"PREXY" GLENN FRANK PAYS VISIT TO MADISON

Seniors Bow to Freshmen In Memorial Union Contest

Figures at Midnight Show
$23,620 to $14,815; Complete Check-up Today

'28 beat '25.

A preliminary check-up at midnight indicated that the freshmen had subscribed $23,620 to the Memorial Union in the one day class contest yesterday, while the seniors obtained only $14,815.

The seniors were hurrying around until midnight in hopes of having more to report than the freshmen. Loose ends of the campaign will be gathered up today. Lester Kissel, chairman of the '25 campaign, will receive complete reports from solicitors today at the offices in the old Clinic building, and further attempts to visit all members of the class will be made this morning.

Freshmen Hurl Defi

The original plans of the "Now Watch '25" campaign called for a one day canvas of '25 on May 25. With the latest Union plans submitted to the board of regents, the seniors were encouraged to hold a campaign to make the class a 100 per cent for the Union before leaving the university.

A challenge was hurled by the freshmen at the seniors during Captain night celebration last Friday night on lower campus, a direct outgrowth of painting a green '28 over the cardinal '25 on the Union board sign in front of the Union building.

Both classes marshalled their forces over the week end, with '25 holding the advantage of $3,000.

NOMINATE FOR RED GAUNTLET TONIGHT

Nominations for officers of Red Gauntlet will be made at the Green Button banquet at 6 o'clock tonight in Lutherv Memorial church. Dean Miller, freshman dean of women, will speak. Alice Corl '25 and May Jane Snyder '28 will be called upon by toastingmistress Florence Ludden '28, president of Green Button. Voting will take place Thursday in Lathrop. Since the freshmen women have had scant opportunity to meet as a group, the officers of Green Button are expecting a large attendance at the function. Tickets will be on sale all day today in Lathrop.

COMMUNITY SING SET FOR TONIGHT

Choral Union Strives to Develop Student Singing Spirit

The choral union is attempting to develop the spirit of student singing by means of the community sing which will be held at 6:30 o'clock tonight on Lincoln terrace.

Not only is the "sing-along" to create an interest in singing on the campus, but it is also for the benefit of the entire community. The people of Madison are cordially invited to join the song festival and to become members of the choral union.

"We hope that this "sing-along" will become a tradition here at Wisconsin as it is at other universities," said Prof. E. B. Gordon, of the School of Music, who is in charge of the event.

The program for this evening follows. The men's glee club will sing "The Bells of Saint Mary's," and the women's glee club will sing "If Winter Comes." The choral union will sing "Deep River," "Varsity," "If You Want to Be a Badger," "Where Monona's Waters Play," "University Medley," "Love's Old Sweet Song," and "On Wisconsin" will be sung by the chorus.

GOODNIGHT CANCELS VENETIAN PROGRAM OFFICIAL NOTICE

Venetian Night having been postponed because of inclement weather on Saturday evening, some of the piers were inspected by the judges on Sunday evening. It was proposed by the committee to have the remainder inspected on Monday evening, but this office assumes the responsibility for countermanding that arrangement. By faculty vote, these last two weeks prior to examinations are to be kept free from distractions in order to encourage a period of intensive preparation. It is to be regretted, of course, that weather conditions made the fete impossible at the proper time, but that seems no good reason for prolonging the activities after the Interscholastic guests have gone and our closed season has begun.

Dean of Men.

FINANCIERS TALK COMMERCE DAY

Mann '97 and Stevenson Will Discuss Some of Commercial Problems

Activities of Commerce day on Friday, will include, in addition to the banquet at the Park hotel at 6 o'clock, a meeting at 3:30 o'clock in the afternoon at Sterling hall.

Men who have distinguished themselves in the financial world, one of them a Wisconsin graduate of 1897, will be speakers at these meetings.

W. H. Mann '97, who will speak at the afternoon meeting, is general manager of Marshall Field and company, wholesale. He formerly was advertising manager of Munsey's magazine.

The banquet speaker will be Andrew Stevenson, Chicago financier, who is vice president and treasurer of the Inland Fuel company and co-founder and director of the Union Fuel company of Chicago. Mr. Stevenson is known as the author of the Stevenson plan for consolidation of railroads under the United States transportation act.

John F. Bridgeman '25 is chairman of Commerce day. The ticket sale is being handled by Edwin J. Sorenson '25, chairman, H. B. Stair '25, and Mildred H. Kramer '26. Veronica Egan '25 is in charge of the banquet and is assisted by Helen Hinckley '27, and Stanley R. Caldwell '25. Harold Caldwell '25 is chairman of publicity. Members of his committee are George F. Rentschler '25, Florence B. Mazzahn '27, and Arthur E. Gaik '27.

Alpha Tau Omega Wins Cup for Pier; Chi Psi is Second

Alpha Tau Omega won first prize for the piers decorated for Venetian night with Chi Psi second. Acacia and Kappa Sigma, who decorated a pier together, received honorable mention by the judges.

The judging committee was an informal one due to the fact that the judges who had originally been secured for Saturday night could not be secured for Sunday night. The two cups which were to have been awarded for the floats will be saved until next year.

The float parade could not be held due to the fact that the war canoes and barges could not be retained until Sunday night when the judging was held.

GORDY BRINE IS NAMED HEAD OF HAESFOOT CLUB

New Constitution Provides Changes in Membership Elections

Gordon F. Brine '26 was elected president of the Haresfoot club for the year 1925-26 at a meeting of the club last night in the Union building. Other officers chosen for next year were Byron Rivers '26, vice president; Russell G. Winnie, secretary; James Harrison '27, treasurer; and Vilas J. Boyle '26, keeper of the Haresfoot and publicity director.

Change Constitution

Adoption of a new constitution was made which provides for an entirely new basis for election to membership in the club. The new system of election combines a portion of the merit plan in effect for the past two years and the old system of individual election which was the former basis.

Other changes in the constitution provide for the creation of a production board which will relieve the manager and director of considerable detailed work and also give the club the benefit of the experience of men who are intimately acquainted with the workings of the production department.

Strict Requirements

The new basis for election to membership is one of ratings for work performed. A rating of AA or three B's will entitle a man to election, or in the case of a man participating in the production of a show for only one year, special consideration may be made to elect him.

It will be necessary under this new plan for men to take active part in two productions before they are eligible to election to membership except in the cases of major cast parts or authors of books. In the case of men who receive B rating only for each year, three years' active participation will be necessary.

Don Tyrell '20 and Gerald Coe '07, members of the alumni board of the club, presented several resolutions to be passed upon by the members and also gave a report of the financial standing of the club. Mr. Tyrell and Mr. Coe will meet with the Student Life and Interests committee together with a committee from the club in regard to the itinerary and time of year for the next production.

3,000 BADGERS HAVE BEEN DISTRIBUTED

Three thousand Badgers have been given out so far and only 700 more are left, announced Ben Anderson '26, business manager of the 1926 Badger, yesterday afternoon. "Of these there are only 25 Badgers left open for sale at $6 each. We hope to get the Badgers for which subscriptions have been issued given out this week," said Anderson.

DR. FRANK PRAISES TRADITIONS IN LETTER TO DAILY CARDINAL

"To The Daily Cardinal: I wish it were possible for me to say something to The Daily Cardinal that would really be worth printing, but I fear I cannot. During the last 24 hours I have almost exhausted all the ways I can devise for saying the one thing about the University of Wisconsin and my future relation to it that it seems I can say and stay within the boundaries of common sense and good judgment.

"That one thing is this, the University of Wisconsin has always, in its greatest hours, stood firmly for that freedom of investigation and courage of expression without which neither great scholarship nor good citizenship is possible. The University of Wisconsin has always, in its greatest hours, linked learning very closely with life. I could not do other than embrace the opportunity to have a part in the preservation and promotion of such a great and inspiring tradition.

"I am looking forward with the greatest eagerness to giving the best there is in me in service to the students, to the faculties, to the governing boards of the university, and to the best interests of the State in which I am to make my future home.

"Signed:
GLENN FRANK."

New President Here to Confer With Officials

Glenn Frank has arrived.

Without any heralding publicity, the president-elect arrived in Madison Sunday morning. He was met by a committee of the regents composed of Theodore Kronshage, president of the board, M. B. Olbrich and John Callahan.

"I won't be able to come back to assume my duties as president much before September," said Dr. Frank last night. "I have some contracts which I took over just before I entered upon this new project at Wisconsin which I shall have to disentangle before I shall be free to come west.

Hold Conferences

Sunday was spent in conferences with the regents, members of the university administration and other faculty members. He visited his future home, the John M. Olin home that was recently willed to the university campus. The president-elect was enthusiastic over the new $1,000,000 Wisconsin General hospital.

Dr. Frank registered at the Lorraine hotel. At noon he met with the governor, President Birge and regents of the university. The evening meal was taken at the Maple Bluff Country club. Yesterday

Senior Invitations Arrived Yesterday at Kamera Kraft

Senior commencement invitations arrived yesterday from the manufacturers, the Chas. H. Elliott Co., Philadelphia.

Seniors who ordered invitations may secure them by calling at The Kamera Kraft Shop, 606 State Street, at any time between 8:30 and 6 o'clock.

Seniors who have not yet ordered their invitations, or who wish to order additional invitations, may do so for the next few days at The Kamera Kraft Shop. Orders will be accepted, subject to the number of days the factory requires to make delivery.

Since it will require from one to advised to place orders immediately weeks to make delivery, seniors are to avoid disappointment.

PRESIDENT ASKS ALL MOTHERS TO HOME RECEPTION

Will Receive Parents of Students on Saturday Afternoon

To receive true Wisconsin welcome and to meet the faculty members of their sons' and daughters' university, the mothers of both men and women students are invited to attend a reception at President Birge's home from 3 to 5:30 o'clock Saturday.

Since only a limited number of the faculty could be invited to be honor guests because of lack of room, the choice had to be given to the professors, those about to retire, and those large and well-known classes. Fifteen men and fifteen women students will act as hosts and hostesses to help the mothers meet the faculty.

Receive By Classes
Those in the receiving line will be President Edward A. Birge, Miss Nan Birge, President Theodore Kronshage of the board of regents, Miss F. Louise Nardin, Dean Scott Goodnight, Alice Corl '25, ex-president of W. S. G. A., Alberta Johnson '26, president of W. S. G. A., and the retiring and newly elected presidents of the union board.

"Juniors and freshmen are asked to come early in the afternoon and seniors and sophomores late. We want them to bring their mothers as well as well as the girls," said Alice Corl '25, chairman of the reception.

The same plea for the men students to feel themselves a part of this Mothers' Reception Week-end comes from Dorothy Strauss '26, chairman of the banquet Saturday night.

"Whether mothers have sent in acceptances to the committee or not, students must buy their tickets before Thursday, if they know that their mothers are coming. Otherwise they will not be able to attend the banquet. The replies serve only as a rough estimate as to the number the committee may count upon," said Miss Strauss.

TO SELL FOOD AT FIELD EXERCISES

Proceeds From Booth Will Go to W. A. A. Cottage, Says Maytum

The spectators at the Field day exercises at 2:30 on Saturday afternoon will not have a chance to become hungry, for according to Loraine Maytum '28, chairman of the food committee, a booth is to be erected near the Field house.

At this booth which will be decorated with the class colors, the customary foods such as sandwiches, lemonade, and candy, will be sold.

Assistants on the food committee are Donabelle Keyes '26, Hilda Guenther '27, Daisy Simpson '25, Gladys Culver '27, Jane Carling '27, Mabel Hupprich '26, and Esther Fiel field '25.

The proceeds from the Field day exercises and Dance drama are to go for the W. A. A. cottage except 20 per cent of it which will be put in the Orcheses fund.

The tickets for Dance drama are on sale at Hook Bros. All the seats are reserved and cost $1. Ruth Klinger '25 is in charge of the sale. Mary Elizabeth Haven '25 is chairman of the finance committee, and Josephine Winter '27 is assisting her.

The Big Ten race for the baseball championship tightened considerably this past week end. Although Ohio still holds the lead, Chicago and Indiana are tied for second place and ready to jump into the lead should the flying Buckeyes show signs of faltering.

Michigan reached the upper bracket by virtue of the walloping they handed the Illini Saturday. All six of the Sucker twirlers were knocked out of the box. Nothing could stop the slugging Wolverines. Indiana had a narrow escape in their game with the Purple nine. One run was all that kept them up in a tie for second place with the Maroons.

With Steen, veteran first sacker, out of the fracas, the Wisconsin nine dropped a 12-7 game to the Maroons Saturday. Too many errors spelled defeat for the Cardinals. Although they outlasted their opponents Coach Lowman's men could not handle the ball with the result that the Windy City nine remained in a tie with the Hoosiers for second place.

Wisconsin-Illinois

Yesterday the Badgers took on the Illinois team in what should be a most evenly matched game. Earlier the Badgers by a large margin but they are fast falling off into a second rate club while Wisconsin has improved considerably.

Minnesota's Coach Accepts
$10,000 Job in West

LOS ANGELES — A brass band and a coterie of co-eds greeted William H. Spaulding when he arrived here from Minneapolis Saturday to sign a five-year contract to direct athletics at the University of California, southern branch.

Spaulding resigned as head football coach at the Minnesota university to accept a job with the California school. Authorities of the local institution withheld confirmation of the appointment until Saturday when they staged a formal celebration with Spaulding himself on hand to do the honors.

His contract, it is understood, calls for a salary of $10,000 annually. Spaulding will take over his new job as soon as he can be released by the Gophers. He said he would probably have to return to Minnesota for the football season, sending a substitute here to

COMMERCE MAG OUT TOMORROW

Last Issue of Year Has Big Article on Crew History

The rejuvenated Commerce magazine, which makes its final appearance for the year on campus news stands tomorrow, has plenty of athletic news in it. It might be called a special "crew" number, as four full pages are devoted to that sport. There is a two page headline in this popularized issue spreading over an article written by Laurence Eklund '27 on the coming trip of the varsity and freshman crews to the Poughkeepsie regatta. The articles goes back to 1893 in bringing the history of crew at Wisconsin up to date.

The frontpiece has a large picture of Eric O. Grunitz '25, the only commerce man on the varsity crew, and around him are grouped smaller pictures of the other rowers.

A picture of "Slim" Ellingson, baseball captain, brightens up the usually cut and dried Up and Down the Hill column.

Among the several articles by practical business men is one by William Fisher '18, sales manager of the French Battery and Carbon Company. Fisher has used an entirely new method of writing in this

GERMAN PROFESSOR WILL LECTURE HERE

Prof. Wolfgang Koehler of the University of Berlin will deliver a lecture on the "Mentality of Apes" at 4:30 o'clock Wednesday, in the Engineering auditorium. Through the support of German foundation he was able to spend a long time in the observation of chimpanzees and other primates in their native haunts. His observations have been recorded in a series of moving pictures which Prof. Koehler will use to illustrate his lecture. He has also written a book on the subject. The lecture is open to the public.

MANY JOBS FOR ENGINEER GRADS

Employers Write for Men to Fill Numerous Technical Positions

Practically every senior engineer has an opportunity to secure a position before graduation because of the great number of letters that are received by the College of Engineering from various manufacturing and other concerns throughout the country requesting the services of young engineers in many capacities.

This year the majority of letters have asked for men for engineering sales work, but there are also many demands for men to fill positions involving technical work. The university does not maintain any special office for the placing of graduating engineers, but the letters received from concerns are referred to the several department heads who then post notices regarding the positions offered and it is up to the individual to take advantage of the opportunities.

Frequently communications are

WOMEN SHATTER 3 TRACK RECORDS

Marks in 100, 50 and 60 Yard
Hurdles Fall in Outdoor Meet

Three Wisconsin records fell and as many more were approached in the women's preliminary track meet held last week at Camp Randall. Ann Smith '25 copped the honors when she tore through the finish tape on the 100 yard and 50 yard dashes and in the 60 yard hurdles in record breaking time.

Track teams for the interclass finals to be run off on field day were picked from those qualifying in the preliminaries.

Those making the grade for the seniors are Signe Carlquist, manager, Grace Baird, Grace Goldsmith, Marylyn Norton, Daisy Simpson, Ann Smith, and Ernestine Troemel. Placing for the juniors are Lorraine Maytum, manager, Harriet Graham, Esther Horswell, and Edith Jorris, and Beatrice Richardson.

The sophomores are represented by Lorraine Fritz, manager, Eulalie Beffel, Pearl Gaalaas, Evelyn Hamer, Emiah Hopkins, Muriel Markham, and Lucy Newell. With the frosh are Virginia Kemp, manager, Ruth Fax, Phyllis Edkins, Frances Jenkins, Laura Linden, Frances Weber, and Flora Wilder.

received by the College of Engineering asking the deans or department heads to recommend capable graduates for certain positions and the most promising students are then given a chance. Although exact figures are not available, many seniors secure positions between February and June, according to Prof. Larson, and a questionnaire will be issued in the near future to determine the number that have been placed this year.

MARKS MADE BY FROSH IMPROVE WITH EACH MEET

Coach Burke Drives Yearling
Tracksters For Hard Hawkeye Tilt

With only two more days of practice left before the all-important Iowa meet, Coach Mead Burke is preparing his freshmen charges to outdo the best marks they have made this year.

In the three meets held so far the green tracksters have made marks in several events that would qualify for the varsity.

Chapman Good
Chapman has run the mile in 4:30 and the two mile in 9:41 4-5. These both are excellent time. Stowe, the newly discovered star from Idaho, has run the century in 10 2-5 seconds. He also has set the best mark in the quarter mile with a time of 52 4-5 seconds. Eilesen has turned in good time in the half miles 2 2-5 seconds.

The hurdle marks are fair with Hanson doing the highs in 16 1-5, and Eisele the lows in 27 flat. Six feet is the best of any of the high jumpers. Barnes reached this height. Capt. Sappenfield made 21 feet 3 1-2 inches in the broad jump.

Miller, one of the best sprinters of the squad, made 23 1-2 seconds in the 220 dash. Eleven feet is the best height reached by the frosh pole vaulters. Lemer, who made that mark, ought to do close to 12 feet against Iowa.

Vallincourt, giant shotputter, has heaved the lead ball 36 feet 7 inches and is getting farther with each throw. Miller throws the discus 105 feet and Van Horn heaves the javelin 156 feet. Both these boys are improving with each meet.

Stylish Shirts for Coatless Days

In his eagerness to be friendly, Old Sol has a tendency to display too much warmth these days. You must slip off your coat—but will your shirt allow it?

It will add greatly to your comfort to know that your shirt is new and correctly cut, that your tie is fresh and bright, its colors harmonizing or in pleasing contrast.

You are sure of finding style and wearability in our large stock of Arrow, Wilson Bros., and Ambassador shirts with or without attached collar. Solid whites or patterns with collar to match are equally popular this season. A careful choice of shirts and neckwear will add much to your peace of mind by improving your warm weather appearance.

CARDINAL SPORTS

Athletics in
Collegiate World"WE CAN DO IT" NEW MOTTO OF BADGERS IN COMING MICHIGAN TILTOptimistic in Spite of Many Obstacles on Road to Victory

"We can do it"—that is the spirit that prevails at Camp Randall as the track squad team starts its week of practice before taking on the strong Michigan squad in the toughest dual meet that the Cardinal team has to face this year.

It takes a lot of optimism to make such a statement but that is the stuff that makes the world progress. Every man on the team realizes that he will have to perform better than at any previous time this season, yet they are firm in the belief that they have a 50-50 chance. It is not that feeling of over confidence that ruins so many teams—it is more that calm, determined resolve to win that usually carries on to the accomplishment of the desired end, with which the men are imbued. It will be a real test of their ability.

Many Obstacles

Several obstacles have thrown themselves in the path of Coach Jones. First there is the question of Herb Flueck, star quarter miler. Flueck tore a muscle in practice last week and was out of the meet with the Gophers and it is very doubtful if he will be in shape to run at Michigan. His loss will be a severe blow to the Badger hopes. Then Captain Vallely was limping around the track yesterday with a swollen knee which is very likely to keep him out of the mile race against the Wolverines Friday. With these two stars out of the competition it will take some superhuman efforts on the part of the remainder of the squad to score a victory over the all powerful Michigan squad.

An idea of the strength of the Michigan team may be gained from the fact that for the first time in 27 years they scored a victory over Illinois in a dual meet and that, in a year when Coach Gill has a galaxy of stars including Kinsey, Olympic winner in the hurdles and Evans record holder in the 220 dash and also starring in the century.

Lasted among the Wolverine stars is the famous Dehart Hubbard, Maize and Blue colored wonder, who is capable of taking firsts in any of five events. He could win without any difficulty the 100, 220, broad jump, and both hurdle races. It is purely a question of where he will be used to most advantage. Then there is Reinke, holder of the conference indoor half mile record who is certain to repeat again against the Badgers. In the 100 along with Hubbard there is Wittman who can turn in better than event time in the century. In addition to these outstanding stars who would be sure winners in any competition Coach Farrell has one of the most well balanced squads that has ever represented Michigan on cinderpaths.

Where the Wolverines are weak Wisconsin is strong, that is, if the Wolverines are weak in any department. Schwarze should take a first in the shot and discus. Although defeated in last Friday's meet with Minnesota in the discus, Coach Jones expects to have his stellar man back in form in time to defeat the best that Michigan can offer. His 10 points will be needed badly in these two events.

"Mac" Lame

Another worry that Coach Jones has is caused by his dash ace, "Pat" McAndrews. Against the Gophers "Mac" could not go at top speed on account of a bad leg and it is still a question whether he will be in the best of shape to compete against the flock of Wolverine dash stars. When he is going at top form McAndrews can give the best of them a battle all the way and would stand a good chance to take either the 100 or 220 but with a bad leg he will be doing well to take a place. Francis, understudy of "Mac" who has been improving all season, is being groomed to fill the star's shoes.

This week promises to be one of the hardest in the history of the Badger tracksters as Coach Jones pushes his men at top speed to defeat the Michigan team.

Out With Injuries

HERBERT FLUECK

When Herb Flueck pulled a tendon in practice this week it meant that the famous Cardinal mile relay quartet will be broken up for the Minnesota dual meet this afternoon. Flueck has been lead off man on the quartet all season.

NAVY, YALE, AND
PENN ARE STRONG
EASTERN CREWS

Washington Picked to Win
Again at Poughkeepsie
June 22th

While Wisconsin's varsity and freshman eights were prevented from rowing on Lake Mendota because of a rough wind last Saturday, their Eastern opponents were holding races, the results of which indicate that Pennsylvania and the Navy will be up in front at the finish June 22.

Pennsylvania rowed on the Harlem Saturday in the annual Columbia-Princeton-Penn two mile regatta and both the freshmen and the varsity crews were victorious. The Quaker varsity stroked by Don Irimiger, a Green Bay Wisconsin boy, crossed the finish line a length and a half ahead of Princeton.

The Navy Midshipmen won a decisive victory from Harvard and Syracuse over a two mile course on the Severn, covering the distance in 9 minutes 26 4-5 seconds, breaking the course record by three and a half seconds, all of which indicates that the Navy oarsmen are to be feared in the Poughkeepsie race. Yale and the Navy are the only unbeaten Eastern crews at the present time.

Freshmen crews of Pennsylvania, Columbia and Syracuse, to be met by the Badgers on the Hudson, also raced Saturday. The Quaker first year men left the weaker Columbia crewmen trailing behind and the Syracuse freshman lost a close race to the navy plebes.

Columbia and Cornell have shown little strength in preliminaries this year and many critics say that they have but a small chance. That leaves Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Washington and the Navy as the logical contenders for the rowing crown.

Pennsylvania's victory in the varsity race was a tribute to Jim Rice, who formerly coached Columbia and assumed full charge of the Penn rowers only a few days ago. For the first mile according to newspaper reports, the duel for first place was fought out, with Penn slightly in the lead and Columbia still hanging on, well to the rear of the Princeton shell. As the mile mark was passed, the Quakers rowing strongly but none too smoothly, had a margin of three-quarters of a length on the Nassau shell.

Then the Red and Blue oarsmen of Pennsylvania spurred and by the time Washington bridge, a quarter of a mile from the finish, was reached they had increased their lead to a length and a half, with the Blue and White of Columbia already far back. Princeton, however, kept fighting and actually made up some distance at the end.

Washington rows the year around in a channel connected with Puget Sound or in a lake nearby and is hoping this year to win the championship for the third consecutive time. Despite the handicap of the long trip east last June and the sickness which struck them, the western men were able to assert their supremacy.

JUNIORS TRIM
FROSH IN CLOSE
7-6 BALL GAME

Battle Royal Results in Pitchers' Dual; Only Ten Hits Made

In a pitchers' duel marked by few but well placed hits the juniors took the frosh into camp for a 7-6 victory in the first women's interclass baseball game last week at Camp Randall.

The game opened with the juniors at bat when Bigelow singled to right field. Jennings followed with a pop to short and on Frazer's muff arrived safe at first with Bigelow on second. Then Shepard broke loose with a long drive to center, netting a triple and scoring on an overthrow to third. Twice more that inning the juniors got on and Sherman cleaned up the bags, sealing home just before the third out was made, ringing up the sixth run.

In the frosh half Retting walked and scored on Hovswell's bingle. Then Moller and Nauts got on and with the bases full Campbell drove to center, bringing them home. Markuson struck out. Score 6-4.

Many Strike Out

From then on both sides settled down, the frosh blanking the juniors until the fourth inning when Pease scored the winning run on Crockett's sacrifice to first, and the juniors holding the frosh to two runs garnered in the second inning.

Hits were few, coming only in the first two innings, but strikeouts were many, Hoover, junior hurler, ringing up 12, and O'Malley and Petry, frosh twirlers, scoring five and three respectively.

MOVIES OF FRANK

Motion pictures of Dr. Glenn Frank, president-elect of the university, were shown at the Strand at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, shortly after his arrival in Madison. The pictures were taken by M. E. Diermer, university photographer and Vinje, Wisconsin State Journal cameraman. The cameras caught the arrival of the president-elect, his welcome by President Birge and several other interesting scenes. The pictures will be shown at the Strand until Thursday.

HERE'S TO '28

We take our hats off to the class of 1928. It is a winner. At the present writing it has added $13,917 to the Memorial Union building fund, and it has some six or eight hours more to go before its campaign day is finished.

Few thought that '28 could do it. And why? There were plenty of reasons; the class has not been on the campus long enough to become sufficiently acquainted with the union idea and spirit, it was thought; the class wouldn't be interested enough to donate much, and so forth, and so forth.

But '28 has come across in splendid fashion. One member of the class—a girl—pledged $500; four girls from one house pledged $100 each. And so it has gone. Call it the enthusiasm of youth—no slur is meant—or what you will, '28, under capable leadership has shown a splendid spirit of tremendous loyalty and devotion to a just cause.

We take our hats off to '28.

BETTER TIMES

Wisconsin is looking up. Back about 1912, Wisconsin was certainly the leading western university—in equipment, faculty, athletics, student spirit, Wisconsin occupied a place of western pre-eminence and national prominence. Then came a great flood of students, and Wisconsin changed overnight from a college into a university. Just as the United States has had great difficulty in assimilating European immigrants, so Wisconsin has a hard time digesting her doubled enrollment. The community lost its solidarity of spirit; intense group spirit and group rivalry arose. The equipment of the university became hopelessly inadequate, and for a time the legislature would not make the necessary appropriations to balance the growth of the university. As a result the university lost ground; Wisconsin slumped in athletics, in its spirit.

But now everything looks most hopeful. There is a new president—young and vigorous—who will have a constructive policy of development. There is a new athletic director who has already put a new spirit into Wisconsin athletics, whose achievements in spring football alone presage great things for next fall. The legislature has at last passed an appropriation which will remedy the crowded condition of university buildings and will make possible a change from the present stand-still position. And it seems that the Memorial Union, which will undoubtedly be the greatest single force in welding the student body together into a tremendous unity of purpose, is near at hand.

The activities of the senior and freshmen classes during the past few days are a significant sign of the new times. Nothing will do more to break up group spirit and factional division than a real, active, healthful class spirit and class unity. Finally we seem to have two classes on the campus which are real classes, and not mere academic divisions, but units with actual class consciousness. The money which has been raised in the campaign is important, but far more important is the psychological effect—the intense, vital interest which has been aroused in the Memorial Union in individual members of the classes and the campus as a whole, and, secondly, the stimulating example and spectacle of class organization, class unity, class spirit.

Much can be hoped and expected of the present freshman class. They have at least tried to do something and tried rather hard. It is to be hoped that their spirit of doing will gain momentum with each succeeding year so that as seniors they may give the university such an undergraduate leadership as it has never seen before. And such leadership will be more than usually important in 1928, for it is then that the Memorial Union will begin to function and the traditions and precedents laid down in the first year will be all-important. It is also to be hoped that the example set by 1928 will be emulated by succeeding freshman classes.

It really looks as if the spark which has never died here has been fanned into a new and flaming spirit. There are no black clouds on the horizon, and Wisconsin has every hope for the future.

FUTURE BADGERS

Now that the 1926 Badger has practically completed its work and placed the finished copies in the hands of subscribers it might be well to consider just what a year book should be. First, of course, it should tell the graphic story of a year's happenings. That is why it is called a year book. Beyond that it may achieve a half dozen aims. But above all it should get a favorable reception from the students. If the subscribers of the book are pleased it has accomplished one of its chief efforts.

The 1926 Badger has done that admirably. The work of both the editorial and business staffs is highly creditable. They did what they set out to do: create a book that would be a fitting remembrance of their class.

But the tendency of college annuals is toward more lavish display of costlier books. Naturally all classes want to beat records of those set before them. Going still further they want to beat the records set by other colleges. That is where the difficulty of too strict competition enters. There is a limit beyond which college annuals cannot go. Perhaps we have not reached it, but we hope so.

Without any reflection on the work of the staff of the 1926 Badger or on any of those before it, we hope that some time a Badger editor will come along who will have the courage and the nerve to put out a book with fewer pages than the one before—and at a cheaper price.

He will meet with much opposition, and probably his classmates will accuse him of throwing them down, but he will win the gratitude and admiration of the students who buy his book and he will attain a record as enviable as any of his predecessors.

"SING-ALONG" TONIGHT

Wisconsin's spirit in song, to use a homely phrase, has been coming to the fore of late with increasing vigor and spirit. Three years ago the fraternity sing on the occasion of Varsity night was established; last year the seniors held a sing; this year the seniors plan to hold a sing on Class Day in addition to a regular sing early in June.

And now we have "Sing-Along" which will take place at 6:30 o'clock tonight on the upper campus. A good idea, we call it, one which should attract a vast majority of the student body. Goodness knows, students at this time of year have enough matters to worry them; goodness also knows that one of the best ways of dispelling these cares and troubles is in song.

No high-brow music, just a good get-together-fete of singing. And the singing will be rendered by the two Wisconsin glee clubs, the men's and the women's.

Princeton has its "sings," Dartmouth its "hums," and Wisconsin will have its "Sing-Along."

It might be advisable, since inclement weather made it impossible for all fraternities to decorate their piers Saturday night, to hold another poor fete at some later date. It would be too bad to do without Wisconsin's prettiest festival even for one year.

The freshmen are trying to put over a big thing in their Memorial Union campaign. Power to them.

June 6 has been set as the concluding day of work. Many students seem to have a good deal of foresight!

System of Study for Examinations is Given by Sharp

A definite system for studying and writing examinations is being advocated by Prof. Sharp of the philosophy department.

"Read an examination question carefully, find out just what it asks for, organize your material, and write the facts briefly without adding unrelated material. Bluffing in an examination rarely fools the instructor and is more likely to cut the grade. I have noticed that the majority of my students plunge right into writing a question without reading it over carefully. They invariably become muddled," said Prof. Sharp.

A detailed list of probable questions, compiled by the student himself, are of great help in studying for an examination. They help give him an idea of the questions which will probably be asked besides helping him organize the material in his mind."

NEW FRATERNITY RULES ANNOUNCED

New Regulations Require as Many Grade Points as Credits

New fraternity initiation rules have been adopted by the Committee on Student Life and Interests and are effective beginning next semester.

(1) Beginning with the opening of next semester, each social fraternity will be required to maintain a scholarship average of grade points equal to credits (1.00). A fraternity failing to reach this minimum goes on probation for a semester without penalty. A fraternity which remains on probation more than one semester in succession forfeits social privileges and privileges of initiation until it attains the prescribed average. A fraternity may appeal to the Committee on Student Life and Interests for relief from any apparent injustice caused by this regulation.

Other regulations governing pledging and initiation rule that only members of the university may be pledged or initiated, that no freshman shall lodge in a fraternity house during his first semester in the university, nor be initiated by a fraternity until he shall have completed one full semester of work, or at least 14 credits, in the university.

No student may be initiated by a fraternity while he is on probation.

A student entering with advanced standing from another institution is eligible for initiation if he is allowed at least 30 hours of credit and is not admitted on probation.

No fraternity or sorority will be allowed to initiate a student without first obtaining a certificate of approval from the dean.

(2) A new rule was adopted regarding fraternity men accompanying freshmen while they register. Freshmen are to go through the process of registration unassisted by any fraternity man. Any violation of this regulation will be treated as misconduct and dealt with accordingly.

(3) Previously rushing or pledging of freshmen before their regular enrollment, including the payment of semester fees, was prohibited. This has been altered so that

Orph Players Go on Garter Hunt; Result Not So Encouraging

"Getting Gertie's Garter" Presented at the Orpheum by the LaVern Players

By J. F. W.

We write now for collegians, begging the pardon of all others and especially of the Dorothy LaVern stock company. We speak, of course, of the current offering, "Getting Gertie's Garter," which is bringing down the house, but which we cannot recommend to people of even the slightest intellectual enlightenment. It's funny—if its particular type of silliness appeals to you.

In plot it is spread rather thin. The adventures of a wandering garter are chronicled; that's about all. The action takes place in the bungalow to which Teddy and Gertie have come for their honeymoon, and incidentally to be alone. In neither do they succeed as soon as they arrive, and many relatives and friends are on the hunt for it.

None of the characters seem to enjoy their parts very much. Miss LaVern appears as a young and witless female who wants to be "comprised," be the cost what it may. It's not her fault that the part isn't well suited to her kind of talent; in fact, she has often expressed her dislike for the type. Al Jackson is well cast as the object of her designs. Dorothy Cluer does especially fine work as the sympathetic French maid.

Undoubtedly the play will prove a sound business investment for the company. Let's hope so, because in the near future they intend to put on the fine play, "Anna Christie," on which they may lose money. Save your money and encouragement for that.

Tennessee Man Faces Trial July 10

County Grand Jury Holds Scopes Under Anti-Evolution Law

DAYTON, Tenn.—John T. Scopes, high school science teacher, was indicted by a Rhea county grand jury here today on a charge of teaching evolution in a public school in violation of the Tennessee law. The judge set July 10, at Dayton, for trial of the case. The grand jury was assembled in special session, to pass on the case presented to it as a result of a preliminary hearing two weeks ago when three justices of the peace held Scopes for grand jury action.

Judge John T. Raulston, presiding, charged the jury on the law of the theory of evolution as it shall be taught in the public schools of Tennessee the first time such a charge has been delivered in a Tennessee court.

"I make no reference to the policy or constitutionality of the statute," Judge Raulston said, "but to the evil example of the teacher in disregarding constituted authority in the presence of those whose thought and morals he is to direct and guide. To teach successfully we must teach both by precept and example."

Judge Raulston's charge in part to the jury follows:

"At the request of some of your good citizens, I have reconvened you for the purpose of investigating an alleged violation of chapter 27 of the acts of 1925, which makes it unlawful to teach in universities, normals and other public schools of the state which are supported in whole or in part by the public school fund of the state any theories which deny the story of Divine creation of man as taught in the Bible and to teach instead that man has descended from a lower grade of animal."

CRIMINOLOGY CLASSES

VISIT STATE PRISON

Sixty students in criminology courses accompanied by Asst. Prof. Harry Turney—high of the sociology department—visited the state prison at Waupun Saturday last.

Mask & Wig

The senior class play seems to be coming along mighty well just at present under the direction or rather supervision of Margaret Campbell who is chairman of the committee, Gordie Brine, the business manager, is just at present worrying about the weather. But he'll do a lot more worrying along that line if I know anything about the job of putting on a production outdoors.

"Dear Brutus," you know, is typically Barrie, with all the charming fantasy and dreamworld of all his works at the same time being allegorically realistic.

If I remember correctly, it's about a group of people who are put into a forest and their relationships all mixed helter-skelter. William Gillette played the title role in its successful run in this country some years ago.

"Getting Gertie's Garter," which is playing at the Orpheum this week doesn't sound like high tragedy or particularly elevating, but it's good comedy well put on.

Al Jackson is always good in comedy roles. He has a certain finesse which acts in a subtle manner to carry his lines over the footlights to the best advantage. Every member of the company has a good part. Jack Conley's with the company again this week too, which is well.

The little fracas up at the Strand the other night was indeed a misfortune. But if the freshmen are willing to pay the damages, as they certainly should be, everything will be forgiven and forgotten—all except the usher's cut lip which probably won't be forgotten very soon.

The Chicago theaters seem to be falling down somewhat of late, but Rose-Marie and the Student Prince seem to be holding up pretty well, with White Cargo following close behind and two, or perhaps three of America's finest actresses are playing there, Grace George, Catherine Cornell and Ann Harding.

Most all Madison stores, retail and wholesale, will be closed all day on Saturday, Memorial day, it was announced today at the Association of Commerce. Some of them will remain open Friday evening until 9 o'clock.

Stores which usually are open Saturday nights will be open Friday night instead this week. They include hardware, jewelry, shoe, clothing, women's ready-to-wear, dry goods, grocery, and ten cent stores, and meat markets. These stores will be closed all day Saturday.

Meat markets are to remain open until 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

"That Devil Quemado"
Featuring Fred Thompson
Presented at the Maejstic.

A somewhat novel pre-presentation of a famous Yale half-back, masquerading as "Quemado," a Mexican desperado who abducts all the pretty girls west of the Rio Grande and takes them to his ranch. Fred Thompson, who seems to be a rising star, looks quite collegiate and sufficiently picturesque to give the part a good bit of punch. The rest of the cast is fair, and the scenic backgrounds help the picture considerably.

"The Last of the Duane's"
Starring Tom Mix

Zane Grey, Tom Mix and the great open spaces—that is the combination which produced this picture of the days when the man who pulled the trigger first was the best man. Yes, Tom Mix pulls first, when he has to pull at all. Bad, bad men and an innocent girl are naturally included in the picture. We really thought the days of the old-time western thrillers were over, but this picture is either left over from those days or a forerunner of a revival of the pictures where "Men are Men".

Strand Feature Has Scenic Beauty; Plot Not Very Startling

"The Great Divide" Presented at the Strand, Featuring Conway Tearle and Alice Terry

By C. G. S.

This is the old story of a marriage against the woman's will, a marriage for which the man pays gold to buy off his drunken comrades. Conway Tearle, as Stephen Ghent, takes Ruth Jordan, played by Alice Terry, away to his mountain home. There they live a strange life. He loves her, but her pride makes all thought of love revolting, after having been bought. Of course there is a happy ending.

That is the essence of the plot. A cloudburst, and a ride down a canyon with a wall of water in pursuit is quite the most exciting scene which has appeared in pictures of late.

Conway Tearle and Alice Terry play their parts with an understanding and emotional quality that is very real. In some places the action tends to drag, but on the whole the entire cast dots well.

The picture is well filmed, with scenes of exceptional beauty. The grandeur of the Grand Canyon and of the Arizona desert give the picture a ruggedness and beauty of the outdoors which is refreshing, and which is too often lacking.

SATURDAY LAST DAY FOR SONG

Judging in Contest Will Take Place This Weekend

This is senior class song week. Contributors to the senior class song contest are urged to get their entries in to the committee for judging before Saturday. They may be sent to Irene Norman '25, chairman of the committee at 15 E. Gilman street or left for her at the Cardinal office in the Union building.

About a dozen songs have already been submitted according to Miss Norman. The committee hopes that all who are interested in writing a song will help in making this one of the class of 1925 not only a class song but a general commencement song which can be sung each year.

The winning number will be selected by a committee from the English and Music departments and will probably be sung for the first time at the Senior Class Sing to be held June 3. Robert Nethercut '25 will conduct the singing. The song will follow as a response to President Birge's address to the senior class.

At a conference today comprised of the student committee, Dean F. Louise Nardin, H. I. E. Perry, and Prof. E. E. Gordon, final plans for the selection of the song will be made.

The first call will be sounded at 8:15 o'clock in the morning. The men are supposed to be in their ranks, in uniform, properly armed and equipped, in battery positions, when assembly is sounded at 8:30. They are to assemble on the lower campus at this time.

The official announcement states that "In view of the sixtieth anniversary of the close of the Civil war the University Corps of Cadets will, in conjunction with other patriotic societies, participate in the Memorial day parade and other patriotic services of the day."

pledged late last week. Solicitors were selected. Class cards distributed to the workers. And at 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning the classes started to work.

'23 Leads at Start

Several thousand dollars obtained on Saturday and Sunday by the freshmen was the cause of firing a field piece several times from the top of Muir knoll at the start of the drive. For each $500 subscribed the cannon roared. Between classes several shots were fired, and the noise kept up until early in the evening.

At the start of the official campaign yesterday morning '25 was in the lead by a few thousands of dollars. By the middle of the morning the classes were tied. A flood of solicitors reported at their respective headquarters at noon, and '23 moved into the lead. Reports each hour placed the freshmen farther ahead of '25 and at the final check-up last night, '28 was leading by $9,000.
