Head Coach Pete Waite

When Pete Waite was named the head volleyball coach at the University of Wisconsin, it was like coming home. Waite, a native of Monona, Wis., was named the Badgers' ninth head coach in the 26-year history of the program in April.

Waite, 39, comes to Wisconsin from Northern Illinois University where he was the all-time winningest volleyball coach in program history. He had been the head coach at NIU since 1988 with an 11-year record of 266-102 (.723 winning percentage) including nine 20-win seasons. The Huskies were 81-19 (.810) in the last three years including three consecutive NCAA tournament bids. Northern has appeared in four NCAA tournaments under Waite advancing to the second round three times including in 1997 when they lost to national runner-up Penn State. The Huskies also appeared in the National Invitational Volleyball Championship in 1991, '92 and '94, and declined an invitation to the NIVC in 1995.

Northern Illinois has won eight regular-season conference titles and six conference tournaments under Waite. The Huskies won the 1998 Mid-American Conference regular season title and the 1997 MAC tournament. He has earned three conference coach of the year honors including the 1997 Mid-American Coach of the Year.

In 1998, the Huskies were 27-7 overall and 15-3 in the Mid-American. NIU upped its home winning streak to 36 matches with a perfect 14-0 mark in 1998. The Huskies, who advanced to the second round of the NCAA tournament before losing to Louisville, received votes in the final 1998 USA Today/AVCA Coaches poll and were ranked eighth in District 2.

Waite has coached four AVCA all-district selections and 18 first-team all-conference honorees. Eighteen of his athletes were named to all-tournament teams with seven receiving tournament most valuable player honors. He has had five athletes on all-newcomer teams and four earning newcomer of the year recognition.

Prior to being named the head coach at Northern Illinois, Waite spent two years as an assistant coach at Illinois State. In 1984 and 1985, he was the head coach at Moraine Valley Community College in Palos Hills, Ill., leading the Cyclones to the 1985 North Central Community College Conference championship. Waite was named the conference coach of the year in 1985.

Waite spent one year as the director and coach of the Chicago Power Junior Volleyball Club in Orland Park, Ill., and two years as a coach with the 2nd City Junior Volleyball Club in Chicago.

He started his coaching career in 1981 at Muncie (IN) Northside High School and spent the next year as a junior varsity coach at his alma mater, Monona Grove (WI) High School. Waite also coached one year at Bremen High School in Midlothian, Ill.

Waite played volleyball and graduated from Monona Grove High School. He played at Ball State University in Muncie, Ind., from 1977-81 with a team that consistently ranked in the top 10 nationally. The 1979 Cardinal squad finished fourth in the NCAA tournament after winning the Midwest Intercollegiate Volleyball Association title with a perfect 14-0 record. Waite received all-MIVA honors his junior and senior years, and was named team co-captain and co-MVP in 1980. He received his bachelor's degree in education from Ball State in 1981.

Waite and his wife, Carrie, have two sons, Ryan, 15, and Eric, 11.

Assistant Coaches

Christy Johnson

Christy Johnson, a two-time all-American at the University of Nebraska, enters her third year as an assistant coach at Wisconsin. She spent her first two years as an assistant under John Cook and begins her first year under Pete Waite.

Johnson, 25, has provided the Badgers with crucial NCAA experience. She also guided setter Colleen Neels to two all-Big Ten honors.

Johnson earned all-American honors for the Cornhuskers in 1994 and 1995. She was the starting setter on the 1995 Nebraska team that won the NCAA Championship. The Cornhuskers made four NCAA tournament appearances and won three Big Eight titles during Johnson's years. A two-time all-district selection and two-time all-Big Eight Conference honoree, Johnson was also named to the 1995 NCAA Championship all-tournament team, the 1994 and 1995 NCAA Regional all-tournament team, and the 1994 and 1995 Big Eight Conference all-tournament team. In addition to her athletic honors, Johnson was a 1995 second-team Academic all-American and a three-time Academic all-Big Eight honoree.

Johnson has international experience as a member of the 1989 U.S. Junior National team and as a member of the 1993 U.S. National "B" Team. She played with the Nebraska Tornadoes of the National Volleyball Association for two seasons leading the Tornadoes to the league championship in 1998.

A 1996 graduate of Nebraska with a bachelor's degree in education, Johnson spent one year coaching at Millard North High School in her hometown of Omaha, Neb. She also served as a coach in the River City Juniors volleyball club program for two years.

Robert Pulliza

Robert Pulliza, who comes to Wisconsin after serving as an assistant coach at Northern Illinois University for one year, joins former Huskie head coach Pete Waite at Wisconsin.

While at Northern Illinois, Pulliza aided the Huskies to the second round of the 1998 NCAA Tournament and the Mid-American regular season championship. Under his tutelage, junior setter Alison Frasor finished third in the Mid-American Conference in assists per game.

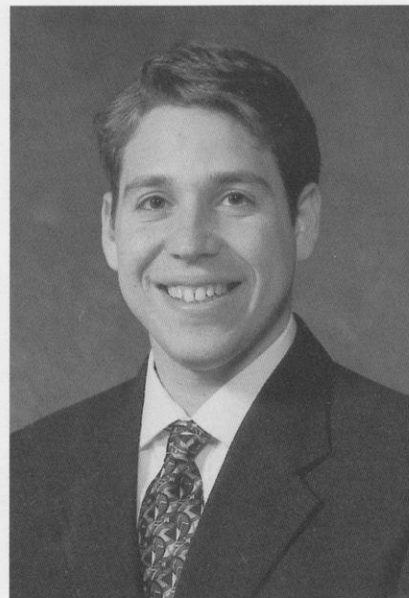

Before heading to NIU, Pulliza spent two years as an assistant coach at James Madison University. The Dukes finished 25-9 in 1996 and were one of the nation's most improved teams. He also turned walk-on setter Kari Kopnick into an all-conference player.

Pulliza, 26, started his coaching career at Burriss High School in Muncie, Ind., where he was an assistant coach. Burriss won two state championships and in 1994 was named USA Today's national runner-up. He has also worked numerous camps and clinics.

Pulliza played college volleyball at Ball State University where he was the back-up to all-American setter Eduardo Ferraz and served as the team captain two years. The Cardinals advanced to the NCAA final four in 1994 and 1995.

In addition to playing volleyball, Pulliza also served on Ball State's Student-Athlete Advisory Board. He earned Dean's List honors in 1995-96, and also received an academic recognition scholarship. Pulliza graduated from Ball State in 1996 with a degree in general studies and sports administration with a minor in business. Pulliza earned his master's in sports administration and coaching from James Madison in 1998.

He is married to the former Jamie Sides.

Q&A with Coach Pete Waite

You were named Wisconsin's ninth head coach in the 25-year history of the program in April. How does it feel to take over one of the top teams in the country?

I am honored to have been selected to head this program. Having grown up in the Madison area I was always a huge fan of Badger Athletics. I never imagined that one day I would be in the middle of it all. Now I have the chance to work with one of the best teams in the country! I will have a front row seat to some of the most exciting matches in the nation and I have a chance to bring my family back to the city I love. The excitement level in my life just turned up about ten notches and I am happy to be a Badger again.

You know from having grown up in the city, Madison is one of the top places to live in the country. What made you want to come back and accept this position? What would you tell a recruit about Madison, the University, and your coaching style?

Coming back to Madison was something that was bound to happen—it was just a matter of when. This is just a beautiful city! I love all the lakes, trees and hills, and the recreational opportunities. The University of Wisconsin is a great academic institution and the fan support here is fantastic. Even though this is a new job for me, it sure feels good to be home. I love Madison. I love this University! I think we have a lot of exciting times ahead.

As a coach, I like to keep things pretty simple and have one basic statement—I want my teams to love the game, play from the heart, and dare to dream! If we do, we will have a great time and the wins will take care of themselves.

At Northern Illinois, you were the school's winningest coach and led the Huskies to four NCAA tournament appearances. How will this winning experience help the Badgers?

When I took over at NIU my goal was to make the program regionally and then nationally competitive. People wondered how long I would stay at NIU, but all I wanted to do was to take the program to a higher level each year. I am proud that we took the team from a bottom 100 ranking to ranks in the top 30, nationally.

Wisconsin is coming off two very successful seasons, having advanced to the NCAA Regional Finals, finishing among the top eight teams in the country. What are the team's expectations for the upcoming season?

Over the course of 11 years I learned a lot about managing a team, getting them to win at the end of the season. I know I have a lot more to learn at the Big Ten level and taking over at Wisconsin will challenge me to step outside my comfort zone and improve myself as a person and a coach. When my team steps on the court, I want them to work hard, play smart and find a way to win. Between the players and the staff, that will always be our goal. If we do that, the wins will come and we can continue the strong tradition of Badger Volleyball.

At the start of each season, every team wants to improve upon its performance from the season before. For the last two years these players have been knocking on the door to the NCAA Championship. Everyone wants to take it one step further and we will do everything we can to get there.

The Badgers have two of the top middle blockers in the country in senior all-American Kelly Kennedy and sophomore Sherisa Livingston, who was named the 1998 Big Ten Freshman of the Year. How will you use this as a team strength? What other aspects of the game will be considered strengths? Does this team have any weaknesses?

In all my years of coaching my best teams had a strong group of middle blockers. I am thrilled to have Kelly and Sherisa returning and add Claudia Rodriguez to that list of strong middles. Opponents will have to honor those players and that will open up things for our other hitters along the net. We have good size and athletic ability throughout our roster and I see a very balanced attack this season. I will know more about our weaknesses once our preseason practices start. When we pinpoint those areas we will work hard to eliminate them.

Wisconsin is consistently one of the top teams in the country in attendance. How does the support of the Madison community help the team? How tough

Senior Kelly Kennedy is a two-time all-American for the Badgers. She has led the Badgers in kills and blocks the last two seasons.

Sherisa Livingston was named the 1998 Big Ten Conference Freshman of the Year, the first such honor for a Wisconsin athlete.

does this make it for teams to play in the Field House?

Badger Volleyball fans are unbelievable! They come in big numbers and support the staff and team in everything they do. When our team walks out on the court for a home match, the crowd helps the players raise the level of their play and undoubtedly it helps them play their best. When the Field House is packed, it's extremely intimidating for opponents. Both the fans and the band are right on top of the visiting team. The Field House is a great place to play and our fans give us a couple of points a game. That can make a difference in a big match, and we love the noise.

The Badgers have to replace two starters from 1998 including all-Big Ten setter Colleen Neels. Who will fill the starting setter role? What other players will battle for starting spots?

Marisa Mackey and Colleen Neels were both great players and it will be a challenge for the staff to decide who is going to fill the holes they left. Lizzy Fitzgerald returns as a sophomore setter and brings with her a year of collegiate workout experience. This summer she is training with the U.S. A-2 program. Morgan Shields is also an exceptional setter and those two will be one of the best tandems in the setting position in the Big Ten. Both players can also attack the ball well, so I feel good about our setting position.

We have a number of returning starters, including Kelly Kennedy, Sherisa Livingston, and Jenny Maastricht. On the left side we'll have Allyson Ross, Keylee Wright and Erin Byrd in a solid rotation for us. We will know a lot more once preseason begins and the players settle in their positions and we decide on their roles on the court.

Several members of the team trained with the U.S. National Team this past summer. What sort of commitment have this year's players made to improving during the off season? How will this help the team?

I am happy to have four players playing within the U.S. National training system this summer: Sherisa Livingston, Kelly Kennedy, Lizzy Fitzgerald and Jenny Maastricht will learn a lot and this will pay off as we get into our season. They will have more confidence on the court and be ready for any situation.

Wisconsin signed three athletes to national letters of intent including

Fab 50 selection Erin Byrd, and Claudia Rodriguez, a member of the Mexican National Team. What will this group of talented athletes add to the Badger team?

This is an excellent recruiting class and they all have the ability to make an immediate impact on the program. All three are great athletes and intense competitors. I look forward to working with them as they improve and mature over the years.

The Badgers consistently seem to be getting taller and more physical each year. How is this different from the type of teams you've coached at Northern? Does this make the team more competitive? Less competitive?

No doubt this is a big team and I noticed that the first time I met them. We would have some players this size at Northern, but just not so many of them. This group is big, athletic and they can play the game well. To compete nationally you need this kind of size and jumping ability. While people will notice our height, I am not going to overlook our smaller players and their ability to swarm the court and make great defensive plays. I like variety in my players and you need that when you're matching against certain opponents.

The athletes returning this year are used to winning, with Wisconsin having competed in five consecutive post-season tournaments, including four NCAA appearances. How will this post-season experience benefit the team?

Post-season experience is important. Just look at the recent Chicago Bull's dynasty: they weren't the most talented team as far as depth goes, but they played well as a team and had veterans with great playoff experience. Our returners are very important because they have been to the 'Big Dance' before.

Wisconsin finished second in the 1998 Big Ten Conference race. How will the Badgers fit into the Big Ten race? What teams will challenge for the Big Ten title in 1999?

You never really know how conference play will go until you get into it. There are three new coaches in the Big Ten including myself. Penn State won the Big Ten in 1998 and took second at the NCAA Championship. I still see them as the team to beat.

The Big Ten Conference is the toughest in the country and the Badgers also play a strong non-conference schedule. How would you rate Wisconsin's 1999 schedule? What matches will be key?

Our schedule is one of the toughest and most challenging in the country. We have some great matches that will prepare us for the NCAA tournament with teams like Nebraska and Florida, and we finish with a tough Big Ten schedule playing at Ohio State and Penn State, the last weekend.

Badgers Finish Among Nation's Best

SEASON ENDS AT REGIONAL For the second year in a row, Wisconsin ended its season with a five-game match in the finals of a NCAA Regional.

In 1997, the Badgers lost to Florida in five games in the finals of the NCAA Central Regional at home. In 1998, Wisconsin took to the road and was downed by third-ranked Nebraska in five games in the finals of the Pacific Regional in Lincoln, Neb.

30 WINS AGAIN The Badgers ended their season at 30-5, their second consecutive 30-win season and the fourth in program history. Wisconsin's winning percentage of .857 is the second best in program history behind last season's .909 (30-3).

BIG TEN RUNNER-UP Wisconsin was 17-3 in Big Ten Conference play to finish second behind perennial powerhouse Penn State. The finish ties the third best in program history behind two Big Ten championships (1990 and 1997) and one second-place tie (1991).

COOK LEADS BADGERS TO POST-SEASON SUCCESS John Cook led Wisconsin to its six consecutive post-season tournament in 1998. The Badgers have competed in the NCAA tournament five times under Cook including the last three consecutive years. Wisconsin also won the 1995 National Invitational Volleyball Championship. Cook is 161 -73 (.688) after seven years at Wisconsin.

WISCONSIN RANKED NO. 7 The Badgers were ranked seventh in the final USA Today/AVCA Top 25 Coaches poll released Dec. 22. Wisconsin moved up to 10th in the final Volleyball Magazine poll released Nov. 30.

- ✓ Freshman Sherisa Livingston set the Big Ten-season only hitting percentage for an individual as she hit .375 percent during conference matches. The previous best was .366 set by Kelly Kennedy in 1997.
- ✓ Senior Colleen Neels set the single season record for assists with 1,675. She broke the old UW record of 1,653 set by Laura Abbinante in 1995.

Kelly Kennedy earned her second consecutive all-American honor in 1998 becoming the first two-time all-American in Wisconsin history.

WISCONSIN SCHEDULE ONE OF THE NATION'S TOUGHEST

During the 1998 season, the Badgers played 17 matches against teams that were ranked in the USA Today/AVCA Top 25 at the time they played them. In addition, nine regular-season opponents advanced to the 1998 NCAA tournament.

Wisconsin's schedule was the fourth toughest in the nation according to the AVCA/Sagarin Division I Power Ratings. The Badgers ended the season ranked fifth in the ratings.

BADGERS BREAK HITTING RECORD, AGAIN For the third year in a row, the Badgers broke the UW season record for hitting percentage. In 1997, Wisconsin hit .271 percent for the season breaking the old record of .256 set in 1996. The previous best was .227 percent set in 1989. The Badgers finished the 1998 season hitting .281 percent.

WISCONSIN RANKED FIFTH IN ATTENDANCE The Badgers ended the 1998 season ranked fifth in the unofficial national attendance rankings. The Badgers averaged 2,632 spectators for all matches and 3,190 spectators for Big Ten matches. In addition, the Bumpin' Badgers get to participate in several clinics with the team throughout the season and enjoy a pizza party, too.

Wisconsin Field House

The Wisconsin Field House has been the permanent home of the Badger volleyball team since 1986. In 1998, the volleyball team took over sole possession of the Field House adding a Sport Court and improving its locker room facilities.

The first volleyball match played in the Field House was on Oct. 23, 1977, when the U.S. Men's National Team played Cuba. The first women's match followed soon after when Wisconsin played host to the 1977 Big Ten Conference Championship. The semifinal and championship matches were played on Oct. 29 as Ohio State defeated Wisconsin, 2-1, to win the title.

It wasn't until 1980 that the Badgers again competed in the Field House playing host to the Badger Invitational and the AIAW Midwest Regional. In 1981, the team played all its home matches in the Natatorium but returned to the Field House for all but one match in 1982. The entire 1983 season was played in the Field House but the 1984 season saw a split with half the matches at the Natatorium and half the matches in the Field House. In 1985, all but two matches were played in the Field House with the official move to the Field House being made in 1986.

Since 1990, when the Badgers won their first Big Ten title and competed in their first NCAA tournament, the Field House has become one of the toughest places to play in the country. Wisconsin has ranked among the top 10 in national attendance average for the last seven years including a third-place ranking in 1997. The Badgers set the Big Ten Conference record with 3,457 spectators per match. Wisconsin also led the league in 1990, 1991 and 1994.

The Field House was the site of the 1993 NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Championship which drew record crowds. A total of 21,085 watched the two-day event including 11,155 for the championship match. That figure set the then-NCAA single-match attendance record and still ranks as the No. 4 volleyball attendance figure of all time.

The Field House was also the site of the No. 6 attendance of all time as 10,935 fans watched the Badgers defeat Illinois in the first round of the 1990 NCAA tournament.

With the Kohl Center opening, the Badger volleyball team is the sole occupant of the Field House in the fall. One of the improvements is a permanent Sport Court for all UW home matches and practices.

Bucky Badger gets the fans involved at all Wisconsin Volleyball matches.

The Wisconsin Field House was the site of the 1993 NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Championship that drew a then-record crowd of 21,085 for the two-day event.

The Badgers also moved into improved locker room facilities with a team lounge and study area separate from the team's home locker room.

The Field House has a total of four locker rooms for hosting tournaments as well as an athletic training room and equipment room.

Action on the volleyball court isn't the only thing you'll find when you come to the UW Field House. Bucky Badger and the UW pep band lead the cheers while there are always exciting contests to entertain fans between games.

NCAA® Championship History

The Badgers made their seventh NCAA tournament appearance in 1998. Wisconsin is 10-7 in the championship with its best finishes coming in 1997 and 1998 when it advanced to the finals of the NCAA Regional (elite eight). The UW has appeared in the "Big Dance" five out of the last six years including the last three in a row.

The Badgers also won the National Invitational Volleyball Championship twice during its seven-year history. Wisconsin won the inaugural NIVC in 1989 and won the final championship in 1995.

A record crowd of 13,194 watched the 1998 NCAA Championship match in the Kohl Center.

Record-breaking Championships

The University of Wisconsin served as the host to the NCAA Division I Women's Volleyball Championship twice in the last six years. Wisconsin is only the third university to play host to the championship more than once.

In 1998, the UW set the NCAA single-match attendance record when 13,194 spectators watched the finals of the championship. Wisconsin also set the NCAA semifinal attendance record of 12,327 bringing the two-day total to 25,521, which breaks the championship record of 21,086 set in 1997 at the Spokane Arena.

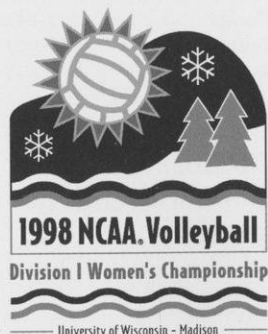

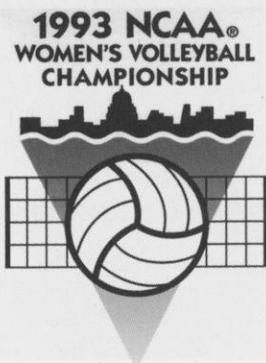

Wisconsin first played host to the championship in 1993 drawing record crowds to the UW Field House. A then-record attendance of 21,085 watch the two-day event including 11,155 who watched Long Beach State defeat Penn State in the championship match. That figure still stands as the No. 4 volleyball attendance figure of all time.

Steve Lowe Memorial Scholarship

When Steve Lowe unexpectedly passed away on Aug. 22, 1991, the University of Wisconsin and the Madison community lost a true friend and a winner on and off the court.

With Lowe at the helm, the Badger volleyball program burst onto the national scene. In 1989, he directed the Badgers to the title in the inaugural National Invitational Volleyball Championship, their first post-season appearance ever.

The following year he steered Wisconsin to its first Big Ten Conference title, their first NCAA tournament appearance and first national ranking, finishing 10th in the final 1990 NCAA poll. Lowe also produced Wisconsin's first volleyball all-American with Lisa Boyd earning second-team honors in 1990.

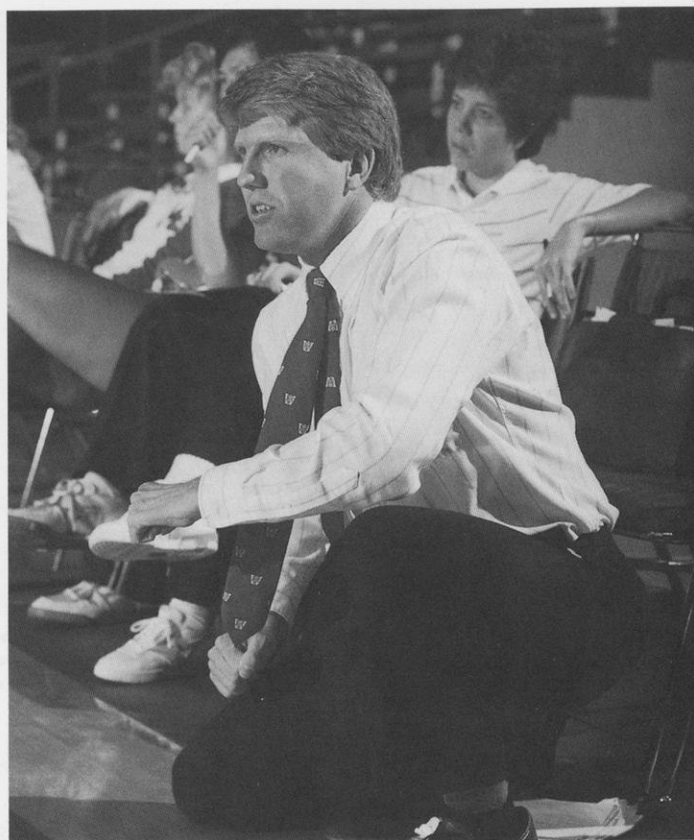

Lowe, who had a 108-64 career record in five years at Wisconsin, earned 1990 Big Ten and AVCA Mideast Coach of the Year honors.

Every year Wisconsin's Big Ten Conference home opener will be designated "Steve Lowe Night." This year's match is on Friday, Oct. 1 versus Michigan. A Badger volleyball player is also named the Steve Lowe Scholarship recipient with this year's honoree being sophomore Marie Meyer.

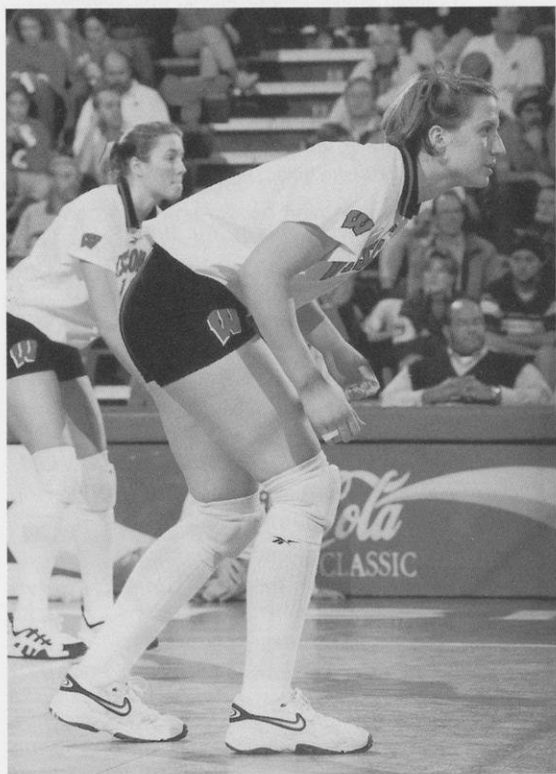

Any additional contributions to the Steve Lowe Memorial Scholarship Fund may be directed to the University of Wisconsin Foundation—Steve Lowe Scholarship Fund, 1848 University Ave., Box 8860, Madison, WI 53708-8860.

One of the premier athletic leagues in the nation, the Big Ten Conference is proud of its leadership in the area of women's athletics.

Big Ten women's athletics programs lead the nation in basketball attendance, and rank second in volleyball attendance. In addition, the league receives more television exposure than any conference in the nation. More than 200 Conference athletic events are televised each year on national and regional networks.

Begun in 1895, the Intercollegiate Conference of Faculty Representatives (popularly known as the Big Ten) has changed little from its original philosophy of faculty control of athletics with emphasis on the student-athlete. Comprised of 11 institutions in eight states, the conference has long set the national standard for athletics and academics. As a whole, league institutions graduate student-athletes at overall rates between 10 and 22 percent higher than their peers at other Division I conferences.

Women's athletics programs became affiliated with the Conference officially in 1981, although unofficial conference championships had been held among the member institutions since 1972.

Big Ten women athletes compete in conference championships in basketball, cross country, field hockey, golf, gymnastics, soccer, softball, swimming and diving, tennis, indoor and outdoor track and field, and volleyball, and beginning in 2000, women's rowing.

The Big Ten Conference volleyball champion is determined by the match record within the conference. Teams play a double, round-robin schedule facing each other at home and away, for a total of 20 matches.

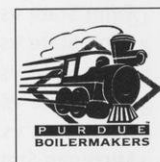

The conference champion earns an automatic bid to the NCAA tournament. In 1999, the Big Ten was represented by six universities in the NCAA Volleyball Championship for the second consecutive year.

Members of the Big Ten Conference have competed in the NCAA championship 10 times including five-time participant Penn State. Illinois and Ohio State have each made two championship appearances and Michigan State one.

For five of the last eight years, the Big Ten Conference has led the nation in volleyball attendance. In 1998, six schools finished in the top 17 in attendance, and overall the league drew a total of 241,141 spectators for the season, which was ??? in the nation.

Wisconsin ranked fifth in the nation averaging 2,632 spectators per match. In 1997, the Badgers set a conference record with 3,497 spectators per match.

Penn State led the league and ranked third in the country averaging 2,847 per match while Illinois was 10th (91,828) and Minnesota finished 12th (1,629). Also in the top 20 were Purdue (15th with 1,300 per match) and Michigan State (17th with 1,253 per match).

A World-Class University

The University of Wisconsin–Madison, one of the nation's leading institutions of higher education, is dedicated to the support of academic freedom.

Founded in 1848, the first class of 17 students enrolled February 5, 1849. Today, UW–Madison ranks as the nation's seventh largest university with 40,109 students. It is one of the nation's largest and most productive institutions of higher learning and the student body is one of the most diverse in the country with students coming from every state. Wisconsin also ranks fourth in the nation for foreign student enrollment.

A total of 4,546 courses and 13,122 sections are offered in UW–Madison's 13 schools and colleges. Majors are available in 146 undergraduate, 169 master's, and 125 doctoral and professional degree programs.

Award-winning research spanning the academic disciplines has earned UW–Madison a place among the world's elite institutions of higher education. Wisconsin has ranked among the top 10 universities in the United States in many scholarly reputational studies since 1910. The quality of its undergraduate, graduate and research programs is recognized around the world.

UW–Madison undergraduate academic programs tied for eighth among public universities in 1999 according to U.S. News & World Report. Twenty-four Wisconsin programs ranked among the 20 universities including No. 1 rankings for rehabilitation counseling, sociology and speech pathology.

UW–Madison faculty or alumni have won 14 Nobel Prizes and 23 Pulitzer Prizes. Forty-four faculty members have been awarded the National Science

"A list of first-rate academic programs at Madison would be as complete as a college catalog elsewhere. There are nearly 70 programs considered in the top 10 nationally. Perhaps one of the best and most well-rounded state schools around, Madison is truly a best buy."

Fiske's Guide to Colleges 1998

Foundation's Early Career Development awards, 10 have won the National Medal of Science, and four are Searles scholars. Forty-six professors are members of the National Academy of Sciences, 18 are members of the National Academy of Engineering, three are in the National Academy of Education and 50 are fellows in the American Physical Society.

UW–Madison is one of the nation's first land-grant colleges, establishing a tradition of research in agriculture and the life science. The founders of the university developed the "Wisconsin Idea" ensuring "the beneficent influence of the university available to every home in the state."

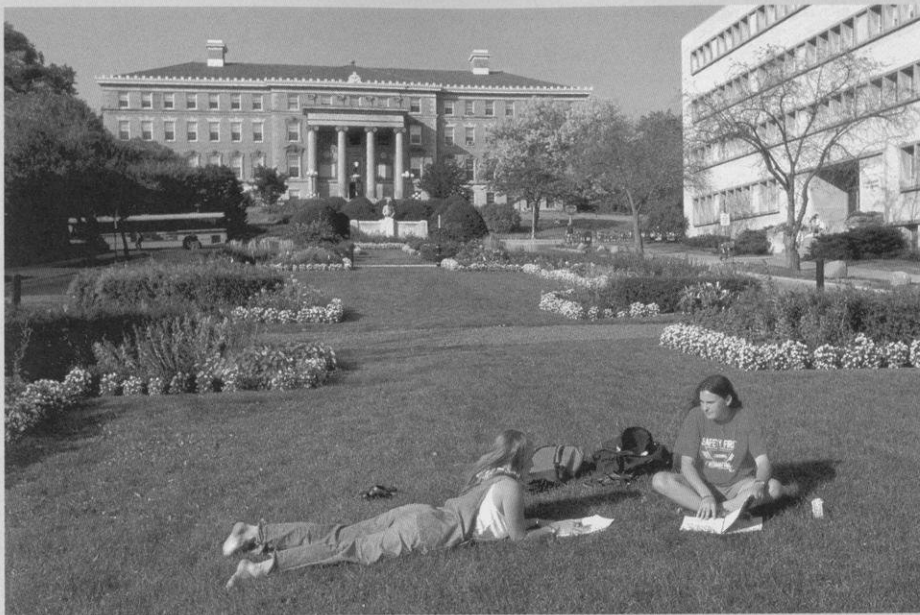

UW–Madison is the largest institution in the University of Wisconsin System. It has the only public law and medical schools in the state as well as the only school of veterinary medicine.

A Scenic Campus

One of the most picturesque college campuses in the country, UW-Madison covers 933 acres along the beautiful shores of Lake Mendota.

One mile from the capitol, traveling down historic State Street, the city was designed so the University and state would be linked, signifying the interrelated nature of the academic and political life of Wisconsin.

Madison's lakes, rolling hills, architecture, parks and arboretum have enhanced UW-Madison's reputation for scenic beauty.

Tree-lined Bascom Hill features a bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln, one of the University's most famous landmarks. Others include North Hall, the first building on campus; the Carillon Tower in front of the Social Science building; Library Mall, with its clock tower and fountain; and Picnic Point, which lies at the end of a 129-acre peninsula complete with hiking and biking trails—one of the most romantic spots on campus. Camp Randall Stadium is a fun place to be on a Saturday afternoon, especially during the infamous Fifth Quarter after a football game when the band entertains. The newly opened Kohl Center is home to the UW basketball and ice hockey teams as well as a regular concert stop.

A favorite area for UW students to gather is the Memorial Union and its lake-side terrace. Here students can study or socialize against a backdrop of sailboats, canoes, sailboards, kayaks and swimmers, while enjoying the sunshine and breezes from Lake Mendota.

The Student Body

Over 40,000 students populate the UW campus, including more than 10,500 graduate and professional students in numerous fields.

Although a UW Board of Regents policy limits undergraduate enrollment from outside the state to 25 percent, the University still maintains one of the nation's most diverse student bodies.

Students hail from every county in the state and every state in the nation, as well as from 119 foreign countries. UW-Madison ranks fourth in the nation for total foreign student enrollment.

A greater effort is also being made to recruit and retain minority students and faculty. In the fall of 1997, African-Americans, Hispanics, Native Americans and other minority groups accounted for more than nine percent of the student body.

The Community

Madison, located in southern Wisconsin, is not only pretty to look at but fun to be in. Draped around five lakes, "Mad City" is the home of the University of Wisconsin and the state capital.

With a diverse population of 200,814, Madison offers the "big city" spheres of politics, arts and entertainment, as well as the attributes of a small town. It is a family and action-oriented community that promotes participation in government, education, the arts, sports and recreational activities.

"Wisconsin-Madison is a world-class American university located in a world-class college town. With over 800 campus organizations, 14,000 works of art, and even a nuclear reactor to call their own, the nearly 30,000 undergraduate students at Wisconsin would be hard-pressed not to find something to do."

The Princeton Review, 1998

Madison was named the best place to live in America in 1996 by Money magazine. Again, in 1998 Money magazine rated Madison the best mid-sized city in the Midwest. The July 1995 issue of Outside magazine called Madison a "Dream Town." The magazine also rated Madison as one of the top 15 "great sports towns" in the country. U.S. News and World Report named it one of the country's 10 Hottest Cities. Madison was also featured on the front page of the Life section of USA Today on July 12, 1995.

Academic & Student Services

The mission of the Academic Affairs Office is to provide student-athletes with the maximum opportunity for academic and athletic excellence. University of Wisconsin athletes have a history of academic success and much of the credit for that impressive record is due to the advising system available to the student-athletes.

Director Alan Zussman supervises a staff of six advisors which conduct the program offered to the nearly 700 student-athletes. The advising staff of Mary Weaver-Klees, Craig Hudson, Chris Butler, Doug Tiedt, Liane Kosaki and Jerry Darda have a comprehensive understanding of academics at Wisconsin, and a permanent line of communication with all university departments. The staff renders quality academic and personal support to student-athletes and assists coaches in providing the best possible collegiate experience.

For those student-athletes who request assistance, advising sessions are offered on a one-to-one basis at a time appropriate for the athlete. Wisconsin athletes are degree-oriented while allowing for the flexibility to explore different areas. The advising staff takes a personal approach to each athlete in determining his or her individual needs, personal or academic.

Student-athletes at Wisconsin receive recognition for outstanding academics in a number of ways. The Big Ten Conference honors scholar-athletes with Academic all-Big Ten honors while the UW Athletic Board recognizes Athletic Board Scholars for the highest grade point average in each sport. In addition, student-athletes may be nominated for Academic All-America honors through the sports information office.

Scholarships

UW-Madison is proud to offer to its prospective student-athletes one of the most comprehensive athletic scholarship programs in the nation. As a Division I member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA), scholarships are awarded to athletes on a one-year renewable basis if scholastic and athletic commitment are maintained.

Scholarships are available in all varsity sports with the exception of men's rowing, which does not grant scholarships. Full scholarships include the cost of room and board in addition to tuition and fees. The selection of scholarship recipients is based on athletic ability and projected academic success at Wisconsin.

Prospective student athletes who are interested in applying for grants-in-aid should contact the coach of their respective sports in care of Division of Intercollegiate Athletics, 1440 Monroe St., Madison, WI, 53711.

Endowed Athletic Scholarships

As more and more colleges and universities turn to innovative and effective ways of meeting the mounting financial challenges of supporting their intercollegiate athletic programs, it becomes increasingly evident that one of the most successful strategies is the establishment of endowed athletic scholarships.

At the University of Wisconsin-Madison, endowment funds to support athletic scholarships are normally created through gifts to the UW Foundation. A portion of the income from the endowed fund is used each year for scholarship support, and the remainder is reinvested in the principal.

The following endowed scholarships, named for the donor or for someone the donor wishes to honor, provide full or partial grants-in-aid to Badger student-athletes. Thanks to our generous supporters!

For information about how to create a named scholarship in men's or women's athletics or how to contribute to an established endowment, please contact Marija Neubauer or Randy Handel, Directors of Development for Intercollegiate Athletics, UW Foundation, 1848 University Ave., Madison, WI 53711 or call 608/263-4545.

Sports Medicine

The goal of the sports medicine staff is to provide all University of Wisconsin student-athletes with high quality health care. Wisconsin's Sports Medicine program features state-of-the-art facilities and the services of leading sports medicine and health care professionals.

The sports medicine staff consists of team physicians, dentists, athletic trainers, and other medical and allied health professionals. The day-to-day care, prevention, and treatment of injuries to Wisconsin athletes is supervised by a staff of eight full-time and three graduate assistant N.A.T.A.-certified athletic trainers. Under the direction of head athletic trainer Dennis Helwig, the Sports Medicine program focuses on injury prevention. Staff members Chuck Hart, Jan Helwig, Mike Johnson, Barb Pearson, Henry Perez-Guerra, Heidi Stettler, and Andy Winterstein utilize functional measures, provide dietary analysis, measure physiological capacity and outline programs to improve flexibility.

The Sports Medicine facility in the McClain Center features an extensive collection of therapeutic and rehabilitation equipment including a 50-foot, two-lane-rehabilitation pool, and an on-site x-ray facility. Considered one of the nation's finest, the McClain Sports Medicine Center offers an environment conducive to expedient care, and a healthy return to competition.

Sports Information

Directing the communications for the 23 sports in the Division of Intercollegiate Athletics is the responsibility of the University of Wisconsin Sports Information Offices.

These offices utilize a variety of communications systems including the world wide web to provide student-athletes the opportunity to be recognized for their athletic endeavors.

The offices provide and maintain many resources such as records, fact sheets, photographic files, statistics, media guides and event programs in meeting the information requests of the media, coaches, administrators, opponents and the general public.

The director's of women's and men's sports information Tamara J. Flarup and Steve Malchow, and their respective offices, maintain close contact with local, regional and national media as well as the athlete's hometown media in providing information. These offices prepare news releases, design sports brochures and media guides, and provide post-event results for print and electronic media, and the department's web pages. Besides the directors, members of the women's staff include associate director Diane K. Nordstrom and assistant Paul Capobianco, and several students. The men's staff includes associate director Justin Doherty, assistant director Julie Kluge, and interns Britt Kinder and Brian Lucas, as well as a number of student assistants.

Community Service

The Madison community is truly supportive of the University of Wisconsin athletic teams and its many student-athletes. In return for that support, many athletes take time out of their busy schedules to show their appreciation and involvement in the city of Madison and Dane County through their community service efforts.

Student-athletes have assisted in a variety of service projects including the AIDS Support Network, Big Brothers and Big Sisters, Habitat for Humanity, Special Olympics, United Way, visiting children in local hospitals with the Amanda the Panda program, and volunteering at local hospitals. The athletic department also donates a number of season tickets to local charities for fund-raising purposes.

The McClain Athletic Facility offers indoor practice facilities for football, soccer and track and field. A 90-yard newly resurfaced artificial turf practice area is contained in the 76,380-square foot main floor. The lower level houses the Fetzer Student Academic Center, the headquarters of the Badgers Sports Medicine staff, a fully-equipped weight room and locker rooms for football, men's and women's track, softball, and men's and women's soccer.

Top: UW golfers have the opportunity to compete on one of the finest courses in the Midwest—University Ridge. The facility features a par-72, 18-hole course, 15,000-square foot practice green and 5,000-square foot chipping green. It was the site of the 1998 NCAA Division I Women's Golf Championship.

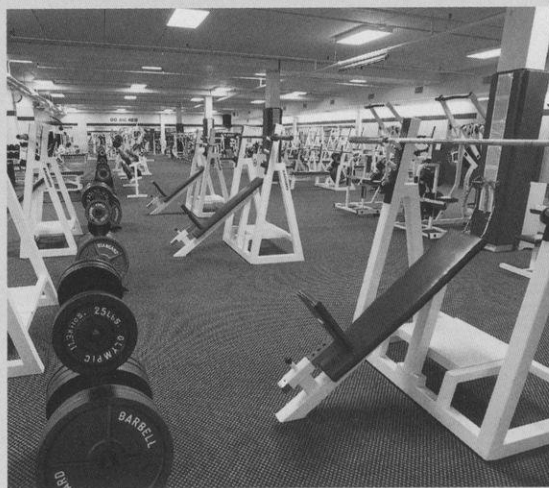

Left: The Camp Randall Memorial Sports Center or Shell features a 200-meter Martin rubber track surrounding four basketball/volleyball courts that double as throwing and jumping areas for indoor track meets. The Shell, which has a seating capacity of 2,500, was the site of the 1999 Big Ten Conference Indoor Men's Track & Field Championship.

Bottom Left: The Kohl Center, which opened in January of 1998, is the home of the Badger basketball and men's hockey teams. One of the finest on-campus athletic facilities in the nation, the $76 million facility includes a separate practice gym, locker rooms and lounge areas, and coaches' offices.

Bottom Right: Weight training areas in the McClain Center and Camp Randall Stadium feature free weights and stereo music in spacious, carpeted rooms. Four full-time and two part-time weight training instructors monitor and advise all Wisconsin student-athletes.

The Wisconsin Field House, which seats 10,600, is the practice and competitive facility for the Badger volleyball team as well as the competitive facility for the wrestling squad. It features four locker rooms, and an athletic training area.

The swimming and diving teams have two pools for practice and competition—the Natatorium and Southeast Recreational Facility. The “Nat” contains an eight-lane, 25-yard pool equipped with an automatic Colorado Timing System and digital readout score board. The 50' x 40' diving well is fitted with three one-meter and two three-meter Dura (Maxi) Flex boards. The SERF (pictured above) features an indoor long course pool with movable bulkheads that more than double the program's training space.

The Wisconsin tennis teams have the competitive advantage of playing year-round at one of the best college facilities in the United States—the Nielsen Tennis Stadium. The stadium features 18 tennis courts (12 indoor and six outdoor), five squash courts, one squash doubles court, and seats 1,500 spectators.

Ground was broken on the Goodman Softball Complex on the west end of the UW campus in June of 1998. The facility, which will open during the spring of 1999, will have an NCAA-regulation, natural grass field with a centerfield distance of 225 feet, and left and right field foul line distances of 200 feet. The facility will include dugouts, locker areas, players' lounge, grandstand seating for 1,600 and media facilities.

Wisconsin Traditions

Badger Nickname

The sports program's nickname "Badgers," was borrowed from the state of Wisconsin. The territory was dubbed the "Badger State," not because of animals in the region, but rather by an association with lead miners in the 1820's. Prospectors came to the state looking for minerals. Without shelter in the winter, the miners had to "live like Badgers" in tunnels burrowed into hillsides.

Bucky Badger

Although badgers in various forms had been the University of Wisconsin mascot for decades, the version that is currently known as Bucky, sporting a cardinal and white sweater, was first drawn in 1940 by professional illustrator Art Evans.

The original badger mascot was too vicious to control. On more than one occasion, the live badger escaped handlers before a sideline hero recaptured the animal. It was decided in the interest of fan and player safety that Wisconsin's mascot would be retired to the Madison zoo.

In 1949, a student in the university's art department, Connie Conrad, was commissioned to mold a paper-mache badger head. Gymnast and cheerleader, Bill Sagal of Plymouth, Wis., was directed by homecoming chair Bill Sachse, to wear the outfit at the homecoming game. A pep rally was held to determine the mascot's name. The rally committee opted for its own name: Buckingham U. Badger. The name is said by some to have originated in a line from "Buckingham U. Badger" is a familiar figure at all University of Wisconsin athletic events.

Young Badger fans show their Wisconsin spirit.

"On, Wisconsin" that exhorts the UW to "buck right through that line."

On Wisconsin

The tune was composed in 1909 by William Purdy of Chicago, with the words written by UW alumnus Carl Beck, who rewrote them in 1951. The song was an instant hit at the Wisconsin campus and soon spread throughout the world, being very popular with military bands. Some 2,500 schools and colleges have adopted the music and changed the words to suit their needs.

Varsity

The traditional arm waving that comes at the end of the song "varsity" was the 1934 brainchild of then-UW band leader Ray Dvorak. He had originally gotten the idea from University of Pennsylvania students who waved their caps after a losing game. Dvorak later instructed UW students to wave as a salute to UW President Glenn Frank.

Fifth Quarter

The Wisconsin band has become nationally famous for its post-game celebration called the Fifth Quarter. Win or lose, fans sing, dance and cheer the band as they play traditional favorites like "On, Wisconsin" and the Bud song. Originally, the post-game concert was designed to give fans something to listen to on their way out of the stadium, but it developed into a post-game party as the band built in audience participation.

Bud Song

An integral part of any Wisconsin band performance is the playing of the Bud song. The tune is a spinoff of the song "You've said it all," a jingle with words and music originally written by Steve Karen for Budweiser beer commercials. Copyrighted by Sandlee Publishing Corporation in 1970, the song has become legendary at the University because of its polka-like rhythm. Band director Michael Leckrone said the song's popularity got started at a 1975 hockey game. "The crowd wanted to hear a polka," he said. "I didn't have any polkas. Just by accident, we had this beer commercial in the tunes we play. I told the band if we substituted the word 'Wisconsin' for 'Budweiser' it would work."

Leckrone said the song became a football tradition after a 1978 come-from-behind victory over Oregon. "Wisconsin was behind by three touchdowns, and the crowd was really dead. I played the song to get everyone pepped up. About 20 seconds after that, Wisconsin scored a touchdown. I played it again, and Wisconsin scored another touchdown. From then on, the band could never play enough 'Bud.'"
