LAST RELIGIOUS MEETING TO BE HELD THURSDAY

McDowell Will Give Address

"The World from Washington" will be the subject of William E. McDowell, resident bishop of the Methodist Episcopal church at Washington, D. C. who will talk at the men's gymnasium in the last religious convocation of the year at 7 o'clock tomorrow night.

Bishop McDowell is now conducting a religious convocation at the University of Chicago which is the fourth school he has visited on this western trip.

President 12 Years

The Campus Religious council made the arrangements to bring Bishop McDowell here with Dean Shaler Matthews of Chicago university.

For the last 12 years Bishop McDowell has been president of the board of education in the Methodist church, which board has under its supervision over 50 schools scattered over the United States.

Announce Program

The privilege of giving the last lecture at the yearly conference of Y. M. C. A. s held at Lake Geneva has been given Bishop McDowell for the last 26 years. For the last 15 years he has held convocations that lasted six days at both Harvard and Yale.

Those lecturers who have preceded Bishop McDowell on the convocation series are listed below with the subjects of their talks: George Craig Stuart—"Evolution;" George K. Foster—"Psychology and Religion;" Bishop F. J. McConnell—"Can the Church Christianize Industry;" and Dr. Ozora Davis—"Reality of Religion."

Team Men in Rifle Club

Are Given Gold Insignia

The Rifle club met last night and awarded gold plated bullets to the members of the Varsity rifle team. The following men were given the bullets in recognition of their work during the year: L. P. Drake '26, L. O. Long '24, T. J. Ludwig '26, W. A. Rorison '25, E. H. Ross and E. P. Von Rohr '25.

Plans were made by the club to have a novel rifle match. Four or five teams are to be picked from the members of the club to enter the match. The winning team will go to the Orpheum at the expense of the losers.

Fifteen members of the club recently were selected to represent Wisconsin in an intercollegiate match. The match was held this week but all scores have not yet been received so the outcome is still uncertain. Wisconsin hopes to place very high as the men representing her in the shoot all made good scores in the preliminaries. W. A. Rorison, president of the Rifle club, made a perfect score of 200 in the preliminary tryouts.

PLEASE POINT THE WAY, WEATHERMAN

Which way, Mr. Weather Man? We're at the cross roads. That was a nice winter we had yesterday, but we'd just as soon take the trail that leads to summer. Which way?

WEATHER: FAIR

Generally fair weather is predicted for today and tomorrow. There will be continued cold today, with rising temperature tomorrow. The maximum temperature for yesterday was 40.2 degrees at 12 o'clock noon; the minimum was 31.4 degrees at 7 p. m.

LAD, STRUCK BY AUTO, UNINJURED

Robert Ayer, 11 year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ayer, 520 N. Pinkney street, who was hit by an automobile late yesterday afternoon when he started to cross the street in front of Lawrence's restaurant was not severely injured according to a report at the clinic. The automobile was the possession of Fred Wolf, a student of the Wisconsin high school, according to the State license bureau.

As young Ayer stepped from the curb to cross the street the automobile skidded into him and was stopped with the rear wheel on his body, according to witnesses. The driver was so excited that a bystander had to start the machine and get it off the child's body.

Wolf immediately took the boy to the clinic. Mr. Walter Ayer is president of the Fuller and Johnson Manufacturing company.

NAME WERNER AS PROSECUTOR

Student Court to Enforce Compulsory Green Cap Wearing

Victor D. Werner, law 2, was appointed prosecutor of the Student Court in the place of Clifford G. Mathys, Law 3, who has resigned in order to take up work with the state attorney-general, at the meeting of the student court in the Law building last night. Werner is from Shawano, Wis., and is a member of the Phi Delta Phi fraternity.

The court passed a resolution thanking Mathys for his excellent work while a member of the student court. He was appointed prosecutor last fall but on account of his new position with the attorney-general was forced to resign.

A number of cases on Wisconsin traditions especially those pertaining to the wearing of the green cap and a case on the recent referendum will be brought before the Student Court at the next meeting Thursday night, May 17.

Twelve cases of Freshmen neglecting to wear the green cap were turned over to the Student Court by Maynard Brown, chairman of the student senate. Two fraternity men were included in this list.

"Every Freshman excepting the veterans of the World War must wear the green cap, and the student court has the right, in fact it is the duty of the court, to try all Freshmen who do not comply with this tradition," Brown said, voicing the sentiment of the Senate.

The Student Court also has the right to penalize negligence on the part of Freshmen by adding additional credits and by taking away their right to vote or hold office.

Methodist Classes Present Three Operettas Yesterday

Three operettas were given yesterday afternoon and evening by the four Public Schools Methods classes in the concert room of Lathrop to give all of the members of the classes actual experience in selecting the piece, the cast and in the producing of the operettas.

"The Frog Prince" and "Baby's First Christmas" were given in the afternoon, and "The Bells of Beaujolais" was presented in the evening.

The classes have been working on these productions for some time, and these will be the last class problems which will be open to the public.

Miss Sterling to Lecture on German Painters and Art

"German Painters of the Nineteenth Century," will be the subject of a lecture Miss Susan A. Sterling of the German department will give at 7 o'clock tonight in 112 Bascom hall.

The lecture is being given under the auspices of Delta Phi Delta, honorary professional art society, and is open to the public.

Prof. Gardner Returns Tonight From Memorial Fund Canvass

Alumni Groups in 18 Cities Respond By Large Pledges

Prof. E. H. Gardner will return to Madison at 6 o'clock tonight, after his successful canvass of 18 cities throughout the United States for the Union Memorial fund. Professor Gardner has been engaged in organizing alumni associations for the past two months. His first cash report of $10,000 was received at the headquarters on Monday. A large additional sum has been subscribed in pledges.

A splendid meeting was held in Dec Moines, Ia., when $1700 was pledged in a single evening. President L. A. Anderson, formerly insurance commissioner of Wisconsin, was in charge of the meeting. A. H. Brayton was selected to run the Union Memorial campaign there.

Tore Teiger, the "bike" rider of two centuries ago, was elected president of the alumni association in Sioux Falls, Ia. Advisory committees have been formed to aid students who are planning on a college education, and to promote registration at Wisconsin.

"Hy" Priester was elected president and campaign manager of the alumni association at Davenport, Ia. Henry H. Jebens, president, secured $1,400 in pledges at the banquet held there.

Prof. Gardner has been greatly influential in the organization and promotion of various Wisconsin alumni associations in the country. "The Memorial Union project has come to unite the Wisconsin alumni in many states, leading to the encouragement of regular meetings and new plans for closer co-operation on the parts of the graduates," Professor Gardner says.

BADGER HEADS CALL FOR STAFF FOR NEXT YEAR

A great many students have already made their application at the Badger office for work on the 1925 Badger but many more are needed. The positions will be filled by persons who seem the most interested in the work and those who file their applications this week will be considered most interested by the editor-in-chief.

"Any person who has had any experience in high school or university publication work of any kind will be able to find work that he can do if he is willing. Typists and persons able to take dictation are in great demand," said Bill Sullivan, business manager, last night.

"Work on the 1925 Badger is already under way and we expect to turn out a banner book. A great many new features are being planned and we need students who want to work to take care of these. These jobs do not require any great amount of experience but can be filled by interested persons who are willing to work. The principle qualification for any Badger work is interest. We will fill our positions from those who prove to be the most interested in the work," stated Ellis Fulton, editor-in-chief.

"The managing editor and each department editor will come into direct contact in the work next year. Each editor will be held responsible for his own job and will be expected to turn out high grade work," Fulton stated concerning the plans for the book.

"We want all students interested in any publication work to make their application any afternoon after 4:30 o'clock this week. The principle qualification is interest and the rest will take care of itself," Fulton said.

German Club Will Hold Musical Program Tonight

German club will hold a musical program at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Lathrop parlors. The program is as follows: Piano solo, "Hark! Hark! The Lark!" by Schubert, Liszt played by Mildred Rodolph '25, violin solos by Max Peterson, instructor in the physics department; cello solo by Barbara Hildreth, grad.; piano trio by Max Peterson, Barbara Hildreth, and Prof. B. Q. Morgan.

Runaway Causes Excitement and Damages Beta House

Mendota court was the scene of great excitement yesterday morning at 9:30 o'clock when runaway ice wagon horses caused some serious damage. The horses, belonging to the Oscar Mayer company, ran down State street turned down Lake and swerved into the Mendota court at a fast rate of speed. They ran the full length of the court, up over the Beta's front yard back into the court and down to Lake street where they were stopped by several students. The wagon demolished several fences and one lawn and did a great deal of damage to an automobile that was parked in the court. The driver of the ice wagon was not in evidence and the cause of the runaway remained a mystery.

LIBBY URGES WORLD PEACE

Advocates Economic Conference Called By U. S. For All Nations

Frederick J. Libby, of the National Council for the Prevention of War, urged that the United States take definite steps in calling and participating in an economic conference for the settlement of several war-breeding questions when he spoke to the members of Prof. G. H. Stuart's class in Current Political Topics yesterday morning.

"As yet, the common masses of Germany hate war more than they hate France. This will not always be true, and an economic conference is necessary to settle differences," Libby said.

"The success of the conference depends upon the reduction of German reparations to a practical figure, the reduction of the inter-allied debt, the appropriation of an international loan to Germany, reduction of armaments, guarantees of security by regions, the balancing of budgets, and the placing of a gold basis.

"These issues are one and inseparable," he said in explaining the work ahead of the conference.

"The United States must call this conference because the masses of the people in all European countries have confidence in this country. Moreover, the conference must be held here because our air is free from the intrigue and jealousies of foreign capitals."

Attorney Says Missouri Students Didn't Help Lynch

The participation of any students of the University of Missouri in the lynching at Columbia last Sunday morning of James Scott, negro, was denied today by Attorney General Jesse W. Barret in a letter to a Chicago newspaper.

Barret gave as his authority for the statement the results of the special investigations which his assistants had conducted. He said: "I can say to you authoritatively that there is not the slightest evidence against any student of the University of Missouri."

Practical Jokers Deface Beloit Campus With Signs

"We want a president—not a preacher" was one of the slogans painted on the walls of the Beloit college buildings by some practical jokers, believed to be students. College authorities are conducting a thorough search for the culprits. Besides the damage done by the painting of this and other legends on the wall, an iron railing was torn down, a memorial fountain defaced by paint, and the professors of the University caricatured and ridiculed.

University of Iowa Has "Dad's Day" on May 5

May 5 was observed as "Dad's Day" at the University of Iowa. Formal invitations were sent to the parents of all the students and a program was prepared and given.

FIRST MAY SNOW SINCE 1907 HITS CITY YESTERDAY

High Waves Break Pier and Launch

Only six times since 1884 has Madison had snow flurries at this date or later. Once, May 10, 1907, snow covered the ground.

Today will be the coldest day of the week according to a statement made yesterday by Mr. Eric Miller of the U. S. weather bureau. The cold weather will be followed by a slow rise in temperature, but no real warm weather is yet in sight.

The temperature at 7 o'clock yesterday morning was 36 degrees, but at 3 o'clock in the afternoon the mercury slipped down to 33 degrees. Madison is on the outskirts of an eastern storm area. The wind, if it remains, will prevent a frost from falling. A frost at the present time would do great damage to the fruit crop.

A. T. O. Pier Suffers

Two sets of poles at the end of the Alpha Tau Omega pier were washed away by the waves. Captain Isabel said that the waves were not any stronger than during most storms but a pretty strong gale was blowing off the lake. He added that since the poles of the A. T. O. pier were newly driven they probably were not very strong, and the waves need not have been extra ordinarily heavy to break them down.

"The White Cap" a motor boat owned by James Stevens sank last night off the university boat house pier. The boat was tied to the pier, but during the night it filled with water and sank.

Boat May Be Raised

When the lake gets lower it will be able to see whether or not it will pay to raise the boat. Several boats a season are regularly lost because they have not been properly moored.

Last Opportunity to Order Blue Dragon Rings Given

The last chance to obtain Blue Dragon rings is being offered to the senior women this week. Orders may be made through Norma Carl '23, 428 N. Charter street.

The rings are $9.45, and it will be necessary that a deposit of $2 be made with the order if the ring be sent out. Ring sizes may be found at the time of ordering.

The rings which were ordered when the regular agent was here during the winter are expected to arrive here sometime during next week. The rings which are ordered at this time will be delivered sometime the later part of this month.

COMEDY NIGHT TO BE PRESENTED TOMORROW

The annual Spring production of the Wisconsin University Players will take place tomorrow night in the Lathrop concert room with the presentation of four one-act plays.

"Comedy Night" is the name given to the production, since all of the plays are in a light, racy vein. Included in the program are "The Robbery," by Clare Kummer, "A Pair of Lunatics," by W. R. Walkes, "A Matter of Choice," by William Tannewitz, and "Into the Nowhere," a pantomime by Marie Bollman and Marjorie Kinnan.

The two last named plays are the products of university talent, "A Matter of Choice" was written by William Tannewitz, a senior in the college of Letters and Science, and "Into the Nowhere" by two former students while they were in the university and members of Red Domino.

There is not a single spoken word in "Into the Nowhere." The play is in true pantomime style, with the traditional Harlequin, Pierret, and Columbine. It has a nationwide reputation and has been produced a number of times in other parts of the country. Students in fancy dancing will assist in depicting the action of the pantomime.

"Comedy Night" is the last formal presentation of the Players this year.

W.A.A. VOTES TO BUILD COTTAGE

Committees Named to Work Out Definite Plans For Project

The project of a W. A. A. cottage on Lake Mendota was definitely adopted by a unanimous vote at the meeting of W. A. A. last evening. Steps already have been taken with the regents and the business manager of the University, and definite plans for incorporation are to be worked out with Professor Gillen.

Committees to act for this cottage were appointed as follows:

Plans: Norma Carl '23, chairman; Fidelia Pease '26, Janet Cumming '24, Mabel Rugen '26, Maurine Hall '24, Josephine Snow '24, Winifred Lowe '25, Gladys Samson '25, Helen Robinson '25.

Miss Carol Rice, of the physical education department, gave a short talk on the progress of track as a sport for women in the United States. She read the figures on national intercollegiate records and compared them to records made here by the women, showing that the local records are in most instances very close to the national ones.

The committee to decorate the field house for the Field day was announced as: Betty Torkelson '23, Dorothy Dodge '24, Dorothy John '25, and Larch Campbell '26.

The annual spring banquet will be held May 29, by special arrangements with the deans, due to the proximity to the final exams.

New members taken in are: Esther Rosenberg '26, Madge Burt '26, Myrtle Getting '25, Elizabeth Bloom '26, Cavita Robertson '26.

Mechanical Man Is Odd Window Attraction

Nick Massal, manager of the Glasgow tailors, 123 State street, has succeeded in bringing to Madison a very unusual mechanical device which he is now displaying in his window. The device was made in Germany and is of an advertising nature. The small form of a man about two feet in height and tailored in a dress suit stands upon a box and is mechanically constructed so that one of the feet knocks on the window. Hands, eyes, eye brows and lips move perfectly as attention is drawn to some moving advertisements.

NOVELTY RACES, FANCY RIDING, AT HORSE SHOW

Thrilling equestrian exhibitions, novelty races, and women's riding exhibitions will be the chief events at the Second Annual Military Horse show Saturday afternoon, May 19, on the lower campus under the auspices of the Military department and the Madison Saddle club.

Roman bareback riding and high hurdling by members of the advanced course, field artillery unit are headline thrillers. Roy L. Stith, chairman general arrangements, reports that high hurdling practice is being held every day now by members of the cadet horse troop.

Monkey drill, potato race, steeple chase, and children's pony race are the big riding events.

Participation in most events is open to all. Entries are now being accepted, and a large enrollment in the women's classes is desired by the committee.

The lower campus will be roped off and seats will be sold for 25 cents each. All profits will be turned over to the Memorial union fund.

OUTING CLUB PLANS HOUSE PARTY THURSDAY

Outing club will hold a mass meeting at 7:15 o'clock tomorrow in the S. G. A. room for the purpose of discussing the plans for the annual Outing club house party which is to be held at Devil's Lake the weekend of May 18 and 19.

The meeting is for all of the members of the club and all university women who are interested in camping and who like to have good times outdoors.

Elizabeth Kirk '23, former president of Outing club; Esther Bilstad '24, president of W. A. A. and Helen Kingsford '24, who had charge of the house party last year will give short talks at the meeting to explain the parties held in previous years. Snapshots which were taken last year will be shown and will give a clear idea of how the time is spent.

All arrangements are made by the officers of Outing club. The cottage is rented and supplies for cooking the meals are brought to the cottage before the group arrives.

Any women who are interested are to come to the meeting and sign up for it, or telephone Anita Haven '24, at B. 350.

BADGERS MEET CATHOLICS TODAY

BADGERS STRIVE TO ERADICATE FORMER DEFEAT

Neither Team in Best of Form

Probable line-ups for today's game:

WISCONSIN	NOTRE DAME

Ellingson 2b	Foley
Servaius rf	Thomas
Aschenbrenner c	Curtin
Tebell 3b	Kane
Holm 1b	Nolan
Gibson cf	Castner
Combacker ss	Sheehan
Johnson, Radke or	Falvey or
Pickford p	Magerney

Notre Dame and Wisconsin battle in a non-Conference baseball game at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at Camp Randall field.

The Irish come here with a belt full of scalps already captured this season. One was annexed from the Badgers in a game at Notre Dame a week ago Monday.

Michigan Aggies, Northwestern, Chicago, Purdue and Indiana are among teams that have fallen before the Catholics.

Are Out of Practice

Notre Dame was to have played Iowa at Notre Dame yesterday. If the weather permitted them to play, it should have been a hard tussle, and followed by the trip up here, the Irishmen will be a little the worse for wear.

The Badgers are not in any too good shape themselves. They have had plenty of rest, but little practice since the Illinois game. It was too cold for a workout Monday, although the Frosh and Varsity brushed for a few innings. Lowman kept his men inside yesterday and took them through skull drill. The coach probably will issue snowshoes to the team for the game today.

Castner, Kane and Bergman are three Irish players who have gained fame already on undefeated Notre Dame football teams. Castner was mentioned on many mythical honorary elevens last fall. Bergman is one of the youngest of the famous Bergman brothers who have kept the family name prominent in Notre Dame's athletic circle for the last ten years. Kane at third base is one of the mainstays of the Irish infield, besides wielding a heavy bat. Falvey pitched the 16 to 3 win over Wisconsin and is expected to start again today.

Michigan Hard Pressed

Because of the unsettled weather, Coach Lowman could not forecast his pitcher, but talked as if he intended using at least three of his four twirlers. Bill Johnson may start the slab work, but will be allowed only a few innings. Pickford and Johnson will be saved for the Big Ten game with Minnesota here Saturday. Radke and perhaps Schrenk will do the greater share of the hurling in the game this afternoon.

Michigan had a hard fight to remain on the top of the pile in their game with Iowa at Ann Arbor Monday. The Wolverines sent the Hawkeys on their way with a 7 to 6 defeat tagged on them, but it took Michigan an extra inning to win after coming from far behind. Chicago is headed farther in the cellar as they play Illinois again today.

Paddock, Under Ban, Beats Records in Two Events

Records are falling so fast it is hard to count them. Thursday at the first international students athletic meet at Paris, Charlie Paddock tied the world's record in the 150 meter dash of 16 seconds. Friday he set a new record for the 75 meter dash of :08 2-5.

The most interesting feature is that by competing in this meet Paddock has forfeited the recognition of the A. A. A. Ambassador Herrick has wired an appeal to the A. A. A. that the ban be lifted but so far they have remained firm.

The world's record of :08 2-5 for the 75 meter race was tied Friday at Berkeley, California, by Eddie Sudden of The Olympic club of San Francisco, according to an official announcement of the Pacific association of the A. U. timers.

"DAD," VETERAN CREW BUILDER

H. E. (DAD) VAIL

Crew Coach Harry E. (Dad) Vail has watched Badger crews through success and failure for many years. He has worked consistently, turning out fair teams with good or poor material alike. His Wisconsin teams of a decade ago were famed throughout the West and they are gradually approaching that high position again. In commenting on Poughkeepsie possibilities this year, Dad said, "I am glad to see that we can get back into intercollegiate competition."

VAIL'S DREAM TO BE REALIZED

Hopes For Good Crew For Poughkeepsie Regatta in 1924

Dad Vail's dream is about to be realized.

For ten years,—in fact since the good old days when Wisconsin crews under his leadership were looked upon as among the fastest in the country, he has looked forward to the time when he could take his men East again to prove their merit.

Now the university faculty has approved a recommendation of the Athletic council allowing the Badger oarsmen to go to Poughkeepsie in 1924 or as soon thereafter as the council sees fit.

The principal provision is that Vail turn out a team which will merit the trip, a team which has a chance of winning against such teams as the University of Washington, Cornell, and other schools famous for their crews. That is all that Vail has to do; but with material he is equal to the task.

"I've done it before," says Dad "And with the spirit that has been awakening here in crew competition, I think I can do it again. Just give me a chance to take my men East and I will turn out a team in time which will justify the action."

Coach Vail's favorite topic of conversation is that of the teams he had years ago when one or two Badger crews went to Poughkeepsie each year. His teams always performed creditably, and in one or two cases they almost "cleaned up."

"The great race," he says, "was in 1912 when we placed second, coming in just a quarter of a boat length behind the speedy Cornell crew. We were many length behind all the others when we started, for we got a poor start," he continued. "But it was a beautiful race. My men worked a machine, and we passed them all one by one until only the Cornell team remained ahead of us. We almost did it!" he finished a little wistfully.

He is working daily with his squad of varsity and freshmen oarsmen, ever with the end in view of turning out a winning team in the future. His heart is in it.

Committee To Act On $125,000 Street Bonds

The bond issue of $125,000 for the 1923 street paving program will be taken up at a meeting of the finance committee called for Tuesday evening.

TRACK TEAM TO MEET GOPHERS HERE SATURDAY

Men Train Despite the Weather

With the Chicago team out of the way, Badger track men are being groomed for the meet with Minnesota which will be held at Camp Randall next Saturday afternoon.

While the Gophers probably are not of the first rank among Conference teams, they are likely to cause the Badgers no end of trouble before the meet is over. The Minnesota team went through a fairly successful indoor season and have several new men for outdoor work who will strengthen the team considerably.

Ulrich Is Dangerous

Earl Martineau, the "French flash" who rated among the best backs in the conference last football season is a hurdler who has become eligible since the indoor season. Martineau coupled with Towler, another hurdler of great ability, presents a formidable hurdles line up.

Ulrich, distance man nearly has proved the undoing of Badger distance and cross-country men at various times in the past and will bear watching Saturday. Tschudy and Wade are running the two mile race for Wisconsin, and between them, they should be able to best him.

Farcy, star swimmer, is doing the best work in the broad jump for the Gophers. Cranston works in the high jump, but the marks he has hung up this year are not inaccessible to Badger jumpers.

Brave Bad Weather

Grose, Gopher heavy, heaves the shot for a distance of 40 feet, just far enough to make Van Ells of Wisconsin exert himself to the utmost. Mc Laughlin, Minnesota miler will probably count, and Partridge and Hirt are formidable half milers. Wilson will take care of the sprints and quarter mile in handy shape for Minnesota.

Once more the weather man tried to put a stop to Badger workouts yesterday afternoon, but the Wisconsin runners braved the rain and snow in order not to lose a day of practice. The Chicago meet left them all in good shape, and with a few more days in which to condition themselves, they should give the Gophers a run for the victory.

BLANKS ISSUED FOR H. S. MEET HELD ON MAY 26

The twenty-ninth annual inter-high school track meet, will be held at Camp Randall on Saturday May 26.

Entry blanks and instructions have been mailed to all high schools in the state, and by May 16, the last day on which entries will be received, it is expected that the largest representation of high school track stars ever gathered together at Madison will be on the lists.

As has been the custom for several years, the entries will be divided into two groups, class A and class B. Class A will consist of track teams from schools having enrollment of 300 students or over and class B. will be open to schools of under 300 enrollment.

There seems to have been a revival in high school track activities this year," Mead Burke, assistant track coach said yesterday. "District meets have been more frequent throughout the spring and this display of interest will probably make this year's meet a record-breaker in many respects."

A beautiful array of awards has been selected for the meet. Four State interscholastic medals of the design adopted last year will be given in each event in each class; medals will be awarded to members of the first four teams in the relay, a cup will be given to the championship team in each class; and a statue will be awarded the athlete scoring the most points, irrespective of the class in which he is entered.

The annual tennis tournament which has steadily grown in the past few years until it has now become a big event in itself, will begin on Friday, May 25, and will

FORMER CHICAGO ATHLETE IS DEAD

Henry M. Atkinson, one of the greatest baseball players ever turned out at the University of Chicago, is dead.

Atkinson, who played six years on Maroon nines before the conference regulated the number of years a man might participate, was a consulting mining engineer in Salt Lake City, Utah, the place of his death. Coach A. A. Stagg, of the University of Chicago, received the news of his death Wednesday.

Atkinson was second baseman during all the six years of his competition, playing on the championship team of 1886. His death was caused by an infection.

TENNIS TEAM MEETS CHICAGO

Undefeated Badgers to Play Maroon Stars Next Saturday

The undefeated Badger tennis team will take on Chicago next Saturday in the last home game of the season. Chicago has a team composed of star players and the game will be one of Wisconsin's hardest.

Wilson and Frankenstein of the Chicago team won the Wisconsin state championship in doubles last year, and the conference championship in doubles was won by Frankenstein and Stegg. The fourth man on the Maroon team is Beucher. This aggregation of star players forms one of the strongest tennis outfits in the conference.

Wisconsin is not without its stars, for Bennett and Tredwell have done excellent work this season. Bennett has not lost a match in singles or doubles this year. Moulding and Aageson furnish good support for the team as the victory over Minnesota last Friday showed.

The Wisconsin team will meet Northwestern and Michigan before it enters the conference tournament to be held at Chicago on May 24, 25, and 26.

The Chicago men in next Saturday's game are: Wilson, Frankenstein, Stagg, Reucher; Wisconsin: Tredwell, Aageson, Moulding and Bennett.

Gordon Gives Address Before Community Club

Lancelot A. Gordon, assistant secretary of state, spoke on the "Line of Life" to the Star School Community club of the town of Rutland Friday night. The importance of carefulness in habits, recreations, and work was stressed by Mr. Gordon.

GOLF TEAM TO MEET GOPHERS HERE SATURDAY

Jones Will Pick Team Friday

After several weeks of practice, during which time more than 30 candidates have been working out diligently on the links, Coach T. E. Jones is now ready to pick the men who have displayed the best ability, for the Varsity golf team.

In matches played at the Maple Bluff links last Saturday, the 12 men who made the best scores are: Frost (captain), Schilds, Guenther, Stegeman, Hook, Porter, Bock, Pope, Hooker, Saberman, Hopkins and Price. Captain Frost turned in the best score by completing the 36 holes in 162, and Guenther was right behind him with an -63 score.

Three candidates tied for third place when they completed the two rounds in 164; namely, Segeman, Hook and Porter. The remaining men finished with scores ranging from 165 to 179.

Other candidates who have been out on the links this spring are Ballou, Norgord, Holmes, White, McGrath, Leith, Marshal, Schroeder, Florsheim and Strom. These men did not make as high scores as the first twelve mentioned but with continued practice, they will undoubtedly improve their game.

On Friday of this week Coach Jones will pick out six candidates who will form the team during the '23 season. Of this number, four will be used as regulars.

Will Meet Chicago
The season will open next Saturday when Minnesota comes to Madison for the initial tilt. The matches will be played on the Maple Bluff links. Northwestern comes to Madison the following week, and a match with Illinois has also been scheduled.

On May 29 the varsity will go to Chicago where they will play the Maroon men. The conference meet, which will be held in Chicago, is scheduled for the latter part of June.

Average Value Of State Farms $86 Per Acre

Farm land values in Wisconsin on March 1, were similar to those of a year ago, with the only variation being a slight reduction for the southern counties, according to Paul Nyphus, state crop reporter. The average value of all plow lands in the state is placed at $86 per acre. This is $12 above the 1916 value and is $14 below the 1920 peak when an average of $100 per acre was reached. All Wisconsin farm land with improvements is valued at $113 an acre

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Little Goldilocks left her mother and with a basket under her arm went out to the woods to pick flowers. The sun was shining its brightest, the sky was pure blue, every green thing was sprouting with the earnestness of youth.

In a short time Little Goldilocks had her basket filled with violets, crocuses, tiny yellow buttercups, and other spring flowers.

"What a glorious time is May" said Little Goldilocks.

MAKING TIME

The spring of the year with its increased number of activities, renewed lure of the open, and abruptness of the early summer darkness annually presents to the university student problems of how he shall find time to finish his allotted tasks.

Athletics perhaps are the hardest hit by the season's idiosyncrasies. How many times does the story come from some baseball contest, "Game closed on account of darkness?"

Many afternoon classes last until 4:30 o'clock after which there is sufficient time in the winter, but not in the summer, for football, baseball, or other outdoor activity.

Although the daylight saving plan in vogue in many cities offers no perfect panacea for early vespers, still a modified form presents many advantages to the college world. The suggestion has been made that, without changing the clock system, classes and consequently all student activities, be put ahead one hour in order to conform with the natural progression of the sun.

The idea is not a new one. Illinois has the system of starting classes at 7 o'clock in the spring and the plan at least has the heartiest support of Coach "Bob" Zuppke who credits it with making possible much more efficient work in an athletic way.

The plans if put into operation at Wisconsin would necessitate the beginning of classes at 7 o'clock. It would follow, that lunch hour would come from 11 to 11:30 o'clock and the majority of classes would be excused by 3:30,—time for more than three hours of sports, dramatic rehearsals, canoeing, play or work at a time when nature is at its best in a spot which is particularly endowed with the best that that Mother has to offer.

As in every plan there are objections and counter disadvantages, which appear and must be weighted fairly against the evident good. First, of course, is the vital difficulty that the added hour will be taken from the students sleeping hours rather than from his waking. It is perhaps true that the average student will arise for his first class an hour earlier than usual, but will continue to go to bed at his usual hour.

Doubt as to the feasibility also arises when the position of the eating houses and restaurants is considered. The objection seems to be but lightly sustained, however, for although the adoption of an hour advance in school schedule will precipitate a change in the rush hour at these places, the average restaurant which caters to students has but a small coterie of transient and town customers, so that the day's schedule will not vary disastrously.

That a certain amount of confusion will arise is inevitable; no more so, however, than that occasioned by the actual transfer of clock time in many cities. Chicago insists on the practical value of the plan, and feels that all inconveniences are over-ridden by the gain.

Who would initiate the proposed plan at Wisconsin is a matter of some doubt. Other universities seem to be able to carry out ideas by some sort of accumulative action, but at Wisconsin the source of action always is uncertain. The faculty perhaps are the logical ones to carry out the program.

At any rate, the Cardinal Student forum columns are open for discussion on the plan and may be used as a thermometer of student opinion on the proposed change.

Column Right!

Books and things—cabbages—Kings—as penciled by Ever Sharp

COMMAND, by William McFee, Doubleday, Page and company.

Like the river Meander, the chief figure in this novel wanders aimlessly through his life. Now and then he attempts an up-hill climb and slips back; again he comes to a drop and plunges forward with cascade-like precipitousness; while throughout his whole life is sluggish.

The reason for our commencing so abruptly with the chief figure, Mr. Spokesley, is that he is so much of a chief figure. Not that the others are unimportant or poorly done, but that, although one does not admire him in the least, one is most concerned with his affairs, of which, by the way, the reader gets a most intimate view.

Mr. Spokesley is a simple Englishman who has been carried by the drift of things to the East where he runs up against a Greek person who is intent upon maintaining the reputation of his countrymen by making as much out of the war for his business as he can. Now this Greek person is married to an English woman, which is a significant fact because Mr. Spokesley is engaged to a London girl about whom he never seems particularly concerned and whom he never marries.

The seeker after books of adventure will be satisfied when he comes upon Command. Mr. Spokesley is used as the go-between by his friends of the East and as a result has a number of narrow places through which he must squeeze and no end of disillusion.

The other characters are beautifully done. There is the slick, grasping Greek and his lazy wife. If one knew nothing about the wife, one would have a hunch after seeing her characterized as McFee does that she came from the slums of London, perhaps Lime House, and that, far away from her native country where nobody knew what she had been she was enjoying the peace and quiet of luxury caring more about her afternoon nap than about where her husband's money came from.

There are the sea people who remind one somewhat of Conrad's sea people, the captain, firm of purpose. Perhaps it is the selfish little girl, Evanthis Polaris, the one who causes a great deal of Mr. Spokesley's trouble who stands out as clearly as any of the minor characters.

There is not quite as much of the sea in this book as there is in most of Conrad's stories. One does not get the smell of the salt so vividly. But there is life, and there are fine sentences and passages. At the end Mr. Spokesley returns to London where "He looked round at the green expanse of St. James' Park

Nice, clement weather for a track class to run out to Camp Randall, ainna? But that make snow difference to Mead.

THE QUEEN OF THE BLACK LISLES AGAIN

When I consider how my cash is spent

Ere half the month, in his expensive town,

And my one talent—drinking malteds down—

Lodged with me useless; when my friends are bent,

If not completely broke, to an extent

Where they spend naught but time and language brown—

Can profs expect work with money flown?

I fondly ask; but Roommate, to prevent

A chance touch, soon replies: profs do not care

What else you do beside their work; who best

Pass the exams, they mark them best. I deem,

While some may meet the prof's inquiring stare,

And some may answer when for answer pressed—

They also learn who only live to dream.

IOWA PHARMACY COURSE CHANGES ARE OLD HERE

"We have had such a pharmacist course as the one contemplated at Iowa university for over 30 years," Prof. Edward Kremers, director of the course in pharmaceutical chemistry, said on Tuesday in an interview regarding the proposed changes and additions to the college of pharmacy at Iowa university.

The plans and changes in the report of the professors in charge of the course at that university included a three year curriculum for retail pharmacists and a four year curriculum for different groups of specialists. The required two year course of both of the schools, is the same. In their third year the students are allowed many elections so that they may become specialists in particular fields of endeavor instead of narrow pharmacists. At the same time the required number of hours completed for graduation was increased in both groups; from 93 to 94 in the three year course and from 124 to 125 in the four year course.

"At the time these courses at the university were innovated they were greeted with a considerable amount of skepticism and ridicule, but it has been found that for the last 30 years they have been of great value in persuading students to come to the university," Professor Kremers said.

"The course has so increased in popularity that a building is extremely necessary to house the students and the laboratories. Should the bill, which is at present before the legislature, go through, we will have a new building fit to accommodate the needs of the students and the university," he said.

Bump In Opinion On Office Consolidation

Village caucuses in Wisconsin have no power to consolidate the offices of president and supervisor, F. E. Bump, assistant attorney general, held in an opinion today to T. G. Lewis, Dane county district attorney.

A person, who in a vote for the combined office, receives the highest number of votes, is not entitled to a seat on the county board of supervisors of the village, the opinion held. It advised that the incumbent in the office of supervisor in such case holds over until his successor is elected and qualifies.

SENIORS SLOW TO GIVE GOWN AND CAP ORDER

Only about 400 orders from seniors for caps and gowns have come in to the University Co-op. Orders are coming in much too slowly, the Co-op reports.

The Co-op wishes to impress upon the students that May 25 is the last day measurements may be sent in. The caps and gowns come from Chicago, and late orders will result in poorer material.

Orders now in are almost all for rented gowns. It is the custom for most of those getting B. A. degrees to rent their caps and gowns. Usually only those taking higher degrees buy them.

The University of Engineering

Of all the things that go to make the successful engineer, none is more important, nor more in step with the spirit of the profession, than a studious attitude. One man says about another—"he is always willing to learn," "he doesn't think he knows it all"—and he intends to pay a high compliment when he says it.

The great engineers are always at school, always learning, always seeking for more knowledge. They begin with this desire for fuller understanding, and they keep it up to the end.

Any engineering operation, over and above the primary purpose for which it is carried out, is an active and post-graduate class in engineering, also. So that Westinghouse, or any other great business, is, of its very nature, a University where theory and practice combine to make bigger, broader and more practical engineers.

The courses in this University are not limited to prescribed subjects nor terms—the subjects are almost infinite, and the semesters are endless. Men with the weight of years on their shoulders work and learn side-by-side with those whose day has just dawned.

This post-graduate school fits men for almost anything. Fits them for it, and makes them continually fitter. Out of this continuing fitness have grown the engineering accomplishments on which this institution has grown. It is, perhaps, one of the great educational institutions of its day.

U. W. MAN FLEES CHINESE BAND

Lloyd Lehrbas, Pajama Clad,
Eludes the Bandit
Guard

Lloyd Lehrbas, former student at the University of Wisconsin, was one of the 30 whites captured by the band of Chinese highway men, it was learned in a dispatch from Pekin, China, today. Lehrbas is a newspaper man and his home is at Pocatello, Idaho.

Lehrbas, the dispatch says, escaped from his captors after traveling under guard for three hours, clad only in his pajamas and driven barefooted over the rough countryside. He was not permitted to dress when the bandits stopped the train at Suchow early Sunday morning.

After all of his belongings were stolen, including his clothes, he was herded off with the other whites and natives and forced into the hills by their bandit abductors.

Lehrbas is in China for the International News service. He was active on The Daily Cardinal while a student at the university here in 1915-1917. The first year he lived here he resided at 406 N. Henry st. When he returned the following year to continue his studies in journalism, he made his home at 525 State st. He left school in 1917 and enlisted in the army.

The dispatch states that he narrowly escaped being killed by a bullet from a gun fired by one of the desperadoes, for as the express train struck the track torn up by them, the brigands opened a fusillade from their carbines, shattering the car windows and killing one Englishman by the name of Rothman. A second unidentified man is also reported killed.

MODERN GIRL CAN'T BE JUDGED BY FLASHES

"We should not judge the modern girl merely from her actions as she flashes by us, any more than we judge a whole community by a kodak picture of a few of its inhabitants," said Dean Louise F. Nardin.

"The modern girl belongs neither to the group which acclaims her nor to the group which defames her," continued Miss Nardin.

There are still problems to be solved for that reason those who acclaim the girl of today are assuming that she is born wise enough to meet these problems, whereas in reality she is going through the countless experiences common to her youth which need guidance, is Miss Nardin's belief.

Her sensible dress, her good health as a result of more exercise, and the fact that the blinders have been removed from her eyes so that she may see things as they really are, constitute some of the advantages which the girl of the present day enjoys over those which her mother or grandmother experienced before her, according to Miss Nardin.

In a meeting of the New York City Federation of Women's Clubs, the speakers referred to the girl of today as the "most perfect thing the world has produced."

"She has a wonderful spirit and a fine abiding faith in good," said Miss C. R. Mason, principal of the Mason school, Tarrytown.
