STUDENT COURT WILL TRY FOUR SCALPING CASES

Alleged Law Breakers Are First U. W. Offenders in Two Years

Four student cases of scalping tickets for the Homecoming game will be tried before the student court the first week in December, according to Clifford Mathys L. 3, president of the student court.

These cases will mark the first which have been tried by the student judicial organization in several years. They will probably be held December 6 and 7 and the defendants, if found guilty, will be given both the usual federal fine and a special university fine.

The report to the effect that Sydney Charney L. 3, who was charged with ticket scalping, had been released is not authentic. Charney still has a formal charge against him and will be forced to defend himself when the time arrives.

Court Handles Student Cases

It has been a custom that all student cases of law breaking be turned over to the judiciary organization of the student body. When the federal inspectors discovered the case of Charney, they accordingly gave precedence to the university authorities.

Thus, when the student court officials discovered the other cases, they reserved the right to handle them. It has been two years since the student court has had any charges to try. Not even cases of freshmen traditions violation have come under its cognizance within the past few years.

Mathys Traced Tickets

In telling how he discovered the men suspected of scalping tickets to the Illinois football game, Mathys said that he received word that tickets with such and such seat and row numbers had been resold illegally. From the records of tickets sold kept by the athletic department, he was able to trace the tickets to the alleged scalpers.

Mathys has received help in ascertaining the suspected scalpers from Ernest Pett L. 3. Together they have investigated the illicit sale of tickets and traced the cases to the end.

Gage Will Attend Meet of Unions at Toronto

Leslie R. Gage '23, president of the Union board will leave next Wednesday for the annual convention of college unions at Toronto, Canada.

More than 20 schools will be represented, and the purpose of the convention is to discuss problems common to college administration and to take up the subject of union buildings among the various schools represented.

The Hart Union at Toronto is the largest and most complete Union building in America, and the convention is being held there in order to make a careful study of its exceptional features. A tour through the whole building has been planned, and detailed discussion of each part of it will be noted by the colleges who are erecting new Unions.

Some of the Big Ten unions will be represented, among them Chicago, Purdue, Michigan, Illinois, and probably Ohio State.

Head of Girl Scouts of America to Speak Here

Dr. Elizabeth Kemper Adams, head of the Girl Scouts of America, will speak on "Girls' Activities," at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon in Lathrop parlors. Miss Adams will arrive in Madison today and will stay until Monday evening at the Park hotel. She is to be the guest of honor of the American Association of University Women, Monday afternoon.

Snowflake Dealers Open Season Display

Jack Frost and company, dealers in snowflakes and ice, announce the opening of the new season's display.

Mr. Frost, who has just returned from a northern business trip, says that in addition to his regular stock he has secured, at great expense, a new and complete line of wares.

"This preliminary display of stock will continue for some time, public my special exhibit at a somewhat late date," Mr. Frost declared.

With the first display of the season Mr. Frost, who is the sole agent of the Cold Weather Apparel company, has sold more than 3,000 winter coats, 4,000 felt hats and 800 fur-lined galoshes. The popular demand has been increasing steadily and accordingly Mr. Frost has more than doubled his stock.

"I again predict the popularity of fur-lined galoshes and with each pair sold I am presenting to the customer a new and pleasing type of rouge which is guaranteed absolutely," Mr. Frost said.

FOOTBALL IS DEBATE TOPIC

Negative Side Wins Debate For Intersectional Games

The debate questions of whether Wisconsin should play an intersectional football game next year, whether "yellow" journalism should be suppressed, and whether the United States Supreme Court decision preventing Japanese from becoming citizens of the United States, principally occupied the men's literary societies in their meetings last night.

Athena's program was headed by a talk on "Edgar A. Guest, Poet and Philosopher" by L. S. Mrkwicka '25. This was followed by a debate on the topic, "Resolved, that Wisconsin play an intersectional football game next year." The negative, supported by A. Sherr '24, defeated the affirmative upheld by W. P. Iwen '24. Various members of the society presented impromptu talks on "Will Wisconsin beat Chicago?" Leroy Cholsen '25, was voted to membership.

Philomathia's program consisted of a debate on the question "Resolved, that 'Yellow' Journalism should be repressed." The negative team, composed of V. E. Lemmer '26, C. Hiken L1, and Arthur Scheer '26, won the decision over the affirmative team consisting of C. Koons '26, Porter '26, and J. K. Douglas '25. The formal debate was followed by a general senate discussion of the entire society. W. E. Jerving '23, and H. H. Laskey '24, were elected to represent the organization in the intercollegiate semi-final debate tryouts.

In Hesperia, V. Roick led a Parliamentary drill and R. Peterson talked on "A Description and Interpretation of a Spanish Bull Fight from an American's point of view." A debate on the subject "Resolved, that the United States Supreme Court decision, preventing Japanese from obtaining citizenship in the United States" was won by the negative team, composed of G. A. Schutt '26, L. H. Hirsch '26, and H. W. Hartwig '24. The affirmative team consisted of M. J. Richdort '26, G. L. Dedrick '24, and B. A. Tostenson '25. D. E. Jandrey '24, presented a tryout speech, and H. Read '26, F. Luehring '25, and F. Kojis '24, were initiated into the society.

MAROON TITLE HOPES HANG IN BALANCE AS DETERMINED BADGERS INVADE MIDWAY IN LAST GRIDIRON CLASSIC OF BIG TEN SEASON

Call The Cardinal for Scores

Two telephones will be available again today for readers of The Cardinal who desire to get up-to-the-minute reports of the Wisconsin-Chicago game which begins at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Stagg field, Chicago.

Fans who were unable to make the trip to Chicago and who cannot be present at the gymnasium this afternoon, where the newly-purchased gridgraph will portray the struggle, may learn the latest score of the game by calling either Badger 250 or Badger 6606.

Both telephones were available last Saturday for results of the Michigan-Wisconsin grid contest and rang constantly throughout the entire afternoon. The plan proved so popular that it is being repeated today as a special service to readers of The Cardinal.

Scores of other Conference games today and the final standing of the Big Ten eleven also may be learned by calling The Cardinal as soon as the official scores are received by The Cardinal.

Remember,—For latest reports on today's football games—the last of the season—call The Cardinal at Badger 250 or Badger 6606 any time between 2 and 6 o'clock this afternoon or at Badger 1137 any time between 7 o'clock and midnight tonight.

Scholar From India to Talk Before Badger Club

S. S. Aiyar, a scholar from India, will speak on "The Culture and Arts of India" before a meeting of the Badger club Sunday evening in the Y. M. C. A. parlors.

Mr. Aiyar has received the degree of M. S. at the university, and has practically completed his work on his Ph. D. degree here. Part of his education was obtained in Madras, India, before entering American schools. As a representative of the progressive group of modern India, he is peculiarly able to present an accurate and complete report of his country's life, history, cultural arts, and ideas.

He is one of several foreign students, most of whom have attended this university, who tour the Middle West, giving addresses on their respective countries. China, New Zealand, South Africa, and India are represented. The regular musical program will complete the Badger club evening.

Views on "Lightnin'" Are Given By Pythians

Informal discussion made up a great part of the program of the Pythia Literary society meeting last evening in Lathrop hall. A discussion of the Facisti, and their objective, was given by Cornelia Heice '24.

A short sketch of the play "Lightnin'" and the leading character as portrayed by Frank Bacon, by Katherine Bighan '25, was followed by interesting views given by those who had seen the play.

Helen Giller '23, sang "Kashmiri Song". Kathryn Gigham '25, was program chairman pro tem.

The program next week will be an initiation stunt by the ten new members of the society. The chairman of the stunt is Dorothy Scott '24.

Rightful Owner Claims Lost Chicago Grid Ticket

The mystery is cleared.

One man lost a night of sleep and another did not have to depend on the alarm clock to awaken him yesterday morning on account of it.

Reading in The Cardinal after a night of worry that the Badger studio had found two tickets for the Chicago game, Harold A. Frey '24, called the proprietor, S. J. Liesman, before the latter had awakened, to claim them.

Calls for the valuable cardboards continued to come after they were returned, so many were their owners. Frey was able to identify them having remembered the section and row. He has lost them on the stairway as he went out of the studio late Thursday afternoon.

WEATHER: FAIR

Fair weather is forecasted for today and tomorrow. The temperature is predicted to rise slowly today.

(Special to The Cardinal)
CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 24.—America's second city is beginning to look like a suburb of Madison, Wis.

And it's all because of a football game. Thousands of Badger partisans are thronging the Midway today. In a few hours, they will merge with a mob of 32,000 gridiron fans who will surround Stagg field arena to watch Chicago and Wisconsin write "Finish" to the 1922 football season when they clash in the Mid-West gridiron classic this afternoon.

The Cardinal is just as prevalent as the Maroon in Chicago's Varsity village and it takes a discriminating eyesight to tell the difference between them. Everybody from Mayor William Hale Thompson to the colored bootblack stationed near Bartlett gymnasium is interested in the outcome of the game.

Maroons Battle for Title
Two wonderful teams will battle for supremacy in the most important game of the Big Ten Conference schedule, from the standpoint of quality. It is the same old story of an irresistible force meeting an immovable object. It is the story of the Marne, of Chateau-Thierry, and the only question is 'Who will be the Boche and who the victorious allies?'

Chicago is fighting for a Conference championship. The men of Stagg want to capture that title which has not been affixed to a Midway football team since the great Pete Russell, quarterback, Dolly Gray, halfback, and other stars of a previous epoch played against Butts Butler, Al Tandberg, and Tubby Keeler.

Way back in 1913 before anybody thought much of Ohio State and Illinois, the Chicago Maroons won a gridiron championship. Way back in 1912, the Wisconsin Badgers won their last gonfalon.

Badgers a Worthy Foe
After a search of consecutive wins, the Stagmen meet a worthy foe and one which will test their titular claims. If Chicago wins, the Maroons will be tied with Iowa and Michigan, providing, of course, that the latter emerge victorious from battles with Northwestern and Minnesota.

One of the greatest football machines that has ever been gathered at the Midway represents John D. Rockefeller and A. Alonzo Stagg. Built around the king-pin, John Thomas, is an offensive and defensive unit that is good enough to score three touchdowns against Princeton university. Union of the East, lose by only three points to the Tigers, and defeat Northwestern, Purdue, Ohio State and Illinois in rapid succession.

By no means is John Thomas the one outstanding player on the Chicago eleven. He merely overshadows 10 other worthies who are

NOTED CELLIST TO PLAY HERE

Vera Pappe, South African Star, to Give Recital
Next Week

Miss Vera Pappe, the noted cellist from South Africa, will appear at Turner hall Thanksgiving evening, under the auspices of the Madison Maennerchor society. Tickets for the performance are now on sale at Smith's Music store.

Miss Pappe was born in Capetown South Africa, and is of Russian descent on her mother's side. Educated in the University of South Africa, she graduated with the highest honors in her class. Then she entered the South African School of Music, and from there she went to the Royal Academy of Music in London. She completed the entire course there and then studied in Paris, and returned to London where she made her debut.

Following her debut came engagements with the London Symphony orchestra at Albert Hall, the Queen's hall orchestra, the Cardiss Orchestral society, the North Strathfordshire Symphony and others.

Miss Pappe is a composer of note, having written "Song of Pan" published by Schirmer of New York, and "Volga" published by Metzger, London.

Miss Pappe's appearance Thursday will be her second appearance in Madison. She appeared last year under other auspices and was entertained by the International club.

OUST KLAN, IS HYLAND ORDER

Mayor Instructs Police Chief to ganization

Mayor Tells Police Head to Stamp Out Secret Organization

NEW YORK—The following telegram from Mayor John F. Hylan, at French Lick, Ind., has been made public by Police Commissioner Enright.

"The dispatches from New York Thursday morning indicate that the Ku Klux Klan is getting busy in our city. If this is so, I desire you to treat this group as you would the reds and bomb throwers. Drive them out of your city as rapidly as you discover them. Assign your most expert detectives to this work, and as you secure the names of any of the organizers or members of this secret organization, be sure that their names are given to the press so that the citizens of our city may know who are supporting this vicious and destructive secret society. It is unfortunate that the federal government did not take a more firm position in this matter when the governor of Louisiana appealed to President Harding for federal action.

"Do not leave a stone unturned to ferret out these persons who are attempting to organize a society, the aims and purposes of which are of such a character that were they to prevail, the foundations of our country would be destroyed.

"I noticed in Wednesday morning's paper that the Rev. John Poach Straton and the Rev. Oscar Heywood, D. D., of Calvary Baptist church, are alleged to be connected in some way with this secret organization. If this is so, a little police attention along this line would not be out of order.

"Go after the K. K. K. and do not let them get a foothold in New York City. It is to be regretted that the men of the cloth, regardless of their denomination, would have anything to do with the Ku Klux Klan. These people can be dealt with under the conspiracy provision of the penal law of the state of New York."

The Rev. Oscar Heywood, who has been connected with Dr. Straton's church, is organizing Ku Klux Klan bands in this section, but Dr. Straton has repudiated him and denies any connection with the order.

ROME — Italy mourned today the passing of Baron Sonnino who was twice her premier and her former minister during the world war. Death came last night after an apoplectic stroke.

Fashion Takes Harness From Manly Shanks

Are you still wearing 'em? Some are, but lots aren't. Have you noticed any hastening youth stoop, clutch hastily, recover equilibrium, and hasten on? That's the reason, he's an apostle of the "no metal can touch you" club.

Manufacturers of Paris, Boston, and other devices designed to keep neat and snug the lowly sock are out of luck, because they simply aren't being worn. Honestly it's a great comfort—after the first day.

Unencumbered by harmful, hampering elastic creations, man's lower limbs now move with lighter steps. Unchecked, the blood of virile youth may course with all its natural vigor in those extremities. The discarded things are missed, but stoop and pull 'em up, and travel on. We must have our comfort.

Engineer Grads Take Varied
Jobs Throughout Country

The College of Engineering sent out more than 194 graduates into the various engineering fields last June, according to the last issue of the Wisconsin Engineer.

Although there were enough jobs to go around, it is believed that the field open to the graduates last fall was not filled with so many opportunities as heretofore on account of the unstable conditions of many industries and structural firms.

The electrical engineers took the lead with 51 graduates; the mechanicals following closely with 46; The civil engineers numbered 40; the chemicals 35; and the mining engineers 22.

Many of the graduates entered the service of the General Electric company, the Western Electric company, the William A. Baehr organization, or the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

The number of different locations all over the United States where engineers are situated is indicative of the far reaching influence of the university. The letters sent to the Wisconsin Engineer from last year's grads bear the post mark of almost every state in the union, from New York to San Francisco, and from Louisiana to Maine.

Some students have taken up laboratory work, some are engaged in engineering projects as assistants, others are directing work under their own supervision. Most of the graduates have entered large firms and a few have accepted positions as instructors in universities and colleges.

The salaries, according to the survey, range from $125 a month up to $3,000 a year.

Rev. Harris to Leave

About 130 people attended the card party for Miss Florence Jewett at G. A. R. hall Thursday night. The party was given by the William B. Crackers and cheese with dressing and "sinkers" and coffee were served by the "kitchen police" of the local post.

Motor Bus Regulation Bill to be Presented

Motor bus regulation, a subject for legislative action at the coming session of the Wisconsin legislature, was considered at the national meeting of utility and railroad commissioners recently held at Detroit, according to D. E. Gettle, member of the Wisconsin commission. He said that Washington was the only state which now efficiently regulates this new and growing transportation system. Details of the Washington plan are to be sent to Wisconsin for study in formulating a bill to be introduced in the Wisconsin legislature.

LONDON—The first division in the new house of commons which occurred this afternoon, was carried by the government by a majority of 103 against the laborite opposition.

When Premier Bonar Law moved that the government be empowered to take all the time of the house for government business, during this session, the laborites opposed it. The premier's motion however, was carried by a vote of 238 to 135.

Only 15 of Indian Mounds are Preserved

Only about 15 of the original 150 Indian mounds originally found on the shores of Lake Monona are still in a state of preservation. These mounds are found chiefly on the north and east shores of the lake, extending almost to South Madison.

The largest of these, a linear mound, is found near South Madison, and is eighteen feet wide and several hundred feet long. There are also several animal effigies included in this group.

This characteristic of mound building does not originate with the Indians, but dates back even to pre-historic times. History proves that mound building was especially prevalent in Asia, and that the Indians probably introduced this custom in America when they migrated here.

BADGERS INVADE MIDWAY IN LAST BIG TEN GAME

Maroon Champion Hopes Hang in Balance Today

Good enough to play on any eleven in existence. In the backfield, Strohmeier calls signals from quarterback. Strohmeier was originally an end, but Stagg sprung one of the surprises of the season when he shifted his star wingman to the pilot job.

Hold Thomas for Breaks

Back of the quarter are Harold Thomas, Bill Zorn, smashing fullback, Jimmy Pyott, and the great John Thomas, who is usually withheld until the important break comes and then injected into the fray to sweep opponents down the field under a merciless charging, driving, smashing attack.

Thomas rarely plays a full game, but when he is in the contest he carries the ball time after time without respite. In the Maroon line, Lampe and Dickson are a pair of star wingmen. King is probably the best center rush in the Big Ten this season, and Capt. Hal Lewis, Fletcher, Pondelik, Lampe, and Dickson compose a powerful forward wall.

Against this galaxy of title-chasing footballers will be pitted the best that Coach John R. Richards has developed. Leading the Wisconsin offense are Capt. Rollie Williams, premier halfback of the middle west, Shorty Barr, a deadly forward passer, Merrill Taft, fullback, Gibson and Jack Harris, halfbacks.

May Start Gibson

There seems to be much dispute over whether Gibson or Harris will start. As game-time draws near Gibson appears to be first choice. It is Gibby's last year of competition and the scrappy little back will fight from start to finish in his last chance to wear the Cardinal jersey of Wisconsin.

Jack Harris was injured early in the season. Game as a lion, he A—Football Front . . . . . refused to quit football, returned, was hurt again, and was called "out" for the rest of the season. Jack fooled the doctors and in the last two weeks has worked steadily with the team until now he is ready to engage in a contest as hard as that with Chicago.

Harris scrimmaged against freshmen and omelettes this past week and by his showing, made it evident that he can be called upon to enter the game at any time.

Below a Superb Tackle

When offense is mentioned, Gus Tebell should not be forgot. Gus is one of the most consistent wingmen in the country today. With three years experience on fighting Wisconsin teams, Tebell has gained an immense knowledge of rudiments and fine points of football. That he puts his knowledge into practice is indicated by his record in every game that the doughy end has ever played. Steve Polaski will play his second Conference game at left end, while Russ Irish is held on the sidelines.

In the middle line, Marty Below, superb tackle, Fat Smith, another tackle, Bieberstein and Hohlfeld, guards, and Tom Nichols, center are almost sure to start. Sykes will see service at guard before the game is over and Pearce is almost sure to take the pivot position against King, the Maroon giant.

This Wisconsin machine will play a versatile forward-passing, end-running style, with Rollie Williams leading the ground attack and Barr handling the air offensive. Chicago will play the safe and sane Stagg game, the "smash 'em, bust 'em, that's our custom," type of army football. With Zorn and the two Thomas boys to work from straight driving formations, the Maroons will offer a stiff workout for the Wisconsin line.

Title Hangs in Balance

Very few men can boast that they scored three touchdowns against Princeton in one afternoon. John Thomas is one man that can make this declaration. Princeton had no defense like the Wisconsin forward wall, however, and it will

WARNER WHIPS PITTSBURG PANTHERS INTO WINNING ELEVEN DESPITE MISSING STARS

Coach Glenn Warner started what is probably his last season as Pitt coach at the University of Pittsburgh with six of his stars of last season missing through graduation. Then while the team was battling Lafayette, Capt. Tom Holleran sustained a broken arm. But despite these drawbacks Warner hopes to make a creditable showing. Three of the men on whom he depends to carry Pitt through to a fairly successful season are "Pie" Williams, team and great Anderson halfback and great defense star and "Tino" Hewitt, husky plunging fullback.

LEADS ARE CUT DOWN IN FRAT BOWLING GAMES

Phi Kappa Sigma Wins Three Games From Sigma Nus

Interest in the inter-fraternity bowling tournament is becoming more and more keen as the advantage of the leaders is being cut down to within accessible distances for several of the other teams.

The Phi Kappa Sigma team figured in cutting the Sigma Nu lead when they took two of the three scheduled games. The Sigma Nus have a bare three game advantage as compared with the comfortable margin which they had maintained previous to their loss in the games with the Phi Kappa Sigma team.

Chemica's are Third

Through a gain of two out of three games in the match with the Alpha Chi Sigma five, the Delta Upsilon team forged into second place.

Alpha Chi Sigma remains in third place, closely followed by the Phi Alpha Delta team.

In the first division, Phi Sigma Kappa strengthened its lead by taking three straight games from Delta Chi. The Tekes, who have been running neck and neck with the leaders until the last few days, dropped still further behind when they let Theta Xi take two games from them.

The Alpha Sigma and the Sigma Phi Epsilons are tied for second place in the first division with sixteen wins and eight losses apiece.

At the end of the tournament, the four highest teams in each division will be decided upon. Next semester a round robin will be played off among these eight teams to determine the championship team.

Standings of the teams in each division follow:

Full House Anticipated at Gridgraph Returns

At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, the gymnasium will be open to the crowd of Chicago-Wisconsin grid-graph spectators.

A full house is anticipated as the cold weather will make the various radio broadcasting stations where the football fans stand out of doors less agreeable than the gym.

At the Michigan game 2,000 watched the gridgraph and many were turned away because of limited seating capacity.

Candy Football Still Waiting For Claimant

The candy football that was to be given to the Wisconsin player making a touchdown in the homecoming game is still claiming an owner. The choice sweet is on exhibition in the window of the Chocolate shop. It will be presented to the Badger scoring the first touchdown in today's game at Stagg field.

Football Fans Crowd Trains Bound For Game

More than 1700 students and football fans left yesterday afternoon on special and regular trains for the Chicago-Wisconsin game this afternoon.

A sufficient number went on the 1:30 o'clock special of the C. & N. W. to fill three trains. The regular which left at 1 o'clock was made up of three trains carrying more than 500 fans.

The 5 o'clock special carried 300 more and 400 or more are expected to leave on the 7:30 o'clock train this morning. The trains yesterday were started on time and arrived in Chicago in three hours. These trains all went over the shorter route.

The C. M. & St. P. special which left at 1:30 o'clock carried 200. Approximately 500 are expected to leave on the 7 o'clock special this morning. This train will carry the 75-piece band and the frosh and All-American football teams.

Morgan and Baker to Practice Law Again

The attorney-general's office will have a considerable turn-over on Jan. 1, 1923 when Herman L. Ekern, newly elected attorney general is inaugurated into this new position. At that time Atty. General William J. Morgan will retire from public life to take up the practice of law in Milwaukee, R. M. Hoyt, deputy attorney general, will be replaced by an appointee of Mr. Ekern. Mr. Hoyt plans to return to Milwaukee to engage in law. John T. Baker, assistant attorney general.

There is no surprise to see another one of those games with play surging up and down the field, punts frequent until a break comes, and then "give 'em everything you got."

Capt. Williams, Gibson, Barr, Tebell, Hohlfeld, Sykes, Nichols, Smith play their last games for Wisconsin. Capt. Lewis, Proudfoot, Strohmeier, Pyott, Fletcher, make their last fight for Chicago.

A Conference championship hangs in the balance. Stagg field will today witness such a battle as has rarely been seen on any football gridiron in America.

36 Stills Seized at Wausau are Destroyed

WAUSAU Wis.—Several hundred Wausau residents today watched local officers, assisted by state and federal prohibition enforcement agents, destroy thirty-six stills, and pour several hundred gallons of moonshine into sewers. The moonshine equipments were seized by the agents in their raids county during the past few months which they conducted in Marathon.

Erickson became lost when he went out Tuesday with a party of hunters to look for game. It is believed that both hands and feet can be saved.

County Center of Fight on Scourge, is Warning

Declaring that the county is the logical unit for fighting tuberculosis, Dr. J. S. Healy, of the federal bureau for tuberculosis eradication, addressed the county board last night, with a plea for immediate action in Dane county to wipe out the last traces of the cattle disease.

"It looks like a hopeless task to some of you," he said. "But it is not impossible and we are demonstrating this every day."

"There are 56,000 square miles heavily infected in the United States, which has 26 per cent of the tuberculosis cattle. This is mostly in the New England states and around the large cities of New York and Philadelphia."

"I'm Glad It's Over" is Hoover's Last Word

"I'm glad it is all over." These were the last words of international sculling champion who left for his home in Duluth, Minn., yesterday afternoon. He departed in company with his wife after he had been exonerated from charges of fourth degree manslaughter preferred against him as a result of the death of Herbert Seely, Oregon farmer, who died of injuries received when Hoover's car struck hat in which he was riding on Oct. 26.

Girls Set Friday as "International Night"

THE ALL-AMERICANS

In the hall of fame there are especial corridors allotted to gridiron heroes.

Each year are added unto the list of names enrolled, those of men who made gridiron history. Perhaps a sensational end run for a touchdown brought some player from obscurity into heroic prominence.

Perhaps an intercepted pass may have resulted in a score that won the game for the school and eternal glory for the runner. Or it may be that steady, consistent work on the team may have, for once, been appreciated and the player accorded the honor he deserved.

Crowds are fickle and emotional. Whom they choose for their latest heroes no one can guess.

Whether they choose the steady, dependable player or the flashy, scintillating star we do not care. Football fans must and should have their football heroes.

Whoever the heroes they choose to name, their fame is deserved. Football fame is earned ere it is given.

The coveted letters, insignia of the college, are not given for naught.

We would in no way detract from the well-earned glory of those members of the Badger squad who have so justly earned their nomination to Wisconsin's hall of fame.

Let no one take from them the glory that is theirs, the love and pride in them that is ours.

But while we watched those Cardinal heroes at Camp Randall we saw also that sturdy squad of black sweated men who faced the Varsity at practice.

Those men who had no hope of a place on the Varsity squad, yet who daily reported for practice, becoming each week a supposed Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, or Chicago team.

They receive no coveted "W"; No When Wisconsin football history is written these men should not be forgotten.

They receive no applause from the stands greets their daily battle with the Varsity at Camp Randall. They receive nothing but the satisfaction of doing what they can for the Wisconsin team; they give it to the success of that team all that they have to give.

When the Varsity squad gathers tonight in their banquet hall in Chicago we hope that not the last toast will be given to the All-Americans.

And in the corridors of that football hall of fame let us put a mythical tablet on which are enrolled the following names.

John C. Collins
George C. Tomlinson
William T. Hosmer
Jerry G. Sykora
George E. Wiggers
Arthur W. Christianson
S. Weldon O'Brien
Donald A. Pollock
Raymond J. Stipeck
Thomas B. Carter
Floyd F. Schrader

INTERSECTIONAL GAMES
The 1923 conference football schedule will soon be made out.

Wisconsin students are interested in that schedule.

In the final analysis no college can boast a championship unless its students are interested in the success of the teams.

Athletes of championship calibre, a coach of marked ability, a sympathetic and able athletic department are not the only essentials of a winning college team.

Back of any successful team are the students. It is partly to their support, largely to their spirit that championships can be attributed.

A good team can lose without a supporting student body to cheer it on; a poor team may win with such a supporting student body behind it.

Wisconsin students have always supported their teams. They have always been loyal in success or failure.

They still maintain that interest in spite of an athletic autocracy that refuses to listen respectfully to respectful requests.

Polite but insistent have been the repeated requests at Wisconsin for intersectional games.

The students want such games; the athletic board wants them; the players want them. But above and beyond these lesser petitioners sit powers that do not want intersectional games. And the higher powers rule of course.

It would seem as though human appeals addressed respectfully to a supposedly human supreme authority on athletic events would eventually reach a responsive chord.

We have the faith and the courage to continue to make such appeals. We have faith that the desired answer will be forthcoming.

The Cardinal is dedicated to the task of trying to secure intersectional games with major teams. And it believes that when the athletic authorities of Wisconsin realize how insistent is the demand for such games that they will arrange for one on the 1923 schedule.

Looking Back On Wisconsin

IN THE CARDINAL FILES

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

Because of the Thanksgiving recess, no Cardinal was printed.

20 YEARS AGO TODAY

Sale of tickets for the Chicago game was 125. Excursion trains to Chicago cost $3 round trip. The team planned to stay at the Chicago Beach hotel.

Engineers planned a minstrel show for January. This was the first time that vodvil had been planned by the engineers.

Swimmers plan tournament for December. New feature decided upon was a candle race the full length of the natatorium. Each swimmer must swim the 80 feet and keep the candle lighted. Dives after shining articles, such as silver-ware, saucers and coins were planned.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

Nine out of the Badger eleven were chosen in the all-conference team. Captain Hoeffel of the Wisconsin team was chosen honorary captain of the eleven men. Eckersall, noted football critic said that the Wisconsin men were best for their respective places in the big all-conference team.

Talk of having a policeman to chaperon dancing parties. All students resolved that they would rather give up dancing than to attend a public dance under the supervision of an officer in full uniform. No action was taken.

Albert R. Tormey, prom chairman, appointed 28 juniors to committees. A policy of democracy was maintained by appointing about half non-fraternity men and women.

5 YEARS AGO TODAY

Professor Joseph Jastrow spoke under the auspices of the Wisconsin forum in the Biology building on the subject of "Patriotism and Tolerance."

Second time concert of the Second Winter series was held by the first Regimental band at 3 o'clock in Music hall.

First joint meeting of the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. was held in Music hall at 6:45. Prof. G. L. Gillen spoke on "The Effect of the War on Certain Social Problems."

Rural Health Will Be Subject of Sunday Talk

"How to Improve Rural Health" is the first of a series of rural community talks that will be given before the members of the Agric Triangle at its meeting in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

The Euthenics club has been invited to meet with Agric Triangle for the occasion. An attempt will be made to coordinate the rural community work of the two organizations, according to T. B. Manny, president of Agric Triangle.

Results of the "Punkin Holler Community Meetin'" and the ticket sale for the program to be given next night will be discussed.

Mrs. Morrison Will Give Third Talk in December

"Journalism as a Profession for Women" will be the subject discussed on December 27 by Mrs. Frank B. Morrison at 8 o'clock in the Esther Vilas hall. This will be the concluding talk of a series of three which Mrs. Morrison is giving under the general head of "Womens' Place in the World." Mrs. Morrison, who is a Wisconsin graduate, has been a reporter, a manager, an editor, and a feature writer. The two previous talks in the series were "Feature Writing and Short Stories," and "Qualifications and Training of a Newspaper Woman." All Madison women as well as university women are invited to attend.

EX-Governor Lowden talked the other night. He came up on the platform, said "Ladies and Gentlemen" very originally, and then talked and talked. After a while he cleared his throat and then talked some more. After that somebody laughed and so everybody else knew that he should too, and so everybody else did too. When they all stopped laughing Mr. Lowden talked some more. Then everybody yawned and went home.

DO you know Humphrey?
(That's right — Humphrey who?)
Humphrey ever blowing bubbles.

REALLY, we think this is carrying things too far. Mrs. Dr. Meanwell called up the Delta Gamma house the other night and asked if Mrs. O'Shea's little girl, Harriet, was there. And one of the rude Delta Gamma girls answered her thusly:

"No, I'm sorry she's not here. She just stepped out for a glass of beer."

SPIRIT OF WISCONSIN

"The spirit of scholarship should be the predominating influence in university life here"—remark made at Vespers last Sunday afternoon.

Yessir! And a doughnut to a pants button all those girls signed the petition to go home Thanksgiving!

PRETTY BABY

The Capital Times is looking for the prettiest baby in Dane county. We suggest:

Bill Eddy
Hilarious Bacon
Art Molding
Gus Tuckerman
Heinie Hall
Tommy McCandless

ECONOMICS 1A

"Say! I only got 72 in my mid-semester."
"I should say that was enough to Kieckhofer."

ANTHOLOGY OF FACULTY SKELETONS

Winken, Blinken and Nod.

Nov. 19, 9:30 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. Carl Russel Fish out of town. Nobody knows why. We suspect boot-legging or something.

Nov. 17, 4:30 p. m. Max Otto blushes with embarrassment and emotion when blithering young thing sinks adoringly at his feet and asks in tremulous tones, "What do you think of the 'Psychology of the Early Morning Hours?'"

Nov. 18. Dr. Dawson discards his sandals, and takes on socks and shoes for the winter. (to be continued)

BUT ANYWAY, when we think

OF THE GAME, we remember what

MAMMA TOLD us years ago

IN THE DAYS that are gone forever

THAT "Love Conquers All!"

All together on that good old ditty "When we win, you'll hear old Staggy chuckle, chuckle, saying, 'the poor team won'".

Yesterday afternoon our teacher came into one of our classes and said "good afternoon" and so the other fellow and I answered right back "hello." And so he said, in a kind of joking way, "Somebody must be sick, there are so few here," and we answered back that "yes, we were both sick, because we didn't get any tickets," and so we all laughed, although, in a way, the joke—whoa! I'm over on the alley's preserves.

FAMOUS QUOTATIONS

"Oh, and say if you run into Johnny Leonard—he's a Junior down at Chicago—remember me to him. Yes, he plays in the band."

RICH MAN HITS MODERN CO-ED

Campus Authorities and Tests Tend to Vindicate Her

Of the 184 women who passed the foot of the upper campus at Park street yesterday afternoon at 3:30 only one wore high heeled shoes.

This fact does not substantiate the statement made by Alonzo B. See, a millionaire elevator builder of New York, in his reply to a letter asking for aid from Adelphi college, that "the young women of our country do need to be educated, but the education they need is to stop smoking cigarettes, using slang, swaggering, give up their bold and brazen manners, their paint, powder, lipstick, and their high heeled shoes, and to cease to dress indecently."

Not only was there a lack of high heeled shoes, but the amount of powder, lipstick, and rouge in evidence would not make the Hudson's plant a larger production for Wisconsin women. As for the slang one demure young girl uttered a soft "gosh darn," and to even up the count against high heels one woman wore shoes without heels.

Dean Nardin Vindicates Co-eds

"Mr. See implies that colleges are in no way effective against the foolish mannerisms to which we all properly object," is the opinion of F. Louise Nardin, dean of women. "On the contrary, if he would stand on our campus and watch for high heels, and for evidence of his other objections he would be pleasantly surprised."

"That college does not challenge a young woman to turn from asking what is the good of smoking, lipstick, and high heels, and to ask what is the good of foolish manners is at once to be answered in the negative. If Mr. See would watch the women as they go up and down the hill he would soon understand how little are the faults to which he refers. Evidently he is a person who watches his dislikes, and fails to notice the rest."

The only comment of George C. Sellery, dean of the College of Letters and Science, was, "I think he is an irascible old gentleman without any sense, and double that."

Evidence of Dissipation Is Sight
"Mr. See is evidently suffering from indigestion," Dean H. Glicksman, assistant dean of the College of Letters and Science said.

"College women are not making a mistake in cultivating the arts which make them personally attractive while at the same time cultivating their intellects," was the observation of Professor M. Vincent O'Shea, Professor of education. "It would be a serious mistake for women to be entirely different from the women outside of college."

"As for the use of cigarettes, an investigation at the university has been going on for a couple of years, and very little actual evidence of smoking or other forms of dissipation has been found. Undoubtedly an occasional person goes to extremes, but it is much less common in than out of college. Mr. See is criticizing the tendencies of the times, and his criticism is not as applicable to college and university life as to life outside."

Dr. Walter H. Sheldon is reported in an improved condition at St. Mary's hospital where he was taken for an operation several days ago. The operation which was performed by Dr. P. W. Jackson, was for abdominal trouble.

ROCK CRADLE; ROCK WORLD

Wobbly State of Globe Needs
Steadying Hand—
Mrs. Park

"It's long been said that the hand that rocks the cradle rocks the world," Mrs. Maude Wood Park, president of the National League of Women Voters said on her return to Washington recently, after attending the convention of state leagues in Indiana, Ohio, and New Jersey.

"I confess I believe it. Rocking the world is quite as disastrous a proceeding as rocking the boat and we are looking for somebody to blame for the present unhappy condition of the world, perhaps we ought to mark back to the hand on the cradle and the rocking it started."

"It is felt that if rocking the cradle turns out citizens who rock the world keeping the cradle on an even keel will bring us men and women who can be counted on to hold the world steady. It's going to mean a tremendous thing when every mother can give her children the foundation of their political education, and it is because women feel this so strongly that they are attending our League schools of citizenship."

Mrs. Maude Wood Park will speak at 4:30 o'clock next Monday afternoon in 165 Bascom hall on "Citizenship, Our Individual Responsibility." The Collegiate League of Women Voters cooperating with the Madison organizations succeeded in bringing Mrs. Park here.

Mrs. Park graduated from Radcliffe in 1898 with high honors. She spent two years in the Orient studying the position and general conditions of the women in China, Japan, the Philippines, New Zealand, Australia, India, Turkey, Siam, and Egypt.

DRAMATIC SKETCHES FEATURE ORPH BILL

Billie Gerber's Revue is just one of the bright spots on the Orpheum's offerings for the last half of the week. It is true that Songs, Silks and Satins have much to do with the success of this clever entertainment, but the accordion numbers by Minette and Riedel and the dancing of charming Virginia Rucker are being more than well received.

A dramatic sketch "The Visitors" is offered by Porter J. White and his cast. A comedy based on motion picture life is the offering of Fred Moore and Leo Kendal, production and vaudeville stars. Mr. Kendal was formerly a partner of Porter Ball, the celebrated old man character of the Orpheum Circuit.

Under the title of "Taking Things Easy," George Degnon and Burt Clifton are presenting a novelty that is surprising. From the opening number until they finish their act, the audience is astonished by the series of surprises presented.

Known as "the all round boys" Parry and Lawton are notable for their versatility. They conclude their performance with a roller skating comedy, which gives their fun festival a whirlwind finish. "Tattered Talent," by Will Morris, depicts a freight train on a sidings of a railroad of a small town with Mr. Morris leaving his "Pullman Freight" in the character of a roller-skating tramp.

Detective Tricks Baffle Audience In "Bat" Mystery

BY K. I. P.

"A dramatic smash" was promised the full house that attended "The Bat" at the Parkway theatre last night, and a "dramatic smash" it was from start to finish.

"The Bat" mystery baffled the entire audience through three acts of concentrated detective tricks made vivid by the presence of a convenient thunder storm at the most thrilling moments, and the piercing screams of Lizzie, the maid.

Miss Cornelia VanGorder, the undaunted maiden aunt of 60 years, played by Miss Fanchon Campbell, gave the audience some exceptional acting. She was never afraid, always possessed with a knowing look, a calm serenity in the face of man or pistol, and kept up a witty repartee with the much too noisy detective Anderson.

Lizzie, played by Miss Clara Coleman, put the house in an uproar by her powerful shrieks, and her unflinching faculty of saying the wrong thing at the wrong time. She broke the tension during the most hair-raising moments, and gave the audience a moment to catch its breath.

The stolen money, the murder, the love affair between the emotional heroine, Dale Ogden, and the accused bank clerk, Brooks, all become hopelessly entangled by the guilty looking Japanese butler Billy the nervous, Dr. Wells and the extremely blowy detective, Anderson.

Miss Valerie Valaire, as Dale Ogden, and Edward L. Cullen, as Brooks, pleased the audience in their ardent little love affair.

Everybody in the play was suspected of being the Bat except the ladies, from the butler, to the doctor. Frank G. Bond, as Dr. Wells, Orrin Shear, as Billy, the butler and Brandon Evans as the detective, kept everyone guessing until the last scene. The Unknown Man, Earnest Pollock, finally unravels the mystery after a scene of shooting, shrieking, and prowling about in a dark attic fitted out with a secret room, a skylight, and a much coveted black suitcase.

Jobless Again Exceed

Jobs in Wisconsin

For the first time since April of this year the number of persons seeking work exceeded the number of requests for help when the 11 state free employment bureaus reported last week that the labor supply exceeded the demand. Placements for the week totalled 2,928, as compared with 2,922 the previous week and 1,282 the same week a year ago. This indicates, the commission said, that although there is no longer a shortage of labor, employment conditions are much better than they were a year ago.
