SCOREBOARD TO INDICATE UNION DRIVE RESULTS

Geographic Districts to Compete in Raising Funds

A large scoreboard measuring five by eight feet, containing the names of 72 counties, 43 states, and 12 foreign countries and the number of new students from each district will be placed in front of the Memorial Union headquarters today in order to score the totals from each district after the mass-meeting at 3:30 o'clock on Monday afternoon, according to Gordon Wanzer '24, chairman of campus publicity for the Memorial Union.

After the mass-meeting the subscription will be scored according to localities. The board will be changed three or four times a day. "We want the scoreboard to arouse enthusiasm and local competition and make each locality proud to be the one that has come across 100 per cent," Wanzer said last night. "The totals will be put on as quickly as we can tabulate them after the meeting, for we want this thing to start off with lots of pep."

Fresh Committee Meets

The freshmen pep committee had a luncheon at the University club yesterday noon. Complete plans were made to get subcommittees working.

A committee of upper class transfers will meet at 12:15 o'clock today, according to Wanzer who is chairman of the pep committees.

Committees are wearing red and white badges designating them as pep committee members and are willing to offer any information desired to new students.

Prof. E. N. Gardner of the English and business administration departments outlined plans for the new student mass-meeting which will be held in the gymnasium and annex at 3:30 Monday afternoon.

Conduct Drive to Send Band to Minnesota

That the First Regimental band will accompany the football team to Minnesota next Saturday virtually was assured last night by Gus Tuckerman '23, Varsity cheerleader, who is conducting a personal drive for the necessary funds.

Letters were mailed by Tuckerman to approximately 60 fraternities and sororities, asking each organization for a subscription of $10. He expects to obtain additional donations from Madison business men.

Subscriptions from the Greek Letter group are being received in every mail. There still are a number of organizations to be heard from however," Tuckerman asserted last night.

Oregon University Band Has Novel New Uniforms

New uniforms to be worn by members of the band at the University of Oregon will consist of navy blue v-necked sweaters, white shirts, black bow ties, white duck trousers and rooster caps.

BADGER EDITORS GET 550 SENIOR ACTIVITY LISTS

Lyman Urges Organization to Hurry Pictures and Summaries

Approximately 550 senior summaries have been received up to date for the Badger senior section. Post cards will be sent out Monday to members of the class who have not as yet turned in their lists.

Organizations are urged by Howard Lyman '25, business manager of the Badger, to send in their pictures, summaries, and money as soon as possible. The deadline has been set for November 15.

The latest reports concerning the Badger subscription list indicate that it is still far below standard.

"Our subscription list is short of what it should be to warrant the issue of this year's Badger according to accustomed standards. However, we have such faith in the policy of the school that we will proceed with our present plans, fully expecting that the required additional orders will be forthcoming," Gamber Tegmeyer, managing editor, said.

Less Than Half of Men Visited in "Y" Campaign

Frederick E. Wolf, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., announces last night that although all territory for the drive canvassers has been assigned considerably less than half of the men students have been interviewed.

According to the plans of Finance Campaign committee every man in the institution must be visited before the end of the present week. The Y. M. C. A. has requested that all canvassers complete and turn in their reports in full by Saturday evening.

The office is open at all times and is receiving reports continually.

FINISH PLANS FOR ELECTIONS

Student Senate Committee Issues Bulletin Today

Final arrangements for the annual elections November 3 have been completed by the student senate elections committee and the election bulletin will be available today, according to Maynard Brown '23, chairman of the committee.

The rules which applied to the elections last year are still applicable. Members of the football and track teams who will be out of the city next Friday will be allowed to vote by proxy. It will be impossible to let bandmen and students who are going to Minneapolis to witness the game enjoy this privilege.

Members of the two teams, however, may authorize students to vote in their stead. Two duplicate statements must be made out by a teamman: one given to his proxy and the other turned over to the elections committee. Unless the committee has a duplicate statement authorizing a man to vote by proxy he will be disqualified. All persons voting by proxy should do so at 12:45 Friday afternoon in the Biology building irrespective of what college they belong to.

S. G. A. Members In Charge

Members of S. G. A. under the direction of Katherine O'Shea '24, will be stationed in the voting booths throughout the day. The double check system will be used in casting the ballots. The voter's name will be checked in the directory before and after casting a ballot. The voter will not place his own ballot in the box but will hand it to the girl in charge of the poll who will herself deposit it in the box.

The 32-page election bulletin containing the data on all candidates for office will be issued on the campus today. Copies may be secured in the registrar's office in Bascom hall, in Dean Goodnight's office, the Engineering building and Agriculture hall.

MEN'S LITS HOLD SOPH TRYOUTS FOR SEMI-PUBLIC

Tryouts for positions on the sophomore semi-public debate teams were held by men's literary societies at Friday's meetings. Philomathia and Athena held final Friday as the definite date.

The decision was in favor of the negative team, composed of H. A. Craneheld '25, E. F. Hamlin '26 and S. R. Thorson '24. The affirmative consisted of B. Walzak '24, D. Sinclair '24 and R. E. Axley '23. This debate was followed by E. Ylvisaker's talk on "An Historical Contest," a speech on "Cancellation of War Debts" by Ben White '23 and a tryout speech by G. Schutt '26. L. J. H. Haas as alternate. G. S. Darby '24, V. F. Houghton '25, J. U. Snyder '24, C. Ludwig '26, H. V. Funk '23, C. Koonz '26, C. Hiken '24 were initiated into the society. Record Crowd Expected To See Yale-Army Clash

Yale officials expect 76,000 persons to jam themselves into the Yale Bowl today to see the Yale-Army clash. A crowd as large as this would break the previous records of attendance, set by Yale at the dedication of the Bowl when 74,000 watched the game.

California Officials Seek Contract With Iowa

Officials of the university of Southern California have expressed willingness to sign a two-year contract with the University of Iowa for a football game. The Hawkeyes and Trojans would play one game at Los Angeles in 1923 and the other at Iowa City in 1924. As yet, Iowa has not accepted.

Chicago Reported in Best Best Shape For Meet With Easterners

BY CHAS. J. LEWIN

(Special to The Cardinal)

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 27—(Twas Rudyard Kipling who remarked, "East is East, and West is West, and never the twain shall meet." But Rudy failed to reckon with the great American game of football, for today the University of Chicago pride of the West, will engage Princeton, last hope of the East, in one hour of mortal combat at Stagg field.

For hours, the Midway, Chicago's Varsity village, has talked of nothing but the imminent clash with Princeton. The Tiger has come out of his lair, and with a two-fold purpose, he will strive to vanquish Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg and his eleven Maroon warriors this afternoon.

One by one, eastern football teams have fallen before the formidable attacks of their underrated opponents. Last year, Centre bested Harvard, Chicago defeated Princeton, and only two weeks ago, Iowa invaded hostile territory and crashed Yale to earth. In the last contest that members of the Big Three can play with western teams for many years, the sons of old Nassau are prepared to uphold ancient pride and retrieve the last vanishing remnant of fading glories.

Out For Revenge

Revenge is another motive impelling the Tigers to conquer. When Captain McGuire and his 1921 Chicago gridders stormed into Princeton, N. J., and swept the Tigers off their feet in a 9 to 0 battle, the football world was taken aback. Another idol has fallen into the dust. Today Princeton hopes, expects to regain its niche in the gridiron Hall of Fame.

An estimated crowd of 32,000 partisan fans will view the combat, rooting for a school victory and a sectional one, as well. Princeton alumni will be jammed together in one section of the stands while the westerners occupy the remainder of seats which enclose the arena.

Eyes of the gridiron world are

KEYSTONE WILL BEGIN STUDY OF RULES OF ORDER

Mrs. Harry Glicksman to Give Courses to Two Groups

The first of a series of lessons in parliamentary procedure was given by Mrs. Harry Glicksman to the members of Keystone who met in the S. G. A. room Thursday. A similar course is being considered for Pan-Hellenic. More definite announcements will be made soon.

Mrs. Glicksman holds the position of parliamentarian for the State Federation of Woman's clubs, and is one of the two women in the United States to whom Dr. Roberts awarded the certificate for the completion of a course in parliamentary practice. Mrs. Glicksman is the wife of Harry Glicksman, assistant dean of the College of Letters and Science.

A series of six lessons will be given from 5 to 6 o'clock on alternate Thursdays. Each meeting will consist of a round-table discussion and practice of the rules of that lesson.

"I gave the same course to Keystone last year," Mrs. Glicksman said, "and several other groups on the campus have asked me to give them courses this year. Through Keystone and Pan-Hellenic I believe that all the women on the campus who are actively engaged in this sort of activity will be reached."

The Baby Beef exhibition program of Friday afternoon closed with an example of the result of boys' and girls' club work, when Ada Wyatt, captain, Arthur Wallace, and John Hill, of the Tomah Jersey Calf club, demonstrated the points to be considered in judging calves for dairy herds. This calf judging team, representing one of the leading calf clubs in the state, has demonstrated at the Monroe County Fair, the State Fair, and the La Crosse Interstate Fair.

Fred Klussendorf, of Waukesha, showed how he would choose herd types and individual types for starting or keeping a herd up to the highest standard.

Demonstration and discussions of dairy feeding problems were the features of Thursday's meeting of institute attendants at the university agricultural buildings.

The new discoveries which are the results of feeding investigation at the agricultural college were presented by Prof. Frank B. Morris.

Get Bees Ready Now

For Winter Keeping

Wintering of bees should begin right now, according to advice gained from H. F. Wilson, in charge of beekeeping work at the University of Wisconsin.

October is the month that beekeepers should look to winter care in order not to lose too great a percentage of the colonies. "Winter loss is the most troublesome problem in the bee industry in Wisconsin," Mr. Wilson declares.

Bad bruises and the effect of the severe shock are the only evils which resulted from the accident.

The average rate for the year 1921 was $30.14. By the month without board the average, Oct. 1, was $41.58, compared with $43.32 for 1921.

VANES WIGGLE, MACHINES CLICK IN RAIN FACTORY

Located at the top of one of our university buildings is the man to whom we can go to ask for rain if we want to spoil a party to which we are not invited; or snow, if we have a new pair of galoshes. Up on the fourth floor of North hall, in an office in which there are numerous intricate little instruments, such as weather-vanes, and an instrument which ticks, and makes little green wiggly marks on a piece of paper, is the man who is employed by the United States department of agriculture, to tell the people of Madison and vicinity about the weather.

One of the interesting things which this department is doing, and which is being done in only two other places in the United States, is the measuring of the heat of the sun each day. They have a finely adjusted instrument which they use for observing the sunshine and which shows the amount of heat that we get from the sun day by day.

Persons from this department go up on top of the biology building every day and release a balloon. After having calculated the height, position, and rate of travel of the balloon, they figure the velocity of the wind. This they wire to Chicago.

There the report is combined with other reports from various parts of the country, and the whole is sent by wireless all over the United States. This is to aid aviators, and shows them the conditions in the upper air strata.

They do a great many other things in that office too, such as measuring rain fall, and snow fall, and when the lake is likely to freeze. Did you know that?

There have only been four rainy days this October?

This is the reason that this month has been so warm?

This is the first fall since 1915 that we have had less than an inch of rain, and that it has been only .65 inches this month, while in previous Octobers for the last ten years, it has been much more, reaching, in 1919, a total of six inches?

For eight previous Octobers the month has been warm, though not as warm, as this one, with the exception of October 1917?

All of these things are included in the reports and books of this bureau.

Over 40 boys participated in the gym class exhibition given in the Y. M. C. A. last night. Exhibitions of squad work, marching and drill were given. The program was conducted by F. P. Cockrell, assistant physical director.

Castalia Lit Society

Initiates New Members

New members of Castalia Literary society were initiated at a regular meeting held last evening in Lathrop parlors at 7 o'clock. Definite action will take place in the near future.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

TIGERS INVADE WEST FOR GAME WITH CHICAGO

Crowd of Over 32,000 is Expected to Attend Battle

focused on Stagg field. It will be the first appearance of a Tiger football team on the historic Midway battle ground. Cornerr, Brown, Carlisle Indians, and Pennsylvania have struggled with the Maroons, but never has a member of the so-called Big Three entered the lists in Chicago.

Princeton Called Weak

Although Princeton is reputed to be the weakest one of the trio, the Tigers have shown enough strength in early season battles to assure followers that they are worthy of representing the east. In this last time out, they romped over Maryland 26 to 0, and outplayed the visitors in every department of the game. The hardest game of the Orange and Black thus far was with Colgate. Old Nassau eked out a 10 to 0 win, victory coming when Jack Cleaves, who, by the way, is expected to scintillate today, ran 80-yards for a touchdown.

Cleaves is expected to wear the halo resigned by Don Lourie in Princeton's backfield. He is a hard-hitting, smashing fullback who can slip off tackle for consistent gains. Coach Bill Roper's biggest problem has been the quarterback position. He will probably start little Johnnie Gorman, with Wingate, a former Andover prep captain, held in reserve.

Tigers In Condition

The Tigers will be able to throw their full strength into the game. Snively, in at right guard, is one of the hardest fighters on the eleven. Von Gerbig will do the punting for Princeton, and besides being a kicker, he has been developed into a running back who is a worthy mate to Cleaves.

On the eve of the big battle, Chicago was also ready to present its best line-up to the Tigers. John Thomas, the slashing fullback who single-handed beat Wisconsin and Illinois last year, is back in form and will start at fullback. His brother, Harold, is slated to take one of the halves with Jimmy Pyott at the other. Chicago will miss its 1921 "triple threat" king, Mit Romney, of Salt Lake city. Romney's dropkick beat Wisconsin last year after Thomas had carried the ball the length of the field on plunges. It was Romney who sent the Tigers back to the laid, a defeated team, last season.

In his place, Coach Stagg has four quarterbacks, all on a par and more or less mediocre. Mc Masters has the call for the position, with Heile, Burgess, and Stagg Jr. able to go in if the regular pilot wavers at a crucial moment.

Alumni Out Enmasse

The Drake hotel is headquarters for thirty-five Princeton football players, fourteen coaches, and hundreds of enthusiastic alumni, who are participating in a reunion convention. The Tiger train carrying eastern hopes arrived yesterday.

Both teams anxiously await the "zero hour" which is 2:30 this afternoon.

R. R. Commission Sets Train Hearing for Nov. 3

Hearing on complaint of Ft. Atkinson on train service between Janesville and Fond du Lac was set today by the railroad commission for Nov. 14. The complaint asks that the railroad commission order restoration of trains on the Chicago and Northwestern road that were discontinued during the recent shopmen's strike.

Schedule is Changed For "Rambling Badger"

Because the early departure of the "Rambling Badger", scheduled to leave Madison Friday morning at 4 a. m., would make it necessary for its passengers to miss Friday morning classes, Eldon Thompson, '24, owner of the truck has announced that he will leave Madison Friday at 12:30 o'clock sharp. The truck will arrive in Minneapolis some time before Saturday noon.

"We will carry two drivers," said A. J. Ackerman '24, who is managing the trip, "and will travel part of the night if the passengers so choose."

Night travel will add to the adventure of the trip and plenty of berths in the form of straw will be provided for the convenience of our passengers. We are getting a good live bunch for the trip, but can accommodate a few more ambitious fans."

TODAY'S GAMES NOT EXPECTED TO UPSET DOPE

Wisconsin and Northwestern Rest From Conference Battles

While Wisconsin and Northwestern will take a rest today as far as outside competition goes, every other Big Ten team will see action. Games today, while not expected to upset any dope in regard to the winner of the conference, are bound to be interesting because of the bearing which they will have on later contests.

Much interest is shown by Wisconsin fans in the game between Minnesota and Ohio State. Badger followers of football are hoping for a Gopher victory so that interest in the game of November 4 will be high. Injuries have played havoc with the Minnesota team, and Coach Wile's men seem to have the edge in the contest. With Ohio having the advantage of being in perfect condition, the contest should be a close one.

Dope Favors Michigan

While Michigan is doped to win its game with Illinois, an upset would not surprise many fans. Zuppke's team, by virtue of the great game which it played against the strong Iowa team, showed that it may be feared throughout the remainder of the season.

The lineup of the Illini is much the same as that which faced Iowa last Saturday, while Michigan may be handicapped through loss of some players through injuries. There is a possibility that Harry Kipke, mainstay of the Wolverine team will not be able to see action against the Suckers.

Iowa Should Win

Unless over-confidence takes a hand, Iowa should win in the game with Purdue. The fighting spirit which Iowa showed in last Saturday's game against Illinois goes a long way toward victory in any contest.

In one of the greatest and most representative intersectional games of the season, Chicago will meet Princeton in a game which is the feature of today's contests. In spite of the fact that several Big Ten games are being played, all eyes will be turned to the game at Chicago.

Indiana, still suffering somewhat from the results of last Saturday's game with the Badgers, will take a rest from Conference competition, and will engage with the Michigan Aggie team. While the Aggies are not out in their full strength, they may be expected to put up some strong opposition for Coach Thistewaite's men.

Scotch Player Will

Miss Ingles, member of the Scotch international hockey team for several years, will give a lecture on hockey at the field house at 10:45 o'clock this morning.

Miss Ingles has been here for a week under the auspices of W. A. A. coaching hockey. She is one of the eight women chosen to come to the United States to show how hockey is played in the British Isles.

During the rest of the morning she will conduct supervised games of hockey for those who are out.

Postpone Inter-Sorority Bowling For 3 Weeks

The inter-sorority bowling tournament, which is held annually during November, is being postponed until the first week after Homecoming in order to give the teams sufficient time to practice. Fourteen sororities sent representatives to the last meeting of the league, but they have not yet fully decided to enter the tournament. Either the Y. M. C. A. or Madison bowling alleys will be used. This year plans are being made to allow the winning team to keep the cup instead of passing it on to a different sorority each year. The officers of this year's bowling league are Irene Clayton '23, president; Cleo Parsely '23, vice president; and Josephine Snow '23, secretary.

Hunter who has charge of the sale of tickets.

VARSITY MEETS ALL-AMERICANS AT 2:30 TODAY

Freshman Squad Will Play Reglars One Half

While other Big Ten teams are playing outside games of varying interest and importance, today Wisconsin stays at home to engage in an exhibition game with the freshman and with Coach Lowman's All-Americans. The contest is slated to be a full time game, with the All-Americans providing the opposition for the first half, and "Keg" Driver's yearlings trying to hold the Varsity during the second period.

The scrimmage will be the first open practice for several weeks, and it is expected that many football fans will turn out to see the three teams in action. A small charge of 25 cents will be made to help in defraying expenses of sending the All-Americans to Chicago for the game on the 25th.

The freshman team has been showing up fairly well lately, and using the plays of future Varsity opponents, may be expected to make a good showing in its period of play. Although Ed. Williams, the frosh quarterback is not playing because of injuries, the pilot's position is capably held by Reuland.

The All-Americans, composed of men ineligible for Varsity play, present a formidable aggregation, and will make the scrimmage interesting while they are in play. Coach Lowman's work with the All-American teams of former years has done much toward providing good opposition for the Badgers in scrimmage, and this year should prove no exception.

With the open scrimmage today, and a week of secret practice before the Minnesota game, the Badgers should be in excellent condition for the game at Minneapolis.

GO, CHICAGO!

EAST meets West again today, and all eyes are on Stagg field. Twice before the twain have met, and twice before the East has been humbled in its own territory. Today a western crowd will cheer its team in an intersectional gridiron battle in the West.

All Wisconsin is interested in the Chicago-Princeton game. All Wisconsin is cheering Chicago.

The Badger athletic council may be granite about allowing Wisconsin teams to play intersectional contests: but so long as Chicago and Iowa play the East, Wisconsinites may enjoy their intersectionalism vicariously.

To add to that enjoyment The Cardinal has sent a staff correspondent to report the contest for its readers.

LET'S HAVE ONE

A communication in yesterday's Cardinal upbraids us for what it takes to be discourteous deference to the Indiana band's drum major. The editorial had no such intent.

The Indiana drum major was a "dignity chaser" a "jazzy contortionist." He meant to be, and he got away with it.

The editorial was to sound out opinion on the subject of having a trick drum major at Wisconsin for occasions, when dignity is superfluous, and stated that "we neither damn nor praise the idea."

The response was prompt, in campus discussion supplemented by yesterday's communication.

If it is the desire of students, then, let's have a second drum major to chase dignity from athletic occasions.

It would not be well to discard dignity at military or formal university occasions, but for football let's have a prancer to lead the band down University avenue.

Let a search be made and let the band trot out at Homecoming a second drum major to strut, cake-walk, or whatever he can do to liven things up.

The more we think about it, the more we like the idea.

ELOCUTION VS. EVOLUTION

WILLIAM Jennings Bryan again is ejaculating, this time in Minnesota. From St. Paul comes the following dispatch:

"An evolutionist is the latest nings Bryan told the crowd of more than 12,000 in the Coliseum here Sunday night.

"He likes to go to the zoo and look at the animals and gloat over the fact that he has improved somewhat."

"I would rather believe that I came down from God than up from an ape."

That doesn't sound very rational. Mr. Bryan would rather believe that all America is drinking grape juice than that it is drinking moonshine, but that preference doesn't make it so.

Probably the report is not an exceptionally comprehensive version of the Nebraskan's arguments; but at that, it's about as rational as his elocution at Madison two years ago.

Your indictment of evolution in general is amusing, Mr. Bryan.

These lazy men of science have spent a good many years digging up fossils, in dissecting animals, in poring over microscopes. They have examined and classified hundreds of thousands of organisms and written tremendous volumes on them. They have studied geological strata, comparative anatomy, embryology.

And while these lazy men were studying these things they were keeping their mouths shut and thinking, Mr. Bryan; they were using their reason, that God-given quality that distinguishes them from the despicable ape.

Then some of them came to the conclusion that man was descended from the same stock as the ape, and they said so, giving as evidence the results of their research and thinking.

They do not say that man is descended from an ape; but details like that don't make much difference when one is making a speech against them; do they, Mr. Bryan? Or didn't you really know that? Do you know anything about what these evolutionists really say or why they say it?

We have heard say of what you have to say about Darwinism and evolution, Mr. Bryan; but we have never heard anything which showed that you had any more than superficial knowledge of the subject.

We have never heard of a single utterance of yours on the subject that showed signs of rational thinking.

We wouldn't insinuate that you too many drops of honest sweat rolling down your eloquent countenance to have any such idea as that But we are inclined to suggest a change of endeavor for you.

Why not take a little vacation from the arduous physical and vocal labor of the platform and do a little mental labor, Mr. Bryan. Why not read a few scientific books or come to Wisconsin and hear some rational lectures on the pro and con of Darwinism.

It's remarkable what can be done with the power of reason, Mr. Bryan.

We heard a lecture in Bascom hall last year which knocked most of Darwinism into a cocked hat. And that lecture was based on reason, not rhetoric. It was based on knowledge of the subject, not on blind prejudice.

By study you might get some arguments against Darwin that would convince somebody besides the ignorant. You might even learn something that would convince you that the evolutionists are not all

SONNET

When in the Cardinals of ancient time
I read descriptions of the old class fights,
And raids upon the Orph, and students fined,
For shattering the peace on joyous nights,
Then in these epics of the age's best
Of roaring, hazing mob and fulsome row,
I see these antique antics but expressed
Even such a spirit as is dampened now.

But Badger riots are but memories
Of times when Ferdie's palace flourished still,
When students looked through black and swollen eyes
And glanced not twice at co-eds on the hill.

For we who now behold these present days,
Are dancing wonders but lack hell to raise.

DR. PEARSE has such sensitive nerves. He has firmly refused to have any women for advisees since one plump little frosh burst out in tears and sobbed:

ASK PUBLICITY FOR ZONE LAW

Alderman Delays Passage of Measure For Two Weeks

Urging that more publicity be given to the changes made in the city zoning ordinance since the public hearings before the councilmen be asked to bring the matter to an issue, Ald. Patrick H. Barry of the eighth ward led a movement which authorized a further delay of two weeks at a meeting of the common council as a committee on the whole Thursday.

The zoning ordinance, by a vote of the committee, was re-referred to the city planning commission, with instructions to advertise every change which has been made since the public hearings, and report it back to the council at the No. 10 meeting.

Unanimous approval of the zoning plan by the councilmen seemed sure from the wealth of discussion last night. Minor changes, affecting individual pieces of property, were the only faults which were found by the aldermen. The major plan proposed by the ordinance was looked upon with favor.

Much discussion centered on changing the zoning of the north side of University avenue from E to F to permit the Kennedy Dairy Co. to remain at its present location. This change conforms to the south side of the avenue which was left industrial as it has been built up.

John Kenney took exception to the passage of the ordinance, claiming that the city was "running against a stone wall." Mr. Kenney stated, that if it were passed, a number of damage suits would result, and cited decisions of various state supreme courts which were unfavorable to zoning ordinances.

Harland Bartholomew, zoning expert, stated that the opposition was not fair in citing cases unfavorable to the ordinance and none in its favor. He cited numerous cases in which supreme courts passed favorably on city zoning. Charges that the ordinance would lead to grafting in city government were answered by Mr. Bartholomew who said that no grafting has ever been reported in any city where zoning plans have been adopted.

Pool Can Handle Entire Tobacco Crop

The Northern Wisconsin Co-operative Tobacco pool will be able to handle all the 1922 tobacco crop as soon as it is put into bundles, officials of the pool said Friday. All of the tobacco not sold in the bundle will be packed in warehouses operated by the association.

Plans for the handling of the 1922 crop were discussed at a meeting of the state executive committee held Thursday in the Cantwell building. The financial arrangements of the handling of the crop are under the direction of Emerson Ela, attorney for the pool and C. A. Hoen, general manager of the organization.

Urge Opening of Street to School

Opening of a street from Sherman ave. to the East Side high school will be asked of the city council tonight in a communication received from the Madison Square Realty Co., owners of the Madison Square tract on the east side. Opening of such a street, it is said, would give a more direct connection between Lakewood and the high school.

Indiana Student Epidemic Stamped Out in 19 Days

(Special to The Cardinal)
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 27—Modern medical science works wonders. The recently discovered Schick test is largely responsible for the stamping out within 19 days of a serious epidemic of diphtheria among 2,900 students attending Indiana of a hypodermic injection in the arm of a minute quantity of diphtheria toxin which determined by the resulting color of the skin the immunity or susceptibility to diphtheria of the subject. More than 1,100 tests were given and the majority of the 490 students showing susceptibility took the preventative antitoxin. Vigorous quarantine of students exposed to the disease until they could be examined, together with prompt isolation of cases for treatment in the university's private hospital contributed to the early wiping out of the epidemic. Among the 85 cases, not a single serious illness developed. No ill effects resulted from the use of the antitoxin.

Minnesota Clergy Asks Ban on Evolution Theory

ST. PAUL, Minn.—A conference of Twin city pastors representing Baptist, Congregational, Presbyterian and Lutheran churches, on Thursday voted to issue a call for a statewide meeting of Protestant ministers to be held next week to prevent the teaching of evolution in the public schools of Minnesota.

Rev. W. B. Riley, pastor of the First Baptist church, Minneapolis, head of the committee calling the state gathering, said that the forthcoming state massmeeting of pastors would be urged to start injunction action to prevent public schools, normal schools and the university from using funds from Christian taxpayers for the teaching of evolution. The action is a direct result of the address on Sunday at St. Paul by William Jennings Bryan, in which the adherents of the theory of evolution were roundly denounced.

Dayton School Held Model by Local Woman

Half Time Education Plan New Scheme, Says Mrs. Glenn Turner

The Stivers high school at Dayton, O., is one of the high schools in the country which is developing half time education steadily and on a solid basis, according to Mrs. Glenn Turner, research assistant of the state board of education, who has just returned from a motor trip in the east.

"I made a special effort to visit his school," said Mrs. Turner, "because I had heard of its advanced methods in giving vocational guidance and direction. I found that every boy in the eighth grade, before he goes to work or starts to high school, is given a chart showing the possible lines of his future education. The same chart is shown and discussed at the beginning of the first and second years in high school. The boy is shown that he can go through four years of high school and then either to full time college or to apprenticeship in industry with eight hours a week of school instruction or half time in college. Another line of education is two years of full time high school followed by two years of half time school with half time work as a regular indentured apprentice.

"The boy who selects this half time high school course can also continue his apprenticeship after graduation either with eight hours a week school instruction or on half time basis in college. If he goes into the Engineering School of the University of Cincinnati he attends school two weeks and works two weeks. $710,000 In Coffers, . . . But It Can't be Spent

The state treasury is holding $711,000 in automobile license fees which the legislature has made no provision to spend, A. R. Hirst, highway engineer said today. This money is tied up until legislation action releases it for improving state highways.

Increase in the number of automobiles with the resulting added revenue is responsible for the surplus. License fees from automobiles brought in over $4,000,000 in revenue to the state this year. The greater part of this money goes to the maintenance of state trunk highways.

Fight Tax on Good Will of Ringling Circus

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Whether good will value in the circus business is taxable under the federal estate taxation law was the novel question dealt with in a hearing granted Thursday at the treasury department to John M. Kelley of New York, attorney for the estate of the late Alf. T. Ringling, one of the five brothers who built up the Ringling Brothers' shows. Only two of the brothers, John and Charles, are now living. Alf. Ringling died in 1919 and it is the contention of the government that the good will value of his estate in the circus business is worth around $1,000,000.

Mr. Kelly argued that the success of leaders in the circus business was based on their personal study and individual skill while alive. He pointed out that the circus business was very hazardous, and said that circuses carried no insurance, because no company was willing to insure them.

"A dead man's name is of no value in the show business," declared Mr. Kelly. "Buffalo Bill, for example, was a big card when he was alive. His name would go beg-

Indiana Professor Locates Rock Formation

(Special to The Cardinal)
BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 27—A supply of rock for use in the manufacture of mineral wool has been located near Yorktown, Ind., by Prof. J. R. Reeves, of the Indiana university department of geology. Mineral wool is used in the insulation of refrigerators in place of cork. The mineral substance resembles wool in appearance but is more like fine threads of glass in texture. Its manufacture from Indiana rock will be carried on by the Union Fibre company by blowing steam through a small stream of the molten rock.

ging for 30 cents in the show business today without his genius and personality going along with the show. There is no good will value in the circus business and the estate of a circus man should not be taxed for good will value."

FATHER OF STAR FOOTBALL MAN DIES, AGED 61

William Moll Succumbs to Pneumonia After Illness

William E. Moll, 216 N. Murray st., carpenter foreman for John H. Findorff, and father of the late "Keckie" Moll, university football star, died of pneumonia at St. Mary's hospital Thursday afternoon. He had been ill for only a short time and worked up until Saturday when he complained of having a slight cold.

Mr. Moll was born at Pheasant Branch and was one of the old school of finished artisans, a complete workman whose extensive knowledge of the woodworking trade made him one of the best known construction foremen in southern Wisconsin. He had directed all of the big contracts of the Findorff company, among which are the state capitol building, Beaver building, Y. M. C. A., and the recently finished Hill store.

Forty years ago on June 10, 1882 while apprenticed with his brother, Otto, and Frank Dohr to his father, Charles Moll, an early Madison contractor, Mr. Moll was joined by another unskilled beginner, John H. Findorff, his present employer. The trio went through a thorough training and after the father discontinued his business separated when Mr. Findorff started his firm. Mr. Moll worked for J. J. Silbernagel. After being in the employ of Mr. Silbernagel for 21 years Mr. Moll was employed by the Findorff firm, where he has been associated since.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Rose Moll, one son, Sheldon, two brothers, Otto and Frank, both of Madison and two sisters, Mrs. Julius Pieh and Mrs. Fred Berthier.

Lumber Interests Plan Movies to Attract Men

GREEN BAY, Wis.—The shortage of labor this fall among the logging camps in Northern Wisconsin and Upper Michigan threatens to disrupt plans for extensive cutting operations this winter, according to employment officials. Green Bay employment workers who have hundreds of jobs open for men in the woods say that it is next to impossible to get men to go back to lumbering.

Lumber interests in order to solve the problem have endeavored to make the home of the lumber jack more modern, roomy and comfortable by installing more and better bunks, more systematic management and by providing movies and other entertainment.

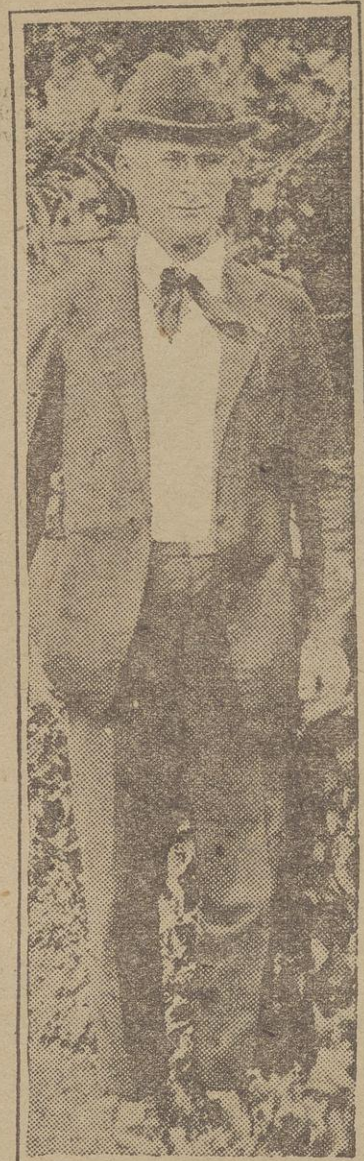

Wages are also reported to be higher than for some time, but without attracting workers.

Students

Completion of a new one story building on State st., adjoining the campus restaurant will be completed within six weeks, Harry Wigonitz, 816 Chandler st., owner of the property, said today. The building will probably be leased to a local man, and a new barber shop opened for university students.

The building will have a frontage of 30 feet on State st. It will be constructed so that an addition can be added.

Mr. Wigonitz said that he contemplates the construction of another store directly adjoining the property next spring. Plans for the structure are now being prepared.

Girl Charges Indian With Assault, Threats

COUDERAY, Wis.—Ira White, a Chippewa Indian, has been arrested by Sheriff White upon complaint of Stella Weirzinsky, daughter of a Polish settler living near here. The complaint charges him with assault and threatening to shoot her. The girl claims that the man accosted her late Saturday night while she was on her way home from Couderay where she had been shopping. She said he met her on the road about a mile from town. This is the first attempt of its kind ever known in the vicinity which has been blamed on an Indian.

RAILROAD YARDS REFLECT GROWING PROSPERITY

Congestion of traffic in Chicago Rock Island freight yards.

Railroads are the arteries of the country and the first of all commercial enterprises to reflect depressions or prosperity. Railroad freight traffic all over the country now is heavier than it has been at any time since the war ended. Railroads now are scouring the country for workers to help handle the deluge of traffic. This scene was snapped on a dull day.

Crop Loss Hits Taxes • In Marinette County

MARINETTE, Wis.—Due to hard times in 1921, Marinette county, according to the county treasurer's office, has the greatest delinquent tax roll in its history. The amount is placed at $105,135. The loss, says the report, is due to crop shortages together with the lowering in price of agricultural products.
