REVISED S. G. A. REGULATIONS GO INTO OPERATION

New Closing Hours in Effect

The official revision of S. G. A. rules went into effect yesterday in accordance with an announcement issued and signed by Dean F. Louise Nardin and Lois Jacobs '24, president of S. G. A.

Pending further legislation by the Self Government association, the following changes in regard to closing hours and late permissions are in force:

All women must be in their houses by 10:30 o'clock from Sunday to Friday nights. Absences after 10:30 o'clock are only by special permission of the house chairman or the house mother.

Get 11 O'clock Week Ends

Friday and Saturday nights women may be out without permission until 11 o'clock.

Residents who wish to be absent after 11 o'clock must sign up with the house chairman or the house mother.

Permission to be absent after 11 o'clock was previously limited to permissions to attend registered student parties. This permission is now extended to admit students to sign up for other evening parties.

To Hold Massmeeting

Plans are now being made to hold a second all-university mass meeting for women at an early date to discuss a revision in the S. G. A. constitution in order to make provision for a change in the method of voting. The system of public polls and the district system are two likely solutions to be considered to insure the greatest possible number of women casting ballots. A suggestion has been made that all balloting be preceded by duly advertised public mass meetings for discussion purposes.

The majority of landladies show no decided disfavor to the half hour extension of week day nights or to the revised week end provision. A prevalent sentiment among them is that their confidence in the university women is strong enough to assure a satisfactory working out of the new system. Investigation discourages the rumor that increased prices in women's rooming houses will be the result of action taken.

Chaperones Approve

Sorority chaperones as a whole express approval of the new rules and feel certain that members will be benefited by the change. In a few cases where objection is made to the 10:30 rule or the extension of the 12:30 privilege to include other than dance engagements, more stringent house rules may be passed if the girls desire, to take precedence over the general regulations of the university.

DOC' MEANWELL PRAISED IN N. Y.

Dr. Walter E. Meanwell, basketball coach, was guest of honor at a luncheon of the New York alumni, April 9. The invitation was sent by Maxson F. Judell '17, vice-president of the New York alumni.

"Doc" Meanwell is especially popular with the graduates living in New York because, as Judell puts it, he "delivers the goods."

"Meanwell's teams are always up in the race," comments Judell, "they are always fighting, they know as much basketball as their capacities admit, and we are always sure they are as good as they can be. If our basketball team loses a game we still retain complete confidence in 'Doc'."

Several Students Spend Vacation at Infirmary

About 30 university students had to spend their spring vacation at the infirmary. This number is comparatively small, as during the recent "flu" epidemic, the number rose to about double. The present number is about normal.

TONY SARG TO SHOW HIS MARIONETTES HERE

Tony Sarg's Marionettes are again to play in Madison. The Wisconsin chapter of the National Collegiate Players (formerly Pi Epsilon Delta) is bringing them to the Central high school auditorium April 18, for two performances: matinee, "Rip Van Winkle;" evening, "Don Quixote."

Those persons who were fortunate enough to see them last year will remember the remarkable manner in which the puppets hold the attention of the audience as they act their parts equally as well as living actors.

Far from being a children's entertainment, 75 percent of the audience last year was composed of adults. These grown people seemed to enjoy it even more than the children. This probably due to the fact that the marionettes are dramatic actors giving a real drama.

PROM BILL IS NOT CHANGED

Senate Refuses to Reconsider Resolution Against Use of Capitol

Compulsory military training at the university, opposed by Governor John J. Blaine in a recent message to the legislature, will occupy the limelight tomorrow in the joint senate and assembly hearing.

The hearing of this military measure follows closely upon the heels of the senate's refusal by 14-13 vote to reconsider the Heck joint resolution forbidding the use of the state capitol for the Junior prom and Military ball, effective July 1, 1923.

Women Visit Senate

The prom resolution met defeat in the senate last Thursday morning, the second day of the legislature after its Easter recess. Students obtained the pledges from 20 senators to support the motion for reconsideration, but were defeated in their appeal by a delegation of Madison women who visited the senate late Wednesday night and cited the recent amendment of S. G. A. rules as one of the reasons why the reconsideration should not be favored.

The capitol resolution has been sent to the assembly for concurrence. A hearing on the resolution will be announced by the judiciary committee tomorrow. It will probably be held next week.

Drill May Be Optional

Military training for the freshmen and sophomore students at the university would be made optional according to the following bill, number 185, A, introduced by Assemblyman John Polakowski, Socialist, Milwaukee:

To amend section 36.15 of the statutes, relating to military training at the university.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 36.15 of the statutes is amended to read 36.15 All schools and colleges of the university shall, in their respective departments and class exercises, be open without distinction to students of both sexes; and any able-bodied male student therein may at his option receive instruction and discipline in military tactics.

SECTION 2. This act shall take effect upon passage and publication.

A similar bill on optional military training has also been introduced by Assemblyman Herman W. Sachtjen, Madison lawyer.

To Hold Hearing

The joint hearing will be conducted by the senate committee on education and public affairs of which Senator E. T. Ridgway, Elkhorn, is chairman, and by the assembly committee on education, headed by Assemblyman J. D. Miller, Menomonie.

Students who wish to attend the hearing and present their respective sentiments adversely or favorably on the measure must be present at room 314, Northwest pavilion, third floor, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

HAREFOOT MEN RETURN TODAY FROM LONG TRIP

Annual Tour Proves Successful

The Haresfoot club returns today from a 10-day tour of Wisconsin and Illinois cities, which has been the most successful in the history of the club, according to reports from papers and individuals during the past week.

Beginning at Appleton, the club played to packed houses in every city on the circuit. In Milwaukee tickets were sold for standing room. The road engagement closed last night with a performance in Racine. Advance reports from that city indicate that the seat sale there would be as large as in any of the other cities.

Chicago Alumnae Pleased

A number of students were fortunate enough to witness "Kikmi," the silver anniversary play, in their home cities during the vacation. They are loud in their praises of the production as well as the critics and reviewers.

Miss Jessie M. Shepherd, president of the Wisconsin Alumnae association of Chicago, wrote to Thomas A. Tredwell '23, manager of the club, saying that members of the Chicago body enjoyed "Kikmi" immensely. In her letter to Tredwell Miss Shepherd said: "I want you to know how much I enjoyed the Haresfoot production, 'Kikmi.' It was a big success from start to finish."

Will Show At Parkway

That the club is making a hit in other ways than financially and artistically is evidenced by several smash notes sent to members of the chorus. One regular he-male received a note from a young lady saying that she was just sure he was as handsome a man as he was a lady.

The entire company of some 60 odd persons will return with the show today. They will begin final preparations for the Madison showings to be Friday and Saturday of next week at the Parkway immediately.

There will be a matinee Saturday and evening performances on Friday and Saturday. Tickets may be ordered by mail from the Parkway now. Application blanks may be secured at the office of the club in the Union building. The box office sale will open next Monday.

CURCI WILL SING

5000 FREE TICKETS ARE SOLD

Amelita Galli-Curci will sing in Madison May 21 if $5,000 worth of tickets are disposed of by midnight tomorrow.

The songster's contract stipulates a fee of $4,500 for the performance and must be accepted by Saturday of this week. The undertaking of selling the vast number of tickets required to insure her coming must be completed within three days' time. Orders are pouring in by the hundreds, however, and indications point toward a speedy subscription of the quota.

Tickets can be secured by mail order from the University School of Music. They sell at $4, $3 and $2, and $1 rates are extended to students, providing a fee card is inclosed with order. Half of the student tickets have already been disposed of, and a surprising number of the higher priced tickets have been sold, according to today's report of the sales committee.

The concert will be held in the stock pavilion, which accommodates 3,700.

WEATHER: RAIN

Increasing cloudiness Thursday and Friday. Probably rain. Rising temperature. The maximum temperature for the last 24 hours was 40.9 degrees at 4 p. m. and the minimum temperature was 35.6 degrees at 8 a. m.

ICE ON LAKE NOT SAFE "CAP" ISABEL SAYS

"The ice on Lake Mendota is not safe! Keep off!" warned Captain Isabel of the University of Wisconsin life-saving station yesterday afternoon. "Although there is about a foot of ice on the lake at present, it is badly honeycombed, and honeycombed ice is very treacherous because of its sound appearance."

Captain Isabel also advised those who have iceboats on the lake to remove them at once, because soon it will be impossible.

"Two or more days of this warm weather will clear the lake," Captain Isabel added, "Lake Monona is partly open now. Last year the university crew was out on Lake Mendota April 9."

GET COSTUMES FOR JAMBOREE

Great Number on Display at Lathrop Now; Group Plans Elaborate

The 1923 Varsity Jamboree is going to be a maze of color and bizarre costuming the committee on costumes promises. After considerable work in the matter of selection permission to furnish the costumes for the event was granted to Mrs. Frank Hess, who has ordered a number of new costumes.

Several fraternities and sororities are planning elaborate group costumes. These organizations have refused to divulge the nature of the costume in order to prevent any chance of imitation.

It is rumored that one group will appear garbed in costumes like those in a recent motion picture production. Some who have been working on costumes since before the vacation say that they are trying to get originality into them. The old stock masquerade costumes are becoming out-of-date and probably will be replaced entirely by those modeled on present-day styles of dress.

The costumes will be on display in Lathrop hall today, tomorrow, and Saturday. Any who wish to rent them may make their selections at any time.

"With the letting of the contract for the costumes the final preparations for the Jamboree are complete," Oscar E. Kiessling, general chairman, said last night. "The music, special stunts and features, and program are ready. All that is necessary is for everybody to come and have a good time."

Tickets for the jamboree may be purchased at the door of Lathrop hall Saturday night. Admission will be 50 cents.

SENATE FAVORS VOTING CHANGE

A change in the nomination of the personnel of the Union board was voted to be put to a student referendum at the spring election on May 4, following a motion by Senator H. A. Seering '24, at the meeting of the Student senate last night.

According to the present system one junior and one sophomore are elected after being nominated by petition and one junior and one sophomore are elected following nomination of three for each position by the Union board. The proposed change would take the power of nomination away from the board, allowing four men to be nominated by petition.

A referendum to elect the graduate representative of the student senate by the graduate male electors only, will be represented to the students at the spring election. This representative is elected by all the male electors of the University at the present time.

A police commission for cap night consisting of three "W" men and three "non W" men, was elected. Martin Below '23, will be chief commissioner. Other "W" men elected were Russel J. Irish '24 and Edward Gibson '23. Lucius P. Chase '23, Ralph E. Balliette '23, and William Frederick '23, were the "non W" men chosen.

ALABAMA NINE HANDS BADGERS 1 TO 0 DEFEAT

Baseball Team Loses Hard Battle

(Special to The Cardinal)

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., April 11.—The Badger nine went down to defeat by a score of 1 to 0, at the hands of the University of Alabama this afternoon for their fifth defeat.

The game was close throughout, and was a hard fought contest which hung in the balance until the last Badger batsman was put out in the ninth inning. It is the closest battle in which the Wisconsin nine has taken part this season.

Allows Four Hits

Doc Combacker, at short stop and Mills center field, starred for Wisconsin. Both were fast in fielding anything in their territory and their throws were speedy and accurate.

Johnson held up well on the mound for the Badgers, holding the Alabama team to but four hits, while Wisconsin was able to get the same number off Steb, the southern pitcher.

Captain Rolly Williams did the heaviest hitting for the Badgers, netting two hits, while Combacker and Seratius were each good for a hit.

Clever On Bases

Although Wisconsin outhit Alabama and the errors were even, the victory went to the Alabama nine as a result of clever baserunning at the opportune moment.

FALL OF SNOW IS 60 INCHES

1922-23 Record Shows Snowfall Fifth Heaviest Since 1884

Exactly 60 inches of snow fell in Madison during the past winter, according to the records of the U. S. Weather bureau, announced yesterday by Eric Miller. Of this total, almost half—28.4 inches, fell during March.

The winter of 1922-23 is recorded as fifth in total snowfall since the establishment of the weather bureau here in 1884. March, 1823, in which Madison and its vicinity were buried beneath huge drifts of snow, almost equalled the previous record of snowfall and stands next to January, 1910, when a total of 28.6 inches of snow fell here.

The weather bureau records the following snowfall for 1922-23: December—9.4; January—11, February—10.5; March—28.4; April—7.

"We will not have warm weather until the ice melts from the lakes and the big drifts disappear up-state," Mr. Miller said yesterday afternoon. "Tomorrow morning will be cooler than today with an early temperature of about 25° degrees. However, a warm wave is sweeping in from southwestern Canada, but it is not certain that it will continue.

"Light flurries of snow may occur yet this month, past experience has taught us. We have had a foot of snow in the middle of April in former years, but it is not likely to be repeated this year."

"The average temperature at this time is 36 degrees, which is about 4 degrees below normal. The temperature will rise slowly with fluctuations."

AD COURSE IS GIVEN TO ALL HOME EC WOMEN

To enable home economic girls, who have specialized in textiles or other particular branches to enter the commercial field, a home economics advertising course has been introduced this semester for the first time by Professor Sumner of the advertising department in the College of Agriculture. This course is a 2-credit course and the prerequisite is a junior standing.

Work includes the preparing of copy, the arranging of lay-outs, and the making of market surveys. Some time is given to the psychology in advertising and a study of advertising mediums. The psychology of women is particularly emphasized.

Several men and women in the advertising business have addressed the 36 junior girls enrolled in the course this semester. Miss Beatrice Morgan, advertising manager at Manchester's spoke on "How to Appeal to Women Buyers," and Miss Eleanor Mathews, interior decorator with Balch & Lippert spoke on "The Art Side of Advertising." "Herb" Meyer and Leo Fay will speak some time in the future.

Already home economic students have gone in as buyers for department stores and as advertising specialists for food and textile companies. Cafeterias employ for their advertising girls interested in the food side. The home economic instructors are taking this course.

With the city mail routes rearranged and two more carriers on duty, the mail service in the city's business districts is again back to normal.

Wisconsin Dropped From Michigan Basket Schedule

In making out their basketball schedule for the coming year it was announced that Michigan had severed relations with Northwestern, Ohio State, and Wisconsin. None of the three teams have severed relations as stated. Through the new system of arranging their schedules the Big Ten teams have arranged a method by which three teams are dropped from each schedule every year. In this way each team meets every other team once in three years. The schedule of every team consists of two games with each team that they meet.

LOWMAN'S NINE LOSES 4 GAMES

One victory in five starts was the record hung up by the Wisconsin baseball team when it lost its fourth consecutive game of the southern training trip on Tuesday afternoon.

Mississippi A. and M. administered a 9 to 2 defeat to Coach Guy S. Lowman's ball tossers. The same team walloped the Badgers, 8 to 1 on the previous day.

Wisconsin started the trip with a 13 to 7 win over Armour Tech, Chicago, last Thursday afternoon. The game was limited to five innings to enable the Badger squad to catch a train for the southland. Schrenk, Mills and Aschenbrenner composed the Wisconsin batteries. Aschenbrenner scored four runs, while Williams, Servatius, Holm and Combacker each crossed the plate three times.

The Badger nine lost its first contest to Mississippi University, 6 to 4, on Friday. Pickford had the slab assignment. Captain Montgomery of the southern team, hit a home run with two men on the sacks in the initial inning. Wisconsin did not score until the seventh. The Mississippi outfit scored another victory the following day with a score of 5 to 4. Wisconsin was outhit, 11 to 4.

The Badgers conclude their trip to Friday, April 13.

Railroads' Special Trains All Arrive Here on Time

The Chicago and Northwestern railroad ran four special trains to bring students back to the university after spring vacation. All of these trains, two from Chicago, one from Milwaukee, and one from Green Bay, arrived on time.

The regular train schedule was as usual, and many students came on these trains which arrived only a few minutes late.

COACHING STAFF NOW COMPLETE FOR NEXT YEAR

$50,000 Appropriated For Stadium

Wisconsin's coaching problem is now definitely settled, and all the departments of physical education are looking forward to a successful year. With the appointment of Jack Ryan, the coaching worries that have been bothering the athletic officials were conclusively put aside.

Just at present the equipment for the various teams is being looked after and arrangements for improvements on Camp Randall are being made, where approximately 7,000 additional seats will be added.

Fifty thousand dollars has been appropriated by the Athletic council from the 1922 football receipts for improvements on the stadium. This year it is planned to make the first connection of the East and West stands by the first tier of concrete in the completion of the horseshoe. The seating capacity will be increased to approximately 35,000, which it is expected will be taxed to the utmost by the Homecoming game with Minnesota and also the Michigan contest.

The coaching staff for next year at Wisconsin is as follows:

Athletic director and Track coach—Thomas E. Jones.

Football—John J. Ryan, head coach, assistants are not yet selected.

Basketball—Dr. W. E. Meanwell, head coach, assistant to be selected. Cross Country and assistant track coach—Meade Burke.

Swimming—Joe Steinauer.

Crew—Harry "Dad" Vail.

Wrestling—George Hitchcock.

Boxing—Edward Borgelt.

Gymnastics—G. E. Linden.

Soccer—G. E. Linden.

Outdoor Winter Sports—George Martin.

400 to Take Condition Exams This Saturday Afternoon

Approximately 400 persons will take condition exams this Saturday. The time and place of these examinations are posted on the bulletin board in Bascom hall. Only those who have signed cards will be permitted to take the examinations. Conditions incurred last semester will lapse into a "lunk" if provision has not been made to take examination on Saturday. Economics and English seem to be the subjects in which the majority of conditions have occurred.

Steinauer Outlines Plans For Coming Water Meets

Coach Joe Steinauer has a swimming program outlined for a month of water sport for the non-varsity men swimmers. The annual inter-class swimming meet will be held on Thursday and Friday of next week. On the following week-end the inter-college tourney will be run off, and the following week the inter-fraternity races will be put on. After these meets are complete, events will be held for college swimming championships.

25 FROSH OUT FOR BASEBALL

About 25 candidates answered the first call for frosh baseball in the annex yesterday afternoon. The practice consisted of merely warming up, as the work was the first done this season by most of the men. George Ruediger is coaching the yearling squad this year.

From present weather indications, the squad should be able to work outside before the end of the week. This will aid the men considerably in conditioning themselves, as the cramped quarters in the annex prevent the men from getting the full benefit of practice.

The men will report for practice every afternoon for the next few weeks, and if there are some first year men who play ball and have not reported as yet, they may still do so, according to Ruediger.

Johnson to Talk to Women Voters' League Tonight

Marietta Johnson, founder of the Fairhope school, will speak tonight in Music hall under the auspices of the Collegiate League of Women Voters. Miss Johnson has for nine years been working out a novel plan in education, and she will explain her aims.

OUTDOOR TRACK SQUAD TRAINS DAILY FOR MEET

Distance Men Prepare For Relays

Ushering in the outdoor track season with a spirit of determination which should amply make amends for the rather unsuccessful indoor season, the Varsity track squad went to work on the Camp Randall track yesterday afternoon.

A group of 23 distance men have been working twice each day during the spring recess in preparation for the Kansas relays to be held on April 21 and for the Drake relays to be held one week later. One team will go to the Kansas relays while three teams will be sent to compete in the Drake races.

Drake Next Meet

Of the eight half-milers who are working for places on the half-mile team which will go to the Kansas relays, not one man has definitely displayed enough superiority to assure him of his place. Valley will probably make the trip because of his good work during the indoor season and the work he has been doing so far at Camp Randall. Other men who are working to make the trip are Johnson, Irving Wade, Rossmeissel, Ramsay, Paulson, Carter, Hilberts.

The next meet on the program is the Drake relay meet which will be held on April 28. A half-mile team a mile team, a two-mile team, and a four mile team will run.

NIGHT EDITOR—HAROLD R. MAIER

THE LAST ACT

The curtain has now been rung up on the last act of "One Year at a University," a pleasant intermission from the rushing action of the previous act has just been enjoyed. The players, let it be hoped, are back on the stage with renewed interest and determination.

Weaknesses brought to light by mid-semesters should be heeded and strengthened without delay. Good resolves must be acted upon now, else a harvest of regrets will be the result next June.

May is coming with its attractions and lures for the out-of-doors. Unless studying is done in April, May must be spent in doors, and those pleasures lost, for the studying must be done.

Intelligent application and honest effort will insure the curtain ringing down upon a successful completion next June, which is not far away.

THE MILITARY BALL

On April twentieth the eleventh annual Military ball will be held in the capitol. It is unnecessary to say that every effort is being made to make this year's ball the best.

Wisconsin has always taken great pride in the Military ball. It has done much to add to the social prestige of the university.

The beauty of the capitol building and the splendid work of the various committees, have caused it to be ranked with justice as one of the two truly great social events of the year. It does much to show the finer and better social development that comes as a result of the opportunities offered at Wisconsin.

Because of the limited capacity of the capitol, the number of tickets is likewise limited. Those desiring to go are urged to secure their tickets at once.

An additional reason is the fact that the senate has refused to reconsider the bill abolishing the use of the capitol for prom and the ball. As a result of this action, this year's ball may be the last one held in the capitol.

But whether it is or not, this year's ball will be one that is worthy of Wisconsin in every way.

CRIMINALS

Much has been said of the increasing numbers of criminals, but with the advent of spring there is one class of criminals that is greatly augmented, reckless drivers and speeders.

Langdon street and especially University avenue are rapidly approaching that state where to cross them at certain hours of the day is to achieve an adventure.

The mere fact that these two streets in particular present a smooth stretch of roadway is not an excuse for indulgence in a selfish pleasure that daily makes dozens fear their lives and perhaps endangers the life of one or more. Such a state of affairs is of the gravest anti-social nature.

To depraved minds there may be humor in the sight of pedestrians hurrying and rushing across the street to avoid speeding cars, but it is humor in which intelligent and thinking people will not in dulge.

Also, to the same minds, there may be pleasure in seeing how close it is possible to come to a pedestrian without hitting him, but it remains that, whether struck or not, the pedestrian sustains a positive injury.

The motorcycle policeman will soon be on the job to curb these wilful violators of the law. Every speeder arrested should be given a jail sentence.

Fines have no value as punishment, for usually the money has been earned by someone else. A jail sentence, on the other hand, the only fitting punishment for such offenders, would serve to generate thoughts of consideration for others.

IMPROVEMENTS NEEDED

Last summer and fall many needed improvements were made on the campus. Two more might be called to the attention of the authorities, so that provision may be made for them in the apportioning of funds for repairs and improvements.

The first of these improvements is the sidewalk at the foot of the upper campus. The wall there is built on a level with the ground, thus permitting the water from melting snow and heavy rains to run down on the sidewalk and make walking dangerous in cold weather and wet and sloppy in rainy weather.

The remedy is simple. All that needs to be done is to raise the height of the wall a few inches and build a gutter on the inside, all of which would entail only a slight expense.

The second improvement is the sidewalk extending from Charter street to Agricultural hall with the exception of the part immediately in front of the Extension building. This sidewalk is at the foot of a hill and also lacks a gutter.

The sidewalk in front of the Extension building has a gutter and walking there is decent during inclement weather. The extension of this gutter the whole length of the sidewalk is desirable.

Editors Say—

STANDARDIZED AND COMPULSORY

(Cleveland Plain Dealer)

What's the matter with the professors? The Harvard Alumni bulletin speaks up and says they do not have enough of the right kind of fun. They should be taught the value of recreation, should be provided with more leisure hours, should be commanded not to work too hard. By this means they should be made more efficient, and their value to the university and to society would be measurably increased.

This idea of the practical worth of recreation is nothing new. Nowadays people are almost compelled to play, whether they like it or not. Anyone who does not golf, or do something of that kind, is looked upon as odd. The idea seems to be that college professors and instructors and assistants should have a good time, and, if necessary, should be taken in hand and taught how to enjoy themselves.

The fact that many educators find their most agreeable recreation in literary pursuits and in research more or less directly connected with their vocation should carry no weight. No matter how abhorrent any ball—golf, tennis or full dress—may be, the studious professor should be driven to it by force of public opinion. He should be compelled to put on knickerbockers in the afternoon and a spike-tail in the evening. He should be taught that in play as in work it is unwise and unsafe to defile style and custom. Mashie, niblick and fox-trot are words that should be crammed into his neglected and deficient vocabulary.

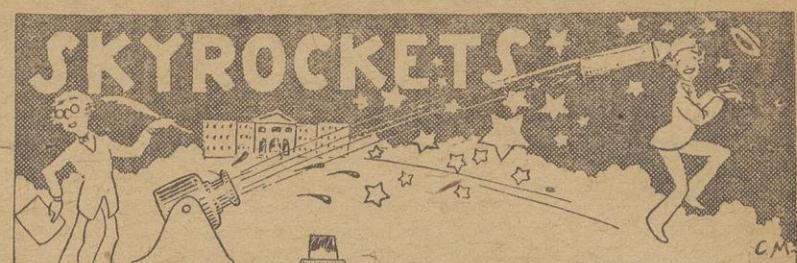

What right has a professor to immerse himself in his study with Aeschylus or Huxley? Such recreation is not according to Hoyle; it is against the rules; it simply is not one.

Yet, despite the fact that strenuous outdoor games and conventional indoor social affairs have appealed to studious men less than to most of us, it is not clear that the life of an educator is shortened or his utility diminished by his enjoying himself obscurely. On the contrary, educators are notoriously long-lived. What is fun for you may be a deadly bore to your neighbor; recreation cannot be standardized. If our college professors really work too hard let us add 30 days or so to their three-month vacation. But let us cease heckling them about their methods of recreation. Let us, in other words, be guiltless of a fault which was attributed to our older educators. Let us give over trying to standardize, and in this one matter of recreation let us permit everyone even an honored professor, to enjoy himself in his own way.

FORGED TOOL EXPERT SPEAKS TO ENGINEERS

In place of a regular business meeting, the American Society of Mechanical engineers will hear an illustrated talk by William M. Naujaks on forged tools this evening at 7:15 in the Engineering building.

Mr. Naujaks has been connected with this industry in Chicago for the past few years, and with this practical experience in the tool making industry, his talk will be of interest to all engineers who intend to follow any of the forms of machinery design.

INTIMATE GLIMPSES OF OUR UNIVERSITY

The Home-Ecs

Would you like to marry a girl whose clothes bespoke Fifth avenue, and whose cooking would make Dr. Delmonico go into the plumbing business? According to the University catalogue, all those wishing the above specifications in a "ball and chain" should marry a Home-Ec.

According to us they will do a little bit better to marry a major in English or stay single and buy a life pass to some high class bawdry. A good Home-Ec can take an old flour sack and five pins and turn out a gown that would make Lucile's eyes pop, or she can take a ripe egg and an electric fan and turn out a roast chicken, but who wants to live on Coue roasts or have a wife dressed in a flour sack.

A PROBLEM OF UNDERNOURISHMENT

(From The Chicago Tribune of Feb. 25, 1923)

The problem of undernourishment of the body is a very serious and important problem. It is obviously akin to other social problems. Poverty is at the bottom of it in many instances; ignorance, perhaps, in more. It is a problem to which increasing attention is being given, and we are nearer solving it today for a large number of people than ever before.

But

as it is, we refer to it now merely to illustrate a parallel problem of undernourishment quite as serious and vastly more prevalent—the undernourishment of the spirit. This disturbing condition is not confined to any particular social group; it is not due to poverty; it is in part due to ignorance, but it is chiefly the result of indifference and neglect.

It

it is a pursuit to be followed with even greater earnestness than any of these things, for it is the road to attaining the main objective in life—the realization of man's kinship and comradeship with God, Education, health, livelihood—all are immensely important, but important only as they contribute to the emancipation and culture of the spirit, through which personality assumes its true significance and comes into its complete heritage.

Will you take a little mental accounting now of the amount of time you have given in the last year to the educating and nourishing of your spiritual life? What books have you read? What use have you made of your leisure? What study have you given to those problems, subjective and

WORKS OWN WAY TO SPLIT CELLS

N. W. Professor Perfects Parts of Theories of Evolution

"The new device for dissecting cells which Prof. C. E. Tharaldsen of Northwestern university claims to have invented is not a new idea at all but a new application of an invention 15 years ago," declares Prof. William H. Wright of the College of Agriculture yesterday.

The invention is an ingenious device that holds a cell from three directions and permits it to be perforated or cut in two. The needles are the important part of the machine. They are finer than hairs and are drawn straight, or like a "J" or "L." Professor Tharaldsen admitted that it requires much practice to get a cell to lie still while a needle is being forced through it.

Prof. M. A. Barber of the Rockefeller Institute invented the first device of this kind 15 years ago. It contained very thin capillary glass tubes for picking bacteria that otherwise were difficult to get.

Prof. Robert Chambers of the Cornell university medical college of New York City in 1918 discovered a method of injecting solutions into cells so that the effect could be noted.

Professor Tharaldsen is working to prove the theory of evolution. This device will cut eggs in two to see if each half will grow. He uses worm eggs and similar spawn principally, but says that he has cut up many other kinds of cells. If these cells regenerate after being separated, it will go a long way in proving some missing links in the theory of evolution.

Every Movie Is Good This Week-Chatty

It's all about romance and adventure. We stopped at the Majestic a minute last night and saw the big boy, hair and temper ruffled, pounding a vicious looking gentleman whom we took for the villain. The caption which followed was: "I told you that I love revolutions."

Yes, Walter finds his love for adventure satisfied in a South American revolution.

The week will be wound up by a legitimate play at the Parkway. Otis Skinner himself says that "Mr. Antonio" isn't much of a show, but the public seems to disagree with him heartily. For this play about a poor Italian has been as successful as any of Mr. Skinner's.

Otis Skinner, by the way, is an honorary member of Haresfoot.

The star acts the role of a notorious woman, beloved of two brothers. The one arouses in her strong aversion; the other arouses the only unselfish love the woman has ever known. It is the conflict between these two loves that forms the dramatic action of the story, which is swift and stormy.

Another first rate actor comes to the fore at the Strand. Jackie Coogan, the juvenile hero of many a school girl, plays the part of a home-mender in "Daddy."

Jackie's screen father leaves home, unjustly accused of faithlessness by his wife. The boy arrives at the age when he believes that he can support himself and no longer be a burden to his poverty-stricken mother. So he follows in the footsteps of his father and takes to violin playing.

There's a lot of sob-stuff and some humor. But on the whole the piece is as emotional as anything this youngster has done.

"Nobody loves a fat man." Oho! So you think so, do you? Well go see Mr. Billings Spends His Dime" and you'll find out that you're mistaken. Jacqueline Logan quite disproves the statement by loving Walter Hiers a good deal.

We are glad to see that this robust gentleman has at last been given a leading part in a movie. He has been playing secondary roles to leads so long and in such splendid fashion that he deserves the lead he enjoys in this Paramount.

It's been so long since we pounded a typewriter that this story will probably be full of typeographical errors. But sh-h-h, we'll blame it all on the linotype operator.

Well, the camera-man greets us with some fine pictures this week. That is one consolation, anyway, for returning. "Robin Hood" has done the impossible and lasted over for a second week. It must be a record-breaker. At least we have never before heard of a film playing in Madison two solid weeks.

Perhaps something ~~can~~ be said about "Robin Hood." But who is there who has not seen it? If there is any one who has missed Doug's latest he is unfortunate indeed except that he still has three more days in which to drop around at the Madison for a couple of hours.

"The incomparable Pola" is unfortunate (or some people would think fortunate) in the titles which are given to her pictures. Many people are frightened away from a playhouse which is featuring anything called "Passion." Either they are afraid that it would not be a place in which it would be wise to meet friends or that they would not care to have their own souls sullied.

So it is with "Mad Love." Already we have seen several people raise their eyebrows at the name. "Passion" was a great work. So is "Mad Love," we have been given to understand.

A Study of Expressive Dress

WHILE you may not find it in the curriculum, the study of how to select garments that interpret effectively your own personality is one of the most important things to learn.

When you have discovered what HOUSE OF YOUTH Suits, Wraps and Dresses can do toward helping you produce the impression of grace, poise and attractiveness you will be a post-graduate in the art of Successful Dressing.
