'INDIA IS NOW IN DEPLORABLE LIFE STRUGGLE'

—HARDIKER

Describes Condition of Un- rest in Asia, Due to Euro- pean Exploitation

The message of 150,000,000 people starving for food, and some 315,000,000 starving for political and economic freedom in India was brought to the audience in Music hall last night by Dr. N. S. Hardiker, secretary of the council of India home rule league of America.

Unrest in India

"India is a vast volcano today," said Dr. Hardiker, "which may burst any minute. The people of Asia are at last awakened to the exploitation of European nations. The Mohammedans are furious at the allied diplomats of Europe. If the bomb should burst and a war begin between the Mohammedans and Hindus of Asia and their European exploiters, the struggle would result in three times the number of dead killed in the Great War."

That 2 cents only is spent per person per year on education in India; that the average length of life is just 23 years; that 150,000,000 people eat but one meal a day; and that government magistrates in India are paid nearly four times as much as in other countries where the standard of living is far higher—these are some of the facts Dr. Hardiker gave as reasons for the smoldering unrest in Asiatic countries.

People Are Ignorant

"Forty million industrial workers between the ages of 18 and 45 are so ignorant they do not even know the name of the next city," he declared. "They work 12 hours a day, with half an hour off at noon, for 15 or 20 cents. Often they have to get up at 4 o'clock and walk five miles to work. These people could be developing the natural resources of their country, but instead they are wasting their lives just to scrape up the barest existence."

"We are not asking for charity and pity—the day for that has gone."

LIT ON SALE

Students Boarding Trains May Buy Latest Issue

"Take a 'Lit' to Chicago," will be the slogan today when more than a score of workers on the Wisconsin Literary magazine will sell copies of the latest issue to all students boarding trains for the windy city.

"Buy a 'Lit' this time instead of the usual copy of Life or Vanity Fair," says Horace Powell, the circulation manager, "and when you get to Chicago, boost Wisconsin by passing on your copy to your Chicago friends."

Staff workers will be on hand all day today to cover all regular and special trains at the Northwestern depot.

Should Co-eds Commercialize Personalities on Campus? Professor Smith Says "No"

"Our Wisconsin women are far too precious for us to permit them to make nuisances of themselves selling every little thing and that all over the campus," said Prof. Leonard Smith, interrupting one of his lectures recently. "It is absurd for us to think that we are paying them when we give them a turkey after they have done several hundred dollars worth of work."

"In arranging these competitions among the university women we practically compel them to commercialize their personalities for the benefit of our activities."

Professor Smith contends that organizations ought not ask the women to sell their wares. He says that the majority of women do not like to sell things and would not do it except for the fact that they do not like to be beaten in competition.

"If we must ask them to sell things," he continued, "we ought to arrange to pay them adequately and in proportion to what they earn. Then it would be a business proposition and they would not ask us to buy except when we really desire what they sell. An article that is worth anything to the students can afford to pay its sales-force a commission."

"Here in America our women are our companions and our equals, in many respects our superiors, yet there is no man who can help but think that the university women are lowering themselves just a trifle when they ask us to buy things in the manner that they have been doing these last years."

PLAN MIXER FOR THOSE WHO STAY

Dance at Lathrop Hall Tomorrow Night Given by Union Board

Hours will not drag heavily for those who do not go to Chicago over the week-end if the Union board can help it, for in addition to providing to receive the game returns over a special wire in the gymnasium it has scheduled a mixer to be held Saturday night in Lathrop hall. Admission will be 25 cents.

Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock to the strains of Thompson's orchestra. Special features have also been planned by Susie Fisher, S. G. A. chairman. Al Hotten is in charge of the committee arranging for the mixer.

ENGINEER SPEAKS

Professor Mack to Talk on Navigation Project

Prof. J. D. G. Mack, state chief engineer and former professor in the College of Engineering, will speak tonight at 7:15 in the Engineering auditorium, on the "Great Lakes to Ocean Project."

This project, if passed by congress and completed, will mean that Chicago, Superior, Detroit, and all lake ports will then become seaports, with all the products of the Middle West being shipped abroad by water directly from these inland ports.

Prof. Mack is the originator of the excellent highway system in Wisconsin.

PRIZE FOR SLOGAN

Chocolate Cake for Best 'Y. W.' Bazaar Catch-word

A large and super-delicious chocolate cake will be given to the student who originates the best slogan for the Y. W. C. A. bazaar, which is to be held December 11 at Lathrop hall.

The terms of the contest are simple and sweet—the slogan cannot be longer than eight words, and name and address must be plainly written on the slip with the slogan. The contest closes Wednesday, November 24. Slogans are to be turned in at the Y. W. C. A. office in Lathrop hall. Katherine Rosenberry will be in charge of the slogan box.

BRONZE BUST OF VAN HISE GIVEN TO UNIVERSITY

Work, Presented by Thomas E. Brittingham, to be Placed in Historical Library

The bronze bust of the late President Charles R. Van Hise, by Pietro, which has been purchased and presented to the University of Wisconsin by Thomas E. Brittingham, Madison, will be placed in the State Historical library today.

It will be placed on a pedestal on the landing of the north stairway visible from the first and second floor corridors, and will probably remain there permanently.

The bust was finished by Cartaino Pietro during the spring of 1917, in a studio which the sculptor maintained for a few months in North hall. After its completion it was placed on exhibition for a number of months in the American Museum of Natural History, New York, and received national attention among men of the scientific world.

In order to make it one of the art treasures of the university, it was purchased and presented to the university by Mr. Brittingham, who is also the donor of the Lincoln statue on the upper campus, the bust of John Muir which stands in the Biology building, and the sum of $25,000 towards the Bradley Memorial hospital.

BADGERS OFF FOR CHICAGO THIS MORNING

Team Not Over-confident— Critics Give Wisconsin Shade Over Maroons

Headed by Captain "Red" Weston the Badger football squad of thirty husky members will leave this morning for Chicago where they will meet Coach Stagg's Maroons on Saturday in the last game of the season. The Badgers will arrive there just before noon and after lunch they will be given a light signal drill.

Every Wisconsin player is in perfect physical condition and when the team takes the field against Chicago it will undoubtedly be the most powerful eleven that has ever worn the cardinal. Captain Weston,

There are still 60 tickets for the Chicago game to be had at the gym today. The price is $1.00.

"Gus" Tebell, his running mate, Sundt, and Brader, have recovered from their injuries and will be at their best against the Maroons.

Football critics are unanimous in giving Wisconsin a decided shade over Chicago, but predict that the game will resolve largely into a battle between the two powerful lines of the respective teams. The one redeeming feature of the Maroons' rather disastrous season has been the great feats performed by their forward wall. The Badger line is recognized as the strongest in the west, so there promises to be some lively scrapping between the lines of the two teams.

Badgers Not Overconfident

Coach Richards does not feel any of the wide spread optimism over the coming contest, however, and has instilled into his team the spirit that they must fight, and fight as they have not fought this season. The Badger mentor is fully acquainted with the alibis and "bear stories" of the wily Stagg, and he is determined that Wisconsin will not be caught napping.

Wisconsin has quite an advantage over the Maroons in the backfield and it is upon the speed and drive of the powerful Badger backfield

Walk leisurely up and down Michigan avenue. It looks prosperous to do so.

Ask every policeman you meet what street you're on, and what time it is. He'll be glad to help you out.

Mail picture post-cards of the Art Institute, the Post-Office, and Lincoln Park to your little friends at home.

Tip the elevator man, the bell-

Take off your hat in the elevator, and offer your street-car seat to a lady. City people are very polite, and notice those little things.

Wink at the waiter, slip him a dollar, and ask for "Sassparilla" with a broad smile. He'll probably bring it to you.

Act like a regular fellow. Remember: traveling maketh a full man.

FROSH GRIDDEERS WILL WITNESS SATURDAY'S GAME

25 Members of Squad to Entrain Saturday Morning for Chicago

After a successful football season in which they scrimmaged the varsity daily and held the sophomore football eleven to a 7 to 7 tie, 25 members of the freshman football squad will entrain on the Northwestern Saturday morning at 7 o'clock for Chicago.

Although the first year squad numbers more than 25 men, only this number will be taken along because of lack of funds. Robert O. Quick will have charge of the men who make the trip.

The men who will witness the Chicago-Wisconsin game are Pearse, Alton, Demoling, Hendricks, K. Johnson, Peterson, Bentson, Captain Taft, Rossebo, Ritchie, Stone, Gunderson, Smith, Rowland, Kessenich, Whitten, Carlson, Dorsey, Paige, Barries, Schumacher, Dyer, Lyman, Beeken, and Powers, frosh football manager.

Original Squad Large

The original freshman gridiron squad was the largest in frosh football history, and when the call for material was issued, over 125 men responded. Coach Tom Jones, who was in charge of the freshman squad at the first of the season, transferred his attention to varsity football, and "Keg" Driver, Bob Quick, and A. J. Beyer, mentored the freshmen for the remainder of the 1920 season. After several weeks of training in the fundamentals of the game, and preliminary signal practices, the first year eleven stacked up against Coach Lowman's "All-Americans," and played them to a standstill, with the result a 0 to 0 tie.

With their first game out of the way, the freshmen worked on Michigan Aggie formations, and later in the season, employed Minnesota, Northwestern, Illinois and Chicago formations against the varsity in daily scrimmages.

To Award Numerals

After the return from Chicago, the athletic department will make an award of sweaters and numerals to the men who showed merit in the sophomore-freshman contest.

"REASON OUT CONCEPTION OF THE DIVINITY"

—GILKEY

Tells How "He Found Himself" While a Student at Harvard

How as a university student he found himself without belief in God, and how he then reasoned out a conception of the divinity, was told by Charles W. Gilkey, Chicago, at the fellowship meeting of the university Y. M. C. A. last night.

"While a junior at Harvard," he said, "I discovered that my early beliefs in God and Jesus were slipping. I came to doubt the existence of a divinity. Although I had been raised in a strict Baptist home in New England, the philosophical teachings of Harvard university enlarged by view of the world and life to the point that I found myself grasping for belief in anything."

There is "Right" Way

"Belief that it is a man's duty to do right was the rock upon which I built my ideas of religion. I have since found in my 18 years of active religious work with students that this simple fact will solve 90 per cent of questions commonly raised. The Bible is not infallible. It tells of man's experiences and his discovery of God. Jesus never set up a standard, I also found. He merely said, 'Come and follow Me.' Belief in God is the result of personal experience, of friendship with Him. 'Believe in God through Jesus,' Dr. Gilkey admonished. 'No man has ever made the record that Jesus has made while on the earth for 32 years. If God can be as good as Jesus, then we can believe. Miracles were performed through Jesus' love for humanity, and not for sake of attracting people for he was always reluctant in public demonstration of his power to heal.'

Dr. Gilkey, who is pastor of the Hyde Park Baptist church, Chicago, is the youngest man who has ever been asked to give religious lectures at Harvard university. He has spoken at Wisconsin several times before.

MANY HEAR TALK BY OBERLIN PROFESSOR

More than 250 people turned out to hear Prof. Clarence Ward of Oberlin college speak in the Engineering building last night. Professor Ward was introduced by Prof. Grant Showerman on behalf of the Archeological society under whose auspices the meeting had been arranged.

The lecture was illustrated by a great many colored slides, the photographs for which had been collected personally by Professor Ward on several trips to Europe. He traced the Gothic cathedral development of the exteriors, the interiors, the facades, and the sculpturing. Under the latter he took up the King's row, the calendars, the Old Testament prophets, the Medieval arts and sciences, the vices and virtues, the mirror of history, and the representations of the Last Judgment. In conclusion several recent photographs illustrating the damage done to the cathedrals by the war were shown.

NORWEGIAN HOUSE INCORPORATES

The Norwegian House, a boarding and lodging club established last year by Norwegian students, has become such an important enterprise that its members last week incorporated it under the laws of Wisconsin. The organization is not planning to build at present, but has leased a clubhouse.

Fifteen young men students, all from Norway, now live in the clubhouse and, by providing their own boarding house, are able to enjoy their accustomed Norwegian cooking.

FRITZI SCHEFF IN "SORRY" SHOW

BY R. C. W.

Fritzi Scheff was the one redeeming feature of the musical farce, "Glorianna."

Those who hoped to see a jingling musical comedy with a host of beautiful girls and extravagant costumes enjoyed a sorry disappointment last night when the curtain went up an hour late and displayed a crudely improvised set and a dozen woolly, tight voiced chorus girls with awkward feet and dirty dresses.

Had not Miss Scheff been there, the play would never have wobbled its way through three miserable acts. It was her voice, her sometimes striking costumes, and her personality that gave feeble justification for the play's appearance.

Telling a rather pleasing story, Glorianna has a host of possibilities which were, perhaps, depleted before it arrived in Madison. If a competent cast had been selected, Miss Scheff would not have been weighed down by the responsibility of the whole show. But managers will be mercenary. Too many adopt the rule, "Give as little as you can for as much as you can grab."

That there were some good musical numbers must not be forgotten. The music, even if it was not well rendered, was inevitable. The score went with the lines. Those two numbers which were the best rendered, and at that they were mediocre, were the tingling, syncopated song, "Nenette and Rintintin" and "The Best Man Never Gets the Worst of It."

A sorry show, Mr. Fuller Opera House.

BUSINESS COURSES POPULAR IN THE EXTENSION DIVISION

Business studies are the most popular of the many correspondence courses offered by the Extension division. Of the total of 20,116 active correspondence students enrolled during the last year 6,896, or about one-third, pursued business, vocational, or commercial courses, according to figures just prepared. This was an increase of over 2,000 over the preceding year.

Real estate, income tax, corporation finance, bonds and investment, salesmanship, secretarial work, scientific management, and government accounting were among the subjects presented in the business courses.

Engineering and industrial studies were next in demand. During the past year, 4,998, or 24 per cent, of the total number of students enrolled, studied engineering by correspondence. This was an increase of about 2 per cent over the first year.

Social science studies enrolled 2,293 last year, English, including an Americanization course and a course for foreign students, had 1,847 students. Mathematics had an enrollment of 1,661; physical sciences, 1,597, and foreign languages, 185.

At the end of the year in June, 1920, there was carried forward an enrollment of 14,920 active students, out of the 20,116 enrolled during the year. Of those 10,869 were men and 4,051 women. This total has since been augmented by new students enrolled since that time.

BOOSTING WISCONSIN

WHEN the people down at Chicago see the thousands of loyal Wisconsin boosters at the game tomorrow, they are going to realize more than ever before that we have a school up here after all. When the locomotive shakes the air, people will wake up to the fact that Wisconsin is a live and powerful institution. When "On Wisconsin" and "Varsity" are heard, Chicagoans will get some insight into the spirit of Wisconsin.

All this, coupled with our football team, will make Wisconsin even better known and more respected than she now is. It will serve to impress on people's minds the greatness of our university.

The boosting in Chicago tomorrow should be but the first step in a boosting Wisconsin movement. Every student and alumnus should hold it his special duty to boost his school. In this way the name and reputation of Wisconsin will be borne to every section of the country.

Particular effort should be made to reach high school students. Why not have the pick of the high school students come to Wisconsin instead of going elsewhere?

Persistent and extensive boosting will do much to raise the prestige of our school. Persistent and extensive boosting will bring to Wisconsin men and women better qualified to lead in student life. Persistent and extensive boosting will be a positive benefit to the nation, for it will encourage university education.

Be a booster!

NEW IDEALISTS

ABOUT once a year a fairly large number of people get the impression that Wisconsin needs a new set of ideals; that the old Wisconsin spirit has had its day, and that it is no longer a sufficient guide for student conduct.

Last year, for example, we saw the campus infested with tea-hounds. Most of them are now vanished from our midst. This year, the new idealists are even a worse pest than those of any previous year. They are our prevalent friends, the ticket scalpers.

These persons, through their activities have repudiated the old conception of Wisconsin spirit that was epitomized in the words "Co-operation" and "Service." They deny that the school's activities are carried on for all the students. They scoff at the idea of giving all the students a chance to support the team and the school. They place the dollar above their obligations to their fellow students and their loyalty to their school.

The ring of the dollar is the only argument that appeals to our new idealists. The ring of the dollar is the one note that synchronizes with their very heart cords. The ring of the dollar is the overpowering force that makes them forget their school, their fellow students, their sportsmanship, their honor.

For consistency's sake, our friends, the scalpers, should draw two vertical lines through the "S" in "Varsity" and imprint a dollar sign on our colors.

Imagine the actions that this noble idealism will inspire in life. Picture the scalpers, inspired by their dollar idealism, running the railroads of the country for the good of all the people. Picture labor, happy and content, under the noble and unselfish treatment of our scalper friends. Conceive of our politics cleansed from all their stains through the public inspired actions of our new idealists. Picture the type of men and women that Wisconsin will send out to meet the world's problems when the scalpers succeed in generalizing that noble doctrine of dollar idealism that they have been so earnestly practicing.

A few of us conservatives, at least, are going to stand by the old Wisconsin spirit. We believe that it is somewhat better than the new idealism of the scalpers—the idealism which exalts the dollar. How are most students going to look upon the scalpers' views and actions?

Reader Scores Hit In New Comedy, 'My Lady's Ring'

BY K. E. R.

With her characteristic charm, Katherine Jewell Everts interpreted Alice Brown's romantic comedy of love and complications, "My Lady's Ring," before a large and enthusiastic audience in Bascom hall last night.

Play Well Suited

It is easy to understand why Miss Brown considered this play especially suited to Miss Everts' personality. The part of Princess Romanoff, who so tactfully and humorously, yet with the mein of a princess, handled her jealous and unreasonable spouse, was portrayed with understanding and skill.

The versatility of Miss Everts was shown in her distinctive handling of each of the eight characters of the play. A strutting, domineering, passionate prince; a piping, withered-up old woman who is practical and at the same time superstitious; a shy, dove-like peasant maiden who would venture no more than a "Yes, Hipolyto," are some of the characters that demanded impersonation.

Inimitable in Part

Pattering about the platform after the fashion of the old lady with the high pitched voice, Miss Everts was inimitable. It was, perhaps, this part which won the most laughs.

The ardent young Italian, Hipolyto, also found a faithful prototype in Miss Everts' impersonation. Resembling the convention, alfiery-hearted, young lover who is ready to shoot his rival on the drop of the hat, he with the prince supplies most of the complications that make an entangled plot.

The keen appreciation of her audience was a recognition of her masterful artistry.

Twelfth Night and Red Domino are to be commended for having brought this artist to Madison.

STOP CO-EDS FROM 'BUMMING' TO GAMES

A new rule to stop co-eds from "bumming" their way to football games has been adopted at Ohio State. This rule, which requires women students attending out-of-town athletic events to sign up at the office of the dean of women before they leave, is the outcome of cases of "co-ed bumming" which occurred on the round trip of the special university train to Chicago when several girls concealed themselves from the railroad officials.

address attracted much attention. He is well informed on matters touching the Jewish religion and its relation to modern conditions, and is editor of the American Jewish World, published at Minneapolis.

DISTANCE MEN OFF FOR MEET AT URBANA

Badger Cross Country Team to Compete in All- western Run

The Badger cross-country team left for Urbana, Ill., last night where they will participate in the all-western cross-country meet on Saturday. In addition to the ten conference schools, eight or ten of the largest middle west colleges will be represented at the Illinois meet.

The Wisconsin squad which left last night included Captain Brothers, W. L. Dalton, J. C. Dennis, R. A. Noble, G. C. Wade, M. H. Wall, C. W. Wille, R. B. Powell, A. F. Zielsky and R. O. Blodgett.

Coach Bresnahan is confident that his runners will make a good showing in the big meet. With the exception of Wall and Dennis the Badger runners are in excellent condition, and it is possible that these two stars may be chosen to represent Wisconsin in spite of their ailments.

Ames Strong

The Ames university team looms up as one of the most formidable contenders for first place in the Illinois meet and Mississippi A. and M. is also reputed to have a strong team. Kansas and Nebraska were runners-up in the Missouri Valley meet and should place high Saturday.

Among the conference schools, Wisconsin and Minnesota are considered to have the best chances of high honors. Although the Badgers were defeated by the latter a couple of weeks ago, Coach Bresnahan is confident that his runners will defeat the Gophers Saturday.

LIT SOCIETIES HOLD MEETINGS

Literary societies will hold regular meetings tonight.

"Resolved: that the United States should hereafter prevent by law any further possession of land in the United States by the Japanese," is the subject for debate by members of the Athena Literary society tonight. The affirmative will be supported by C. Severson, S. Sarges, and A. Sherr, while S. Sygman, W. Chiao, and A. Sygman will speak for the negative. The results and interpretation of the national campaign will be the subject of talks by N. Retian and B. Miller. The meeting will be held in 401 Bascom hall.

Interesting Debates

Hesperia will debate on the question "Resolved: that a commission be appointed by the federal government to establish a wage scale for technical labor." Speakers on the affirmative are A. J. McGlassan, S. R. McKittrich, and J. G. Fucilla, and those on the negative are E. S. Holtensteiner, E. A. Longenecker, and L. B. Dunn. Short talks will be given by F. M. Koons on "How Germany Stands Financially," and by E. A. Kletzien on "Points on Debating." Hesperia meets in 451 Bascom hall.

The single tax plan will be the subject for debate at Philomathia tonight at 220 Bascom hall. Affirmative speakers are B. M. Gahagan, E. L. Erickson, and A. D. Ludden, and negative speakers are J. H. Sarles, R. L. Engelke, and L. C. Sims. An initiation speech will be given by H. V. Prochnow, and a short talk by D. P. Kimball. The extemporaneous topic is "A Mexican Policy."

The regular meeting of Pythia Literary society will be held tonight at 7 o'clock in Lathrop hall. Mildred Wimmeler will give a short sketch of the life and a criticism of the works of Ralph Hodgson, and will read "The Mystery." Reda Maskin will give a reading and a very brief criticism of "Eve Selections from The Bull," and Dorothy Latta will give a few selected passages from "The Song of Honor," and will read "You Old Gypsy-Man," all from the works of Ralph Hodgson.

BADGERS OFF FOR CHICAGO TODAY

men that Wisconsin supporters are basing their hopes of a decisive defeat over Chicago. Sundt at full-back, Elliott and Williams at the halves, with either Barr or Davey piloting the eleven is a combination that will be difficult to stop.

With Weston and Tebell back at their old jobs on the wings, some of the great defensive work that has characterized Wisconsin teams at these positions in recent years is looked for. Captain Weston is playing the last game of his remarkable football career and some great things are looked for from the Badger leader.

Maroon "Bear Stories"

From the Maroon camp come the usual sad stories of Stagg's casualties and other tales of woe about the crippled Chicago team. Although Badgers followers have come to regard these reports as propaganda, there is no doubt but that the Maroons will be without the services of some of their best men in the Wisconsin game. Captain Jackson will not start and it is doubtful if he will even get into the game, while Hinkle is also in bad condition.

Such stories have come from Chicago before every Wisconsin game for several years, but it has always been true that when the Maroon players took the field at the kick-off they were a pretty scrappy bunch of cripples. Coach Richards has been stressing this to his team all week, and the Badgers are primed to fight a great battle.

Large Crowd Going

Captain Weston and his teammates will be cheered by the largest following of students that has ever left Madison to attend an out-of-town football game. Fully 4,500 Badger rooters will see the game and nearly 3,500 of these are students.

Two special trains will leave for Chicago this afternoon and one tomorrow morning, while hundreds of Badger rooters have already left.

For the remaining students, a play by play report of the game will be received in the gymnasium under the direction of Union Board.

Delay Street Cars—Complaints are being received by the railroad commission against the Milwaukee road that street car service is being badly interfered with by the holding up of cars at the Mills st. crossing. It is claimed that train crews take this place to break up trains, delaying street cars as long as 35 minutes.

At The Theaters

AT THE STRAND

John Barrymore has added another to the list of remarkable dramatic portrayals that he has been offering on the stage and screen during recent years. The vehicle is the photoplay version of Robert Louis Stevenson's famous story, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." It is being shown now at the Strand theater. The story, as is well known, has as its central character a young London physician, Dr. Jekyll. He discovers a fluid by which he can transform himself into a grovelling, wicked creature, Hyde—the bad side of man's nature in a human body. The liquid also allows Jekyll to regain his normal form at will. But gradually Hyde gains the ascendancy over Jekyll, and the unfortunate doctor, to save the innocent girl to whom he is betrothed, takes poison.

In addition there will be shown pictures of the Wisconsin-Illinois game and a comedy cartoon.

AT THE GRAND

When is a fool not a fool? Answer: When he's the kind of fool Eugene O'Brien portrays in the picturization of George Barr McCutcheon's novel "A Fool and His Money" which commenced a three day showing at the Grand theater yesterday.

An American author buys a castle in the Swiss Tyrol, discovers a ghost, protects a woman, fights a villainous count, loses his heart, wins a woman, and provides himself with enough literary material to turn out best-sellers for the rest of his life. Not bad for a "fool."

Mr. O'Brien's performance is far above anything of his previously seen. The part affords many opportunities for light comedy, the dramatic and the serio-comic. Mr. O'Brien measures up to the role.

Many picturesque settings are included in the picture. Castle halls with armor, statuary and mysterious passages, winding rivers, yachting scenes, snow-topped hills, form an interesting locale for this piquant comedy drama.

AT THE FULLER

One of the biggest screen productions of the year will be seen at the Fuller theater when Maurice Tourneur's super special, "The Great Redeemer," will be the feature of the bill for four days, beginning today. "The Great Redeemer," it is announced, is a tremendous drama of absorbing human interest. According to the expectations of its producers, it is destined to be hailed as one of the really impressive photodramas of the year.

Advance reports on "The Great Redeemer" dwell with especial force upon the unusual beauty of the production from a pictorial standpoint, as well as upon its intensely dramatic theme and the tremendous moral message it carries to all who view it.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Held over for the last half of the week, Singer's Midgets again headline a varied and satisfying Orpheum bill.

Offering an unusual exposition of singing, dancing, and equestrian and acrobatic feats, the twenty little people gleaned from the four corners of the earth have something to please everyone. Besides the little people, there are a half dozen tiny ponies, three elephants, some dogs, a monkey, and a deer. This act is, perhaps, the most spectacular that has been at the Orpheum this season.

Besides the Midgets, four other acts are on the bill. The Rasaires, two wire artists, appear first with their series of difficult aerial stunts.

Jazzing the piano and singing some songs, Karl Karey offers what is billed, "Musical Cartoons." He is well received.

Caesar Rivoli succeeds in surprising his audience with his striking impersonations and rapid changes.

Walmstey and Keating get a lot of laughs with their foolishness.

DISPUTE ILLINI PER CENT BASIS TITLE CLAIM ON

With the approach of Saturday's grid contest, opinions as to which team can rightfully claim the conference championship were expressed on the campus yesterday.

Wisconsin students, graduates and some impartial close followers of the game feel that the Badger team is the best in the West this year, but if Illinois, Ohio and Wisconsin should end with one defeat each, Wisconsin will concede that first honors are in a triple tie.

The conference has adopted no method of determining champions and certainly has never approved the Illinois system of percentage.

Wisconsin wants to win a championship on the field and not with a pencil.

Illinois Claims

The Badgers are amused at Illinois' percentage championship aspirations. Wisconsin defeated Illinois in 1919 and repeated in 1920, but does not seem to be able to convince the Suckers that such actions entitle Wisconsin to a higher football rating than Illinois. Illinois played seven conference games last year and six this year and by virtue of one additional game claims superiority. Wisconsin is prohibited by faculty rule from playing more than five conference games, and hence under the Illinois system, could never win a championship without a clean slate.

Wisconsin has not defeated Chicago yet, and may not do so, but if victorious they will certainly object to the Illini claim to football honors in 1920. Wisconsin, it is understood, will set up no claims for a championship, but will point to the obvious fact that the season's work places them in as high a position as any other team has reached. These predictions are made on the outcome of the Illinois-Ohio and the Chicago-Wisconsin games.

ST. FRANCIS SOCIETY

The members of the St. Francis society invite all Episcopal students to a dance to be held in the guild hall Friday night, Nov. 19.

There will be a corporate communion for all Episcopal students next Sunday morning at St. Andrews church, after which breakfast will be served.
