NOTABLE GIFT

TO SCHOOL OF ECONOMICS AND POLITICAL SCIENCE.

Lists of Contributors—Additions to the Library of This Department Needed.

Brief mention has already been made in The Cardinal of a notable gift to the School of Economics and Political Science for the purchase of books for the library in those fields. In the summer of 1900, Hon. William E. Dodge of New York City promised Professor Ely $500 for this purpose on condition that a further sum of at least $2,000 should be subscribed by January 1, 1901. The total amount secured was $2,145, making with Mr. Dodge's subscription the goodly sum of $2,645.

This is not Mr. Dodge's first benefaction to the University of Wisconsin. When the School of Economics, Political Science, and History was founded in 1892, he provided money for special lectures; among the lecturers secured that year was Dr. Amos G. Warner who gave a course on "American Charities," and Dr. F. H. Wines who gave a course on "Punishment and Reformation." These excellent lecture courses resulted in the preparation of the well-known works, bearing the same titles, which are generally recognized as the best in their field.

The sum of $165 was first raised to purchase the Robert Owen collection, which has already been described in these columns, and to this the following persons subscribed: John Paul, of La Crosse; John Johnson, of Milwaukee; William Rahr, of Manitowoc; and George B. Burrows, A. H. Hollister, W. A. P. Morris, T. C. Richmond, Wayne Ramsay, J. M. Olin, E. M. Fuller, W. A. Scott, R. T. Ely, and E. D. Jones, of Madison.

Dr. Arthur J. Puls, '79, of Milwaukee, took the lead in raising funds in Milwaukee, but he was assisted in the work by Mr. Charles M. Morris, '89, of the same city. It will be remembered that the Germanic seminary library fund, subscribed in 1899 by liberal German-American citizens of Milwaukee, was raised largely through the efforts of the same loyal alumnus, Dr. Puls. The total amount raised in Milwaukee, together with a liberal subscription from Senator John C. Spooner, '65, was $1,980. The following is the list of subscribers from Milwaukee.

Charles F. Pfister, Fred Vogel, Jr., Uihlein Bros., Pabst Brewing Co., Albert O. Trostel, Howard Greene '86, George Brumder, Thomas H. Gill, '77, J. M. Pereles, '74, T. J. Pereles, '76, John Schroeder Lumber Co., John Pritzlaff Hardware Co., Goll & Frank Co., F. Mayer Boot & Shoe Co., F. A. W. Kieckhefer, A. C. Zinn, The Milwaukee Herald (E. W. Coleman), The Evening Wisconsin (J. F. Cramer), The Milwaukee Sentinel (Albert Huegin), Hyosde H. A. Bender (Arthur Koenig), Louis J. Frank, John B. A. Kern & Sons, George H. Noyes, '73, John Johnston, F. G. Bigelow, H. C. Payne, Henry Stern, George H. Heine-man, Arthur J. Puls, '79, Julius Gugler.

This sum of money is now being expended for the purchase of books in economics, political science, and allied lines. The accessions from this source will greatly increase the facilities of the University for study in these fields. In each book purchased with this fund is placed a special book plate, which in addition to the usual library heading, bears the words, "Purchased with the School of Economics and Political Science Library Fund, a Gift from Friends of the University, 1901."

No gifts to the University can be of more constant and lasting value than contributions to the library. Hence for their liberal gift, each contributor to this fund has the most hearty thanks of all friends of the University.

BASKETBALL—'03 VS '04.

Annual Contest at Chadbourn Hall Saturday.

The one great event of the season in girls' athletics is the freshman-sophomore basketball game which takes place generally at about this time. This year the juniors have organized a team which plans to challenge the winners in the freshman-sophomore game, which is to be played Saturday, April 13th, at 4:30 p. m.

The two teams have been practicing faithfully for some time, and the game promises to be a close and exciting one. Both sides are confident and determined and seem to be quite evenly balanced. The freshmen have the advantage of size, physical strength and excellent training, matched against the pluck and experience of the sophomores. A team organized for the occasion from the junior team and subs, played practice games against both sophomores and freshmen, and the results would show the freshman to be the better team, but that the sophomores suffered from the absence of two of their best players and also the team that played them had the advantage of an excellent basketball thrower. Miss Cooper, the freshman center is about the best all-around player that the University has had, and she has the advantage in height and strength over all her opponents. The passing on the freshman team is quick and sure. The sophomores do their best work in guarding.

The sophomore team are Agnes Martin, forward (capt.); Sadie Davison, forward; Kathleen Craig, center; Bernice Hatch, guard; A. Storms, guard.

The freshman team consists of E. Streeter, forward, (capt.); Florence Baker, forward; Elva Cooper, center; E. Moore, guard; B. Pyre, guard.

Admission to the game will be fifteen cents and tickets can be obtained only from the members of the teams. The game will be held in the women's gymnasium at Chadbourn Hall.

Phi Kappa Psi Convention.

Representatives from the fifth district of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity are in session today at the Wisconsin Chapter house. A dance will be given tonight at Keeley's Hall and tomorrow evening a banquet will be given at the same hall in honor of the visiting delegates. Representatives are here from the universities of Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, California, Leland-Stanford and Beloit College. The delegates are Messrs. Kendall and Roach, Iowa; Johnston, Kansas; Hayes, Shedd and Campbell, Nebraska; Davis, Lawrence and Ellison, Minnesota; Ford, California; Carr, Leland-Stanford; and Wright, Dorr, Myers and Loranger of Beloit. The convention will adjourn tomorrow night.

Prince Kropotkin Ill.

A telegram received here today states that Prince Kropotkin, who was to have appeared here next Tuesday, is ill in New York. Consequently the lecture has been postponed.

OUTDOOR TRACK WORK

BEGUN YESTERDAY AT CAMP RANDALL.

Coach Kilpatrick has a Promising Squad in Training—Stangel to Assist in Coaching.

Spring-like weather yesterday gave the track men their first opportunity for outdoor work. Most of the candidates have returned from their spring vacation and yesterday's squad was larger than it has been at any time this year. The track has been thoroughly rolled and quite firm except on the last turn, where the going is soft. A day or so of sunny weather will remedy this, however. The former track men are beginning to report for work and by the end of the week all of the candidates will begin their preliminary training.

Coach Kilpatrick has been considerably encouraged by the number of men that have come out for the half and quarter-mile runs. These events have been weak places on Wisconsin teams of the past two or three years and an effort will be made this season to strengthen them as much as possible. In the half, Stevens of the '99 team has come out for steady work and is rapidly regaining his old form. Last year he was kept from training by a prolonged siege of typhoid fever. Burdick, one of last year's point winners, has not as yet begun work but it is understood he will be out in a few days. Besides these there are many new candidates, among them being several promising freshmen with excellent interscholastic records behind them.

In the quarter Poage, Hayden and Senn are working daily and are fast rounding into shape. Chapman and Beebe have not yet reported. Besides these Borreson and McCrossen are showing up well and with several promising freshmen will make many of the old men work hard to keep their positions.

McEachron has returned to Madison after a three weeks' illness and will soon be out for work again in the two-mile run. Bredsteen, Smith and Carpenter are working daily at this distance and are running in extremely good form.

Hahn, Keachie, MacFarland and Gabel are the best of the bunch in the mile, although there are several other good men in this event.

In the dashes the men are less numerous, many of the sprinters not wishing to do hard outside work until the weather is more settled.

Hurdles have not yet done any work at the field yet but Shule and Helmholtz will begin shortly.

Yesterday the weight men were given some hard work under Coach Stangel who will assist Kilpatrick in this department.

TWO LARGE CROWDS.

Sale of Seats for Marine Band concerts is Promising.

The sale of tickets for the band concerts to be given by the President's Band tomorrow afternoon and evening in the University Armory is progressing rapidly and indicates a good attendance at both concerts. The afternoon concert will begin at 3:15 and the evening concert at eight.

The Madison public should appreciate the good fortune that brings to them the United States Marine band for two concerts tomorrow. Of all places touched on the six weeks' tour of this best of all bands, Madison is by far the smallest in point of population. May it not be said that she is the least in point of enthusiasm and attendance upon the two fine programs offered.

It was with the old Marine band that Sousa won his fame, now almost world-wide. But the change of leadership has meant no decline, it is said. Quite otherwise, for with all justice to Sousa, a comparison of the programs offered then and now shows that in scope and quality the present is superior to the old. A far more liberal policy and support by the department has enabled more and better artists to be added to the organization so that today it stands preeminent among the military bands of all countries.

It has been the jealous policy of those in authority to hold this within the narrow circle of Washington, but some have felt that a United States band is really a national band, and that people might occasionally hear it without taking a trip to Washington. So after much effort, the band is permitted to go forth for six weeks. It may be years before this is again allowed, and then Madison may not be on the line of tour, if fair play with other sections is observed.

DUSTERS AND STRAW HATS.

Adopted by Senior Laws Instead of Cap and Gown.

The senior law class held a meeting in the Law building this noon and decided to adopt linen dusters and straw hats as the official garb instead of the cap and gown.

The meeting was called for the purpose of deciding upon the cap and gown proposition. It was determined that the dignity of the Senior Law was likely to suffer if the ordinary uniform of learning adopted by the plebeian hill students were to be worn by the followers of Blackstone. Consequently a garb was sought for which should be quite original and not likely to be copied by any other organization.

Gregory May Go To Iowa.

It is rumored that Professor Charles Noble Gregory, Associate Dean of the College of Law, has been offered the position of Dean of the Law Faculty of the University of Iowa and has accepted the position. Negotiations have been in progress for some time but nothing definite is known as Professor Gregory absolutely refuses to say a word on the subject, but states that he hopes to be able to give out a statement in the near future. The following is from the Vidette Reporter of the State University of Iowa:

"The Board of Regents of the University yesterday afternoon (April 3) resolved to put the matter of the selection of the new Dean of the College of Law in the hands of the president of the law committee of the board, the salary to be paid not to exceed $4,000. President McLean said that it is the intention of the committee to make the selection within a fortnight.

"Professor C. N. Gregory of Wisconsin was in the city yesterday the guest of President McLean. He held business consultations with the Board of Regents and with the law committee of the board in connection with the deanship of the College of Law."

—Miss Mayhew returned today from Chicago where she spent the vacation.

Girls' Basket-ball Game.

The basket-ball game Saturday afternoon between two of the class teams at Chadbourne Hall gives evidence of a revival of interest in mild athletic sports by the young women of the University. Although games with other institutions are not encouraged by the faculty there is no reason why there should be no local interest taken in basket-ball and tennis and similar games by the women of the institutions of learning. These games add much to the pleasures of college life and when under the control of trained instructors are harmless to those participating in the games. It is to be hoped that a similar interest will be shown in outdoor tennis.

Long Live Democracy.

The invasion of business methods into the realm of the law is complete. At their meeting this morning the senior law class formally adopted the straw hat and linen duster as their Commencement insignia. The class had previously turned down the venerable cap and gown, fragrant with academic tradition, but being loth to go about undistinguished from their senior brethren they have compounded with the spirit of the age and will in due time appear swathed in the flopping habiliments of an Elk's Carnival or Commercial Traveler's Union. The straw headgear will give a jeune de siecle atmosphere redolent of summer resorts and justice court cases. The readiness of the rising generation to adopt the good old customs of the fathers is surely a sign that the country can and will be saved.

The Weather.

—Sec. Phelps of the Y. M. C. A. is in Racine this week working in the interests of the new building.

—The social committee of the Christian Association has arranged for a joint social at the association house next Saturday evening. All students are invited.

—F. L. Randolph, '04, who was a candidate for the class crew is afflicted with blood poisoning which will doubtlessly prevent his continuance in crew work.

—Professor Paul S. Reinsch has contributed to the April number of the American Historical Review an article entitled "The French Experience with Representative Institutions in the West Indies."

—C. E. Abbott, John Woy and James Hobbins spent the Easter recess at Minneapolis where they assisted in installing a newly chartered chapter of the Kappa Sigma fraternity at the University of Minnesota.

—John Pugh, '03, while practicing in the gym yesterday evening, ran against the slack wire and was thrown in such a manner as to be knocked senseless. Except for some very severe bruises he is as well as ever today and is attending classes.

Yale is planning a new baseball stand which is to be paid for by subscription. $5,900 has already been raised for the purpose.

April Alumni Magazine.

The April number of the Alumni Magazine, which will be issued this week, contains much of interest to former students of the University.

Though the title of the first paper, "Some Recent Investigations in Cheese Curing," suggests that it is intended for the graduates of the dairy course, Dr. Russell has not treated the subject in a technical manner, but presents in an interesting way the results of some recent experiments which have been made by Dr. Babcock and himself. There is a portrait and a sketch of the late Prof. Whitney followed by three short articles on his life and his work in the University by Mr. Isham Randolph, Prof. Turneure, and Mr. E. E. Sands. The treasurer of the Alumni Association, Mr. Harry H. Morgan, presents a statement of the present condition of the alumni fellowship fund and solicits aid for this important part of the association's activity.

In anticipating the approaching commencement, the editors call attention to the coming class reunions preparations for several of which are already being made by the classes of '86 and '91. The recent alumni gatherings at New York, St. Paul and Waukesha also receive extended notice.

The brief summaries of the activities in the several branches of university life are not the least interesting or important departments of the magazine. It is to the personal notes however, that the alumnus turns first almost involuntarily for news of his classmates and old university friends; this month he will not be disappointed for the editors have collected some seven pages of items regarding the recent doings of former 'Varsity students. Those who have the charge of the magazine are certainly to be congratulated of the excellent manner in which these departments are maintained.
