LAI D TO REST

IMPRESSIVE CEREMONIES FOR LATE PROF. ROSENSTENGEL.

Eloquent Words by Prof. Emil Dap-prich—Many Visitors Present
From Milwaukee.

The funeral services for the late Prof. W. H. Rosenstengel were held at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the family residence. The services were conducted by Rev. F. A. Gilmore of the Unitarian church, and were followed by a touching eulogy by Prof. Emil Dapprich of Milwaukee, director of the German-English Academy. The gathering was made up of the members of the faculty, and their wives, students, prominent citizens from town and Milwaukee. Among many handsome floral gifts were a harp of carnations sent by the German-English academy and a circle by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vogel Jr. Prof. Rosenstengel's class in "Faust" sent a large bunch of chrysanthemums, and his class in "Nathan der Weise" sent a bunch of roses.

Prof. F. A. Parker had charge of the music and appropriate hymns were rendered by a quartet made up of Prof. Julius E. Olson, E. R. Williams, Mrs. A. H. Voss and Miss Pickarte.

Rev. Gilmore in the course of his address touched upon the deceased as a model husband, father, and public-spirited citizen. He alluded to his untiring services in behalf of good government and charitable work.

Prof. Dapprich then spoke in an eloquent manner in German in the course of which he spoke of the deceased as a dear personal friend. The quartet sang "Abide With Me" which was followed by a benediction.

A very large line of carriages followed the remains to Forrest Hill cemetery. Owing to the cold weather, it was thought best to have Prof. Dapprich give his address at the house, so that the services at the grave consisted simply of a scripture reading.

Among those present from Milwaukee were B. A. Abrams, A. O. Trostel and Prof. E. Dapprich; Albert Wallber, Lorenz Maschauser and J. W. Suetterle, representing the German-English academy; Dr. Franz Pfister, representing the Twin Teachers Seminary; Theodore Writz, representing the Gemeinde, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vogel, Jr., Prof. Max. Griebisch, L. Frankfurth, F. Pfister, Henry Kam-schute, Paul Gerida and W. E. Bauma. The two sons of the deceased, William and Rudolph of Buffalo, were also present.

Members of the directory of the National German-American Teachers' seminary, the North American Gymnastic association Norman school and the German-English academy in Milwaukee adopted a memorial on the death of Prof. Rosenstengel in part as follows:

"The German-American who is in sympathy with the upholding and fostering of German speech and German literature in this country stands sorrowing at his bier. The German-American teachers, with whom he was closely allied, and upon whom his influence was of the most fruitful character, as head of the German department in the highest institution of learning in this state, as an active member of the National German-American Teachers' association, as a diligent contributor to pedagogical

SETON-THOMPSON

GREAT SCIENTIST—LECTURER— ARTIST COMING HERE.

A Close Observer of Nature—Well Known as an Author—Some of His Works.

It is not often that a scientist is also a superb artist, a vigorous and graceful writer, an inimitable storyteller, and a successful lecturer. Ernest Seton-Thompson, who is all of these, is in a class by himself, and his gifted wife is like her husband, both an artist and a writer. Like him also she is a lover of nature, and in her recently published book, "A Woman Tenderfoot," she has told of her experiences in the company of her husband when he has buried himself in the forest or the wilderness to ferret out the secrets of animals. Never before have wild animals been so diligently watched in their lairs, never have all their actions been so conscientiously recorded, and intelligently interpreted, never have all their characteristic attitudes been so faithfully sketched. The result of these studies has been to show that animals have personalities and that their reasoning faculty differs in degree rather than in kind from that of human beings.

In September, 1898 Seton-Thompson was unknown outside his own profession. In October "Wild Animals I Have Known" was issued from the Scribner's and met with a success quite unprecedented. Edition after edition was exhausted and Seton-Thompson in a few months became one of the best-known men in America. Mr. Kipling sought him out and in a long evening which they spent together, the author of the "Jungle Book" heard the true story of "Wabb" the bear, a story which is now famous as "The Biography of a Grizzly." The drawing in this book which shows Wabb's mother teaching her cubs how to catch ants, it would be hard to parallel anywhere. "The Trail of the Sand hill Stag," "The Kangaroo Rat," and "Tito," have followed in quick succession and show what a store of facts Mr. Seton-Thompson has learned from his furry friends.

Mr. Seton-Thompson has everywhere been received by crowded houses and commands perhaps the highest price of any lecturer now before the public. The fortunate circumstance of an open date on his schedule for the Northwest, has secured for Madison the opportunity of hearing him. His lectures are illustrated by numerous lantern slides from his own exquisite drawings, and he startles his audience by his clever reproduction of animal cries, a language which he has been the first to translate.

—L. C. Manson, ex-law, '02, who has visited here for a few days, returned to-day to resume his work with the census bureau at Washington.

—Rev. E. G. Urdike held a very pleasant reception last evening to members of the Christian Endeavor Society and their student friends.

Reports of the game received at Library Hall tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

MUSICAL CLUBS

NEW MEMBERS ELECTED TO FILL VACANCIES.

Successful Season Promised—Comic Opera to be Given at Home Performance.

The prospects for an unusually good Glee Club this year are very bright. Out of about fifty candidates for positions eight have been chosen, and are as follows: First Tenor—John V. Brennan; second Tenors—Fred P. Bowen, Harry J. Murrish, Clarence O. Dawson; First Bass—C. R. Rounds; Second Bass—William S. Hamilton, Raymond T. Conger, Corlyn H. Wilder.

The club as it now stands is composed of the following men: First Tenors—Albert C. Ehlman, who is also leader of the club, Herman T. Meinert, John V. Brennan; Second Tenors—Philip L. Spooner; J. Bartow Patrick, Fred P. Bowen, Harry J. Murrish, Clarence O. Dawson; First Bass—Frank E. Washburn, Allan T. Pray, C. R. Rounds, C. A. Williams, Harold S. Peterson; Second Bass—Clifford C. Ireland, Lehman P. Rosenheimer, William G. Hamilton, Raymond T. Conger, Corlyn H. Wilder.

The second tenor part will probably be strengthened by the addition of two more voices.

The University quartet, which is composed of picked voices from the Glee Club, will be the same as last year: Albert C. Ehlman, first tenor; Philip Spooner, second tenor; Allan T. Pray, first bass; Clifford C. Ireland, second bass.

Clifford Ireland has been elected manager of the club, and A. C. Ehlman will again be leader.

It has been decided for several reasons to give the play, which was so successful last year. As there are several men in the club who have had some experience in amateur dramatics, a comic opera is talked of to be given only at the home performance here in Madison, but nothing has as yet been definitely decided in regard to the matter.

Mandolin Club.

The first meeting of the Mandolin Club was held last night in the Law building. All the new members were present. The entire membership of the club at present is as follows: first mandolins, James E. Smith, Sidney C. Niles, Fred A. Landeck, Edward D. Jenner, George Gove and Ernest Tomlinson; second mandolins, Claude S. Beebe, Chauncey E. Blake, S. C. Phipps, Arthur Uihlein, Webber Russell, Paul Bennett; guitars, Beach W. Maguire, Osmund M. Jorstad, A. J. Rhodes, D. T. Sheldon, George Markham, Charles Thompson; violin, W. E. Brown; flute, Stuart E. Washburn; cello, Albert, C. Ehlman. Mr. Ehlman will be director of the club. At a previous meeting Mr. Smith was elected leader and Mr. Jenner, manager.

This year the Mandolin Club will be in a somewhat closer relation with the University than last. It will be under the direct control of the newly appointed music committee of the faculty which consists of Prof. Parker, Prof. Olson and Prof. Slichter.

The club starts out on this its second season under very favorable conditions. Eleven of the old members have returned, and the candidates for admission this year were so numerous that a second page.

FOR THE GREAT BATTLE ON MAR- SHALL FIELD.

Record Breaking Mass Meeting—Team Left This Morning—Condition of the Men—Game Called at 2 p. m.

At two o'clock to-morrow afternoon on Marshall Field will meet two of the strongest teams in the west. The last hard practices have been held by both. The plan of battle has been mapped out by the opposing coaches. Everything now rests with the players and the rooters as to whether Cardinal or Maroon shall wave in triumph at the close of the fray.

The Wisconsin players, 22 strong, left this morning at 8:30 over the Northwestern road. All the players, with the exception of Driver and Schreiber are in the pink of condition and fit to play the game of their lives. A considerable crowd of students were present when the train left to give them the last cheer until the referee's whistle blows to-morrow.

The commendable enthusiasm shown at the mass meeting last night has raised the spirits of the men and they all feel that the entire student body is behind them. As Coach King said, "The spirit of the team is the spirit of the college." Never has there been a more rousing mass meeting. College spirit fairly bubbled over and at times the U-rah-rah's threatened to spring the joists of Library Hall. Staid seniors and post-graduates could be heard to say in the lulls of the noise that this was more like their day, nearer the spirit of '94 which turned out a championship team. From the time when the team, a trifle downcast as they thought of the last mass meeting they attended, filed into the hall until the "twin fullbacks" Driver and Schreiber took the platform there was scarcely any cessation of the din. The departure from the time honored custom of having members of the faculty speak instead of students seemed to have a much desired effect and to free the crowd from their former restraint and their enthusiasm because spontaneous and vigorous. Short, inspiring talks were made by Messrs. Davies, McGowan and Beule, Coach King, and Players Cochems, Riordan and Skow of the team also spoke. Several new songs were practiced during the evening under the direction of Song-maker Hamilton.

The Team's Condition.

"The outlook for the Chicago game is very bright indeed...With the exception of Schreiber who has a bad knee and Driver who has been ill, all the men are in good condition. The last practice has been held and I look for a Wisconsin victory though I'll not prophesy on the score."

James Temple, Trainer.

—Professor Comstock reports poor luck as the result of the observations made for the shower of Leonids. Wednesday morning the sky was cloudy and nothing whatever was seen. Thursday morning there was a perfectly clear sky but only fifteen meteors were observed during the four hours of observation from 2 to 6 a. m. The shower will next be seen in 1933 or 1934. There were equally poor results at all universities.

Reports of the game received at Library Hall tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock.

A Proper Spirit.

The mass-meeting last night demonstrated that the student-body are still with the team. Not since the days of '97 has there been such an out burst of enthusiasm. What the meeting lacked in attendance it more than made up in noise and loyalty. The team had been disposed to think that since their defeat at Minneapolis the students had to some extent lost their interest in football, but the manner in which the crowd responded to the spirit of the occasion destroyed for all time any idea that Wisconsin cannot play losing football. The team went to Chicago to-day with an increased determination to wipe out the memory of defeat in previous years and to win from Chicago with the best showing that it is in their power to make. That this showing will bring joy to the hearts of all Wisconsin we can scarcely doubt. But it means some strong, decided, co-operative work at Chicago to secure this "consummation devoutly to be wished." Go to Chicago and root!

An Author-Naturalist.

Among the figures in art and literature that have come before the public in late years none is more prominent than that of Ernest Seton-Thompson the author-painter-naturalist. His sympathetic treatment of animal life and his speaking pictures have endeared him to the great army of animal lovers, while his original point of view and artistic style have gained him the favor of readers of good literature. The opportunity to hear this gentleman is a rare privilege and one that should be taken advantage of by every student.

We suggest the "Stagg Sleeve," designed as a general receptacle for foxy tricks, as an innovation in fall styles.

PRACTICAL ENGINEERING.

New Course Established This Year in Dairy School.

With the opening of the Dairy school this fall a new course has been adopted in the form of practical engineering. It has long been known that a course of this kind was needed and so for this purpose a new building has just been erected. To become an operator in the creamery or cheese factory one should have a practical knowledge of engines and boilers and also understand the cutting and the fitting of iron pipe, soldering, belt lacing, etc. So in this new building space is provided for giving instruction in running engines, putting up shafting, setting separators, and for studying the construction of pumps, water heaters, etc. Also a room is provided and fitted up with benches and appliances for teaching pipe cutting and fitting, belt lacing and soldering.

Thus when the student goes out to work in the factory he will be acquainted with the machines which he will have to use and also will be able to make repairs and improvements.

erous and well qualified that players of first class ability were obtained for all the vacant places. With this material a club equal to that of any university ought to result.

Another change favorable to the club and which will probably win equal favor in the general student body is the change in the class of music. This year no orchestra music will be attempted but popular music full of life and energy and exhibiting a genuine college spirit will be played.

Phi Beta Kappa Address.

All friends of the University will be glad to learn that the Phi Beta Kappa Society has secured from Dr. John Bascom a promise to deliver the annual address before that society next spring. The exact date of the address has not been fully determined, but it will probably be in the first week of June.

Dr. Bascom was President of the University from 1884 to 1887. These were most important years in the development of the institution, both in material growth and especially in its intellectual development. Dr. Bascom contributed more than any one else to this development and the University will be more than happy to welcome him here as its guest.

Yale will give free tuition to five Filipinos of exceptional fitness and high character. They will be selected by Judge Taft, Yale '78, who is head of the Philippine commission. This action by the Yale corporation is the first taken, so far, but other colleges and universities may co-operate as the government is becoming interested in the matter. American colleges have before this done good work in this line. Many of the students sent over by the Japanese government have become leaders in Modern Japan. Harvard's free tuition of Cubans this summer is also bound to result in good.

Pres. Jordan of Leland Stanford will doubtless be deposed. Mrs. Stanford has succeeded in having Dr. Ross removed as he combated views which she held. President Jordan has also become obnoxious to Mrs. Stanford as he holds well defined opinions upon evolution and anti-imperialism. The better part of the faculty regrets this attempt to suppress free speech but Dr. Jordan may have to go.

CONVOCATION.

Addresses by Dean Bryant and Acting-President Birge.

Dean Birge announced that at next week's convocation Prof. Olson would direct the singing of German songs. This announcement was welcomed by all after listening to the dampened vigor which was accorded to the well worn strains of "On the Shores of Fair Mendota."

Dr. Birge offered some well chosen remarks on the life of Professor Rosenstengel so much as the stern and punctilious sense of duty. Many incidents in connection with the University show minute exactness nor was his conception of duty ever narrow. Even this fall he has surprised the rest of the faculty by undertaking seventeen-fifths of work more than any member ever has.

Not less has he undertaken to engage in alleviating the condition of the poor, engaging in private visitation and other not altogether agreeable duties.

"However," Dr. Birge said, "he still lives in the lives of his students whom he has moulded by his influence and the reward of the teacher is that his character will live in the lives of the students and University after he is dead."

Memorial services for Prof. Rosenstengel will be held later.

Before the address of Dean Bryant
Mr. Washburn favored the audience with a solo.

Regarding the matter of student vote Dean Bryant thought that residence was the requirement of student voting.

The student like Nansen in his explorations does not gain residence when he goes to a certain place for a temporary purpose.

But it is found necessary for each man to have an assignment. The matter of whom to vote for lies wholly with the individual but the matter of where to vote can only be determined by law.

Many times in the last half century has this matter arisen and the legal presumption has been against it. The changing of residence is an act of the will and should not be for help in election but for all purposes civic and other.

In closing Dean Bryant urged the students to always act in good faith in the matter for if education be worth anything it will be along the line of character building. It would be better to be an ignoramus than to be an unconscientious educated man.
