Seniors Begin Memorial Union Drive Today

CLASS OF 1925 STARTS CAMPAIGN FOUR DAYS EARLY

Workers Have Instructions;
Anxious to Get on Job
at Once

Without waiting for the "clean-up day", May 25, the senior class will move its campaign for funds for the Memorial Union up four days and begin work today on the task of enrolling every member of the class of 1925 as a life subscriber to the Union. This action was decided upon yesterday by members of the class after consulting with Lester L. Kissel, chairman of the campaign.

Workers who will solicit seniors who have not subscribed or have paid only a part of their pledges received instructions and have expressed a desire to begin work at once rather than wait until Monday to begin their canvass. All seniors have been divided into districts for the purpose of facilitating the canvass. Every member of the class will be called upon personally by one of the solicitors so that every one will have an opportunity to enrole as a life member.

13 Seniors Subscribe

The campaign workers have not set a definite goal as a quota but have declared that they expect to raise more than the amount subscribed by the class of 1924. Last year's class subscribed approximately $45,000.

John Dillard, grad, secretary of the Memorial Union, announced last night that three fraternities have enrolled their seniors as life members 100 per cent. These organizations are Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Nu, and Sigma Phi.

The class fund was increased $650 yesterday by reason of 13 voluntary subscriptions. The seniors who enrolled as life members are Ethel Ridings, Mary Ridings, Benita

VENETIAN BUTTONS GO ON SALE TODAY

Student Support Important for Spring Function, Says
Frazier

Venetian night buttons will be on sale in all the buildings on the campus today. The buttons this year, were designed by Mike Stiver '25 and represent a gondola and the traditional Venetian barber pole. The whole button is done in black and white. The price of the buttons is 25 cents this year as it has been in the past.

"It is more important this year than ever before," Lincoln Frazier '26, general chairman said yesterday, "that the students support the button sale for Venetian night due to the fact that the Athletic board is unable to support the event as strongly financially as it has in the past."

Though Venetian night is primarily intended for the entertainment of the visiting high school athletes, it has become one of the important spring functions of the university. The button sale is the only means of support that the event obtains other than some from the athletic board, since no entry fees are required for the float and pier contests and no taxes of any kind are made on the spectators. A program of the Saturday events will

OFFICERS REVIEW CADET REGIMENT

Distinguished Rating to Be Determined by Annual Inspection

The annual review and inspection of the 1120 men of the cadet corps was held at 1:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon on the lower campus under the scrutiny of the inspecting officers from the war department at Washington. The question of the award of distinguished rating to the corps depends upon the success of this inspection.

The inspection of the corps was conducted by Colonel Lewis Brown, cavalry, and Major Vernon Pritchard, field artillery. All units of the R. O. T. C. corps were inspected Tuesday and yesterday.

"On the whole, the men made a very good showing," said Colonel Brown after the inspection. The results of the inspection will not be made known until the middle of June. Distinguished ratings will be awarded at that time.

After the general review the company and individual competitions were held. Twenty-one took part in the individual contests.

Company B, sophomore infantry, won the company competition. W. R. Seeman '27, cadet captain of company K, first; Private E. L. for the victory. Lieutenants C. E. Nelson '26, J. J. Keleher '27, and J. R. Tramonti '27 receive silver medals. Each private of company B will get a bronze medal.

The individual competition prizes were won by Sgt. A. J. Sweet '28, company K, first; Private E. L. Ring '28, company K, second; and Sgt. R. W. York '28, company N, third. Gold, silver, and bronze medals are given for first, second and third places respectively.

International Club Revue Tonight is Drama of Travel

"The World Over", this year's international revue which Miss Zona Gale praised very highly the other night after reading the manuscript, will be presented by the International club at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Lathrop concert room.

The revue is a drama of travel and foreign countries written by Edward Meschi, graduate student. Catherine Bingham '25 is directing the play with George Millard '25 in the leading role.

The play opens with a glimpse of New York's high life and ends with a honeymoon Palm Beach. In between, are glimpses of several European and Oriental countries.

BADGER WORKERS DISTRIBUTE FIRST SUPPLY OF BOOKS

Close Successful Year With Banquet at Loraine Last Night

Approximately 1500 Badgers were distributed at the Union building yesterday afternoon. Four hours after distribution was begun the supply gave out although the Badger business staff expected the books to last for several days. A new supply will be ready for distribution at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow.

The annual banquet of the 1926 Badger staff in the Crystal ballroom of the Hotel Loraine last night marked the close of a successful year. More than one hundred men and women who have been active in work on the yearbook attended the dinner party and received free copies of the book into which they have put such great effort.

The informal program included songs by Eugene Leonardson '25, who entertained between courses. He sang by special request of the staff members, "On the Way to Mandalay," and "Marcheta."

Ben Anderson '26, spoke to the staff which he has worked with throughout the year, and expressed his appreciation of the attitude which it has shown. "I thank everyone for his hearty cooperation, and deep down in my heart I appreciate it" were the closing words of his talk.

"This has been the happiest day of my life," said Otis Wiese '26, in speaking of the issuance of the 1926 Badger. "The success of the Badger has been a youthful dream, and it is only through the hard work of the staff that it has not become a nightmare. Everything that has been aimed for in this year's Badger has been made possible through you, and I thank you. Wiese said that the staff must have a high idea of the university in order to put out as beautiful a book as it has this year.

Bernadine Chesley, associate editor of the Badger spoke of how much she had enjoyed her work. She said "It has been a lot of fun to work with everyone on the staff and all the people connected."

Ewart Merica '27, the editor-in-chief of the 1927 Badger, gave his commendation of the work of this year's staff. "So far as next year is concerned," he said "Actions speak louder than words."

OUTLINE PLANS AT SENIOR MEETING

Program for Commencement and Class Day Discussed Last Night

Commencement and Class day plans were outlined at the senior meeting held on Lincoln Terrace at 7:15 o'clock last night. John Bergstresser, class president presided.

Wenzel Fabera, chairman of the commencement committee, outlined the program for June 22. Seniors will meet at the knoll on the women's athletic field for the class picture at 4 o'clock, then march into the stadium for commencement exercises.

Plans for Class day, on Friday, June 19, as explained by Eliot Sharp '25, chairman of the committee, are an innovation at Wisconsin. The seniors will march up the hill to Bascom hall at 4:45 o'clock. Elmer Barringer '25 will plant the

Telegram From Regent John Callahan Announces Acceptance by Editor of Century Magazine of Position as Successor to President Birge

Glenn Frank, editor of the Century Magazine, will succeed Dr. E. A. Birge as president of the university, according to a telegram received here yesterday afternoon from John Callahan, one of the committee sent by the regents of the university to tender him the presidency.

The chair was offered to Mr. Frank by a committee of regents consisting of John Callahan, Michael Olbrich, and Theodore Kronshage, who left Saturday for New York, and who have been in constant touch with Mr. Frank since Monday.

PREXY TO RECEIVE MOTHERS AT HOME

Divide Guests Into Groups Be- cause of Conflicting Events

Plans are well under way for the mother's reception which is to be held at the home of President Birge Saturday afternoon May 30. Because women's field day comes at the same time it is planned to have the different classes come at different times in order that the mothers may have a chance to see the track meet and attend the reception too.

The freshmen and juniors are asked to come between the hours of 3 o'clock and a little after 4 o'clock. The seniors and sophomores are requested to bring their mothers between 4 o'clock and 5:30 o'clock. Men and women of the faculty will help President Birge entertain the guests.

"We want everyone to remember that this is an all-university affair and we hope the men as well as the women will see that their mothers come to the reception," said Alice Corl '25 who is chairman of the committee in charge of the reception.

Working with Miss Corl on the committee are Jean Palica '25, Elizabeth Stolte '25, Dorothy John '25, John Mannierre '25, Fred Knowles '25, and Bert Hilberts '25.

Attended Northwestern
Mr. Frank's acceptance brings to Wisconsin a man who believes in cooperation between the schools, churches and governmental machinery, a scheme first really tried out here and which is known as "the Wisconsin idea."

Glenn Frank was born in Queen City, Mo., in 1887. He attended the Missouri State Normal school at Kirksville, as a special student for three years, and then went to Northwestern university where he received his B. A. degree in 1912. While at Northwestern, he was elected to Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic fraternity, and to Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensics fraternity. He is also a member of Delta Tau Delta.

Drafts Covenant
From 1912 to 1916 Mr. Frank was assistant to the president of Northwestern university and for the next three years worked with Edward A. Filene, industrial organizer, of Boston, Mass., in research and organization projects. He was appointed to the position of associate editor of the Century Magazine in 1919. With the work which he had been doing serving as the necessary qualifications, Mr.

GERMAN PROF TO LECTURE TODAY

Herbert Freundlich of Berlin
Will Talk on Colloid
Chemistry

Prof. Herbert Freundlich of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute of Dahlem, Berlin, will speak at 8 o'clock this evening in the Chemistry auditorium on "The State of Aggregation and Form of Colloidal Particles," as the guest of the Chemistry department.

At first glance colloid chemistry may not appear to have any but a remote interest for the ordinary individual, but closer study shows it is absolutely essential for nourishment of plants, the assimilation of food, the dying of fabrics, the decoration of the home, and even for life itself.

The university has taken the lead in the United States in the development of research in colloid chemistry since 1923 when Prof. T. Svedberg, an international authority on the subject, spent a semester and a summer session here giving lectures and organizing research work.

Interest in the development of colloid chemistry has led to formation of plans for a National Institute for research. The million dollar project will probably be located when it is established, according to officials, at the university particularly because of the present development in research work here, and because of the climate conducive to research work in summer.

Prof. Freundlich will give another lecture at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow in the Chemistry auditorium on "The Velocity of Slow Coagulation."

VAIL STILL FINDS WEAKNESSES IN WORK OF CREWS

Endurance Main Thing; Junior Varsity Prepares for
St. Johns

Day after day as the oars of five crews flash on the surface of Lake Mendota, Coach "Dad" Vail is watching for weak spots on those same five crews and is not yet ready to admit that the oarsmen have attained the endurance and perfection of stroke necessary before they can entrain for Poughkeepsie on June 6.

Coach Vail sees improvement in the work of the freshmen but not as much in the varsity. "Endurance is the big thing now," he said yesterday. "As long as the men do not have it, they cannot do their best work in Poughkeepsie race. Some of the men row very well for the first mile or two and then slump after that."

Time trials over the four mile course are being taken almost every night, and none of the results have been satisfactory as yet to Coach Vail.

The work of the crew has been handicapped by the extreme roughness of Lake Mendota, the worst that it has been for 14 years, according to Coach Vail. A smooth lake has greeted the oarsmen but a few times and last Tuesday night the shells were almost swamped during practice.

Junior Crew

Preparation for their race with St. John's Military academy to be held Saturday afternoon is receiving the attention of the junior varsity crew this week. St. John has a powerful crew this year, reports indicate, and the Badger crewmen anticipate a hard race.

Lineup for the race will probably include:

Porter, stroke; Treichel, 7; Houdek, 6; Steele, 4; Van Wagenen, 3; McCormick, 2; Denu, 1; Hardy, coxswain. The race will be over a mile and a quarter course ending at the foot of Park street.

Under the direction of Coach "Howie" Johnson, stroke of last year's Poughkeepsie crew, the freshmen are training hard for their debut on the Hudson next June. At present the lineup in the first frosh crews finds Kesting at stroke, Bibby, 7; Griffith, 6; Seller, 5; York, 4; Kewig, 3; Bassett, 2; Green, 1; and Bailles, coxswain.

Rickard Gets Yank Stadium For Bouts

NEW YORK—Tex Rickard, promoter, obtained permission from the state athletic commission to conduct the Milk Fund bouts at the Yankee stadium May 29, as scheduled. Last week the commission forbade the further sale of tickets as no license had been obtained. Rickard's agents apologized to the boxing body.

Fourth Annual Gymnastic Field Day Will Take Place Tomorrow

Tomorrow, the fourth annual gymnastic field day will take place at Camp Randall stadium. At this time the men's gymnastic class of the university will give an exhibition in the nature of a summary of their year's work in gymnastics.

The 350 who will take part in the first day activities will assemble in the gymnasium annex at 3:30 o'clock. They will then march to Camp Randall stadium led by the 2nd Regimental band of the university. The gymnasts will give a demonstration of a long wand drill; the remarkable part about this exhibition will be that the men as a whole have never before worked together, but have learned the drill in their respective classes. This gymnastic drill will, in a small way, resemble the team drills held at the Olympiads in which as many as 3,000 gymnasts compete at one time.

Following the gymnastic drill, the men will present pyramid groups of three. This will be followed by a diving exhibition en masse. The group will then scatter over the football field and give a demonstration of 20 different gymnastic games.

The next spectacular event will be an Australian pursuit race; in this event the men will be divided into four equal groups of approximately 19 men each. Each group to start on the half-mile track equidistant from one another. At the signal of the gun each team pursues the one in front of it at the same time being pursued by the team behind them. The object of the race is to tag as many of the opponents as possible; when a man is tagged he drops out of the race. The team having the largest number of men remaining wins the race.

Following this mass race, the university efficiency cup will be presented by Director George Little, donator of the cup. This cup is emblematic of all round physical efficiency and Mr. Erickson, winner of the cup, showed his supremacy by passing the 10 tests including running, jumping, climbing, and agility tests. It is hoped that a similar cup may be competed for yearly.

Following the presentation of the cup to Mr. Erickson, Prof. T. E. Jones of the department of physical education will present the bronze and gold lapel buttons to the members of the gymnastic classes who scored excellent in the physical efficiency tests, which were arranged and developed by F. E. Schlatter, gymnastic instructor, and have been in use since 1918.

Intramural News

Interfraternity Horseshoe League Play

Schedules have now been made out with the pairings for the Interfraternity Horseshoe league play. Phi Kappa Tau will meet Triangle in the first round, Sigma Alpha Epsilon will meet Theta Delta Chi, and Tau Kappa Epsilon will pitch against Alpha Kappa Lambda.

Byes have been drawn by Delta Sigma Pi, Alpha Chi Sigma, Phi Delta Theta, Beta Theta Pi, and Phi Kappa Sigma. The lanes for the barnyard gulf will be put next to the fence on the lower campus.

All-University Tennis Championship Play

Some of the games in the all-university tennis matches have been played, but many remain to be completed. The deadline for first round play is May 24, and for second round play is May 28. The games must be finished by these dates, according to an intramural ruling.

Baseball Schedule for Interfraternity Play

Today's games in the interfraternity competition are as follows: 6 o'clock, west varsity diamond, Beta Sigma Pi vs. Phi Kappa Psi. 6 o'clock, freshmen diamond 1—Chi Phi vs. Sigma Phi Epsilon. 6 o'clock, freshman diamond 2—Delta Tau Delta vs. Delta Pi Epsilon.

5:30 o'clock, lower campus—Delta Sigma Phi vs. Farmhouse.

YEARLING TRACK MEN FACE FAST IOWA TEAM SOON

Hawkeye Frosh Have Been Going Close to Varsity
Time

With but one more week of work on the cinders left, Meade Burke's Frosh are digging in their toes to get in shape for the critical meet of the season with Iowa. With an average of two victories out of three contests, the yearlings are out to raise the percentage in the winning column.

From all reports, however, they will have their hands full, for the Corn State freshmen are setting up records of credit to a varsity team. In the 100 and 220, they have been timed at 10 flat and 22 1-2 seconds, respectively. Hunn and Speers run the mile and two mile in 4:33 and 9:45. Cuhel runs the high hurdles in 16 1-5 and the lows in 26 1-5.

Field Events

In the weight events is where they are particularly strong, however. Nelson, their high point man, over 113 feet and tosses the discus throws the javelin 188 feet, heaves the shot 43 1-2 feet, the hammer better than 124 feet. The weight events are where Wisconsin is weak.

The good marks of the Iowa team have made Burke's squad the more determined to win the last meet of the year.

KANSAS CITY—Young Stribling of Georgia won a newspaper decision over Hugh Walker of Kansas City in ten rounds.

WISCONSIN HOLDS EDGE ON GOPHERS IN TRACK MEET

Strength in Field Events
Should Win for Badger
Team

While the Gophers may have a slight edge in the track events when they clash with the Badgers tomorrow at Camp Randall, there is little doubt but what Coach Jones' men will have a decided advantage in the field and weight performances.

With McGinnis back in form, and clearing 6 feet 3 inches and Tuhtar going better than 6 feet in the high jump, there seems little chance of the Gophers placing here as none did better than 5 feet 11 inches at the Hawkeye dual meet last week. The same is true in the pole vault; as both Krieger and Schmidt can do 12 feet or better and the Cardinal should take the two first places as none of the Minnesota vaulters have done better than 11 feet 9 inches.

In the shot put and discuss there is not a man at Minnesota, or in any other Big Ten university, who can equal the marks of Schwarze in these two events and it is most probable that he will carry off the honors in these two weight specialties.

Hammer Throw

The only strong points of the Northmen in the field will be the hammer and javelin. Ted Cox, big Gopher football captain has been going great in the hammer and looks like he would be good for five points in this event. In the javelin Wisconsin has nothing to boast of and it looks like easy pickings for Fisher, Bunker, and Lundgren, the trio of Minnesota spear heavers.

McAndrews and Francis along with McGiveran should have an even break or better in the broad jump. Hyde, the best bet of the Northmen in the leap, has difficulty in getting better than 21 feet 6 inches while all three of the Badgers can do this, and McAndrews has cleared the 22 foot mark several times already this season.

Helfrich To Meet Nurmi In Special 880 Race

STATE COLLEGE, Pa.—Alan Helfrich, Penn State and Olympic track star, who holds the inter-collegiate quarter-mile and national half-mile titles, has accepted an invitation to run a special half-mile race against Paavo Nurmi, the Flying Finn, in New York, on May 26, it was learned from Nate Cartmell, coach of the Penn State track squad under whom Helfrich has been training.

According to word received by Helfrich, the race will be run over an outdoor track in the Yankee Stadium under the auspices of the Finnish-American A. C.

Wisconsin is Underdog in Both
Tilts, But Good Pitching
May Win

A fighting squad of baseball players will leave soon for two games which will decide, to a great extent, the position Wisconsin will occupy in the Big Ten conference standings at the season's end.

The squad faces two of the best teams in the conference this year, namely Chicago and Illinois. The game with the Maroons will be played Saturday afternoon at Stagg field, Chicago; while the Sucker encounter will be held Monday down in the huge Illinois stadium at Champaign.

Coach Guy S. Lowman has been putting his proteges through long daily practices, and hopes to have them in excellent condition when the starting times for the games come around. Most of the sessions have been for rounding the team into better condition, and the developing of a smoother playing system.

Practice Games

Several practice games have been played with the freshman squad, who are working out under the tutelage of Coach Sundt. The 1928 squad have been giving the regulars some close games, and by this method the varsity is developing into tiptop shape.

Although on paper Wisconsin looks weaker than either Chicago or Illinois, with two dependable pitchers, Claussen and Stoll, Coach Lowman feels confident that the Badgers stand an even chance of coming out ahead in the two games.

Batting Order

The batting order will probably be the same as has been used in the other recent games. Tangen, third base, will be the first man up; Captain Ellingson, second baseman, follows him; Edwards, right field, is third; while Larson, center fielder, will hit in the clean-up position. Steen initial sacker, follows Larson; and Donagan, left fielder, faces the pitcher after Steen; Barnum, catcher; Weiland, shortstop; and the pitcher finish the batting line-up.

Ruth Tries Bat And Hits Ball Into Bleachers

NEW YORK—Babe Ruth, pushing aside his ills and grasping a baseball bat for practice, knocked a ball into the bleachers at the Yankee Stadium yesterday.

The home run champion motored to the Yankee park just before noon and immediately donned a portion of an old uniform. For a quarter of an hour he kept newspapermen dashing to all parts of the lot to recover his drives.

"Just tell the fans," Ruth said in parting, "that you saw me and that I'm a rearing to get into the game."

BADGER NET MEN PARTICIPATING IN BIG TEN TOURNEY

Butler College Doubles Team
Expected to Be the Victors

Coach Maseley and his tennis team left yesterday afternoon for Chicago to participate in the western conference tennis meet to be held at Chicago starting today and continuing throughout the rest of the week.

Captain Durand, Miller, Foster, and Gissel are the men who made the trip. Coach Maseley will enter these four in the single matches as well as in the doubles. Durand and Miller are an excellent doubles pair and are expected to go several rounds in the tournament before they are defeated. Butler college is again doped to win the doubles event. Both Sagalowsky and Kurzrock, the pair which took first in the doubles matches last year, are among the list of entries and are likely to repeat their performance this year.

Singles Uncertain

The winner of the singles is most uncertain for there are several excellent players fighting for the honor. Edie Wilson, last year's singles champion dropped out of school; so the dope favors either Sagalowsky, Kurzrock, or Donovan. These three men are all able racquet-wielders and the fight for first honor will be a hard one.

The competition for next year seems centered around Wilson, who will return to Chicago, and George Lott, also of the Midway. Lott is national junior champion besides ninth ranking player in the United States. Wilson was western singles champion last year and is one of the best players in the west. A match between this pair would be most interesting. They will also be paired in the doubles so the title is likely to rest with Chicago for the next few years.

GLENN FRANK ACCEPTS

While Michigan seeks a new president and Ohio State suddenly loses W. O. Thompson, as a result of his resignation from the presidency there, Wisconsin finds the man who will direct its course for an indefinite period of time.

Glenn Frank, we suspect, will be liked by the students. For one thing, he is young, full of new ideas, understanding youth's feelings.

Furthermore, he is a western man, and it seems that we have heard this fact urged in favor of others.

As for the state and the faculty, we can say nothing. But whatever anyone may think, it must be remembered that everyone can not possibly be pleased by any man, prophet or genius though he may be.

And we believe that is a wise one and that now great things can be expected to start happening at Wisconsin next year.

Our congratulations to the university and to Mr. Frank.

'25 STARTS BUSINESS

The seniors, for the last few days, restless and anxious for the drive to commence, have broken loose; the bridle chafed; they have broken the tape and are away on their race for more funds for the Memorial Union.

Too impatient to wait until campaign day, the solicitors have already set out to secure new and bigger subscriptions.

With such an attitude manifesting itself '25 can do nothing but make its campaign a tremendous, bang-up success from every stand-point. It looks for a 100 per cent subscription from the class.

Today, tomorrow, Saturday, Sunday and Monday the senior workers will solicit subscriptions. And '25 will do big business for the Memorial Union building.

FOR FUTURE BADGERS

Tomorrow marks their advent. Hundreds of high school students from every corner of this state and as many from corners of half a dozen other neighboring states, filled with the one overwhelming ambition to gain some laurel wreath in the form of a trophy, arrive here on that day for the annual interscholastic track meet.

Of course they will not all arrive tomorrow, many of them will not be seen here until Saturday. But no matter, they are going to be here, and what we are going to do about it is the question which matters which is vital to the interests of future student bodies.

They come here for a track meet, only incidentally to see the university and the student life. It is up to us to make them want to be interested in something besides the track meet without, at the same time, diminishing their interest in that. Not that we should all turn professional salesmen.

We have been asked for cooperation in welcoming these students this week end. Our attitude towards them now, and the extent to which we make them feel that they are really welcome at Wisconsin may play a serious part in their choice of a university.

CALL A SPADE FOR THE SPADES

Since 1913 there has existed on the campus an organization known as White Spades. It is an organization composed of junior men who have been elected to that honor because of having served their class in some outstanding capacity. It is entirely fitting that such men should be honored. Unselfish work on their part entitles them to honorary distinction.

But honor always carries with it some responsibility. Honorary election alone should not entitle class leaders to rest on their laurels. The university expects them to fulfill their obligations by shouldering future responsibilities.

Like other honor societies White Spades had some definite purpose. In the past the organization compiled a book called "Who's Who at Wisconsin," once every four years. Last year was the year for it, but nothing was forthcoming.

This year 12 juniors were elected to the society. What has become of it no one seems to know. None of the men is wearing the pin of the organization—apparently they have not even been initiated.

Why it should continue to exist under such circumstances seems hard to determine. If it has a definite place on the campus it should take it immediately. If not, it should join the ranks of other living corpses along with the Council of Forty and the Student Senate and be buried with fitting ceremony. There is no use postponing the funeral.

Hart House, the Peer of Unions

BEAUTY AND UTILITY MAKE IT THE NERVE CENTER OF TORONTO

By John Dollard

Hart house, the union of the University of Toronto, is without question one of the finest on the continent. It has become within five years the nerve center of student life on the Toronto campus, and no one there can think of the University of Toronto without it.

The building is arranged in the form of a closed quad in sever English Gothic type of architecture. It contains a commons, club rooms for faculty and students, a large gymnasium and swimming pool, rooms for student activities and the Christian Association, a library, a theater with accessory dressing rooms and property rooms, and a few guest rooms. It is completely and excellently equipped.

The building was the gift of Mr. Vincent Massey of the city of Toronto, who erected it in memory of his grandfather. Mr. Hart Massey—whose name it bears. The externals of the building are remarkable, but the life which goes on within it is yet more remarkable. Needless to say it is the meeting place, the reading place, of Toronto's thousands of men students. Hundreds of them eat every day in a beautiful common dining hall. Hundreds more take part in its athletic activities through the gymnasium.

Good music can be heard in Hart house regularly; and very close attention has been paid by its director to securing good sketches for its walls. A special sketch club has been organized for the study and practice of sketching. The club has its own exhibition rooms and social quarters in the building.

A special note with regard to the theater. The theater is placed under the quadrangle which the building encloses. It seats between 400 and 500 people and is professionally equipped with property rooms, place for stage carpenters, and dressing rooms. A professional director of theatricals is employed who in turn has a seamstress and stage carpenter working for him.

The theater serves not only as a university theater but as a little community play house for the city of Toronto, and Toronto people take part in the many excellent things that are done there. The management of the theater has a regular winter season for which they sell books of tickets in advance. The standard is high, and the Toronto students who take part in it get first-rate professional training in dramatics.

The Hart house with its theater, its library, its Music room, its Sketch room, is designed to provide for undergraduate life outside the classroom, and to be a part of the working, cultural machinery of the University of Toronto. Under the leadership of its experienced warden, Mr. Bickersteth, it has been exceedingly effective.

The fate of the university appropriation bill passes to the assembly tomorrow. Students might do well by attending the session to impress the assemblymen with our earnestness.

JUST TACT

"Arrah! I don't care about being wet, but please yer honour, I'm very dry!"

Well, having desisted from making any wise cracks about Venetian Night, or Winners-Wisconsin Women, or the drive, will close for this time with love to all, and hoping that Bill Kiekhofer's famous words of yesterday will be appreciated: "I hope you will take your exams seriously!"

THE CHARGE ANSWERED

Editor the Daily Cardinal:

That fraternity men form the majority of those students invited to the Gridiron banquet cannot be denied. This fact is a result of natural circumstances and is not an abnormal condition caused by favoritism toward fraternity men.

An explanation of the basis of choice of men invited to the banquet will clarify this subject a little. The Badger ace section, which is composed of students chosen on merit as evidenced by their outside activity, formed the nucleus of the invitation list. To this were added students suggested by an entirely impartial committee formed of both faculty and students. The basis of its choice of men was activity on the campus and scholastic attainment. On what other basis could men be selected to attend the banquet?

Many non-fraternity men are included in the majority, because it is natural that fraternity men should be in the majority, because it is they that are most numerous in campus activity. That this is true is no fault of the invitations committee and they are not guilty of favoritism toward fraternity men.

ROASTER

FORENSIC BOARD ELECTIONS

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

Regardless of the illegality of the election, held on Friday, the junior representatives will be seated on the new Forensic board, organized yesterday. This autocratic act follows a verbal order given by the president of the Student senate at the last meeting of the old board.

Fergus Chandler, president of the senate, believes it is within the power of his office to save the necks of his committeemen and to bend the senate constitution to cover their mistakes. "The whole problem centers about the interpretation of the clause in the constitution," says Chandler.

The clause dealing with this problem, quoting from the constitution, Art. 7, Sec. 5, is as follows: "The Forensic board shall consist of one representative of the following:

"The Agricultural, Athenae, Castalia, Hesperia, Philomathia, and Pythia literary societies, AND one member of the junior class and two members of the senior class elected by the qualified men and women electors of THE UNIVERSITY."

It will be noticed that nothing is said in the above quotation regarding a vote by ONE particular class. The Constitution Art. 3, Sec. 1, in defining qualified electors of the university says, "A qualified male or female elector within the meaning of this constitution shall be any male or female student regularly registered or enrolled in any college of the University of Wisconsin except such as may be registered or enrolled in the Short Course in Agriculture or in the Summer Session, and except as may be disqualified or disfranchised by action of ivy, and Alice Corl '25 will give the ivy ode. Following this ceremony George Fiedler '25 will present the senior class gift to the Chimes fund, with Prof. W. H. Kickhofer accepting for the university.

Announcement of the winner of the Conference medal will be made then. A picnic will be held at sunset on the lake shore back of the Union building. At 8:15 o'clock the senior class play will be given in the outdoor theater, and at 11 o'clock the pipe of peace ceremony will be held on lower campus.

Prof. Max Mason, the next speaker, explained the Chimes fund.

An appeal for members of the class to pay their class dues was made by Irwin Gerber '25, class treasurer. Lester Kissel '25, president of the Student court. But freshmen shall not be deemed qualified electors within the meaning of this constitution." Nothing in this statement would exclude sophomores and seniors from voting for junior representatives of the Forensic board.

Chandler, in declaring that the Student senate can interpret the constitution as it sees fit, says that precedent has nothing to do with it. Thus he claims that precedent in past elections cannot change his views on the matter. An election booklet found in Dean Goodnight's office of an election held Friday, April 23, 1920, gives the following information to the voters:

FORENSIC BOARD

Juniors—Two to be elected
All Men and Women Vote Except freshmen

But this is not conclusive evidence for a new election to be ordered by the president of the Student senate. He advises the writer that the burden of proof is upon him, and should he desire to contest the legality, the matter should be taken to the Student court.

The writer, therefore, hopes that the Student court will take action upon this matter at once.

dent of the Union board, spoke of the "Now—Watch '25" campaign which starts this morning. Mary Devine spoke of the Memorial Union campaign.

WORLD of SOCIETY

1924-1925 Social Season Closes With Saturday's Parties

As this is the last week end of the present semester in which parties of any kind may be held, there are quite a number of parties planned. With Saturday night's parties the university's 1924-1925 social season comes to an end. Special permission has been granted for a few social functions, but these will be all-university affairs.

CHI PHI

Members of Chi Phi fraternity are entertaining at an informal dancing party Saturday night at their chapter house. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Noer will chaperon.

ACACIA

Acacia will entertain Saturday night at an informal party at the chapter house. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ehling have been asked to chaperon.

TAU SIGMA OMICRON

Tau Sigma Omicron will entertain Saturday evening at the Lorraine hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Simon and Mr. and Mrs. J. Feldman have consented to chaperon.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

The members of Lambda Chi Alpha are giving a formal dinner dance Saturday night at Hoover's in Middleton. Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Prescott have been asked to chaperon.

a formal dance Saturday night at their chapter house. Capt. and Mrs. R. K. Leonard will chaperon.

PROF. GILLEN SPEAKS BEFORE WEST END CLUB

Prof. C. F. Gillen, of the university, kept the West End club either in laughter or on the verge of tears with his French-Canadian recitations in dialogue at the home of M. O. Withey, 1921 W. Lawn ave., Tuesday night.

He has spent a great part of his life in direct contact with the people of the provinces of Montreal and Quebec and is well acquainted with their language and customs. He said that in most poetry the French-Canadians are held up to ridicule but that the poetry of Dr. William Henry Drummond, from which he recited selections, shows the sterling character of the people.

The club was also entertained by a violin solo of Miss Louise Rood, who lately won first prize in the musical meet of Wisconsin high schools.

The meeting marks the end of the season for the club until next fall.

Madison Boys Initiated Into U. W. Music Club

Two Madison boys have just been initiated into Sinfonia, the national honorary music fraternity Phi Mu Alpha. They are Daniel Vornholt and Raymond Miller.

Other students in the University School of Music who were initiated into Sinfonia at the same time are Lyle Gage, Whitehall; John Mael, Mt. Horeb; Julien Harris, faculty member in the university; Clarence Nyhus, Chippewa Falls; and Guy Suits, Medford.

Arden Club Has Banquet; Hear Plans For Future

Members of the Arden club of the University of Wisconsin last night held their first annual banquet in the Hotel Lorraine. Warner Taylor, H. B. Lathrop and Miss H. C. White, all of the University English department, stressed the opportunities that the club offers for wider adventures in the world of letters and life. Retiring and new officers of the club also gave short addresses, sketching plans for the extension of the group's activities during the coming year. Eugene Bond acted as toastmaster.

FRANK ACCEPTS AS UNIVERSITY PRESIDENT

Frank took the examination and received his M. A. degree from Northwestern in 1921. He was given the degree of Litt. D from Lincoln Memorial university in 1922, and the degree of L. H. D. from De Pauw university in 1923. Since May 1921, Mr. Frank has been editor-in-chief of the Century Magazine.

Mr. Frank was a member of a group headed by ex-President William H. Taft which drafted a covenant for the League of Nations, that was considered by the Peace Conference at Paris, 1918-19. He is a member of the American Sociological society, and the American Economics association.

Spoke Here Last Year

In addition to many articles which he has written, he is the author of two books, "Politics of Industry," published in 1919, and "An American Looks at His World" published in 1923. He is co-author of "The Stakes in the War," and "The League of Nations—the Principal and the Practice." In 1917 he married Mary Smith in St. Louis Mo.

Last spring Mr. Frank delivered the Phi Beta Kappa lecture here on "The Outlook for Theater Civilization."

Mr. Frank gave out the following statement yesterday afternoon: "I have today accepted the presidency of the University of Wisconsin, so graciously tendered to me by the board of regents.

"It has been no easy matter to break the ties that bind me to the congenial and challenging field of journalism, but the University of Wisconsin presents a great tradition of sound scholarship inspired in teaching of productive research and practice service, of freedom to investigate, and courage to follow the truth wherever it may lead. Merely to safeguard and to sustain such a tradition is a high challenge.

"And if it should be the good fortune of any president to enhance and enrich that tradition by a progressive adaption of it to the growing needs of an enlightened commonwealth, he should be a very happy man, indeed.

"Obviously I can not at this time undertake to discuss either the problems or policies of the university for two reasons:

"First, because the day has gone by when the policies of a free university should be determined by the secret processes of the mind of a president. The policies of a free university must ultimately come out of a sincere and sustained collaboration between the president, the members of the board of regents, the members of the faculties, the men and women who are submitting themselves to the discipline, and the inspiration of the university, and in a very real sense the whole people of the state and those who represent them.

"A really great state university must both express and serve the deepest needs of the last man and woman and child in the state. Such universities are created by an executive order from the office of the president; they come out of a vast cooperative enterprise in which the whole state shares.

"Second, because I have not yet made a careful study of these specific problems now confronting the university.

"The University of Wisconsin is dedicated to the proposition that sound policy must grow out of honest and unhampered investigation of facts. I should like to feel that my election is an expression of confidence that I shall be loyal to that proposition.

"Until I have come to know the facts, therefore, my duty is a silence."

Willing to Be Roasted

The above replica of a check signifies the willingness of the Dane county district-attorney to be "roasted, toasted, and hung on the wall." He is Philip La Follette, who graduated from the Law school a few years ago and who is now closely connected with the crime situation of Madison. An economist who was instrumental in the recent abolition of "Pittsburgh Plus" will also be present at the Badger Gridiron banquet. The man who invented the submarine detector which was of great service during the recent war is coming. Subjects which these and other men have suggested for consideration at the banquet will provide discussion of vital interest.

START CAMPAIGN FOR MEMORIAL UNION FUND

THOMPSON RESIGNS AS HEAD OF OHIO STATE

Dr. W. O. Thompson yesterday tendered his resignation as president of Ohio state university. Especial significance was attached to Dr. Thompson's action today, as he is being boomed for moderator of the Presbyterian national assembly, which goes in session at Columbus, Ohio, Thursday.

CORVALLIS, Ore.—The Oregon Agricultural College debating team have just returned from a five week tour over the entire United States. The debaters list only one defeat to mark the eight debates, some of them with the largest eastern colleges and universities. Harold Seering, a 1924 graduate of Wisconsin, coached the debaters.

Presenting The Straws Of Unexampled Smartness

Brand-New,
Yes, Even Band-New

THE only thing that's the same about our Mallory Straws for 1925 is the same old excellence of materials and making. Otherwise, new braids (plain and fancy)—new bands (pin, club, college and regimental stripes)—new trimmings—new proportions of crown and brim.

Our Mallory "Cravette"-Processed Straws are proofed against wear and weather, an exclusive feature. Get one—it wears like two of the common kind.
