BOTH CLASSES GET FAIR PLAY IN CLASS RUSH

Police Force Appointed to Insure Behavior of Underclassmen

Many of the customary pre-rush activities, such as kidnapping freshmen or plowing and flooding the lower campus will be strictly taboo this year, according to Allen C. Davey, chief of the police force for the annual class rush to be held Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Fair play to both sides is the by-word of the athletic department.

"If the campus is flooded by either class, the rush will be called off," said Davey yesterday. "The rules of the rush, as published in last Saturday's Cardinal, will be strictly lived up to." There will be regular classes Saturday, and measures will be taken to insure the freshmen safety to and from their Saturday classes.

All police and captains will report Friday noon at the gymnasium. At this time the regulation clubs will be distributed.

The freshmen will assemble in a body at 2:30 on the lower campus (Continued on Page 3)

TWO CUPS OFFERED BY OCTOPUS BOARD Subscription Contest Opens To- day; Only Women May Compete

Two silver cups as first and second prizes for the greatest number of Octopus subscriptions obtained, in addition to the ten cents apiece for each subscription are offered as incentives to the women of the university in the Octopus contest which begins today. These cups are on display at the Chocolate Shop.

All groups, sororities, and individual girls who want to canvass are asked to come to the Octopus office this noon to secure blanks and instructions from Elizabeth Chandler. If this is impossible, they may begin at any time by first seeing Elizabeth Chandler.

The editors say that there is a good field for subscriptions yet as many were too busy to subscribe during registration. Hill sales will be dispensed with this year to a large extent, and it is, therefore, imperative that those who want to make sure of regular copies must subscribe immediately.

COMMERCE TO GIVE FIRST MIXER FRIDAY

"Let's go commerce, and make the first all-commerce affair the biggest event of the year," said Bill Rubert C. C. 4, of the Commerce club. Every commerce man and woman is expected to be present at the mixer, Friday, October 1, at 7 p. m.

Without the co-operation of every student in the course in commerce the success of any undertaking will be limited to a large extent.

The mixer to be held Friday night will be the one big event of the year. To the freshmen in the course in commerce this mixer affords an opportunity of meeting a large number of students. Such opportunity is limited by the manner in which each student participates in the different functions given by the commerce school.

The first all-commerce mixer will provide an excellent program. With music, cheering, short talks by faculty members, special features, and enough eats for everybody present, opportunity is provided for a good time for everyone.

CREW ON MENDOTA TODAY

Thirty Oarsmen Answer "Dad" Vail's Call for Row- ing Candidates; Light Workouts on Program

Prospects for a winning Badger crew were sent skyward today when 30 stalwart men responded to Coach "Dad" Vail's first summons for rowing candidates at a meeting in the gymnasium yesterday afternoon. Coach Vail had expected to get on the lake yesterday but a stiff breeze made the surface too rough for the shells and the first work-out was postponed until today.

Much enthusiasm was manifested by the candidates, about 20 of whom are experienced oarsmen and are the chief hope of the Badger rowing mentor for an eight worthy of entering the Poughkeepsie regatta.

Coach Vail talked to the candidates for a few moments, telling them briefly of the work, which will commence with light work-outs on the water this fall and in the rowing machines during the winter before the real gruelling season starts next spring. Experienced crewmen will take to the shells immediately, while the green material will work out in the barges until they have gained some knowledge of rowing.

Harold Selvake who as a representative of Skull and Crescent has taken an active part in effecting the reinstatement of rowing at Wisconsin spoke to the candidates about the necessity of giving their every effort in order that a strong eight can be built up in the short time that remains before the races in June. "We have accomplished what the most optimistic Badger thought an impossibility last spring," he said, "and now it is up to the crewmen and student body to give Coach Vail every bit of support toward developing a real Wisconsin eight."

Every interested man is urged to report to Coach Vail whether he has had previous experience or not. Everybody will be given a chance and in case the eastern trip is taken about 25 men of varsity calibre will be needed.

CARDINAL STAFF TO GIVE BANQUET THURSDAY NIGHT

All Members of News and Business Staffs Invited to Attend

The annual Cardinal banquet will be held in the Capitol cafe at 6:30 Thursday evening, September 30. All the members of the news and business staffs are invited and at least fifty people are expected to be present.

The banquet has formerly been held at a later date in the year, but it has been decided that an early get-together meeting will be of advantage to the efficiency of the whole Cardinal organization.

Foster Strong, on the Cardinal board of control, has charge of the banquet arrangements. George Crownhart, president of the board of control, will act as toastmaster.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Prof. Alfred P. Haake, of the department of economics, who was editor-in-chief of the Cardinal in 1912 and who will talk on "Reminiscences of Cardinal Experiences."

Short toasts will also be given by Carson Lyman, managing editor, on "Students in the Course in Journalism and the Daily Cardinal," and by Irwin Maier, business manager, on "The Paper and the School." Marion Goodwin, woman's editor, will talk on "The Woman on the Paper," and Louise Haley, assistant business manager, on "The Woman on the Business Side."

Three members of last year's staff, Taylor Merrill, Marion Roth, and Leon Kaumheimer, will be present.

FORENSIC OFFICERS ELECTED BY BOARD

The Forensic board held an organization meeting Monday at noon. The following officers were elected: Clyde Emery, president; Mabel Gregg, secretary; B. W. Allin, treasurer. Sterling Tracy was elected as the board's representative on the senate.

Plans for an active year in the field of forensics were discussed. At the next meeting, on Thursday, September 30, the board will consider the question of a debate with the University of Southern California and the award of the "W" scrolls for forensic activity.

TOBOGGAN!

Food Prices Hit Slide, But No Change in Cafeteria Prices

The toboggan slide stunt being forcibly indulged in by food prices, at least in the newspapers, has not as yet reached the field of Madison cafeterias.

At the beginning of the summer school session the price of that humble article of diet, the potato, was raised slightly. Although the price has dropped from 16 cents a pound to 3 cents, according to the statement of two Madison grocers, two and sometimes only one potato can be had at cafeterias for 8 cents.

If the frequenter of the breadline wonders why tomatoes have suddenly become so popular on the menu board, let him look for the price and he will find that tomatoes now are selling for 70 cents a bushel retail. Consequently, escalloped tomatoes, tomato salad, and tomato soup make profitable dishes, particularly when the prices on the menu board remain unchanged.

One of Madison's principal merchants states that vegetables have decreased 25 per cent. Cafeteria prices of such articles either remain the same as they were last spring, or are tending to go upward. The decrease in the price of sugar to 18 cents a pound in the Madison stores will perhaps result in the permanent residence of the sugar bowl on the cafeteria table, with no return to the one-scant-spoonful-in-envelope-style necessarily in use last winter.

Wholesale meat prices have either advanced, as in the case of pork, or else have obstinately refused to move, as in the case of beef. As a result of this condition, meat prices in cafeterias remain unchanged.

Fresh fruits, according to the manager of Piper's grocery store, have reached a reasonable basis, shortenings have decreased 50 per cent within the last few months, yet one slice of the kind of pie that mother makes costs the student a couple of cents more than it did last year.

THREE MORE NEEDED

If three additional students do not enroll in the teacher-librarian course in the Library school, the course will not be given this year.

The course is given on Tuesday and Thursday at 1:30 for two credits. It is held on the second floor in the Madison Free library. All students interested report Thursday at 1:30 at the library building.

INJURY FORCES END CANDIDATE TO SIDE-LINES

Harry Barnes' Right Arm Disabled in Scrimmage Mike Knapp Resigns

With enough eligible men reporting daily for practice to furnish star material for two good teams, Badger chances as a strong contender for the conference championship continue to loom large on the football horizon.

The first casualty, however, which might prove a loss to the squad occurred yesterday during scrimmage when Harry Barnes, candidate for right end injured his shoulder in such a manner as to disable his right arm. At the same practice Mike Knapp, also a right end man, made known to the coach his intention to quit training and devote more time to his studies in order to finish school by the close of the first semester.

This leaves but two ends out of four that Coach Richards has been depending on to do big things in the coming contests. They are Captain Weston and Tebell, both of whom have been working most of the time in the left end position.

Extent of Injuries Unknown

Just how severe Barnes' injury is, was not known last night. It is believed however that his shoulder blade is broken. If this is the case he will not be able to return to the game for about a month and unless Knapp can be persuaded to continue it will be necessary to switch Tebell from left to right end and to train two new players as substitutes.

So far no definite squad has been announced by Coach Richards, but with the eligibility fear over, the entire aspect of the situation has changed to a more encouraging appearance. Five out of seven men who had to bring up their scholastic standing before entering varsity competition have cleared their record. They are Scott, Sundt, Williams, Brader, and Gude.

Besides the five mentioned among those now reporting the following look good for places on the squad: Weston, Elliott, Scott, Stark, Davey, Williams, Barr, Knapp, Tebell, Holmes, Brader, Woods, Sundt, Barnes, Donaghey, Nelson, Bunge, Perrin, Collins, Rankin, Cosgrove, Donahue, Schonneger, Hipke, Brickingham, Gibson, Egglebrecht, Anderson, and McMurray.

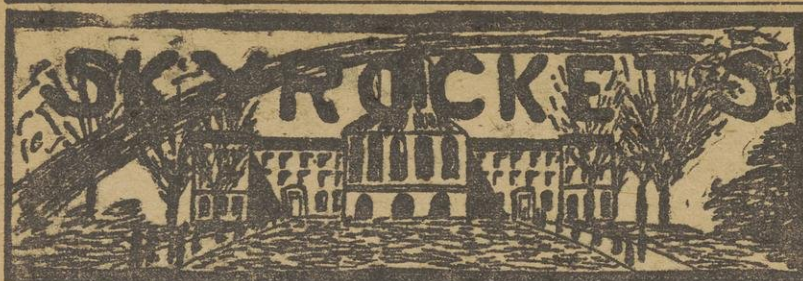

Team Not Picked

From this number it is hard to tell what combination Coach Richards will use against Lawrence Saturday. Each day he starts scrimmage with a new lineup. Yesterday the varsity team consisted of Bunge, center, Rankin and Brader guards, Scott and Stark as tackles, Weston and Barnes at end, Davey quarter, Sundt full, and Elliott and Holmes playing half back positions.

The most numerous shifts have been in the halfback and guard positions with Williams, Collins and Gibson at various times filling the places which Elliott and Holmes held yesterday. Woods, who has been playing half with the scrubs is showing up unusually well by making large gains through the regular's line. Nelson, Brader, Rankin, Cosgrove, Schonneger and McMurray have been taking turns at guard.

MATHEMATICAL DEDUCTIONS
(Gleaned from the Octopus Joke contest)

Didja ever think what a funny guy would earn if there were Octopus joke contests every day? This is the dope, the bird that sends in the best joke gets five bucks and you don't have to be very funny to think up a joke an hour. Work seven hours a day and you get $35 dollars earned; six days a week and there are $310 to your credit; and if you stick at it for a year you'll have $10,500. * * *

DEAN Roe pulled his annual joke about the Romans leaving traces of civilization in the roads yesterday; Taylor likewise got away with that one of his about the Saturday evening Post, and we saw Washy-Lyons going to a class. Outside of that the day was "Brite an' Fair."

6,460 ENROLLMENTIS RECORD AT OHIO

With an enrollment of 6,460, the 1919 record at Ohio State has been smashed and class rooms are crowded. This is an increase of 761 over last year. Some classes, especially in art, which seems to be especially popular this year, had to be dismissed until they could be cut down.

SELL TICKETS FOR FIRST GAME FRIDAY

Open sale of tickets for the football game with Lawrence, October 2, will commence Friday at 9 o'clock and the paste boards may be obtained at the gymnasium until 11 o'clock Saturday noon.

All holders of season coupon tickets should exchange coupon No. 1 for the admission ticket at the gymnasium during the time specified. Compliance with this request will avoid unnecessary confusion and greatly aid the athletic department in handling the large crowd expected for the initial game.

The price of the admission to students who do not possess a coupon book will be 50c, if tickets are purchased at the gymnasium, but all who secure their tickets at Camp Randall will be charged 75c. Students must produce fee card upon application for ticket.

AT THE FULLER

Sydney Ainsworth, who portrays the role of Thacker, the American consul, in "A Double Dyed Deceiver," Goldwyn's latest starring vehicle for Jack Pickford, received a humorous surprise during the filming of a scene in which he told a parrot to "shut up." All during the rehearsal the green parrot had remained mute and unblinking in his cage hung in the window of the consul's office and refused the cracker which all parrots are supposed to crave. In the story the parrot is supposed to awaken the sleeping consul with his shrill chattering. Ainsworth did his part perfectly. The parrot, however, came in on the wrong cue. The camera began to grind. Ainsworth awoke, glared indignantly at the cage and said "shut up." Now, this was all as it should be. The trouble came when the parrot, without warning, laid down a barrage of profanity that made even the stage hands open their eyes.

Director Green laughingly apologized to the astonished actor, "Syd, they told me this was a Christian parrot. There's a mistake somewhere." See this picture which comes to the Fuller theater for two days, commencing today.

The world's three greatest dancers, say our dancers of today, are better than ever.

After a wonderful trip of seven weeks to New York, Atlantic City, and Chicago, where I visited every Musical Comedy in town, and danced at the Century Roof, the Biltmore Roof, the Pennsylvania Roor, the Astor Roof, the McAlpin Roof, the Strand Roof, Roseland, and the Commodore Ball Room. At Atlantic City I danced at the Garden Pier, Stell Pier, Million Dollar Pier, and attended the Movie Ball, August 23, at the Garden Pier. Also, I danced at the Blackstone, Sophie Tucker's Cafe de Paris, and in Chi, as usual, every place where dancing is popular.

I have decided to feature

The Dancing Fool

It's great if you can do it. Kosloff's Cat Step is fine for good dancers—all others will be wasting time. Wesleyan is equally fine for beginners, and couples over forty.

As usual I picked only the best bets—and the most popular. My Cow Boy Fox Trot is a wonder. Winton Walse is divine; Airplane is delightful; Duryea's Dardanella Fox Trot is a scream.

I have the largest registration I have had since I first came to Madison. My welcome home was so spontaneous that I am proud to be an instructor in Madison. We have three teachers. I thank you.

J. Bigler, capt., E. Kornreicht, W. Hawkes, C. Reick, H. Stark, L. Strope, L. Murphy, A. Pesch, G. Crownhart, M. Farrell.

I. Maier, capt., H. Stark, L. Lacey, W. Kates, S. Vaughn, W. Hayes, H. Muth, C. Schrage, C. Wille, C. Gill.

The following captains have not selected their nine aides as yet but will do so at once: P. Falk, C. Moore, E. Fournes, P. Kiser, D. Van Pinkerton. Their selections of squads will appear in tomorrow's Cardinal.

FRESHMAN BIBLES TO BE HAD AT "Y"

The "Frosh Bibles" arrived at the "Y" late yesterday and are now ready for distribution. The book, which is well edited, contains information concerning the traditions, social activities, fraternal life, and various organizations of the university.

The delay in their appearance has worked a hardship on many of the frosh, who have committed unwitting violations of the traditions of the university as a result. The Bible may be obtained by making a personal application to Secretary Wolf of the Y. M. C. A.

DAILY EXERCISE

THE function of the university is to train the student for all kinds of living. The mental discipline which lies at the basis of effective work is furnished by students. But physical well-being cannot wisely be neglected.

Juvenal's famous aphorisms "A sound mind in a sound body" lays the proper emphasis on a balanced development in which the body shares equally. An intellect which is developed at the expense of the body is like a high-powered engine whose frame is too weak to absorb the shock of its vibrations. Efficiency and smooth functioning under such conditions are impossible; a smashup inevitably occurs.

Madison teems with opportunities for wholesome exercise. The lake, Camp Randall, and the gym compete for the attention and patronage of Wisconsin students. Every sport has its devotees, and there is always room for new enthusiasts.

The matter of physical exercise is most vital to upperclassmen. Gymnasium work and military drill, though often endured grumblingly, are of undoubted value to freshmen and sophomores. The junior throws them off joyfully; but an adequate substitute is necessary. Walking a few blocks to classes is not sufficient. Only vigorous workouts will produce vigorous bodies.

Several reasons deter students from participation in strenuous exercise. A large number become torpid and shun exercise like the plague. To others, work and play stand as antipodes which cannot be combined. A laudable sense of conscientiousness leads them to the harmful extreme of overwork.

The proverb, "It is not work, but worry, that kills men," expresses a profound truth. The most powerful antidote for worry is whole-hearted play. After an hour or two of tennis or hiking or gym work, depressing thoughts find no entrance. Glowing with vitality and confidence, the student is ready to study with maximum efficiency, thorough enjoyment, and genuine benefit.

Each student should plan to devote an hour or two each day to bodily exercise. Such recreation will build up a strong physique. The student will be immune from colds and other diseases which attack a weakened system. Pep and enthusiasm will become habitual. Time saved from play is doubly wasted. The best use for one or two hours each day is to spend them in enjoyable exercise.

ABOUT THE LIBE

AT the beginning of every school year confusion grows out of the use of the library. It is well early in the season to come to some common understanding on the main points that have given rise to difficulties in the past.

First of all it should be remembered that the Libe is a place to study. It has no other purpose to serve. It is not a place to hold social gatherings nor is it a trysting spot for those whose thoughts turn to romance. Our own Burdette Kinne convinced most of us of this last year when his delightful story "My Dear," came out. The dears ought to bear in mind that even their charms are subject to the ordinary limitations of time and place. Lest it appear that a double standard is being set up it should be stated that the same rule applies to the dears of the sterner sex.

The next point to be stressed is that the reference shelves are exactly what their name implies. The books on these shelves are for reference inside the library. They are not to be slipped out. The evil of taking these books away without authority acts as a two-edged sword; it injures the one who takes the books because the act is a breach of honor, and it injures the others who need the books because their work may suffer.

Everybody will profit by working together to make the Libe exclusively a place to study and to observe the letter and spirit of every regulation in force.

BADGER APPLICANTS

All applicants for positions on the staff of the 1922 Badger will report at the office of the editor, second floor, Union building, as follows:

COUNTRY MAGAZINE DISCUSSES PLANS

Fifty members of the Country Magazine staff of this year and many former editors and staff men met at 21 Agricultural hall yesterday afternoon to discuss plans for this year's issue.

Many new features are to be introduced in the "Mag" this year. Among the contributors of articles is Dean Harry L. Russell, whose article, "The Challenge of Agriculture," will be of vital interest to either producer or consumer. The Alumni Notes is another feature. Through this column former students can be located and the nature of their success learned. In this number of the "Mag" begins the Wisconsin First series. The initial treatise is "The Wisconsin Pea Canning Industry." Another interesting article will tell of the clearing of vast acreages of land in the northern part of the state.

Overcome

A Costly,
Foolish
Prejudice

Thousands of men foolishly believe they cannot get a good suit tailored to their measure for as little as $45

They are the men who buy ready suits.

You can always spot them in crowd.

Others have overcome this foolish prejudice. They know how to buy good suits, made to their measure for as little as

$35 $45 $55

Ready made suits are poor economy—they seldom satisfy in wear or appearance.

Our suits and overcoats, tailored to your measure, wear longer, fit better, look better and give constant satisfaction.

Come in and see our new fall goods—all wool—quality fabrics—and skillful workmanship.

The members of Theta Chi fraternity, 140 West Gilman, will give an informal dance Saturday evening at the chapter house in honor of their new pledges.

OHIO STATE PLANS FOR NEW STADIUM

The drive for the new Ohio State stadium will start October 18. The minimum amount of $25 to be pledged by every student entitles the subscriber to an option on two seats in the stadium for three years after it is finished. Each $50 contributor carries an option on two seats for five years. Only individual contributions will be accepted, and no organization subscriptions will be solicited.

No subscription for less than $100 will be accepted on the campus. Tablets in the stadium will contain the names of students who contribute more than $100. Contributors of $1,000 to $5,000, known as "patrons" will receive an option on six seats for ten years. Contributors of five thousand or more, known as "founders," will have a box named after them, and will have an option on the box or as many seats as they desire in it.

NO COAL SHORTAGE FEARED THIS WINTER

That there is little danger of a coal shortage at the university this year is the opinion of Mr. Larson, consulting engineer on the business staff, who says that at present there are about six thousand tons on hand. Twenty-five thousand tons is a season's supply, and all this has been bought. Unless something happens to stop coal deliveries from the mines, there will be no enforced vacations because of lack of fuel.

WISCONSIN MAY SEND GOLF TEAM TO BIG TOURNEY

Plans Under Way for Tryouts to Select Representatives

Plans formulated during the conference of Big Ten coaches at Ann Arbor last spring for an all-conference golf tourney to be held at Chicago October 22 and 23 are in the process of consummation. Michigan, Chicago, Indiana, Illinois, Northwestern, and possibly Iowa, have already expressed their intentions of entering a team in the meet, and it is very likely that the Badgers will send a team to the Windy City to compete.

Original plans decided upon at the time of the meeting called for four-man teams, but later restrictions have limited each school to two entrants, subject to conference eligibility rules. The golfers will play 72 holes in match play against bogey, changing partners after 18 holes have been played. The player having the lowest score after the completion of play will be individual champion, and the team, the sum of whose record is the least, will receive the title of conference golf champions.

A meeting of all university men interested in golf will be called within a very short time, and a play off tourney will be held in Madison this fall to select the two best golfers to represent Wisconsin.

DAILY ILLINI PLANS TO INSTRUCT "CUBS"

All geniuses aspiring to reporting jobs on The Daily Illini, the student paper of the University of Illinois, will be given a chance to learn something of the art of reporting. A series of lectures on the following subjects will be given by instructors in journalism for the benefit of the subs: "What a Young Cub Ought to Know," "The Maple Sugar of News Stories," "Tapping News Sources," "Getting the University into Print," "Feature Stories About the Campus," and "Helping the Editor to Make Good."

Professor H. F. Harrington, director of the courses in journalism at Illinois, who will give several of these talks, was connected with the department of journalism at Wisconsin during the summer session.

FOOTBALL RULES FOR 1920 MADE; FEWER CHANGES

College football coaches discussed rules for the coming gridiron season at the annual meeting of the American Inter-collegiate Football Rules committee in New York City September 23, but made no radical changes. A resolution adopted interpreted as "unnecessary roughness" the tactics of "clipping" or cutting down by throwing the body laterally across the legs of a player not carrying the ball, from behind. It also was decided a player may be bumped from the path of a teammate carrying the ball provided he does so without using his hands.

A suggestion was made by Walter Camp that the referee use a horn in addition to a whistle, to be used when calling a foul so the play may be completed leaving the referee to mark the place where the foul took place. Mr. Camp declared great progress had been made in the elimination of professionalism in the sport.

Among those present were Dr. J. A. Babbitt of Haversford who presided; Dr. A. L. Sharpe, Yale; "Buck" O'Neil, Columbia; Tom Chorp, Columbia, and John Heisman, the new Pennsylvania coach.

STUDENT SPECIAL EVOLUTION and THE BIBLE

In this lecture Mr. Hayward leads his audience safely through the crystal maze of conjecture, to positive truth.

Is it a case of "From Monkey to Man," or "From Man to Monkey?" Was this earth and its myriad forms of life created in six literal days, or is there some mysterious "natural" process which is responsible for the wonders of a great universe?

Darwinism and Spencerianism take their flight with embarrassment in presence of common sense.

SENATE SELECTS MEN TO ADDRESS UNDERCLASSMEN

Seven Appointed to Speak During Drill Periods, Thursday and Friday

Seven men were appointed by the student senate to explain class traditions and the regulations for the rush to the freshmen and sophomore classes at drill periods on Thursday and Friday, at its first special meeting held at the Y. M. C. A. building last night. President E. A. Birge was present and expressed a hope that the existing spirit of co-operation between the two classes would continue.

The following men will address the underclassmen: William Pickard, Lothrop Follett, Ross Rogers, Milton Powers, Willard Kates, Clyde Emery, and Robert Mailer. They will emphasize the fact that no attempts may be made by the freshmen to organize; that no unfair or unsportsmanlike conduct may accompany the rush; and that all able-bodied sophomores and freshmen must participate. In particular, the freshmen will be urged to attend the Lawrence game in a body, and to use this method in all subsequent games, omitting all fussing. Any student in either class cutting lectures on Saturday will be barred from his examination in that course.

Four men were granted exemption from wearing the green cap because of overseas service: Carl May, David Johnson, John Welch, and Lawrence Hunsader.
