Revolutionary War

At the time that they were cooperating, when the president fought to be free, there was this man named Oskanutuha in Oneida and Chief John Skenandore in English and he had Oneidas along with him. The president's troops were led by Herkimer when they fought at Oriskany. Those Oneidas allied with the king's troops overwhelmingly outdid them and killed them. The way that it is written John Skenandore himself killed the leader of the king's troops who was named Walter Butler. Chief John Skenandore also notified the president's people who lived in Albany. The reason they did not annihilate them as he should have was this man named Tehayʌtane·kʌ́ in Oneida and Chief Joseph Brandt in English. He was a Mohawk and he helped the king.
