CARDINAL TEAM PLACES THIRD IN BIG TEN MEET

Valley Takes First in Half Mile

(Special to The Cardinal)
ANN ARBOR, Mich., June 2.—Michigan edged Illinois out of the Conference outdoor track title 57 1-2 to 57 here this afternoon in the annual outdoor Big Ten meet, Wisconsin coming third with 27 points, Iowa fourth 22 points, and Notre Dame, Minnesota, Northwestern, and Chicago trailing along behind in the order named. Ohio State and Purdue each got one lone point.
The title was in the air until the end of the mile relay which Michigan managed to get a third place in, relaying her narrow margin of points by nosing out Wisconsin at the tape.

World's Record Equalled

Record breaking performances were a commonplace thing in the carnival, six marks being smashed and another equalled. Hubbard, Michigan's dusky broad jumper, started things going when he made a leap of twenty five feet 1-2 inches during the preliminaries Friday afternoon bettering the former Conference record by a foot.

Angier of Illinois also broke his former Big Ten mark in the javelin throw Friday afternoon by throwing the Pilum 198 feet 10 3-4 inches and bettered his mark by another inch in the finals this afternoon. Brookins of Iowa went Angier one better this afternoon when he equalled the world's record in the 220 yard low hurdles in the trials and established a new world's mark in the finals at 23 1-5 seconds.

Illinois Wins Relay

Brownell of Illinois and Brooker of Michigan were still going strong in the Pole Vault when they dropped the rest behind at 12 feet 8 inches and decided to try for a new national intercollegiate record, raising the bar to 13 feet 2 inches. Brooker barely skimmed the bar and knocked it off but Brownell took it with a margin of inches. He later failed in an attempt to break the world's record. Illinois mile relay team ran so fast in their attempt to nose out (Continued on page 2)

ALUMNI WANT SPECIAL PLACE IN STADIUM

Alumni will solicit the Athletic Council for an alumni rooting section in the west stands starting at the 50-yard line and extending southward if more than 500 alumni desire such a section, according to a card which was sent to the alumni body yesterday by the alumni board.
A detachable return card is sent to each alumnus that he may voice his opinion. The return card is worded as follows:
"Application for football tickets (complying as to number allowed and price charged with regulations of the Athletic department) received from members of the Alumni association before September 1 shall be filled in order of their receipt beginning at the 50 yard line in the west side of the stadium and extending south."

SUMMER CARDINAL

All students interested in work on the Summer Session Cardinal call the editor today at B. 186. Positions in all departments are open.

Summer Session Booms; Bumper Enrollment Due

From Hawaii, Cuba and Belgium students are coming here to make the summer session this year a banner one. As soon as the seniors leave, the university will settle down to make ready for the incoming throng which is expected to break all attendance records.
The earliest indication of a bumper summer crop is the fact that all summer bulletins are gone, many to foreign lands to lure ambitious scholastic folk to the wonders of Wisconsin.
The tent colony at the old Rayer farm out near second point is completely filled. Even the 10 extra platforms which have been built this year have been reserved along with the 28 already in place. Approximately 120 persons will be accommodated—a record number.
Rooming and boarding houses are filling rapidly. A new list of available rooms is being compiled in the dean of men's office this week. Business is booming!

WOMEN'S RUSH RULES CHANGE

Announce Rushing Program and Limitations For Next Fall

Pan-Hellenic rushing will begin a week earlier next fall, the opening date being set for September 19. The change has been made in order to do away with the confusion caused in past years by having rushing affairs held during the same days as registration. The new ruling also allows time for more functions.

Rushes Pay Expenses

Four informal affairs and two teas will be held this year in place of the usual two informal dates and the one initial tea. One formal function will end sorority rushing.

Rushes will pay for the informal luncheon and dinners they attend instead of having the sororities bear the expenses as has been done in former years, in accordance with new Pan-Hellenic rulings. Each rushee is expected to pay 35 cents for each luncheon and 50 cents for each dinner she attends on the days of informal rushing. The fourth of these functions must be used for informal rushing only and no expense is to be incurred.

No Split Dates

A further change in rushing regulations is the sending out of invitations by each sorority individually. Split dates as usual are not allowed for any bids except teas.

The 1923-24 rushing program is as follows:
Wednesday, Sept. 19—sorority teas.
Thursday, Sept. 20—invitations sent out for informal functions and second tea.
Friday, Sept. 21 and Saturday, Sept. 22 four informal functions.
Monday, Sept. 24, second tea.
Thursday, Sept. 27 and Friday, Sept. 28—preferential functions. On Thursday each sorority may have an informal function from 6 o'clock to 10 o'clock. Formal functions Friday are scheduled from 7 o'clock to 11 o'clock.

Tallmadge Wins Theta Sig Short Story Award

"The Heart of the Sapphire" by Guy Tallmadge '23, won the $10 prize given by Theta Sigma Phi for the best short story appearing in the Wisconsin Literary magazine this year. The story was printed in the March issue.

FULTON NAMES 118 WORKERS ON BADGER STAFF

"Wisconsin Serves" is Book's Theme

"The 1925 Badger will speak real achievement by Wisconsin men and women—alumni, faculty, and students. Every page will tell how, even in the lighter phases of its many-sided life, 'Wisconsin Serves'" Ellis Fulton, editor-in-chief, said yesterday following a joint meeting of the editorial and business staffs attended by 150 students.
One hundred and eighteen editorial staff workers were appointed to positions by Fulton last night. "Editorial appointments are tentative and will be adjusted and many new members added to the staff when active work is resumed in the fall," Fulton said.
"Business staff appointments will be made at the opening of school next fall, when active work (Continued on page 2)

EXTRA TICKETS FOR EXERCISES NOT AVAILABLE

No extra commencement tickets will be available for distribution this year according to a statement made yesterday by George A. Chandler, assistant to the faculty secretary.

"The absolute maximum seating capacity of the Agricultural pavilion for the commencement exercises is only 3,800, from which a deduction of at least 200 must be made to provide space for the band, state officials, and special guests," Chandler explained yesterday.

"Assuming that 1,400 candidates for degrees will be present, there remain only 2,200 seats for distribution among the relatives of these, leaving no room for the hundreds of alumni who will want to attend," he added.

"Unless some reservations now on file are released, a great hardship will be worked on the alumni. Candidates whose parents or friends do not intend to be present at the exercises are urged to cancel their requests as soon as possible," Chandler concluded.

No arrangements can be made to accommodate the general public or the families of faculty members. Tickets may be called for at room 151 Bascom hall, June 14 and 15. Those remaining uncalled for at 5 o'clock June 15 will be distributed among the alumni the following day.

Candidates must call for their tickets in person or by proxy authorized in writing and all must be prepared to identify themselves. This requirement is made necessary by the experience of last year when tickets were secured under fraudulent circumstances by persons not entitled to them.

Tickets will be mailed June 11 to those whose requests were accompanied by stamped envelopes.

No tickets were used prior to last year. This plan had to be adopted in order to accommodate the people who came from great distances and were entitled to see the exercises.

FINAL CARDINAL

With this issue The Cardinal will suspend publication for the academic year, 1922-23. The first issue of the summer session edition will appear on Monday afternoon, June 25, and the first regular issue of The 1923-24 Cardinal will be published on Tuesday morning Sept. 25.

DRILL PROBLEM FACES OFFICERS

Lyman to Devote Efforts to Raising Standard of Cadet Corps

In order that the cadet corps may have a fair chance if the Sachtjen bill making military drill optional becomes law, the officers of the corps will devote their efforts this summer to creating interest in the corps and to bringing it up to a higher standard.

"I am going to devote my entire time to developing interest in the corps in the hope of putting it a step higher on the ladder," Howard B. Lyman '24, newly appointed cadet-colonel, declared yesterday.

Lyman Asks Help

I want to ask the cooperation of all organizations and male students in continuing drill and putting in a good word to the incoming freshman class, so that the corps will have a fair opportunity to make a showing," he said.

Other schools have various systems by which the campus organizations aid them in a successful cadets corps, according to Lyman. At Northwestern fraternities passed a rule that the pledges should take two years' drill.

A co-ed is elected honorary colonel at both Illinois and Missouri, and she participates in all reviews and leads the military ball.

Bill Not Yet Signed

"Because the bill has not yet been signed by the governor, it is impossible to go ahead with definite work this spring," Lyman said, "but plans are being formed to interview all organizations early next fall to get their cooperation in giving incoming men a far chance to decide for drill."

Every possible means will be used to make drill interesting to the students next year, according to the cadet colonel.

PROM OFFICIAL REPORTS $913.93 TOTAL PROFIT

Proceeds from the 1924 Junior prom, to be given to the Memorial Union, are approximately the same as those of the previous prom in spite of the fact that the admission price was $1 less, John Blossom, finance chairman, announced last night.

The sum of $913.93, the total profit on all prom functions, will be given to the Union when prom business is completed, Blossom said. Approximately $1,000 was made for the Union a year ago. The admission price this year was $6 and that of the previous year was $7.

The prom play, the proceeds of which were divided equally by the University players and the prom committee netted each $426, Blossom said. The prom dance proceeds were $125.

Nearly all expenditures were cut by this year's prom committee. Supper, which last year was the biggest item and which cost the committee $1,452, was cut to approximately $1,300 this year. Decorations, which cost $1,200 last year, amounted to $700 this year. The sum of $1,100 was spent on programs this year while last year's item was $1,400.

The Union will receive $800 from the prom committee in the near future. The remainder of the proceeds will be held until outstanding debts are paid.

EDNA GLICKSMAN PRIZE

FUND IS ESTABLISHED

The Edna Kerngood Glicksman prize fund of $50 has been established and endowed by friends to perpetuate the memory of the late Mrs. Harry Glicksman, wife of the assistant dean of the College of Letters and Science.

The endowment fund has been accepted formally by the Board of Regents. The prize will be awarded annually to a woman in the senior class in recognition of intellectual attainment, high womanhood and service in the college community.

The award of the prize will be made this year at commencement for the first time.

INCREASE CARDINAL

ADS BY 3,550 INCHES

Advertising in The Cardinal has increased 3,500 inches this year over last year, according to figures compiled by the business department in the last six months alone the increase in advertising has been greater than it has been in nine months of any other year. Although the size of the page has been increased this year the rates have remained the same. The total number of inches of advertising last year was 48,832 compared with 52,382 inches this year.

Sell

Your Old Clothes for the highest prices to the Chicago buyer at 435 State St.

Gotta Job? No. Neither Have I, But Maybe I'll--

Possibly..... probably..... in case.....perhaps....."

Evidently one thing that most of the class mates of '23 hold in common is decided indecisiveness in regard to the future. Rare, pitifully rare, is the Mr. Senior or Miss Senior who really has a definite thought on the subject.

Rollie Williams is an exception. He has accepted a position as coach at James Milliken university, Decatur, Ill. Heinz Rubel may startle many with his plans for a vocation. He will attend the General Theological seminary in New York, followed by a finish at Oxford, after which he will enter the Episcopal ministry.

Bob Luening has made some ties with the Western Electrical company in Chicago.

Ralph Ballietta has visions of becoming a "school ma'am," or rather a city superintendent of them. He has not yet chosen his city.

Hick Powell has a contract with the Duluth News-Tribune. A commercial artist is what Hub Townsend plans, maybe in a big city like Chicago, he threatens. Roy French will return for a master's in journalism, after a summer tour through France and Spain.

Maynard Brown and Wayne Morse will stay, too. Brown will establish connections with the Agricultural journalism department and incidentally get his master's on the side. Morse will teach in the speech department, and attend some classes in the Law school.

Tommy Tredwell will try his hand at real estate. Gus Tebell has a construction work job in Ithaca, N. Y. Doug Newell will do some sort of advertising work, and Arthur Inman "might start a bank."

The young ladies in question are about as certain. Isabel Capps and Irene Clayton want to teach Phy Ed, naturally. Cappy may go to California if the position is luring enough.

Mary Baldwin and Polly Ambrose have no choice now. It is too late for both of them to "vocate" along any other path than the golden road of matrimony. These Prom queens make up her mind, she will write in.

CONFER DEGREE ON '23 CLASS JUNE 18

Alumni day will be observed on Saturday. The business meeting of the Alumni association will be held at 10:30 a. m. in Music hall. Commemoration exercises for Bishop Fallows will follow at 11:15 o'clock.

The senior-alumni luncheon will be held at noon in Lathrop hall, followed by the Wisconsin-Chicago baseball game on the lower campus at 1:30.

The First Regimental band will give a concert at the lake shore at 3:30 o'clock. Following this, the procession by classes, headed by the band, will form at 5:30 o'clock at Music hall, and will march to the armory, where the senior-alumni dinner will be held at 6 o'clock.

The University Glee club will sing at Pres. E. A. Birge's home at 9 o'clock. The Alumni day program will conclude with an alumni ball which will open at 10 o'clock in Lathrop hall.

Baccalaureate Sunday The baccalaureate exercises will be held at the armory at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon. A twilight concert by the university band, to be given at 7 o'clock on the upper campus, will complete the day's program.

Birge Confers Degrees President E. A. Birge will confer the degrees and give a brief address at commencement June 18, in the Stock pavilion. The Rev. E. A. Sarles, acting as chaplain; Dr. C. H. Mills, Director of the School of Music, who will lead the singing; and Major E. W. Morphy, director of the University First Regimental band, will assist with the program.

Dora Ingraham, representing the

"Lib" Kirk has been granted admission in the University of Pennsylvania Medical school in New York. Cleo Parsley will do educational work in a department store somewhere. Helen Stilwell will allow her father to retire from the law business in Sioux City, Ia.

Helen Gude doesn't know. But she was extremely accommodating. Just as soon as fall comes and she makes up her mind, she will write in.

College of Letters and Science; C. G. Mathys, Law School and A. J. Nerad, College of Engineering, will be the speakers for the graduating class.

Due to the large size of the graduating class, the entire arena of the pavilion will be filled with students, with only the concrete seats for observers. Tickets must be presented for entrance to the exercises.

For the first time the ushers will be attired in caps and gowns, with cardinal tassels on caps and cardinal rosettes on gowns, to distinguish them from those worn by graduating members.

A Commencement Red Book, 2 1-2 by 5 inches in size, containing 12 pages of information on commencement, will be given to guests at the program. The registrar's office will send one copy to each graduating senior, and additional copies may be secured later from the registrar and the Alumni headquarters at commencement time.

No one has as yet claimed the Hupmobile touring car given as a prize by Madison Elks in connection with the circus held last week. The holder of the winning number, 14,616, lost all chance to claim the prize by failing to claim it within the five day limit. The holder of the second number drawn Saturday night, No. 12,175 now has five days in which to claim the car.

WISCONSIN TAKES THIRD IN BIG TEN MEET

TEAM PLACES IN ALL BUT FOUR MAJOR EVENTS

Valley Takes First in Half Mile

Michigan that they lowered the former Conference record 1 1-5 second, making the distance in 3:20 flat.

Wilson of Iowa ran a beautiful race in the 220 against Spetz of Wisconsin, Wittman of Michigan, Hughes of Illinois and Everett of Illinois and equalled the national inter collegiate record at 21 1-5 seconds. All of the events were run low times and had close finishes with the exception of the two mile event which Isbel of Michigan took by a fairly comfortable margin.

Valley Wins Half Mile

The Badgers who came in third in the meet and who took fourth in the relay gained most of their points through third, fourth and fifth places except in the half mile. Valley of Wisconsin ran what was perhaps the most beautiful race of the afternoon when he took the lead at the start of the grind and held it against the cream of Conference distance runners.

Turning in the low time of 1 minute 55 1-5 seconds, Reinke of Michigan was totally left behind the Badger runner and had to content himself with a fourth, after being doped to take a sure first.

Wisconsin placed men in every event on the program except 100 yard dash, the quarter, broad jump and javelin throw, and left Iowa five points behind her.

The 120 yard high hurdles were run off but the points cancelled due to misplacement of the sticks. The finalists refusing to run the race over.

A Warrior Pair Unexcelled

ROLLIE WILLIAMS

GUS TEBELL

Truly great college athletes are few and far between, and when one makes his name as an athlete in a college he carves his name indelibly on the portal of fame.

There are always a few, a very select few, in the Western Conference whose names are continually on the tongues of college athletic fans, and when these few prepare to leave school people wonder how it will be possible to get along without them.

Michigan may have its Harry Kipke, Northwestern may have its Chuck Palmer, Minnesota may have its Frenchy Martineau, but what college ever prided itself with having a pair like our own Gus Tebell and Rollie Williams?

Rollie and Gus, long since nicknamed the "Siam Twins" by a devoted student body, are about to leave school at the end of a successful four years of athletics and scholastics, and their presence is going to be missed by us who have looked upon their service as a matter of course.

Rollie has won nine "W"s, a record which never before has been equalled. He has played football, basketball, and baseball for three years and has captained the football and baseball teams. Not one time during his stay at Wisconsin has he been ineligible.

The record of "Fighting Gus" is almost as miraculous. Seven letters have been his award for service with the additional honor of receiving the Conference medal for excellence in scholastics as well as athletics. Three football letters, three basketball letters, and a baseball "W" vouch for his athletic prowess.

GOLFERS ENTER BIG TEN MEET JUNE 19 TO 22

Wisconsin's golf team will close the season at the Conference tourney at Chicago June 19 to 22.

Badger golfers now hold second place in Conference rating, having lost to Illinois 12 to 5. At the Big Ten tourney, however, all the teams are to be put on the same basis and the team winning in the meet will win the Conference championship. This puts Illinois and Wisconsin in the lead according to comparative scores.

(Ohio State) and Hogan (Notre Dame) tied for fifth place. Distance 25 feet 1 and 1-2 inch.

2 mile run—won by Isbel, (Michigan); second, Crippen, (Northwestern); third Wade, (Wisconsin) fourth, Thelps (Iowa); fifth, Bourke, (Chicago). Time 9:41 flat.

220 yard low hurdles won by Brookins, (Iowa); second, Towler, (Minnesota); third, Brickman, (Chicago); fourth, Snyder, (Ohio State) Fifth, Newell, (Wisconsin). Time 23 and 1-5 a new worlds record.

Pole vault—won by Brownell, (Ill); second, Brooker, (Michigan); third, Collins, (Illinois); fourth Prosser, (Michigan); fifth, Krigger (Wisconsin). Height, 13 feet 2 inches. A new world intercollegiate record.

One mile relay won by Illinois; second, Iowa; third, Michigan; fourth Chicago. Time 3:20 flat.

CREW WILL RACE WASHINGTON ON MENDOTA JUNE 16

The season for the Varsity crew will be brought to a close on June 16 when they row against the University of Washington crew on Lake Mendota. The westerners will stop over here for about a week to get in trim for their entrance in the Poughkeepsie Regatta.

This meet with the Washington men will give some idea of the comparative strength of the Varsity oarsmen. Last year the westerners finished only one length behind the winning Navy oarsmen, and this year they have practically the same crew. There is some possibility of the Wisconsin men's going East next year and Coach Vail wants to get some idea of the sort of a race that his men can put up with oar pullers of their own class.

Washington is bringing their freshman crew and there are possibilities that the Wisconsin Junior crew will race them during their stay here.

RAIN BREAKS UP BALL TILT

Michigan Takes Big 10 Title; Weather Spoils Other Games

For the fourth time this season rain caused the cancelling of a baseball game on Randall field. Wisconsin had just completed its batting practice and Michigan was taking the field yesterday when a torrent of rain put the diamond out of condition.

Fans and players retired to the stadium for protection with hopes that the rain would stop and allow the game to go on. When it did stop, managers got busy with brooms and rakes and sawdust and the teams were about ready to take the field when another shower drowned the last spark of hope.

Other Games Cancelled

Two other games were scheduled in the Conference circuit for yesterday. Minnesota and Northwest-

The team representing Wisconsin at the tourney will be picked from the best golfers in school. The four men will be chosen from the following:

Bock, Stageman, Frost, Hopkins, Porter, Schils, and Gunther. The first four named have played regularly so far.

Adolph B. C. Bock '24, has been elected captain of the 1924 golf team.

Besides the four men teams that will represent the nine Conference schools in the tourney, Iowa having no team entered, the individual players will compete. The teams will play on June 19, and the individual competition will take place during the remaining days of the meet.

Summary of 1923 games: Illinois 12, Wisconsin 5. Wisconsin 14, Northwestern 5. Wisconsin 11, Chicago 10. Wisconsin 6, Maple Bluff golf club 4. Minnesota game canceled.

VARSITY JUNIOR CREW DEFEATED BY CULVER MEN

Race Ends Season For Second Team

The Badger junior crew went down to heart-breaking defeat on Lake Maxinkuckee yesterday afternoon when the fast Culver Military academy eight crossed the line a length and a half ahead of them.

Rowing against perhaps the fastest crew in interscholastic circles this year, the Badgers, despite their defeat, showed great strength.

The victory closed a brilliant year for Culver, for the academy boys won the Franklyn Challenge cup at the American Henly regatta at Philadelphia last Saturday.

Time is 4-55

The time for the winning team was 4 minutes, 55 seconds, said to be the best established in the interscholastic class for several years.

The Badger crew was composed of the following men: Bachus, stroke; Smith, seven; Plettner, six; Sly, five; Kingston, four; Jax, three; Pewstow, captain, two; Holmes, one; Luehring, coxswain.

Season is Finished

The race finishes the season for the Junior crew which, though it was unsuccessful from a point of victories, was profitable in that it has trained a group of men for work which is essential to a winning crew next year.

ern were to close at Evanston and Chicago was to have played at Purdue. It is possible that these games were played, but the results will have no effect on the final standings of the leading teams.

Michigan wins the Big Ten championship with a record of 10 straight Conference victories. Ohio State with two losses out of 10 games takes second place, and Illinois, champs for the past two years, are relegated to third place. Wisconsin's green team with five victories and four defeats, places fourth.

Michigan ended its season Friday at Northwestern by trampling the Purple, 16 to 3. Liverance was scheduled to pitch against the Badgers yesterday.

New Team Promising

Lowman will have material for a championship contender next year and eligible. For pitchers Johnson, Radke and Schrenk will be available, as well as several tossers from the Frosh outfit. The freshmen have been getting some real coaching this year from Chuck Reudiger and Bill Williams, both old Varsity standbys.

Ellingson will be the only regular infielder left, but Eddie Aschenbrenner, first string catcher, has more time to serve, as have Servatius, Dugan and Pollock, besides several other players who were carried on the squad most of the season.

FOUR YEARS AND AFTER

Although a period of examinations still lies in the offing, it can well be said that for approximately a thousand students, four years of college experience with its victories and failures, joys and troubles, have rolled by and closed as an epoch of their life's history.

What has been gained from these four years of mental development and relaxation will vary with the individual. Much will have been absorbed by some, much will have been studied by some, much will have been hardly grasped by others. But yet, for those who have put the fullest mental effort into all their work, a sense of a task done and something learned will come to them regardless of their varying capacities.

To some, commencement will be a time for gaiety and relief from a bondage of books and stern task masters. Others will realize that a period of apprenticeship has just been lived through. The world little appreciates the true importance of what these seniors have gained in their studious applications to book and problem. No uncertain pile of figures and facts will aid here; the world wants ideas. Does the university provide them?

It is this that serves as the university's excuse for existence. The seniors in a few days are leaving what is perhaps the most potent molding influence of their lives—four years at college. Never again will they be submitted to such a place of existence so sheltered yet directed and trained that ideas and thoughts were not only born but encouraged and developed.

Soon these seniors will have graduated. As every commencement orator for the past century has pointed out, the designating word was aptly chosen. Graduation from university and college is not a closing of a period, it is a commencement of life.

What these men and women will have learned here, is what they will practice and do. If Wisconsin holds forth any significance or importance as an educational institution, it will be seen in the future lives of these thousand. As they have cheered and loved Wisconsin in its sports, activities, and traditions, so will they now become loyal alumni who by their fervent support and actions will demonstrate their expressed devotion for their school.

The class of 1923 has been active. It has done much for Wisconsin and for themselves. Each class each year helps to make Wisconsin bigger, better, finer. Yet this class is not finished. Their task shall last as long as a member of the class exists.

Seniors, farewell. Wisconsin has prospered under your regency. The university sends you forth equipped and in return demands the continued promise of your fullest devotion.

THE CARDINAL SPEAKS

And now The Cardinal bids you farewell. We have done much this year; we also have made our mistakes. For these last we beg your forgiveness; for the former we are proud.

Each year as Wisconsin itself develops and grows, its activities expand. The paper this year has established certain principles and policies, has adopted certain forms admittedly in advance of those of previous years. The editors of next season's Cardinal will make additional improvements. Just as this year the Cardinal has been increased to five columns wide, so next year some distinct achievement undoubtedly will be forthcoming.

As the official daily paper of 8,000 students, the Daily Cardinal takes its leave of 1923. The editors have learned and profited much in experience. They have attempted to fill a need. The confidence of the student body has uniformly been with them and in this lies a portion of what success has been achieved.

THEIR LAST LAP

There probably is less glory and honor in the status of a track man than in any other sport, and yet this man works just as hard and as long as Wisconsin's most famed grid man or basket star.

Yesterday Wisconsin closed the track season for this year at the Conference meet at Michigan. Thirteen men wore the jersey with the cardinal stripe for the last time; their race for Wisconsin is run, they have done their work well; recognition of their service though trivial in its length and moment is sincere and deep.

Wisconsin wishes to inscribe upon the roll of those who have served their school on the field—

SQUARE ACCOUNTS NOW

In the senior class the treasurer reports that but one third of the members of the Class of 1923 have paid their class dues. The dues, which go toward a university chimes fund and the alumni magazine, are required of every senior and should be paid, along with all other past accounts, and paid before the year is over when it is so easy to forget.

Sunday Round Table

THE END OF THE TRAIL

Sometimes when nearing a journey's end, there sweeps over one a regret that it should come to a close. Hardships may have been encountered, uncomfortable burdens carried, even heavy losses sustained, but looking back upon it all, the experience seen as a whole grips the heart. So it is with a university year.

If there has been real personal growth there needs must have been growing pains. And now we come to the journey's end. What lessons can we learn from the experience?

Immediately out of the struggle of the year there flashes the truth that good is magnified by time, while evil fades. Normal man, living at his best, is so constituted mentally that he soon forgets hardships, sufferings, injustices, slights, and even injuries. These experiences are obliterated by time, and in their place the good assumes unexpected proportions.

But the trail is not an end in itself. The journey leads us to the promised land. At the foot of the rainbow is to be found the pot of gold. The treasure is at the end of the journey. The gold must be dug. Some have chased the rainbow and almost forgotten the gold. But, in spite of it all, the mind still turns to the treasure. More knowledge, greater truth, nobler character, deeper friendship, released personality—these are the lights that blazed along the trail.

Has it occurred to you that the examination period just before us has more to do with the realization to fruition by hard self-discipline and honest effort? Lakes, shaded lanes, the song of birds, call to idleness and pleasure. Tradition, example, and vitiated vitality invite to lower standards of honor. The challenge will ring clear. The great test will be in character.

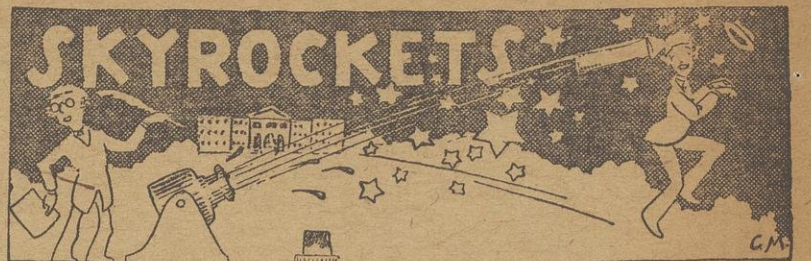

Then, there is the search for truth. Daily plodding is often tiresome, but now truth may be seen as a whole. Some knowledge comes with a rush. Consistent reviewing and careful organization may bring the flash of understanding that proper grasp of the subject needed. Plato said, "Education is turning the eye of the soul to light." Whatever the trail has brought, the treasure is here. Now is the time to dig!

Then when at the end of the trail the treasure is found, remember that it can only be kept by giving it away. Only what is used is really possessed. University life is too much a process of getting. We close the school year with a crammed feeling. Time must be taken for thought. The truths learned at great expense of effort must be assimilated. The vacation period, bringing with it change if not release from toil, affords such an opportunity.

In the great trail of life itself, a university year takes on significance out of all proportion to the time actually spent. These few months, if properly used, become the granary from which we draw our supplies for the bigger trail in all the years to come. How rich is the store! The real test of the year, however, is very simple. Have we been fired by great ideas and ideals? Have our spirits caught the spirit of the immortals?

No matter what the future—failure, that breaker of small spirits, success, that ruler of the great—can we cherish the light which has stirred our very being and follow it? Then the end of the Great Trail will bring the larger success.

This little colyum is addressed to three distinct classes.

Check the class that fits you; it doesn't matter if it is a little loose about the chin and ears.

CLASS NO 1

The professor who wondered why his afternoon callers strangled themselves when he served corn beef and cabbage and who found out the next day that he should have given his guests some plates, instead of making them hold the food in their laps.

CLASS NO II

The girl who fainted when her partner took her hand, who didn't know whether to let her boy friend sit on the floor or offer him a chair, who took her father's arm, and then ran across the street, a dirty trick itself.

CLASS NO. III

The boy who pronounced potato—potato, instead of potato, who refused a drink when offered one, and who bent the chairs every time his girl partner asked if he wanted to go out and walk in the gardens.

WHAT WOULD YOU HAVE DONE?

PROBLEM I

You were out in a canoe; he offered to paddle backwards. Should you let him, or should you say that it made you seasick?

PROBLEM II

DO YOU KNOW THE CORRECT THING TO DO AND SAY?

You were given your paper with a "P". How would you show your gratitude? Would you just kick the professor and look silly, or would shooting be the correct procedure?

TRY THIS TEST ON YOURSELF

Q No 1—Should gingerale be eaten with the fingers?

Q No 2—Is it very nice to hide under the street car after your girl partner has got on.

Q No 3—If the bride trips and falls one flight, should you step outside to laugh, or just give up and roll on the floor with the other guests?

Q No 4—Should a baby that cries until 3:17 a. m. be tossed or thrown from the tenth story? (13 story, basement).

How would you introduce a gay, bage man to the president of your Dancing club? Would you say Garb meet the boss, or would you just laugh?

If you wanted to know a darn good-looking girl. Would you say, "Miss So-and-So, I would like to have you meet me."—and then run.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT GOOD MANNERS AT THE DANCE?

Is it correct to refuse a dance with Mr. Squizzard and then to dance with Mr. Valentino? Yes and—no.

If you don't know the answers to all of these simple problems go to your nearest grocery store, and ask for "SWELL MANNERS." In the meantime write us and get our extra offer of "How to Serve Arsenic with the Dinner, Plane talks for the Carpenter and Decline of Dish Washing as Compared to the Consumption of Soda Straws in 1922."

HOW MUCH CAN YOU DRINK?

Did you ever come out of a fashionable barber shop with a cramp, and trying to see the back of your head. It is these occasions which make you feel like a sap and also show you up before the cultured.

Also, just as an after thought, We wonder why the Alpha Deltas don't publish a schedule for bathers, per the following Monday—children under the age of 2.

Tuesday—men with a net tonnage of 3,004. lbs.

Wednesday—general rabble.

Thursday—(reserved for the Alpha Deltas, if they can get on).

Friday—homeless icemen.

Saturday—faculty over 90 years of age.

Sunday—please stay off, Alpha Deltas would like some rest.

The recent acquisition by the university library of a ten volume set of Herman Melville's works brings home to one the strange success that the books of this author have had. It was over a decade ago that Melville was doing most of his writing. Then he was hardly recognized, his work was scarcely known.

Now, suddenly, he comes into prominence and readers all over the country are talking about him. In the Madison library only two of his books are listed but it is reported that more have been ordered recently. Until only a few weeks ago the university library contained only a few of his novels, but the acquisition of this new set is indicative of the sudden, albeit protracted rise in the popularity of the author.

Melville is an American writer of sea stories. It was Moby Dick, a tale of the capture of a white whale, which probably did most to establish his works among readers.

At the outset of Moby Dick there is a description of the night the hero spent in a New England hotel with a cannibal. As it chanced, the hotel was filled and the person who tells the story finds that he must put up for the night in a room with a foreigner. This does not seem at all serious until a strange noise wakes the story-teller in the night.

The youth turns towards the noise to find a glistening body writhing in the glow of the room. A chant is murmured low and the body sways in rythm. It is hardly a pleasant predicament in which the youth finds himself, especially when he divines that the brown-skinned foreigner is a cannibal.

Could it be that the savage was invoking his god preparatory to making a meal? Could it be that he would slip a gleaming knife from his belt and slit the gullet of the trembling youth?

When one reads, he wonders just how it is that Melville's books have taken so long to be recognized.

Our conscience pricks us because of the fact that we haven't said anything all Spring about the stock company which has made Madison its headquarters for an indefinite period. It is an institution which has long been wanted here, a stock company, and the players at the Orpheum are doing nobly.

If it is true that students haven't favored the Orpheum very much of late, it is equally true that Madisonians seem to prefer these performances to those of the regular junior Orpheum circuit. All evidences indicate that the company is making a success of its undertaking and that it will remain in town all of the summer.

We will admit that the choice of plays which has been made has not always been of the best. But pieces for stock company are difficult to choose.

We think in all seriousness that editorial writers for the deet ought to devise some system whereby claims could be layed out at the beginning of the year for picnic grounds along the lake shore and in the country surrounding Madison. This practice used to be carried out in the days of gold rushes and it seems that the rushes for picnic grounds during the pleasanter days of the year are not very much different.

If these claims could be made to last a certain period and could be of specified dimensions, say ten front feet on the lake by ten feet or if they were not on the lake five extra feet for compensation so many people wouldn't be killed every Spring in the rush for picnic grounds.

Your Clothes FOR FALL

DID you ever feel that you would like to go through a complete clothing line—see every one of the several hundred patterns in suits and overcoats—see all of the models for the coming season—and be able to have the piece of goods you like made in a model that you like?

We have felt that you would enjoy that opportunity and have made arrangements with Cohn, Rissman Co., makers of the famous Stratford Clothes, to have one of their men in our store on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 4, 5, 6, with a complete line of fall and winter suits and overcoats.

This representative will be entirely at your disposal. He will go through the line with you, show you the various models, point out the style changes for fall and explain to you some of the fine points in high grade clothes.

You will enjoy spending a half an hour, or an hour, going through this wonderful line. Never has there been brought out in one line such an assortment of exclusive patterns. Capper & Capper with high grade stores in all of the large mid-western cities are selling Stratford Clothes exclusively in their quality clothes and with their high class trade they must have exclusive patterns. Stratford has them for fall. We want you to see them this week. There are about one hundred imported overcoat patterns that will be confined to one of a pattern in each city. Give them a look—you will be surprised.

We have a twofold object in this yearly showing. Some of you fellows may want to order a suit or overcoat now—have it sent to you before you come next fall, or have it ready for you when you get here. If you do—fine—we will be glad to have you. If you do not want to order now, at least look over the line and give us an idea as to what you like. It will help us in the selection of our line.

This is the first time that a fall line has been open to the students in advance of the season and we are very anxious to have the opinion of every student. If you like the idea we will keep it up each season. If you can't get in during one of the three days and would like to come in some evening let us know. We'll be here.

Should Women Wear Trousers?

A SUIT of Knickers and Coat for business wear would be far more convenient than the present business costumes, and more becoming, is the idea of Helen Louise Johnson, former chairman of the Home Economics Department of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

In an article on women's business dress, published by the New York "World," Miss Johnson says:

"After much consideration, I would suggest a costume consisting of the following: a tailored suit of knickers and coat; half shoes with a medium heel and hose of any texture—except chiffon—to match the costume; tailored blouse with either high collar with formal four-in-hand, or turned down collar and loose tie; plain tailored hat; no earrings or jewelry of any sort."

First Commencement Held in 1854 as Two Receive B. A. Degrees

The number of diplomas granted at the 1923 commencement exercises will show little increase over the number granted in 1922. Complete figures on the number graduating will be available after examination.

The first commencement exercise was held in 1854 when B. A. degrees were awarded to Levi Booth and Charles T. Wakley, both deceased.

Of the 966 undergraduate degrees granted last year, 582 were to men and 384 were to women. Higher degrees were awarded to 165 men and 53 women, a total of 1184 degrees in all. There were six honorary degrees given last year.

Honorary degrees granted last year were as follows:

Master of Arts, W. D. Hiestand, Registrar, University of Wisconsin; Doctor of Science, Thomas Hall Shastid, doctor of medicine, Superior, Wisconsin; Doctor of Letters, Francis Greenleaf Allinson, professor of classics, Brown university; Doctor of Laws, Robert George Siebecker, chief justice of the Supreme court of Wisconsin, deceased February 12, 1922, Walter Albert Jessup, president of the University of Iowa, and to Charles Richard Crane, former minister from the United States to China, Woods Hole, Mass.

In 1865 Ph. B. degrees were granted to 11 women, 55 per cent of the class, the first class to graduate women. It is thought that

PLANT IVY ON KNOLL; CUSTOM SINCE 1854

The planting of the ivy, one of the oldest customs of the class day exercises, will take place at 3:30 o'clock Friday, June 15, at Muir Knoll.

The ivy-planting custom originated at Oxford university and has been a practice here since the first class day exercise in 1854. Many buildings on the campus are now covered with ivy as the result of this custom.

The program is in charge of Leslie Gage, planter of the ivy, Mildred Downie and Isabel Capps, who will give the ivy ode, and Frances Karel, who will give the ivy oration.

the Civil war started the influx of women as the men left for the army.

Since that first small group of women graduates in 1865, the number of women has increased until they comprised 36 per cent of the graduating class in 1912 and 39 per cent in 1922. In 1912 33 per cent of class receiving higher degrees were women and in 1923 37 per cent were women.

A greater per cent of the graduating class each year enters Wisconsin during the later years, taking the preliminary work at some other institution.

The College of Letters and Science has always held the lead in the number graduating, and is steadily increasing. A smaller percentage are now receiving degrees from the Law school than there were 30 years ago. The increased enrollment in Agriculture, Commerce and Engineering has detracted men from the law profession.

'23 to Pass Pipe of Peace to '24 In Old Ceremony

The tribe of 1924 will gather around the fire on lower campus on the evening of June 15 at 11 o'clock to receive the Pipe of Peace from the tribe of 1923.

This is a ceremony that has been observed by every graduating class in the university since 1895.

It was originally an old Indian custom. In the days of the French regime no greater honor could be conferred upon a stranger than to have the calumet, or the great pipe, presented to him. From that time on the one that received this distinction was honored as the son of the tribe—the one to be followed in times of peace and war.

The calumet ceremony consists of two parts—the presentation of the great pipe, and the calumet dance and the singing of the chant.

As a university ceremony it has the following significance: the graduating class, with the presentation of the Pipe of Peace, extends the hand of brotherhood and friendship to its successors, and safeguards them with the university traditions.

There is a tendency for each graduating class to make the ceremony more elaborate and dignified than the preceding years. During the last few years girls have participated in the event.

Arthur Inman will be the spokesman of the Tribe of 1923. Harold Seering, of the stranger tribe, will deliver the response.

The Pipe of Peace has been kept in the historical museum for the last three years. The colors of all the graduating classes from the year 1895 are fastened to the pipe.

CLASS OF '23 IS COSMOPOLITAN

Forty States and Twenty Nations Represented at Commencement

Wisconsin's senior class has students from 40 states of the United States and 20 students from almost as many foreign nations of the world.

The only states which do not have representatives in the senior class are Rhode Island, Connecticut, South Carolina, Maryland, Wyoming, Florida, Utah and Arizona. These states are represented in other classes. From Maine to California there are students who expect to take degrees at Wisconsin's commencement and who will have this university as their alma mater.

New Orleans sends one student and two seniors come from Washington, D. C. East Las Vegas, New Mexico and Missoula, Montana are the home towns of some of the other seniors. Wilmington, Delaware, and Walpole, New Hampshire, are the homes of two students from Foreign students come from places east of the sun and west of the moon, from the tropics and from the land of the midnight sun. One senior's home is Bergen, Norway, while another comes from Bangkok, Siam.

China has the largest number of students in the graduating class. Shanghai, Shensi, Peking, Wusih, and Wusieh Kiengsu are some of the cities in China that have students at Wisconsin.

Japan has but one senior here this year. He comes from Tokio. The Hawaiian islands also have one, whose name is Acia on the island of Oahu.

ASK ALUMS TO RETURN IN JUNE

President McMynn '94 Gives Full Program of Events

"Reune in June" is Wisconsin's invitation to more than 1,000 alumni members who have made plans to return for the Commencement exercises this year between June 15-18. A special day, Saturday, June 16, has been designated as Alumni Day. President McMynn '94, announces the following program for June 16: Registration at Music hall throughout the day, Glee club concert (Alumni association badges will secure admission) at 10 o'clock, followed by a business meeting of the Alumni association at which three members of the Alumni board will be elected. A report will be made and open discussion invited on cooperation of faculty, students, regents, and alumni in behalf of the university. Speakers from each group will lead the discussion.

Birge to Speak
The Senior-Alumni luncheon will be in cafeteria style at Lathrop hall at 12:15 o'clock. A Wisconsin-Chicago baseball game has been arranged by T. E. Jones, to be played on the lower campus at 1:30 o'clock. Arm bands, paper caps, and many other means of identification of particular groups will appear in the Ziz Zag parade after the game. A concert by the university band will be given on the upper campus at 3:30 o'clock.

The climax of the whole day of celebration will be at 6 o'clock when the dinner, reception, and ball for alumni, faculty, seniors, and regents will be held in the men's gymnasium, the only place large enough to accommodate the number expected. Reservations for this affair should be made immediately by writing to the Alumni headquarters. Pres. E. A. Birge and one other speaker to be selected by the alumni president will be the only speakers of the evening. Dramatic and musical entertainment will appear on the entertainment program.

"The university is not only ready to welcome her graduates as they return for the 1923 Commencement; she also sends out this urgent invitation that their affection and loyalty may bring them home once more to greet their Alma Mater," President Birge said last night. Invitations have been mailed to every graduating senior to attend the banquet.

Classes to March
Edward Gibson '23, chairman of the senior-alumni committee, said yesterday:

"A good start is one-half the race. Let's go to the senior-alumni dinner. This occasion will give to all of us seniors opportunities to make friendships with other alumni of the past half century. It is a small thing to attend, yet it gives us the proper start to a better and greater life of usefulness to our great university. It is our pleasure and responsibility to join them in making greater preparations for those who are to follow us."

A procession by classes will form at Music hall at 5:30 o'clock. The re-union classes, those of the '03's and '08's, since '08, are making special celebration-plans. All alumni will march in chronological parade from Music hall to the gymnasium, where each class will sit together during the dinner.

Railroads Reduce Round Trip Rates

The Western, Central and Transcontinental associations already have agreed to rates of a fare and a half under the certificate plan for the round trip, while other American passenger associations and two Canadian groups are expected to follow suit.

Classes whose numerals end in 8 and 3 are those holding reunions this year. The oldest class is that of 1868; others will be '78, '88, '98, '08, '18, '23, '28, '33, '03, '13. Any alumnus who intends to take advantage of the reduced fare can obtain information from the local agent.

Presbyterian House to Be Open Throughout Summer

The Presbyterian house will remain open throughout the summer session. All students and parents who will be here for graduation are invited to make use of the headquarters. Mrs. N. Scott will be in charge as usual and Miss Ann Taylor will chaperone. It will also be open between commencement and the opening of summer school.

BREAKFAST FOR ALUMS HELD BY Y. M. ON JUNE 18

The annual Y. M. C. A. breakfast for alumni and friends of students interested in the work of the association will be given from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock Monday morning, June 18. The breakfast will be over in time for the senior picture at 8:45 o'clock.

The alumni member of the Board of Directors of the university will be elected at this meeting. Verne Varney '17 and Leo Kohl '22, former association presidents, will be among the speakers. Mrs. Ruth Stolte Albright will talk for the women. The Varsity quartet of '91-'92 has been invited to sing at this meeting, since the members are planning a reunion this commencement.

This will be the third year that the breakfast has been given. Last year the attendance was double that of the previous year.

Alumni who are sustaining members of the Y association are invited to stay at the association free of charge during the commencement week-end. The remainder of the rooms in the dormitories may be rented by seniors desiring rooms for their fathers and brothers at 75 cents a night.

Friday Night Is Dedicated to All Old Graduates

Mail Order Sale For 1923 Class Play Open at Union Building

Alumni from all parts of the country who will journey back to Madison for their class reunions of '03s and '08s will attend the senior play, Friday night as the first reunion activity.

The secretaries from many of the classes have felt that the undergraduate activity on Friday night will give an unusual opportunity for an informal uniting before any of the meetings and events of Saturday and Sunday.

The oldest class to reserve seats for the play thus far is the class of 1888 which has asked for 35 seats. The Friday night performance has been dedicated to the alumni and the majority of the seats will be blocked out for class groups and returning graduates.

The performance Thursday evening is for the seniors, the townspeople and those remaining over after examinations. The mail order sale for both performances opened during the early part of this week and many reservations are being made.

The headquarters for the senior play managers are in the Union building, 752 Langdon street and communications and mail order applications should be addressed there. Approximately 300 seats for the Thursday performance have been reserved thus far, according to Walter A. Frautschi, business manager of the play.

The open sale of tickets for "The Road to Yesterday" will open June 12. Mail orders will be given preference and will be mailed out early next week.

The senior play is by seniors and is primarily for them. The play is a good play and is funny. It is a part of the commencement program and as such every senior should attend the play either Thursday or Friday," Tannewitz declared last night.

TAKE ORDERS FOR SUMMER CARDINAL

The first issue of the Summer Session Cardinal will appear Monday evening, June 25, between 6 and 7 o'clock, and will be delivered every Monday, Wednesday and Friday thereafter at the same time.

The paper will be printed at The Capital Times and will record all university functions and announce all events during the summer semester. Special departments of book reviews and literary criticisms and feature information for the many teachers who attend the session will be included in the issue.

A hill campaign for subscriptions will open registration day, June 23, offering the Summer Cardinal for 01, delivered to any address in the country. Subscriptions may be made now by mailing check to Walter Plewke at Cardinal business office.

Porter F. Butts '24, managing editor, and Walter H. Plewke '24, business manager, are now organizing the summer staff, which will be announced the first week of the publication. Anyone interested in the work is asked to call Porter Butts, B. 186, or Walter Plewke, B. 5831.

SUMMER MONTHS TO SEE MORE BUILDING

Many new improvements will be added to the buildings during the summer. Some of the buildings now under construction are to be finished and new work begun.

The new addition to the Service building will be completed early in the summer. Work will continue on the new general hospital, situated back of the infirmary. It is estimated that the building may be completed and ready for occupancy in a year.

A concrete road and walk will connect Agriculture hall, along the esser mall, to the University drive. The stadium is to be closed at the north end, completing the horse shoe shape.

Besides these improvements the general summer remodeling and renovating will be carried through. The refinishing in the Historical library is to be completed by next fall.

Senior Stars Hail From All Parts

From all parts of the world—from Norway to Bascom hall's own shadow—the class of 1923 draws its dramatic stars.

From Norway comes Solveig Winslow who in "The Road to Yesterday" tries her best to use her merciless dirk and succumbs to her lover only when he has mastered her.

In the state of Wisconsin, Milwaukee and Madison vie for supremacy to contribute the greatest number of actors to the senior play. Madison has five members on the cast, Rudolph Hohlfeld, Deborah Olds, Laues Owen, James Lacy and Gertrude Harley.

The four who come from Milwaukee are Olivia Orth, Frederick Beckmann, Dora Ingraham and Wilbur Katz.

Other than that the players come from Missouri, several parts of Illinois and Iowa.

In the last analysis, Madison wins, however, for the assistant coach as well as the production manager and the business manager are all from Madison, making a total of eight local persons connected with the play.

NEW FORM PLANNED FOR CLASS HISTORY

The senior class history and prophecy will take an original form this year, according to the plans which Marjorie Sererance '23 and Roy French '23 are making.

Surprise is a feature of the class history. Plans will be kept secret until commencement. The original idea that has been developed requires that the class historians see each member of the senior class in order to get his permission to go ahead with it.

"We are not sure that we can use it but we are planning to have something entirely different from other years," Roy French said yesterday.

1923, FRONT

An Editorial

When the dates for the senior play were originally set, they conflicted with the activities of the re-united classes and with commencement plans. The dates were changed to fit in with the best interests of both activities.

Now the graduates and alumni have responded and are reserving blocks of seats for the Friday evening performance which has been dedicated as "alumni night."

Virtually the only students in Madison at the time of the senior play will be those seniors who are graduating and a few scattered others who are waiting for summer school or who live in Madison.

The senior play is a part of the commencement program. According to the plans of the commencement and play committees, Thursday will be the night for seniors to attend the play.

Members of the class of 1923 should support "The Road to Yesterday" as enthusiastically as have the alumni.

ZONA GALE'S MOTHER DEAD

After a brief illness, Mrs. Charles F. Gale, mother of Zona Gale, playwright who graduated from Wisconsin, died at her home in Portage, Wis., three days ago. The husband of Mrs. Gale was a pioneer Milwaukee engineer.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

Exactly 162 students subject to the next draft registered in the office of the dean last Saturday. The War book of the University of Wisconsin will be out June 10.

Athletes and Phi Betes Mix in Play

Athletes and Phi Beta Kappa mingle in this year's senior play, proof that the drama finds its material in all lines of activity.

Rudolph Hohlfeld who plays the lead in the play, for the past two years has played tackle on Wisconsin's eleven. Two years ago he was given honorable mention on one of Walter Camp's All-American selections. From fighting athlete to winsome hero is not such a great step, Hohlfeld claims.

Another athlete is Lee McCandless who is a quarter-miler on the Badger track squad. He also runs the relay and the dashes. In the play he is a comic character and plays the part of Adrian Tomkins.

Dora Ingraham in addition to dramatic activities during the past few years has succeeded in winning the Phi Beta Kappa key and she declares that studying does not necessarily interfere with participation in college activities.

Wilbur Katz is also a Phi Beta from this year's elections. His record also shows that activities and scholarship do mingle.

MANY ROOMS AWAIT SUMMER STUDENTS

There will be no shortage of rooms for summer session according to announcement made at Dean Goodnight's office yesterday.

More than 100 single and double rooms, 61 apartments and furnished rooms and 15 fraternities, will have rooms listed at Goodnight's office. Alpha Gamma Rho and Sigma Phi houses will have rooms for married couples.

"The fact that so many people leave Madison during the summer and rent their homes makes the rooming problem less difficult," said Miss M. Ellingson of Dean Goodnight's office yesterday.

A Wish Come True Makes Plot For Play Cast

Fifteen Seniors Take Part in "The Road to Yesterday," June 14 and 15

The wish that wishes might come true often comes, but seldom do the wishes, at least the fantastic ones, materialize.

Elspeth Tyrell had a fantastic wish. In fact, she wished that she might live and be just as she was 300 years ago when knight errants and heroes traversed the land and saved damsels from fiery dragons.

Her wish came true,—and thereupon hangs the tale of the senior class play of 1923. "The Road to Yesterday," which will be presented in the open-air theater at the rear of Bascom hall, Thursday and Friday evenings, June 14 and 15, at 8 o'clock.

All her friends, her acquaintances, her rivals, and enemies are transformed into some sort of ancestral counterpart. Her grumpy and fastidious aunt becomes the bitter and slave driving mistress of a roadside tavern. Old Adrian Tomkins, becomes the quaint and humorous caretaker of the bar; all her associates are revealed in their true natures when the mask of the twentieth century conventions are torn off.

Then comes the disillusionment. A wish is not all that it seems. Heroes and knights were no more valorous in 1623 than they are in 1923. Elizabeth resolves that "The Road to Yesterday,"—but that's the play.

For the first time in eight years all the members of the senior class play are members of the senior class. The cast is made up of 15 members of the graduating class and the active work of coaching is being done by a senior, William Tannewitz, under the personal supervision of Miss Gertrude Johnson.

The scenery and lighting effects for the play are being planned by Sidney Thorson '24 who has directed the decorating of two Junior promenades and Military balls, this year's Dance Drama and Venetian night, and who designed and built all the scenery for this year's Haresfoot show. The costumes and scenery will all portray the dual nature of the periods which are included in the play,—1623 and 1923.

The cast for the play is as follows:

Elspeth Tyrell Olivia Orth
Malena Leveson . . . Solveig Winslow
Harriet Phelps . . . Dora Ingraham
Dolly Poulis Deborah Olds
Norah Gillan Golda Brandt
Jack Greatorex . . . Rudolph Hohlfeld
William Leveson . . . Frederick Beckmann

Eleanor Tylney . . . Laura Owen
Kenelem Paulton . . Adolphus Berger
Adrian Tomkins . . . Lee McCandless
Hubert Wilbur Katz
Watt James Lacy
Phyllis Gertrude Harley
Servant Harwood Gregory
Vicar Gorton Ritchie

The senior play committee which was appointed last fall by President Rollie Williams and which had charge of the picking of the coach and the selection of the managers and the play was William Tannewitz, chairman, Olivia Fentress, Roy French and Vincent Conlin.

WISCONSIN

Approximately 800 of the additional 1,300 commencement invitations which will be printed already have been ordered, according to Ralph Ballietto '23, chairman of the invitation committee.

All those who still want invitations are urged to place their orders as soon as possible. The invitations will be ready for distribution Wednesday and may be ordered for at the Print shop.

The total number of invitations distributed will come to about 10,000, an increase of about 3,500 over last year.

The cover of this year's commencement invitation is of a gray leather. The booklet is made up of 60 pages, and has four steel engravings of campus buildings. It contains the program for commencement week, a list of the class officers and committees, and a classified list of the graduates and candidates for advanced degrees.

7,000 NEW SEATS TO GREET FANS AT HOMECOMING

Football fans returning for the homecoming game November 27 will be greeted by the new addition to the stadium which closes the north end and will add approximately 7,000 more seats, bringing the total capacity of the stand up to 10,000.

A student rooting section in the best stands is being planned by the athletic department. It is possible that a human "W" will be arranged in this section by the Homecoming committees.

Minnesota will meet the Badgers at Randall field that day. Prizes will be offered for the best decorated fraternity, sorority, and rooming houses. Special attractions are being planned during the intermission. The annual hobo parade will be held the morning.
