TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Contrary to the usual custom, the Editor-in-Chief and the Satire Editor of the 1915 Badger will not leave Madison when the Badger appears. They will receive from six to six in the editorial sanctum.

Seven Smith and Westson's, one rusty Winchester, and fourteen Gatling Guns will assist in the reception. Come armed.

SENIOR CLASS COUNCIL

Row 1 A. Feldman, L. Rothenberg, F. Keene, S. Zubrensky.

The Senior class officers have had a typical year. Certain very minor, yet worthwhile accomplishments were made. For one, the day of commencement was changed from Monday, June 14 to Sunday, June 13. This success was mainly due to the concurrence of the Administration. Had they objected, Graduation would be held June 14. The Senior class attempted to construct a directory of professors who could advise students regarding various graduated schools. It was discovered that such a directory would be of no use. Nevertheless, the Senior class did make strides in providing better and less costly class rings for those who desire them. The Senior class succeeded in obtaining the appearance of a guest speaker in June, optional attendance at commencement, and the assurance that students will be able to participate in commencement without wearing a cap and gown, even though the University has "officially" made caps and gowns mandatory. A winter formal was scheduled, but cancelled when nobody showed up. A spring picnic was also planned, but has been cancelled in anticipation of rain. Senior class president Floyd Keene appeared on a channel 21 interview only to be confused with campus conservative Dave Keene. Vice-president Feldman was to appear on a subsequent program, but Keene's verbal assault on channel 21 ended this hope. Treasurer Larry Rothenberg spent ten minutes this year counting all of the money in the Senior class treasury five times over, while the highlight of the year came when secretary Shari Zubrensky succeeded in becoming engaged to president Floyd Keene. In short, it was a year in which accomplishments were abundant.
