LATHROP DANCES STOPPED AS AID TO UNION VODVIL

Orchestra Cancelled to Allow Dance-Goers to Attend Show

No Union Board dances will be given at Lathrop parlors on Friday or Saturday of this week because of Union Vodvil, it was announced yesterday.

Orchestra engagements for those dates have been cancelled by Sam Thompson of the Union Board so that dance-goers can attend the show.

Tickets On Sale

Tickets for the show are on sale at the Parkway at the present time. Seats for all shows have been selling fast during this week, according to Thompson, business manager of the show, but good seats are still left for all shows. Performances will be given Friday night, Saturday afternoon and Saturday night. None of the shows is being designated as formal.

Hundreds of dollars worth of scenery and costumes prepared by experts in Chicago arrived for the first dress rehearsal held at the Parkway theatre last night. Every act, according to Bill Purnell, production manager, was ready for staging at the beginning of the week.

Orchestra Is Ready

The show orchestra, working under the direction of Nelson Fairbanks, has been recruited to its full strength of 15 of the best known musicians in school, and is ready for final presentation and cooperation with all acts.

It is figured that a profit of $1,000 will be made for Union Memorial if all seats are sold out for all three shows.

The corps of electricians working on the show Wednesday completed a light bridge for stage effects. A battery of five spot lights will be used in the bridge.

Cycloramas of startling beauty will make the entire show the most elaborate ever seen in Madison.

PROF. AND MRS. SMITH RECOVER FROM CRASH

Prof. L. S. Smith and his wife are both recovering nicely from the accident which happened yesterday morning when the car in which they were traveling turned over on a sharp turn on the Sauk City road about five miles out of Baraboo.

Professor Smith was cut over his right eye, but examinations revealed that his eye sight will not be injured in any way. Mrs. Smith was taken to a hospital when she arrived in Madison, but she returned to her home later in the day.

The accident occurred on a curve where the road was slippery. The Smiths were on their way to Baraboo where Professor Smith was to have addressed a meeting of the Kiwanis club.

The issue has an interesting cover design, based on a winter scene.

Among the literary work is a sketch by Oscar Riegel '24, entitled "The Rouged Cadavre," a fantasy by John Schindler, "The Star Lighter," and poetry by Carl Rakosi, who recently won first place in the poetry contest for college poets conducted annually by Witter Bynner.

$150 FUND VOTED BY S. G. A. BOARD

Co-operative House to Receive Annual Sum For Maintenance

An annual sum of $150 was voted to the Cooperative house at the S. G. A. Board meeting held at Lathrop parlors last night.

A motion was also passed concerning the printing of 2,000 booklets giving information in regard to the different kinds of courses on the hill, the opportunities they offer after leaving college, etc.

It was voted that S. G. A. pledge its support in the Y. W. C. A. drive for Chinese students coming to the university, and an announcement was made that there are still $151 to be collected for the S. G. A. budget, $2,399 being the sum received up to date.

All representatives were urged to tell the girls at their house about the Friday evening dancing class, especially about this Friday evening; refreshments will be served.

Pamphlets explaining the aim of Y. W. C. A. in helping new girls get acquainted, were given to all the representatives at the meeting, who were asked to distribute these among their respective houses.

FROSH TRY TO REVIVE CLASS PIN TRADITION

"The tradition that every Freshman shall wear a regulation Frosh pin has not been followed out in the last few years," declared Dick Herman, president of the freshman class, at a meeting of class committees held in the Law building, yesterday noon. "The class of '27 is trying to keep up or revive this tradition and plans for a class pin are well under way."

Walter Miller, chairman of the dance committee, reported that the Freshman dance probably will be held some time in March.

GREEN BUTTON TO HOLD ELECTIONS TOMORROW

Green Button election will be held from 9 to 5 o'clock tomorrow in Lathrop hall. All freshmen girls are expected to turn out and vote at this election. Correct lists of candidates will be announced tomorrow morning.

40,000,000 Marks Postage Decorate One German Letter

No sane man would spend $9,520,000 for the postage of a single letter, but before the war that would have been the exchange value of the postage stamps on one of the letters which has been received from Germany on display at the State Historical museum.

This letter and many others, plastered with German stamps whose denominations run into millions of German marks but which are almost worthless in American money have just been placed on exhibit at the museum.

Most of the letters are covers for advertising literature of German book companies. Some of the covers have postage worth only 3,000,

Four Professors Will Read Papers at Historical Meeting

American Historians Will Assemble in Columbus During Holidays

The department of history of the university will be well represented at the 38th annual meeting of the American Historical association, to be held in Columbus, Ohio, December 27-29.

At the same time there will be joint sessions of similar associations, among them the American Political Science association, of which Professor Frederic A. Ogg is secretary.

Professors Frederic L. Paxson, Carl Russell Fish, Paul Knaplund, Joseph V. Fuller, and Carl Stephenson of the department of history will be present. Prof. Martha L. Edwards, of the University Extension division, and Dr. Joseph Schaffer, of the Wisconsin Historical association, also will attend.

Mr. Shafer will address the Mississippi Valley Historical association, meeting at the same time, on "The Life and Work of Francis Parkman."

Knaplund to Speak

Prof. Knaplund will read a paper on "The Colonial Policy of Gladstone's First Ministry, 1868-1874"; Prof. Fuller, a paper on "Bismarck and Europe, 1871-1890"; Prof. Stephenson, a paper on "The Origin of Representative Government"; and Miss Edwards, a paper on "The Influence of Missions in Determining President Grant's Indian Policy."

RETAIN PERSHING, BRUNZELL SAYS

R. O. T. C. Commandant Opposed to Retirement of A. E. F. Commander

It would be highly desirable for congress to pass the motion at present before it to allow General Pershing to remain in active service, instead of retiring him upon his next birthday, is the opinion of Major Brunzell, commandant of the Wisconsin R. O. T. C. unit.

He explained his stand by telling how General Pershing is the only general of full rating in the United States army and he will have no successor unless Congress creates one by a special act. Major Brunzell said "General Pershing is very active as was shown by his brilliant work as commander of the A. E. F."

He discounts the idea that a bad precedent would be established as the present situation seldom arises.

LONDON QUARTET DELIGHTS AUDIENCE

Capable String Musicians Give Concert Far Superior to Previous Treat

The second 1923 concert of the London String Quartet in this city took place last night in the auditorium of Music hall, under the auspices of the university school of music.

The success of this concert more than equaled that of the former concert, which was given in March at Christ Presbyterian church. It was one of the finest musical treats granted to music lovers in Madison this season.

The movements of the Mozart "Quartet in D. Minor" opened the program.

The second part consisted of two compositions, a "Londonderry Air", by F. Bridge, and Mendelssohn's "Canzonetta".

"The Quartet in G. Minor", by Mendelssohn, was the third and last group presented.

The quartet gave as encores to the three groups, "Peter's Glad Heart", from the popular "Peter Pan" suite by Walford-Davies, "Andante Cantabile", by Tchaikowsky, and "Flowers of the Forest", from the quartet by McEwen.

The London String Quartet includes four Englishmen who came directly from London one year ago to fill engagements in the United States and in other American countries. They have made tours of both North and South America and of the continent since they left England.

The four Britishers are James Levy, first violin, Thomas W. Petre, second violin, H. Waldo Warner, viola and C. Warwick-Evans 'cello. Each one is a high calibre musician, and together they form a superior, well-balanced musical group.

The musicians will leave this morning for New York city, where they will stay during the Christmas holidays.

Foreign Flashes

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—President Coolidge today approved of the participation of America in the inquiries to be made in Germany. The United States will take a hand unofficially in efforts to stabilize and rehabilitate that country.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 12.—The rebel forces were repulsed today in a series of military maneuvers by which they had hoped to gain control of the capital and overthrow the Obregon government.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 12.—The Republican national convention for 1924 will be held in Cleveland, it was decided today by the Republican National Committee.

LONDON, Dec. 12.—Prime Minister Baldwin and Herbert Asquith, the liberal leader, today excited British politicians by holding a secret conference behind closed doors. It is rumored that the Liberals and Conservatives will form a coalition government.

STUDENT SENATE VOTES TO REVISE ELECTION LAWS

Judicial Committee to Begin Work of Reorganization Immediately

Complete reorganization of the present elections system by the judicial committee of the Student senate was voted at a meeting of the senate last night in the law building. The committee will begin work at once on the drafting of new regulations.

The revised system will be supplemented by any recommendations that the Student court may make as a result of its findings in the present investigation. The judicial committee will confer with court members of the senate before the final regulations are issued to be used as a guide for the elections committee in all future elections.

Continue John Doe Case

The Student court reported last night that it is continuing its hearings in the John Doe proceeding to ascertain the name or the names of the persons guilty of stuffing the ballot boxes in the election held November 2 and will be ready to make recommendations for the guidance of elections officials in the future after the Christmas vacation. It is probable that a report of its findings in the proceedings also will be made before the end of the semester.

The court is calling witnesses before it in its investigations and probably will call several others before the holiday recess, one of the justices stated last night.

Changes Suggested

A number of changes in student elections were suggested by senate members, having chiefly to do with the mechanical conduct of the balloting and polls. These suggestions will be considered by the judicial committee in its work and acted upon after the court's official recommendations are received. Members of the elections committee reported that they felt a set of stringent regulations in definite form were necessary for the successful conduct of student elections.

Several matters of routine business were disposed of by committee reports. Two special committees appointed at the meeting a week ago asked for an extension of time before reporting on the business assigned to them.

ASKS FROSH GRIDDERS TO BE AT CAGE MEET

All members of the freshman football team have been asked by George Levis, frosh basketball coach, to attend a meeting of the freshman basketball squad to be held in the gym at 7 o'clock tonight. Members of the regular freshman squad are also to attend.

COUNTRY MAG HAS CHRISTMAS ISSUE

Special Articles Demonstrate Practical Value of Agricultural Courses

The December number of the Wisconsin Country magazine admirably illustrates the practical value of the courses in agriculture. Such articles as "The Advance of the Iron Horse", and "More Winter Eggs," help to prove the contention that the study of agriculture at the university does not give only theoretical knowledge.

An attempt has been made to make the December issue a special Christmas number. The picture on the cover, although far ahead of the weather at present, is one of the most beautiful winter photographs of the campus.

The special short story, "Princess Betty's Christmas Tree", written in the Youth Companion style has none of the unconscious humor of the Literary Magazine and is therefore not as interesting.

PORTRAIT EXHIBIT PUT IN MUSEUM

Living Artists Show Paintings of Prominent Madison People

Oil paintings by some of the greatest living portrait artists were placed on exhibit yesterday by the Madison Art association at the State Historical museum. The paintings are portraits of Madison people, and will afford local art lovers the opportunity of studying famous modern masters.

Perhaps the most famous canvas is a portrait of the late General Fairchild, former governor of Wisconsin by John Singer Sargent. There is also a painting of Charles R. Van Hise, late president of the university by Christian Abrahamson.

The exhibit includes portraits of several professors at the university, including Prof. Moses S. Slaughter of the classics department, and the late Prof. Reuben Gold Thwaites, former secretary of the State Historical society by John C. Johnson, who is considered the most noted portrait painter in the United States today.

The largest canvas which is a portrait of General Hahn, the commander of the Forty-Second division, will be the occasion for a special unveiling, the date for which has not yet been announced.

Other paintings are portraits of the following Madison people:

Justice Burr W. Jones; Thomas E. Brittingham, former president of the board of regents; Romanzo Bunn, late judge of the supreme court; A. L. Sanborn, late judge of the circuit court, all by John C. Johnson; Mrs. Moses S. Slaughter by the Italian artist Arturo Noci; and several portraits of prominent Madison children by Amenda B. Sewell, Miss Marlar and Mrs. Huntley.

Famous Christmas Carols to Be Sung of Mere Woman

Selections from "The Messiah" by Handel will be given by the Choral union in a concert at Music hall auditorium at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, December 18, under the direction of Prof. P. W. Dykema. The concert is open to the public.

"The Messiah," or selections from it, has been given under the direction of the School of Music approximately fifteen times before. In former years the university orchestra also has given it, sometimes assisted by imported soloists or a Madison soloists.

Members of the chorus will sing the solos this year for the first time in the history of "The Messiah" performances at the University. This concert will be given as a class exercise rather than as a formal public concert.

"The wearing qualities of 'The Messiah' are shown by the fact that the oratorio has been given so many times before at the university," commented Prof. P. W. Dykema. "Madison citizens who have sung the oratorio about twelve times out of the fifteen it has been given are as enthusiastic about it now as they were the first time."

METHODIST STUDENTS HOLD ANNUAL PARTY

The annual Methodist students' Christmas party will be held at 8 o'clock, Friday, December 14, at the Wesley Foundation.

With Christmas decorations, Christmas games and a fitting program, the party will serve as the opening event of the Christmas season for all Methodist students.

It also will serve as a farewell for the Methodist delegates to the Indianapolis convention to be held during the Christmas recess. Those who will represent the Wesley Foundation at the convention are: Ruth Mink '24, Lawrence Denyes, Law 2, George Mitchell '24, Ardath Hilberry '25, Archie Henry '25, Dorothy Eaton '24, and Marian Chase '27.

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—University of Southern California students will be allowed to compete in but two sports a year, according to a new ruling. The ruling was made in the belief that too much attention to athletics is not conducive to a high scholastic standard.

Miller Attributes Warm Weather to High Pressure Area

"A high pressure area on the Pacific coast, acting as a wall to keep storms and winds from this part of the country, is the cause of the unusually mild weather that has persisted here during the past few weeks," was the explanation given by Eric Miller of the U. S. weather bureau in North hall, yesterday.

"How long this wall will remain, it is impossible to say, for it may be dissolved in a few hours under certain circumstances. While it lasts, however, we will be immune from storms."

Predictions as to chances for a white Christmas will be something of a gamble, according to Mr. Miller. A cold winter is largely dependent upon a heavy snow blanket. With little or no snow, there is generally sure to be a mild, short winter.

PYTHIA HANDS CASTALIA SUBJECT FOR DEBATE

Pythia has submitted the following resolution as the question for the Annual Castalia-Pythia debate.

Resolved:

That the Wisconsin legislature of 1925 pass an unemployment insurance measure embodying the essential features of the Huber bill.

In this resolution, the employment must be involuntary, the insurance reasonable and resting entirely on the employer.

Castalia has first choice for negative or affirmative side, and will make a decision by Friday night. The teams also will be announced at this time.

FRAT BASKETBALLTeams Strive to Win One of Five Cups Offered in Tourney

The greatest interest and the keenest competition of years is being shown in the first round of the inter-fraternity basketball tournament, according to those in charge.

Little trouble has been experienced with teams not living up to the schedule and each quintet is striving desperately to win one of the five cups which are offered as prizes. The committee in charge of the tournament has spent about $175 for cups to be given to the winners.

None of the forty-four fraternities entered in the tournament is leading, since all of the teams have not met as yet. Those in charge hope to have the first round completed shortly after the Christmas recess, however.

Following is a list of games played to date:

Silent Monuments to Glory of Former Athletes

While Wisconsin's men of today pass through the gym to prepare for the battles of our time, countless banners and cups and shields peer out from the wall of the trophy room—silent monuments to the victories of Wisconsin's men of the past.

In the pictures of individual stars and conquering teams that line the wall of the trophy room live again the valiant heroes of the battles that were.

Lon trophy boards overhead, inset with basketballs, record the championships won on the basketball court. Printed in gold letters are the names of the members of the teams, with the scores of each game inscribed on the spheres. Footballs that saw action in crucial games are to be seen in a glass case at the side.

A case of silver loving cups records the wins in numerous branches of sport. Pennants and banners won in Drake relays, Penn relays, Poughkeepsie regattas, and in basketball games are on display.

MARQUETTE GAME
TICKETS ON SALEMail Orders For Home Basketball Seats Are Coming Rapidly

Tickets for the Wisconsin-Marquette basketball game to be played in the Milwaukee Auditorium December 19, go on sale 9 o'clock this morning.

The price of the tickets are $1.50 and the sale is entirely open. Five hundred seats have been reserved in one block and three hundred more will be available if the department runs short.

Mail orders for the regular home basketball tickets are coming in rapidly and so far the choice as to any particular series has been remarkably even. Applicants are advised to include their second choice of series, however, so that their order may be filled in case their first choice is sold out.

"We have received some orders for seats in the north half of the west side of the gym, but as these seats are reserved strictly for students we have returned the money," says Paul F. Hunter, director of ticket sales.

It is necessary that all mail orders be in by tomorrow night, as the department intends to fill these orders as soon as the cardboard arrive. Open student sale will start at this time also and Mr. Hunter expects to start selling tickets Thursday.

Each student is limited to one choice of one of three series of games, each of which consists of one non-conference and two conference games. The arrangement of the series is as follows:

A. De Pauw, Dec. 14; Illinois, Feb. 16; Ohio, March 3.

B. Indiana, Jan. 14; Butler Feb. 12; Chicago, March 15.

C. Franklin, Jan. 2; Northwestern, March 1; Iowa, March 11.

Four games with Minnesota and four with Michigan are on the card for Badger puck-chasers this winter. The regular triangular league which these schools compose promises to become an institution.

Theta Xi vs. Alpha Gamma Rho.

Third division—
Zeta Beta Tau vs. Delta Kappa Epsilon, Phi Gamma Delta vs. Beta Theta Pi, Phi Gamma Delta vs. Zeta Beta Tau, Delta Kappa Epsilon vs. Beta Theta Pi, Beta Theta Pi vs. Zeta Beta Tau, Phi Gamma Delta vs. Delta Kappa Epsilon.

The two winners from each division will enter the finals.

Pictures of the teams of the past in the many branches of sport are fastened along the walls—victorious teams in football, basketball, gym, swimming, baseball, track, hockey, rowing, wrestling and boxing.

There are individual pictures of Chris Steinmetz, former basketball star, Biddie Rogers, a football player of the first water, Arlie Mucks, world's champion discus thrower who won many meets for Wisconsin, and Captain Messmer, one of Wisconsin's best gridders of days gone by.

Picture of several of Wisconsin's greatest athletes, however, are missing in the gallery of the famous. Pat O'Dea, famous drop-kicker, "Cub" Buck, football hero of Camp's famed All-American, and Ralph Scott, also All-American, are not represented in individual pictures. As yet no pictures of Rollie Williams or E. Simpson, Wisconsin's greatest letter winners, have been added.

JONES NOT IN FAVOR
ROUND ROBIN IDEA

A round robin system of scheduling football games, such as is now used in making up the basketball schedule, would not prove very satisfactory, in the opinion of Tom Jones, director of athletics.

"Every school has certain games that it considers traditional. Here at Wisconsin we would feel that the season had been highly unsuccessful if we failed to play Minnesota or Chicago," declared Coach Jones.

"If each school would agree to play its traditional rivals each year and rotate the remainder of its opponents so that every other school in the conference was met in a certain period, I think the system would be highly successful," he continued.

No official recognition has been made as yet of the movement for the adoption of such a system, but public opinion is favoring it more and more and there is a possibility that a similar plan may be considered before schedules are again drawn.

Commencement addresses at more than 100 Badger high schools are given each year by University of Wisconsin professors.

Frosh-Varsity Tank Meet Advanced to Friday Afternoon

The second frosh-varsity swimming meet, scheduled to be held in the gym tank Friday night, has been set ahead to 4:30 Friday afternoon.

The frosh, with a victory over the varsity and a victory in the interclass meet under their belts, are practicing hard to cut down their time enough to garner another victory over the regulars.

The varsity team is especially weak in the back stroke and long distance swims this year. Captain Czerwonky is working out in this event, in addition to his breast stroke. If Ellicott, star back stroker of two years ago, returns to the team as is expected Steinauer's hopes will be greatly increased.

The relay team seems to be another weak spot in the varsity make up. Bennett and Flueck are both fast men, but their time in the relay is handicapped by the lack of fast team-mates.

"The freshmen relay team can break the conference relay record," said Coach Joe Steinauer yesterday, in discussing the relay situation. This means a strong nucleus for next year's team.

Twelve fraternities have entered teams in the inter fraternity track meet which will be held Saturday in the annex of the men's gymnasium at 2 o'clock.

Among those entered, Theta Xi, Alpha Gamma Rho, Phi Kappa Psi, and Pi Kappa Alpha are favored to putting up the stiffest competition for first and second honors. The first two mentioned have entered strong teams for several consecutive years and if last year's results are any indication of the results this year, these same two should make the strongest bids for first place.

Excluding teams as a whole, one finds several individual stars on teams which are not favored so strongly to win. If these stars should come through in their true form, the results may be entirely different from expectations.

Notably among this list are Smith, McGinnis, Zilisch, Aller, McGivern, Stebbins, Limberg, and Stipek. It is upon the shoulders of these men that the remaining teams are placing a large share of

Delayed Event

By placing two men within the first three places in the half mile race yesterday afternoon, the freshmen were awarded the belated freshmen-sophomore track meet. The final score was 50 points for the second year men to 53½ points for the yearlings.

Schilke, freshman, crossed the tape first, covering the distance in the fast time of two minutes, eight and three-fifths seconds. He was closely followed by Hardy, sophomore, who finished about a quarter of a lap behind. Third position went to the freshmen, when Nast, by a beautiful spurt, passed his closest competitors and beat out the rest of the field.

Thirteen men ran in the race, nine of this number being freshmen. The list of runners includes Schilke, Schneider, Flynn, Hochberg, Aaron, Nast, Marty, and Weismueller of the freshman class and Dueher, Goers, Gaudynski, Taylor and Hardy of the second year team.

The time for the race was unusually fast, O'Hara, freshman, was leading at the end of the first lap, but his classmate Schilke passed him shortly after and held the lead for the remainder of the race.

The race had been run off last Saturday in connection with the regular meet, but a mistake in counting the laps during the race caused the officials to hold the affair again yesterday to determine the winner of the fray.

BASKETBALL TICKETS

Each series is composed of three games and a series ticket reserves the same seat for the three games.

their hopes. With such a formidable lineup the meet should uncover some hotly contested events.

Six cups will be awarded winners, four of them going to teams winning first four places and the other two going to the first two teams finishing in the relay race.

AN EPIGRAM

Senator Cashman probably would appreciate this bit from Lord Byron:

"The world is a bundle of hay,
Mankind are the asses who pull
Each tugs it a different way,
And the greatest of all is John Bull."

THE BETTER WAY

Every year the Greek organizations on the campus plan their Christmas parties and entertainments for the poor children of Madison and in that way do a good service at the same time that they are delightfully carrying out the Christmas idea. The Y. M. C. A., too, is planning, on a somewhat more extended scale,
a Christmas party for these kiddies.

A new idea, however, has invaded the Christmas field and seems to come as a suggestion of a better way of bringing the real Christmas cheer to these unfortunate young Madisonians. One campus fraternity has already initiated this idea by subscribing a sum of money in cash to be given to a reliable local charity organization which could make a more judicious use of the money than could the fraternity itself by giving a party to a few children.

Madison is very fortunately situated in having charity organizations such as the Public Welfare association which are reliable and which know intimately the local situation.

It might be a good thing for a few more of the local organizations to help out the poor of Madison by cash donations to these organizations and thereby assuring themselves that their money has been spent in a worth while way.

EMBEZZLED STUDY

Years ago our Puritan fathers went to meeting, sat in hard and uncomfortable benches in cold and draughty churches and listened to extended biblical quotations.

Today the American family worships in a well ventilated church and sits in comfortable pews, cushioned and structurally designed so that the sermon and not the body ease might be the main source of contemplation.

In most universities and colleges today, and in many places at Wisconsin, too, every effort to carry out this new idea of comfort has been adopted in regard to study halls. Rooms are lighted properly, chairs and tables are built scientifically so that they are of the proper height, surroundings are made pleasant and agreeable. The good psychology as well as the beneficial practical results of all this have been more than once proved.

But at Wisconsin, however, there is one spot where the most unsavory and antiquated condition exists.

In the two small study rooms in Bascom hall provided for the men and women, respectively, conditions are existent which are reminiscent of the days before reason was applied to education.

In the men's room, for instance, the tables are so high that a student's shoulders are hunched up in a most unnatural manner if he wishes to do any writing.
Furthermore, the ventilation of the room is ridiculous from the standpoint of hygiene. With a large crowd of men students always filling the room to over capacity, the air is too often heavy and dead, or, at least it is so until some student opens the windows which causes a chilling breeze to pervade the room for a few moments which is promptly shut off by again closing the window.

Then, too, the place is the most unaesthetic one imaginable for the purposes of study. With overcoats draped around on all sides and barren walls and furniture the place gives more of the appearance of a hotel cloak room than of a study place.

It is to be recognized that there is lack of space in Bascom hall and that classrooms are over-crowded.
The true solution to the problem would be to obtain another room somewhere to make facilities for study places for students who have off hours on the hill.

But since that is perhaps physically impossible, it does seem that something might be done to make the present room more attractive, comfortable, and more in accordance with the best rules of modern education.

A PREMATURE CHRISTMAS PRESENT

It is not much that the Cardinal can give to those of its staff for a Christmas present. But it can express its appreciation of the work which has been done and along with it wish a very merry Christmas.

Especially must the reporters come in for their special mention. A certain degree of honor and recognition as well as prestige is given to the editors and the night men for the connection with the student paper, but after all, it is those unrewarded, unsung reporters, who daily scour the campus and community for news who form the backbone of the paper.

Of course the reward of these reporters is in the future and lies in the realms of promotion. But even with that in consideration, the service these men and women render to school is no mean one and their work is appreciated.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE REQUIREMENT

The two year language requirement for a degree from this University should be abandoned. In the freshman and sophomore years, a foreign language, French, German, Greek, Italian, Latin or Spanish, must be taken, subject to certain conditions. This should be changed. Modern and classical languages undoubtedly have a very proper place in the university curriculum, but their compulsory study for everyone is open to criticism.

Two reasons are generally advanced for this requirement. The first argues that the college graduate should have a knowledge of at least one language, which knowledge this requirement enforces. One or two years of university study as prescribed, however, does not naturalize the individual into foreign literary citizenship. How many students have read
"Les Miserables" or "Don Quixote" or the "Iliad" through in the original because of this foreign language requirement? If the argument is good for anything, it is good for too much, for its logical conclusion is four years of required language study to the end of a real, perhaps permanent, appreciation of the language. The existing two year requirement is a half way measure. It does not carry the student beyond the stage in which the memorizing of irregular verbs and vocabulary searching blur all literary appreciation.

The second argument asserts that the study of foreign language is a course in comparative grammar which betters the student's knowledge of English.
If the student's English needs improvement, and it unquestionably does, then why go about betterment in this roundabout way? A course in English, grammar, spelling, and word-derivation, supplementing the course in freshman rhetoric and taking the place of the compulsory foreign language is a course in comparative grammar for bettering English among students than the study of alien syntax could do in a week. This is the straightforward, honest, efficient way to English improvement.

Foreign languages, it must not be forgotten, have their rightful place in the university curriculum. The student who desires to round out his education with linguistic accomplishments should seek milady culture out to woo and win her, but this overbold shamelessness with which foreign language embraces the freshman and sophomore, whether he will or no, is something wanton.—Daily Iowan.

"The turn-out for orchestra practice Tuesday noon was splendid," said Dean A. V. Millar in charge of the gathering. An orchestra of more than 20 pieces has been formed.

Lovers of Winter Sports Sigh Vainly As Cold Weather Fails

"Blow, chill winds, and come, frosty ice and snow; dispell this mild autumnal weather."

Thus cry hundreds of student winter sport lovers who see Christmas drawing nigh with only mud where snow should be and water in the place of ice.

Jack Frost and the weather man have conspired to disappoint those to whom Christmas isn't Christmas without skating, skiing and sleighing. The lagoons at Wingra park are frozen hard enough to bear the weight of venturesome skaters, but our own lake Mendota only laughs mockingly with dancing waves, while skates and iceboats rot and rust in their accustomed summer corners.

With only one week more before the holidays begin, all indications seem to be that students will not have a chance to participate in winter sports on the Madison lakes and hills until they return in January. Only a sharp cold wave could bring the ice and snow in time before school closes.

Last year a cold wave swept the country at this time of the month and brought plenty of snow and cold weather with it. Lake Monona closed on December 13, and Mendota started to freeze on the 14.

The earliest date recorded for the freezing of the lake here was in 1880, when Mendota closed on November 23. The ice did not break up until May 3. In a few instances, none of the Madison lakes have frozen over until a week or two after New Years.

ORCHESTRA GIVES CONCERT SUNDAY

First Program of Year Will Be Presented at Music Hall

The entire "Sigurd Jorsalfar" suite by Grieg will be given by the university orchestra in concert at the Music hall auditorium at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon. This concert is the first which this year's orchestra has presented and it is open to the public without charge.

Besides the difficult "Sigurd Jorsalfar" suite the orchestra will play the overture to the popular Schubert opera "Rosamunde." The second movement from the Tchaikowsky symphony "Pathetique" will be another outstanding number included in the program.

Edward N. Otis '24, will sing two baritone solos during the program. He will sing "Pleading", a song written by Elgar, and Chadwick's "Bedouin Love Song." Mr. Otis is a student in the voice department of the school of music.

This is the only concert which the orchestra will give during the first semester. Rehearsals of the compositions included in the program have been held twice each week since the opening of the semester, under the direction of Major E. W. Morphy.

Orph Actor Goes Wild at Mention of Mere Woman

For the new show starting today at the Orpheum the local management has booked another big time side-splitting show that will go far toward making any spectator a permanent customer.

For the headliner Jack Rose will demonstrate with a few straw hats what the women have done to him. Even the mention of a member of the weaker sex causes him to go into spasms and ruin a perfectly good straw hat. This is his own peculiar method of cussing.

Inez Courtney, known as the cutest little trix in Vaudeville assisted by Sid Keyes and Starke Patterson, offer "A Personal Appearance."

A breath of old Dixie brought here by several darkie impersonations who mimic and do not exaggerate, will be presented by the Cotton Pickers.

Miss Laura Guerite, the vivacious singing comedian of the Paris Folies Gergerers, and the London "Passing Show", will also hold down a good spot on the bill. Miss Guerite was the official discoverer of Irving Berlin. His first song "Everybody's Doing It", was introduced by her in the show "The Mimic World."

Ray and Catto present a comedy skit entitled "Well I Don't Care." This saying has caused many failures in this world but to these two gentlemen it means a good many laughs.

The Wooster Seal owned and trained by Mr. Strassell seems to do everything but talk. This seal gives its demonstration absolutely alone on the stage.

Big Hollow Day

Community Club To Hold
Poultry And Grain
Show Saturday

The Pumpkin Hollow Community club will hold its "first annual" poultry and grain show and bazaar Saturday at the Pumpkin Hollow school, seven miles north of Madison on Highway 10.

Prof. J. G. Halpin of the Wisconsin college of agriculture will be judge of the poultry and will give an afternoon address on "Culling the Farm Stock." Prizes will be awarded. At the grain show, home grown corn, oats, wheat, barley, rye, peas, and beans will be exhibited.

A chicken supper will be served from 5:30 to 7.

Dancers in Union Vodvil Act

Carolyn Hinsdell and Reinette
Douglas

Carolyn Hinsdell and Reinette Douglas, two of the best known dancers in school are pictured above in a pose taken from one of their dances to be given in "Do Re Mi," a song and dance melange, to be presented in Union Vodvil by Mu Phi Epsilon, honorary musical sorority.

Union Board will present Union Vodvil at the Parkway theatre on Friday and Saturday of this week.

It is a biennial show given in the interests of the Union Memorial.

Miss Hinsdell and Miss Douglas will appear in two dances, one a "Raggedy Ann" dance and the other a boy and girl novelty. Their costumes were made with others for the act by Lester, Chicago, best known costumers in the middle west. Their "Raggedy Ann" costumes are startling creations which give their doll antiques an astounding aspect of realism. Both dancers have studied in university dancing classes, and elsewhere and have appeared in several university functions.

"Do Re Mi" presents a company of 12 of the best singers in the music school. Mrs. Elizabeth Nuss Beckwith and Katherine Reid will be featured as soloists.

Avoid Xmas Fires

Fred Gratz, Electrical Inspector, Warns Against Tree
Blazes This Year

Special care in the installation of additional electrical appliances in the home and display windows of department stores over the holidays is asked of the public by Fred E. Gratz, electrical inspector, in a statement issued Wednesday. Abolishment of the old fashioned and dangerous candle-lit Christmas tree is requested.

The open flame candles in close proximity of highly inflammable wood and decorations is one of the most dangerous faults of the public during the Christmas period, he says.

Merchants of the city are also asked to use ever-care in the installation of window displays. The crowded conditions of the stores during the approaching period may result in a great loss of life and property should a fire start from defective wiring. No tinsel or toys should be suspended from the light fixtures as they may lead the current to inflammable substances or cause a short circuit in the lighting system. The electrical inspector offers his cooperation to everyone contemplating electrical displays.

Local Boy Scout Troops to Aid Harding Drive

Scoutmasters of the local organization met Monday night at headquarters. National chiefs have asked the local leaders to cooperate with the Harding Memorial association in its fund campaign. Each troop with a 100 percent contribution will be given a certificate bearing the photograph and signature of the late president.

At the annual rally Friday at Guild hall, Joseph Schafer, superintendent of the Wisconsin State Historical society will address the boys.

Farmers Learning Value of Seed Innoculation

Wisconsin farmers are inoculating their legume seeds before putting them into the ground. The growing demand for inoculation cultures at the Wisconsin college of agriculture bears this out. Figures show that there has been an ever increasing demand by farmers in the state for legume cultures since 1918. During that year 8,000 cultures were distributed while in 1923 this number exceeded 50,000.

Zaps Flood Hawaiiia, Turneure Tells Club

Of the 260,000 persons in the Hawaiian Islands, 110,000 are Japanese, according to Frederick E. Turneure, dean of the college of engineering, who addressed the Men's club of St. Andrew's church Monday night.

"The Oriental element is very strong in the islands, but the Oriental has no voting power," Mr. Turneure stated.

"Before the white man came to this country the island natives had a language all their own, but it could not be written. The whites helped them form an alphabet which consisted of twelve letters. The letters in this alphabet included all the vowels and the letters h, k, l, m, p and w." Dean Turneure recently returned from a trip to the islands.

AIRSHIP GAS IS CHEAPEST IN U. S.

Supply of Helium For Lighter-
Than-Air Craft Secured
From Oil

"Modern chemistry has developed a lighter-than-air gas that has made the use of airships practical through the production of helium, a non-inflammable gas, which can be produced fairly cheaply," J. R. Mathews, director of the course in chemistry, said yesterday.

"America alone has the only known source from which a cheap supply can be secured. Most nations can get helium only from the air at prohibitive cost. Certain natural gas wells in the south-west part of the United States are unique in having a considerable portion of their gases made up of helium. Nowhere else in the United States or in the world are these helium producing gas wells known to exist," said Professor Mathews.

Before the world war, professors H. P. Cady and D. F. McFarland of the University of Kansas proved that some natural gases contained helium. During the world war, samples of gas from Texas submitted to them by Col. G. A. Burrell showed a sufficient helium content to justify the building of extraction plants at the wells.

Helium is separated from the illuminating gas by liquefaction processes, after which the helium is stored in steel cylinders under pressure for shipment to the airship hangars.

DEMAND FOR DAIRY CATTLE STRONG HERE

A demand for dairy cattle during the month of November is noted by A. O. Collentine, of the Wisconsin college of agriculture, in his monthly dairy cattle report. Records show that 6,139 head of dairy cattle were moved out of the state during November. Iowa was the largest buyer. The large demand for dairy cattle is due, partially, to the call for animals to replace those lost by being slaughtered, after reacting to the tuberculin test, Collentine declared.

Local A. C. Votes for Enlarged Forestry Study

The vote of the Madison Association of Commerce on the recommendation for a national forestry policy, recently submitted to all members of the National Chamber of Commerce, is practically in accord with the majority sentiment of the various chambers. Of the 2,000 or more associations, 95 per cent voted for the section which requests congress to provide for enlargement of federal research in forest products. The vote is of local interest, since the Forest Products laboratory here is responsible for the major portion of the research in wood products.

SECURE BLODGETT AS HOCKEY COACH

Former Wisconsin Puck Chaser to Take Place of
Dr. Viner

Robert O. Blodgett '23, has been secured to act as hockey coach for the coming season, following the withdrawal of Dr. A. K. Viner from that position.

Blodgett is an all around athlete, having won two W's in track and played two years on the varsity hockey team. He is a fine skater and won the annual skate across across Lake Mendota twice. His home is in Minneapolis.

Regular work for hockey candidates will begin as soon as the ice is good, which will probably not be until after the holidays. The athletic department promises an unusually good rink this year and intends to have the ice in first rate condition.

Peace, disarmament, highways, rural schools, labor, and soldier bonus, were the most popular subjects among the 17,114 package libraries loaned by the Badger University extension division during the last two years.
