BURLESQUE TO TICKLE GRADS AFTER HALF

Crack Squad Will Drill as Band Plays and Para- chutes Fly

A drill according to Butt's manual given by the President's guard in conjunction with the university band, the firing of parachute bombs, and several original stunts by "Sammy" Becker '22 and other university humorists are among the many features to be presented between halves at the game Saturday, according to Reginald Garstang '22, chairman.

Immediately after the whistle ends the first half of the game, about 80 members of the President's guard will swing out on the field where the movements of Butt's manual will be gone through. All the movements will be executed in time with music by the university band.

Shoot Parachutes

Beautiful parachutes carrying many colored flags and other emblems will at the same time arise from the mouth of a special cannon which has been set up near the bleachers. Flying high over the crowd, these will add materially to the militaristic atmosphere of the field at that time.

"Burlesque in the fullest sense of the word will predominate in several other features which we have planned for the amusement of the alumni and others," said Garstang last night. "Sammy Becker and a few of his rivals are to entertain the crowd whenever the ball is not in play."

Garstang refused to state just what these stunts would be, preferring to surprise the fans at the game. He promised, however, that every feature will be original and full of "pep."

FRAUTSCHI IS NEW SENATE CANDIDATE

Walter A. Frautschi '24 has announced his candidacy for sophomore representative to the Student Senate. He is running independently.

Frautschi is a member of the First Regimental band. Last year he was on the Y. M. C. A. Inner circle, a freshman organization, and this year he is secretary of the Sophomore commission. He is also on the circulation staff of the Athletic review. At the time of the exposition last year, he was active on the decorations committee, and at present he is working on the Memorial Union drive.

Frautschi was a member of the recent all-university traditions commission and is also a member of the temporary sophomore traditions committee. He is a member of Sigma Nu fraternity and of Skull and Crescent and of the Philomathia Literary society. Frautschi's home is in Madison.

Firewood to be Piled Today on Lower Campus

Preparations for the Homecoming bonfire which will take place after the massmeeting Friday night, will be made today and tomorrow. The committee is asking for the services of 50 students to aid in the building of the pile, and all men interested will be given work if they apply to the committee members who will be on the lower campus at all hours today and tomorrow.

Practically all of the Madison merchants are giving empty boxes and crates for the fire. Several truck loads will be collected from the Statet street stores and from around the square.

The speakers for the massmeeting will be Judge John C. "Ikey" Karel, Milwaukee, chairman, the Badger who made the lone touchdown against Minnesota in 1894, the first year Wisconsin beat the Gophers; Edward S. Jordan '05, president of the Jordan Motor company, and Prof. Carl Russell Fish, whose presence is traditional at Homecoming "pep" sessions and whose fun-making and cardinal vest have long marked the event.

Capt. Guy Sundt and George Bunge will be on hand to say something about the team. Following them Coach John Richards will tell what he expects from his squad of fighting men.

For those who will be unable to crowd into the gymnasium an overflow meeting will be held in Music hall. Walter, Alexander '97, vice-president of the Refrigerator Transit company, Milwaukee, will have charge of the meeting, and some of session will be on hand to talk to the smaller crowd.

"RUSTY HINGE" TO SQUEAK AT BIG CARNIVAL

Eight Acts Make Up Program For Friday Night Entertain- ment

The "Rusty Hinge" quartet, featuring "Pete" E. F. Burns, has been secured as an additional attraction for the Homecoming carnival, which will be held in the men's gymnasium Friday evening immediately after the bonfire on the lower campus.

"Pete" Burns, tenor, is managing this appearance of the group. William "Doc" Dorward, tenor, is taking the lead. Jack Cornelius will sing baritone and Russell Irish, base. The quartet is well known about the campus, having made many appearances last year.

The addition of this group insures a program of eight acts for the carnival. Boxing, gymnastics, presentations by Haresfoot and Edwin Booth dramatic societies, and individual acts by Ken Damon and Hanque Ringold will comprise the bill. Jess Cohen, Ferry Fairbanks, and the rest of Boyd's best orchestra will play.

Final rehearsal will be held in the gymnasium this evening, when the program will be staged in its entirety. After rough spots have been removed at this performance the carnival will be ready for presentation Friday evening.

SCOTT NEARING TO SPEAK HERE MONDAY NIGHT

Will Air Views on Foreign Policy Under Auspices of Social Science Club

Scott Nearing, formerly of the economics department in the University of Pennsylvania, also of the University of Toledo, will speak Monday night, Oct. 31, at the Madison high school auditorium on the subject "American Foreign Policy." The meeting is sponsored by the Social Science club.

Mr. Nearing is a radical economist whose ideas along entirely unorthodox lines have given him much sensational press publicity. His doctrines caused his dismissal from the University of Pennsylvania, and later from Toledo.

Just before America's entrance into the war, he was tried under the Espionage act, for statements made in a lecture called "The Great Madness," dealing with the economic origin of war. Since then he has been an instructor in the Rand School of social science in New York.

Nearing's latest work, "The American Empire," is a study of present-day tendencies in big business and imperialism in relation to world politics. However, he may be criticized, its author, by his fearless thought and speech, has won rank among the younger progressives as both speaker and writer. The gist of this book will be given in the talk Monday night.

PROGRAM SHOWS FOOTBALL SPIRIT ON HOMECOMING

Planned With Help of Athletic Department—Goes On Sale Friday

"A credit to Wisconsin Homecoming," is the way that T. E. Jones, director of the athletic department, characterized the 1921 Homecoming Program, which will be sold by W. A. A. members during Homecoming week-end, starting Friday noon. "It is filled with interesting material and adds dignity to the whole game and celebration," he continued.

The cover was designed and drawn by Herbert Brockhausen '23. Simple, but dignified, it is printed in two colors, black and red, with the Homecoming monogram worked into the design. The border is a conventionalized design, done entirely by hand.

Pictures of Richards

The title page has a pen and ink sketch of a gridiron scrimmage in one corner. Full page pictures of Captain Guiserd M. Sundt '22, and Coach John R. Richards '95, with short sketches on the opposite pages take one section of the program, and are followed by pictures and sketches of Dr. H. L. Williams, the Minnesota coach, and Capt. Lawrence Teberg '22, of the Minnesota squad. A double-page spread of the Wisconsin football squad follows, covering two entire pages.

CART WHEELS ON WAY FOR DOLLAR DAY

Money-changers to Trade Silver for Paper on Saturday

Pounds of silver dollars to be poured into the Memorial Union buckets at the Homecoming game Saturday are on their way to Madison via special express. Money changers will take charge of this fortune in silver and it will be safeguarded in the Commercial National bank until Saturday.

Under the direction of O. A. Paunauck paper will be changed for silver, distribution being made from covered booths. The booths will be guarded by armed police. One booth will be located at the corner of Park street and University avenue, to take care of crowds on their way to the game; another will be located at the entrance to the field.

Originated at Ohio

The idea of a "Silver Dollar Day" was first carried out at Ohio State when they were raising money for the new stadium. At the Homecoming game in that instance some $20,000 was raised in this manner.

A team of 150 women under the direction of W. A. A. will collect the silver dollars. They will pass through the stands between halves with large tin buckets, and catch the valuable missiles that are thrown at their pails.

Plans to Drop Literature

Literature giving full particulars about this novel drive will be scattered from the skies. The special airplanes which have been chartered by the Memorial Union committee will drop this information on groups of people Friday afternoon and Saturday morning.

"The success of this 'Dollar Day,'" said "Hap" Baker '22, who is in charge of the Union drive, "will be a great stimulant to all who are working on the Union. It will mean more than a good big drop in the bucket—or should I say buckets; it will show us that the school appreciates the tremendous value of a Union to the extent of everyone wanting to help a bit."

JORDAN TO SPEAK ON VARSITY SPIRIT TONIGHT AT Y. M.

Edward S. Jordan '05, president of the Jordan Automobile company, Cleveland, Ohio, will talk on the subject "Spirit of Wisconsin," at a Fellowship meeting in the "Y" parlors tonight at 7 o'clock.

Mr. Jordan, who graduated from Wisconsin in 1905, was at one time editor-in-chief of The Daily Cardinal, president of the junior class, member of the Badger and Literary boards and of Iron Cross. In 1908 he was advertising manager for the Rambler Motor Car company.

A special program of music has been arranged which includes a solo by Richard Van Houten '23.

AT THE GAME

THE other evening we had occasion to do some work at the Libe, and pursuing the natural course in such a case, had to go there. At the entrance of the reading room is the following notice, which you all recall: "For Readers Only." We went in, and the first thing we observed was a fur coat filler trying to read the message in the eyes of a Brilliantine mop. Farther on was a hill favorite reading the arrows in a man killer's nicely clocked hosiery. We procured a copy of Sonnica and went home.

WE thought we were a Public Nuisance, but after the last couple of weeks we have been tagged a Public Welfare. Yes—and we paid for the tag, what's more.

THE following is to be sung in place of the usual Skyrocket that is given at the beginning of Benny Snow's lectures:

Now I sit me down to sleep;
I hope the lecture will be sweet.
If he should quit before I wake—
Be sure to give me a good, hard shake.

A few nights ago he went to see her. He was late.
She bawled him out.
A few nights later he was early.
She bawled him out.
Last night he was on time.
She bawled him out.
She said that she expected him to be late.

Could it be that she was going by the law of averages?

"Have you read 'Freckles?'"
"No, mine are brown."

IT was very late at night, possibly two or three hours later than it should of been. A heavy rain was falling, for lack of something else to do. Over all hung the very thickest of fogs, so thick that one street light could not see the next. Every few minutes a thief or a bootpicked to appear a second time, as a result of the preliminary debating tryouts conducted by Prof. J. M. O'Neill, chairman of the department of speech, Tuesday evening.

The successful candidates are: Balliette, Bardslay, Blake, Blume, Brown, Diedrich, Gleason, Heft, Hentzen, Karel, Moreau, Paterson, Roberts, Rogers, Seering, and Weiman. These men will appear with the members of last year's team and joint debaters in a later tryout.

The question debated in the preliminary tryout was as follows: "Resolved, that final examinations at the University of Wisconsin should be conducted under the honor system." Each candidate spoke for five minutes on the side of the question which he chose.

INTERNATIONAL CLUB INITIATES STUDENTS FROM EIGHT COUNTRIES

Eight foreign countries are represented by the students whom the International club at the university recently initiated.

They are as follows:
Belgium, Marc Somerhausen; Bohemia, Strela Vaclay; Latvia, Miss A. C. Stoffregen; Argentine, Fernando Sola and C. L. Campbell; Philippine Islands, R. P. Villatuya, and J. A. Bartolome; Hawaii, T. Suzuki; India, P. Patil; Siam, Lochaya Chuang.

The new American members of the club are: Martha Breiblat, Howard T. Beaver, Herman Levitz, Lois K. Stewart, Richard C. Munkwitz, Gerold Heebink, B. Peacock Noyes, S. Thomas Warren, Joel Swensen, Howard Rogers, Kenneth legger swept silently along in the shadows, thoughtfully bent on some foul deed, and ever careful that their steps made no noise. An occasional train whistle in the far distance was the only thing to break an otherwise fearful silence.

Suddenly a dull thud was heard a short half block up the street and we hastened toward the source of the sound. There we found a policeman, muttering to himself and brushing himself off, "Doggone it, it isn't safe to lean up against a frame building these damp nights and sleep. They got too darn slippery."

THE lawyers and the engineers are going to have a hand car race on the street car tracks on State street Saturday morning, the distance to be from Park to the square. Contrary to the general opinion, the rivals are not having daily secret practice over the course during the noon hour.

The object of the International club is to encourage social and intellectual intercourse among the students of all nationalities at the university. Social evenings and discussion meetings are held every two weeks; guests are always welcome.

RECEPTION HELD FOR MORPHY AND BAND BY ILLINI

Prof. E. W. Morphy, director of the university band, and his musicians were entertained at a reception given by the bandmen of Illini when they went to the Illini-Badger game, Saturday, Oct. 21.

Scores of old pupils and associates of Professor Morphy, former Illini director of their orchestra, crowded around him, glad to welcome him back to Urbana. The pleasant relations between the Illini band and Wisconsin orchestra were shown when the two orchestra combined in their playing.

W. A. A. SELLS $850 WORTH OF BUTTONS

More than $850 was turned in last evening from the Homecoming button sale. This means that about 3,500 of the buttons have been sold.

Thirty-four houses have subscribed 100 per cent strong, due to the efforts of W. A. A. members who canvassed sorority and women's roming houses Tuesday night.

Buttons are being sold at 15 tables on the campus, by teams of W. A. A. members. At present the team working under Libby Kirk '23 is leading in sales. Their table, which is located at the administration building, has sold 475 buttons.

Delay Awarding Contract For New City Ambulance

The awarding of a bid and the closing of the contract for the new city ambulance was deferred Tuesday night at a meeting of the city property committee. Seven companies, including three which have local offices, submitted bids. They varied from $2,610 to $7,000. The question may be brought before the council at the next meeting but the awarding of the contract will be completed within a week or ten days by the committee.

Among the concerns which offered bids are: the Cadillac Co.; the Fox Motor Sales Co., Madison; The White Co., Cleveland; the Purcell-Wischan Co., Madison; International Harvester Co., Madison; the Schmidt Motor Co., Milwaukee, and the Rock Falls Manufacturing Co., Sterling, Ill.

PARIS — France's national debt will amount to 320,000,000,000 francs by the end of this year, M. La Croix, chairman of the senate finance committee, on Tuesday told that body at its opening session.

AT THE STRAND

Sydney Ainsworth, House Peters, and Irene Rich in "The Invisible Power," are now playing at the Strand theater. The story itself deals with the regeneration of an underworld character and the sacrifices that his wife, the school teacher, daughter of a minister, makes to help him "go straight." The very fact, however, that he has once been in jail, keeps him constantly under the surveillance of the police; so much so that even his wife becomes enmeshed in the politics of the secret police that watch the activities of famous underworld characters. A "Snub" Pollard comedy will also be shown.

Street Committee in Regular Meeting Today

The street committee held its regular meeting at 2 this afternoon. Nothing but routine matters, including sidewalk permits, were taken up.

GOPHERS WORK AGAINST PLAYS OF BADGERS

Several Stars on Sidelines as Varsity Bucks Frosh

(Special from Minnesota Daily)
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—Using the Wisconsin plays and formations, such as they have, the freshman team continues to work against the Varsity in preparation for the big struggle with the Badgers at Wisconsin Saturday. Their supply of Badger plays is meagre, however, Wisconsin not having opened up this year.

Most of the practice was devoted to stopping or attempting to stop the sweeping end runs from a punt formation for which the Badgers are so justly famous. Dr. Williams does not intend to have "Rollie" Williams and company skirt his end as they did last year.

He realizes that this is going to be a difficult task, however, as Minnesota has been so deplorably weak on the wings so far this year. As a consequence, each of the wing candidates, Cole, Wallace, Moyle and Blum, were given a chance to prove their worth against this type of formation.

The success of the yearlings against the Varsity was only mediocre, but whether it was due to the good defensive work of the first stringers or the weakness of the freshmen was hard to determine. The Varsity ends improved as the session went on, however, which was pleasing to the coaches.

The old grads were out in force again aiding Dr. Williams with the coaching. "Sig" Herrin continued to give more attention to the Varsity than to the freshmen, who are his usual proteges. In addition to "Sig," "Johnny" McGovern, "Hanky" Davis and George Hauser were out. Their attendance at practice adds much spirit to the team.

Four men continue to dot the sidelines to remind the Gophers that they still have some casualties in their midst. Brown, Johnson, Gilstad and Gross were the unfortunates. Brown and Gilstad are still bothered with their hips and Dr. Williams does not care to take a chance with his stars and have them injured more severely. Trig's cracked rib is still on the hummer and it is doubtful whether he will be used for the remainder of the week.

Gross hurt his hand in the Hoosier game and has been nursing it along ever since. He injured it in blocking one of the Hoosier passes. It is not known just the extent of the hurt. It is feared that several small bones are broken.

"Arnie" Oss, stellar Gopher half-back, will go to Madison with the team it was announced last night. The attending physicians said that it would be necessary for him to make the trip in a wheel chair. "Arnie" said that he did not expect to be able to play before the Michigan game at the earliest, if then.

TANK WORK UNDER WAY WITH 35 MEN

With 35 men reporting for tank work, pre-season activities in swimming are well under way. The pool is reserved for the Varsity squad on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 4 to 6, and under Coach Steinauer's direction, the swimmers are working on the dashes, the middle distances, and the plunge at these hours. With Collins, Davies, Haldeman, and Lahmann, "W" men of last year's squad, back this year, prospects for a successful team are good.

Eastern Elevens Open Up In True Western Fashion

Although thousands of eastern football fans were treated to numerous thrills last Saturday, none of them compared to those that the Chicago Maroons sprung on the Tigers. It was the first time in history that any one of the Big Three teams bowed before a western eleven, and the East has not yet quite recovered from the blow.

It must be admitted that the Tigers played without the services of the stars Lourie and Garrity, but the decisive manner in which Chicago outplayed their opponents in every phase of the game insures that the presence of these men would not have been sufficient to turn the tide of the battle in their favor.

Play Straight Ball

Instead of avoiding the highly touted Keck, and resorting to a trick formation game, as the advance dope had hinted would be the case, the Maroons employed straight football tactics, but executed their plays in such a fashion that the Tigers were completely bewildered. The Princetonians were forced to allow Stagg's warriors to beat them at their own game.

Western followers will have a chance to see how the two styles of game compare when the Big Ten conference and the Big Three championships are settled, Princeton still has to meet Harvard and Yale, while the Maroons have Ohio and Wisconsin remaining on their schedules.

Easterners Vary Game

Saturday's games portrayed the fact that eastern teams are no longer adhering strictly to their old style of game, but are resorting to the more varied western style of play for their gains. A good example was the Harvard-Penn State game. At the end of the second period the Crimson was on the long end of a 14 to 0 score, when Penn State opened up with one of the most thrilling attacks that was ever seen in the East. Line plunges were mixed with passes and trick formations that continued to gain ground until Penn State had piled up 21 points. Harvard then resorted to a passing game, and was enabled to tie the score at 21 all.

Yale's victory over West Point was witnessed by a crowd of 73,000 people. This crowd also was furnished with plenty of unexpected thrills. The Army went into the game with the odds against them, but it is to be doubted whether or not Yale will encounter much stiffer opposition than was offered them Saturday. It was the first time that the Yale goal had been crossed this year.

Army Rallies

The Army staged a rally in the final period of the game which carried the ball over the goal line for one touchdown, and then brought the oval again within 10 yards of a second counter. The rally seemed to hinge on Walter French's entrance into the game. Although the famous half was in poor shape, due to injuries, he never failed to gain ground, once he was in the game.

Cornell met its first opposition of the year, but rose nobly to the occasion and defeated Colgate by a 31 to 0 score. The University of Pittsburg displayed the best form of the season when they triumphed over Syracuse 35 to 0.

Other eastern scores ran pretty much as had been expected. Dartmouth, without the service of Captain Robertson, who thus far is the highest individual scorer of the season, piled up 31 points while their opponents, Columbia, made 7. Penn employed an aerial attack almost exclusively, and handily defeated the Virginia Military Institute 21 to 7.

Lafayette showed itself to be one of the strongest smaller college teams of the country when it defeated Fordham by the decisive score of 28 to 7.

Gophers in Hard Luck? Maybe

Poor old Gophers! Their team is all broken up. Oss is hurt; Brown has an awfully bad hip; Gilstad suffers likewise; and decrepit, aged, Martineau sits on the sidelines torn and racked into a shell of his former great self. Maybe he does. And maybe they are.

Minnesota may be half shot, but she isn't all shot. Not by a long shot. There have been times when "Doc" Williams had to conscript an eleven to play against Wisconsin. That's what the Minnesota papers said. When the contests were over, the conscripts usually had rolled up enough points to make the score sound like a telephone number in the West end. They were such poor players that only eight or nine of them were put on Eckersall's all-conference team.

"Doc" Williams and his Minnesota shift are still tying the can to championship contenders. "39-40-7" shouts the quarterback, and the steam roller begins to produce its pancakes. But John Richards also has a pretty good shift. "Get out of there, you big bum; and let a football player take your place," shouts the big coach. That is another form of the famed shift.

Minnesota lost to Ohio State and squeezed out only a bare victory over Indiana. That's all right. Gen. U. S. Grant lost seven straight battles before he stopped the Confederates at the Wilderness. And he was a fairly good coach.

There is such a condition as over-confidence. It happened two years ago. The result was a beaten Wisconsin team. Minnesota is crippled up as Jack Dempsey was when he put Carpentier to sleep. Undoubtedly Wisconsin will win. But don't be too sure about it.

COUNTRY SQUAD TO REST BEFORE MEETING GOPHERS

Took last Strenuous Workout Yesterday—Go Easy Friday

With only two days left before their clash with the Gophers, Wisconsin harriers yesterday took their last strenuous workout in preparation for the meet on Saturday morning. A light workout of two miles Monday was followed by a fast four miles Tuesday, the first two miles being clipped off in 10 minutes 45 seconds, and a run over the short course of three miles completed the major part of the work for the week. The men will rest today, and on Friday will take a short, easy jog to put them in condition for the race.

This week's efforts have been concentrated on getting away to fast starts and on learning to run when tired. It is in this manner that Coach Burke expects to defeat the Gophers, whose usual plan is to start easily and depend on a spurt at the finish to give them their places. The Balger plan of campaign will be to take the lead at the start and rely on their strength to hold their advantage in the dash to the tape.

Six Will Start

The six men who will start for Wisconsin will be picked from the following: Wall, Finkle, Ramsay, Morhead, Rossmessel, Daniels, Knutson, Sommer, and Herrman. The probable starters will be: Wall, Finkle, Ramsay, Rossmessel, Moorhead, and Daniels.

The men will line up for the race at 11:15 Saturday morning in front of the gym. The course will be up Langdon street to Park, down Park

GRID TEAM IN FAIR CONDITION SAYS RICHARDS

Coach Expects Hard Fight With Battling Northern Eleven

"The team is in fairly good condition and is showing up well," declared Coach John R. Richards yesterday after he had sent the Varsity eleven through a stiff 40-minute scrimmage with the freshman eleven. "I doubt if we are in as good condition as we were last week, however," he continued. "The squad is perfecting new and old plays in anticipation of a tough battle when it meets Minnesota for the Homecoming game Saturday."

Temporary shifts were made in the Badger regular lineup during its struggle with the yearlings, who continually shot Gopher shift formations at the first team. Three men worked at the quarterback position. Gibson, Gill, and "Rollie" Williams were Richards' choices, and he gave them all a chance to run the eleven.

Gibson Better

Although Gibson was practically carried off the field when he was injured in the Illinois game last Saturday, his condition has evidently improved enough to enable him to pilot the Badger outfit. Whether he will start the Minnesota contest will not be known until Wisconsin lines up for its snappy drill before the opening whistle.

That Richards anticipates a hectic fight from a battling northern eleven was shown by his comments last night. He declared that Wisconsin does not look for any romp when the two teams meet on the gridiron Saturday.

"Minnesota has a strong team," he said, "and we can expect no walk-away in the annual game. Ours is a good Varsity team and it can be depended upon to do its best all of the way."

Line Intact

It is entirely probable that the Wisconsin line which put up an effective exhibition against the Illini will remain intact for the Minnesota game. Badger forwards had no difficulty in handling the heavy Suckers, and broke through several times to throw Illinois backs for a loss. If Bunge and the two guards can hurry passes of Aas, Gopher center, in the same manner that they did those of Mohr and Vogel, Minnesota's chances for an effectual attack and victory will be materially lessened.

THAT OHIO GAME

Spalding's annual has this to say of the 1920 Wisconsin team: "Only one defeat fell to the lot of the university throughout the season. This was administered by Ohio State, who played so successfully against other elevens of the conference. In both the Minnesota and Chicago games, the winning drop-kick was made by Davey, quarterback for Wisconsin. Scott, Weston, captain, Elliott, Sundt, and Brader were players who worked brilliantly throughout the season."

to the lake shore, along the drive out past the first bridge to the left around the marsh back to the drive at the foot of Picnic point, and in along the lake, a total distance of 4.7 miles.

Burke Confident

At a meeting of the squad last night in the trophy room of the gym, Coach Burke expressed his confidence in the team's ability to win the race. In his opinion, Minnesota has exaggerated the strength of its team, the only man really to be feared being Sweitzer. He told of letters from former Coach Bresnehan and Pat Dennis, of last year's squad, expressing their confidence in Wisconsin.

HAIL! MINNESOTA

Minnesota, hail to thee,
Hail to thee our college dear,
Thy light shall ever be,
A beacon bright and clear,
Thy sons and daughters true,
Will proclaim thee near and far,
At thy call they throng with their shout and song.

Thou shalt be their Northern Star.
Like the stream that bends to sea,
Like the pine that seeks the blue,
Minnesota, still for thee,
Thy sons are strong and true,
From their woods and waters fair,
From their prairies waving far,
At thy call they throng with their shout and song,
Hailing thee their Northern Star.

WHAT CAN BE DONE

THE feat of raising $10,000 for the Memorial Union from 176 students in fifteen minutes Tuesday night is one of the extraordinary events of the year. No one thought it possible at supper time Tuesday. It shows what can be done. If the same ratio is maintained when the student canvass starts a quarter of a million dollars will be raised on the campus.

The reason no more money was raised two years ago was that the students did not have the faintest conception of what the memorial would mean. In the language of the commerce men, the students were not "sold" on the proposition. It takes two factors to swing a sale, a real proposition to sell and a real salesman to put it over.

The Memorial Union is a real proposition. All that is needed are the salesmen. They have been forthcoming in great enough numbers. It will require at least 500 salesmen to make the ideal of a great memorial a reality.

The division leaders and captains in this drive have got to round up their workers and get every one on the job. The remarkable showing Tuesday night proves that the campaign will succeed if the man power is applied.

The salesmanship class will meet again tonight in the Chemistry auditorium. It must be filled to overflowing.

SAMPLE BALLOTS

THE elections committee of the Student senate has had printed 3,500 sample ballots containing the questions for referendum growing out of the report of the all-university traditions commission. These ballots will be available to the qualified electors tomorrow. Ample time will thus be given the men to study each question and register an intelligent vote.

The questions up for consideration go to the very heart of traditions and student self-government. One proposition would reorganize the senate so that its basis of representation would be by colleges instead of by classes. Another proposition has to do with the Student court. Other propositions deal with the details of traditions.

These are not questions to vote on without thought.

THE HOBO PARADE

NOT all of the interest in Homecoming is centered in the football game or the Homecoming ball. The Hobo parade has become a fixed feature of the Homecoming program. And justly so, for it adds much to the day's enjoyment.

If the football game is the meat of the program, then the Hobo parade is the sauce and seasoning. It imparts a delicious flavor of humor to the day, and provides a safety valve for what might otherwise be an over-strenuous week end.

Wisconsin can well be proud of its annual Hobo parade. Wisconsin wit and Wisconsin humor are utilized in the development of novel ideas for such freak displays as the hand-car "floats" and hobo orchestras. The parade is the result of the humorist's talent and the entertainer's zeal. It provides an admirable opportunity for everyone who cares to do so to aid in the Homecoming program. Not everyone can play on the team nor in the band. Physical prowess and special talents in such lines are not granted alike to all.

But work on the committees for the ball and the parade provides a niche for every student to fill if he cares to. Active participation in the parade is not limited to a few. The entries are open to groups and to individuals. The whole scheme of the parade is democratic and therefore of the spirit Wisconsin is trying to foster. It is democratic in its conception, in its realization. And it appeals to a democratic gathering—the alumni and the students of the University of Wisconsin.

The Hobo parade can be a beneficial feature and a welcome institution in every Homecoming program. It can be something that can be pleasantly remembered—or otherwise. The parade must be free from all suggestive effects and coarse ribaldry. It must be an inherently clean and honest parade. There is every indication that such will be the case.

DON'T FORGET THAT DOLLAR

Minnesota is due for two or three surprises Saturday. In the first place she is going to lose a football game. In the next place she is going to witness more Wisconsin spirit than the memory of man has yet recorded. In the third place, she is going to see that Wisconsin means to have a Memorial Union.

Every one who attends the game Saturday is asked to bring along a silver dollar. Wheelbarrows will be on hand for the reception of the dollars. Every coin will be a pledge of loyalty to the task of erecting the Memorial Union.

Build a home for Wisconsin spirit!

The amount advanced to Germany for the provision of food under the Spa agreement was about $180,000,000 and the cost of the armies of occupation, excluding about $335,000,000 for the American army, approximately $720,000,000.

"BEING A FROSH" CONSIDERED IN COUNTRY MAG

"Being a College Freshman" is the title of an interesting and instructive article appearing in the current number of the Country magazine, the student publication of the college of agriculture.

In this article the author, Prof. George B. Mortimer, of the department of agronomy, sets forth some of the problems that confront the man who is just entering college, and offers suggestions for meeting them.

A complete history of the agricultural extension work being carried on at Wisconsin is given by Charles D. Byrne '22. "The history of agriculture extension has been inseparably linked with the growth of Wisconsin from a one-crop state to the 'Greatest Dairy State in the Union,'" is the way Byrne characterizes the work of this department.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Entertainment, in the form of an exceptional vaudeville bill will be the offering for homecoming visitors at the Orpheum, starting with the two performances tonight and continuing through the three shows Sunday. Heading the list of six acts will be Wilfred Clarke, assisted by Grace Menken and company in one of the fastest acted and brightest written comedies called "Now What," offered in vaudeville. Mr. Clarke comes from an old theatrical family; he is the son of John Sleeper Clarke, who in his time was the leading comedian of both hemispheres, his mother was a sister of Edwin Booth, our greatest tragedian. For many seasons, vaudeville patrons have regaled Clarke's abounding personality and irresistible comedy, and each season finds him more in demand than ever. Zuhn and Dreis, eccentric comedians, eccentric almost to craziness, will offer on this program their new act called "Dementus Americanos Habitat North American." In an original offering of Laugh-Songs and dances Emma Francis and Harold Kennedy will be seen and Jack and Jessie Gibson will present a cycle of thrills and smiles. A musical comedy skit entitled "Quibs and Queries" will be the offering of Rodero and Marconi and Juggling De Lisle, the novelty entertainer, together with Pathe News and Aesop's Fables will complete the bill.

Merchant Who Decorates Best To Get Trophy

To the merchant who decorate his store or store window with the most ingenuity, the Homecoming decorations' committee will award a silver trophy cup. A similar cup will be given to the window dresser of the winning store.

The judges of the displays are Mayor Milo Kittleson, chairman Mr. Wm. S. Craig, of Miller and Craig advertising company, Mr. Irving Koch, of the Print Shop, and Mr. James R. Garver. The displays will be reviewed Saturday after the game, and the decisions will be made at that time.

In addition to the five cups offered for the best decorated fraternity, sorority, and rooming houses, the decorations' committee will award a cup to the winner of the decorating contest between Chadbourne and Barnard halls. Both Chadbourne and Barnard are making extensive preparations, and a lively contest is expected.

The judges who will award the five silver cups offered for the best decorated fraternity, sorority, and rooming houses are Dean F. W. Roe, Major John Wood, and Prof. W. H. Varnum, of the manual arts department.

All houses intending to participate should notify George Parker at Fair child 136, in order that the judges will overlook none of the displays. As the judging will take place Friday night, all decorations must be in place by 6 p. m. of that day.

The Madison Gas & Electric company is able to furnish extra electric circuits for making wiring arrangements, and electric globes will be dipped in coloring free of charge if they are brought in until today.

FOX NEWS SERVICE SHOWS RUSH FILM

Motion pictures of the class rush which was filmed for the Fox News service by the University Photographic laboratory, are now being shown in the theatres, according to a notice received from the company.

Local theatres are endeavoring to obtain this reel, but because the films of this company are not regularly shown here it is doubtful that they will be successful, according to the opinions expressed by the theatre men. The Varsity Welcome, shown by the Pathe News all over the country, was the first university activity to be exhibited in news weeklies.

"It is a splendid thing for the activities of Wisconsin to be exhibited in this manner, for it is good publicity and spreads the fame of the Varsity far and wide," said Dr. M. E. Diemer, university photographer.

MANY HEAR COHEN TALK ON CHEMISTRY

Approximately 450 students attended the first of a series of lectures on "Piezo-Chemistry" by Prof. Ernst Cohen of the University of Utrecht in the auditorium of the Chemistry building Wednesday afternoon at 4:30.

The changes which take place in various substances under varying temperatures and pressures and the causes of the "tin diseases" were explained by Professor Cohen, who is one of the foremost physical chemists of the present time. The subject of "Piezo-Chemistry" will be further taken up in two remaining lectures to be given Thursday and Friday afternoons at 4:30 o'clock.

Professor Cohen is the head of Van't Hoof laboratory at the University of Utrecht, Holland. He came to this country in August and plans to remain until December, during which time he is giving lectures at the prominent universities and colleges of the United States and Canada. The lectures are open to the public.
