HARESFOOT CLUB ADDS OSHKOSH TO THIS YEAR'S TRIP

Permission For Addition Given By Student Life and In- terest Committee

The Haresfoot club will play the first engagement of "Ivan-Ho!" at Oshkosh on Thursday, April 2, according to the announcement made yesterday afternoon by Sidney R. Thorson, grad, manager of the club.

Oshkosh was not on the original schedule for this season, but after several petitions from civic organizations and alumni in the city asking for the return of Haresfoot, the matter was taken up with the student life and interest committee, and the extension of one day was granted.

Orchestra Broadcasts

The Oshkosh League of Women Voters is assisting the Haresfoot club in making arrangements for the performance in Oshkosh. The extra date was made possible through the efforts of Prof. Max Mason and James D. Phillips, business manager of the university, who presented the case of the club to Dean Scott H. Goodnight and the members of the student life and interest committee and assured them that the advertising which the university would get from such an appearance would be particularly beneficial at this time.

On Friday night the Haresfoot recording orchestra, under the direction of Robert Talley '25, broadcast a musical program from WHA. Professor Mason outlined the aims and ideals of the club in a short talk, and Porter F. Butts, grad, one of the authors of "Ivan-Ho!" told something of the show this year and the itinerary.

Record Music

Sunday morning the same orchestra made two phonograph records at the Columbia laboratories in Chicago. The numbers recorded were "Ivan-Ho!" "Haresfoot Sweetheart," "Knighthood," and "Saracen."

Jesse Cohen, grad, musical director of the show, remained in Chicago, Monday making final arrangements with Harry Lyford for the orchestration of the music for the pit pieces.

ROONEY AND WATTS

GIVE WHA PROGRAM

The radio program broadcast from WHA, university sending station, last evening was furnished by Rosemary U. Rooney '26 and Mary Watts '26. Miss Rooney played the piano; Miss Watts, the violin.

ALPHA CHI OMEGA WINS BADGER CUP

Delta Chi, Second; Pi Beta Phi, Third, in Subscription Race

Alpha Chi Omega sorority by obtaining 225 subscriptions won the large loving cup offered in connection with the 1926 Badger spring subscription campaign. Delta Chi fraternity turned in 117 subscriptions and won second, Pi Beta Phi sorority 111, Alpha Phi sorority 93, and Alpha Delta Pi fraternity 64.

The cup was contributed by the Brock Engraving company, the Cantwell Printing company, Photo-art house, and De Longe studio.

Final returns were somewhat disappointing, Otis Wiese '26, editor of the yearbook, said. The business staff, however, will adhere to the present margin of sales.

When asked whether students would be given another opportunity to buy Badgers at time of publication, Wiese said, "The spring subscription campaign did not reach the number anticipated, but our financial condition is satisfactory, so we are going to keep in mind our statement that this campaign was the last opportunity to sign up for the 1926 Badger. There will be no books on sale in June."

Honor St. Patrick Today By Wearing His Favorite Color

Today is the day for all good sons and daughters of Erin to show their allegiance to the mother country. Even if you don't happen to be an Irishman, pretend that you are and whistle "The Wearin' o' the Green" with all your might on St. Patrick's Day in the morning, or wear a bit of green.

This is the day when every man may persuade a girl that he has been kissing the Blarney stone. If you do not believe in fairies today, it is a sure sign that you never will believe in them. No true Irishman will deny that he believes in fairies even though he may not go around bragging of the fact.

Of course the engineers are in their glory today. This is their day for was not St. Patrick an engineer? The lawyers can't brag of anything like that, 'tis said.

Midsemester exams come and go twice a year, but St. Patrick's day comes only once a year. If the fairies beckon to you as they pass, heed their call and show them that they are as welcome in this country as in Ireland.

Show your loyalty to the man who drove the snakes from the Emerald Isles by wearing a bit of green. The weather may not be ideal but that may have nothing to do with the spirit of the day if everyone wears his pleasantest smile and his bit of green for St. Patrick.

MILWAUKEE FOUNDRY DONATES SCHOLARSHIP

The Milwaukee Steel Foundry company has just established a scholarship of $1,500 which is to be awarded to a student who desires to take advanced work in metallurgy. The scholarship is good for one year only, but it may be renewed at the discretion of the donor.

The works manager of the Milwaukee Steel Foundry company, a student in the graduate school in Milwaukee, saw the benefit of co-operative research in metallurgy and as a result donated the funds for the scholarship.

Prof. R. S. McCaffery is in charge of the metallurgical laboratories at the university. The laboratories are run in conjunction with the department of mining engineering.

GIVE QUALIFICATIONS OF W. S. G. A. CANDIDATE

Gwendolyn Drake '26 has the primary nomination for the office of president of W. S. G. A. and is running against Alberta Johnson '26 who received the Keystone nomination for this office. Miss Drake's name was omitted from the list of nominations announced in the Sunday edition of the Daily Cardinal. Dorrit Astrom '27 is running for the office of census chairman in the place of Larch Campbell '26.

TREILLE WILL READ FRENCH PLAY TONIGHT

Mademoiselle Treille will read "La Mule du Pape" by Daudet at the meeting of the French club tonight in Lathrop. French students will dramatize the play during the reading. After the play all the members will join in playing games to practice speaking French.

TWO ORCHESTRAS TO PLAY AT BALL

Continuous Music For Dance Will Be Furnished By 20 Musicians

Two orchestras of ten pieces each will furnish the music for the thirteenth annual Military ball which is to be held in the capitol on April 3, according to Wells A. Sherman, Jr., '25, drum major for the occasion.

"No effort has been spared to secure the finest musical talent in Madison," said Sherman. "Bunny Lyons' band and Frank Rohrer's band, a combined total of twenty musicians under the personal direction of Jesse Cohen will furnish the music for the ball."

One orchestra will be placed under the balcony leading into the north wing of the capitol and the other in the south wing. Continuous music, a feature of last year, will again be used and a program of 20 dances will be arranged. One minute intermissions between each dance will be indicated by a large clock placed over the rotunda.

JANE DUDLEY WINS AUER MUSIC PRIZE

Daughter of University Prof Has Chicago Music Scholarship

Jane Dudley, daughter of Prof. William Dudley of the Extension division, won the Chicago College of Music scholarship with two lessons a week with Leopold Auer during the summer session of the school.

This scholarship, which is competitive, is awarded to one applicant every year.

Leopold Auer was one of the czar's violinists before he came to this country, and he has taught many of the world's best known concert performers. Among his pupils are Heifitz, Mischa Elman and Gilbert Ross, son of Prof. E. A. Ross of the sociology department.

Miss Dudley is now studying with Mr. Auer. Miss Dudley had to play for Auer before he would take her as a pupil. He complimented her very highly, and advised her to concentrate on her music.

Recitals at Carnegie hall, New York city, West Point Military academy and Poughkeepsie, N. Y., are Miss Dudley's schedule for the coming month.

Professor Burleigh Will Play at Faculty Recital Tonight

Prof. Cecil Burleigh will give a recital at 8:15 o'clock Tuesday night in Music hall under the auspices of the School of Music. Professor Burleigh is a member of the faculty of the music school and has written a number of musical compositions. The program will include some of the professor's own compositions. Among them will be "The Bees," "Giant Hills," two humoresques, "Witches" and "Imps," and a winter idyll, "Snow Bound."

LAST UNION BOARD CONCERT APRIL 1

Percy Grainger, Pianist-Com- poser, Will Furnish Final Program

The third and final concert of the Union board series will be held at the stock pavilion on April 1, when Percy Grainger, pianist composer, plays here.

"We will hold the Grainger concert in the stock pavilion," said Lester Kissel '25, president of the Union board, "because it is the only place large enough to accommodate the crowd we expect. Grainger is one of the most popular artists in music centers."

Kissel said that the Grainger concert was probably the most notable musical event of the season. Numerous requests from people of Madison for Grainger prompted the board to obtain him for this last concert.

A dispatch from the "Verdens Gang," Kriterion, Norway, reads:

"As might be expected, Grainger was welcomed by a crowded house. His art is truly original and far to be preferred to the artificial intellectualism that so many seem to consider the solution of the esthetic riddle. Grainger's conception of Bach is plastic and rich in tonal refinement. He knows how to conjure forth the mystical twilight of a Gothic cathedral, and it is the right way to render Bach."

"The great ovations accorded to Grainger were well deserved—not least those that followed after the American composer Guion's amusing transcription of 'Turkey in the Straw' and after Grainger's own beautiful 'Colonial Song' and invigorating 'Molly on the Shore.'"

From Holland comes this report: "Grainger's playing stands quite alone, like his whole personality. And his great gift of masterly technique is convincing, because it is not used as an end in itself, but as the vehicle of a personality."

PROF. E. B. GORDON TALKS ON FRIENDSHIP

That the state expects leadership from those it educates was the statement of Prof. E. B. Gordon of the Y. M. C. A. advisory board in his talk on "Leadership" which he made at Y. W. C. A. vespers at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in Lathrop parlors. Students who return home without contributing something in the way of finer ideals as a result of their university education are not living up to their obligations, Professor Gordon said. He told of his experiences in training prospective teachers for leadership, and said that the need of leadership is felt particularly in rural communities.

ALL BALL PICTURES MADE BY DE LONGE

All the photographs of officers in charge of the Military ball including the honorary colonel's picture in last Sunday's issue were furnished by the De Longe studio.

PROFESSOR W. G. RICE TO ADDRESS MEETING

Prof. W. G. Rice of the Law school will address the meeting of the Young Men's Progressive association at 7:30 tonight, in the office of the secretary of state. Professor Rice, a firm advocate of the League of Nations, will talk on some phase of international problems. The meeting will be open to the public.

DEVELOPMENT OF U. S. AIR FORCES IS VERY NECESSARY

—MITCHELL

General Shows Need of Air Craft For Efficient Defense

"Join the navy" lost a considerable amount of its glamor and appeal to the audience which packed Music hall last night, after hearing Brig. Gen. William Mitchell present his side of the present national defense problem and pictures of the tests which were performed with results disastrous to the battleships and other water craft.

"Air craft is the fastest developing thing in the world at the present time, and only those nations which are awake to the possibilities of an air force, for both commercial and military purposes, can maintain its place with other world powers," General Mitchell said.

Shows Vivid Pictures

"There is no frontier for air power. Especially on the sea, airplanes can be of tremendous service. All sea areas can be covered by planes, which through the use of the most recently developed air bombs can render any battleship useless."

Brig. Gen. Mitchell illustrated his talk with slides and motion pictures which presented in a realistic fashion the effects of aircraft bombing on sea craft. He pointed out the fact that an airplane bomb carries 50 to 70 per cent of its weight in active explosives, compared to 5 per cent for armor piercing shells and 20 per cent for torpedoes.

Vivid pictures of actual bombing tests showing the sinking of large ships within four minutes and views of tangled and twisted battleship wreckage served to support General Mitchell's points in a convincing fashion.

Praises Wisconsin

In an interview with a representative of the Daily Cardinal immediately after the talk, the general praised the university and the students.

"I have always been a Wisconsin

M'FEE WILL BE DOCTOR'S GUEST

Van Valzah Will Entertain Author Who Will Speak Here Thursday

William McFee, who will speak here Thursday night in Music hall under the auspices of Sigma Delta Chi, national journalistic fraternity, will be entertained during his stay in Madison at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Van Valzah.

Dr. Van Valzah, who knows the English author of sea stories, declares that he is an exceedingly entertaining and interesting speaker of a delightful personality.

"He is a good writer of very absorbing stories," asserted Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, of the English department, last night. "He reminds me greatly of Joseph Conrad."

"McFee is one of the few Americans who can write," H. H. Turney-High of the sociology department, declared. "He compares favorably with Conrad, but is very modern. His works are not only for people who like the sea but for the general public."

William McFee is the son of an English sea captain, as was his father before him. His mother a Canadian, accompanied the captain on his voyage, and the lecturer and author was born at sea in the three masted square-rigged "Erin Isle" of which his father was designer, builder, owner and master. This was in 1881 on a voyage homeward bound from India.

Tickets are on sale at the University pharmacy, Hook Brothers' music store, the Book Corner and Moseley's book store. The admission is 50 cents.

NEW TEAMS SHOW POWER IN HIGH SCHOOL TOURNEY

Many of Last Year's Winners
Fail in District Tournaments

With the district basketball tournaments finished, the winners are awaiting the state tournament to be held here in the university gymnasium March 25-28. The tournament promises to be the best ever held in the gym, both in strength of teams competing and features being prepared for the event.

Among the list of winners many new teams have appeared that were not on last year. Fond du Lac, last year's state champions, were beaten by Neenah in the final round of its district. Wauwatosa, the winners of the consolation series, were handed a bad defeat by the strong Waukesha quintet. Superior, which was beaten by Fondy in the finals last year, will again make a strong bid for the state title. Eau Claire showed up well in the district meet and will be among the contenders for the state title when the sixteen teams meet to decide the champion.

Of the sixteen teams that were at the tournament last year, nine failed in the district tournaments. Rice Lake, Oregon, Wauwatosa, Fond du Lac, Arcadia, Marinette, Eagle River, Janesville, and Platteville failed to win in their respective district tournaments and thus did not qualify for the state meet. Wisconsin Rapids, River Falls, Superior, La Crosse, Watertown, Manitowoc, and Appleton are the teams that have returned to the state meet from last year. The new teams that have shown decided strength in winning their districts are Beloit, New Glarus, Neenah, Montfort, Barron, Eau Claire, Tomahawk, Shawano and Waukesha.

The strongest teams as they appear are Superior, Eau Claire, Appleton, and Neenah. Superior has three of their men back from her team last year, and is playing a strong game. Eau Claire is showing real strength in its games and may give many teams a hard run at the state meet. Appleton came through in its district and showed decided strength in offensive power.

Award of Seven Hockey "W's" Announced at Squad Banquet

Gross is Re-elected Captain;
Iverson Presents 12 Medals to Players

Fresh from two whirlwind games with the Minnesota hockey team, the Badger varsity hockey team and 40 squad members met in banquet with Coach Kay Iverson at the Lorraine hotel last night, at which the members of the squad presented Coach Iverson with a Wisconsin plaque with the names of the squad members inscribed upon it.

Coach Iverson presented 12 of his players with a medal in recognition of their services. "W's" were announced for Captain Gross, Jansky, Manierre, McCarter, Sarles, Gore and Lidicker.

The men who received medals were Gross, Jansky, Lidicker, Gore, McCarter, Manierre, Sarles, Moelk, Jahn, Engelke, Ekholm, Weidman.

Talks were given by Coach Iverson, Captain Gross, Manager Robert Earle and the various members of the team. The team will remain intact next year, with the exception of Manierre, who will be lost by graduation. In addition, a number of good players will come up from the freshman squad, coached by Victor Portman.

Ted Gross, this year's captain, was re-elected to captain the team for the season of '25-'26.

Coach Iverson cautioned his men to keep in training, keep eligible, and work hard for a winning team next year so that hockey may be assured as a sport at Wisconsin. Iverson declared Wisconsin will be on a par with any of the other Big Ten hockey teams next year. He praised the work of the squad despite the handicaps of a late start, ineligibility, and green players.

"It took some of you nearly as long to learn to skate as it took me to learn English," Ivey said.

"I am proud of the record that you men made," said Iverson. "You gave good accounts of yourselves

BADGERS LOSE TWO TO GOPHER PUCKMEN

The Wisconsin hockey squad lost a second game to the fast Gopher team at Minneapolis Saturday afternoon by a 1 to 0 score. Minnesota's score came only in the last few minutes of play, after the teams had battled hard for three periods. The Wisconsin sextet outshot the Gophers, 27 to 13, and displayed wonderful fight during the entire game. Captain Gross, Jansky and Manierre starred for Wisconsin. Coach Emil Iverson, Minnesota mentor, lauded the sportsmanship of the Badger players.

COACH LITTLE PLANS TO GET MORE MEN OUT

A football booster meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the trophy room at the gym by Coach George Little for the purpose of increasing the interest in the gridiron sport. There is plenty of good football material in the university that has not been out for football since coming to Wisconsin and it is the purpose of Coach Little to ferret these men out and put them to work. Each man who has been out for the practices so far is asked to bring the name of some one he knows who has had previous experience or who seems likely to make good.

Neenah-Wisconsin Rapids, 9 o'clock.

In every game and it took the hardest kind of playing by the veteran teams that we faced to score on us in every game."

What the Press Says of Grainger

His power of imparting an "inner life" to every note he plays and of enticing from the piano great beauty of tone (from the airiest pianissimo to the heaviest fortissimo) is astounding. In his own compositions, Grainger evinced a daring originality of tonal color that carries all before them. His English folk-dance, "Country Gardens," with untrammelled joy of life that is in it, tramped its way into the hearts of all his listeners.

—"Nationaltudente," Copenhagen, Denmark.

"Grainger is like Paderewski, a wizard of the pedal. Never before has he revelled in such sensuous beauty of tone. He played like a genius—a creative genius—and that kind of playing, alas! is rare."—Evening Post, New York, by Henry T. Finck, Jan. 28, 1924.

Tau Kappa Epsilon; Theta Xi Battle For Basket Title

The Interfraternity basketball league title will be decided at 6:45 o'clock tonight when Tau Kappa Epsilon and Theta Xi take the floor in the championship game. Each team has been successful thus far in retiring its opponents; tonight the squads will determine which team shall continue the retiring.

Hornbeck and Guenther will lead the Teke attack, while Ellerman will top the Theta Xi list in opposing them. Aker and Christoph, of Tau Kappa Epsilon, and Schwarze, Larson, and the fast guard Tyle, of Theta Xi, will also be leading lights in the game.

Phi Kappa Psi and Kappa Sigma will meet at 7:45 o'clock to contest the ownership of the third place cup, while at 5:45 o'clock the consolation cup will be fought for by Alpha Chi Rho and Delta Sigma Phi.

Phi Kappa Psi was dropped from the race for first place by Tau Kappa Epsilon, the score being 20 to 7. Kappa Sigma fell before Theta Xi by a count of 9 to 5. The Phi Psi squad must play without Connell, their leading basket tosser, who suffered an injured hand in the game with Tau Kappa Epsilon. Alpha Chi Rho and Delta Sigma Phi have survived the games in the consolation tourney.

BLOCK LEAGUE BASKET ENTRIES CLOSE TODAY

Today is the last time entries may be made in the Wisconsin block league. The Smith, O'Dea, Williams, Knollen and Elliot blocks are ready for the basketball competition which is to start the league Wednesday evening, but a few more teams are desired to complete the league. Men in the residence blocks may form teams and report today to George Berg, director of intramurals. No fee is charged in the league, and individual watch charm awards are given.

RELAY CAPTAINS MEET TO SELECT TEAM MEMBERS

Additional High School Entries
Are Received For 19th
Annual Carnival

A further step will be taken in the progress of the nineteenth annual relay carnival when the captains of the sorority relay teams meet in the trophy room at 5:30 o'clock tonight to pick the other three members of their teams. The captains are the men who run the mile and they will pick a half miler, a quarter miler and a two lap man to make up the rest of their team.

A larger list of entries than ever has been entered in the high school relay. In addition to the three Madison high schools which were all that entered last year, teams have been entered from Monticello, Wausau and Watertown high schools.

In the academy class Culver and Shattuck have put teams in the field and it looks as though these two academies would stage a dual meet.

An intramural relay will be run off between a team from the Y. M. C. A. and the 11 o'clock track class. Last year the team from the Y. M. C. A. won the event.

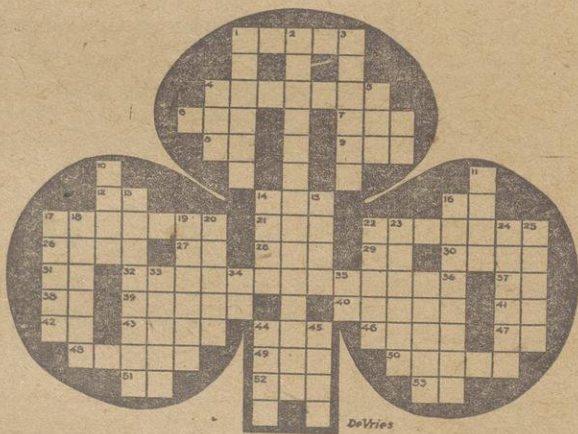

So far only 13 fraternities have entered the interfraternity relay and it is the hope of Chairman Bosch that 25 Greet quartets enter the race.

GLEE CLUB WILL SING FOR RADIO WEDNESDAY

WHA will broadcast a concert by the Men's Glee club at 9 o'clock on Wednesday night. The club will sing many of the numbers that were presented at the home concert last Friday and Saturday, according to Prof. E. E. Swinney.

And Today, St. Pat Tells Your Fate!

'Most everybody, we guess, has been filling in the little shamrock puzzle—hard words and all—even the word we spelled wrong.

Tonight the venerable Saint and his council of wraiths and gnomes will put all the filled-in ones in a row, 1, 2, 3, and so on, and pick out the three first and best.

Bring your solution in today, sure; perhaps it will be the one he'll pick!

Incidentally, the most delicious food—all in green and white—will be awaiting you all day!

George Little Assumes Duties; Has Made Host Of Friends

Believes in Organization; Asks
200 Men to Come Out For Football This Year

By KEN BUTLER

George Little, idol of the students of many campuses, has officially taken over his duties as athletic director and coach of football at Wisconsin and is already a Wisconsin man and a Wisconsin booster through and through.

Little, who came right to Madison after his selection to "get acquainted" and to get things going in the right direction, has real ideals for Wisconsin. The Wisconsin mentorship is a thing he has long cherished. Here lies opportunity, here lies a field of work that ranks with any other in the country.

"Had I been offered similar positions with Yale, Iowa, Michigan, or the University of California I would not have preferred them over Wisconsin," he said the other day. "And I find on the campus here as fine a set of fellows as I have met at any university."

Coach Little has real plans for Wisconsin athletics. His first undertaking is, of course, the building of a football machine. We may not win a championship next fall, he says, but every game will be a real battle and no one can say Wisconsin wasn't there. He hopes to have 200 men or more in uniforms by next fall—a thing unheard of at Wisconsin before. Then Wisconsin will begin to be known as a football school. It will be a football turnout second to no other university, perhaps not even Notre Dame.

All football men will meet in the annex at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon for football practice. Old clothes will be in vogue as usual.

The new director has an eye for organization. He plans to reorganize the arrangement of the offices in the gym. He has organized his staff into an efficient corps. Little paid high compliments to the ability of Brader and Uteritz, his assistant coaches, and to Coaches Jones and Meanwell. He plans to build around his football department a corps of morale-builders, as well as trainers and coaches, realizing brawn and brains do not always win football games, that there is often a hidden force known as morale—the spirit of success.

George's great desire is to make friends. And from indications he has made more friends in a few weeks than most men make in years.

Wins Again

"Chuck" McGinnis

By high jumping 6 feet 2½ inches at the conference meet at Chicago Saturday, McGinnis placed first in that event and continued the fine record of wins he has chalked up so far this year.

London's famous clock, "Big Ben," has been heard ticking in Borneo, a distance of 10,000 miles. It ticks were broadcast over the radio.

CONFERENCE SWIM TEAM CHOSEN BY DAILY CARDINAL

Six Wisconsin Men Are Given
Places in Big Ten Stars Group

By JOSEPH HOBBS

Relay: Breyer (NW), Hipple (W), Sampson (M), Herschberger (W).

40 yard dash: Herschberger (W), Breyer (NW), Gow (M), Dives: Dorf (C), Bird (Minn), Wheatley (W).

Breast stroke: Faricy (Minn), Manowitz (NW), Harkins (C).

220 yard swim: Howell (NW), Sampson (M), Lambert (Iowa).

Plunge: Eldredge (Ill), Lake (Iowa), Atwood (C).

Back stroke: Hill (Minn), Kerr (M), Gilbreath (W).

100 yard dash: Breyer (NW), Herschberger (W), Gow (M).

With the 1925 conference swimming meet now past history, the past season can be looked back on as producing an unusual number of excellent swimmers. This fact is shown by the number of Big Ten records which have just been smashed.

Breyer of Northwestern is unquestionably the season's best, with Herschberger of Wisconsin not far behind him. Both men have taken firsts consistently in the 40 and 100 yard swims. Breyer has been making the better times in the meets, but Herschberger's practice races showed speed about equal to that of the Northwestern flash.

Hipple in Relay

The relay combination shows the same two men, plus Hipple of Wisconsin and Sampson of Michigan. Breyer would be a whirlwind man to start this race, and would be sure to pick up a comfortable lead, which would not abate with Hipple swimming as second man.

Dorf of Chicago is a pretty diver, although his approach might be better. There is no question but that he earned his victory in the meet Friday. Wheatley's performance at Chicago was a pleasant surprise to some, but at the same time it bore out the expectations of many

Intramural News

Interfraternity Cups

The four major cups for the interfraternity basketball league competition, which closes tonight, are being displayed in the window of the University pharmacy. In front of the cups is the Supremacy trophy, a bronze statue of victory. The Supremacy trophy will go to the fraternity rating highest for the year in intramural sports. It is an exact replica of the trophy given at the University of Illinois in the Illinois Relays recently.

Church League Basketball

Representatives will meet at 1 o'clock today in the Intramural office to arrange for the formation of a church basketball league. The various student churches will be represented.

Interfraternity Wrestling

A meeting will be held in the Intramural office at 1 o'clock tomorrow of fraternity wrestling representatives. Wrestling will be offered to the competing fraternities in five classes. These are 135 pound, 145 pound, 158 pound, 175 pound, and heavyweight.

Water Basketball Finals

Play in the finals of the interfraternity water basketball league will begin this Friday. The teams that will play in the finals are Beta Theta Pi, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Iota, Theta Xi, Phi Kappa Epsilon, and Sigma Chi.

Intercollegiate Basketball League

The Engineers headed by Steve Polaski have formed a basketball team for the intercollegiate league. Representatives of the Law school, College of Letters and Science, College of Agriculture, Graduate School, and the Medical School should see George Berg, director of intramurals, in regard to forming the league.

others. The meet was his only conference competition of the year.

Faricy in Breast Stroke

Faricy of Minnesota is the cream of the breast strokes in the conference this year, and Harkins of Chicago and Manowitz of Northwestern are the next best.

Lake of Iowa and Eldridge of Illinois have both broken the conference record in the plunge with the same time. Hill of Minnesota, Kerr of Michigan, and Gilbreath of Wisconsin are in a class by themselves in the back stroke.

Herschberger Versatile

All in all, Herschberger is the most versatile man on the all-conference team. What is perhaps most encouraging of all, he is but a sophomore, while the other outstanding men in the conference, such as Breyer, Howell, and Faricy, have all finished their Big Ten swimming.

SENIORS, JUNIORS WIN FIRST CLASS BASKET CONTESTS

Sophs Lost 38-24 to Class of '25; Frosh Beaten 47-14

Upperclass spirit ran rampant as the senior women basketball team triumphed over the sophomores in a 38-24 contest, and the junior outfit walked away with a 47-14 victory from the freshmen on Friday night in Lathrop gymnasium. Both games were hotly contested, but the senior-sophomore contest was the headliner.

The senior sextette worked the ball down to the forwards for a basket in the first ten seconds of the game. Streng, playing center for the seniors, seldom failed to get the ball on the tip-off. Simpson and Rugen in the senior forward position made an excellent shooting combination.

Sophomores Defensive

The sophomore team was on the defense throughout the game. The entire contest was characterized by pretty teamwork and an absence of fouls. The junior-freshman contest was a much slower game than the previous one, but the juniors showed up well.

The freshman-senior and the junior-sophomore games will be played at 7:30 o'clock, Friday, March 20, in Lathrop gym.

The senior team members are Daisy Simpson, F., Mabel Rugen, F., Marion Streng, J. C., Ann Smith, R. C., Carita Robertson, G., Halycon Lallier, G. Juniors representing their class in basketball are Lorraine Maytum, F., Marion Bigelow, F., Harriet Graham, J. C., Alice Drews, R. C., Edith Jorris, G., and Mildred Gray, G.

The sophomore team members are Mabel Butler, F., Bernice Marion, F., Evelyn Homer, J. C., Estelle North, R. C., Jimmie Hughes, G., and Elizabeth Kuenzli, G. Freshmen team members are Marie Schweers, F., Margaret Stedman, F., Alice Nauts, J. C., Marion Goodkind, G., Rachel Frazier, G., and Barbara Howell, R. C.

SOPH CO-ED SWIMMERS CHOSEN AT TRYOUTS

Members of the sophomore swimming team as a result of the last tryouts are Lucille Goedde, Virginia Sinclair, Catherine Schleuder and Nathalie Werner. The freshman team is composed of Anne Dean, Frances Geschmay, Mary Elizabeth Jones and Lenore Smith. A compulsory meeting of team members will be held at 12:45 o'clock Monday afternoon in the lecture room on the fourth floor of Lathrop.

PLAN THREE WEEKS' BASKET PRACTICE

There will be a three weeks' basketball practice under the direction of Coach Walter E. Meanwell beginning at 3 o'clock this afternoon in the university gym. This practice is for members returning from this year's varsity, the present freshmen squad and all men in the university who wish to sign up for the three weeks' practice.

DESK EDITOR—HILLIER KRIEGBAUM

PREACHING, AND THE GOLDEN EGG

In an excellent editorial the publisher of the Wisconsin State Journal set forth in that paper Sunday morning the relation which the university bears to the city of Madison and vice versa and pointed out how it will be to the advantage of Madisonians for them to push the fortunes of the university, to support it in every possible way, to "talk it up."

Each year, the editorial says, some $5,000,000 is turned into the city of Madison, directly or indirectly, as a result of the university being situated where it is. Certainly, if Madisonians had no other reason for supporting the university, the financial reason would be great enough.

It is rather amazing to have a city paper speak in such manner. We can not believe that it is only because of the financial reason that it does so. No, we believe that it speaks with more worthy reasons. It is amazing, however, to hear a local paper speak so, because it is generally considered that local newspapers have done some amount of damage to the University of Wisconsin.

When a worthy judge goes off on a tangent and makes such statements against the university as he did a month ago the local papers gobbled up all they could on the matter and gave the story conspicuous space. Is that supporting the university?

Certainly it was a good story, a selling story. But it was unfounded. The local papers might at least have consulted university authorities before they printed the scandal. A local news service, furthermore, broadcasted the story throughout the United States. It is only surprising that the efforts of the local newspapermen did not kill the goose that has been laying their golden eggs.

No matter what they may have declared after they started the ball rolling by publishing the opinions of the judge, truth does not overtake scandal. The public is not as interested in truth that is not sensational as it is in scandalous falsity. Whatever may be their intentions (and those intentions as published Sunday are highly laudable), the local newspaper men must practice what they preach if they are to be free from the danger of acquiring the epithet of hypocrites.

There is another phase to this matter of Madison supporting the university. Citizens of this city must remember that the institution on the hill is not a gift from the state to them, that it was not placed here simply that Madisonians might garner extra coin as a result of its being here.

The university is a greater thing, has a greater scope. It is a state institution—might almost be called a national or even an international institution. It should be supported as such, it should be supported as a worthy institution, as one that is helping to make the world a better place by educating youth. It wants support only on that basis—and not because it lays the golden eggs.

WALTER CAMP

The grand old man of football is dead. He was taken out of the game as all of us would wish to be taken out, and he will be sincerely and rightly mourned.

Not a genius nor a saint, yet Walter Camp passes easily the great test—this earth is a better and happier place to live in because of his life. He loved the great athletic ideal, and he exemplified and lived it all his lifetime. To great numbers of young men he was far more of an ideal than either saint or genius—he was a hero. And who will dare to say that he was not worthy of emulation?

Will the famed and classic "All-American" pass with its creator? At present it does not seem that any other person could name a mythical eleven which would receive such universal recognition.

The Wisconsin Student Friendship drive for funds may be over, but the Student Friendship drive is never over.

Keep off the ice. It is not safe.

Wisconsin Should Know

SUMMER'S NEW PLACE IN THE EDUCATIONAL SCHEME

The Parable of the Two Teachers

Two sisters, for 30 years school teachers at Web City, Mo., and now well over 60 years of age, have made a summer pilgrimage to Madison to attend the Wisconsin summer session eight times. Each year they have brought a dozen other Web City teachers with them, rented a house, and often stayed long after the close of the session, browsing in the library, writing papers, and studying educational methods to take back to their high school. In 1923 both were granted B. A. degrees on the basis of their summer work, the first degrees they have ever held. Next summer they are coming back again, this time to begin their work for master's degrees.

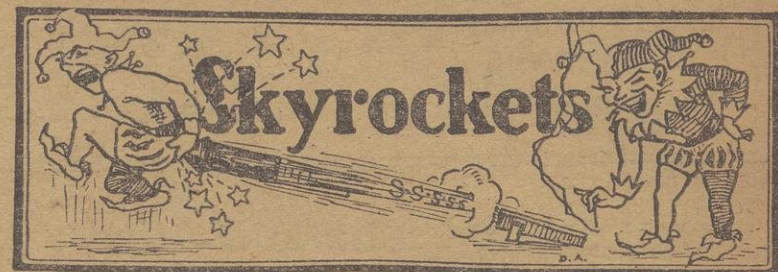

Two thousand, six hundred and seven other teachers, attracted by much the same things that have brought these two elderly sisters back for eight years—the scholastic prominence of the university, its able summer staff, the attention given to courses helpful to teachers, the good programs of public lectures, excursions, recitals, and plays, and the lakes and hills—enrolled in the session last summer. Of that number 1,095 came from Wisconsin schools. They find at the university opportunities for a profitable and pleasant summer, and by means of their summer study they are able to qualify for promotion. More important, they take back to their communities new information and new methods to help them in their vastly important occupation of training the younger generation. Through these summer session teachers, students the university is able to contribute helpfully to the state's whole primary and secondary school system, and by so doing to the welfare of the state at large.

Besides the 2,607 teachers enrolled last summer, there were 2,165 undergraduates and graduate students, raising Wisconsin's total summer enrollment to fourth place among all the summer schools of the country. This number 4,772 is only 3,000 less than the regular session enrollment. It includes students from 45 states and from 14 foreign countries, the overwhelming majority, of course, coming from Wisconsin. For these students 425 courses under the direction of 321 faculty members were offered. At the end of the session 203 higher degrees were conferred, one-sixth of the number conferred at the regular June commencement.

These facts mean simply this, the university is serving as an educational plant virtually for the whole year instead of for nine months. Every building, every department, and every service agency has a share in the summer session, all operating at almost their full capacities. They would be idle if it were not for the summer session. At the same time, the session costs the state little.

The classes of the Wisconsin summer session from its beginning in 1898 have been held only in the mornings of six summer weeks, but the present enrollment is so over-taxing the university's physical equipment that Dean S. H. Goodnight, director of the session, is making plans to conduct classes in the afternoons next summer as well as in the mornings and possibly to extend some courses over a period of eight or ten weeks.

PROFESSOR SMITH HAS CITY PLANNING INDICES

City planning, as taught under Professor L. S. Smith of the College of Engineering has been made particularly interesting and easy by his indexing all accessible leading articles on the subject. His personal library, located in his office, also contains an unusually large number of pamphlets and articles concerned with the different phases of city planning. Most of Professor Smith's spare time is spent in his office assisting students in locating material for topics.

Majestic Company Offers Version of Good Musical Play

By TED

It is not an easy thing for a stock company to put on a musical show when they are used to doing only straight plays. It would be hard for any company to put on a musical show with only one short week for rehearsals. It is quite an accomplishment, then, for the Majestic players to produce "Buddies" in the entertaining and highly amusing style that they do. "Buddies" is not what is ordinarily called a musical comedy, however. It is a play with musical numbers brought in now and then during the action. Perhaps a comedy with music is the more explicit description. Certainly it has been a long time since I have heard a Sunday night audience laugh as this one did, though I think a good share of their enjoyment came from the fact that those on the stage seemed to be having just as good a time as those in the audience.

Miss Homer gives a very pleasing performance as Julie, and shows that among her other accomplishments she can sing. And Mr. Hesselberg also bursts forth into melody, and receives his share of applause. Another performance that is outstanding is that of George Wilson as Sonny.

The regular cast is augmented by the Eagles' quartet, by Wilfred Roberts '26, who is a member of the Wisconsin players, and by Harold Rieger '28 and H. D. Longaker who bring along their banjo and violin. Honorable mention should also be made of Messrs. O'Shea, Hancock and Ford in their small parts and to Pauline Drake as Miss Maitland.

PROF. A. B. HART TO BE GUEST AT OGG HOME

Prof. Albert Bushnell Hart, head of the department of government in Harvard university, will visit in Madison this week as the guest of Prof. and Mrs. Frederic A. Ogg, 1715 Kendall avenue.

Professor Hart will give a public lecture on Wednesday afternoon in Bascom hall on the "Geneva Protocol" and will address the annual Harvard dinner on Thursday evening.

Lady Rowena

This beautiful maiden is no maid at all, but Byron Rivers '26, all made up. He will play Rowena, the female lead, in the 1925 production of the Haresfoot club, "Ivan-Ho!"

Professor Hart is one of the most widely known scientists and historians and political scientists and was one of the intimate friends and frequently advisor to President Roosevelt.

WORLD of SOCIETY

Local Fraternity to Be Installed as Phi Epsilon Pi Soon

When Tri Phi is installed as Alpha Eta of Phi Epsilon Pi on March 28, 250 persons will attend the dance at Park hotel. Invitations have been issued to all chapters and alumni posts of Phi Epsilon Pi, to every fraternity on the campus and to Dean and Mrs. S. H. Goodnight, Prof. and Mrs. R. Stebbins and Prof. and Mrs. Friedrich Bruns.

Fifty will attend the dinner preceding the dance. Dean Goodnight, Jacques Benoliel, grand superior of Phi Epsilon Pi, Rubin H. Robitfhok of the Minneapolis chapter, installing officer, and Emanuel M. Goodman, first master frater of Tri Phi, are to talk.

Tri Phi was organized in December, 1923. Shortly thereafter, it moved into its present quarters, 15 West Gorham. Active members are Emanuel Goodman, grad, Leroy J. Rieselbach L3, James Buchbinder L2, William Glick '26, Arnold Klein '26, Eugene Schuster '26, Samuel Himmelfarb '27, Herbert Herzberg '27, Bertland Goodman L2, Milton Goldman '25, Daniel Bisno '27. Pledges are Leonard Brill '28, Herbert Gruenberg '28, Robert Krauskopf '28, Bernard Goodkind '27.

MEMBERS OCCUPY NEW DELTA ZETA HOUSE

The Delta Zeta house is completely finished and members of the sorority have moved in. The structure is of red brick and is of colonial type. The front entrance of solid carved stone leads into a reception hall decorated in ivory and mahogany. On the ground floor is the dining room with a large window facing the lake, terrazzo floors, a stone fireplace, and French windows leading to an arched porch add to the attractiveness of the room.

JUNIORS INVITED TO YELLOW TASSEL PARTY

The Tau Kappa Epsilon orchestra will play at the matinee dance which Yellow Tassel is giving for the junior women from 3 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon in Lathrop parlors. There will be no admission charge for this party. For those who do not wish to dance there will be bridge and other games. Special features are also being planned by the officers of Yellow Tassel. Ruth A. Moody '26, and Barbara E. Warren '26, will give a specialty dancing act as one of the features.

Leota Z. Bongey Becomes Bride of Waldemar Schoenoff

The marriage of Leota Z. Bongey to Waldemar P. Schoenoff '24 will take place at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. J. M. Schwartz of Marshall will perform the ceremony. Miss Bongey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bongey, 823 South Park street. Mr. Schoenoff was graduated from the College of Engineering last June. He is a member of A. I. E. E.

ENGINEER FACULTY TO ENTERTAIN PENTAGON

Members of the engineering faculty of the university will entertain at an informal dinner dance Thursday evening from 6:30 to 12 o'clock in honor of members of Pentagon, the organization of wives of the engineering faculty. The affair will be at the Hotel Loraine. Cards will be provided for those who do not dance. The committee in charge is A. V. Millar, G. L. Larson, E. R. Shorey, C. I. Corp, P. H. Hyland and V. C. French.

Training for the bond business

HALSEY, STUART & CO. believes that a man who is worth taking into its organization is worth training. Both in Chicago and in New York, a well-equipped bond school is maintained by this house. Each new member of the buying or selling staff is given three months' intensive training, with pay, before he is assigned to actual work.

The purpose of this is two-fold: (a) to give the man a better chance to make good for himself and for the house; (b) to make sure that our men are competent to render the responsible sort of service which every bond house owes to its customers.

If you are considering the bond business as a career after graduation, you will be greatly helped toward a right decision by reading our pamphlet, "The Bond Business as an Occupation for College Men." We shall be glad to send you a copy upon request.

"The Best People"

Presented at the Orpheum
By the Dorothy LaVern Players
By J. F. W.

It's a right smart, comedy these popular people are putting on as their opening vehicle, with many a laugh up its sleeve. The piece was written by David Gray, with seasoning added by Avery Hopwood, as a contribution to the literature which is attempting to settle the ubiquitous younger generation problem.

The plot is simply this: a set of fond parents, members of that set of American society known elastically as "The Best People," find that their children have developed into young upstarts with ideas of their own, who start a little social devotion, albeit en famille. Who they marry and why forms the dramatic crises and eventually the climax of the action.

On the whole, the acting is on a par with the best in stock endeavor. The members differ in the amount of histrionic ability with which they have been blessed, but are generally capable of providing good entertainment. As formerly, the best work is done by Al Jackson, whose ease behind the footlights has won him a place in the hearts of Madison stock fans. Miss LaVern hasn't added much to her bag of tricks during her absence, but her familiarity with the ways of the stage make almost anything she attempts pleasing. Her old trick of swinging about on one heel while she pats the back of her immaculate coiffure whenever she hasn't anything else to do is still with her. Of the others, Adel Bradford, as Mrs. Bronson Lenox, would do well to get over her little trick of rocking back and forth from one foot to another, especially after one of her "wise cracks." Her's is a difficult part this week, since the little business of repeating such lines as "Oh, I can't bear it!" over and over again can become hopelessly boring. But Miss Bradford does very well.

The company does nothing miraculous, but as stock performers they are among the best of their kind.

Here's a letter from some one who is signed "A Friend." Wish there were more such friends around here, but it's nice to have a few crash through with such helps. Thought you might be interested in seeing what "friend" has to say.

Dear Chatty:

Just saw your write-up in the Daily Cardinal in regard to spring vacation shows at Chicago. Saw a couple there a few weeks ago I feel I can recommend very highly. The play, "Rose Marie" at the Wood's is the best I've seen for a long time. For one of the acts, the back wall curtain reminds one of a Maxfield Parrish painting; there is clever chorus work, good singing and acting.

The other show is the Student Prince of Heidelberg, a little different and a regular College Men's Glee club for a chorus—40 men.

Yours,

A FRIEND.

I wanted to get that communication in last Friday morning, but the make-up man thought differently.

Now that the Ethel Barrymore engagement has been cancelled, the rumor has it that Jean Eagles has given up "Rain," and has gone to Washington sick. Cross your fingers and pray that the report has no foundation.

What did you think of "Blossom Time"? Sweet, wasn't it? As I remembered the show from last year the "Song of Love" was about the only catchy piece in it. But this year I found a few more.

Probably the reason that the "Song of Love" lasts as well as it does, that you don't tire of it a month after first hearing it, is that it was written by Schubert and not by Irving Berlin.

But the funny part of it is that it has been somewhat popularized.

"So Big"

Featuring Colleen Moore
Supported by All-Star Cast
Presented at the Strand
By J. E. L.

Into what strange paths and byways Fate turns each life so that the bright, vivid colors of a soul's beginning seem entirely estranged from the somber design at the end! Take Selina Peake De Jong's life, its elevations and depressions. A merry, joyful existence was in store for her when she was a young girl, but suddenly everything changed. Instead of spending sunny winters in Italy, she arose each morning at four, as the drudging wife of a stolid Illinois Dutchman, to bake bread and feed the stock. Her only happy thoughts were in working for her little boy, so that his future might be as bright as possible. She had to work with her hands to send him to school, and in the end had to fight to save him from a selfish woman. Indeed, Selina Peake De Jong drank her share of Life's bitterness, though her last draughts were sweetened by the satisfaction which comes from a task well done.

Edna Ferber's novel has been turned into a powerful picture. The emotions which it awakens in the audience are not strangers—mother love and family life.

The cast works together so harmoniously and their portrayals are so convincing that credit cannot be given to just the star. Colleen Moore handles her role very capably, but she and the rest have so assumed the atmosphere of the setting that after seeing the picture one is impressed with the result of their art, and the actors and ac-

Turpin, is good. If the picture is over sentimental and lacking in histrionic quality, we may forgive its faults for the true entertainment and occasional good photography which are presented.

"Too Many Kisses"

Featuring Richard Dix
Presented at the Parkway

A comic sprightliness races through "Too Many Kisses," and makes it amusing, alive, alert with snappy situations and frosted with Spanish love-making. The introductory scenes are especially bright in their subtle quality of suggestion. Dix is great!

The Spring Fashion
Edition

of the Daily Cardinal

originally planned for tomorrow, Wednesday, March 18, has been postponed exactly one week in accordance with the plans of the Madison Merchants. Due to the inclemency of the weather, the Spring Fashion Opening celebration has been delayed one week.

Besides the Varsity Photo News Supplement, run at a considerable expense to The Daily Cardinal, this issue will include authentic style news from fashion specialists in New York, Chicago, and Palm Beach. Madison "buyers" who have recently returned from the East are being interviewed as to all styles and fashions, both present and future.

This issue promises authenticity and completeness as a style oracle.

Discussed Aviation Last Night

Brig. Gen. William Mitchell

man at heart, and although I did not go to the university myself, I have always held it in high regard both because of the contacts I have had with it and because several members of my family have graduated here. You may say that I was immensely impressed with the fine spirit which the university people have shown me while in Madison, and I really appreciate the support which my native state has given me in my actions."

Speaks to Legislature

Upon arriving in Madison yesterday morning, Brig. Gen. Mitchell went to the capitol, where he addressed the legislators, thanking them for the support which has been given him in his recent controversy in Washington. He pointed out his views on the national defense question in his talk before the legislators.

To emphasize the inefficiency of present air forces, Gen. Mitchell pointed out that Madison, which is only four hours distance from the coast, could be wiped out in short order, if this nation had not a sufficient number of airplanes in the Middle West to protect this section.

"With the present air defense of the United States," Gen. Mitchell maintained, "Madison is no more immune to destruction than any city on the coast. In fact, to a powerful airplane division, the whole nation is nothing but a frontier."

"We need such a department," asserted Gen. Mitchell. "The war department, the navy department, the aircraft division, all such groups should be combined for efficiency under a single head with sub-officials supervising each branch."

"This would bring real protection to this country, would promote efficiency, would prevent the petty squabbles and the rivalries now existing between the heads of departments."

"I am going to remain in aviation work all my life as far as my present plans are concerned and I will continue to fight until the air department reaches the position it should."

"The aircraft, above all, needs to be unified. At present eighteen other departments are tinkering with air service. There is no common leadership. France, Japan, all other nations have unified air divisions."

Gen. Mitchell was in Madison two years ago and talked to the legislature.
