PRICE 5 CENTS

MAY USE PUSH BALLS AT RUSH IF SENATE ACTS

Election Dates Are Set

At the regular meeting of the Student senate last Wednesday evening the suggestion was made that push balls instead of sacks be used in future class rushes. A committee consisting of senators Gill, Seering, and Cole was appointed to confer with the athletic board on the matter.

"The present form of class rush is little more than a mud slinging contest. It is impossible for the spectators and contestants to tell what is happening or what progress has been made until the final gun is shot," Senator Gill said, in bringing up the suggestion. "If push balls were used they would be up in the air where every one could see them."

Five push balls would be an adequate number, it was thought. Before taking any action, the senate would like to get the student sentiment regarding this suggestion.

The election dates, May 4 for the general spring election and April 20, the date, by which, nomination papers must be filed were made official.

Maynard Brown '23 was elected to represent the university at the National Intercollegiate conference which will be held at Philadelphia April 26, 27 and 28 for the purpose of discussing student government, athletics and debate, student publications and athletics.

In order that students may be kept informed of the operations of the University Co-operative company, the senate voted to require the student representative on the Co-operative board of trustees to publish monthly the operative statement and yearly the financial statement of the company in The Cardinal.

It was thought that this will enable students to better understand the system of charges and rebates and in as much as the concern is co-operative, the stockholders have a right to know the status of the business.

Profits of Ball Go to Memorial Union Fund

All the profits derived from the Military ball will be turned over to the Memorial Union building fund, according to Luenig '23, general chairman.

"This has been the custom before and we wouldn't think of changing it," he said. "The money will be a source of greater benefit there than if placed in any other investment."

"We are doing everything in our power to keep down the expenses of the ball. The money is handled on a budget basis thereby keeping the expenses from running wild. A bookkeeping system is used that keeps the finances in a business-manner," Benjamin Wupper, chairman of the finance committee, said last night.

Seats Reserved For Galli-Curci Concert

The ticket sale for the Galli-Curci concert to be given in the Field Artillery of the United States, has been transferred to the Command and General Staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kas. Maj. Wood and his family will leave Madison at the end of the school year.

RAIN: NO GAME

Due to a heavy rain in Alabama there was no game yesterday between the Badger ball team and the University of Alabama at Tuscaloosa.

ROBERTSON TO RUN FOR BOARD

Paul K. Robertson '24 announced his candidacy yesterday for one of the two one-year positions on The Cardinal Board of Control. The office will be filled in the spring election May 4.

Robertson has been connected with a number of campus publications during the time that he has been here. He is associate business manager of the 1924 Badger and was Chicago advertising manager on the 1923 year book. He is also a member of the editorial staff of the Athletic review.

Robertson has been active in Y. M. C. A. activities also. He is director of the publicity, handbook, and news-sheet of that organization and has served in the council, and on the Wisconsin in China committee. The horse show to be given next month is under his direction. He has served on committees for Homecoming, 1924 prom, the Military Ball, and the Memorial Union drive.

SKINNER TO BE MET BY KIKMI

Haresfoot Club Will Entertain Distinguished Member at Banquet

A banquet for Otis Skinner, an honorary member of the Haresfoot Dramatic club of the university, will be given tomorrow evening at 11 o'clock in the Garden Grill by members of the club and of the show, "Kikmi" which just returned from the most successful tour of Wisconsin and Illinois in the history of the organization.

The banquet will begin immediately after Mr Skinner's performance at the Parkway where he is presenting "Mr. Antonio." Many alumni members of the Haresfoot club, especially from Milwaukee, Chicago and Madison, are expected to attend the banquet to meet the actor and to discuss Haresfoot work.

Arrangements for the affair are being made by Walter A. Frautschi '24, publicity manager of the club. He expects to make the event a social time for all the members of the show as well as an opportunity to meet a distinguished member.

"Kikmi" will be presented at the Parkway theater a week from today and tomorrow for three performances. Indications from the road sale are that all three performances will be sold out.

Six out of eight performances on the road during the last week were capacity houses with people turned away. Never in the history of the club, according to the managers, has such a record been made.

The press comment in all the towns pronounced the musical comedy as a work of genius ranking on a par with the best professional shows.

A final report on the results of the tour from a financial standpoint and interesting sidelights on the week's events will be given at the Otis Skinner banquet.

Presbyterians Choose Omen Day For Fun

Presbyterian students will give their second annual "Spring Spree" at Christ church auditorium at 8:15 o'clock Friday the 13th. Twelve 13 cents will be the price of admission, the proceeds to go to the Presbyterian building fund. The program includes aesthetic dancing, magician acts and sidishows. "Friday may be unlucky for some, but it will be a lucky day" for those who come to the "Spring Spree," said Howard Willett, chairman.

The entertainment will be a song and dance act by Mildred Rofolt; a piano skit by Grace Jones; "Andromache, the Girl Wonder," a mystic affair by two men, "Ted" Field and "Jim" Watson; some snappy songs by senior singers; a one-act play, "The Moonshiners," by "Bob" Holcombe and "Hank" Hoffman; Stamm and Willett in "A Line of Chatter;" aesthetic dancing by Bill Katz; Teschund in a magician act. Eats and sidishows are also on the program.

BOARD OBTAINS LECTURER WHO EXPOSES FAKES

Psychologists Vouch For Man

Arthur Delroy, nationally known as an exposé of psychic fakery will speak Monday night at 8:15 o'clock in music hall under the auspices of the Forensic board.

Mr. Delroy, both explains and demonstrates such things as mind reading, answering sealed questions, floating girls by means of hypnotism, and all the infinite variety of tricks which are palmed off on the public.

Mr. Delroy is sponsored by the University club which was instrumental in getting him to come here and he is endorsed by the psychology department. He is a personal friend of Prof. Joseph Jastrow who is greatly interested in having him expose the various things with which the public is deluded.

"Mr. Delroy is doing a great service in exposing all this fakery which is so prevalent. He is highly entertaining and I hope that all will take advantage of this opportunity to get acquainted with the truth of the many things now generally believed in to a more or less degree by the public," Dr. C. L. Hull of the psychology department declared.

All tickets are reserved and are on sale at Hook Brothers and at the University Pharmacy at 50 cents each.

REGENT BOARD HIT BY PLAN

Severson Would Place Farmers and Tradesmen in Seats

A measure which, according to Senator Severson, author of the bill, will make radical changes in the policies and also in the personnel of the faculty of the university, is now under consideration in the state senate.

The bill provides for the appointment by the governor of four members of the University Board of Regents, two of which shall be farmers and two engaged in manual labor.

"This will put the power of the Board of Regents in the hands of the progressive element instead of the reactionary members, as is the case at present. What the university needs is the elimination of a vast amount of out of date theoretical instruction and a few men in power with progressive practical ideas. Those who run the university at present have raised up around themselves a bulwark of conservatism which cannot be broken through by the people of the state or the students. The only avenue of attack is through the legislature and if the bill is passed when it comes up for final consideration on April 19, this probably will be accomplished," Senator Severson declared in commenting on his bill yesterday afternoon.

Senator Severson remarked that he believed that the resignation of President Birge in connection with the proposed change in university policies, was merely newspaper talk.

Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity, announces the election of the following agricultural students to the fraternity: seniors: H. Stiles, I. G. Fay, H. G. Horne, G. O. O'Connor, C. MacAleavy; juniors: George Gregor, C. S. Pederson, Allen Dickson, Harry Clements, John Read.

WOOD RECEIVES CHANGE ORDER

Maj. John S. Wood, commandant of the cadet corps and major in the Field Artillery of the United States, has been transferred to the Command and General Staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kas. Maj. Wood and his family will leave Madison at the end of the school year.

The work which Maj. Wood has been doing at the university is part of the military training which the United States government is carrying on throughout the country. During the four years that Major Wood has been here a distinguished rating has been maintained, a fact which testifies to the success which has rewarded his efforts.

The staff of the military department has grown from four to twenty-three, and the equipment from a few hundred dollars to $750,000 in this period. Maj. Wood's transfer is the customary transfer at the end of four years of detail work. He will remain at the Command and General Staff school as a student for a year. In addition to his government commission Major Wood holds the title of professor of military sciences at Wisconsin.

DRILL BILL IS CARDED TODAY

Polakowski Move Would Abolish Military Training Here

An open hearing on the Polakowski bill to abolish compulsory military training will be held by the joint committee on education and public welfare at 2 o'clock this afternoon in 314, Northwest pavilion at the capital.

After the open hearing the joint committee can make one of three recommendations. They can recommend that it be postponed indefinitely, that it be sent to the legislature or that it be held for concurrent action.

The Polakowski bill, number 185 A, would amend the present legislation on military training. Assemblyman Saechtjen, Madison, has introduced a similar bill that will be taken up later.

The educational committee from the legislature, which will hold the open meeting, is composed of J. D. Millar, chairman, E. R. Cushman, E. H. Johnson, Geo. W. Schmidt, C. W. Hutchinson, J. Herman Kock, Homer R. Dopp, George Slack and John Polakowski, author of the bill.

On the senate committee of education and public welfare are Senators Ridgway, chairman, Clark, Moran, Barber, White, Morris and Kemp.

"On account of the almost unanimous vote for the abolition of the national guard in the legislature I believe that the educational committee will recommend the bill for passage," Assemblyman C. W. Hutchinson, member of the joint committee, said last night.

Benson, forest examiner, Forest Products Laboratory, are co-authors of "Production and Use of Small Dimension Stock in the Chair Industry." This book has just been published by the Association of Wood Using Industries, of Chicago. The book is based upon extensive investigations made by laboratory workers and its purpose is to show how the waste in the manufacture of chairs may be reduced by the use of properly sized dimension stock.

MOVIE EXPO IS ON PACT DATE

President Harding Will Be at Opening of Picture
Revue

The American Historical revue and the Motion Picture Exposition which opens in Los Angeles next July will commemorate the one hundredth anniversary of the enunciation of the Monroe Doctrine.

For the first time in its history, the motion picture industry as a unit is preparing a consolidated show in which all its magnificent resources will be utilized as a result of the requests from civic and patriotic organizations.

"The Location" is the title selected for the mid-way at the Exposition, but instead of the usual catch-penny device and barkers for side shows, it will offer wonder exhibits from the motion picture studios.

One of the attractions will be a "Little Church Around the Corner". This feature of the Monroe Doctrine Centennial will be a novelty, but one that is certain to win a very big patronage. Rev. Neal Dodd, pastor of Hollywood's famous place of worship, will be in charge of this church which will seat 200 persons. Continuous services will be held in it by the different denominations.

Eight queens will be chosen to represent the eight southern counties. Each queen will preside on a day belonging to her special county.

The premiere which opens on July 2, will be attended by the President of the United States and many distinguished guests from Washington. An electrical parade lasting from 8 to 9 o'clock will open the affair in which gorgeous illuminated floats will be shown. From 9 to 10 p. m. the President, the Mayor of Los Angeles and the Exposition officials will be in this distinguished company.

From 10 o'clock to midnight the Premiere will be sounded and then there will be the reveille for the public opening.

The Monroe Doctrine Centennial coin, now in the process of minting, is one of most beautiful in design and execution ever put out by the United States government. It has caused a great advanced demand from collectors in all parts of the world.

The pageants and floats will be photographed for the motion picture theatres of the country and each day, pictures of the visitors will also be taken.

WOMEN SCRIBES HAVE CHANCE TO TRAVEL ABROAD

Announcement of the first journalistic tour for women ever undertaken has been made to women writers of this country by Miss Mary Gilpin Armstrong, formerly educational editor of the New York Evening Post, who will conduct a small group of young women writers on a two month's trip abroad this summer.

Writing for the American press will be a regular part of the program throughout the tour. Practical instruction in newspaper correspondence will be given by Miss Armstrong to show the young women how to convert their impressions into acceptable copy en route.

The party will visit the most picturesque places in France, Switzerland, Germany and England. They will also be invited to visit a number of places not open to ordinary tourists and to meet important personages in foreign capitals.

No previous experience in journalism is necessary to join this party. Miss Armstrong will present the essentials of newspaper writing so that they may be put into practice at once. The group is limited to 20 persons.

The party will sail from New York June 29 and return about Aug. 30. The trip will be conducted under the management of Bennett's Travel bureau, 500 Fifth avenue, New York. The price of the trip is $935.

Information about the tour may be obtained from Miss Armstrong at 617 W. 13th street, New York city. A copy of the itinerary is posted on the bulletin board on the third floor of South hall.

"Y" MEMBERSHIP BASIS REMAINS SAME

"The Y. M. C. A. has changed its method of handling memberships, but not its non-sectarian basis," Secretary F. E. Wolf declared yesterday in speaking of the change in method recently adopted by the university organization.

The new plan differs from the former in that the memberships are for one year only and that some obligations must be assumed. Members will join at the annual election meeting or by calling at the building.

The obligations that every member must now assume are: work on one of the committees, attendance at the meetings, and financial support.

"The purpose of the change in the method of memberships is to try make the association more of a campus movement than ever before," Mr. Wolf announced yesterday.

Proctor System Replaces Honor System at Illinois

After a four year trial, the honor system for examinations at Illinois has been abolished by the student senate. When the student honor commission became convinced that students would not report cribbing, it recommended a change back to the old Proctor system.

Nearly 1,600 degrees and diplomas were conferred by the University of Wisconsin last year.

HEARTWOOD IS NOT STRONGEST

General Preference For Heart-wood Over Sapwood is Unfounded

Madison, Wis.—Heartwood of the various species of wood is not intrinsically stronger or weaker than sapwood, according to information given out recently by the Forest Products Laboratory.

Preference for heartwood over sapwood for some uses of wood and for sapwood over heartwood for others, should be based on considerations other than the strength of the sound wood. False conceptions concerning the relative strength of heartwood and sapwood, such as evidenced in the demand for "white" hickory or ash over the "red" wood or heartwood in tool handles and implement parts has caused great waste.

In more than 500,000 tests which have been made by laboratory workers of the Forest Service on the various species of woods grown in the United States, no effect upon the mechanical properties of the wood due to its change from sapwood into heartwood has been noticed.

Sapwood is the outer light-colored portion of a tree trunk through which the water passes from the roots to the leaves, and in which excess food is stored temporarily.

Heartwood is the central core of the trunk. In most woods the heartwood can be distinguished from the sapwood by its darker color. But in hemlock, aspen, cottonwood, some beeches, all spruces except Sitka spruce, basswood, holly, hackberry, tupelo gum, and the true firs (not Douglas fir), there is little difference in the color of the heartwood and the sapwood.

As new sapwood is formed on the outside of the tree trunk the inner sapwood changes to heartwood. In young trees, where this change has not yet begun, no heartwood is found. During this change the cells die; the pores of some woods become plugged with a frothlike growth known as "tyloses;" and the cell walls, and in some species the cell cavities, become infiltrated with various substances, some of which darken the wood. These infiltrations do not add appreciably to the weight of the wood, except in species like ebony and rosewood in which the pores become filled with deposits.

The essential differences between heartwood and sapwood follow:

Heartwood, as a rule, is more durable than sapwood in damp locations and less subject to attack by stain and mold-producing fungi. It usually is colored and therefore considered more ornamental than the white sapwood, except in a few cases; in yellow pine interior finish and maple flooring for example, the white sapwood is preferred. Heartwood is less permeable to liquid and therefore more suitable for tight cooperage, tanks, and conduits; and it responds more slowly to changes in atmospheric humidity, which often is of advantage when uncoated wood is exposed for a relatively short time to a different humidity. The heartwood of some species contains more valuable extractable materials such as tannin and dyes, than does the sapwood.

Sapwood, as a rule, takes preservative treatment better than heartwood. It seasons faster, but when green often contains a larger percentage of moisture which often makes it heavier. Because sapwood is the outer portion of the tree it contains fewer common defects, such as knots, shakes, and pitch streaks. In resinous species the sapwood usually contains less resin than the heartwood. Sapwood is more free from odor and taste, which may be an advantage in some cases, and a disadvantage in other cases.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

ATHLETIC NEWS SENT BY JONES TO RADIO FANS

Broadcasts Sent From WHA Station

The following statement by T. E. Jones, Director of Physical Education at the University of Wisconsin, on the Athletic Activities at the University during the spring, was broadcasted from the University radio station WHA last night and heard by many radio fans in this city:

"As in the winter, when Lake Mendota is used by hundreds of students for skating, ice-boating, skiing, tobogganing, hockey, etc., no University in the country provides a wider program of athletic activities in the spring than the University of Wisconsin.

All teams are now preparing to shift their activities from the gymnasium to the great outdoors, from the artificial to the natural training facilities where pure air and sunshine help immeasurably to develop strong, healthy bodies.

Although the ice has not as yet broken up on Lake Mendota, it will be but a short time until the lake will again be clear and by the end of the month it will be literally covered with canoes, row-boats, launches, war canoes and the shells and barges of the University crews.

After the winter training on the rowing machines the members of the Varsity, Junior, Freshman and College crews are fairly aching to get on the water in preparation for the various meets and all students are looking forward to "Venetian Night", May 26, which is the closing event on the day of the annual Inter-scholastic meet, when hundreds of track athletes from scores of high schools are entertained. It is the crowning event of the athletic year, when hundreds of canoes, row-boats, launches, etc., all handsomely decorated and lighted, glide gracefully over the lake in review of the thousands on shore. It is the day of the annual regattas which attract so many lovers of water sports, but as Wisconsin is the only University between the Alleghany and Rocky Mountains maintaining a crew, competitive meets are difficult to schedule.

Handicapped by inclement weather at home, which prevented the baseball players from getting any outdoor practice, the Varsity squad, headed by Coach Guy S. Lowman, is now on its annual spring training trip in the South. The members of the squad have been working out for weeks in the gymnasium annex and were in fairly good physical condition when they started south last week, but lacked the team-work and conditioning which comes only from actual practice on the diamond.

By the time the Varsity team plays its first Conference game, April 20, when Indiana University sends its team to Madison, nearly one hundred student teams will have started their annual baseball schedules in the inter-fraternity, inter-college and other inter-mural leagues and five baseball diamonds at Camp Randall will be in almost constant use until the close of the college year in June.

So anxious were the Varsity track athletes to get onto the cinder track at Camp Randall in preparation for the Kansas Relays, April 20, that they remained in Madison during the annual spring vacation, shoveled the snow off the track at Camp Randall and spent their own vacation period training for the outdoor season. Dual meets will be held with Chicago, Minnesota and Illinois besides the Kansas and Drake Relays and the Conference meet at Michigan.

Next week Coach Jack Ryan will take more than half a hundred members of last years Varsity and Freshman football squads to Camp Randall for six weeks of intensive spring training. They have already had two weeks of training in the gymnasium annex and are ready for the more strenuous work on the gridiron.

Fifty men turned out for spring football practice at Harvard with head coach Fisher at the helm.

DIRECTS BIGGEST BOXING EVENT

EDWARD H. BORGELT

Edward H. Borgelt, university boxing coach, recently directed the most successful intramural mitt tournaments that have ever been held here under the auspices of the athletic department.

Coach Borgelt was in charge of the interclass and all-university boxing tourneys which drew some of the best talent at Wisconsin. A large number of spectators watched the final bouts and saw several new champions win their titles.

The Badger coach has been in charge of boxing for several seasons. Upon his graduation from the Law school, he will be succeeded by Ray Moore.

BIG TEN CAMPS

MICHIGAN

Michigan defeated Kentucky with a score of 23 to 6 in a game played Saturday at Lexington, Ky. The game was a pitchers' battle until the sixth inning, when the Wolverines began to forge ahead. In the seventh they let loose an avalanche of base hits which, combined with Kentucky misplays, brought in thirteen runs.

O'Hara battled effectively, allowing but six scattered hits, Michigan's fielding which was poor at times was responsible for five Kentucky runs.

ILLINOIS

With a 6-6 tie with Louisiana State university the Illini ended their southern training trip Saturday at Baton Rouge, La. They gathered three runs in the eighth on two triples and a single before the game was called to permit the northern team to get a train for home. Pennsylvania Team Will Enter Kansas Relay Games

The University of Pennsylvania has entered a relay team in the Kansas relay games to be held at Lawrence, Kansas, April 21. The personnel has not yet been chosen, but Coach Robertson is expected to pick Martin for the 400, Lever for the 220, either McMullen or Head for the half, and McLane for the mile.

PURPLE SQUAD HEAVY ON FISH

Tankmen Victorious in Major- ity of Meets in Last Years

(Special to The Cardinal)
EVANSTON, Ill., April 11.—Out of 13 western conference swimming meets held since 1910, Northwestern university has won seven, and was placed second three times. But the 1923 conference meet, just held, was the crowning success for Northwestern, for then the Purple swimmers carried away conference, western intercollegiate and national honors.

"The outstanding star of the conference," said Coach Tom Robinson of Northwestern, "was our man, Ralph Breyer. He set a new conference record in the 40-yard swim at 19 seconds flat. He also swam the 440-yard in 5:24 3-5, which breaks both the conference and national collegiate record. In the 220-yard free-style swim against Illinois, Breyer made a new national collegiate record at 2:23 3-5. He was anchor man on the record breaking relay team which made a new conference record of 1:19; the same team made a new western intercollegiate record of 1:19 against Minnesota."

Breyer represented Northwestern at Princeton university, where the national intercollegiate swimming meet was held, and had little trouble in defending his title against the aces of the big eastern universities.

Swimming began at Northwestern university early in the fall of 1910 when the pool in Patten gymnasium was completed. The first swimming team was not expected to offer much resistance to the veterans of the conference, but the Purple swimmers defeated both Chicago and Illinois in their first two meets in the home pool.

Yost Given Warm Welcome at San Francisco School

COACH GROOMS CINDER MEN FOR COMING RELAYS

Men Training at Camp Randall

Continuing their first week of out-door practice in preparation for the spring schedule, Coach Tom Jones' squad of track men went through their paces on the Camp Randall track yesterday afternoon.

The freshman squad worked under assistant coach Mead Burke from 3:30 to 4:30 and the varsity practiced under the supervision of both coaches after 4:30.

The greatest stress is being laid on getting the distance and middle distance men in condition for the relays which will be held in Kansas and Iowa within the next two weeks.

A two-mile relay team will go to the Kansas Relays next week to enter in the event to be held on April 21. Eight half-milers are working every day and four of them will be picked to represent Wisconsin in the Kansas event.

Competition between the men for a position on the team is very keen and a good team should result. Johnson, Rossmessel, Wade, Val-lery, Ramsay, Paulson, Carter, and Hilberts are the half-milers.

Three teams will enter the Drake Relays which will be held one week after the Kansas Relays. Coach Jones plans to enter teams in the half-mile, one mile, two mile, and four mile events.

With the exception of the pole-vaulters, high jumpers, and weight men, tracksters in all events are working in the open at Camp Randall. Men in the field events will work in the annex until tomorrow or the beginning of next week.

Four new men have been added to the weight division of the squad, which had proved particularly weak during the indoor season. Jack Harris, Diebold, Stipek, and Bieberstein, all hefty football men, have recently been recruited to bolster the weight events.

The dual meet schedule for the spring season will begin April 21 when Beloit college will come to Madison to work against that part of the team which is not at the Kansas Relays. The Beloit meet will serve as a good trial for the Badgers, for any number of men may be entered in each event.

Those who show the best speed in this meet will probably be chosen men to work in the dual conference meets later in the season.

Besides the conference meet at Ann Arbor to be held June 2, the Badger cinder men will meet Minnesota here May 12, Chicago May 5, and Illinois at Urbana May 18.

HALF AND HALE

With two bills aimed at compulsory military drill up in the legislature and a joint hearing on one of them, the Polakowski measure, scheduled for today, the university military department moves into the legislative limelight with its fate settled ahead of time if the avidity and unanimity with which Wisconsin lawmakers voted the abolition of the national guard augurs significantly.

Much criticism both within and without the state has been directed at the legislature since its recent action against the guard. But if there has been criticism, there also has been praise. And the marked divergence of opinion has extended itself into the optional drill question and the student body vitally concerned with it.

The total aspect of student interest in the proposed bills has been a passive aspect,—passive not because there has been interest lacking but because the acid attack of one side has been exactly neutralized by the alkaline retaliation of the other.

Students have written or spoken sporadically on the merits and demerits of compulsory drill, some insisting that it is the most effective nucleus, scant though it may be, around which a national preparedness organization can be constructed, on that the university student needs and values the disciplinary and physical training the system gives, while others have urged that the training does not commend the sincere attention of students and in no way accomplishes the goal of preparedness, or that the system bespeaks militarism that means future war, or that military drill essentially does not belong in the scheme of higher education.

There have been countless other arguments pro and con. The student body has remained virtually equally divided. Cases are made equally logical, but their exponents confront a difficulty in offering conclusive proof parallel to that which millions have confronted in years past trying to prove that military preparedness prevents war or that it precipitates war. Which does it do? Experience offers no satisfactory answer.

And likewise does experience fail to justify or repudiate compulsory military drill in American colleges. Perhaps the experiment of optional drill here would offer some basis on which to judge in the future the merits of the national R. O. T. C. system.

Nothing yet has definitely crystallized student opinion to the point where one can characterize the total student voice as being anything but "Yes and no."

Today's joint hearing at 2 o'clock should attract large numbers of students and student presentation of facts and opinions should not be overlooked by the committees in session. It is to be hoped that from the interplay of discussion and argument there will develop circumstantial data sufficient to begin a more decided crystallization of opinion and to form a basis for intelligent legislative decision.

PUSHBALLS

There is food for thought in the suggestion made by members of the Student senate that the method of handling the annual class rush be altered.

No class rush is held without its consequent injuries to freshmen and sophomores participants. Even though of late years the injuries at Wisconsin have been minor ones it is mainly a matter of a kindly fortune that such is the case.

The rush has seemed to be largely an affair of mud slinging and clothes snatching. Not mud slinging in a journalistic or slang sense, but that healthy variety of mud which is found formed a mixture of water and mother earth.

The spectators see the freshmen lined up on one side and the second-year men on the other. Then the starting pistol sounds, and, after the first mad rush to the center of the field of action, nothing further can be seen except a mass of pushing, crowding and fighting men who are turned for the moment into valiant and desperate defenders of their respective goals.

Occasionally a shirt is thrown up from the midst of the crowd or a piece of one of the canvas bags turtles up into the air. The spectators have no idea of who is winning. And neither, we take it, have the participants. Around each bag there is a wild fight and the men around that bag have no idea how their classmates are faring in other portions of the field.

Then the pistol sounds again and someone announces that someone won. And the only ones that are satisfied are the class members that are awarded the decision.

It has been suggested that push balls be used instead of bags. Not such a bad idea. If three or four push balls were used instead of bags a healthier, fairer sport might result. Certainly the classes would know how the game was progressing and so would the spectators. The spirit of sport would be served and the necessary safety valve of conquest and struggle between the classes would still result.

There are but few that wish to see the class rush discontinued. It is one of the traditions that we believe serves a very good purpose and that is liked universally. But a change such as has been mentioned might eliminate the objectionable features and add a few favorable ones.

It is understood that the Athletic board and a committee from the Student senate will decide upon the matter soon and we hope that it will result in the purchasing of a few large-sized pushballs for next fall's rush.

Editors Say—

LECTURE ATTENDANCE

Cornell Daily Sun

The relative importance attached to the matter of attendance at lectures by professors of the College of Arts and Sciences varies to such an extent as to cause bewilderment to the newcomer. In some cases, two or three absences are sufficient reason for a student failing the course; in other sections the mere matter of attendance is of no consideration.

At one extreme the lecturer believes that attendance at class is either absolutely necessary for a proper understanding of the course, or essential as a disciplinary measure to assure against lax habits of responsibility after graduation. At the other extreme, the modest professor holds that it would be presumptuous for him to insist on continuous attendance at his lectures, claiming that it is up to him to make the work interesting and thereby inspire willing participation.

The natural result of such a condition is that the none too perfect undergraduate inclines to judge courses on the strictness of the professor in the matter of attendance, rather than on its merits. Such knowledge of the studies offered soon becomes part of the life heritage of each class.

It would be unfitting to suggest that lecturers give up the individual tendencies which go to make up their respective personalities. But surely, a means could be found that would entail little sacrifice from those who have definite ideas on the subject. Some generally accepted policy of determining the degree of attendance required and a greater uniformity in its enforcements, would greatly enhance the effectiveness of the instruction.

Minnesota Daily Resumes Suspended Publication

The Minnesota Daily, official newspaper of the University of Minnesota, which suspended publication since the middle of January for the purpose of bringing about a blanket tax proposition, requiring every student to pay 50 cents each quarter to support the paper, has resumed publication with a circulation of approximately 10,000.

In January a committee was appointed to take charge of the campaign and petitions were circulated over the campus. When the necessary red tape was cleared away, a total of six thousand signers and subscribers had been secured.

It is hoped by the staff that in a few years The Daily will be one of the largest and best college newspapers.

CO-EDS Spikes Prevent College Women From Keeping Dates

Oxford, Eng., March 25.—Three foot spiked poles have been placed at regular intervals on the boundary walls of the several colleges where the women live in order to prevent anyone from crawling over them at night. This action was taken due to the custom of the women to slip out after dark for dates and return via the garden walls with the assistance of their escorts.

Almost every nationality has its own distinctive type of art. Read a play and if you did not know before you picked it up who its author is or anything about it, you will be able to tell pretty well from what land and age it came.

Especially is this so of Russian plays. Russian writing is easily recognized. Russian authors do not seem very much concerned with plot, the tying of the knot at the outset and the untying of it at the conclusion. We in America are accustomed to that sort of a drama. The tremendous successes of mystery plays have proved this to be the case.

Then, too, we like a great deal of humor in our theater. We want something light, something we will not have to ponder over after we have left the playhouse.

From across the Atlantic comes a troupe of Russian actors playing Russian pieces. They are something of a novelty and thus cause much sensation among theatergoers. Heralded as the greatest actors living, they come to the United States for an all too brief stay to give us an unusual treat.

But they are Russian and playing Russian plays. In Chicago the greater part of the audiences to which they play are made up of their countrymen. Perhaps it is only natural that we should be wary of seeing a drama acted in a foreign tongue. Yet those of us who do risk an evening of confusion with a strange language come away immensely impressed.

What is it that these foreigners have which gives them such perfection in their art? They have become the wonder of all who have seen them. Is it the play or the players that is great or a combination of the two?

were confused, we could not understand why it was called a play, why it was ever written. There was no plot, seemingly no comedy, although Tchekhoff classes it as a comedy. It ends in a most tragical fashion.

On the stage it becomes very much of a play and less than simply a chunk out of the life of a family. It was as if we were looking unbidden into the souls of several individuals. The acting was hardly acting at all; it was simply being; indescribable in its excellence.

Nor was the play all depressing. On the contrary, it contained a good deal of rollicking horse-play, and no small amount of jolly humor. It was real.

We wonder just what fate these actors, gods of their art, would suffer if they should come to America for an indefinite period and play in English. Would the theater be stormed? Would they make record runs? Would they be here what they are in Russia?

At present they are enjoying success, although the Great Northern was not overly crowded last Monday night. That success is largely due to their countrymen who crowd their theaters and it is largely due to the fact that to see a Russian play acted in Russia by Russians is somewhat of a sensational novelty.

Yet great though they are, great though their vehicles are, could the members of the Moscow Art Theater become a permanent fixture in the theatricals of America? They are going back to Russia for their anniversary in September and it is said that Olga Tchekova and Constantin Stanislavsky may never play on this side of the water again.

Is it not true that they, as Russians, are not meant for other lands?

CHANGE IN DRY LAW NOT ASKED

Proposed Change Amendment of Dry Law Meets Defeat

ROLL CALL ON PETERSON RESOLUTION

For concurrence: Barber, Benfey, Bilgrien, Burke, Cashman, Czerwinski, Gettelman, Hirsch, Moran, Morris, Polakowski, Quick, Schumann, Titus, White, 15.

Against concurrence: Casperson, Clark, Garey, Heck, Huber, Johnson, Kemp, Kuckuk, Lange, Ridgway, Roethe, Severson, Smith, Staudenmayer, Teasdale, Werden, 16.

Paired, Senator Mahon for the resolution, Senator Skogmo against.

The jubilation of the wets in passing the Sachtjen bill in the assembly Wednesday was somewhat dimmed by the defeat of a wet resolution in the senate yesterday morning.

The dries scored a victory in the senate when the upper house by a vote of 16 to 15 refused to concur in the Peterson resolution adopted by the assembly, memorializing Congress to amend the Volstead act to permit the manufacture of beverages with an alcoholic content of more than one-half of one per cent.

This stand of the senate is directly opposite from that of the assembly, which has consistently passed wet measures throughout the session. Dries claim that it indicates for the first time that those favoring enforcement will be able to prevent passage of any measure that will curtail application of the state liquor law.

There was NO discussion preceding the vote. A motion by Senator Huber to lay over consideration for one week lost 18 to 14. The resolution was then taken up and killed.

The resolution states that the Volstead act "arbitrarily and without basis of fact, defines intoxicating liquor as all liquor containing alcohol to the amount of one-half of one per cent," and asked that Congress amend this law to permit manufacture of beverages with "an alcoholic content compatible with the intent and meaning of the eighteenth amendment of the constitution."

Those opposing the present prohibition enforcement act backed this resolution as one of their principal moves in the session.

VETO IS SUSTAINED

The senate yesterday refused 18 to 13 to override Gov. Blaine's veto of the amendment to the Huber law, making it optional with judges whether prisoners should be farmed out. Senator Henry Huber, administration leader, voted against the governor on the roll call.

Change in the law was proposed, Senator Huber said, to prevent abuses that have crept in due to release of persons sentenced to jail under the prohibition law.

He stated that the bill introduced was designed to prevent the Huber law being used as a means to bring about freedom for moonshiners.

The roll call on the motion to override the governor's veto follows:

To override the veto—Burke, Garey, Heck, Hirsch, Huber, Polakowski, Ridgway, Roethe, Severson, Skogmo, Smith, Teasdale, Werden, 13.

Against overriding the veto—Barber, Benfey, Bilgrien, Cashman, Casperson, Clark, Czerwinski, Gettelman, Johnson, Kemp, Kuckuk, Lange, Moran, Morris, Schumann, Staudenmayer, Titus, White.

Gettelman Introduces 8 Hour Substitute

Introduction of a substitute amendment by Senator Bernard Gettelman, Milwaukee today threw over consideration of the Tucker compulsory eight hour day bill in the senate until next week. This amendment extends the scope of the bill to all workers and would provide a referendum on final acceptance at the general election in 1924.

OMAHA, Neb. — Petitions bearing more than 1,600 names, requesting that the name of Henry Ford be placed on the Nebraska primary ballot next year as Progressive party candidate for president were filed with the secretary of state late yesterday. Similar petition, it was announced, would be filed in Idaho Saturday and others are being circulated in Kansas, Minnesota, Illinois, Indiana, South Dakota, Colorado and other states. Roy M. WOMEN BATTLE LEAGUE ISSUES

Conflicting Resolutions on World Issues Are Up For Action

DES MOINES, Iowa — A resolution asking the National League of Women Voters to support Pres. Harding's proposed participation by the U. S. in the permanent court of international justice, was introduced by Miss Ruth Morgan, chairman of the international affairs department, this morning.

The resolution, which will be acted upon Saturday morning, was introduced as a surprise. Plans were subsequently arranged for the introduction of a counter resolution which will recommend that the league go on record as favoring the League of Nations and probably will embody the suggestion made last night by Justice Florence Allen of Ohio that war be outlawed.

Miss Morgan's resolution includes a clause urging upon the government the calling of an international conference to consider further steps to eliminate causes of war.

RUHR DEATHS NOW TOTAL 51

Germans Summarize Three Months' Occupation by French

ESSEN — Fifty one Germans "murdered" and 238,000 tons of coal and coke exported—this is the way the Germans summarize the outstanding results of the occupation of the Ruhr which began exactly three months ago. They declare that the reparations delivery of coal and under pre-occupation conditions would have amounted to 4,200,000 tons of coal and coke.

Semi-official quarters here have issued a list giving the names, addresses and occupations and the dates of the deaths of 8 Germans who have been killed.

Twenty five of those killed are given as laborers, thirteen as officials and the remainder merchants, manufacturers and pensioners, and two women. The ages range from 8 to 70 years.

The press censorship, the Germans say, makes it impossible for them to specify accurately "how many centuries in prison have been imposed and how many billion marks in stolen money, confiscated relief funds and in fines should be added to the record."

Fined 50,000,000 Marks

BERLIN — It is reported from Buer that that town has been fined 50,000,000 marks and that all street traffic at night is forbidden on account of the blowing up of the militarized railway between Buer and Recklinghausen.

Carnarvon Aide Not

Ill, Report At Cairo

LONDON — A Reuter dispatch from Cairo today declared there is no truth in the report that Howard Carter, the American Egyptologist, co-discoverer of the late Lord Carnarvon of the tomb of Tutankhamun, has been taken ill. Mr. Carter, it asserts, will shortly return from Cairo to Luxor. An Exchange Telegraph message from Cairo last night said Mr. Carter had been stricken with illness there and that Lady Carnarvon had postponed her trip to England with her husband's body.

Oil Men May Battle

La Follette 'Gas' Report

GALVESTON, Tex. — Action in regard to the La Follette senate committee oil investigation was expected at the closing session of the annual convention of the Western Petroleum Refiners' Association here today. As the result of an urgent admonition in a paper by Judge C. D. Chamberlain, secretary of the National Petroleum association, read before the convention Wednesday on the alleged necessity of combating legislation inimical to the oil industry, there was a possibility of some action. Judge Chamberlain asserted that the public pays for increased cost of oil production caused by restrictive laws.

Capt. James Shine of the Central fire department, who has been confined to his home for the last week with an attack of la grippe, returned to his duties this morning. J. R. Falkner was acting captain in Capt. Shine's absence.

U. S. Strawberry Shortcake Sets Record in Size

Chicago — Indications that the nation's strawberry shortcake this year would be the largest on record were reported today by the U. S. bureau of agricultural economics. Statistics in the berry producing fields showed that this year's crop would exceed last year's record output of 18,740 carloads, not including vast quantities consumed locally or manufactured into preserves and jellies. The six leading states in 1922 were Tennessee with 3,600 cars, Arkansas with 2,200 cars, Missouri with 2,050 cars, Maryland with 1,630 and Louisiana with 1,540 and North Carolina with 1,100 cars. Forecast of production in Florida this year is nearly 9,000,000 quarts or 110 percent more than last year.

FIND 6 MONTHS WATER VICTIM

Identity Unknown; May Be
Milwaukee War
Veteran

The identification of the body of the young man, which was found in the Catfish river yesterday morning behind the summer cottage of Dr. J. P. West, Madison, about seven miles northwest of Madison on the Waunakee road, this afternoon hung on a clue furnished to county officials by Dr. M. K. Green and Dr. F. C. Richmond of the Wisconsin Psychiatric institute at Mendota.

The body is believed to be that of John Scalzo, Italian, a World war veteran from Milwaukee. The two physicians viewed the body at the A. A. Frautschi funeral parlors this afternoon and declared that the features still discernible point to an identification of the body as that of Scalzo.

Escaped From Hospital

Scalzo escaped from the soldiers' hospital the night before the university homecoming, November 10. After a three day search, the officials gave the young man up as missing. He made his escape about midnight, Dr. Richmond said.

How the young man could have met death in the Catfish river is a mystery. It is believed that he wandered through the woods and at some point fell into the river. Officials say that he may have been seized by cramps and unable to save himself in the cold water.

A. A. Frautschi, undertaker, is convinced that he was drowned last fall and that his body has remained in the river throughout the winter.

Several things point to this fact. The most outstanding indication is that the chest had evidently been frozen to something, most probably the bottom of the ice which held the body under the surface of the river during the winter.

The body was first discovered about 10 o'clock this morning by William Shillinglaw, a farmer residing about seven miles north of Madison on the Waunakee road. His home is about a quarter of a mile from the Dr. West cottage.

Undertaker Frautschi was dispatched to the scene by Sheriff Krug and brought the body back to Madison.

GILBERT ROSS TO GIVE VIOLIN RECITAL HERE

Gilbert Ross, who has recently returned from studying in Germany, will give his first and only violin concert in Madison at the Christ Presbyterian church April 17, at 8 o'clock under the management of the Musical League of America.

Mr. Ross made a successful debut in New York City March 13, after which he returned to Madison to visit his father Prof. E. A. Ross, of the sociology department.

He will give the following program, accompanied at the piano by Prof. J. L. Townsend, 1. Sonata in G Minor, Larghetto Affettuoso, Allegro, Grave, Allegro assai; 2. Symphonie Espagnole, Allegro non troppo, Andante, Rondo-allegro; 3. Nocturne in E. Tambourine, Deep River, Habanera; 4. Coloring, Moto Perpetuo, Vogels als Prophet, Introduction and Tarantelle.

Tickets may be secured at Smith's music store where they now are on sale.

Wittenberg to Represent Lutherans at Convention

W. Wilber Wittenberg '24, president of the Luther Memorial Student association, left yesterday afternoon for Rock Island, Ill., where he will represent Lutheran students at the first national convention of the Lutheran Students Association of America, to be held April 13, 14 and 15.

The purpose of the association is to afford means whereby Lutheran students may consider their common problems. At the day sessions on Friday and Saturday the conference will have students as leaders. For Friday and Saturday evenings and for Sunday prominent Lutheran churchmen, pastors, and laymen, have been engaged.

The association was formed at Toledo, Ohio last May at a meeting of delegates representing twenty-six colleges and universities of the United States.

Radiophone installation and use are now taught by correspondence by the University of Wisconsin Extension division.

Press Club to Rival Daring of Film Heros

Daring of Hollywood's movie actors and actresses will be rivalled by Press club in a unique stunt to be staged 10:30 o'clock at the Varsity Jamboree, it is indicated by elaborate plans under preparation by Fred Siebert '24.

A hero, heroine, two horses and other properties are featuring in the surprise stunt. Press club members hinted yesterday.

Following the sensational "mile-a-minute" act, scribes and cubs will get out a "scandal extra" containing the gory news of the scoop and also "scandal and revelations" about S. G. A. student leaders and organizations.

A bevy of girls will sell the "scandal extras" for two cents a copy. This revenue will go towards paying the expenses of the paper. The girls, who will be costumed in a novel manner, are being directed by Marian Se Cheverell '24.

A display of 900 books written by members of the faculty of the University of Wisconsin was shown at the state fair last fall.

SEASTONE SAYS NEW AUTOMACIC EQUIPMENT BEST

"Automatic equipment in a generating station results in labor-saving, but does not entirely replace the operators," according to C. V. Seastone, who spoke before the A. I. E. E. Wednesday evening.

In one automatic station described by Mr. Seastone, a turbine had been automatically started and put into full operation without synchronizing apparatus in fourteen seconds.

This particular station is equipped with governors which will shut down the machines in case their speed passes either a high or a low limit.

Thermo-couples on the bearings are conducted to a relay circuit which will shut down the machine should a bearing overheat. In case of severe line troubles the generator will be stopped automatically.

It will try to get back on the line and in operation again. After a given number of trials, if trouble is still present, it will stay out.

"I would as soon trust the automatic apparatus as I would an operator," was one of the statements made by Mr. Seastone during his talk.

Oconto Can Sell Real Liquor—But No Longer

MARINETTE, Wis.—All saloon proprietors in Oconto, Wis., have been legally licensed to sell pre-Volstead liquor for over four years and the local prohibition officials didn't know it, it was disclosed here today, when Bert Kain, Oconto, proprietor of a soft drink parlor, who was arrested on a charge of "moonshining," produced a license similar in every detail to those issued prior to July, 1918 when the law went into effect. He was freed. According to Oconto officials, who made a hurried trip to Marinette to uncover the error, it was found that in renewing licenses to saloon proprietors, in 1918 a mistake was made, the old licenses allowing the sale of wine and whispy was granted. The licenses have been recalled.

Majestic Obtains Beban For Personal Showing

The management of the Majestic theatre has announced that it has obtained by competitive bid, George Beban himself and his world famous dramatic masterpiece, "The Sign of the Rose", as a motion picture and spoken drama combined!!

The story starts in motion picture form—and through a series of powerful dramatic incidents such as the burning of a big ocean liner in the middle of the Pacific ocean, the killing of a little girl by an automobile tearing down a wet street at a terrific rate of speed, and several other thrilling scenes, the story builds reel by reel to the most tense and dramatic situation in the picture.

When this point is reached, the scene fades from the screen—the screen disappears—and from out of the darkness the voices are heard—and as the lights fade in—there on the stage you behold exactly the same setting with Mr. Beban, himself, and the same players and with spoken words they carry on the most dramatic part of the story to a powerful denouement.

Again the scene fades from the stage to the screen and the story is continued to a happy conclusion—in shadowland.

Owing to Mr. Beban's previous booking arrangements in other cities, this engagement is limited to one week only, beginning next Sunday.

A total of 11,367 different students enrolled in the various sessions of the University of Wisconsin last year.

Lawrence Men Win Applause

BY L. C.

The Lawrence College Glee club, in concert at the First Methodist church last night, made more secure its place in the memories of those who have heard the singers before, and made for itself many new friends in a tensely appreciative audience.

The program given was fully up to the high standard set by the Glee clubs of Lawrence college in past years. The songs on the program were of the best, and their delivery was both artistic and effective.

Greig's "Land-Sighting" was the opening number of the program, followed by "Lo, How a Rose E'er Blooming," a short and beautiful composition by Michael Praetorius. The somber "Misere," Allegri, and a short prayer by Bach, "Grant Us To Do With Zeal," completed the first group of the evening.

The meditation, "Thais," from Jules Massenet, was played by Harry Sisson, violinist. Winfield Alexander, George Mecholson, Ellsworth Stiles and John Phillips gave solos. "Duna" and "The Blind Ploughman" were sung by Mr. Alexander. Mr. Phillips gave the "Kashmiri Song," and "To the Sun," by Curran, and Mr. Stiles sang "I'll Take You Home Again, Kathleen." Mr. Mecholson sang two solo numbers, and solo parts in "Song of the 'Mush On.'"

"Song of the Volga Boatman," the appealing "Lullaby" from Brahms, a selection from Rubenstein's "Tower of Babel," and Bullard's descriptive "The Sword of the Ferrara," concluded the first half of the program.

Three Chanteys by Bartholomew were the outstanding features of the second part of the program, which ended with Handel's "Hallelujah, Amen."

Carl J. Waterman, dean of Lawrence conservatory, is director of the club. La Vahn Maesch is accompanist.

KIMBERLY —The village board has appropriated $500 to supply band concerts to the villagers this summer.

Lenher Discovers New Chemical Paint Solvent

Paint japan, or varnish may readily be removed by a treatment with the new solvent, selenium oxychloride, which was discovered by Prof. Victor Lenher, of the chemistry department of the University of Wisconsin, according to statements made by Professor Lenher in his application for a patent, which was granted recently on this method of effecting solution of substances and removing coatings from bodies.

Rubber, both pure and vulcanized and resinous and glue binder substances, including the natural resins, glues, gelatin, celluloid, varnish, laquer and paints, are soluble when treated with selenium oxychloride.

"I have discovered further that selenium oxychloride attacks and dissolves proteins, including wool, silk, hair, bristles, leather, etc," declared Professor Lenher, "but reacts in the absence of water very poorly or not at all on starch and cellulose, including wood and wood pulp. This enables certain separations and purifications to be effected in connection with this class of materials."

The new solvent may also be used advantageously for the removal of carbon from the cylinders of gas engines. Such deposits usually consist largely of particles of carbon, more or less cemented together with hydrocarbons, such as partially carbonized oils or deposits from oils including gasoline, etc. Selenium oxychloride alone or compounded with other substances, will sufficiently dissolve the binder constituents of the carbonized mass to cause the disintegration of them and the cleansing of the cylinders.

Youth and Versatility:

The act is well named. The playing and dancing was better than the singing.

SARG'S PUPPETS

To those interested in the artistic development of the drama in America, Tony Sarg's Marionettes at the Central High school auditorium April 18 will offer an opportunity for speculation, prophecy and analysis. Some, including Gordon Craig, have gone so far as to say that puppets would eventually replace actors. This was given concrete expression when Henry Miller saw the Tony Sarg Marionettes in Chicago and said, "Why actors?"

Clayton Hamilton, a member of the National Institute of Arts and Letters, and dramatic editor of Bookman, says, in his new book, "Seen on the Stage," that the pre-eminence of the Munich theatre has been disestablished by the exhibition of the Tony Sarg Marionettes in New York.

Despite these eoniums, Mr. Sarg has kept to such productions as would please the widest circle, and it is said that he has so far attained his end, offering in "Rip Van Winkle" and "Don Quixote" entertainment that pleases all classes and ages.

"MAD LOVE"

Featuring Pola Negri.
Presented at the Parkway.
Released through Goldwyn.

BY CHATTY

We were rather muddled up in yesterday's paper, weren't we? By evening we were somewhat straightened out until we entered the Parkway.

There is something in Pola Negri which one can not help but admire. She is hardly a raving, tearing beauty, yet she has a knack for playing emotional roles in fine fashion. Her "Mad Love" might be accused of being too stagey, somewhat over-done. Yet if that is the case, the story is at fault rather than the actress.

It is a sort of Theda Bara role which the foreign actress takes. A woman of the streets who has driven one man, and maybe more, insane, she plays with her worshippers until she meets the one who she thinks lifts her above sordidness and makes it possible for her to find her soul.

But she has not found herself for very long when she also discovers that she can not leave her past behind. So there is only one possible outcome.

The film is extremely foreign in almost every detail. Although it is

FORTY OUT AT FROSH MEET

Baseball Squad Will Go Out-side Saturday Afternoon

Forty candidates appeared for the second yearling baseball workout in the gym annex yesterday afternoon. At the first practice on Wednesday there were only 25 out, and coach George B. Ruediger expects that there will be more than 50 men signed up for the squad before practice is well under way.

Work with the battery is under way; pitchers and catchers have been trying out, and some infield work has begun, but it is difficult to determine the quality of the material until it can be seen how the men work out of doors.

"If the warm weather continues, the diamond at Camp Randall will probably be dry enough to begin work there on Saturday afternoon," said Ruediger, "then I can tell more about the material and can begin picking men for the positions."

BOOKS TO THE RESCUE
(Michigan Daily)

With the ever increasing demand for American books and periodicals in European countries and the constantly rising rate of exchange which makes the cost of American publications prohibitive to the average European, there has become a great dearth of literature from this country all over the continent. Feeling the necessity of supplying the wants of these foreign countries the American Library association has undertaken a campaign to procure books for shipment abroad. At present the scarcity of English text books threatens to overthrow the choice of English as the favored subject for foreign language study, placing some other tongue in its stead.

At this time when the whole world is striving for better understanding, the United States would be defeating its own purpose were it to lose the opportunity of having European students take up the study of English. It is largely through the reading of our papers and magazines as well as books themselves that our brothers across the seas will best understand what is uppermost in the thought of the American nation. It is only through contact with things American that they will understand our people, their ideals, and their sympathies.

If the study of our own language were to be superseded by that of some other country, it would probably mean the eventual return to old anti-American prejudices which have passed partially into the world of by-gones. Certainly every possible effort should be made to afford the European ample opportunity to avail himself of English, and more particularly American literature.

13 vote to reconsider the Heck joint resolution forbidding the use of the state capitol for the Junior prom and Military ball, effective July 1, 1923.

The joint hearing will be conducted by the senate committee on education and public affairs of which Senator E. T. Ridgway, Elkhorn, is chairman, and by the assembly committee on education, headed by Assemblyman J. D. Millar, Menomonie.

Students who wish to attend the hearing and present their respective sentiments adversely or favorably on the measure must be present at room 314, Northwest pavilion, third floor, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

England Protests Mosul Oil Concession Of U. S.

LONDON — Great Britain purposes entering an energetic protest against the granting by the Turkish Nationalists of certain concessions in Anatolia to the American interests headed by Rear Admiral Colby M. Chester if these concessions are found to embrace the Mosul oil fields, it was declared here today. It is generally believed that in its present form the Chester agreement with the Turks differs materially from the original Treco-American convention. How far the Washington government can discreetly identify itself with the project is regarded here as problematical, in-as-much as the Angora government's action in awarding these concessions to Americans after they are alleged to have previously given, at least in part, to other countries will undoubtedly raise issues calling for judicial or even international settlement.
