FORTE.

The musical score is written for voice and piano. The key signature is D major (two sharps) and the time signature is 3/4. The score is divided into two systems. The first system consists of a single staff for the voice, which contains a whole rest for the duration of the first measure. Below the voice staff is a grand staff for the piano, consisting of a treble and a bass staff. The piano part begins with a series of chords and single notes, marked with a forte dynamic. The second system also features a single staff for the voice, which contains the lyrics "Oh weep no more sweet mother Oh" under a series of eighth and sixteenth notes. Below this is another grand staff for the piano, continuing the accompaniment with chords and single notes. The page number "1191" is printed at the bottom center of the page.

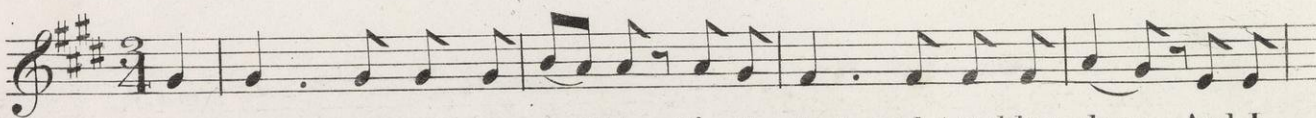

weep no more to night, And only watch the seas, moth--er, Beneath the morning light. Then the bright blue sky is joy--ful And the bright blue sky is clear And I can see, dear moth--er To kiss away thy tear.

2nd VERSE.

But now the wind goes wailing O'er the dark and trackless deep And I know your grief, sweet mother, Tho' I on--ly hear you weep My father's ship will come, mother, In safe--ty o'er the main, When the grapes are dyed with pur--ple He will be back a--gain.

3^d VERSE.

The vines were but in blossom When he bade me watch them grow; And now the large leaves, mother, Con--ceal their crimson glow; He'll bring us shells and sea weed, And birds of shi--ning wing But what are these dear moth--er, It is him--self he'll bring.

4th VERSE.

Our beau--ti--ful Ma--don--na Will mark how you have wept The pray'rs of ear--ly morn--ing The vi--gils you have kept She will guide the state-ly ves--sel Tho' the sea be dark and drear An-- o--ther week of sun--shine And fa--ther will be here.
