CHAIRMAN CALLS FIRST MEET FOR INTERSCHOLASTIC

The first meeting of the committees for interscholastic day and Venetian Night was held at 1 o'clock yesterday in the Union building. Gordon B. Wanzer, general chairman, called the meeting to outline the work for the events.

The annual state interscholastic meet will be in the afternoon Saturday, May 26. The water carnival will be in the morning, and the Venetian Night spectacle in the evening following the track meet.

Preliminary matches in the tennis tournament will open the three-day athletic carnival. The second round of matches will be played Friday afternoon and an entertainment for all the high school visitors will be given in the evening.

Saturday morning the water events will be run off provided that the lake is not too rough. If weather does not permit these events will be in the evening before the Venetian fete.

Wanzer urged the committee members to make the affair as much of a high school event as possible in view of the fact that it is chiefly to get prospective students interested in Wisconsin rather than in other universities. Last year more than 500 men entered the meet and twice as many more supporters accompanied the athletes to see the events.

COMPANY FOR MOVIES BEGUN

Badger Grad Originates Novel Varsity Scenario Organization

George Bartlett, a graduate of the university last year, has sold several scenarios to a producing company in Hollywood and will now start a Varsity Studio company, according to word received here yesterday.

The company formed by Bartlett plans to criticize scenarios written by college students throughout the United States and sell them to companies in Hollywood at a commission after corrections and suggestions have been made on the nucleus idea of the unexperienced writer.

"Many movie companies appreciate the scenarios which are sent to them, but have not the time to alter them in certain necessary places. Writers often get discouraged without ever obtaining a good constructive criticism. This fault will be remedied by our new company," Bartlett declared in a letter.

While in the university Bartlett was an active member of the Haresfoot Dramatic club and played in several productions. He played the comedy lead in the Varsity movie and was one of the editors of the Octopus.

Some of the pictures which have been written by Bartlett are "Private—Keep Off" and "Borrowed Trouble," both of which are released by the Film Booking Office of America. The Carter De Havens are starring in his work. Negotiations are being made by the Strand theater to obtain the pictures for Madison.

Two Announce Candidacy For Ag Federation Board

Howard B. Lathrop '24, and Marvin A. Scharrs '24, are the first to announce their candidacy for member-at-large of the Agricultural College Federation board. Elections will take place on Friday, May 11th.

Board positions are the most important offices to be held by agricultural students because all of the college activities are in the hands of the board. Today is the last day for any candidate to file his name at Dean James' office. A petition of 25 names is necessary for eligibility.

Two representatives from the Ag school and two from the home ec college will be elected. One representative from each of the two departments will also be chosen for the agricultural library board.

STAFF HOLIDAY

Because Theta Sigma Phi has taken over complete editorial management of The Sunday Cardinal, regular members of staff and all students trying out for the editorial staff have been granted a holiday tomorrow and need not report for service.

13 ARE ELECTED BY TAU BETA PI TO HIGH HONORS

Professor Larson is Chosen

Twelve juniors and one professor have been elected to Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity, according to Hugor L. Rusch '23, president of Wisconsin Alpha chapter.

The new members were initiated into the organization at the annual spring banquet Wednesday evening at the Capitol cafe.

Prof. Larson Honored

Those who were elected to the honorary society were:

Honorary Member

Prof. Gustav Ludwig Larson.

Juniors

David J. Greiling, Frederick J. Mollerus, Edgar D. Lilja, Walter A. Kuenzli, William E. Ouwenel, Wallace W. Drissen, Floyd D. Johnson, George F. Hrubesky, Joe Rosecky, Warren A. Mason, Edward C. Bopf, Floyd A. Nelson.

At the banquet Prof. L. F. Van Hagen acted as toastmaster. W. O. Hotchkiss, state geologist gave the address of welcome to the honorary member and Rusch extended the welcome to the juniors. Ouwenel responded for the initiates. Other speakers were Dean F. E. Turneure and Prof. J. D. Mack, state chief engineer.

Election is Approved

This is the first time in four years that a faculty member has been elected to honorary membership from Wisconsin. Elections to honorary membership are made on the basis of some marked achievements in the engineering profession and must be approved by the National executive council of the organization.

Undergraduate membership is based upon high scholastic attainments and distinctive personality. Elections are made after an approval by an advisory board of faculty members of the fraternity.

Tau Beta Pi was founded at Lehigh university in 1885 and since that time chapters have been founded in the leading universities and technical schools of America. Wisconsin's charter was obtained in 1898.

Luther Students to Make Plans at Annual Dinner

The Luther Memorial Students' association will hold its annual dinner at 6 o'clock this evening to discuss plans for next year, to elect officers and to hear Dr. Charles S. Bausin of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

The program is in charge of W. W. Wittenberg '24, association president. Dr. Charles S. Bausin, college secretary of the United Lutheran church, and the Rev. A. J. Soldan, pastor of the Luther Memorial church, will be the speakers of the evening. Russel Nelson '26 will give a violin solo, Arthur Wolfe, a vocal solo and Ruth Beebe '24, a piano solo.

A quartette composed of Clara Kepke, Harriet Dohn, Clarence Hammen and Alexander Morstad will render several selections. Officers and cabinet members will be elected for next year.

Dr. C. S. Bausin is a member of the National Educational committee of the Lutheran church. He has traveled in the United States and Canada speaking to the college and university students.

Alaska Requests Copies of Next Octopus Issue

A request for copies of the Octopus has just been received from the chamber of commerce of Anchorage, Alaska. In addition to this the business department has of late received subscriptions from New Brunswick, N. J. and Helena, Montana. The next issue, the Passing Out number, will be ready for sale Wednesday, May 16. This is the last number for the year.

Annual Spring Election Doors Will Open Today

Senior Dance Opens First Commencement Activities

The senior dance tomorrow night at the Cameo room will be the first commencement activity. Thompson's 6-piece orchestra will play, and there will be special features during the intermission.

Although the dance is primarily for the seniors, it is open to lower classmen also.

"This is the last opportunity for a social get-together for the seniors this year, and every senior should go," said Earl Gill '23.

Tickets may be secured at the door, at any fraternity house, the Badger drug store and Morgan's for $1.65.

NEW FOLLOWS OLD IN DANCE

Frost Retires as Union Mixer Chairman After Report

The old mixers gave way last night to the new Union Hop when Morton Frost '23, vice president of the Union board made a final report concerning the mixers.

This evening the first Union Hop will be held in the gym. Thompson's 10-piece orchestra has been engaged for the dance.

The old mixers were started by the Union board about four years ago and since then have been maintained as a comparatively successful institution on the campus.

The first mixer last fall was attended by approximately 2,000 students and the receipts amounted to $500. Three other mixers were given during the fall.

Chaperons for the mixers were supplied by S. G. A. and a committee of from 12 to 20 women comprised the floor committee. In return S. G. A. received a third of the profits from each dance.

Union Hops will be in charge of Malcolm Millar '25 member of the Union board and if they are successful, it is planned to conduct them at intervals during the year.

"The idea of the old student mixer was to provide a cheap get-together dance at which men and women could get acquainted," Frost declared last night.

"It has been the plan in past years to have a mixer about every three weeks in the men's gym and during the basketball season at Lathrop gym.

"At the latter mixers however a gradual influx of town people and a reign of considerable disorder caused a general sentiment against mixers among the students.

"The disorder was especially noticeable at the last mixer and after a joint meeting with the S. G. A. consul, Union board decided to indefinitely postpone the next mixer. As a result of this action the new plan of giving dances was inaugurated and will replace the old mixer," Frost concluded.

Former Ag Professor May Accept New York Position

C. P. Norgord, formerly a professor in the college of agriculture here for 15 years, is considering acceptance of an appointment as assistant commissioner of agriculture of New York, at a salary of $7,000 annually.

Norgord is a present commissioner of agriculture of Wisconsin. He has developed eradication work in Wisconsin. Governor Blaine does not intend to reappoint him, so that the commissioner intends to leave.

He plans to present his resignation shortly.

WEATHER OOL:ER

Partly cloudy and somewhat cooler Friday. Fair and slightly warmer on Saturday. Maximum temperature was 74 degrees at 4 p. m.; minimum 60. 5 degrees at 6 p. m.

16 Candidates to Be Chosen

Student voters will choose 16 candidates from a field of 33 to hold office for various positions during the next year at the annual spring election today. Polling places will be open from 8 to 5 o'clock.

Two referendums also will be voted upon. One will change the method of selecting Union Board candidates if passed and the other will keep the election of the graduate member of the Student senate within the Graduate school if passed.

The resolution affecting Union board is not designated by any name in the election guide book and on that account has caused some confusion among students. The referendum printed in the booklet as referring to Union board and which will be voted on today begins with the words "Shall Article VII, section 6 of the constitution of the Student senate be amended..."

Directories are Guides

The student directory of November 1922 will be the final guide of elections committee workers in the classification of voters. All voters will be checked in and checked out at the polls by means of marked directories. Any voters whose classification has been changed by promotion since the first semester must present a slip certifying this fact when they appear at the polls.

Letters and Science students will get these slips at the office of the registrar. Agricultural students will get them from Dean James' office in Agricultural hall. Engineers will get them from Dean Turneure's office in the Engineering building.

Students in the Course in Chemistry, School of Music, Course in Pharmacy, and the Law School will vote in the Biology building and Bascom hall. Those whose names begin with the letters A-L will vote at the Biology building and those whose names begin with the letters M-Z will vote in room 101 Bascom hall.

List All Candidates

The list of candidates for offices to be filled is as follows:

Student senate—sophomore member, Max Cizon, Wes W. Dunlap; one to be elected. Sophomore male electors vote.

Badger board, freshman member, Ben Drew, Russell Gage; one to be elected. Freshman male electors vote.

Union board, junior recommended member, Paul Eschweiler, Eugene Meng, William H. Oatway; one to

PROF. STUART TO LEAVE FOR WEST DURING SUMMER

Prof. G. H. Stuart will leave after the close of the summer session for Leland Stanford university where he has accepted a professorship in the political science department. It was announced yesterday. He will have charge of the study of international relations and will inaugurate an entirely new course on the League of Nations.

Private research work will take a large part of his time, and for such study Leland Stanford is fitted with one of the best political science libraries in the country. To it has recently been added the gift of Herbert Hoover of an extensive collection of books covering all phases of the late war. The collection has just been made available for work.

Having studied for some time in Paris, Professor Stuart has always been interested in international relations and he feels that the opportunities for work in the field will be enlarged at Leland Stanford.

Professor Stuart has been at the university here for the past five years. While here he has been concerned chiefly with courses in American politics. He also has done extensive travelling throughout the state speaking on various political topics before different groups.

President Gives Memorandum on Military History at the University

By PRESIDENT BIRGE

History of military science and tactics in the university.

The Morrill Act of 1862, with its land-grant, is the basis on which all the "land-grant" colleges of the United States have been established. This Act provides, in Section 4, that the proceeds of the land-grant shall be applied to the "endowment, support and maintenance of at least one college where the leading object shall be, without excluding other scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics, to teach such branches of learning as are related to agriculture and the mechanic arts," etc. Thus the Morrill Act "includes" military tactics as part of the "leading object" of the land-grant college.

The state of Wisconsin accepted the provisions of this Act by Chapter 114 of the laws of 1866. This law names, in Section 2, "military tactics" as part of the work of the college established under the land-grant. It further defines the work to be given to this subject in Section 4: "All able-bodied male students of the university in whatever college shall receive instruction and discipline in military tactics, the regular arms for which shall be furnished by the state." This section shows the understanding of the state in regard to military tactics when it accepted the federal grant.

Under the provisions of this law the university battalion was organized in 1867, with Colonel W. R. Pease, professor of military science and engineering, as commandant. It included (Catalog 1867-68, p. 23) "all male students of the university."

Law students first appear in the military tactics, 1868-69 and they were not required to take military tactics, although this fact is not stated in the catalog. At this time and for many years afterward the law school was not on the campus and the students were hardly considered as part of the regular student body.

The catalog of 1869 (p. 36) states that military drill is required of "all students of the sophomore and freshman classes" and that it is elective for students of the other classes. This has been the university requirement since that time.

In the Revised Statutes of 1878 the legislature substituted the word "may" for the word "shall" in the passage quoted from the Act of 1866, and the law has ever since remained in this form. This change in the statute legalized the practice of the university in exempting law students from required military tactics and also in exempting students who enter the university as juniors or graduate students.

The duty of commandant was performed by the successive professors of engineering until 1880, when Captain (now General) Chas. King became professor of military science and tactics. He held the position for two years, and in 1883 Lieutenant G. N. Chase, of the U. S. Army, was assigned to duty at the university by the federal department of war. Since that time the position has been filled by an officer of the army.

The R. O. T. C. was organized in 1917. Under its provisions more university credit is given for military work in the upper classes and a greater variety of work has been offered by the federal government. But the work is required from freshmen and sophomores just as it was since 1869.

Total in course.....1090

Excused.....286

Many of the excuses are granted on account of completion of requirements at university or elsewhere; others for physical disability, etc.

3. Cost of drill to the students: Each student is required to deposit $25 to cover cost of uniform. At the close of the freshman year he receives back $18, and at the close of the sophomore year $6 more. He also keeps the uniform, which thus costs him $1.

Students who elect drill in the junior and senior year receive credit for the study toward graduation and are also paid by the federal government $10 a month.

4. Cost of drill to the university: The salary budget for military science in 1915-16 was $2172. In 1922-23 it was $6712.

5. Military drill in other land-grant colleges: There is now a land-grant college in every state of the Union—48 in number. Military drill is required of freshmen and sophomores in every one of these institutions. The study is open to election by juniors and seniors in all of them. The general requirements are the same as those now in force at the University of Wisconsin.

A week—or more—in Yellowstone Park

"Go In Gardiner, Out Cody"

Another week, or more, in Colorado! Can you imagine a more wonderful vacation.

The motor-trip through Yellowstone Park can be made in 4½ days, but you should stay longer. Some people remain a month. Nowhere else, they say, can they pass time so happily. The cool, pine-laden air, the fishing, the extraordinarily varied scenery, the delightful social life—these are attractions which draw tens of thousands annually. The standard Park tour costs $54 if you stay at the hotels; $45, at the camps.

And Colorado—only twenty-six hours distant—is as satisfying, in its way, as Yellowstone Park. Rocky Mountain (Estes) Park—a summer paradise—is only a few hours distant from Denver. So is Colorado Springs, nestling at the foot of Pike's Peak. The round trip to and thro' the "Royal Gorge" can be made in a day from Denver or Colorado Springs.

Low Summer Rates

of the Northern Pacific make it possible for thousands to visit Yellowstone Park, who otherwise might feel that the trip is too expensive.

BADGERS READY FOR ILLINI WITH WILLIAMS BACK

May Use Gibson at Center

With Captain Rollie Williams back at his post in left field, Wisconsin's Varsity baseball team will be ready to tackle the Illinois nine here Saturday afternoon. Coach Guy S. Lowman has been working hard with his men this week in the hopes that he will be able to turn back the title-seeking Illini.

Illinois' defeat at the hands of Iowa recently does not indicate that Coach Lundgren's men are a mediocre bunch. Jackson, veteran pitcher from last year, was wild, issuing three passes in the three innings he worked. Besides that the infielders had an off day and fielded badly. Iowa was held to three hits, but with the breaks of the game managed to defeat the Suckers 7 to 2.

Both teams have lost a Conference game and Saturday's battle will determine which outfit is to remain near the top of the standings.

May Use Gibson

The Badger hurling job will fall to Johnson, Pickford or Radke. Johnson and Pickford are warm weather men, while Radke does not seem to be bothered by either heat or cold. The starter for the game probably will not be decided until Saturday when the men warm up.

The only possible change in the lineup is that Gibson of football fame may replace Becker in center field. Becker is in a slump at present, and a little rest may do him good. Gibson's showing in the last practice will decide whether the switch will be made.

Ask for Big Crowd

Either Cliff Jackson or "Lefty" O'Connor, mainstays of the Illinois staff, will start on the mound against the Badgers. O'Connor is the "find" of the season, having won all his games so far. This is his first year in Conference baseball. Jackson was a regular pitcher last year, and with one year's experience he has developed into a dependable hurler. Which heaven

TENNIS MEN START SECOND LAP TODAY

Minnesota Has Strong Net Team to Clash With Badgers in Singles and Doubles at Breeze Terrace Today

The Wisconsin tennis team will start on the second lap of its championship-seeking march at 3 o'clock today on the Varsity courts when Badger net men take on the stronger Minnesota team in a six-match contest.

Four Wisconsin men will play singles matches with four Minnesota men, and there will be two doubles matches.

Minnesota invades the Badger camp with a strong team headed by Captain Pidgeon, net star who performed before an admiring group of fans here last year when the Gophers played the Badgers to a tie match.

Kuhlman, another Minnesota ace will be in action today, and two other men, chosen from a large group of Gopher artists, will complete the quartet.

After a strenuous week of practice in which several tryout matches for positions were held, Coach G. E. Linden announced last night that the same team which played Iowa to a tie last Saturday will be seen in action again today.

The Badger racquetters took a light workout yesterday afternoon to keep limber for the meet, but left the courts early.

Tom Tredwell, Badger captain, probably will play Pidgeon, in the fastest single match of the afternoon. Nick Aagesen will play Kuhlman and Moulding and Bennett, Wisconsin men, will play the third and fourth men on the Badger squad. Tredwell and Aagesen will be matched together against Pidgeon and Kuhlman in doubles match and Moulding and Bennett will work will start the game will not be known until tomorrow.

A special appeal is being made to the students to attend the game tomorrow. On the outcome of the game will depend Wisconsin's chances in Conference baseball. At the Wisconsin-Michigan game at Ann Arbor last Saturday, 8,000 Wolverine supporters crowded into the stands to cheer their team to victory.

together in the other foursome against Minnesota talent.

According to all advance reports, the two teams will be matched in one of the most evenly fought contests of the season. The loss of Godfredson, Wisconsin ace in 1922, by graduation, is more than offset by the loss to Minnesota of Norton who did much last year to carry the Gophers through the season successfully.

Other men on both teams are evenly matched and an interesting battle should take place this afternoon.

The Varsity courts near Breeze Terrace are in excellent condition for the match after several days of dry weather.

All football men who have been or are candidates for the Wisconsin Varsity team will hold a big get-together meeting under the direction of Coach Jack Ryan on Sunday, May 20, it was announced at the gymnasium yesterday. Coach Ryan will address the men and plans will be formulated for the 1923 gridiron season.

TRACKMEN HOLD LIGHT WORKOUT FOR MAROON GO

Twenty-five Men Leave For Meet

Badger track men will taper off to a light workout this afternoon to put the finishing touches on practice for the meet with Chicago to be held at Chicago tomorrow.

About 25 men will leave Madison tomorrow morning and will be ready for the encounter with the Maroons on the Chicago field in the afternoon. While the dope favors Chicago to take the meet, hope is strong in the Badger camp and victory for the Badgers may be possible.

While Chicago has several men who seem certain of first places in various events, Wisconsin can expect to garner a tidy total of seconds and thirds, and if the breaks go to the Badgers, they may upset the dope.

Half-mile Is Strong

Wisconsin hopes lie in her middle distance men and in her weight men. Hilberts and Valley should count in the quarter and half-mile runs, and Tom Nichols should score in several of the weight events.

Following is the probable entry list for the meet:

100 yard dash—Wisconsin: Spetz, Ellison, Johnson. Chicago: McFarlane, Pyott, Stackhouse.

220 yard dash—Wisconsin: Johnson, Ellison. Chicago: Pyott, Bates, Jones.

440 yard dash—Wisconsin: Johnson, Flueck, Hilberts. Chicago: McFarlane, Jones, Bates, Stitt.

880 yard dash—Wisconsin: Ramsay, Valley, Hilberts. Chicago: Krogh, Barnes, Kennedy.

1 mile run—Wisconsin: Schneider, Rossmessel, Bergstresser. Chicago: Krogh, Spruth.

Two-mile—Wisconsin: Wade, Tschudy, Perry. Chicago: Bourke, Bisno.

120 yard hurdles—Wisconsin: Newell, Tuhter, Hammann. Chicago: Brickman, Jones.

220 yard low hurdles—Wisconsin: Newell, Tuhter, Schneider. Chicago: Brickman, Jones.

THE CARDINAL'S ADVICE ON UNION BOARD REFERENDUM

Vote no.

PHI BETA KAPPA

In the news columns of this paper is carried today a list of names of students who have received the highest scholastic honors that an undergraduate may receive.

Election of Phi Beta Kappa is the worthy goal of many a freshman. Throughout the first semester he may assiduously strive to reach that goal. But gradually other interests, far less worthy, intervene and the once ambitious freshman lets his studies become of secondary interest.

There are some students however, who do not forget their first ideals of scholastic endeavor. They look ahead and beyond the present. It is that class of students who are listed in the Phi Beta Kappa election of this year and every other year. It is one place in student life that exclusiveness is necessary and welcome. Phi Beta Kappa elects only the best students and but relatively few of them. That is one of the reasons why the honor is so highly coveted and yet so seldom received.

It is entirely in order, we take it, for the newly elected to feel rather chesty about it. They never do, but no one could blame them if they did. The key stands for something more than mere intelligence. It means intelligence, of course, but it means also application and industry. It means a great many hours of toil over text books, hours that might have been more pleasurably spent at a dance or on the lake. It means that its wearer has given up some of the froth in order to get much of the substance.

Phi Beta Kappa may have but a transient influence on those who are elected. But it certainly should stimulate the underclassmen to renewed appreciation of industry and scholarship. There are entirely too many students on this and every other university campus whose main thought is to have a passing grade only,—just to get a degree.

There are too many who fail to appreciate what an advantage application to studies may mean in the senior year as well as later in life.

We hold no brief for those students who complain about the high standards. We have little sympathy with the average student who leaves school by the dean's request. But we do spare a little sympathy and understanding for these students who have studied earnestly and yet are just a fraction of a percent beneath the standards required for Phi Beta Kappa.

And yet these students have the knowledge or approximately so, that their more fortunate fellow-students have. They have missed the highest goal, perhaps, but knowledge gained through long hours of study cannot be lost in a day.

The very exclusiveness of this honorary fraternity makes election to it seem more of an honor and a privilege. What is easy to get no one wants.

And so let's shake the hand of those who were elected and let them know how proud we are of them and how glad we are that they are helping to keep alive the scholastic ideals of Wisconsin.

THE WORLD OUTSIDE

The world outside our college walls assumes a menacing appearance about this time of year. Ask the seniors. Father's pay check and mother's allowance will soon be only matters of fond memory and the student of today will be the toiler of tomorrow.

Just now seniors are beginning to think of what they will do when the academic days are over. A degree does not always secure a position.

When one is a freshman it is easy to look forward to the time when, with degree in hand, one can step off the campus, greet the world with confidence and high self-esteem and demand a position entirely consistent with one's higher education.

A few years ago it might have been that easy to get a good position. But college degrees are more numerous today than they were ten years ago. Competition is keener because there are more that are capable of filling those places. And there are a great many industrial concerns who do not look with the highest favor on a college graduate. The college graduate can generally convince them if given a trial but they must be convinced first.

Some seniors have been wise in that they have not trusted to good fortune but already have made plans for their future work. Some of them even have accepted positions and will begin their new tasks immediately following commencement. That is probably the safest way and the easiest way to break from the free and easy college life into the none-too-easy work a day world.

It has been rather pleasant to sit by for four years and sort of let the world go by. True, there were the studies to learn and the various activities, but of the real work-a-day world little was thought and little cared.

Now the time comes to pack up and take the business road to the world outside. One will find there paradise, misery, or passivity as he has prepared for it. There is yet time.

Editors Say—

A COMPARISON

(Daily Maroon)

Early in February the University of Michigan sent a letter to the Interscholastic Commission of the university asking for the dates of the 1923 prep meet, and stating that they would arrange the dates of the Michigan state interscholastic so that there would be no conflict. Michigan and Wisconsin both sponsor state interscholastics during the latter part of May.

About the time that Coach Stagg and H. O. Crisler announced the dates for the National Interscholastic, Wisconsin decided that the Wisconsin state meet would be held May 25 and 26. No attempt was made by the athletic board of the Badger university to avoid a conflict. We are told that Wisconsin has each, in years past, held its prep meet at the same time that we have held our national event. Their announcement was made after we had made ours.

The Daily Maroon believes that an Interscholastic, such as Coach Stagg has staged for nineteen years, an affair of national significance, should be considered more important than one restricted, in general and prep interest, to within the boundaries of a state. Wisconsin is, of course, only one state out of forty-eight. The prep men in that section of the country should be allowed to enter the biggest interscholastic in the world. Why not give them a chance at two meets?

It is interesting to note the action of two "rival" university athletic departments.

Bygone Events

THIRTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The two gigs were removed from Library hall where they have been stored all winter to the new boat-house yesterday.

The tennis tournament to decide who will play against Beloit will be held Friday.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

The Boston festival orchestra will appear here May 8, under the auspices of the Music school.

Many new machines have been installed in the University machine shops. Professor King wants $8,000 of the University appropriation fund to complete the department.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY

The student senate ruled yesterday that lake parties should cease; suspension being threatened for violation of the rule. The freshmen will live in peace unless they are especially unruly.

The Daily Cardinal will meet the Country Magazine in base-ball on the varsity field tomorrow morning at 8:30.

And they expect a mere man to resist stuff like this:

My Man!
I like the men who know their stuff
When it comes to treating the ladies rough—
None of this Plato rot for mine
Give me the caveman, he-man line!

I don't care for the honest youth
Who always tells the girls the truth
A man is tame who can be believed
I'd rather be thrilled—though it means deceived.

I like nice manners—but not too nice,
And I don't like men as cold as ice!
I hate a man who requests a kiss—
I want a man I CAN'T resist.

No, young man, we can't give you her phone number.

JUST SUPPOSE

Just suppose that bathing suit styles are as erratic as the other spring styles are!!

We have honoraries for this and honoraries for that—Why not have an honorary petting sorority.

Might be a little consolation for those that didn't make Phi Beta Kappa.

We haven't figured out yet why we didn't make it.

Some say that the fire on Lake street was in honor of Scotty's election to Phi Beta Kappa.

To the Egotistical Autocrat
Want you to fall? Yes, on your head

To stir some thought, asleep or dead,
That any girl who'd look at you
Must be perforce a bit cuckoo!

You watch the girls go up the aisle,
And roll your eyes and smirk and smile,
And fancy every damsel's eyes
Are turned to you in bold surmise.

Two lines of action I'd suggest—
You give conceit a well-earned rest,
Forget the girls and study verse,

Column Right!

Books and things—cabbages—
Kings—as penciled by Ever Sharp

Today, we confess, we haven't anything to write about. Columnists people think, must have an easy time; they can write about anything under the sun, or even about nothing at all.

In fact, we suppose most people wonder just what the function of a column is, one of this sort especially. To be frank, we wonder ourselves. At least, it makes a good space-filler, something better than the style cuts, we hope. But beyond that.

And while we wonder wherein the good of this column lies, we are lead on to wonder about a more general subject which probably causes others to wonder, the matter of what are known as outside activities. On the wall in front of us we see a sign saying "Dangerous curve ahead." But the fool and sometimes the wise person, never reads signs.

There was a time when such things as outside activities were not known; oh yes, we forgot that fussing probably has always been an outside activity and probably always will be. But the number of things that students can do on the campus besides their duties connected directly with the main matter in hand is appalling.

This state of affairs has had a natural evolution and thus is doubtless necessary. And now we plunge head-long into as many outside affairs as we can get a corner on, and if we have doubts as to the advisability of such action we fight shy of them.

It is true that some activities give practical experience to a certain extent. Then too, they offer friendships and acquaintanceships which might not otherwise be made. Furthermore, participation in outside activities is a lot of fun.

And hoard the pennies in your purse!

So quit your smirking, laddie boy!
I'm sorry I can't bring you joy.
I know the joy you crave to own—
So Petting Sheik—go home alone!
—Ohio State Lantern.

Life's Little Tragedies

Bella: Did that Deke kiss you?
Donna: No. I resisted too long, darn it!

Why not hold the next S. G. A. meeting on the drive?

Yes, Lois Jacobs will be there.

Thank the Stars! We had been wondering what they were trying to do.

HEARD ON THE LAKE
Does Jack always go canoeing alone?

I guess not, why?
I never saw him with anyone!

There are many ways of getting from here down to the end of this column.

You can pull this Sort of free verse stuff
For a while or
Forever or you can just sort of drool along like this and make people think you are going to get away with a good one before you finish which you probably will not and then of course you can do this and as a very last resort you can simply put on your hat and coat and go home. Like this.

SOLOMON THE SAPIENT.

Now you expect a "but". Well, we have decided to leave that to you. We wonder though what this evolution may lead to.

A number of days ago something was said in this column about Joseph Conrad coming to the United States. We can't remember the exact wording, but we said something about the author's visit and wondered that he had not been tempted to call on the middle west with a lecture tour as his fellow foreigners have been in the habit of doing.

Evidently the impression we created was not not what we meant to create. We did not mean to be slighting Conrad. Quite the contrary, we admire him for restraining himself in this respect.

Every now and then we hear of some student on the campus who is planning on taking Mr. Baker's famous 47 Workshop course at Harvard after graduating. You know what the 47 Workshop is, a course in which the students write, produce and act plays and for which prospective students compose a play before they are admitted.

On our own campus, with 13 men writing plays for next year's Haresfoot performance and another student the author of a play which is being produced next week by the Wisconsin Players, there is certainly material for a branch office of Mr. Baker's.

Brander Matthews runs a branch at Columbia and there are probably other branches being conducted on other campuses. (We had better not call them branches, though, or we'll be in danger of being dubbed "cocky" again.) With the Haresfoot doing its own scenery (they are going to have a scenery workshop at the Parkway next year) with the good actors that abound on the campus, with so many enthusiastic writers and with such English instructors as there are, a great deal might be done along this line.

Maybe it could never equal the original although we see no reason why it shouldn't, it can at least satisfy a want that has been long felt or start something new, which would doubtless be met by a great deal of enthusiasm.

The student league of the Wesley Foundation will have its tenth annual installation and banquet at the Wesley Foundation at 6 o'clock tonight.

RESIDENTS OF MENDOTA SAVE LIVES YEARLY

More than one life has been saved through the cooperation of people in cottages on the other side of the lake, Cap Isabell said yesterday, in expressing his appreciation for their help.

"About twenty-five cottages around Maple Bluff and near the point have telephones and someone always calls when there is trouble on that side of the lake," he said. "I hope The Cardinal will thank them for me and for the university."

Cap announced that he will extend his pier out to about twice its present length in order to give room for two boats on each side. The lengthening of the pier will also serve to keep the numerous canoes from the line of rocks in front of the boat house.

One or two hardy swimmers have appeared at the boathouse dock already; but they do not keep in the water long. The temperature of the water is now about 50 degrees, and getting warmer every day, Cap Isabell said.

RELIGION COURSES ARE SCHEDULED

A booklet was issued by the Y. M. C. A. yesterday that gave the schedule of four new prospective courses in religious training.

The four divisions are preaching ministry, administration of religious leadership in rural communities and religious direction among young people.

"The courses as outlined are not to compete with the special courses of the professional schools but to supplement them," Frederick E. Wolf, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. declared yesterday.

Prof. J. L. Gillian of the sociology department will be the adviser.

Prof. William Kiekofer of the economics department and chairman of the university curriculum committee, Prof. Karl Young of the English department, and Mr. Wolf have been working on the courses that would best fit the student for religious work while taking his college degree. The course leads to a A. B. degree in Humanities and covers over 125 courses of the university. Typewritten sheets may be obtained at the Y. M. C. A. now and a booklet will be issued in the fall.

Long Drive Contest is Added to Co-ed Events
A long drive contest is to be held on Field Day, May 26, for all co-ed golf enthusiasts who wish to enter. A number of women have taken golf this winter as their sport, and this opportunity is being furnished for them to display their skill. A poster has been put up in Lathrop hall and all those who wish to participate are asked to sign immediately. It is against the principles of W. A. A. to offer material reward for excellence in athletics. As this contest is not limited to members of W. A. A. however, but is open to all university women, it has been decided to reward the victor with a golf ball.

SOPHS IN TIE WITH SENIORS

Upperclassmen Play Game With But Nine Men on Team

The sophomores held the seniors to a 1-1 tie in the second series of inter-class soccer games played on the lower campus yesterday afternoon.

The seniors were hampered by having only nine players on their team, but their superior ability made up for the deficiency and they were able to give the sophs stiff opposition.

Porter scored for the sophs in the first half, but from then on the superior offensive work of the seniors forced them to take the defensive.

The seniors scored in the second half by a free kick made by Strom. The tie is to be played off later.

The first of the inter-class soccer games was played on Wednesday between the freshman and juniors; the frosh won 1-0.

Lineup in yesterday's game:

Pershing Will Not Inspect Cadet Corps, Wood Affirms

"The rumor that General John J. Pershing will be here for the spring review of the Wisconsin cadets is unfounded," Major J. S. Wood stated last night. "I haven't heard anything about his coming here."

General Harry R. Hale, the commanding general of the troops stationed in Illinois, will be here May 15 for a general inspection of the R. O. T. C. here.

BRITISH SEND WOMAN TO U. W.

England Elects Miss Gilchrist to Study Botany
Here

For the second time a British woman, holding the Rose Sidgwick Memorial scholarship for study at an American university, has been elected to attend the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Grace Gilchrist, lecturer of botany at the University of Bristol, was awarded this scholarship for the year 1923-24 and will study under Prof. L. R. Jones of the department of plant pathology.

In 1920-21 Miss Rose Bracher, Salisbury, England, was a Rose Sidgwick fellow at this university and studied in the department of plant pathology.

Rose Sidgwick was a professor of history at the University of Birmingham, and came to America as one of the two women members of the British Education commission to study the educational systems here. She was the guest at the University of Wisconsin for a week. Miss Sidgwick died of influenza while in this country. The American Association of University women collected funds for a scholarship dedicated to Miss Sidgwick. This scholarship is given to one English woman each year for study in an American university.

Health-Peace-Plenty

Recovery of Ancient Eastern charm presents an inestimable boom to mankind in bestowing Power and Success upon all wearers.

Evil influences are removed, accidents warded off, planetary malignance overcome. Its touch betokens the dawn of a new existence. Its wear immediately releases all the powers for good and brings that joy and bliss, love and plenty, which you have long hoped for and struggled to obtain.

"Trilokbejoy" or The Mystic Charm
(Conqueror of the Universe)

A Divine Gift! Sought after for centuries! Recovered by mere accident from the disciple of a Hindu Sage, dweller of the sanctified, mysterious, snowy heights of the Himalayas. Confirmed sceptics testify to its miraculous powers. Men and women everywhere acclaim its potentiality in realizing material expectations, bringing in prosperity and securing a lover's affection. To be worn as a pendant or on the arm. Write Name and Address legibly stating SEX of the intending wearer when ordering.

LAB TO TEST KNOT EFFECTS

Use Giant Douglas Firs in Forest Products' Experiment

Forty Douglas fir columns 24 feet long, and a foot square arrived at the Forest Products laboratory here recently from the state of Washington. These timbers will be tested in the giant column testing machine for determining the effect of knots and other defects on column strength, and for establishing column laws on which design can be based.

This is the second consignment of such timbers from the Pacific coast for this particular study. The first testing material arrived last summer.

The 40 timbers in the recent shipment were taken from logs cut during the winter. Twenty of the timbers will be tested green and 20 after seasoning two summers. The first 40 timbers selected last August were taken from summer cut logs.

In the selection of the material representative stock was obtained covering high, low and medium density, the characteristic types of coast fir, and the range of defects generally found in structural timber.

To protect the timbers brought here it was necessary to pack them close piled with shavings filling up the cracks, in a closed car.

Four-Piece Sport Suits

EVERY ONE A BIRDIE

The cut is important in a golf or sport suit—roominess where it should be; yet having a smartness which assures you of being well dressed. Just shifting the trousers from knickers to long pants converts from link to street wear, or visa versa. Full or half belted models in roughish tweeds and homespuns make an excellent selection at Karstens.

COAT—VEST—KNICKERS—LONG TROUSERS

$50 to $60

SPORT SHIRTS

Flannel, Oxford Cheviot and Drill in solid colors of white, tan and blue. Fine for golf or street wear, especially when without a vest.

$2 to $4

EXTRA KNICKERS

Fancy tweeds, cashmeres and flannels in an unusual selection of pattern and design. These with a sweater coat make a fine sport combination.
