WOOD REFUTES CHARGES MADE BY LEGISLATURE

Publish Letter Sent to Sachtjen

Allegations made against the university student military corps by members of the state legislature were answered yesterday by Major John S. Wood, commandant of the corps, in an interview with The Cardinal and a personal letter to H. W. Sachtjen, author of the anti-military training bill now pending.

The letter which Major Wood sent to Sachtjen is the first active step of the department to refute publicly charges which certain socialist members have made against the training here.

In an interview Saturday, Assemblyman Sachtjen stated his reasons for opposing drill here.

Costs $12,000 Annually

The reply of Major Wood, as given exclusively to The Cardinal late yesterday, follows:

Dear Sir: I have recently read the Daily Cardinal's interview with you on the subject of military training in the university. The greater part of the interview deals with your personal opinions in the matter which, of course, are no concern of mine.

There is, however, one statement attributed to you which touches on a matter of fact and which should not pass uncontradicted.

This statement is to the effect that the military department requires an appropriation of approximately $47,000 annually from the state. The statement is entirely in error as may be easily ascertained by an examination of the records of the business manager of the university.

You will find that the total funds expended by the university for the operation of the military department have been about $12,000 annually for the past three years, which amount is considerably more than covered by the revenues obtained through the Morrill Land Grant Act of 1862.

I assume you know that one of the purposes of the Morrill Act was to provide federal funds to carry on military training in certain colleges. Considering the annual operating funds of the military department as coming from this source, the entire cost of the department is borne by the federal

GIRLS IN GLEE CLUB TO APPEAR VARIED RECITAL

The Girl's Glee club, under the direction of Dr. Charles Henry Mills, director of the School of Music, will give their annual concert this evening in Music hall.

A varied program has been arranged:

1. A group of two songs with violin accompaniment.

Eastern Song—Mable Daniels

Voice of My Beloved—

Eastern Song—Mable Daniels

2. A group of three songs with violin accompaniment.

The Snow—Elgar

The Dust Man—Brahman

Where My Caravan Has

Rested—Lohr

3. Two piano selections by Frances Landon.

4. Cantata. King Rene's Daughter.

Several solos in the cantata will be sung by Louise Madden '25, Merle Gibbs '23, Helen Petterson '26, Helen Wood, grad. and Harriet Dohr '23.

Accompanists for the program will be Beatrice Berham '24, at the piano, and Jane Dudley, Mr. App., on the violin.

An admission of 35 cents will be charged. The proceeds will be used in carrying on the work of the club.

HIGH SCHOOLS TO PLAY SECTIONALS

The three Madison high schools will be sent to different centers for the sectional basketball tournaments this year. Central High Wisconsin High to Brodhead, and East High to Watertown. All three will compete in the finals to be held here.

In previous years the two Madison schools went to the same district tourney and one or the other was necessarily eliminated from the state meet held here. Often times this caused the elimination of one of the best teams in the state.

Madison has three fast teams which will compete for state honors this year. Wisconsin High made a clean sweep of the first part of their schedule, but have been stopped several times in recent games. La Crosse took two victories from the prep team, and as a result loom as a state champion possibility.

LEGISLATURE VISIT FAVERED

Faculty Members Would Welcome Get-to-Gether Party

Members of the faculty yesterday expressed themselves in favor of the proposal to set aside a day in the near future for a university-legislature get-together.

The proposal will be brought up in a meeting of administrative officials of the university this noon and if favorably received will be decided upon definitely at the regular faculty meeting next Monday. Little opposition is expected at the meeting this noon, according to opinions expressed yesterday.

"I am in favor of bringing the members of the legislature down here," F. E. Turneaure, dean of the College of Engineering, said.

"A trip through the laboratories and lecture-rooms would prove interesting to many who are not well acquainted with the university."

"It is highly desirable that the faculty and legislators who are mutually concerned with the development and promotion of higher education in the state should get acquainted," Dean H. S. Richards of the Law school said.

"Any plan that would make possible a better understanding between the two would be welcome."

Dean Goodnight stated that he would do all in his power to assist in the matter. He felt that the Association of Commerce would cooperate with the university in bringing the legislators down here for the inspection and get-together.

"The legislators should be brought down here early in the day, divided into groups and then conducted about the campus," he said.

"We would receive them with open arms," William A. Scott, director of the Course in Commerce, said. "It is a fine idea if we can get them to come down here."

The plan is similar to that which is carried out at Illinois, Ohio, Iowa.

DOES YOUR WIFE COOK? UNIQUE NEWS DISCOVERED IN WANT ADS

A kaleidoscope of unique items—books, fountain pens, glasses, magazines, cooks and whatnot—was discovered in the Cardinal want ad column for today.

The journalist who said that there was "news even in the air" must have had the want ad column in mind.

Want some army shoes for those hikes along the lake?

Perhaps you need a tutor in French or Spanish.

An unused set, 10 volumes, of "Messages and Papers of the Presidents," is being offered today.

Fountain pens! Students are always losing them and bringing in want ads. Several pens are now missing. Maybe that would make a news story, "The Mystery

"If I Weren't What I Am I'd Be—" by Professors

Some Would Sail, Others Would Be in Jail, They Say

"Were you not a University professor, where would you probably be?"

"In jail maybe" responded one University professor with incredible frankness, to this question which was asked of several professors.

Prof. E. A. Ross replied immediately that he would be a Y. M. C. A. man in China.

"An intelligent American in China can accomplish about 50 times as much as he can in this country," Ross said. A man who would be in the first 1,000 there is one in the first 20 here. In other words he has scarcity value."

"Oh, I would be a sea-captain," Prof. Louis Kahlberg said. "I am a sea captain, and also a professor. In 1914 I, myself, sailed my yacht, a two masted schooner, from Boston to Milwaukee, coming my way of the Hudson river, Erie canal, and the Great Lakes."

Prof. R. A. Moore, professor of Agronomy, would have probably been a farmer.

"I was brought up on a farm," he said, "and have always been interested in agriculture. I have been in public school work. I taught for eight years, after which I was elected county superintendent. I resigned that position to come here. My chief aim has been to help the young men from the farms, particularly the short course men. Yes, in all probability I should have had a big farm likely

TEACH LOVE OF PEACE, NOT WAR, PEAT DECLARES

"Teach the school children of the world from the ages of six to 13 to revere and emulate such men as Burbank, Edison, Ford and Marconi rather than the greatest general or war hero that ever lived," was the text of Private Harold Peat in his speech last night in the Assembly chamber of the capitol.

Private Peat chose rather to speak on the horrors of war and his theory of preventing it than to tell of his experiences in France. He asserted that from an exhaustive study of the text books which are used in the teaching of children from the first to the eighth grades in 22 nations of the world, true horrors of war are not described in one of them.

"In all the histories of all the nations, war is popularized to the children. That is the reason why war is so easy to start," he claimed.

"As long as war is made glorious in the eyes of children at an impressionable age, and they never see it in its true light, they, when older, will not fear it but will enter into it willingly," Private Peat said.

On Friday and Saturday the meetings will be held from 7 to 9:30 o'clock.

A special committee to serve as combined publicity and personnel workers for the conference was announced yesterday by Frances Warren '24, chairman of the publicity work.

The women who are to serve on this committee are Lois Jacobs '24, Dorothea Wilgus '24, Dorothy Strauss '26, Gertrude Harley '24, Marcella Neff '24, Margaret Brown '24, Barbara Warren '26, Sara Pauline Wild '24, Esther Kelley '25, Margaret Stoley '25, Maion Molnepah '23, Alice Colony '26, Grace Kellogg '24, Harriet Green '24, Eleanor Libbey '24, Virginia Newell '24, Alice McCormick '24, Beth Williams '24, Florence Fehrer '23, Louetta Dieruf '25, Alice Gilbert '25, Dorothy Meyer '26.

The first meeting of the conference will be Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in Lathrop gymnasium. All classes will be dismissed for this meeting which will be an all-university convocation. Dr. John R. Mott will be the speaker.

WEATHER: RAIN

Rain or snow is predicted for today. Fair weather with little change in temperature is expected for tomorrow. The highest temperature yesterday was 38.2 degrees at 2 p. m. The minimum of 25.5 degrees was reached at 8 a. m.

DRIVE STARTED FOR GLEE CLUB TRIP TO EAST

Only $250 Needed of $1,350 Cost

A 24-hour whirlwind campaign to insure the representation of Wisconsin at the Eastern Intercollegiate Glee club contest at New York city on Saturday was launched last night by Skull and Crescent Greek fraternity society.

Only several hundred dollars are needed to wipe off the estimated deficit accruing from the trip of 17 singers and the director to the East, Harry Carswell, president of the club, announced.

"The sum of $900 is being guaranteed the Wisconsin glee club by the eastern association, while we have in our own treasury approximately $200," Carswell said.

IS FIRST TRIP

"More than 90 per cent of the expense is being met without an appeal for funds. The remainder, estimated at $250, must be raised at once."

Expense for the trip, the first one of its kind in the history of the club, includes only the actual cost of transportation, hotels and meals. Personal items in expense will be paid by the club members themselves.

While plans were being laid for a whirlwind campaign today among fraternity, sorority and social houses, acutla preparation was under way for railroad arrangements.

Will Visit Every House

"Wisconsin must place first" is the slogan of the winning singers who will rival with Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Dartmouth and other leading schools of the East for a permanent niche in the national intercollegiate "hall of musical fame."

"This is the first time in the history of the club that Wisconsin has been given an opportunity to break into national musical limelight," Prof. E. E. Swinney, club director, stated last night when informed of the plans for a quick financial drive today.

Solicitors will visit the houses this afternoon and tonight. Pledges have been made already by many fraternities for support in wiping out the deficit and in giving the club a clean slate for the tour.

Harvard has won first honors for three consecutive years. The contest will be held Saturday night at Carnegie Hall.

TIMES' EDITOR GIVES ADDRESS TO JOURNALISTS

William T. Evjue, editor of the Capital Times, was the speaker at Press club meeting held last evening at the Delta Pi Delta house.

Plans for Pi Nite, Press club frolic were discussed at the meeting.

"The era of personal journalism is at an end. We have now entered into the field of commercial journalism," Mr. Evjue said.

"The trend has been toward the centralization of wealth, which has been reflected in the newspapers in newspaper syndicates. Everything has been in the direction of consolidation, with the newspaper placed on a money making basis.

"The control of the business side of the newspaper over the editorial department is the biggest evil. This is brought about by control of millions of dollars of advertising, control of credit and financial institutions, and by fear of competing newspapers."

Many examples of cases in which the business policy of the paper has affected the editorial side were cited.

Education of the public will be the solution, Evjue said.

"Instead of having a newspaper in which the funds are all obtained from one man, why not have a newspaper where smaller sums of money are obtained from a large number of persons?"

ASK "BIG FIVE" INVESTIGATION

Prof. Hibbard Shows Need of Government Interest in Combine

"A thorough investigation of the scope of competition or of monopoly existing among the big Chicago packers is necessary in order to determine government action in the gigantic combine of Morris and company with Armour and company," Prof. B. H. Hibbard, chairman of the Department of Agricultural Economics, and a national authority on the subject, declared yesterday.

"No one knows definitely that the "Big Five" Chicago packers compete, because only partial and restricted investigations have been made up to date," Professor Hibbard said, "and until we have complete information, the desirability of the great merger of these two firms lies in doubt."

"Legal fighting between the government and the packers will not bring out the true information although Secretary of Agriculture Wallace acted wisely in delaying the merger through a formal complaint. The benefit or injury to the general public and the farmer in particular, in this case, can only be determined by a complete and accurate business investigation of the Chicago packers. The great importance and far-reaching effect of the packers on the nation as a whole, and even on other countries warrants this action."

Urging an investigation, Professor Hibbard pointed out that such a move would determine the truth of the generally accepted idea that the packers make a profit of under two per cent.

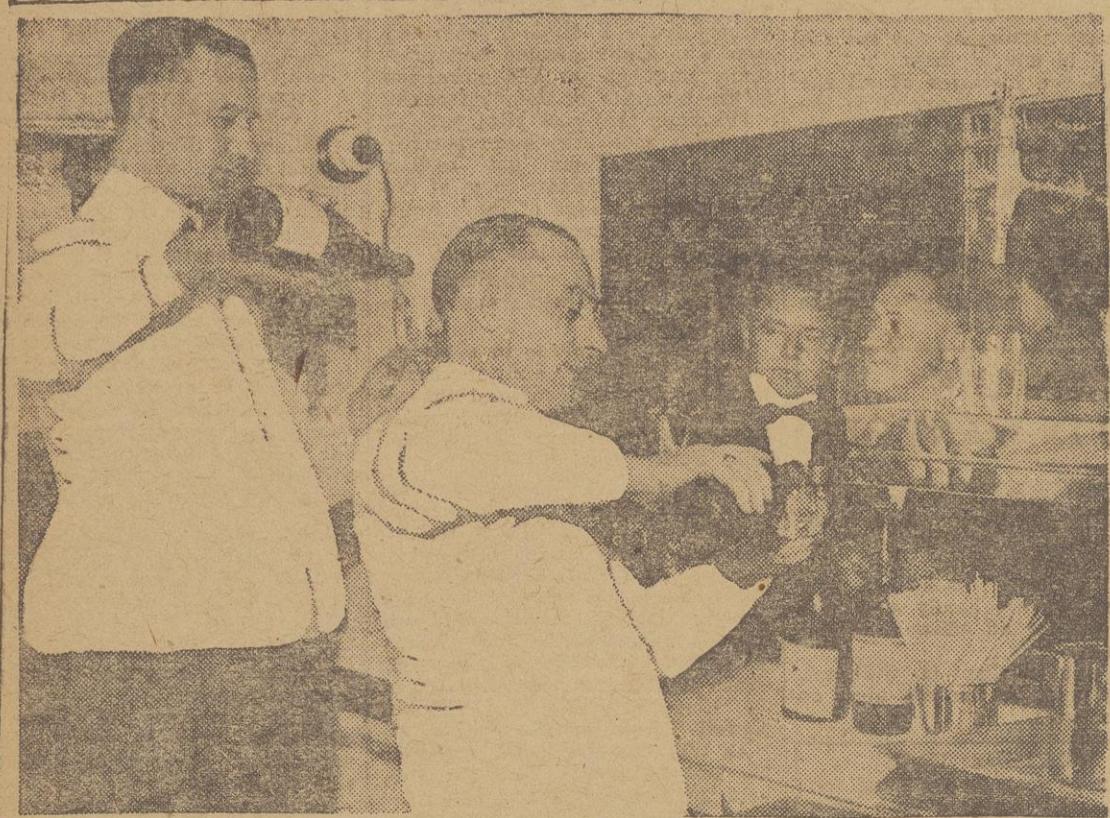

Demetral Pitted Against Wrestling Bear at Orpheum

As an added feature at both Orpheum performances tonight, Jimmie Demetral, the local wrestler, will attempt to throw "Big Jim," the wrestling bear, who has entertained audiences this first half. "Jim" has taken on many professional wrestlers during his vaudeville career, but has yet to be defeated. It has been reported that many bets have been made on the match between Demetral and his shaggy opponent.

Other acts for the first half are: "Annabelle," a miniature musical comedy; Austin and Delaney, in "The Syncopated Hotel;" Chamberlain and Earle in the dance hall skit, "His First Lesson;" Popular and crooney songs by the O'Connor Sisters, and Reddington and Grant, the boys from "Bounce Inn."

The program for the last half, starting tomorrow afternoon, will bring as the leading attraction, "Birds of Paradise," a novelty dance act by the Chalfonte Sisters. Beautiful gowns and extensive scenery will be shown during their

Scandinavian Scholarship Applications to Be Filed

Application forms for American Scandinavian Foundation fellowships for graduate study in the Scandinavian countries can be had in the graduate office, it has been announced by Prof. Charles S. Slichter, Dean of the Graduate school. These applications should be turned in to the office with all papers in their support as soon as possible, to be presented to a suitable committee before they are submitted to the authorities in New York city.

MORRIS WILL ADDRESS CHEMICAL ENGINEERS

Pat Norris, chemical engineer of the Burgess laboratories, will address the Chemical Engineer's society at 7:15 o'clock tonight at the University in the Auditorium of the Chemical Engineering building. His topic will be "Balsam Wool from the Chemical Engineering Standpoint."

After the address there will be an important business meeting. The questions of affiliation with the national organization and a changing of the meeting from every other Tuesday to every Tuesday, will be taken up.

It is desired that every chemical engineer will be present.

Herman Kahlenberg Plans to Study in Germany

Herman H. Kahlenberg '22, son of Prof and Mrs. Louis Kahlenberg, will leave Madison tomorrow to go to Friburg, Germany, where he will enter the university to continue his studies in chemistry. He completed his studies at the university here for a master of arts degree last semester.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

TRACK MEN GET FIRST WORKOUT FOR CARNIVAL

Illinois Competition to Be Classic

The Wisconsin track stars are again hard at work in preparation for the next competition—the Illinois relays. The first hard work of the week was done yesterday afternoon when the men were pushed to the limit.

The squad was given a light workout on Monday because of the strenuous work they did at Iowa last week. Meets will come thick and fast from now on, and the track men will have little rest.

The annual relay carnival of the University of Illinois is one of the money are obtained from a large and the entry list shows nearly all of the premier cinder men in the middle western colleges.

Platten Should Smash Record

Wisconsin will have to exert every effort in order to place against men on such teams as Iowa, Michigan, Illinois and Notre Dame. Men from these teams have hung up several records in the last few years at the relays and are out to uphold their reputations.

Among the men who may place for Wisconsin in the meet are Platten in the high jump and Van Ells in the shot put. The relay record for the high jump is considerably less than the annex record here by Platten last year, and with a little of his old form, Platten should be able to take the event.

Van Ells Is Comer

Platten won the high jump event at Iowa last Saturday with a leap of six feet, but he has done much better than this in former meets when he has been pushed.

Van Ells started a winning streak when he took the 16 pound shot-put event here at the relay carnival some time ago, and continued it at Iowa last week by taking first place again. His best mark falls short of the Illinois relay record by two feet, but with the record set out of competition, the Badger weight man should at least place.

Wisconsin will take three relay teams to Illinois but their strength will be unknown until the meet.

Remove Weak Spots

Besides the men mentioned, Wisconsin will be represented in the dashes by Captain Spetz, and Johnson, in the distance runs by Vellely, Schneider, and Ramsey, and in the hurdles by Newell.

The results of the Iowa meet last week, while not encouraging, were beneficial in that several weak spots showed up which must be taken care of.

A summary of the Iowa meet follows:

50-yard dash—Won by Coulter, Iowa; Brokins, (I), second; Spetz, (W), third. Time 5 15-10 seconds.

440-yard dash—Won by Brokins, Iowa; Wilson (I) second; Johnson, (W) third. Time 52 3-10.

880-yard run—Won by Merrow, (I); Vellely, (W), second; Read, (I), third. Time 4:34 9-10.

Two-mile run—Won by Phelps, (I); Tschudy, (W), second; Perry, (W), third. Time 10:10 7-10.

60-yard high hurdles—Won by Crawford, (I); Shope, (I), second; Tuhtar, (W), third. Time 8 seconds.

Mile relay—Won by Iowa (Coulter, Noll, Brokins, Wilson), Time 3:34.

Running high jump—Won by Platten and Donohue, (W), Klindt, (I) and Tuhtar, (W) tied for third. Height, 6 feet.

Pole vault—Won by Hammann and Tomlinson, (W); Jaqua, (I), and Schmidt, (W) tied for third. Height, 11 feet.

Shot put—Won by Van Ells, (W) Daine, (I), second; Johnston (I), third. Distance 40 feet, 2 1-4 inches.

Illinois Golfers to Meet

Badgers Here on March 25

The University of Illinois golf team will meet Wisconsin at Madison May 12. About 25 candidates for the Illini team are expected to report to Coach George Davis for tryouts this week.

GOPHERS COP HOCKEY SERIES

(Special to The Cardinal)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 27—The Wisconsin hockey team lost its second game with Minnesota here today by a score of 4 to 0.

The Badgers lost the first game on Monday by a score of 1 to 0. Today's win makes the Gopher squad sure of their supremacy over the Badgers who threatened at times while the Gophers visited in Madison to show equal ability.

Combacher, Badger flash, displayed great ability in the matches here. The rest of the Badger squad played well throughout the game, but could not compete with the fast and furious attack of the Gophers.

SHIFT LINEUP FOR MAROON GO

Hitchcock Hopes For Strong Squad For Match Saturday

Coach George Hitchcock expects to have his strongest lineup ready to battle the Chicago grapplers at the Midway Saturday night. The Badgers came out of the stiff meet with Iowa in fine shape, with the exception of Hembre.

Hembre, hampered by poor physical condition, put up a game fight against Jacobson, one of the best 145 pounders in the conference. For the first time since the Minnesota meet, he has been able to take some stiff workouts this week and should be in his usual fighting frame for the Chicago meet.

Several changes will probably be made for the Maroon go. Hitchcock is planning on sending George Greigor in as the light heavyweight man, and in this case, Capt. Tempchin would be shifted up to the heavy-weight division. This would match the Wisconsin strong man against the best on the Maroon team, their heavy-weight.

While the coach is pointing his men toward the Ames meet, he is not allowing his men to overlook the importance of the Chicago trip. Chicago defeated the Northwestern mat team 16 to 11, which is about the same score by which Wisconsin won over the Purple. Comparative scores therefore rank the two teams nearly par, but the individual dope on the wrestlers shows Chicago to be strong, although they have won only one of their three meets. Hitchcock is especially afraid of their light and heavy weight men.

Capt. Tempchin, Bob Holmes and Bill Heuer will probably all be eligible to enter the conference meet at Ohio State late in March. Each entrant is required to participate in four conference dual meets, wrestling in one class, and he must win at least three of his matches. Tempchin and Heuer have won three matches apiece and will enter their fourth matches at Chicago, making them eligible. Holmes was sick and lost out when the Minnesota meet was held, but with the Chicago and Ames duals ahead he has a good chance to qualify.

Chadbourne Hall Will Be Completed on March 1

Chadbourne hall, which has been under construction since the close of summer school, will be opened again for use on March 1 with the old open rotunda gone and with all of the parlors completely re-decorated. The building has been made more safe by the building of fire-proof stairs from the first floor to the fourth, opening upon the north and south of the new side porches.

Large iron doors have also been put into the corridor to cut off any possible draft.

Wisconsin Engineer Mag Disposes of 1250 Copies

More than 250 copies of this month's issue of the Wisconsin Engineer sold last week.

The articles of this issue were written by state officials, professors and engineering students. "A Novel Heating Plant" was written by John C. White, state power plant engineer; Prof. Charles I. Corp contributed "The Hydraulic Laboratory of the University of Wisconsin."

I. P. Mann '22, William E. Ouwendael '24, and Parry H. Moon '22 also wrote articles for the periodical this month.

SWIMMING TEAM MEETS PURPLE HERE ON FRIDAY

Strong Squad of Aces Will Come

A long, hard swim against the current of a strong Purple tank team is expected Friday night when the Badger fish school with the Northwestern swimmers.

Coach Joe Steinauer is putting his men through hard daily drill in preparation for what promises to be one of the stiffest meets of the season for the Badger tank men.

"Northwestern came out on top in their meet with Minnesota despite the fact that all the dope on the two teams ceded the Gophers a big lead over Northwestern," Coach Joe Steinauer said yesterday afternoon.

"Minnesota had the meet cinched up to the last two events when two Gopher fish fell down on the job and lost the meet."

Hopes In Bennet

Brier, the star sprinter on the Purple team, has won four firsts in his field and will probably be the high scorer in the meet.

Capt. Johnny Bennet of the Badger team will do much to offset the markers tacked up by the Purple fish.

Sterling Ewald, a fast man in the sprinter class and runner-up on Captain Bennet, has been declared scholastically ineligible and will be missed in the swim event.

Conditions Improves

Handicapped by the tardy completion of the new tank, the men were late in getting a start and consequently are not in the top form that Coach Steinauer would like to see them in. Up to a week before the time of the Minnesota meet the men worked out in any available place with the result that they were badly off form for that meet, but with the hard work they have gone through since that time they are in much better condition for the Northwestern-Wisconsin meet.

TICKET SALE FOR GOPHER GAME TO OPEN ON FRIDAY

Ticket sale for the Wisconsin-Minnesota basketball game will begin at 1 o'clock on Friday afternoon. Sale will be for students only, but if any tickets are left, they will be available to townspeople.

Tickets for the game with Northwestern here on Monday night go on sale at 9 o'clock Saturday morning.

The Wisconsin ticket sales force is breaking more records than Charlie Paddock or Johnny Weissmuller.

Working under direction of Paul F. Hunter, sales manager, employees sold 2,500 tickets to the Purdue game in 48 minutes. The time broke a previous record set the week before when the same number of tickets was disposed of in 1 hour and 40 minutes.

Harvard, Yale Will Send Track Teams to England

GOPHER CAGERS TO BE AT BEST IN BADGER GAME

Cook Has High Hopes For Victory

CONFERENCE SCORE

Purdue 53, Ohio State 29.

Indiana	3	4	.429
Northwestern	3	6	.333
Ohio State	1	10	.091
Minnesota	0	10	.000

That Wisconsin will have no easy cinch when it meets the Minnesota team next Saturday is indicated by the result of the Gopher-Iowa contest.

Although Doc Cook's leather-pushers failed to push as many in the net as did Iowa, they held the crushing Hawks to a 29 to 24 score Monday night. Only Michigan has played so close a game with Iowa. Indiana went down to a 19 to 13 defeat before the Hawks.

The pacemakers may have taken a substantial lead at the beginning of the game and then injected their substitutes into the fray, but it has been no easy feat to hold any Iowa team during this athletic year.

Ecklund Stars

Although the Gophers have dropped 10 consecutive games this season and lost the last six played last year, making a total of 16 straight defeats, they are improving so consistently that they may hit the peak in the Wisconsin tilt. Minnesota always outdoes itself when it clashes with a Badger team.

Ecklund, star guard, is netting most of the points for his team. Pesek is a good pivot man and although the rest of the team has shown only mediocre ability, it will put up a strong fight.

Wisconsin has two games to work for instead of one. The Badger basketeers are slated to meet Northwestern in a contest Monday. The purple team beat Indiana by the use of long shots and it will use the same style of play here. Fans will get their fill of long, spectacular throws in this game, for Wisconsin has resorted to the same system in its recent tilts.

Michigan and Iowa Better

The feature game of the weekend schedule will bring together Michigan and Iowa in a battle that is bound to make history. Iowa has a clean record of 10 straight wins and is all set to wallop the Hawkeyes. The Wolverines cannot forget the tie with Iowa for the football championship nor have they lost sight of the 18 to 17 basketball defeat at the hands of the Iowans. J. Franklin Cappon, the Wolverine bull, was incapacitated and did not play in that contest. The Michigan team will be intact for its next game with Iowa.

SINGING INTO FAME

Music, the subduing influence upon emotions, may place Wisconsin in the national limelight.

Seventeen singers, members of the University Glee club, leave tomorrow for a five-day trip to New York city where they will compete with Harvard, Yale, Princeton and other leading schools of the East for intercollegiate glee club honors. They won in the West; they can win in the East. God speed!

If the charms of song, skillfully presented by the artful musicians, can capture first place at Carnegie Hall, the glories of music will take precedence over strength of sports for a day.

Human nature is odd.

We are moved emotionally by the artificial music created by instruments, but in the end always favor the natural voice of a singer or a group in preference.

Fiji natives, tattooed and adorned with beads and feathers, find the strange beating of tomtoms the height of music. Our native Wisconsin Indians had their war paint and circle dance.

War demands its regimental bands to stir the fervor of patriotism and bravery. The peacemaker at the wrangling political convention resorts to the unison of chorus to unite factions into agreement.

Music, too, while attracting applause and support, is not the spectacular.

That is why, perhaps, few students attended the band concert given by the First Regimental band at Music hall last Saturday afternoon. Only a handful of students turned out to enjoy the high-class program of music given by the band.

If a pair of boxing gloves had been advertised, how many would have attended?

Jack Dempsey, man of brute strength, can demand more money in 24 hours than President Harding receives in four years of service to the nation.

The cause?

Even the president of the Mississippi State college recently called attention to the fact that a football coach was being offered a larger sum for a few months athletic service than the president of the college was paid for one year.

And so goes the story of boxing glove triumph over educational entertainment.

Mankind in the evolution of education is becoming more appreciative of the benefits and merits of music.

National campaigns are conducted every year to foster music in the home. The radio brings concerts to the drawing room; the phonograph reproduces the voice of the master artist; pianos can now recreate the delicate tone touch of the artist; even the schools now have music as an elementary part of the education.

Some day perhaps the mass of people will appreciate glee clubs, college presidents and university bands.

However, if the students themselves fail to do so, an improvement can never be expected.

HELLO!

To foster friendship and democracy among students, Purdue university through the Student council has adopted a "Hello Walk."

Sounds unusual, and it is. Students who use a certain walk on the campus may speak to others in passing by without introduction. Why the salutary familiarity should be limited to certain side-walks is a wonder.

As a means of better student to student relations, the principle is well worth thinking over.

Why not make day and every walk a "Hello Day" and "Hello Walk?"

Start out the week with a greeting to others and keep it going every day. The other fellow will be surprised but he'll appreciate it.

What do you think?

FACTS

Socialist members of the state legislature have attacked the university military training as "expensive to students and a waste of time."

"Interference with studies" and "hindrance to the man who is working through college" have been some of the other charges melodramatically made.

A student recently had the opportunity to talk with one of the socialist leaders, opposed to military training.

The legislator stated, in all good faith, that he understood the students were kept in drill every afternoon until 5 o'clock, that the cost was tremendous and that it seriously interfered with their studies.

When informed of the facts by the student, he evinced surprise.

The plan for a get-together of legislators and students would eliminate the possibility that the minority, through misunderstanding, could endanger vital interests of the university.

Editors Say—

THESE DAYS COUNT

(Michigan Daily)

The making of good resolutions and the prompt breaking of them seems to be part of college life fully as perennial and unavoidable as is the recurrence of examinations. There is hardly a student who upon the receipt of his semester's mark does not decide to work harder and do better work the coming semester.

But the student must apparently be goaded and spurred or he does not keep up his work. The new semester starts and as there is no near prospect of blue books or exams, he lets amusements and recreation occupy the major part of his time. Then come the final tests late in the semester, the realization that practically the whole course must be "crammed" into his brain within the short span of two or three weeks, and he is "up in the air", disgusted, grouchy, irritable. "Study now and avoid the rush", might be a good slogan for every student who wants satisfactory marks and is serious about getting an education. "Rushing" and "cramming" are the resorts of those who would not work unless there was an immediate incentive. But the wise student foresees exams long before they actually arrive.

WHAT'S A VOTE?

Popular government depends upon the exercise of the voter's privilege of the ballot, according to American principles of politics.

And so student government needs the exercise of the student's right of self-expression. A mass meeting, called March 7 by the Student senate for discussion of the point system, provides just that opportunity.

It is time to muster forces, gather point ammunition, and oil up oratorical guns. That meeting of points should point the way for Wisconsin to travel.

The Engineering colleges throughout the country have grown considerably since such an elaborate guard was given by the French to the fifty engineers sent into the Ruhr. —Michigan Daily.

A LANDLADY REPLIES

Editor, The Cardinal:

Allow me to answer the article in Tuesday's Cardinal, written by Mrs. Cape on low room rent.

Most certainly there are plenty of cheap rooms—now. But where were they when students were looking for rooms between semesters? To be sure, there are always a few lucky students who are always bragging about their finding a room for $3 or so a week. They are not many and perhaps no one else would like the room anyway.

I know of landladies who did not come down on room rent because they expected students to fill their rooms. But only a few came.

I personally know of single rooms where girls are paying $7 a week, although it is against the university rules. The girls can afford it and do not want a cheaper room.

As a rule the university keeps pretty good watch on high room rent, but some get by with it just the same.

Girls are asked a little higher rate than boys, for they have the use of parlor, presing privileges, cooking candy, sewing and washing, etc. They are supposed to pay a small charge for these extras which they generally forget to do.

Of course, those who have empty rooms would be glad to rent for $2.50 or $3. But students cannot move now, so the rooms stay empty.

A six room flat in the Latin quarter rents for $90 a month, heated. No working man can pay it. Therefore the family huddles up and sleeps on a couch and rents out a bedroom for $4 or $5 a week apiece, which helps out a little on the rent.

A ten room house in the same location rents for $140 a month. Coal will cost $40 a month, light and gas $12 or $15, and water rent $20 a year.

Is it any wonder we must ask $4 or $5 a student? All landladies are not grasping. Treat yours as if she were your mother and there will be a better feeling between you.

A LANDLADY.

SKYROCKETS

Certain sign of spring, when beauteous damsels flock at noon on the porch of a well-known sorority house on Langdon street, and make it uncomfortable for all the men who have to pass thereby returning from the Hill. The men with their feet wet and mud-bespattered trousers slink by, and some of them make dumb grunts that are supposed to be "hellos," and some of them make indefinable movements towards their hats, and some of them just walk by in silent misery, with their eyes in the slush.

modern continental playwrights, we are inclined to award the honors in this line to English authors. Their averse falls far below that of English one-act plays.

THE GARDEN PARTY, by Katherine Mansfield; Alfred A. Knopf; 2.50 at the Corner Book store.

Since Katherine Mansfield's death, much has been said about this writer of short stories. We do not intend to add anything to the host of comments on her works. But we can say that by her death the world has not lost a great author.

Her stories, at least those in this volume, are hardly stories at all. They would rather fall under the category of short character sketches. As such, some of them are highly realistic; some are flat.

This author handles her women, for the most part, in graphic fashion. Her flapper, overwhelmed by ennui, is described in only a few pages in a way that out-Fitzgeralds Fitzgerald. The amazing part of her technique is that the descriptions are given mainly through conversation with a sparse intermingling of action. We remember seeing many of her flappers about the city during Prom.

The bits of tragedy which appear in the volume are treated with restraint, which action has its valued effect of not ringing at the reader's sentimentality.

In spite of these qualities, The Garden Party was a disappointment.

Recent Princeton graduates seem to be coming to the fore in present day writing. Three of them have novels which will be off the presses shortly and all of them have been highly praised. "Stubble", "The Last Mile" and "A Flash of Gold" are the titles of these works by members of the younger genera-

Hundreds of people of the literary world who are watching careers of these brilliant young men prophesy that unusual things will be produced by them. They are George Loomis, Frank A. McAllister and Francis R. Bellamy. Watch out for them! They may cause quite a flurry in the literary world.

FIRST EDITION OF GUN AND BLADE PAPER ARRIVES

Gun and Blade Bugle is the official title of the new monthly publication of the national bureau of the Gun and Blade club association just received by local members. Headquarters are at 21 North La Salle street, Chicago. The February edition is the first to be published.

"The purpose of this paper is to more closely unite the clubs, to try and solve the many problems that come before us as a whole, and to let us know what the other fellows are doing. We want news from each chapter, and from each school where men are in training under the Veterans Bureau," is the statement of the editors.

The paper is to be sent to every charge, and is to be a strictly Gun and Blade publication containing news from all the clubs in the association.

Reed Thorpe '25 represents the local club on the editorial staff of The Bugle. He will send all news of this chapter to the headquarters in Chicago.

At present, 118 chapters have been organized. They include the universities of Michigan, Chicago, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin, and smaller colleges.

VOTING MACHINE IS CALLED BIG LEGISLATIVE AID

The voting machine in the assembly which registered in error on the vote of the Freehoff resolution on February 21 is a great asset to a legislative body, according to Graham R. Stuart, professor of political economy.

"Much legislation is unnecessarily delayed through the frequent calling of the roll," Professor Stuart declared yesterday. "In fact many politicians take advantage of this delay and purposely demand a roll call in order to delay some important measures.

"This voting machine, I believe, is the first of its kind to be established in a legislature of the United States. There is no such machine in either house of the national legislature.

"Even if this voting machine should register incorrectly at times, it does not eradicate its efficiency in legislative procedure.

MEASURE ASKS PUBLIC VOTE IN DECLARING WAR

A referendum of the people of the United States on the question of war before any declaration by Congress becomes effective is asked in a resolution introduced yesterday by Sen. A. E. Garey, Edgerton. The resolution carries out a platform pledge of the Wisconsin Progressives on the subject of war.

The resolution states that the legislature memorializes Congress to submit to the people an amendment to the constitution to provide "that no declaration of war shall become effective until approved by the people in a referendum vote, except in cases of actual invasion of the country."

"War has caused untold suffering," it says, adding that "experience has demonstrated that neither the wisdom of governments nor any league of nations can be relied upon to prevent the recurrence of war." The resolution therefore asks that the people be given the right to vote on any declaration before war actually takes place.

National banks now evading state taxes through resort to federal laws which exempt them from Wisconsin revenue laws would be penalized in allotment of public funds under terms of a bill introduced into the assembly today by the taxation committee. The bill comes in recommended for passage. It provides that "no national bank shall be a depository for state, county, town, city, village, school or other public funds of whatsoever kind or nature unless such bank pays state, county and local taxes on the same basis as state banks." This proposal if enacted will affect the distribution of millions of dollars of funds. County, local and state funds annually apportioned to banks amount to nearly $100,000,000.

Because of the fact that national banks may evade state taxes, Judge Charles D. Rosa of the state tax commission suggested the bill which is now introduced by the taxation committee as a remedy to the situation.

A conference of the leading nations of the world to discuss the teaching of an international language throughout the world, was asked yesterday by Assemblyman A. B. Bloomberg, Rice county, in a resolution memorializing congress to take the initiative in calling the conference.

MILD WEATHER WILL NOT LAST

Weather Man Says Reaction to Cold Wave is Temporary

"All that goes up comes down," Eric Miller, head of the United States weather bureau in North hall, said yesterday regarding the mild weather which Madison and the state have been enjoying the last few days.

"Spring has not come," Miller said. "The warm spell is a reaction from the cold weather of a few days ago. At present the whole country is having this mild weather, but it is not permanent and much cold weather may follow it."

Doctor Miller applied the same statement to the situation in the Arctic regions. Many weather experts have claimed recently that the Arctic regions were warming up in certain portions.

In the Greenland sea, north of Europe, milder weather and less ice than ever before has prevailed this winter, while in the Bering sea and in the regions north of America, unusually heavy ice has been reported.

The Gulf stream, which circles around the Gulf of Mexico, passes through the straits of Florida and sweeps northeastward across the Atlantic and between Iceland and Norway has been pointed out by many meteorologists as the cause of the warm weather north of Europe.

Where formerly great masses of ice were found in this district are now found accumulations of rock and earth.

In contrast to these mild conditions, the unusually heavy ice in the western arctic regions north of Alaska and in the Bering sea have caused the weather bureau to forecast famine conditions in northern Japan this year.

W. A. A. CANDIDATES NAMED AT MEETING

Nominations for W. A. A. offices for the coming year were made at the regular meeting of the association at Lathrop hall last night, as follows:

President, Esther Bilstad '24, Rosamond Nolte '24, Doris Burdick '25, Ellen Harris '24, and Lois Jacobs '25; vice-president, Margaret Murray '24, Josephine Snow '24, Gretchen Kroncke '24, and Nina Faris '24, secretary, Janice Boardman '24, Esther Fifield '25, Katherine Kennedy '24, and Lois Barry '25; treasurer, Janet Cummings '24, Helen Robinson '25, Dorothy Simpson '24, and Katherine Fuller '25.

W. A. A. pins were awarded to Doris Burdick '25 and Elizabeth Gissal '24.

The following new members were admitted into the organization:

Muriel Edwards '24, Ann Craig '25, Grace Plumlee '25, Winifred Lowe '25, Grace Goldsmith '24, Lorraine Maytum '26, Frieda Auchter '25, Fidelia Pease '26, Ruth Feeney '26, Grace Sherman '26, Edith Jorris '26, and Edna Groth '23.

A committee to select candidates for Final Emblem, Wisconsin's highest recognition of women athletes, was elected.

The Committee follows:

W. A. A. seniors, Helen Kasbeer, Alma Fenn, and Elizabeth Thorkelson; W. A. A. juniors, Margaret Henry and Maurine Hall; all-University senior, Elizabeth Kirk.

March 17 is the date chosen for the W. A. A. bridge party, according to Rosamond Nolte '24, chairman. The funds will be used to swell the fund being raised for the purchase of a new cottage across Lake Mendota.

NO TEA SERVED WHEN BADGERS GRIPPED N. W.

The Wisconsin-Northwestern wrestling meet of a few weeks ago was cited as a denial to charges of Elmer E. Jones, director of the school of education at Northwestern, that Big Ten conference wrestling matches are nothing more than "pink tea" affairs with the pep, virility, skill and science taken out, by H. P. Troendly, an official of Big Ten conferences. He says in a recent letter to the Northwestern department:

"Templin of Wisconsin literally tore Horton of Northwestern to bits. Horton was slammed and twisted until at the end of ten minutes, when sufficiently weakened, he was unable to hold Templin off and was pinned. He had to be carried from the mat utterly exhausted." He further adds, "College wrestling is more strenuous today than in 1918, 1919 and 1920."

C. W. Mayser, athletic director at Ames State college invited Director Jones to imbibe "pink tea" provided he could best one of the Ames lightweights, in an indignant letter protesting against Jones's statements.

If the coach does not succeed in instilling the fighting spirit in his men, he and not the other factors is to blame, is the opinion of Mr. Wayser.

MAJ. WOOD REFUTES LEGISLATOR'S CHARGES government.

"I assume you are interested in obtaining the exact facts in this matter and am writing you for that reason. Yours truly, John S. Wood, Major, F. A., professor of military science and tactics."

Various charges which assemblers have made against the university corp were explained by Major Wood.

Actual Costs Are Few

One solon asserted in the legislature recently that required drill is wasting much time and money for the student who is working his way through college. Upon actual inquiry, however, the solon learned that the only expense was the cost of uniforms. This amounted to only a few dollars.

"The physical benefits which the student derives from military drill are well worth the time for a few hours a week," Major Wood continued.

"The student learns to co-ordinate the movements of his body with his mind. He also learns to respect his superiors through the discipline of the department."

Of the nine officers stationed here, only four are West Point graduates, Major Wood added. Charges had been made by socialist legislators that the local corps afforded places for West Point graduates.

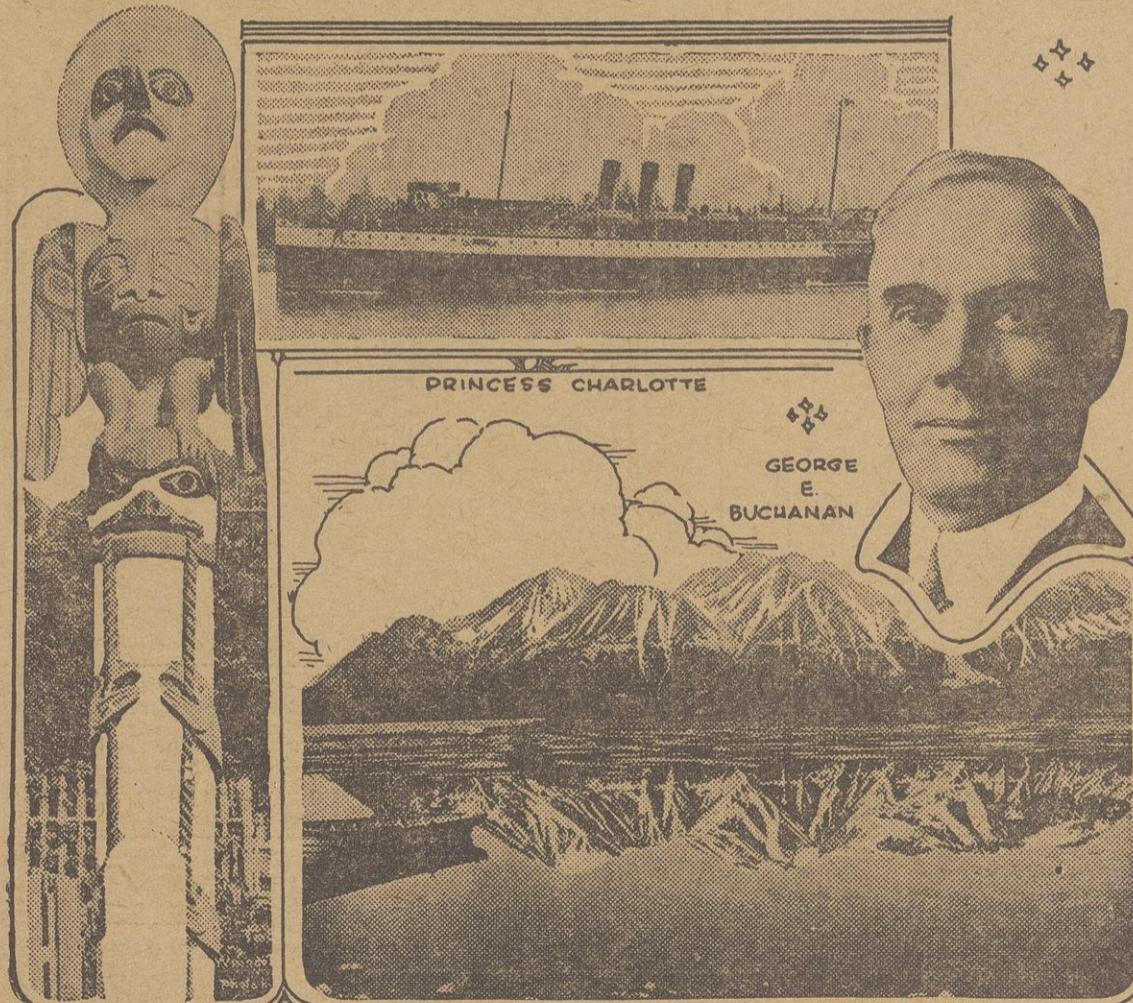

GOLF'S A GREAT GAME, BUT—SAYS GENE

Gene Sarazen with Clar Horton, Anna Perdue and Ilene Marloew.

Gene's gone and done it. Gene refers to Mr. Sarazen, the modest young golfer who startled the sport world by winning the national open title last year. What Gene has done is this: He has signed a movie contract. Gene was requested (oh, dear, yes) to take the above pose while camera men were testing his screen face.

DETROIT BACHELOR AIDING BOYS TO SEE ALASKA

TOTEM POLE, ALERT BAY, VANCOUVER ISLAND

LAKE ATLIN AND ITS REFLECTION, ALASKA

The educational value to a boy of a trip to Alaska should be thousands of dollars, is the view of George E. Buchanan, of 8411 Dexter Boulevard, Detroit, a wealthy bachelor who started his business career as a poor boy and who is now president of three coal and coke companies. Not long ago he announced that every good boy who was willing to earn one-third of the expense of the trip could go to Alaska with him, provided the boy's parents would contribute another third.

"I will let you have the remaining third," he told Bryant Pocock, the first boy interested, "and some day when you are older and able to travel to the Columbia and Alaska coasts to Skagway, thence over the White Pass to earn this money, you may pay it back to me to be used to take some other boy to Alaska. The total expense will be about $400 and I will help you earn your third. I will take a hundred boys on the same plan, if they work and earn."

Pocock and two other boys, Hurlbut Kennedy and William Hurlbut, earned their thirds in a few weeks and nearly 100 boys in all are working hard after school hours—for school must not be neglected—to qualify for the wonderful journey through the Canadian Pacific Rockies, including Banff and Lake Louise, and to Alaska and the Yukon via Vancouver. At Vancouver the boys will steam northward on the "Princess Charlotte," 1,000 miles along the pictureque British Co-

Atlin Lake District, White Horse Rapids and the mighty Yukon. The round trip, a total distance of about 7,500 miles, will be a six weeks' joy ride for the boys whose slogan as they sell ash baskets, coal, coke and pencils is, "On to Alaska with Buchanan in July, 1923!" He shows them what to sell, trains them in salesmanship and teaches them thrift.

Mr. Buchanan will be in person in charge of the boys on the trip to safeguard them and see that they have the time of their lives. He expects that between 50 and 100 will qualify this year, and next year he will take another party of "Buchanan's Boys" to the "big, broad land away up yonder," for he has but two hobbies, business training for boys—and Alaska.

No Lectures But Daily Conferences

At Babson Institute they make a business of teaching business to college trained men who wish to fill positions of responsibility and trust without spending years at routine work.

Standard office equipment throughout. No classes or lectures, but a business schedule of work from 8:30 to 5:00 o'clock, including daily conferences directed by men with years of business experience, and discussions with active factory and office executives at their plants. This removes the instruction from the hypothetical stage and helps the student to look at things in the same light as a man actually engaged in business.

Babson Institute, an educational institution endowed for the purpose of fitting men for executive responsibilities, invites you to send for the booklet, "Training for Business Leadership." Write today.
