CHILDS GAVE GREATEST AID TO WORKERS

Diners at Wisconsin in China Banquet Are Told of Their Representative's Work in Orient

"From no person did I receive greater aid in relieving the famine stricken people of China than from your Jack Childs, especially through his work in influencing the Chinese who were not affected by the famine to co-operate with us."

Such was the opinion Charles R. Crane, who spoke at the seventh annual banquet of the Wisconsin in China drive at the Womans building, expressed of the work Childs is doing in China.

Childs' Value Is Emphasized

The several speakers of the evening each emphasized in their speeches this particular value of Childs in China which Mr. Crane brought out in his speech. W. K. Liu, a student of both Chinese and American colleges, told of the disheartening job that it was for Chinese students to spread the Christian faith and civilization among the Chinese and of the great influence Childs had in keeping up the spirit of these men.

"Wisconsin is not yet well enough known in China but Childs is doing wonders to make it so," said Mr. Liu. "He is everywhere—at conferences, lectures, athletic contests, debates, entertaining Chinese workers at his home—I can tell you your Jack Childs is a Jack of all trades," he said.

Meade Praises Childs

Prof. D. W. Meade, in his talk again praised Childs' great influence on the Chinese. He said in part, "Jack Childs is there to keep these young Chinese, who are bringing Western civilization into the East, working. The hope of China depends on these young men, and therefore the work Childs is doing deserves that we go as far into our pockets as we can to keep him going."

Mr. Crane was both very informing and entertaining, which showed that this man who had relieved the Chinese from famine was a very human sort of fellow. He told of how the United States got Japan, England and France to work together on relieving China and how it was finally accomplished. The Chinese have much to learn, he concluded, but it is merely a matter of teaching them.

President Birge acted as chairman and brought the banquet to a close by pressing the hope that we will feel our responsibility toward our representative over there and support him in his work.

Dance Programs Are Tiny Badgers

Miniature replicas of the 1923 Badger, fashioned in imitation leather in dark brown and gold, will be given as souvenir programs at the Badger dance, January 13, in the Elizabethan room of the Park hotel.

Elliott Gilmore's orchestra, special feature acts and the opening of both rooms for dancing are other features of the dance.

Staff members who have not yet obtained their tickets may get them at the desk in either the editorial or business office. There are a limited number of tickets remaining which students not members of the staff may secure by applying at the office.

Shrill Screams Bring Rescuers to Prom Actress

"Oh, Oh, I don't know what I'll do—I don't know what I'll do!" The voice mounted to a frantic wail and echoed through the concert room and corridors of Lathrop hall. Curious people in the halls peeked nervously into the concert room and the janitor descended from the third floor to investigate.

But it was only temperamental "Pansy" of "On the Hiring Line," the pre-Prom play, bemoaning her condition. Pansy Capron, played by Roberta Loudon '24, whose husband decides to leave her to herself for a while to grow out of her flirtatious habits, finds herself in a considerable mixup and gives unsuppressed vent to her feeling several times at every rehearsal, according to people who happen to be within hearing distance of the concert room.

Rehearsals for the Prom play are well under way, according to Miss Johnson who is coaching the production. The cast has already had two weeks of concentrated rehearsals. Practically every night rehearsals are going on somewhere in Lathrop hall, though the concert room seems to be the favored place.

DEAN ROE IS TO SPEAK AT FIRST VOCATION MEET

"Vocational Intelligence" will be discussed by Dean F. W. Roe in his talk to freshman and sophomore women tomorrow afternoon at 4:30 in Lathrop parlors. This meeting marks the opening of the Women's Vocational conference of the university and is being held before the end of the semester in order that girls who decide on a vocation may plan their work accordingly for next semester.

"Freshmen and sophomores, and new girls also, who want to have a definite idea of what they will do after college will be helped greatly by this meeting, and we hope they will all come out for it," said Mrs. C. B. Flett last evening. Mrs. Flett is faculty advisor of the vocational conference.

"This meeting is especially helpful at this time," she added, "because the girls may take advantage of their decisions to arrange their courses next semester."

Juniors and seniors will be welcomed at the meeting as well as the underclass women.

Dr. Jones to Speak On Fruit Diseases

"Fruit Diseases in Wisconsin" is the subject of an address to be given by Dr. L. R. Jones, professor of Plant Pathology, to members of the Grafters club, this evening at 7:15 in the Horticulture building.

Mr. Jones has had a wide experience combating diseases of fruit in this state and is well qualified to discuss the subject, according to those who have heard him.

"This is the last meeting of the Grafters club for the semester, and all members are urged to attend," declared B. B. Langen '23, scribe.

Kahlenberg Will Address Menorah

Prof. Louis Kahlenberg of the chemistry department will lecture on "The Jewish Regulation of Living as Viewed in the Light of Modern Science" at a meeting of Menorah society in Lathrop hall, Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. The public is invited to the meeting.

Green Button Dues Being Collected Now

"Green Button dues being collected this week are to pay for the Green Button page in the Badger, and for that reason we are urging every freshman woman to pay hers as soon as possible," said Elizabeth Mahorney, treasurer of Green Button. Yesterday was the day set aside by that organization for the collection of dues, but they will be cheerfully received at any time.

There are 500 women in the freshman class and up to the present time only about half have paid their dues of 25 cents a year.

O'NEIL PLANS PROM PARTIES

Every Prom Goer May Join
Group For Special Festivities

All men who intend to go to Prom but have not as yet made arrangements to go with any group are asked to see Dan O'Neil '23, at a meeting of the men's arrangements committee today at 4:30 in the Green room of the Y. M. C. A.

"Although many persons have already joined some one of the parties we are arranging, we are still able to make arrangements for those who have yet to call on us," said O'Neil yesterday. "Our parties will be complete in every detail, and it is our aim to make the 1923 Prom an event that will be participated in and enjoyed by everyone."

The work of the men's arrangement committee consists mainly in getting together all persons not going to Prom with any of the social organizations and dividing them into congenial groups. More than a dozen parties have been arranged, and indications point to several more to be formed this week.

Attractive boxes in the capitol have been reserved for these groups, and the committee is now planning the events that go along with the Friday night affair at the state house.

Chimney of Alpha Chi Sigma Burns

Much excitement prevailed in the vicinity of Francis street and the lake last night when the fire department was called to the home of Alpha Chi Sigma, professional chemical fraternity, to extinguish a chimney fire.

At the lodge, late last night, it was claimed that the fire department had been called by outsiders and that the damage was slight.

Prof. Ogg Writes Book on American Foreign Relations

Prof. Frederic A. Ogg, of the Political Science department, has just published a new book, "The Conduct of American Foreign Relations," printed by the Century company, which will appear on Thursday. This book is the first of a series of 14, the second, "Introduction to Study of International Organization" having been written by Asst. Prof. Pittman B. Porter, also of the political science department.

Professor Ogg was re-elected secretary and treasurer of the American Political Science association at the convention held at Pittsburg on December 27 to 30, and he was made associate editor of the American Political Science Review.

Square Club Holds Stag Dinner Tonight

Square club, University Masonic organization, will give its annual stag banquet at 6 o'clock this evening in the Grace church guild hall, 110 W. Washington avenue.

The Rev. H. H. Lumpkin of Grace Episcopal church, Frank Peterson '22, E. J. Kaderabek '23, and Ralph Balliet '23 will speak informally. After the banquet there will be an election of officers for the next semester.

John Kolb '23, manager of the Badger orchestra, has charge of the music, and the ladies of the Episcopal church will serve the dinner.

While the price of amusements is being regulated from hill headquarters, would it not be an idea, worth trying, to reduce the admission charges to this most colossal of amusement palaces which masquerades under the guise of an institution of learning? Or at least, let them give three shows a year instead of the conventional two with the summer interlude. Like the modern circus, it is impossible to take in everything at a single show. Truly the elaborate and intricate working of each of the attractions hereabouts deserves more than a fleeting glance of attention.

The Kappas are offering a daily side-show. Collect before the west window any time between 2 and 6 p. m., and see any two of the sisters feed an anthropoid descendant grains of pop-corn.

LETTERS WE'D LIKE TO GET

HI N. LOW,
Dear Sir:

After watching the column appearing over your name and seeing the uplifting and ennobling influences it has exerted on the undergraduates of the institution, and after due consideration before the executive committee, the faculty have decided that you deserve a reward. Therefore it has decided that you shall be graduated without bothering about the regulation credits.

Your diploma has been filled out, and you may secure it by calling at my office.

Respectfully yours,

THE REGISTRAR.

P. S.—You are a nice boy.

China Drive On

From Jan. 11 to 18

Proceeds of the drive for the Wisconsin in China fund from January 11 to 18, will be used to defray the expenses of two Chinese girls, Dorothy Kao and Wi Lang Chaung, now in attendance at the university.

These girls, when they have completed their course here, will return to China, to teach in the school of physical education run by Miss Mayhew, a former mistress of Chadbourne hall, and director of the department of physical education at the university. In former years the purpose of the drive has been to raise money for the school.

One thousand two hundred dollars is the sum hoped for from the women of the university, Gladys Weber '23 being in charge of the women's end of the drive.

CHESS CLUB

The university is not represented by a chess team at the present time, and all men who are interested in the game should want a representative. The Chess club will include all men who play the game, and will support a chess team. The Chess club holds the organization meeting this Wednesday, at the University Y. M. C. A., at 7 p. m. All men present at this time will become charter members. Get in on this right away; put the club across.

within the limits of our supposedly mild mannered institution. The International club numbers not only representatives from all the nations but, seemingly from all the movements within these nations. Yea! They keep it a secret, but they are ashamed to count a real bolshevist as one of them. An attempt at discipline has been made, but the bolshevist refuses to "stand in the corner."

Teacher: What is a reverie?
Johnny: Aw, he's the guy that spoiled a good fight last night.

ON SEEING AN EXAM SCHEDULE

I know a club of nations here from 'cross the mad'ning main,
From far away South Africa,
Where monkeys play,—South Africa!
Where life is gay,—South Africa!
And thirst is not in vain.

This club is representative from Nome to Timbuctoo;
Yet give me dear South Africa,
I'll lead a cheer,—South Africa!
Light wines and beer,—South Africa!
Whoops! Here's a health to you.

Grow old with me my lady-love beneath the jungle moon,
In tropic scenes, South Africa,
Away from deans,—South Africa!
Know what that means? South Africa!!

Let us be going soon.

French Club Plays Are Well Received By Large Audience

Success is in Large Measure Due to Coaching of French Girls

"La Lettre Chargee," comedy in one act by Meilhac and Halevy, and "La Grammaire," the rollicking satire of Labiche on would-be savants and provincial politicians, were presented by members of the French club before a large audience in the Lathrop concert room on Monday night at 8 o'clock.

In the first play, Julian Teller '25 in the role of Hector de Courvalin, a dashing young law student who wears spats and carries a monocle, demonstrated once more that Charlie Chaplin has a rival here in the university. An amusing use of long adverbs embroidered his love for Hortense, played by Catherine Kenney '24 in winsome style. The part of Peter Fougasson, an eccentric American millionaire, who fell in love with her because he thought he saw a resemblance to his late wife Betsy, was taken by Frank Crane '25, while the voluble little serving maid who climbs up on the table to keep him from hanging himself was very sympathetically done by Hanna Krome '22.

In "La Grammaire" Stuart Hamilton '22, who acquired fame last year as Sganarelle in "Le Medecin malgre lui," mounted another degree in the dramatic world in the difficult role of Caboussat, the illiterate country squire who aspired to political honors through the aid of his clever daughter Blanche, charmingly done by Dorothy Williams '24. John Irwin '22, as Poitainas, tireless seeker of Gallo-Roman ruins, and Ira Andrews '23, as Machut, the veterinary who really controls the county vote, ably seconded the above two, and mention must certainly be made of Mary Chase '24, who interpreted her part as "bonne" in perfect style.

The plays were directed and managed entirely by the French club itself, but especial credit is due to the two French girls, Mlle. Alice Salvan and Mlle. Marguerite Pons, who are so ably representing their fair country over here. Without their generous and patient contribution of time and energy, in spite of the unusual array of talent among the actors this year, the plays could not have been such a success.

CAGE MEN DO WELL AGAINST PURPLE QUINT

Ohio's Victory Over Michigan Second Upset of Season

The second upset in conference basketball dope occurred on Monday night when Michigan dropped its first game to Ohio State by a score of 25 to 22. Wisconsin ran true to form by winning from Northwestern, 31 to 9.

The Wolverines had been slated for a victory, after Ohio's beating from Chicago on Saturday night. Mather's team maintained a lead during the first half, but the Buckeyes tightened up their defense in the second period, and managed to nose out a victory just as the final whistle blew.

Maroons Have Edge

Michigan and Chicago played an interesting game last night at Ann Arbor. The Maroons were given an edge, due to their victory over Ohio State last week. It now seems that neither team can be counted as being dangerous contenders for the conference championship, although they are likely to improve as the green men become more experienced.

Doctor Meanwell's team played the best game of the season against Northwestern. The defense was up to par, and the offense was perfected to such an extent that the Purple were completely baffled. The team is rapidly settling down into a consistent stride as the individual men regain their form. The manner in which Gibson has solved the center problem is most pleasing. He has a knack of breaking up the enemies offensive rushes, and has figured prominently in the scoring column in every game. Taylor is just hitting his pace, and he promises to reach the apex of his basketball this season.

Rest Day After Trip

The men returned home yesterday morning and were given a day of rest after the strenuous trip. This afternoon, however, they will settle down in earnest preparation for the game against Michigan on Saturday night. Coach Mather will invade town with a team that is certainly to be feared. The fact that the Wolverines have already been beaten means nothing, as last year they won two games from Illinois after losing to some of the weaker fives in the conference.

The Badgers will go into the game as favorites, and if a third consecutive victory is realized, it is certain that it will be a difficult proposition to dislodge Meanwell's five from first place in the percentage column.

The team spoke very highly of the treatment which they received from the team and crowd at Iowa City. A capacity crowd of more than 4,500 persons attended the game, and Meanwell's five were treated fully as courteously as if they had been playing on their home floor.

Ohio Trounces Michigan Five

Michigan lost its opening Big Ten basketball game to Ohio State Monday when the Buckeyes came from behind in the last half and won by a 25 to 22 score.

With only a few minutes left and the score knotted at 22 each, Capt. Greenspun made a free throw and Dudley tossed in a basket.

Greenspun was Ohio's biggest scorer with three baskets and 7 out of 10 free throws. Dudley tossed four shots in to the net and Beard made two.

Ely was Michigan's big scorer with two baskets and 10 out of 15 free throws. Capt. Rea collected two counters, and Capron saged one for Michigan's points.

Fighting Illini Base Basketball Hopes on Carney

(Special to Daily Cardinal)

Victorious in all its pre-season games but still far from the form of a Big Ten championship contender, Illinois opens its conference basketball season next Saturday night at Columbus against the Buckeyes, defeated by Chicago. When Michigan comes to Urbana on the Monday after the Ohio game, the Illini will get their first real test of the season.

Coach Frank J. Winters' team has defeated Knox, Millikin, Notre Dame, Illinois Wesleyan, and Butler, but outside of occasional flashes of form has looked decidedly off color. Butler, conqueror of Wisconsin and Chicago, forced the Suckers to the limit to emerge on the long side of the score.

The regular five is likely to be composed of Captain "Chuck" Carney, Walquist, Sabo, Stilwell and Collins. The last named has been out of the game for a week with a bad foot, but he will be in shape to start the conference season.

All Illini hopes rest on "Chuck" Carney. He favors his game leg and it is a matter of doubt whether he will be able to endure the rigors of the expected Big Ten title struggle. Stilwell, sophomore center, has been the find of the season and is counted on as Carney's first assistant in the scoring column.

Frat Basketball Games Are Close

The Delta Sig-S. A. E. game and the A. T. O.-Phi Sigma Delta game featured the inter-fraternity basketball tilts last evening. The Sigma Nus and Phi Gams also played a fast game, the former winning by three points.

The S. A. E. team kept a lead on the Delta Sigs throughout the entire game until in the last few minutes of play, the Delta Sigs made two more baskets, defeating their opponents by one point. The A. T. O.'s walloped the Phi Sigma Deltas by one basket in a fast game, the score being 8 to 6. The Sigma Nus tore through the strong opposition of the Phi Gammas, and came out on the big end of a 13 to 10 score.

The Deltas walked away from the Alpha Pi Delta team, piling up a nine point lead. The Phi Deltas beat the Acacia aggregation by the same score. The Phi Beta Pi's copped off an easy game from the Phi Psi's.

The results of all the games played last night were as follows:

Delta Sigma Phi 10, Sigma Alpha Epsilon 9.

Alpha Tau Omega 8, Phi Sigma Delta 6.

Sigma Nu 13, Phi Gamma Delta 10.

Delta Tau Delta 11, Alpha Pi Delta 2.

Phi Delta Theta 11, Acacia 2.

Phi Beta Pi 15, Phi Kappa Psi 11.

Mock Wedding Nets $40 For Piano Fund

A mock wedding which was held at Barnard hall for the benefit of the piano fund a short time before the holidays, netted $30, and flash-light pictures taken of the bridal party as an aftermath of the performance increased the fund $10.

The piano committee, composed of Gladys Boerner '24, chairman; Helen Dickinson '22, and Viola Thuering '22, has used every means possible to raise money. Ten o'clock spreads have been held and a charge of 15 cents was made for a lunch of sandwiches and cocoa; a white elephant sale was held; one of the members in the hall told fortunes and charged 25 cents, and a candy stand is being run which almost meets the monthly payments on the piano.

A payment of $400 has already been made with the money raised

Hockey Team to Play Michigan On Home Rink

The first hockey meet which has taken place in Madison for two years is scheduled to be played on the lower campus on Saturday afternoon, with Michigan furnishing the opposition to Coach A. K. Viner's men.

Yesterday afternoon was the first time that the new coach witnessed his men in action, although several indoor meetings had been held at which the players had been given plays and formations. Captain "Gib" Grieve had been in charge of the previous practices.

Both teams have been somewhat handicapped by the soft weather which has prevented workouts suitable to put the men into proper form. Hockey is one sport that gives the advantage to the schools that are located farther north; as they are able to enjoy longer practice periods, and they usually have a greater number of men who are experienced at the game.

The six men who will represent Wisconsin will be picked from the following candidates: Captain Grieve, Tredwell, Blodgett, Baker, Johnson, Burns, Ledine, Combacker, Amborn, Fische, Woods, Kellet, and Morbash. New equipment has been ordered and will be issued within a few days.

Inter-Mural Track Meet is Scheduled At Annex Saturday

The concluding feature of the semester's intra-mural track work will be an inter-track class tournament Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the annex. All members of freshman or sophomore track classes are eligible and are urged to compete. Ribbons for the first three places in each event will be given as prizes.

A great number of entrants have already signed up for the various events, and all who are at all interested in track work should sign the entry sheet in Coach Burke's office as soon as possible. The championship of the rival classes will be decided in this meet, and the competition promises to be strong.

Friday the 13th is Luckiest Day, Says Pre-Prom Chairman

"Friday the thirteenth is the luckiest date of the month, for it brings the only all-university affair which is permitted in the two week ends before exams—the pre-Prom dance," declared "Doc" Dorward '23, chairman of the event.

Thompson's eight-piece orchestra with Sumner at the piano, will furnish the music, and at 10:30 a special program of the best university talent will entertain. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mosier will chaperon.

Delwin Jacobus '23, in charge of the tickets, urges that they be purchased before the dance as the number is limited, and there may be no sale at the door. Tickets may be secured for $2.00 at the University pharmacy, Runkel's barber shop, or Morgan's.

The entertainment for the evening is said to be unusually clever. Dave Mahoney '23 and Jess Cohen '23 will open the program with a variety of songs, patter and dances. Katherine McCaul '25 will make her debut in campus activities with several song numbers and novelties. She will be her own accompanist.

"Snuggle Up" will close the program, with Mary Wendnagel '24, "Doc" Dorward '23, and "Duke" Dorsey '23 at their best.

with the sales, a $100 liberty bond, and a donation of $20 from the Barnard club in Milwaukee. At present plans are being made to put on a county fair for further addition to the fund.

FINKLE TO BE NEXT CAPTAIN OF U. W. HARES

Election Recognizes Consistent Work of Runner

George Finkle '23 was unanimously chosen captain of the next year's cross country team, in a meeting yesterday noon of the 1921 cross country squad. Running in his first year at the sport, the work of the Badger captain-elect was the outstanding feature of the Western conference season.

New Captain Has Ability

In the dual meets with both Minnesota and Chicago he showed wonderful ability, and by winning firsts consistently in these races he was the largest factor in producing the victories which kept the Wisconsin team at the head of the list throughout the fall. In the conference meet at Indiana he won the highest honor attainable in the hill and dale sport by leading to the tape the star harriers of the West.

In defeating such men as Furnas of Purdue, the Olympic star; Wharton and MacGinnis of Illinois, Ristine of Iowa, and Rathbun of Ames, he demonstrated his clear superiority in the field, and with two years yet to run on the Badger team, he will be a great help in putting Wisconsin back in her place of undisputed cross country champion of the Big Ten.

Wall Was Consistent

...Captain. Mark Wall, although eclipsed by the sparkling Finkle, was the steadying factor of the team and it was largely due to his wise generalship and strong work that the Badgers emerged from the season second among conference schools.

Prospects for a championship team next year are exceedingly bright. Only Arthur Knutson and Douglas Moorhead will be lost to the team through graduation and a number of promising sophomore harriers are ready to step into the vacancies left by these two veterans.

Five Elected Into Journalism House

The Journalism house organization, 430 N. Francis street, has elected the following journalism students to membership in their house next semester: Mildred Fish '25, Virginia Schmuck '24, Frances Schon '25, Dorothea Culin '23, and Anna Hilpert '22.

There are at present two vacancies in the house, and applications will be received up to 5 o'clock today by Portia B. Lugoff '23, secretary. Membership is open to all girls majoring in journalism.

City Clerk Warns Ice Boat Pilots

"Ice boats when sailing should not come closer than one-third of a mile from the shore, according to a city ordinance," said City Clerk O. S. Norsman today.

"Motor sleds come under this same ordinance. The object is to protect citizens who skate and slide near the shores."

No ordinance prohibits people from driving cars anywhere on the lake, but Chief of Police Thomas Shaughnessy said, "They had better stay off."

Cigar Touches Celluloid Collar; Wearer Burned

BERLIN—A bearded passenger on a Berlin street car was severely burned yesterday when a man nearby accidentally touched his celluloid collar with a lighted cigar. His beard, mustache, eyebrows and hair were burned off and his clothing set afire. Several passengers suffered slight burns.

Herman Gaertner, Who Has Lived on Lake Shore for 47 Years, Suggests Park Plan

Pioneer Madisonian Would Build Sea Wall and Pump in Sand From the Lake; Would Call it Olin Park

Herman Gaertner, who has lived on the Monona lake shore at 826 Spaight st., for 47 years, is for the establishment of a suitable park to be named in honor of John M. Olin. Mr. Gaertner suggests that the property on Lake Monona along Spaight st. can, through the pumping of sand and the building of a sea wall, be made into an attractive park. His statement follows:

"The citizens living along Spaight street, bordering on Lake Monona are very much interested in the improving of the lake shore. The city at last is filling in on the property that long ago was condemned for a park. This is the only open lake shore drive in the city. I have lived here on this shore for more than 47 years. I am deeply interested in this beautiful spot. It can be made a most attractive park by little expense. The sand pump could soon redeem a hundred and fifty feet. A sea wall then should be built to protect it from the gnawing influence of the breaking waves. It is then ready for the artist's hand. A park needs a genius to give it order and a proper setting. We have Tenney park, Vilas park, Brittingham park, and no Olin park. I second the motion of B. B. Clarke, in calling this strip of land Olin park. John M. Olin has done more than any other citizen for the drives and parks in and around our beautiful city. It is fitting now to call this ground Olin park, and erect a bronze statue on the same in memory of him who has shown that he possessed a true vision of future Madison. Mr. Olin has not only worked for the drives and parks around Madison, but for more than a quarter of a century he has given his time freely and his money generously for the upbuilding of our city. He is one citizen who has earned an enduring monument of bronze. There ought to be a meeting called of the citizens of the second precinct of the third ward to take some appropriate action. Our councilmen should be requested to give the name of Olin park to this strip of ground between Prof. Alexander's property on Lake Monona on the west and Albert Stoddall on the east."

McMullen is Named to Head Technical Club

Report is Made On Industrial Conditions at Annual Meet

C. L. McMullen was elected president of the Technical club last night at the annual meeting. He succeeds D. W. Mead. Other officers elected are Prof. Charles I. Corp, vice president; Leon A. Smith, treasurer; L. F. Van Hagan, director; and William L. Miller, director. The directors serve for two years.

A comprehensive report covering the industries of the city and the present conditions in business, including an outlook for the future was made by the club's industrial committee.

"During the past few months the problem before the industries of Madison has been to get business enough to keep their organizations together until business in their lines pick up," says the report. "Madison has felt the effect of the business depression, but not to so great an extent as surrounding cities on account of the many private and public buildings under construction and the fact that there has been little change in the number of persons employed in the state capitol and university, and in their salaries. Therefore the up-town merchants have not felt the business depression as much as in cities where manufacturing is the main industry."

The report points out that labor will have some difficulty in finding employment during the next few months but declares that the harvest and building operations, if the weather remains good, will help somewhat.

Some local industries are picking up and others are again forced to lay off men after temporary spurts of business, says the report. The manufacturers of hospital equipment have not much business ahead, according to the report, but several large hospital projects are now pending here. The building trade in Madison should also give employment to a large number, the report declares. There is still a great shortage of homes and several large buildings will be erected, including the new movie house on State and Johnson, a new $150,000 garage on W. Gilman, the Maple Bluff Gold club house, the Union Memorial building, the rebuilding of the university Y. M. C. A., and the proposed Masonic temple and the Methodist hospital.

AT THE STRAND

Announcement is made of the fact that James M. Barrie's famous novel, "The Little Minister," will be the attraction at the Strand theater for four days starting today.

Gavin Dishart, "The Little Minister," of Thrums, finds that one of the villagers is beyond his influence. This is Babie, the gipsy maid, who has caused a riot by warning the weavers that an attack was about to be made upon them. Quite against his will the little minister falls in love with her instead of continuing his attempts to reform her. She is warned, however, against encouraging him because it will mean the loss of his position. Therefore, she promises to marry her guardian whom she does not love. Gavin hears of this at an inn on her wedding night, and following a rumor that she has been killed he starts out to find her. He learns that she is not really a gipsy and marries her in a rain storm, just before her guardian finds her.

Tuzedo's Are Not Proper Dress At Prom -- Brader

Editor Daily Cardinal:

There has been much discussion the last two years concerning the proper dress for men at the Junior Promenade. Many men prefer Tuxedos to full dress and intimate that they are going to wear them. Although the Tuxedo is very popular, and is worn at most fraternity formal parties, it is not the proper dress for Prom.

The Junior Prom has always been a very formal affair at which full dress has always been worn. If we start changing to Tuxedos now the chances are very good that in a few years, even the Tuxedos will be eliminated and Prom will be an informal affair.

I do not desire to convey the idea that men will not be allowed who do not wear dress suits, but I sincerely hope that we may have the co-operation of everyone to keep the Junior Promenade, as it always has been, a formal function.

JAMES L. BRADER,
Prom Chairman.

TOM WISE, STAR AT ORPHEUM

There are more touches of pathos, more artistry and bigger showmanship in "Memories" of Tom Wise, as being presented at the Orpheum the first part of this week, than in any other sketch that has sought its way to favor in this city in many years. When real men dig their handkerchiefs out of their pockets on a bluff that they are suffering from a severe cold in the head, then it is time to admit that the gentler sex may be excused from emotion and the wiping away of a tear. Yes, the women do this more adroitly than the men, for they are sincere. Here is an act that could be stretched to the two-hour limit with such capable people as Tom Wise and Nila Mac. It is an old story that is told in "Memories," yet it is so touchingly new that age dims not its lustre. From tears to laughter and then back again, this sketch runs the gamut of human emotions. The scene taken from "The Lady of Lyons" is a gem of artistic triumph, and is strengthened by the splendid portrayal of Miss Mac.

Other acts of interest on this first Go-To-Theater-Week bill are Dooley and Storey in Vaudeville a la Carte; Gilroy, Hayes and Montgomery in the singing offering "The Good Ship Nancy Lee;" Wilbert Embs and Helen Alton in a musical offering; Rose, Ellis and Rose, the Jumping Jacks; Watsika and Understudy, two trained seals and Pathe News together with Topics of the Day films. There will be a popular priced matinee today and two performances this evening.

For the second half of Go-To-Theater-Week, starting tomorrow night the six act vaudeville bill at the Orpheum will be headlined by two exceptional acts, Melo Danse, a whiff of the Follies and Yew and King, The Old Family Tim Type.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

Those who have read "The Three Musketeers," will have no regrets to express when they view it on the silver sheet, for Fairbanks has reproduced the story with a faithfulness and fidelity that is particularly gratifying. It has been a long time since so much care has been exercised in the choosing of characters for a picture as was evidenced in the selection of the cast for this play. The work of all players is most commendable, and Fairbanks deserves much credit for the foresight he displayed in picking actors and actresses with stellar ability for these roles.

We have George Siegmann as Porthos, Eugene Pallette as Aramis, Leon Bary as Athos. The villainous Rochefort is portrayed by Boyd Irwin. As the Duke of Buckingham, Thomas Holding gives an excellent interpretation. Every other part is capably filled and convincingly portrayed.

The presentation of "The Three Musketeers" is splendid preceded as it is by a colorful prologue and accompanied with music especially prepared for the occasion.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Miss Helen Keller, world-marvel, who is deaf, blind and was formerly dumb, is scheduled for an appearance at the Orpheum theater next week, starting Monday. She will be assisted by Mrs. Anne Sullivan Macy, her teacher and life-long friend. Miss Keller's appearance in vaudeville is one of the most unusual bookings ever made. She probably is the most talked-of woman in the world, and to appear before an audience and impress them with her remarkable triumphs over obstacles which have been hers since childhood, is something most people never dreamed of seeing.

Children Hurt While Coasting Improving

The condition of Irene Nickles, George Nickles, Mary Ponti and Walter Godding, the four children who were seriously injured Sunday morning when the bobsled on which they were sliding crashed into Harold Meyer's touring car at W. Washington ave. and S. Warren st., was reported satisfactory this morning at St. Mary's hospital, where they were taken.

The other eight children on the sled, who were badly shaken up and lacerated but escaped broken limbs, are also recovering at their homes.

Lay Plans To Greet Red Arrow

All Madison Committee in Meeting on Thirty-second
Reunion Conference

COMMITTEE IS NAMED

Executive Body of Seven To Be Named To Take Active Charge

The appointment of a committee of three which is to name an executive committee of seven to have active charge of preparations for the reunion here of the Thirty-second division was the outcome of the meeting in the governor's office of the all-Madison committee to make plans for the gathering. It was stated last night that plans must be made to entertain more than 10,000 visitors.

Gov. Blaine opened the meeting.

The governor gave a brief outline of events leading up to Madison being chosen as the scene of the 1922 re-union of the division, cited the aims of the re-union, and then turned the meeting over to Mayor Kittleson. Mayor Kittleson pledged the support of the city in making this event the best held so far.

Emerson Ela, president of the Madison Association of Commerce, declared this would be the largest gathering ever held in Madison and promised that the Madison association would back up the city in its efforts to make the convention a success.

Adj. Gen. Orlando Holway and Col. John G. Salsman, also representing the state, reiterated the statements of the governor in pledging the support of the state. Gen. Holway also offered the use of National Guard equipment to house the visitors next summer. Dean Scott H. Goodnight and J. D. Philipps, business manager of the University of Wisconsin, offered the use of university buildings as no students will be in Madison at the time of the convention. Col. George F. O'Connell, of the Red Arrow Club, Major William F. Lorenz, of the Rotary club, Mrs. E. H. Van Ostrand, of the Service Star Legion, Mrs. R. H. Hess of the Service Star Legion and the D. A. R., pledged the support of the organizations they represented.

14 Are Added To Boy Scout Troop No. 10

Appoint Committee; Judge
Rosenberry Gives
Address

Fourteen new members were enrolled, raising the membership of Boy Scout Troop 10 to 28, at a supper and booster meeting in Franklin school, South Madison, attended by a large number of parents. A troop committee was appointed consisting of F. L. Mennes, Dr. W. T. Lindsay, M. Mergen, Charles Waddell, and J. C. Werner.

"The time to get acquainted with your boy is when he is a boy," said Judge Marvin B. Rosenberry, speaking before the Scouts, "and Scouting is the best way in which this can be done."

"Boys have all tendencies of animals. They tend to run in gangs as naturally as birds tend to fly in flocks. This natural tendency, with many others, scouting utilizes, because the science of scouting is carefully adapted to the needs of the growing boy. It induces a spirit of co-operation, pride, and helpfulness in every boy who becomes a scout. And it has a special value, in that it teaches the boy to take care of himself. Its greatest aid is that it puts him in touch with the great outdoors, a relation which every boy needs, and which every boy should have."

PENNY WISE

THE useless coat hooks in Bascom hall—useless because they no longer locked, have disappeared, and in their place have risen, like so many Phoenix birds, some new coat hooks. But the people charged with the decorations have not chosen wisely, for they have taken away coat hooks with locking devices and have replaced common ordinary coat hooks. To serve as projections from the wall on which to deposit excess apparel the old, though broken, coat hooks served the same purpose as do our new resplendent wire protuberances.

Under conditions existing in Bascom hall, coat hooks with locking devices are an absolute necessity. To trust to human nature to disregard the temptation of walking up to a coat hanging on one of our new hooks and take it, is childish. Coat hooks with locking devices, it is true, would have been slightly more expensive practical than the pretty stenciled designs on the newly painted walls.

The university has practiced totally unwise parsimony by failing to provide locks for the wraps of students. This neglect is inexcusable. The few remaining locks are inadequate to meet the needs of a university of 7,500, which centers its activity around Bascom hall. Let us hope that the wire hooks are but temporary and are soon to be replaced by hooks with locks. Otherwise there may come another epidemic of thievery.

TOPICMANIA

WITH the close of the semester approaching rapidly, yes, all too rapidly for general health, we find ourselves overwhelmed in a deluge of semester "Topics." The fundamental idea behind the assignment of semester topics is sound. For each student to do research work in one particular phase of the field of the entire semester, and for the student to hand in a written discussion of the subject, is indeed commendable. But like all other good things it can easily be overdone.

So it appears to be at present. Every course from military drill to Aesthetics seems to have its "topics." It is not unusual for a student to hand in three topics besides finishing an overwhelming amount of outside reading, another curse on the students life, and keeping up in daily work. Is it little wonder then that students either break under the strain or give up the ship in discouragement. One of the great troubles with various instructors and professors is that they lose sight of the fact that the student is undoubtedly taking one or two courses besides the one they are teaching.

This super-abundance of topics leads to no good in the end. When pressed by such onerous tasks almost any student will resort to any means to meet the requirements and pass the course. Topics will become mere outlines; full treatments of the different subjects will degenerate into flimsy synopses; and many treatises will be mere symposiums of plagiarized material gleaned here and there.

No student can do justice to more than one topic. Yet it is entirely salutary that he write at least one. Why could not the various inequalities of the campus be eliminated by requiring each student to write one topic each semester, letting the student choose in which of his courses he will write it. In this way, all students will have at least one creditable work to perform and none will be over-burdened. At least let us prevent this university from becoming the stronghold of topicmania, a distressing disease which undermines the mental and physical welfare of the students.

THE DANCE TICKETS

THE move to lower the price of dance tickets is a step in the right direction.

Students who have come in from other schools, especially the smaller, are appalled by the outrageous prices. To attend these dances the average student is forced either to spend beyond his means or stay away from them altogether. Many choose the latter, and as a result social activities are becoming more and more to be the exclusive enjoyment of a few.

The census of the Commerce Magazine showed that on the average but 500 students are really enjoying these dances. What about the other 7,000? Because a student puts in work outside of his studies to earn his way through school, it is no sign he does not need recreation. If any one needs amusements it is this type of student.

We had better live up to our boast that Wisconsin is a democratic university and lower the price of dance tickets.

SPEED UP

The more work a man has to do the more he is able to do. This statement may be disputed by some, but it is a known fact. On the campus, as well as in the business world, we leave the many things to the few who are keyed up to the high point of working fast and efficiently.

Authorities tell us that students who are engaged in athletics do better work in their studies during the time they are in training than after they have let down in the grind. There are several reasons for this. First of all, a man who is engaged in some form of athletic competition, has to systematize his work to find time for study as well as athletics. He is in better physical condition, and as a result his body helps speed up his brain.

Athletic persons are cited simply as an example, for they are not the only persons on the campus or in outside life who do much work because they have much to do.

UNIVERSITY Y REORGANIZES COMMITTEES

Service Will Be Divided Among
12 Departments; Cabinet
Made a Deliberative
Body

A complete reorganization of the Cabinet, the Junior Council, the Sophomore Commission, and the Inner Circle was the work carried on by these bodies at a meeting at the Y. M. C. A. this noon.

The following general program of work was adopted:

The services rendered by the university "Y" are to be divided into 12 departments, with a chairman at the head of each department who will be a member of the cabinet. Instead of the cabinet being occupied with a great many details, the new arrangement will make it a deliberative body which will plan and direct the work of committees.

Gives Freshmen Experience

The cabinet committees are to be composed of men from all classes instead of merely upper classmen as has been the case in the past. The new plan will give a freshman several years of experience before he reaches the cabinet where he is called upon to help shape policies.

The Junior Council, which heretofore has been meeting with the cabinet, has been reorganized to work on the cabinet committees and will only meet as a group for special work as it arises.

The Sophomore commission has been reorganized, and made a part of the cabinet committees. During the summer months, the members of the commission will get in touch with men who are planning on coming to the university in the fall, and give them any information that might be desired. In the fall the task of the commission will consist in receiving and welcoming the incoming freshmen. Its work will terminate with the freshman banquet in the spring.

Inner Circle Reorganized

The Inner Circle was reorganized in such a way that freshmen will have a better chance to do Y. M. C. A. work. Heretofore freshmen have felt that they have not had a chance to take an active part in Y. M. C. A. work until they become sophomores. Under the new plan, men of the Inner Circle will have a big get-together shortly after the opening of school in the fall, and during the following months they will be given a chance to do "Y" work.

The present organization of the "Y" permits men of all classes to work together instead of each class working as a unit.

Blodgett was the second to cross the goal line in the race last year, arriving close behind Chet Riek '21, who covered the distance in 26 minutes, 18 seconds. Henry Katz and "Chuck" Hawks '24, are two others who will be candidates for honors in the event.

"Although the ice is somewhat rough in spots, it is in good enough condition to test the ability of the skaters entering the race," said Katz, yesterday. "We are expecting an exceptionally close contest."

Thrift Body Teaches How to Spend Wisely

National thrift week sponsors, having in mind the evils of profligacy, are adjuring Americans to be good spenders, in the sense of not handing out money heedlessly. The thrift program in Madison also is drawing attention to this policy with the slogan, "Spend money and time wisely," and will point out the big things thrift can accomplish in helping one to acquire all that money buys.

Careful buying teaches people to be the kind of spenders who get the most out of our money. Madison merchants will feature ways for patrons to buy necessities to the best advantage. Window trimmers will add to the general observance by featuring Ben Franklin, whose birthday next Tuesday initiates the thrift week activities, and by advertising the merits of careful saving and wise spending. The music trade throughout the country is preparing to observe thrift week, as Franklin, the inventor of the harmonica, was a lover of music as well as the "father of thrift."

Barthelmess Scores in "Tol'able David"

From Chinaman to Mexican to New Englander and finally to the role of Virginian mountaineer is the devious path that has led Richard Barthelmess to his first starring part, and each succeeding transition has added another feather in the cap of the talented screen actor. It is in the last named part that Barthelmess presented his first star production "Tol'able David," the first national picture produced by Inspiration Pictures, Inc., which opened a week's engagement at the Grand theater Sunday.

David Kinemon (Richard Barthelmess in the picture) comes of a stock which is short on college education but long on family ties. When David's elder brother is crippled by the Hatburns, a father and two sons who have invaded the neighborhood, and David's father is seized by a fatal stroke, the honor of the family devolves upon young David. The youngster, although regarded as just "tol'able" by his mother, suddenly finds himself come into a man's estate.

Yielding to his mother's fears for his safety, he foregoes the revenge on the Hatburns and is branded as a coward by the village gossips.

David's ambition is to succeed his brother as driver and guardian of the government mail; but he is held too immature for the job. Chance, in the form of an intoxicated driver, places the opportunity at his feet. On the first day he is a victim of the Hatburns, one of whom steals the sack of mail from the road.

Unrelenting the boy follows his trust and finds himself face to face with the three blackest outlaws who ever fled from a pursuing sheriff. David keeps his trust and when the long afternoon is over he has avenged his family and wiped out forever the brand that the village had put upon him.

Peace Dollar To Be Withdrawn; No Initials Permitted

WASHINGTON—The new peace dollar is misnamed and will have to be withdrawn from circulation and remodeled, it is said at the Treasury. The sculptor, Anthony Francisco, placed his monogram—"AF"—beneath the face of Liberty, which is modeled from that of his wife. Initials on money are taboo, it is stated.

But more serious is the complaint of bankers that the new dollar will not stack. If the issue is withdrawn those already in circulation may go to a premium and collectors will fight for them.

Merchants Asked For Thrift Week Funds

V. S. Bond of the Keeley-Neckerman store is raising the quota of $100, assigned to the merchants as their share of the Thrift Week campaign expenses. Those desiring to assist him are requested to forward to him a small check as their proportion of this amount. Thrift week will be staged Jan. 17 to 23. Saturday, Jan. 21 will be "Pay Your Bills Promptly" day.

CALL MONEY DROPS.

New Gym Will Provide Room For Training

William Mack Heads Drive for Membership; Big Card Planned

The Madison Athletic club will come into existence within a few days. The club comes as a result of necessity to make professional boxing in this city a possibility. Professional boxers were refused admission into the university gym in the future, and since there was no other gymnasium of any considerable size in the city, promoters and interested fans have taken it upon themselves to form a club which will maintain clubrooms over the Kelley-Springfield Tire Shop, S. Pinckney st.

William Mack, 1918 E. Main st., is one of the principal persons interested in the club. It was said this morning that about a dozen or 15 members had been signed up already. The new club provides ample floor space. There is one large room in which a ring and mat will be placed today. There are three other rooms, which can be used for dressing rooms and rooms for recreation.

John Julin and R. Baxter Hall, who recently took the promoting job off Jack Boyd's hands, are preparing to put on their first offering to the Madison fans. According to a number of fans, who have voiced their opinions, it is going to be the best local talent show ever staged. It seems to be to the liking of the ringside devotees that Battling Dummy Roberts has been signed for another match here, as well as that Jack Monohan is to be seen again.

Thirty rounds of boxing is scheduled. Roberts will take on George Carpentier of Colorado fame in the 10-round windup at 167 pounds. Young Goldie of Milwaukee is the opponent picked for Jack Monohan, South Madison mauler. They will mix in an eight round semi at 154 pounds.

Two fast preliminaries are assured for the Julin-Hall combination has signed four boys who have shown their wares before. Jack Bitney meets Kid Harbort in a six round encounter for the second prelim at 138 pounds. The opener will be between Kid Snyder and Young McFarlin at 120 pounds. Tickets are on sale at Fishers, Abaly's and other places around the square, and on State st., and at South Madison billiard parlors.

Griffith is New Head Of Dail

Elected President of Irish Parliament at Session Today

DUBLIN—Arthur Griffith was elected president of the Dail Eireann today.

Eamon De Valera and his followers walked out while the vote was being taken in protest against the nomination of Griffith. Speaker MacNeil put the motion for Griffith's election and he was unanimously chosen.

Griffith moved the appointment of the following: minister of finance, Michael Collins; foreign affairs, George Gavin Duffy; home affairs, Eamon J. Duggan; local government, Wm. T. Cosgrave; economic affairs, Byran O'Higgins; defense, Richard Mulcahy.

After his election Pres. Griffith made this announcement:

"The Dail will continue to exist until the Irish Free state is set up."

Pres. Griffith nominated, and the Dail ratified his cabinet members.

After electing Arthur Griffith president the Dail adjourned late today until Feb. 14, to permit the new government to proceed with carrying out the provisions of the Anglo-Irish treaty.

After bolting the session this morning with his followers in protest against the nomination of Griffith for the presidency Eamon DeValera returned to the afternoon session with the promise of help for Griffith as president of the Dail but not as head of another government.

The Dail resumed its sittings today with the reading by Speaker MacNeill of a cable message from Cardinal Gasparri, on behalf of Pope Benedict, saying his holiness rejoiced with the Irish people at the agreement that had been reached.

Another message read was from the Irish labor party asking the Dail to receive a deputation for a conference regarding the economic and industrial situation.

Michael Collins then rose and said the Dail must organize immediately some form of government to prevent a state of anarchy.

Collins moved that Arthur Griffith, be appointed president of the Dail.

The Irish nation had no captain, continued Collins, who proceeded to tell Dail that he had received a letter from the proprietor of the Cork Examiner saying the management of that newspaper had been held up this morning at 2 o'clock and compelled to publish a proclamation. Collins said he called such methods "Black and Tan methods" whoever employed them.

The proposition to elect Griffith was opposed by John MacIntee, who said he questioned the wisdom of putting up in Griffith a man who was bound by his signature to the treaty to wreck the Irish Republic.

Eamon DeValera asked Griffith whether he intended if elected, to act as the executive of the Republic. The Dail, he said, was representative of the republic and nothing else. Peace was not established by the treaty, he declared, as the struggle for the Republic would continue.

"This body," added DeValera, "has no right to give away its powers unless it is established as a Republican government."

Answering the opposition, Griffith said if elected he would use his position to give effect to the constitutional vote of the Dail to carry out the terms of the treaty.

PHILADELPHIA—Secty. Wallace of the department of agriculture declared in an address that railroad deficits must be met by reductions in operating costs rather than by advances in rates.

Chicago is Center of Pottery, Glass and Lamp Display

Prohibition Said to Stimulate Manufacture of Glassware

Prohibition put the breweries, distilleries and saloons out of business but it has proven a boon to the manufacturers of whiskey, wine and beer glasses. More of these have been made and sold since the United States became a Sahara than in the heyday of John Barleycorn. This fact will be one of the sensations brought out at the Chicago exhibit of pottery and glass to be held February 6 to 18 at the Hotel Morrison under the auspices of the Glass Pottery, Lamps and House Furnishings association, which will occupy one million square feet of exhibit space covering eight floors of the hotel. Buyers from every state in the union will come here for the first exhibit of its kind held in Chicago, according to John F. Bowman, president of the association.

Comprehensive Display

According to President Bowman, the combined display in all the lines of glass, china, lamps and house furnishings will be the most comprehensive ever shown and it is expected that a thousand buyers will be in Chicago from all parts of the United States during the period of the exposition. The war proved a boon to the American manufacture of glass and pottery and many novelties will be exhibited. More glass and pottery are made in America now than ever before and this exhibit enables the buyers in a few days, under a single roof, to see what they could not see in an entire year of travel. The purpose of the Chicago exhibit is to bring buyers and sellers together. Exhibitors will have exhibits from every state where glass and pottery are made. The lamp and house furnishings display also will be most comprehensive. Exhibitors will come especially from Pennsylvania to the Pacific coast, particularly from Ohio, West Virginia, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and Indiana. An immense representation of buyers is expected from the states of Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri, and Kentucky, but nearly every state will be represented.

Violin Made of Matches Displayed At Madison Store

A unique violin, made entirely of matches and tooth picks is on display in the Forbes-Meagher piano store window on W. Main st. The instrument was made by William Robinson of Lodi and is the property of a Mt. Horeb jeweler. There are 7,000 toothpicks in the violin and 6,280 matches, according to Mr. Robinson. It took him three months to make it. The matches and toothpicks appear to be glued together. The instrument is of the usual shape and the odd case has been varnished a little. The tone of the violin is soft and mellow.

SIGMA DELT TO AGAIN PUBLISH PROM CARDINAL

Group Functions and Guests Should Be Compiled For MacInnis

For the third successive year members of Sigma Delta Chi, men's professional journalistic fraternity will publish a Prom edition of the Daily Cardinal, to be run off on the night of the big dance and delivered to the boxes in the capitol.

The first issue was published in 1920 when Leonard Erikson was president of the organization. That year the presses were ready to start at 12:45 a. m. and the papers, 4500 in number, were distributed to all boxes and sold to dancers on the floor by 1:30. Last year the group headed by Henry C. Dennis perfected its machinery and got a 24-page edition on the floor shortly after one o'clock, the presses being set in motion at 12:40 a. m.

Popular Features Kept

Those features of the issue which in previous years have proved so popular will be repeated this year, embracing particularly the picture of the Prom-goers just after the grand march, complete lists of those in attendance, social items on all Prom events, reviews of the pre-Prom play, cartoons, quantities of Skyrockets, feature articles, interviews, and everything that goes to make up a novel and attractive souvenir of the occasion.

"Prom from inside the lines" is the motto that will carry the journalists about their duties of getting every available scrap of news, scandal and "gore" concerning the climactic event on Wisconsin's social calendar.

Orders by Groups

Letters telling about the edition and post card order blanks are being sent out now to all groups and organizations who will entertain with Prom parties and occupy boxes. To these the papers will be delivered hot off the presses. There will be no other delivery of the issue except as special orders are received.

Groups are urged to prepare a summary of their Prom activities and lists of their guests as early as possible and mail to C. P. MacInnis, 131 Langdon street.

Every member of Sigma Delta Chi will have a part in publishing the Prom edition. Those who have assumed the responsibility of giving Prom-goers a paper full of the most inside details are the following:

Charles D. Byrne, Robert W. Desmond, Walter H. Ebling, George W. Greene, Kenneth H. Jacobson, Harry B. Lyford, Charles P. MacInnis, Brude R. McCoy, Ivan H. Peterman, William M. Sale, Sterling H. Tracy, Rodney C. Welsh, Douglas H. Woodworth, Roy L. French, G. Lowell Geiger, Charles J. Lewin, H. Hickman Powell, Hubert F. Townsend.

TAKE SIDES ON PARTY ISSUES SAYS DR. ELLIS

President National Republican Committee Urges Loyalty and Teamwork in Speech

Be a stump speaker and a party man, was the message brought to the many students who filled the auditorium of the Biology building late yesterday afternoon by Dr. Horace Ellis, president of the national republican committee, who spoke on "Drafting a Party Program." Prof. Arnold B. Hall, of the Political Science department, introduced the speaker.

Dr. Ellis praised highly the Political Science department, saying that he was certain such departments will do much toward forming a nucleus for a new patriotism which is bound to grow. He characterized party politics and government as a man's game with a man's rules to be played in a man's ways. Party politics teaches men to take sides and be loyal to those sides.

"I wouldn't think much of the student at the University of Wisconsin who was sorry that Northwestern didn't lick Wisconsin last night," said Dr. Ellis. "This loyalty that you have in school life is much the same as party politics develops. Men are at their best when they are working with their fellows. Team work is the great psychological force. A party man learns how to play team work. He learns how to take defeat—to take victory. The man who loses and goes down with a chip on his shoulder is not a good citizen."

In discussing the average politician, Dr. Ellis said that the politician is not, as he is often portrayed to be, a selfish, crooked man. Dr. Ellis said that most all of the politicians who have come in contact with him have been men of the highest ideals. The majority of politicians are rich simply because it takes a rich man to make the sacrifices and give the amount of time that politics takes.

In discussing some great party leaders, Dr. Ellis said, "There never was a greater party man than Senator Tom Taggart, the great Democratic leader from my own native state of Indiana, whose advice you students might well heed throughout all your lives, 'Don't overestimate the strength of your adversary.' Mark Hanna, another man who was lampooned and cartooned as wearing checkered trousers with a dollar sign on every checker, was one of the greatest men this country ever had. Your own good senator from Wisconsin, Senator Spooner, was held up in the senate as being the source of the last word in law and diplomacy. I don't see why Wisconsin ever removed him from power."

Dr. Ellis outlined the task of drafting a party program and running a party convention. He also discussed the duties and characteristics of a party chairman. Many interesting sidelights were told in regard to conventions and political debates.

Dr. Ellis was superintendent of public schools in Indiana, president of a Normal school, president of a university, special representative of the Republican National committee and president of the committee. He has acted as special advisor in regard to drawing up party programs for four years.
