PLAN RIDING FEATURES

Fourteen riding exhibitions and special feature stunts are scheduled for the Little International live stock show to be held in the Stock pavilion, at 7:30 o'clock, next Saturday evening, according to the program just published by students in charge of the show.

The program includes parades of the university heavy and light draft teams, a dairy-maid milking contest, the Synthetic Cow, by agricultural chemistry juniors, demonstrations by the Kennedy dairy company, parades of the university herds, five gaited saddle horses, special feature stunts by various student organizations, in and out jumping by the university cadets, monkey riding, inter-sorority riding contest, broncho busting, and many other thrilling events.

To Run Events Smoothly

"Every effort will be made to run off the exhibitions promptly so that no delay will occur between events," declared R. C. Munkwitz '22, in charge of special features. The special feature events by the different student organizations will be held in the form of a three ring circus so all parts of the audience will be entertained at the same time. The Madison guards will participate in the riding events. It will be the first time that the Madison guards and University cadets have appeared at the Little International.

Many prizes will be awarded to winners of the contests. The winner of the inter-sorority riding contest will receive a silver cup. A cup is also offered to the group that wins the mounted wrestling match. Three prizes will be given in the dairy-maid milking contest. The first prize is a bon bon dish, the second prize is two pounds of milk chocolates, while a booby prize will be awarded as the third prize.

"It is planned to take reservations for all who desire ring-side seats," declared Helmer Casperson '22, in charge of seat sale. Seats may be reserved singly or in blocks. Those who desire seats may send $1 together with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Helmer Casperson, 309 North Mills street. Other seats will be sold at 50 cents each.

Prof. G. L. Larson, College of Engineering, acted as toastmaster. Other speakers for the evening were Prof. Charles I. Corp, Hydraulics department, and W. L. Millar, engineer, Gisholt machine company.

The Jewish Students' association will resume its services beginning this coming Sunday evening at the auditorium of the Woman's building.

Final tryouts for the twenty-fourth annual Haresfoot production will be held for both cast and chorus in the concert room of Lathrop hall, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. These tryouts will be held under the direction of Harry W. Spingold, Chicago, who, with an assistant chorus director, will direct the 1922 show.

Earl Carpenter '21, and Horace Carver '21, who are writing the music and lyrics for this year's show, will be in Madison for the tryouts. While here they will confer with Paul V. Gangelin '23, and Theodore Schoultz, grad, who are writing the book for this year's show.

The tryout Saturday will be the last one this year, and announcement of the cast will be made in Sunday's Cardinal.

Industrial Ills to Be Topic of Haake Talk

"Industrial Ills," a discussion of the specific problems that grow out of industrial conflict between the parties in industry, will be the subject of Prof. A. P. Haake's fourth talk on the relation of industry to the church, to be held at the First Congregational church next Sunday, March 5, at noon.

Flickinger to Draw Posters For Ball

Fred Flickinger '23, a former Dartmouth college student, will draw posters this year for the pre-military ball dance and the Military ball. While at Dartmouth, Flickinger was on the staff of the Jack O'Lantern, the humorous magazine published by students of that college. He has drawn cartoons for the Octopus and is on the staff of the 1923 Badger.

Commerce Advisers Elect New Officials

At the meeting of the Commerce advisory commission the following officers were elected for the present semester:

Larry Brann '22, president; H. O. Walther '22, vice-president; Roy Charlson '22, assistant vice-president; H. I. Smith '22, secretary; G. R. Falk '22, treasurer; H. C. Smith '23, guardian.

President John Dollard '22 spoke on the good work done by the commission by enabling Commerce freshmen to be able to stay in school, who, without the commission's help, would have had to leave school.

Versatile Jim Is Four Men In Minstrel Show

Another instance of the versatility of "Jimmy" Brader, football player, prom chairman, and actor came to light yesterday when it was learned that he had not only taken part but actually had taken the role of four distinct characters in the minstrel show at Father Petit school Sunday afternoon, and Sunday and Monday evenings.

Filling the shoes of a porter, a bell-hop, a waiter, and an elevator man all in one play kept Jim as busy as the proverbial bee. First on one side of the stage and then on the other he poked out his head for a few lines and then dashed off to answer his own cue. According to Madison fourth ward residents who were especially interested in the production, Brader was the hit of the show.

The minstrel show as presented was not of the conventional type, but had a plot. All three of the performances were well attended, and on Sunday evening 200 people had to be turned away because of lack of seating accommodations.

Irvin S. Cobb Will Not Lecture Here

Irvin S. Cobb, humorist and former war correspondent for the Saturday Evening Post, will not be able to give a lecture here on "Fifty-Fifty" on March 20 as was originally planned, according to announcement given out by the Union board, yesterday.

Mr. Cobb, who has been making a tour of the United States, was taken seriously ill while in Boston, recently, and had to cancel all speaking engagements. Evvard Caluwaert '22, member of Union board, stated that it did not seem likely that Mr. Cobb would find an opportunity to speak at any time this year. His lecture concerns after the war problems which are now prevailing.

Present Playlets in Lathrop Gym Tonight

The American Association of University women will present two short plays in the concert room in Lathrop hall, on Thursday, March 2 at 8 p. m.

The cast of "Op O' Me Thumb," the first play is as follows: Mrs. P. B. Potter, Mrs. B. Q. Morgan, Mrs. C. Stevenson, Miss Beatrice Humiston, C. D. Cool, and Mrs. C. D. Leake.

"Overtone," the second, will be played by the following cast: Mrs. H. Stafford, Miss Hilda Kiekhof, and Agatha McCaffrey '24.

The money will be used for the scholarship fund. Tickets are 50 cents.

INTERPRETER OF NEGRO STORIES WILL GIVE READINGS TONIGHT

Miss Lucine Finch, noted interpreter of negro stories will read at 8:15 tonight in 165 Bascom hall. Admission will be 50 cents.

Sitting in an old-fashioned chair, clad in a simple blue dress, this woman with her marvelous gift for narrative has kept her audience in rapt attention wherever she has appeared. Her work is distinctly individual and must be heard to be appreciated, say people who have heard her.

"Bending forward in an intimate way she reels off story after story in a rich, unctuous tone and with an eloquence of acting that is the best kind of acting, because it is so spontaneous and so evidently from nature. Her keen sense of humor and a poetic instinct for the weird, the grotesque, and the horrible plus this perfect delivery makes her a character delineator of extraordinary equipment." So spoke the dramatic editor of the Chicago Record-Herald, of Miss Finch's work.

According to Prof. G. Johnson of the dramatic department, Miss Finch's stories of the negro comprise one of the few important collections of the tales from the imaginative mind of the old negro of pre-Civil war time. The negro no longer is of this imaginative mind and it is important that they be preserved. Publishing companies are urging Miss Finch to have her stories published, as well as her songs, of which she has over 200.

Miss Finch gleaned her stories and songs from her old southern "mammy" and other negro servants on the Finch plantation where she was reared. The reading is being held in 165 Bascom hall because of the better acoustic properties of that auditorium.

REGENTS FAIL TO PASS FREE SPEECH PLAN

Proposal of Kronshage Tabled
Until Meeting to Be Held
Late in April

TAKE NO ACTION ON 181

After a discussion of a resolution introduced by Theodore Kronshage of Milwaukee, to lift all censorship restrictions on speakers brought here by student organizations, the Board of Regents refrained yesterday from taking any definite action at this time. The matter will be brought up again at a meeting to be held on April 26.

Mr. Kronshage introduced his resolution before a special committee to consider the proposal of the Student Senate that it be given authority to censor all speakers before permitting them to talk from a university rostrum. Samuel Sygman '22, and former president of the Social Science club, and Elaine K. Eschweiler '22, who is now president of the organization, spoke in support of the proposed measure.

Would End Interference

The resolution would prohibit Social Science club speakers from being interfered with, and all voluntary student organizations would be allowed to pick their speakers regardless of character or opinions.

The faculty could cancel student meetings only in case they became so numerous as to interfere with scholastic work. This was the only restriction provided for by the resolution.

Although the Board of Regents and the Board of Visitors held a joint meeting Wednesday morning, no definite action was taken on the dispute over Accounting 181 nor on the report that students have been indiscriminately dismissed from the university for failure to meet scholastic standards.

The regents are considering a plan to interest private capital in the construction of dormitories for women students.

Senate Appoints Men to Election Committee Places

The election of two new members and a chairman to the election committee, the question as to whether Howard K. Willet '23 should be released from disciplinary probation, and the request that the secretary of the Student Senate look up the copyright on Wisconsin songs were the important matters taken up at the meeting of the Student Senate in the Law building last night.

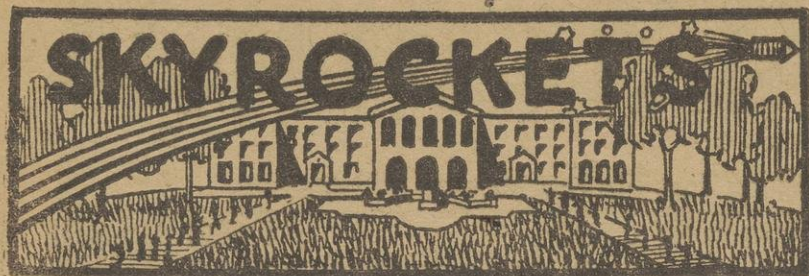

Ivan H. Peterman '22, and Maynard Brown '23 were elected as new members of the election committee, and Idrys O. Hughes '22, who has been a member, was elected chairman.

At the request of Howard K. Willet '23 to be released from disciplinary probation, on which he was placed last year for alleged throwing of phosphorous bombs at the pile of rubbish gathered on cap night, the Senate voted to lay his case before the judiciary committee, and hear a report from them later.

The secretary of the Senate was asked to look up the copyrights on the Wisconsin songs which have been asked for by Ralph L. Shanno, of Purdue university, to be included in a book of college songs which he is writing.

Bonds purchased by Iowa university students and others, for the $100,000 stadium fund, have been sold to the amount of $20,000 up to date, after a short canvass of the campus and town. Athletic Director Howard Jones, encouraged, predicts the success of the movements to sell the entire allotment.

FROM Iceland to Australia Pussyfoot Johnson is making the world safe and insane for Democracy. As for we ourselves, us, accept democracy only with reservations. Every little while we are overcome with a longing for some 100 proof Aristocracy. Political scientists ought to realize that this is at least a step in the right direction; they took vodka away from Russia, and look at Russia! Is it necessary that we remind you that Pussyfoot has lost an eye in his struggle for conquest? In the kingdom of the blind the one-eyed man is king.

HORROR impends, and the upper air is filled with the vague mutterings of imminent catastrophe. Even the dank, dim regions of Dis are shuddering, and last night we heard a sepulchral swishing, and when we had rushed to the door we saw a gibbering mummy disappearing into the night, and discovered this protest in the contribution box:

BONDED 2017 B. C.
Old gang, that groanest loud
Grief that will not die,
Saddened, and hopeless crowd
That dath weep and sigh,
Lest bunch whose tears are vain.
Longing to drink again,
Howl for thy woe and pain,
Wail, for the world's dry.

YOU BE THE JUDGE

You may like a particular orchestra while some other student chooses another as his favorite. You are to judge for yourself what music is the best.

And so it is with the place where you dance; the floor, its environment and the people who dance there, are your selection

Yet there is a consensus of opinion among the students that there are "best" places to dance on a Friday and Saturday evening. And if you observe but casually you will see that the "best" places to dance are at The Badger Room, below in the Woman's Building, and Lathrop Parlors, in Lathrop Hall, where you will find

Reaction On Darwinism Is Bryan View

Tells Chester C. Platt of Feeling Throughout the Country

That there is a great reaction against Darwinism throughout the country is the statement which William Jennings Bryan makes to Chester C. Platt. Mr. Bryan, writing from Miami, Fla., thanks Mr. Platt for having his letter published in The Capital Times. Mr. Bryan's letter follows:

"You may be interested to know that the reaction against Darwinism is spreading over the United States. The Chicago Post and Indianapolis Star have recently published articles from me on the subject and I have just finished a more extended one for the New York Times. I shall speak in one of the largest halls in New York City the second of April."

French Dancer to Perform For Gun and Blade Banquet

Mademoiselle Fifi Deslys, French dancer and stage beauty, will be the feature of the program to be given at the second annual banquet of the Gun and Blade club in the Woman's building, March 3, stated Jack Sheldon '23, general chairman of the banquet committee last night.

The danseuse will present a series of the latest flashes from Paris. She has appeared in the United States before, principally in the East, but never in this part of the country, according to Paul Tobey '22, president of the Gun and Blade club.

Charles W. Sylvester, chief of the Rehabilitation division, United States Veterans' bureau, one of the speakers at last year's banquet, has informed the committee that he will be present again this year.

"The Present and Future Rehabilitation Policies of the United States Veterans' Bureau" is the subject of an address to be delivered by Major A. A. Sprague, Washington, D. C. Sprague has been attending a conference in Washington on this work and will be in a position to state the new policies to be followed by the government.

Heavy rains have fallen in the disturbance that is crossing the gulf states. It is followed by colder in the southern plateau region. The temperature fell to near zero in New Mexico and to 10 above in Central Texas, the lowest recorded there in March. Generally fair weather and rising temperatures prevail in the Missouri valley and on the Canadian plains.

Crownhart is Candidate for Supreme Court

Friends Are Busy Urging Support for Revisor of Statutes

Charles H. Crownhart, revisor of statutes and former member of the industrial commission, is a candidate for judge of the Supreme court to succeed Judge R. G. Siebecker.

It is known that Mr. Crownhart not only will accept the place but that his close friends are engaged in arousing sentiment to prevail upon Gov. Blaine to appoint Mr. Crownhart. Labor leaders in the state are being approached by friends of Mr. Crownhart urging them to write letters to Gov. Blaine in Mr. Crownhart's behalf.

The choice for the position on the bench to succeed Judge Siebecker has narrowed down to Judge E. Ray Stevens and Mr. Crownhart.

The La Crosse county bar association Monday gave its endorsement to Judge E. Ray Stevens for member of the supreme court.

The petition to Gov. Blaine, which was signed by all members of the bar, recites that "Judge Stevens has been more than the judge of the ninth judicial circuit. In fact, the commission cases have made him a statewide figure and we are satisfied that he will make an unusually useful and efficient member of the supreme court, if appointed. His personal integrity and judicial capacity proven through long years of service, are known to all the members of the bar of this state and widely among its leading citizens."

Blake and Elsom to Attend Scout Convention

The Wisconsin Telephone Co. paid $12,000 into the city's coffers yesterday, according to Carl Moe, city treasurer. The sum was in the form of an annual license fee. The sum made up a total of $224,582.43 taken in by the treasury department of the city Tuesday.

Movement of Vegetables Offset Loss in Fruit

CHICAGO — Increasing movement of early vegetables such as early cabbage, celery, tomatoes and lettuce is partly offsetting losses in the movement of fruits and vegetables as a whole, according to a report today from the U. S. Bureau of markets. The total carlot shipments of eleven leading lines of fruits and vegetables throughout the country, for the week ending Feb. 25, were 800 fewer than for the corresponding week a year ago. New cabbage shipped from the south totalled 441 carloads compared with 382 a year ago. Supplies of northern stock are nearly exhausted. Shipments of celery show an increase of nearly 40 cars. The movement is mainly from Florida. Lettuce shipments increased to 429 cars compared with 397 the week before. California lettuce from the Imperial valley was in strong demand at New York at $5.50 to 5.75 a crate. For the season to date potatoes have come forward to the extent of 124,077 carloads from 18 late shipping states as against 100,998 last season. Maine, the season's leading shipping state, sent 842 cars.

University is Not Cause of Big Taxes

That the expense of running the university is not the cause of heavy taxation, as many people throughout the state believe, was pointed out by James B. Borden, secretary of the state board of public affairs, in a talk on "State Finance" at a meeting of the Mining club last night.

A tax of three-eighths of a mill is imposed upon the assessed valuation of the state for the maintenance of the university, but that income is roughly only one-fifth of the amount needed, according to Mr. Borden. Some income is realized from the university from fees and non-resident tuition, and the remainder comes from the state treasury. Mr. Borden pointed out further that the money for running the state government comes from a tax on railroads and insurance companies and an inheritance tax.

THE ADVISER SYSTEM

THOSE interested in raising the standards of scholarship at the university might well consider the operation of the present faculty adviser system. It is time to view this system critically and determine whether it meets the purposes for which it exists.

In theory the faculty adviser guides the student in the selection of his studies intelligently and confers with him from time to time on his difficulties, offering sound suggestions for the betterment of his work. There is supposed to be something of a personal and friendly bond between student and adviser. The faculty member is supposed to have in the background of his mind a fairly definite knowledge of the principal courses offered in the various colleges so that he may guide his advisees along the right path.

As a matter of fact, the system as a whole works in no such way as this. In the first place, a large percentage of the advisers know too little about the courses outside their own departments. An adviser whose work is in plant pathology, for instance, is rarely able to acquaint a student about the comparative merits of English 30 and Sophomore Composition. The system apparently is not taken seriously enough for all advisers to make it their business to study the major problems which arise in their dealings with their advisees. As a result, the student gets very little competent guidance in such a situation.

The personnel element is too often lacking. Many of the advisers take the system as a matter of form and feel no obligation to deal otherwise with the students under their charge. It is here that the system often fails, where it should be most effective.

The freshmen are the students who suffer most. As a rule they do not come under the guidance of the older men on the faculty. First year students above all others should come in personal contact with older men of the faculty as their advisers. Upperclassmen are in a better position to take care of themselves. They are the ones who draw the older advisers, and about all their advisers have to do is to approve programs which the upperclassmen prepare for themselves.

Why not reverse the process and give the freshmen a chance with these older men?

A general toning up of the adviser system will mean a step forward in raising scholastic standards and reducing the number of those who ride the "sore eye special."

WORK VS. PLEASURE

It's the young man or woman who is sticking to his or her ideal today in spite of the rapidly changing fashions, habits or customs that is going to succeed tomorrow. Seldom does the world witness such a spectacle as we see today. Styles change over night; old fixed habits are superceded by the new free thinking and action; thrift has turned into spendthrift and study has become a wild search for pleasure.

Style, fashion and the search for idle pleasure have grown to be gluttons. But they have grown like a mushroom and are doomed for an early and rapid execution. The man who has been and who still is pegging along steadily and surely will be the one to accept the rewards when the world comes to offer them.—Daily Nebraskan.

POOR PUBLICITY

Something seems to be wrong with the type of advertising being given to the universities of the country. Instead of telling of the real work being accomplished and of the realization of the purpose for which the institutions are founded, the metropolitan papers are carrying feature stories on all kinds of freak organizations now being organized and on reforms that are thought necessary. The Indianapolis News in an editorial entitled "College Eccentricities," mentions a few of the leading questions that are finding space in the columns of the daily press:

"This seems to be a season of bizarre activities at colleges and universities. From Chicago University comes a story of the organization of a 'Five Minute Egg Club,' the members of which are 'hard boiled.' They are banded together, they say, to fight the college sissy and any applicant for membership must be able to prove that he does not use perfume, has no effeminate habits and can go ten fast rounds with the gloves. Notre Dame reports that several young men, astonished at the amount of money spent for silk hosiery will not go to dances with any girl unless she wear cotton.

"The woman dean of a Columbia University department says that 'of course all the girls smoke.' Some other deans deny this and some admit it. About this time of year the seniors at eastern universities are asked whether they ever kissed a girl, what they think about kissing in general, whether they think girls dress immodestly, etc. The women's colleges discuss the ideal husband, whether he shall be a mere money maker, etc. Pictures are published of college girls attired in a gymnasium suit, each of whom has been found by measurements to be the duplicate of the Venus de Milo. The girl who makes grades hardly ever gets a mention. The boy who has distinguished himself as a scholar is not asked to face the fierce light of publicity."

Colleges all over the country would benefit if the papers would leave the solution of the smoking evil to the various deans of women, if the answers to all the foolish questions would never be published, and if the man and woman, who realizes the purpose of the university, and who makes the best of every minute would be given the credit and publicity that is due them.—Purdue Exponent.

Pictures of Early Landscape Gardens Illustrate Lecture

Prof. Aust of Horticulture Department Talks to Arts and Crafts Club

Slides showing early Babylonian and Egyptian, and English, French, and Dutch gardens of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, some of the latter of which are still in existence, were shown by Prof. F. A. Aust, of the Horticulture department, in an address on "Landscape Gardening and Architecture" given before the Arts and Crafts club last night.

Various methods of city planning were explained, Sydney, Australia, being cited as one of the best models in the world. According to Professor Aust too little attention is given to the landscape artist in the planning of a home, public building, or city. It is only after the errors are discovered that the landscape artist is called into try to cover the mistakes which might have been entirely avoided if he had been consulted in the first place.

"There should be some of the places in Wisconsin that should be set aside by the state in their natural beauty and kept for future generations to see, in order that they might know how our state looked four or five hundred years before their time," said Professor Aust. He also said that Madison probably has more well designed homes for its size than any other city in the country.

Dean Nardin Talks on Amusements at Chicago Convention

The attitude which the Wisconsin students have taken upon themselves in trying to solve the question of amusements was the subject on which Dean F. Louise Nardin spoke to the convention of deans held in Chicago last week. She told of the resolutions resulting from the realization that the amusements were rapidly becoming financially above the majority of students; and also of the widening of types of amusements for weekends, mentioning the weekend concerts of the glee clubs and dramatic clubs, the formation of the Friday evening discussion groups, and the Sunday night Badger club.

The system which employs mental tests and personal recommendations as well as the high school records was explained by representatives from Columbia and Dartmouth, where it is already being used in the selection of new students. Psychological aid in selecting the best possible course in the university, and the various ways in helping a trained college graduate to find the

KAPPA SIGMA WALLOPS CHI PSI BY 28 TO 7

D. U.'s to Clash With Beta's in Greek Basketball

The Kappa Sigs walloped the Chi Psis last night, by the lop-sided score of 28 to 7, in the first game of the final series of Greek basketball. The D. U.'s will meet the Betas tonight in another elimination clash.

The Kappa Sigs gained a big lead early in the game, and by consistent playing maintained it until the final whistle. The Chi Psis put up a strong fight, but had a poor eye for the basket, and were generally out-played. The Kappa Sig's regular team was given a rest during the last half by the substitution of three second-string men.

Wanzer was the Chi Psi's stellar performer, caging the only two field-goals which his team rang up. His floor work was good, but the consistent guarding of Below and C. Morrison of the Kappa Sigs prevented him from scoring more points. Foy tossed the ball through the ring for the three free-throws which the Chi Psis registered.

"Bill" Morrison, Kappa Sig forward, was at his best last night, caging eight field goals. C. Morrison, who played at guard, worked consistently with his brother in getting the ball down the floor. Meyers, pivot man, in addition to scoring three field goals and two free-throws, played the floor well. Captain "Doc" Miller played a fast floor game.

By winning this game the Kappa Sigs are assured of winning either first or second place in the fraternity series. They will play the winner of tonight's game for the championship.

The lineups were as follows:

Kappa Sigma	Chi Psi
W. Morrison	F. Wanzer
Miller	Foy
Meyers	C. Kinnan
Below	G. Richter
C. Morrison	G. Bridge
Substitutions —	Kappa Sigma
Barnes for W. Morrison,	O'Brien
for C. Morrison, Gilmore for Miller.

Baskets—Kappa Sigma, W. Morrison 3, Meyers 3, Miller 1, Gilmore 1. Chi Psi, Wanzer 2.

Rifle Squad Loses to Iowa Shooters

The University of Wisconsin R. O. T. C. rifle squad met defeat at the hands of the Iowa State university team Monday afternoon by a score of 1920 to 1922. The meet was the first telegraphic contest in which the locals have taken part this season.

A second meet was held with Lafayette college, of Lafayette, Ind., yesterday afternoon, but the results have not been determined as yet. Two or three days usually lapse after the meets before the officials of the schools can compile the results and make them known to the opposing teams.

Matches will be held frequently from now on with schools throughout the middle west. Sergeant Schaeir is coaching the Wisconsin team and is officiating at the meets.

5 MICHIGAN ATHLETES FAIL EXAMS; INELIGIBLE

Five Michigan athletes have been declared ineligible for future competition owing to low grades on the last semester and others will be required to take examinations to remove "conditions," the committee on eligibility announced recently.

Van Orden, Martin, Reason, Myers, and Johnson have been definitely placed on the ineligible list. The first two were track stars. Reason was a second-string basketball man and Myers and Johnson were promising candidates for the baseball team.

PLUMBERS TAKE FIRST HONORS IN GYMNASTIC TILT

Win Inter-College Meet Held Saturday; Bumer High Man

In the Inter-college gymnastic meet, which was held last Saturday the Engineers carried off first honors, scoring 9.3 points. The Ag school was second with 8.6 points, and the Commerce school third with 4.7 points.

Four men, three Engineers and one Agric, received their college insignia as a result of their work in this meet. These men were Stevens, Agric, and Bumer, Porth, and Hansen, Engineers. The averages of the men entered in the meet, for the two highest events in which they participated were as follows:

Bumer 8.375, Porth 9.0, Kitchen 7.812, Rand 6.875, Stevens 7.625, Pfeuger 6.125, Uehling 5.625, Gebhardt 4.685, and Hansen 7.875. Bumer was the only man who was entered in all the events, and scored second highest in individual averages.

Cadet Corps Plans Boxing Tournament

Entry blanks for the preliminary bouts which will take place some time before the boxing tournament to be given by the cadet corps in April are now available at the armory. No fee is charged the entrants.

According to the schedule, boxers from each company will fight the winner of which will be chosen to represent his company in the battalion bouts. The champions of each of the three battalions in the corps and the signal and artillery units will then engage in the final tournament. Loving cups are to be awarded to the winners. It is planned to hold a smoker in the armory at the time of the final bouts.

Football Players Try Out For Crew

Four of the candidates for places on the Varsity rowing crew this season were members of the football squad last fall. They are "Bud" Paige '24, Art Platten '24, Everett Crozier '24, and Ben Pearse '24.

Crozier replaced Sundt in several football games last fall, and is a baseball player of considerable ability. All of these men have the size and qualities of successful rowers, and should be able to successfully fill some of the gaps left by the graduation and ineligibility of some of the members of last year's crew.

Thomas E. Jones, athletic director, received a communication yesterday from the Duluth Boat club, to whom the Badgers lost a close race last season. The former organization is desirous of arranging a meeting between the two crews again this spring, and it is likely that a date on the Wisconsin schedule will be left open for them.

The schedule for the Badger oarsmen has not been formed as yet, and the question as to whether or not the crew will be sent to the eastern races is still a matter of conjecture. Opposition to the eastern invasion arises from the fact that the sport produces no direct income, but it seems that the publicity which the school would receive would atone for the financial outlay that might be incurred.

YOST TO RETAIN POSITION

(By W. C. Radio News Service)

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Feb. 28 — Fielding H. Yost, football coach and director of intercollegiate athletics at the University of Michigan, has issued an unqualified denial of the rumors recently set afloat by New York and Chicago players to the effect that he was about to retire from his duties here.

It is thought that the report of his intention to resign may have originated from the announcement that he would spend his summer vacation visiting the battle fields of France.

Lowman Drills 30 Candidates in Gym For Early Contest

Baseball Squad Handicapped By Lack of Material For Field

With the first baseball game of the 1922 schedule only a month away, Coach Guy S. Lowman and 30 diamond candidates are working out daily in the gymnasium annex.

Half of the present candidates are out for the battery positions, leaving Coach Lowman only 15 men from which to pick seven regulars for the Varsity. The fact that 30 pitchers reported to Coach Lundgren at Illinois shows how the Badger coach is handicapped for a lack of material.

Coach Lowman is willing to spend plenty of time on any men who desire to try out, giving them as much chance as have the players who have been practicing for the past month. He solicits a call from any man who feels that he has any baseball ability, and who is, or will be, eligible for competition by the time that the season begins.

The men who are on the squad at the present time are as follows: Captain Paddock, Christianson, Hoffman, Eagleberger, Mills, Richey, Pickford, Berry, Aschenbrenner, Prokop, Whitten, L. W. Schultz, Gates, Amborne, Piggott, Skaife, Foy, Combacker, Dugen, Ruediger, Sheridan, Paul, Halverson, Brann, Kaemes, Elliot, J. Williams, R. Williams, Ceaser, and Tebell.

The latter four men are on the basketball team at the present time, but all are ball players of experience and will report as soon as Coach Meanwell dismisses them from his squad.

Basketball Squad Prepares For Last Conference Games

Coach Walter E. Meanwell's basketballers are being sent through hard practice yesterday and today in preparation for the three final games of the 1922 schedule, which will be completed in one week's time.

The team will return from Minnesota on Sunday, and will just have time to become rested by Tuesday, when the Maroons come here for a game with the Badgers. The following Saturday night Meanwell's quintet will journey to the Windy City for the final game of the schedule. This tilt will likewise close the conference schedule for this season.

Coach Meanwell has one big thing to overcome during these two days of practice. The players did their best shooting of the season at Urbana on Monday evening, but the defense evidently became more lax than it has been at any time this year. This new fault must be remedied by Saturday, since Severson and Hultkranz are dangerous shots from any position on the floor, as shown by the fact that the Badger defense was taxed to the utmost in holding them to 17 points down here.

There is no telling what lineup will be sent to open against the Gophers at Minnesota. Gage has been working so well of late that it would not be surprising to see him either at center or a forward position, while Irish is available for both the pivot and the guard jobs. On the other hand, the original combination appeared to score well against the Suckers, and they may retain their places.

Taylor's shooting at Urbana has given him a good chance to finish the season at the head of the conference scoring column. Ely, tall Michigan center, made ten baskets against Illinois last week, however, and Cop will have to score consistently against Minnesota and Chicago if he is to retain the honor.

(By W. C. Radio News Service)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 28 — The foreign student relief fund drive at the University of Minnesota began today. It is expected that $4,000 will be raised.

SICKNESS OF WALL BLIGHTS BADGER HOPED

Chances in Relays at Illinois Hurt By Loss of Miler

Wisconsin's chances for a place in the Illinois relays this Saturday were given a severe blow when it was announced yesterday that Mark Wall, star miler and anchor man on three of the four relay teams entered in the annual carnival, would be unable to make the trip on account of a bad case of the grippe.

In a time trial which was held yesterday afternoon in the annex, Coach Jones tested all available milers in an effort to fill Wall's place. Rossmiessel, Ramsay, Moorhead, Wille, and Tschudy give promise of forming a fair team for the four mile relay. Ramsay will take the sick star's place in all of the events in which he was entered.

Lose Hohlfeld Also

The loss of Rudy Hohlfeld through sickness also blights the Badgers' hopes for the Illinois meet. Hohlfeld was a candidate for both the four mile and two mile relay events.

In spite of these losses to his team, Coach Jones is optimistic as to the outcome of the meet. The squad has a good many stars entered in the special events who can be counted on to place, and the one mile relay is still intact and will be one of the fastest combinations on the Champaign track. The two mile team also promises to do well. The time will be much faster on the long Illini track than on the home oval.

MONKEY GLANDS HELPFUL

University of Pennsylvania—The transplanting of monkey glands into each of last year's players here made a championship baseball team, according to Dr. Walter Cariss who made the transfusion. This makes the players young and active and the same operation will be performed again this year, Doctor Cariss announced.

INDIANA ELEVEN WORKOUT

Nine letter men answered Coach Jumbo Stienm's initial call for spring football practice at the Indiana camp. The men to report are Captain Hanny, Wilkins, Brewster, Cox, Smith, Redman, Wolfe, and Woodward. The work is of a light nature, consisting of punting, drop-kicking, side stepping and general drill in the fundamentals of the game.

A Tribune correspondent said the Wisconsin track team had no individual stars. He forgot that "Al" Knollin tied the indoor conference record in the high hurdles and won both the low and high hurdles at the outdoor conference meet in Chicago last May. The names of Ralph Spetz, Dale Merrick, Guy Sundt, and other luminaries also slipped from the writer's memory.

Track teams coached by "Tom" Jones always manage to finish up in the first division of Big Ten track and field meets. Wisconsin has recently held a lease on third place, but this year fans are looking for first or second positions.

Roberts Talks On Apple Tree Growing

Prof. H. L. Roberts, of the College of Agriculture, addressed the weekly meeting of the Grafters' club last night in the Horticulture building on the subject of "Apple Tree Growing."

Professor Roberts described apple tree growing in the experimentation green house at the university. The main thing which he pointed out was that trees suffer just as much from over-cultivation as from under-cultivation.

The Theaters

Bonnie Brier Bush is Film Feature Coming to Majestic

The final showings of George Loane Tucker's screen masterpiece, "Ladies Must Live," which has made a pronounced hit at the Majestic theater this week, will take place today. Betty Compson is the feathered player.

One need not be a Scot to enjoy "The Bonnie Brier Bush," the latest Paramount picture produced in England which will be the feature at the Majestic theater tomorrow. The story, based on Ian MacLaren's famous novel, "Beside the Bonnie Brier Bush," is one of universal appeal and representatives of every civilized nation will find it sweet and wholesome.

The forthcoming presentation at the Majestic theater Sunday, of Cecil B. De Mille's superb Paramount production of "Fool's Paradise," is awaited with interest by all admirers of Mr. De Mille.

AT THE STRAND.

Lois Weber's latest production, "What Do Men Want?" will be the attraction at the Strand theater for four days, starting today. It is life personified, the characters enacted being representations of the very people we know, sometimes reflections of ourselves. This is a picture that may be said to "Hit Home." There will also be shown a "Snub" Pollard comedy and "The Little Match Girl," in Prizma colors.

AT THE PARKWAY.

Harold Lloyd is convulsing audiences with laughter in his latest comedy "A Sailor Made Man" now at the Parkway. It is the first four reeler that he has ever made and is by far his best comedy to date. An unusually thrilling railroad story called "Reckless Chances" is also on the bill which will be shown for the last times today and tomorrow. Thursday the greatest racing drama ever staged commences a four day run. "Thunderclap" is the name of the picture which features Mary Carr, the famous mother of "Over the Hill." It is full of thrills from start to finish. Tuesday, March 7, sees the single appearance here of Ruth Draper, a reader and character artist who has gained international renown.

AT THE ORPHEUM.

How does he do it? How can it be done? Is she flesh and blood? Is it a real saw? These and as many more are the questions being asked all over this city. Numerous theories have been advanced but the performance on the Orpheum stage repudiates all of them. The closest observations have failed to disclose the precise secret in Goldin's mystery, "Sawing a Woman in Half." The act is being presented all this week in conjunction with a five act vaudeville bill, including Tim and Kitty O'Meara; Jack Joyce; Alexander and Fields; "One on the Aisle," Gardner and Aubrey; and Pathe News, together with Topics of the Day films. "Sawing a Woman in Half" remains over for the last four days of the week, but the five supporting acts Thursday present Frances Kennedy; Richard Keane & Co.; Barber and Jackson; Bernard and Garry; Clifford and Bothwell, Pathe News and Aesop's Fables.
