CHARLESCOLLINSDEAD

SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA AT PHI PSI HOUSE.

Sick But Twelve Days—An Excellent
Student—Popular Among Associates—Funeral Wednesday A. M.

Students were shocked this morning to hear of the death of Charles Graham Collins, '01, at the Phi Kappa Psi house after an illness of but ten days.

Death occurred at 1:15 this morning and was primarily due to pneumonia which followed an attack of the grip. A previous combination of troubles, the long illness and final death of his father and the discomforts and exposure caused by the recent fire at the fraternity house had taken away his strength and left him in no condition to resist the disease. However, until a few days ago there was no fear of fatal results. Then his mother was telegraphed for and after traveling eighteen hundred miles arrived at the bed-side just two hours before death came. With her at the death-bed were Mr. Watson of Milwaukee and Mr. Perry of Madison, uncles of the deceased.

Charles Graham Collins was born at "Collinswood" a plantation near Ponchatoula, La., on the 19th of Aug. 1878. The first three years of his schooling he received at home under private tutors. He then attended the primary school at West Bend, Wis., and later the district schools of Milwaukee. From there he went to the Harvard School, Chicago, where he was a student for three years. He returned to the West Bend High School and graduated in June '96. He entered the University in the fall of '96 at the age of seventeen. He was out one year between his sophomore and junior years. He would have graduated this year in the Civil Engineering course and had his thesis under Dean Johnson.

Mr. Collins was a very good student and an extremely good hearted fellow. He made friends very easily and was most popular among his fraternity brothers. Dean Johnson says of him: "He was a most excellent student." Professor Turneaure gives him the following tribute: "A very gentlemanly fellow, a very earnest student and above average ability. I had expected he would have very good success in his work after graduation." He was a charter member of the local chapter of Phi Kappa Psi and the presiding officer at the present time. He was a member of the finance and arrangement committees of last year's prom.

The funeral will be held Wednesday morning at 11:30 from the fraternity house.

Receptions to Engineers.

Dean Johnson and wife gave an informal reception to the junior and senior students of the College of Engineering last Saturday evening. It had been announced but the day before, however about twenty-five attended, and report an evening pleasantly spent.

Next Saturday evening will be devoted to the sophomores, and a week later the freshmen will be entertained. If these receptions prove to be a success, Dean Johnson intends to continue them.

PAULDING SATURDAY NIGHT.

Rare Opportunity for Students to Hear a Great Actor.

Mr. Frederick Paulding who is to read at Library Hall next Saturday evening under the auspices of the Oratorical Association has recently been brought to the attention of the public in a new light. He has produced a most successful play. Last week he appeared in the triple capacity of author, stage director and leading man in this play.

Mr. Paulding is in striking contrast to many of his profession being a deep student of literature and altogether a man of distinguished scholarly attainments.

This is his inheritance, being a grand nephew of Washington Irving on his father's side and of James Kirke Paulding on his mother's side.

Those who remember Mr. Paulding as Booth's leading man will appreciate the great privilege of hearing him in his readings Saturday night.

Professor Moulton's Address.

Prof. Moulton, of the University of Chicago, spoke at the Y. M. C. A. meeting yesterday afternoon before a large audience on a very interesting topic, that of the distinction between history and story. He illustrated himself in a masterly way from passages in the Bible. In brief he said:—History and story are both narrative. Story is imagined or matter of fact presented in an imaginative manner. History is necessarily matters of fact presented only upon a historical basis.

In a very pleasing and interesting manner he exemplified his statements by reciting or recalling various stories in the Bible showing the interesting personalities, the attractiveness and picturesqueness which serves as background in the general fibre of the Bible.

The Bible is a great literary product, a great collection of epics, sonnets, poems, and other literary products.

Certainly too high praise cannot be paid to a man of as great literary talent as Prof. Moulton and the Association is fortunate in hearing as excellent a speaker as he.

Short Course Alumni Reunion.

The program for the fifth annual reunion of the Short Course Alumni has just appeared. There will be four sessions in all—the first on Thursday afternoon, January 24, and morning, afternoon, and evening sessions on Friday. The first three meetings will be held on the fourth floor of the Capitol in the room formerly known as the Art Gallery; the last will be held on the floor above. The session on Thursday afternoon will be taken up with the election of officers and the transaction of business. Friday there will be some 24 addresses on agricultural subjects. All Short Course students will have a full holiday Friday so that they may attend all the meetings. The evening session will be a joint meeting of the Short Course Alumni and the Literary Society. There will be two addresses by members of the former but the entire remaining portion of the program will be taken up by the Short Course Literary Society. An interesting event will be their election of officers. Further particulars will be given later.

—The Gamma Phi sorority will present a trophy to the winning team in the inter-fraternity relay race, one of the events of the indoor athletic meet Jan. 26.

MANY MEN TRAINING

FOR INDOOR ATHLETIC MEET, JANUARY 26.

Relay Races to be Features—Dairy vs.
Short Course Students—Academy
vs. High School.

The men who are to compose Wisconsin's track team next spring are taking regular and systematic work in the ball cage at the big gymnasium every afternoon under the personal direction of Coach Kilpatrick.

Of course the work varies according to the event the candidate wishes to enter, the men trying for the quarter-mile run being given from four to six laps about the outer circuit of the handball courts, while the two-milers are making from thirty to forty turns around the room. The purpose of this indoor work is to give the men some idea of knee action, and to break them of faults which every beginner is sure to have. The style of some men's running has to be changed entirely in order to permit them to attain any speed whatever on the track. As an instance a great many beginners have the fault of shoulder-dipping, that is raising and lowering first one shoulder and then the other while running. This is a great handicap to speed, and must be overcome both by long and short distance runners if they expect to make the team in the spring. Another fault is in the knee action, a suppleness of knee and hip joints must be sought for by the candidates, though this is not so easily overcome as the shoulder-dip.

There are probably more than fifty men receiving attention from the coach, of this fifty about thirty are doing work with the definite object of attaining a position on the team, the others are taking the work merely as systematic exercise.

Indoor Meet.

The indoor meet that was postponed from Jan. 19 has been set for Jan. 26. The relay races are to be the particular feature of the evening, an inter-fraternity race having been arranged in which Delta U, Sigma Chi, Beta Theta Pi, Phi Rho Beta, Psi U, Kappa Sigma, Delta Tau, Phi Psi, Phi Delta Theta and Theta Delta Chi have entered teams.

The race is to be run by four men in a team, three laps to the man. It will be necessary to run the race in heats, and each team will have to select a captain who will draw for position. The contest promises to be close, as the teams entered so far are well matched, and the winning team will deserve the trophy offered.

Another feature will be a relay race between the Wisconsin Academy and the Madison High School. An effort is also being made to get the various classes to enter teams, but if this cannot be brought about between all the classes, a freshman and sophomore contest will be arranged which will be as much a contest of lung power as of speed and muscle.

Another feature of the meet will be a relay race between the members of the Dairy School and the Short Course students. It is said that a great amount of interest prevails among the latter, about two hundred being in active training in the "gym" for the event.

—Frank J. Petura, '04, is confined to his room with the mumps.

NOT SMALL-POX.

Sickness at Psi U House Not That Disease.

A rumor was early afloat this morning that another case of small-pox had broken out in the University section, this time at the Psi U fraternity house, 620 State Street. The rumor originated with the sickness of Mr. Power Conway, at that house. Dr. Sheldon, who attended the sick man was not able to make a complete diagnosis of the case last evening on account of the slow development of the symptoms. On account of the recent cases of small-pox, Dr. Sheldon, simply as a precaution, advised the members of the fraternity to keep away from the sick man until complete diagnosis of the case could be made.

The members of the fraternity communicated with Acting-President Birge this morning for instructions. He advised them to remain away from recitations until further developments of the case would justify him in his actions. At two o'clock this afternoon, when interviewed by a Cardinal representative, Dr. Sheldon stated definitely that a complete diagnosis of the case had been made and that the Cardinal could state that it is not small-pox.

MANDOLIN CONCERT, JAN. 22.

Senor Tomaso to Assist Anderson Orchestra.

A concert, which bids fair to surpass any similar entertainment here recently, will be given in Library Hall, Tuesday evening, Jan. 22, by the Anderson Mandolin and Harp orchestra, under the auspices of the School of Music.

This orchestra is under the direction of Mr. Hjalmar O. Anderson of the School of Music. It consists of twenty-five members and will be strengthened on the night of the concert by the addition of several of the best mandolin artists from Milwaukee and Chicago. The program will be entirely new. The music which has just been received by Mr. Anderson from Italy, was written by the best mandolin composers and arrangers in the world.

The soloist of the evening will be Senor Salvatore Tomaso of Chicago. Senor Tomaso is without doubt the most celebrated mandolin player in the United States. It is said of him that he has done more for the advancement of the mandolin as a musical instrument than any other man. He was for many years head of the mandolin department of the Chicago Musical College, and director of the celebrated Chicago Mandolin Club, and is well known to Madison people as the leader of various mandolin organizations.

The program has not been entirely made out as yet but will be announced later. Those who have signed the guarantee list can procure reserved seats at Pickart's Book store.

The concert will undoubtedly be an excellent one, and the addition of Senor Tomaso and several specialists from Milwaukee will assuredly make it a pleasant event and one worthy of a large audience.

—The Classical club met last Saturday evening at the home of Miss Katherine Allen, 228 Langdon St. The elegaic poetry of Tibullus was under consideration, Dr. Showerman conducting the meeting. A very interesting and instructive evening was passed in the critical study of the so-called odes of the ancient Latin poet.

A Sad Occurrence.

The Cardinal wishes to voice the sentiment of the student body in offering to the family and fraternity associates of the late Charles G. Collins the most heartfelt sympathy and condolence. His many friends in the engineering department and throughout the University generally will feel the loss keenly.

Hazing at West Point.

The congressional committee which has been investigating hazing at West Point, is receiving some very startling information. The methods used by other colleges of our country as regards hazing are extremely lady-like and gentle as compared to the methods in vogue at West Point. Humorous hazings are used simply as introductions and prologues to more serious actions. That a certain judicious amount of hazing may be necessary for certain bullies and "smarties" at West Point, no one denies; but when one and all have to be subject to barbarous and cruel treatment at the hands of those whom we are led to believe are our model young men, it is time to interfere.

The recent hazings have smirched the reputation of the Military Academy, and it is to be hoped that the Congressional Committee will heartily condemn the hazings prevalent there and do away with the unmanly procedure, one for all.

Courtesy to the Badger-Board.

Every year, the same old objection is made that the Badger appears altogether too late in the spring. For events during the months of April and May the different members of the Board are worried by the original question "Say, when is the Badger coming out?" And finally when it does appear, everybody says, "Well, it is about time."

The Badger Board is generally not to blame for this delay in the appearance of the book. The fault lies with the Seniors, who out of pure thoughtlessness postpone handing in their photographs and summaries. There is no valid reason why the Badger should not appear as early as April. The different Boards are as a rule enterprising and diligent. All that is lacking is a prompt, ready response by the Seniors. It is to be hoped that the regular delay will not be experienced this year and that the "Badger will be out" at the appropriate time.

Faculty Receptions.

The action of Dean Johnson in opening his house to the students of his department is certainly to be commended. By such receptions as these are established friendly and social relations between professors and students which are most wholesome.

Definitions.

It is sometimes complained that University students are compelled to learn too many "cut and dried" definitions and receive correspondingly meagre training in the real essence of a study. To a certain extent this charge is true one. While the discipline gained from the exactness of a clerical set of definitions is most valuable, it is sometimes to be regretted that so much stress is placed upon this phase of training. For often the student learns them as a jumble of syllables, to be swallowed whole, and never get any real concept of the idea conveyed. A wide knowledge of a set of subjects should be the final aim of a University course and one needs to beware of a spirit that revels in hair-splitting distinctions and scholastic definitions. True education and the culture that springs from it is a deeper and broader thing.

Local and Personal.

—Robert Coe, '02, spent Sunday at his home in Whitewater.

—Secretary Phelps attended yesterday the funeral of Horace W. Rose in Beloit.

—L. C. Underwood of Avoca, Short Course, '00, was a visitor at the agricultural college today.

—Athenae's seniors were photographed Sunday. This picture will be Athenae's cut in the Badger.

—Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota agricultural colleges are entitled to $25,000 each from the government.

—Mr. Setto, father of Edwin Setto, a Short Course student, returned to his home in Juneau this morning, after a short visit.

—The current issue of "The Independent" contains an article on "Highways of Mental Growth" by Professor M. V. O'Shea.

—Prof. Paul S. Reinsch goes to Necedah next Friday where he will commence a course of lectures on "World Politics."

—Professor Sharp lectured at the Art Exhibit last Saturday. He chose for his subject "Michael Angelo" and contrasted him with Rembrandt.

—Superintendent McKerrow of the University farm will deliver an address on sheep before the Farmers' Institute to be held at Blue Mounds.

—A. K. Wheeler, who was quarantined at Kappa Sigma house, has returned from a week's vacation and will soon resume his studies in the Law school.

—Phi Delta Theta gave an informal dancing party at Kehl's hall Saturday evening. The affair was chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. George Keenan and Professor and Mrs. J. C. Monaghan.

—Hon. Willard Merrill will address the class in "Insurance" on Tuesday, Jan. 15, at 5 p. m., Law Building, second floor. Subject: "The Management of an Insurance Business." All are invited.

—Charles Hageman, '98, was in the city over Sunday. Mr. Hageman is located in Cleveland, Ohio, where he is interested in the patent-right and manufacture of a hatch-fastener for vessels.

—The 13th edition of the transactions of Wisconsin Academy of Science Letters and Art will not appear until the last of the month although it is now in press. The delay is caused by some difficulty which has arisen in securing plates. A review of the transactions will occur later in the columns of the Cardinal.

—Two of the closers of the "blow-out" debates in Athenae have submitted questions to the other two closers. The questions are upon the adoption in Wisconsin of a system of initiative and referendum; and the enactment by the U. S. of a shipping subsidy bill.
