

LIBRARIES

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

The Wisconsin alumni magazine. Volume 17, Number 1 Nov. 1915

[s.l.]: [s.n.], Nov. 1915

<https://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/QGZB5COYM65WR83>

Based on date of publication, this material is presumed to be in the public domain.

For information on re-use, see

<http://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/Copyright>

The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine

Past Work and Future Plans

By CHARLES B. ROGERS, '93, President

Send Us Your Mail Orders

Co-op members all over the country are beginning to realize that we can save them money on supplies of all kinds. Our mail order business is increasing every year.

Remember Your Co-op Membership Is A Life Membership

Once a member always a member. Last year we paid back 20% in rebates to members on their purchases. Why not try our mail order department and write for quotations on all your needs. It will mean a rebate and saving at the end of the year.

A List Of Some Of Our Goods

Books—Text and Fiction.	Aluminum Cooking Utensils.	Weis-Berger Steel Cabinets, etc.
Stationery—the latest initial kind.	Electric Toasters, Coffee Urns, etc. (The entire Hot-point line.)	U. W. Song Books.
Correspondence Cards.	Cutlery.	U. W. Seals.
Cameras and Photo Supplies.	Razors—Safety, Gillettes, etc.	U. W. Steins.
College Jewelry.	Biology Instruments and Supplies.	Pennants.
Leather Goods.	Office Furniture and Filing Devices.	Pillows.
Drawing Instruments and Supplies.		Gents Furnishings.
Spaulding Athletic Goods.		Sweaters.
		Bath Robes, etc.
		Toilet Articles of all kinds.

Besides the above we have many other articles too numerous to mention. If we haven't it in stock we will do our best to supply it.

Let us send you the U. W. Song Book— $1.14 prepaid

THE CO-OP

508 STATE STREET

R. E. Bolte

MADISON, WISCONSIN

A Monthly Income For Trust Estates From Mortgages

Central Wisconsin Trust Company Madison, Wis.

L. M. HANKS, Pres.
MAGNUS SWENSON, 1st. V. Pres.
JOHN BARNES, 2nd. V. Pres.
FRED M. BROWN, Treas.
B. J. HALLIGAN, Secretary.
T. R. HEFTY, Assis. Sec.

FINE INKS AND ADHESIVES

For those who KNOW

Higgins'

Drawing Ink
Eternal Writing Ink
Engrossing Ink
Taurine Mucilage
Photo Mounter Paste
Drawing Board Paste
Liquid Paste
Office Paste
Vegetable Glue Etc.

Are the Finest and Best Inks and Adhesives

Emancipate yourself from the use of corrosive and ill-smelling inks and adhesives and adopt the Higgins' Inks and Adhesives. They will be a revelation to you, they are so sweet, clean, well put up, and withal so efficient.

At Dealers Generally

CHAS. M. HIGGINS & CO. MFRS.

Branches: Chicago, London

271 Ninth Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

OF THE

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Alumni Headquarters: 821 State Street, Madison
Robert S. Crawford, '03, General Secretary

Executive Committee

CHARLES B. ROGERS, '93
President
MRS. GRANT SHOWERMAN, '90
Vice-president
LOUIS P. LOCHNER, '09
Recording Secretary
CHARLES N. BROWN, L'81
Treasurer

Executive Committee

MRS. E. D. SEWALL, '79
GEORGE A. BUCKSTAFF, L'86
MARY F. CONNOR, '86
MRS. A. W. SHELTON, '84
ERNST VON BRIESEN, '00
HELEN GRACE ANDREWS, '99

The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine

ROBERT S. CRAWFORD, EDITOR

"A Magazine Aiming to Preserve and Strengthen the Bond of Interest and Reverence of the Wisconsin Graduate for His Alma Mater."

Table of Contents For November, 1915

	Page
Past Work and Future Plans—Charles B. Rogers, '93.....	1
Our New Business Manager, H. J. Thorkelson—J. D. Phillips.....	4
The New Secretary—Chas. B. Rogers, Chas. N. Brown, Mrs. E. D. Sewall	5
News and Comment.....	6
Boulogne-sur-mer Today—Arthur B. Doe, '11.....	10
The Varsity Welcome—Charles I. Corp.....	14
Barcarole—Words by Julius E. Olson.....	16
Our Generous Benefactor—A Tribute to J. Stephens Tripp.....	17
Faculty Changes—
In the College of Letters and Science—Dean E. A. Birge.....	19
In the College of Engineering—Dean F. E. Turneaure.....	20
In the College of Agriculture—Dean H. L. Russell.....	21
In the College of Law.....	23
University of Wisconsin Day—J. LeRoy Johnson, '11.....	24
First Regiment Band of the University of Wisconsin—J. E. Saugstad...	25
Wisconsin Alumni Clubs—Spokane, Peking, Clinton.....	26
Commerce Department.....	28
1915-1916 Teaching Appointments.....	29
Department of Athletics—O. B. Porter.....	34
Alumni News.....	37
Campus Notes.....	58
Book Notes.....	59

THE WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE is published monthly during the School Year (November to August, inclusive) at the University of Wisconsin.

ALUMNI DUES—Including subscription to The Alumni Magazine—$2.00 a year, "payable on or before July 1 of each year for the fiscal year beginning May 1 next preceding."

SUBSCRIPTION to The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine alone, without the privileges of membership: $1.00 a year; foreign postage 50 cents extra.

CHANGE OF ADDRESS must be reported before the 21st of the month to insure prompt delivery at the new address.

DISCONTINUANCES. Subscribers should notify the editor if they wish the Magazine discontinued at the expiration of the time paid for. If no notice is received, it will be understood that a continuance is desired.

REMITTANCES should be made payable to The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine and may be by check, draft, express or postal money order; personal checks should be drawn "Payable in exchange." All mail should be addressed to

THE WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE, 821 STATE STREET, MADISON
Entered at the Post Office, Madison, Wis., as second class mail matter.

ALUMNI PROFESSIONAL DIRECTORY

A Reliable Guide to Wisconsin Men of Your Profession

This directory affords a convenient guide to Wisconsin Alumni of the various professions who may wish to secure reliable correspondents of the SAME PROFESSION to transact business at a distance, or of specific professional character. It is distinctly an INTRA-PROFESSIONAL directory. Alumni of all professions, who by reason of specialty or location are in a position to be of service to Alumni, are invited and requested to place their names and addresses in this directory. The regular rates are—three dollars for card only, or five dollars for card, alumni dues and subscription.

CALIFORNIA

FRANK CORNISH, '96

Attorney at Law

Underwood Building San Francisco

Geo. I. Haight, '99 Wm. H. Haight, '03

HAIGHT, BROWN & HAIGHT
Lawyers

625-631 The Rookery, Chicago

EDWIN H. GROBE, '08

Attorney at Law

Suite 706-9 Wright & Callender Bldg.,
Los Angeles

GLEN E. SMITH, '09, L '13

Patent Attorney

1532 Marquette Bldg., Chicago

COLORADO

JOHN H. GABRIEL, '87

Attorney at Law

726 Equitable Bldg.,
Denver

SAMUEL LYMAN BARBER, '13

Attorney at Law

Offices 501-7 Columbia Bldg.,
Louisville

References:—Fidelity & Columbia
Trust Company, Adams Express Company, American Express Company, Illinois Central Railroad Company.

MICHIGAN

Hill 1903

Law 1905

HAMLET J. BARRY

Lawyer

726 Equitable Bldg.,
Denver

EUGENE J. STEPHENSON, '04

Real Estate

1434 Dime Bank Bldg., Detroit, Mich.

ILLINOIS

SILBER, ISAACS, SILBER & WOLEY

Fred D. Silber, '94

Attorneys

General Corporation and Commercial Practice

Suite 614 Home Insurance Building
LaSalle and Adams St., Chicago

MINNESOTA

EUGENE C. NOYES, '98

Attorney at Law

822 Security Building
Minneapolis, Minn.

DEC 19 1916

Pub.

F9 29

U 384 L

ALL TOGETHER!

W-I-S-C-O-N-S-I-N

The December issue of the Alumni Magazine will contain a feature article on the University Band. The favorable publicity secured by the best university band in America on the trip through Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Washington, and Oregon to California, has attracted national attention of much value to the University and to the State.

We have already received advanced prepaid orders for additional copies of this splendid forthcoming issue—one is for one hundred copies.

We anticipate that local alumni associations will want extra copies. Please order early.

Price Prepaid Ten Cents Per Copy—Mailed To Separate Addresses if Desired.

Individual members may want extra copies. Send your own dimes and your friends' addresses to

Alumni Headquarters

821 State Street.

Madison, Wisconsin

Here Is a Good Chance to Get That Extra Subscriber!

With ten thousand graduates and twenty-five thousand ex-students it should be possible to double our subscription list if we can get together on this movement in spirit of hearty co-operation. All together! Wisconsin.

J. STEPHENS TRIPP

July 5, 1828

July 23, 1915

Bequeathed fortune to University of Wisconsin.

(See page 17.)

W 812
A 471
17

The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine

I, a wandering student, seeking knowledge, came knocking at the gates of the great University of Wisconsin, and it took me in, filled me with inspiration, and when I left its doors the kindly people of the state stretched out welcoming hands and gave me a man's work to do.—An Alumnus.

Volume XVII

Madison, Wis., November, 1915

Number 1

PAST WORK AND FUTURE PLANS OF THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

By CHARLES B. ROGERS, '93
President of Alumni Association

BEFORE taking up the plans of the Executive Committee for the coming year, it may not be out of place to review the results of the late legislative session. Those who read the Alumni Magazine are well advised as to the situation up to July. In each number from February to June, the bills affecting the University were listed, and most of them printed in full. In the July number, the results, to that time, were tabu-

It is not desirable that the entire history of legislative activities should be written at this time. The good results were mainly negative. The following bills were either killed on the floor or died in the committee:

- Bill to repeal the three-eighths mill tax.
- Bill to remove the president from the Board of Regents.
- Bill to deprive students of the right to vote.
- Bill to prevent educators from holding city office.
- Bill to abolish student self government.
- Bill to prohibit high school inspection by the University.
- Bill dictating language requirements for B. A. degree.
- Bill to prevent medical staff from treating students.

The estimated necessary appropriations for the years 1915-1916 as published by the State Board of Public Affairs were $2,939,877.16—as recommended by the Joint Finance Committee of the Legislature were $2,732,955.00—as finally granted by the legislature were $2,572,684.00. In addition to this, the Regents were authorized to expend the balances in the maintenance and book and apparatus appropriation, namely: maintenance—$8,739.32, books and apparatus—$47,258.36. The local boards of regents were saved, not only to the University, but to the Normal Schools, Stout Institute and Mining and Trade School. It is true that a Central Board of Education bill was passed, but it was far from the bill introduced by Mr. Van Gorden and so vigorously urged by the Home Rule and Tax Payers League. In fact, the Central Board so far has adopted with slight or no modification, all the recommendations of the local boards. Also, the tuition of non-resident students was raised to $124 per year; and the dormitory appropriation passed in 1913, was repealed.

CHARLES B. ROGERS

That more serious consequences to the University did not result is due, in the main, to three things. First, to the good sense and great tact shown by President Van Hise in handling the situation. From the first, President Van Hise met with the Governor and the legislative committees in frank and friendly conference; recognized the demand for economy and planned to meet it by reducing expenses wherever possible; and by personal contact and fair argument removed much of the prejudice against the University. Second, the educational effect of six months of life in Madison on the legislators themselves, many of whom made an earnest study of the University, and coming to scoff, remained to vote appropriations. Third, the work done by the alumni of the University, individually and through the Association. The Madison alumni, together with members of the Executive and Legislative Committees and officers of the Alumni Association accomplished much excellent work that received little or no newspaper publicity. On every bill vitally affecting the interests of the University, the Alumni Association was heard in the legislative committees, the committees of the whole, and by effective individual work upon the members of the legislature. In addition, the individual alumni at Madison and elsewhere, were especially active and deserve much credit for the good work done.

So much for the past.

Since September first the Executive Committee has held two well attended and enthusiastic meetings. We have elected, to succeed himself, Claire B. Bird of Wausau, as one of the four alumni members of the Board of Visitors. We have after careful consideration, selected Mr. Crawford as general secretary, to take the place of Mr. Jones, resigned. We have fully discussed and planned in some detail a campaign for new members. We have discussed general plans for assuring a permanent income, and have agreed that such plans should be perfected. Details of these plans will be submitted later.

The advisory or conference committee authorized by the last business meeting has been selected, and a joint meeting of the Executive Committee and the conference committee has been called for November 20th, next, the day of the Minnesota game at Madison. At this conference the larger questions before the Executive Committee will be brought up for discussion—the questions of organization, of increased membership, of endowment, of getting to the alumni information for their use and awakening among them an enthusiasm which will prevent a repetition of this year's attack on the University; but especially the question of reorganization of the Alumni Association itself through the amendment of its outgrown constitution.

At a later time, the Executive Committee also hopes to meet in conference with the Madison alumni, many of whom have expressed a desire for such a meeting.

It must not be thought that the above are all the problems before the Executive Committee. Many other important questions arise, and many important suggestions are made by alumni. Plans to get the senior class interested; to avoid conflict between reunion stunts and the annual business meeting; to make the alumni banquet snappier and more enjoyable; to increase the news items in the Magazine; to spread true information concerning University activities, by articles, by lectures under the auspices of the Association, by moving picture films; to get the Regents to redecorate Music Hall; and many other matters are under discussion by the Committee.

To get all these good plans under way, however, we need enthusiasm, and then enthusiasm, and then more enthusiasm; and then some money and some hard work. It is useful to stand back and criticize; but that alone will not get us anywhere! It is better to put ones shoulder to the wheel! As a beginning let me ask every alumnus who reads this article to GET INTO THE ASSOCIATION ONE NEW MEMBER BETWEEN NOW AND THE MINNESOTA GAME, NOVEMBER 20TH, AND NOT FORGET HIS OWN PAST DUE DUES!

One word more! Come to the November game, come to the reunion next June, attend the annual meeting, and if you feel that the Alumni Association is not doing what it should help to wake it up! A few men can't do it. You, individually, must get into the game, and stay there if you want us to win.

OUR NEW BUSINESS MANAGER

H. J. THORKELSON, B. S. '98; M. E. '01

By J. D. PHILLIPS
Asst. Dean of the College of Engineering

ON March 27, 1915, Professor H. J. Thorkelson was elected by the Board of Regents of the University as business manager to succeed Doctor H. C. Bumpus who resigned to accept the presidency of Tufts College.

Professor Thorkelson was born in Racine, Wisconsin. He attended the public schools of that city, graduating from the high school with the class of 1894. In the following fall he entered the University of Wisconsin, to take the mechanical engineering course. He graduated in 1898, the first of three brothers to receive a degree from the University. In defraying their university expenses the brothers adopted a unique plan. Their father advanced the funds necessary to give Professor Thorkelson his university education. Each brother in turn paid the expenses of the brother following him, the last brother reimbursing the father to the amount of his original investment.

After graduating from the University Professor Thorkelson returned to his home city to become Assistant Superintendent of the J. I. Case Plow Works. In 1902 he entered the employ of the University as instructor in steam and gas engineering. His exceptional ability as a teacher was soon evident and his rise was rapid. He was appointed Assistant Professor of Steam and Gas Engineering in 1907, Associate Professor in 1910 and Professor in 1913.

In addition to his teaching work Professor Thorkelson served for several years as consulting engineer for the Board of Regents of the University. He also did consulting work for the Railroad and Tax Commissions and the State Board of Control of Wisconsin and for various cities and utilities in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa and Illinois. His experience as a teacher, engineer and business man furnished an excellent preparation for the position he now holds. His appointment on October 14, 1914, as acting business manager, came at a time when the demand for information concerning the financial affairs of the University made the position an extremely difficult one. No doubt his care and discretion in conducting the business affairs of the University during this period led to his appointment as business manager.

H. J. THORKELSON

Professor Thorkelson's resignation from the College of Engineering was a very great loss to the College. Dean Turneure has said, "Among all the teachers in the technical departments there was none better than Professor Thorkelson." His thorough knowledge and clear presentation of his subject, his ability to inspire his students and his willingness to assist in the solution of problems of college and university interest made him an exceedingly valuable member of the faculty. While his change of position is felt to be a serious loss to the College of Engineering, in his new position, however, he will be able to serve the University in a broader field.

THE NEW SECRETARY

ON August 20th last, the General Secretary of the Alumni Association, Mr. Thomas Lloyd Jones, was elected to a position on the faculty of the University which will require his full time for the coming year. He, therefore, felt it necessary to resign as secretary, and on September 1st forwarded to the members of the Executive Committee, his formal letter of resignation. At the first meeting of the Committee following, Mr. Jones' resignation was accepted, and the question of a new secretary was taken up. Several names were suggested, all of good and competent alumni, and a sub-committee was selected on motion, with power to select a new general secretary. This Committee has secured the services of Mr. Robert S. Crawford, and on October 1st, Mr. Crawford was formally elected by the Executive Committee and took up the duties of his office.

The Committee feels that we have been fortunate in our selection. Mr. Crawford was born in Mineral Point, graduated from the high school there, entered the University in 1899 and graduated with a B. L. degree in 1903. His father is Robert M. Crawford, editor and publisher of the Iowa County Democrat. After graduation Mr. Crawford worked for the Western Electric Company, Marshall Field and Company, taught school at Huntington, Indiana, and Eau Claire, Wisconsin, as assistant, and at Black River Falls as superintendent, and then entered the employ of Allyn & Bacon, high school and college text book publishers, as Wisconsin representative. He was later made northwestern representative, and is now general agent. The position of general representative on the Pacific Coast was offered to Mr. Crawford but he has been persuaded to remain in Wisconsin and the middle west.

Mr. Crawford is a loyal and enthusiastic Wisconsin man. He has a wide acquaintance with Wisconsin alumni which, in addition to his excellent personal qualifications, will enable him to give splendid service to the alumni and to the University.

CHARLES B. ROGERS, '93, president,
 CHARLES N. BROWN, L '81, treasurer,
 MRS. E. D. SEWALL, '79,
 Subcommittee of the Executive Committee.

NEWS AND COMMENT

THESE figures were furnished October 4th, 1915. Revised figures may be furnished later.

College of Agriculture (including H. Econ.).....	975
Music .....	87
Enrollment Law .....	156
Pharmacy .....	38
Letters & Science .....	2838
Engineering .....	659
Medical .....	97
 Old Students .....	 2867
New Students .....	1983
	4850

Statistics from this year's enrollment in the College of Agriculture seems to indicate that more men from farms and fewer from cities are training for agricultural positions. Of the young men who entered the College of Agriculture as freshmen this year a much larger percentage is from the farm, the increase over the 1914 enrollment being seventeen per cent. The proportion of city bred students with no farm experience, on the other hand, has fallen from twenty-two per cent in 1914 to sixteen per cent in 1915.

Our New Regent Miss Frances G. Perkins, B. S. '98, has been appointed by Governor E. L. Philipp, to succeed Miss Elizabeth Waters, B. S. '85, as regent. After attending the German-English Academy and later the public schools of Fond du Lac, Miss Perkins entered the University of Wisconsin, where she completed the classical course. She then taught in high schools of Wisconsin and Iowa, and pursued graduate work in the University of Chicago. She has had valuable experience as secretary of the Associated Charities of Fond du Lac, and has devoted one year to visiting over thirty of the largest Universities of this country and Canada. Members of the Alpha Phi sorority will recall her efficient work as editor of their "Quarterly," and she is at present rendering good service to her home city as supervisor of attendance in the public schools. The Alumni Association extends to her its best wishes.

The double celebration by the First Congregational Church of Madison on Sunday and Monday, October 4 and 5, of the seventy-fifth anniversary of its existence and of the quarter centennial of the pastorate of the Reverend Eugene Grover Updike, D. D., has an unusual interest for many graduates of the University of Wisconsin. The occasion gave many former students an opportunity to express personally their devotion to Mr. Updike and to testify to the influence he had exercised in their lives; while many who could not be present sent letters bearing eloquent testimony to the power which has gone forth from the pulpit of the First Church for so many years.

Eugene Grover Updike
A Tribute

By
DOCTOR A. BEATTY

This remarkable relationship between Mr. Updike and the students of the University was frequently emphasized in the present commemorative exercises, not only by students, past and present, but also by others who had never borne that relationship to him. This was inevitable, for however valuable his services as a minister are, it has always been recognized by his own people as well as by the general public that it is as a preacher to students that he has done his greatest and most characteristic work.

One reason why he has appealed to students is no doubt because he has an individual and most effective pulpit manner. He has the power of putting the vital issues of the time in simple, clear-cut sentences cast in "choice word and measured phrase" drawn from the clear sources of our mother English tongue. So striking is his oratorical style that it has deeply impressed itself on the minds of all his hearers who are susceptible to such influences; and especially on the minds of his student auditors. The influence which he has had on student oratory was well expressed by a member of the faculty who once said that he could always tell by their general manner of delivery what orators and debaters habitually heard Mr. Updike.

A second and more profound reason for his influence on students is his full and free discussions of the great religious questions of the day, untrammelled by traditional prejudices. To many students this has been a new and wonderful experience; and more than a few students have declared that Mr. Updike gave them their first start in real thinking. To those of maturer age and of wider experience in universities and university towns this is not at all wonderful; for a man and preacher like Mr. Updike is so rare as to be almost unique. The late President Adams, a parishioner of Mr. Updike, has expressed the thought of many when he wrote: "I have often said that I have never sat under preaching that seemed to me so perfectly adapted to the wants of a university town."

Another reason for the sway which Mr. Updike has exercised over the mind and heart of youth is his unfailing optimism. However dark the prospects and logical outcome of the question under discussion, the gleam of hope is always to be seen. His sermons are a call to youth to trust to the future. Deeply grounded on the traditional past, and fired with profound faith in the general heart of man he has stood and still stands to the passing generations of students as a beacon guiding them "forward to the starry track, glimmering up the heights beyond them, on and always on."

Miss Elizabeth Waters, B. S. '85, Fond du Lac, who has recently retired as regent, has been a faithful public servant in that position since her appointment by Ex-governor McGovern in 1911. Her record as regent shows that she was a tactful, capable member of that body, rendering efficient loyal service at all times, and taking particular interest in the following committees on which she served as a member: Letters and Science, Physical Education, Summer Session, and Women's Affairs of which she was chairman. She made it a point to be present at all meetings. The citizens of Wisconsin are indebted to her for her loyal services, and the good wishes of the alumni continue with her in her school work at Fond du Lac.

Willis P. Colburn, '05, president of the Wisconsin Alumni Teachers' Association announces that the annual banquet is to be held in Milwaukee, November 5th. In addition to brief, interesting speeches he has planned special music. Arrangements are under way to secure a fine soprano, Marjory McCauley Taylor (wife of John C. Taylor, '01) from Chicago. All teachers, who have at any time attended the University, should be present at this banquet. You may bring a friend. Reservations should be mailed to Willis P. Colburn, Superintendents of Schools, Rhinelander, Wisconsin.

Having known Mr. Thomas Lloyd-Jones when superintendent of the Hartford schools, when principal of the Menomonie high school, when superintendent of the Wauwatosa schools, when superintendent of the Fond du Lac schools, when principal of the Madison high school, when general secretary of the Wisconsin Alumni Association, and when secretary of the Committee on Accredited Schools and on the Appointment of Teachers, always as a courageous supporter of progress, it gives us much pleasure to publish these unsolicited tributes written by Mr. Charles N. Brown and Professor E. C. Elliott and to wish Mr. Jones unlimited success as assistant professor of education. May he continue to prosper!

"To the Editor of the Alumni Magazine:

"The resignation of Mr. Thomas Lloyd Jones as secretary of the Wisconsin Alumni Association should not be permitted to pass without an expression of appreciation of the work done by him. He gave up a chosen career and an assured position to accept the secretaryship, feeling that there was a splendid opportunity to serve the University and his fellow alumni. It is not too much to say that the University and its alumni will ever appreciate and hold in grateful memory the faithful, devoted, efficient service rendered by him as secretary of the Alumni Association.”—C. N. BROWN.

“My dear Mr. Crawford:

“Some days ago a well-known, active alumnus of the University said to me, while commenting upon the loss of Thomas Lloyd-Jones, as Secretary of the Alumni Association, that I should be properly punished for poaching upon the preserves of the Association. In his seriousness, he would not permit me to plead—not guilty. I sympathized with him. Of course, I am not responsible for this event. However, I am just as glad, and just as sorry as if I were.

“The University needed a man with broad, sound, and fearless understanding of the complicated relationships of the University to the public school system who would serve as Secretary of its Committee on Accredited Schools and Appointments. It needed a man who would be able, without standing on his tip-toes, to measure up to that difficult and responsible task of maintaining harmonious and effective adjustments with the high schools of this State. I merely happened to be one of many, inside and outside of the University, who believed that the Alumni Association possessed the man we needed.

“May I congratulate you, Mr. New-Secretary, upon your appointment! You have a task worthy of your large abilities and of your deep interest in alumni affairs. I am confident that you will succeed in maintaining the dignified traditions of your office, and in rendering an increasing service to the common cause. But you must keep up a full head of steam. Your predecessor set a high gauge for you.

“Very sincerely yours,

“EDWARD C. ELLIOTT.”

BOULOGNE-SUR-MER TODAY

By ARTHUR B. DOE, '11
Wisconsin Rhodes Scholar

NOTE.—Mr. Doe went to Oxford in September, 1913, and was there until November, 1914. He left London for the front on the 4th of November, 1914, and left Boulogne for London on his return on May 3, 1915. He was with the British Red Cross Society, which has no connection whatever with the American Hospital in Paris, and is an exclusively British service. He secured his position by application in the usual way at the headquarters of the society in Pall Mall, London.

HIS ancient city, formerly a flourishing French watering place, is now one of the saddest cities in the world although the devastating effects of the long range guns of the enemy have so far been unable to wreak their customary havoc on it. The sea front, with its long succession of large hotels, is now simply the main thoroughfare to several of the twenty-five or more hospitals located in Boulogne and its environs. In November of last year, there were seventeen hospitals in the city, including in that number a few in Wimereux, Le Touquet, Outreau and other suburbs nearby. The Christol, The Imperial, The Princess, The Grand, The Palace and others of the best known tourists' haunts, were occupied by the fragments that remained of the original British Expeditionary Force. By May of this year, the number of hospitals had nearly doubled. The officers' hospital had been moved and the Christol became the headquarters of the British Red Cross Society. The Women's Hospital at Wimereux, staffed entirely by women, Sir Henry Norman's hospital, and others were added to the total of the earlier comers. At Outreau, a convent-school had been turned into a hospital and formed one of the largest institutions at the base. But even with all the hotels, the Casino, the public buildings, and the other accommodations of the city, it was still necessary for two convalescent camps to be put under canvas for want of suitable structures to accommodate them, the Marlborough camp on the plains above the city (where one hundred years before, Napoleon's army was encamped preparatory to its intended invasion of England), and the St. Martin camp along the Calais road beyond the Indian hospitals. Even one of these latter was located in a ruined Jesuit college, destroyed by its former occupants at the time of the expulsion of the Jesuits from France, the native troops being quartered in tents and scattered buildings around the college. So from Wimereux to St. Martins, as far as the Duchess of Westminster's hospital at Le Touquet, twenty-one miles south of Boulogne, every building of any considerable size, hotel, casino, school, or convent has become a makeshift hospital, and the open fields about the city are hospitals too.

The part that the British Red Cross Society has played in the myriad activities of Boulogne, necessitates the presence there of about four thousand members of the Society. The numbers which the army requires for its hospital services in Boulogne, are infinitely larger, so that the total English population exceeds that of the height of the most prosperous tourist season before the war. The differentiation between the members of the Red Cross and the members of the R. A. M. C., that is to say, the Royal Army Medical Corps, has necessitated two separate organizations for almost all purposes. Practically all of the transportation of wounded is taken care of by the British Red Cross Society, which has had as many as one hundred and fifty motor ambulances in Boulogne, not including of course, ambulances belonging to the society in France serving at the front. The personnel of the hospitals in the earlier months of the war, was partly R. A. M. C. and partly British Red Cross, but as the war went on, the army gradually took over the great majority of the hospitals, and at the present day, the Red Cross personnel in Boulogne is engaged in transportation or supply work, and not in hospital administration. Two separate post office systems are operating side by side, one for the Red Cross Society, and the other for the army. Separate garages and machine shops are maintained, and separate quarters are provided for the officers of the army and the heads of departments of the Red Cross Society and the personnel of the two organizations.

There is, however, no confusion whatever between the British army and that of the Belgians and the French, who hold the part of the line between the sea and Ypres, a territory which would naturally use Boulogne as a base town. A Belgian or French officer or considerable body of men is today an infrequent sight in Boulogne. The ten miles of coast, which the Belgians now hold is supplied from Dunkirk and Calais. The 9th French Army Corps, which holds the intervening fifteen miles or so between the Belgians and the English, uses Cassel as the British use Boulogne. Each of the three armies in this locality, therefore, has its own base, its own system of roads, its own system of railways, and except where these latter necessarily cross those used by the British, there is very little occasion for the area occupied by any of the armies to become crowded with troops belonging to either of the others.

While the city itself in all its parts, is sufficiently sad with its constant procession of loaded ambulances, nurses, hospital orderlies, surgeons and even funerals, the saddest place of all is the Central Station, where the wounded are all unloaded. It is not an uncommon sight to see the men carried out of the trains with the mud of the trenches still wet and heavy upon their clothes. Nor is it rare to see them with the blood from a head wound, still dry and hard upon their faces, or any injury in fact, with no greater protection than a first-aid bandage given them on the field at their first halting station after being picked up. At times, when the fighting has been very heavy, the transportation staff at Boulogne, moves as many as four thousand in twenty-four hours. Throughout the winter, when the condition of the trenches was unspeakable, the number of frozen feet cases was absolutely appalling. The men were able to sit up, but could not take a step, and baggage truck after baggage truck was hauled out of the station to the ambulances crowded with huddled figures, their feet done up in enormous white bundles, or perhaps without any bandages at all, simply with their shoes and socks cut off and their feet treated with oil.

With all the suffering that must be borne by men who are literally shot to pieces, a complaint or a cry of anguish is a very rare sound indeed. The stoicism of the East Indian troops has been much commented upon, but since the beginning of the war, the testimony of the staff that has labored at Boulogne in the service of the wounded Tommy Atkins, is unanimous to the effect that his patience and long suffering are the most marvelous things that the war has brought under their notice. In the Red Cross transport service with the callousness of men accustomed to the sights and sounds of Boulogne, a man who cries out with pain, is commonly referred to as a "squealer." More often his voice is raised involuntarily from shock than from pain, but it is a commentary on the bravery of the British private soldier that a "squealer" is so rare, that his every appearance calls for comment from those who mean no unkindness by their denomination of him.

At the hospital ships, where those whose injuries are so severe that they are to be discharged from further service or are to require many weeks to become whole again, are embarked, the scene is not quite so sad. Many are able to hobble slowly up the gangway, though relatively, a larger number must be carried, than is the case at the railway station where approximately eight men are able to walk for every one that must be carried, but all are rested, clean, and hopeful, with the joy of a sight of England in their faces. These hospital ships are great Castle liners and were formerly in service in the far East. They have been equipped with elevators, swinging cots, operating theatres, and every conceivable contrivance to alleviate the inevitable suffering entailed on a wounded man by a channel crossing.

An extremely interesting spot in the region of the harbor, is the garage of the British Red Cross Society along the quay. During the earlier months of the war, it was extremely difficult to supply motor ambulances in any considerable numbers, but in October or November, as the machines began to come out in considerable numbers, the society had its generous supply of cars parked in one garage, which consisted solely of a roped off portion of the quay. The cars were divided into sections, about fifteen or twenty in a section, in charge of a section leader. Their duties were principally to unload the trains and load the ships. All through the autumn months the men started work at 6:45 in the morning and were not off duty again until eleven o'clock at night, and were required to work even later than that, in case word was received that a train would be in soon after that hour. It was not unusual for drivers, who had been on duty at the Central Station at seven in the morning, to be still on duty there at two the next morning. The division into sections was intended to obviate the necessity of such long hours, but in times of stress, these divisions and the system were discarded and all the men worked until the trains were unloaded, whatever the hour. In view of possible emergencies, it was made the rule in Boulogne, that there were to be at all times five thousand empty beds in the city hospitals. Inasmuch as the daily quota of wounded for months approximated two thousand five hundred to three thousand five hundred, the number that required to be transported daily to and from trains and the ships, not to mention convalescent camps and the disinfecting bureau, was quite sufficient to keep well over 100 cars constantly employed.

Just back of the garage, are the casino and grounds, forming one of the largest hospitals. It was here that the gas cases were treated at the time of the first use by the enemy of gas on a large scale, the last week in April. At that time in the operations no really effective remedy was known, and all that could be done was to alleviate in a small measure the sufferings of a large number of men, who were certain to die.

War as seen in Boulogne, is an entirely different matter from war as described in most of our contemporary journals. If there ever has been a scene on earth with a total absence of grandeur, of inspiration, it is Boulogne today. The heroic attitude of the wounded men, the marvelous self-sacrifice of surgeons, nurses, and orderlies, are absolutely inadequate to supply even a note of magnificence in the prevailing depression and utter misery that involves a scene, where of the two hundred thousand members of the original British Army all but ten thousand have been participants. On the day of the funeral of Lord Roberts, there was a dim highlight of glory on the streets of Boulogne. Then were there flags and parades and the inspiration of the name of a great man; the rest of the winter, desolation and suffering. The French nation, from the President to the lowliest peasant is in mourning, and music has not been heard in France, with the exception of a very occasional military band, since the outbreak of the war. The nation makes this total abstinence from their commonest pleasure, a most sincere tribute to the nation's dead. If there is anything sublime, if there is anything magnificent in battle, those qualities have faded from the faces of the participants, before they reach the places where the ablest surgeons in England do their best to save a life or mend a shattered frame for further warfare.

THE VARSITY WELCOME

By CHARLES I. CORP

Asst. Professor of Hydraulic Engineering

To the Students: "Make yourselves at home. This is your house, built by your fathers to foster happiness and high endeavor. But do not mar the walls."

To the Speakers: "Time Limit: For students, five minutes; professors, six minutes. Do not worry. You'll be warned. The Deans will be treated leniently."

MORE than two thousand students crowded the Armory to its capacity for the annual Varsity Welcome on the first Friday of the academic year.

The Varsity Welcome was inaugurated three years ago under the auspices of the Faculty Committee on Public Functions assisted by a committee of students. Its purpose of "creating an atmosphere of cheery welcome for the new students and making them feel, if possible, the beneficence of a jolly, rollicking spirit of academic comradeship—not out of tune with a sane sentiment of seriousness," is so well worth while that it bids fair to continue as one of the most popular affairs of the University year.

Judged by the singing and cheering the ideal spirit for the meeting was reached and kept this year. New interest was created by four songs composed by Professor Julius E. Olson for the occasion. The one entitled "Prexy Van Hise" was sung with great enthusiasm as a welcome to the President upon his arrival. His presence was an additional feature to the evening's program, as he returned from Canada just in time to extend his sincere words of welcome to students both old and new.

Professor Scott H. Goodnight's talk furnished the "sane sentiment of seriousness" promised for the meeting. His appeal for the ideal Wisconsin spirit could scarcely fail to win response.

Credit for the planning and carrying through of the program is due to Professor Julius E. Olson. The inception of the Varsity Welcome idea and its successful development is largely a result of his zeal.

The excellent speeches made by all participants in the program were received with much appreciation. A copy of the complete program follows:

PROGRAM

Professor Olson, Presiding

Music—The National Emblem
By the University Band, Mr. Saugstad, Conductor

The Varsity Toast
By the Assemblage

Breaking the Ice
By Professor Carl Russell Fish

A Serious Song—A Spirit of Devotion
By the Assemblage

Student Activities
By Professor Scott H. Goodnight, Chairman of the Committee on Student Life and Interests

- A Danish Song—A Lesson in Music and Linguistics, and a New Madrigal to the same Melody
By Crawford Wheeler, '16, President of the Union
- Why Athletics
By Professor George W. Ehler, Department of Physical Education
- A Peerless Football Song—On, Wisconsin
By the Assemblage, assisted by the Speakers
- A Few Taps for Student Self Government
By Miss Charlotte Bodman, '16, President of the S. G. A.
- A Jocund Refrain—The Freshman Welcome
By the Old Guard, the New Recruits at Attention
- A Student Institution: The Wisconsin Union
By Mrs. Lois K. Mathews, Dean of Women
- *Barcarole—Freshman Boat Song
To be Memorized and Used by the Freshman Girls
- Be a Booster for the Y. M. C. A.
By G. O. Gullickson, '15
- The University Hymn—Light for All
By the Assemblage
- What's the International Club
By Hemendra K. Rakshit, '14
- A Sentiment and an Idea
By Mrs. Lois K. Mathews, Dean of Women
- A Word in Conclusion
By Dr. Edward A. Birge, Dean of the College of Letters and Science
- Closing Song—Alma Mater

---

* The words of "Barcarole" are by Professor Julius E. Olson and through his generous courtesy we are able to publish both the words and music.

BARCAROLE.

Freshman Boat Song.

Melody By Mozart.

Andante Con Moto.

1. On the bos - om of Men - do - ta - gent - ly skims - our skiff - a - long;
 2. Fair Men - do - ta is a na - iad In this heav - en favor - ed hand;

Wind and wave are Joy un - bound - ed, Soft and dreamy, Peace, con - tent - ment. cres.
 Like a Sweet em - chant - ing song.
 She has strewn on ev - ry hand.

mf Gaz - ing in her But nev - beauti -
dim. Timp - ling wat - ers is a lur - ing, heav - it - self we In her depths dark seem - to see.
 dan - gers steep.

Trust her yet! Her And the youth who moods are man - y! courts her fav - ors False - Needs and faith - less must watch - fu she - can be!
 rig - i? Keep!

False - and - Faith - less
 Needs - must - watch - fu,
 SHE - can be!
 Via - i? Keep!

OUR GENEROUS BENEFACTOR

A TRIBUTE TO J. STEPHENS TRIPP

THE honorable Mr. J. Stephens Tripp of Prairie du Sac, Wisconsin, died July 23, 1915, at the age of eighty-seven years, leaving an estate valued at about five hundred thousand dollars. In his will Mr. Tripp gave most of his fortune to the University of Wisconsin. In addition to bequests to members of his family, Mr. Tripp bequeathed to the Presbyterian Hospital of Chicago, five thousand dollars "for the purpose of establishing and maintaining a bed for incurables in said hospital to be known as the Nellie W. Tripp bed;" to the Trustees of the Beloit College, Beloit, five thousand dollars; to Carroll College, Waukesha, five thousand dollars. The will further provides:

"After the death of my said sisters, Emily Tripp and Mrs. Mercy A. Quinby and my brother, Seneca Tripp, and after the final and complete settlement of the Estate of James I. Waterbury of which estate I am the executor and the full and satisfactory settlement of the estate of my mother-in-law, Mrs. Fidelia U. Waterbury, which I have been caring for, then I give, devise and bequeath all the rest, remainder of my estate (after deducting therefrom the sum necessary to pay all inheritance taxes, which shall be paid out of said surplus) to the Wisconsin State University."

The Legislature of the State of Wisconsin, in recognition of the services rendered society by Mr. Tripp, passed on August 6th, the following resolutions introduced by Senator Skogmo:

"J. Stephens Tripp was born in Duanesburg, Schenectady county, New York, July 5, 1828. He was a grandson of Ezekial Tripp, a noted Quaker speaker during the Revolutionary War. In his early years J. Stephens worked on his father's farm, and attended district school during the winter months. At the age of eighteen he entered the Schoharie Academy, teaching school a part of the time to secure means to pay his expenses. He continued in the Academy, part of the time as tutor, until 1850, when he entered the law office of Judge Charles Goodyear in Schoharie, New York, and read law until June, 1853, when he was admitted to the bar. In November, 1853, he removed to Baraboo, Wisconsin, entering into a partnership with Giles Stevens, afterwards Judge Stevens of Reedsburg. In 1854 he went to Sauk City and formed a partnership with Cyrus Leland which lasted for about two years. Thereafter excepting for one year, when he was in partnership with S. S. Wilkinson, he practiced alone. In 1868 he commenced doing a banking business in connection with his law practice, but in 1887 he quit the practice of the law and confined his attention to banking.

Mr. Tripp was postmaster of Sauk City, Wisconsin, from 1854 to 1861, town clerk of Prairie du Sac for twenty years; president of Sauk City village for eight years; president of the village of Prairie du Sac, and member of the Sauk county board of supervisors much of the time for thirty years, and several times its chairman. He was a member of the Wisconsin Assembly in 1862, having been elected as a "War Democrat."

Mr. Tripp was first married in 1857 to Fannie W. Hallit, who died in 1865. In 1874 he married Nellie W. Waterbury of Prairie du Sac, by whom he had one son who died in infancy. His second wife died in 1893. He leaves two sisters and a brother living in New York.

A public spirited citizen, Mr. Tripp gave active aid to many enterprises and rendered many services of a public character to which no allusion has here been made. In the quiet and judicious giving of money and services for the relief of those in real need, for the good of his county and state, he was liberal.

He was the first citizen of his home city. Loved and respected by friends and neighbors, a man of the highest honesty and intelligently performing his many private and public duties with scrupulous care, he will be missed by all who knew him. To his inheritance of thrift and frugality Mr. Tripp added a correct business judgment and a large capacity for business through which he was able to accumulate a fortune of over a half million dollars. For years he had decided generally on some plan of beneficence to his fellow men, finally devising the grand scheme embodied in his will that practically his entire fortune should be devoted to the upbuilding and usefulness of the University of Wisconsin. Thus the results of all his labors finally go and are devoted to the good of his fellow men. And it is not from what he has bestowed, alone, that mankind may hope to profit by his example. To all possessors of great wealth he has pointed out the way and said: "Go thou and do likewise." His memory will be cherished as long as our institutions shall endure and his labors and sacrifices will serve as a constant influence for "better thoughts, better words and better deeds to the generations who shall share in his bounty and move forward upon the beneficent foundations he has so generously provided." Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That in the death of Honorable J. Stephens Tripp the state has lost one of its most useful and respected citizens and a man whose example and career may well be an inspiration to others and which will ever remain a cherished memory to his family and many friends; and be it further

Resolved, That this resolution be spread upon the journals of each house and that a suitable copy engrossed, signed by the presiding officers and the chief clerks of the two houses, be forwarded to the family of the deceased."

Mr. Tripp always stood for sound and careful business methods, and for simple living. He was a friend of those in need. In his gifts to the University of Wisconsin and to Beloit and Carroll Colleges he did not even suggest the manner in which the money should be used. Mr. Tripp had confidence in the University of Wisconsin as it is and must have believed also that its facilities should be increased in order that it might render greater service to the people of all ages within and without the borders of our State. His faith in public education should be a stimulus to all men, and especially should it be an inspiration to all graduates and former students of our great University. May his unstinted generosity ever serve as an example to us all!

FACULTY CHANGES

In the College of Letters and Science

By DEAN E. A. BIRGE

THE changes among the professors of the College of Letters and Science are not very numerous. Only one new appointment has been made: that of Charles S. Pendleton of Cambridge, Mass., as assistant professor of English. He will undertake the work of the teachers' courses in English. These were formerly given by Professor H. K. Bassett, who resigned about a year ago. Professor Pendleton's academic history is as follows: He is a graduate of Oberlin College (A. B. 1901; A. M. 1903). He has taught English for the last fourteen years in widely various positions: One year in Oberlin College Academy, two years in Oberlin College, six years in the East High School, Minneapolis (where he was the head of the department), and five years in Carleton College, Northfield, Minnesota. In Carleton College he was acting professor and head of the department of English, which included literature, composition, and public speaking. During the last two years he has been on leave of absence from Carleton College and has been engaged in graduate study at Harvard University.

During the past year three members of the professorial staff have resigned: Professor Dana C. Munro, for thirteen years professor of history, resigned to accept a position in Princeton University; Assistant Professor Joseph G. Brandt, who began his service here in 1906 as assistant in Latin, went to a position in the University of Kansas; and Assistant Professor Samuel Moore, for three years instructor and assistant professor of English, went to the University of Michigan. No appointments have been made, as yet, to fill these specific places.

The following important promotions have been made in the college. Three members of the staff have been made full professors: J. M. O'Neill in public speaking; J. B. Overton in botany; and R. H. Whitbeck in geology. Five members of the faculty were promoted from assistant professor to associate professor: Ernst Feise and C. M. Purin in German; W. T. Root in history; M. C. Otto in philosophy; and A. B. Hall in political science. Eight instructors were advanced to assistant professorships: A. T. Bartholomew in botany; F. A. Manchester and Warner Taylor in English; E. F. Bean and F. E. Williams in geology; W. F. Steve in physics; W. I. King in political economy; and Smiley Blanton in public speaking. Assistant Professor Manchester is to take immediate charge of freshman English, in place of Professor Karl Young, who is now chairman of the department of English. Assistant Professor Bean is to give part of his time to the department of geology and part to the work of the Wisconsin Geological Survey.

Assistant Professor Paul G. Miller, of the department of Romance languages, has been appointed Commissioner of Education in Porto Rico, where he had formerly been engaged in normal school work. He has been granted leave of absence from the University for a year. Assistant Professor Edwin C. Woolley has also taken leave of absence for a year, expecting to give the time to travel and writing.

In the College of Engineering

By DEAN F. E. TURNEAURE

HE changes in the College of Engineering have been more than usually numerous and important this year. Professor J. G. D. Mack has been appointed state engineer. In the steam and gas engineering department Professor J. G. Callan has been appointed in the place of Professor H. J. Thorkelson, who resigned last year to take the position of Business Manager; Professor G. L. Larson has been appointed as Associate Professor to fill, permanently, a position which was filled last year only temporarily, and Mr. A. H. Aagaard has been appointed instructor to fill the position left vacant by the resignation of Mr. J. R. Du Priest.

In railway engineering, Professor L. F. Van Hagan has been made Associate Professor and placed in charge of the department, Professor Pence having permanently severed his connection with the University. In this department, also, Mr. L. F. Boon has been appointed instructor to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Professor Kingman.

Other important promotions in the College of Engineering are the following: Assistant Professor C. I. Corp, in hydraulic engineering, made Associate Professor; Assistant Professor M. O. Withey, in mechanics, made Associate Professor; Assistant Professor W. S. Kinne, in structural engineering, made Associate Professor; and Librarian F. E. Volk promoted to the rank of Assistant Professor.

The following: statement of the education and professional history of the new men will be of interest:

Professor Callan is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology of 1896 in the electrical engineering course. In 1897 he entered into the employment of the General Electric Company at Lynn, Massachusetts, where he remained for about ten years. During this time he spent several years in the experimental department of the staff of Professor Elihu Thompson, where he did research work on liquid air, the Diesel engine, various heavy oil and gasoline engines, automobile transmission, etc. In 1903 he entered the turbine department, where he was connected with the development of the Curtis steam turbine. In this connection he spent some time in the various countries of Europe. Later, he was actively connected with the development of centrifugal air compressors and centrifugal pumps.

In 1909 Mr. Callan entered the employment, as mechanical engineer, of the Arthur D. Little Company of Boston, Chemists and Engineers, with which company he remained until coming to Madison. While connected with this company his work covered a very large range of subjects, which he investigated and on which he made engineering reports. He has also, during this time, delivered brief courses of lectures at Columbia University and Stevens Institute of Technology.

Professor Callan takes a great interest in research work in engineering, and it is believed that his wide knowledge and experience will be of great value to the Engineering College.

Professor Larson came here as a Fellow a year ago, but after Professor Thorkelson began to take up his duties as Business Manager, it was necessary to call on Professor Larson for full time work as a teacher.

Professor Larson graduated from the University of Idaho in electrical engineering in 1907. Previous to graduation he had spent some years in the construction and erection of mining machinery, and for two years after graduation was in the testing department of the General Electric Company. In 1909 Mr. Larson began teaching at the University of Idaho, and in 1912 was made Professor of Mechanical Engineering at that place. His interest in athletics there resulted in his holding the position of Graduate Manager for four years.

In the steam and gas engineering department, also, Mr. A. H. Aagaard has been appointed instructor in place of Mr. J. R. Du Priest, resigned. Mr. Aagaard is a University of Illinois graduate of 1914.

In railway engineering, Professor L. F. Van Hagan, '04, has been promoted to the position of Associate Professor and placed in charge of the department, Professor Pence having definitely decided to sever his connection with the University. To assist Professor Van Hagan, Mr. L. F. Boon, University of Wisconsin 1910, has been appointed as instructor. Mr. Boon had some six years railway experience previous to his last year in college, during which time he was employed by the C. & N. W. and the C. M. & St. P. railways. For the past five years he has been a member of the engineering staff of the Wisconsin Railroad and Tax Commissions where he had good opportunities to become familiar with railway valuation work.

In the College of Agriculture

By DEAN H. L. RUSSELL

NUMBER of important changes have occurred during the summer in the personnel of the staff and arrangement of work in the College of Agriculture. The most important of these are the resignations which have been caused by the drafting of several members of the College staff into various other branches of the state service.

Professor C. P. Norgord, who served as Superintendent of Farmers' Institutes last year, has been appointed by Governor Philipp to the highly responsible position of Commissioner of Agriculture under the terms of the new consolidation law which has united a number of the various regulatory or police activities of an agricultural character with the work which has heretofore been carried on by the State Board of Agriculture.

The Nursery and Orchard Inspection Service, which has heretofore been in charge of the Department of Economic Entomology, has been transferred to this new State Department, Professor J. G. Sanders being placed in charge of this branch of the service.

Dr. S. B. Fracker, formerly instructor in the entomology department, has also resigned to enter the state service as Deputy Nursery Inspector.

Professor H. F. Wilson, for a number of years in charge of the entomological work in the Oregon Agricultural College, has been appointed by the Regents to take charge of this work in this College in place of Professor Sanders.

Professor C. E. Lee, formerly in charge of the butter and cheese scoring exhibitions in the dairy department, has also gone to one of the state departments, the Dairy and Food Commission, as Assistant Dairy Commissioner.

Professor Benkendorf of the dairy department has been placed in charge of the extension work involved in the butter and cheese scoring exhibitions in place of Professor Lee. C. A. Day of Kansas has been appointed as instructor in butter making.

The growing importance of landscape work has led the Regents to secure the services of Professor F. A. Aust of the University of Illinois to take charge of the courses in landscape design, as well as the direct supervision of the campus.

As the policy of the state with reference to the development of the state forests cannot be definitely determined until the Supreme Court renders a final decision with regard to the disposition of the forestry lands, it is impossible for the state to proceed with the policy formerly under way with reference to the replanting of denuded lands in the forest reservation. The Regents have deemed it wise to discontinue the Forest Rangers' Course, inasmuch as the practical work in the woods could not well be carried on by this class of students under the unsettled conditions which now obtain.

Since Commencement an additional county agricultural representative has been installed in Ashland county, Mr. C. B. Post, formerly of the State Soil Survey, being elected to this position. This makes thirteen representatives of the Agricultural College who are detailed in as many counties throughout the state where they are carrying on agricultural extension work. Several other counties have under consideration the advisability of installing this work which is in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture and the local county, the County Board of Supervisors taking the initiative in the organization of the work.

Professor H. W. Stewart, formerly of the University of Illinois, has been added to the soils department, his special work being in soil physics.

W. J. Geib, who has been the United States representative on the State Soil Survey, has been made Assistant Professor in soils department, and will assist particularly in the interpretation of the results of the soil laboratory examinations of field conditions.

C. D. Livingston, formerly of the State of Washington, has been added to the Department of Agricultural Engineering to take charge of extension work in that department, mainly to be engaged in connection with land clearing operations.

W. A. Sumner of the Kansas State Agricultural College replaces J. O. Rankin in the editorial office, Mr. Rankin having gone to the University of Missouri as editor in charge of their publications.

J. W. Brann has been appointed instructor in horticulture to assist Professor Milward in the potato seed certification work and also to render part time in plant pathology.

Dr. J. H. Coffman of Denver, formerly of the Kansas Agricultural College, has been made instructor in veterinary science.

The largest number of additions have been made to the Home Economics department, Miss I. Wilson of the class of 1915 of this institution replacing Miss Stewart, resigned, and Miss Kephart of Washington being appointed new assistant in applied art and design.

A material expansion of the extension workers in this department has been made through the appointment of Miss E. L. Amery of the University of Washington, Miss H. J. Dodge, who has been teaching in the Des Moines High School, and Miss Agnes Boeing of the class of 1915 of this institution, as instructors in Extension work.

F. B. Morrison, who has been in the executive office for several years as Assistant to the Dean, has been promoted to the position of Assistant Director of the Experiment Station.

A. G. Johnson who has been connected for several years with the plant pathology department, has been promoted to an Assistant Professorship. Professor Johnson is also doing co-operative work with the United States Department of Agriculture on barley investigations.

R. E. Vaughan, formerly instructor in plant pathology in this College, has been promoted to the position of Assistant Professor and put in charge of the extension activities of that department.

In the College of Law

BURR W. JONES RESIGNS

WHILE we have notice of no new appointments to the faculty of the College of Law we report with much regret that the Honorable

Burr W. Jones, A. B., A. M., LL. B. ('70-'71) after serving the University for more than a quarter of a century with distinguished ability has resigned as professor of law and has discontinued his scholarly lectures on Persons and Evidence. In a later issue we shall take pleasure in furnishing the alumni with a fitting tribute to Mr. Jones written by another alumnus of national reputation as a lawyer.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN DAY AT THE PANAMA-PACIFIC INTERNA- TIONAL EXPOSITION

By J. LEROY JOHNSON, '11

UNIVERSITY of Wisconsin Day was one of a series of days held in honor of the various large Universities of the nation. The Exposition has been described as a "world university" and it was thought advisable by the board of directors of the Exposition to hold a number of University days. Among the institutions which have held such celebrations are Wisconsin, Illinois, Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Purdue, California, and Stanford. Also, practically every college fraternity that has held a national convention this year has held it at the Exposition.

Monday, July 26th, was University of Wisconsin Day at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. The ceremonies started about two o'clock. The alumni and friends of the University assembled at the Scott street entrance of the Exposition and headed by the First Regiment Band of the University of Wisconsin, which was at that time playing in San Francisco, marched to the Wisconsin building. There the formal exercises were held. Director Brown of the Exposition presented to the University a bronze plaque. Mr. Brown very appropriately remarked during his speech that July 26th was the anniversary day of the first Wisconsin commencement. The speech of acceptance was delivered by Professor Stephen W. Gilman. The alumni were represented by John Earl Baker, '06, now a resident of California.

In the evening a reception and dance was held at the Wisconsin Building. To two people belongs most of the credit for the success of this event. They are Mrs. Brown, wife of Geo. W. Brown, '80, and Mr. A. C. Baumgartner, a former resident of Milwaukee. Mrs. Brown made the necessary preliminary arrangements at the Wisconsin Building and Mr. A. C. Baumgartner very kindly furnished a splendid orchestra for the occasion. Mrs. Taylor, the matron of the Wisconsin Building, was also very liberal in her assistance.

The affair was a splendid success. Several hundred alumni and friends were present. The committee in charge of the event consisted of Professor H. E. Bolton, '95, President of the Northern California Wisconsin Alumni Society, Frank V. Cornsh, '96, John Earl Baker, '06, J. LeRoy Johnson, '11, S. J. Lisberger, '03, W. S. Gannon, '97, D. L. Hennessey, '03.

FIRST REGIMENT BAND OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

By J. E. SAUGSTAD

BETWEEN June 16 and July 31, the University of Wisconsin First Regiment Band visited twenty western cities, and also the Panama-Pacific and Panama-California expositions. The organization, made up of fifty-eight people, including students and three faculty members of the University operated its own equipment and service according to military system and discipline, and was perhaps as representative an organization of this character as has ever made its appearance in the western part of the country. The purpose of the tour was to afford the members a visit to the West, to learn a little of its institutions, its life and people, and the wonderful natural resources found there, and also to carry greetings from the State of Wisconsin and the University to former citizens and students.

The reception given the organization by representative alumni associations, Boards of Commerce, and the Wisconsin men and women who now make their homes in the West, and the general public, was in the nature of an ovation. Especially was it proved that the lack of interest with which alumni organizations are credited, is a myth. It would have been impossible to have given warmer welcome, heartier co-operation, and more thoughtful consideration than that accorded the members and officers of the band wherever they made an appearance.

The management of the band has the unusual satisfaction of being able to state that the success of the tour was far beyond our expectations, and that we feel amply repaid for the efforts put forth in making the tour possible. This is made with a full appreciation of the work of two years of preparation, the fact that it was the first tour of the organization, general competition and opposition, and the innumerable difficulties encountered during the period of travel.

During the tour, material covering all departments of the undertaking, was gathered for the purpose of publishing a book. This has been abandoned, but the requests for information regarding the various features of the travels of the band have been so numerous that in order to reach our interested friends it has been decided to prepare a compilation of short articles featuring the operation of the band and the part it played in various celebrations and expositions of the summer, together with appreciation of the various enthusiastic arrangements of the alumni members along the route.

---

NOTE.—This material will appear in the Alumni Magazine for December. Order extra copies early.

WISCONSIN ALUMNI CLUBS

University of Wisconsin Association of Spokane and the Inland Empire

THESE are the dates of our meetings this year. Oct. 9, Nov. 19; Dec. 11, Jan. 8, Feb. 12, Mar. 18, Apr. 8, May 13, June 1.

They will be in the form of 50c luncheons, held in the East Banquet Room at Davenport's. An original program will be rendered at each meeting.

November 19th is reserved for the date of the Annual Banquet. On that date occurs the Minnesota-Wisconsin foot ball game at Madison.

Returns of the game will be received at the banquet. Set aside Nov. 19th on your calendars; it will be a hummer.

Come out to the first luncheon on Oct. 9th. Let us start the new year with a rousing meeting. It will take only an hour and a half of your time: 12 to 1:30. East Banquet Room, Davenport's.

GEO. E. WORTHINTON,
Sec'y and Treas.

1110 Old National Bank Bldg.

Alumni at Peking Form Club

On May 29, twelve Wisconsin men, L. C. Chang, G. T. Chao, N. P. Chung, N. Han, S. D. Lee, T. S. K. Loh, P. K. Sun, Daqueen Tao, Y. T. Tsur, N. T. Woo, Y. Y. Yang and T. Z. Zee, met at Tung-Hsing-lou, outside Tung-an-men, to give a dinner in honor of Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, the United States Minister to China, and Mr. Kim Tong Ho, '12, who was then in the metropolis as manager of the Hawaii Chinese Baseball Team.

Before the arrival of our honored guest, we held a short meeting during which the formation of a Wisconsin Club at Peking was unanimously endorsed. A concise and handy constitution was adopted and President Y. T. Tsur and Secretary S. D. Lee of Tsing Hua College were respectively elected President and Secretary-Treasurer of the Club.

Dr. Reinsch, besides being a favorite professor of many of us while at Madison, has now made himself very popular among the diplomatic representatives in Peking and is especially respected and welcomed in the Chinese official and educational circles. After the dinner, he spoke informally about what we ought to do. As Wisconsin stands for public service, the able doctor maintained that her sons ought to make the best of their present positions, however humble they may be; for there is nothing so insignificant but what one can do it well and make it beneficial to the country.

Mr. Ho, since taking his bachelor's degree in economics and political science, has worked steadily in the First National Bank of Hawaii. Noted for his sociability and public spirit among his American and Chinese friends both at Madison and at Honolulu, he was chosen manager for the Hawaii Chinese Baseball Team that came to China to participate in the Far Eastern championship games. After a brilliant career at Shanghai, his team came up to Peking for the purpose of playing a series of exhibition games with the Phillipino Baseball Team. At the table, Mr. Ho entertained us with a vivid story of his experiences in the Philippine Islands and in China.

It is now safe to say that the dinner party was very profitable and enjoyable.

S. D. LEE,

Secretary-Treasurer.

Address: Tsing Hua College.

CONSTITUTION OF THE WISCONSIN CLUB OF PEKING

ARTICLE 1. Name. The name of this club shall be the Wisconsin Club of Peking.

ARTICLE 2. Membership. Any person who has studied in the University of Wisconsin and who is a resident of Peking shall be eligible to membership in this Club.

ARTICLE 3. Officers. The officers of this Club shall be a President and a Secretary-Treasurer.

ARTICLE 4. Membership dues. Each member shall pay an annual due of one dollar ($1.00) silver, payable on demand of the Secretary-Treasurer.

ARTICLE 5. Meetings. The Club shall have, each year, two regular meetings, the time and place of which to be decided upon by its officers.

ARTICLE 6. Amendment. This Constitution may be amended by a Majority vote of all the members.

Clinton (Iowa) Alumni Organize

The following account of the formation of an Alumni Association at Clinton, Iowa, is taken from the Clinton Post of September 3.

"Former students at the University of Wisconsin who now live in Clinton last night formed a Wisconsin Alumni Association. Nearly a score were present at the home of Donald Leslie and it is believed twenty-five or thirty names will be inscribed on the roster in a short time. The organization and election of officers occupied the attention of those who met last night.

"Dr. George Hofstetter was chosen president. He was a classmate of President Van Hise, now at the head of the University. The other officers elected were:

Ethel Kendall, first vice president.

Margaret Murphy, second vice president.

D. E. Leslie, secretary-treasurer.

Miss Eldora White, chairman program committee.

"The purpose of the organization was expressed by those present as follows:

'We, the former students of the University of Wisconsin living in Clinton or in the vicinity of Clinton, do hereby bind ourselves into an organization to be known as the Wisconsin Alumni association of Clinton, Iowa, for the following purposes:

'To promote good fellowship among the former students of the University.

'To promote and encourage an interest in higher education among the young people of our city.

'To keep alive an active interest in the general welfare of the University of Wisconsin.'

"The association will have no regular time for meeting. The program committee is expected to arrange programs for such meetings as it sees fit to call. With twenty-five to thirty former students living in or near Clinton it was thought that the organization would be welcomed by them."

COMMERCE DEPARTMENT

The officers of the Commerce Alumni Association are:

R. H. Hollen, '03, president.

C. L. McMillan, '11, vice-president.

F. H. Elwell, '08, secretary and treasurer.

The Directory of Commerce Alumni is to be printed in the next issue of the Alumni Magazine.

1915 Commerce Notes

By PROFESSOR F. H. ELWELL, '08

Paul G. Brann is in the mercantile business at Baileys Harbor.

Earl F. Buelow is with the National Cash Register Co., Madison.

Russel F. Carter is in the Treasurer's Department, National Cash Register Company, Dayton, Ohio.

Morris S. Cohn is in the newspaper business at Omaha, Nebraska.

Herman V. Gaertner is with the New England Mutual Life Insurance Company at Milwaukee.

Warren C. Garst is taking graduate work in business administration at Harvard University, Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Edwin A. Gelein is in the Collection Department of the Case Threshing Machine Company, Racine.

Gerhardt O. Gullickson is attending the law school, and is also business manager of the Daily Cardinal.

James E. Halsted is with the Continental and Commercial Savings Bank at Chicago, Illinois.

Arthur G. Harter is the financial advisor for students, and accountant to the Student Life and Interests Committee, University of Wisconsin, Madison.

Clarence R. Hicks is doing accounting work for the Millers Mutual Fire Insurance Company, 1100 Flour Exchange Bldg., Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Leo G. Hoeveler is with the Gisholt Machine Company, Madison.

Walter H. Knobel is with W. R. Grace Company, Exporters, New York City, and lives at the 23rd Street Y. M. C. A.

Harry J. Koek is with the Milwaukee agency of the National Cash Register Company.

Thorpe M. Langley is secretary of the Wisconsin Loan and Trust Company, Superior.

Fred E. Lohe is temporarily located at Ashland, Ohio, where he is engaged in efficiency work.

Annis E. McLean is with the Western Electric Company, Chicago, Illinois.

Harold J. Matteson has entered the ranks of the public accountants, joining his father, J. A. Matteson, C. P. A., in Duluth, Minnesota.

Verne Nelson has returned to Madison to take graduate work at the University.

Emil Neupert is with the National Cash Register Company, Evansville, Indiana.

Harry Peterson is with the Northwestern Telephone Company, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Archie M. Peisch is instructor in accounting and finance at the University of South Dakota, Vermillion.

Edward C. Portman is with the Macey Company, Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Lester W. Rothe is selling life insurance in Madison.

William Sporleder has entered the employ of the Erie Railroad.

Isidore J. Schulte is secretary of the National Commission of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the world. He lives at the 23rd St. Y. M. C. A., New York City.

Charles F. Schimel is in charge of the commercial courses in the Fond du Lac High School.

Joseph F. Thomas is with the Gugler Lithograph Company, Milwaukee.

Frank Tillman is with the B. F. Goodrich Company, Akron, Ohio.

Harry G. White is with the National Cash Register Company, Davenport, Iowa.

1915-16 TEACHING APPOINTMENTS

1894—C. J. Fenner, Cherry Creek, New York.

1901—Laura Brownson, returned to Ellsworth.

1902—Alfred F. Fairbank, principal, graded school, Union, Illinois.

1903—Willard H. Hein, normal school, Bloomington, Illinois; Ira O. Hubbard, superintendent, Hudson.

1904—Lillian H. Evans, returned to Kenosha; Harriet Mason, Oakland, California.

1907—Mary F. Byrne, returned to Shullsburg; George H. Bartelt, principal, Elkhart Lake; Edward P. Crain, returned to normal school, Valley City, North Dakota; Ruth Marshall, Northern Illinois Normal School, De Kalb, Illinois; Francis R. Nash, principal, St. Croix Falls.

1909—Nels A. Anderson, returned to Ellsworth; Sarah A. Baker, Whitewater; Emma Frodermann, Anaconda, Montana; Carolyn H. Handt, returned to high school, Green Bay; Virginia Watawa, Madison.

1910—Blanche Christensen, returned to Marinette; Georgiana Clark, returned to Ripon; Alice Hoskin, Fond du Lac; Meta C. Kieckhefer, Lancaster; Florence E. McRae, Escanaba, Michigan; George R. Ray, principal, Price County Training School, Phillips.

1911—Otto E. Buth, returned to Beloit; Margaret Colletine, Mancos, Colorado; Grace S. Dunwiddie, returned to Morris, Minnesota; George P. Halversen, returned to Nashwauk, Minnesota; William B. Kempthorne, principal, Monument, Oregon; Alice J. Nelson, Kenosha; Theodora Schmirler, Augusta; Frances Ruedebusch, Mineral Point.

1912—Beulah Bettinger, Fountain City; Mary A. Brown, Beloit; Maude Bunker, returned to training school, Fennimore; Laura Blood, principal, Cable; James F. Desmond, returned to Mukwonago; Harvey S. Drake, returned to Ironwood, Michigan; Fred F. Finner, principal, Marion; Florence Frost, St. Joseph's Academy, Tipton, Indiana; Honora M. Frawley, returned to Ashland; Selma Gross, returned to Edgar; Claire F. Hedges, returned to Neenah; Anna M. Hinn, Columbus; Elizabeth B. Jackson, returned to Altoona; Ida P. Johnson, Fargo, North Dakota; H. W. Maule, principal, Durand; Edith Moore, Marshfield; Anna L. Neitzel, Beloit; Hope M. Pollard, Lovington, Illinois; Bailey E. Ramsdell, Milwaukee; Wm. E. Slagg, high school, Oshkosh.

1913—Margaret Anderson, returned to Eau Claire; Gladys A. Branegan, normal school, Platteville; Kathleen C. Carey, returned to Cassville; Helen M. Chafin, returned to Beaver Dam; Helen W. Deming, Abbotsford; Raymond E. Dixon, returned to University of Illinois, Urbana, Illinois; Neva Gates, high school, Ames, Iowa; Irma C. Gautschi, University of Wisconsin, Madison; Reslo S. Havenor, superintendent, Paris, Missouri; Grace W. Hettinger, Portage; Lynda Homberger, Marion; Sara H. James, Blue Earth, Minnesota; Stella M. Jeffery, De Pere; Ella B. Jones, Manitowoc; Esther J. King, Beloit; Jessie Menzies, Fond du Lac; Katherine Morrissey, St. Louis, Missouri; Anthon J. Opstedal, Sumner, Washington; Jane M. Pengelly, Muscatine, Iowa; E. D. Reynolds, fellowship in Clark University, Worcester, Massachusetts; Mary A. Ryan, Blooming Prairie, Minnesota; Margaret M. F. Shafer, University High School, Minneapolis, Minnesota; Laura S. Stark, Ripon College, Ripon; Roxie Walker, Loyal; Ellen Wheelock, Lead, South Dakota.

1914—A. J. Altmeyer, returned as assistant to superintendent, Chisholm, Minnesota; Matilda Arneson, Platteville; Bessie T. Baer, returned as principal, Three Lakes; Idah M. Barnett, returned to Birmingham, Alabama; Clayton W.

Botkin, returned to Ottumwa, Iowa; William J. Boyd, returned to Oconto; Ewart Cleveland, Soldiers Grove; Marguerite Collver, Aurora, Minnesota; A. Margaret Coon, Minocqua; Frances C. Ellman, fellowship, Wisconsin High School, Madison; Jennie E. Fargo, Eau Claire County Training School, Eau Claire; Gyneth T. Fries, Ladysmith; Alice Foxwell, Hartford; Winifred B. Goodrich, West Allis; Marshall C. Graff, Leadville, Colorado; D. A. Hayworth, superintendent, Lemon, South Dakota; Lawrence Hurst, University of Colorado, Denver, Colorado; Jerome Head, St. John's Military Academy, Delafield; Edna J. Ingalls, returned to Fort Atkinson; Rhea M. Jennings, Owen; Claudia B. Jordan, Durand; Amelia V. Kleinhertz, Cedarburg; Mary C. Leary, Chilton; Alice McCarthy, Peotone, Illinois; George J. Mueller, Streator, Illinois; Merle Pierson, Madison; Eleanor F. Raymond, Hutchinson, Minnesota; Lucile C. Robertson, Bottineau, North Dakota; Florence Ross, Rice Lake; Wiley B. Rutledge, Connersville, Indiana; Eunice V. Ryan, Devils Lake, North Dakota; Mabel L. Schwab, Omro; Elsa H. Shadall, Antigo; Vera L. Sieb, Muscoda; Wm. L. Tiernan, Riverside High School, Milwaukee; Anna J. Turgasen, Oregon; Etta M. Walter, superintendent of county high school, Huntington, Indiana; Irvin A. White, Shawano; Gertrude M. White, University of Wisconsin, Madison; Ruth L. Williams, New Holstein; Otto J. Zobel, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Graduates of 1915

Who have secured positions, as reported by the Committee on Appointment of Teachers.

Adams, Roah M., Botany, Algebra, Physiology, Chilton.

Alexander, Irma E., Com. Work, Wichita, Kansas.

Anderson, Elna C., Mathematics, Menominee, Mich.

Andrews, Olive V., Teaching Fellow, Zoology, Wausau.

Arzberger, Ida B., Arts and Crafts, Francis Parker School, San Diego, Calif.

Asher, Henry T., M. A., position in post-office, Chicago.

- Astell, Elsie G., Science and Mathematics, Owen, Wis.
- Babcock, Rodney W., M. A., Inst. in Math., Univ. of Pennsylvania.
- Baldwin, Merle M., Latin, German, Elroy.
- Bennett, Marjorie E., M. A., Latin, English, Merrill.
- Best, Louis F., Manual Arts, Pasadena, Calif.
- Bingham, Harold S., Agriculture, Amboy, Minn.
- Bishop, Fred G., Principal, Shawano, Wis.
- Boeing, Agnes, Dom. Science, Extension Division, U. W.
- Boorse, Mary M., History, English, Bangor, Wis.
- Bradley, Alice V., Domestic Science, Maple Lake, Minn.
- Brandenburg, Geo. C., Ph. D., Assistant, Dept. of Education, U. W.
- Brann, Albert, M. A., Assistantship, U. W.
- Bresnahan, Geo. T., History, Civics, Econ., Athl., Bismarck, N. D.
- Bristol, Reva E., Dom. Science, Waterman, Ill.
- Brown, Louise W., Commercial Work, Lancaster.
- Brunelle, Aug. H., Assistant in History, U. W.
- Brown, Paul M., Agriculture, Mt. Hope, Wis.
- Brownell, Isabelle F., Teaching Fellow, French, Wisconsin High School.
- Brunner, E. J., Principal, Glidden, Wis.
- Bundy, Dorothy E., History, Centralia, Ill.
- Bussewitz, W. R., Principal, Linden, Wis.
- Cahoon, Anne R., M. S., Director, Physical Ed., Y. W. C. A., Riverside, Calif.
- Caldwell, Dorothy A., Math., Hillsboro.
- Carr, Helen M., English, Washburn.
- Chase, Paul W., Agriculture, Mountain Lake, Minn.
- Clark, Herman A., Ph. D., Asst. Prof. of Latin, Univ. of Oregon, Eugene, Ore.
- Connors, Leora, English and History, Highland.
- Coon, Philip L., M. A., Science, Lake Linden, Mich.
- Crandall, Percy J., Agriculture, Lyle, Minn.
- Cummings, Irene H., M. A., Latin, Sioux Falls, S. D.
- Curry, Margaret M., Teaching Fellow in English, La Crosse.
- Dafoe, Gladys G., Math. and German, Union Grove.
- Dahle, Beulah, Dom. Science, Rush City, Minn.
- Decker, Lois, Director of Physical Activities for Women and Children, Proctor Recreation Center, Peoria, Ill.
- Denneen, Irene E., Country School Critic, La Crosse Normal.
- Dietrich, Jessie A., English, School for the Blind, Janesville, Wis.
- Doe, Julia A., Ph. D., English, etc., Chicago Univ. School for Girls, Chicago.
- Dow, Lillian J., Latin and German, Hartford.
- Duggan, Ella R., English, Kaukauna.
- Dulaney, Grace, Dom. Science, Trenton, Mo.
- Eaglesfield, Guy E., Manual Arts, Rapid City, S. D.
- Edsall, Winifred, Teachers Training Dept., Galesville.
- Eifer, Elsie C., History, Fennimore.
- English, Esther I., Mathematics, Rhineland.
- Fagan, Riah B., elected to Scholarship, U. W.
- Faust, Wirt G., English, Man. Train. H. S., Indianapolis, Ind.
- Frankel, Freda, Math., Eagle River, Wis.
- Frye, Chas. F., Agriculture, Ferndale, Wash.
- Gannon, Florence G., History, Enid, Okla.
- George, May O., German and Music, Aberdeen, S. D.
- Gebhart, Corrinne, German, Kenosha.
- Gilbert, Max, Asst. in Chem., Univ. of Minnesota.
- Green, Ruth E., English and History, Oakfield, Wis.
- Green, Mary E., M. A., English, Chilton.
- Gray, Nancy A., Commercial Place, Armour & Co., Chicago.

- Hadden, Jean M., Fellow in French, Wisconsin High School.
- Hamilton, Nell S., Grades, Hibbing, Minn.
- Hansen, Alice M., History, De Forest.
- Hanson, Helena C. L., Dom. Science, Wauwatosa, Wis.
- Harrington, Eileen M., Mus. Cert., Music and Drawing, Hurley.
- Hatch, Lucile D., Public Speaking, Racine.
- Hawley, Bessie V., Science, Florence.
- Hayden, Stella J., Dom. Science, Hammond, Ind.
- Hendricks, Genevieve, English, Merrill.
- Hinkson, Ora L., Dom. Science, Randolph.
- Hinn, Alene T., Dom. Science, Laurens, Ia.
- Holley, Harriett E., Latin and History, Antigo.
- Holtum, Alfred, Manual Arts, Kewaunee.
- Horstmann, Edith L., German, Wautoma.
- Hoyrd, W. E., Agriculture, Henderson, Minn.
- Humphrey, Howell H., M. S., County Agric. School, Wausau.
- Jackson, Joseph W., Agric. Physics, Gardner, Ill.
- Jacques, Marjorie, Elem. Science, Milwaukee Downer, Milwaukee.
- James, Henry F., Phys. Geography, Madison High School.
- Johnson, Arthur N., Agriculture, Mukwonago.
- Kelly, Esther J., Latin, German, Eng., Grays Lake, Ill.
- Kibler, A. F., M. S., Inst. in Physics, U. of Philippines, Manila.
- King, Mary L., Phys. Geog., History, Eng., Pittsville.
- Knight, Minnie A., History, Washburn.
- Konig, Selma L., M. A., German, Freeport, Ill.
- Kraus, Marguerite V., English, Medford.
- Krueger, Arthur F., M. S., Manual Training, Champaign, Ill.
- Kruse, Samuel A., M. A., State Normal in South.
- Lassfolk, Esther, English, Bloomer, Wis.
- Leonard, Sylvia, Mathematics, Beloit.
- Lewis, Russell F., History, Algebra, Econ., Edgerton.
- McAlexander, Grace, M. A., History, Kentucky Col. for Women, Danville, Ky.
- McMurry, Mabel J., Dom. Science, De Forest.
- McNeil, Mary E., English and Algebra, Prescott.
- Machotka, J. F., Agric. Caledonia, Kent Co., Mich.
- Machlem, Jane C., English, History, Merrillan.
- Martell, Louis J., Co. Supt. Brown Co., Wis.
- Martindale, Katharine, Head of Household Arts Dept. Baker Univ., Baldwin, Kansas.
- Masten, Adele, English, Nevada, Mo.
- Matteson, Mabel C., Grade Work, Hibbing, Minn.
- Matthews, Emma Louise, New Haven, Ind.
- Mattson, Oscar F., Principal, Winneconne, Wis.
- Merkelbach, Maria L., M. A., German and Typewriting, Watertown.
- Mingle, Hilda R., Music Cert., Music and Drawing, Kaukauna.
- Moore, Anna R., English, Mineral Point.
- Morrissey, Agnes, Dom. Science, Mendota Beach School.
- Morse, Helen I., Music Cert., Music Supervisor, Algona, Ia.
- Negley, Eleanor B., History, Hartford.
- Nind, Marjorie E., Hackley Manual Training School, Muskegon, Mich.
- Oldenburg, F. W., M. S., Agriculture, Ames, Ia.
- Ollis, Edna M., Elementary Science, Hudson.
- Olsen, Esther G., Arith., Alge., Physiology, Bloomer, Wis.
- Patterson, Florence B., Mathematics, Normal Col. Inst., Asheville, N. C.
- Peters, Elsie V., German, Math., English, Belmont.
- Peterson, Elsea J., Music and English, Chilton.
- Piper, Bessie A., Dom. Science, Mt. Horeb.
- Pohle, Helen L., Latin and German, Middleton.

- Pollard, Luther J., M. A., Psychology and Education, Lombard College, Galesburg, Ill.
- Prince, Albertine, English, West De Pere.
- Pugh, Grace M., Math., Fennimore.
- Rahmlow, Henry J., Agriculture, Bayfield, Wis.
- Reid, Dwight L., M. S., Normal School, Agriculture, Aberdeen, S. D.
- Reed, Jeannette A., M. A., elected Fellow in Greek, U. W.
- Reinking, Anita E., Botanical position, Washington, D. C.
- Reiser, Elizabeth E., History, German, Waterford.
- Rettger, Winifred G., Birmingham, Ala.
- Reynolds, Alice M., M. A., English and History, Grand Rapids.
- Richardson, Marion E., English, East Troy.
- Riggert, Elda K., English and Phys. Geog., East H. S., Aurora, Ill.
- Roberts, Hazel I., M. A., English, Neillsville.
- Roth, Wm. E., Assistant, Math. Univ. of Illinois, Urbana.
- Runge, Ralf T., M. A., Fellowship in German, Univ. of Illinois, Urbana.
- Rush, Ida M., English, Hannibal, Mo.
- Ryser, Lyda M., Science, Math., Bloomington Prairie, Minn.
- Salter, Raymond C., Ia. State Teachers' Col., Cedar Falls, Ia.
- Sanders, Stella E., M. A., Latin, German, Parkersburg, W. Va.
- Sayle, Mary H., Teaching Fellow, Zool., Wausau.
- Sazama, Joseph E., Commercial Work, Kewaunee, Wis.
- Scallon, Margaret A., M. A., English, Univ. of Wisconsin.
- Schmidt, Anna M., German and Science, Highland.
- Schultz, Harry G., Science, Garfield, Wash.
- Seeberg, Elizabeth A., M. A., Scholarship, German, U. W.
- Simmonds, Nina, Assistant in Agric. Chem., U. of Wisconsin.
- Slawson, Marguerite F., Phys. Education, Glenmill School, Darling, Pa.
- Smith, Edna W., Dom. Science, Galva, Ill.
- Smith, Frances L., Geog., English, Marinette, Wis.
- Smith, Helen M., Dom. Science, Milwaukee Co. School of Agriculture, Wauwatosa, Wis.
- Springer, Elsie L., German, Fennimore.
- Steig, Olga M., Math. or German, Kenosha.
- Stoeckle, L. Mathilda, M. A., English and Latin, German-English Academy, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.
- Thauer, Olive E., English, Fox Lake.
- Treacle, Helen E., Geography, Beloit.
- Trowbridge, Dorothy A., Latin and German, Milton, Wis.
- Ulrich, Helen C., German, West De Pere.
- Underwood, Lucy, Teaching Fellow in English, La Crosse.
- Van Norman, Louina M., English, Kewaskum, Wis.
- Walker, Harold R., Agriculture, Hill City, Minn.
- Walters, Everett L., Principal, Clinton, Ill.
- Warner, Louise, English and Am. History, Stockton, Kas.
- Weingartner, Harry A., Agriculture, Wabeno.
- White, Addie M., Southern Illinois State Normal, Carbondale, Ill.
- White, Vila E., Music Cert., Community music, Mt. Horeb and Cottage Grove.
- Whitehouse, Herbert, M. A., Principal, Middleton, Wis.
- Wightman, Nellie M., County Training School, Richland Center.
- Williams, Beth, Teachers' Training Course, Lancaster, Wis.
- Wing, Herbert, Jr., Ph. D., Asso. Prof. of Greek, Dickinson College.
- Winckley, Ruth E., English and Phys. Geo., Winneconne.
- Wiseman, Clinton R., Livingston, Agriculture.
- Woll, Margaret L., Chem. and Dietetics, Man. Training School, San Francisco.
- Wright, Frank L., M. A., State Teachers' College, Greeley, Colo., Professor of Education.

DEPARTMENT OF ATHLETICS

The Foot Ball Schedule

CT. 2—Lawrence at Madison — Score: Wisconsin, 82; Lawrence, 0.
Oct. 9 — Marquette at Madison—Score: Wisconsin, 85; Marquette, 0.
Oct. 16 — Purdue at Lafayette — Score: Wisconsin, 28; Purdue, 3.
Oct. 23—Ohio at Madison.
Oct. 30—Chicago at Chicago.
Nov. 6—Open date.
Nov. 13—Illinois at Urbana.
Nov. 20—Minnesota at Madison.

'bility.

Ineligibility, that bugbear of athletes, has apparently raised less disturbance this season in the football ranks than usual. Last year Byers, one of the most promising candidates for half-back, was ineligible. This year his scholastic difficulties have been adjusted and he is now apparently in line for a steady job in the back field. George Simpson, playing opposite to Capt. Buck on the tackle position, has straightened his record to conform to faculty regulations. The coaches, as well as the Athletic Department, have made every effort to impress upon all candidates the necessity of a clean scholastic record.

The Team

With a squad of sixty men, practically all of whom can be counted on to fight for a position on the team,

Coaches Juneau, Driver and Wilson have fair material to draw upon in their selections. At quarter, Eber Simpson seems to be the best bet. Byers, Smith, Cummings, Weimar and McCrory at half; Kreuz, Berg and Giaver at full, all look good in the back field. Capt. Buck, Koch, Rosenberg, and Filtzer at tackle; Stavrum, Rau, Meyers, Cramers and Booth at end; Pottinger and Albright at center; Gardner, Hancock, Landry and Geo. Simpson at guard are just a few of the more likely selections for permanent places on the line.

The Lawrence Game

The football season of 1915 opened auspiciously at Wisconsin. A new record for attendance at preliminary games was established, there being nearly two thousand paid admissions. This large crowd was due in part to a desire of many fans to get a first look at the Varsity aggregation in action, and partly to the ideal weather conditions. The Freshmen met at the Gymnasium, and headed by the "Exposition" Band of nearly one hundred pieces, marched in a body to Camp Randall.

The Lawrence team was late in arriving on the field, and the game did not open until nearly three o'clock. Lawrence kicked off to Wisconsin. Then immediately an end run by Simpson, quarter, and a forward pass, Simpson to Stavrum, netted the first touch-down. An average of one touch-down for every five minutes play shows the speed at which the game was played, the final score, 82 to 0, being perhaps the highest mark ever established on the local field.

Altogether the game demonstrated several things: Among others that Wisconsin is being drilled, and drilled efficiently, in the open style of game; that the team is a well-balanced one; and, finally, that Wisconsin, despite gloomy forecasts to the contrary, remains to be reckoned with by the other members of the Conference in the race for the pennant.

The Marquette Game

The lineup:

Wisconsin		Marquette
Stavrum	le	Le Strange
Buck	lt	Gary
Hancock	lg	Hanley
Pottinger	c	Amberlang
Gardner	rg	King
Koch	rt	Mazurek
Rau	re	Meyer
E. Simpson	qb	Schubert
Byers	lhb	Beutler
Smith	rhb	McCarthy
Kreuz	fb	Chicaeki

Score by quarters:

Wisconsin	.....	28	28	19	10	—85
Marquette	.....	0	0	0	0	—0

The Purdue Game

The lineup:

Wisconsin	Position	Purdue
Smith	rhb	Pultz
Kreuz	fb	Bishop
Byers	lhb	Walter
E. Simpson	qb	Finn
Rau	re	Vanaken
Koch	rt	Buehner
Gardner	rg	Mason
Pottinger	C Blocker	(Capt.)
Hancock	lg	Proud

Buck (Capt.)	lt	Berns
Stavrum	le	Stinchfield

Score by quarters:

Wisconsin	.....	0	14	0	14	—28
Purdue	.....	3	0	0	0	—3

Arrangements at Camp Randall

During the summer the athletic department re-arranged the storeroom facilities at Camp Randall. With the present arrangement the varsity and freshmen squads are supplied with equipment from separate stores. The Varsity equipment room has been enlarged and the equipment can now be handled expeditiously. There is an innovation also in the manner of handling the equipment. In former years, this was done by the managers, but this was found unsatisfactory and arrangements were made whereby two paid men were placed in charge. It is the duty of these men to look after the equipment.

In 1913 the old north bleachers were condemned and removed. New seats were rented to replace them. The same arrangement will be made this year for the Minnesota game on Nov. 20, but for the Marquette and Ohio games only the grand stand and east and west bleachers will be used.

The state legislature at its recent session, appropriated $20,000 for the improvement of Camp Randall and a new athletic field, and the contracts for the preliminary grading are practically arranged for and the work will soon be under way. It is hoped that the new stadium and field will be ready for the opening game of 1916.

The Coaches.

The football coaching staff remains about as it was last year. Mr. Juneau was again elected head coach, with Messrs. Driver and Wilson as assistants. Mr. Steinauer serves in the capacity of trainer. Mr. Jones is again in charge of the freshmen football and track. Dr. Meanwell will try to lead his basketball tossers to another championship, while Mr. Vail will be the rowing mentor. Mr. McChesney and Mr. Hindman are the gymnastic and swimming instructors, respectively. Mr. Sands, star on the 1913-14 basketball team, has been added to the staff to assist Dr. Meanwell. Mr. Benedict will help Mr. McChesney and Mr. Lee will take charge of wrestling.

The Homecoming.

The date for the homecoming is Nov. 20, the time for the Minnesota-Wisconsin game. Every "Grad" and friend of the University should get back of this affair and help to make it a success.

Football Mail Orders.

The whole matter of Mail Order Seat Sales has undergone a complete change in an effort to secure a system whereby fair and impartial treatment can be accorded to all applicants in the allotment of seats. In studying this subject, the Athletic Department has been guided by the experience of Michigan, Princeton and other large institutions.

For the preliminary games, Lawrence and Marquette, there was a straight 50c admission. For the Ohio and Minnesota games, respectively, a charge of $1.00 and $2.00 is made. The seat sale for these two games is now open and the tickets for the Ohio game were mailed about Oct.

16; those for the Minnesota game will be sent out about Nov. 13. Anyone desiring information concerning these seat sales should apply to G. W. Ehler, Director of Athletics, University Gymnasium, Madison, Wis.

Athletic Coupon Books.

The new Athletic Coupon Book contains 50 coupons and admits to all intercollegiate and intramural athletic contests and to reserved seats where reservations are made at Camp Randall and the Men's Gymnasium and Annex. This book costs $5.00 and is on sale at the Bursar's Office and the Men's Gymnasium. For directions governing the use of coupons make application to Mr. Ehler, Director of Athletics, Men's Gymnasium.

---

To Alumni Clubs

Do you want to get together and secure reports by wire on any of our football games this fall? We are in position to furnish either skeleton or complete returns.

Your loyal friend, William D. Richardson, dropped in the other day. All he has to do is full work in the University, full time for the Northwestern Mutual Life as student representative, full time for the Free Press as reporter, but he is a generous soul, so he has volunteered to furnish you with this service. All you have to do is to make arrangements about the wire and pay the telegraph company.

Mr. Richardson's expert services are donated!

ALUMNI NEWS

The success of this personal news department is dependent upon the interest every alumnus takes in his Magazine. News items should come direct from graduates if this department is to be valuable and reliable. Contributors to these columns will greatly aid the editor if they designate the class and college of the subject of their sketch in the news items—name of class secretary listed under year. All signed articles sent to Alumni Headquarters, 821 State Street receive prompt consideration. Alumni please keep in touch with the magazine and with your class secretary.

BIRTHS

1902. Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Felix Boldenweck, a daughter, Elizabeth Louise, on August 19. Mr. and Mrs. Boldenweck reside at 705 Buena Avenue, Chicago. Mr. Boldenweck is a member of the class of 1902.
1904. Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Lewis W. Parks, a son, Stephen Cunningham, on May 23. Mr. Parks, '04, is the superintendent of the G. B. Lewis Company's beehive factory at Wauertown.
1904. Born—To Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Cheney of Grand Rapids, Michigan, a daughter, Lois Alene. Mr. Cheney is a member of the class of 1900.
1906. Born—To Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Larkin of South Bethlehem, Pa., a son, Richard Newcomb, on May 15. Mr. Larkin, who for the last three years has been in charge of the experimental engineering department of Lehigh University, has been granted leave of absence for one year, during which time he will be associated with the Harrisburg Pipe and Pile Bending Company in the capacity of chief inspector of ordinance. The company is executing munition contracts for the allies.
1906. Born—To Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Blanchard, a son, on June 8. Mr. Blanchard, '06, Law, '10, is an attorney at Edgerton.
1908. Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Harris A. Bolton of Wisdom, Mont., a daughter, Helen Verne, on July 10. Mrs. Bolton was Maud E. Smith, '08.
1910. Born—To Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Erickson of Chicago, a daughter, Ellen Julia, on July 11. Mrs. Erickson was Gretchen Ruedebush, '10.
1911. Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Hans N. Brue of Madison, a daughter, Mary-Ella, on July 28. Mr. Brue is a member of the class of 1911.
1912. Born—to Mr. and Mrs. Winfred G. Haddow, a daughter, Miriam Adele, on July 8. Mr. Haddow, '12, is a member of the law firm of Knowles and Haddow of Ellsworth.
1912. Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Henry Veere Lacy, a daughter, on August 13. Mr. Lacy, '12, is the principal of the Carolyn Johnson Memorial Institute of Lungtien, China.
1913. Born—To Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Hendrickson of Valdez, Alaska, a son, on August 16. Mrs. Hendrickson was Ella G. Franzen, Ex. '14.
1914. Born—To Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Blanchard, a son, on June 8. Mr. Blanchard, '06, Law, '10, is an attorney at Edgerton.

ENGAGEMENTS

1904. Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Emma Hoeck of Milwaukee to H. W. Selle, Ex. '04, of Chicago.
1911. Announcement is made of the engagement of Frances Coon, '11, of Rhinelander to James McGraw of Chilton. The wedding will take place on October 20.
1913. Announcement is made of the engagement of Margaret Miller, of Austin, Texas, a former member of the class of 1916, to E. Dow Gilman, '13. Mr. Gilman received his bachelor's degree in chemical engineering in 1913 and was appointed to a fellowship in civil engineering the following year for which he received the degree of civil engineer. He is at present assistant engineer in the division of public works of the city of Duluth, Minn. Miss Miller is completing the work for her bachelor's degree at the University of Texas.
1914. Announcement is made of the engagement of Jennie E. Koehler, '14, to Ray Bristol Cooley, professor of animal husbandry in the Rhode Island State College at Kingston.

MARRIAGES

1900. Announcement is made of the marriage of Mrs. Beeckman Graham to the Reverend Albert Joseph McCarty, '00, pastor of the Kenwood Evangelical Church of Chicago.
1900. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Mary Slosson of Oberlin, Ohio, to Joseph Koffend, Jr., '00, Law, '02, at Oberlin on September 18.
1905. Announcement is made of the marriage of Adalia Laurentine

1906. Kroehnke, '06, to Dr. Arthur Oscar Fisher, '05, at San Diego, Cal., on July 20. They will be at home after October 1 in St. Louis.
1906. Announcement is made of the marriage of Anne Dodge Martin, '08, the daughter of former State Senator Martin of Darlington, to L. A. Tarrell, '06, at Darlington on September 11. Mr. Tarrell is the chief examiner of the workmen's compensation department of the the Wisconsin Industrial Commission. The couple will be at home in Madison at 136 West Wilson Street after November 15.
1906. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Bessie M. Lewis of Omro to Louis W. Bridgman, '06, on September 18. Mr. Bridgman is the correspondent of the Associated Press at Madison where the couple will reside at 1605 Rutledge Street.
1906. Announcement is made of the marriage of Hally Jollivette, B. A., '06, M. A., '09, Ph. D., '11, to Carl Saxon, formerly of the University of Washington. Both Mr. and Mrs. Saxon will teach in the department of biology at Harvard this year.
1907. Announcement is made of the marriage of Kate Trainor, '09 to Joseph H. Curtin, '07, both of Madison. They will make their home at the Monona Apartments in Madison. Mrs. Curtin was formerly a statistician in the office of the university registrar.
1907. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Helen M. Van Wageningen and Leon O. Griffith, '07, on September 15. The couple will make their home at Lafayette, Indiana where Mr. Griffith is the representative for the Rumely Products Company.

1907. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Margaret Louise Morgan of Durand to Paul R. Newcomb, '07, of Milwaukee on June 30.
1908. Announcement is made of the marriage of Alice Evans, '08, to Herber Dexter Field of San Diego, Cal., on August 12. They will be at home in San Diego at 3026 Date Street.
1908. Announcement is made of the marriage of Zettie Ethel Sieb, '08, to J. M. Schaad.
1908. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Ethel M. Morgan and Dr. Walter Gresham Sexton, '08. After leaving the University Dr. Sexton entered the medical department of Johns Hopkins from where he was graduated in 1911. He is now engaged in practice at Marshfield.
1908. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Florence C. Averill of Cleveland, Ohio, to Warren E. Leaper, '08, on September 13. They will be at home after November 1 at 709 School Place, Green Bay. Dr. Leaper received his medical degree from Johns Hopkins in 1911.
1908. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Margaret L. Maney of Marquette, Mich. to J. F. Wolff, '08, at Marquette on September 29, 1914. The couple reside at Duluth where Mr. Wolff is a mining engineer with offices in the Wolvin Building.
1909. Announcement is made of the marriage of Margaret Elizabeth Jane Godfrey, '14 to Edward T. Lange, '09, at Whitewater on July 28. They are at home at Whitewater.
1909. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Margaret Armstrong to George William Heise, '09, M. S., '12, at Honolulu on August 6. They will make their home at 817 Calle Georgia, Manila, where Mr. Heise is a physical chemist in the Philippines Bureau of Science.
1910. Announcement is made of the marriage of Katherine Frances Page to Henry Bucher, '10, at Madison on July 7.
1910. Announcement is made of the marriage of Helen Laffin, Ex. '18, to Frederick H. Linley, '10, of Thompson Falls, Mont., on October 2. They will make their home at Thompson Falls. Mrs. Linley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert N. Laffin of Milwaukee, the former a member of the class of 1893 and the latter a member of 1894.
1910. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Hazel Elma Humble to Earl Sidney Weber, '10, on August 23 at New York City. They are at home at West 38th St. and Philena Ave., Cleveland.
1911. Announcement is made of the marriage of Lucy Wells Fox, '11, to Leonard C. Mead at Bardsell, N. Y., on September 2. They will make their home at Geneva, Illinois, where Mr. Mead is the city attorney.
1911. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Marguerite Sylvester of Stoddardsville, Pa., to Herman Veerhusen, '11. Mr. Veerhusen is an engineer for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company at New York City.
1911. Announcement is made of the marriage of Frances E. Minch, '12, of Madison to Robert E. McFarland, Ex., '11, of Chicago.
1912. Madison to Robert E. McFarland, Ex., '11, of Chicago.

1911. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Margaret Marie Gerhardt to Otto E. Buth, '11, at Milwaukee on July 28. Mr. Buth is at the head of the science department of the high school at Beloit.
1911. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Constance Pember to Dr. Franklin Richards Nuzum, '11, on July 15. The couple will make their home in Chicago where Dr. Nuzum is practicing medicine.
1911. Announcement is made of the marriage of Marie M. Martin, '11, to John M. McHale on June 2. They are at home at Iron River, Mich.
1912. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Helene Bourcier Dunfield of Madison to Howard Frederick Ohm, '12, of South Milwaukee. The couple will make their home in Madison where Mr. Ohm is engaged in the practice of law.
1912. Announcement is made of the marriage of Amy Glorane Hoyt, '12, M. A., '14, to James M. Smith, a graduate of the Lehigh University and the chief operating engineer of the University of Wisconsin on August 12. Mrs. Smith was a teacher of English in the Madison High School last year.
1912. Announcement is made of the marriage of Gertrude Hull of Baraboo to Lester Spray of Lawrence, Kan. They will make their home at Topeka, Kan., where Mr. Spray is in the drafting department of the Santa Fe Railroad.
1912. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Edna Rae Dunn to B. A. McGee, '12, at Chicago on July 22.
1913. Announcement is made of the marriage of Frances Trewyn, '13, to Hugo Kuechenmeister, '13, of the University Extension Division.
1913. Announcement is made of the marriage of Jessie Louise Roberts, '14, of Superior to Max Frederick Rather, '13. They will make their home at Madison where Mr. Rather is in the engineering department of the Wisconsin Railway Commission.
1913. Announcement is made of the marriage of Margaret Eberle, '13, of Watertown to Richard Rosencranz on Sept. 4. They will make their home at 108 Sunset Avenue, Evansville, Ind. where they will be at home after November 1. Mr. Rosencranz is a former member of the class of 1904 of Cornell.
1913. Announcement is made of the marriage of Jessie Sumner, '14, to Dr. Damon A. Brown, '13, of St. Louis. Dr. Brown, a graduate of the Washington University medical school, is at present practicing in St. Louis, where the couple will make their home.
1913. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Anna Lydia Wanner of Jamestown, N. D., to Herbert Ray Sweetman, '13, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at the North Dakota Agricultural College of Fargo on August 27. They will be at home at 1136 7th Street North, Fargo.
1913. Announcement is made of the marriage of Marjory Taylor, '14, to Sigvald Stavrum, '13, at La Crosse on July 21.
1913. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Charlotte Lewis to Oran M. Nelson, '13, at Corvallis, Ore., on August 26. They will make their home at Corvallis where Mr. Nelson is an instructor in animal husbandry at the Oregon Agricultural College.
1913. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Sadie Ross to Easton Johnson, '13, an attorney of White-water.

1914. Announcement is made of the marriage of Christina Rouwenhorst, Ex. '17 to Reuben V. Gunn, '14, at Orange City, Iowa, on Sept. 3. Mr. Gunn is an instructor in farm management in the University.
1914. Announcement is made of the marriage of Edna G. Lovejoy, Ex. '16, to Herbert T. Johnson, '14. They will make their home at Crown Point where Mr Johnson is engaged in law practice.
1914. Announcement is made of the marriage of Edna Oakey of Madison to William C. Boardman. Mr. Boardman has been engaged in soil survey work for Wisconsin for the last year but is now engaged in similar work for the State of Ohio.
1914. Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Gladys Reiner of Madison to Melbourne O. Reed, '14, of Chicago on September 6. Mr. Reed is in the employ of the Western Electrical Company in Chicago where the couple will make their home.

DEATHS

MERRITT CLARK RING, '73.

The following joint resolution was adopted by the Wisconsin Legislature on the death of Merritt Clark Ring:

"Merritt C. Ring was born at Milton, Wisconsin, October 30, 1850, and died at Neillsville, Wisconsin, July 21, 1915. In 1856 he removed to Madison and thence to Sparta, where he was educated and grew to manhood. After teaching public school for a time he entered the law department of the University of Wisconsin, graduating in 1873. Shortly thereafter he went to Neillsville and opened his law office. He attained splendid success in his profession and was identified with important litigation.

"Early in his career as a lawyer Mr. Ring took an active interest in politics, becoming one of the local leaders of the Republican party. He was elected to the state senate in 1885 and to the assembly in 1889 and served on important committees in each body. In 1892 he was special statistical agent for the United States department of agriculture for Europe, with headquarters at London, and while there he also acted as deputy consul-general at London. In 1895 he received the appointment of attorney for the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Company, which position he held for several years. During his later years he was greatly interested in agriculture, carrying on a large stock farm. He was also very active in promoting the educational and social advancement of his community.

"He is survived by his widow and three daughters.

"Mr. Ring was a man of great strength of mind and in his prime exerted a wide influence throughout the state. His intellect was penetrating and his power as a public speaker gave him wide power. Naturally courageous and conservative he came into vigorous contact with opponents. He never shrank from a conflict to defend or extend his views. In his later years he developed a kindly philosophy of life and old political strife had long been forgotten.

"Merritt C. Ring was a man of power, strength and courage who left his imprint for good upon his community and the state. He was a man who stood by his friends, and withal a gentle and kindly man. Therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate, the assembly concurring, That in the death of Merritt C. Ring the state has lost a respected citizen and one who has been a valued public servant, and those who knew him personally have lost a good and loyal friend; and be it further

Resolved, That this expression of appreciation be entered upon the journals of the two houses and that an engrossed copy, properly attested by the legislative officers, be conveyed to the family of the deceased."

MRS. W. T. BROWNE (EDITH HASSEL) Ex. '98.

Mrs. W. T. Browne (Edith Hassel) Ex. '98, wife of the superintendent of the tubercular sanitarium of Valmora, New Mexico, was instantly killed by a Santa Fe train. Together with her two daughters, she was crossing a small bridge near her home. Being some distance in advance of her daughters on the bridge, she was able to warn them of the on coming train in time for them to return, but she was unable to get back and was struck by the locomotive.

DAVID RAY VINJE.

(Son of Judge A. J. Vinje, '84)

David Ray Vinje, the eldest son of Justice A. J. Vinje, '84, of the Supreme Court of Wisconsin, died suddenly in Madison on June 15th, following an operation.

MARY ALICE CASSERLY.

Mary Alice Casserly, aged four, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Casserly of Chicago, died on July 28 of peritonitis. Mrs. Casserly was Myrtle Godfrey, Ex. '06, and Mr. Casserly is a member of the class of 1905.

THE CLASSES

1867.

The Alumni Headquarters has received the following interesting letter from Mrs. P. R. Ellis (Olyette Smith) of Windsor, Wisconsin, which we take pleasure in printing in full, thinking that it might be of interest to her former classmates: "Your card requesting information received and in reply I will say my three months' attendance at the University has been a pleasant memory to me, but the time was so short it seems scarcely worth mentioning. I think that it was the fall of '63 that I was there; after that I taught school until June, 1867, when I married a farmer and became a busy homemaker. In my leisure moments I have been a correspondent for several newspapers; I have also published a book of poems entitled "Autumn Leaves." I have ever regretted my inability to continue my studies at the University, and still feel a deep interest in Wisconsin's great institution.

"My husband, B. R. Ellis, was a University student in 60-61, fully expecting to graduate, but when Fort Sumpter was fired upon he enlisted in the First Wisconsin Infantry under Lucius Fairchild for three months, afterward in the First Wisconsin Cavalry and serving for three years. The war killed his boyhood ambition for schooling and to be a lawyer, and instead he became a very good tiller of the soil in Windsor.

"Of other Windsorites who were in my class at the University I recall the names of Mary Carpenter, now Mrs. Welsh of Madison; Anna Allen, now Mrs. J. B. Clement of Sun Prairie; Susan Carpenter who became Mrs. Bowers, now dead; and Ellen Dodge, married, now dead. Clara Bewick was also a student there about that time; she is now Mrs. Colby of Washington."

Mrs. Lathrop Smith (Sabra I. Warner) is living at 140 East Gorham Street, Madison.

1868.

Mrs. George Cross (Clara L. Tullis) is living at 827 6th Street, Fairplay, Nebraska.

1874.

Anderson W. Brown is the president of the Brown Brothers Lumber Company of Rhinelander, Wisconsin.

1878.

Almah J. Frisby, formerly of Missoula, Montana, is now living at 430 East Yamhill St., Portland Ore.

Mrs. Charles A. Peck (Mary Frances Hall) is living at 415 South Street, West, Kalamazoo, Michigan.

Edward D. Bronson is a wholesale book dealer in San Francisco. His residence address is 72 Monte Vista Avenue, Oakland, California.

1879.

Edward O. Brown is the secretary of the Brown Brothers Lumber Company of Rhinelander, Wisconsin.

Henry E. Combacher is a practicing physician and surgeon at Osceola, Wisconsin.

1880.

William E. Morgan is a physician with offices at 3256 Indiana Avenue, Chicago.

Hiram N. Sager is a grain merchant with offices at 226 South La Salle Street, Chicago.

1881.

Walter H. Chase is in the coal business at Sullivan, Illinois.

1882.

Mrs. H. R. Clese (Ella M. Dwigen) is living at 501 Highland Drive, Seattle, Washington.

A. D. Schindler is the general manager and vice-president of the Kings County Development Company, 805 Insurance Exchange Building, San Francisco.

1883.

W. B. Pearson is the president of the Standard Screw Company, 81 East Madison Street, Chicago.

Frank H. Foster is in the contracting business at 39 North La Salle Street, Chicago.

Mrs. Harry W. Child (Adelaide Dean) is living at 801 Stuart Street, Helena, Montana.

Mary Russell Cook is living at Columbus, Wisconsin.

1884.

Class Secretary—MRS. A. W. SHELTON, Rhinelander.

Mrs. C. N. Tibbitts (Merial Park) is living on a farm at North Bradford, Conn.

Dr. Louis Falge of Manitowoc, recently stopped off in Madison on his way to La Crosse to attend the wedding of his eldest son. He has two other sons in the university, one a senior and the other a sophomore.

L. L. Brown is practicing law in Winona, Minn., as a member of the firm of Brown, Abbott and Sornsen. He has one son at Wisconsin and another at Harvard.

Milton O. Nelson has returned to Minneapolis to become the associate editor of the Minneapolis Journal. He resides at 2530 Harriet Ave.

Mrs. A. W. Shelton (Mary M. Howe) is the corresponding secretary of the Wisconsin State Federation of Women's Clubs.

Flora Estelle Mears is living at 116 East Gilman Street, Madison.

Word has been received of the death of Rollin Bates Mallory, an attorney of Milwaukee, on May 16 of this year.

1885.

Class Secretary—FREDERICK C. ROGERS, Oconomowoc.

Mrs. James Arter (Lillian M. Hastings) is living at 23 Rosemont Road, East Cleveland, Ohio.

1886.

Class Secretary—MRS. EMMA NUNNS PEASE, Wauwatosa.

Lynn S. Pease, Law, '91, of the Milwaukee bar, has been engaged by the Extension Division to give a thirty weeks' course in commercial law in the Extension Building in Milwaukee.

Mrs. J. G. Hutchinson is the president of J. G. Hutchinson and Company, wholesale grocers of Ottumwa, Iowa. She was a member of the executive council of the Iowa Federation of Women's Clubs from 1893 to 1899 and is at present the president of that organization.

Mrs. B. F. Heuston is living at 3101 North 29th Street, Tacoma, Washington.

Ada Meinhardt is the cashier of the Meinhardt Bank of Burlington, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Charles I. King (Elizabeth V. Thorp) is living at 628 State Street, Madison.

Charles L. Hover is living at Longmont, Colorado.

S. G. West is a surgeon with offices at 31 North State Street, Chicago.

Mrs. John W. Evans (Mae Johnson) is living at Evansville, Wisconsin. Mrs. Evans was in attendance at the University in 1883-84.

1887.

Class Secretary—MRS. IDA E. FISK, Madison.

1888.

Class Secretary—FLORENCE PORTER ROBINSON, 543 Marshall St., Milwaukee.

E. E. Brossard, Law, '90, of Columbus, has been appointed assistant attorney general of Wisconsin as a result of a civil service examination in which he received the highest grade obtained by any of the applicants.

Bertram W. Sippy is a physician with offices in the People's Gas Building, Chicago.

Mrs. E. C. Barker (Mary E. Spalding) is living at 44 Maple Avenue, Saratoga Springs, New York.

Mrs. Charles F. Lamb (May Stewart) is living at 848 Spaight Street, Madison.

1889.

Class Secretary—BYRON DELOS SHEAR, 904 Concord Bldg., Oklahoma City, Okla.

Charles H. Crownhart, who was appointed to the chairmanship of the Wisconsin Industrial Commission upon the organization of that body in 1911, has resigned his position to resume the practice of law in Superior. It was under the Wisconsin Industrial Commission during the incumbency of Mr. Crownhart that the workman's compensation law was drawn up and put into effect. In this work the Wisconsin commission, the first of its kind in the country, was a distinct pioneer. Since then laws of a similar nature have been introduced in most of the large industrial states.

Arthur T. Leith is employed as a printer in the Government Printing Office at Washington.

Sherman T. Lewis is a practicing physician with offices at 404 Majestic Building, Milwaukee.

1890.

Class Secretary—WILLARD NATHAN PARKER Madison.

At the annual meeting in Superior of the State Bar Association on July 15, there occurred an entirely accidental reunion of about one-sixth of the members of the U. W. law class of 1890, and in commemoration of such informal celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary, the ten members in attendance were duly re-united in a group picture. They were J. A. Aylward, United States District Attorney, Madison; E. E. Brossard of Columbus, assistant attorney general of Wisconsin; F. A. Geiger, United States district judge, Milwaukee; B. R. Goggins, practicing attorney, Grand Rapids; A. H. Reid, circuit judge, Merrill; H. C. Wilson, practicing attorney, Superior; A. G. Zimmerman, Madison, county judge, author of "Probate Practice and Procedure," A. L. Kreutzer, ex-state senator, practicing attorney, Wausau; Fred Beglinger, county judge, Oshkosh; and C. A. Fowler, circuit judge, chairman of board of circuit judges, Fond du Lac. The last three named are members of the class but not graduates. That it may not be presumed from the foregoing that this class was judicially meagre, it is suggested that the records indicate that at least seven other members are or have been judges of courts of record which is about one-fifth of the class.

1891.

Class Secretary—MRS. LUCY CHURCHILL BALDWIN, West Allis.

George B. Hudnall of Superior, has received an appointment to the Wisconsin State Board of Public Affairs for the term ending August 1, 1916.

Calvin N. Burton is the owner of a citrus ranch near Pomona, California.

Ella Sargeant Gernon is living in the Langdon Apartments in Madison.

Mary Forbes is living at 110 Union Street, Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

George O. Warren is a collector of internal revenue at Pekin, Illinois.

Chandler B. Chapman is engaged in land investments, Gay Building, Madison.

1892.

Class Secretary—MRS. LINNIE M. FLESH
350 W. 115th St., New York City.
W. 115th St., New York City.

James Easton is living at 416 Street, Waterloo, Iowa.

Dr. T. Holbrook is practicing medicine at 614 Goldsmith Building, Milwaukee.

Albert A. Babcock, Jr., is the manager of the Wisconsin Valley Improvement Company of Wausau, Wisconsin.

1893.

Class Secretary—MARY SMITH SWENSON,
49 E. Gilman St., Madison.

William E. Swain is in the lumber business at Virginia, Minnesota.

Frank H. Allen is practicing medicine at Staples, Minnesota.

Walter E. Kaser is a physician with offices in the First National Bank Building, East Las Vegas, New Mexico.

Mrs. M. Mortenson (Molly M. Cooley) is living at Stratford, Wisconsin.

Frank S. Boardman is the secretary of the Milwaukee Real Estate Association, Pereles Building, Milwaukee.

1894.

Class Secretary—HERMAN L. EKERN, Madison.

H. George Spensley is living at 341 West Erie Street, Chicago.

1895.

Class Secretary—ARTHUR CARHART, 774 Summit Ave., Milwaukee.

Frank L. Hodges is a physician at Monroe, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Prince A. Hawkins (Myrtle Ziemer) is living at 549 Court Street, Reno, Nevada. She received the degree of bachelor of letters from the University of Colorado in 1895, after having spent two years in attendance at Wisconsin.

1896.

Class Secretary—GEORGE F. THOMPSON,
3826 Van Buren St., Chicago, Illinois.

George P. Hambrecht, Ex., of Grand Rapids, one of the leaders of the assembly during the recent session of the Wisconsin legislature, has been appointed a member of the state industrial commission to serve for six years. He is a graduate of Yale and Chicago and is on the Board of Visitors of the university.

Edward W. De Bower is the president of the American Trust and Security Company of Chicago.

Franklin E. Bump is an attorney and judge of the county court of Marathon County, Wisconsin. His office is in the court house at Wausau. He received the degree of bachelor of laws from Michigan in 1896 and the degree of bachelor of arts from Leland Stanford in 1897.

Andrew P. Tomkins is practicing law at Ashland, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Allan Pray (Helen Palmer) is living at Ashland, Wisconsin.

1897.

Class Secretary—LOUISE KELLOGG, State Historical Library, Madison.

W. F. MacGregor is the assistant general superintendent of the J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company of Racine.

Herbert Ferguson of Milwaukee attended the celebration held at the Congregational church of Madison on October 3 and 4, in honor of his cousin, the Reverend E. G. Updike, who has been the pastor of the church for twenty-five years.

Richard Lloyd Jones is the editor of the Wisconsin State Journal of Madison.

L. J. Stark is practicing law at 625 Foster Building, Denver, Colorado.

Chester L. Brewer is professor of physical education at the University of Missouri at Columbia.

George C. Riley is a real estate dealer in Madison with office in the Washington Building.

1898.

Class Secretary—JEREMIAH P. RIORDAN, Mayville.

Isaac Peterson is a publisher of educational books at 623 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

Eugene C. Noyes is an attorney with offices at 822 Security Building, Minneapolis.

Carl F. Michel is working for the Michel Brewing Company of La Crosse, Wisconsin.

Walter N. Goldschmidt is a resident engineer for the National X-Ray Reflector Company, 235 Jackson Boulevard, Chicago. His residence is at 4517 Dupont Avenue, South, Minneapolis.

Mrs. N. R. Sward (Nell Riel) is engaged in social service work in Omaha, Nebraska. Her address is 4116 Dodge Street.

Egbert G. Gesell, graduate of the University of Illinois, in the class of 1908, is the secretary and treasurer of the William H. Clore Manufacturing Company, makers of agricultural implements, Washington, Indiana.

Laura L. Houghton is teaching in Los Angeles, California. Her address is 1150 West 29th Street.

Royal C. Main is in the insurance business with offices in the Insurance Exchange Building in Chicago.

1899.

Class Secretary—MRS. LUCRETIA H. McMILLAN, 567 Prospect Ave., Milwaukee.

William S. Kies, Law '01, formerly general counsel for the Chicago and North Western Railroad and later the solicitor general for the Chicago and Western Indiana Railroad, was elected vice president of the National City Bank of New York City, one of the largest financial institutions in the country, on September 28. Mr. Kies has been associated with the foreign department of the bank for the past year and his promotion is an indication of the desire of the institution to increase its foreign activities especially in South America where there are already established six branch banks.

Hereward J. Peele is an engineer for the Southwestern Bell Telephone System, Equitable Building, St. Louis, Missouri.

Edwin J. Cornish is a practicing physician and surgeon at Dunsmuir, California.

James Perry McLean is the president of the Excelsior Brick Company of Wisconsin, Wisconsin.

1900.

Class Secretary—JOSEPH KOFFEND, JR., North St., Appleton.

C. R. Hedke is the superintendent of the Costella Estate Development Company of San Acacio, Colorado.

Ernst von Briesen, an attorney in Milwaukee, is the president of the newly organized East Milwaukee Civic Association.

James J. McDonald, Law '13, announces that he has opened offices for general law practice at Thirteen South Pinckney St., Madison.

Philip A. Fox is a physician and surgeon in Milwaukee. His office is at 306 Goldsmith Building.

George H. Short is a mining superintendent for the Grasselli Chemical Company of Park City, Utah.

Eunice T. Gray is living at Carmel-by-the-Sea, California.

Elling S. Ritan is in the lumbering business at Black Rock, Oregon.

Roy W. Peck is a traveling freight agent for the Erie Railroad with headquarters at 106 Wisconsin Street, Milwaukee.

Howard W. Lewis is practicing law at 108 South La Salle Street, Chicago.

Benjamin Poss is an attorney with offices in the Wells Building, Milwaukee.

Mrs. E. D. Sterling (Elsie Thom) is living at 224 Atlanta Street, Rhinelander, Wisconsin.

Mrs. Winfield Smith (Susie Wegg) is living at the Hotel Sorrento, Seattle, Washington.

Dudley D. Stetson is practicing medicine at 135 West 47th Street, New York City.

Charles G. Goodsell is the educational and immigrant secretary for the Y. M. C. A. at Racine, Wisconsin.

Mrs. G. W. Smith (Carolyn Briere) is living at 625 Malden Street, Seattle, Washington.

1901.

Class Secretary—PAUL STOVER, 316 Government Bldg., Milwaukee.

F. W. Buerstatte, formerly on the faculty of the Missouri School of Mines, is now assistant professor of mechanical engineering in the Washington State College at Pullman.

M. N. Murphy is an engineer for the McCleary-Hannan Company, electrical contractors and engineers, 423 Sterling Building, Detroit, Mich.

Ray Palmer, who for the past three years has been commissioner of gas and electricity in the City of Chicago, resigned that position on August 1 to engage in consulting engineering work in that city with offices in the Hartford Building. As assistant superintendent of construction for the J. G. White and Company, Mr. Palmer has charge of the installation of the street lighting system in Greater New York. He served for a while as an electrical engineer in the London office of that company and returned to the United States to accept a similar position with the Union Traction Company of Chicago. He resigned this position in 1906 to take up consulting electrical engineering practice in Chicago and Milwaukee. He continued in this work until he received his commission from Mayor Harrison in 1912. Under Mr. Palmer's direction some $4,000,000 was spent in improving the lighting system of Chicago. Mr. Palmer is a member of the Western Society of Engineers and a fellow of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

Thomas M. Gamon is a manufacturer's agent, Phelan Building, San Francisco.

Mrs. Walter Thom (Rose Aileen Dye) is living at 914 Fifth Street, Wausau, Wisconsin.

Ira D. Pots is the district sales manager of the F. W. Woolworth Company, Marine Bank Building, Buffalo, New York.

W. C. Sutherland is the superintendent of the Indiana Steel Company of Gary, Indiana.

Dr. D. B. Monahan is an oculist with offices in the Metropolitan Building in Denver.

John Charles Watson, who was registered in the College of Letters and Science from 1897 to 1900 and in College of Law in 1906-07, is the principal of the Luther L. Wright High School of Ironwood, Michigan.

1902.

Class Secretary—MRS. MERLE S. STEVENS, 606 2nd Ave., Eau Claire.

Susan Swarthout is an assistant in the high school at Horicon.

Warren D. Smith Ph. D., '08, is now professor of geology at the University of Oregon at Eugene.

John R. Henry is a real estate dealer at Fremont, Nebraska.

Frank S. Hyman is a salesman for the White Company, 2635 Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

Mrs. Lynn Williams (Helen Harvey) is living at 568 Ingleside Park, Evanston, Illinois. Mrs. Williams attended the University in 1900-01.

Mrs. S. C. Edmondson (Ethel Raymer) is living at 1185 Erie Street, Pasadena, California.

Guido J. Hansen is the president of the Hansen Storage Company, 134 Jefferson Street, Milwaukee.

Marquis E. Mason, who attended the University from 1898 to 1900, is a consulting chemical expert at 268 Fox Street, Aurora, Illinois.

Albert Swanton is the manager of a telephone exchange at Menno, South Dakota.

Mrs. Clement L. Shinn (Alice Janet Gamble) is living at 2326 West 9th Street, Los Angeles, California.

Albert F. Kindt is the president of the Sartorius Company, manufacturers of ornamental iron and bronze, 15th and Utah Streets, San Francisco.

Charles A. Ludlow is associated with Magee, Ludlow and Company, paper and offices supplies, 1104 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago.

1903.

Class Secretary—WILLARD HEIN, Normal School, Bloomington, Illinois.

Attorney Stephen T. McMahon, 934 First National Bank Building, Milwaukee, achieved the distinction of winning an important case in the United States Supreme Court early in the summer.

A. E. Anderson, formerly general manager of the Laramie Electric Company, is now in a similar capacity with the Intermountain Railway, Light and Power Company of Laramie, Wyo.

James Goudie is a member of the firm of Goudie and Jenkins, engineers and architects, Room 9, Post Office Block, Ironwood, Mich.

Edward J. Hawley is the city engineer of Hibbing, Minnesota.

Galen A. Fox is a physician and surgeon at Cheyenne, Wyoming.

A. C. Ehlman is practicing law at 749 39th Street, Milwaukee.

Daniel W. Lynch is practicing medicine at West Bend, Wisconsin.

James E. Holden is the pastor of the First Congregational Church of Newell, Iowa.

Harry W. Page is the western manager for the B. F. Sturtevant Company, 530 Clinton Street, Chicago. His home is at 1612 South Fifth Avenue, Maywood, Illinois.

Jacob H. Koltér is practicing dentistry at Wausau, Wisconsin. His office is in the McKinley Building.

Leslie S. Leighton is a salesman for the Electric Appliance Company of Chicago. His business address is 701 West Jackson Boulevard.

Evan L. Reed is a manufacturer of Oregon, Illinois.

Nell F. Parkinson is the assistant superintendent of the central district of the United Charities of Chicago. Her address is 2804 Michigan Avenue.

Robert C. Wente is in the lumber business at Williams, Arizona.

Mrs. Lewis Rowell (Rose Marie Toepfer) is living at La Fayette, Indiana.

Mrs. Robert A. Cowles (Leila Stephens) is living at 1310 East Washington Street, Bloomington, Illinois.

Agnes J. Martin is the supervising field nurse of the Chicago Health Department. Her home is at 5054 Winthrop Avenue.

James A. Walker is a real estate agent and stock broker at Rock Creek, Idaho.

John F. Sedgwick is an attorney with offices at 405-407 Platt Building, Portland, Oregon.

Clifford H. Noyes is a bookkeeper for the Union League Club of San Francisco.

Robert P. Kraus is in the wholesale lumber business at Marshfield, Wisconsin.

Elmer A. Peirce is in the life insurance business at 1010 Corn Exchange Building, Chicago.

Frank C. Marvin is the manager and owner of the Zumbrot Telephone Company of Zumbrot, Minnesota.

Stephen M. Griffith is a contractor at 394 Pacific Electric Building, Los Angeles, California.

Clifford Ireland is the president of the Western Life Stock Insurance Company, Jefferson Building, Peoria, Illinois.

Mrs. L. O. Reed (Mary Updegraff) is living at 235 Houston Avenue, Crookston, Minnesota.

James E. Toogood is a practicing physician at Oakland, California. His office is in the Thayer Building.

Harry E. Miller is a member of the Chicago Board of Trade with offices at 6 Board of Trade.

Paul Trowbridge is the manager of the McAllen Creamery Company of McAllen, Texas.

William A. Walters is a physician and surgeon with offices at Second Street and Broadway, Billings, Montana.

1904.

Class Secretary—MRS. FLORENCE S. MOF-FAT BENNETT, 322 S. Hamilton St., Madison.

Wallace T. Benedict is the secretary of the City Improvement Activities of New York City. His address is 70 Fifth Avenue.

C. F. Graff is the president and manager of the Graff Construction Company of Seattle, Wash.

Mabel Goddard, of the Freeport (Illinois) high school, was the general chairman of the committee which had charge of the historical pageant given as the chief attraction of that city's homecoming celebration on August 27. The pageant was written and directed by Ethel Theodora Rockwell, '11.

William T. Kelsey, '04, and Emil Cady, '06, of Madison, are the attorneys for the estate of J. S. Tripp.

Solon J. Buck, assistant professor of history at the University of Minnesota, is also the superintendent of the Minnesota State Historical society. The society issues a quarterly bulletin and a biennial report of which Mr. Buck is the editor. Architectural plans are now in course of preparation for a building for the society which will be erected in St. Paul across from the state capitol.

William B. Bennett is the assistant chief engineer of the Wisconsin Railroad Commission at Madison.

Roy B. Staver is in the advertising department of the American Sunday Magazine, 911 Hearst Building, Chicago.

Mary Edna Bunting is a trained nurse in Baltimore. Her address is 219½ East North Avenue.

Arthur J. Meyer is in charge of the agricultural extension work of the University of Missouri.

Hal E. Martin is a mining engineer with the Oliver Mining Company of Hibbing, Minnesota.

Charles K. Boardman is the secretary of the State Bankers Association of Oklahoma. His office is in the Mercantile Building at Oklahoma City.

Mark Banta is the special agent and adjuster for the Westchester Fire Insurance Company. His home is at 332 West 9th Street, Columbus, Ohio.

Marshall H. Jackson is the president and treasurer of the Dwight and M. H. Jackson Company, manufacturing stationers, 525 Harris Trust Building, Chicago.

1905.

Class Secretary—LILLIAN E. TAYLOR, 432 W. Mifflin St., Madison.

W. P. Colburn, superintendent of the Rhinelander public schools, spent the summer with his family in California.

Elmer G. Hoefler, who received the advanced degree of mechanical engineer at the university last June, is a professor of mechanical engineering in the University of Wyoming at Laramie.

Sylvester Schattschneider is the statistician of the Prudential Insurance Company of America, Newark, New Jersey.

H. K. Weld is a traveling sales engineer for the Standard Underground Cable Company, 322 The Rookery, Chicago.

Harry B. Kirkland is the president of the Concrete Mining and Placing Company, 123 West Madison Street, Chicago.

Fred C. Gould is the manager of the Underwood Typewriter Company at Wichita, Kansas.

C. A. Watkins is in the state engineering department of the Chicago Telephone Company.

Wayne D. Bird is a journalist of Madison. His home is at 2108 Jefferson Street.

Frank W. Kimball is a manufacturer's representative at 316 Caswell Block, Milwaukee.

G. E. Morton is professor of animal husbandry at the Colorado Agricultural College and state dairy commissioner of the state. His residence is 220 Elizabeth Street, Fort Collins.

Mrs. Horace L. Blackman (Florence Adelaide Palmer) is living at 365 Hamilton Avenue, Detroit, Michigan.

John A. Froelich is a physician and surgeon of Princeton, Wisconsin.

Augustus S. McWethy is in the insurance and real estate business, Merchants National Bank Building, Aurora, Illinois.

Douglas J. Mangan is an attorney with offices at 503 Caswell Block, Milwaukee.

Payne G. West is with the T. L. Smith Company of Milwaukee. His home is at 3407 Sycamore Street.

Lauritz Miller is the state attorney for Davison County, South Dakota, and city attorney of Mitchell, South Dakota, where he resides.

Mrs. H. H. McPherson is living at 1450 Grant Street, Denver, Colorado.

Andrew J. Fish, Jr., is a civil and hydraulic engineer with offices in the National Bank of Montana Building, Helena, Montana.

1906.

Class Secretary—MRS. JAS. A. ROBERTSON,
35 Calla Remeclios, Manila, P. I.

Charles C. Bishop has been elected superintendent of the public schools of Portage.

John Earl Baker, statistician in the main office of the Southern Pacific Company of San Francisco, is filling an engagement with the faculty of the University of Michigan as a substitute for Professor Adams who is away on a mission for the Chinese Government Railroads. Mr Baker will cover the field of railroad operations.

J. W. Bradshaw is the traffic supervisor of the Chicago Telephone Company.

W. A. Van Hook is with the division of valuation of the Interstate Commerce Commission, 914 Karpen Building, Chicago.

A. J. Hedding, who has been a member of the Wisconsin Assembly from the sixth district of Milwaukee for the last two terms, resigned from that body at the close of last session to accept an appointment to the bench of the civil court of Milwaukee. He is the author of the present boxing law of the state.

William T. Kelsey, '04, and Emil Cady, '06, of Madison, are the attorneys for the J. S. Tripp estate.

Winifred Fehrenkamp, who received the degree of bachelor of library science from the University of Illinois in 1912, is a lecturer in the library school of that institution and librarian of the school of architecture.

Charles D. Marsh is a note broker for the F. I. Moseley Company, 137 South La Salle Street, Chicago.

Arthur J. Hughes is practicing law at 1126 Washington Building, Los Angeles, California.

Archer F. Barnard is a civil engineer with offices at 701-2 Central Building, Los Angeles, California.

William T. Evjue is the general manager of the Wisconsin State Journal of Madison.

Robert B. Dunlap is the sales manager of the C. A. Shaler Company, manufacturers of the Shaler vulcanizers, Waupun, Wisconsin.

Charles E. Heston is an efficiency engineer for the Stromberg-Carlson Telephone Company of Rochester, New York.

Mrs. Mark Banta (Myra Bertha Hewitt) is living at 382 West 9th Street, Columbus, Ohio.

Hazel D. Belt is the supervisor of music in the public school of Sault Ste. Marie, Michigan. Her home is at Dodge Center, Minnesota.

Hugo A. Kuehstedt is the city engineer of East San Diego and National City, California. His office is at National City.

Lynn T. Hannahs is a manufacturer of furniture at Kenosha, Wisconsin.

Russell Price Fischer is practicing law at 1033 First National Bank Building, Chicago.

F. A. Todd is associated with the White and Todd Lumber Company of Aurora, Illinois.

Charles O. Hinrichs is the president and manager of the Broadway Press, 453 Broadway, Milwaukee.

Mrs. Sidney J. Steele (Florence DeLap) is living at 1116 Greenwood Avenue, Maywood, Illinois.

John W. Mapel is the manager of the Pfister and Vogel Leather Company of Milwaukee.

James H. Larson is the assistant superintendent of erection of the Allis-Chalmers Company of West Allis, Wisconsin.

Robert C. Nye is in the general insurance and real estate business, 2482 Washington Avenue, Ogden, Utah.

1907.

Class Secretary—RALPH G. GUGLER, 587 Frederick Ave., Milwaukee.

O. W. Middleton is the publicity manager of the American Steel Foundries Company of Chicago.

Frederick Wessell is the superintendent of the Arkansas Valley Electric Company of Florence, Colorado.

C. E. Edmund is in the inspection department of the Reo Motor Car Company of Lansing, Mich.

E. M. Simon is the superintendent of the Malleable Iron Company of East Moline, Ill.

Bruno Rahn is an industrial engineer for the Milwaukee Gas Light Company.

Harry Glickman, who has been engaged in the practice of law in Milwaukee for some time, has entered the graduate school of Yale University where he is taking special work in literature with a view to preparing himself for writing and lecturing. He took his bachelor's degree at Yale before he entered the law department of Wisconsin.

Morton M. Newcomb is the educational secretary for the Minneapolis Y. M. C. A. His home is at 703 8th Street South.

Harold J. Week is a rancher at San Benito, Texas.

James M. Hoyt is an investment broker in Chicago. His home is at 1575 Ashland Avenue, Evanston, Illinois.

Maron W. Newcomb is an electrical engineer for the Chicago Telephone Company, 212 West Washington Street, Chicago.

Paul W. Hammersmith is the vice-president of the Hammersmith Engraving Company of Milwaukee.

A. W. Field who was granted his bachelor's degree in arts by John Hopkins University in 1907, is the secretary and treasurer of the Elite Laundry Company of Baltimore, Maryland.

Thomas L. Boyd is the owner of the Westlake Public Market of Seattle, Washington. His home is at 4100 Cascade View Drive.

Henry D. Barnes is in the abstract business at Elkhorn, Wisconsin.

Isaac F. Kahn is the president and manager of the Capital Paper Company of Indianapolis.

William W. Freschl is the vice-president of the Holeproof Hosiery Company, 200 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Edward J. Dempsey is practicing law at Oshkosh, Wisconsin, with offices at 79 Main Street.

1908.

Class Secretary—FAYETTE H. ELWELL, Madison.

Charles Foster Smith, Jr., was recently re-elected municipal judge of Rhinelander after a hotly contested election.

Professor Edgar Eugene Robinson of Leland Stanford Junior University has been granted leave of absence for a year in order to accept an appointment as resident lecturer in American history in the University of Minnesota.

Verl Ruth is studying medicine at the Bellevue Hospital Medical College in New York City.

Maurice F. Kalmbach is an electrolysis expert for the Wisconsin Telephone Company of Milwaukee.

De Witt Riess is the secretary of the Vollrath Company of Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

E. L. Gross is the supervising engineer and vice president of the Perolin Company of America, 1112 West 37th St., Chicago.

Harrison Hatton is in charge of the St. Paul and Minneapolis bureaus of the Associated Press, 201 Dispatch Building, St. Paul.

Frank J. Vosburgh is the general manager of the American Oxydrich Company of Ohio.

August John Luedke who attended the University in 1905-06 is the secretary and assistant treasurer of the Milwaukee Corrugating Company. His address is 2309 Grand Avenue.

1909.

Class Secretary—CHARLES H. MANN, Madison.

Eli R. Manor, who received the graduate degree of electrical engineer last June, is a dynamometer car operator for the Northern Pacific Railway Company at St. Paul.

F. H. Ripley is the superintendent of the Greely Gas and Fuel Company of Greeley, Colo.

George C. McNaughton, who was granted the degree of chemical engineer last June, is an engineer in the Forest Products Laboratory at Madison.

Roland Moeller is the president and treasurer of the Auto Service and Supply Company of Milwaukee.

L. G. Arnold is the field engineer and superintendent of construction of the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power Company of Eau Claire.

Oscar F. Gayton has been appointed head of the engineering department of the Bureau of Public Service of Chicago. The appointment was obtained through a civil service examination. His office is at 613 City Hall.

J. F. Wolff, E. M. '11, who is a mining engineer for the Oliver Iron Mining Co. at Duluth, Minn., is the author of a series of four articles published in the Engineering and Mining Journal of July and August, dealing with the structure of the ore bodies of the Mesabi Range of Minnesota. These articles summarize the existing knowledge of this subject of which Mr. Wolff has made an extensive study and are a distinct contribution to the literature on this great iron-ore district. Mr. Wolff was a member of the 1908 Varsity baseball team.

J. R. Piffner, '09, and Joseph T. Gallagher, '15, announce the opening of offices for the general practice of law in the McCulloch Block at Stevens Point under the firm name of Piffner and Gallagher.

Under the caption of "Stiehm All-Round Athlete," Outing for October pays the following tribute to one of Wisconsin's famous football players:

"The charge is sometimes made that American football is too highly specialized and that the men who teach it know too little of other sports. This could not be said of Ewald O. Stiehm, head of the Department of Athletics at the University of Nebraska. He has had charge of Cornhusker football for four years and in that time his teams have won twenty-seven games and lost two.

"This looks like a result of high specialization, and yet Professor Stiehm knows many other things besides football. In his undergraduate career at the University of Wisconsin he was a member of the football, tennis, basketball, water polo, and track teams and of the baseball squad. After graduating from Wisconsin he coached for a year at his old high school at Fort Atkinson, Wisconsin, and then spent a year as coach at Ripon College, Wisconsin. Since he has been at Nebraska the only team to defeat his pupils is Minnesota.

"Mr. Stiehm is a great believer in the generalship side of modern football as against the old pounding game. Under this head he includes quick shift plays, series plays, leading plays, and psychological forward passes. The real test of generalship in his opinion is ability to carry the play within your opponent's thirty-yard line. It is better to be on the defensive there than on the offensive in your own territory. Mr. Stiehm does not regard football as mere fun, nor should it be conducted merely for physical betterment nor to maintain winning teams. Its prime value is as a test of character and as a generator of college sentiment and loyalty. 'Football should be a school of manly skill, courage, honesty, self-control, clean habits, and even of courtesy.'

E. B. Washburn is a rancher at Pasadena, California. His address is 252 South Orange Grove Avenue.

Frank C. Mercer is connected with the Evanston Lumber Company of Evanston, Illinois.

William A. McMilan is in charge of the city sales department of the O'Neil Paint and Oil Company of Milwaukee. His home is at 531 Lake Drive.

William J. B. Johns is employed by the Northwestern Elevated Railway Company of Chicago. His residence address is 4459 Broadway.

Mrs. L. H. Conger (Hazel Milverstedt) is living at Whitefish Bay, Wisconsin.

Schofield B. Gross is an insurance and surety bond broker, 1284-85 South La Salle Street, Chicago.

Florence Titus is an interior decorator and proprietor of the Gift Shop of Madison. Her address is 130 State Street.

Arthur W. Betts is the president of the Laurel River Logging Company of Stackhouse, North Carolina.

Louise Evans is the editor of the public affairs information service of White Plains, New York.

Morgan M. Pattison is in the real estate business at 610 Lyceum Building, Duluth, Minnesota.

John J. Davis is engaged in cost and efficiency work for the Paine Lumber Company of Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

William L. Fitzgerald is the manager of the packing department of the Chicago branch of the H. W. Johns-Manville Company, 322 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago.

1910.

Class Secretary—MILTON J. BLAIR, 964 North Ave., Winnetka, Illinois.

Marion J. Atwood has charge of the political science department of the Fresno (Cal.) High School.

Orrin P. Peterson is a director and geologist of the Adbar Development Company, Deerwood, Minnesota.

Una Reardon is teaching her third year at Virginia City, Minn.

E. A. Donnelly of Milwaukee was re-elected national secretary of the Phi Delta Phi at its convention held in Denver in August.

Paul G. Miller, assistant professor of romance languages in the university, has been appointed commissioner of education of Porto Rico at a salary of $4,000 a year. Mr. Miller is thoroughly familiar with educational conditions on the island, since he spent several years there in educational work following the Spanish-American War in which he served as a member of Company D, Second Wisconsin Infantry. From May 1899, to the following July of that year he was a supervisor of English, teaching at San German, after which he was supervisor of that district for three years. Later on he acted as superintendent at San Juan and after that as chief of the division of supervision and statistics of the insular department of education. He was appointed to the principalship of the insular normal school of the University of Porto Rico in 1903 and remained in that position until he returned to the United States in 1908 to accept an assistantship in the department of romance languages. He received his bachelor's degree in 1910 after which he became professor of education at Carleton College. He returned to Wisconsin in 1911 to accept an instructorship and do graduate work in his particular field—romance languages. He took his master's degree in 1911 and his doctorate in 1914. Professor Miller's courses in Spanish have been exceedingly attractive to the students in the course in commerce who have profited materially by his wide experience with South American conditions.

Aaron Arkin, late fellow in Pathology in the Rush Medical College, is professor of pathology in the University of West Virginia and chief pathologist of the West Virginia State Hygienic Laboratory at Morgantown.

Dr. W. G. Hyde, Ex, a graduate of Rush Medical College, is practicing medicine in Racine with offices in the Cooper Station Building.

A. N. Outzen is the superintendent of the gas works of the Madison Gas and Electric Light Company.

Mrs. John Langwill (Irene Etta Shenkerberg) is the office secretary of the Extension Division of the University of Indiana at Bloomington.

Meta Kieckhefer of Milwaukee has accepted a position as a teacher of general science in the high school at Lancaster.

H. B. Wheeler is the chief engineer for the Pettingill Andrews Company, 160 Pearl Street, Boston, Mass.

George J. Mueller, M. A. '14, has charge of the modern language department of the Streator Township High School at Streator, Ill.

Ralph R. Hartley is in the manufacturing business at Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

Franklin D. Burton is in the insurance business in Chicago with offices in the Harris Trust Building.

Emory M. Marshall is a mining engineer at Globe, Arizona.

John A. Harlow is a manufacturer and wholesale dealer in sporting goods, 609 Pleasant Street, Janesville, Wisconsin.

Harlan R. Amen is a real estate salesman for Malcolm V. Bolton and Company, 306 3rd Avenue, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Mrs. J. P. Brush (Bernice Dow) is living at Arcadia California.

Lyman S. McConnell is a construction engineer for the Metropolitan water district of the City of Omaha, Nebraska.

Mrs. M. F. Fox (Lucy Ripley) is living at 611 Hackett Avenue, Milwaukee.

Fabian Brewer is the service manager of the Otis Elevator Company of Detroit. His residence is at 160 East Grand Boulevard.

Gladys Harvey is an instructor in house decoration at the Stout Institute, Menomonie, Wisconsin.

1911.

Class Secretary—ERWIN A. MEYERS, Senate P. O. Box 40, Washington, D. C.

J. J. Doerschuk is an instructor in agriculture at the high school at Long Prairie, Minn.

O. B. Porter has been appointed assistant to the director of athletics of the University to succeed William D. Richardson.

G. B. Blake is the assistant treasurer of the Electric Company of Missouri and the St. Louis County Gas Company, both of St. Louis. His residence is at 6010 Maple Avenue.

Alfred C. Schmidt is the secretary of the Schmidt-Gaertner-Vallee Company, wholesale fruits, 279-281 Broadway, Milwaukee.

Arthur E. May is a draftsman for the American Hoist and Derrick Company of St. Paul, Minn.

A. G. Oehler is engaged in station and substation construction for the Wisconsin-Minnesota Light and Power Company of Eau Claire.

Ethel Theodora Rockwell was the author and director of the pageant given at Freeport, Illinois, on August 27, as the chief event of the city's "Homecoming Week." The pageant depicted in detail the history of the Black Hawk country from the birth of the famous Indian chief-tain, whose name the section bears, down to the present day. The feature of the pageant was the presentation of the famous Lincoln-Douglas debate just as it was given on August 27, fifty-eight years ago. Mabel Goddard, '04, was the general chairman of the committee which had charge of the pageant.

Chas. G. Thompson is a graduate student at the University of California.

Marie Wright is teaching school at Pullman, Washington.

James J. McDonald, Law '13, has opened a law office in Madison at 13 South Pinckney street.

George L. Henes is the proprietor of the Henes Auto Repair Company, 226 26th Street, Milwaukee.

Clarence H. Beglinger is an engineer in the mechanical department of the Twin City Lines, 406 Snellini Avenue, St. Paul, Minnesota.

Floyd E. Houck is the assistant secretary and treasurer of the Fred R. Jones Company, railroad contractors, 606 City Hall Square Building, Chicago.

C. A. Rossbach is a member of the A. C. Rossbach Company, real estate dealers, 808 Majestic Building, Milwaukee.

Lawrence M. Baldwin is in the retail coal business at 212 Market Street, Kenosha, Wisconsin.

Carl Joys, Jr., is the Pittsburg manager of the Lucey Manufacturing Corporation. His home is in the Bellefield Dwellings in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. H. M. Brandel (Adele Marie Persch) is living at 421 South Oxford Street, Los Angeles, California.

1912.

Class Secretary—HARRY JOHN WIEDENBECK, 4367 Delmor Blvd., Mauston.

Therese C. Mueller is teaching in the Johnson High School at St. Paul, Minnesota.

Nora Buell is teaching at the Girls' High School in San Francisco, where she holds the position of head of the domestic art department. Her residence is at the Gamma Phi Beta House in Berkeley.

Maria A. Wendels is teaching history in the high school at Redlands, California.

Roger G. Cunningham, who graduated from the College of Law last June, is now practicing at Janesville.

S. H. Ankeney is the advertising manager of the Davis Sewing Machine Company of Dayton, Ohio.

Clinton B. Post, who has been engaged in soil survey work for the state since he left the University, has resigned his position to become the county agricultural agent for Ashland county, with headquarters at Ashland.

Glenn E. Miller was recently elected Grand Secretary of the Phi Alpha Delta Law Fraternity at its convention in San Francisco.

W. P. Wolff is the geological engineer for the M. A. Hanna Company at their new mine on the Gogebic Range at Wakefield, Mich.

Dorothy Bemis, Ex-'12, is taking a library course at the Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, New York.

Lena Stahl is teaching in the graded school of Kalispell, Montana. Her address is 116 5th Avenue East.

Paul F. Griffenhagen is an engineering draftsman for the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad. His address is 475 Deming Place, Chicago.

Doris Carter is a teacher of piano at Hinsdale, Illinois. Her address is 59 North Washington Street.

Mrs. Edward B. Lucius (Dacotah Belle Grimm) is living at 7137 Yale Avenue, Chicago.

Carl E. Swenson is an engineer for the Mechanics Machinery Company of Rockford, Illinois.

Edgar Norsman is with the International Harvester Company at South Bend, Indiana.

Sidney W. Anderson is a dealer in commercial paper at 800 North Clark Street, Chicago.

William Rutledge Orton is a lieutenant in the 16th United States Infantry, stationed at El Paso, Texas.

Mrs. R. B. Barton (Verona Pratt) is living at 420 Marion Street, Oak Park, Illinois.

Mrs. Rufus Hook is living at Perris, California.

L. H. Steward is a lieutenant in the 21st United States Infantry, stationed at Alcatraz, California.

Fred C. Hannahs is a manufacturer of furniture at Kenosha, Wisconsin.

Randolph S. Sizer, who received his law degree from Leland Stanford in 1913, is practicing law at 715 First National Bank Building, Oakland, California.

1913.

Class Secretary—RAY SWEETMAN, Y. M. C. A., Fargo, N. D.

Belle Fliegelman, who will be remembered for her editorship of the women's section of the Daily Cardinal, is the editor of the Montana Progressive published at Helena. The paper is supported by the progressive party of the state.

Walter Bainbridge is the assistant superintendent of the American Bottle Company of Newark, Ohio.

M. E. Chandler is the salesman for the J. I. Case Threshing Machine Company of Racine.

S. D. Wonders is the assistant superintendent of the Canton (Ohio) plant of the Metropolitan Paving Brick Company.

Erwin Fraser is an engineer for the Fraser Company of Milwaukee, builders of flour mills, grain elevators, and power plants. His residence is at 598 Prospect Avenue.

Charles F. Boutin is in the lumber business at Vancouver, Washington.

Milan H. Stocking, who for nearly two years has been engaged in newspaper work in Akron, Ohio, is now on the staff of the Cleveland Press. His address is Painesville, Ohio.

John King Lester is one of the proprietors of the Betsy Ross Candy Company of Chicago.

Raymond L. Baldwin is a roofing contractor at 30 North La Salle Street, Chicago.

C. W. Windfelder is a chemist for the Allis-Chalmers Company of West Allis, Wisconsin.

Hugh L. Gear is in the dairying business at Menasha, Wisconsin.

Leonard C. Childs is an assistant engineer for the Bates and Rogers Construction Company of Chicago. At present he is living at 3888 West 25th Street, Cleveland.

Raymond H. Washburn is an estimator for the Meyer Construction Company of Milwaukee.

A. H. Withington is the county engineer of Appanoose County, Iowa. His office is at Centerville.

Harry D. Brainard is the cashier of the Ranchman's State Bank at Fairburn, South Dakota.

1914.

Class Secretary—JOSEPH A. BECKER, 1104 W. Johnson St., Madison.

L. A. Wilmot, lieutenant in the Canadian Oversea Forces, is the assistant adjutant of the 29th Battalion of the 2nd Canadian Division of the British Army. He can be reached through the Army Post Office at London.

Harold F. Ofstie, former Varsity end, will coach the football team of Ripon College this fall.

Margaret Coon is an assistant in history and science in the high school at Minocqua.

Ralph P. Hammond has left the employ of the University to become assistant to the office manager of the Horlick Malted Milk Company at Racine.

Neale F. Howard has accepted a position as assistant in the department of Zoology and Entomology of the Ohio State University, where he will study for his doctor's degree.

Sherburne B. Henning is the assistant advertising manager of the Lavis Chemical Company of Minneapolis.

Elmer J. Kilpatrick is the county agricultural representative of the United States Department of Agriculture at Paducah, Kentucky.

Adolph H. Ruehl is teaching agriculture in the high school at Lamberton, Minnesota.

Merrill E. Skinner, who received his degree in arts in 1914 and a degree in science in 1915, is connected with the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company at Wilksburg, Pa.

Dan T. Sullivan is an assistant agricultural extension agent for the Northern Pacific Railroad, 313 Northern Pacific Building, St. Paul, Minnesota.

Glen M. Householder has resigned his position as county agricultural representative of Lac Qui Parle County, Minn., to take up similar work at Spring Valley, Minn. He is succeeded by J. K. Lawton, also of 1914.

Ray Cuff has taken up county agricultural work in Barron county, with headquarters at Barron.

James K. Murphy is the county agricultural representative of Walworth county with headquarters at Elkhorn.

P. J. Nee is the assistant to the master mechanic and electrical engineer of the Chicago, Ottawa and Peoria Railway Company, 1646 South Crawford Avenue, Chicago.

C. N. Hitchcock is the assistant director of the Bureau of Municipal Research of Akron, Ohio.

J. F. Kunesch is an assistant irrigation engineer engaged in irrigation investigations for the United States Department of Agriculture. His address is Federal Building, Billings, Mont.

Olive A. Andrews is teaching at the high school in Wausau under a teaching fellowship from the University.

James Danilson is associated in farming with L. P. Matiny of Chippewa Falls.

Kenneth Duncan, M. A., is teaching in the Canton Christian College at Canton, China. Mr. Duncan is a graduate of Wabash College, where he took his bachelor's degree in arts in 1910. While at Wisconsin he worked in economics.

Margaret Woll, Ex., is teaching domestic science at the Lux School for girls in San Francisco.

Mabel Claire Matteson is teaching in the public schools of Hibbing, Minn.

Paul E. Elderkin is engaged in construction work at Winterset, Iowa.

Werner C. Schmoock is farming at his home at Two Rivers.

Edward J. Cornell is an engineer for the Llewellyn Iron Works of Los Angeles.

Harry Hersh is an engineer in the commercial engineering department of the Milwaukee Electric Railway and Light Company.

Oscar E. S. Roeseler is a graduate student in chemistry at the University.

Earl F. Buelow is in the sales department of the National Cash Register Company of Dayton, Ohio.

Rebecca Flint has gone to Christiania, Norway, to become tutor to the children of the American ambassador, Mr. Schmedeman.

Robert M. Johnston is a traveling salesman for the Warren Featherbone Company of Hancock, Michigan.

Myron A. King is engaged in the real estate and building business at 12 East 9th Street, Kansas City, Missouri.

Maurice Hiram Bent is in the bond department of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago.

Le Baron L. Harper is a member of the firm of W. F. Harper and Company fire insurance, first mortgage loans, and real estate, 111 Tower Avenue, Superior, Wisconsin.

John L. Wallis is a salesman and secretary of the Wisconsin State Rubber Company, 213 2nd Street, Milwaukee.

1915.

Class Secretary—ERNEST O. LANGE, 420 Grant St., Fond du Lac.

Anita Reinking has accepted a position as micro-analysist in the bureau of chemistry of the United States Department of Agriculture at Washington.

Emil J. Kautsky is farming at Colby.

William K. Adams is an accountant with the Chicago Telephone Company.

Ernest C. McGill is a student in the Rush Medical College of Chicago.

Samuel J. Schilling is studying veterinary medicine at the Ohio State University.

Harvey V. Z. Higley is a chemical engineer with the General Roofing Company of East St. Louis, Ill.

William W. Innes is an inspector in the department of public works of the city of Milwaukee.

Leo R. Wheeler is a junior engineer with the Illinois Highway Commission.

Arthur R. Albert is an assistant in soils in the University.

Thomas M. Olson is a county agricultural agent for the United States Department of Agriculture at Poplar Bluff, Mo.

Leo G. Hoeveler is in the auditing department of the Chicago Telephone Company.

Archibald W. Case is a civil engineer with the Snare and Triest Company of New York City.

Margaret Stevens is teaching in the public schools of St. Louis.

Nina Fieldstad is the librarian of the children's department of the public library of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Thrope M. Langley is the treasurer of the Wisconsin Loan and Trust Company of Superior.

Milton Wagner is with the Western Weighing and Inspection Bureau of Milwaukee. He resides at 538 Milwaukee Street.

Elizabeth Pratt is a student at the Pratt Institute of Brooklyn, New York.

Chester E. Parker is a salesman for the General Roofing Company of Marseilles, Illinois.

CAMPUS NOTES

The latest addition to the University's buildings is the Applied Arts Building which is devoted to the exclusive use of the department of manual arts. Since the establishment of this department in 1910 it has grown so rapidly as to render the need of a special building imperative. The Regents recognized the need this year and a frame building facing the Historical Library on the Lower Campus was remodeled for the use of the department. The unusual growth of the department is due to the increased demand for teachers of manual arts among the high schools, although there has been a steady increase in the number of students taking electives in the department. Some of the practical courses offered are wood turning, furniture and cabinet design and construction, pattern making, foundry and forge work, free hand drawing, and machine shop work.

Three graduate scholarships at Harvard have been awarded to Wisconsin men. Joseph B. Hubbard, B. A. '12, M. A. '13, has been granted the Leverett Saltonstall Scholarship in Economics; Charles Dreschsler, B. S. '13, has received the Thayer Scholarship in Botany, and William E. Farnham, B. A. '12, has received a scholarship in English.

The student employment problem has become more complicated this year with the establishment of a large number of cafeterias within the student quarter. There are at least a half dozen of these eating houses within a block of the State Historical Library. Two of the largest and most popular boarding houses have substituted the cafeteria style of serving for the regular style. One of these cafeterias is feeding at least 150 people a day. Under the boarding house plan of service such a number of guests would require the services of at least twelve student waiters; but this cafeteria has only four student helpers to remove the used dishes. Since a large number of students are dependent upon positions, whereby they can earn their board for their maintenance while in college, this decrease in the demand for waiters is rendering it still more difficult for the deserving and willing student, who is lacking in means, to get a college education.

The directory of boarding and rooming houses, issued separately to the men and women students, has supplied a long felt want at the University. Up to last year the only directory available was a private one which was more interesting as an advertising medium than as a rooming directory. The University recognized the necessity of an official directory and upon the authorization of the regents the committee on student life and interests compiled an official one which has received general commendation for its fulness. Detailed information such as price, location in house, heating, lighting and bathing facilities, together with a large legended map of the city and an article on "important points for new students" are given. The attractiveness of the pamphlet is increased by the absence of all advertising matter.

Professor T. S. Adams of the department of Political Economy has resigned his position as a member of the Wisconsin Tax Commission and under a grant of one year's leave of absence from the Regents has gone East to fill an engagement with the faculty of Cornell University.

During the summer five fraternities and one sorority have moved into new homes. The Alpha Delta Phi has purchased the Brittingham property on the Lake at the foot of North Henry street; the Sigma Phi has purchased the Bradley home on University Heights; the Alpha Tau Omega have taken formal possession of their new place on the Lake, across from the Psi Upsilon house; the Alpha Sigma Phi has purchased and remodeled the residence at 619 Lake street, which they have occupied for two years; the Phi Delta Phi, the legal fraternity, has bought the property at 616 Lake, and the Delta Delta Delta have moved from their former home at the corner of Henry and Gilman streets to the old Keenan residence on East Gilman street.

The Regents are now engaged in drawing up plans for the construction work authorized by the last legislature. Two new buildings were authorized, one for the Physics department and one for Agricultural Soils. The old boathouse will be remodeled and a canoe house will be added. At Camp Randall the initial step in the construction of the proposed stadium will be undertaken. Twenty thousand dollars will be spent in the erection of a new stand which will be added to from time to time as the money is appropriated. An appropriation is available for the building of a stone terrace around the Lincoln statue. The women students will be favored with increased facilities for athletic purposes in the form of a field house, containing lockers, showers, and training quarters at their athletic field and a boat and bath house on the Lake.

In an endeavor to create a deeper and more extensive interest in spiritual matters among the students, the various religious bodies of the University, under the direction of the pastors' alliance and the Y. M. C. A., have undertaken a campaign of church advertisement. Posters, calling attention to the value of Christian ideals and their relationship to college ideals and listing the services of the various Madison churches, have been placed on all the bulletin boards and in the shop windows. A large advertisement appears every Saturday in the Daily Cardinal reminding the students of the Sunday services. Nearly all the churches now have special students' pastors, and four of them, the Methodist, Roman Catholic, Lutheran, and Episcopal have separate places of worship for the students. The latter opened a temporary chapel this fall.

BOOK NOTES

The Wealth and Income of the People of the United States, by Willford Isbell King, Ph. D., instructor in political science in the University of Wisconsin. pp. 277. $1.50. Macmillan, New York.

This is another of the new series of the valuable Citizens' Library of Economics, Politics, and Sociology edited by Dr. R. T. Ely, to whom the present work is dedicated. It is primarily a book of statistics; but unlike most books dealing with statistical matter it is far from being dry and uninteresting. All the statistical matter is presented either in diagrams or tables which serve to give the reader an impressionistic picture of the varied material collected and compiled by the author. Every phase of our national wealth and income is treated in this way. With the exception of Dr. Spahr's work on The Present Distribution of Wealth in the United States, which was published more than twenty years ago, nothing of consequence has been issued on this important phase of our national interests; therefore the present volume will be of considerable aid in determining whether or not capital or labor is receiving the principal share of the benefits of our national progress, and whether or not the increase in our national riches has been distributed to all the classes of the population or to only a very few individuals. A study of the statistical matter presented in this book, together with a perusal of the elaborations and conclusions of the author, should be of interest to every student of sociology, finance and industry.

Outline of International Law, by Arnold Bennett Hall, J. D., assistant professor of political science, University of Wisconsin.

pp. 255. La Salle Extension University. Chicago. $1.75.

In the preparation of this timely volume Professor Hall has aimed to present this rather technical and somewhat involved subject in such a way as to make it relatively easy for the average reader to grasp the essential facts of international relationships. The American citizen has discovered during the last year that his country is by no means an isolated unit in world diplomacy. Since the outbreak of the war in Europe he has been more and more impressed with the fact that what concerns the rest of the world is of equal interest to the United States; and as this knowledge has been brought home to him, he has realized the necessity of an understanding of the fundamental principles of international law. The present work was prepared to meet such a necessity. It opens with a chapter on the general conceptions of the subject, which is followed by chapters on the "independence and equality of states" and "territorial domains and jurisdiction." Under the chapter on "relations between states in peace" the author treats of such subjects as diplomatic relations, treaties, and pacific settlement of disputes. The chapters on "war" and "neutrality" will no doubt be of most interest to the reader of today, since under them are considered most of the subjects under controversy between the United States and the belligerent countries and between the belligerents themselves. Whenever the author states a principle of international law, reference is given to the particular case in which said principle was laid down. An alphabetical list of the cases cited is given at the end of the first division of the book.

The second division of the work contains ten appendices. A classified bibliography is arranged to cover the subjects treated in each chapter of the book. Such an arrangement makes it possible for the reader to elaborate on any given phase of the field of international law. Six of the Hague Conventions covering such important subjects as "war on land," "neutrality during war on land," "maritime war," "international prize courts" and "neutrality during naval war," are given in full.

A table of the actions of signers to fifteen Hague Conventions and the protocol of September 19, 1910, is presented in alphabetical order, according to countries. Action is noted under the heads of signed, ratified, adhered, and reservations. The reservations of the several countries are explained in detail. The final appendix is devoted to the international naval conference and its declaration concerning the laws of naval warfare. The volume is carefully indexed.

Hotel Wisconsin

Fenton M. Johnson, Manager

MILWAUKEE, WIS.

500 Rooms - - 300 Baths

RATES AS FOLLOWS

One person detached bath, $1.00 to $1.50 per day. One person shower bath $2.00 per day. One person private bath $2.50 and upward per day. Two persons detached bath $3.00 and upward per day. Two persons, shower or bath, $3.50 to $6.00 per day.

Badger Room Largest Restaurant in the State

ESTABLISHED 1854

CONKLIN & SONS COMPANY

Coal, Wood and Mendota Lake Ice

Cement, Stucco, White Lime, Hair and Sewer Pipe

MAIN OFFICE: : : : : : : 24 EAST MIFFLIN STREET

DIRECTORY OF LOCAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATIONS

In case the officers for the college year 1915-1916 are incorrectly listed, please mail corrections at once to the Alumni Magazine, 281 State Street, Madison, Wisconsin

OFFICERS FOR 1915-1916

SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA—Clifford C. Pease, '04, president; Vinnie B. Clark, '10, vice-president; Roy T. Nichols, '04, Alexandria Apts., secretary; Tracy L. Burke, '07, treasurer.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA—H. E. Bolton, '95, president; F. W. Wall, '86, vice-president; Frank V. Cornish, '96, 1923 Dwight Way, Berkeley, California, secretary-treasurer.

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA—George C. Martin, '99, president; Chas. C. Montgomery, '97, 908 Security Bldg., Los Angeles, California, secretary.

COLORADO—John H. Gabriel, '87, president; Hamlet J. Barry, '03, vice-president, 222 Equitable Bldg., Denver, Colorado; Mrs. A. B. Taylor, secretary-treasurer.

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS—Chicago Alumnae Association—Mrs. Mary Tenney Healy, '87, president; Mrs. Stephen McPartlin, '05, vice-president; Jessie M. Shepherd, 514 E. 34th St., Chicago, Ill., secretary; Catherine M. Cleveland, '94, treasurer.

University of Wisconsin Club of Chicago—Fred D. Silber, '94, president; David A. Crawford, '05, vice-president; J. G. Wray, '93, secretary-treasurer, 212 W. Washington St.; Hubert E. Page, '93, Louis P. Lochner, '09, Fred S. White, '81, W. H. Haight, '03, A. E. Thiede, '04, J. W. Bradshaw, '06, directors.

MOLINE-ROCKFORD, ILLINOIS—DAVENPORT, IOWA—C. H. Maxson, '92, president; Geo. M. Sheets, '08, 120 W. 6th St., Davenport, Iowa, secretary-treasurer.

SIOUX CITY, IOWA—Wilbur Derthick, '10, president; William Bertke, '03, vice-president; Helen Hennessey, Ex-'11, 1511 Rebecca Street, secretary-treasurer.

WISCONSIN CLUB OF DULUTH—DULUTH, MINN.—Oliver S. Andresen, '00, president; J. R. Stark, '05, vice-president; Henry K. Pratt, '10, treasurer; A. W. Torbet, '12, 701 Alworth Bldg., secretary.

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL, MINNESOTA—J. L. Erdall, '85, president; Clark R. Fletcher, '11, 936 Andrus Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn., secretary-treasurer.

MONTANA—Prof. A. W. Richter, '89, president; J. H. Warner, '04, care East Butte Copper Mining Co., Butte, Montana, secretary-treasurer.

NEW YORK—Herbert A. Heyn, '91, president; F. C. Stieler, '02, 165 Broadway, secretary.

NORTH DAKOTA—A. A. Bruce, '90, president; H. C. Fish, '03 Minot, N. Dak., secretary-treasurer; O. G. Libby, '95, Dr. Dillon, '00, R. A. Nestos, '02, Emil Scow, '02, vice-presidents.

GRAND FORKS, NORTH DAKOTA—Dr. Orrin C. Libby, '95, president; Lavina Stewart, vice-president; Anna McCumber Chandler, '99, University, N. D., secretary-treasurer.

PITTSBURGH, PENNSYLVANIA—Mr. Ferris, Ferris Construction Co., president; Archie Nance, '10, vice-president; Rowland Anthony, '05, 421 West St., Wilkensburg, Pa., secretary.

SALT LAKE CITY, UTAH—Wm. M. Bradlev, '83, president; G. A. Glick, '10, vice-president; Hylon T. Plum, '01, secretary, 183 "V" St.; H. C. Estberg, '07, treasurer.

MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN—Lynn S. Pease, '86, L '91, president; Leo F. Nohl, '01, vice-president; Wm. J. Bollenbeck, '08, secretary, 20 Hathaway Bldg.; Emmett A. Donnelly, '10, treasurer. Executive Board—Frank L. Fawcett, '08, Alva H. Cook, '07, Manford W. McMillen, '85, Francis A. Vaughn, '95, and Arthur H. Breslauer, '04.

SEATTLE, WASHINGTON—Frederick W. Meisnest, '93, president; Heber B. Hoyt, '97, Colman Bldg., secretary.

SPOKANE, WASHINGTON—Inland Empire, Washington—R. W. Nuzum, '90, president; W. C. Donovan, '96, first vice-president; Mrs. John M. Benn, '95, second vice-president; George E. Worthington, '10, 1110 Old National Bank Building, secretary-treasurer.

RACINE, WISCONSIN—Wm. T. Harvey, '97, president; Susan M. Porter, '96, vice-president; Harold L. Bickel, '10, 1415 Junction Ave., secretary-treasurer; Mrs. C. R. Carpenter, '87, A. R. Janecky, '07, executive committee.

TACOMA—Marshall K. Snell, '81, president; Robert A. McCormick, vice-president, 3211 N. 31st St., Tacoma, Wash.; Mrs. James A. Hays, '91, secretary; R. M. Davis, '04, treasurer.

PEKING, CHINA—Y. T. Tsur, '10, president; S. D. Lee, secretary-treasurer, Tsing Hua College.