FINKLE SNAPS LEG AS TRACK MEN WIN

SKI-JUMPERS BEAT GOPHERS BY 100 POINTS

National Champion Wins Honors in Midwest Meet With 103 Foot Jump

The 3,400 Wisconsin sport fans who gathered on and around Muir knoll yesterday afternoon witnessed 40 of America's foremost ski-jumpers battle for honors, and incidentally watched the Badgers humble the Gopher snow artists by a margin of more than 100 points. Plenty of thrills were provided when time after time the jumpers would lose their balance and fall headlong for 30 or 40 feet along the slide. Lack of snow was the cause for this, as the men were not able to stay on their feet when a patch of bare ice was encountered.

Storm Jumps 95 Feet

Ragnar Omtvedt, the present national amateur champion of America, made the longest jump of the day, 103 feet, and likewise was awarded first place in the Midwestern meet by virtue of a total of 231 1-4 points. The Chicagoan displayed wonderful form and ability as he gracefully descended the slide and slid far out onto the ice.

Sverre Storm, Wisconsin, was the high individual man in the Wisconsin-Minnesota dual meet with a total of 143 1-2 points. His 95 foot jump put him far ahead of any of the other entrants, and consequently cinched the affair for the Badgers.

Two Injured

Two of the jumpers suffered injuries which were serious enough to prevent them from further competition. They were removed to the university infirmary, where their condition was reported as not being serious. The doctor in charge stated they would be dismissed within a day or so.

The whole affair was a big success for the Badger Ski club from a financial standpoint. Over 2,500

French Professor to Give Courses Here

Prof. Charles Cestre, professor of American Civilization and Literature at the University of Paris, who has just completed a series of lectures at Wesleyan University, Connecticut, and other Eastern colleges, is expected to arrive at Madison late tonight. He will spend the remainder of the semester at Wisconsin giving lectures in the department of Romance languages.

Professor Cestre's courses, which begin Tuesday, Feb. 21, will be on the following subjects: "The French Revolution and English Romantic Poets," "French Lyric Poetry," and "The Contribution of French Thought to the Human Ideal." The last of the two lectures will be given in French. The last of these is open to the public, and will be given Tuesdays and Thursdays at 3:30, 112 Bascom hall, instead of 322 Bascom hall as announced.

Professor Cestre is well known in France because of his books on English literature and American industrial development. He spent a week in Madison in the summer of 1919, and made several speeches here at that time.

DESERT ISLAND

Lit Ventures Into Field of Shipwreck Romance

Supposing you were lost on a desert island with only one other to make things interesting, wouldn't you, er—make things interesting?

It is this problem of following literary precedent that occupies Parkington in Horace Gregory's story "Swiss Family Parkington" in the February "Lit," which will appear on sale Thursday morning.

Are you the kind of person who takes icy showers of mornings or do you use to be of that courageous brand and lose your courage?

Have you psycho-analyzed your landlord, that is, in a detached way when you were not sufficiently in his debt to color your reasoning?

Don Hanson has two essays in the Lit's current issue, one on the landlord and one on the showers, which will find many sympathizers among the students and faculty.

47-34 Score Can't Make Up for Loss

(Special to the Cardinal)

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Wisconsin defeated Notre Dame 47 to 34, in a dual track meet held here today, but experienced the worst calamity of the athletic season when George Finkle, premier Wisconsin distance runner and conference cross country champion snapped his leg during a hot finish in the two mile.

The break, a double one near the ankle, will probably put an end to Finkle's sparkling athletic career. The accident occurred during the last lap of the long grind when the Wisconsin boy was making a game effort to keep in the lead. He had won the mile in fast time of 4:43.

Had Brilliant Future

Only a week ago Finkle broke Arlie Shardt's annex record in the two mile run by almost three seconds, and a brilliant future was predicted for him in his remaining two years of conference competition. He was a mainstay of Wisconsin's track hopes for this spring.

The sensation of the meet occurred when Dale Merrick beat the Notre Dame pole vault record by vaulting 12 feet 5 3-4 inches. E. W. Johnson won the quarter in 52 2-5 second, 1-5 second slower than record.

Wisconsin scored a slam in hurdles.

Summaries:

40 yard dash—Desch, N D, first; Hayes, N D, second; Spetz, W, third. Time, 4 3-5 seconds.

40 yard hurdles—Knollin, W, first; Stolley, W, second; Newell, W, third. Time, 5 minutes, 2 seconds.

Mile run—Finkle, W, first; Kennedy, N D, second; Schneider, W, third. Time, 4 minutes, 32 seconds.

Quarter mile—Johnson, W, first; Spetz, W, second; —, N D, third. Time, 52 1-5 seconds.

Two mile run—Bäumer, N D, first; Rossmiessel, W, second; —, N D, third. Time, 10 minutes, 4 seconds.

High jump—Platten, W, first; Notre Dame second and third. Height, 6 feet.

Shot put—Sundt, W, first; Notre Dame, second and third.

Pole vault—Merrick, W, first; Hamman, W, and Hogan, N D, tied for second. Height, 12 feet 5 3-4 inches.

Half mile—Wade, W, first; Ramsey, W, second; Notre Dame third. Time, 2 minutes, 3 3-4 seconds.

Relay won by Notre Dame.

Spingold is Chosen To Coach Haresfoot In 24th Annual Show

Harry W. Spingold, Chicago, has been selected as the coach of "Jerusalem Junction," the twenty-fourth annual Haresfoot production. Spingold, together with an assistant chorus director, will have complete control of the staging and presentation of the 1922 show.

The final selection of the cast and chorus of "Jerusalem Junction" will be made by Spingold within two or three weeks, and he plans to have the show in rehearsal by the second week in March. Until then he is engaged in making slight revisions and alterations in the book of the play, written by Paul Gangelin '23, and Theodore Schortz, grad, in order that the play will be in the best possible shape for production.

THE opening of a new bar was announced yesterday,—at least that is what we took the first paragraph to mean,—and a call was sent out for assistant bar-tenders and steady patrons. Why seek the new? This place has just as much sawdust on the floor and just as good flat ale. Once in a while we uncover something stronger with an actual kick in it. Therefore, we claim your patronage as much as ever. If you can bring in something of your own with more kick to it, our joy would be declared out of bounds. Con tribute, we pray you, to our mutual benefit.

WHAT gorgeous sum has the Horoscope contest brought to you? Our interest has not, so far, been great enough to permit us the indulgence. What with the early semester spurt, a few parties, and last minute gym requirements, right on top of the Camel habit, the interests of our heart compel us to begin a Stethoscope contest with the gentlemen from the clinic as judges.

BECAUSE we were without our horn-rims, we could not be sure, but some gentleman that looked a great deal like Gus Tuckerman was in the path of street car on State street, the night of the latest fire, attempting to persuade the motormen that the car was traveling in the wrong direction. Gus offered to lift it over onto the other track, but the motorman kindly refused to put him to the trouble.

AN HAIR AT LARGE in the Line o' type reminds of the T. B. Man who went home to his brunette wife with a blond hair on his shoulder, and said that he had fallen asleep in the office and dreamed of heaven with its golden haired angels, and perhaps that is how the hair got there.

ARE you one of the optimistic birds who have figured out the hours until Spring vacation? We know several of this species who have planned three parties, a golfing foursome, and an argument with the paternal ancestor for that period. Ourselves, we want nothing more exciting than a little trip to Cuba, taking in the north side of Canal street in New Orleans on the way.

THE PASSIONATE PRESS-ING!

Kiss me again, my dear; a poet must
Be passionate and his passion thrust
His mad emotions on the printing press
Before he finishes a last caress,
(My dear, this makes an excellent refrain)
"Kiss me again"!

You know, my sweetheart, I must hold my job,
Giving this sort of nonsense to the mob
That lives on scandals in the Daily Sheet;
At second-hand, it finds our kisses sweet.
(And yet, you seem to like the sport—that's plain)
Kiss me again!

Indians, border renegades—outlaws of that vast stretch of open country in the far northwest—every hand lifted to kill, if necessary, to carry out their depredations against the law!

And Corporal Cameron, Royal Northwest Mounted Police, faced them alone, beat them at their own game, and won promotion and the hand of the prettiest girl in the Fort MacLeod district.

MEMORIAL MEDAL OFFERED FOR SENIOR THESIS ON INDUSTRY

THE JOHN LENDRUM MEMORIAL MEDAL

For the best senior thesis dealing with industrial relations or a kindred subject, the John Lendrum Mitchell Memorial medal will be annually awarded at commencement, beginning this year. The medal is given by William Merrill Chester of Milwaukee in memory of Lieut. John Lendrum Mitchell '17, who was killed while piloting an American airplane in France, May 18, 1918.

The gold medal was designed by J. P. Legastelois, official medalist of the French government, a member of the superior council of the Beaux Arts, and Chevalier of the Legion of Honor. The obverse face of the medal bears classic figures symbolic of capital and labor, and the Latin inscription, "Ad mutuam operam nati sumus."

The reverse face bears the words, "John Lendrum Mitchell, U. W. 1917, Memorial Medal," and "University of Wisconsin Prize Essay in Industrial Relations, won by . . ." Mr. Chester will provide a trust fund for the medal to be struck annually. Provision will also be made for the winning thesis to have the imprint of the medal on the bound library copy and for its publication.

Prof. John R. Commons, chairman of the committee in charge of the award, states that the competition is open to all seniors in the university. Those interested should consult him concerning the eligibility of their subjects.

John Lendrum Mitchell was the son of former United States senator John L. Mitchell. His grandfather, Alexander Mitchell, was for 30 years president of the C. M. & St. P. railway. His brother, Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, is in the United States air service. He was a member of Chi Psi fraternity.

Mr. Chester, who has founded the memorial, was the life-long friend of Lieut. Mitchell, and knew his interest in improving the relations between labor and capital. Mr. Chester is a graduate of Princeton and Columbia Law school, and is now with the Wisconsin Securities company of Milwaukee.

ON READY-MADE IDEAS

THERE is a seldom noted danger that every university student faces—the danger of losing his own individual methods of thought while obtaining those of others. Students come here from far places to sit at the feet of the masters, grasping new tools placed in their hands, and visioning new worlds discovered by new thoughts. But too many, in their mental indolence, take without question and remember without assimilation the truths presented. Something they are taught of history, the experience of others; of science, the knowledge of others; of literature, the thought of others. Will they be able to look back on their school career and say which of these truths will guide them, and why? Will they be able to say "This belief is mine," rather than "This was my professor's?"

Shall a student freely spend four of his most valuable years to purchase a pate full of ideas, which, like the clothes he wears, are ready-made? If any one expects to build a stronger bridge, or paint a finer picture, or raise a better crop than those who have gone before him, must he not reason a step farther than they, in his own individual manner? More than once, before he finds the last steep hill behind him, each student will stand in a "minority of one;" more than once his own reason will have to decide what all his borrowed lore can never settle. If man is a reasoning animal, must he wait until he has left the university before exercising that gift which more than any other separates him from the beasts of the field?

How many students could have stated their own life philosophy as clearly and honestly as President Birge did the other day in answer to Mr. Bryan? Great indeed, is that man who can meet the problems of the world with, "Thus I have been taught," but greater far is he whose watch-word is "I have reasoned, therefore I believe." As stout old Saint Paul wrote from

Athens, "Prove all things; hold fast to that which is good."

GIVE WAY FOR THE CONFERENCE

THE first week in March has been set as the time for the annual all-university religious conference. This conference has grown steadily in interest and significance during the last few years and may now be classed as one of the essential features of the school year.

The program, which will be announced shortly, includes a splendid array of inspirational speakers who will deal with the most vital spiritual problems confronting the world.

It is only proper that other functions give way to the conference. The attention of the students should not be distracted at that time any more than absolutely necessary. This is not asking too much in view of the importance of the conference.

PROFESSOR CESTRE

THE fact of the union of Europe and America in a more and more binding intellectual compact is witnessed in the increase of exchange professorship between the universities of the two continents.

Wisconsin is particularly fortunate in having Professor Cestre of the Sorbonne as lecturer on French literature and civilization. Although he is expected to stay with us for just a short time, we hope his sojourn here will be a happy one and that he will bring to us some of the European atmosphere where the love and intensity of scholarship so richly abound—an atmosphere not so often found here in our younger American universities.

We welcome Professor Cestre and the France which he comes to reveal to us.

A COLLEGE CENSUS

Oregon, Iowa and Utah have the largest number of students in college, according to their respective populations, and Tennessee has the lowest proportion, with Arkansas and New Mexico closely following Tennessee, Dr. Geo. F. Zook of the United States Bureau of Education told the Association of American Colleges here today. Dr. Zook stated that he obtained this information from statistics compiled for the last full college year of 1920-1921.

"The statistics also revealed that the Western States of California, Oregon and Utah take care of a larger proportion of their students in their own colleges and universities than any other states," continued Dr. Zook. "New Jersey brings up the rear with only 18 per cent of her students in New Jersey institutions and Connecticut with 35.6 per cent.

"On the other hand, the Eastern States of New Hampshire, Connecticut, Maryland, New Jersey and Massachusetts contain the institutions that draw most powerfully from other states. Indeed the higher institutions in these states are training a larger number of non-residents than they are of citizens of their respective states."

Dr. Zook also announced that the attendance at universities, colleges and professional schools last year reached 450,000, which is a gain of 36 per cent over the attendance in the war year of 1917-18.

Accurate figures of foreign students in American colleges and universities were also supplied by Dr. Zook, the total being 6,900. China leads with 1,443 students, and Canada is second with 1,294. Other countries are as follows: Japan, 525; South American countries, 563; Russia, 290; India, 235.

Students of today take more interest in the affairs of the general community and are more useful as citizens even though younger in average age than those of 10 or 20 years ago, according to the annual report of Henry A. Yeomans, dean of Harvard college.

Voters League To Hold Open Meeting
For Millard Speech

The open meeting this month of the university chapter of the League of Women Voters will be held Monday, Feb. 27 at 7:30 in Music hall, where Walter J. Millard of Philadelphia, field secretary of the Proportional Representation league, will speak on the proportional representation plan. He will be introduced by Mrs. Willard G. Bleyer, president of the County League of Women Voters.

The Collegiate League of Women Voters was organized out of the old Women's Suffrage league which became defunct after the passage of the suffrage amendment. Sonya Forthal '22 is president and Elaine Eschweiler '22 is secretary. The organization instructs in the citizen services of the woman to her community. Problems of the voter are discussed.

Although the league is a comparatively young organization and numbers only about 50 members, it has been recognized by Keystone. Among the accomplishments of the year's program of the league are the all-student mass meetings conducted in November at which university faculty members spoke on the subject of the Conference for the Limitation of Armaments. The result of these meetings was that a resolution was sent from the student body to Washington expressing the sentiment for such a limitation as could be arranged.

Gilbert Comstock, a sophomore in the Ag school, has as his guest his father, G. A. Comstock of Oshkosh. Comstock is a member of Alpha Gamma Rho fraternity.

Members of Alpha Chi Sigma fraternity gave an informal dinner dance last evening at 9 o'clock at their chapter house. Mr. and Mrs. Anthony W. Pesch were chaperons. Twenty-five couple were present.

MATMEN WIN IN TILT WITH PURPLE TEAM

Show Betterment Over Work Against Gophers

Coach George Hitchcock's Badger grapplers defeated Northwestern last night by a score of 28 to 22. The Wisconsin mat men showed much improvement in their work over that of the Minnesota meet, and although the matches were close, the Badger team was decidedly the better.

In the 175 pound bout, Heuer of Wisconsin contending with Wyne of Northwestern did the best work of the evening. Although outweighed nearly 20 pounds, this plucky grappler won his 12 minute bout, having the advantage of his heavier opponent for 3 minutes 41 seconds.

Cy Pins Griffith

Capt. Cy Peterman again demonstrated his cleverness on the mat, pinning his 145 pound man, Griffith, to the floor in a fierce 6 minute round. The Badger captain gives promise of being this year's conference welterweight champion.

Phelps of Wisconsin downed Janness of Northwestern in the 115 pound bout. The Badger midget, although new at the game, stuck gamely to his man and put his shoulders to the mat at the end of 11 minutes 19 seconds.

Woelffer Felled

In the lightweight go, Woelffer, the Wisconsin 125 pounder, was felled by Myer of Northwestern after an 8 minute 53 second battle. Schenk, the Badgers new 135 pounder, lost to Hines of the Evanston squad by a decision in which the Purple's man had an advantage of 2 minutes 45 seconds.

Summaries for the seven bouts are:

115 pound—Phelps, W, beat Janness, N. Fall in 11:19 minutes.

125 pound—Myer, N, beat Woelffer, W. Fall in 8:53 minutes.

135 pound—Hines, N, beat Schenk, W. 2:45 advantage.

145 pound—Peterman, W, beat Griffith, N. Fall in 6 minutes.

158 pound—Templin, W, beat Mathews, N, 2:40 advantage.

175 pound—Heuer, W, beat Wyne, N, 3:41 minute advantage.

Heavyweight—Horton, N, beat Gregory, W. Fall in 3 minutes.

ADOPT OLD ENGLISH RING CUSTOMS AT PENN

In an effort to make boxing a popular sport in American colleges, some of the old English ring customs are being adopted. It is planned to eliminate all undue rowdiness and roughness from the game, thus giving it a chance to grow.

Pennsylvania is taking the lead in the field in attempting to place the game on a level with other sports. In the match with Virginia recently, the referee was kept out of the ring, as is done in England, and two judges decided the bout.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 42 at 5 p. m. yesterday, and the lowest was 28 at 7 a. m. this morning. Sun sets at 5:33.

The temperature has risen rapidly in the east and south under the influence of southerly winds. There were a few snow flurries in the lake region but the weather is mostly clear elsewhere east of the Rockies. The barometer continues low west of the Rockies with widespread rains in the lowlands, and snow in the mountains.

FARM STUDENTS

The Farm Students' Discussion club will meet in cafeteria of University Y at 12:30 today to discuss Phillipine independence. All farm students invited.

Notre Dame Defeats Hockey Team, 3-0

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—The Wisconsin hockey team received a 3 to 0 defeat at the hands of Notre Dame yesterday afternoon. Both teams were unable to show good playing due to the poor condition of the ice caused by the rain. Goals made by Casterson 2, Gorman 1.

Frosh Finds Watch in Gym Locker and Turns it Over to Steinauer

Joe Steinauer, swimming coach, claims to have found the honest man which Diogenes searched for so long in Clarence Welker '25, 301 Huntington court.

Welker, in preparing for his usual gymnasium class Thursday, opened one of the lockers in the gym and to his surprise found a 17 jewel Waltham watch lying on the floor of the locker. He reported the find to Steinauer and turned the watch over to him.

"So many articles have been reported lost in the locker rooms lately, and so few of any value turned in that this incident is quite out of the ordinary," said Steinauer in commenting upon Welker's find.

persons paid their admissions at the gate, while at least 1,000 more came in via the free route. The large surplus that was left in the coffers of the club will enable the society to become much more active.

Visitors Banqueted

The club entertained 45 visitors and members at a banquet which was held at the city Y. M. C. A. last evening. Axel Hendrickson, of Chicago, who turns somersaults and does other stunts on skis, was one of the interesting speakers of the evening.

Erling Landwick, of Stoughton, offered the Badgers a pleasant surprise when called on to speak when he volunteered his services as Wisconsin ski coach next season. The former has had 22 years of experience at the famous Norwegian sport, and is himself a performer of no mean ability.

The success which attended the meet yesterday proved to the locals that it is practical to import snow for the purpose of holding meets, and the club promises a number of interesting tournaments in the future.

Movies Taken

The visitors were loud in their praise of the Wisconsin slide, and they declared that it compared favorably with any in the country.

The results of the meets were as follows:

With the advantage of a much larger and faster track on the side of the Illini, the Badger frosh did good work in holding the score as close as the final results totaled. Gym Team Beats Milwaukee Y. M.

Wisconsin's gym squad defeated the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. squad for the second time this season last night by a final score of 24 $\frac{1}{2}$ points to the 23 $\frac{3}{4}$ scored by their opponents. Porth and Kletzein were the individual stars of the meet.

In the horizontal bars Wisconsin took first place with 39 points. Milwaukee scored second and third positions with 44 points. In this department Bumer, Leitz, and Hamman did good work for the Badger squad.

In the flying rings Porth of Wisconsin scored an almost perfect mark, making 19 $\frac{1}{2}$ out of a possible 20 points. His form and skill were one of the features of the meet. Leitz and Boomer of the Badger squad were second and third—the Wisconsin team making a clean sweep in this event.

On the parallel bars Hamman and Porth again displayed their talent. Porth took first with a score of 19 $\frac{1}{2}$ out of possible 20.

In the side horse and tumbling events the Wisconsin men were also the better, although the points were rather evenly divided between the two contending squads in these events.

Enthusiasm Marks Close of Annual Vocation Meeting

Saturday afternoon marked the close of the ninth annual Women's Vocational conference at the university, which was successful judging from the number in attendance and the enthusiasm displayed.

Wisconsin is one of the pioneers in woman's vocational guidance and is perhaps the only university which has one person as a vocational adviser of women. Mrs. C. W. Fleet fills that position here.

The conference committee attempted this year to make the work covered in the various meetings very closely related to the individual interests of girls. President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern university took up the subject of vocations in a general way at the first meeting of the conference on Thursday.

Saturday morning round table discussions were held to discuss various vocations such as teaching and education, secretarial work, and labor management.
