ALL-WESTERNELEVEN

W. S. KENNEDY GIVES WISCONSIN FOUR MEN.

Driver, Curtis, Larson and Riordan Chosen—Minnesota Gets Three and Iowa Two Men.

Thanksgiving Day Scores.

Beloit 43; Knox 0.
Chicago 15; Michigan 6.
Iowa 5; Northwestern 5.
Annapolis 11; West Point 7.
Minnesota 20; Nebraska 12.
Cornell 0; Pennsylvania 37.

In the Sunday issue of the Chicago Tribune, Coach Walter Scott Kennedy, last year's captain of the maroons, picks what he considers to be the All-Western team of 1900. On this eleven he names four Badgers and three Gophers. Iowa gets two and Michigan and Chicago each one.

Although many papers have published a list of players making up a so-called all-western eleven, Coach Kennedy, is the first man of recognized authority in football circles to pick a team of stars.

To choose such a team with fairness is extremely difficult. No matter what choice of players is made, it will be open to criticism. The team should be picked with a view to defensive work as well as to ground gaining ability. The ex-maroon picks the following from the leading elevens in the middle west:

Left end—Aune, Minnesota.
Left guard—Riordan, Wisconsin.
Center—Page, Minnesota.
Right guard—Flynn, Minnesota.
Right tackle—Curtis, Wisconsin.
Right end—Snow, Michigan.
Quarter back—Williams, Iowa.
Left half back—Henry, Chicago.
Right half back—Larson, Wisconsin.
Full back—Driver, Wisconsin.

In his article Coach Kennedy gives his opinion in substance as follows:

"Snow, Captain of Michigan, is without a doubt the choice for right end while Aune of Minnesota is chosen for the other end mainly for his ground-gaining ability. The Wisconsin ends, Juneau and Abbott are not far behind the Minnesota man in all-around work. The tackles are easy. Warner of Iowa and Curtis of Wisconsin stand out clearly from the rest of the candidates. Riordan, Wisconsin's field general, is a popular choice for guard. He carries the ball well and is strong defensively. Flynn of Minnesota is picked entirely for his defensive work. Flannagan and Ervin of Chicago, Ward of Northwestern and Marks of Michigan are all close to Flynn and one could be wrong in placing them on top.

At center Page, Minnesota's Captain is probably the best, although Scow of Wisconsin or Speed or MacNab of Chicago would force him out considerably.

There is only one choice for quarter back—Williams of Iowa. He is a good field general, handles the ball cleanly, and carries back punts in great shape. Pratt of Wisconsin passes the ball well, and is a good tackler, but has never attempted to run his team and is evidently not a good general. Weeks of Michigan is a better man than Pratt, both defensively and offensively.

Larson, Wisconsin's smashing half back, leads for his position, with Henry of Chicago as a running mate. Larson hits the line harder than any other back in the West, and does almost as well around the ends, while as a defensive player he is a whirlwind. Henry is as good defensively, and, playing with a team like Wisconsin's, would be almost if not quite as good a ground gainer. Cochems of Wisconsin and Sheldon of Chicago are not far behind these men, although both are new to the position, having been moved in from ends.

The full-back position is a little harder to fill. The season has not developed any real stars for this place—certainly none equal to Slaker or O'Dea of last year. Probably Driver of Wisconsin comes the nearest to last year's standard. Driver punches the line almost as hard as Larson, and punts well.

Milwaukee Game.

The game between the Varsity second team and the Milwaukee Medics Thanksgiving morning drew out a large audience. The scrubs played a fine game and piled up a total of 38 points, shutting the doctors out. The line up of the second eleven was as follows:

Remp, C.; Webster, I. G.; Richardson, R. G.; Dering, I. T.; Haumerson, R. T.; Doar, I. E.; Daum, R. E.; Murphy, Q. B.; Abercrombie, F. B.; Marshall, I. H.; Cropp, R. H. John Gregg acted as umpire and Phil King refereed.

Pat O'Dea Plays.

Pat O'Dea donned the moleskins again last Saturday in the charity game at Chicago between the Chicago-Al-Star team and a picked eleven from the Yale Law School. The lawyers were beaten by a score of 12 to 0. "Pat" has lost none of his prowess since he left the game a year ago. In Saturday's game he saved his team no end of work by powerful leg action and in a try for goal from the middle of the field he missed by a few inches.

Astronomical Data.

Astronomical data for December, 1900, furnished by the Washburn observatory:

The evening sky is left now without bright planets, although Saturn may be seen for some evenings more, very low in the south-west soon after the sun has set. The sun in its eastward course overtakes and places Jupiter on December 14th, and Saturn on December 29th; so that these planets will soon be visible in the morning. During the present month the red planet Mars will be seen in the southeastern and southern sky in the early morning hours, while Venus contrives to be the brilliant morning star. Mercury also is a morning star, reaching greatest elongation west December 7th, but is too far south to be readily found.

The principal fixed stars visible during the month are:

In the evening hours to the west; Vega and Altair. To the east: Aldebaran, the Pleiades, the bright stars of the constellation, Orion, Sirius, Procyon, Copella and Castor and Pol-lux.

Visitors will be received at the observatory if the night is clear on the evenings of Dec. 5, and Dec. 19, from 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock.

First Military Hop.

The military suits arrived last week and accordingly the freshmen will hereafter be seen at drill in the regulation uniforms. It is announced that the first military hop of the season will be held in the gymnasium next Saturday evening.

The music will be furnished by the University Orchestra under the leadership of Professor Nitschke. Dancing will commence at about eight o'clock and will cease at eleven.

PLAN NEW BUILDING

FOR COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE, TO COST $15,000.

Changes in Buildings About the University—New Physical and Geological Laboratories.

The architectural department, under the supervision of Mr. Jennings is being kept busy these days. Besides putting the finishing touches upon the Engineering building and doing other odd jobs round about the grounds, they have been remodeling a large part of the basement in Science Hall. The department of psychology is having a new experimental room constructed there for use by Dr. Jastrow. A room for blowpipe analysis for geology students under Dr. Hobbs is also being made. The large mechanical draughting room of former days will be changed to a physical laboratory for use by Dr. Snow.

A new building for the making and curing of cheeses is also being built out on the farm.

Within about four weeks the old library building will also be remodelled and part of it converted into new quarters for the department of music. The west end will be greatly changed by the construction of these many studios, recitation rooms, musical library, and offices.

Besides this plans are being prepared for a building to be the leading one of the School of Agriculture. The cost will be about $150,000.

The plans will be ready for presentation to the Board of Regents on December 18th. If approved an appropriation will then be asked of our coming legislature.

Beta Reunion.

Alumni members of Alpha Pi chapter of Beta Theta Pi held a grand reunion at the local chapter house during the Thanksgiving recess. The principal event of the reunion was the Thanksgiving banquet Thursday evening. Among those present were: H. H. Jacobs, '93; Louis M. Ward, '96; C. E. Case, '93; C. A. Libbey, '97; Geo. P. Robinson, '96; Geo. E. O'Neil, '93; H. N. Laffin, '93; O. T. Waite, '97; H. J. Noyes, '96; Torrey Gund, ex-'02; G. H. Trautmann, '96; H. B. Boardman, '93; F. S. Boardman, '93; E. H. Ahara, '92; L. J. Stair, '92; H. E. Page, '93; L. S. Smith, '90; C. S. Newcomer, law '01; R. H. McCullagh, ex-'01; Geo. F. Downer, '98; Robert Rienow, '94; Harry R. Hamilton, '95; T. P. Drinker, '92; and F. H. Edsall, Penn. '85.

The Coming Joint Debate.

The Joint Debate which is to take place in less than two weeks is now practically finished as far as collecting material and writing are concerned. The question, "The Income Tax" although not a new one is nevertheless that must prove interesting to every student. Beyond a knowledge that such a tax is unconstitutional, few people know anything more about the question, which, when the constitutionality is contended is a very debatable one.

The two teams are to be congratulated on their arranging the debate to occur before Christmas. Too often our Joint Debates occur late in January when the approaching examinations and various other duties interfere with the attendance.

High School Department.

South Side Champions.

The football season was closed in Madison by a fine exhibition for the state championship between the Madison High School team and the Milwaukee South Side eleven. The Milwaukee boys proved to be the better aggregation scoring two touchdowns which netted them eleven points. While the Madison boys played remarkably well they were outplayed as well as out weighed. The victors have been learning the game this fall through the excellent coaching of an old Wisconsin man, George F. Downer, '98, who uses Phil King's style of instruction.

Marinette Issues Challenge.

The Marinette High school football eleven challenges any eleven in the state which has aspirations for championship honors. The Marinette boys defeated Whitewater, which tied Madison by a score of 17 to 6. The Marinette boys desire to play off the championship on neutral grounds and will play in either Madison or Whitewater, and pay all its own expenses.

The Marinette eleven tried repeatedly this season to get a game with South Side Milwaukee without success. They now demand it to settle the championship. They have not been beaten this year and have played more games than South Side.

Eau Claire.

The Eau Claire High School will hold its annual Declamatory Contest on the evening of December 3rd. Seniors only are eligible to the contest, and plenty of them are always eager to take part. Precedent has established an admission fee of ten cents, and such is the interest shown in these contests, that in the High School assembly room is crowded to the very doors.

As in former years three prizes are to be awarded by the decision of three judges, each of whom is chosen by those who take part in the contest. But the difference between this and former occasions lies in the very unusual composition of the participants; for in a company of ten, nine are young ladies, a case which has never before occurred here.

The proceeds of the entertainment this year will be employed in decorating the walls of the class rooms. We are blessed with a fine High School building surrounded by beautiful grounds, but we have long felt the need of having the interior walls tinted and decorated.

Professor Howard of Stanford University, and head of the history department, recently addressed one of his classes on the subject of the Dr. Ross affair and was vigorously applauded. He said that the forcing out of Dr. Ross is a blow at the fundamental right of free speech and a disgrace from which the University will never recover. He further said, "I do not bow down to the Market Street Railroad. I do not doff my hat to the Six Companies, neither am I afraid of the Standard Oil." This bold defiance at Mrs. Stanford may cost Howard his position though he may resign out of sympathy for Professor Ross.

Yale was founded in 1701, and this year the bi-centennial anniversary of the founding of the university will be celebrated with appropriate ceremonies.

Caspar Again.

In the last number of "Outing" appears a criticism by Caspar Whitney of western methods in football. The article cites the case of Riordan of Wisconsin to illustrate what the writer believes to be questionable sportsmanship in the West. He says Riordan graduated in '98, and Wisconsin finding itself in need of a guard called in Riordan to play this year, as he still had another year to play. If Caspar Whitney's other articles are based upon the same information as he reveals in this instance, the editors of Outing had best request him to resign. Everybody, except Caspar knows that Riordan is here primarily to study law, and that he played football this fall, simply from love of the sport and of his alma mater. Mr. Riordan will not leave the University now that the season is over as Mr. Whitney wishes his readers to believe, but he will remain here for the remainder of the year, and will finish next year.

Mr. Whitney has made these puerile criticisms of the West before and as in this case, they have been mere bombast, and only resulted in filling up space in his otherwise able department.

Wisconsin is always ready to frown upon questionable sportsmanship, and we believe that the condition of athletics here is as pure as in any college of the East; but we do not wish to have insinuations cast upon us which can only be substantiated by what some one thinks is so.

"Perhaps the thing which is giving the boys in the college the greatest satisfaction is the victory of our football team over the University of Michigan a day or two ago. Chicago and Ann Arbor are the Yale and Harvard of the West, and the college sports are attracting great attention. Our team had been doing rather indifferently during the season, but they wound up brilliantly."—President Harper in the Times-Herald.

It is fortunate that no wrangling about championship honors can come out of the claims of the various all-western teams. Every reporter with a bowing acquaintance with a few line-ups and a knowledge of the difference between a half-back and an end run seems to feel himself privileged to concoct one of these paper aggregations.

The University directory is out.

one per cent. furishes 36 per cent. of the members of Congress and has supplied 55 per cent. of the presidents, 54 per cent. of the vice-presidents, nearly 55 per cent. of all cabinet officers,

A great many students are finding that a typewriter is almost a necessity. When we remember that one can get through with from three to ten times as much work on a typewriter as with a pen it does not seem strange that they are coming into almost universal use.

The Madison Cycle Co. at 113 State street rents all makes at very reasonable rates and also carries a full line of typewriter supplies.
