“. . . where the free spir it prevails.”

Dr. Marion E. Hawkins

In dedicating the 1966 MELETEAN to Marion Hawkins, the members of the staff intend to show their recognition of her contributions to Wisconsin State University—River Falls both as a student and as a teacher.

In 1938, Miss Hawkins graduated from the University, culminating her first busy college years. She was active in the G.O.P., Masquers, Pi Kappa Delta, the Student Senate, oratory, debate, the MELETEAN, and the STUDENT VOICE. She holds a gold "R" from the Honor Society.

A member of the River Falls faculty since 1948, Dr. Hawkins has been a member of the board of directors of the River Falls State University Foundation since it was formed and has served as chairman or co-chairman of the Faculty Alumni Relations Committee for many years.

She has directed the English program for foreign students for thirteen years and has been faculty advisor of the Foreign Students' Association since 1960. She has also advised the Newman Club on campus. For ten years, she directed the forensics program at River Falls. She was governor of the Upper Mississippi province of Pi Kappa Delta, a national forensics honorary society and holds a degree of special distinction from that group.

Locally, she is active in church work and in the Business and Professional Women's Club. From the latter she was chosen Outstanding Woman of the Year for 1965.

Miss Hawkins shows great concern for each and every student in her classes. In appreciation for her concern and thoughtfulness, we dedicate the 1966 MELETEAN to Dr. Marion E. Hawkins.

WISCONSIN STATE UNIVERSITY-
RIVER FALLS
RIVER FALLS, WISCONSIN

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

Dear Student:

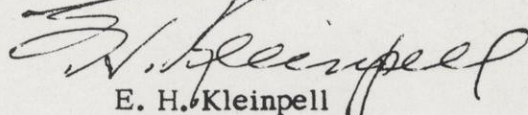

It is likely that the era in which this yearbook is published will be seen by future historians as a season of change. Transition from one viewpoint to another, from one technique to another, from one set of "facts" to another has come with such speed as to cause a kind of cultural vertigo.

Our colleges and universities have not been immune to this effect. However, much is expected of higher education. While many of the basic discoveries that have led to the current "revolutions" going on about us have their origins on our campuses, the university is called upon to provide stability -- to act as a gyroscope -- when society itself is disoriented.

This is the meaning of education -- to permit men to choose intelligently from alternatives, to retain objectivity when emotions are involved, to resist being harassed into precipitate action, and to become leaders in change toward constructive goals.

The University at River Falls is engaged in this endeavor of setting the pattern for change. Often this will come through progress along previously established paths. Other changes will involve departures in new directions. But at River Falls all change must be directed toward one aim -- the achievement and maintenance of excellence in education. Within the limits of our resources, we must determine to challenge the best in each individual and produce graduates prepared for a world in which change has become a way of life.

Sincerely yours,

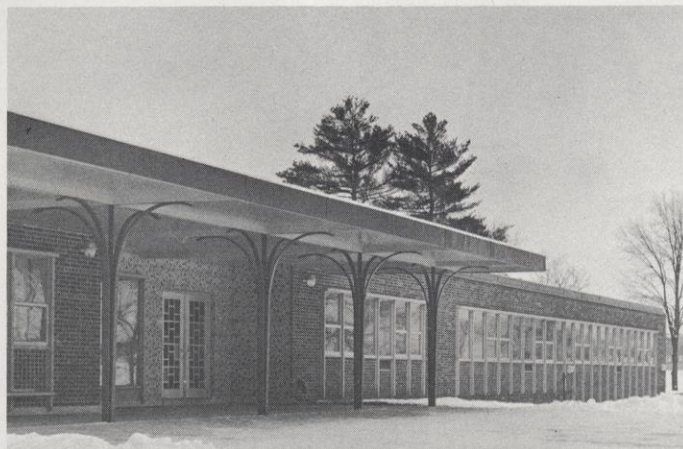

E. H. Kleinpell
President

Paths
to Learning

Wisconsin State University
River Falls

Ames Laboratory School

Chalmer Davee Library

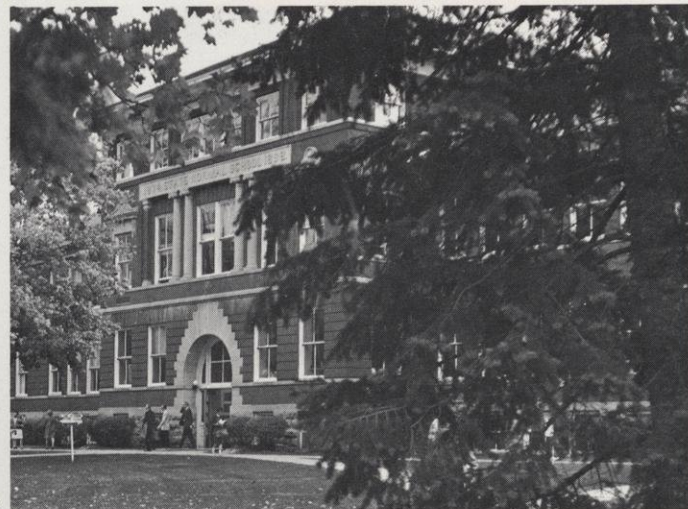

Paths lead in all directions at Wisconsin State University—River Falls. From dorm to classroom, library to student center, laboratory to dorm, they criss-cross, branch out and converge.

Many of the paths were planned; some were added as necessity arose. Most are covered with concrete, in the fond belief that students will use sidewalks, when provided, instead of the manicured lawns that cover the River Falls campus.

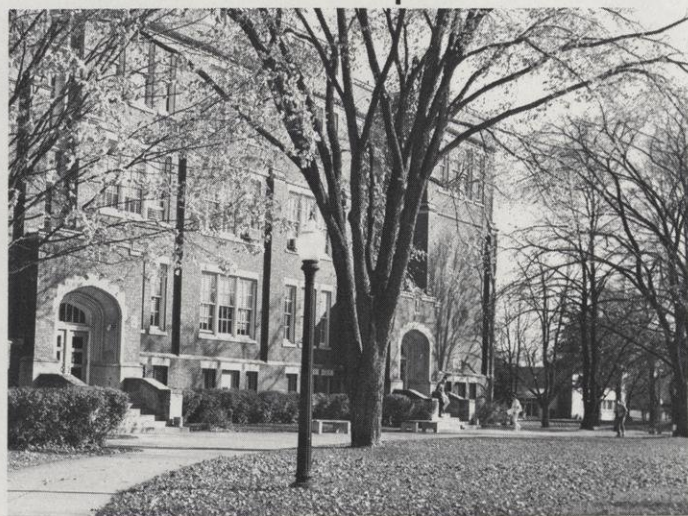

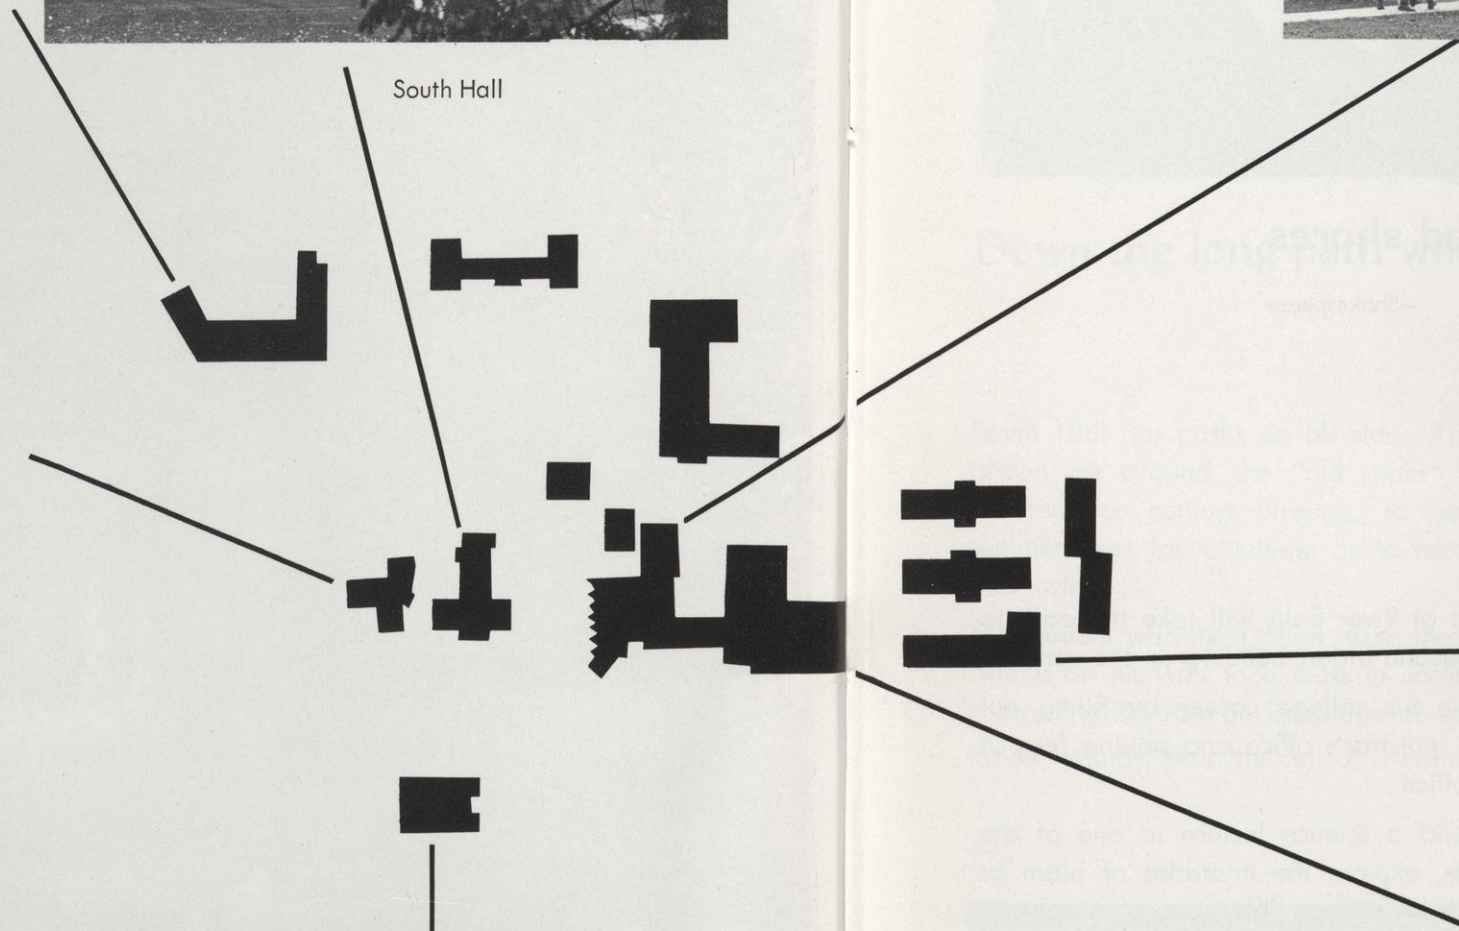

But always there is the student who must make his own course, stepping out from the beaten path, sometimes finding a short cut, sometimes detouring, but making his own way to his goal.

For such a student does Wisconsin State University—River Falls exist.

The free spirit of inquiry is no empty phrase at River Falls. The student chooses or makes his own path.

So many paths
that wind
and wind

—Wilcox

To unpathed waters, undreamed shores

—Shakespeare

Every student at River Falls will take the path to North Hall, second oldest building on the campus. He will begin his college career by filling out forms at the registrar's office and paying fees at the business office.

He may attend a science lecture in one of the amphitheatres, explore the mysteries of plant or animal life in the biology lab, concoct a mysterious potion in the chemistry lab, listen to the click of a geiger counter in the radiation lab, try to keep one step ahead of a computer in math classes.

He may hear famous artists in concert or lecture in the auditorium or appear on its stage with the Concert Choir or Symphonic Band.

He may go to the Dean's office for counseling or pay a friendly visit to the President's office.

Down the long path where beauty wends

—Gogarty

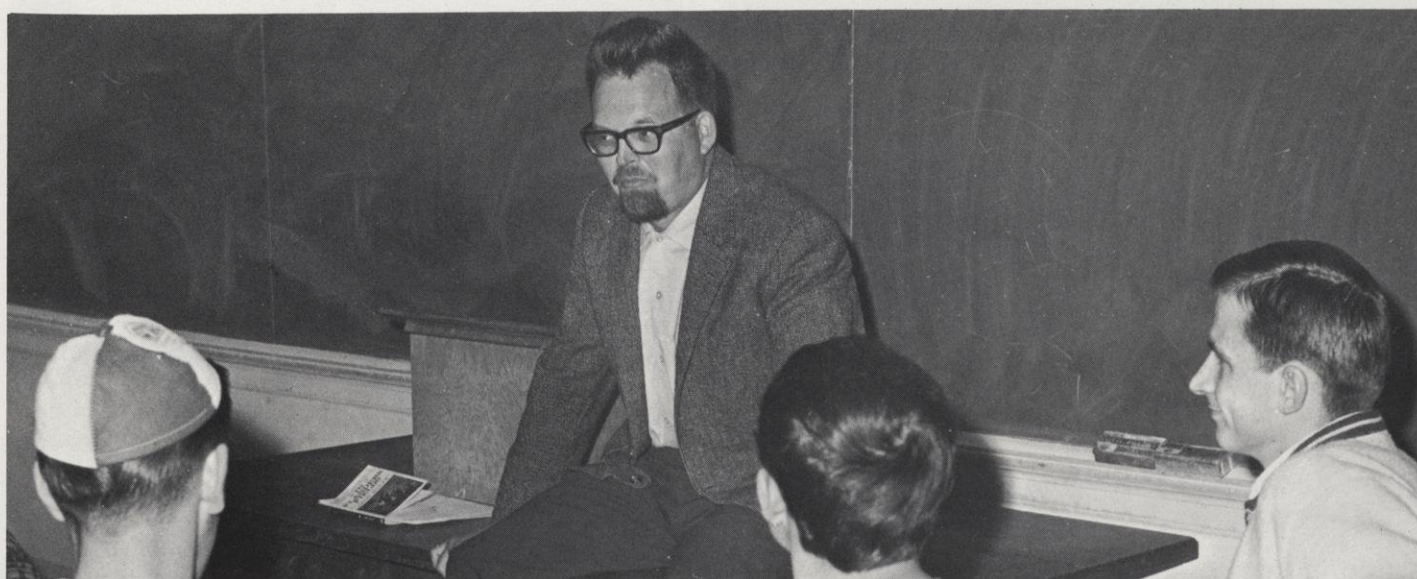

South Hall has paths on all sides. The campus has grown up around the "old main" building, well situated for cutting through, to get out of the summer heat for a minute or to escape the biting north wind.

The student who most often takes the path to South Hall is on his way to a class in social science, art, music, English, foreign language or speech.

Inside he may hear the call of a French horn or the ripple of a piano concerto; he may eavesdrop on "Resolved: That the United States. . . ." In the art room, flooded by the high windows with the coveted north light, he will see easels splashed with unbelievable arrays of color. He will struggle with putting his thoughts on paper in an English classroom.

They are a creative lot, the people who take the path to South Hall.

Books are paths that upward lead

—Poulsson

So much more than a repository for books, the Chalmer Davee Library answers many needs of the student who takes the path to its stone and glass entrance.

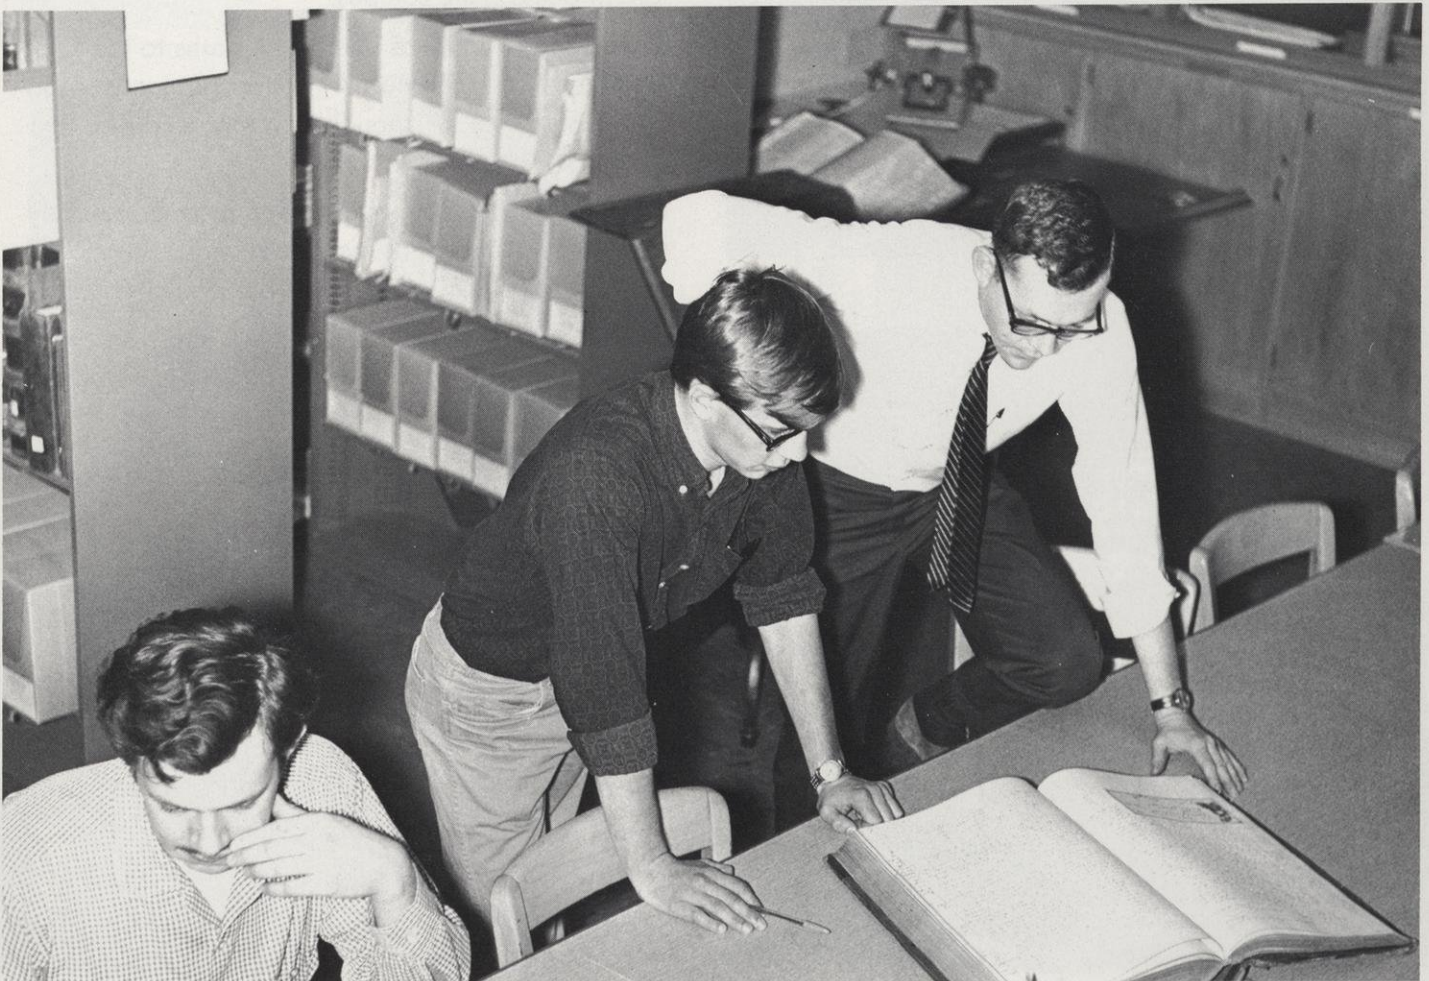

In the three-story stack room he can find the volumes he needs for many a term paper or speech.

In the reading room, reference room or browsing room he can find the materials and the atmosphere for concentrated study.

Downstairs in the Area Research Center he can find documents, photographs and memorabilia that tell of the early history of his state.

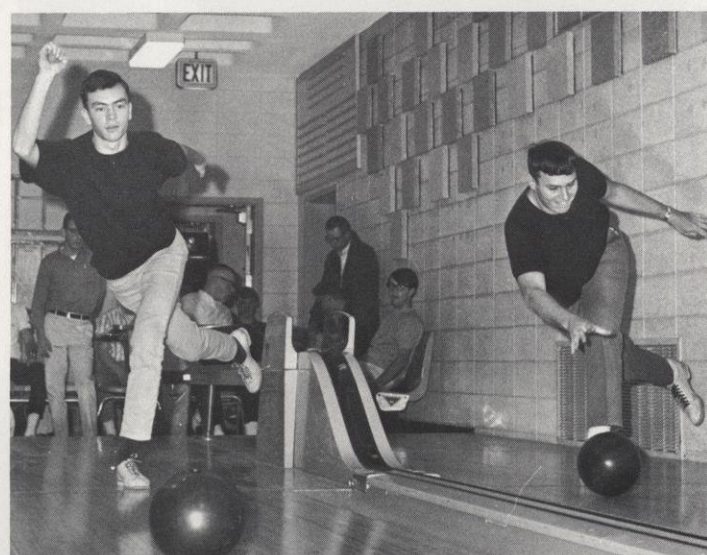

He may listen to records, borrow a typewriter or view microfilms of materials not otherwise available.

And in the Little Theatre, with its jewel-box auditorium, he can escape into the land of make-believe, either on the stage or in the audience.

You trod the golden paths of youth

—Buchan

Aptly named because it is centrally situated and the heart of the University's social life, the Student Center is surrounded by paths leading to all other points on the campus.

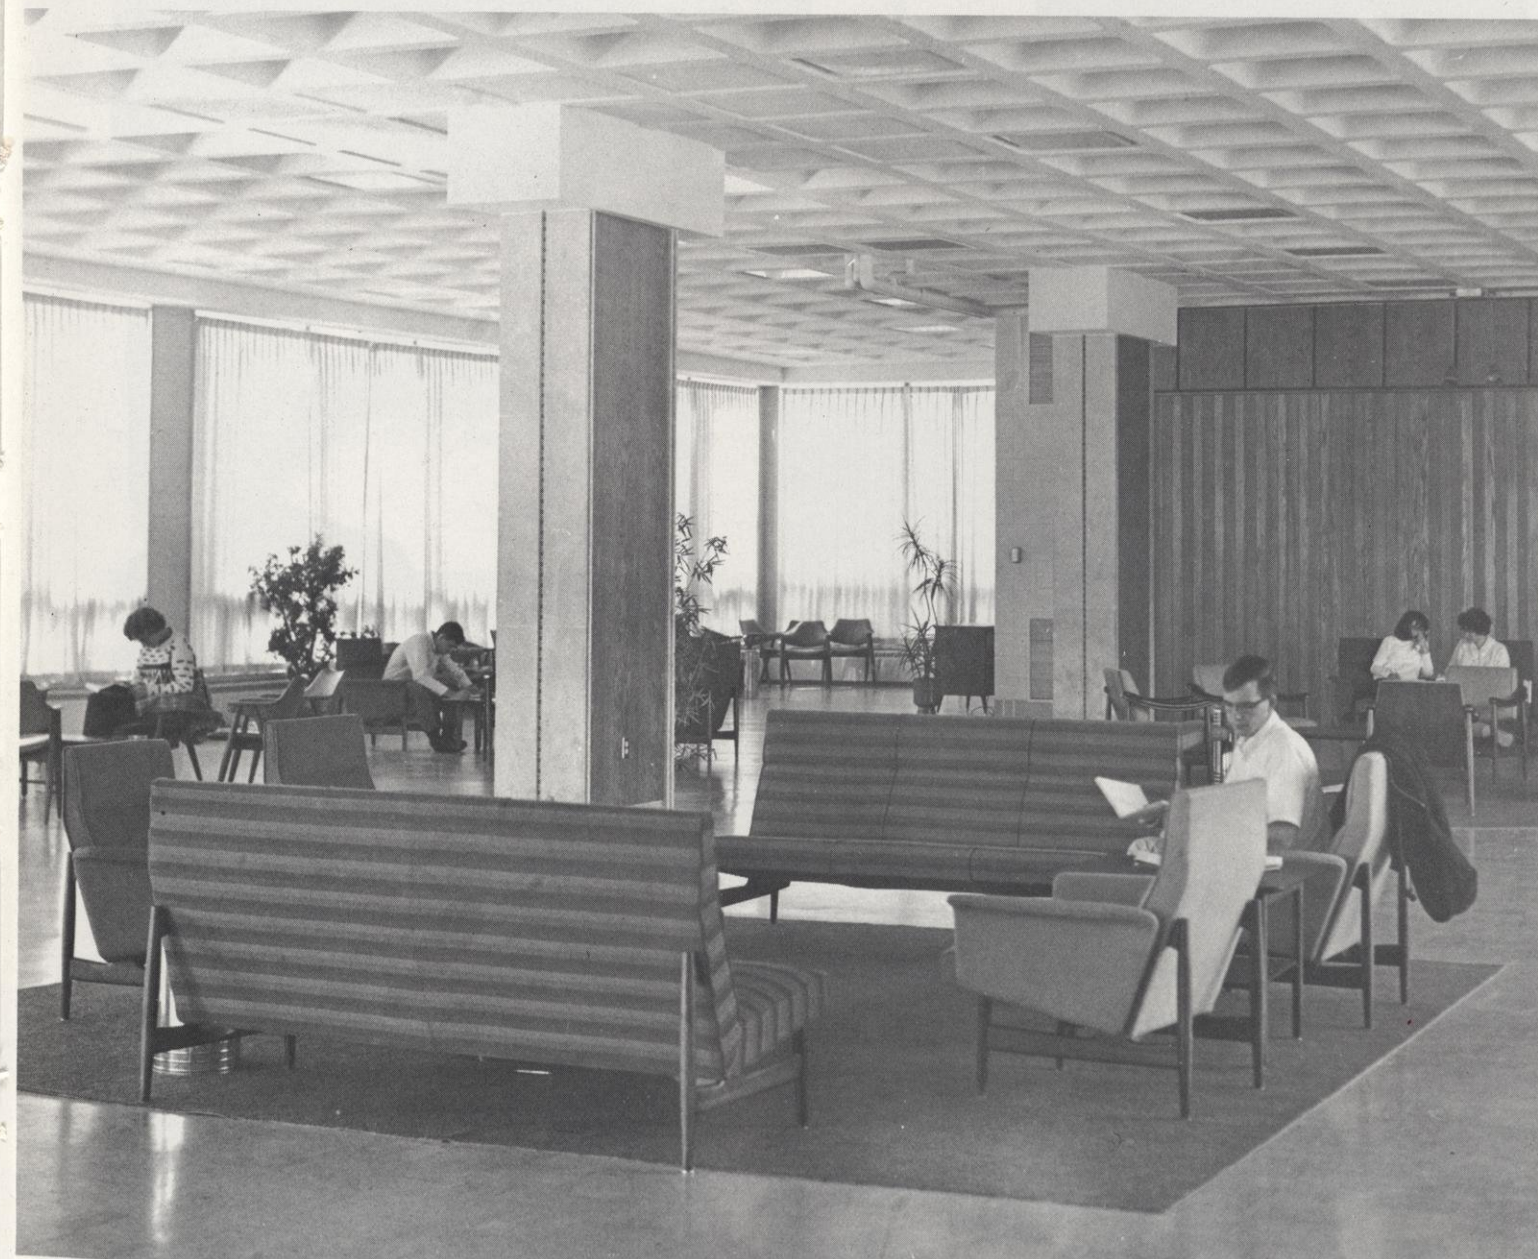

The student who takes one of the paths to the Center is in search of one or more basic needs: food (for sustenance or thought), companionship, recreation or recognition.

In the Falcon's Cage, over coffee or coke, he may discuss the fate of the world or tomorrow night's date, or he may indulge in a bit of girl-watching while the juke-box throbs.

In the recreation area, between classes, he can while away an hour in the bowling alleys or at the pool tables, or he may go to the lounge to read in peace and quiet or just to sit.

On special occasions he will don formal attire (a jacket and a tie) and take his best girl to a dance in the ballroom.

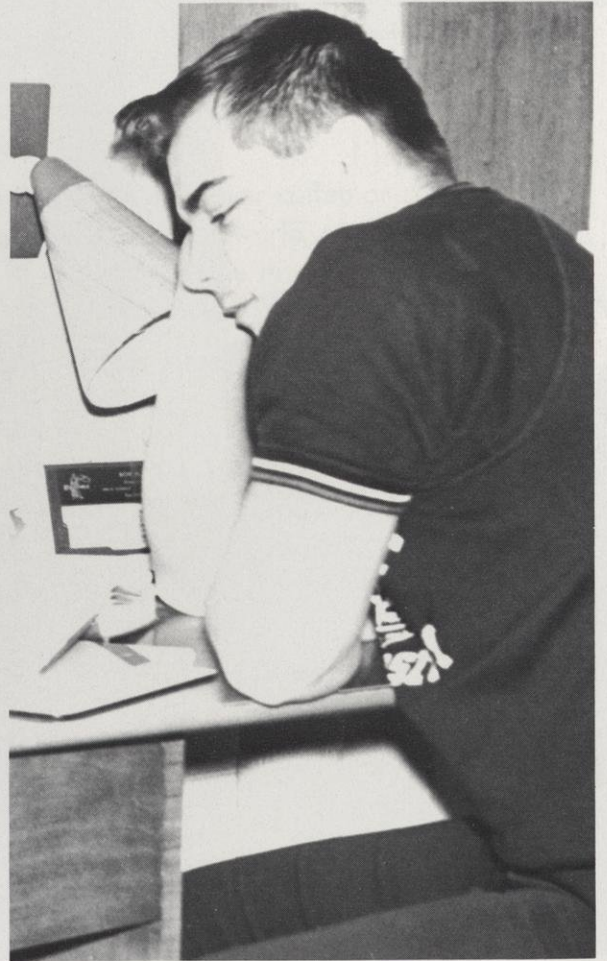

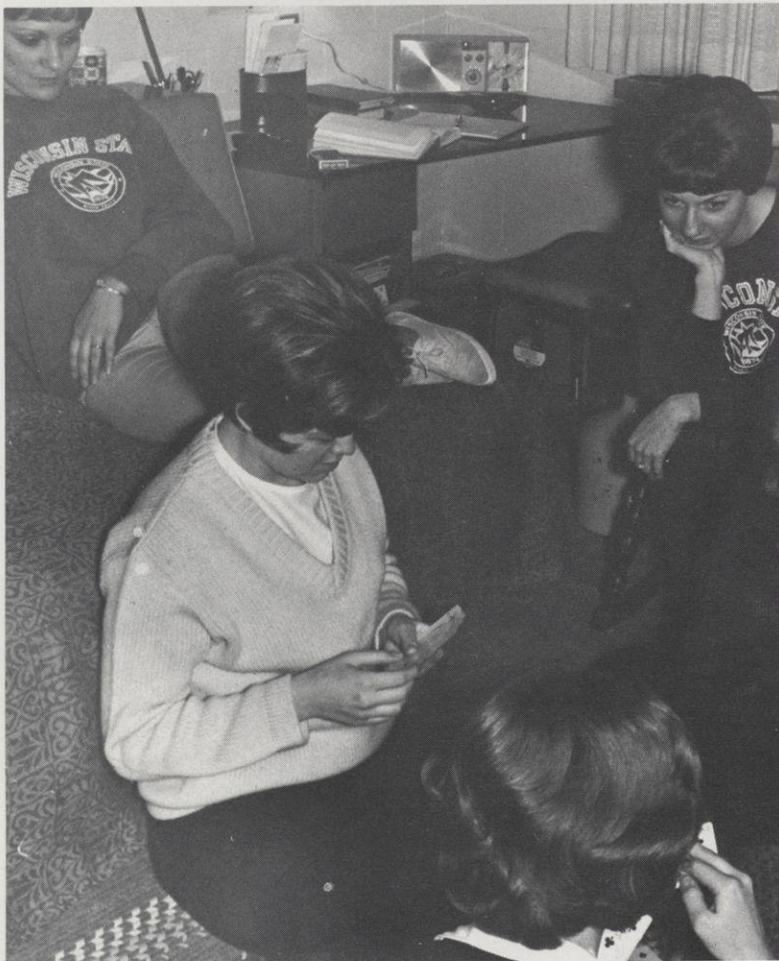

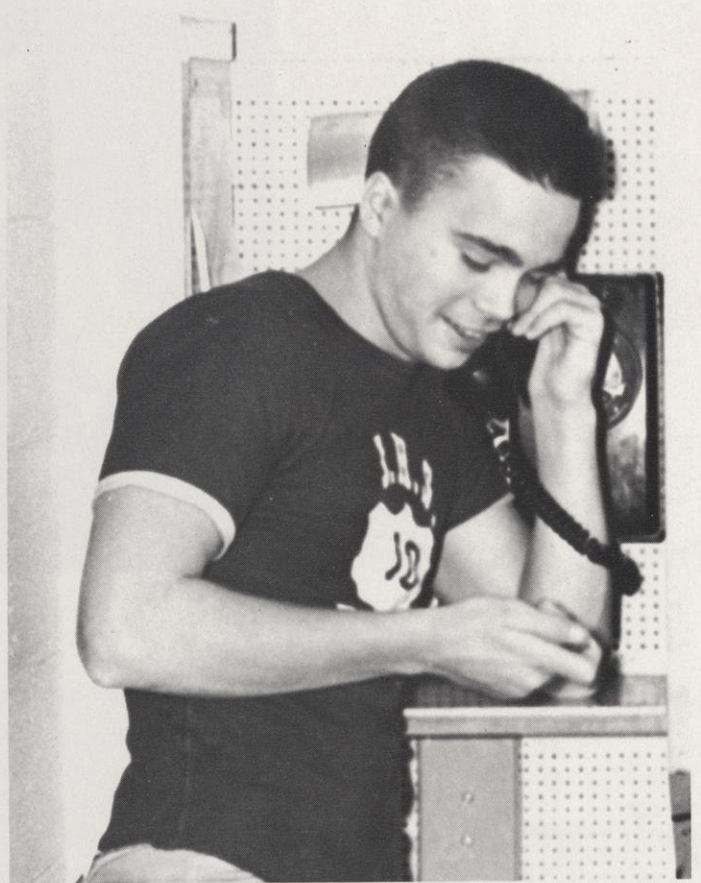

He will find recognition for his special talents in the meeting rooms of the student government, the many organizations, publications and fraternal societies.

And our paths in the world
diverged so wide

—Browning

Late in the evening and early in the morning, all paths lead to and from the dorms.

The assumption by outsiders that dormitories are for sleeping and studying meets with pitying amusement from the students. To them, the dorm is a way of life.

In the residence halls scattered around the perimeter of the River Falls campus, students form life-long friendships, discuss and "solve" the world's problems, broaden their outlooks by contact with other customs and viewpoints.

Over boxes from home, bull sessions and gab fests cover myriad topics, from dates to deities.

Good natured horseplay relieves muscles cramped from long hours in classroom, laboratory or library. The all-important telephone rings and rings.

Each night at the signing-in hour, the women's dorms are stampeded with students returning from dates, concerts, the library, the big game—rushing to meet the deadline.

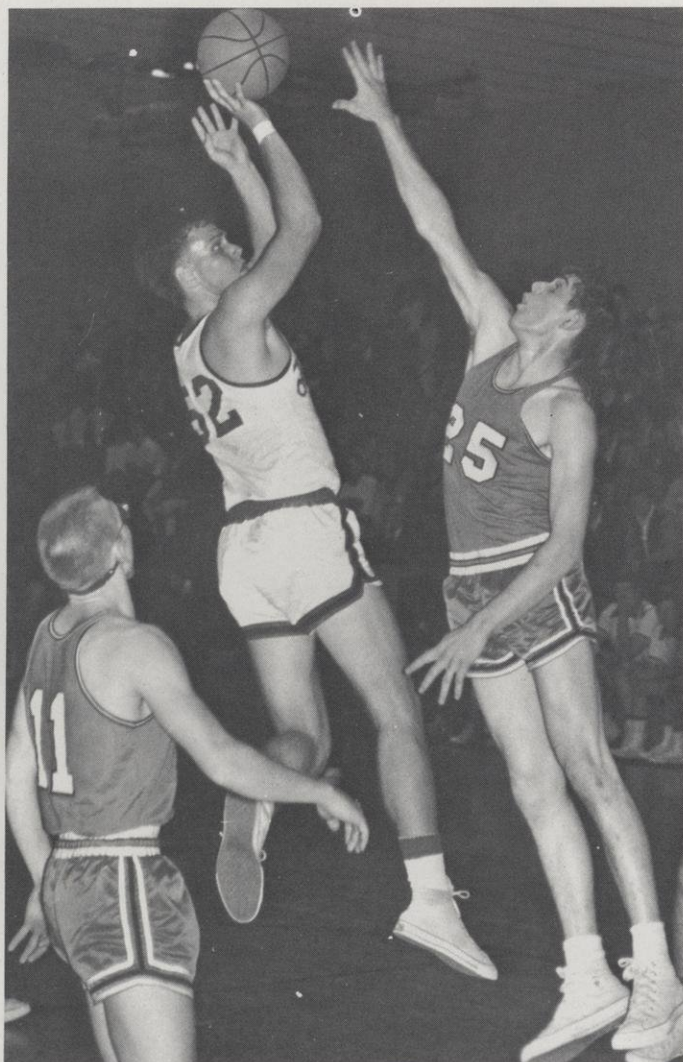

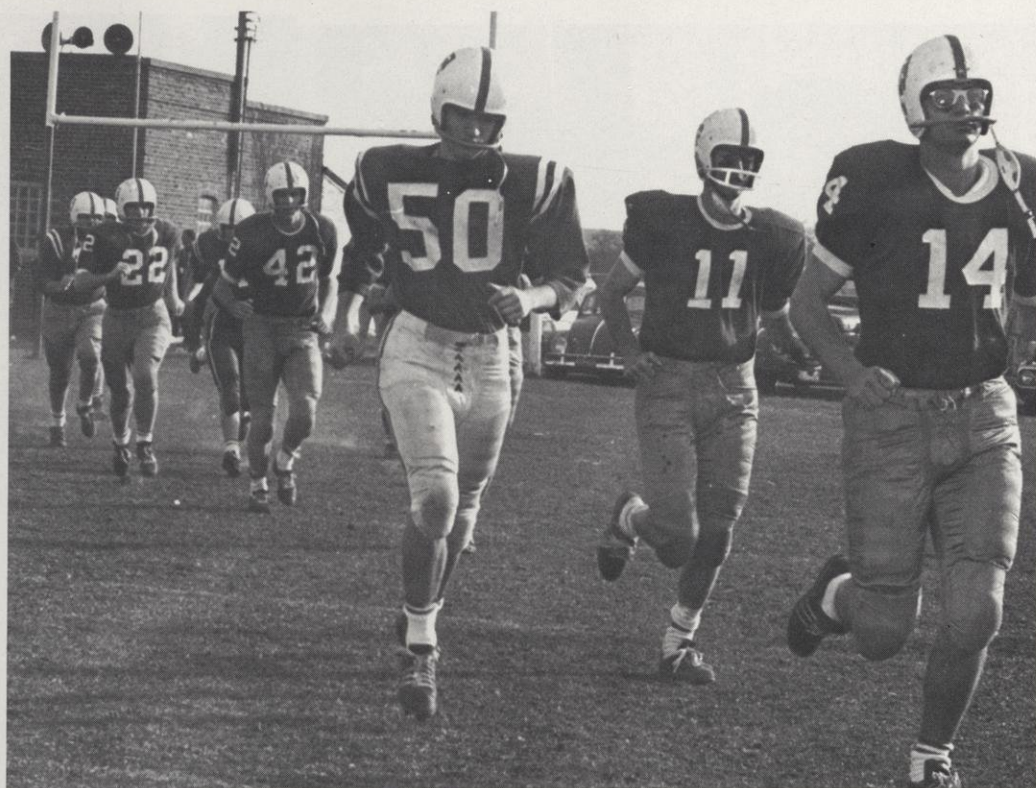

At Christmas time the dorms blaze with lights as dorm vies with dorm, corridor with corridor, room with room, to win the honor of "best decorated." Parties and open house receptions fill the week before the students depart for home and two weeks of vacation.

These things the student remembers, tending to take for granted the necessary duties: cramming for a mid-quarter or final, typing a term paper, writing home, keeping one's personal belongings in order.

Paths to learning lead also to the dorms.

for toil,
An hour
for sport

—Emerson

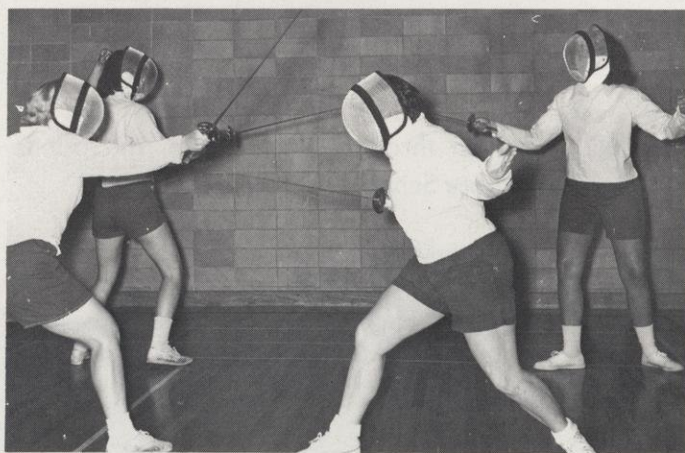

On many campuses it is known as "the gym" but at River Falls the students say they are "going over to Karges."

Karges Physical Education and Recreation Center can be reached by many paths—by cutting through the Student Center, by taking a shortcut across campus from the dorms to the rear entrance.

But the best way to enter Karges is through the front door, pausing to look up at the north outside wall, adorned with the giant bronze Falcon that is a symbol of the University.

Once inside, the student may attend a physical education lecture or a laboratory class in golf, swimming, bowling, archery, tumbling, fencing, or any number of team or individual sports.

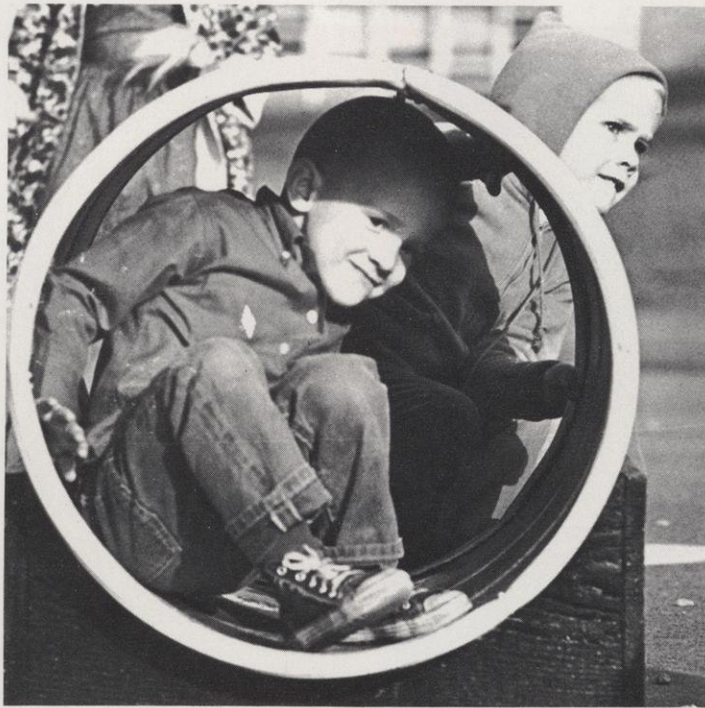

He may attend or participate in a swimming meet, a basketball game, a wrestling match.

He may watch the football squad loping off to the practice field or limping back again.

In the gymnasium he may mingle with crowds too big for the regular auditorium, to hear such famous speakers as Vance Packard or Arthur Schlesinger, Jr., or such musical programs as a concert by the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

And the goal he has been working toward will be reached when, in mortarboard and gown, he joins a processional to Karges and marches across the stage to receive his diploma.

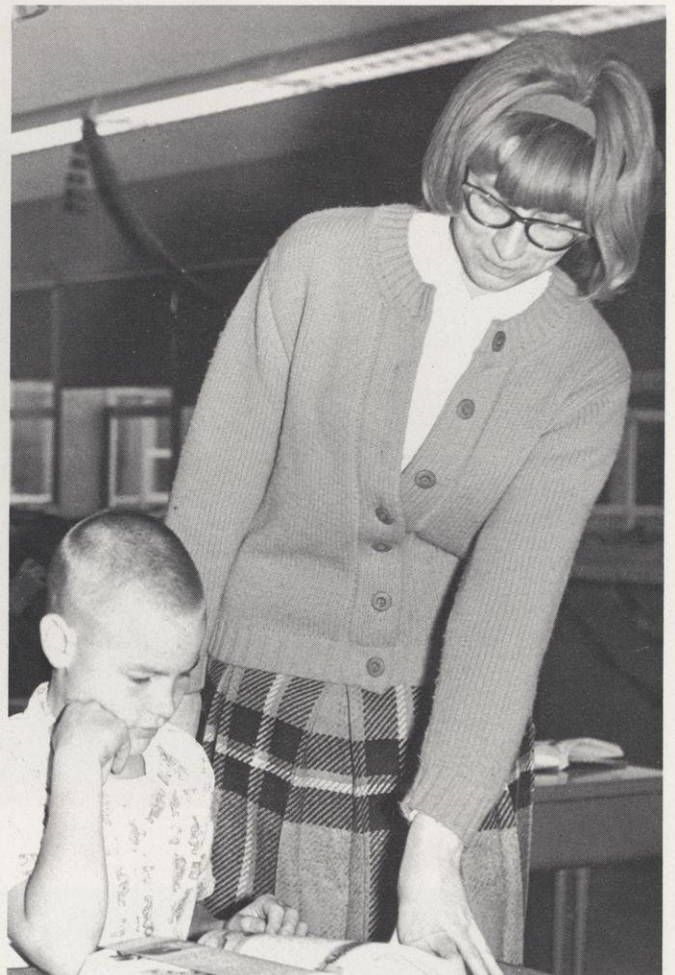

A teacher affects eternity

—Adams

From kindergarten through ninth grade, the pupils at Ames Laboratory School learn from specialists.

River Falls students who take the path to "the lab school" are usually elementary education majors. Inside the fully equipped, self-contained school building they observe instructors' teaching techniques and pupils' reactions. Or they may watch classroom procedure on closed circuit television.

They take their turns at helping pupils or conducting classes.

Watching children at work and at play is one of the rewards of students dedicated to the teaching profession.

Although perhaps not yet aware of it as they take the paths to the agriculture and agricultural engineering buildings, some River Falls students will soon be involved in problems of feeding the world's millions.

In the laboratories they investigate improvements for growing conditions of plant and animal life. On the laboratory farm they see the results of their studies.

In the engineering building they delve into the innards of farm machinery, construct plans for improved farm buildings.

In the classroom they plan ways to pass on their knowledge to younger students.

Ag students at River Falls can choose from more than 500 types of jobs.

Happy they whose walls already rise

—Virgil

When the new five-story science building, yet to be named, is completed, science students will beat paths to its doors. More than 20 laboratories, a planetarium and a greenhouse will help River Falls students keep up with the world's advances in agricultural, biological, earth and mathematical sciences.

DETOUR

Paths to learning are not direct. They take all kinds of detours—for splash parties in the South Fork, giant snow structures, ski trips, protest marches, computer dance, and other unacademic antics.

Campus organizations play a major role in generating enthusiasm for trips over these interesting side roads. The following pages show some photographic highlights of side trips taken during 1965-66.

ORGANIZATIONS

Senators Taube and Shaffer consider legislation as Mullen (with glasses) and Rasmussen (back to camera) look on.

The Student Senate

At the head of the student government at River Falls is the Student Senate—eleven Senators elected by the students in campus elections. Four of the Senators are presidents of their respective school year classes. Seven Senators are elected "at large." The Senate elects its own president and other officers.

The Student Senate is responsible for the allocation of funds for students activities. They act, in conjunction with the President of the University, to allot the budgets for athletics, convocations, the student publications, and, among other things, for forensics.

This year the Senate handled a record high budget of $100,000, continued to act as the watchdog on student organizations, and to act as the defender of student rights.

From the Student Voice, Sept. 27,

Student Senate, Kleinpell OK Record $100,000 Budget

In a special Wednesday night meeting the Student Senate gave final approval to a record $100,000 budget for the 1965-66 school year. This year's budget represents a $20,800 increase over last year's expenditure.

Sen. Marilyn Neilsen moved to accept the budget after a brief discussion of the allotments. Senators David Taube and Dennis Mueller opposed passage of the budget. After the meeting Taube said, "I've never seen people vote for something they knew so little about."

Faculty advisers of departments and activities had appeared before the Senate Monday night to present and explain their budget requests.

Explaining the cut in the athletic budget, Tom Schaffer, Senate president said, "We all have to learn to live within our budgets sometime."

He also announced that President Kleinpell will allocate $1,000 to Fine Arts to complete their allotment.

In other money matters the Senate voted $50 to Sigma Alpha Eta to cover traveling expenses to the speech and hearing convention in Chicago, Oct. 30 through Nov. 2.

Tom Socha requested $150 from the Senate for the "College Countryman", a publication of the agricultural college. The publication is published twice a year and sent to all alumni of the Ag. School. Senator Taube moved to table the request until tonight's meeting when further discussion will be heard.

Constitution Questioned

In other action Sen. Taube moved to suspend the constitution of the Associated Women Students (AWS). Quoting from a publication of the Civil Liberties Union, he said that the function of an advisor is to advise only. He also said that AWS as a part of student government should not be under pressure from the Deans' Office. His motion was defeated.

Sen. Taube also went on record as opposing the regulation ... requiring campus organizations to report their memberships to that office. He claimed that such a record was harmful to members of some organizations, like Young Socialists, when these members apply for jobs.

Union Activities Board Sponsor Top Films

The Union Activities Board of River Falls State concerns itself with various activities including bringing the best films possible to the campus. Among these feature films were "Bye Bye Birdie," "Pillow Talk," and "Diamond Head."

Union Activities Board promotes other social activities such as the annual LuAu, the games tournament, and the scheduling of all social activities in the student center.

Work is also being done in an attempt to acquire a permanent art collection in the art gallery downstairs in the student center.

Its committees are responsible for sign regulations, assisting with Winter Carnival functions, art exhibits in the student center, decorating the student center for special occasions, and maintaining high food standards at WSU-River Falls.

Organization officers include Bob Linaberry, chairman; Stan Johnson, vice-chairman; Carol Fuhs, secretary; and Dan Anderson, treasurer.

The Legislative Action Committee acts in cooperation with the other University campuses through the United Council to promote and safeguard student rights. The Legislative Action Committee has arranged a series of open forums to re-examine student rights.

All legislative material which is presented to the Student Senate is also scrutinized by this committee. Research into senate concerns include the off-campus housing situation, academic standards for student government positions and the Viet Nam policy.

The chairman of the Legislative Action Committee is Don Genrich while Gordon Hendrickson is vice-chairman.

Week. The slogan this year was "We Shall See Shell." Their project this year was to raise funds to finish construction of the South Fork amphitheater.

Associated Women Students

The Associated Women Students is a unique organization due to the fact that it is both a governing body and a social organization. All women students are required to belong to AWS by virtue of a $1.00 fee assessed each quarter at registration.

As a governing body the AWS Board makes all rules and regulations, subject to the approval of the Associate Dean of Students, that apply to women students. As a social organization AWS sponsors a freshman tea and a Valentine's dance annually.

Kappa Delta Psi Auctions Slaves

Pledges get revenge on actives by tying them and forcing them to parade around campus.

This active organization scored highest among the other sororities in the contest to determine the top social organization on campus held during homecoming.

An auction was held by Kappa Delta Psi during spring quarter featuring unusual items provided by famous movie stars and faculty members. "Slaves," a term used here to denote their sorority pledges, were sold to the highest bidder.

In order to win Phi Nu Chi has to work as a group. This is evidently what they did, for Phi Nu Chi was always near the top in every event participated in during the year. Here Phi Nu Chi is constructing their snow sculpture in front of Karges Center.

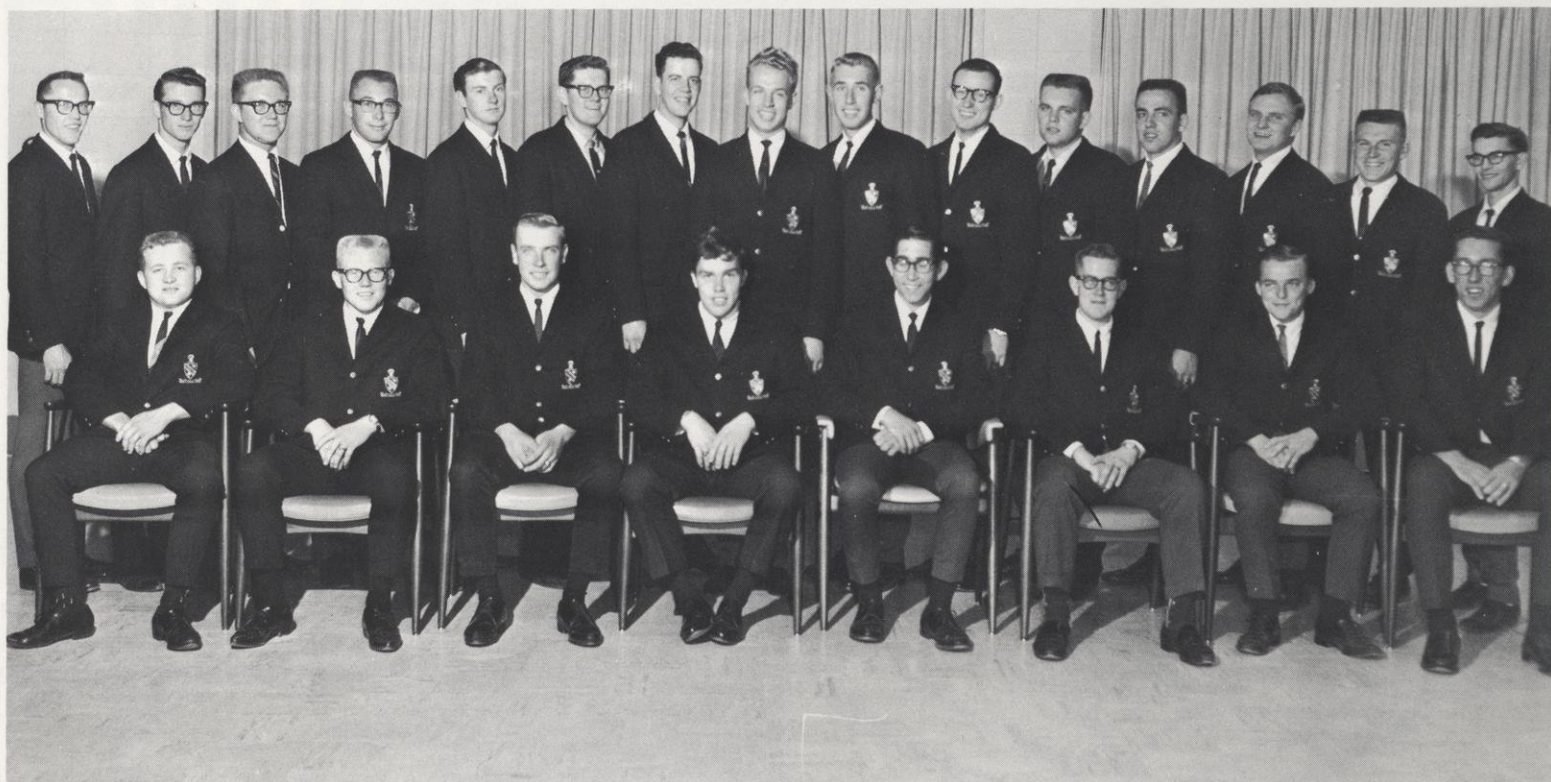

Putting the finishing touches on their lawn display are Phi Nu Chi members John Gilbert, Dan Anderson, Jack Brown, Dave Outcalt and Dan Welsh. The display was good enough to give the group another first in homecoming competition.

Busily engaged in their search are these members of Cherchez Le Coupables (search for the culprit). The organization took time out from its manhunts to sponsor forums, discussions, panels and debates on controversial campus and world issues. Louis Feldhammer, neatly centered, is the advisor of Cherchez. He is surrounded by (clockwise from the foreground) Dave Taube, Libby Miller, Chuck Lee, Buckley Gilk, Roger Chapin, Bill Paterek, Marily Nielsen. Attending "Zorba The Greek" when this picture was taken were Mike Brecke, Warren Wolfe and Ann Yoost. Jean McEwen, the other member, was ill.

Meletean photographers, undoubtedly unable to sleep nights, conducted a little "search" of their own which resulted in the capture of the remaining members who were photographed in the student publications office. They claim they are searching, but many staff members suspect that they are merely helping the janitors clean the floor. Pictured are: Ann Yoost, Mike Brecke, Jean McEwen, Jim L'Allier, Marilyn Calentine.

“Meletean Responsibility”:

(From The Student Voice, September 12, 1966, as edited on February 18, 1967, with 43 pages of this yearbook yet to be prepared.)

"The VOICE is a learning device . . . It must be used to teach responsibility."

The above statement was made by Donald Brod in his "open letter" (to this issue). Yet, it applies very directly to the Meletean staff as well as the VOICE staff.

Considering the fact that the '65-'66 Meletean annual did not come out in the spring, and considering the fact that the '65-'66 Meletean annual did not come out in the fall of the year, and finally, the fact that we can only guess when it will come out (maybe winter quarter), leads one to the conclusion that a sense of responsibility was not developed by the Meletean staff.

. . . Often times the trial and error method is the only way many people learn.

But if the only way to learn is by error, then why didn't the staff learn a sense of responsibility in the spring when the annual failed to meet deadlines? Why didn't the staff learn a sense of responsibility when emergency summer deadlines weren't made?

Good luck on meeting emergency fall deadlines . . . your record doesn't look very promising. . . .

The Student Voice celebrated its fiftieth year of publication in 1966. As one can tell from reading the content of some of the old editions on the next three pages, the Voice has gone through as much of a change as Wisconsin State University itself. If, in 1916, the paper printed "locals" (next page) of the caliber of gossip, and headlines attributing departures to "Old Man Winter" in 1926 (pp. 118-119), the 1966 version was more the "watchdog" of student life. (See pp. 120-121.)

It may be of interest to some of the students to know that A. M. (Adolphus Montague) Sanderson, assistant business manager of the Meletean, enrolled for a course at the Nichols Expert School of Business, before coming to the Normal. The Nichols school, so we are told, occupies the entire third floor of the Essex Building 23 E. 6th St. St. Paul, Minn. The Business School has a high standing. It is said to be one of the best of its kind in the northwest section. The Senior class appreciates the help which Mr. Sanderson, because of this course, has been enabled to render to the school.

CLAPLIN KEPT THE HITS OF OLES WELL SCATTERED

BASEBALL STORY—

Too many errors cost River Falls Normal a very close eleven inning ball game with St. Olaf college of Northfield, Minn., last Saturday afternoon. The game was marked by many errors on the part of the infield of both teams. The new infield, which was very rough and uneven made fielding difficult on ground balls.

Neither team was able to make much headway the first inning. St. Olaf's pitcher, Claplin, kept the hits well scattered. Each one of the four teams is to be limited to 12 eligible players, and no team can substitute from another's list.

It was at first thought that the new golf club would tend to distract from the Twilite League ranks, but it seems that there are no "hold outs" and the list of player-applicants is the largest in the history of the organization.

WISCONSIN STATE UNIVERSITY-RIVER FALLS, WISCONSIN 54022

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1966

Enrollment Mark Hits 3403

130 Student Increase Over 1965; Kleinpell Expects More to Register

3,403 students have registered for fall quarter at Wisconsin State University-River Falls as of noon Saturday.

This figure is approximately 500 below the Board of Regents of State Universities enrollment projection for River Falls.

Approximately 130 students, less than a three per cent increase, are registered over last year's fall record of 3274.

President E. H. Kleinpell stated that he expected there would be between 3500 and 3600 enrolled by the end of this week.

Factors which account for the lower enrollment figure are the draft and the 25 per cent limit on non-resident students for each state university which was ruled by the Regents last spring.

Kleinpell said that approximately 150 non-resident students were turned down.

According to Mel Germanson, WSU-RF registrar, about 3100 students pre-registered for fall quarter. Among those pre-registered were 2150 upperclassmen and transfer students as well as 950 freshmen.

Dr. Philip Anderson, dean of the graduate school, said enrollment in the graduate school was running about even with his projections of 40 fulltime and 80 parttime students.

Students who wish to add a course must do it this week, according to the registrars' office.

There are six weeks in which to drop courses.

LONG LINES were once again the scene in North Hall as fall quarter fee payments were made. The above line outside the Business Office was one visited by freshmen and upperclassmen alike.

U.A.B. Plans Homecoming

The University Activities Board is presently in the midst of planning the schedule of activities that are to take place during homecoming week, and is interested in knowing whether your organization plans to sponsor a Homecoming event. If your club do so, contact one of the three Homecoming chairmen; Rich O'Connell, Bill Eulburg, or Sue Rozenhnl, as soon as possible.

Please hurry for Homecoming week is packed with events and available time will be limited.

The UAB will also have a general suggestion box for homecoming. This box will be on the main floor of the Student Center. All suggestions should be in by Thursday, September 15.

Radio Station To Make Approval Application

The WSU-River Falls radio station is in the process of making final application for their station to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC).

James Harless of the journalism department stated that to gain approval from the FCC the University must submit proof that they can support a radio station financially and with adequate personnel. He also stated that we must show purposes for the application and indication of the educational uses of the station.

Last week the FCC gave the progress of the application a boost when they stated that a minimum tower requirement was not necessary for a non-commercial station.

The application also includes several photographs of the roof of North Hall which is the proposed tower sight. The FCC requires several different views of the proposed sight, including several aerial shots.

The programs which will be available via the new radio station will include news, music, special tape recordings, lectures and interviews. Arrangements are being made to carry University athletic events.

Harless said that if there are no unexpected problems, the station should be completed by the first of the year. The initial broadcast time will be 6-10 p.m. with a gradual increase in air time.

The station will be operated by students with the aid of advisors.

THE NEW DORMS on the former Ramer Field were in full operation this fall. Rain delayed construction of roads and sidewalks around the buildings. In the background two more dorms are under construction with completion dates set for next fall.

Meletean To Be Late; Annual Still Unfinished

The 1966 Meletean, River Falls annual, will not be out for several weeks, according to Lynn Spalding Melton, editor of the 1966 annual. The reason for the delay was not clearly stated by Mrs. Melton but a delay in copy from the section editors and late arrival of materials from the section editors were two of the major reasons for delay, she stated.

In statements to the STUDENT VOICE by James Harless, Meletean adviser, he further elaborated on the delay. One of the major reasons for the setback, he stated was the reshooting of the faculty pictures after the first set failed to develop, then having the good set disappear and eventually having to regather old faculty pictures. Twenty-eight pages have yet to be completed. This includes a 20-page sport section and the eight-page index. A big section, organizations, had to be redone after it was turned in, causing major problems he added.

After February of this year, no section deadlines were met and only 23 pages have been sent to the publisher since February, Harless added. When queried about the date of final release he was even more conservative than Mrs. Melton by saying he expected it out this year but when, he couldn't say.

Dorms Finished; New Hall Not Full

Mr. Richard Lowery, director of student housing, revealed that there are between 70 and 80 men's dormitory vacancies this fall.

While exact figures are not yet in, Lowery stated that women's dorms are operating close to capacity, with the new men's dorm suffering the greatest number of empty rooms.

In order to pay bonding and maintenance costs, a dormitory must be filled between 95 and 97 per cent to break even. According to Lowery, only half the bonding cost has to be paid the first year on a new dormitory, and this allowance will keep the new dorm from operating in a deficit.

Plans are underway to empty the fourth floor of the new men's dorm, while the other boys dorms will have only a smattering of empty rooms.

The University has complete possession of the two new buildings from the contractor and only the usual minor problems which are involved in construction are left.

Sidewalks, roads, and a parking area are late being completed because of heavy rain just before the opening of school. Lowery stated that they will be completed if the weather holds up and also has hopes that some landscaping can be done, too.

The dorms are completely furnished. Lounge furniture arrived early in August and was stored in the basement of Hathorn Hall until it could be moved into the dorms. Desk chairs also arrived just before the manufacturer went on strike.

According to President E. H. Kleinpell, the new dorms will have names by Sept. 29.

Falcon Football

The 1965 Football Falcons ended the season with 4 wins, three losses, and two ties. One of the losses came at the hands of St. Johns, NAIA small college champions. The Falcon conference record was 3—2—2, with the two losses coming in games with Stout's Blue Devils, and the Stevens Point Pointers.

Falcons 0, Johnnies 16

The Falcons opened the 1965 season with a loss to the St. John's. Falcon standouts were halfback Ted Ragatz and defensive backs Tom Sempf and Dave Wirtala. Quarterback Buddenhagen completed eight of nine passes. St. John's scored on a first-half field goal, a third-quarter interception, and a 21 yard run. The Falcons collected 45 yards of penalties.

Falcons 7, Hamline 0

Tight defensive play and a Buddenhagen to Baier pass put the Falcons in the winning column at the Piper's expense. The Hamline offense did not penetrate the Falcon 20 yard line. Baier, Hanson, and Ragatz gained important yardage. Extra point by Sempf.

Falcons 21, Warhawks 21

The Whitewater Warhawks scrambled back from the short end of a 21-14 score and tied the Falcons in the final two seconds of play. Buddenhagen to Baier and Bud to Blank passes figured in the first two scoring drives with Baier's 81 yard punt return adding the third TD. The Warhawks played catch-up most of the way, scoring all their points in the second half.

Falcons 13, Superior 7

Jim Baier's 95 yard run from scrimmage broke the scoring ice, and his 33 yard run iced the game up, as the Falcons scored their first 1965 conference win. Tom Snyder intercepted a pass which gave the Falcons the ball for the winning score. The Yellow-jackets scored from the 4 in the final quarter, after the Falcons gave up 14 yards of penalties inside their 20.

Falcons 10, Stout 12

Buddenhagen completed 15 for 21 passes, Baier scored off tackle, and Sempf kicked a field goal, but the Blue Devils grabbed two scores from the Falcon defense to give the Big Red the first conference loss of the season.

Falcons 23, Eau Claire 19

A first-quarter safety and three points after TD's gave the Falcons their first homecoming victory since 1958. Ragatz, moving over to defense, stole two Blugold passes as Langkos and Baier ran wild behind Seivert's and DeWayne Johnson's blocking. The final Falcon TD came on an 80 yard march.

Falcons 7, La Crosse 7

Buddenhagen sneaked from the one and Sempf scored the extra point but the Indians held statistically superior River Falls to a tie to save their homecoming game. The Falcons scored in the second quarter.

Falcons 7, Platteville 6

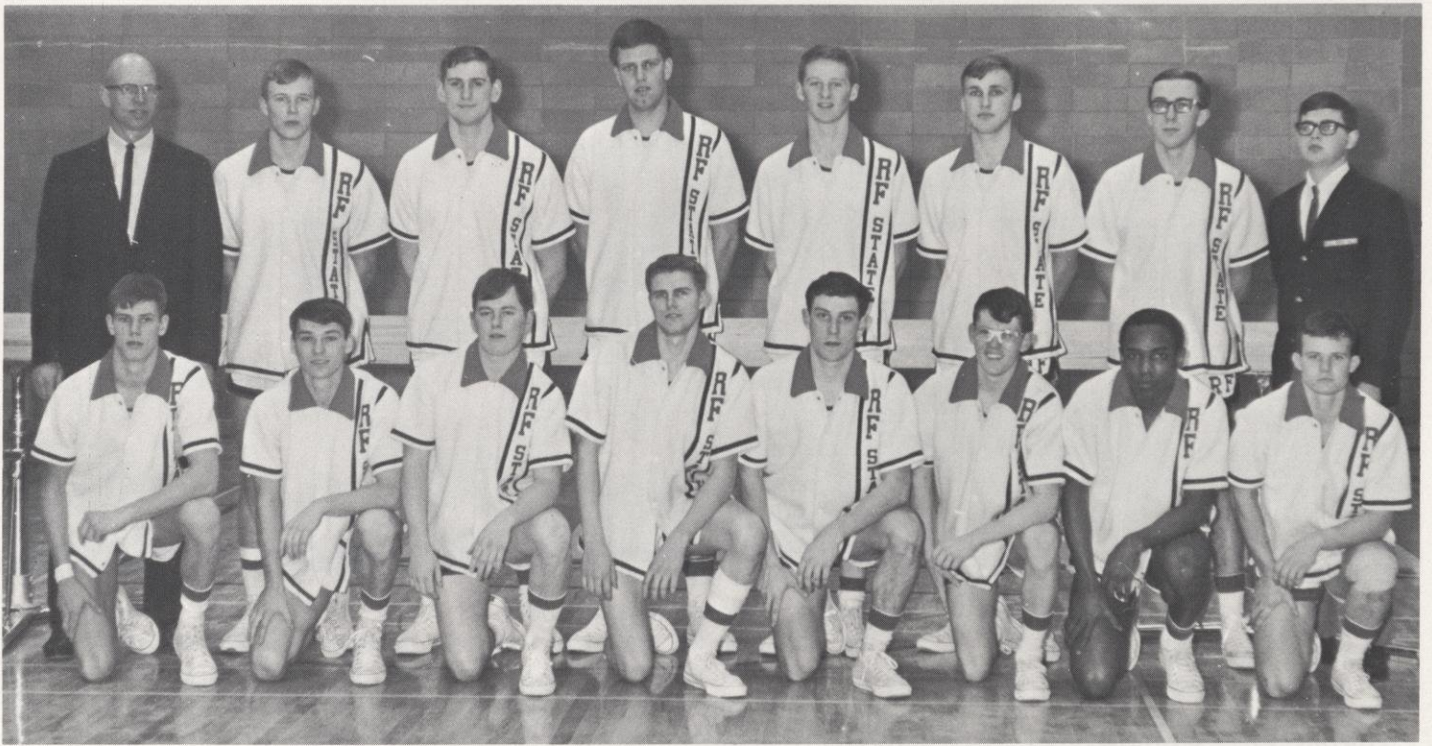

Sempf's toe made the difference as the Big Red edged the Pioneers by one point. Down 6-0 in the last six minutes of play, the Falcons marched a Pioneer kick-off upfield to a short-yardage touchdown by Quarterback Bob Dorn. Pohl, Steve Johnson, and Jilek were outstanding on defense.

Falcons 7, Stevens Point 39

Needing a win for a second place in the final standings, the Falcons went before a Dad's day crowd with high hopes, only to have their hopes dashed by a very effective Pointer eleven. Dorn threw well but a lack of good receiving kept the score less than respectable. A weak pass defense again proved costly.

Falcon Basketball

The River Falls basketball Falcons ended a disappointing season going away from Eau Claire 90—76. The Falcons ended the year with a 6—10 record in the WSU conference, while winning 9 and losing 11 games against all opponents.

Although the team ended up in seventh place in the WSU conference, their district 14 defence rating of 75.8 put the team in a fourth place area tie with Dominican for defensive honors.

The team was not without offensive moments. Van Dyke, Lee, and Snyder all scored more than 20 points against Eau Claire.

Bob Olson

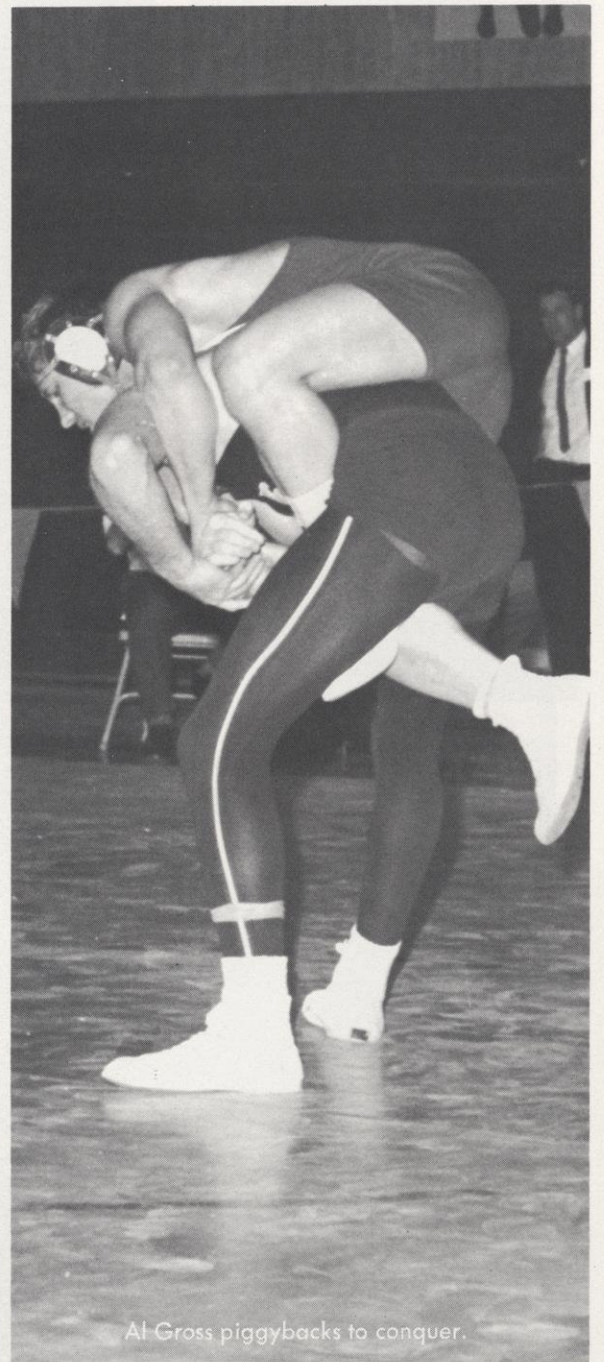

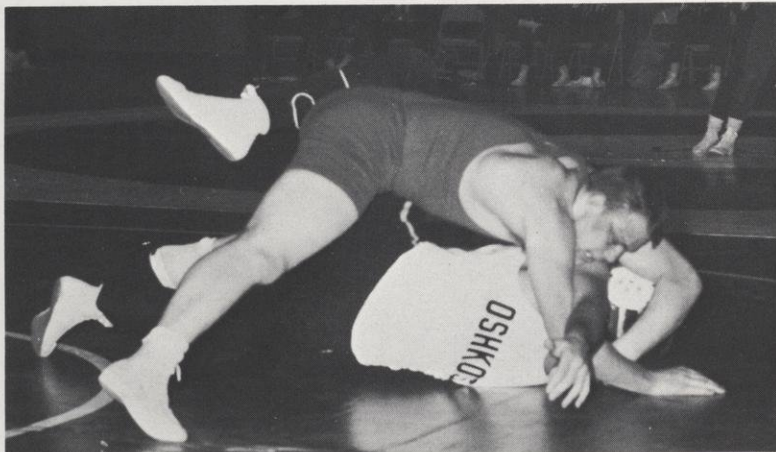

The 1965-66 Falcon wrestling squad compiled a 9—5 record with a final WSU conference third place finish. The Falcons took 13th place in the NAIA meet. Bob Olson placed second in the conference at 137 lbs., Ron Knutson was second at 167 lbs., Tom Madison was third at 152 lbs., and Jerry Knode fourth at 191 lbs.

Coach Byron James called the squad an "interesting one to watch," adding, "Anyone of them can get a pin no matter what the score of the match." James was especially proud of the way the young squad progressed as the season went on. He felt they seemed to gain more confidence with each new opponent. James said he was very pleased with the balance the team showed throughout the season.

Cross Country

Swimming

The Falcon swim team won a 3—3 conference record in WSU competition this year but went 1—5 in other competition. WSU meet wins came at the expense of Stout (2) and La Crosse, with losses going to Platteville, Oshkosh, and Stevens Point.

Outside the conference the team was bested by Gustavus Adolphus, Mankata State, Hamiline, Carleton, and St. Thomas while winning from St. Olaf.

Gymnastics

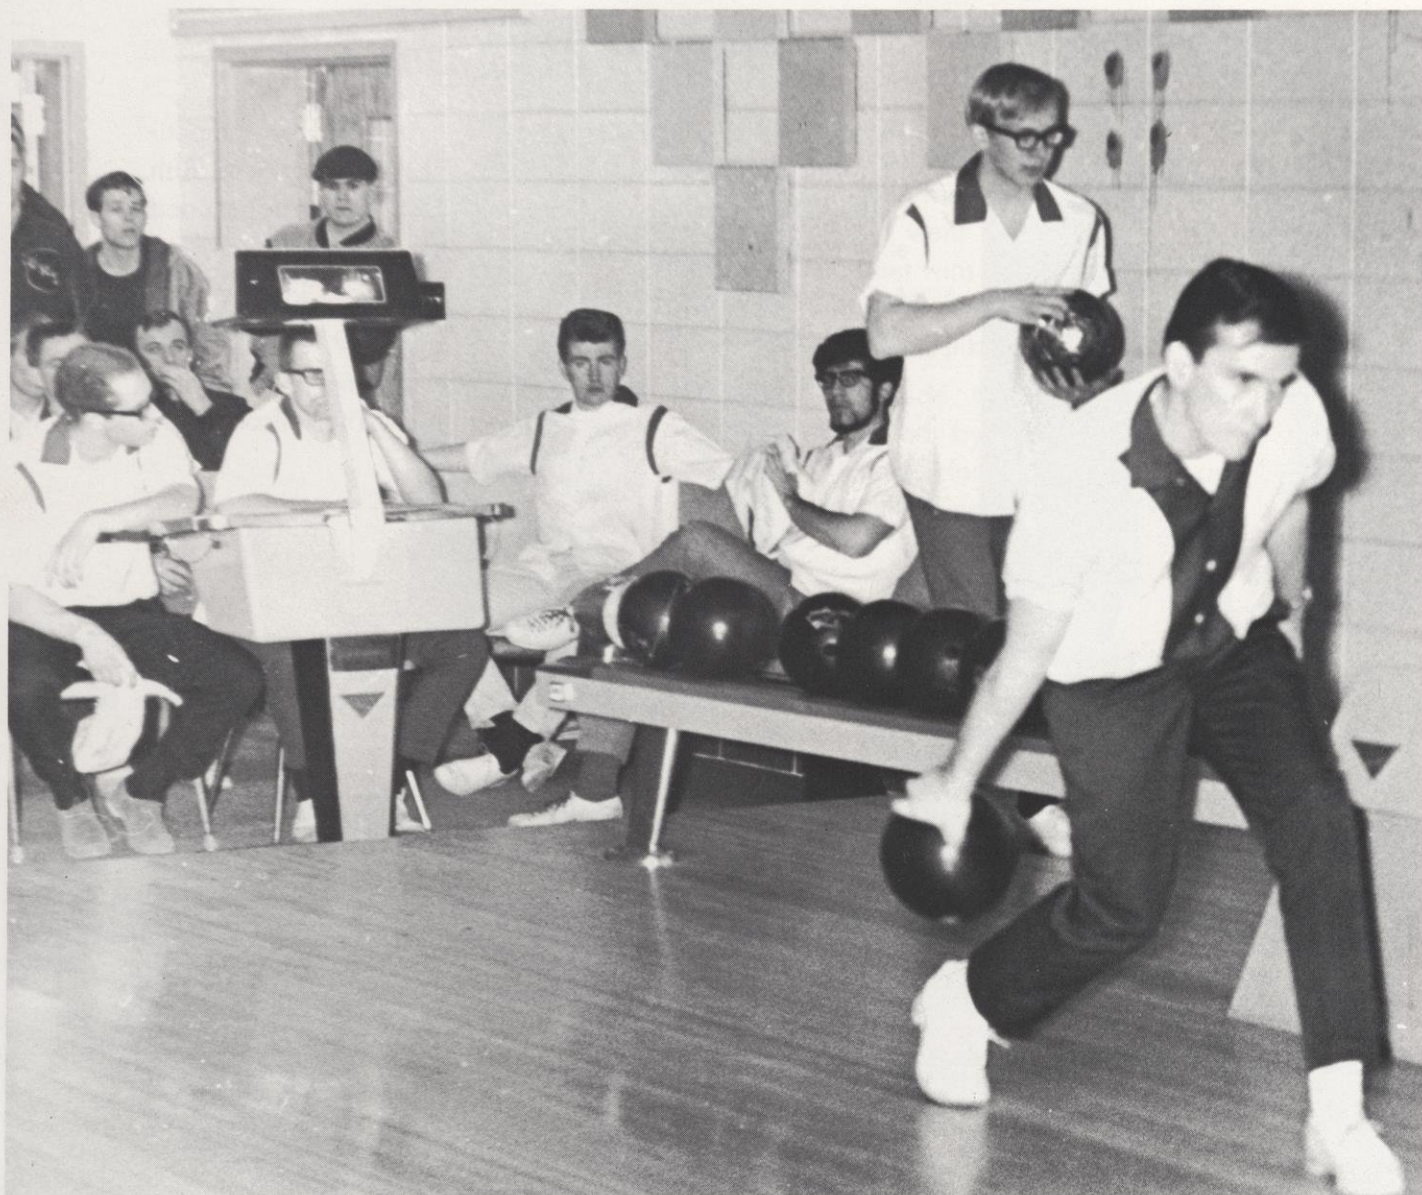

Falcon gymnasts came through their first year of competition with a commendable record. The Falcons placed fifth in the WSU conference competition which, this year, included six teams.

La Crosse led the conference with Stout, Eau Claire, White-water, River Falls, and Stevens Point coming in that order.

One of the bright spots of the season came in the match against Gustavus, also a first year team. The Falcons won, 55-18.

The first year of WSU conference bowling ended with the Falcons in third place in the four team competition. La Crosse led the league with a 27—9 record. Oshkosh (20—16), River Falls (14½—21½), and Platteville (10½—25½) followed in that order.

In Tri-State bowling competition Mike Metcalf paced the Falcons with a 183 pin average on 29 games. Jay O'Meara and Jim Hughes averaged 180 pins in 33 and 27 games, respectively.

Highest Falcon score of the year came from Carm Tortorici on a 239 pin game.

Hockey

In their first year of intercollegiate Hockey competition an inexperienced but game Falcon squad managed to post a 1—7 record in area competition.

Commenting on the record of his first Falcon squad Coach Walt Granata, a veteran of college competition at Hamilton College, seemed undisturbed by the losing season. "We won a few and lost a few," he said.

The team had more than inexperience to overcome in their debut competition year. Their second scheduled game against St. Olaf was postponed due to the severe cold (—30 degrees) of their meeting date. The Falcons lost to St. John's in —32 degree weather.

In their one winning effort of the season the Falcons edged St. Cloud 2—1 on goals by John Humphrey and Dennis Voglund. Voglund's winning score came in overtime with an assist from Jack Norqual.

Hopes for the coming year are high. Eight of twelve lettermen will return for action. A new home rink has been permanently installed on the new athletic field and next year's schedule has been expanded to 14 games.

Track

Despite a disappointing squad season, the 1965-66 Falcon thinclads showed improvement in many areas. Coach Al Evans commented at season's end that the WSU conference was greatly improved over the 1964-65 year.

Evans said the Falcon cindermen needed "two or three good men to rally around." The '66 thinclads were a young team with no seniors and only a small number of juniors. The largest part of the 20 man squad were freshmen.

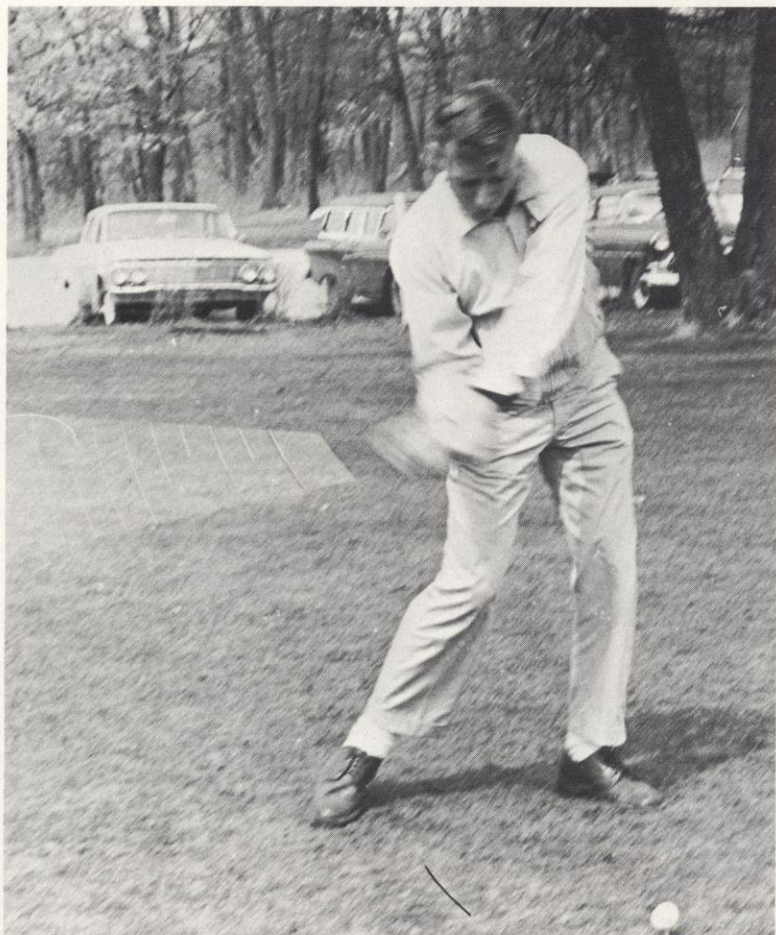

At the WSU conference meet Roger Dray ran the 100 in 10.2, John Ubbelohde ran the half-mile in 2:02.4, Guy Bartolain the mile in 4:41. Dean Madson broke the Falcon pole vault high with a 11'6½" vault.

After the little white ball: Bill Abel's club looks as wide as a yard broom as he sweeps off the tee.

Golf

Although early indications pointed toward a fairly successful year for Falcon golfers the 1965-66 squad was unable to better the mark set by the '64-65 team in conference play.

This year's squad placed seventh in the WSU meet at Green Lake. The conference title went to La Crosse.

Golf ratings are given by compiling the best four scores of the best four team members for 36 holes. The Falcons ended with a best stroke total of 670, two strokes above Stevens Point, three above Platteville. La Crosse's 616 led Oshkosh by 10, Eau Claire by 24, and Whitewater by 30.

Tennis

In what coach Rial Smith called "a building year," the Falcon netmen compiled an 0-6 dual meet record. Although the netmen handed one defeat to neighbor WSU rival Stout, the win was forfeited because of the use of ineligible players.

The Falcon netmen were shut-out in the WSU conference tournament. Coach Smith commented that the tournament draw was not to the Falcon's favor. The team met tough competition in the opening tournament round.

With the loss of only one team regular, the '66-'67 squad will be much improved.

Baseball

The 1965 Baseball Falcons ended an exciting Spring season atop the WSCC Conference standings and shared the state conference crown with Platteville. The Falcons posted a 7-1 conference play record and a 10-4 won-loss count overall. Post-season play in the NAIA nationals in Missouri raised their record to 15-6.

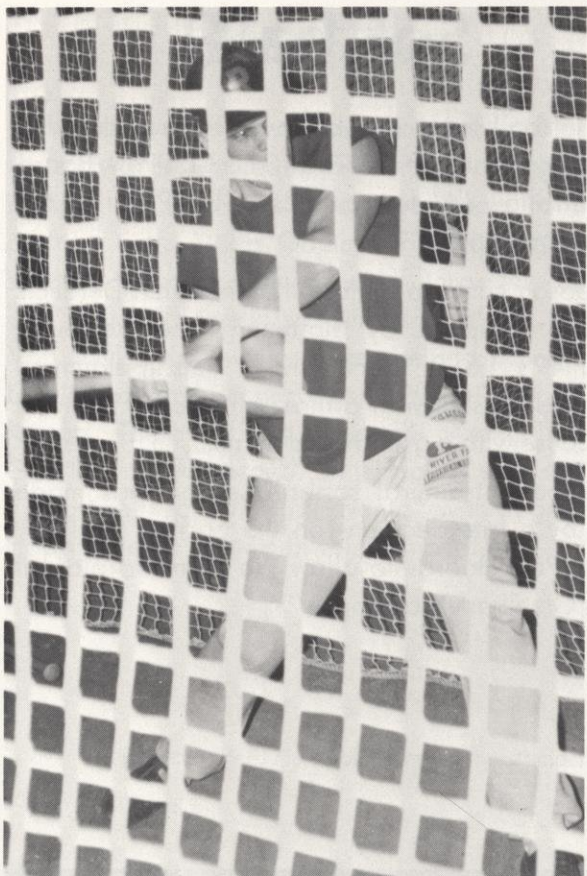

In season competition Art Johnson and Ron Peterson pitched four wins to only one loss. Al Space paced the sluggers with a .347 average and 15 RBI's.

Intramural Sports

As the university grows, so grows intramural sports. Students competed with fellow River Falls students in several sports areas this year—in so varied a sports program, in fact, it is not possible within these pages to cover the entire campus athletic program. A few of the major intramural events are reported here, without intentional favoritism.

Football

In intramural football the Ducks of the "R" league beat the Ch's of the Dorm League 12-6 to win the intramural pigskin championship. No member of either team was drafted by the Packers or the Vikings in the NFL pick of non-professional talent for professional play. The Ducks had a season record of 8-1, while the Ch's ruled their league with 9-0. Speculation was rampant that the deciding game decided nothing as to the relative strengths of the competing teams' leagues.

Basketball

Basketball competition in intramural play was fierce and hot throughout the season. Gremlins, Rogues, Midnight Ranchers, and Aftpolos vied for immortality under the big gym basket in Karges. Student Voice reports of the season clearly indicate who won the championship, and the picture in the upper right hand corner, next page, is not of the winning team. (Too bad we don't have names of the fellas in the picture.) The picture in the upper right corner of the next page is of the varsity at practice. They did not compete in intramural league play, but we needed a sports picture to fill the hole there.

P.S. Ric's Rec won the I-M Basketball Crown. Ric's Rec won their glory by defeating ("trouncing") the Bihio-lism team, 71 to 48. Sterling rebounding by Dick Bartkey and Rick Olin, with exemplary defense work by Tom Gustafson and hot shooting by Rog Dillenbeck brought home the basketball bacon.

Softball

The I-M softball season got off to a rousing start with the announcement that the River Falls City Park Board would not allow I-M teams to use Glen Park for the season's competition.

As the season came to a close the unbeaten Derelicts moved into first place by "flattening" the previously unsullied 49's 11-0. Marv (Chief) Nelson slammed the hitting door shut with a three-hit effort. He aided his own cause with a grand-slam homer.

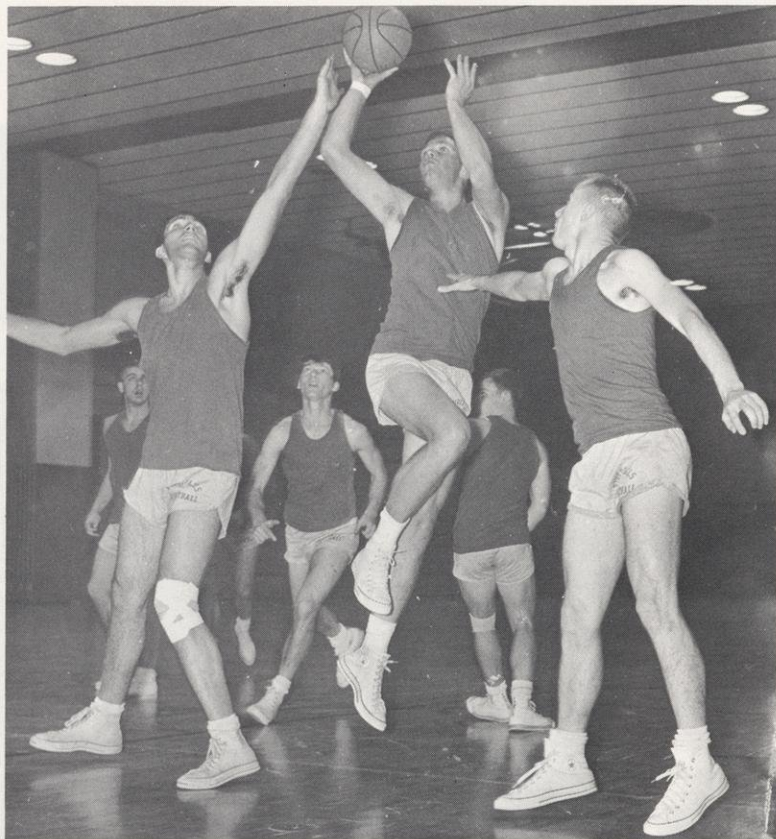

The fabulous intramural softball season was made possible by a late decision—on the part of the River Falls City Park Board—to allow the teams to play at the city's Glen Park diamond.

Volleyball action at Karges.

Bowling

In the all-campus bowling tournament trophies were awarded in team, doubles, and singles competition. The Old Timers won team competition with Alpha Gamma Rho coming in second. Doubles winners were Jerry Nickell and Doug Caldwell with Jim Hughes and Bill Van Dyke following close behind. Single bowling award winner was George Ritter, of Kappa Theta. Alpha Gamma Rho's Tom Goerke placed second. Jim Hughes won the first-place trophy for "all events," with Reggie Haag placing second in this competition.

Maintenance Staff

Chief Maintenance Engineer Neil Barron

Although members of the maintenance staff teach no classes, make no schedules, or do not set University policy, Wisconsin State University—River Falls, as we know it, could not continue to exist without them. For it is the maintenance staff that keeps the University campus the most beautiful of all the Wisconsin state universities. The maintenance staff not only keeps the University buildings in good repair, but is also responsible for the various athletic fields on campus, as well as for campus snow removal—no mean job itself in Wisconsin's wintry climate. The unsurpassed beauty of the River Falls campus is testimony enough to the excellence of the performance of Chief Neil Barron and his staff.

CAMPUS TOUR

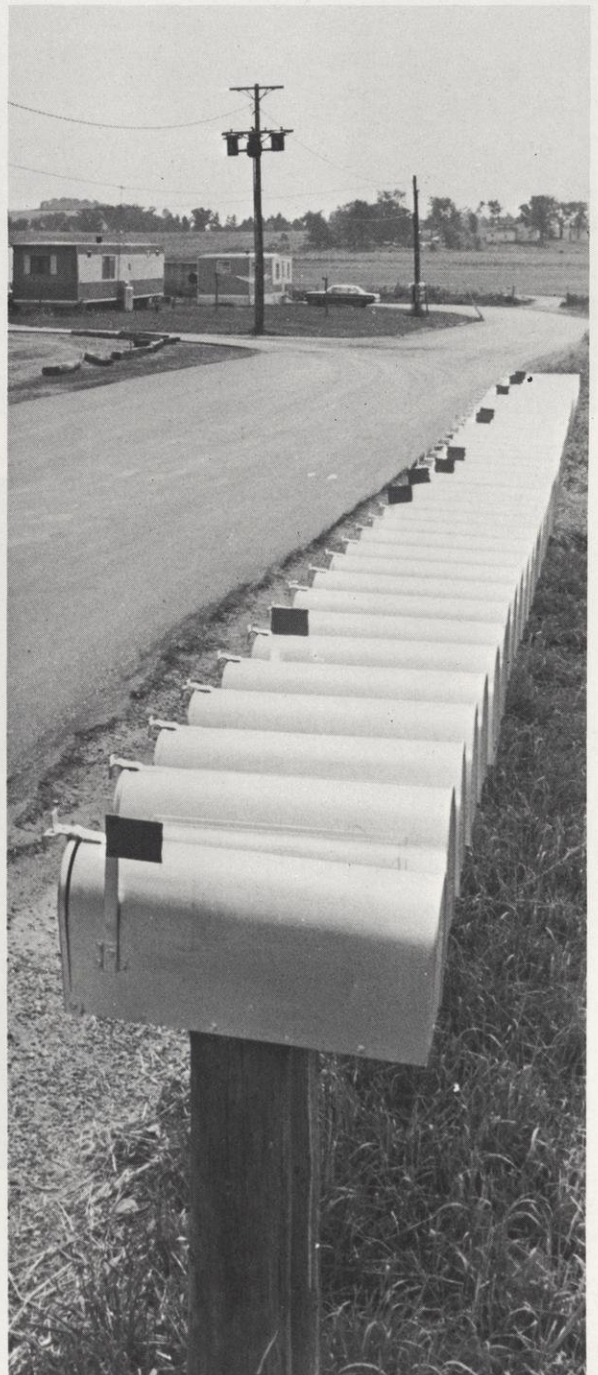

To its part-time residents, River Falls is six months of frost-bitten, snowbound winter, bounded on one side by a glimpse of golden autumn, and on the other, by one wet day of spring and a week of green and glorious summer. Campus scenery changes with the seasons. The following pages are a final tour of familiar and unfamiliar spots, as seen by the sometimes-whimsical eye of the camera.
