VOL. VII

NO. 46

NOVEMBER 23, 1939

Hon. Franklin Delano Roosevelt,
President of the United States of America,
Washington, D.C.

Dear Mr. President:

I have been watching with real interest your administration of the affairs of the greatest experiment in democracy that the world has ever known. I like to listen to your radio talks on the "State of the Union" as required by the Constitution of the United States.

By the way that document is the greatest ever written. Back in 1215 I thought that a great step had been made when the "Magna Charta" was written for the Britons, but when the Constitution was adopted by your thirteen states in 1787, I felt that the World had made real progress in government. Here was a real attempt of the people to govern themselves. I was quite concerned for a while when it looked as if partisanship and sectionalism might halt the adoption of the Constitution. When the First Ten Amendments were adopted I was really pleased.

You see that I am not so very much concerned with governments as such. During the ages I have seen so many come and go. My experience has shown me that any government founded on conquest or force generally ends in the same manner. In United States ( I like that name and wish it read United States of the World ) of America a new idea of government came to light. One where folks intended to live peaceably with all nations and if more land was needed for expansion it would be purchased.

The World had become so used to the old method of "Might makes Right " that such an experiment as yours was indeed a novelty. You have been going pretty good for the last 152 years. You have listened pretty well to that wise first president, George Washington, who warned you about mixing up with the politics of Europe. It grieved me most deeply to have one part of your Union try to break off by itself, but I was glad that your Abraham Lincoln held it together even at so great a sacrifice. The freedom of the Negro from slavery especially pleased me.

I said that I wasn't very much concerned about governments. I am concerned about folks. It has been very interesting to watch man gradually catch a vision of his real place in this World and by observation and inventive genius learn how to live.

It is a long time since I first knew Man. He. then lived in a cave on the side of a hill, first just a natural hole, but as his wife bore him children and more room was needed he used crude stone instruments to make the hole larger in order to make room for the family. For food he managed to kill first small animals and as he was able to make instruments from various shaped stones he was able to kill larger ones. He even found that by chipping off bits of the stone he could make some dishes. Meantime Mrs. Eve was busy gathering berries and roots and making coverings for their bodies, from the skins of the animals used for food.

I mentioned that I wasn't very much interested in government. I make an exception of yours because you are trying to help all the people. I was very fearful when your country joined in the World War. I could have told you what you would have gotten out of it. You did not want any land. Your motives were so lofty that the old world of intrigue wasn't ready for them. I was so anxious to have the experiment which you were carrying on succeed.

You got what a neighbor who goes to the aid of a screaming neighbor's wife "a kick in the pants". You'll be a long time paying for the monetary loss. I was more concerned with the misery that it caused; suffering men, forlorn widows and children, lack of employment, struggle between employer and employee, despairing men who gave up the struggle.

There are two billion folks on the Earth. I am interested in them all, white, black, red, yellow and brown. Color doesn't make any difference in ability, providing opportunities are given. The savage boy with education and moral training can become a real part of society.

Your country has made great strides in giving every one an equal opportunity, but even you are a long way off from the fulfillment of the ideal. I think of the children in the slums and of those families who go hither and thither doing seasonable work.

I had great hopes that when you became president of the United States that you was the great "humanitarian" that your country was ready for. The name Roosevelt meant a lot the world round. You started out fine and all wanted to go with you as far as possible. As you were elected by such an overwhelming majority you of all leaders could have kept party in the proper place and been president of all the nation. While you talked along that line, others were busy building up an organization and using patronage to do it. The independent voter overlooked these things and again gave you four more years to carry on, still hoping that your program would be the right one to go along ways in bringing relief to a tumultuous society.

The greatest problem today is, that of living together peaceably. You have done very well in America. Folks of all nations seem to live as neighbors. They should be able to live together in the native lands. You will do a lot better in teaching Democracy in keeping on as neighbors in America, than by going over across the seas again and forcing democracy upon defeated nations. You had better learn the lessons of the last war and keep your hands clean of old world intrigues.

You, Mr. President, "muffed" and opportunity to become the world's great "mediator" by showing too much partiality in this crisis. All the World is waiting for one whom they can trust to step forward and help them settle their "unwanted war". You might have been that man. He must come from the Americas as they seem to have little confidence in one another over there. Of course they look with suspicion on us as we are preparing for defense against an "unknown enemy". Such large expenditures are not a part of your traditions. They do not augur well. It's just like placing a shot gun in a boy's hands and telling him not to shoot with it. It will be an awfull predicament to put him in.

I have some more matters of importance to take up with you and hope to find time to do so next week.

Meantime, I am,

Sincerely yours,

Father Time

Mr. and Mrs. Arvid Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Werner, Miss Margaret Anderson and Supt. Kenneth Viste attended a lutefisk dinner at Mt. Horeb, Wis. last Thursday evening, Nov. 16. The dinner was served to 600 people at the Mt. Horeb Lutheran church, of which Miss Anderson's father is pastor. Serving began at 4:30 in the afternoon.

Mrs. Thompson, who each year serves a lutefisk dinner to a group of Mr. Thompson's friends, was particularly interested in knowing how so much of it could be prepared at one time, visited the kitchen and noticed that the lutefisk was baked in large roasters filled with melted butter. Sounds very good.

Wisconsin Scandinavians Christmas lutefisk supply has arrived safely despite the European war. The Norwegian steamer Ravnefjell docked a few weeks ago at Superior with its annual cargo after an uneventful trip across the Atlantic, but Captain Peter Steinsvig said war developments might make the trip impossible next year.

Distributors said lutefisk probably would bring higher prices this year because of boosts in marine insurance rates and in wages paid to sailors due to the war risk.

CITIZENSHIP COUNSELORS MEET

Prof. Colbert told that over 500 youths in the county will be eligible for the meetings to be held weekly until next Spring when voters will be given a certificate of good citizenship in a formal ceremony. The next meeting of the counselors will be held Dec. 7.

"If democracy is ever to regain the virility that it had only a generation ago, we have got to learn

THANKSGIVING, NORTH CAROLINA

Yes, this is the name of a community in North Carolina, and the people living there explain that Thanksgiving is always Thanksgiving in their town. Every day should be Thanksgiving to the people living in America. For over 200 years America has celebrated a day of Thanksgiving with feasting and family reunions and the privilege of attending a religious worship service. Today, as never before, America should give thanks when we know what is taking place in war ridden Europe today. And let all America give thanks that there is no "blackout" of our democracy under the "American Way." and we can still hold aloft the torch of human liberty.

Gov. Bradford in 1621 set aside a day of thanksgiving after the first harvest of the New England colonists. It was a day spent in prayer and praise and a great feast.

In 1795 George Washington appointed a day of thanksgiving for the general welfare and benefits of the nation. President Lincoln proclaimed the last Thursday in November as Thanksgiving Day. Governors of the states making similar proclamations, which has remained a custom. 23 states will observe Nov. 23 and 23 states will observe Nov. 30 as Thanksgiving Day this year. Two not announced.

Twenty-eight men sat down to a feed of pumpkin pie, doughnuts and coffee. If you want real fellowship try eating pumpkin pie such as mother makes amid a great bunch of fellows.

Helmer Johnson, the retiring president of the Club, opened the meeting which was held before the eats. He got rid of his job on Monday night as it was time to elect officers and one of the rules is that one cannot succeed himself (a pretty good rule for presidents).

Leo Fryc was elected president; Rowan Ryan, secretary-treasurer; Arnold Fryc pianist.

Rev. Kinney, who will leave for Glen Ellyn after January 1st was the speaker.

The editor enjoyed the meeting. You are invited to attend sometime. The meetings are held on the 3rd Monday each month at 8 P.M.

MR. VISTE TO BE SCOUT MASTER
