The Wisconsin ALUMNUS

Directory Issue

The Wisconsin Alumni Association has just celebrated its 85th birthday. The organization was founded June 26, 1861, on the campus "to promote by organized effort the best interests of the University."

First president of the Association was Charles T. Wakeley, who in 1854 had been one of two men in the University's first graduating class. William F. Vilas, '58, later a distinguished senator and cabinet member, was the first recording secretary.

Today the WAA numbers over 10,000 members, making it one of the largest organizations of its kind in the country. It maintains central offices in Madison and over 80 clubs around the country.

Even though it was founded 85 years ago, the Association is a "young" organization, an analysis of its membership reveals. The great majority of WAA members are from recent University classes. Leading the Association membership race are the classes of '41 and '43.

Pres. E. B. Fred of the University recently paid tribute to the 85 years of service which the Alumni Association has rendered to Wisconsin.

"Alumni have made valuable contributions to the University's prestige as an educational institution and as a force for improving the life of the state," he said. "The Alumni Association was created with an eye to the future of the University and that future has always been its foremost aim."

Prof. Chester Easum smiled and Walter Stimple, senior from Wauwatosa, smiled; but Master Stimple, 1-year-old guest of a history class at the University, just cried and cried. Rather than take a class cut, Stimple, a student veteran, had asked permission to bring his infant son along when his wife became ill one day last month. Admiring Stimple's attitude, Prof. Easum said, "Let's try it." The baby scholar, however, was not at all content to sit listening to a lecture. His dad had to take him home.

The young and the old alike came back to their Alma Mater last May for Commencement-Reunion Weekend. According to the register, the two oldest Badgers who returned to the campus were Charles I. Brigham, Blue Mounds, and Grace Conover, Madison, both graduates of the class of 1885. Mrs. Hazel Stauffacher, Calamine, represented the brand new class of '45 at Alumni Association meetings. To the class of 1906 went the honor of holding the biggest reunion with 94 at a luncheon in the Memorial Union on Saturday noon, May 25.

Eldred F. Hardtke has been added to the list of less than 50 persons who have received four degrees from the University of Wisconsin in its 97-year history. He received the degree of doctor of medicine at the 1946 Commencement exercises. In 1937 Mr. Hardtke was granted his BA, in 1938 his MA, and in 1944 his PhD, all in the field of psychology. At Commencement he was also commissioned a 1st lieutenant in the army medical corps!

Pinkerton's famous detective agency has nothing on the University of Wisconsin when it comes to ferreting out students who cut classes. That's the opinion of Phyllis Schauder, '48, Clintonville. Miss Schauder succumbed to the call of the open spaces during the beautiful Spring days the last week of school. While she was answering the call of the open spaces, nobody was answering the call of her name in botany class, which is where she was supposed to have been.

The balmy breezes, the warm sun were too much for Phyllis' resistance. She wandered about Bascom Hill, drinking in first-hand knowledge of pretty green plants, which, she figured, was probably better than getting it second-hand in botany class, anyway. Gentle chimes from the carillon tower attracted her.

"Why not go up to the top of the tower and see the view from there?" she thought. "And maybe I can watch the man who plays the bells."

It's a long, hard climb to the top of the tower, but Phyllis was determined to make it. She did, only to realize that class-cutting does not pay. For standing like an avenging god before her when she reached the top was Phyllis' botany instructor, Peter K. Nelson, '39. He plays the chimes.

NO OTHER UNIVERSITY in the country contributed more directly to the Navy's atomic bomb test at Bikini lagoon July 1 than did Wisconsin. Pilot of the B-29 which did the historic bombing was Maj. Woodrow P. Swancutt, '40, former NCAA champion boxer. Among the other former Wisconsin students participating were Leon D. Smith, '42; Donald T. Anderson, '45; Alfred Granum, '43; Phill Webster, '45; David James, '46; and David Bradley, '45. Faculty members present at the experiment were Prof. Julian Mack, physics; Parker Trask, geology; and J. O. Hirschfelder, chemist.

STANDING ROOM ONLY

How Many Next Fall?

It Looks Like 19,000

It looks like there will be an unprecedented 19,000 students on the University of Wisconsin roster next fall. The pre-war record was some 11,000 in 1938.

Of these 19,000 students, some 14,000 will be in residence at Madison and the other 5,000 will be attending extension centers throughout the state, 1,200 at Milwaukee alone. If U. W. registration goes beyond 19,000, it will be because additional emergency extension centers are set up. The absolute limit to Madison campus capacity is about 14,000 students.

It's "Standing Room Only" for '46.

Enrollment at the University of Wisconsin at the close of the last semester stood at 14,000, highest in the 97-year history of the institution. Of the 14,000, 12,400 were in residence at Madison, 1,200 at Milwaukee, and 400 at extension centers around the state. About 8,000 of the total were men and 6,000 women.

The Madison student population was 99 per cent more than just a year ago, 25 per cent above the 1930-40 average, and 10 per cent above the previous peak enrollment in 1938. Some 8,000 of the students came to the U. W. this year for the first time.

14,000 in Madison

Some 14,000 students will be in residence at the U. W.'s Madison campus next fall. Prior to the 1945-46 school year, no more than 10,000 ever lived in Madison before. Where will this huge student population be housed?

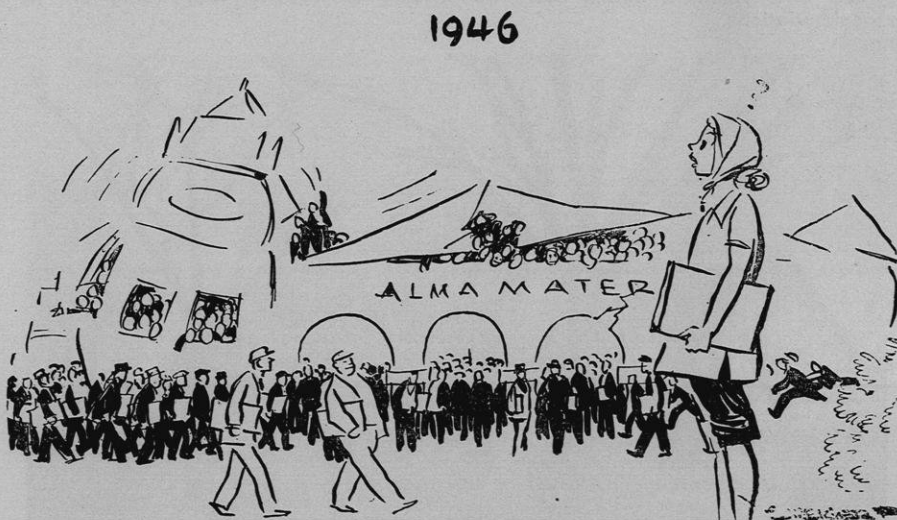

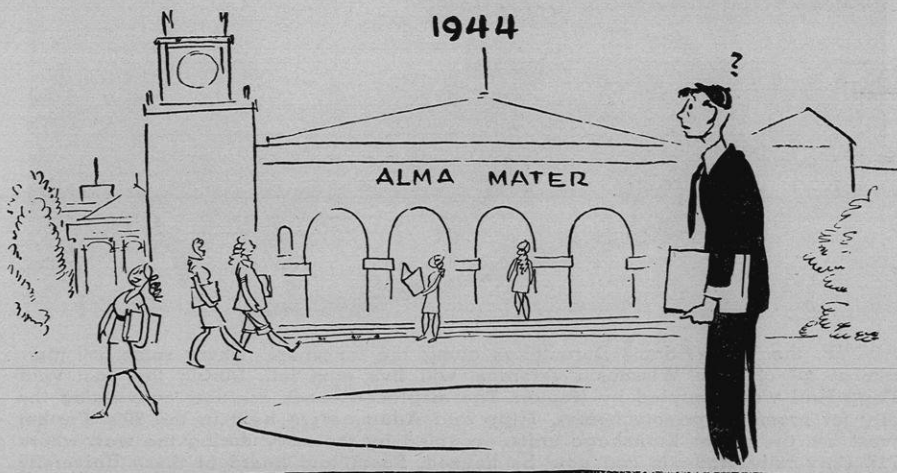

Here's the housing breakdown for next semester, as seen by Otto Mueller, head of the University Housing Bureau:

	Men	Women	Couples
Dormitories ----	1589	812
Truax Field ----	1460		90
Approved Houses -----	900	1900

10,000 Can't Get In

The fact that University enrollment is jumping to 19,000 from a pre-war top of 11,000 does not mean that everybody who wants to come will be able to get in.

The University will be forced to turn away about 10,000 out-of-state students who have applied for admission, Kenneth Little, registrar, estimates. Of these disappointed applicants, about 7,500 are veterans. There just isn't room for them.

Cartoon courtesy of San Francisco Chronicle and Stanford Alumni Review

In order to give preference to Wisconsin students, University authorities ruled that, with few exceptions, no new non-resident undergraduate students could be admitted to the University of Wisconsin before July, 1946. If there had been any housing facilities left over then, a few out-of-state applicants would have been permitted to register. But new Wisconsin students and former students have exhausted all possible housing.

As a matter of fact, the situation is so critical now that recent graduates of Wisconsin high schools will find it impossible to come to Madison unless they have already made arrangements for private rooms.

Veterans Predominate

About 9,500 of the 19,000 U. W. students in 1946-47 will be veterans. That will be well over half of all the ex-GIs attending college in the state.

Some 6,000 veterans were enrolled at Wisconsin during the past semester. Of these, 1,900 were married. The majority were over 24 years old, earned better grades than non-veterans. Fewer veterans withdrew during the school year than did non-vets.

Non-Residents Still Here

Because virtually no new out-of-state students are being permitted to enter the University does not mean that the Wisconsin student body will be completely provincial.

All former students are allowed to come back, regardless of their state of residence. During the past year, 35 per cent of Wisconsin's enrollment was from out-of-state. About that percentage of non-resident upperclassmen will be in attendance here this coming fall.

The out-of-state ban does not apply to the Graduate School. Nearly 50 per cent of the expected 1,700 Graduate School registration will be made up of non-resident students.

Certain other exceptions granted by the University committee on admissions will permit other new non-residents to enroll. A small number of out-of-state veterans with unusually high aptitude for college work has been allowed to enter. So have small groups of specialists, including dance majors, navy officers, advanced real estate students, dairy manufacturing majors, and foreign exchange students from countries whose universities have been bombed out.

ABOVE, the Tripp-Adams Dormitories along the lakeshore, where some 650 men, almost all of them Wisconsin veterans, will live next fall. During the past year Tripp Hall was occupied by women. The displaced coeds are now canvassing the city for rooms in private homes. Tripp and Adams were built in the 20's. Further west are the newer Kronshage units, occupied by the navy during the war, where 712 University students can now be housed. Room and board in these University owned and operated dorms costs about $205 a semester, depending on the accommodations.

ABOVE, the Chi Phi fraternity house at the northwest corner of Langdon and N. Henry Streets, which will be occupied by men again this fall for the first time since before the war. The Chi Phis are one of 27 chapters being revived on the University campus. The Kappa Delta sorority, which rented the house last year, has moved to new quarters at 108 N. Henry. BELOW, Elizabeth Waters Hall, newest of the U.W. dorms (1940), where 504 women will live next fall. Every room was rented months ago. Cost, $225 a semester. Because the outlines of the huge, sprawling building are so harsh, EWH is familiarly known on campus as "the Rock," its inmates as "Rockettes."

Where Will They Live?

In U. W. Dormitories

With double-deck beds in most of the rooms, the University's residence halls will be jammed to capacity and then some next fall. Every room is already assigned, according to Lee Burns, director.

Of the almost 1,600 men living in the stadium, Tripp-Adams, and Kronshage units, all but a handfull will be Wisconsin veterans.

University accommodations for women range from 75-year-old Chadbourne Hall to ultra-modern Elizabeth Waters.

In Swank Sororities

Sororities are as strong as ever on the U. W. campus. Some 450 women will crowd into the swank chapter houses next fall. Hundreds of other members will be forced to live elsewhere. Madison members, who in the past have often lived with their sorority sisters, must stay at home, according to a recent Pan-Hellenic ruling.

The 18 sororities now active on the campus are:

Alpha Chi Omega, 152 Langdon; Alpha Epsilon Phi, 22 Langdon; Alpha Gamma Delta, 220 Lake Lawn Place; Alpha Phi, 28 Langdon; Alpha Xi Delta, 12 Langdon; Chi Omega, 115 Langdon.

Delta Delta Delta, 120 Langdon; Delta Gamma, 103 Langdon; Delta Zeta, 142 Langdon; Gamma Phi Beta, 279 Langdon; Kappa Alpha Theta, 237 Lake Lawn Place; Kappa Delta, 108 N. Henry.

Kappa Kappa Gamma, 601 N. Henry; Phi Omega Pi, 223 W. Gilman; Phi Sigma Sigma, 10 Langdon; Pi Beta Phi, 233 Langdon; Sigma Kappa, 234 Langdon; Theta Phi Alpha, 524 N. Henry.

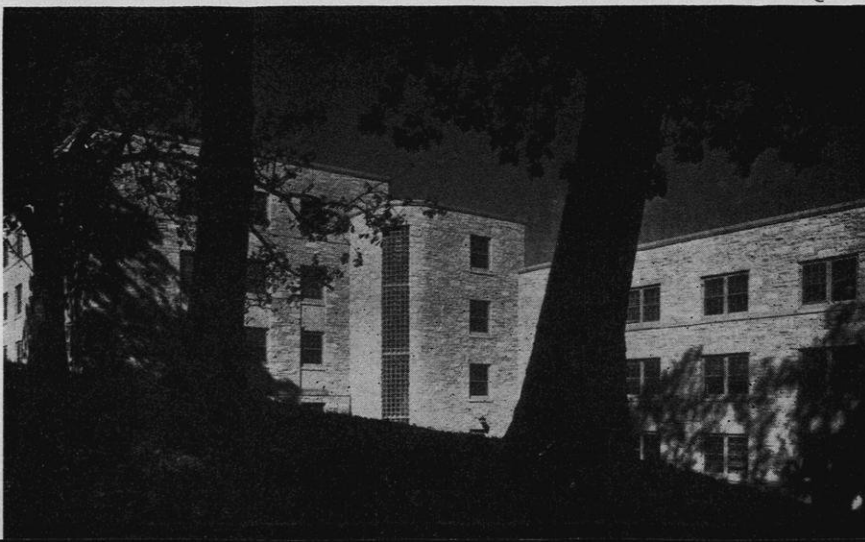

In Revived Fraternities

From a war-time low of six active houses, Wisconsin's fraternities are bouncing back this fall with 27 going chapters on the campus.

The University has stepped in to guide the Greeks back to a financially-stable rehabilitation. Each fraternity is now required to have a resident housemother and to have its books checked by a University auditor. Rigid restrictions on hazing are also in effect.

The all-time fraternity high at Wisconsin was back in 1928, when 62 chapters operated on the campus. This number had dropped to 37 in 1941. The houses which did not close their doors during the war were Alpha Chi Sigma, 621 N. Henry; Alpha Delta Phi, 640 N. Henry; Sigma Phi, 106 N. Prospect; Theta Delta Chi, 144 Langdon; Triangle, 438 N. Frances; and Theta Chi, 619 N. Lake.

During the past semester six other fraternities opened up. They were Chi Psi, 150 Iota Court; Delta Sigma Pi, 132 Breese Terrace; Delta Upsilon, 644 N. Frances; Phi Delta Theta, 620 N. Lake; Psi Upsilon, 22 Lake Lawn Place; and Sigma Chi, 630 N. Lake.

With the opening of school in September another group of chapter houses will be occupied, including Alpha Chi Rho, 524 N. Henry St.; Alpha Epsilon Pi, 10 Langdon; Alpha Gamma Rho, 1820 Summit; Beta Theta Pi, 622 Mendota Court; Chi Phi, 200 Langdon; Delta Kappa Epsilon, 530 N. Pinckney; Delta Tau Delta, 16 Mendota Court; Delta Theta Sigma, 421 Sterling Court; Kappa Sigma, 124 Langdon; Pi Lambda Phi, 615 N. Henry; Phi Gamma Delta, 16 Langdon; Phi Sigma Delta, 619 N. Lake; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 627 N. Lake; Sigma Nu, 625 N. Henry; and Sigma Phi Epsilon, 27 Langdon.

Helping to put the fraternities back on their feet is a new Wisconsin Inter-Fraternity Alumni Conference, made up of chapter advisors. George E. Rapp, '41, Madison, is president of the group.

In Lodging Houses

As usual, thousands of Wisconsin students, both men and women, will live in lodging houses next fall. These range from slick Ann Emery Hall for wealthy coeds to cooperative Babcock House for boys.

Some lodging houses are operated directly by the University. All must be University-approved and checked by a state inspector. Up until the past year, University women were not permitted to live in anything but approved houses. Now they are being encouraged to find rooms wherever they can, with the proviso that they may not live in the same house with male roomers.

At Truax Field

In what used to be army air field barracks, 500 single men and 90 couples will be quartered for certain at the University's Truax Field project next fall. Additional barracks space is being converted to accommodate 960 more single veterans. Whether the new quarters will be ready by September is still uncertain.

Besides housing facilities at Truax, the University provides a cafeteria, bus service to the campus, and social recreation. Truax is restricted to veterans.

At Badger Village

Plans for a separate off-campus school for freshmen at Badger Village, the former ordnance plant housing project 35 miles north of Madison near Prairie du Sac, have been abandoned. No classes will be conducted there.

Instead, all available space will be turned into quarters for married student veterans. Some 350 can be housed there now, and if more projected apartments and cabins are made ready in time, an additional 200 couples can be accommodated by September.

University busses will run between Badger Village and the campus at regular intervals.

In Private Homes

Private homes and apartments are providing housing for Wisconsin students at an ever-increasing rate. Many student veterans are married and maintain their own homes in Madison. Hundreds of single students are occupying that spare bedroom.

This is particularly true of women, who have been displaced by returning veterans from 18 rooming and fraternity houses and one University dormitory.

At Camp Randall

Exactly 191 couples will live at the University's trailer camp on what used to be the football practice field at Camp Randall.

Started last fall as an experiment, the camp is now the most popular emergency housing project on the campus. The park is divided into two "villages," Randall Park and Monroe Park.

In a New Trailer Camp

Approximately 100 students will bring their own trailers to the campus next fall and set them up on a University camp ground. The Regents have allocated $26,000 to install water and sewer mains and extend electric service to the site of the proposed married-veterans apartment building near the Forest Products Laboratory, which will be temporarily used by the trailer residents.

When Will They Study?

Around-the-Clock Classes

Even if housing facilities could be found in Madison for more students, there wouldn't be room on the campus to teach them. Classroom space is at a premium.

The only way the University expects to lick the problem is by introducing a "swing shift" schedule. Beginning next fall instruction will be conducted practically around the clock.

First classes will meet, not at 8 o'clock, but at 7:45. They will continue to be scheduled at 55 minute intervals straight through the noon hour and will not wind up until 9:30 at night.

By thus occupying classrooms for longer periods during each day, the University will be able to handle a Madison enrollment of 14,000 in the same buildings where 10,000 students used to feel crowded.

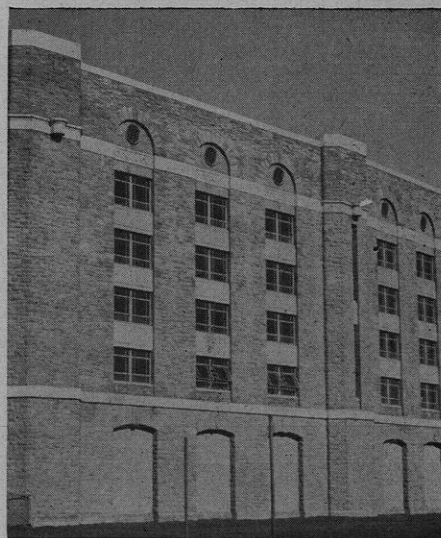

In Emergency Classrooms

As a means of increasing classroom space temporarily, the Regents have authorized the acquisition of 12 Quonset huts, each 20 by 30 feet in size, which will accommodate from 30 to 40

ABOVE, Chadbourne Hall, one of the oldest women's dormitories still standing in the United States, which will celebrate its 75th anniversary at the University next fall. The hall was built in 1871, still houses 157 coeds annually. A celebration of three days is being planned by members of the hall. They will invite former residents back as guests-of-honor sometime in October. Bette Bahr, correspondence chairman, will extend invitations to as many former Chadites as she can contact. All Wisconsin alumnae who resided at Chadbourne are asked to write Bette at 306 Sixth Avenue S., Wausau, Wis.

ABOVE, the dormitories under the east stands at Camp Randall Stadium, where 157 student veterans will be housed next fall. Additional stadium dorms are in the blueprint stage, won't be ready for several years. BELOW, the trailer park at Camp Randall. For $25 a month for a single trailer or $32.50 for a double, 191 couples live here, run their own government, operate their own town hall.

THE BIG RED TEAM

By ART LENTZ
The University's New Athletic Publicity Director

WHEN the University of Wisconsin football squad reports for fall practice at Camp Randall, Thursday, Aug. 15, Badger gridiron partisans will do well to consider the season prospects with some degree of caution.

Undoubtedly Wisconsin will be represented by its best aggregation since the great eleven of 1942, but how well it will compare with those at other schools in the Western Conference and in the nation depends a good deal on how quickly returnees from the service regain former standards of performance.

Wisconsin is fortunate in having many of the 1942 varsity and freshmen letter winners returning to school after long service in the armed forces. If they quickly regain their once-proven ability, Coach Harry Stuhldreher and his aides can eliminate one of the big items from the "worry" list and concentrate on grooming a contender.

Incoming freshman material and some holdover talent from the past two seasons are expected to augment the array of ex-service players available, so that prospects are more encouraging than for the past three years.

Of the 1942 varsity, eight regulars are to return for the 1946 season. They are Fred Negus, stellar center given top rating on the All-Sophomore team by selectors of All-American elevens; Jack Wink, quarterback and top-notch passer; Henry Olshanski, reserve end who played with Elroy Hirsch on the 1943 Michigan team; Kenneth Currier, Jerry Frei, guards; Earl Maves, reserve fullback, who also played at Michigan in 1943; Don Pfothenauer, reserve halfback; and Ashley Anderson, reserve quarterback.

In addition, there are Wally Dreyer, sensational half back on the 1942 frosh eleven; Tom Bennett, freshman end in 1942; Russ Schult and Johnny Pinnow, fullbacks, from the unbeaten frosh team of 1942.

Bob Rennebohm and Farnham Johnson, reserve ends, who played with Michigan in 1943 as marine trainees; Johnny Gallagher and Bob Dean, reserve guards; Frank Riewer, reserve halfback; Don Alvarez, frosh guard, and Emil Drvaric, frosh tackle, are other stalwarts from 1942 who may return to school, although definite word has not yet been received.

Such other "W" men as Don Lee (1943), Dick Loepfe (1941), Frank Lopp (1941), at the tackles; Ed Hartman (1937-38), guard; Hal Faverty (1945), George Urbanis (1945), and Larry Lauer (1945) at center; George Fuchs (1945), quarterback; Dave Nettesheim (1945), reserve fullback; Buck Chaney (1945), reserve halfback; Walter West and Bill Jacob, (1945 numerals), reserve halfbacks; Don Kindt (1943 and 1945), right halfback; and Ben Bendricks (1945), fullback, are certain to be on hand, having participated in the six-week spring practice.

The Schedule

A nine-game schedule for his University of Wisconsin football team for 1946, including one cross-country hop to California, has been announced by Harry Stuhldreher, Wisconsin athletic director and head football coach.

The Badgers will open as usual against Marquette, and meet seven Big Ten opponents. Their trip to Berkeley on September 28 will be made by plane.

Following is the complete Wisconsin football schedule for next fall:

- Sept. 21—Marquette at Madison
- Sept. 28—California at Berkeley
- Oct. 5—Northwestern at Evanston
- Oct. 12—Ohio State at Madison
- Oct. 19—Illinois at Champaign
- Oct. 26—permanently open
- Nov. 2—Purdue at Lafayette
- Nov. 9—Iowa at Madison (Homecoming)
- Nov. 16—Michigan at Ann Arbor
- Nov. 23—Minnesota at Madison

The Finances

If advance requests are any indication, it looks like the 1946 grid season will be a complete sellout, says Bill Aspinwall, '29, director of ticket sales. That will mean the second golden year in a row for Wisconsin athletics.

Receipts for sports activities at the University during the 1945-46 school year totalled $294,664.75, the largest amount taken in at the gate since 1929-30, the Wisconsin athletic board revealed in its recent annual report. Football receipts came to $197,272.45.

In such a prosperous state is the Wisconsin athletic department that payments on the stadium and field house loans are 16 years ahead of schedule.

The Pros

Four ex-Badgers will be performing for the first time in professional football ranks this fall.

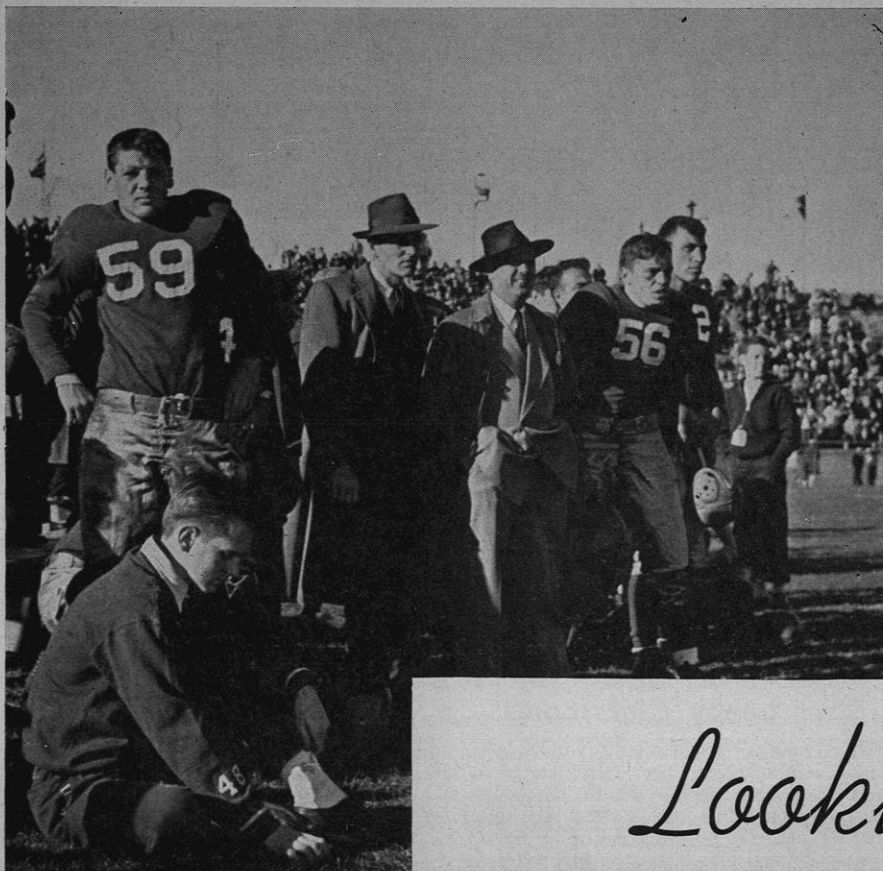

They are:

Elroy Hirsch, x'46, star on the famous 1942 team, who will be a member of the Chicago club in the new All American Football Conference. Hirsch had two years of college competition left if he had chosen to return to school after being discharged as a marine lieutenant.

Rex John, '45, lineman and punter for Wisconsin last fall, who is under contract with the New York Giants of the National League.

Jack Mead, '45, end, who will also play with the Giants.

Lloyd Wasserbach, '42, lineman, who will join Hirsch on the Chicago Rockets.

Looking Ahead

THE COACH

"This summer marks 10 years of successful administration of the department of intercollegiate athletics by Harry Stuhldreher, who, as director and football coach, has truly given significance to the phrase, 'On, Wisconsin.'"

"His direction has brought credit and understanding to the department and to the University. He and his staff have not spared themselves in time or effort in acquainting the alumni and citizens of the state and the country with the program of their University."

So did the University athletic board pay tribute in its recent annual report to Harry Stuhldreher, who this fall begins his 11th year as athletic director and head football coach at Wisconsin. The "little General", as he is affectionately known around Camp Randall, is here to stay at what used to be a coach's graveyard.

A graduate of the University of Notre Dame in '25, Stuhldreher was a unanimous choice for All-American as a member of the famous Four Horsemen backfield, and he still rates as one of the greatest signal callers of all time.

Stuhldreher went directly into coaching at Villanova (Pa.) College and in 11 years raised its football standards from mediocrity to a position among the best of its class in the East.

Coming to Wisconsin in May, 1936, Harry quickly established himself as one of the most astute mentors in the best league in the country, the Big Ten. Slowly Cardinal football improved. In 1938, Wisconsin won five and lost three in a great season which ended with the Badgers playing Minnesota for the conference title. Then in 1942 came Stuhldreher's sensational grid squad which won nine and lost only one, finishing high in both league and national rankings.

Stuhldreher also has a fine record as athletic director. Under his leadership a well-rounded development of all sports and all sports facilities has come about at Wisconsin. Chief among his accomplishments are the addition of a second balcony in the Field House, the addition of 7,500 seats in Camp Randall, and the building of new dormitory and team quarters under the east side of the stadium.

Equally impressive is Stuhldreher's record as good-will agent for the entire University. In the last decade he has spoken before practically every Badger alumni club from New York to California. He is also much in demand among Wisconsin high schools, service clubs, and various other organizations. His travel mileage on speaking engagements annually runs in five figures.

DVORAK IN ACTION

THE BAND

The University of Wisconsin band that takes the field at Camp Randall next fall will be entering its 61st year on the campus. One of the finest marching bands in the country, the Badger organization dates back to 1885. Its present director is Prof. Raymond F. Dvorak.

Now back to its pre-war strength of 200 members, the band includes in its ranks some 50 ex-GIs. At one point during the war, the membership was pared down to 84, but Prof. Dvorak is proud of the fact that his band never lost its civilian identity.

Since Dvorak took over the baton in 1934, U. W. bandsmen have appeared in more than 600 public events—concerts, football, basketball, and other sports contests, on radio programs, the summer outdoor series, convocations, and ROTC parades.

Among the high points of the past 60 years of band history was the 1915 trip to the West coast. Former directors include F. O. May, 1885-86; C. M. Williams, 1886-90; Spencer Beebe, 1890-92; W. R. Sired, 1892-93; W. S. Wadleigh, 1893-94; Earl Chapin May, 1894-95; Hugh R. Schoenfield, 1895-96; Earl Chapin May, 1896-97; Orin W. Joslin, 1897-98; Charles Nitschke, 1898-1904; Herman C. Owen, 1904-07; Charles A. Mann, 1908-15; Jesse Saugstad, 1915-18; W. E. Yates, 1918-20; E. W. Morphy, 1920-34.

Since Prof. Dvorak has been here, more than 20 of his former students in the band have gone out to lead bands at colleges and high schools. Dvorak-trained men now head bands at Grinnell College, the University of Oklahoma, Duke University, the University of Missouri, Phillips University, and others.

During the war years, in addition to his direction of the U. W. band, Prof. Dvorak formed and directed many service bands and choral units.

Dvorak is the author of a textbook on the marching band, The Band on Parade.

THE PLANT

It isn't likely that Camp Randall will be enlarged for the 1946 football season, building conditions being what they are, but in 1947 enough tiers of seats will be added to increase the stadium capacity from 45,000 to 60,000.

This project is one phase of a 4 million dollar athletic plant expansion program contemplated by the Wisconsin athletic department. The plans, according to Director Harry Stuhldreher, include the erection of a sports hall, a sports arena, an ice-plant addition to the present field house, a new women's gymnasium, and additions to the stadium.

Here's a breakdown of the proposals, which have been discussed with the Campus Planning Commission but which have not yet come up for final action by the Board of Regents:

1. SPORTS HALL. This will replace the old Armory on Langdon Street, which has been condemned to make way for a new Center for Continuation Study under the Hagenah plan for developing the lower campus. It will be a modern gymnasium for the University family. In it will be incorporated all administrative offices; classrooms; plenty of space for basketball, badminton, volleyball, and the like; training and equipment rooms for boxing, wrestling, and fencing; handball and squash courts; and a large swimming pool with space for some 3,000 spectators.

2. SPORTS ARENA. This will be literally a house over a field where students may be instructed in outdoor activities during the winter and in bad weather. In it will be an indoor track, but no permanent seats, locker rooms, or showers. It will be connected by tunnels with the sports hall. Whenever a track meet is scheduled, portable bleachers will be erected.

3. ICE PLANT. This will mean that ice skating can be done all week long in the field house, resulting in the resumption of ice hockey and eventually the return of intercollegiate competition. Any time a basketball game or boxing match is scheduled, the ice will be taken out and the floor or ring erected. In other words, the field house will operate like Madison Square Garden.

4. WOMEN'S GYM. This will replace the now outmoded Lathrop Hall.

5. ADDITION TO STADIUM. This will not only include additional tiers of seats but also new dormitory space beneath the stands.

Some of the projects, notably the last, which would be entirely self-liquidating in cost through admission charges, can be started as soon as materials and labor are available. The remainder must wait the appropriation of funds by the State Legislature, which convenes again in 1947.

Faculty Casualties Are Heavy

RESIGNATION, retirement, and death have claimed over 20 prominent members of the University of Wisconsin faculty in recent weeks.

This at time when the University, faced with a staggering post-war enrollment, is hard-pressed to find enough faculty members to carry the teaching load.

The so-called legal, or senior, teaching staff is now up to 604, highest in history, including 258 full professors, 155 associate professors, and 191 assistant professors. But the junior staff, made up of instructors and assistants, has so far shown only a slight increase over pre-war figures, which means that more of the classroom and laboratory instruction, as well as the lecturing, must be done by the senior staff.

Quiz sections next fall will be double the pre-war normal, lecture halls jammed, laboratories short of equipment.

Housing for faculty members is as much a problem as housing for students. To ease the situation, the University plans to put up 40 prefabricated houses on University Farm property and rent them to instructors.

Newest resignee is Prof. William EBENSTEIN of the political science department, who goes to Princeton University.

Well-known for his liberal views, Prof. Ebenstein came to Wisconsin in 1936 at the instigation of Prof. Walter A. Morton of the economics department. He received his PhD in 1938 and has been a member of the faculty ever since. Before becoming a member of the political science department, he was assistant to the late John R. Commons, famed economics professor.

Ebenstein was born and raised in Austria and watched Naziism develop. He attended the University of Vienna and later studied in the school of economics at the University of London.

The scope of his knowledge of European politics is indicated by the number of books he has written on the subject, including The German Record: A Political Portrait, Fascism at Work, Fascist Italy, and The Nazi State.

Lewis H. KESSLER, professor of civil engineering, also resigned last month to accept the position of professor of sanitary engineering at the Northwestern Technological Institute, Northwestern University.

Prof. Kessler was the first U. W. professor to be "drafted" by the army back in 1940 and worked with the corps of engineers in maintaining some 1,066 posts throughout the country.

Going to the University of California at Los Angeles is William H. ANDERSON, '28, assistant professor of economics in the Extension Division. A native of Marinette, Prof. Anderson is well-known throughout Wisconsin for his numerous lecture-forums conducted during the past year on current affairs and for institutes on federal and state income tax laws.

The Board of Regents has also accepted the resignation of Prof. Don S. ANDERSON of the department of agricultural economics, who joins the department of agriculture in Washington.

Dean F. Ellis JOHNSON of the College of Engineering, granted a five-months leave of absence last February, will not return to the University.

The end of the University's 1945-46 academic year also marks the close of three teaching and research careers on the campus, for the compulsory retirement age of 70 has been reached by three well-known professors, Edward M. GILBERT, B. D. LEITH, and Blanche M. TRILLING.

Prof. Gilbert, botanist and co-author of a number of textbooks on his science, received his PhD here in 1907 and has been on the faculty ever since 1912.

Prof. Leith is a noted agronomist who has been a member of the University faculty since 1910. He is a world renowned expert on plant breeding, small grains, and corn. He took his BA here in 1911.

Miss Trilling, one of the founders of the women's division of the National Amateur Athletic Federation, joined the faculty 35 years ago as assistant professor of physical education and will retire as head of the department. During her career she has taught thousands of Wisconsin women.

Leonard A. SALTER, associate professor of agricultural economics at the U. W., was one of the 58 persons who lost their lives in the La Salle Hotel fire in Chicago on June 5. Prof. Salter had joined the Wisconsin staff in 1940, coming from Connecticut State College. His wife and son perished with him.

On the same day death took Miss Almere L. SCOTT, director of the department of debating and public discussion of the Extension Division since 1914. She had been in ill health for a year.

Another University faculty member, John J. PORTER, MS '46, instructor in veterinary science, was killed last month in an auto collision on Highway 12 six months north of Baraboo.

William H. VARNUM, professor of art education, died suddenly in his home on July 4.

Other resignations since the first of the year include Elmer L. Sevringhaus, professor of medicine; Myles Dillon, professor of comparative literature; W. F. Twadell, professor of German; Helmut Rehder, professor of German.

Arnold K. Kvam, assistant professor of music; Janet R. McCartner, assistant professor of agricultural bacteriology; Albert L. Lehninger, assistant professor of physiological chemistry; Melvin W. F. Dunker, assistant professor of pharmacy Sherman L. Wallace, assistant professor of classics; Philip M. Cornwell, assistant professor of surgery; James M. Dorrans, associate professor of mining and metallurgy; John A. Logan, assistant professor of civil engineering; and Joseph Pessin, assistant professor of neuropsychiatry.

Pres. E. B. Fred, speaking in Racine a few weeks ago, emphasized the University's faculty problem himself.

Said the president:

"The problem of finding staff is fast becoming as acute as finding space for students. The house problem is still more acute for professors with families. Some of these are now making the provision of housing a condition of their acceptance of employment . . .

"At present the instructional staff, throughout all the ranks from professors to assistants, is overworked. Our staff has not been increased as rapidly as student enrollment has grown. In addition, almost without exception, in terms of going rates of pay and present cost of living, they are underpaid . . .

"Since last September, we have added 43 new members to our faculty, and 44 faculty members have returned from leaves of absence granted for war or government service. These additions have helped, but they have not been sufficient to take care of the increased demands upon teaching. In fact, in the College of Letters and Science alone, where most of the veterans are now enrolled, there has been an increase in teaching amounting to the equivalent need of 168 full-time instructors.

"I wish that I could tell you how and where we shall get the needed staff. I can only report that we are doing our best and that our standards will remain high."

Professors Are Granted Increase in Salaries

A record budget of $18,003,363, including $579,859 for faculty salary increases, was adopted by the Board of Regents last month to finance the University during 1946-47.

The cost-of-living salary increases will average about $400 a year for each member of the faculty.

The budget is 35 per cent higher than that for the past year. Of the total, only $5,457,191, or 30 per cent, comes from state appropriations, with the balance of 70 per cent coming from fees and tuitions, federal appropriations, and money earned directly by the University.

Pay increases are effected by adding 20 per cent on the first $2,000 of each professor's salary. In addition the budget includes a number of selected merit increases totalling $196,690 for the year. The salaries of all graduate student, part-time teaching, and research assistants have been increased about 10 per cent over 1945-46.

The budget was adopted by the Regents with one dissenting vote.

"I want the record to show that my examination of the budget shows glaring violations of the merit principle," said Regent John D. Jones, Jr., Racine, after he had recorded a "no" vote.

WHA's School of the Air

THE 13th annual radio music festival, conducted by Prof. Edgar B. Gordon and held May 11 at the Stock Pavilion, was the climax of a year of listening to "Journeys in Music Land" broadcasts over the Wisconsin School of the Air by school children throughout the state.

First held in 1934 and attended by only a few hundred children, the festival has expanded steadily. This year 3,400 children were present to sing the folk and classical melodies they learned on Prof. Gordon's program.

Nationally known as a music educator, an emeritus professor of music at the University of Wisconsin, and a pioneer radio teacher, Gordon began broadcasting music appreciation lessons in 1921 over the University station 9XM, later WHA, most of his listeners wearing ear-phones to hear him.

He is now in his 15th year with the School of the Air and since retirement from active teaching at the University devotes all his time to the radio class. This consists not only of the actual weekly broadcasts, but also constant trips to the schools themselves. Visiting sometimes as many as eight schools in one day, he meets the children and leads them personally in song.

Rural schools without full-time music teachers have received the special attention of Prof. Gordon, for his policy is "music for everyone." He selects for his teaching not necessarily children's songs, but good music the children will enjoy throughout their lives. The series of broadcasts is directed toward children in the fourth to eighth grades and teaches note-reading, singing, and the understanding and appreciation of good music.

This year's festival found many of Prof. Gordon's early radio pupils, now teachers themselves in the 230 schools represented, eagerly participating. One former pupil wrote that he taught "Prof. Gordon's songs" to other members of the bombing crew of his plane on return trips to England from Germany.

During the war, because of travel restrictions, "stay-at-home festivals" were substituted for the large Madison festival, with schools in various areas cooperating in local song-fests led by Prof. Gordon by radio.

The resumption of the main festival was greeted eagerly this Spring. Hundreds of boys and girls had to be refused permission to come because of lack of seating accommodations. For many of those who came, the festival was their first meeting face-to-face with their famous teacher.

3,500 SCHOOL CHILDREN from all over Wisconsin crowded into the University Stock Pavilion last May to sing together the songs they had learned in Prof. Edgar B. Gordon's WHA radio classes.

As the Festival was particularly for southern Wisconsin, Prof. Gordon previously conducted smaller regional festivals at Eau Claire and Oshkosh.

The University Symphony Orchestra, directed by Prof. Richard C. Church, accompanied the chorus. The program was broadcast nationally and over eight Wisconsin stations.

STATION WHA WALKED OFF with the honors again this year in the annual national Institute for Education by Radio contests, winning three firsts and two honorable mentions. This brings to 29 the number of WHA programs honored in the past 10 years, more merits than have been won by any other station in the country.

The program "New Life for the Old Hat," presented on the Homemakers' Program by Gladys Meloche, '16, Helen Pearson, '21, and Elizabeth Birong, '31, under the direction of Mrs. Aline Hazard, '40, won first among the women's programs.

"Rhythm and Games," a program presented by Mrs. Fannie Steve, x'27, on the Wisconsin School of the Air for listening by small children, won another first. Wisconsin's nationally famous creative art program, "Let's Draw," again won a first prize. It is written and prepared by Prof. James A. Schwalbach, '34, and presented by William Harley, '35.

A regular University course broadcast direct from the classroom was given an honorable mention: Prof. Norman Cameron's (x'33) lectures in introductory psychology. Honorable mention also went to a WHA program which had its origin in the South Pacific: "Pacific Diary," a script written by Lt. Alan Beaumont, x'42, former WHA announcer, while on duty with the army.

Scholarship Pays Off

THROUGH the generosity of public spirited individuals and groups, more than 800 scholarships and fellowships are available annually to students at the University of Wisconsin.

Requests for educational purposes have ranged all the way from $2,500,000, willed by the late Chicago attorney and Wisconsin alumnus, Kemper K. Knapp, to Oklahoma oil wells and old china. All Wisconsin students are eligible to aim for the "living memorial" funds, which are granted each year to those displaying sound scholarship and character.

Newest scholarship to be set up is a gift of $1,000 from Mrs. Margaret F. Williams and Mrs. Dorothy F. Sanders of Evanston, Ill., to establish the Frankenburger Memorial Fund as a living memorial to their father and mother, Prof. and Mrs. David B. Frankenburger.

New Frankenburger Memorial

Prof. Frankenburger was appointed to the University staff during the presidency of John Bascom and served as head of the speech department for 37 years from 1869 to 1906. As originator of the Frankenburger oratorical contest still held annually on the campus, he was known to thousands of Wisconsin student debaters and orators in an age when public speaking contests were the most popular events in collegiate life.

The Frankenburger fund is to be held in trust by the Board of Regents. Contributions will be welcomed. Income from the fund will be used to promote scholarship and research in the field of speech.

Association Scholarships

Two funds in which members of the Wisconsin Alumni Association have particular interest are the Julius Olson Scholarship-Loan Fund and the Allen Shafer Memorial Fund. Individual alumni and alumni clubs all over the country are contributing to them.

The Olson fund has now passed the $10,000 mark. It was established in 1944 to aid needy outstanding students. Prof. Olson was a member of the Scandinavian department from 1884 to 1935. Few University teachers were better known on the campus and throughout the state.

To honor the memory of the Badger quarterback who died as a result of an injury received in a football game at Camp Randall in 1944, the Shafer fund finances a scholarship presented annually to an outstanding freshman athlete.

Another Alumni Association fund is the Henry L. Green Scholarship set up recently by John Lord, '04, Chicago, former president of the Association, in honor of his father-in-law. The fund, being administered jointly by the University of Wisconsin Foundation and the U. W. Scholarship Trust of the Chicago Alumni Club, provides an annual stipend of $500 for 10 years. The first beneficiary will enter the University this fall.

Large Knapp Fund

Largest of the U. W. "living memorials" is the $2,500,000 Kemper Knapp bequest. Out of it a revolving loan fund of $50,000 and a scholarship fund of $30,000 were set up last year.

Twenty-seven four-year scholarships are awarded annually to graduates of Wisconsin and Illinois high schools. The scholarships, one-third in the amount of $250, the remainder $125 a semester, once granted continue through the undergraduate college career, including summer attendance.

Sixteen Knapp scholarships also go annually to law school students. Students interested in applying for Knapp scholarships may secure blanks from the Registrar's office.

Almere Scott Memorial

A memorial fund honoring Almere L. Scott, director of the department of debating and public discussion of the University of Wisconsin since 1914, who died June 5, will be founded, it was revealed by the Rev. Alfred W. Swan at funeral services for Miss Scott in the Madison First Congregational Church.

Dr. Swan invited organizations and individuals to contribute to the fund, which will be used to finance a speech scholarship.

Other donors believe in inspiring high standards of scholarship in the high schools. Among them is Victor Albright of Madison, who in 1940 gave the University $5,000 to provide two annual scholarships of $100 each for two outstanding Dane County high school graduates each year. In 1941 Mr. Albright gave another $5,000 for two annual scholarships to be awarded students in other counties in alphabetical order beginning with Adams and ending with Wood.

Each scholar chosen for the Albright scholarships must enter the University at the opening of the college year following his appointment, enroll in a standard academic course leading to a nationally recognized college degree, carry a regular program, and maintain an average of "B" to be entitled to the second semester's installment.

Four scholarships are annually given high school graduates of Lincoln County through the Sigurd L. Odegard Memorial Educational Fund set up by Sigurd Odegard in memory of his parents. Each scholarship awarded from the $20,000 fund continues for four years unless terminated by the Regents for misconduct or poor scholarship.

Oscar Rennebohm, '11, Madison druggist and lieutenant governor of the state, has also set up $300 scholarships for five high school graduates annually.

Oil Wells and Old Lace

The will of William H. Kipp, Reedsburg tinsmith who went prospecting for oil in Oklahoma around the turn of the century, and who gave the University the oil wells, the linens, and the Havilland china, provides that when income from his estate is large enough, a student from each Wisconsin county, beginning with Adams, be awarded a scholarship in his name. "It may take a hundred years to do it," remarks M. E. McCaffrey, former secretary to the Regents, who is in charge of the funds, "but eventually Kipp's plan will be realized." The fund is approaching the point when interest will be sufficient for the purpose.

Since 1915 students have been benefiting from the will of J. Stephen Tripp, life-long resident of Sauk County. He left most of his fortune, some $600,000, to the University. Tripp Hall, dormitory for men, and Tripp Commons dining room in the Memorial Union have been built with the funds. A scholarship has been established also for diligent and needy students.

In 1919 LaVerne Noyes set up a living memorial fund for all those who fought in World War I. His will provided that their tuition, or the tuition of their descendants, be paid at various colleges and universities throughout the country. The University of Wisconsin receives annually about $1,800 from the fund, of which its share is $60,000.

A University of Wisconsin student will this year devote much of his time to the study of radio news and news analysis under the "H. V. Kaltenborn Radio Scholarship." In 1945 this dean of American news analysts established a trust fund of $10,000, the income from which is to be used for radio study. Mr. Kaltenborn specified that the award be made on the basis of financial need, high scholarship, aptitudes for broadcasting, and plans for a career involving the use of radio. Kaltenborn is a Wisconsin native son, having been born in Milwaukee, and for years was a newspaper man in Merrill.

Living Memorials

Mary Atwood, member of a pioneer Wisconsin family and one of the early women graduates of the State University, set up a memorial fund for her father and mother. Half of the fund, which amounts to $20,000, is used for scholarships, and half for student loans. The funds are known as the F. A. Oertel and the Catherine Oertel scholarship funds.

Another Wisconsin woman to establish a memorial scholarship was Mrs.

Hattie T. Fisk of Green Bay, who died in 1925. Known as the William J. Fisk scholarship, the income of the fund of $6,000 has for 20 years been used to encourage high standards of work at the University.

Another of the Wisconsin-born citizens who kept alive their interest in their native state was Adah Mae Schroeder of Summit, N. J. When Mrs. Schroeder died in 1943 her will was found to contain provisions for scholarships to worthy students. Almost $17,000 was turned over to the Regents for the scholarship fund.

William Hagenah, prominent Illinois lawyer and Wisconsin alumnus, has given the Law School at the University gifts totalling some $3,500. The first $1,000 is to be distributed in five equal annual gifts, each gift to be awarded by the faculty of the Law School to some outstanding student on the basis of scholarship, need, and contribution to the life of the school, such as editorial work on the Wisconsin Law Review. The remaining $2,500 is used for scholarships to student editors of the Wisconsin Law Review over a 10 year period.

Mrs. George Frazer of Winnetka, Ill., gave the University $5,000 in 1940 to found a scholarship for a male student who has completed at least one year's work in residence at the University. Another scholarship annually given to a sophomore student is the one contributed by Christian Stein in 1900. Mr. Stein, lacking formal education himself, was interested in doing what he could to provide the benefits of college education for others.

Martha Gunhild Week, daughter of a leading pioneer lumberman of northern Wisconsin who received her bachelor of arts degree from the University in 1884, made provisions in her will for a gift of $5,000 to the University to establish a scholarship for a woman student in chemistry. Another woman graduate, Mrs. Annie Gorham Marston, of the class of 1867, left her entire estate to the University to establish the Annie Gorham Fellowship with $10,000 and the Thomas J. Marston Scholarship with $25,000. There are also the Ben L. Ellman scholarship, the Milton Irwin Shakow scholarship, and the Kohler Family scholarship.

Group Gifts

Among the groups which have endowed scholarships at the University are the Chicago alumni of Wisconsin who, since 1913, have maintained a fund from which $50 scholarships are given junior and senior women; the Junior division of the University League which gives a $50 scholarship each year; the American Association of University Women which gives annually either the Annie Dinsdale Swenson scholarship or the Lois K. Rosenberry scholarship.

The Madison Catholic Women's Club, which gives to a graduate woman each year a $100 scholarship; Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority, which gives to a woman, preferably a member of the sorority, a scholarship each year; the Madison Juvenile Protective Association, whose funds established a scholarship intended chiefly for freshman students; the All-American Girls Professional Ball League which gives a four-year scholarship to a girl from the cities in which the league operates.

Faculty Fellowships

Many persons once prominent on the University faculty or connected with the University in one way or another have established, or had endowed in their names, scholarship funds for the benefit of students. Among these are the Blanche M. Trilling scholarship, the Elizabeth Waters scholarship, the Eva S. Perlman and Zona Gale scholarships, the Abby Marlatt and Dorothy Roberts Memorial funds, the Hohlfeld and Solalinde Memorial scholarships, the Berkowitz scholarship, and the Anna Morris Ely scholarship in economics.

The will of Charles Kendall Adams, president of the University from 1892 to 1901, provided for 15 fellowships to be established in amounts of $10,000 each, the income to be paid to a teaching fellow. These fellowships are known as the "President Adams Fellowships," in Greek language and literature, and in modern history, and the "Mary M. Adams Fellowships" in English language and literature, in memory of his wife.

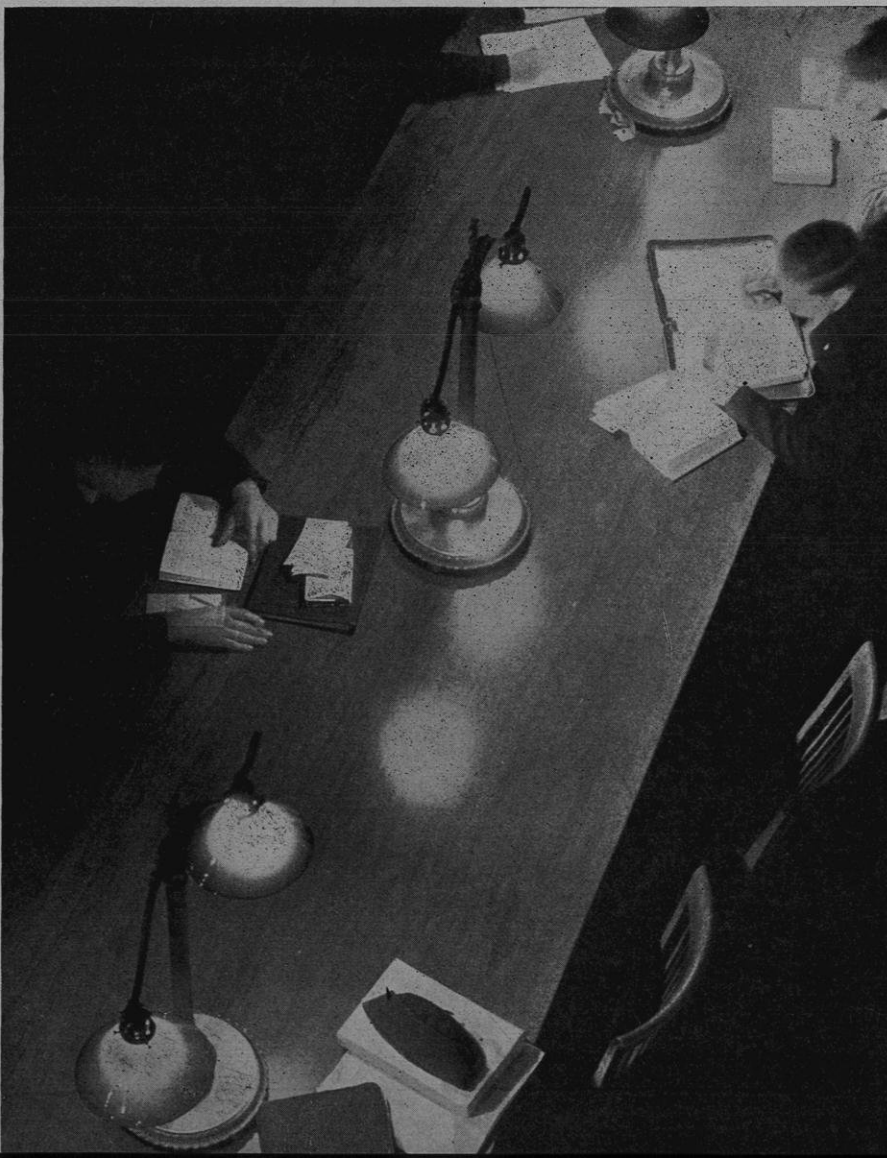

Other faculty members to endow fellowships were Prof. Harry Steenbock, who with his sister, Mrs. Robert Brinsmade, gave $15,000 in 1934 and in 1935 to establish a fellowship in home economics in honor of their mother, the "Christine Margaretha Steenbock Fellowship," and the "Henry Steenbock Fellowship" in agriculture in the name of their father; the Whitbeck fellowship fund of $60,000, its income awarded annually to graduate students doing major work in geography.

Special Prizes

Among the prize funds established for the award of cash annually to outstanding students are the Edna Glicksman prize fund which annually gives $50 to a senior woman; the Pi Lambda Theta fund which makes possible the presentation of a cash prize each February to a woman in the school of education; the Logan prize fund which rewards excellent work in Greek; the Harry Jerome Memorial fund for economics and commerce graduate students.

The Wisconsin Alumni Association's annual $100 awards to the "outstanding junior man" and "outstanding junior woman," and the Association's yearly $100 check to the senior who has contributed most to the welfare of the University.

Only students who display high-grade-getting ability are eligible to compete for the more than 800 fellowships offered on the University campus. Scholarship pays off at Wisconsin.

Californians Plan Big September Rally

The Wisconsin-California football game at Berkeley on September 28 will be the signal for one of the largest Badger rallies on the West Coast in recent years.

Members of the Northern California Alumni Club are already making plans for a big pre-game dinner, with Coach Harry Stuhldreher and Alumni Secretary John Berge as the guests. Frank V. Kornish, '96, Berkeley, is president of the club.

"We're going to shoot the works!" says Edna Lauman, '30, club secretary.

Home Ec Alumnae Meet

Home economics graduates from all over Wisconsin attended the annual reunion dinner of the Wisconsin Home Economics Alumnae Association on May 24 in the Memorial Union.

Miss Inez Willson, '16, Chicago, editor of What's New in Home Economics, spoke.

Assisting Mrs. C. Howard King, '20, president of the group, in arranging the banquet were Doris Uehling, '42; Mrs. Robert Kilgust, '39; Mrs. R. B. Gordon, '28; Mrs. Ed. Thomas, '25; Ruth Dickie, '34; Mrs. James Geisler, '37; Dorothy Carpenter, '39; and Mrs. H. F. Leindorff, '26.

Babcock House Warming

Babcock House on the U. W. campus held a post-war homecoming dance at Nakoma Country Club last month. Returning alumni included:

Ed Bauman, '46, Franklin Bradley, '37, Dick Billstein, '44, Jack Davis, '46, Harry Ferg, '38, Tony Finger, '41, Ed Gangsted, '42, Bob Hackbarth, '40, Everett Hanson, '38, E. A. Hesse, '32, Ted Hulberg, '42, Harvey Mauth, '43, Keith Martin, '43, Bob Mooney, '43, Bob Niedermeier, '40, Paul Schulz, '39, Eldon Smith, '36, Orrin Stearns, '44, Howard Price, '41, Bob Van Liere, '38, Barney Waldo, '43, Arthur Wiedemer, '39, and Jim Yanke, '40.

Berge in Indianapolis

John Berge, '22, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Alumni Association, met with alumni in Indianapolis on June 19. Plans for a directory of Badgers in Indiana were discussed.

Former Governor Dies

Former Governor Francis E. McGovern, '90, died May 16. He was 80 years old.

McGovern was governor from 1911 to 1915, and during his administration more progressive legislation was enacted than in any other term in Wisconsin history.

Old Grads Meet in Denver

A group of Wisconsin alumni in Denver got together April 25 to hear Carl E. Dietze, '13, Milwaukee attorney, speak on "Wisconsin—Present and Future." The meeting was arranged by John H. Gabriel, '87, president of the Denver Alumni Club.

Present at the gathering were Mrs. George Watson; A. F. Krippner, '04; I. B. Hosig, '05; J. R. Iakisk, '11; William G. Krape, '06; Walter Hopkins, '02; Gustavus Sessinghaus, '99; L. W. Bartsch, '31; John Hovey, '32; W. H. Curwen, '11; Homer Talbot, '10; E. H. Hendra, '24; Clifford Mills, '05; Helen Erickson, '24; Mrs. Gerald Friedman, '22; and Irene Titus, '09.

New York AAUW

Mrs. Harry E. (Lillian Wall) Crum, '17, president of the New York City branch of the American Association of University Women, urges all Wisconsin alumnae in the New York area to join the organization.

"We have some Wisconsin members but I would like a great many more," she says.

AAUW headquarters are at Midston House, 22 East 38th St.

Louis Lochner Now in U. S.

JUST BACK from Germany and the Nuremberg trial, Louis P. Lochner, '09, for 20 years head of the Associated Press in Berlin, is now lecturing throughout the country on "What About Germany Now?" Mr. Lochner was the first executive secretary of the Wisconsin Alumni Association and a former editor of the Wisconsin Alumnus.

Knoxville Leaders

New officers of the Wisconsin Alumni Club in Knoxville, Tenn., are:

Norman I. Wengert, '38, chairman; Loyal Durand, '24, vice chairman; Max J. Edwards, '22, secretary-treasurer; and Karl Steinmetz, '10, Phil Voltz, '23, and Aubrey Wagner, '33, members of the board of directors.

New Chicago Officers

New president of the University of Wisconsin Club of Chicago is Carl F. Hayden, '18. He succeeds Arthur J. O'Hara, '24.

Other new Chicago officers are Chris C. Zillman, Jr., '29, vice president; Charles O. Newlin, '37, secretary; and K. Stanley Thompson, '41, treasurer.

FRANK O. HOLT, '07 (above), University director of public service and treasurer of the Wisconsin Alumni Association, spoke to alumni groups in three cities last month. On June 5 he was in Watertown, Wis., on June 10 in Sheboygan, and on June 11 in Chicago.

To pay their debt to the state for their education, women graduates of the University should take part in civic and community welfare projects, the women's group of the Wisconsin Alumni Club of Milwaukee was told June 8 by MRS. MARK TROXELL (below), University dean of women. Speaking at a luncheon at the City Club, Dean Troxell asked the women to make use of their education by aiding in community leadership.

CAMPAIGNING BADGERS

WISCONSIN alumni, traditionally active in politics, are well represented among the candidates for national, state, and county offices in the coming 1946 primary elections.

Attention centers on the race for the U. S. senatorship, where the incumbent, Robert M. La Follette, Jr., x'17, LLD '38, Madison, is opposed in the Republican primaries by Joseph R. McCarthy, Appleton, and Perry Stearns, '15, Milwaukee. Running for the federal post as a Democrat is Howard J. McMurray, '36, Madison, a member of the University faculty.

Eight contenders are seeking the Wisconsin governorship, including Ralph Immell, '21, Madison, on the Republican ticket; Daniel W. Hoan, '05, Milwaukee, on the Democratic ticket; and Walter Uphoff, '34, Oregon, as a Socialist.

Campaigning for other state executive positions are Oscar Rennebohm, '11, Madison, the Republican lieutenant governor incumbent; John Martin, x'16, Madison, the Republican attorney general incumbent; and Herman Runge, '22, Sheboygan, attorney general.

Graduates of the University are also entered in the contests for the state's 10 congressional assignments:

SECOND DISTRICT, Republican, Robert K. Henry, '14, Jefferson, incumbent, and Earl E. Schumacher, '25, Beaver Dam; THIRD DISTRICT, Republican, William Stevenson, '19, La Crosse, incumbent; SIXTH DISTRICT, Democrat, Edwin W. Webster, '23, Ripon; SEVENTH DISTRICT, Republican, Reid Murray, '16, Ogdensburg, incumbent; EIGHTH DISTRICT, Republican, John Byrnes, '36, Green Bay, incumbent; NINTH DISTRICT, Republican, Hugh Jones, '15, Bloomer; and TENTH DISTRICT, Republican, Alvin E. O'Konski, '32, Mercer, incumbent.

As usual, the University of Wisconsin itself has figured as a campaign issue again this year.

Delbert J. Kenny, West Bend, candidate for governor endorsed by the Republican State Voluntary Committee, declared in an early campaign speech that the University should establish at least 15 more extension centers around the state.

In a statement issued from his Madison headquarters, Ralph Immell, the Progressive-Republican candidate for governor, took a crack at Kenny's proposal.

"Kenny plans to solve the shortage of classroom and student housing space by asking some future legislature for funds at some future time to establish 15 educational centers for college students in Wisconsin," Immell said.

"If he had given any previous consideration to the problem, he would know that the University of Wisconsin is opening 35 extension centers in Wisconsin this fall. These centers are not adequate to meet the situation, but represent about all the stretch the University possesses."

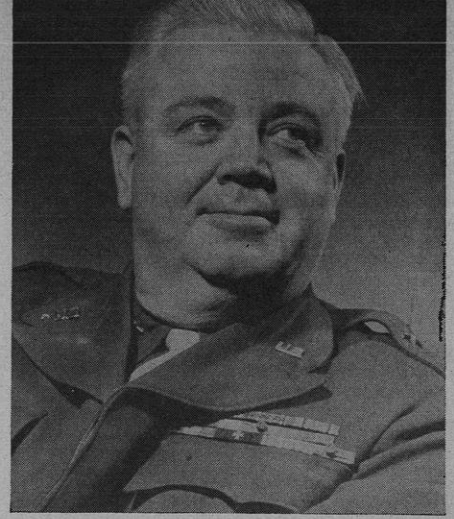

He went on to suggest that the state try to establish a temporary junior college at Camp McCoy.

Candidate Kenny brought the University into another speech when he said the College of Agriculture should do more research so farmers could produce better products at the lowest possible cost.

U. W. Tent Colonists Combine Summer of Study With Play

WITH crisp Spring air turning into lazy summer heat, a number of families from Wisconsin and other states have packed tents and camping equipment and come to the University of Wisconsin.

It isn't that the Madison campus goes rustic in midsummer; it's only that nestled on the Mendota lakeshore two miles from the University lie upwards of 70 tents, each of which has become a combination campground and scholar's study.

Every year since 1912 persons from half a dozen of the Mid-Western states have come to the University to live in the summer tent colony and attend the Summer Session classes. Almost all of them are graduate students, and most of them during the winter are principals and superintendents of high schools, professors, and other educational workers.

In the summer they bring their families to the tent colony while they work on their master's or doctor's degrees, in this way getting a good, healthy taste of outdoor life in Wisconsin's summer climate, and furthering their education. Many of them return year after year to set up housekeeping on that wooded hillside on the shore of Lake Mendota.

The University provides 60 small wooden platforms in the camping area over which the colonists pitch their tents, each for a summer rental of five dollars.

In charge of the colony and reservations for each summer is Mrs. Albert F. Gallistel, wife of the university superintendent of buildings and grounds, who does the work for the fun and friendships involved, and who finds it more of a summer pastime than work. The Gallistels have a summer cottage "next door" to the colony.

Mrs. Gallistel says that many of her "tenants" have come back year after year—in one instance now into the second generation. Another has been "camping" for 15 summers off and on, while a third is an old-timer with memories of summers at the colony that span 20 years.

Among the veteran colonists this summer are O. W. Seipp, '41, teacher in a Ferguson, Mo., high school manual training department; W. F. Oppermann, '41, Chillicothe, Ohio, education welfare worker; A. B. McCain, x'41, Milwaukee high school teacher; R. H. Meyers, '35, of the University's Milwaukee extension center; V. R. Plumb, '42, Beloit High School; O. W. Anderson, '44, of Rockford, Ill.; A. W. Krohn, x'46, of Bellville; H. W. Waffle, Davenport, Ia., and Frank Thomas, of Valley Falls, Kans.

During the summer months, when Wisconsin afternoons reach 90 degrees and over, the colonists have found that their grounds, surrounded by willows, are usually a full 10 degrees cooler than the campus and the city of Madison. In fact, reservations for tent space have to be restricted to out-of-town students. Too many, it seems, have in the past tried to rent their Madison apartments for the summer, planning to move to the colony, away from the sultry city heat.

So again this year, after a wartime lull, the summer tent colony, housing healthy, brown-skinned scholars, has resumed full activity, with students and their families living at an easy pace and worrying about nothing but the wind and the water—and a few examinations.

He was selected from a field of four finalists by a student-faculty committee at the close of the spring semester, and his trip was financed by a campus-wide collection. Houghton graduated from Amherst College in 1942 and spent 38 months in the army. He and his wife now live at Truax Field.

ard eight-week session numbers 3,900, in the full 16-week summer semester 4,300, and in the College of Engineering's current course 1,800.

Besides these three sessions there are over 20 various institutes, clinics, and conferences being held on the campus. Two of the most popular are the Educational Press Institute being sponsored by the School of Journalism and the Writers' Institute conducted by the English department.

The Elementary Laboratory School, long a part of the University summer term, is again in session at the Washington School in Madison under the direction of Clifford S. Liddle, MA '39.

The Summer Session ends August 16. The fall semester begins Sept. 23.

Two New Courses Now Offered by Extension

Two new courses are now offered by the Extension Division of the University.

In answer to a big demand for an up-to-date introductory course in radio, the division has made available a new course, "Elements of Radio," which is in line with the latest developments in the radio field. The course is taught by correspondence, replaces an earlier course, "Practical Radio."

The study of Portuguese has been added to the Romance language offerings in the correspondence-study program of the division. The new course, "Elementary Portuguese," is now available to students in Wisconsin and other states. It carries four credits.

The Wisconsin Idea

"The kind of University we want is the University which plunges its students into a wide and critical consideration of the contemporary world and seeks to equip them for meeting the issues of the day. Such a University is bound to give offense and raise alarm on occasion. The University asks your patience and understanding in all this in order that we may do the best possible job for your sons and daughters and for the state of Wisconsin."—Pres. E. B. students. They will be set up somewhere on the campus.

Two other temporary structures will be put up to relieve crowded conditions in the department of chemical engineering. One will be erected at the north end of the present Education-Engineering Building and the other north of the Chemical Engineering Building.

The University has also purchased the Kleinheinz Building at 730 University Avenue and the Schlimgen Building at 1327 University Avenue. They will be occupied by the Extension Division.

Blueprints Won't Help

In 10 years you'll have a hard time recognizing the Wisconsin campus, but all the projected improvements and enlargements won't even be started by next fall, when the need for them will be so great.

Fifteen building projects financed by legislative appropriations are marking time, waiting for material and labor. They include fire-proofing Bascom Hall, a new Library, a new Dairy Building, additions to the Chemistry and Biology Buildings, a new Bacteriology Building, an addition to the Wisconsin General Hospital, an Ag Short Course Dormitory, and improvements at WHA.

Three other building projects which will be largely self-supporting have been OK'ed by the Board of Regents but must wait for shortages to ease. They are a 450-man dormitory, a 400-woman dormitory, and a dormitory-apartment for married students and graduate instructors.

The Hagenah plan for remodeling the lower campus is not yet in the blueprint stage.

It's the Same All Over

Wisconsin isn't alone in its housing cramps. The University's problem is part of a nation-wide shortage of educational facilities.

The total of would-be students who will be turned away this fall from colleges and universities unable to handle the flood of enrollments was given recently as between 400,000 and 500,000, including 270,000 veterans, by John W. Snyder, reconversion director.

Snyder reported to President Truman that the country's colleges will have a potential student body of 2,080,000, but will be able to accommodate only 1,600,000. His report said educational institutions need housing, additions to their plants, highly trained specialists, equipment, and supplies.

"The difficulties now apparent will persist for at least four years," Snyder said. He predicted that the peak of veterans' enrollment will be in the fall of 1948, with the first significant decline in 1950.

COULD THIS BE YOUR HOUSE?

Now that the war's over and a lot more civilian goods are on the market, it's a big temptation to spend just about all you make, and not put anything aside.

But to fall for that temptation is plenty dangerous. It's like trying to live in the house above—a house that might come tumbling down about your ears at the first little blow of hard luck.

Right now the best possible way to keep your finances in sound shape is to save regularly—by buying U. S. Savings Bonds through the Payroll Plan.

These Bonds are exactly like War Bonds. Millions of Americans have found them the safest, easiest, surest way to save. The U. S. A. protects every dollar you invest—and Uncle Sam gives you his personal guarantee that, in just ten years, you'll get four dollars back for every three you put in!

If you stick with the Payroll Savings Plan, you'll not only guard against rainy days, you'll also be storing up money for the really important things—like sending your children to college, traveling, or buying a home.

So—anyway you look at it—isn't it smart to buy every single U. S. Bond you can possibly afford!

WISCONSIN ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

Memorial Union

Madison 6, Wis.

"... promoting by organized effort the best interests of the University..."

Largest WAA Roster

THIS 1946 Directory lists over 10,000 members—the largest membership roster ever published by the Wisconsin Alumni Association. Association membership has increased nearly 400% in the past 10 years.

Your name in this Directory lists you with the Badgers who get things done for Wisconsin. Your membership gives you a share in all the Association activities listed below.

This 1946 Directory is the first membership roster published since Pearl Harbor. It reveals that the upward trend in Association membership continued right through World War II. Incidentally, this steady membership increase played a very important part in providing the extra funds needed to send our publications, free of charge, to the thousands of Wisconsin alumni in the armed forces. Now that the shooting is over, many of these ex-Fighting Badgers are becoming Association members so that they can continue to get the publications which meant so much to them while they were in the armed forces.

Publishing a directory in these hectic post-war days is just one headache after another. First of all, we ran into the paper shortage. Next, we discovered that many Association members still had temporary addresses or had moved without giving us their new addresses. Other headaches developed from day to day—just as they have done in your business. Nevertheless, we struggled along—and here's your 1946 Directory. We hope you like it and find it interesting and useful.

We built this Directory on the geographical basis because this plan is most helpful to alumni clubs. It provides these clubs a convenient roster for carrying on their activities.

Copy for this Directory is complete as of July 1, 1946. It has been carefully checked and double-checked. In spite of this, mistakes have probably crept in and for these mistakes we beg your indulgence. Some of these mistakes, of course, may be due to the fact that we do not have your latest address. If this happened in your case, please send us your present address so that we can bring our records up to date.—JOHN BERGE.

What Your Association Does

OFFERS the most effective means of promoting, by organized effort, the best interests of the University of Wisconsin.

Union Concert Artist

ZINO FRANCESCATTI, violinist, will be one of six artists to perform on the annual Union Concert series next year. Also appearing will be Metropolitan soprano Patrice Munsel, pianist William Kappell, tenor Charles Kullman, and the duopianists Vitya Vronsky and Victor Babin.

Flying Badgers Reune

ON JUNE 28, just five years and a day since they were inducted in the Naval Air Corps, members of unit No. 1 of the Flying Badgers held a reunion picnic in Madison.

It was on June 27, 1941, that the original Flying Badgers left the campus for Glenview, Ill. Altogether there were seven such contingents in the Navy, more than came from any other University.

Out of the 35 fliers in unit No. 1, only three were killed and none of them in action: W. Baumet at Guadalcanal in 1943, J. J. Dudley at San Diego in 1942, and E. J. Wegner at Glenview in 1943.

The picnic last month was arranged by Gordy Marlow. Other members of the unit were W. Bertig, J. T. Bode, R. M. Chamberlin, R. G. Fisk, G. H. Gile, W. C. Grenzow, F. E. Gutt, R. Harnack, T. P. Haughian, T. E. Haus, H. C. Hogan, W. D. Jones, D. P. Knellwolf, H. Knickelbine, C. D. Lake, R. P. MacKinnon, W. R. Maxwell, R. C. Murray, H. D. Olson, C. D. Philips, J. M. Richard, W. D. Roth, B. E. Schefchik, M. E. Schluter, E. E. Welch, R. C. Wirka, T. A. Wood, C. A. York, R. W. Zabel, E. E. Zimdars, and H. E. Fryatt.

La Crosse Club Growing

The La Crosse Alumni Club continues to grow by leaps and bounds. Membership is now up to 159, Pres. L. M. Engelhard, '27, reports.

COMING BACK, ALUMNI?

Alumni guests of the University are invited to make the Wisconsin Union their headquarters when in Madison. This recreational and cultural center which is famous as the "living room" of the campus is now at its peak of usefulness to our students and we would like to have you alumni who helped make it possible by your generous contributions see for yourself how important a role it is playing in social education. Enjoy yourself, too, its countless recreational services, its beautiful theater.

Reservations for hotel rooms must be made in advance as we have only a limited number.

Sun-Screens

The highly reactive acetoacetic esters, long a favorite of organic chemistry professors, have assumed a new importance in modern industry. Two reactions which indicate the many possibilities of these compounds in organic synthesis are shown here.

Both methyl and ethyl acetoacetate are available in commercial quantities. Other esters, such as butyl and methylamyl can be supplied in research amounts.
