ILLINI TRIMS BADGER TEAM BY 9-8 SCORE

Record - Breaking Crowd
Sees Wisconsin Defeated
at Camp Randall

By LESLIE R. GAGE

Coach Carl Lundgren's Illini baseball nine continued on their march for the 1921 championship when they nosed out the Badgers at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon, after 13 innings of cold-weather baseball. The final score stood 9 to 8. A record breaking crowd was in attendance in spite of the fact that the day was chilly and cloudy, and far from ideal for a baseball game.

Owing to the cold weather, errors were frequent, and there were a number of mistakes in base-running and in fielding. Regardless of all handicaps, the two teams fought hard all the way, and the game was never won until "Lefty" Barnes had struck out the last Wisconsin hitter in the thirteenth round.

Members of both teams made spectacular plays at intervals throughout the contest, which went to show that were it not for the unfavorable weather conditions, championship ball would have been exhibited. Both clubs were slugging the ball hard, but the Badgers had a decided advantage over their opponents in this department of the game. The pitchers were also bothered by the cold and puffy wind and could not show their best to the great throng of enthusiasts.

Paddock Starts for Badgers

Paddock, who started for Wisconsin, was especially handicapped by the cold spell, and for three innings could not settle down to pitch steady ball. Five runs were counted by the Illini in the two opening sessions. Paddock was wild at times, but managed to pull out of most of the pinches into which he worked himself.

McCann was routed by the Badger sluggers in the sixth inning, after the first two men up had hit safely. "Lefty" Barnes, the star of Lundgren's hurling staff, came to his rescue, and after the eighth was invincible. The youthful moundsman allowed but four hits in the remaining rounds, and proved most effective in the tight places. However, in the eighth the locals found him for three tallies.

Barry, substitute catcher, was the

WISCONSIN WINS TENNIS MATCH FROM PURPLE

Gotfredson Elected Captain
Following Easy Victory
at Evanston

(Special to Daily Cardinal)

The Wisconsin tennis squad easily defeated Northwestern by winning four singles matches and splitting even in the doubles in the first Big Ten tennis match of the season at Evanston yesterday afternoon. Immediately after the victory, Roy C. Gotfredson '22 was elected captain of the team to fill the place of Willis Fanning '21, who was declared ineligible.

In the singles matches, the vanquished Northwestern players failed to win a set. Gotfredson beat Quinlan 6-0, 6-3, Thomas A. Tredwell '23 defeated Newey 7-5, 6-1, and Nicholas Aageson '23 took two easy sets from Thompson 6-3, 6-1. The last contest of the singles series went to Wisconsin when William Pickard '21 walloped Brown, Northwestern, 6-1, 6-4.

Northwestern offered more opposition to the Badger players in the two doubles matches. Wisconsin captured the first match in three sets and lost the second by one set. Tredwell and Aageson upset Calhoun and French by scores of 6-2, 6-4, 6-3, but Gotfredson and Pickard were defeated by Newey and Quinlan, 6-2, 5-7, 6-3.

The Wisconsin tennis squad will meet Michigan in the second conference match of the season on Monday at Ann Arbor, Mich.

MEMORIES

Section Devoted to Portrayal of "Wisconsin Life" is New Feature of 1922 Badger

A memory book of the past year is the resultant effect of a decidedly new feature in the 1922 Badger—the section devoted to portraying "Wisconsin Life." This section is a pictorial review of those broad aspects of Wisconsin activities wherein are a wide range of expression of student energies.

Starting with pictures of registration day crowds, a pictorial calendar of happenings throughout the year follows. Among the events thus portrayed are: Welcome to the frosh, class rush, lake parties, election day, homecoming, hobo parade, circus, Engineers' parade, and Jamboree. Aside from these particular events, many scenes showing winter and spring sports on the lakes and hills of Madison supply beautiful illustrations of Wisconsin life. The pictures are printed against a pale green background.

A cross section of campus life is given in a few pages showing classes and lectures being carried on, and in general portraying what is going on at Wisconsin almost any day in the year.

Some of the broader fields of Wisconsin activities are shown in the views of the activities of Babcock day, Bradley Memorial hospital, Jack Childs in China, and the work of the Extension division. The relationship of the university to the state is consistently brought out in this section of the Badger as it is in all other sections. It is done pictorially here with views of the Senate in session, the capitol, the library, and photographs of prominent graduates who have distinguished themselves in various fields of endeavor in which they have received their original instruction at the university.

Among the graduates whose photographs have been used are A. J. Vinje '84, Dr. A. J. Ochsner '84, Magnus Swenson '88, W. S. Keis '99, G. Thorp '91, Frederick Hatton '01, Zona Gale '96, F. J. Turner '84, George Thorp '91.

CANCEL COAST DEBATE PLANS

At a meeting held Friday noon the Students' Life and Interest committee acted unfavorably on the petition of the Forensic board for permission to send a debating team to the Pacific coast.

Lateness of the season coupled with the inability of the board to arrange for contests with some of the larger schools on the coast was advanced as the reason for denying the request. As a result of the committee's decision, the debates with Arizona at Tucson on May 27 and Reed College at Portland, Oregon, on May 30 have been cancelled.

MINNESOTA IS SWAMPED BY TRACK SQUAD

Sundt Breaks Wisconsin
Record for Javelin
Throw

The Wisconsin record for the javelin throw was broken by Guy M. Sundt '22 when the Wisconsin track squad overwhelmed Minnesota 104 to 31 at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon. Sundt hurled the javelin 160 feet 6 inches to shatter his own record of 158 feet made last year.

The Badger track and field men won 18 out of a possible 15 first places, losing only in the 220-yard dash and the 120-yard high hurdles. Every field event went to Wisconsin by a safe margin. Wisconsin made a clean sweep of the first three places in two events, the high jump, and the broad jump. Platten captured first place, and Mobley and Armstrong tied for second place in the high jump. In the broad jump, Sundt finished first, with Reget in second place, and Woods third.

Anderson, who finished in front in the 120 high hurdles, and Hultkranz, who led in the 220-yard dash, were the only two Gophers to win first places for their team.

Sundt Wins Three Firsts

Guy Sundt captured individual high point honors of the meet with 15 points. Sundt scored his points in the field events, winning three first positions in the shot put, broad jump, and javelin throw. Knollin garnered 13 points with two firsts in the 220 low hurdles and the 100-yard dash, and a second in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Anderson scored the most points for Minnesota. He counted nine points, leading his teammate, Hultkranz, by one marker. Anderson was bested by Knollin. Badger sprinter and hurdler, in two of three events in which they met. The Gopher lost the 100-yard dash by a yard and took third place in the 220-yard dash, but he copped the 120-yard high hurdles in a close finish.

Mark H. Wall '22 took the mile run in 4 minutes 30 2-5 seconds. Clarence W. Wille '22 was second, and Sweitzer, Minnesota, finished in third place. The two mile grinder also went to Wisconsin. Finkle and

1922 BADGERS TO ARRIVE HERE TODAY

Carload of Year-Books to be Distributed Next
Wednesday

Arriving in one complete carload today from Chicago over the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, the entire 5,000 issues of the 1922 Badger will be spotted for immediate unloading, and will be checked over for prompt distribution on Wednesday, May 18.

According to "Cap" Rasmussen, business manager, this is the first time that the Badger has ever arrived in one complete carload. The work at the bindery was completed yesterday, and the shipment left Chicago at that time.

Arrangements for a prompt and efficient distribution of the books are being made by Roger Russell '23, distribution manager. "As usual," said Russell yesterday, "the first person in line at Music hall at 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning will receive a copy of the Badger free."

WELL, well, Sunday morning again. Looking forth from our ivory tower (the top deck of a white iron double decker) we have decided against church, study, bath, shave, breakfast, rotogravure section, and all. Sleep is the one thing we crave, and the one thing we will have. Hence, the col. today is apt to be just a little somnolent.

GRISelda hastened past us yesterday, her face veiled and her head bowed. When asked the meaning of her grief she raised her red-rimmed eyes and confided that it was all because she was one of the three girls in school who was not wearing gray silk stockings and grey suede pumps.

WE noticed, on our weekly shopping trip, that a cemetery had been laid out on the west side of Capital Square, and that the little chapel was standing in front of the Commercial National bank. My dear, with so much of it in the air, one can't be too careful.

"CHARLIE CHAPLIN," emits Dr. Chen, "is very popular in China." We fancy that Jack Harding and the other members of "the expedition into the intense inane" would be something of a riot in the Philippines.

WE are quoting above a very much respected faculty member, who, we suspect, was not casting aspersions on the Movie as much as on the movies.

VARSITY MOVIE TO BE RUN IN RACINE

Over 6,000 people saw "Not Responsible," the Varsity movie. According to the manager of the Fuller theater, where the movie was shown, the theater handled more people per day during the showing than any time in the history of the Fuller.

The film is booked for a showing in Racine Tuesday and then it will be sent to the American Film company, Chicago, to be reviewed again by S. S. Silverberg, president of the company, who will make suggestions for certain changes in the film. Titles will be inserted in order to make the plot clearer and probably a few scenes will be added or retaken. The production will then be sent out on a tour of Wisconsin cities and college towns outside of the state.

Although the film showed to capacity houses in Madison, the proceeds do not half cover the expenses of the production, which were over $4,000. For this reason the Edwin Booth club is endeavoring to improve the production so there will be no doubt that road showings will be successful. After the production finishes its tour it will be reshow in Madison next fall.

FROSH GETS WEST POINT APPOINTMENT

Arthur S. Peterson, freshman in the Course in Commerce, has been appointed to the U. S. Military academy at West Point, according to an announcement made yesterday.

Peterson served with the American Expeditionary Forces in France for 18 months, and was in 11 battles. His home is in Crandon, Wis.

Peterson will leave for the academy about July 1.

Under the reapportionment of the state into assembly and senate districts tentatively announced on Saturday by the legislative apportionment committee, Milwaukee, Racine, and Kenosha each gain one additional assembly district.

WELL, anyway, Don Marvin tells us that Edwin Booth killed Abraham Lincoln.

BODY OF WAR HERO ARRIVES

Remains of Paton McGilvary Brought Here
Yesterday

The body of Lieut. Paton McGilvary, son of Prof. and Mrs. E. B. McGilvary, 1920 Arlington Pl., who was found dead last Tuesday morning in Boston with bullet wounds in his head, arrived over the Northwestern road at 12:50 Saturday afternoon, accompanied by Prof. McGilvary and his daughter, Margaret. Prof. and Mrs. H. C. Bradley were at the train.

The body was taken at the Frautschy funeral parors and was removed later to the home from where it was taken to Forest Hill cemetery shortly after 4 o'clock for burial. The services were private. The American Legion did not take charge as was planned.

ILLINOIS TRIMS WISCONSIN NINE

star performer of the afternoon. Hitting for Snow in the eighth with two men on bases and two out, he knocked a home-run into deep center field that tied the count and saved the game for Wisconsin for the time. The hitting of Farrington was also greatly responsible for Wisconsin's scoring. He gathered three safeties, one of which went for three bags. "Rollie" Williams drove out a pair of triples, one in the first and one in the last inning. "Al" Davey and Ruediger each registered two hits.

Badgers Make 10 Errors

Ten errors were made by Wisconsin behind Pitcher Paddock, due to ragged infielding and overthrowing of the bases. Six misplays were chalked up against the conference leaders, four of which were made by "Julie" Mee. The Illinois shortstop had a decided off-day.

A pretty double play by the visitors withheld a threatened Wisconsin rally in the first inning. Likewise in the third and sixth two men were cut down when it looked as though the Badgers would score. In the tenth J. Williams halted an Illinois rally after two were down, when he ran into the crowd and caught a high foul fly. In the eighth the visitors' three runs were helped along by a bad decision by Umpire Driscoll. The official called McCurdy safe at first, when Lyman had him apparently 2 feet off the bag.

R. Williams was sent to left field in the first inning when Ceaser turned an ankle. "Rollie" opened Wisconsin's half of that round with a triple and was sent home by a similar knock from Farrington's bat. In the fourth three runs were counted. Farrington started off with a single over first and went on around when Captain Elliott drove one into the grandstand. Jack Williams placed a nice single over shortstop and the Badger leader counted. Davey lined a hot one to McCann that was too hot to handle, and both runners were safe. Ruediger forced J. Williams out at third on a ground ball to Stewart. Snow forced Ruediger out at second, and Paddock singled into left scoring Davey. R. Williams popped to Mee. Score Run in Sixth Hits by Davey and Ruediger and an error by Mee netted the locals a run in the sixth. Three more tallies crossed in the eighth on Barry's homer, after J. Williams had lived on an error and Ruediger had doubled. In the thirteenth inning with two men out "Rollie" Williams tripled but died on third when Vanderhoof, in the role of pinch hitter, fanned.

Two walks, two singles, and an error by Ceaser, after he had hurt his ankle, resulted in the visitors scoring twice at the start. The following session Stewart walked and went to second on a passed ball. He was sacrificed along to third by McCann, and came in on Mee's infield out. Dougherty singled and scored when McCurdy lifted one into left for three bases. He came home on Vogel's safe one into right.

Pedon started the third with a single, and was sacrificed to second. He went to third and McCann lived when R. Williams dropped a fly in left. Error by Ruediger and the decision of Driscoll on McCurdy's infield hit, allowed the three runs to score. The winning run came in the thirteenth. Crossley started things with a single. Pedon was safe at first and Crossley at second on Paddock's error. The run crossed on an infield hit to Jack Williams which the Badger first baseman believed too late to catch Crossley at the plate.

A steeple chase with all its accompanying thrills furnishes one of the big moments in Vitagraph's special production, "Black Beauty," in which Jean Paige has the leading feminine role. GOOD WORK YESTERDAY was a great day at Camp Randall. We lost the ball game but we went down fighting to the last. The Suckers will have to admit that their victory was hard earned.

The student support was gratifying. At last baseball is coming into its own as a collegiate sport.

The track results were splendid. This activity, too, deserves much more popular support than has been given in the past. If not so spectacular as some other events, it requires skill and hard work and these qualities deserve encouragement.

A REPLY TO EDISON

DR. ERNEST M. HOPKINS, president of Dartmouth College, has come to the defense of the university man whom Mr. Edison recently assailed for monumental ignorance.

President Hopkins is entirely unimpressed with the questionnaire upon which the great inventor bases his opinion of college men. Commenting upon this system of judging men, Dr. Hopkins says:

"The kind of a course which would enable men to answer a set of questions such as Mr. Edison's would be almost completely useless. The thing which Mr. Edison seems to demand is an almost perfect illustration of how much less good the influence of a college education might be than it really is.

"No sane system of higher education, it seems to me, would devote time to pouring into students' minds a mass of information, much of which though accepted as true today, is likely to be found incomplete or fallacious. The purpose of the college is rather to develop the processes of thought and to make intellectual capacity larger.

"The man of qualities of outstanding leadership in this world is one who knows where lie the sources of knowledge and where may be found the springs of incentive. The latter man may have resources a thousand-fold those of the former man whose capacity is limited to what any commercial memory test would afford him."

This reply is the logical one to be made. It is doubtful that many universities will alter their courses to conform to Mr. Edison's requirements. A century ago it might have been possible for a college man to commit to memory a mass of facts fairly well covering the range of knowledge at that time. Within the confines of a single volume men attempted to set forth all the information worth having. Today such an effort would be considered the wildest lunacy. The circumference of the world's intellectual circle has increased a thousand-fold and fortunate is the man who can master a small arc.

The mission of the university is well fulfilled when the student is taught to think straight and is trained in the processes of research.

THE YEAR-BOOK WITH A MISSION

THE University of Wisconsin and its relation to the state is set forth graphically in the university year-book, the 1922 Badger.

The 1922 Badger which will be circulated this week has been designed to do something more than merely reflect a comprehensive view of the myriads of interests and activities of the university and the student body.

The current edition of the Badger has a real mission. It is planned to give the people of this state in the best way that the art of photo-engraving affords a vision of the scope and spirit of their university.

The 1922 Badger is a monumental work. It is a chronicle of all that transpires on the campus. It is a guide for future students and affords a volume of unending interest to the alumni.

Great credit for the excellence of the volume is due to its editors and to those in charge of the business end who after all supply the wherewithal that make it possible for the editorial staff to expand its work.

Get into line for your Badger Wednesday.

CHINA'S CAUSE STRONG AT "U"

Faculty and Students in Sight of Fund Goal With $3,696

One of the outstanding results of the drive for China famine relief is the university's strong showing this week. Prof. E. A. Ross, university chairman, reported to City Chairman Jenks today that the university's goal of $4,000 is nearly in sight. Subscriptions have reached $3,696. The faculty has given $2,116 towards its objective of $2,200, and the students $1,580 towards the sum of $1,800. Gifts are still coming in. In the city campaign, the fund has reached nearly $4,000.

The Madison Rotary club to date has contributed $279, and this sum is being augmented periodically. The Kiwanis club this week saved $21.50. Mr. Jenks has received $602.46 from city schools thus far, and there are several more to report.

C. J. Dittmer, a Wisconsin Y. M. C. A. worker in Chihli province, one of the hardest hit of the famine areas, has just sent word to relatives in Eau Claire county of his visit to a village behind the line. The people were living on chaff, the bark of trees, dried weeds and cotton seeds, he said. The harvest of death had been appalling.

Killed at O'Connell's
Side; Remains Arrive

The body of Lieut. Ray C. Dickop, who was killed in action August 4, 1918, on a farm between St. Gilles and Fismes, France, which is on its way back to the United States, according to word received by relatives at Beloit, was a friend of Maj. George F. O'Connell's. Maj. O'Connell was with him when he died.

"Dickop was killed on a farm between the two towns," said Maj. O'Connell Saturday. "He was with Co. L. 128th infantry. His company was attacking and I could see it was in difficulties, so I came up with my battalion. A number of men had run up against a stone wall about eight feet high and 200 feet long. They were under machine gun fire and Dickop was killed instantly. Several of the other men were killed, too. Dickop used to be with the old First Wisconsin."

Madison Gets Tenth Publishing Concern

Another publishing house which issues a group of merchandising papers in Chicago has been secured for Madison. This corporation publishes eight magazines in the merchandising field. It will move to Madison some time in June and occupy offices in the Democrat Printing Co.'s building. Its magazines are: Confectionery Merchandising; Furniture Merchandising; Hardware Merchandising; Grocery Merchandising; General Store Merchandising; Jewelers' Merchandising; Drugdom; and Drug Store Merchandising.

P. A. Mandabach, president of the company, said that he did not believe the company would save a great deal of money by moving to Madison, but that they were in love with the city. Other officers of the company are E. J. Hopkins, vice president; and P. J. Mandabach, secretary and treasurer. This makes a total of ten new publications that will be published with a Madison date line.

Stockholders Object To Sale of State Railroad

Objection of minority stockholders in the Wisconsin & Northern railroad was raised Saturday morning at a hearing before federal judge C. Z. Luse, to consider the application of the Soo line for purchase of the Wisconsin road. The Chicago and Northwestern railroad also entered objection.

It is alleged by minority stockholders that they were prevailed upon to sell their interest in the Wisconsin & Northern to its management at the rate of $10,000 a mile, unaware that the railroad then intended to sell its holdings to the Soo Lines at a proposed rate of approximately $25,000 a mile.

DABNEY TODD, BY F. N. WESTCOTT

When your thoughts turn to 'HOME' see this entrancing drama of rural life made by that modern depicter of human emotions Irvin V. Willat

Down Home

Distributed by W. W. Hodkinson Co.

At The Theaters

AT THE GRAND

"Down Home," the first independent production made by Irvin Willat, the director responsible for "Behind the Door," will be the feature attraction at the Grand the first half of the week. This is an adaptation of the popular novel "Dabney Todd," by Frank N. Westcott, and the homespun characters, the rural atmosphere, the homely qualities of country life are revitalized upon the screen. It is a story of New England with the figures as simple as their surroundings.

The picture tells a story of youth struggling for high ideals against poverty and disappointment, of the pittiful striving of an old man to free himself from the curse of drink for the sake of his daughter, of the unwavering love of a clear-minded youth for the girl whom he has known since childhood. The picture is well balanced with elements of humor and pathos and reveals intimate touches of a "homely" character which are entirely appealing. The feature is enacted by a cast of competent players among whom are Beatrice Joy, Edward Hearne and Robert Daly.

THE COMING WEEK

Sunday to Tuesday—Jean Paige and all-star cast in Anna Sewell's screen masterpiece, "Black Beauty."

Wednesday, Thursday, Friday—Motion pictures.

Saturday—"Sweetheart Shop" road attraction with original New York cast. Last big show this season.

"Black Beauty"

"Black Beauty," known and loved for forty years in every part of the world where books are read, has come to life. The wonderful horse whose autobiography was recorded by Anna Sewell to delight millions of readers in every civilized country on earth is to be seen in action. His life, through all its changing phases of playful childhood, early pleasures, trials and fears; its contacts with the lives of other horses of humans; its hardships, dangers and triumphs, will be unfolded on the motion picture screen.

"Black Beauty," faithfully rendered as a Vitagraph all star special from the phenomenally popular story by Anna Sewell, will be shown at the Fuller theater starting Saturday.

All the charm, the vital interest and the pathos of the wonderful story have been retained in the visualized version produced under the most extraordinary difficulties ever met and triumphantly overcome in carrying out a motion picture enterprise. The story of "Black Beauty," complete to the smallest detail and incident, is presented in the picture version as it is in the "Autobiography of a Horse" put forth by the world-famous author.

In achieving this result, Mr. and Mrs. George Randolph Chester encountered almost insuperable difficulties in making the "Inside Story," formed of events and situations which Black Beauty could not observe, a strong and virile part of the powerful picture drama without in any way detracting from or altering Anna Sewell's story.

Many of the spectacular and thrilling scenes in the book have important bearings upon the "Inside Story" which Mr. and Mrs. Randolph wrote into the screen version to accompany the complete visualization of Anna Sewell's "Black Beauty." Notable among these are the "Stormy Day," when Black Beauty, with the "knowledge that did not depend on reason," refused to go out on the broken bridge, and so saved Squire Gordon and John Manly from death; the hard ride for the doctor to save Mrs. Gordon's life, and the burning stable.

STRAND CALENDAR

Sunday, Monday, Tuesday—Fatty Arbuckle in "The Life of the Party," also Comedy cartoon, Paramount magazine, and Latest News Weekly.

Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, Saturday—Thomas Meighan in "Conrad in Quest of His Youth."

"The Life of the Party"

Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle has graduated from two-reel slapstick classics to full-length comedy drama. He will be shown at the Strand theater for three days starting today in his first five reel comedy, Irvin S. Cobb's "The Life of the Party."

Roscoe is just as mirthful as the story, and, moreover, shows in the few serious scenes considerable skill as a straight dramatic actor.

The Cobb story ran in the Saturday Evening Post recently and centers around a rotund young lawyer, Algernon Leary, who for the sake of pretty Milly Hollister undertook to prosecute the milk profiteers and thereby laid in a host of trouble for himself. For Judge Voris, secretly in league with the milk folks, not only threw the case out of court, but "framed" Leary by having a fair siren "vamp" him. Leary escaped her wiles, only to encounter more difficulties when he donned rompers to go to a "children's party" dressed as a child of four and was stranded by a drunken cabby. But all turned out merrily in the end.

The latest News Weekly and a Comedy cartoon will also be shown.

The 500 crosses set indicate the local quota of $10,000 that is hoped to be raised. As the money comes in the crosses will be taken up at the rate of $20 per cross. The drive officials hope that all may be subscribed for within the time limit prescribed.

LONDON—Prime Minister Lloyd George, in a dramatic speech in the house of commons Friday, concerning the upper Silesian embroilment, said the action of the Polish insurrectionists was a complete defiance of the treaty of Versailles.

SHORTAGE OF "U" BUILDINGS FELT KEENLY

Business Manager Explains Desperate Situation Existing Here

"The state university, like the country at large, is suffering from a desperate building shortage—but its situation is worse since the university population has been growing faster than the population of the country.

"With an increase of 78 per cent in the number of two-semester students in the last decade, no new appropriation for a building of any size has been granted to the university since 1913."

This situation, behind the building requests by the Board of Regents at the present legislative session, is explained by Business Manager H. J. Thorkelson of the university in a recent statement.

"Entirely aside from future needs, the present building requests are based upon the necessity of making good present deficiencies and of providing facilities for students who are now on the ground.

Last Appropriation in 1913

"No new appropriations for a building of any size have been granted to the university since 1913. One building, that for physics and economics—was authorized in that year and reauthorized in 1915, but with this exception no important building has been erected in eight years. Whatever buildings the current legislature may grant to the university, a year or two must pass before they are ready for use. Thus nearly ten years will elapse since the appropriations for the physics-economics building, and the student population will have nearly doubled before any relief will come from new buildings.

$55 vs. $20 Per Student

"With a growing institution, it is necessary to add to buildings each year, and this was the constant plan followed in the earlier years of the past decade. During the first half of the decade the state expended annually over $55 per student in attendance for new buildings. During the last half of the past decade the expenditures by the state for new buildings approximate $20 per student per year, and in view of the increasing cost of building, it is quite apparent that the building program has been seriously interrupted during the past five or six years. This act of suspension of normal university building activities has created an unusual accumulation of building needs, and further postponement will mean an even more serious situation to be faced in the future.

"Although there are four times as many men students in the university now as when the gymnasium was built, and five times as many students are using the library now as compared with the number when the building was erected, there are no requests for additional building facilities for these two divisions.

Needs Presented

"The needs presented by the Regents consist principally of additions to existing buildings: an addition to the Chemistry building, an addition to Bascom hall, an addition to the Engineering shops and laboratories, minor agricultural buildings, book-stacks for the Law building, and addition to the studio for Music hall, an addition for office space for the University Extension, an addition to the Service building, piers, and shelters at the lake, initial construction of dormitories for men, and an additional dormitory for women, a new substation and boilers and equipment at the central heating station.

"The requests for land purchases by the Regents are quite moderate, including one lot for the hospital site; two lots on Langdon street in order to make possible the erection of the proposed Memorial Union building, which will be built by funds raised among alumni, students and friends of the university. Half a million dollars has already been subscribed for this project. A request has also been presented for the purchase of a piece of property in front of the agricultural college buildings to provide an adequate site for the proposed Hoard Memorial, which it is planned to dedicate in February, 1922."
