More Than 250 High School
Editors to Attend Convention Here—Program is Announced

The first of the 250 high school delegates to the second annual convention of the Central Interscholastic Press association on Friday and Saturday will arrive in Madison this morning, prepared to absorb all that Wisconsin has to offer in the way of welcome, entertainment, and help in journalism.

The majority of the delegates will get here tomorrow in time for the opening of the two day program of entertainment provided by Wisconsin journalistic societies under the direction of Charles P. MacInnis '22, and George W. Greene '22, directors.

The committees in charge of the convention are elated over the fact

Hold Final Tryouts For Vodvil Tonight

Final tryouts for Union Vodvil will be held tonight at 7 o'clock in Lathrop. From the acts picked in the preliminary tryouts, seven or eight will be selected to appear in the performance on December 9 and 10.

All who are taking part are urged to be on time and to have their acts in the best shape possible for a speedy carrying out of the program. The judges will be Mrs. Flora Filzer Hertzler, "Bill" Purnell '22, "Dick" Tyrrell '22, and Ralph Scheinpflug '23.

After the final program has been decided, each group will be put in charge of a competent coach furnished by the production staff. By following this plan the acts will be in good shape for the opening show.

"Hold Me" Proves Most Popular Song As Whole "U" Skids

Slip—skid—boom—bang. Sounds like a melodrama, but it's not. Just a result of the uncomfortable sliding tracks along Madison's streets yesterday.

"Hold me," one co-ed was heard to say. "I've a hunch I'm going to fa—bang—all."

It's too bad agents for non-skids weren't on the job yesterday. They would no doubt have reported to headquarters a record breaking demand for their line of goods.

"Isn't this terr—ible. I just stepped off the porch and—woop—I fell all the way down those horrid—skid—steps."

HELEN RAMSEY TO ADDRESS LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS

Helen Ramsey '20, S. G. A. secretary, will speak at the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Collegiate League of Women Voters to be held in the S. G. A. room at Lathrop hall at 4:45 Monday afternoon. Her topic will be: "Opportunities of Collegiate League of Women Voters to Serve S. G. A." All university women interested in becoming members of the league are invited to come.

"The committee on revision of the constitution will report at the Monday meeting, and it is especially imperative that all active members be present," said Sonya Forthal, president of Collegiate League of Women Voters, yesterday.

On the third Tuesday of the month, the league will hold a special open meeting in Lathrop parlors. The speaker will be some one eminent in the fields in which the Collegiate league is especially interested.

Mrs. W. G. Bleyer spoke at the October meeting and the student massmeetings for disarmament carried on under auspices of the league were substituted for the November meeting.

Hold Tryouts For Prom Play Friday

Tryouts for "Old Lady 31," the Pre-Prom play, will be held Friday, Nov. 25, from 2:30 to 6 p. m., in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall. The judges will be Gertrude E. Johnson, professor of public speaking; Henry Rubel '23, Miriam Doan '22, and Marjorie Boesch '23.

All students not on probation are eligible to try out, and the committee urges that a large number be present.

Prof. Gordon to Speak at Vespers

Professor Gordon will be the chief speaker at the Y. W. C. A. Vespers Sunday afternoon. He has a message for every university girl, according to the committee in charge.

The meeting will be held at 4:30 in Lathrop parlors. All girls of the school are invited to attend. There will be special music.

Senate Postpones Election of Court

The election of the student court was postponed at a meeting of the Student Senate last night. Nominations for the court have been made by the deans of the various colleges and referred to a Senate committee. The members of the court will be chosen at the next meeting of the Senate, when the qualifications of the nominees have been determined.

BELOIT PREPARES FOR STATE MEET DEC. 1, 2 AND 3

Delegates From Campus Publications Will Attend Third

W. I. P. A. Convention

Representatives from all campus publications will be sent to the third annual convention of the Wisconsin Intercollegiate Press association at Beloit on December 1, 2, and 3.

Much of the credit for the organization of this association with the annual convention and journalistic contest goes to Lawrence W. Murphy '21. The idea, being a new one, is still in a stage of development, but the convention this year promises to be one of the greatest of its kind, which has ever been held by any association of college publications.

The delegates from university publications are as follows:

Literary Magazine, Willard J. Rendall '22; Badger, Horace E. Powell '23; Octopus, Rodney Welsh '22; Fred Brewer '22, and Phil Larson '22. The delegate from The Daily Cardinal has not as yet been selected.

Professors W. G. Bleyer, G. M. Hyde, and E. M. Johnson, of the Course in Journalism, will probably attend the Saturday session. George Greene '22 is executive secretary of the association.

Judging of the publications will be by men from outside the state. This is a new feature of the contest and one which promises more interest and fairness on the part of the judges. Among the men asked to judge are J. W. Gunliffe, of Columbia university; F. L. Martin, of the Missouri School of Journalism, and G. C. Bastian, of Northwestern university.

Beloit college is preparing an interesting program for the conference. Men from prominent newspapers throughout the country have been asked to speak, among whom will probably be Walter Strong, business manager of The Chicago Daily News. Two whole days will be devoted to speeches and inspection tours of the Beloit Daily News and of several factories.

Friday evening the Beloit players will present "The Importance of Being Ernest," by Oscar Wilde. A discussion of college publications from the editorial and managerial point of view will be held Saturday morning. The final business meeting will be held Saturday afternoon at which time officers and the place for the next convention will be selected.

The convention will end with a banquet Saturday night. President George Dundoon, of Beloit, will act as toastmaster. The principal speaker of the banquet has not been announced.

LIVESTOCK EXPO HELD AT CHICAGO ON NOVEMBER 26

An attractive exhibit of sheep and horses selected from the university herds will be entered in the International Livestock exposition when it opens at Chicago on Saturday, Nov. 26.

Prof. Frank Kleinheinz is in charge of fitting and showing the sheep. All of the prominent breeds, Shropshire, Hampshire, Cheviot, and Rambouillet, will be represented in the sheep classes.

Professor Kleinheinz has won prizes every year, except one, since the first show. In addition to showing the animals he will judge the fat lamb and breeding classes of Southdown and Cheviot sheep.

Five horses have also been entered in the fat stock show by the animal husbandry department. The entries include two Percherons, two Clydesdales, and one Belgian.

TWO ENGLISH ATHLETES ARE VISITORS HERE

Women Members of Honor
Hockey Team Tell Experiences to Co-eds at W. A. A. Banquet

An enthusiastic group of girls greeted Miss Gaskell and Miss Armfield, the two members of the All-England hockey team who came for a short visit to the university, at the W. A. A. banquet in Lathrop parlors last night.

Mary Roach '22, president of the Woman's Athletic association, presided as toastmistress. Miss Grilling, of the physical education department, gave the welcome to the English guests, and Miss Wesson introduced the speakers.

Miss Gaskell Speaks

Miss Gaskell, captain of the team which won over the hockey teams of Philadelphia and Eastern colleges, spoke on the organization of hockey in England. To students in this country where hockey is played only during high school and college years, the organization of this sport on a national basis is especially interesting.

Four divisions are made by clubs, country, territorial, and national games. A player first joins her club at home, and as she continues to play and gains experience she has the opportunity of being chosen for country and territorial teams, and finally for the national squad which meets teams from Scotland and Ireland annually. The hockey association holds annual meetings to promote the game on a national basis.

English Stress Techniques
Miss Armfield talked about the technique of the game. American hockey enthusiasts can take lessons from their English cousins for stress on technical points and fine details.

When the English team returns to America again, Wisconsin hopes to meet them for the first international contest between Englishwomen and a Middle West university.

This morning at 10 o'clock Miss Gaskell and Miss Armfield will be at the men's gymnasium annex to instruct all girls interested in hockey in the fundamentals of the English game.

Purnell Appears in Haresfoot Follies

Appearing in a monologue act, William H. Purnell '22 will complete the program planned for the Haresfoot Follies dance on Saturday night, Dec. 3, at Lathrop gym and concert room. Purnell played in the two most recent Haresfoot productions, and in addition, he appeared in a recent Red Domino play.

Other numbers on the program include an act featuring "Hub" Townsend '23, and Wells Carberry '22, in a song and dance skit. George Bartlett '22, and Mord Bogie '23, appear in a musical duologue. Willard Sumner and Cecil Brodt are in direction of the musical numbers.

Tickets for the Follies are priced at $2.00, including war tax, and may be secured early next week from Morgan's and the University pharmacy. Group reservations may be made by calling Carl Bronson, B. 975.

6,000 Books a Month
Used by 'U' Students

Although no records are kept of the circulation of the library books, it is estimated that between 5,000 and 6,000 books are taken out each month. This does not include the rare books and the books which are used only in the library.

Between 700 and 1,000 books are used each day in the library, while about four times as many books are drawn out the day before a holiday.
Approximately 600 books were drawn out the last hour that the library was open on November 10.

More books of English literature are drawn out than any other kind, but probably more books of English history and of economics are used in the library. Since the deposit card became compulsory several years ago, the circulation has increased about 300 per cent.

AT THE GRAND

"The Sign on the Door," starring Norma Talmadge, has met with such success at the Grand, where it opened Sunday, that the management has decided to hold it over for today, although it was originally booked for but four days.

Supporting Miss Talmadge in the picture are Charles Richman, Lew Cody, Helen Weir, and other well known players. The picture, which was directed by Herbert Brenon, is a screen version of Channing Pollock's successful stage melo-drama.

Miss Talmadge is seen in the role of a pretty stenographer whose marriage to a man of wealth and excellent character, is followed by a tragic chain of events which culminate in an unexpectedly happy climax.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

NEW ADDITION TO STADIUM IS PLANNED

Athletic Council Hears Final Report on Chicago Game

A report on the sale of football tickets for the Chicago game and a definite plan regarding the next addition to Camp Randall stadium were the chief matters brought before the Athletic council at a meeting held in Athletic Director Jones' office yesterday noon.

Thirty thousand dollars were appropriated from the council funds to build a new concrete stand to replace the present east side wooden one, and $5,000 was appropriated for a decorative iron and brick fence to encircle all of Camp Randall.

Work to Commence Soon
The lower section of the new stand will be divided into locker, shower, and store rooms for the use of the various teams. The fence will be built of iron gratings, interspersed at frequent intervals by brick posts. The prevalent feeling was that the addition of the fence will add much to the appearance of Camp Randall. Work on both projects will commence as early as possible in the spring.

Coach Jones made his final report on the ticket sale conducted for the Chicago game.

"This year I ordered more than twice the number of tickets sold for the Chicago game last year," he said, "or, more than the total number of tickets sold for the last three games played in Chicago. In 1917 there were 1,083 tickets sold through our athletic department, in 1919, 1,348, and in 1920, 3,200. These figures include the tickets sold to students, town-people, alumni, and a block of 500 which was sent to Milwaukee."

Ordered 10,000 Tickets
"I ordered 2,000 seats this year in addition to the entire east side of Stagg field—totaling 10,000 tickets. Of the 6,802 tickets sent direct to our athletic department, 1,000 were sent to Milwaukee alumni, and 2,700 were distributed by mail orders to the following: Out-of-the-state alumni, 350; Chicago alumni, 470; alumni within the state, 1,260.

The team, "W" men, athletic council, regents, and coaches received 500 tickets, and the remaining 2,602 were sold at the public sales conducted on Tuesday and Wednesday.

Was Liberal Estimate
"The number of tickets ordered was a very liberal estimate of the demand at the Madison office. When it is considered that the University of Wisconsin has to pay for all the tickets that are ordered, regardless of whether or not they are sold, it may be seen that care must be exercised so as not to overestimate the number of tickets which will be required."

"The University of Chicago was late in sending the tickets, as 1,000 of them did not arrive until noon on Tuesday. I went to Chicago in person as soon as a shortage became apparent, and managed to secure 1,152 more seats which were put up in front of the boxes, and all of which were reserved for Wisconsin people. These seats were sold in Madison on Thursday."

"I am very sorry that there were not as many tickets available as were desired by the students, and I think that, when it is realized that we did everything in our power to obtain seats, they will not be unjust in their condemnation of us as they have been thus far. Next year I will arrange to have the entire sale of tickets for the Chicago game conducted through mail orders. In this manner, I hope that all trouble in seating our rooters will be avoided."

Stone gathering in the past was an athletic event. Lucas of Medford, Mass., gathered eight stones, two yards apart, in 31 seconds.

TURKEY DAY CARD INSURES SEVERAL CLOSE STRUGGLES

Notre Dame-Michigan Aggies Clash Holds Attention of Mid-West Fans

Many Turkey day football games will be played today. The majority of them are annual affairs which are played against deadly rivals, which insure some of the hardest fought battles of the year.

One of the most interesting games of the West will be the clash between Notre Dame and the Michigan Aggies. The Aggies were particularly anxious to have this game on their schedule and, since the entire eleven is in better shape than it has been at any time this fall, it may be that the Hooziers will encounter more opposition than is expected.

Coach Rockne, however, has one of the best elevens in the country. The only game that they lost was the one against the championship Iowa team. Since this defeat, victories have been won over the strongest teams, including the Army. Last Saturday they took Marquette into camp 21 to 7. Negotiations are now afoot to arrange a game between Notre Dame and Centre, victory over Harvard.

The Case-Western Reserve game is also attracting considerable attention in the Middle West today. Case triumphed over Oberlin college, which, in turn, defeated Ohio State. Only one defeat kept the former team from tieing for the Big Ten championship. While Western Reserve has been beaten this year, it is sure to make one of the best stands of the season today.

Pittsburg meets the undefeated Penn State aggregation this afternoon. This is one of the bitter annual fights, and a first class exhibition is a certainty. The State seems to have the edge in the advantage dope, but its opponents have a faculty of playing way over their heads in this game.

The "Praying Colonels" play Georgetown college in what promises to be an easy win for the Kentuckians, who have won the admiration of fans all through the country by their spectacular play this fall.

The chief gridiron battle within this state today is the clash between Marquette and Wabash. The locals received their first beating in years last Saturday from Notre Dame, and they are out to avenge the stain. The men all came out of the game last week in good condition with the exception of Cronin, who will not be able to play with Marquette again.

Another interesting battle will be that between the Oshkosh and Stevens Point normal schools. The Pointers have not shown themselves to be exceptionally strong this season, but the deadly rivalry between the two insures a hard struggle.

The Lawrence college team won the Little Five championship for the last time. The Lawrentians played a good brand of ball all year. The team was composed of 11 fighters who never knew when they were licked. In the game against Ripon, which was played for the championship, they fought on in the face of certain defeat and won in the last seconds of play.

Lawrence has won the Little Five championship far more times than has any other member of the association. This fact made the competition a little less interesting for the other contenders. The Lewrentians were included when the new conference, consisting of the larger colleges in Wisconsin, Illinois, and Minnesota, was formed.

Golf is rapidly becoming America's most popular outdoor sport.

Cinder Path in Gym Annex is Being Repaired

With the announcement of the Wisconsin indoor track squad schedule, workmen are busy repairing the cinder path in the gymnasium annex. Changes are being made in banking the turns, and when the work is completed, candidates for the Varsity team will begin their practice spins.

Wisconsin is one of the few institutions in the country which has an indoor cinder track. Dartmouth and Illinois are the only other schools which boast of a track equal to the one here.

A tentative track schedule, as announced by Coach Thomas E. Jones, follows:

Northwestern or Iowa, at Madison, on February 18.

Illinois relays, at Urbana, on February 25.

Notre Dame, at South Bend, on March 11.

Conference meet, at Evanston, on March 18.

These four meets will provide plenty of competition for the Wisconsin track team. If Coach Bresnahan's Iowa team comes to Madison, instead of Northwestern, it will be the first time in years that a Hawkeye squad has matched with the Badgers in a dual meet.

The schedule for the outdoor track season will include Chicago, Minnesota, Illinois, Drake relays, Penn relays, and the conference meet. This card will not be drawn up until a meeting of representatives of Big Ten schools at Chicago on December 3.

Frosh-Soph Meet On Dec. 3 Opens '21 Indoor Track

The 1921 indoor track season will open on December 3 with a meet between the freshmen and the sophomores in the gym annex.

The freshmen have many star cinder and field men entered, and the second year men will have their hands full in taking care of them. Hilberts, who won the mile in the outdoor meet held at Camp Randall in October, and who placed well in several of the intra-mural cross country events, will ably defend the yearlings in the distance event. Thiessenhusen, a cross country man, who annexed firsts in both the inter-college and inter-class meets this fall, will be eligible for the two-mile run. The first year men are well represented in the other events as well.

The make up of the sophomore squad is uncertain, as yet, but the '24 men will give the frosh a stiff fight for honors in the opening meet. Several good distance men who have been running with the harriers, such as Sommer, Herrman, and Chase, will furnish strong competition in the middle and distance runs.

The annual inter-fraternity carnival will be held this season at 7 p.m., on December 10, in the annex. The meet will include all the regular track and field events as well as a relay for which three cups will be awarded as prizes. The individual winners in the meet will be given ribbons.

Letters have been sent to all the chapter presidents, and it is hoped that all the Greek letter organizations on the campus will enter teams. It is expected that the meet this season will surpass even the excellent showing of the event last year.

An entrance fee of $5.00 will be charged to each entering team, and all applications should be turned in at the gym by December 5.

The indoor track, which has been in poor condition since the Exposition last spring, is being put into excellent shape for the winter season. The track will be regraded, filled in, and rolled, and the old hard center floor will be filled in with a layer of fresh earth. With these improvements, the annex will have one of the best indoor tracks in the conference.

"Steve" Farrell is the University of Michigan track coach. He is a grand old man of athletics, having been interested in college sports for years.

BIG TEN GRID ELEVENS LOSE MANY PLAYERS

Six Badger Regulars Go; Line is Hardest Hit

Although Wisconsin will lose six regulars, who have completed their three years of conference competition, other teams in the Mid-Western circuit will suffer as severely as the Badgers because of the number of men who graduate.

Capt. Guy Sundt, Brader, Bunge, Elliott, Gould, and Woods form a sextet which would be a valuable asset to any team in the country, and Coach John R. Richards will have a big job to fill the holes left. Other players have worked with the Varsity during the past season, however, and have successfully passed the tests of preliminary games. The Badger line will be hardest hit. Brader, Bunge, and Woods are stars of the first water.

Chicago is another team which will have many new faces in the lineup next year. Capt. "Chuck" McGuire, "Death" Halladay, Crisler, Cole, Hurlbut, Hermes, and Redmon are some of the best Maroons who have played their last game on Stagg field.

McGuire is a candidate for many honorary elevens. His steady playing in the Princeton and Wisconsin games has brought him to the eye of critics, most of whom are unanimously in favor of placing him on an All-Conference first team. "Bobby" Cole was put in the shadow by the remarkable showing of Romney, Salt Lake City flash. Cole plays either left half or quarterback.

Iowa, 1921 Big Ten champions, will probably face the heaviest loss of star players. Capt. Aubrey Devine, Glen Devine, Belding, and Slater are a quartet who would gladden the heart of many coaches. Devine is almost a sure-fire choice for All-American quarterback. He is a punter, field goal kicker, good ball-carrier, and handled his team in adept fashion.

Big Slater, the ducky linesman, finished four years of conference competition. The bulky tackle has been responsible for much of Lockes success in line plunging. If Slater had not opened up the enormous holes in opponents' forward walls, Locke would undoubtedly have been held on frequent occasions. Belding is an experienced end, and Glen Devine, although eclipsed by his younger brother, is a hard, driving back.

Ohio State will be hit by the passing of the great "Truck" Meyers. Meyers is one of the best ends in the conference. He caught the pass that won a championship for Ohio last year, and his work this year has been of the same high standard. Huffman, Pixley, and Taylor are three other Wilcemen who have sung their "swan song" on the gridiron.

Michigan will lose Vick, center, Steketee, who failed to come up to expectations during the past season, Capt. Dunn, Johns, and Usher. Lesser lights on the Wolverine eleven have also completed their series of battles on the gridiron.

Northwestern loses "Fighting Jack" Hathaway, "Buddy" Turner, and G. Penfield.

Minnesota will be hard-hit by the passing of Capt. Teberg, "Trig" Johnson, and Arnold Oss. Oss was useless in his last year, but he will be back to coach the new men next season. Coach Zuppke, of Illinois, will miss Capt. Laurie Walquist, Sabo, Crangle, and the once-great "Chuck" Carney.

Other weaker conference teams will be forced to hobble along without the services of many stars who have finished their football careers.

Dan O'Leary is over 60 years old, and he still continues to walk the heads off younger men. He has challenged Meade Burke to a walking race, both men to go backwards. Meade will be at home.

THANKSGIVING

THANKSGIVING comes timely this year. The world was growing cynical. Business, men said, was on the toboggan. Peace was an illusory dream. Deep laid plots for the renewal of bloody war were being whispered in every court in Europe. All in all, civilization was in a bad way.

This pessimism was reflected on the campus. The university was not what it used to be. The old spirit was gone.

Then comes Thanksgiving with its summons to look about and give thanks for our blessings. And there are blessings to be thankful for. The conference at Washington has revived hopes of permanent improvement in the international situation. The proposals so far are worthy of commendation and for this we are thankful.

On the campus we witness the splendid success of the Memorial Union campaign which insures a greater Wisconsin and marks a renewal of devotion on the part of students and alumni.

Let us give thanks!

JUNIOR EDITORS COMING

THE University of Wisconsin will be host to the editors of high school publications throughout the Central West Friday and Saturday of this week. The university is fortunate to be able to welcome the delegates. They deserve a large share of our hospitality. Housing the delegates will be one of the chief difficulties and all students who can help accommodate any of the delegates are asked to speak up.

It is an encouraging sign that the high school editors are getting together to consider their common problems. It means that higher standards will be developed. High school publications are now coming out of the experimental stage and it is time to consider permanent stands. The high school editors are looking to the universities for guidance. With the great number of publications now issuing from colleges and with the increasing number of men and women studying journalism this leadership should not be lacking.

It must not be forgotten that raising the level of a high school publication will result in raising the level of college journals also. For this reason the university should welcome the opportunity of receiving the delegates.

ABOUT THE LIT

THE LIT is having difficulties.

There was a decided slump in the circulation this month. The staff is discouraged at the prospects.

The thing that precipitated the present trouble was the first issue of the magazine this year. The staff felt that the so-called "high brow stuff" was not getting across with the students. It was thought a good policy to liven up the Lit and make it snappy. It was snappy, all right; but it certainly did not get by with the about face.

Righteous indignation flared up from a body of readers that previously had regarded the Lit with innocuous passivity.

The Lit is a tradition at Wisconsin. At intervals in the past it has been one of the best traditions of the university. It has been recognized as being in the forefront of collegiate literary magazines. Sometimes the Lit has been in bad repute. It bore an unsavory name for a while during the war—harping on a pseudo-liberalism when some "intellectuals" thought it a mark of advanced thinking to sneer at patriotism.

But the Lit survived and prospered.

It must continue to survive and prosper. To let it die of inanition would be a pitiful commentary on the intellectual poverty of the university.

One example of this apparent intellectual poverty is the stupid interpretation which some students gave to the Skyrocket review of the Lit yesterday morning. The review was actually taken seriously by many students who saw in it the confirmation of all their misgivings about the Lit. Of course the review was intended to be humorous (perhaps it should have borne the "joke" label).

Lest this discussion be misinterpreted, let it be said that much good can come of the recent criticism of the Lit. Many students discovered that they have literary taste. Many of them began to think about college literary magazines and what standards should be maintained. Now, why should these critics not try their hand at writing stories, verse, and essays of the type that should appear in the ideal college magazine? This, we believe, is what the Lit staff is seeking.

Try it out. The experiment can do no harm and ought to do a world of good.

Out of the whole tangle cannot a way be found to put the Lit on a higher plane than ever before?

A PLEA FOR DAD

He may wear a last year's straw hat, his finger nails may need manicuring; his vest may hang a little loose and his pants may bag at the knees; his face may show signs of a second day's growth and the tin dinner bucket he carries may be full of dents and doughnuts; but don't call him "the old man." He's your father.

For years and years he has been rustling around to get things together. Never once has he failed to do the right thing by you. He thinks his son the greatest boy on earth, even though the son plasters his hair back, wears smart clothes, smokes cigarettes and fails to bring home a cent. He is the man who won the love and life partnership of the greatest woman on earth—your mother.

He is "some man" and not "the old man." If you win as good a wife as he did you will have to go some.—Wisconsin Apprentice.

177 ARE NOW STUDYING CHEMICAL ENGINEERING

In all 177 men are specializing in the chemical engineering course of the College of Engineering this semester. The number includes 34 seniors, 60 juniors, 45 sophomores and 38 freshmen, according to Prof. O. L. Kowalek, head of the department. Seven graduate students, nearly double the number enrolled last year at this time, are working on various problems connected with chemical engineering.

LIT SOCIETIES MEET FRIDAY

Hesperia Debates To-morrow Night on Kansas Court

Following last week's adjournment because of the lecture by Witter Bynner, all the literary societies are planning longer programs for Friday evening. The presidents of the organizations feel that the added time for preparation will produce exceptionally fine programs.

"Resolved, That Industrial Courts Similar to the Kansas System Should be Adopted by Wisconsin" will be debated by Hesperia Literary society in 451 Bascom hall.

Following the debate, Philip Voltz will give a talk on "Why the Railroad Strike of October 30 Failed," and Leroy Honeycomb will speak on "What the Disarmament Conference at Washington has Already Accomplished." Following the regular program there will be election of officers for the second quarter.

Philomathia will meet in 220 Bascom hall on Friday. The main feature of the evening will be a debate on the French railroad system. Charles Rawson will also give a humorous sketch.

Debating and short talks will comprise the program at Athena. Athena is one of the contenders in the joint debate this year, and a considerable portion of the meetings are taken up with this contest.

All of the societies extend invitations to all the male members of the university who are interested in forensics.

COMING TO THE ORPHEUM

Blossom Seeley, exponent of jazz in its most syncopated form, is coming to the Orpheum theater next week with her latest version of "Miss Syncopation." This 1921 edition of the Seeley act is about two years hence in its ideas. Everything in it's far in advance of anything that has been given before by this clever artist and her associates.

Miss Seeley, picturesque in her marvelous wardrobe and entertaining always in her numbers, is introducing some of the best songs she ever has had. There is a different costume for each number and she is fairly out-Seeleying Seeley this year. The idea for the act was conceived by her and is also of her own staging. Cliff Hess wrote the words and music and Miss Seeley selected her own company.

Kiddies Do Share to Make Thursday a Thanksgiving Day For Madison's Needy

Madison School Children Answer Call of Public Welfare Body by Bringing Everything From Poultry to Pickles to Schoolhouse for Distribution

Trudging up the steps of any of the Madison public schools last week, guarding carefully the precious bag or bundle, was the good hearted school youngster answering the call of the Public Welfare Association for wood to fill the basements of the poor of the city.

These good will offerings range from the chicken, all cleaned and picked for the fire, to single carrots and potatoes brought in wrinkled bag as the tiny donation of some poor tot not to be outdone in spirit by the proud possessor of the above bird. One such bag contained a penny that will be entered in proper form on the books of the charitable society for future use. Another bag held to macaroon cookies which is lined up next to the box of some good cook whose children brought a collection of home made jells and preserves.

The barracks next to the high school were offered to the committee women by the vocational school board as headquarters. Here the food and baskets are brought by trucks from the school houses and prepared here as a central distributing center. The baskets are routed by Mrs. George Levis according to sections and streets so that speedy and certain delivery may be facilitated.

The interior of the barracks is a veritable wholesale grocery house. Lined on one side of the structure are potatoes in bags, baskets, cans, barrels and every other known receptacle. The vegetables are piled in heaps of canned corn, tomatoes, peas, beans and carrots. The jells and preserves contain all the varieties of the housewife's art.

No holiday is complete without the spicy condiments to spur the jaded four o'clock appetite of a satisfied youngster. Catsup, spices pickled onions and pickled other products will help to fill the hungry void so seldom filled unless outside help is given to replenish the generally barren sideboard. The finale of this "grand and glorious" feeling will come in the pie cooked in the morning by his mother from materials of pumpkin, mince meat and apples.

About 60 families will be provided with baskets which are distributed to all wards in Madison and outlying suburban territory including South Madison and some farming communities.

Parent Teachers associations had charge of the collection of food in the schools from which it was collected by trucks furnished by Madison business men and brought to the barracks and carried to the homes by city trucks. The following business houses furnished trucks and drivers whenever needed: Union Transfer and Storage Co., Gisholt Machine Co., Ed. Reynolds, Conklin Sons, Co., Fauerbach Brewing Co., American Ice Cream Co., Kennedy Dairy Co., Wiedenbeck Doeblin Co., 3 F Laundry Co., Frautschi Furniture Co., Universal Grocery Co., Kluter Wholesale Grocery Co., Olds Seed Co., and F. M. Crowley. Rueben Neckerman is chairman of the transportation committee.

The committee of the Public Welfare Association in charge of the work is: Mrs. Wm. McNamee, Mrs. Louis Reber, Mrs. Geo. M. Levis, Mrs. E. J. Hart, Mrs. Fred Wilcox and Mrs. W. A. Kittle.

What food that was donated in excess of the present needs will be stored for daily use in the future.

Many Parties Planned.

Despite the warm, rainy weather that envelopes the city in a gloomy gray mist, Madison is today assuming the festive spirit that goes with the usual observance of Thanksgiving, and holiday dinners, parties, concerts and other activities are planned in every quarter of the town.

Mr. Gobbler, festive bird, who in years gone by, was wont to grace the Thanksgiving board of nearly every Madison household, is this year being sold for from 55 to 60 cents a pound, a contingency that will probably eliminate his appearance from many tables. He is plentiful in the markets, but along with him are displayed tempting geese, ducks and chicken, with prices much more attractive. Trimmings for the bird are somewhat lower than they were last year at this time, as are the rest of the items that go with a real Thanksgiving dinner.

To Hold Special Services.

Special church services are being held in many churches and a union service is to be held at the First Congregational church at 10:30, Rev. J. Sherman Wallace preaching.

The postoffice will be closed for the day, with the regular holiday collection and delivery of perishable matter. The county courthouse city hall, capitol and federal offices will also be closed for the day.

The following service will be held at Luther Memorial church. Organ prelude, processional, Gloria Patri, Collect, hymn, Praise be to the Lord Almighty; reading, solo by Eleanor Wooster; hymn, O, Worship the King; sermon by Rev. A. J. Soldan, offertory and recessional.

Recover $442,439 On Unreported Tax Returns

During the past three years the state tax commission through field and office audits have uncovered over $14,000,000 of unreported income, which has netted the state an additional $1,500,000 in tax, the commission reports.

This year's audits which have not yet been completed show a return of $4,949,434 of unreported income, which will bring a return of $442,439 in taxes.

Gov. Blaine in asking for a transfer of $40,000 from the educational bonus fund to the tax commission to pay for additional investigators believes that many millions of dollars further in taxes will be collected on back incomes.

Prisoners Barricade Selves in Irish Jail

GALWAY, Ireland.—Forty political prisoners confined in the prison here rushed the warders today while a fire of uncertain origin was blazing in two sections of the structure. The men seized the keys and barricaded themselves with six warders in another part of the prison.

The fire was brought under control but later a desperate struggle occurred between the rebellious prisoners and their custodians in which five policemen and five prisoners were injured.

Marine Mail Guard Fires On Two Men

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Private Wasserman, U. S. Marine corps, guarding Baltimore and Ohio mail train No. 9, from Washington to Pittsburgh early today, near Washington Junction, Md., discovered two men at the door of a mail car. He fired on them with his shotgun. One man dropped off the train and the other swung off on the hand rail of the car. He later was captured and brought to jail here.

TALK LAND FORCES

Briand Expected to Add Last Word to Discussion On Land Armaments

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Expectation that negotiations will be attempted looking to an agreement between the U. S. and Japanese for the limitations of future construction of fortifications in the Pacific was expressed in some delegations.

Such negotiations, it was said, might easily be undertaken as a phase of the larger question of naval armament. The basis most frequently suggested was that the two countries would agree not to strengthen existing fortifications in the Philippines, Guam, Formosa, the Loo Choo islands and possibly Hawaii and Bonin, where American and Japanese naval bases already have been established, and to refrain from undertaking new defensive development for a stated period.

Land armaments was again given a place on the arms conference program today for discussion at a meeting of the armament committee of the whole prior to the gathering of the full conference to resume its committee discussions of questions relating to China.

Premier Briand of France, whose imminent departure is understood to have prompted the call for the meeting, was expected to add a last word as to his country's attitude on the question of reduction of armies.

Mr. Briand it is known would be pleased to return to France with a formal conference endorsement of the position he has taken against material reduction. That there would be at least many general expressions of appreciation of the reasons for that position was taken for granted.

With the first action of the conference looking to specific application of the general principles adopted with relation to China taken in the appointment of a sub-committee of representatives of the nine nations to study the whole question of administrative autonomy for that country the Far Eastern committee of the whole was expected to develop further today its course of procedure on Chinese questions.

The progress made in regarding the far Eastern situation including the appointment of this committee which will give attention to the tariff and tax restrictions imposed on China by the powers, was regarded in official quarters today as highly encouraging although it is recognized that some of the most troublesome questions have not yet been taken up.

WASHINGTON—The delegations of the five powers discussed land armament today but no definite declaration of policy resulted from their deliberations.

None of the powers, it was understood, presented any proposal looking toward a concrete pronouncement supporting the French attitude toward army reduction as outlined to the full conference in plenary session Monday by Premier Briand.

Premier Briand, attending his last meeting of the armament group before his departure for France, made a brief presentation of the exact position of his government.

The debate led the delegates into a consideration of specific problems of land armaments and it was decided to appoint sub-committees to deal with such subjects as airplanes, poisonous gases, and other auxiliary means of warfare.

The Keeley-Neckerman Store

KEELEY STORE IS SOLD TO A CHICAGO MAN

Harry S. Manchester is Purchaser of Business;
Negotiate for Months

WITH MARSHALL FIELD CO Deal Does Not Include The Building And Real Estate;
Gets Long Lease

Negotiations that have been in progress for several months ended late yesterday in the announcement of the sale of the Keeley-Neckerman Co. store in this city to Harry S. Manchester of Chicago.

Mr. Manchester took possession of the store yesterday.

This deal, one of the largest and most important that has taken place in Madison in years, is the culmination of months of negotiations by Mr. Manchester to acquire control of the local merchandising concern.

It is said that nearly $400,
000 was involved in the deal.

The deal does not include the building or the real estate. It is understood that Mr. Manchester has acquired a long time lease of the building and real estate.

It is also understood that Mr.
Manchester has an agreement with the Keeley interests whereby they will build an addition to the present building when Mr. Manchester feels that the business will call for an addition.

On assuming control of the store today Mr. Manchester announced that V. S. Bond, well known to Madison people, has become associated with Mr.
Manchester as secretary and treasurer of the company. Mr.
Bond was formerly manager of the Woolworth store here and recently has been connected with the Northwestern Mutual

V. S. BOND
Secretary and Treasurer

Insurance Co. here. Mr. Bond assumed his new duties today.

George K. Anderson who has been the manager of the store
as the representative of Mrs.
Keeley will remain with Mr.
Manchester until about the middle of January in order to help
Mr. Manchester familiarize himself with the business. Mr.
Anderson then expects to go with his family to California.

For a number of years Mr.
Manchester has been identified with Marshall Field and Co. in Chicago. He has been a director and an important stockholder in the Field concern. He will dispose of his interests in Marshall Field and Co. in assuming control of the local store.

It is understood that Mr.
Manchester will retain the firm
name of Keeley-Neckerman Co. in conducting the store.

Mr. Manchester is one of the best known merchandising men in the ready to wear line in Chicago. He was born in Kewaunee, Ills., and when a young man entered the employ of Lay and Lyman in Kewaunee. Later he went to the O. T. Johnson Co. at Galesburg, Ills. His work at Galesburg won the attraction of the elder Marshall Field and he accepted an offer to enter the retail department of Marshall Field and Co.

In 1911 Mr. Manchester was placed in charge of the organization of the wholesale department of five ready to wear departments of Marshall Field and Co. As head of this department, Mr. Manchester came into contact with manufacturers in all parts of the world. He made monthly trips to New York and a number of trips to Europe.

Urge Return of Drama to The Churches

Prof. Kent Says it Will Solve Sunday Problem of Young

Bishop Reginald Weller of Fond du Lac, and Prof. Charles Foster Kent, professor of Biblical literature at Harvard university were the speakers at the last public meeting of the Wisconsin Religious Education assembly at Wesley Memorial Hall Tuesday night.

Prof. Kent, in his address, The Dramatic Interpretation of the Bible, urged the return of the drama to the church for purposes of education and entertainment.

"The drama of today," said Prof. Kent, "came not from ancient Greece but from the church. Drama should go back to its old home and become a part of our church life. The way to teach boys and girls is to let them teach themselves by acting, and the stories of the Bible are full of dramatic talent. The question of Sunday evening entertainment for our young folks would be solved."

Bishop Weller talked briefly about the true character of religion. He asserted that true Christian religion is positive, not negative, and compared the unchanging position of religion during the past centuries with the often changing principles of science."

The following resolution was presented by the Committee on Organization and adopted:

We recommend that there be established a Religious Education Association of Wisconsin; the foundation of four commissions—a weekday Religious School commission, a College Religious Education commission, a University Religious Education commission, and a Normal School Religious Education and Training commission. Upon a motion from the assembly, Pres. Silas Evans of Ripon college was appointed to head a committee for extending religious education and training throughout the colleges and universities of the state.

The Committee on Organization follows: Pres. M. A. Brannon, Beloit college; Prof. E. E. Emme, Lawrence college; Pres. Silas Evans, Ripon college; Dean F. Louise Nardin, University of Wisconsin; Rev. S. M. Cleveland, Episcopal student chaplain, Madison.

Dean F. Louise Nardin spoke yesterday afternoon. Prof. A. B. Hall presided at the afternoon session. Miss Nardin's subject was The Need for Religious Education of College Students.

"I feel that there was never a place in the day's routine in college for definite study of religion; although the lack is not important, still we need something more systematic," said Dean Nardin.

Prof. T. Gavin, of the Nashota

House, also spoke on the need for religious education.

Dr. Henry F. Cope, secretary of the Religious Education association, Chicago, had for his subject, What Shall be Taught? Dr. Cope stated that there is one thing that has to be done, and that is, "We must so develop in the minds of the children their own motives in religious abilities so they will make a religious world in the future. The social part of college life interrupts the religious phase, and since society is so important to college students, the only thing to do is to use religion in social ways, which was explained by Dr. Cope.

How Religious Education is Met at Other Universities, was the subject for the lectures given by Rev. John Mitchell Page and Rev. J. C. Baker from the University of Illinois.

Discussion on giving credit in college and university followed the lectures. President Samuel Plantz, of Lawrence college, talked on Responsibility and Promotion.

Recommend Street Car Bill to Council

A suggested ordinance by Hugh Montgomery of the Madison Street Railways Co., was recommended for passage by the ordinance committee Tuesday night, and will be acted on by the council Friday night. The ordinance provides that a street car in motion on a double track shall stop with its front end even with the rear end of a car which is stopped and receiving or discharging passengers, and shall not start again until the car not in motion shall have started.

The company believes that this will eliminate the blocking of traffic at intersections. Heretofore the car in motion has been compelled to stop 20 feet back of the car which was receiving or discharging passengers.

Anti-Medical Beer

Bill Signed by Harding

WASHINGTON — The anti-medical beer bill was signed today by Pres. Harding. The act of the president brings to an end the short-lived revival of beer which followed the putting in force of a ruling by former Atty. Gen. Palmer.

The bill signed today in addition to outlawing medical beer provides that not more than one-fourth gallon of vinous liquors, or vinous or spirituous liquors separately or in the aggregate containing more than one-half pint of alcohol may be prescribed in 10 days that physicians shall be limited to 100 prescriptions for such liquor in 90 days unless extraordinary reason is presented; and private residences may not be searched without a search warrant.

250 Scouts Banquet at M. E. Church

Troops and Boys Honored for Service; Program Given

More than 250 Madison Boy Scouts attended the second annual Boy Scout banquet Tuesday evening at the First M. E. church. Louis Hirsig acted as toastmaster. Among those who participated were R. A. Overholzer, the drum and bugle corps led by L. H. Kessler, and L. L. Iltes.

While the boys were enjoying chicken stew and pumpkin pie Mr. Hirsig announced that three troops had the honor of a 100 per cent attendance and each was entitled to a cake. After the meal Hickey and Hicks, scout nightingales, sang "Ma" and "Tucky Home," and troop No. 4 warbled "Dunbeck." A blind boxing match brought a roar of laughter from all.

Scout Executive Overholser presented a first aid cabinet to troop 19, which had submitted the winning essay on "First Aid" that had been written by Scout W. Regal.

Mr. C. F. Collyer, owner of the Collyer Drug Co., rose to express his appreciation to troop 14 for helping him win a silver cup, for the best window display. He gave the troop a flag and each member a first aid kit.

"Chef" Brown, the Scout cook, sang negro songs and played his guitar. A blue star for 25 hours of community service was presented by Dr. James C. Elsom to the following scouts: Richard Kornhouser, L. Sharp, John Davies, Harold Chichester, Winfred Regal, Orville Braley, Curtiss Wilson, Elmer Ellsworth, Reuben Meadowcraft, Merton Weber, Fred Dettloff, Delbert Jones and Amos Wayts. Scouts of Madison have put in 1,100 hours and more than 46 days in civic service. Howard Beaver gave an interesting talk of his experiences in the near and far East.

Log Cabins and Bungalows

The cunningest redwood bungalow with real chimneys n'everything and a surprise for everyone inside. No, not furniture—Sh-h-h: they're filled with our own delicious home-made candies. You'll want to buy her one or send one away surely.

Bunnies and Ducks

The cutest, squattiest realest bunny rabbits you ever did see, with ears that wiggle and an honest-to-goodness furry tail. In redwood, too, but, my dear, the insides are so much nicer than those of real bunnies, for they are chocolates and bon bons.

15,000 Letters Are Distributed Daily
By "U" Postoffice

Fifteen thousand letters a day is the students' quota of mail, according to Superintendent Copp, of the university branch post office. "This station acts merely as a distributing center, and has but little importance as a receiving station," said Mr. Copp.

In addition to the 15,000 letters daily for students, the branch post office distributes approximately 1,800 letters daily to the university personnel. University mail is bundled at the main post office but is distributed by a carrier from the university branch. Monday is a heavy day for the university carrier, for on that day he averages 8,200 letters.

The branch post office also distributes approximately 200 parcels a day, 80 per cent of which are laundry cases. The combined weight of all outgoing mail, exclusive of parcels, averages from 1,000 to 1,200 pounds per day.

Home Ec Students
Celebrate Dec. 1

Ellen H. Richard's day will be celebrated here December 1 by home economics students.

The mass meeting planned for this day will give the girls an opportunity to appreciate the work of Ellen H. Richards, who was the first person to take a scientific standpoint on home economics.

Mrs. Nellie Kedzie Jones, state leader of home economics extension work, and popularly known to readers of farm magazines as "Aunt Nellie," will talk on the development of home economics. Stunts will also be given by home ec girls from each of the classes.

Ethel Metz '23 is in charge of the program.

AT THE ORPHEUM

The holiday vaudeville which opens with a special matinee today at 3 o'clock, brings to the Orpheum stage such well known acts as La Bernicia and company, America's famous terpsichorean artist in her latest offering, supported by Sonia Maren, Edyth May, Virginia Marshall, Ethel Bixby and Herbert Allwood in a dancing act of charm and beauty. Joe Shriner and Billy Fitzsimmons, in a comedy diversion entitled "The Newsdealer," should prove popular, and Josephine Worth and company will present the dramatic playlet "The Little Shepherd of Bargain Row." Love in the Southland, a song romance, will be the offering of Le Roy and Mabel Hartt, while Kennedy and Davies will present "Fun in One." Al Jerome, known as the "Silent Fool," completes the bill, together with Pathe News and Aesop's Fables.

Octy Offers Outlet
For Medic's Humor

Medics, in addition to their regular study of bones, are spending so much time in the well-known tickling of funny bones, evidenced by the volume of material turned in to Octy, that an Octopus contribution box has been made available to them.

A little white box with the red letters "Octopus" now graces the entrance of Science hall in order that the Medic cracks may not be wasted.

wearing the ribbons and insignia of the C. I. P. A. Students from all schools and colleges are being especially invited to attend the luncheon in Lathrop hall at 12:45 on Saturday to become acquainted with the high school editors.

Two hundred and twenty-five high schools in all parts of the country are entering publications in the contests which will determine what schools have the best newspapers, magazines, cartoons, and cover designs. The judges of the publications are Prof. Willard G. Bleyer, Prof. G. M. Hyde, and Prof. E. M. Johnson. Art judges are W. H. Varnum, Henry Rubel '23, and Hubert Townsend '23.

The winners in the contests will be broadcasted over the country by radio station 9XM, of the department of physics, after the judges make their decisions. Individual score sheets will be sent to each school so that it may profit by the judges' criticisms.

The interest of the prep schools in the convention is displayed by
