supervision of the proper officials or board of said city having in charge the park work thereof. And it is a condition of this gift that all parks, parkways, park boulevards, drives, etc. in which the legal title is in the city or in the directors of the Madison Park and Pleasure Drive Association in trust for said city shall be managed and controlled by a park board, either the directors of the Madison Park and Pleasure Drive Association, or such other park board as may be at any time legally established in place of the directors of said Madison Park and Pleasure Drive Association. Such Association or Park Board shall not only have the power, but it shall be its duty, to expend from time to time out of the income of said trust whatever sum may be by it deemed to be necessary to secure the aid, advice and services of a competent landscape architect or landscape gardener, not only in the maintenance of existing parks, parkways and park boulevards, but in the planning and laying out of any new parks, parkways and park boulevards; and also to secure the aid of competent expert advice and services before constructing or erecting any work of public art within the city or outside its limits."

The trustees are required to make an annual report of the condition of the park fund to be filed with the County Court and with the City Clerk, and the City is required to file with the County Court each year a report of the use which has been made of the income.

A copy of the will is to be presented to the city within thirty days after its probate and within six months thereafter it is left open to the Mayor and Common Council to determine whether the gift is accepted or rejected, acceptance to be upon the conditions above mentioned.

In the event of non-acceptance by the city, the residuary fund is to go the Regents of the University to provide equipment for the medical clinic and to pay adequate salaries to the medical staff of the clinic, no part of the fund to be used, however, in the erection of buildings.

The will is dated May 13, with codicils embracing the gifts to Mary E. Olin and Howard O. Moores dated Nov. 21, and Nov. 22, 1924.

The petition for probate shows personal property, including life insurance, of the probable value of $175,000, and real estate, consisting almost entirely of the homestead, of a total estimated value of $57,500.

The total amount of the trust fund for the benefit of the city will probably aggregate about $30,000, and will be increased upon the death of the niece, Mary E. Olin, by the sum of $25,000.

Peat Lands Are Used For Truck Gardens
MINNEAPOLIS—Between 20,000,000 and 30,000,000 acres of peat land in the United States, hitherto regarded as waste bog, can be transformed into fertile truck garden land of great value, naturalists from various sections of the United States and from Canada declared here at the annual meeting of the American Peat Society.
 "Peat has proved its worth agriculturally," delegates agreed, "but is of doubtful value, as a commercial fuel." Drainage, plus the addition to the soil of potash and phosphate, has solved the problem of salvaging peat lands, it was asserted.

BOB TO LEAD NEW POLITICAL PARTY

La Follette Attends Conference For Progressive Political Action

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The decision of Senator Robert M. La Follette to lead the Progressive forces in the establishment of a permanent new party, representing a complete break with both the Republicans and Democrats, will be made manifest before adjournment of the session of the Conference for Progressive Political Action, assembling here today. The meeting was called to order by W. H. Johnson, chairman.

Robert M. La Follette, Jr., son and secretary of the senator, attended the conference today as a personal representative for his father. Other La Follette aides participated in the session throw their influence in favor of a new party organization.

A clash by the La Follette forces with conservative labor leaders on the one hand and with the Socialists, lead by Victor Berger of Milwaukee on the other, is foreseen here as the C. P. P. A. assembles.

Many of the railroad labor leaders, including Bert Jewell, of Illinois, and L. S. Sheppard of Iowa, have abandoned the project for establishing a new party and hope to swing the Progressives into line in support of McAdoo as the Democratic candidate in 1928.

The discussion proceeded behind closed doors today but one of those present said a representative of one of the railroad labor organizations who backed the La Follette candidacy had introduced a proposal that no meetings or other action be undertaken by the Conference for Progressive Political Action.

The effect of acceptance of such a proposal would be abandonment of the entire enterprise looking to creation of a new political party or maintenance of an organization to back a national ticket in 1928. This view, however, was not the majority idea of the conference.

Representatives at the meeting who discussed the question outside the executive chamber believed the committee would call a general convention in January to pass finally upon the question of maintaining the organization and continuing its activities.

Rep. Victor Berger has taken an opposite position by proposing that the new party when formed shall occupy more "radical" ground than in the recent campaign, following in general the program of the Socialist Party. Berger returned here this week from New York, after a conference with Morris Hillquit, issuing a statement at the Capital calling on the 5,000,000 Progressives who voted the La Follette-Wheeler ticket to enroll in the Socialist movement.

Spokesmen for Senator La Follette are expected to fight vigorously against both the proposed "scraping" of third party plans and the apparent efforts of the Socialists to dominate the new movement.

The Senator's representatives in the C. P. P. A. are prepared to advocate a new party organization which will put full tickets in the field in 1926 and 1928 in every state, concentrating their active campaign in Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas and other states in which it is felt immediate results are within reach.

Debating the proposition to empower congress to override decisions of the supreme court, Philomathia and Athenae Literary societies met in the fifty-fourth annual joint debate at 8 o'clock last night in Music hall. Athenae, taking the affirmative of the question, this plan will take any action to exclude the Socialists, but members of that party will be asked to come in wholeheartedly as individual members of the new party, renouncing their allegiance to the Socialist movement.

If plans for a new party should be rejected by the C. P. P. A. is it predicted here that Senator La Follette and those associated with him will proceed to build up a new organization, independent of existing bodies, but ready to perpetuate the movement developed by the Senator's candidacy this year.

Should present plans for a new party come to fruition, it is held here that far-reaching consequences will result immediately in both Wisconsin and Minnesota and eventually in the eleven other states in the West where the Progressives superseded the Democrats as the minority political group.

It is predicted Gov. Blaine and the entire list of Progressive state officials in Wisconsin, together with a majority of the ten Progressive Congressmen from the state, would follow La Follette out of the Republican party, running as Progressives in 1926. In Minnesota, Senator Shipstead and the three Farmer-Labor Congressmen elected in November would be expected to enlist in the new movement. In these two states the Progressives would fight for additional seats in the Congress to be elected in 1926 and would at once bring into being a new party group in both the Senate and the House, numbering four or five Senators and not less than eighteen Representatives.
