The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

ACTIVITIES

1937-1942

Photo Album

To: Hoofers, past and present.

These photos are of some of the activities of the Hoofers, from 1937 to 1942.

Something was always going on every weekend. Often the activity was spontaneous, at others planned.

The student body was considerably smaller, the campus had a lot of green open space, and the pace was leisurely and friendly. For trips, the gals would buy the food, which was paid for by the participants, as was the gas. Owners of cars, paid nothing.

There were few places in Southern Wisconsin we didn't explore, including uncharted caves.

Returning Sunday evenings, we usually stopped at a fantastic spaghetti house in South Madison, for an "all you can eat" dinner.

The Hoofers provided students with an unique experience of comradeship. It was truly a group activity, with no "pairing off". There were, however, a number of students who later married one another.
