JUNIOR PROM COMMITTEES TALK PLANS

Assistant Chairmen Each Given Charge of Several Committees

The 1921 junior Prom is definitely under way, as a result of a meeting of 120 committeemen in 165 Bascom hall yesterday noon, at which plans for starting work by each of the seventeen committees were discussed. Prom will be held in the capitol building on the night of February 11.

"A plan for co-ordinating the work of every committee to make it directly responsible to the general assistant chairman is essential for a successful Prom," said Dale Merrick '22, Prom chairman, in outlining the work which must be put through by the committeemen. "The four assistants will be in charge of several committees and each committee chairman will submit a weekly report on the work done by his committee to these men."

Outline Finance Plans

Plans for handling the finances of the Prom were outlined by C. F. Rasmussen '22, chairman in charge of this work. Walter Schwinn '22, assistant chairman, emphasized the necessity of talking Prom at all times as a direct aid to the publicity campaign which will be carried on in the papers and on the campus.

The program committee, Zirian Blish '22, chairman, and the music committee, Paul Fishedick '22, chairman, will start work immediately as these are matters which will be arranged before the Christmas holidays. All committee chairmen plan to meet their committees during the next week. Special announcement of these meetings will be made in The Daily Cardinal.

Divide Work Under Assistants

The work under the four assistants has been divided as follows: Walter Schwinn, publicity, programs, alumni, reception, and music; Harold Selva '22, transportation, Prom supper, special features, decorations, Prom fox trot, and floor; William Blocher '22, men's arrangements and women's arrangements; C. F. Rasmussen ways and means, finance, tickets, and boxes.

HARESFOOT CLUB HAS ITS ANNUAL FOLLIES DANCE

All Tickets Have Been Disposed of—Four Acts to Be Featured

Tonight the Haresfoot club members will be seen at their best when they give their third annual Follies dance in the Lathrop gymnasium and Concert room.

There will be no tickets sold at the door, and those who have not already purchased their tickets will find it impossible to obtain admission, for the 250 tickets have already been disposed of.

The main features of the Follies have been proven a success by the fact that three of the four acts were presented at a private party given at Thompson's Thursday evening.

Acts are to be given by Wells Carberry and "Sunny" Ray, "Sparks" Dodge, "Bob" Mailer, "Phil" Reed, and "Ace" Carver, between the dances. Dancing will start promptly at 9 o'clock and will last until the hour of midnight, Thompson's first orchestra, featuring "Red" Hawkins and "Mickey" McConnell, will furnish the music.

KANELLOS IS TO PORTRAY PHASES OF GRECIAN ART

Program Will Include Classic, Byzantine, and Modern Periods

Three phases of Greek culture ranging from the classicism of the ancients to the art of modern times, will make up the program of the dance recital of Vassos Kanellos, the Greek dancer who is to appear Monday night under the auspices of the Union board.

The musical setting of the program, consisting of original Greek melodies by Kokkinou and Polykrates and some other modern compositions, will be given by Walter Drybergh, Milwaukee pianist.

A short reflection of the classic period of Greece from the archaic age to the Golden Age of Pericles, with dances of the classic Hellas and scenes from Greek tragedy will be the first part of the program.

Give Scenes of Byzantine Age

Symbolic scenes of the brilliant Byzantine age, the formative period of Christianity, during which classic art was kept alive for modern times, will compose another major division of the program. It was the culture of this period which was revived in the Renaissance period.

The modern peasant dances which Mr. Kanellos will present are the result of years spent in the study of the people and institutions of his native land. They will typify the Greece of today.

An interpretation of "The Faun of Arcadie" accompanied by the first movements of Beethoven's "Moonlight Sonata" will complete the program.

RED DOMINO PLAYS WILL INCLUDE MEN

Open Dramatic Season With Trio of Clever, Short Dramas Wednesday

Red Domino will open the campus dramatic season on Wednesday evening, December 8, when three modern one-act plays will be presented in Lathrop hall.

According to the club's new policy, its actresses will be assisted in their productions by university men. Heretofore the members themselves have taken the men's as well as women's roles.

The following men will take important parts Wednesday evening: John Warren '22, Henry Rubel '23, Donald Marvin '23, Lee McCandless '23, and David Lacey '21.

"Where But in America?" is a short farce of young married life in the Chicago of 1920. Helen's Husband" is a sparkling satire on the same old tale with screaming situations. A Harvard play, "The Bank Account," an intense short drama, completes the trio.

L. AND S. COURSE HOLDS POPULARITY

That the most popular course at the university is "just plain Letters and Science without any trimmings" is indicated by a survey of the 1920 registration at the University of Wisconsin.

Over twice as many have registered in Letters and Science without specializing as have registered for Commerce, and Engineering, the courses that come second and third respectively.

No girls have registered for Engineering, and no boys for the Wisconsin Library school. Two girls have registered in the Law school, and nine boys in the School of Music.

PIE

Delicious, Tasteful — Umm! Apple Pies Will Feature at University Apple Show

Mysterious things are going on at the home economics building.

The smell of delicious apple pie pervades the air. Unusual interest in pies, and apple pies in particular, is being shown by the disciples of Ellen H. Richards. Formulae are carefully compared, and the supply of cook books mother used falls far short of the demand.

And the cause of all this is the pie contest, a feature of the university's first apple show, to be held Wednesday, December 8, in the horticulture building.

All home economics students are eligible. The contest is limited to apple pies. Miss Marlatt, head of the home-ec department especially urges the seniors to enter the contest.

The girls have the use of the department laboratories and ingredients will be furnished free by the department of horticulture.

Prizes are awaiting those who enter the best pies. Judges will be chosen from home-ec faculty members. Miss Roberts, of the faculty, is in charge of the contest, and contestants should see her for further information before entering.

OUTING CLUB PLANS LONG HIKE SUNDAY

Tomorrow Outing club is planning for its last long hike around Lake Mendota. The distance is about 28 miles. Three hours of Outing or ten miles of W. A. A. credit will be given.

The hike will be in charge of Alice Oakes '22, Badger 504, and all those who wish to go should sign up on the Outing club bulletin board before tonight. The party will meet at the center table at Lathrop promptly at 8 tomorrow morning.

WHY THE UNIVERSITY IS ASKING $15,000,000 FROM THE LEGISLATURE

The University of Wisconsin needs $15,000,000 for running expenses and for expansion in the next two years.

Of this amount $3,250,000 will be earned by the university or will be received from other sources than the state.

Therefore the university asks the state for only 78 per cent of $15,000,000, but under the system of revolving funds all money secured from other sources is paid into the state treasury and must be appropriated for university uses.

About $4,000,000 of the total will be needed for building construction.

The extensive building program is largely responsible for the large proportion to be derived from the state, but it is no greater a proportion than existed before building construction was curtailed by war conditions.

In 1912-13 the state's share in university support was 72 per cent. This year it is 78 per cent.

In addition to being caused by the building program this increased proportion results from the tremendous increase in enrollment, the rise in teaching costs, and the necessity to catch up on the budget deficit of the past two years, which was caused by the increase in the appropriations from university fund income last year, without providing adequate means for keeping the balance in the fund intact.

BALL TOSSERS IN OPEN GAME NEXT MONDAY

Varsity Plays Frosh in First Open Practice Match of Season

Badger basketball supporters will have the first opportunity of the year to watch Dr. Meanwell's five in action next Monday evening when the varsity will play an open practice game against the freshman quintet. Coach Meanwell has been conducting his practices behind closed doors for the past two months and the results of preliminary practice will be open to visitors in the game against the yearlings. Seats will be provided and all students are welcome.

Although the Badger squad has been dealt a serious blow by the injuries of some of the most promising candidates, Coach Meanwell has finally chosen a combination which he is concentrating upon in preparation for the opening game of the season against Knox college next Friday evening. Captain Taylor '22 and "Rollie" Williams '23 have been working at the forward positions, Frogner '22 at center, Caesar '22, Tebell '23 and Horne '22 at the guards. "Jack" Williams '22 and "Les" Gage '23, are reserve forwards who are showing up well.

Material Inexperienced

The above combination is handicapped in many ways, Taylor, Caesar and Frogner were all members of last year's team, but neither Williams, Tebell, or Horn have competed in conference play. This means that at the outset the Badgers will have a comparatively inexperienced five.

Probably the biggest drawback to the work this year, however, is that Coach Meanwell has introduced a style of play which is entirely different to anything that any of the Badgers have ever known. It will probably take the players the entire year to master the famous Meanwell short shot which became known over the entire country as the "Wisconsin Game."

Wisconsin will be outweighed greatly by every team they meet in the conference. They will also be short of tall men who are vitally important in the strong defensive play that characterizes conference basketball. But the Badgers have one big redeeming characteristic

MICKELL SPEAKS AT BADGER CLUB

Plans for Christmas Program Will be Discussed Preceding Regular Meeting

The Right Rev. Henry J. Mickell, D.D., Bishop of the (Episcopal) diocese of Atlanta, is to be the speaker at the Badger club of the university Y tomorrow evening. He has recently returned from England, where he attended the Anglo-Catholic congress, and the Lambeth conference, and will take this occasion to tell of the discussions there of student work, and of other debated topics as they were presented to him in England.

Bishop Mickell is a graduate of the university of the South, Seawane, Tennessee, where he gained the degree of M.A., academic, and B.D., divinity. He was elected bishop of Atlanta while rector of Christ church, Nashville, Tennessee,

START DRIVE AMONG LOCAL U. W. ALUMNI

Union Board Plans Campaign to Increase Memorial Union Fund

A campaign among the 1,000 Wisconsin alumni living in Madison will be undertaken by the Union board for subscriptions to the Memorial Union building fund.

Plans for the drive are now being worked out, following the decision of the Union board last Monday night to undertake the campaign. The board will carry on the campaign with the assistance of squads of local alumni, states H. L. Ashworth, secretary of the Memorial Union building committee. It is the intention of the board to make an individual canvass of the 1,000 alumni in the city.

Many Alumni Have Contributed

Many alumni in Madison have already donated liberally to the fund, states Mr. Ashworth. An active campaign, however, has not been undertaken, and the Union board with the aid of squads of local alumni expects to put the drive "over the top" in snappy order.

Donations from business men in Madison continue to pour into the money chests of the building fund. The "silent drive" which was launched three weeks ago by a committee of business men soliciting subscriptions from dealers and industrial organizations continues satisfactorily. An average of $250 in subscriptions has already been set.

Organize Booster Club

A "Boosters' Club" has been organized for promoting aims and ideals of the University of Wisconsin. Donors to the Memorial union building are given membership as a sign of appreciation for their support to the school. The committee is co-operating with the business men's committee by sending out 200 letters to merchants and business men. Because of the large number of parties to be solicited, these personal appeals are being sent out in addition to the personal canvass.

Student payments for the current year to the building fund are now being received in large numbers by the building committee. The response to the appeal for prompt payment has been very gratifying, states Mr. Ashworth. Those who have not yet sent in their payments are urged to mail the amounts to the Memorial Union building committee, 821 State street as soon as possible.

At The Theaters

AT THE GRAND

The patrons of the Grand theater are finding Eugene O'Brien, in "His Wife's Money" much to their liking. The picture, which will close today, has an absorbingly interesting story. It sends everyone who sees it out of the theater wondering what he would have done under the same circumstances. Miss Zena Keefe plays the leading supporting role.

Wednesday and Thursday—Gladys Brockwell in "White Lies."

Friday and Saturday—Shirley Mason in "The Little Wanderer."

Saturday Morning—Special Children's matinee.

AT THE STRAND

The "sea cook" serves often as a humorous figure in song and story. Raymond Hatton has made him "do duty" in the films. Mr. Hatton is Mugridge, the sad-eyed, philosophic knight of the galley in the Paramount Artcraft adaptation of Jack London's "The Sea Wolf," which is showing at the Strand Theatre for the last times at today's performances, continuous 2 to 11 p. m. He is a touch of comedy amid an atmosphere that is mostly grim vilence and red-blooded adventure. Mr. Hatton enters into the portrayal of the "sea cook" with unusual success and is said to fairly "get under the skin" of the role.

"The Sea Wolf" is declared to have been produced on an extremely large scale and to abound in spectacular scenes. Noah Beery has the part of "Wolf" Larsen, and Mabel Julienne Scott and Tom Forman are also in the cast. The picture, which is a Paramount Artcraft, is a George Melford production.

There will also be shown a comedy cartoon and the latest news weekly.

Elsie Ferguson's latest Paramount picture "Lady Rose's Daughter" will be shown at the Strand Theatre for three days commencing Sunday.

AT THE FULLER.

Do cards foretell the future?

They are weirdly prophetic in "The Fortune Teller," the Robertson-Cole Super-Special, starring Marjorie Rambeau, the greatest emotional actress of the American stage, which opens today at the Fuller Theatre.

The screen version of the celebrated stage success dealing with mother-love and psychic phenomena is even more powerful than the play, the big scenes of which necessarily were limited by the stage restrictions.

"The Fortune Teller" shows a great actress in a great story, a story filled with tense, dramatic situations. The action is rapid and big scene follows big scene with almost breath-taking swiftness. But the "big scenes" are only "pot boilers" in comparison with the truly great moments of the picture which show Miss Rambeau at the very pinnacle of her art.

Whether cards are false or true prophets is a debatable question but in "The Fortune Teller" they form the basis of a plot inextricably woven with the appeal of mother-love and the mysteries of psychic phenomena.

BADGER PLANS LAST DRIVE FOR SUBSCRIPTIONS

Personal Canvass to Be Made to Raise Total Number to 5,000

Starting Monday, the 1922 Badger will put on a whirlwind clean-up campaign to raise the total subscriptions to an even five thousand before placing the book in the hands of the printers. It is planned to reach every possible subscriber, a house to house canvass being made.

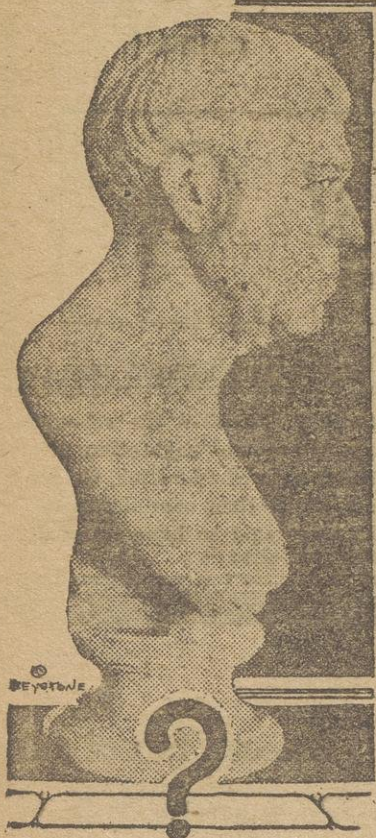

Only a few hundred additional orders are needed to reach the mark, and it is expected that the individual soliciting will bring the desired number before the start of the holiday season. The same rates that were charged in the first campaign will be asked.

In preparation for the drive, the subscription staff has been enlarged, and new positions are open to those who care to try out for them. Those successful in the campaign will be given permanent places. A meeting of all women interested in the subscription drive will be held Monday noon, at 12:45 in the Union building, third floor.

ASK STUDENTS, TO SEND HELP TO EUROPEANS

University Men in Europe Suffer From Lack of Living Essentials

American students are being called upon to aid the starving students of Europe by sending money to the European Student relief of the American Relief administration, of which Herbert Hoover is the head.

The terrible conditions under which men and women are studying in Europe today is beyond the comprehension of American students. The essentials of living are lacking. Students are trying to live on two meals a day, one of which consists of black bread and very thin soup. They are coming home at night to study in a room without heat and with no lighting facilities except a candle. They are trying to keep warm throughout the long winter months with their clothing in rags.

In Vienna very few of the students have had a daily breakfast since 1917. The majority of them have not tasted butter or chocolate for four years. Two authentic cases are known of students who had gone to bed from hunger and exhaustion, only to be found dead some days later.

Cannot Support Themselves

It is impossible for the students to support themselves completely because of the enormous amount of unemployment in European countries. It would be equally difficult for them to get work if they ceased studying entirely, both because of the general unemployment and because of the hostile, well-organized labor unions. The greater share of

The musical program for the evening will include the singing, led by "Doc" Dorward '23, and a flute solo by Lillian Tucker. The hosts and hostesses will be Prof. and Mrs. E. A. Gilmore, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cadby, and Mrs. Bennett.

There will be a special meeting of all members of the club at seven o'clock, an hour before the regular meeting, to discuss the Christmas meeting, to be held next week. The committee on arrangements wishes to find the sentiment of the club as a whole on the Christmas program, whether the same program as last year, with a tree, presents for the children invited for the entertainment, a Santa Claus, and a sleigh ride, will be followed, or if there is a desire for a change. The names of the children to be taken by the members to the Christmas party will be given out at that time.

them work whenever it is possible to secure employment.

"Physically our youths are at the end of their strength," says Professor Durig of Vienna. "There is nothing more left to be taken from the body; here and there the living are already crumbling away; this or that diligent student no longer appears at the college, he is ill or in the hospital, he must relinquish his studies—he is dead. Laboratories, lecture rooms and student rooms were unheated throughout the winter.

In some hostels men have to sleep on boards, eighteen in a room. A suit of clothes costs more than a student can earn in six months by seven hours' clerical work a day, outside of study hours. The common necessities of life such as soap and cotton are luxuries."

Facts Are Really Startling

In Budapest the following startling facts were revealed:

26 per cent of the students were living on two meals or less a day.

DEBUTANTES LIKE WHITE FOX FOR DRESS

A set of white fox seems especially suited to the debutante, for there is no other fur which frames a youthful face so charmingly. These furs are particularly adapted for dress wear because they are light and look well on either suit or wrap. Here the animal scarf and muff are trimmed with bushy tails and sharp-looking heads. A pretty chin chain, shaped hat made of gold lace completes milady's afternoon or evening costume.

33 per cent possessed two suits of clothing or less.

15 per cent were without coats.

15 per cent had but one pair of socks or none at all.

Not only the students but the professors as well are suffering these conditions. One world famous professor, now 61 years old, has been subsisting for the past three months on tea and soup alone. In a great many instances the professors have deprived themselves of what seem to us the necessities of life in order that they might assist students who were in greater need.

Funds Are Badly Needed

The remedy is the securing of funds to give the students an opportunity to help themselves. Dormitories and dining rooms, co-operative farms, wood-cutting camps, etc., could be established to be run by the university students, both men and women, if the money were on hand for the initial expense. Successful trials of such schemes under the direction of the Friends' Society has proved their tremendous values in giving the students an opportunity for work with fair return and in preventing pauperization.

Winter Brings New Hardships

The students of Europe are living under these conditions now, and are facing more intolerable conditions with the approach of winter. Their lives and the future education of Europe depend upon immediate relief.

All funds should be remitted to A. J. Hemphill, treasurer American Relief administration, European Student Relief fund, Guarantee Trust company, New York City.

THE CO-OP

WHAT is the Co-op? Who runs it? How are the affairs of the business conducted?

Don't all speak at once.

It would be interesting to know how many students can answer these questions with any degree of accuracy. Certainly the number who do know would be pitifully small.

Yet every student has a definite opinion of the Co-op. He criticizes freely, sometimes favorably, sometimes quite unfavorably. If these criticisms are to be worth anything they must be founded upon judgment. Judgment must be founded upon facts.

The facts should be more generally known than they are now. Recently the Student Senate named a prominent senior to represent the student body on the Co-op board of directors. He could perform no better service than presenting to his fellow students a detailed statement of the workings of the Co-op. A better understanding would grow up and constructive criticism would then bear some weight.

DOLLARS AND CENTS

THE university is soon to come before the law makers of Wisconsin and ask for money. The amount sought seems large. The budget calls for $15,000,000. Of course the taxpayers will not be asked to supply all this money. More than $3,000,000 will be earned by the university or will come from sources other than the state. This leaves a sum between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000 to be raised by the state.

The officials of the university have weighed every item in the budget. They have carefully estimated the cost of running the school efficiently but at the same time economically. They have recognized the fact that the enrollment now greatly exceeds the facilities of the university. At present there are 2,000 more students here than can be properly accommodated. A new building program is clearly a necessity. This is taken care of in the budget for the next two years. If the proposed plans go through about $4,000,000 will be spent on building.

But why worry the student body with a formidable array of figures like these?

The reason is obvious. It is solely for our interest that the university is asking for more money than ever before in its history. We profit if the legislature approves the budget. We suffer if the development and expansion of the school are retarded by a slashing of the estimates. Not only will we ourselves suffer but those who come after us will be handicapped.

With these facts in mind every one of the 7,004 students within the walls of this university ought to get solidly behind the administration which is seeking to make possible a greater Wisconsin. Indifference on our part will make a bad impression throughout the state. If we who are to reap the benefits do not care, why should anyone else be much concerned?

Think it over and then get busy. We will all be given an opportunity to help in due time.

MICHIGAN ASKS FOR BIG BUILDING FUND

An expenditure of $8,690,000 during the two years of 1921-23 was called for in the report which President Marion L. Burton submitted to the Michigan state legislature as the first step in a proposed six year building program for the University of Michigan.

The building program is entirely separate from the regular mill tax, and it is frankly stated in the request for the initial appropriation of $8,690,000 that it will be necessary for the regents to ask the legislatures of 1923 and 1925 each for $5,000,000 for the completion of the program.

BEGIN TRYOUTS FOR MOVIE CAST

Preliminary Interviews to Find New Screen Stars Are Held

Tryouts for the varsity movie started with the first preliminary interviews yesterday afternoon. These will continue through all of next week.

People are wanted who can act in any capacity and who feel at home before the camera. Dramatic training is not essential in movies as when the acting is done before an audience, but the actor or actress must be able to portray emotion in a more exaggerated manner than when the voice is used.

Tryouts consist of an interview in order to obtain a specific basis for judging whether or not a person will film well. Any extemporaneous acting will be given to bring this out.

Film Is Costly Material

On account of the large number of people who are anticipating trying out it is impossible to actually take a film of each one. Film costs 30 cents a foot, and it takes at least ten feet to determine whether a person would photograph well. The final tryouts, however, will be taken before the camera.

Those wishing to try out should report to the Varsity movie office on the third floor of the Union building between four and five any afternoon to arrange a definite time for a tryout. From these preliminary tryouts people will be selected for the finals.

XMAS PUDDING IS HIT BY DRY LAW

Old Fashioned "Flavors" Are Taboo by New Order

WASHINGTON — Flavoring of home-made Xmas plum pudding, mincemeat and brandied cherries and peaches with alcoholic spirits is a violation of the enforcement law and such foods are liable to seizure, it was stated today at the bureau of internal revenue.

"Officials explained that under their interpretation of the enforcement act culinary products in which alcohol is an ingredient can be made only by manufacturers of food products who obtain a permit from the government, and that such products must contain less than one half of one per cent of alcohol.

They said such products shall not be used or sold on the premises, and that this barred the housewife from making Xmas foods with liquor in them. The regulations specifically state that permits shall not be issued to hotels and restaurants.

FIRELIGHT EVENING TO DISPEL GLOOM

For those to whom dancing seems too strenuous, in the present state of post-exam exhaustion, and for those, especially, who have never succumbed to its charms, a "firelight evening" has been planned for tonight in Lathrop parlors. The amusement will be of a nature less strenuous than dancing, but fully as enjoyable.

An informal evening of games, with a background of davenport, easy chairs, and firelight, should sound inviting to the wearied burner of 2 a. m. oil for the mid-semester of the past week, or to the most confirmed opponent of dancing.

From 7:30 on is the time. Everyone welcome.

Cary Asks Addition of $26,000 to Funds

State Supt. C. P. Cary has filed a memoranda with the state board of public affairs showing that his department will need an appropriation of $26,000 more than the appropriation given for the present year. The matter will probably be referred to the legislature and not to the emergency board which has power to grant additional sums.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 46 at 5 a. m. and the lowest was 37 at 9 p. m. Sun sets at 4:24.

A trough of low barometer on the plains is preceded by southerly winds and much warmer weather in the Mississippi valley and lake regions. It is raining around Lake Superior but fair weather prevails elsewhere throughout the east. It is clearing off on the Pacific slope.

SOCIETY NEWS

Lively Week-end

The social calendar for the remaining week before Christmas vacation contains many interesting events. Many organizations have planned formal and informal parties for this and the coming week-end, thus launching the holiday spirit ahead of time.

Besides the Haresfoot affair this evening, at which Dean and Mrs. Scott H. Goodnight and Mr. and Mrs. John S. Main are chaperones, the members of Sigma Chi are entertaining with an informal dance instead of a formal as announced recently, this evening. The party will be at the fraternity house, Lake street, and will be chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard P. Eger, Evansville, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tyrell, Madison. Whight's orchestra will arrive from Columbus, Ohio, to play for the dance. The house will be decorated in southern smilax and holly.

The Congressional club will give a dance tonight in the Delta Upsilon house, to be chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin C. Parkinson, and among the sororities who are entertaining are Alpha Delta Pi with an informal, Mrs. J. E. Cance and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Luxford chaperoning; Sigma Kappa at a pledge dance with Dr. and Mrs. T. F. Kennedy

POOR LEONORA IS "SO BEWILDERED BY OLD TARIFF LAWS"

Leonora Hughes.

Leonora Hughes, dancing partner of M. Maurice of Paris, recently arrived in this country for a visit, but it was almost spoiled at the outset just because of "her dreadful ignorance of the queer quirks of the law." It happened like this. Miss Hughes wanted to bring in $100,000 worth of jewels and clothes "just to show her mamma," and they said she was smuggling. Fancy that! Miss Hughes told them she was a citizen of the U. S., but did not say that her home was in London and that she would return soon, and that's how those "horrid customs officials made the terrible mistake."

and Mrs. John Foran as chaperons, and Delta Zeta at a Christmas dance chaperoned by Mrs. Rene Pinto and Miss Sara Stinchfield.

An Acacia informal, to be chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Ford McGregor and Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Bean, and a Lambda Chi Alpha party at the Park hotel under the chaperonage of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Findorff and Mr. Robert Bruce, and a Deke dance, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Clark chaperoning, are also on the list of affairs for this evening.

S. A. E. Entertains Graduates

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity entertained about 30 graduates and university instructors who are completing work in the political science department in preparation for the degree of doctor of philosophy, at the chapter house, 627 North Lake street, last night. Light refreshments followed a short program given by the graduates.

Personals

Mrs. John R. Commons, University avenue, is the guest of her son, John A. Commons, at the government remount station in Fort Royal, Va. She will return in about two weeks.

Miss Gladys Frazer is spending the week-end with her parents in Evanston, Ill. She attended the Prom at Northwestern university last evening.

Prof. and Mrs. Daniel A. Mead, West Gorham street, held open house last night for members of the faculty of the College of Engineering, and their wives.

Mr. H. W. Naeckel, university graduate of the class of 1920, is a visitor at the Sigma Nu house, Henry street, for an indefinite time.

Mr. Peter E. F. Burns returned from Chicago recently, where he had been occupied with business transactions.

WHO IS SHE?

Ag. School Aquiver With Expectation — Cigars Are Plentiful—Rumors Fly

Dame Rumor has it that "she" is Caryl Parkinson '22 or perhaps Ethel Gildehaus '21, Lillian Frazee '22, Edna Huffman '21, or Lillian Bierbauer '21. Several other home ees have been mentioned, but no one seems to know "who is she."

But why the question?

The Country Mag is running a Home-Ex beauty contest, the first in the history of the Ag school. As a consequence several pretty co-eds from the Ag school have been peddling long, suspicious-looking objects wrapped in tin foil to their gentleman friends on the "lower forty"—so, boys, if you get a cigar from a fair one, you know who "she" is.

It is rumored about that Saddle and Sirloin and Ag Lit are each entering a candidate in the contest and each has challenged the other to a battle royal. It is said that Euthenics, not to be outdone by the masculinity of the Ag school, is also launching a campaign in behalf of one of their fair sisters.

A GLIMPSE OF THE SOUTH SEAS

Stephen Hameis Drawings, on Display in Historical Museum, Exciting Much Comment — Replace Collection of Fromkes

The Stephen Hameis drawings which replace the Fromkes collection in the Historical museum has excited much comment. The work of Hameis is a complete surprise to many people. Those who have studied Cubism and Futurism, however, realize that these drawings are, after all, comparatively mild.

The pictures are all of the Bahamas and the South Sea islands. There are landscapes, but the collection consists largely of marines. Most striking among these are scenes under the water, showing tropical fish and water plants. This might be dull if done from a biological point of view, but it is very different when art is the main consideration.

The peculiar style of Hameis arises from the fact that he does not consider his pictures as representations, but rather as designs. He himself writes that they are, "not representations of nature, but interpretations, based on a certain particular interest in the subjects which form their motif."

Since the artist is also a writer of ability, he has published a pamphlet about these pictures which is in some degree explanatory.

"Tropical fish," writes Mr. Hameis, "are actually among the most brilliant things in nature, comparable only to butterflies and jewels. The leaping flash of a living ingot of silver a yard long from the sea like a breathing sapphire is an emotion, the rush of any great fish is an incommunicable experience. My pictures aim to describe the joy of the fishes' life, the beauty of marine growths, the wonder of one who loves to watch the mystery-play of their lives."

To many people it seems very queer to see on coming close to a picture, that the lines are broken. They think this ought not to be, Stephen Hameis explains:

"To me interrupted lines convey the idea of movement in marvelous degree, and I find that figures may be broken up and distorted in many ways without destroying their beauty as such."

Stephen Hameis was the son of an Anglican clergyman of London. His mother's father was a portrait painter. He was educated in London and Cambridge and studied art in Paris first under Alphonse Mucha. He did photographic work for Rodin and was introduced by him to Eugene Carriere, whose pupil he became. He exhibited repeatedly at the Salon of the Champs de Mars, and belonged to other Salons. At this time he used the impressionistic technique.

Tiring of French forms of expression he made a trip to the South Seas in 1913, because subjects would be new, since they had been seldom used before. Here he studied, but did not do much painting. The shallow clear water gave wonderful opportunity for studying fishes and marine plants.

The native dances also interested him very much. He revived the Indian idea of using multiplication of limbs to indicate motion. Most of the pictures in this collection were painted in New York, from memory, because they are not reproductions but ideas.

ATHENAE INSTALLS ITS NEW OFFICERS

The affirmative Athenae won a debate, "Resolved: That the United States should hereafter prevent by law any further possession of land in the United States by Japanese," by a three to two decision at a meeting last night. Affirmative speakers were E. C. Severson '21, and J. G. Sargis '24, and negative speakers were S. Sygman '22, W. H. Chiao '21, and A. Sygman '24. R. N. Reitan '22, and B. L. Miller '21, spoke of the significance of the national political campaign. The following officers were installed for the next quarter:

I. Arnold Perstein '21, president; Birney F. Miller '22, vice-president;

Ralph B. Spence '22, secretary; Samuel Sygman '22, treasurer; and Abraham Kaufman '22, censor. The next regular meeting will be held December 10.

A group picture of the society will be taken tomorrow morning.

What Is Air?

BEFORE 1894 every chemist thought he knew what air is. "A mechanical mixture of moisture, nitrogen and oxygen, with traces of hydrogen and carbon dioxide," he would explain. There was so much oxygen and nitrogen in a given sample that he simply determined the amount of oxygen present and assumed the rest to be nitrogen.

One great English chemist, Lord Rayleigh, found that the nitrogen obtained from the air was never so pure as that obtained from some compound like ammonia. What was the "impurity"? In co-operation with another prominent chemist, Sir William Ramsay, it was discovered in an entirely new gas—"argon." Later came the discovery of other rare gases in the atmosphere. The air we breathe contains about a dozen gases and gaseous compounds.

This study of the air is an example of research in pure science. Rayleigh and Ramsay had no practical end in view—merely the discovery of new facts.

A few years ago the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company began to study the destruction of filaments in exhausted lamps in order to ascertain how this happened. It was a purely scientific undertaking. It was found that the filament evaporated—boiled away, like so much water.

Pressure will check boiling or evaporation. If the pressure within a boiler is very high, it will take more heat than ordinarily to boil the water. Would a gas under pressure prevent filaments from boiling away? If so, what gas? It must be a gas that will not combine chemically with the filament. The filament would burn in oxygen; hydrogen would conduct the heat away too rapidly. Nitrogen is a useful gas in this case. It does form a few compounds, however. Better still is argon. It forms no compounds at all.

Thus the modern, efficient, gas-filled lamp appeared, and so argon, which seemed the most useless gas in the world, found a practical application.

Discover new facts, and their practical application will take care of itself.

And the discovery of new facts is the primary purpose of the Research Laboratories of the General Electric Company.

Sometimes years must elapse before the practical application of a discovery becomes apparent, as in the case of argon; sometimes a practical application follows from the mere answering of a "theoretical" question, as in the case of a gas-filled lamp. But no substantial progress can be made unless research is conducted for the purpose of discovering new facts.

BALL TOSSERS PLAY OPEN PRACTICE GAME

upon which Coach Meanwell is basing great hopes. Wisconsin will have a fighting team on the floor!

Every member of the Badger squad is a fighter from the start of the game to the final whistle and this has been illustrated during the weeks of strenuous drill which Coach Meanwell has been putting them through.

Old Stars Out of The Game

Just when "Mike" Knapp and "Red" Weston will be available for service is extremely problematical. The latter has an injured knee which has kept him in the infirmary for several days and it is even doubtful whether he will be able to don a Wisconsin suit this season. Knapp is suffering with an infected elbow which prevents him from taking part in the preliminary practice. McIntosh will be eligible to play immediately after the Christmas recess while Fanning should be back in a suit within a week or two.

Hard Preliminary Games

Wisconsin has an extremely difficult preliminary schedule to play this year, and the Badgers will be given a real test before they commence their conference games. Knox College won the championship of Illinois minor colleges last year and with the same team back they will give Coach Meanwell's charges a real battle.

"Ole" Olson's Ripon five will face the Badgers on December 15 and some stiff competition can be expected. River Falls Normal and Marquette are waiting for an opportunity to realize the dream of every minor college, to defeat the university team, and the Badgers will have to play some real basket ball to come through with a clean slate.

PLAN TO SELL MANY SEALS TO STUDENTS

Up to the present time 27,000 Red Cross Christmas seals have been distributed for sale among the fraternities and the Y. M. C. A. by means of a committee of men. Over 20,000 have been sent out for sale to the sororities and rooming houses through the S. G. A. representatives.

As it will be impossible to reach some of the men of the various rooming houses through this silent sale, they are asked to buy their seals at the Y. M. C. A.

The campaign for the sale of Red Cross Christmas seals among the students of the university is in

OLD GRAD TO TALK AT VESPER MEETING

The next to the oldest living Wisconsin graduate, Prof. J. B. Parkinson, will talk about his reminiscences of Wisconsin university life in the fifties and sixties, at Y. W. C. A. vespers tomorrow evening.

There is one older graduate living, but aside from him, Professor Parkinson is the oldest representative of the "good old days" at Wisconsin.

PENNY SEAL SALE STARTS IN THE STATE

Anti-Tuberculosis Association Conducts Annual Christmas Campaign

The 1920 Christmas seal sale is on. Conducted annually during the holiday season to raise funds to finance the organized campaign against tuberculosis in Wisconsin, the penny seal sale is the only means of support of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association.

One of the most gratifying results from the campaign is the declining rate of deaths from tuberculosis. During the past ten years since the organization of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association the death rate has decreased 24 per cent. In other words there were 438 fewer deaths from tuberculosis in 1919 than in 1909, in spite of the fact that ten years ago the state was smaller and younger, and we had every right to believe that our death rate would increase as it has done in our older eastern states.

Treat 1400 Patients

As a direct or indirect result of the educational and demonstration campaign of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, Wisconsin now has 17 publicly supported sanatoria for the care of tuberculosis making provision for the care of about 1400 patients; there are now in Wisconsin 300 public health instructors; there are 14 open air schools conducted by the state association, providing for about 400 children, many of whom would become consumptive were it not for this preventive treatment; the Modern Health Crusade is being carried on in schools in practically every county in the state, the total enrollment last year being nearly 200,000 children.

Conduct Free Chest Clinics

One of the most practical and far-reaching efforts of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association during 1919-1920 was the conducting of free chest clinics in an effort to discover unknown cases of tuberculosis. From June 28, 1919, to October 9, 1920, the state association conducted 105 clinics in 55 Wisconsin communities, examining 5,755 persons without one cent of cost to them. Of this number 950 (or 16 per cent) were found to have tuberculosis, and were advised as to the best means of saving their families. A number of these communities were advised to provide fresh air school facilities, because of the large number of children among those examined in need of this kind of treatment.

With more than 2,000 deaths from tuberculosis still occurring each year in spite of the gains recorded, and with more than 16,000 living consumptives, the fight against the White plague is far from ended. The double-barred cross Christmas seal is one the most effective weapons and the work is dependent on how generously these are purchased.
