VOL. XXXIV. NO. 40

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN, MADISON, FRIDAY, NOV. 7, 1924

FIVE CENTS

MORE ROBBERIES OCCUR TO SWELL LOSS BY CO-EDS

Thieves Enter Sorority and Women's Rooming Houses; To Hire Detective

A series of robberies and attempted robberies of women's rooming houses and sororities occurred Wednesday and Thursday that gave a new and serious aspect to the outbreak of thievery in the university section.

A thief entered the Kappa Alpha Theta house, 823 Irving place, about 3 o'clock in the morning, Wednesday. Every room in the house was ransacked, and dresser drawers searched. The thief apparently desired nothing but money as nothing else was taken. About $30 in cash is reported as being the amount stolen.

Use Fire Escape

The third floor of the women's rooming house at 514 North Lake street, was ransacked early yesterday morning by a young man who entered by way of the fire escape. The robbery was discovered at 7 o'clock when the occupants found that some of the bureau drawers had been looted.

A valuable purse which contained a $15 check, a $20 draft, and the receipt for a ticket to the Chicago game, about $10 in cash and a purse with some small change in it were taken. A detective has been employed to investigate the robbery, for it is thought that perhaps this same man is the one who has been robbing other houses in the Latin quarter lately.

See Window Peeper

Earlier in the evening, about 10:30 o'clock, the women on the third floor at Grady's rooming house, 708 Langdon, were startled by the face of a man peering in a window of the third floor. The man, who had climbed up the fire escape, wore a tan cap and a brown suit. A man, perhaps the same one, had entered MacDonald's rooming house at 515 North Lake street, but he was frightened away before he got anything. He had entered the second floor window by way of the fire escape, also.

It is reported that a man attempted to enter the women's rooming house at 439 North Murray street Wednesday night at dinner time. One of the girls happened to look out of a window on the second floor at the back and saw the man peering in. Her screams frightened him away, and the men employees on the place investigated and found a ladder against the back of the house.

SOUSA MELODIES PLEASE HUNDREDS

"On Wisconsin," Stirringly Given, Brings Forth Student Skyrocket

By J. F. W.

Hundreds left the Parkway last night with the blare of Sousa's trumpets and cornets still ringing in their ears. Others hummed bits of familiar Sousa marches and melodies. All were equally pleased and equally satisfied.

The program began with the seldom played overture from "Maximilien Robespierre," by Litoff, and included the suite, "El Capitan and His Friends," a Strauss symphonic poem, "Don Juan," a fantasia, "Music of the Minute," by Sousa, and Massenet's "Carnival Night in Naples" as the finale.

Miss Nora Fauchald, soprano, sang Delibes' "Maid of Cadiz" with charming ease and grace. John Dolan, cornet, Robert Gooding, saxophone, and George Carey, xylophone, were excellent assisting artists.

The encores were chiefly from the familiar Sousa tunes. A stirring rendition of "On Wisconsin" evoked the university skyrocket.

WORKERS BANQUET AT Y. M. C. A. ON EVE OF FINANCE CAMPAIGN

Banqueting 150 workers on the eve of a student campaign for $5,000, the Y. M. C. A. last night set out to raise its year's budget. Ellis Fulton '25 spoke of the Y. M. C. A. as an organization that makes a deal of difference among a great many men. This was the dominant theme of the speakers, John Bergstresser '25, C. V. Hibbard '00, general secretary, and Prof. A. B. Hall.

Mr. Hibbard told of the immediate value of a successful campaign to the university association itself, and the more intangible value that working for a successful cause would bring to the student solicitor.

Bergstresser spoke both as president of the senior class and as director of the fraternity division of the campaign. He believed that the Y. M. C. A. would remedy the lack of organization among the men on the campus, and at present was taking the place of the union building.

"As I see it," said Bergstresser, "the Y. M. C. A. is the only organization on the campus that is working to tackle the great problem of reaching the unorganized mass of students, and for that reason I recommend that everyone put heart and soul into this work for the next few days."

Professor Hall's talk to the workers ended the evening's program. His was a plea that more students be given the advantages which the association affords. He declared, "Spiritual life does not amount to anything unless it finds expression in spiritual conduct." His message to the workers was to pass on the vision of the Y. M. C. A.

At a workers' luncheon this noon in the association building, F. S. Brandenburg, a graduate, and president of the Democrat Printing company, will speak. Prof. William Kiehofer and Prof. E. R. Gardner will address the luncheon meeting of the workers Saturday.

Tin Cans To Trail Campus Canines in Homecoming Parade

STREETS FLOODED BY RAIN TORRENTS

A small cloudburst swept Madison and the southern part of the state at 10:30 o'clock last night, flooding streets and tying up traffic in many sections.

A good sized lake formed at the foot of Langdon street in front of the armory which rose above the wheels of cars that tried to pass. The water was estimated to be three and one-half feet deep.

A crowd of university women and other pedestrians gathered on State street near the library, where for a time the water rose above the curbs of the street. Residents of Barnard and "sorority alley" were forced to wade in water up to their knees to gain access to their rooms.

DEBATE TRYOUTS SET FOR TUESDAY

Semi-final Trials Will Take Place Early in December

The preliminary intercollegiate debate tryouts will be held Tuesday, November 18, in Bascom hall. This announcement was made by Prof. J. M. O'Neill of the speech department, last night. The semi-final trials will take place on December 2, and final tryouts will be held on December 16.

The question to be debated at these trials is, "Resolved, that capital punishment should be prohibited throughout the United States."

In the preliminary tryouts the main speeches will be four minutes in length. There will be no rebuttals. In the semi-final trials each student will be required to present a four-minute main speech and a two-minute rebuttal.

"All students intending to tryout must register one week before each event in 204 Bascom hall," declared Professor O'Neill. "Women as well as men will be eligible."

The schedule for the other forensic events is as follows:

Joint debate between Philomathia and Athenae literary societies, December 12; sophomore open oratorical contest February 18; junior exhibition oratorical contest, February 18; senior oratorical contest, February 19; freshman declamatory contest, March 5; N. O. L. final tryouts, April 2.

Dogs, Old Fords, to Be Features of Annual Hobo Hike

The campus canine family will feature the hobo parade to be held on the morning of homecoming day, November 15. Wenzel Fabera '25, chairman of the parade committee, plans to round up all the campus dog celebrities and others not so well known and give them a prominent part in the hobo celebration. Big dogs and little dogs will have big and little parts to play, and upon them depends much of the success of the parade.

In addition to the campus dog family novelty, Fabera plans to have a larger old Ford parade than the one held the morning of the Minnesota game. "All the old cars in school are welcome to join in the parade," Fabera said yesterday. "The more of them we have, the better the parade will be."

Two cups are being offered for the two best fraternity stunts in the parade. Entries of two or more men may be made by each

Rain, Dark Cause Cadillac to Wreck Ford Last Night

In the dark and mist of the rain last night, a seven-passenger Cadillac sedan, driven by Lucille Klein '28, crashed into a touring Ford, owned by Collins Follette '28, at 7:45 o'clock in front of 620 Langdon street. The left back wheel of the Ford was torn off, the hood ripped loose, the radiator broken and the entire body of the car crumpled up by the shock of the collision.

The Cadillac was only slightly damaged, the front right fender and the bumper being bent. Margaret Bannen '26 was the only other girl in the car with Miss Klein. No one was injured in the accident, although the girls were considerably frightened.

"The accident happened because my car skidded and it collided with the Ford in my endeavor to stop it," said Miss Klein.

SHOOTS SELF AS SHE PACKS TRUNK

Condition Not Serious; Suicide Theory Denied By Attending Physician

Mrs. W. H. Winton, 50, 320 North street, shot and wounded herself in the abdomen yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock and was taken to the General hospital by the city ambulance where it was reported last night that the wound was not serious.

Mrs. Winton was packing her trunks preparatory to leaving for Florida in a few days, according to Dr. A. G. Hough, 1251 Williamson street, who was called shortly after the shooting occurred. She had made arrangements for renting her house with a view to spending the winter in Florida, Dr. Hough said.

The cause of the shooting is not known. Mrs. Winton, according to friends, had been subject to painful trouble with her ear, due to an abscess. Doctor Hough denied that this had anything to do with her shooting herself, however. Mrs. Winton is reported by the police department as having said that she "was tired of living."

RAIN, HAIL, SNOW BLOW WINDS BLOW!

Football fans are going to have their overcoats and blankets ready for Saturday's game, as the weather man reports a cold wave headed from the Rocky mountains. Activities started last night when hail came down with a cloudburst that flooded Madison's streets.

No Water Now, No Canoes Later Grins "Cap," Setting Last Day

No more boats or canoes will be rented to students for use on Lake Mendota after November 15, it has been announced by "Cap" Isabel, commander of the Lake Mendota coast guards.

"The reason for this order," declared "Cap" Isabel, "is simply that there is no water left in the lake. Evaporation is going on so rapidly that it won't be long before Lake Mendota goes dry."

He admits that he is exaggerating a bit, but he pointed out how the level of Lake Mendota has actually lowered 18 inches from its high water mark.

At some points the depth is only two feet and "Cap" finds it impossible to launch his motor boat, the "Isabel," in this shallow water. But despite all difficulties, "Cap"

Isabel is always on the job, on a strict lookout for any overturned boats or for any boats in danger.

At present the university boat house still rents out 15 canoes and four rowboats a day, excepting on Monday and Tuesday. The rowboats are almost in continual use by hunters and fishermen.

"Cap" plans to overhaul his motorboat entirely and brighten it up with a few new coats of paint. The crew boat, Cardinal II, which was sent to Poughkeepsie, has already been given its annual overhauling. A new engine is to be installed in the Cardinal II.

"Cap" Isabel prides himself on the fact that not a single drowning has occurred on Lake Mendota this year, a record not achieved in recent years.

HILL ANNOUNCES INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE LISTS

Personnel of 13 Committees Told Last Night; To Start Work Now

Thirteen chairmen and their committee members for the annual Wisconsin international stock show were announced by Harry E. Hill '25, general chairman, last night at the meeting of the Saddle and Sirolo club. The show will be held Saturday, February 21, and preliminary work will begin at once.

"The committees have been picked with great care with a view to secure the most capable and efficient men," explained Hill. "Committee members should start working immediately in order that initial preparations will be completed before the main work is begun."

Kaiser Heads Finance

G. M. Bracke '26 and C. M. Rott '26 were appointed assistant managers to Hill and the other personnel of the show is as follows:

Finance, J. G. Kaiser '26; night show, H. M. Wood '25; tickets, J. L. Pelton '25, chairman, Aileen M. Thiesen '25, F. G. Chandler '28, V. J. Chapman, N. M. Nelson '27, C. M. Bice '26, W. E. Ogilvie '26 and K. H. Corbett '25.

The awards committee is headed by L. L. Longsdorf '25 and R. E. Rowland '25, M. M. Schnurr '26, F. D. Jones '25, H. A. Murray '25, G. C. Kloser '25, K. E. McKenzie '25, E. M. Jones '27, and C. H. Whitworth '25 will make up the committee.

BANQUET SPEECH STRESSES STUDY

Prominent Phi Beta Kappas Speak to Freshman Women

That scholarship is an activity, was stressed to the freshmen representatives of rooming houses last night at the W. S. G. A. banquet held in Lathrop hall for the purpose of helping freshmen to maintain a higher standard of scholarship than has existed previously.

"Scholarship is an activity; a scholar is not necessarily a grind and can be a well-rounded person," declared Esther Fifield '26, who bears the honor of having been elected to Phi Beta Kappa in her junior year. She urged that girls try out for the freshman cup which is awarded to the girl having the highest average of her class.

Miss H. C. White, faculty representative of Phi Beta Kappa, in speaking of "Scholarship as a Phase of Life," said, "There are three popular misconceptions about scholarship,—that the student becomes a grind, that the information gained is remote from life and unfit for life, and that scholarship is not intimately essential to what young men and women want from life." In refuting these three beliefs Miss White emphasized the fact that scholarship is not dull, but good sport because it is a challenge to effort.

Prof. George Wagner, of the zoology department, secretary of the local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, said that scholarship and good character are the bases upon which candidates are selected for membership. "Grades are a true measure of future worth of a student to society," said Professor Wagner. A change in the detailed methods of selecting those students worthy of the honor of being elected to membership has gone into effect this year. No more than 50 persons will be chosen from each class although more than twice that number will probably be considered.

LOSE CENTER FOR
REST OF SEASON"Tubby" Griffin is Out With Injuries For Remainder of Year

IOWA CITY, Ia.—Iowa's hopes of finishing high in the Big Ten suffered a crushing setback Wednesday when it became known that "Tubby" Griffin, center, will not be able to play during the remainder of the season.

Griffin, according to Dr. W. R. Fiessler, broke a bone in his foot during practice on Tuesday.

Iowa Loses Three Men

The loss of the 228-pound pivot man leaves Coach Ingwersen with two of the three regulars gone from the center of the Iowa line and, to make the wreck more complete, he is also without the services of one of his few experienced reserves, McIntyre, who had an ankle broken in the Illinois game.

Fleckenstein, star guard, suffered a broken shoulder two weeks ago in the Minnesota game.

Tough Luck Coach

Ingwersen seems to have a clear hold on the title of champion tough luck coach of the big loop. From a team which was expected surely to win from Butler and Wisconsin and which looked like a possible winner over Michigan, the Hawks have become a badly damaged machine which will have all it can do to pull two of its remaining games out of the fire.

Mau comes from the 1923 freshman squad. Lindsay seems to have the call in point of ability as well as experience.

DURAND SHOWS UP
WELL IN WINNING
FINAL TENNIS DUAL

Durand has reached the final round of the all-university tennis tournament by defeating Maniere 6-0, 6-3. The match was close and interesting. In the second set both were in good form and the ball was shooting over the net in great style. Durand's serve was most accurate and consistent. His placing was nearly perfect and his lawford was without fault. Maniere's strikes were swifter but less accurate and Durand was able to out place him. Durand has a habit of playing his opponent out of position, and thus forcing him to make a weak return, and then killing it at the net. As soon as the upper frame of the tournament is played off the finals may be decided and the tennis king proclaimed.

Mass Meeting
in Gym Tonight;
Parade is Planned

To stir up pep for the Badger-Hawk tilt is the purpose of the student mass meeting to be held at 7 o'clock tonight in the men's gymnasium. Plans have been made by the non-football men of the "W" club.

A parade is proposed to be held at 6:30 o'clock tonight to revive the true Wisconsin spirit and to liven things up for tomorrow afternoon.

"Sunny" Pyre, Jack Ryan, Max Mason or Carl Russell Fish are tentative speakers for tonight's mass meeting. It is probable that several members of the varsity team will talk on the prospects of a victory tomorrow.

SUPREMACY CUP
PLANS RATIFIEDSix More Fraternities Approve
Plans; Supremacy Cup
Will Stimulate Sports

With six more fraternities ratifying the proposition, regulations are now being considered to govern competition for the intramural supremacy cup. A meeting was held Wednesday at which various plans were discussed.

The decision has been made that $5.00 will be the entry fee; and that points shall be given for entrance of teams in the competition as well as for athletic stunts. Other necessary rules will be drawn up at the next meeting of the fraternity representatives. The intramural department will mail further information to the fraternities this week-end.

"I am sure that the supremacy cup will be a powerful influence in stimulating intramural competition," said Director George Berg, yesterday. "It will give the fraternities something to work for as a whole in athletic games."

The list of entries to date includes Theta Delta Chi, Phi Delta Theta, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Chi Phi, Delta Sigma Pi, Phi Chi, Alpha Gamma Rho, Sigma Phi Epsilon, Phi Sigma Delta, Alpha Kappa Kappa, Alpha Kappa Lambda, Phi Sigma Kappa, Alpha Chi Rho, Delta Chi, Triangle and the University Y. M. A. A. group.

75 MILWAUKEE MEN

Seventy-five invitations have been sent to prominent Milwaukee business men asking them to attend a dinner tonight in their honor in the mining laboratory of the College of Engineering at which Dean F. E. Turneure, of the Engineering faculty, will give an after-dinner talk.

"Old Wooden Shack", Former Gymnasium, Lacked FacilitiesOld Building Burned Down in 1890; Rumored Students
Set Fire

By CLARENCE SCHLAVER
Although the facilities of the gymnasium are admitted to be considerably inadequate at the present time, they are far in advance of those offered in the old building which was referred to as the old wooden shack back of Main hall.

This rather decrepit old building burned down in 1890 and rumors were heard at the time that some enthusiastic students assisted in the conflagration. Probably they looked upon a building which didn't even protect them from rain, with shame.

When the matter of building a new gymnasium came before the legislature several members objected and declared that a building of the size proposed would not be needed for 100 years. Their objections came to naught, however, and the year 1894 found the new gym ready for use.

Dr. J. C. Elsom, at present connected with the department of physical education and Bradley Memorial hospital, and one assistant, took charge of the classes that year.

"We had about 350 men taking gym out of the 1,500 students in the whole university," Dr. Elsom said yesterday. "Wisconsin had the first required physical education classes of any college in the country, and the new gymnasium was thought to be superior to any in respect to size and architectural style."

Not long after the building was completed an alumni ball was planned but the use of the building for such a purpose was objected to because of possible injury to the floor. In order to prevent that, a large canvas, which Dr. Elsom estimated to have cost $2,000, was made to cover the floor.

Many social functions centered around the gymnasium afterwards but the canvas was dispensed with. The junior prom was held in the gym until floor space was deemed inadequate and permission for use of the capitol was granted.

By 1912, the need for more training room was felt, and the annex was built for the use of the track squad.

GET GAME TICKETS;
EXTRA SEATING SPACE

Students are requested by Paul Hunter, director of ticket sales, to call today for their tickets to the Notre Dame game. Additional seats have been erected at the south end of the field. The other seats are practically sold out, Hunter announces.

So It Seems

Threatening skies last night caused the football men at Randall to don their oilskin football pants for their workout. The gloom must have penetrated into the spirit of one follower of the Badger team, for he handed us the following verse:

The melancholy days have come,
The saddest of all the year;
Our football team is on the bum
And Notre Dame is here.

Wisconsin fraternities and business firms certainly lack the spirit and friendliness towards the invading team that is so evident at Ann Arbor for every game. All places of business there have appropriate displays of the colors of the two schools, and fraternities and sororities have large pennants and streamers in front of their houses welcoming the visiting team and rooters. This is done for every game, whether homecoming or not.

The recent tumult for Chicago tickets is still a favorite topic on the hill. The many conferences held by officials about the matter seems to indicate that the powers that be are earnestly searching for a more efficient manner of ticket distribution. Assuredly there is no necessity for a repetition of the recent mad rush.

While the campus is busy discussing football, in the seclusion of the gym "Doc" Meanwell is quietly grooming his 1925 basketball squad for another Big Ten championship. The little mentor says little but is achieving a lot. He has as veteran material Captain Diebold, Spooner,

FROSH GRID TEAM
STARTS WORK ON
STAGG STRATEGYNumeral Sweaters Will Be Awarded to 24 Members of Squad

Once again the frosh pigskin squad has changed its style of play. Notre Dame plays are forgotten and the yearlings will concentrate on the gridiron strategy used by Alonzo Stagg, at the Maroon stronghold.

This makes the fourth distinct brand of football that has been drilled into the frosh. First it was Ames, then Minnesota, then Notre Dame and from now on it will be Chicago. At all times the frosh are able to use these various styles of play in such a successful manner that it is all the varsity can do to turn back the aggressive proteges of Coach Guy Sundt.

Cameron, Kreske Good.
Perhaps the best pair of ends that have played on a frosh team in recent years is to be found on this year's frosh eleven. Cameron, one of the wingmen, is all that is to be desired in an end. He is fast on the offense and nails passes with deadly consistency. On defense a play seldom gets around his end without Cameron being in the thick of it. Mike Kreske, the big boy who originally started the season as a tackle has been shifted out to the flank position and fits into his new place admirably. He is beefy, but fast, and is always among the first down the field under a punt.

Numerals to Be Given.
In addition to these wingmen there are three reserve ends that stack up well with anything the varsity has with the exception of Polaski. These are Christianson, Campbell and Bartlett. This abundance of ends looks good for future varsity end material.

Within the near future the men will be recommended to the athletic board who are deserving of their class numerals. About 24 numeral sweaters will be awarded.

"Oriental" rugs are being manufactured in a New York studio by two women who have mastered the intricate art.

Wackman, Barwig, and Varney and a rumor says that the return to the squad of Elsom is probable.

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDSECRET PRACTICE
HIDES PERSONNEL
OF BADGER TEAMChanges in Combinations Will Make Many Surprises For Notre Dame

Just what the personnel of the team which trots out on the field to meet Notre Dame tomorrow afternoon will be is not known even by those who are closest to the team, but it is certain there will be plenty of surprises. Secret practices have been very secret the past two weeks, but the variations in the combinations used are enough to show there will be changes.

Coach Ryan will taper off practice this afternoon with a light signal and passing drill, while the Notre Dame squad under Rockne will work out at Beloit, where they are stopping enroute to Madison.

The practice yesterday showed up new men in the lineup. Harris was back at right tackle and Wilke has replaced Teckemeyer at center. Larson, who has been out with an injured knee, was back again piloting the team. McGivern, Barnum, and Leo Harmon composed the rest of the backfield. This lineup cannot be taken seriously, however, for the practice yesterday against the freshmen was only a light dummy scrimmage, with the yearlings using Notre Dame formations. The varsity merely looked on and tried to guess the plays.

Stangel Practices Punts. Stangel, although not in the backfield formation, was on the sidelines punting and was getting off punts from 60 to 70 yards.

Now that Harris is firmly set in the right tackle position, the other weakness in the right side of the line is the guard post. Miller has been playing right guard all year, but indications are that Stipek may get a chance in the game tomorrow.

End Prospects Bad.

Prospects at the ends are worse than ever. Polaski has been laid up most of the week. Although he was in uniform last night, his physical condition is not the best, and he may not be used the entire game. Long and Burrus both have slight injuries that will interfere with their playing. This leaves Blacman as the logical man to start with Polaski as wingman.

There seems to be little doubt that McGivern will see action in backfield against the fighting Irish. He has been used frequently in scrimmage sessions this week and has made good gains. He is speedy, picks holes, and follows his interference well.

Badger Coaches
No. 12—Aprad Masley

Perhaps the newest member of the Wisconsin coaching staff is Aprad Masley, tennis coach.

Masley is a graduate of a physical training school in Indianapolis. While in school he was active in all branches of sport, but his particular field was gymnastics. Right now he can show the members of the varsity gym squad some tricks that are hard for them to follow.

After his graduation he went into the army and saw active service overseas. Wisconsin is proud of the fact that all of her coaches, who were of age and able, gave up their work and entered the service of their country.

On his return to America after the war, Masley came to Madison as athletic director in the public schools and to work in the Turn Verein, a German athletic society.

Shortly after coming to Madison he was called to Homestead, Pa., to take charge of the supervised athletics there. Next Masley went to Gary, Indiana, to do athletic work in the big steel city.

Last October Masley came to the university as tennis coach and to take over the frosh gym classes. Last year he did remarkably well with a tellisteam made up of material that he had never seen in action before. Tennis, a sport that has been on the wane at Wisconsin in recent years, was given a new impetus by Coach Masley. Although the Badger net men did not

ROCKNE'S MEN WILL PRACTICE IN BELOIT

Notre Dame's football squad will work out at Beloit this afternoon, following their arrival there from South Bend, Ind. The team will leave Beloit tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock and will arrive at Madison at 11 o'clock. Five special trains will arrive in Madison on the Chicago and Northwestern tomorrow morning, with two or three more coming in over the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road.

KEN ELSOM NOT ON CAGE QUINTET

Grades, Not Baskets, His Ambition; Would Be Ineligible in February

The rumor that Ken Elsom will return to the basketball squad seems without foundation. The report at the beginning of school that he would not be on the Cardinal team this year appears to be certain.

Elsom feels that he needs the time to give to his studies, and that since he will be ineligible in February due to his graduation he would not be of full value to the team, and thus the time at the start of the season could be better devoted to his books.

He is carrying a heavy schedule this year besides instructing in the university. With all of these activities he feels that he cannot give his best efforts to his books or to the squad should he take up basketball again.

win the conference championship, they gave all opponents a hard battle in every dual meet.

Masley should be given especial credit for developing Peter Sah, the Chinese star. Before coming under Masley's tutelage Sah was only a mediocre player but last year he developed into one of the best clay court artists in the conference.

This year Hasly has a squad of frosh working on the courts that is capable of defeating the varsity and it is highly probable that he will realize his ambition within the next few years of giving Wisconsin its first tennis championship in the last five years or so.

CAN CHICAGO, OHIO
OR GOPHERS STOP
MR. RED GRANGE?

Two of Teams Yet to Face Illinois Have 1,000 Per Cent Record

Football fans the country over are wondering whether any of the three teams yet to face Illinois will be able to stop Bob Zuppke's steam roller in its mad rush toward the Big Ten championship.

Two of the teams yet to face the Illinois machine are still 1,000 per cent teams and will fight desperately to retain their hold on the lead.

Chicago, the first of the undefeated teams, will clash with Illini in the Midway this week. Although Alonzo Stagg and his charges are acquainted with the prowess of "Red" Grange and his teammates, they are hopeful of a victory. One of the members of the Maroon team said that if the team was in as good condition and had the same fighting spirit as when they played Brown a few weeks ago that the Illini would not have a chance. Whether this is true or not will be brought to light by 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The Gophers, although hopelessly out of the title race, are determined to upset the Urbana outfit. However, critics give the Minnesota team no chance to turn back the Illinois onslaughts.

The other 1,000 per cent team to tangle cleats with the Illinois team is Ohio. This will be the last game of the season for the two teams and promises to be a battle royal as it looks as though both teams stand excellent chances of facing each other with no defeats to their credit and the outcome of this will determine the conference champion. It is also a tradition that the Buckeyes always play their best game against the Suckers. So far the Ohio gridders have been the surprise of the season. Little was expected of Jack Wilce's team this year, but in all their games so far they have displayed a strength that has been on a par with that of any team in the conference unless it be Illinois.

SENIORS, SOPHS PLAY
VOLLEY BALL GAME

The first games of the interclass volley ball tournament will take place between '25 vs. '28 and '26 vs. '27 at Camp Randall at 3:40 o'clock today. Competition is keen and as in hockey every effort will be made by the other classes to wrest the laurels from '25, last year's champions.

Clear Day With Zero Weather is
Doped For Game

If the weather predictions of Eric Miller, the university prophet, come true the fighting Irish and the vengeful Badgers will have a real football day tomorrow.

Through the entire season we have not had one real football day. The weather has either been too warm or it has rained. However the weather maker seems to realize that we need a cold, snappy day to put the old fight into the team.

The predictions say that it will be a cold, clear day and the thermometer will register close to zero. If this is the truth then the followers of the Cardinal team will see a real game, for with a new team, new plays, new pep, and a snappy day, the old team ought to stage a comeback.

SOPHS DOWN FROSH AT
HOCKEY IN HARD GAME

By the light of the newly installed spot lights at the hockey field the sophomores downed the freshmen 3-1 in the second of the series of interclass hockey games yesterday. The teams appeared evenly matched with the defense of the sophs having the edge on the offense of the frosh. As compared to the soph-senior scrimmage of Wednesday the playing was open and speedy. In the second team match between the seniors and juniors the seniors won 2-1.

PRIMED TO BEAT
VARSITY RESERVES

Class Numerals to Be Awarded to Winners of Race Today

When the interclass cross country run takes place at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon an interesting matter of supremacy will be settled. Whether the varsity reserves can beat the freshman team will be found out.

Ecklund, Lange, Roscoe, Robinson, McDowell, Romes, Rosenfels, Marshall, Dickinson and Elleson are the varsity reserves who will attempt to beat the freshmen while upholding their class honor.

Run 2.9 Mile Course.

The race will be over the university 2.9 mile course, the record for which was made last year in the interclass run by Clayton Cassidy, now varsity miler. The time was 15.44 for the 2.9 miles.

The freshmen took their final workout last night and are primed to defeat the varsity reserves. The race will start in front of the men's gymnasium. Numerals will be awarded to the winners of the race.

How Many Men on a Football Team?

Eleven? No! The squad and the coach? No! How many then?—Eleven plus 50,000!

You're on the Wisconsin football team. Every student and alumnus of the university—50,000 of you—is on the team. You're responsible when things go right, and you're responsible when things go wrong.

Every right-spirited man in the stands helps to win that game; every man who talks to another in the spirit of defeat helps to lose it.

You can't dodge your responsibility—you're on the team.

The morale of a football team is like a cork on a river: if the river is high, the cork is high; if the river is low, the cork is low.

Pour yourself into a river of right spirit, right thinking, courage which will put our team over.

The university can win even when the team loses. It doesn't make any final difference who wins on the field; it makes a lot of difference when the stands, and the school, is licked.

You're on the team!

Get your signals today at noon!

The vanguard from Notre Dame begins to arrive tonight. If these were votes Wisconsin would have gone for Davis.

Favorite indoor sport now is guessing on the prom queen.

The directories are out. More fun to look up your friends and their home town than to study.

START HOMECOMING DECORATIONS

The annual cleaning and sprucing up for Homecoming is due to commence about the beginning of next week. The university will don its gala colors, hide its grey academic aspect under a covering of varied decorations, and try to look its best for the return of the thousands of grads who will crowd the campus on Saturday.

This tradition is one of the oldest and most persistent which the university observes, and even during the period of the S. A. T. C., when almost all undergraduate activities were slighted or overlooked, Homecoming was celebrated with as much display as ever. The tradition is so well lived up to that perhaps it is unnecessary to make an advance comment on it, or to remind students to decorate their houses.

Yet every year there are a number of fraternities and sororities, in addition to most of the rooming houses where students live, that fail to do anything toward augmenting the festive air on the campus. And a large majority of those who do participate in the display do little more than hang up a few flags or red streamers. Either they figure that there is too much trouble involved in the task to make it worth while, or they feel that they do not have a chance to win one of the prizes offered for decorations by the Homecoming committee and therefore refuse to take part.

Whether or not the decorations are worth while can easily be decided by imagining what Homecoming would be like without them. There would be endless disappointment and criticism on the part of returning alumni, who expect a great deal of pageantry and color, and even the students would be unable to enter into the full spirit of the occasion without the stimulus that decorations can offer. And if they do so much to contribute to the Homecoming atmosphere, it stands to reason that it is the duty of all to contribute their share. The winning of a prize is really a secondary matter, although there is no reason why all houses do not have an equal chance in the contest.

The goal of this year's decorating should be originality. In years past the various business establishments in town as well as the fraternities have used the same schemes time and again. Certain stores on State street have shown pictures of old time athletes year after year, without even any variation in arrangement, and some of the banners and decorations on the various houses have had a suspiciously worn-out appearance. In a university community it would seem that new ideas would be plentiful if not in excess, but it has been particularly lacking around Homecoming time.

The reason for this has often been that nothing was done until the last minute. If everyone would start work this week-end, there is no reason why there can't be more decorations and more originality this year than ever before.

Y. M. Only "Get-together" Center on Campus—Gardner

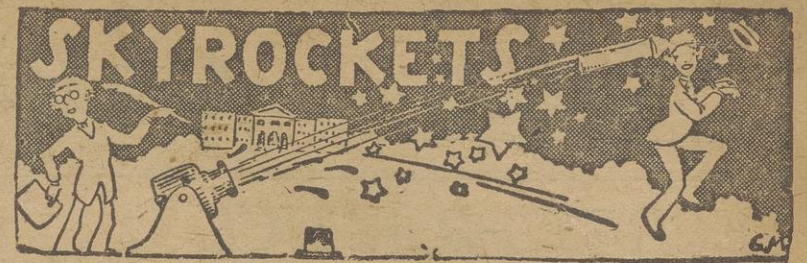

By E. A. GARDNER

The Memorial Union and the Y. M. C. A. have in common the purpose of raising Wisconsin life to higher levels. The Y. M. C. A. is here on the job now, and has been for many student generations; it has been and still is the only "get-together" center on the campus, as well as the chief service institution. When the Memorial Union is completed and is fully functioning, the Memorial Union and the Y. M. C. A. will join hands. There is plenty of field for both.

One great purpose of the Y. M. C. A. is to train leaders, to set ideals before them, and to fill them with a sense of responsibility. The Wisconsin of which we dream will come into being only through the development of the sense of responsibility in each student, and of the fullest degree of leadership of which he is capable. It will be the purpose of the union to bring all the students together, in their activities and their recreation, to give opportunity for the exercise of leadership, and to create in each man the feeling that he is responsible for the success of his university. Toward this goal the Y. M. C. A. has been earnestly working.

Ideals find their most genuine expression in personalities, and in C. V. Hibbard, the new secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Wisconsin has brought to her campus a personality who is certain to help her toward the realization of her ideals for student life. He is a leader whom Wisconsin men are going to be glad to swing into step behind. If we believe that we learn most from those who have enjoyed wide contact with men of affairs, who have had opportunity for close study of the qualities that bring men to high position, we shall be glad to associate with and to learn from Mr. Hibbard. He has come from duties that made him intimately acquainted with men of prominence throughout Europe and Asia, as well as in our own country. He is one of our own alumni, come back to work for Wisconsin; his independent analysis of what Wisconsin needs, made first as an alumnus living at a distance and later when he visited the campus, coincides with the program on which the union and the Cooperation committee are at work.

Anybody will follow a leader. A lot of people right now are revising their estimates of the Y. M. C. A., and are counting it a privilege to work with C. V. Hibbard.

OH, WAS HE A BETA?

After reading for a couple of days about the Republican landslide, with the election of President Coolidge, we think that the Phi Gammas do better in National politics than they do here on the campus. We can't understand the La Follette outcome, however, for if the Betas have as big chapters everywhere as they have here, they should be able to get the fathers of their brothers across.

The Reader's Say-So

AMAZING FIGURES

Editor, The Daily Cardinal:
Monday's line at the athletic ticket office furnishes material for an interesting study of wasted time and energy. Three thousand students each spent an average of three and a half hours of monotonous waiting in line to reach the holy of holies, namely, the one ticket window. Three thousand times three and a half hours means that 10,500 precious hours were wasted away. Classes were missed.

On the basis of 300 working days of eight hours each in the year, this represents four and one-third years of time needlessly thrown to the four winds. Four and one-third years of an average man's time, who has a salary of $2,500 yearly would amount to $10,833!

A college student's most valuable possession is time, and who will not concede that his time, in a broad sense, is actually worth more than that of a person employed at $2,500 yearly?

Ticket jams of the last few years have been the subject of much discussion. The climax seems to have been reached in the Chicago game ticket sale Monday. Why could we not have five ticket windows or booths to handle the rush, as Illinois has? There is more than one solution to the highly inefficient methods now employed at the athletic offices. The worst of it is that nothing is done to improve the service. Wisconsin students are entitled to more consideration from the athletic office, which, in fact,

GOODNIGHT SAYS WORK OF "Y" O. K.

Supply Opportunity For Non-Sectarian Religious Work, States Dean

"The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. fill a very general need in supplying an opportunity for religious worship and work at the university that is not strictly sectarian in character but which is open to all, regardless of race or creed," said Dean S. H. Goodnight, yesterday. "The university cooperates cordially with all religious endeavors alike and is pleased with the splendid progress of religious work upon its campus."

"It is a common conception that the state universities are godless institutions. I quite well remember how thoroughly that conception prevailed in the minds of the student group in a small denominational college with which I was well acquainted years ago," said Dean Goodnight.

"Twenty-five years of experience in a state university, however, have taught me that it is no more godless than any other place. Its character ideals are as high as those of any institution of learning. It is, however, inhibited by a clause in its constitution from teaching directly anything that is 'partisan in politics or sectarian in religion.'"

"It therefore quite properly leaves religious matters to other agencies. The religious needs of the student body are taken care of by a considerable number of volunteer organizations."

PHI KAPPA PHI TO BACK LECTURES

First of Series of Addresses
Will Be Given Monday Night

Significant lines of advance made within the past quarter century will be traced in a series of six monthly lectures by prominent members of the university faculty, Dr. W. G. Bleyer, director of the course in journalism, announced last night.

These lectures are being sponsored by the Wisconsin chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national honor society, and are open to the general public.

The first of the series will be given at 8 o'clock Monday evening at 165 Bascom hall when Dr. A. S. Loevenhart, professor of pharmacology and toxicology, will speak on "The Progress of Medicine."

The succeeding lectures will follow monthly. Prof. John R. Commons of the department of economics will lecture in December on "Progress in the Relations of Capital and Labor." In January Prof. M. F. Guyer of the biology department will treat of "Progress in Animal Biology." "Progress in Radio Communication" will be the subject of the February lecture by Prof. E. M. Terry, associate professor of physics.

Prof. J. H. Mathews, director of the course in chemistry, will discuss "Progress in Chemistry" in March. The final lecture in April will be given by Prof. F. A. Ogg of the political science department, who will speak on "Progress in Politics."

PRESBYTERIANS PLAN NEW MUSIC PROGRAM

The first monthly musical program to be given by the university Presbyterian church will be held at 11 o'clock next Sunday morning. The quartet of the Christ Presbyterian church composed of Paul H. McConnell, soprano, Mrs. L. I. Itlis, alto; W. L. Miller, tenor, and Whitford L. Huff, bass, and Charles Huffer, organist, will assist at the program.

Margaret Cass '23 will give a solo and the regular church choir led by Helen Urschel '25 will render a number of selections. There will also be a violin solo.

These musical programs will be held once a month by the university church assisted by the musical staff of the Christ Presbyterian church.

Wisconsin Men earn $50,000 through this "Y" service!

"EVERY one of the forty young men from Sparta who is attending the University is wholly or partially earning his own way," said Dr. Spencer Beebe, who spoke for the fathers at the recent banquet which filled the Gymnasium with 600 fathers of Wisconsin students.

"Some of these boys are sons of the most well-to-do families, but they are making self-reliant men of themselves by earning as well as spending while in college. This training is one of the finest things they are getting out of their University life."

"I should like to see facilities provided so that every student who has grit enough to work for part of his college expenses should have the opportunity—we'd turn out bigger men!"

STOP and think a minute of the men who are leaders; builders you get to know these men you'll find that most of them do all sorts of things, from minding children to of Wisconsin spirit. Is it fat checks from Dad that keep these men in school? In a few cases, yes; but if writing for a string of newspapers. They're more than "paying the freight;" they're developing resources and strength that bring them success on the campus, and will bring them larger success when they leave it.

Whether a job means the difference between staying in school and going home, or whether it's just a backbone stiffener, come in and talk it over with Miss Rosenberry at the "Y"!

Over 280 permanent jobs were found for Wisconsin men last year; besides 1,426 temporary ones. These jobs were worth $200 to $225 to the students. That would make over $50,000 in the pockets of Wisconsin men. That's where $450 of the $5,000 we are asking you for will go; pretty high returns on the investment, isn't it?

Radio Signal Sent Around Earth in Five Seconds Flat

NEW YORK — Around the world in exactly five seconds.

This is the latest answer of science to the imagination of Jules Verne, who startled the world some 50 years ago by his book, Around the World in 80 Days.

The new record was made Wednesday night in a radio "race around the world," over 40,000 miles, staged before thousands of spectators at the Third Annual National Radio exhibition.

At the drop of a flag at 8 p. m., two operators touched their keys at New York and two radio impulses were sent flashing in opposite directions. In great bounds, each thousands of miles in length, radio waves leaped into space eastward from a station at Tuckertown, N. J., and westward from Marion, Mass.

Lights Flash Progress

From Marion, on one wave length, the letter C was transmitted with six relays, while on another wave length, the letter S went eastward with five relays from Tuckerton.

In exactly five seconds, the letter S had gone around the world and was received again in New York. The other letter, with the additional human relay, arrived back in five and one-half seconds.

The dramatic race was followed by thousands who watched a huge world map hung in the exposition hall. As each signal was received and relayed from country to country, lights flashed from these points with blinding speed and almost before it began, the race was over.

ORGANIZATIONS, NOTICE

All lists of alumni and other guests who will be here for Homecoming must be turned in at this office by 4:30 o'clock Monday afternoon if they are to be included in the special Homecoming Daily Cardinal. All sororities and fraternities which are planning to entertain in honor of their guests should turn in a notice of the function at the same time they turn in the list of guests.

PRESBYTERIAN QUARTET
HOLDS FIRST MUSICAL

Next Sunday afternoon at the First Congregational church will be held the first of a series of occasional vesper services. Special music by the quartet and chorus of the First Church choir, under the direction of Professor E. B. Gordon, will be featured, and the minister, the Rev. R. W. Barstow, will give at each service a short vesper talk on "Radiations of Greatness." These brief addresses will be in the nature of studies in contemporary biography, the first one dealing with the late Dr. Lyman Abbott.

On December 14 the First Church choir will render the oratorio "The Messiah" at a special vesper service.

These musical vesper services will be held at 4:30 o'clock on occasional Sundays as announced, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt will be honored at a dinner next Wednesday evening to be given by the local chapter of Pi Beta Phi, of which she is a member from Iowa state college chapter.

The Wisconsin chapter is inviting Madison alumnae to attend the dinner, which follows Mrs. Catt's public address on Wednesday afternoon in the university armory. Mrs. Catt's appearance in Madison has been arranged by the Dane County League of Women Voters in cooperation with the university lecture committee.

Mrs. Catt will be in Madison again November 15, and will stay at the College club.

Dr. Wood, Dental
Surgeon, Dies; Had Stroke Recently

Dr. Kent T. Wood, well known Madison dental surgeon and for many years a resident of this city, died at his home at the Turville flower farm Wednesday night, after a long illness. He was 55 years old. He recently underwent an operation at the local hospital to save his life after a stroke had stricken him helpless.

Following the operation he was removed to his home and no hope was held out for his recovery for several days past. He had been ill for many months previous to the last attack.

Dr. Wood is survived by his widow. He was a son of the late Albert Wood who married Elizabeth Turville, one of the original Turville Point family.

Since Dr. Wood's illness, his practice has been cared for by Dr. E. J. Hart who has an office adjacent to those of Dr. Wood at 19 S. Pinckney st., second floor.

Funeral services are to take place at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, but the place has not yet been decided.

Dr. Wood was a member of the Dane County Dental association and the national association.

Dr. Woods was born at Lowell, Kansas, December 7, 1870. He studied for two years at Rush Medical college, after which he entered the Chicago Dental college, from which he graduated in 1893. Perfect underarm daintiness for at least three days

—with just one application of this dainty, harmless toilet water

More than 3,000,000 lovers of personal daintiness have come to know that soap and water alone cannot counteract the unpleasant moisture and odor of underarm perspiration. They now depend on Odorono for protection.

Twice a week is all you need to use it to keep your underarms dry and odorless under the most trying circumstances. It is so pleasant to use—just like a toilet water! Formulated by a physician, it is perfectly harmless; antiseptic, in fact.

If moisture does not bother you and you want a deodorant only, use Creme Odorono. It is a delightful cream, which, used when dressing, will protect you from odor all day or evening.

Perhaps you prefer to try these correctives before buying. If so, send for our sample set; mail coupon today.

BOB'S MARGIN IS 100,000 IN STATE

Governor Blaine Has Majority of 80,000 Over Lueck
Today

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Senator Robert M. La Follette had accumulated a lead of nearly 100,000 votes over President Coolidge when the final unofficial election tabulation was made.

Following closely on the heels of the senator, Gov. J. J. Blaine was leading Martin Lueck approximately 80,000, and the entire Republican state ticket was also elected by approximately the same figure.

A marked Republican victory was also scored in the state senate and assembly where the progressive candidates, with few exceptions were elected.

The representatives in congress from Wisconsin who were seeking election in each instance are all returned on the face of the unofficial counts.

The final unofficial tabulation on the vote for president and governor in the state showed the following:

2,301 out of 2,679 precincts give Coolidge 266,153; Davis 60,833; La Follette 368,304.

A total of 2,222 precincts out of 2,679 give Blaine 343,022; Lueck 266,596.

CHILD KILLED BY FALL FROM CAR

Tries to Save Doll and is Thrown From Running Board

The death of Alice Powers, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Powers, Madison route 7, who was killed at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the 700 block on University ave., when she was knocked from the running board of a car driven by her sister, Ethel, will not be formally investigated, authorities intimated Thursday.

Witnesses of the tragedy state that the accident occurred when the child opened the door of the car and stood on the running board to untangle the clothes of her doll which had become caught on the car.

As she leaned out from the machine, a horse-pulled American Express Co. delivery wagon which was drawn up to the curbing on the street, suddenly backed out into the street, the rear of the wagon brushing her off the auto and hurling her to the pavement.

Passing motorists picked up the unconscious girl and rushed her to the General hospital. She died on the way to that institution.

Detective Robert Putnam and Coroner Joseph Stephenson, who have been investigating the affair state that it was purely accidental and that blame cannot be placed on anyone.

The body will be taken by automobile Friday morning to Prairieburg, Ia., where funeral services will be held Saturday.

Lit Societies

Because of early adjournments in order to allow their members to attend the John S. Clarke lecture on last Friday night, the Hill literary societies will repeat several of the programs that were scheduled for last week.

Philomathia.

Philomathia's program consists of a debate on the proposition "Resolved, that the evolutionary theory be excluded from our university curriculum." The affirmative side of the question will be presented by Alfred Nichols '26. Joseph Blongren '28 will debate the negative.

A. A. Abrams will discuss the subject of light wines and beers. A talk on the compulsory ballot will be given by Allan Halline '28.

Plans for holding the sophomore semi-public debate tryouts will be discussed at the business meeting, according to Gernon Houghson '25, president of the organization.

Hesperia.

Clarence Darrow and his philosophy of non-resistance will be discussed by Edward Sobey '26 in Hesperia literary. "That the banking system of the United States should be so altered as to extend further credit to the farmer," will be debated by Clarence Schlaver '27, Richard Rynders L2, Edmund T. Hamlin '26, and A. L. Roberts. Other speakers are Arthur Nickel '26 and Landon Chapman '26.

Ag. Lit.

"Resolved, that the United States adopt a form of government modeled after the English system," is the subject for debate in the Agricultural Literary society. The affirmative will be upheld by Hugo Murray '25, and Jerald Burghardt '28, while Leslie Longsdorf '28 and John Anderson '25 will argue the negative side of the question.

Athenae.

The feature of Athenae's program is a talk on the criminal theories of Clarence Darrow, by William Blake '26. The debate of the evening will be on the proposition, "Resolved that the several states abolish capital punishment." This same proposition will be debated upon in the preliminary intercollegiate debate tryouts.

The contestants are Harold Leising L1, Lester Dangs '27, Robert Schwenger '27, and Gregg Young '25. Harry Kovenock '27 will give

Co-eds' Fur Coats Once Ate Doughnuts In Peaceful Zoo

Many a fair co-ed walking down State St. in a raccoon coat could never imagine the raccoons in her coat eating doughnuts, but that is what they do at the Vilas Park zoo. Besides doughnuts, the raccoons often find parker house rolls and oatmeal cookies in their feed bin. They seemed to like the doughnuts best as in just a short while they were all gone.

Annie, the elephant, always goes through her circus tricks before she is fed. Every time she accomplishes her stunt, the keeper awards her with a green apple. For dinner, Annie was fed green apples and carrots. She did not like the carrots so well as the apples, as she was very accurate in picking out that which she liked even though it was at the bottom of the pile.

FORECAST RAISE IN CITY VALUATION

Increase is Result of Re-assessment of City By Common Council

An increase of more than $23,000,000 in the assessed valuation of the city of Madison was forecast here today when figures were made public by County Assessor H. R. Briggs, showing an estimated valuation of $115,201,003 as compared with $91,234,887 in 1923.

What was still more important was the announcement by Mr. Briggs that this figure is ultra-conservative, and that the actual assessed valuation when it is made known by City Assessor John C. Stock, Jr., will likely be nearer $20,000,000 than $15,000,000.

The tremendous increase is a direct result of the re-valuation of the city ordered by the common council this year. Assessors employed by the city have been at work for months re-assessing property, both real and personal, throughout the city.

Assess Full Value

It has been the policy of Assessor Stock to record the true values of property as the assessed valuation. In other words, Madison property is assessed as its full value or market value.

There is only one other community in this county, which assesses at full value. That is the village of De Forest.

The re-valuation made this year was the first in this city in a period of ten years. During these years many inconsistencies crept into the assessment books of the city. Many properties were assessed too low; others were assessed too high.

Tax Rate to Be Lower

With the big increase in the assessed valuation, and the announcement that city budget and expenditures will be only slightly increased over last year, a lower tax rate for the city next year was predicted by city officials today.

This does not mean, however, that taxes themselves will be much decreased, for a proportionate increase in both assessment and tax lev will produce the same total of taxes.

Realty Is $94,360,000

The figures on the city of Madison were made public following a meeting on Wednesday of the personal property and real estate committees of the Dane county board of supervisors which was held in the offices of County Assessor Briggs.

These county committees must be informed of the assessed valuation of Madison, as well as the assessed valuations of all other cities, villages and townships in the county, in order to know how to apportion the state and county tax burdens proportionately.

The figures were obtained by Mr. Briggs from City Assessor Stock, and though they are not exact, they are reliable estimates.

The estimated assessed and true valuation of Madison real estate at the present time is $94,360,000, Mr. Briggs reported to the committee.

The estimated valuation of personal property is $20,841,003.

Public utilities in the city are valued at $3,946,813. Other items with the values are as follows: Horses, mules and asses numbered 321 with a value of $37,685, meat cattle numbered nine valued at $760. There were no sheep or swine in the city.

There are 274 wagons, carriages and sleighs in the city with total value of $16,095. Merchants and manufacturers stock is valued at $8,555,650; leaf tobacco at $200,000; steam and other vessels at $30,000; bank stock at $2,500,000.

The number of automobiles and

Sousa Directs Band in Concert

motor trucks in the city was placed at 66,000 with a valuation of $3,100,000, and average value of $469.70. Fifty motorcycles are listed in Madison valued at $50,000. All other personal property is valued at $2,400,000.

Personal property in 1923 was assessed at $14,647,871 with a true value of $15,880,065.

SENATE MAJORITY IS PROGRESSIVE

Returns Show Progressives With Working Majority in Next Assembly

A progressive assembly and a reactionary state senate, a condition that has usually prevailed in Wisconsin, may be somewhat reversed this year. The senate in the 1925 legislature will be overwhelmingly progressive while the assembly may be closer. On the basis of returns received today it is believed, however, that the progressives will have a working majority in the next assembly.

On a division as between reactionary and progressive measures the senate stands twenty-one who will vote for progressive measures and twelve against. The complexion of the next senate will be as follows: Progressives eighteen, Socialists three, Conservatives twelve.

The following senators are those who are counted upon to line up for progressive measures in the next session: Chase, England, Sauthoff, Keppel, Padway, Hunt, Barker, Cashman, Polakowski, Quick, Keap, Bilgrien, Garey, Johnson, Hawk, Severson, Barber, Staudenmayer, Casperson, Teasdale, and Schuman.

Those who will line up on the conservative side are Roethe, Hull, Morris, Daggett, Boldt, Smith, Lange, Gettelman and White.

It is expected that Senator Titus of Fond du Lac, will line up with the progressives on many measures although he was bitterly fought by Gov. Blaine.

"DANGEROUS MONEY"
AT THE MADISON

Featuring Bebe Daniels

By H. J. B.

An old but valuable farm, a sweet young lady who suddenly has an immense pile of money thrust upon her, an Italian nobleman husband—also thrust upon her—and a young lover with grown-up views of life—these are the interesting factors that combine in a love-plot to teach the lesson of "Dangerous Money."

Bebe loves Tom Moore from the very beginning. But when she is sent off to a fashionable finishing school by the heads of the trust company who are managing her affairs, she is sidetracked a bit. Fortune turns her head—her thoughts at least—and she is intrigued on her trip abroad into marrying an Italian count the fortune-hunter type. She is further disillusioned shortly after her vows are taken by being introduced to her six-year-old son.

A will that switches things turns up at the crucial hour. Her money isn't really hers at all, but actually belongs to Tom. (Fate winks!) She comes back to America to straighten things out; her husband steals her jewels to bribe a villain of a servant; she and her count are nearly smothered to death. As usual—her husband is conveniently killed off, she is rescued by Tom—temporarily and for all eternity. Nice ending three years later—family census counts up to four.

Mask and Wig

By CHATTY

We were hashing over old times the other day with Don Kastler, whose year of graduation may be put down as anything ranging between 1918 and 1923, (almost as bad as Roy French) and now editor of The Players Magazine (without an apostrophe before or after the s).

Don was giving us the cold dope on his publication and showed us a lot of the gloss prints he intends to turn into cuts for the first issue. One of them is of Freddie Bickel (March) '18 in his role in Tarnish, which will be accompanied by a news-feature story on the Wisconsin grad actor.

We understand, by the way, that Fred has signed a ten year contract with a creditable producer.

Bill Tannewitz's one-act play, "A Matter of Choice" will be one of the features of the first issue of The Players Magazine. There will be four issues each school year which may be had for $1.25, and Don announces that the first one will be out the first of next week, probably Nov. 10, and will be sold on the campus.

John Philip Sousa was in town yesterday. That great band-master, who reached his seventieth birthday here in Madison, is about as well known with the American public as President Coolidge, even now right after the national elections.

Sunday's Theater Program
Brings Good Entertainment

By H. E. R.

It will be a question next week as to which of the shows that one will have time to see. There will be good shows everywhere—at least we have heard nothing against any of them.

No one can combat the thought that most of us will journey to the Strand to see Harold Lloyd in "Hot Water," and for the benefit of the town populace, it will be held for the entire week. The main plot of the comedy centers around a new wife, a new mother-in-law, a live turkey, and a new car. We had a laugh out of the "stills," so what will the movie be?

J. Warren Kerrigan, the hero of way rapidly these days and Bill Purnell has some real plans afoot. Perhaps, if Bill puts out many more of these performances, he will be able to overcome the prejudice against having co-ed entertainers appear in the show. Anyway, we hope so, for some of the feminine theatrical talent in this university even surpasses that of the men.

The first laboratory play which the Wisconsin players have on their schedule for their bi-weekly meetings was put on last night in Lathrop concert room in first rate style. Don't forget that the public is invited to these performances and more than welcome.

"The Covered Wagon" will appear in person at the Parkway all of next week. The movie will be "The Arab," starring Ramon Navarro and Alice Terry. This picture is much the same in plot as was "The Sheik."

"The Silent Command," a melodrama of the navy, starring Edmund Lowe, Martha Mansfield and Lama Tell, will appear at the Madison the first part of the week. This is a tale of a naval officer who enacts the part of a secret service man in a plot which is "different." Should be good. The last half of the week will bring "Life's Greatest Game" to this show-house. In this picture Johnny Walker (no, no relation to the famous old character) is the star with Gertrude Olmstead and Tom Santschi assisting.

The "Orph" will NOT have another orchestra next week, but will offer the five Pantheon Singers and James Coughlin in "The Rest Cure" the first part of the week, and will then have for the second half as head-liners Wilfred Clarke and company in one comedy called "Now What," and Herbert Williams and company in a four-scene comedy called "Soup to Nuts."

The Majestic Players are preparing a mystery play that will make us sit up in our seats next week. "The 7th Guest" is due to make its initial appearance to the loyalists of the stock company regime. According to the "dope" of the better

Movie Snapshots

"The Red Lily" Featuring Ramon Navaro Presented at the Strand

Irony is magnified to an almost impossible degree in this story of the underworld of Paris in which a young man and woman become separated by a trick of fate and wander about in a way reminiscent of Evangeline and Basil in Longfellow's familiar tale. Eventually they are united again and everything ends happily enough, although the lovers are somewhat shopworn by the time they begin their "happily ever after." Enid Bennett and Wallace Beery are in the supporting cast.

"Dangerous Money" Featuring Bebe Daniels Presented at the Madison

Money, too much money—suddenly—IS dangerous. Bebe learns her lesson, after a series of impetuous scenes and circumstances, both domestic and foreign. Tom Moore is her lover-teacher. 'Snice picture all

Deep Sea Divers Find Flooded Mine Pumps

POTTSVILLE, Pa.—To salvage pumps lost in heavy floods in the mines, the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron
Co. brought two deep sea divers here who relocated the pumps and made broken connections.

Although the downfall of seven inches was the heaviest in forty years, the water is now almost conquered at all the Reading mines, and collieries are resuming every day. The divers used helmets containing oxygen, much of the same pattern as are used here by miners when they are fighting gas.

CAMPUS CANINES WILL FEATURE HOBO PARADE

fraternity. The long beard contest, which has been one of the parade features for several years, again will be included.

The newly organized pep band and the "Boys of '76," a fife and drum corps that met with success in the engineer's parade last spring, also will be in line.

Madison merchants cooperating with the parade committee are offering numerous prizes to winners of the hobo contests. Although the list of prizes offered has not been announced, it is certain to include many choice awards, Fabera declared.

WISCONSIN PLAYERS

GIVE ONE-ACT COMEDY

The Wisconsin Players presented a clever and amusing one act comedy in the Lathrop concert room last night, "The Man in the Bowler Hat," by A. A. Milne.

This was the first of a series of laboratory plays that are to be presented this year by the organization. The play was open to the public and there was a large attendance.

Under the direction of Hazel Weingandt '25, the play was presented in an amusing, as well as interesting way. The main characters in the play were Alfred Ludden, grad, who took the role of John; Bernice Klug '26, who took the part of Mary, wife of John; and Jack Harrington '25, who played the part of the villain.

NEW YORK — Ellen B. Davis, wife of John W. Davis, telegraphed Mrs. Calvin Coolidge today a message of congratulation on her husband's victory.

Mrs. Davis said: "Please let me congratulate you on your husband's victory."

SELECT TWENTY-TWO CASTALIA APPLICANTS

Twenty-two girls selected from 75 applicants will be initiated at the meeting of Castalia literary society tonight at 7 o'clock in the concert room of Lathrop hall. The

Be Warmly and Smartly Dressed--- Through and Through

Heavy Weight Union Suits

Made of wool or cotton and wool; warm, smooth-fitting, and comfortable. Elastic knit at wrists and ankles, thus a sure protection against chilling winds. Prices $2 to $5.

Flannel Shirts

In the heavier flannels you'll find a choice of colors in blue, grey and brown. In the light weight, the popular French flannel in white, provides warmth with good appearance. Prices $3 to $5.

Gloves

Fur-lined or fleece-lined gloves mean warm and comfortable hands. Also unlined gloves in dressed and undressed leathers for those who desire lighter protection. All expertly made of carefully selected materials. Prices $2 to $7.50.

Mufflers

These mufflers serve a double purpose of providing additional warmth to the wearer and a protection to shirt and collar. Made of all wool or flannel in a colorful variety of stripes, plaids and patterns. Prices $2 to $3.50.

Wool Socks

Soft, comfortable wool socks will afford warm protection to your feet whether you wear high or low shoes. You'll find every color and color combination imaginable in our large assortment. Prices $1 to $2.50.

Goloshes

For foot protection against cold or wet, nothing can beat a pair of goloshes. You'll be in style whether you wear 'em buckled or unbuckled, and your protected either way. Prices $3.00 to $4.50.

"Cold Weather Surely Coming"

Get Your Overcoat Today for Tomorrow's Game

The weatherman swears it 'll snow—we're ready for it!

Warmth, comfort, style — you'll cheer the team with more pep if you're snuggled warmly into a real overcoat, and if you know it has style tailored into every inch of it.

Big, brawny ulsters, fitting snugly at the shoulders with the bails hanging straight and loose, with wide, roomy pockets, made by Rosenwald & Weil from the very latest fabrics, are the last word in fashion's vocabulary.
