Test College to Have Prof. Fish on New Staff

ern and Cole Are Probable
New Profs in History Department

Carl Russell Fish will not draw United States history for sophomore listeners for the next two years, the Cardinal was informed yesterday, because Prof. Fish is abandoning his History 4 to allow him to spend one-third of his time in the Experimental college.

The announcement of Prof. Fish's assignment in the Experimental college is the first of a series expected from Prof. Alexander Meiklejohn, who is assembling a faculty to present Nineteenth Century civilization to his 125 sophomore guinea pigs.

The history department has corresponded with Prof. Arthur C. Cole of Ohio State university as a probable successor to Prof. Fish in the sophomore history course.

Dr. Walter L. Dorn, formerly of the University of Chicago, will take over the courses in English history taught this year by Prof. Carl Stephenson. Dr. Dorn, who is at present studying in Germany, plans to establish a course in German history, to supplant the French history courses now taught by Prof. Stephenson.

Prof. Stephenson leaves Wisconsin at the end of this semester. He teaches this summer in the University of Chicago, and the fall semester at Cornell university. The second semester next year he plans to go abroad for research study.

Prof. Frederick L. Paxson, chairman of the department, refused to state yesterday afternoon whether the appointments of Prof. Dorn and Prof. Cole will be in the business transacted by the Board of Regents at their meeting today.

Humanizing Study Main Consideration as Registrars Meet

The process of humanizing education, making the boy, not the book, important, was one of the principal considerations of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars, which met this past week in Cleveland, according to Frank O. Holt, registrar, who returned yesterday from the meeting.

Enormous enrollment in higher institutions brought forth a discussion of selective processes used for limiting advanced college work, and even college work, to the better scholars. The registrars also questioned how modern education, a sluggard beside modern progress, could be invigorated into greater efficiency and adaptability in the modern world.

Art and music instructors pointed that a great educational problem is being created by the increasing amount of spare time gained by the average American, while President C. C. Little, University of Michigan, expressed an opinion that the colleges were equal to the tasks demanded of them.

Tillie Zilch Carnival to Be Torrid Affair

To clear away any doubt which may be prevalent as to the authenticity of the Tillie Zilch Carnival, details and explanations of the impending funfest were obtained by the Daily Cardinal Tuesday.

The Carnival, which is to be held in Lathrop hall Saturday afternoon and evening, is under the auspices of the Women's Physical Education club and is in benefit of the Physical Education Scholarship Loan fund.

Both the 2:30 afternoon performance and the 7:30 evening show will include a three-ring circus, side-shows, gaming booths, and a spring style-show. An informal dance, with either Joe Shoer's or Jesse Cohen's band furnishing the music, will also be held in connection with the evening performance.

A Carnival Queen will be elected by the same process as the engineers' St. Pat—10 votes for one pence. Any university woman may be entered as a candidate, with no limit on the number of votes. Balloting is to continue throughout the entire day, with the elected Queen being announced during the evening's festivities.

Admission to the Carnival has been placed at one dime.

Local Scabbard and Blade Chapter Condemns Bush-Barstow Battle

By WILLIAM P. STEVEN

The argumentative policy of Col. Ralph R. Bush, national president of Scabbard and Blade, was condemned in a resolution passed yesterday by the Wisconsin parent chapter of the fraternity, and instructions were given Wallace Jensen '29, president of the Wisconsin chapter, to present the resolution at the national convention of the fraternity this week in Columbus, Ohio.

Controversial letters between Col. Bush and Rev. Robbins W. Barstow, Madison pastor, exchanged during the past three months stimulated the action of the local group. Dr. Barstow was out of the city last evening and could not be reached for comment.

Officers of the local chapter stated last evening that the resolution does not bear directly on the "blacklist" of the fraternity. It was the consensus of the local members that the "blacklist" was beyond their jurisdiction, but they felt the actions of a national officer which reflect on the local unit form proper grounds for local action.

The resolution suggests that action of the fraternity may be necessary to restrain certain of its members from "irrelevant, acrimonious, and controversial public discussion, which does not pertain primarily to the advancement of military education, and partakes rather of the nature of investigations and dossiers of the Department of Justice."

Under the heading "Adopted by Company A, First Regiment, University of Wisconsin, on April 24, 1928," the resolution reads:

"Whereas, the purpose of "Scabbard

& Blade" is stated in its constitution as follows: "Primarily to raise the standard of military drill in American colleges and universities to unite in closer relationships and military departments; to encourage and foster the essential qualities of good and efficient officers, and to promote intimacy and good fellowship among the cadet officers. Ia, and further to disseminate military education among the students and among the people of the country in general."

"And whereas, the preamble of the constitution of Scabbard and Blade reads: "Believing that military service is an obligation of citizenship, and that the greater opportunities afforded college men for the study of military science place upon them certain responsibilities as citizens, we,

Democracies Will Triumph--Sforza

Former Italian Minister Criticizes Other Statesmen in Speech

By RUTH L. BLOCKI

"War has been won by great democracies," said Count Sforza, former Italian minister of foreign affairs, yesterday afternoon in speaking on "Democracy and Autocracy." "Russia, an autocracy, fell to pieces during the World war. Germany, an autocracy, showed in the disastrous hour that the loss of efficiency was fatal. Examples in history prove this belief more eloquently than do theoretical suppositions."

"That there is in Europe and America a movement of dislike for certain traditional forms of government is evident. Changes may take place but only after a decade or more of intellectual enlightenment. This phenomena occurred after Napoleon's defeat at Waterloo in 1815 and after the World war."

"One should endeavor to find from recent European history a permanent lesson and teaching about the results of democracy and autocracy among people. Russia cannot be studied due to the fact that no recent Russian history is in our hands. If we go to the real bottom of Russian experience, we find there has been little change. Russia was an autocracy before the war; it is now a police regime without the freedom of speech and press."

Count Sforza, in speaking of the rise and fall of Germany, called Wilhelm II "an amateur comedian," while Bismarck, he said, had had an important influence on the last German disaster.

"That Bismarck has genius cannot be denied, for I myself have been a diplomat and a political leader, able to appreciate such outstanding genius. Yet it seems to me, in spite of his greatness, Bismarck was more of a diplomat than a statesman. A man is a diplomat when he achieves great and remarkable success; he is a statesman when he knows and recognizes that great success may be a prison to the people—ultimate success is better than immediate success."

"In speaking before the Viennes students of whom he was an ardent leader, Bismarck declared absolutism is a poison for the more alive of the nation who are necessary and essential in making public opinion supreme." Yet he did not carry out this excellent theory. Statesman should do these things when in power and not talk about them when out of power."

Prizes Awarded to Language Students

Prizes were awarded to eight students of Italian on the basis of scholarship, last night at the meeting of the Italian club in the Phi Mu house. The students receiving the honors were: Dalbert Gibson, Sarah Reynolds, Carol Webber, Virginia Stearns, Thelma Johnson, Noko Lilliecrapp, Elea-nor Riley, and Gertrude Buss.

Consideration for the awards was given solely for work in the classes. The prizes consisted of various books,—some novels, others poetry, and still others plays. A short musical program and the serving of refreshments followed the regular meeting, which was presided over by Miss E. M. Bollmrich.

POOR ARMY

The President's guard, crack unit of the R.O.T.C., will be the only part of the student corps marching in the Memorial Day parade on May 30, Col. J. F. Barnes, commandant, reported to the city committee in charge of plans for May 30. In past years, the entire corps has been required to march, but government economy which resulted in two kinds of uniforms in the corps this year prohibits the students from joining the parade, Col. Barnes declared. Prof. S. Owen is in charge of the program for the day. The university band will also parade.

Filipino Coach Is Versatile Man

Prof. Romulo Is Fencer, Editor, Dramatist, and Essayist

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of a series of articles concerning the debating team of the University of the Philippines which will meet a team from the University of Wisconsin tomorrow night in Bascom theater on the question of Philippine independence.

By CARLOS QUIRINO

Poet, essayist, and dramatist all in one is Carlos P. Romulo, coach and faculty adviser of the Philippine debaters who come to Madison tomorrow night.

Prof. Romulo's activities are not confined to arts and literature. Though small in height, he is a good athlete. Prof. Romulo's specialty is fencing; he is considered one of the best amateur fencers in the Philippines. His pen is as nimble as his foil. His witty remarks and genial disposition are well-known to his acquaintances and to his students.

Besides being the editor of "The Tribune," a Filipino daily in English, he is also an associate professor of English in the University of the Philippines.

The Dramatic club of the University of the Philippines has produced several of his plays, both in English and in Spanish, and directed by himself. He has been in the United States for some years, and graduated from Columbia university, where he took his master's degree in comparative literature. He has traveled extensively, and though still in his early thirties, he is at present in charge of the courses in American literature and public speaking at the University of the Philippines.

Prof. Romulo is the author of two textbooks, "College Composition" for freshman English, and "Better English," a text used by all of the public schools in the Philippines.

Le Beaux Arts to Elect Officers

Election of officers for the fall semester and a social program will feature the meeting of Le Beaux Arts club, which will be held at 7:30 Thursday evening in the Applied Arts building.

The social program announced yesterday by Gilbert Krueger '30, in charge, includes a short talk by Prof. W. Hickinson, a chalk talk by Reid Winsey '30, and John Alcott, grad, and piano selections by Don Easten '29.

Good Weather Assured for Mother's Week-end

'It never rains on Olson.'

And so, once again, Prof. Julius E. Olson has been elected, by unanimous vote, to head the anti-Pluvian forces, this time by the Mothers' Weekend Field Day committee. With the announcement of this action, it becomes a certainty that there will be no difficulties with weather conditions this year as so often in the past.

Reassured that its efforts cannot possibly be in vain, the Field Day committee, headed by Frances Hawkins '29, is going ahead with plans for an elaborate program for Saturday afternoon, May 19. Demonstrations of the five spring sports, archery, tennis, riding, track, and baseball, combining skill and fun, will feature the entertainment planned especially for visiting mothers.

Work is also under way upon the Mothers' Weekend booklet, which will contain a complete schedule of activities for the weekend with the official welcomes.

Frosh Week to Need Deferred Rushing Scheme

Proposal Admired, but Will Fail Under Present Conditions

Enthusiasm for Freshman Week and the opinion that fraternities should adopt some plan of deferred rushing to make room for it was expressed yesterday by several persons intimately connected with university life.

"It seems to me that there is so much to be said for Freshman Week and for the plan of educational guidance that is being worked out by Registrar Holt, that the Interfraternity Council ought to take it upon themselves to defer all rushing during the period preceding registration," John L. Bergstresser, Alumni Recorder, stated.

"I hope the fraternities do this of their own accord and so eliminate the necessity of having the university authorities take action," he added.

Porter Butts, secretary of the Memorial Union, made the following statement:

"The Interfraternity Council, I think, should be glad to have this opportunity to study out with university officers the correlation of fraternity rushing with the university program. It should be possible to avoid competition during Freshman Week for freshman time and interest.

"I believe, of course, that it would be an advantage to fraternities as well as to individual freshmen and the university community to have a period of orientation to which freshman give their undivided attention. That fraternities will be stronger that has for pledges men who have even a slight appreciation of the university and its objectives as a whole—who have seen the university broadly, before narrowing to the sector of university life represented by the fraternities.

"I do not think we are warranted in being fearful of the term 'deferred rushing.' We have it now—rushing that is deferred from the previous summer when alumni, actives, friends and relatives unofficially sign up prospective material."

Similar sentiments were expressed by William K. Grube, editor of the Badger, and Dan Albrecht.

"The idea of Freshman Week is excellent, but its success may be doubtful unless it is backed up by some arrangement for deferred rushing. University authorities will do well to co-operate with the interfraternity council in working out a scheme which will be mutually beneficial to the freshmen, the fraternities, and the university," Albrecht stated.

"The Interfraternity council should make provision for some plan of deferred rushing so as to make room for Freshman Week. I think it will do so before the end of the semester," Grube said.

Hohlfeld Speaks at Yellow Tassel on Banquet May 1

Prof. A. R. Hohlfeld, of the German department, will be the principal speaker at the Yellow Tassel banquet for junior women, which will be held on May 1 in the Crystal ballroom at the Loraine hotel. Other guests at the dinner will be Dean F. Louise Nardin and Mrs. C. B. Flett, assistant dean.

Invitations for the event were mailed to all junior women last week by the committee which is serving under Eleanor Pennington, and everyone is urged to reply as soon as possible. Although the affair is in the form of a banquet, a very important business event is concerned with it, in the fact that at this time nominations are made for a president for Blue Dragon, senior women's society.

Deep consideration should be made in nominating, as the person who holds this position automatically becomes president of Keystone, an organization made up of all the presidents of all organizations, and is also included on the Memorial Union board. The committee in charge will present one nominee and other nominations may be made from the floor.

Indications Show Possible Deadlock Over Library Plan

Only peaceful chatter with an occasional burst of laughter came from behind the closed doors of President Glenn Frank's office yesterday, where committees of the Board of Regents transacted business which may include the fate of the university library, and may not.

Indications, which are nothing more than guesses, showed that the library controversy probably was deadlocked when Gov. Zimmerman refused to release the funds requested by the regents at the March 7 meeting. For, although the governor found in the attorney-general's ruling of December 22, 1927, contradicting clauses allowing either a new library south of State street or an addition, it seemed that some officials connected with the regents, could not see it that way.

The ruling preponderantly declared that an addition to the historical library is illegal due to the wording of the 1925 appropriation bill, these people argue, and therefore the regents cannot consider the addition as a solution.

They followed the only open course on March 7, it is said, and there is nothing they can do in this session if they so desire.

The field house, which is held up pending a test case over the legality of certain loans to be made for its construction, entered one committee yesterday, it was understood. Director of Athletics George Little conferred with the group during the morning.

The meeting today at 10 o'clock is open to the press, and matters which have been discussed in committee meetings yesterday will be approved or disapproved by the regent body today.

Sharp Choses Union Board Posts

Lauriston Sharp '29, newly elected president of Union board, yesterday announced the allotment of the activities among the board members, which will hold during the 1928-29 year.

Francis Woolard '29 will be in charge of the assisting staff, and Theodore Otjen '30 will direct the work of all candidates for the staff. Jerome Sperling '30 will manage the Union concert series, while Lowell Bushnell '29 will arrange for special productions. Budget and finance work has been given to Edward Cole '29, who will be assisted by Newman Halvorson '30. George Burridge '30 will be custodian of the old Union building, and Robert Calkins is temporarily in charge of the Union board dances.

The board members will pick associate managers and other subordinates from the assisting staff and the candidates, according to Sharp.

Joint Banquet of Lit Societies Held Tonight

The first joint banquet of the two women's literary societies, Pythia and Castalia, will be held this evening at 6:15 in the Women's building, Gilman street.

Marcella Eierman '28, will be toastmistress. Prof. Gladys Borchers will give a talk, and Prof. R. Wallerstein will give a review of "The Bridge Sans Luis Rey." Prof. Helen C. White is also a faculty guest.

According to the general chairman, Elisabeth A. Murphy '28, and Peg Carns '29, this is distinctly not a "funeral banquet," such as the men's literary societies have been staging, but is rather a termination of a most successful year by both organizations.

The program is to be brief, interesting, and informal. After the banquet, music will be furnished for dancing by Thompson's orchestra. Other members of the committee are: Beatrice Schroeder '28, Louise Rood '29, and Evelyn Olson '29.

French House to Give Formal Dance and Tea

The French house announces a formal dance to be given Saturday evening at the house. Miss Laura Johnson, Mme. Fayard, Mr. A. A. Vasilev, and Mr. C. D. Zdanowicz will chairmen.

This afternoon the classes of Miss L. M. Gay will be entertained at tea at the French house from 4 to 5 o'clock.

12 Candidates
Out for Varsity
Tennis; 4 Vets

Capt. Freeborn, Boldenweck,
McMillan, and Reeves,
Report

Tryouts for the varsity tennis team have begun in earnest as 12 candidates for the team met last night at the Chi Psi house to discuss plans for the coming season.

Last year, the varsity men were upon the courts with good weather conditions prevailing by April 1, but now, almost a month later in the season, the courts are just becoming usable.

Despite this handicap, prospects for the coming conference season look good. Four veterans of last season's team are once more ready for action. They include Capt. Dave Freeborn, Leo Boldenweck, Bob McMillan, and William Reeves.

The first scheduled meet this year is to take place this Saturday when a team of five men journey down to Milwaukee to play matches with Marquette and the Milwaukee Town club.

The team this year will again be coached by William T. Winterble, local business man, who has been good enough to devote a part of his time toward developing Badger net teams during the past few years.

Because he has been unable to see all of the varsity candidates in competitive action so far, Coach Winterble has decided to rely upon four veterans and a former Lawrence college star for his five man team at Milwaukee.

The men who will go are Capt. Dave Freeborn, last year's captain Leo Boldenweck, Bob McMillan, a veteran of two years ago, Bill Reeves, and George LaBorde, who captained a Lawrence college tennis team two years ago.

Starting with this Saturday, the Wisconsin tennis team will have a match every week-end for the next month or so. The conference season opens April 5, when Northwestern plays here, and after that follow matches with Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio, Chicago, and the conference meet.

The 12 men who are at present competing with each other upon the varsity courts in an effort to win positions upon the team are:

Capt. Dave Freeborn, Leo Boldenweck, Bob McMillan, Bill Reeves, George LaBorde, Harry Goodlett, Donald Meiklejohn, John Burnham, Bill Fadiman, Aaron Gottlieb, Fred Tiegs, and John Bell.

The Northwestern meet the following week-end will be played with a six man team, Iowa with a five man team, Minnesota and Michigan with six men teams, and Ohio and Chicago with five men.

Crew Hit Again;
Goodman in Infirmary

Another harsh blow was struck by bad luck upon the 1928 varsity crew when Gene Goodman, regular at the number seven position, and prospective stroke, was sent to the infirmary first of the week, and will be out at least another week.

Goodman was accidentally tripped while playing armory ball upon the lower campus last Sunday, but noticed no ill effect directly after the game. Later in the day, however, his knee began to swell and assume immense proportions.

At the present time he is confined to the infirmary where special treatment is being given to his injured kneecap, and at least another week will be required to heal it. Even then, it is doubtful if he will have completely recovered within that period of time.

With John Parks also laid up for some time with a strained leg muscle, Coach Vail is finding himself forced to fill his varsity shell with substitute men.

The varsity will be seen in action for the first time May 12 when they compete against the Milwaukee Athletic club in a three mile race. The Milwaukee shell will be composed of former Badger stars and will probably be paced by Johnson, one of the greatest strokes ever developed by Coach Vail.

VARSITY GOLF

Candidates for the varsity golf team must play 36 holes as their qualifying round within the next week. They should be played over the Maple Bluff course.

DOPE

EDITOR'S NOTE — The former conductor, main guy, and star reporter of this column, C. D. A., having run out of ideas and ambition at approximately the same moment, the arduous duties of said task have been passed on. Voila the new twist.

By HAROLD DUBINSKY

That unfortunate streak of ill-luck which pursued Wisconsin's baseball team throughout the Southern training trip, stalked up again Monday as Carleton administered defeat. Of course it is no great misfortune to lose a baseball game, and especially when the star pitcher is not used, and when the game does not affect the team standing. But it's lost.

Saturday the Badgers will open the "games-away-from-home" list with the Iowa nine. The Hawkeyes are commonly regarded as one of the strongest teams in the conference even if they did lose a game (under protest) to the high and mighty Wolverines. Massey, who was unable to hold down his second base position Monday on account of an injured foot will probably be in condition for the coming game. Knechtges, however, who filled his place did an admirable job of it, fielding flawlessly, and making two hits out of four chances.

It's a sad report they bring back to us from the relays at Kansas, and Ohio last week. Except for the performances of some of the individuals, the Badgers looked weak. This might be partly accounted for by the fact that most of the other teams have had better weather in which to practice, and also previous outdoor competition. Like the true sport that he is, Coach Jones refuses to alibi, but looks forward to the Drake relays this Saturday as a means of restoring the prestige of the team. Petaja, who ran a poor race in the mile team race because of a sore foot will probably get a rest so that he can get into good condition for the Big Ten season. The team to go to the Drake relays will be selected today or Thursday on the basis of performances this week.

All this ballyhoo about the lake opening, and warm weather, etc., brings to mind the irony of the crew situation at the present time. The lake is open, the weather is comparatively warm, and yet it is not often that "Dad" Vail can take the Badger eight on the water. These northern winds just seem to take delight in disturbing Mendota's placid surface. White-caps and other menacing indications of a rough lake are more than a shell can stand.

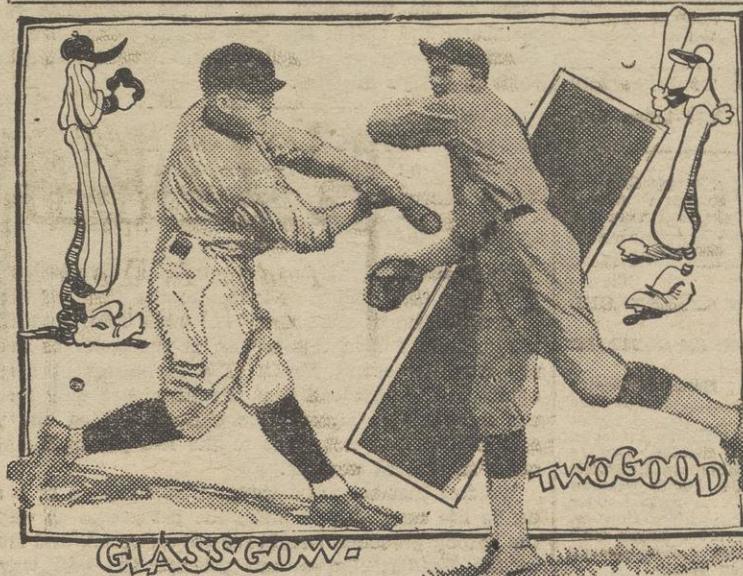

Meanwhile the date for the Poughkeepsie regatta is fast approaching. Reports are coming concerning the training of Washington and California in the ideal conditions of that Western region. This year's regatta promises to be the greatest ever held (from the point of number at least.) The Badgers evidently have a much stronger crew than last year, and we hope that all their conscientious work has not been in vain.

Both Tom Lieb, who is in charge of the met, and Coach Jones are especially desirous that the student body support the Midwest relays Saturday afternoon. These high school relays have attracted a total of 32 entries to date, from seven states, and competition promises to be exceptionally keen.

The meet will include both relays and individual events, totaling 14. Of these, six are relays and eight are individual events. Action will start at 2 p. m. Saturday afternoon at Camp Randall stadium.

We notice with pleasure that Coach Thistlethwaite and the candidates for the varsity football team have had rather amicable relations of late. A group of 60 faithful men have been reporting each day for practice. But Coach Thistlethwaite is somewhat discouraged by the fact that despite the fact the 160 uniforms that have been issued and only a part

TWO IOWA STARS

A pair of two-sport athletes are stars on the University of Iowa baseball team which opens the Western conference home schedule against Wisconsin on Iowa field Saturday.

Forrest Twogood, a left-handed pitcher with burning speed, captained the 1928 Hawkeye basketball team. He is playing his second year of baseball, and on the southern tour pitched a two-hit game against Tulane.

Leading ground-gainer on the Iowa football team last fall, Willis Glassgow is equally efficient on the diamond where he is a veteran shortstop.

Iowa's squad contains eight letter men from the team which shared the 1927 Big Ten title with Illinois. The Hawkeyes beat Wisconsin 4 to 2 in ten innings last season.

Purdue, Illinois to Clash Today

LAFAYETTE, Ind., April 25—Coach Ward Lambert's Purdue baseball nine, handicapped by the loss of Captain Chuck Maxton, start twirler, through an injury to his hurling arm, will meet Illinois here today in the first of three home Big Ten games carded within five day on Stuart field. Following the Illinois game here Wednesday, the Boilermakers will stack up against Chicago Friday afternoon as one of the athletic features of Junior Prom weekend, and on Monday will meet Minnesota in the final of the three-game home series.

Illinois' invasion of Stuart field will afford the Boilermakers an opportunity to get revenge for the defeat they were handed in the first conference game of the season, 5 to 0, although the loss of Maxton and lack of opportunity for outdoor work makes the Purdue chances for victory somewhat meager. Illinois earned a half-share in the conference title with Iowa last season when Purdue finished in third place and to date has been journeying along in championship stride.

With Maxton lost due to the injury in the Michigan game, Lambert may send Caraway, erstwhile outfielder, to the mound in an effort to retrieve the prestige lost by the Purdue nine in the Illinois and Michigan games.

While the baseball team is busily engaged at home, Purdue's golf and tennis squads will invade foreign fields Saturday for Big Ten dual meets. The golf team will meet the strong Northwestern stylists at Evanston, while the tennis squad tackles a tough assignment in meeting the Illinois racket artists at Urbana. The Illinois tennis squad numbers among its members the conference singles champion from last year and a doubles combination that took second place in the Big Ten meet.

TOO MUCH LAUFON

Although interfraternity baseball has just begun, a "dark horse" favorite has already appeared and all because of the prowess of a pitcher.

The fraternity is Delta Sigma Pi and the young star hurler is Bob Laufon. The curves and hooks Bob has been throwing have simply accredited him with 24 strikeouts in the last two five-inning games he has pitched.

The teams that have fallen before Laufon are Phi Beta Delta and Alpha Sigma Phi, neither of whom are very much at the bat. The Delta Sigs and Bob Laufon will bear close watching in the future as the race for baseball honors narrows.

of them (the uniforms) have been appearing for practice.

Many of the letter men are complacently going about their business and paying little heed to the spring practice. In no uncertain terms the Badger coach admitted that many of the letter men will find it difficult to get back in their former positions. Competition for positions has become heated, and a flock of capable frosh recruits are just yearning for duty. This week Coach Thistlethwaite will select teams, in order to pit them against each other, for the remainder of the season.

Intramural Meet
to Include Relay
Race, Set Friday

The Intramural department, in response to a number of requests is adding a relay race to the regular interfraternity track meet to be held Friday.

The winners of the special feature race will be awarded a cup. It will be run outdoors, the distance being a half mile, each of four men running 220 yards.

All formal entries are due today at the office, with a meeting of the managers on Friday to check up on the men that are running, to enable the intramural office to make up their schedule of the events.

Baseball

Today's interfraternity baseball games are: Beta Theta Pi vs. Delta Sigma Tau, 3:30 Intramural field No. 2; Acacia vs. Sigma Chi, 5:00 Intramural field No. 2; Phi Gamma Delta vs. Zeta Psi, 5:00 South field; Pi Kappa Alpha vs. Delta Phi Epsilon, 3:30 Intramural field No. 1; Kappa Sigma vs. Phi Pi Phi, 5:15 Lower campus; Alpha Kappa Kappa vs. Phi Kappa Tau, 5:00 Intramural field No. 1.

Tennis

With the prospect of good weather in sight the Intramural office has issued the interfraternity tennis schedules, all first round games to be played off by May 3.

The competition will consist of one doubles match and two singles matches, each counting for one point to the winner. The winners are responsible for the cards that must be turned in to the Intramural office.

Karsten-Hammers Bout Is Feature

The freshman wrestling tournament continues to narrow down its field of contestants while the competition is daily becoming keener due to the high calibre of the men remaining.

The weekend bouts are few in number, with the favorites of the tournament coming through as expected.

Karsten and Hammers staged the best bout of Monday's wrestling at 158 pounds, with the former gaining a 1 minutes 30 second time advantage after 10 minutes of hard wrestling.

Swensen Wins

Swensen, at 175 pounds, chalked up another quick victory when he pinned Kohn in 1:10, using a double bar arm lock.

Strawhince, at 115 pounds, had little trouble pinning Kosak in 3:30, using a half nelson and crotch hold.

Using a body scissors and a barlock, Nicolai pinned Curtis in 2 minutes in the 135 pound class.

Beecher and Denson staged a hard-fought battle, but the former won when Denson temporarily weakened, pinning him, with but 15 seconds to go, using a body scissors and a half nelson.

At 125 pounds, Eggert struggled for 8 minutes before he succeeded in pinning Kline, a barlock being the cause of the latter's downfall.

Phi Mu Sorority
Captures Second
I-M Track Meet

Delta Zeta Takes Second Place; Winners Loom Strong

Phi Mu, true to form, came through for a victory in the second of the women's intramural track meets yesterday afternoon at Camp Randall. This places the Phi Mus among the potential tournament winners, along with the Tri Deltas who won last week's meet, and incidentally strengthens their chance for the all-year championship.

The Phi Mus scored 72.3 points in yesterday's meet, 5.8 points more than the Tri Deltas last year. This means that if these two groups continue to score as heavily in their next two meets, there will be plenty of close competition in the final track meet on Field Day.

Each team entered in the tournament competes in meets, and its scores are totalled, the eight groups with the highest totals entering in the final meet.

Complete scores for yesterday's meet follow:

Phi Mu, 72.3; Delta Zeta, 52; Phi Omega Pi, 42.3; Grads, 42; Gamma Phi, 30.3; Kappa Delta, 18; Medics, 26; Theta Phi Alpha, 17.

Illini Milers Seek Another Relay Victory

Champaign, Ill., April 25.—Illinois' undefeated four-mile relay team will travel to the Drake relays Saturday for the last chance at the national intercollegiate record.

Five other Illinois four-mile teams have been victorious at previous Drake relays, the 1922 team breaking the tape in 17 minutes 45 seconds for the national collegiate outdoor record. Handicapped by a soggy track and little competition, at Kansas Saturday, the present Illini did not approach even their indoor time.

The entire Illini squad, 28 strong, will compete in the meet which has yielded 21 relay firsts to Illinois since 1911. Chicago, next in relays won, has eight victories in the six major baton events.

Relay teams will start in all the six major university events, and 11 men will enter the special events. Dan Lyon, in the shot put, and Joe Simon, in the broad jump, will defend individual championships won last year.

Illinois holds an edge or even break in victories in every race but the two mile, while Ames has been won four times by Ames and but twice by the Illini. Two wins in the 440 yards relay, six in the 880, five in the one mile, two in the two mile, five in the four mile and one in the medley, is the record.

Greek Diamond Ball to Start This Noon

The fraternity diamond ball season will get under way today with three games carded on the lower campus at 12:30. The Alpha Chi Rho's will meet the Chi Phi's, the Delta Sigma Tau's against the Phi Delta Phi's, and the Pi Lambda Phi's against the Psi U's.

Twenty-four fraternities are entered this year in the race for the diamond ball championship which was won by Beta Theta Pi last year. Great interest has been manifested here in diamond ball since its inception two years ago.

The fraternities competing in division 1 are Alpha Chi Rho, Chi Phi, Delta Sigma Tau, Phi Delta Phi, Pi Lambda Phi, and Psi Upsilon. In division 2 are Phi Delta Epsilon, Chi Psi, Phi Epsilon Pi, Phi Sigma Delta, Phi Sigma Kappa, and Phi Epsilon Kappa.

The six teams in division 3 are Alpha Kappa Lambda, Delta Chi, Phi Kappa, Phi Pi Phi, Square and Compass, and Theta Chi. In division 4 the champion Beta's, Delta Pi Epsilon, Phi Kappa Sigma, Phi Kappa Tau, Theta Delta Chi, and Theta Xi hold forth.

DUERER MEMORIAL

Albrecht Duerer, the greatest of German artists, who died 400 years ago, will be commemorated in Bascom theater tonight. Prof. E. K. Voss, of the German department, will speak briefly on "Duerer and His Contemporaries," and Prof. Oskar Hagen, of the art history department, will present an illustrated lecture on "The Art of Albrecht Duerer."

Another Wisconsin Man

Adds to the Glory That Is Wisconsin's—
Pilot C. B. Eielson

THE flight of Capt. George Wilkins across the polar wastes of the "top of the world" has been heralded by famous Arctic explorers as one of the most hazardous and difficult aviation feats ever attempted. It is of peculiar and particular interest to the University of Wisconsin that once again a man who was a student here has helped to blaze a historic pathway in the sky where, it seems, is to be the progress of future civilization.

The name of Carl Ben Eielson, who piloted Capt. Wilkins' plane over 2,200 miles of Arctic ice and snow in a non-stop flight of 20½ hours, will be linked with that of Col. Charles Lindbergh as two of the great pioneers in the history of aviation which is now in an interesting era—the period of exploration and demonstration.

The Eielson-Wilkins hops has made a definite contribution to science. In the flight from Point Barrow, Alaska, to Spitzbergen, no land was sighted, a point that has been debatable since men first went into the polar basin. The flight is destined to go down in history as one of the greatest accomplishments in polar exploration. The navigation of a heavier-than-air machine through an unexplored "blind spot" on the earth's surface, over an unknown area where nothing could have saved the two men if they had come down and could not have risen again, required remarkable courage and skill.

Eielson and Lindbergh have brought honor to Wisconsin. One is tempted to draw a moral in connection with the recent Battle of the Petitions, but one realizes that occurrences like that and others that have taken place earlier in the university year are powerless to hurt the name of Wisconsin and pale into insignificance in the light of deeds similar to that discussed here.

Haresfoot Initiates

Bring Your Gifts to the Gods; The Cardinal Sympathizes, Congratulates

ON the steps of the library, facing the lower campus, an event of interest and significance on the calendar of University of Wisconsin students is to take place this afternoon. The dramatic club whose motto boasts "All our girls are men, yet every one's a lady," is to hold its informal initiation.

We have been hearing a lot about doing away with informal initiations during the past year, in fact, we have advocated such a step, but here is an informal we would hate to see go. One of the most colorful events in the school year, Haresfoot initiation stands out in our memory as a grand, glorious, and gala occasion.

The neophytes come to the library steps like So and So to Olympus, bearing gifts to the gods. If one can call heavy maitreis and cigars "gifts," and Bill Schroeder et al "gods." The actives stand around and between gulps and puffs make the inevitable wisecracks at the blushing neophytes who impersonate everyone from Cleopatra to Big Bill Thompson before the crowding gallery of onlookers.

Though it may be particularly painful to appear in various stages of dress and undress before the feminine portion of that audience, the neophytes should remember that philosophy proves this a world of illusion and appearance and Haresfoot initiation nothing more than a bad dream.

The Haresfoot club has done much to spread the fame of the university, add to the experience of its members, and enrich the days of our college life. The Cardinal at once extends its congratulations and sympathies to today's initiates.

What Do You Say?

The Readers' Say-So Department Is a Barometer of Student Opinion

If the Gordon case has done nothing else, it has increased the number of letters to the Readers' Say-so department of The Cardinal three fold. We have always looked upon this section of the paper as one of the more important, for it is a barometer of student opinion. It is too bad that the barometer only records the more severe atmospheric changes during the year and that it does not react to the less perceptible variations in student weather.

We feel that the little things that come up in a student's life here at Wisconsin, the pet peeves as well as the galling gourches, should receive an outlet, and letters to the Readers' Say-so are perhaps the best way of relieving a mental strain, for the whole university body can be figuratively raked over the coals or praised to the skies with the assurance of a goodly audience.

For the last week or so this department of The Cardinal has filled and overflowed the editorial page. We like to see this; it shows an alert student body and it tells us which way the wind lies, what the students are thinking about. If The Cardinal is to interpret and direct student opinion it has to know student thought.

The Cardinal is your paper. Each and every student in the university is a stockholder. If there are things about your paper or your university that you don't like, tell us, perhaps we can fix things up to your satisfaction. At any rate, we can try.

OTHER EDITORS SAY

THE MODERN DANCE

(McGill Daily)

In convulsions of inspirations the jazz-band writhes; the ecstatic cacophony accelerates the palpitation of the heart. The eyes of the instrumentalists take on the appearance of swollen minims; the head of the pianist is as loose as his music; the violinists pinch the strings until they cry; the saxophone, out of the depths of despair, emits an occasional katzenjammer; the drummer adds his weight to the musical argument. Electrified marionettes, possessed with the wine-afflatus, skim the waxy floors in glutinous embrace, male and female, each with another kind. From profound decollete come rhythmic heavings; hind-quarters quiver in artistic jactitation. In the whirl of dizzy circumambulation pink garters smile invitingly. Consummate is the orgy, the picture complete. The artist signs his pseudonym and titles it "Terpsichore in Modern Undress."

In their condemnation of the vulgarized versions of what will shall be known in the future as the twentieth century folk-song and folk-dance, the pale-faced Puritan and the anaemic esthete are at last in musical harmony. The latter scorns to look at the corporeal contortions; the human form divine, he says, is not to be disgraced by lascivious acrobatics; the sight of a pair of Siamese twins, united in insinuating ugliness, arouses his disgust and his libido; in our theories of grace, he holds, the Black Bottom ought not to be uppermost. As for the music, it is not worth, as a notorious punster would say, a song.

The Puritan, too, piously interdicts all dances which have too much kick; all synthetic music which awakens a never-dormant oestrus; he would bar such notation; as for the dance, he objects to the proximity.

Gamma Phi Beta

Performance — champions of their class. Snap ahead of them all at the get-away. Lead, with ease, at top speed—and accelerate faster at ALL speeds. A marvel on the road and a beauty at the curb. Big, roomy, luxurious. These are facts, not claims—proved by the stop watch and confirmed by the public.

Chi Omega

Judge for yourself the genuine worth of the irresistible Chi Omega. Spring is here—the road is open—the Chi Omega is eager to go. Relax—the Chi Omega is the kind of a car that lets you. Steering is so easy... Braking so sure... Cushions so soft... Springs long and flexible... Judge for yourself. The Chi Omega dealer will gladly let you drive it.

Pi Phi

Pi Phi has risen rapidly to its present eminence by depending entirely upon the proven superiority of the car itself. The increasing thousands of Pi Phi owners means infinitely more, however, than a remarkable success. It means we must build even better cars and given even greater value, because the public has a right to expect MORE from Pi Phi than from others. Evidence of our determination to keep faith is BUILT into the new Pi Phi. Lynite connecting rods, double armor plate frame, bijur chas'is, hydraulic four-wheel brakes, all-steel running boards.

Alpha Chi Omega

The new Alpha Chi is greatly accelerating the two-car tendency in its own favor, if the action of these Stoughton brothers can be taken as an indication. One brother went alone to the salesroom for a demonstration. He had not driven the car five minutes until he headed for home to have his brother see it. Of course, the other brother wanted to drive the new beauty, and she was at the helm on the return to the salesroom. There they decided at once that each should have a personal car. One chose a coupe and the other a sedan. Small wonder that enthusiasm for the Alpha Chi is growing greater all the time. Newly-created beauty to please the eye. Performance to satisfy, and more than satisfy, the most exacting and particular among the motor-wise. The New Alpha Chi. The Sex of the Century.

I Have a Rendezvous With Beth
I have a rendezvous with Beth
At some disputed barricade,
When she shall come with golden,
braid,

And knock me cold with her blue eyes.

I have a rendezvous with Beth,
When May brings back blue days and skies.

It may be that she shall take my hand
And lead me into some dark room,

And close my eyes and quench
my breath;

It may be I shall ritz her still;
I have a rendezvous with Beth
On some scarred slope of battered hill,

When May comes round again this year

And Drives and Dodges re-appear.

Lord knows 'twere better to be deep

Involved in lectures and such talks,

Where love throbs out in blissful
sleep,
Pulse nigh to pulse, and breath
to breath,
Where hushed awakenings are
dear . . .

But I've a rendezvous with Beth
At midnight in some flamin' gown,
When May peeps in again to year,
And I to my pledged word am
true,
I shall not fail that rendezvous.

After that stirring poem, relax on the story of the two travelling salesmen who were stranded in the country with a broken-down motor car. Upon going to a country house and asking for lodgings for the night, the kindly tiller of the soil answered, "Well, we haven't much room but you can go to the next house where Sam Smith takes in tourists." And the two travelling salesmen went travelling the road to Sam Smith's.

Tom Dare of the Marble Tournament
Synopsis: Tom Dare, a promising young lad in grade school, wins his first marbles by solving a difficult puzzle in a contest. Not wishing to display his prize haughtily before the school fellows, Tom does not take the marbles to school. Ned Kurth became Tom's arch enemy because of his covetousness concerning Tom's attractive marbles. Now go on with the story . . .

Betsy Brechensneider was undoubtedly the prettiest girl in Tom's grade at the time our story takes place. She had flowing, curly, golden hair and red cheeks—as red as strawberries almost. She liked Tom and she liked Ned, but would not give her whole attention to either not knowing for sure which one was the worthier (or worthiest). One afternoon both the boys made to walk home with Betsy, but who should have the privilege of carrying Betsy's heavy geography book? Tom or Ned? Ned became instantly enraged, and struck Tom soundly on the nose, making the blood flow quickly out onto his clean waist. Tom, however, refused to fight, saying that fighting before ladies was improper, and what is more indecent? (Killer McKee note.) The three walked to Betsy's home, and all the way the rough lads in Ned's gang grieved Tom unmercifully for not defending himself. Betsy bid them good-bye with the hint of a tear in her eye. She knew they were going to fight, and she feared for the new marble in Tom's waistcoat, though secretly.

School Trains Dancers for Chicago Opera; Draws Foreign Offer

Having created a special school for training dancers to appear in the reproductions of the Chicago Opera company, and that ballet having expanded into such a perfect and unique organization as to induce invitations for appearances elsewhere in the United States and abroad, the methods employed by Andreas Pavley and Serge Oukrainsky to bring about such efficiency are both interesting and instructive. This is especially true in view of the engagement of the organization as the feature of the bill at New Orpheum theater commencing Thursday.

The students, consisting mostly of American girls and boys, are given a real and democratic training resembling a military school in point of severity. Messrs. Pavley and Oukrainsky have established original methods which have proven exceptionally effective, and which readily explain the success with which their ballet has met, not only in their country but in many foreign lands.

Before becoming emperor, Napoleon was only a corporal, and so each of the ballet pupils must pass through the corps de ballet before essaying the role of premiere danseuse. The merit of such rigid training lies in the fact that each individual talent is developed. One pupil may have a greater disposition for classic than for Grecian or Oriental dancing. Another may be inclined more strongly toward the latter. It is therefore readily seen that the Pavley-Oukrainsky ballet has not one but several premières. First of all, there is hardly a dancer who executes all styles perfectly, and secondly, there always exists that stimulation of comparison.

In the Pavley-Oukrainsky ballet, the title of premiere is bestowed only upon those who deserve the honor, regardless of the amount of time devoted to study and practice. It is won by hard work and pronounced talent.

Finds Tobacco for "Breaking In" a Pipe

Columbus, Ohio
March 10, 1927

Larue & Bro. Co.
Richmond, Va.

Gentlemen:

Two years ago my wife gave me an expensive pipe. I smoked it a great deal for two or three weeks, put it aside, then began smoking it again. This time it was very strong. Veterans told me that it had been smoked too hard for a new pipe and should be put away.

The pipe was laid away again. A short time ago I got it out and smoked one of the common brands of tobacco in it. The results were disappointing. I told the druggist of my experience with it. He asked if I had tried Edgeworth. I told him I never had. I followed his suggestion, and I am honest when I say that it has restored the sweetness to the pipe, and has made me wonder. Was it the pipe or the brand of tobacco that caused me to lay it away for the long period of time?

As a novice, I prefer Edgeworth. I am going to stick to it, as I feel satisfied that there is none better on the market.

Sincerely yours,
Philip C. Shera

Hot trumpet— Sock it!

THE saxophones moan. The trumpets trump. The cornets corn. And the fellow who plays the piano should have been an acrobat! That's the kind of an aggregation which gets real music out of dumb animals at a dance.

And real music makes even the best dancer thirsty. All right! Go over in the corner by the palm trees and quench your thirst with "Canada Dry." This ginger ale has a delightful flavor . . . tang to it . . . dryness . . . sparkle. It has a subtle gingery flavor because it is made from pure Jamaica ginger. It contains no capsicum (red pepper), and nota bene it blends well with other beverages.

Scabbard and Blade Protests to Bush

cadet officers in various colleges and universities conferring baccalaureate degrees do form this Society and adopt this constitution in order to unite in closer relationship the military departments of American universities and colleges: to preserve and develop the essential qualities of good and efficient officers: to prepare ourselves as educated men to take a more active part and to have a greater influence in military affairs of the communities in which we may reside: and above all to spread intelligent information concerning the military requirements of our country."

"And whereas, recently appeared in the local press of Madison, Wisconsin, the home town of Company A, an exchange of letters between an official of Scabbard & Blade, and the Reverend R. W. Barstow, which letters have brought much public comment and unfavorable criticism of the activities of Scabbard & Blade "nationally."

And whereas, such public discussion does not appear to have been conducted pursuant to the aims and purposes of Scabbard & Blade as stated in its constitution and in the preamble thereto.

"Therefore, it is the sense of this committee of the whole, consisting of active members of Company A, and its alumni and associate members, that such public discussion does not materially advance the aims and purposes to which this Society is pledged, and that it does in fact, bring unfavorable and unnecessary criticism upon this Society, the true aims and objects for which it stands being submersed and misinterpreted thereby.

"And therefore be it resolved that this 16th Convention of the National Society of Scabbard & Blade, held at Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio, take such action that may be necessary to direct its membership to refrain from irrelevant, acrimonious and controversial public discussion, which does not pertain primarily to the advancement of military education, and partakes rather of the nature of investigations and dossiers of the Department of Justice."

Pythians Join with Castilians in Feast

Pythians and Castilians will feast upon wit and repartee Wednesday night as well as upon dinner fare at the innovation of their first joint banquet to be held at the Women's building. Open discussion upon pertinent issues will dominate between courses over all ordinary feminine topics of conversation. The identity of the toastmistress is to be kept secret until the banquet. Peg Carns, '29, will welcome the members of the societies. Miss Borchers and Miss Wallerstein, honor faculty guests, will be after dinner speakers.

Wisconsin Registrars Hold Second Meeting at Madison on May 4

Letters announcing the program of the second meeting of registrars of Wisconsin colleges to be held in Madison May 4 were mailed yesterday. Prof. C. A. Smith, secretary of the faculty announced.

Frank O. Holt, registrar of the university, will report on the work of the committee on co-operation, and Registrar Babcock, Milton college, will speak on grade distribution in the morning session.

Mrs. Riordan, Oshkosh State Teachers' College, will address the group on "Tendencies Towards Curriculum Changes," Registrar Mead, Lawrence college, will speak on "Absences and Cuts," and a general discussion of all topics presented will follow at the afternoon meeting.

No Rhodes Scholar From U of W in 1928

Elections for Rhodes scholarships will not be held in Wisconsin in 1928. Scott H. Goodnight, dean of men, said today. The states receiving these scholarships are divided into groups of three, of which two elect scholars to attend Oxford university each year. Rhodes scholars have been elected from the University of Wisconsin the last two years, Jefferson Burrus in 1926 and Clyde Kluckhohn in 1927.
