PACIFIC COAST DEBATING TRIP CONTEMPLATED

Forensic Board Plans to Send Team to Meet Westerners

A trip to the Pacific coast by a debating team representing the university was favored by the Forensic board at a meeting held yesterday afternoon.

Robert B. Stewart '21 and Martin R. Kriewaldt '22 were instructed to see the necessary authorities and make further plans for the trip. The board proposes that the debaters leave two days before the opening of spring vacation and return two days after the recess has closed. Such a trip was suggested last year, but lack of time prevented completion of the plans.

The Board of Regents has appropriated $350 to forensic activities for the coming year which is enough to finance one triangle debate and to send a representative to the Northern Oratorical league contest. Money for the other two triangle debates and for the coast trip must be raised by the Forensic board. The board will bring one speaker of national or international reputation each semester, together with a reader, to raise this money.

No-decision intercollegiate debates were also considered by the board at the meeting. There is some question as to the success of the no-decision debates held last year, and it was thought best to sound student opinion before completing arrangements for intercollegiate debates to be held this year. The lack of a decision is believed by many to take some of the spirit out of the debate.

The duty of the Forensic board is to promote and supervise forensic activities in the university. Officers of the board are Robert B. Stewart, president; Martin R. Kriewaldt, vice-president; H. C. Casperson '22, secretary; and Wayne L. Morse '23, treasurer. Other members present at the meeting were H. M. Blume '22, and Hyman J. Bilansky '22.

PRESIDENT'S GUARD IN EXHIBITION DRILL HOMECOMING GAME

The President's Guard will give an exhibition drill between halves at the Homecoming game, October 29, according to information given out at the second drill of the year held at the armory last night.

Although only 50 men of last year's outfit are back, tryouts will soon be held, in which it is hoped to bring the guard up to its maximum strength of 80 members in time for the initial appearance in public.

Applicants must pass stiff competitive drill in order to be accepted by the guard.

R. L. Luening '22, major in the cadet corps and commander of the organization, is the only remaining officer. The other two officers' positions will be filled by appointments.

FROSH-SOPH PEP MEETING TODAY

Will Make Plans for Marching to Lawrence Game in a Body

With the University band playing, Peter W. Dykema leading the singing, and Larry Hall '20 leading cheers, a giant "pep" meeting of freshmen and sophomores called for 4:30 today in the armory in place of Friday and Saturday drill, will spread the contagion of the Wisconsin spirit preliminary to the Lawrence football game.

All freshmen and sophomores will be present at this meeting at the order of Maj. John S. Woods, commandant. Preliminary "pep" meetings have always been held previous to Badger contests and this meeting is designed to further that spirit which is always evident among Wisconsin men.

On Saturday all freshmen will meet on the lower campus wearing the traditional green and will march in a body to Camp Randall to cheer the team.

At the pep meetings the yearlings will have an opportunity of learning the time-honored Wisconsin yell and songs. "Larry" Hall '20 will lead the cheering and will demonstrate how the "locomotive" is done.

A representative of the student senate will talk on the traditions of the university in general and the significance of the green cap. T. E. Jones, head of the physical education department; Guy Sundt '22, captain of the football team, and Major Wood will give talks to arouse enthusiasm.

HORRORS

Barnard Invasion Last Night Causes Near Panic Among Co-ed Residents

Shrill feminine shrieks from the sacred precincts of Barnard hall dining room about 6:30 last evening brought three stalwart men to the rescue. A tomb-like silence followed. Candles still flickered on tables glowing with red streamers and autumn leaves. Seven frightened freshmen with pale faces crouched down in their seats. A second group had their feet well up out of harm's way. Another circle peered ghost-like from their linen napkin folds which they had hastily draped Ku Klux Klan fashion about their heads.

"Gone!" gasped a co-ed and made a dash for the door. Several more followed suit, but the rest remained motionless. They were taking no chances.

Again came a long-drawn shivering "Oh"; for dipping and darting in reckless flight skidded the intruder in his second onslaught. Weapons were futile. One hundred pairs of fascinated eyes watched each capricious twist and turn. One moment he was perilously close; the next he had hidden in the opposite corner of the room.

Suddenly a wavering, a last long leap towards an open window, and peril was past. Hallowe'en's dusky harbinger had disappeared. The bat had returned to his own.

To Head Mammoth Memorial Drive

"Hap" Baker
Courtesy DeLonge

L. F. "Hap" Baker '22, who was elected to head the student campaign for the Union Memorial fund, has a job that will require the services of eight hundred people to assist him. He is the only member of the Union Board who was a member at the time the Union Memorial building was first proposed. He has worked during the summer as the board's representative, and is well qualified for this important position.

In addition to his activities on the Union Board, Baker is a member of Edwin Booth and Inner Gate, and was formerly a member of the Student Senate. During the war he was in naval aviation, and has served on the business staff of the Engineers' magazine. He is a member of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity.

COUNTRY MAG TO PUT ON UNUSUAL MIXER SATURDAY

Committees Plan For Elaborate Ag-Home Ec Affair at Lathrop

All the plans for the big Country Mag Mixer to be held in Lathrop gym Saturday night at 8:30 are nearing completion and the big Ag-Home-Ec frolic to which everyone is invited promises to be even a better party than the one last year which was admitted to be one of the best mixers given.

The committee on arrangements has procured a very mellow old vintage cider and as delicious tasting doughnuts as one would care to munch. They have also made plans for some very novel features in the way of mixing and entertainment.

Two hundred fifty frosh home-ecs registered this fall and the party offers a good opportunity for getting acquainted. From the dope that Doc Yak got on the home-ecs yesterday it seems that they average about 99 and 44-100 percent which should be considerable reason for a large attendance.

BAKER NAMES AIDS IN NEW UNION DRIVE

Vast Organization to Facilitate Raising Memorial Fund

L. F. "Hap" Baker, general chairman of the student campaign for the Union Memorial building, announced last night the assistants who will work with him in the task of making a Memorial Union for Wisconsin a reality. There will be about 800 working under Baker and his two assistant general chairmen.

The various chairmen are as follows: General chairman, L. F. Baker '22; assistant general chairmen, Reuben Chadbourne '22, and Sterling Tracy '22; publicity, Philip G. Bredesen '23; salesmanship course, Lee McCandless '23; dedication day, Arthur Kinnan '22; finance, D. C. Lawson '22; women's campaign, Dorothy Dwight '22.

Baker will lead directly the organization of canvassing personnel; Chadbourne, the canvassing lists, and Tracy will have charge of all mass meetings and public gatherings. In this he will be assisted by Dale Merrick and Guy Sundt. Kinnan will have as sub-chairmen George Hazen on parade, Gerald Koch on formal dance, and Carl F. Ceaser on ceremony.

An executive council has been formed composed of the general chairman, the two assistant chairmen, the chairmen of publicity, salesmanship course, dedication day, finance, women's campaign, the general chairman of the Madison campaign, President E. A. Birge, Dean S. H. Goodnight, Prof. Carl Russell Fish, Prof. E. H. Gardner. Walter J. Kohler, president of the Board of Regents, and H. L. Ashworth, secretary of the Memorial Union building executive committee.

An advisory board to the whole campaign will be made up of the council, together with the presidents of the Student Senate, Athletic board, Haresfoot club, Edwin Booth, Red Domino, Twelfth Night, Iron Cross, Mortar Board, White Spades, Badger Board, Ku Klux Klan, Inner Gate, Skull and Crescent, the managing editor of The Daily Cardinal, the editor-in-chief of the Literary magazine, the editor-in-chief of the Octopus, and the assistant chairmen of committees and representative faculty members and students.

THREE ADDED TO MUSIC FACULTY

With three new teachers added to its faculty this fall, the School of Music of the university will have a teaching staff of 14 this semester under the direction of Dr C. H. Mills.

Cecil Burleigh, with the rank of assistant professor, will fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Prof. Waldeman von Gelch, teacher

DAILY EDITORIAL

Now it seems to me that there is altogether too much bunk being spread about this here green cap proposition. Who in Wisconsin cares whether we had green caps in 1776 or 1880? Ye frosh will "don the verdant headgear" tomorrow, assemble on the lower campus after dinner, and "march in a body" to the field, according to memoirs of George Bunge and that's that.

Which reminds us what has got into the Phi Psis. Their house makes Geo. Washington's tomb like a barn dance it is so dead and though no one knows just WHY they got out in such a hurry—well far be it from ME to repeat anything, but do you know the straight dope?? Yes, I—that is it's HAUNTED!!

Of course you never can tell just what a Phi Psi will see on some nights, but this is ghosts not snakes.

HYPOCRITE!

FOR THE LAWYERS

Judge—I hardly know how to decide this case.

Fudke—Well, Judge, there are two sides to every question.

Judge—This is a triangle.

THE QUESTION BOX

(Every day we ask five random persons a question)

Today's interrogation — Who should be our next Prom chairman? Dixie Davis—I nominate Sterling Tracy.

Ev. Jones—How about a football man; they get away strong—frinstance Ralph E. Scott.

Marge Boesch—I think you're perfectly silly! Dale made a wonderful one—why change?

John Rankin—How about some good looking Psi U, a man whom the girls adore; of course modesty forbids, but—

Bill Purnell — Well the Milwaukee Sentinel ran a story announcing the first candidate and under it was Les' Gage's photo.

Dorothy Ware—I don't see why in this city and age of suffrage we need have a man. Why not a chairwoman?

Do You Need Additional Money for College Expenses?

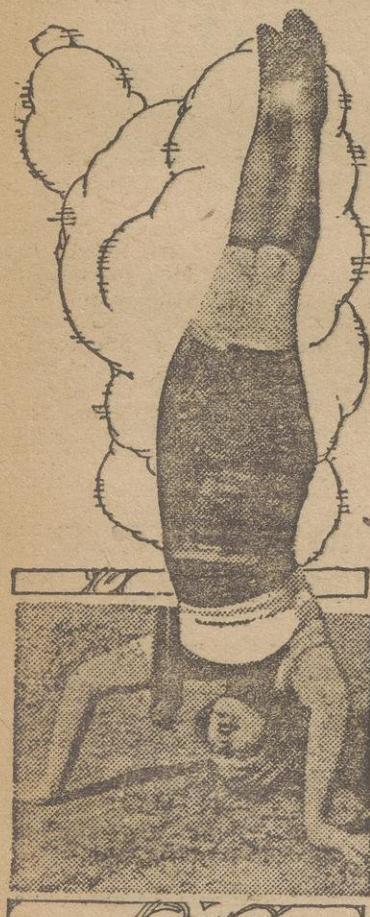

We have openings for several students to represent us in Madison. The work is dignified and remunerative, yet will not conflict with class work.

In addition to enabling students to make money to help defray college expenses, this is an opportunity to get experience that will be valuable in helping the successful applicants decide their life work.

Write us fully, in confidence, giving age, experience, in detail, course of study, and, if possible, enclose a post card photo. If your application interests us a personal interview will be arranged for.

Lawrence Team Fears Badger Encounter

VARSITY LINEUP SHAPES ITSELF

Scrimmages With Reserves Few Minutes; 5 Elevens Given Drills

Despite a driving wind which continued intermittently during the whole practice session, Coach John Richards kept five elevens running through signal drills and new formations to round his men into good condition at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon.

"Because of frequent experiments, the squad is not in the same shape as it was at this time last year," said Coach John R. Richards last night. "We have been continually experimenting, trying different men for the various positions, and as a result, rapid progress has not been made. I am not sure of the lineup for the Saturday game as yet."

The Varsity engaged in only a half-scrimmage against the reserves for a few minutes. The purpose of the workout was to try a few new plays which have been dished out to the men, and no attempts were made to stage a real combat. The Varsity squad is deemed to be in condition for the scrap with Lawrence on Saturday afternoon, and with a light practice today, the men will be on their toes for the initial contest of the 1921 gridiron season.

Lineup Takes Shape

During the past week the lineup has begun to take semblance of regular form with the exception of left end. In the workout last night, Gibson piloted the machine, with Elliott at right half and Captain Sundt stationed at his customary fullback position. Gould and Williams alternated at left half, and it is entirely probable that this program of using both backs at half will be continued.

Bunge apparently has the pivot position cinched, with Nelson and Brumm working in at the guard jobs. Brader and Hohlfeldt played tackle last night. Hohlfeldt is the new man in the line, and inexperience may handicap him, but if his showing during the Big Ten season is consistent with his pre-season work, there should be no worry about the right tackle. Horne was assigned to left end, with Wanzer, Anderson, and later Tebell at right end. "Tee" was late in reporting, but as soon as he donned the moleskins, he replaced Anderson.

Subs Have Scrimmage

The third and fourth teams engaged in a lively scrimmage after they completed signal drills. Coach Guy S. Lowman is handling the All-Americans, and they will be ready to display some Big Ten plays when the Varsity is preparing for the big contests against major teams.

"Shorty" Barr and Harold Holmes form the nucleus of a powerful eleven. With these two men in the backfield, a steady passing game can be looked for to put Varsity in trim for teams like Michigan and Illinois.

Six Frosh Elevens Out

On the freshman field, Ralph Scott and "Keg" Driver were in charge of six freshman elevens which went through snappy signal drills, as well as work in the fundamentals of the game. The first year men are a likely looking outfit this year. Plenty of material is available for the youngsters' squad, and it is not improbable that much of it will be future Varsity stuff.

SHOOTING SQUAD HAS GOOD CHANCE

Team Hopes For Conference

Rifle Championship

This Year

The Wisconsin shooting team, winners of the conference championship this year.

Captain Ruffolo is the only man who will not be back this year. While his services will be missed, there are a number of men who are competing for the position, and all of them are excellent shots. The four veterans who will be back are: O'Conner, Diecher, Godfrey, and Lindberg. One of these men will be elected captain some time next week.

A total of 37 victories were chalked up by the Badgers last year. Among the squads which were defeated are Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Minnesota, Wyoming, Northwestern, Carnell, Missouri, Kansas, and the National Life association of Milwaukee. Only one meet was lost, and that was to the Washington State team.

The cup which was won last year is known as the Six Corps Area cup, and entitles the Badger marksmen to the undisputed championship of Wisconsin, Illinois, and Michigan. Next spring the winners of each Area cup will hold a meet which will determine the United States championship.

Last year the Wisconsin squad did not enter into the competition for the $3,000 Astor traveling cup. The St. Johns team, of Delafield, Wisconsin, won the meet for the second consecutive time. The win was effected over Harvard and all of the big eastern schools. If the cup is won by St. Johns again this year they will be entitled to permanent possession of it. The Badger team will enter this year, however, and they stand an even chance of checking the winning streak of the Delafield squad.

Tryouts with 30 rifles will be held behind the hydraulics laboratory on Saturday afternoon, as the indoor shooting gallery will not be ready until sometime next week.

35 OUT FOR FROSH SWIMMING SQUAD

About thirty-five enthusiastic candidates for the freshman swimming squad were present at the first meeting of the year, which was held at the gymnasium last night.

Coach Steinauer told the men that they would be given a week in which to accustom themselves to swimming in a tank. At the end of that time, next Thursday night, tryouts will be conducted. Two squads, comprising from 20 to 25 men, will be selected and will continue to work out each Tuesday and Thursday night.

The trials will not be for speed, but the men's ability will be judged on their strokes and the way they handle themselves in the water. The following strokes are permissible: breast stroke, backward crawl, American crawl, and Australian crawl.

Tryouts for fancy and distance diving will be held at the same time. "While the number of men who are trying out for the Freshman squad is smaller, the calibre of the candidates is far above that of last year," was the comment made by Coach Steinauer. He said further, "A number of the men have had previous experience on Athletic club and Y. M. C. A. teams, and give promise of developing into valuable Varsity material."

Freshmen swimmers are eligible to compete in inter-class, inter-college, inter-fraternity, and University championship meets. College letters are awarded to the winners of the inter-college meet, and college numerals to the winners of the inter-class meet.

COLLEGE SQUAD WITH FOURTEEN

VETERANS BACK WORKING HARD

Presenting--
"BILL" COLLINS

William K. Collins '22 is this year a member of the Varsity squad for the third time. Collins has been stationed at end and halfback during preliminary workouts, but his regular place is in the backfield.

"Bill" won his "W" in Varsity football as a freshman on the 1918 S. A. T. C. squad. He worked in at half. During the 1919 and 1920 seasons, Collins again made the team. Although not a regular player last year, he got into several games and played good football throughout the season. His light weight is a handicap when the Badgers meet such heavy elevens as Minnesota and Chicago, but speed overcomes this to some degree.

With a plethora of backfield material reporting this season, it is practically certain that Collins will not start regularly, but because of his experience and past record, he will be held in reserve for emergencies.

Collins also won his letter in swimming, being Wisconsin's star breast stroke man last year. His work in the tank won him wide recognition and the judges who pick the All-American swimming team placed Collins on the second team. "Bill" is an expert diver, and won second place in the Big Ten conference meet.

He is a member of Ku Klux Klan, White Spades, Athletic board, and Delta Kappa Epsilon.

"Cub" Buck, Former Wisconsin Star is Assisting McChesney

(Special from the Lawrentian)

With the Wisconsin game only a few days distant the Lawrence college football team is slowly rounding into shape for the onslaught of the university. While the team has been scrimmaging only a little more than a week, every effort is being made to eliminate as many weaknesses as possible so that the team will present, at least, a decent fighting front.

While fourteen letter men answered the coach's call for the first practice on September 15, yet the few vacancies which exist are not being filled by capable new material as Coach McChesney would wish. The first few scrimmages revealed several weaknesses in both the line and the backfield, and the presence of new men in the line up increases the coach's difficulties in eliminating the weak spots. A longer period of practice will be needed before the team develops that fighting front which won the state intercollegiate championship last season.

Among the letter men who have returned are "Tiger Bill" Smith, captain, and collegiate all-state center last year; Hunting, guard, and McGlynn, tackle, both also on the mythical all-state team last season; Kubitz and Basing, halfbacks; Grignon, fullback; Ketchum and Sorenson, guards; Doering, end, last season's best state drop-kicker; Normington, all-state end in 1918; Blackbourn, tackle, and Winder, halfback in the same year.

Many Frosh Out

In addition to these the squad is made up of those who were out last year but failed to make their "L" and a large squad of freshman or men who have come to Lawrence for the first time. Among the most likely of the latter are Ziebell, who is being groomed for quarterback, and Stark, end, who played with Marquette university last year. After the first week of practice the squad has been out to 45 and these are receiving intensive training.

Lawrence in its coaching staff is fortunate in having the services of Howard Buck, better known throughout the country as "Cub" Buck, the former Wisconsin and All-American star. He is assisting Coach McChesney in whipping the team into shape. Another assistant, who is taking charge of the yearlings, is a former Holy Cross star, William Frank Ashe. He is proving of material assistance by making it possible for Coaches McChesney and Buck to concentrate on the first squad.

Since the squad this year includes so many who were on the championship team of last fall it should make a better fight against the university than it did last year. The weak spots caused by men failing to return, however, will prevent the elimination of holes of which the university will doubtless take full advantage.

RESTAURANT TO OCCUPY NEW SITE

A new three story building, the first floor of which will be rented for store space and the remaining two floors for apartments, is being erected on State street, just opposite the Co-op.

Upon completion, early in December, there will be room for two stores and six apartments, according to C. J. McCoy, Madison, who owns the property. Up to the present nothing but a small part of the store space has been rented. This space will be occupied by a restaurant owned by Hugo Hahn, of this city.

The new building will occupy an angular plot of ground, with a 43 footage on State street and a 16 footage on Gilman street. Construction was started six weeks ago.

DEAF MUTES HAVE OWN FOOTBALL TEAM

A strong football team has been organized among the deaf and dumb workmen at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co.'s factory at Akron and a heavy schedule arranged, including a trip to Washington, D. C., at the end of the season to play a semi-professional team at the capitol.

All the opposing teams on the schedule are speaking teams.

The Silent quarter gives all its signals by the sign method, but despite this handicap the team has shown up well against all the opposition encountered. It is the fourth year that the "Silents" have had their own team, and they have twice beaten the Goodyear regulars (a speaking team) in the Thanksgiving day contest.

Big crowds attend the "Silent's" games as the men put plenty of spirit into their games.

E. S. Conner, recreation director at the plant, and who was in charge of all athletics at Camp Sherman during the war, says that Seinensohn, Silent fullback, could have made any college team in the country.

MANY MASON'S ATTEND SMOKER

Over one hundred university Masons attended the smoker given Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. parlors by the Square club. An informal program was given, Sol Levitan being the chief speaker of the evening. F. R. Peterson, E. J. Kaderabek, and Al Bergman gave short talks for the Square club, R. E. Balliette responding for the other Masons present.

The Square club was founded two years ago as a Masonic social organization with twelve charter members. Last year the club grew to a membership of 150. This year, with an estimated attendance of over four hundred Masons at the university, the club looks forward to an increase in membership and activities.

RUSSIAN CO-ED IN JOURNALISM*Miss Stoeffregen Has Interesting Story of Life in Europe

The House of Journalism, 410 N. Frances street, has among its noteworthys an exceptionally interesting and versatile young person in Miss Anna C. Stoeffregen '24.

Anna is a charming young Russian girl, who has enrolled at Wisconsin to complete a course in journalism, which will fit her to become a foreign newspaper correspondent. She brings with her, "Rascal," a five months old Airedale, who, with his mistress, agrees that Madison is more nearly ideal than Washington, D. C.—their former home.

In interviewing Miss Stoeffregen, many interesting experiences of her two years spent in America were glimpsed. Leaving a girls' boarding school at Riga in 1916 to join her family in Germany, she became a secretary in a steel concern in Berlin. This was during the war, when depression and labor conditions led gradually to strikes and revolutions. When she left Germany to take a position in Hague, Holland, this peaceful little country was like a paradise in contrast to the Germany she had just left.

"I sought individual freedom and independence," says Anna, "and so in 1920 I came to America, where from the moment I saw New York's irregular sky-line I knew that there is no limit to an individual's will in the United States; he may build toward the sky, and take light and air from his smaller neighbors. I like the apparent 'get-ahead' slogan of the American—instead of that 'get-along' of apathetic post-war Europe."

During the past two years in America Miss Stoeffregen spent three months in New York, and three in Cuba, doing secretarial work. From there she went to Washington, D. C., where she acted as governess, and at the same time, attended George Washington University. She was enrolled at Wisconsin during the summer session in the course in journalism, but this year she is taking up American and English history, and English literature—courses which are entirely neglected in the curricula of the eastern European schools.

Although Miss Stoeffregen enjoys her work here at the university, she is looking forward to the larger field of foreign correspondence.

Details for Pilgrim Gym Drive Outlined

At a meeting Wednesday night of the workers in the drive to raise funds for the Pilgrim Church gymnasium, a plan for solicitation was worked out by the committee. Cards covering every city block from the Yahara river to the square were distributed, each worker being responsible for soliciting the residents of his allotted territory. O. R. Ashcraft, chairman, acted as toastmaster at the dinner served by the women of the church. James L. Clarke and other committee members, spoke to the gathering. Emerson

Ela made an eloquent address on the good work being accomplished by Pilgrim Church through the untiring efforts of the pastor, the Rev. Henry Harris. He appealed to the public spirited citizens of Madison to help support a cause which is for the moral and physical welfare of the entire city. Mr. Ela made reference to his trip abroad and compared America with the countries of continental Europe which he visited. He stated that Madison is the cleanest city which he knows of anywhere in the world. The campaign will last for ten days, or until at least $3,000 is raised.

LaFollette in Attack Upon Tax Proposal

Says Section Defining Foreign Trade Shields Wealthy Class

WASHINGTON—Retention of the corporation capital stock tax and repeal of all of the special taxes, is proposed in one of a series of amendments to the Republican tax revision bill offered today by Sen. Simmons, on behalf of the Democratic members of the finance committee. The bill senate proposes repeal of the corporation stock tax and retention of the other taxes.

Other proposals offered, by the minority provide for repeal of the freight and passenger transportation taxes and the $2,000 exemption allowed to corporations.

Another minority amendment proposes a 32 per cent surtax rate on incomes from $66,000 to $74,000 and increased rates above that.

The opening attack on the bill from the floor was launched by Sen. La Follette, speaking against the section defining foreign traders and foreign trade corporations, declaring that the proposal to exempt from taxation their income derived outside the U. S. was "a device to enable individuals of great wealth to escape taxation."

"That this proposal should be seriously put forward at this time by the peoples' representatives," said Sen. La Follette, "only shows how completely the great financial interests of our country control our government. The demand for this legislation has come from those captains of industry whose wealth has been so largely created or augmented by the late war. They have been so fed up on war profits that the field of domestic industries, large though its returns may be, is not enough. China, Mexico, Russia and other undeveloped or war stricken countries permit them fabulous profits and a chance to escape to the financial burdens of that war from which they have so largely profited.

"So it is that they have come to the peoples' representatives with this proposition which no political party would have dared publicly to defend before election, and at their demand it is about to be enacted into law.

"Aside from the crime with which the entire scheme of this bill is properly chargeable in its studied purpose to make the poor bear the burdens of government while wealth and capital, the consistency and folly of its provisions in unbelievable."

Sen. La Follette declared that with factories closed, farmers in distress and millions unemployed, there never was a time when the U. S. stood in such need of capital to develop its resources. He asked the senate to "remember that every dollar of capital seeks investment in foreign fields under the provisions of this bill has back of it for its protection the army and the navy of the U. S." and added:

"The very conditions which make their venture profitable financially makes it dangerous, not to the capitalists, but to the people of this country who must furnish the men and the ships to give protection to the investment wherever it may be."

Callahan in Address
To Superintendents

State Supt. Callahan opened the morning session of the superintendent's meeting here by urging a free discussion following each of the reports presented by the committees which have been at work for the past year on the formation of a modern course of study in reading for Wisconsin schools. Supt. Callahan stated that it is his policy to utilize the state department where there is the greatest need in Wisconsin schools today. The rural schools come first in this plan, state graded schools next, and the small schools in villages follow. The morning was given over to detailed discussion of the best methods for organization of reading work. Doubtless few meetings of the city superintendents will have more far reaching results in improved practice in schools than the conference now in session. The discussion was led by Supt. Kircher of Merrill, Miss Bush of the state department, Pres. Brown of Oshkosh, and Prof. Uhl of the university.

The revenue bureau alleged the two men had attempted to enter into negotiations with a Duluth, Minn., taxpayer whose assessment was about to be raised. Their plan was disclosed by the taxpayer's appearance in Washington and according to the statement, an arrangement was made by which the taxpayer met Rickmeier and Underwood in the presence of a secret agent.

NIGHT EDITOR—MAURICE PERSTEIN

SWEEPING PROPOSALS

THE Traditions commission appointed by the Student senate evidently intends to go to the bottom of conditions which have brought about the recent unsettled state of things.

The night before last one of the committees submitted its report to the commission. The committee made some radical and far-reaching recommendations that have to do not merely with green caps, the rush, and cap night, but concern the whole fabric of student self-government.

The committee recommends a revision of the basis of representation on the Student senate. The committee assumes that the representation from classes is artificial, gives too much power to campus politicians, and tends to remove the government from close contact with the students.

The counter proposition is that the members of the senate be chosen from the various colleges instead of the various classes. In this way the Engineers, the Ags, the Medics, the Laws, and the L. and S. students will choose their own representatives on the senate. The committee seems to feel that this will enable the students to vote more intelligently, since they know the members of their own college better than the members of their class.

Just what connection this plan has with the question of traditions is not clear yet, and judgment on this point may be suspended until the final report of the commission is made public.

Another proposal which is definitely bound up with the enforcement of traditions is the suggestion that the Student court be re-established. The Student court went to pieces back in 1916 when the members were cowed by a mob in the court room. The court found it difficult to make students testify about points in which they were personally implicated or in which their friends were implicated.

The committee thinks that these points can be cleared up and that the court can be made really effective in enforcing law and order.

Another suggestion of the committee is that a strong executive arm be created for student self-government. It will be remembered that the present senate, realizing the need of such action, proposed last year that the Council of Forty be constituted as the executive arm of the senate. The council gently declined, so the matter blew up in smoke.

Certainly, it is an anomaly for one organization to be legislative, executive, and judicial in nature.

It is not possible to offer constructive criticism to the present proposals of the committee until more details are announced and until there is more general discussion by the students.

COUNT THE COST

THE annual drive for membership in the various and sundry organizations dotting the campus will be in full swing soon.

The urge of organization in this university has attained the proportions of a craze. No county in the state or in surrounding states is too humble to start up a club, elect officers, and apply for a page in the Badger.

There are city clubs, county clubs, state clubs, sectional clubs, language clubs, scientific clubs, professional clubs, religious clubs, social clubs, etc., etc., etc. All of them claim to confer benefits on their members and on the school. No doubt they do.

But when one stops to consider that there are approximately 150 clubs and societies in existence here with a total membership last year of about 20,000, a serious problem arises. The temptation is for one student to become a professional joiner. He is likely to inscribe his name on the rolls of a dozen or more of these organizations and the result is that he becomes of little value to any of them and he finds too large a slice of his time taken by the demands which the organizations make.

After all, success in life is not always in direct ratio to the length of the summary in the Badger. Students should exercise rigid discrimination when it comes to joining any campus organization. Count the cost in time and work. Then, if it is worth the cost, go in to be a useful and industrious member. If not, stay out by all means.

CORNELL HONOR SYSTEM

A PART of the constitution of the Cornell honor system is printed below in order to give the student of this university some idea of how one school has formulated the details of the system. Only the significant portions of the constitution are given:

ARTICLE V

GOVERNMENT—Sec. 1. The Cornell Honor System shall rest solely on the honor of each student and the public opinion of his classmates.

Sec. 2. It requires that each student refrain from giving or receiving aid and from seeking to give or receive aid in examinations.

Sec. 3. It requires that there shall be no unnecessary communication between students during an examination, and no communication whatever between students concerning any question relating to the examination.

Sec. 4. The Faculty relinquish their control of the conduct of examinations: their members, however, or their assistants, shall be available to give information concerning matters that relate to obscurities in the questions, or such other legitimate information as may be necessary.

Sec. 5. It is recommended that, for convenience, students seat themselves in alternate seats where possible.

ARTICLE VI

ORGANIZATION—Sec. 1. There shall be convened when necessary a Cornell Honor Committee, in which will be vested complete judicial power in all cases of student honor, and whose duty it will be to render the final decision in such cases.

The remainder of the article will be printed tomorrow.

Idaho Badger Enjoys Session

The Badger that was not a Badger, but a native of Idaho, allowed himself to be publicly interviewed yesterday afternoon, in front of the Phi Kap house on Langdon street. He was in a completely cheerful mood, evidently enjoying the badgered feeling of the atmosphere. He rolled on his back and waved his paws in the air with aesthetic grace, while an admiring crowd regarded him.

Many a co-ed tripping by got a glimpse of his handsome fur, and longed for him in vain. If his stay is at all lengthened, the noses of every fraternity dog will be out of joint.

WEATHER

The highest during the past 24 hours was 72 at 3 p. m. Wednesday. The lowest was 64 at 8 p. m. Wednesday. The sun sets at 5:44.

The area of low barometer which was crossing the plains yesterday reached the lake region and Mississippi valley this morning, accompanied by warmer weather and light showers. Clearing and much cooler weather follows on the plains and in the Rocky mountains. The temperature fell 30 degrees to the minima below freezing in the Rockies this morning.

VOLUME TO HONOR
DEAN H. L. RUSSELL

A quarter-century volume in honor of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the doctorate of Dean Harry L. Russell, of the College of Agriculture, will soon be published as one of the Wisconsin Studies in Science.

As part of the exercises at the celebration in Dean Russell's honor which was held in June 1917, it was announced that such a volume would be published, containing articles written by his former students. Most of the manuscripts were ready on June 1, 1918, but owing to wartime conditions, publication of the collection was delayed until the present time.

The papers are on bacteriology and allied subjects, and are published as University of Wisconsin Studies in Science, No. 2. Members of the committee in charge of the work are Prof. H. A. Harding, of the department of dairy husbandry at the University of Illinois, and Prof. E. G. Hastings and Prof. W. D. Frost of the College of Agriculture here. Besides 11 articles, there is a review of the scientific work of Dean H. L. Russell, by Prof. E. G. Hastings, together with a list of his books and scientific papers.

The former students who contributed articles for the volume are, besides Professors Hastings, Frost, and Harding, John Weinziril, B. S. '96, Ph. D. '06; C. H. Eckles, graduate student '96-'97; L. A. Rogers, graduate student '97-'98; D. J. Davis, B. S. '98; F. W. Bouska, graduate student '01-'02; J. C. Brown, graduate student '01-'02; E. G. Birge, B. S. '03; H. A. Whittaker, B. A. '06; A. L. It is possible that Hancock, the stellar athlete from Superior, who went to Iowa, may return to Superior and play football with the Superior Normal school, one of the visiting school superintendents in the city said on Thursday. When he got to the Iowa university, no job had been obtained for him and he was without much money. He wired back asking how soon he would have to get back in order to play football with the normal. His query was answered. It is not known what his decision was.

ALL AMERICANS KIND HEARTED, SAY CHINA GIRLS

"The Americans have kind hearts," think Miss Kao Tse and Miss Hwei Lan Chang, from Shanghai, China, who live at Barnard and are registered as sophomores in the course in physical education.

"Over in China," they said, "the missionaries—they were good because it was their business—to be good. But in America they are all very kind to us, and they do not have to be, either. They have kind hearts."

Miss Tse and Miss Chang have been in America about 14 months. For two years before they came to this country they had been attending the Y. W. C. A. School of Physical Education in Shanghai. Their first year in America was spent at Mills College, Oakland, Calif., and during the last summer session they attended Wisconsin. They were among the Wisconsin delegates at the Y. W. C. A. conference at Lake Geneva, Wis. They speak excellent English, part of which they learned in China, and part "by practicing in America."

"Since the Chinese Republic began, in 1911," they said, when asked what their chief ambition was, "China has been waking up. When we get all the education that we can, we want to go back and work, till every Chinese girl, if she is rich or if she is poor, can be a Christian and be educated—and help to stay awake."

Many Women In Sports

Because of the heavy registration in sports university women are looking forward to an unusually lively season in their fall athletic activities.

Many upperclasswomen are taking athletic work as an elective this year and in this way have materially increased the registration. Today is the last opportunity for entering the sports.

Graduate students under the leadership of Peg Crosby '21 have reported for hockey, hoping to defeat the freshman squad. The first year squad has been reporting for extra practice and gives promise of winning hockey honors this fall.

Members of the Women's Athletic Association board, of which Mabel Winters '22 is president, are assisting the regular instructors in class work. The regular staff consists of Miss Wessen, hockey; Miss H'Doubler, dancing; Miss Gall, tennis; Miss Boonnell, swimming; Miss Moscrop and Miss Stupp, archery, volley ball, and quoits.

Developing and Printing

A PROFESSION

The developing of amateur films is a business in itself and requires the closest attention of professionals. The fact that a great many people offer a developing and printing service does not indicate that the process is simple. The shop making a business of this art, alone, is in a position to give you honest workmanship. Your films deserve this attention; it costs less in the end. Eventually you will realize that the best results come from such an establishment.

Text of Latest
Note of Britain
To Sinn Feiners

(By the Associated Press)
GAIRLOCH, Scotland—The text of Premier Lloyd George's reply to the latest note from Eamonn De Valera, dispatched to Dublin early today follows:

"Sir: His Majesty's government have given close and earnest consideration to the correspondence which has passed between us since their invitation to you to send delegates to a conference at Inverness.

"In spite of their sincere desire for peace, and, in spite of the more conciliatory tone of your latest communications they cannot enter into a conference upon the basis of this correspondence.

"Notwithstanding your personal assurance to the contrary which they much appreciate, it might be argued in future that the acceptance of a conference on this basis had involved them in a recognition which no British government can accord. On this point they must guard themselves against any possible doubt. There is no purpose to be served by any further interchange of explanatory and argumentative communications upon this subject. The position taken up by his majesty's government is fundamental to the existence of the British Empire and they cannot alter it.

"My colleagues and I remain, however, keenly anxious to make, in cooperation with your delegates another determined effort to explore every possibility of a settlement by personal discussion.

"The proposals which we have already made have been taken by the whole world as proof that our endeavors for reconciliation and settlement are no empty form and we feel that conference, not correspondence, is the most practical and hopeful way to an understanding such as we ardently desire to achieve.

"We therefore send you here with a fresh invitation to a conference in London on Oct. 11 where we can meet your delegates as the spokesmen of the people whom you representing with a view to ascertaining how the association of Ireland with the community of nations known as the British Empire may be best reconciled with Irish national aspirations.

"I am, sir yours faithfully,
(SIGNED) "Lloyd George."

Sets New Altitude

Record of 40,000 Feet

DAYTON, O.—Lieut. John A. MacReady, test pilot of McCook field, today shattered the world's altitude record, attaining a height of 40,800 feet in the same La Pere biplane used by Rudolph C. Schroeder, who set a record of 38,180 feet on Feb. 28, 1920. Lieut. MacReady was in the air one hour and 47 minutes. At 39,000 feet ice formed on his oxygen tank, but he pressed on until his engine died. He then glided to the ground.

Middleton-Webster

The marriage of Miss Maude Webster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Webster, E. Gorham street, to Dr. William Middleton will take place this morning at the Christ Presbyterian church. Dr. Geo. E. Hunt will perform the ceremony. Miss Webster is known to many of the students as one of the nurses at Bradley Memorial hospital. Dr. Middleton has been on the staff of the university clinic since 1912, and has been in charge of the infirmary for some time. He is a graduate of the Pennsylvania university, and a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. After a short wedding journey, the couple will be at home in Madison.

They toasted marshmallows and sang songs around the fire during the rest of the evening.

PROF. LEHNER BACK FROM CHEMICAL MEET

Dr. Victor Lenher, professor of chemistry at the University of Wisconsin, has recently returned from a meeting of the American Chemical Society, which was held in New York this month. This meeting was international in character, and had representatives from England and Canada. Several papers on selenium were presented at the meeting and were discussed by Mr. Lenher.

A number of discussions on the uses of tellurium and selenium were held by the committee of the National Research council, of which Professor Lenher is chairman. This committee met in New York at the time of the meeting of the American Chemical Society. Members of the committee felt that a considerable advance was made in solving some of the problems connected with these chemicals.

MANY TRY OUT FOR GLEE CLUB

Secondary tryouts for the men's Glee club are to be held Monday. The preliminary tryouts, in which about 75 men competed have just been completed and there still remains a large number of excellent singers who must compete in the secondary trials. The Glee club will have a membership of 40 men this year, which will make it larger than it has ever been before. Prof. E. E. Swinney, who is in charge of the club, predicts some close contests in the final tryouts since there are so many good men to fill the places. Mr. Swinney says that the material this year is by far the best he has had during his four years of coaching at Wisconsin. Competition between the baritones and the tenors will be especially close.

The club will begin its regular rehearsals on Tuesday. The first home concert will be given on December 11.

JEWISH STUDENT SERVICES SUNDAY

Impressive Services to Commemorate Jewish New Year

On Monday, Oct. 3, according to the Jewish calendar, begins the year 5682, the first year of the 300th cycle.

Jewish students attending the university are invited to attend the new year services which will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 in the Woman's building at 240 West Gilman street. Prof. L. B. Wolfson, chairman of the department of Semitic languages and Hellenistic Greek, will officiate at the services. There will also be a service at the same place on Monday morning, Oct. 3. These are regular modern services for the new year.

The Jewish calendar is dated from the Creation, which is considered to have taken place 3760 years and 3 months before the Christian era. The year is luni-solar, and, according as it is ordinary or embolismic, consists of 12 or 13 months, each of which has 29 or 30 days.

Thus the duration of the ordinary year is 354 days, and that of the embolismic is 384 days. In either case it is sometimes made a day more and sometimes a day less, in order that the certain festivals may fall on the proper days of the week for their due observance.

A Lunar Calendar

Being a lunar calendar, the Jewish calendar is based on the assumption that there is a new moon every 29 days, 12 hours, and a fraction, and that the year commences on, or immediately after, the new moon following the autumnal equinox. A period of 19 years, or 235 such new moons, constitutes a cycle.

Since 12 lunar months make only 354 days, the festivals set for certain days in named months would soon drift back into the wrong season of the year. Thus it was the duty of the Sanhedrin, a body of learned judges, to proclaim the new moon and to add a thirteenth month.

In the earliest times great difficulty was attached to the observance of holidays on the same day by all Jews, but the difficulty was easily met. As soon as two witnesses testified before the Sanhedrin to the appearance of the new moon and their testimony was found to be based on fact, the people living in Palestine, Syria and Babylonia were notified of the new moon either by messengers or by fire signals given on top of hills. The celebration of the festivals depended altogether upon the proclamation of the new moon by the Sanhedrin.

The names of the months, which are of Babylonian origin, are Nisan, Iyar, Sivan, Tammuz, Ab, Ellul, Tishri, Heshvan, Kislev, Tebeth, Shebat, Adar, and the name of the thirteenth month, in case of leap year, is Adar Sheni, second Adar. Nisan, which occurs in March or April, is made the first month because in this month the exodus from Egypt, marking the beginning of Israel's national life, took place.

NORTHWESTERN TO MEET CHICAGO ON GRID SATURDAY

Maroons Are Confident of An Easy Victory in Game

Has Northwestern university recovered sufficiently from last week's defeat to drub the Chicago university eleven at Chicago on Saturday afternoon?

This question is agitating gridiron critics throughout the middle west, as the result of the conflict will put one of the teams out of the Big Ten conference race, and will give a definite line on the ability of the winner to cope with other squads of championship caliber.

Coach A. Alonzo Stagg and his entire football squad watched Beloit wallop Northwestern to the 7 to 0 tune at Evanston last Saturday. After seeing some ragged play by the Purple team, failure to follow the ball, weak tackling, and fumbling, the Maroons are said to have decided that Northwestern would be easy prey this week-end. Stagg has been working all week to drive this impression from the minds of his charges. The "grand old man of football" knows that an overconfident team rarely ever wins a hard struggle.

Coach Elmer McDevitt is expected to make several changes in the Methodists' lineup. The most important will be that in the quarterback position; Knight will probably be replaced by "Chuck" Palmer who has been halfbacking during the first part of the season.

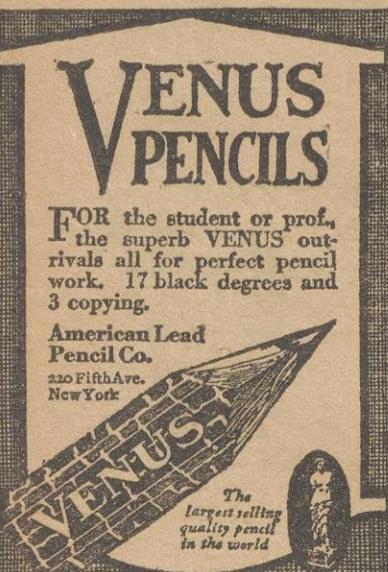

one of the best squads, on paper, in the Big Ten. In the backfield, five "C" men who can be depended upon for many substantial gains are "Bobbie" Cole, quarterback; Tatge, quarterback; Neff and Hermes, halfbacks; and Timme, fullback. In addition, Milton Romney, an all-Rocky Mountain quarter and halfback, is a star punter, drop kicker, runner, and forward passer. He played with the University of Utah last year.

Northwestern has Knight, Blumenthal, Palmer, Grausnick, and Patterson to send into the backfield during the contest. The traditional rivalry of the two Illinois institutions is bound to make the Saturday game one of the bitterest that has been played by Purple and Maroon teams.

Thos. H. Ince presents
"Mother O'Mine"

AT THE STRAND

Thomas H. Ince's 'Mother O'Mine' is now being shown at the Strand Theatre.

Robert Sheldon, the leading character of the drama, falls into an altercation with his employer, the result of the latter's vicious slandering of the boy's mother. A thrilling fight follows in which the elder man manages to get a revolver from the drawer of the table. The boy, fighting for his life, forces the gun from his employer's hand, and, falling to the floor, it is accidentally discharged, fatally wounding its owner.

The only witness to the affray is the mistress of the slain man, who, in spite of her waywardness, is sincerely devoted to him. She promises to avenge his death, and on the witness stand perjures herself, stating that the boy was the murderer, thereby securing his conviction and sentence to the electric chair.

There is apparently no hope for the condemned lad. His mother, however, intervenes and her determination and loyalty draws a confession from the guilty woman. Even then, with but a few hours remaining before the hour of execution, only the resourcefulness of the district attorney and a mad ride through a raging storm effect the boy's release as he is strapped to the death chair.

A scenic picture "The Valley of Make Believe" and a comedy cartoon will also be shown.
