TENNIS TEAM PLAYS IN BIG TEN CONTEST

Wisconsin is Strong Contender in Conference Meet This Week-end

The Wisconsin tennis team, accompanied by Coach G. E. Linden, entrained last night for Chicago, where they will compete in the Annual Big Ten tennis meet. The conference net men open play on the Chicago courts this morning at 8:00, and by Saturday the runners up will meet for the title. Captain Roy Gottfredson '22, T. A. Tredwell '23, Nick Aagesen '23, and William Pickard '21, are the players who went to Chicago.

No word had been received as to the results of the drawings, but the Badgers will play their initial matches some time this morning. Coach Linden is expecting both Gottfredson and Tredwell to place in the singles division. The former has had several years of experience in conference play, and has shown his skill in the recent matches with Northwestern and Chicago.

Tredwell, although a first year man, has displayed remarkable ability thus far this season. Playing in the doubles with the Badger captain, he offered no little opposition to the Chicago combination, last year's conference title winners. Linden believes that Tredwell will play well into the finals if he has any of the breaks in the drawings. Aagesen and Pickard are a strong doubles team, and will likewise be entered in the singles.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS WILL ILLUMINE PARADE FLOATS

Power for Venetian Exhibition to be Generated on Barge

Discarding candles and Japanese lanterns, the floats for the Venetian parade Saturday night will appear electrically lighted for the first time in the history of the event. The extensive power illumination has been planned by the chairman in charge, Casey Loomis '21, and the arrangements for it have been completed.

A main power line will be stretched along the masts of the floats from a 15 k. w. generator placed on a barge towed at the end of the parade. The generator, which has been secured from the electrical engineering laboratory, will supply 20 horsepower and will be run by a gas engine obtained from the Ag. school.

Large spotlights on the barge will be played on the floats during the parade and on the gym team which gives an exhibition on a floating platform as a part of the celebration. The fancy diving demonstrations to be held on the Sigma Chi pier will be lighted by searchlights on the boat house and gymnasium.

The parade floats will be wired at noon on Saturday. Each float owner is to provide a 12 foot mast to carry the main line, wire for branch circuits, sockets, and bulbs.

ATHLETIC REVIEW SETS RECORD AS FEATURE NUMBER

Will be Sold at Chicago Game and Interscholastic Meet

Combining the wealth of material of the track number with the complete program for this coming week-end which includes, the track meets, games, races and the events of Venetian night, the final issue of the Wisconsin Athletic Review will contain more features than any published since the magazine was revived this year.

Copies of the number will be off the press by Friday and will be sold at the Chicago baseball game and the Northwestern track meet on Randall field, and on Saturday at the interscholastic meet. The price will be 25 cents a single copy.

The Review will contain pictures and summaries of Wisconsin track stars of the present and the past, and will feature an article on Prof. Max Mason, a former Wisconsin track man and designer of the submarine detector. There will be an editorial review of the athletic events of the entire year.

Governor John J. Blaine and Coach T. E. Jones extend greetings to the high school athletes who will be guests of the university this week, and a biographical sketch of Coach Jones will also be contained in the Review.

News of Wisconsin's baseball and tennis teams, crew, spring football, intra-mural and inter-fraternity sports will be printed, in addition to the regular departments devoted to Badger athletes, past and present, and conference chatter.

BIRGE RECEIVES PARISIAN MEDAL

A silver medal conferred by the City of Paris, France, upon the University of Wisconsin and its president on the occasion of the visit of the Milwaukee delegation to Strassbourg and Paris, has just been received by Pres. E. A. Birge of the university.

The medal was brought to this country by Marcel Knecht of the French High commission to the United States, who was given the honorary degree of doctor of laws at the university in 1919.

The obverse bears a feminine figure with the arms of the city of Paris in one hand. At the top is the inscription, "Ville de Paris," and at the bottom, "Fluctuat Nec Mergitur." On the reverse is inscribed "President Birge."

"I shall never forget the hospitality of your state and I am proud to belong in a very affectionate way to your university," Marcel Knecht writes in a letter accompanying the medal. "I even think that I shall have the privilege of visiting you perhaps in November with Marshal Foch."

LAST CHANCE TO SECURE BADGERS

"If those who are holding stubs do not call for their Badgers today they may be unable to obtain them," said Carl Englehardt '22. "There are only a few more books left and they will be on open sale again tomorrow. No books will be reserved for stub holders but those who call first will get the books."

The remaining copies of the Badger will be on open sale tomorrow at Music hall from noon until 5 o'clock.

NEW SCHOLARSHIP TO FRANCE FOR BADGER ENGINEER

Mme. de Billy Selects Wisconsin for Gift of 4,000 Francs

A scholarship in the Metallurgic and Mining institute of the University of Nancy, France, has recently been established for a University of Wisconsin student of engineering, according to information just received by Pres. E. A. Birge. The University of Nancy is situated near the famous mining regions of Lorraine and is one of the best scientific universities in France.

The donor is Mme. K. de Billy, who established the scholarship in memory of her late husband, Edouard de Billy, a mining engineer and formerly French High commissioner to the United States. During the war Mme. de Billy founded the Association of French Homes which was a notable work of hospitality toward Americans in military service.

In choosing Wisconsin, Mme. de Billy said, "This university appears, on competent advice, especially adapted both by its scientific knowledge and importance, to profit by an offer of this kind."

The scholarship is for 4,000 francs and open to any student who has completed three years of engineering work and can pass the requirements of the University of Nancy. In case no candidate is presented by the University of Wisconsin, the scholarship will be open to any American candidate proposed by one of the other scientific universities of the United States, who shall fulfill all the requirements.

TRACK SQUAD MEETS PURPLE

Big Ten Contest Will Close Season June 3 and 4

With short workouts in every event yesterday, the Wisconsin track squad put the finishing touches to its preparation for the Northwestern dual meet at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon. While the Badgers will probably take a short practice this afternoon if the condition of the Camp Randall track permits, their main work for the competition with the Purple has been completed.

Northwestern defeated the Chicago track squad by a 79 1-2 to 49 1-2 score on Tuesday. The Methodists displayed great improvement in the meet and will give Wisconsin a closer battle than has been expected. Northwestern lost to Iowa and Purdue earlier in the season, but with the rounding into form of Poliak, Grausnick, and Szold, the Purple appear to possess a good squad.

These three men have been consistently scoring points in the dashes and the quarter-mile run. Paul D. Kayser '21 will meet Szold in the 440-yard run. Albert J. Knollin '22, Leslie McClure '23, E. W. Johnson, and R. C. Mattox '23 will compete against Poliak and Grausnick in the century and the 220-yard dash.

Blackwood and Townley are two of the biggest point winners for Northwestern in the weight events. Guy M. Sundt '21 beat the Purple shot putters in the indoor meet by a narrow margin.

Big Ten Meet Will Follow

After the Northwestern meet is out of the way, Coach Thomas E. Jones will devote his attention to

FINAL CHICAGO BALL GAME IS PLAYED FRIDAY

Lowman's Men Meet Maroons Here; Leave For Purdue Tomorrow

Coach Guy Lowman's Badger nine will take the field for their final game with Chicago tomorrow afternoon at 1:30. The Wisconsin team has been practicing all week, for a victory tomorrow will practically assure them of a position in the upper division.

In their game with the Maroons at Chicago, Lowman's men had the edge in every department of the game, and won a decisive victory. This game will not be as easy as the dope would indicate, however, for with Chicago's best moundsman, Crisler, in form, the Wisconsin hitters will have cause to worry.

Illini Scheduled to Win

The outcome of last week's game has practically placed the Big Ten title in the hands of Illinois and Michigan, with the former a favorite. The Illini blanked Wisconsin at Urbana, making it two defeats for Lowman's nine at the hands of the Suckers. Lundgren has his machine running as smoothly as any other team in the conference, and he has undoubtedly built the strongest and most evenly balanced aggregation. With Barnes, backed by three other good pitchers, the Illini will probably close the present season with a 1,000 per cent average.

The Badgers, however, will undoubtedly finish near the top of the column, for they are playing in great form at present. Michigan has still to be met, but there is every chance that Wisconsin will win from them.

Badgers Play Purdue

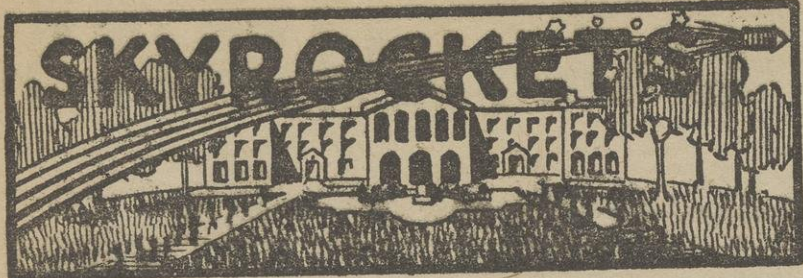

Immediately after the Chicago game tomorrow the Badgers will depart for Lafayette to meet Purdue Saturday. This game should go to Wisconsin. Sunday the squad will leave the Indiana school for Ann Arbor, where the first game with the Wolverines will be staged Monday.

Lowman will use either "Bill" Williams or Hoffman against the invading Maroons tomorrow afternoon. The former is the likely choice for he has had a long rest, and is in good form. Hoffman relieved Christianson near the close of the Northwestern game last Saturday and finished in winning form. Paddock worked against Illinois last week, and will doubtless be saved for the Michigan game next Monday.

HIGH SCHOOL TRACK CONTESTANTS ARE NOT PROVIDED FOR

Only one half of the 400 high school track men who are to compete in the Interscholastic meet here on Saturday are assured sleeping accommodations during their stay in Madison. The number entered in the meet is the largest in the history of the event, and every effort is being made to provide accommodations for them.

Fraternities have not as yet arranged for their full quota of men, and are urged to double the number they are planning for, if possible. Fraternities caring to take more men are asked to notify Paul Fischedick '22, B. 199, immediately.

The weather is conducive to perspiration, appetite, laziness, low grades, low temperature, rain, corn growing and many other things which lack of time and space prevent from being listed here. Is it our business to list them anyway? Of course not.

Tomorrow the other half of Madison will get its turn at the lake.

What pleases us is the abundance of high dives. We love to go off them but the ladder hurts our feet when we climb up. Well, we must all give up something. The noblest part of this life is sacrifice.

Do you remember in the home town when you were about 7 years old, and you called up people over the phone in order to play practical jokes on them? The Kappas have been in quest of their youth recently. They have had such a good time, and everyone has had oh so much fun.

A favor and Dean James.

Do you remember way back:

When Ken Scott played the bass viol in the Henry Street orchestra?
When Billy Buech furnished dance music?

When the lake parties came down the street at half hour intervals with the autos all shining their lights on the spectacle?

When the pit orchestra at any theater had to play "Hot Time" before the show could go on?

When malteds sold for a dime?
And not so many people drank them at that?

When Pete Hammacher's put fresh sawdust on the floor every Wednesday?

When the boys used to try to pick the coins from the Silver Dollar's floor?

When the Varsity Movie theater occupied a position on State street?

When the Delts held their chapter meeting in Pete's back room?

When the Betas could hold theirs in their own house?

When the Sig Phis only had four members?

When the Madison fire department burned down the Psi U. house?

When the police used to get thrown in the lake occasionally?

When the La Due lads monopolized a fair section of this column each Monday morning?

When Gordie Fairfield kept company with Helen Gray?

When you were not behind in your work? This was 20 years ago.

When Bill Hoard had a head full of shiny black hair?

When the Phi Psis pledged a bald headed individual? Neither do we.

When Pete Burns operated over the Kamera Kraft store?

When but oh hell, that's enough for one day.

The lake certainly took a long while to warm up this year. It took longer than we thought, and we didn't think it would.

Alice Louise Evans is applying mustard poultices where she has been colliding with the lake while diving. (Two bits to anyone arranging English more clumsily).

Jimmy Brader has him a goodly number of blisters upon his brawny shoulders. We think in fairness to Jimmy and the school this should be mentioned.

Well, it has started to rain. If we do not put on the rubbers, we get our feet wet. If we put them on, the rain will come through the holes. If we stay inside, we get wet anyway, because the roof leaks. The only thing left to do is to get on the old bathing suit and sit in the shower bath. Oh death, where is your stinger?

And here endeth the epistle!

MEN ARE INVITED TO ATTEND SENIOR SWINGOUT JUNE 3

"Because Senior Swingout is an all-university tradition, we wish the men to be interested, even though only the women participate," said Esther Haven '22, general chairman of the Swingout which will take place June 3. All the university men are invited as spectators.

This celebration, in honor of the senior women, was started four years ago, and has each year increased in popularity. Co-operation with the men last year made the affair a huge success.

Mortar board, honorary senior women's organization, fills an important place in the history of the Swingout. Announcement is made at this time of the elections to the organization, to which women are chosen for scholarship, service, and womanliness.

A customary procedure includes songs sung by each class to the senior women, was started four years ago, and has each year increased in popularity. Co-operation with the men last year made the affair a huge success.

GUN AND BLADE TO HAVE PICNIC

Members of Gun and Blade club will hold a picnic on Sunday, May 29, at Bernard park. The picnic party will leave the Park street pier at 2:30 on Sunday afternoon and will return at 9:30 p. m. Games and dancing form the major part of the picnic program.

All members of Gun and Blade who wish to attend the picnic are urged to telephone their names to the office of Mr. Tiege, Union building, at once, in order that proper reservations may be made to accommodate everyone.

made by her men against the Michigan and Chicago teams.

The Badgers' hopes were greatly increased yesterday when it was learned that the Wolverine team will enter the conference meet without the services of their star player, Westbrook, Big Ten singles champion and named as probable winner again this spring. While playing with the Michigan team at Cornell, Westbrook was taken with severe attacks of appendicitis, and was forced to undergo an operation. His loss will mean a great setback to the Wolverines as it will crumble their double attack.

TRACK TEAM TO COMPETE FRIDAY

the Big Ten track meet at Chicago on Friday and Saturday, June 3 and 4. Teams from every conference school will be entered in this annual event, and several marks will probably fall when the stars meet each other.

Dewey Alberts, Illinois holder of the Conference indoor high jump record, will engage in his last meet. He will attempt to shatter his own mark in an endeavor to annex the outdoor high jump record. Illinois, with its undefeated track team, appears to be the logical choice for the title, but the new system of scoring inaugurated in Big Ten track meets will work to the advantage of weaker schools.

The first five places in each event count, five, four, three, two, one, instead of the former method of scoring in which only four places were chalked up. With this system, well-balanced teams have the advantage over squads which are dependent on one or two individual stars.

Michigan is Strong

Michigan, which lost to Illinois recently, is another strong contender for the Big Ten title. Coach George Bresnahan's Iowa track and field squad has been having much success in the dual track meets and will be a potent entry in the meet.

Other teams have not displayed exceptional strength during the dual meet season. Judging by the team records set up during the regular track season, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Iowa and Ohio State will fight it out for the first five places in the Conference meet.

24 OUT! FROSH MEETING MAY 31

A freshman class meeting has been called for next Tuesday, May 31, at 7 o'clock in Music hall, by Jack Hurley, frosh president, in order to make final arrangements for Cap Night which will be held this year on June 4.

Dean Scott H. Goodnight has sanctioned the meeting and Cap Night etiquette will be thoroughly discussed. Enthusiasm will also be aroused for the tag day, which is planned for the next day, the proceeds of which will be used to defray the expenses of the annual celebration.

James W. Powell, chairman of Cap Night, promises that the 1924 bonfire will be the greatest, biggest, and brightest that has ever been built on the lower campus. The entire Cap Night committee is as follows: James Powell, chairman, Ambrose Pennfeather, Lawrence Stebbins, Emory Houston, Emmett Guy, James Douglas, Norman Jenkins, and Gordon Wanzer.

Jantzen
Swimming Suits

How the modern girl does enjoy swimming! No loose skirts or blouses to hamper her as she dives—in her Jantzen—and takes all the fancy strokes she likes. Miss 1921 would enjoy her daily swim in an old fashioned bathing suit about as much as she would her morning canter riding side saddle.

The modern swimming suit is the Jantzen. It has done much to add to the joy of water sports and change the mode in bathing apparel. It has been accepted for the past five years as the leading swimming suit of the Pacific Coast. This season Jantzen will be worn at every important beach in the country.

It's the Jantzen stitch that makes this suit different. And patented features in tailoring make it fit comfortably and naturally—it never binds—never sags. A Jantzen holds its shape after years of service.

As our stock of these famous bathing suits is limited, we would advise you to buy early.

PLEASE!

COMPLAINTS have been made by townspeople and students who reside in close proximity to the university tennis courts that tennis fans are on the job in the early morning hours, away ahead of schedule.

Seven o'clock is the time set by the rules when the games may be started. Those who violate the rules are doing so at the risk of losing the privilege of the courts.

In case the complaint is carried to the city police, a patrolman may be ordered stationed to keep the players off before the scheduled hour.

MORE GODS THEN MEN

SOcial, honorary, and secret organizations have achieved unprecedented prominence at the University of Wisconsin in recent years. There seems to be a feverish mania for organizing—a craze to create all sorts of exclusive societies. These exclusive groups have multiplied so rapidly that it is a question whether they are exclusive any more. It indeed reminds one of that ironic phrase of the Roman Petronius, who, viewing the thousands and one gods that his fellow citizens worshipped, sighed that "our country is so peopled with divinities that you can find a god more easily than a man."

The situation is becoming almost as bad at Wisconsin.

Such a galaxy of honor-conferring societies as we have on the campus radically alters the life of the university. To make a society becomes in many cases the summum bonum of all college accomplishments. Failure to get into one, on the other hand, is likely to be construed as failure to the n'th degree.

Grave dangers, which cannot be overlooked, lurk in this situation. These organizations setting up their own standards of scholarship and sociability and what not are indeed opposing the democratic trend which has characterized our university since its inception. Power in the hands of upperclassmen to evaluate the underlings is liable to raise an artificial wall between the upper and lower classes, and between individuals within the same class.

The reprehensible practice of "boot-licking," the servile fawning before people who wield the power of "thumbs up, and thumbs down," is not at all unlikely to develop. And again, the fear of being suspected of such fawning really prevents friendship with those whose friendship we ordinarily would have.

It was against a situation, similar in kind, but naturally more acute in degree, that a revolt was led by lower classmen at Princeton about four years ago. It was against such a situation that Woodrow Wilson, while president of that institution, took a firm stand against what he conceived was leading to stratification and snobbery in university life.

The University of Wisconsin aims to embody the highest principles of democracy that our American life can afford. To stratify it and to create cleavages within, would be suicidal to our high pretensions. The university is growing in prestige and influence. Let us beware lest by creating false standards, we diminish the good name of our alma mater. Let us beware lest by setting up too many "honor" organizations, we defeat the purpose for which they are instituted.

Where there are too many gods, atheism is inevitable. Where there are too many "honors," faith in them is lost.

Tryout for tennis honors will be held during the next two weeks. Everyone who is interested is asked to watch the bulletin board at Lathrop for particulars. Fifty W. A. A. points are given for tennis honors.

NEW COACH WILL TAKE CHARGE OF "YELLOW JACKET"

Mrs. Seybolt Returns to Relieve Miss Gertrude Johnson

After two years' absence from Wisconsin, Mrs. R. F. Seybolt, formerly connected with the Department of Speech at the university, has returned here. She has come all the way from California to become director of "The Yellow Jacket", the senior class play. Miss Gertrude Johnson has been forced to retire as coach of the production because of other work.

"On behalf of the senior class and of the members of the cast of the play I wish to thank Miss Johnson for the time and energy she has spent on the production," said Dick Tyrrell, business manager of "The Yellow Jacket". "She has helped us unselfishly in getting the play started and her loss to us will be great."

Mrs. Seybolt left the university last year to go to the University of Illinois where Prof. Seybolt, formerly with the department of Education here, is now teaching. This winter she has attended the University of California where she has made a study of the modern stage and modern dramas.

In addition Mrs. Seybolt was connected with the management of the Greek Theatre at Berkeley, where she took part in a number of plays.

"I am very favorably impressed with all members of the cast" said Mrs. Seybolt to-day. "There is excellent material with which to develop the play which I consider one of the best dramas written within recent years."

2 HIGH SCHOOLS ENTER TOO LATE FOR TRACK MEET

Appleton and Spooner Delay in Registering Entrants With Authorities

Because of late entries, two high school track teams, Appleton and Spooner will not be able to compete in the twenty-seventh annual Inter-scholastic Track meet to be held Saturday, May 28, at Camp Randall. The entries would not be recognized by George Chamberlain, Milwaukee, chairman of the W. I. A. A. board.

"We at the university regret very much that these two high schools cannot send representatives to the meet Saturday," said Coach T. E. Jones, director of the athletic department, yesterday. "It will deprive the men of seeing the university and getting acquainted with other athletes of the state."

Entrants for the meet are required to be made with the board two weeks in advance, and the entries for Appleton and Spooner came to Chamberlain just yesterday.

The 366 contestants for the meet are expected to arrive Friday, and the registration of the men will take place at the gymnasium under the supervision of the W. I. A. A. and the athletic department. Assignments to lodging will be made at that time, and the men will stay at fraternity houses during the week end, ending with Venetian night on Saturday evening.

GENEVA STUDENT CONFERENCE IS HELD JUNE 17-27

Men From Mid-west Colleges to Attend Thirtieth Meet

The thirtieth annual Student conference will be held at Lake Geneva, June 17 to 27. This conference, which is held annually for all colleges in Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio, North Dakota, and South Dakota, aims to present to students the needs and opportunities of the leading vocations, and the fundamental principles that should govern one in the choice of a life work.

The 1921 conference is the first which Wisconsin has been able to attend in four years, due to the conflict which has generally arisen from examinations. In previous years, men like "Cub" Buck, "Paulie" Meyers, and "Billy" McFadden have attended. Fadden have taken an active and interesting part in the management and promotion of the camp.

"Dad" Wolf firmly believes it every college man's duty to attend at least one of these religious conferences while in college. "When I was in college," he states, "I found that attending these conferences became the biggest thing in my college life. I am constantly reminded of the attitude of one of my professors who used to say that if a student had to choose between attending classes for a whole semester or going to a student conference he would choose the latter without hesitation."

About 35 men have already signified their intention of going. Reservations must be made with "Dad" Wolf at the university Y. M. C. A. before noon Sunday.

COAL EXECUTIVE WILL TALK AT VOCATION MEET

Frank S. Peabody, president of the Peabody Coal company, Chicago, will address the commerce vocational conference today in the Physics building auditorium at 4:30. He will give a practical talk on just what Chicago business executives expect from college students.

Mr. Peabody is a convincing speaker as well as a successful business man. He has risen from a small dealer with a two foot desk to an executive with a national reputation. According to Professor Gilman he is "king of the bituminous coal business in this country."

WOMEN'S CLASS TRACK TEAMS TO MEET FIELD DAY

The final contests in women's track will take place on Field day, June 4, at Camp Randall, when the class championship will be determined. The junior and sophomore classes came out ahead in the preliminary meets last week, and it is expected that the final struggle will be a close one.

Class teams follow:

1921—Irene Bradley, Grace Glee-rup, Dorothy Kropf, Marguerite Shepard (manager).

1922—Marjorie Fish, Louise Fritsche, Jean Kilgour, Auta Lyman, Dorothy Sumption, Mable Winter, Marion Strassburger (manager).

1923—Alma Fenn, Florence Hupp- rich, Esther Mainland, Marjorie Severance, Telen Zuelke, Margaret Henry (manager).

1924—Yvette Goldberg, Mabel Jobse, Eleanor Libbey, Margaret Murray, Ruth Nolte, Edith Porter, Heyltje Stewart, Nina Faris (manager).

WASHINGTON — A special weather report for aviators will be sent out daily by naval radio beginning June 1, the navy department announced. It will be intended for guidance of government aviation interests and also will be available for commercial and pleasure flyers.

Do You Want A Position?

The House of..... with which I am connected is one of the larger wholesale firms of Chicago.

In such a house there are opportunities both in sales and executive positions for the man willing to start at the bottom in stock room work, and work his way up.

I suggested to the firm that we get in touch with some of the men from universities like Wisconsin, where many men earn a portion of their way—fellows like those I knew when I attended school.

This ad is a result of that suggestion. Drop me a line about yourself. I shall be in Madison soon and may be able to arrange an interview. Address me at my home address—Apartment Three, 6343 Kenwood Avenue, Chicago.

At The Theaters

AT THE FULLER

Parisian photoplays—until "Body and Soul" brought Alice Lake to the screen again last evening at the Fuller theater, where it will be shown again today—have been of two sorts: very drawing room and impressively smart, or very underworld and very cave-mannish in an unconvincing, Apache-like way.

Hence the relief, and later, as soon as the really unusual story began to grip, genuine thrill at seeing the screen version of William Hurlbut's drama. It provided several things, including the first prerequisite of all fiction, whether presented in the pages behind the pretty-girl-cover of a magazine, or on the boards behind the footlights: entertainment. From the half-reel the audience at the Fuller theater was welded into an enthralled entity of attention. But more than that: "Body and Soul" gave thrills and material for thought and the most colorful and real picture of Paris the screen has ever drawn.

To be too specific about the story is like opening Christmas gifts before the appointed dawn; but this much may be revealed without denaturing the delight by revelation: it is the drama of an American girl who went to Paris to study art, and who found out several things not in the official curriculum of the atelier.

We were not astonished at Miss Lake's natural appeal as the ingenuous American girl, but her portrayal of the woman this girl later became was astonishing—favorably so. Her transition, through the chrysalis of experience, into her second character was splendid. Her manner was more nearly Parisian than that of any American actress we have ever seen in pictures.

A Hallroom boys comedy is also on the program.

Tom Mix Tomorrow

Tom Mix in his latest wild western, broncho busting romance, "The Ridin' Romeo," will be shown at the Fuller Friday and Saturday.

AT THE STRAND

Robert W. Chambers' popular society novel, "The Restless Sex," has been picturized by Cosmopolitan Productions and is now being shown at the Strand theater. Marion Davies is the star and the supporting cast includes such prominent players as Carlyle Blackwell and Ralph Kellard.

"The Restless Sex" deals with the woman who is not satisfied to be just a wife, but wishes to attain a niche for herself in the world of

HESPERIA WILL HAVE REUNION BANQUET TONIGHT

Hesperians are all set for the big reunion banquet to be held at 8:30 tonight at the State Capitol cafe. Preparations which have been under way for a long time to make this a big wind-up of a lively and successful year of Hesperian activities have now been completed. The banquet will not only serve as a reunion of Hesperian alumni, but will also mark the fifteenth anniversary of the historic joint debate with Athena and Philomathia.

The 60 active members of Hesperia will be there in full force. Most of the 40 or more Madison art. Stephanie Cleland, a pretty New York society girl, is the central figure, and her ambitions and romance form the story. Lavish backgrounds, including a ball scene that is said to surpass anything of its kind ever filmed, are features. An automobile wreck forms one of the most thrilling scenes. More than 600 persons were used in some of the episodes.

A Prizma natural colored picture and a comedy cartoon will be the added attractions.

alumni of Hesperia and many out-of-town alumni have made reservations, to renew the old days of argumentative clash and good-fellowship. James J. McDonald '11, has been asked to serve as toastmaster.

Among the alumni who will speak are Emeritus Professor John B. Parkinson of the Political Science department, who became a member of Hesperia in 1856, two years after the society was organized; Prof. Louis Kahlenberg '02, an ex-joint debater; William T. Evjue, editor of the Capital Times, and City Attorney William Ryan who has promised to recite his famous "Casey at the Bat" for the benefit of the younger Hesperians not familiar with Ryan's old classic.

The committee in charge of the arrangements say that the banquet tonight will be a red-letter date in Hesperian history in the days to come, both for the active members of the society and their alumni guests.

PICKARD'S FORD COLLIDES WITH BRANDENBURG CAR

A Ford driven by William Pickard '21 collided with the Maxwell belonging to Mrs. O. D. Brandenburg, 22 Langdon street, at noon yesterday. In the accident, which occurred on Langdon street, a front wheel of the Maxwell was ripped off and the front axle on Pickard's car was bent. The occupants of the two cars were uninjured.

Reports indicate that Mrs. Brandenburg was driving on the left side of the street when the two cars collided. What settlement will be made has not been definitely decided as Pickard left with the Wisconsin tennis squad for Chicago yesterday afternoon.
