BURTON OPENS RELIGION MEET IN CONVO TALK

Four-day Session to Start
With Address at Gym
at 3:30

The all-university Religious conference will open this afternoon at 3:30 with a convocation at the men's gymnasium. President M. L. Burton of the University of Minnesota will be the first speaker for the four-day session.

President Birge will preside at the opening of the conference. The arrangements for the convocation are under the direction of Prof. Julius Olson of the Committee on Public functions, Vincent O'Shea, of the all-university traditions committee and Milton Borman, student chairman of the Religious conference.

Special Choir to Sing
A choir of 200 voices directed by Prof. E. B. Gordon will furnish special music and will lead in the convocation singing. Special programs containing university songs and the best known church hymns have been prepared by the conference committee on music, so that the entire student audience will be able to join in the singing.

The second meeting of the conference will be one for men only at 7:30 this evening in the Y. M. C. A. parlors. "Dad" Elliott will be the speaker at this meeting. Since the days when "Dad" was a star end on the Northwestern team he has been a student leader. He is today one of the foremost men in college religious work in the country.

Admission to this meeting will be by ticket only because of the limited capacity of the Y. M. C. A. parlors. Tickets can still be secured at the "Y" office.

Burton Guest at Luncheon
Special arrangements are being made for the entertainment of President Burton during his stay here. He will be the guest of honor at a faculty luncheon this noon at the Madison club. This evening he will be entertained at dinner by the Acacia fraternity and an informal reception will be held in his honor at 8:15. Dr. J. P. Groves, national president of the Acacia fraternity, will be present to greet President Burton.

Members of faculty who have come from University of Michigan are invited to the reception by Acacia fraternity.

The student senate last night unanimously endorsed the Religious conference in the following resolutions:

WHEREAS, There is to be held an ALL-UNIVERSITY RELIGIOUS CONFERENCE extending from Thursday, March 4, to Sunday, March 7, inclusive, and
WHEREAS, This said conference is for the benefit of all students on the campus and is non-sectarian in character, and
WHEREAS, This said conference ages of the nationally known men speaking at the conference will

Freak Fashion Fads to Rule Make-ups at Jamboree

Remember that Mother Goose party, that hard times party, or that costume party that you enjoyed in the old days? It's hinted that all of those features are going to be combined in the Varsity Jamboree to be held in the men's gymnasium March 27.

"Nothing usual, everything different," is the slogan that the general committee has adopted for the affair and promises there will be something new and novel stirring every minute. The formality of Prom will be the only thing that will overshadow the informality of the Jamboree.

The price of the tickets, to be placed on sale in two weeks, will be 50 cents. The sale has been limited to 800, so buy your ticket early to insure getting in on this second biggest social event of the year, is the advice of the committee in charge.

It is time to get after that old stove-pipe hat in the attic or that old costume in the dust-covered chest or trunk, and look it over to see if it will be all right to wear to the Jamboree. Or maybe you can

WOMEN TO ASK MEN TO FRESHMAN DANCE

At a meeting of the chairmen of the freshmen class committees, plans were made for the annual freshmen dance which will be held in Lathrop Hall, March 26.

In keeping with the leap year spirit it was decided that the freshmen women should ask the men. Some novel stunts and other forms of amusement are yet to be arranged for. Tickets will cost $2.00, and only a limited number will be sold. Thompson's first orchestra has been secured for the occasion. The dance is in charge of Joe Hook, chairman of the freshman dance committee; "Doc" Dorward, chairman publicity committee; Robert Bennett, chairman of the entertainment committee, and Howard Barnaby, chairman of the refreshments committee.

TIE FOR THIRD PLACE HIGHEST BADGER RATING

Must Win All Remaining Games to Catch Illinois in Percentage

	Won	Lost	Pct.
Chicago	9	1	.900
Purdue	8	2	.800
Illinois	8	4	.667
Indiana	5	3	.625
Wisconsin	5	4	.556
Iowa	6	6	.500
Minnesota	3	7	.300
Ohio State	2	8	.200
Northwestern	1	6	.142
Michigan	1	7	.125

Should the Badger basketball team be successful in winning all three of its remaining games, a tie for third place would be the best possible standing Wisconsin could obtain in the Big Ten percentage column.

A victory over Michigan, Ohio, and Chicago would give the Badger five eight games won and four lost for a percentage of .667, the same as that held by Illinois as the result of her victory over Michigan in the last game of the season for the Suckers. In order that Wisconsin and Illinois be entitled to a third place rating Indiana must lose one of her two remaining games with Northwestern and Michigan, but should the Hoosiers win both of these games they will enjoy a record of seven won and three lost, a percentage of .700. This would drop the Badgers and Suckers into a tie for fourth place.

Purdue, with her schedule completed and a record of eight games won and two lost has a firm hold on second place, and a chance for the championship should both Minnesota and Wisconsin succeed in defeating Chicago in the latter's two remaining contests. Such a catastrophe would give the Maroons nine games won and three lost for a percentage of .750.

The Badger team will leave tomorrow for Ann Arbor to meet the Michigan five Saturday night, after which a game will be played with Ohio at Columbus on Monday. Chicago comes to Madison for the final game of the season for both teams, Saturday, March 12.

600 Miles of Examinations Written in February

Since compiling statistics seems to have become the style lately, someone wants to know how many miles of examinations we wrote during February.

About 600 miles is a conservative estimate—counting 6 inches to the line, 19 lines to the page, 10 pages to the blue book, and 5 books for each of 6,700 students. Don't gasp yet; there's more to come.

An army of blue books marching abreast in column formation and reaching from the front door of Main hall to the Capitol could be mobilized with the blue books which were used during semester exams. It's a real battalion of death, and within its ranks are the records of many fallen and missing in action. The qualifications for a commission in this army are the "ex's", who keep a strong discipline in the ranks of private "f's" and sergeant

RELAY TEAMS TO COMPETE AT ILLINOIS

Cross Country Men Make Up Personnel of Four Mile Squad

Wisconsin will enter at least two relay teams in the University of Illinois relay games to be held at Urbana Saturday of this week.

The four mile team will be composed of the following four cross-country men and one alternate: Dayton, Brothers, Ramsay, Crump, and Meyers (alternate), and Nash, Kayser, Wall, Donaldson, and Cox (alternate), will make up the personnel of the two mile team. If Coach Jones decides to enter a mile team it will be made up of the same personnel as the two mile with the exception that Cox instead of Wall will compete.

In the 75-yard dash Spetz will represent Wisconsin, in the 75-yard low hurdles Andrews will be the Badger representative, and in the pole vault both Wilder and Endres will compete. The all-around event will see Knollin pitted against such stars as Johnson of Michigan and Sholz of Missouri.

More than 20 teams hailing from all parts of the middle west and representing the conference, Missouri Valley, and minor associations have signified their intention of competing in this indoor relay carnival, the first of its kind since 1913. The list includes:

Eureka, Georgetown, Notre Dame, Purdue, Northwestern college, Minnesota, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Kansas Agricultural college, De Pauw university, Wabash, Iowa state, Wisconsin, Chicago, Northwestern, Iowa, Indiana, Ohio state, and Nebraska.

One of the strongest aggregations on the schedule is Missouri. Lewis and Hamilton, Missouri's entries in the all-around event have been working out all winter under the skillful supervision of Coach Bob Simpson and the sport sheets of Missouri Valley papers are full of testimonials to the prowess of these two stars. Osborne of Illinois and Bradley of Kansas will also be strong contenders in the individual event.

FRATERNITY GAMES STILL BEING PLAYED

Results of the inter-fraternity basketball games of Tuesday and Wednesday, constituting the first series of round seven of the tournament are as follows:

Tuesday, March 2
Phi Sigma Kappa 16, Chi Phi 6.
Alpha Sigma Phi 10, Sigma Nu 0.
Sigma Chi 18, Acacia 7.

Wednesday, March 3
Theta Chi 19, Teke 12.
Sigma Phi 12, Phi Epsilon 17.
Zeta Psi 6, Lambda Chi Alpha 4.
Alpha Tau Omega 14, S. A. E. 6.

The following games will be played today:

Hints to Non-Tea Hounds; the Rough and Manly Fellows

1. Under no circumstances should the hair show signs of having been put in order.

2. Suit must be of the pinch-back, waist-seam, young men's model, and should be left unbuttoned to show you are ready to fight or indulge in any other manly act. Collar must be at least 3 inches high and set off with a portiere-like mass of material, knotted as large as possible.

3. Excitement is the keynote of the dance. If you cut-up and romp, people will know that you have real red blood in your veins, and that you will fight for your country if necessary.

4: If you can persuade one, take a good-looking women. This shows further that you are really human, and are susceptible to feminine charms. Dance every seventh dance. There is no sense in dancing anyway, and so it is always good to poke fun at the spineless creatures who are apparently enjoying themselves. However, for a diversion, you might tell her you were elected president of the Boy's Corn club or how you ran the laundry last summer.

5. When the music stops, applaud thunderously; just as you do at the acrobatic stunts at the Orph.

6. Never drink tea. This is extremely effeminate and is a sign of weakness. If you must imbibe, burst into the place and shriek out for a Coco-Cola. This shows aggressiveness and courage.

7. The matter of the moustache must be left to the individual. If it makes you look mannish, try to cultivate a Hindenburgian hedge.

Octopus Satire Section in Search of Scandal Snap-Shots

Shades of great grand ma-ma's daguerreotype! Recollections of Aunt Susan's parlor album!

And with it all what a luscious opportunity for sweet, succulent revenge.

A scent from the idea shop of the Satire section of the Badger has set every humor sleuth on the trail, with the tea hounds in the lead (not joining, but attempting to avoid pursuit).

Their goal is the ultimate confiscation of every collection of snapshots, cabinet photos, or real life likenesses that suggest a bit of scandal.

"Get 'em in action," is the war cry of the chromo seekers. "If you've got a grudge against your side-kick kick out the vellum print that tells a tale," advises Alan E. Pradt, chief quip-smith for the book. "If you've got a hunch that he holds one against you, seize this chance to even up."

Pradt is on the receiving end of the line for "all fool pictures" at 620 Lake street, at the convenience of the postal service or personal delivery.

SOUTH DAKOTANS TO HOLD MEETING

Special effort is being made by the South Dakota club to get all South Dakota students out at the meeting to be held tonight in Lathrop parlors at 7 o'clock. The subject under discussion will be the dance to be given by the club on March 19 in Lathrop hall. Thompson's orchestra has been engaged for the occasion and members will decide whether or not out-of-state people will be invited.

The program for the rest of the year will be outlined and officers will be elected for the semester. The meeting will be dismissed early so that those who wish may attend the religious conference.

WOMEN HEAR SPEAKERS AT S. G. A. CONVO

Campaign Launched to Get
New Songs at Wisconsin

"The one particular need of the university in its present situation is loyalty," said Prof. A. B. Hall, speaking before the women of the university at the S. G. A. convocation in Lathrop last night.

"First should come loyalty to yourselves. Students today are 'getting by' but they are not learning to master themselves—they are not learning the value of character building. In the effort to 'get by' they are wasting their energy for transient popularity. As soon as university women learn to be loyal to themselves there will dawn a new day, not only for the women themselves but for the men and for the entire university."

Dean Louise F. Nardin spoke briefly upon the subject of unity, and urged the girls to demonstrate to the dean of a great Eastern college who will visit the university next week that there is such a thing as a real S. G. A. which is a vital factor on the campus. "This dean is coming," said Miss Nardin, "to find out how we get any 'oneness' among 2,700 women, and it is your duty to show her that there is a real live S. G. A."

Helen Harper outlined briefly the need for new songs in the university. College songs, she pointed out, are the best expression of the life, spirit and ideals of the university, and they tend toward greater unity. Wisconsin has very few really spirited songs and there has been a feeling that a contest such as is conducted at other schools would be a very good plan. For this reason S. G. A. will conduct a university-wide contest for new songs. All efforts in this direction are to be handed in at the S. G. A. offices or to Mildred Winnie before mid-semester time.

Three types of songs are needed: songs of contest, songs of devotion and praise, and "fun songs." Students are urged to try their ability in any one of these lines, and the best contribution will be awarded a prize. New tunes are desired but new words to old tunes will be acceptable.

Marcia Hinkins explained the new district plan for S. G. A. for next year. Under this schedule the S. G. A. acts as the "Mother Colony" in charge of the five smaller districts into which the university will be divided. East of the five smaller districts will be under the direction of a district hostess. The object of this plan is to get all of the girls interested in the activities of the university.

Hazel Wright explained the new point system for university women's activities and Louise Weld pointed out the responsibility of the women in the nomination of S. G. A. officers. Slips were distributed upon which girls were given the privilege of suggesting names for the candidates for offices.

The meeting was presided over by Amy Jobse, president of S. G. A., and was attended by a representative number of Wisconsin co-eds. Helen Harper led in the singing of "Varsity," "On Wisconsin," and "If You Want to be a Badger."

North Hall Diggings Unearth Big Desk of First President

Shades of departed executives! If you are looking for spirits, the most likely place to find one is in the Service building. Walk in, run up three flights of stairs, turn around three times with eyes closed, and if you follow your nose, you will bump into IT. Probably Pres. P. A. Chadbourne, the first president of the university, will materialize and ask what you want.

For IT is President Chadbourne's desk which was unearthed in an unearthly manner in North hall about three weeks ago. No one will admit to finding it, or knowing anything about it, though they all have been told by someone else—and the someone else never knows any more than the first one. This evasiveness on the part of professors, even, is enough to prove that there is something queer about it.

And then there is the appearance of the desk. A big, black thing, with a back 6 feet high, and all sorts of little drawers and big drawer with a document prohibiting dances more than once a month for students, and saying that galoshes must always be buckled—but the carpenters and painters at work on it have not quite found it yet.

Even the destiny of this mysterious desk is shrouded in mystery. It may go to the Historical museum or to President Birge or to the mathematics department. But, more likely, President Chadbourne will want to do some writing, and the desk will vanish some day in a puff of ether.

PAUL S. REINSCH HONOR GUEST AT N. YORK DINNER

Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, prominent Wisconsin alumnus, will be the guest of honor at a dinner to be given in New York Friday, March 12, by the Alumni association of that city. Dr. Reinsch recently returned to the United States after serving as minister to China.

Gerhard M. Dahl, '96, was recently elected president of the association and plans are being made to make it an aggressive and influential organization. The work of the committee on constitution and by-laws will be presented at the coming dinner.

FROSH FIVE PICKS GAGE FOR CAPTAIN

Leslie Gage of Peoria, Ill., was elected captain of the freshman basketball team yesterday afternoon immediately before varsity practice when pictures of both teams were taken for the Badger. Gage is enrolled in the College of Letters and Science and is a pledge of Alpha Delta Phi fraternity. Besides being a star on his high school five, he played last year on the quintet of Bradley college, Peoria, Ill., where he spent part of his school year. Harold Olson, former Wisconsin basketball star, was coach of this team and the frosh captain accredits much of his knowledge of the game to "Ole's" coaching.

THE GRAND

AN OLD SONG MADE NEW

Now that national, state, and every other kind of politics are beginning to bubble again it might be expected that some factions bent on retaliating for past repulses will clamor for a "cleanup" of the university as a campaign issue.

Suggestions for framing an issue of "academic freedom" are certainly in order at this time. Suppose that you publish a newspaper favoring one political faction, first and last. Suppose further that the leader of that faction was the subject of a resolution of protest from the University of Wisconsin faculty against his opposition tactics in Congress during the war. If signers of that resolution are still members of the faculty, the time is now ripe to bring a few of them to account.

In attacking these faculty members, it must be understood that "the people," rather than any faction, are demanding a reckoning with the university. The opening charge should be that the faculty is more responsive to "other interests" than to the people.

Starting with this appeal, make it appear that faculty members must subscribe to a rigid set of views. Then say that if they express anything but these desired views they are told "to keep their mouths shut" or else lose their jobs. This always scores big in arousing the reader's indignation.

Without going into any detail, it is well to cite some cases where independent faculty members have "offended" the heads of departments. Or else have at least one dean appear as standing with club poised above the heads of the scared "independents."

Mention that so-called "radical" speakers have received little welcome by the university. But be careful in this connection not to make any distinction between the period of the war and the period after the war. The general characteristics of all of these speakers should be stated as that of opposition to American and European "imperialism."

Reference should also be made to the stand of the Milwaukee socialists in the last legislature in refusing to vote for the university appropriation bill. Of course at this time "war conditions" prevented an open fight on the university, but make no mention of how war conditions affected the status of the socialists in the eyes of the people.

As a parting shot, don't neglect a declaration that it is the duty of all "stauch friends" of the university to aid in the fight against those faculty members who have been the "tools" of special interests.

The case is made. Let the political pot boil and it will be an easy matter to drag several university faculty members over the coals.

HEAR PRESIDENT BURTON

A CONVOCATION to be addressed by President Burton, of the University of Minnesota, and meriting reception from a packed armory, will open the all-university Religious conference this afternoon.

Dr. Burton brings to Wisconsin students a message which no one should fail to hear. His type of forceful presentation, logic, and clear, absorbing style has held the interest and admiration of many audiences.

Advance indications point out that the conference will be more successful than any ever listed in Wisconsin annals. In introducing it, the President will point out the definite, but too often neglected, relation between religion and university life. His recent successes at Minnesota and Smith college have been the subject of favorable comment from the press and have placed him much in demand as a speaker.

Students can profit greatly from attending the convocation this afternoon. The speaker is the kind of man who will make a lasting impression, the kind of impression that will make every one of his hearers want to attend all subsequent sessions of the conference.

'VETERANS OF WAR' CLASH WITH LEGION

Head of Rival Organization of Soldiers for Tax on Incomes

WASHINGTON — Another row occurred today at hearings before the House and Ways and Means committee on soldier relief measures. Edward H. Hale, representing Veterans of Foreign Wars told the committee that statements made yesterday by Franklin D'Olier commander of the American Legion were "erroneous and should be contradicted."

A storm of protest resulted, but Chairman Fordney restored quiet by warning that unless order could be maintained "we will quit these hearings." Rep. Treadway said the committee should not permit criticism of the American Legion adding that "evident rivalry exists between various associations."

"Criticism must be permitted if we get anywhere" interjected Representative Garner.

Hale urged passage of a bill authorizing relief to discharged men at the rate of $30 a month instead of $50 with an additional grant of $100 to those who served overseas. He also favored passage of the Morgan bill which would give service men the option of selecting home-steads.

"How could the money be raised for this bonus?" asked Rep. Kitchin. "There is a public debt of twenty six billion dollars now."

"Our plan" said Hale, "would be to tax all incomes above $50,000 at the rate of 2 per cent, graduating that until seven per cent would be charged on incomes over $1,000,000. This would provide $200,000,000, according to the Internal Revenue Bureau."

"Some of the alleged economies practiced by this congress are a crime" the witness said, whereupon Mr. Kitchin remarked that "The economies of this Republican congress surely is a crime."

Hale said "lip appreciation and nothing more" had been extended to discharged soldiers.

"These men" he declared, "have been turned back to civilian life with sixty pieces of silver and they have been brought face to face with the ingratitude of the republic."

"The only wonder is that they have stood so long the apathetic attitude of congress."

Assertion by the witness that many former service men were without work brought from Representative Green, Republican, Iowa, the statement that many farms in the middle west could not be cultivated because of the shortage of labor.

Hale replied that the most unemployment would be found in cities, explaining that after army life men did not want to return to farms. The Veterans Association plan he added, would provide both financial relief and provide for taking home-steads.

This is about one-fifteenth of the amount required to pay the bonuses and thousands of drafts will be sent to the adjutant general this afternoon to be sent to the soldier boys.

"I've worked in this office a long time, but that is the most money I have ever seen in one little slip of paper," said William Comeford, of the secretary of state's office.

CHEMISTS SOLVE ORANGE MIRACLE

Can you turn an orange inside out without breaking the skin? According to Einstein's theory it can be done, said the chemical engineers at a meeting of their society in the Chemical Engineering auditorium.

A theory which only 12 men in the world understand, and which if substantiated may revolutionize all science, is Einstein's theory of space, time and gravitation which was the subject of a paper by Harvey R. Broker, and the topic of discussion by the members of the society.

The solution of the orange problem lies in the use of the fourth dimension—that baffling intangible riddle which is causing brainstorms in the minds of physicians all over the world, and which is the outgrowth of Einstein's theory.

Some of the questions which grew out of the discussion were these: Does ether really exist? Does ether travel with the earth or does the earth go through it? Does light have mass and weight?

John Gerhauser read a paper on wood pulp processes. He discussed the sulphite, the sulphate, and the caustic soda methods of making wood pulp.

Students Must Have Clinic Excuse and Special Permission to Write

The examination schedule for the make up of incompletes incurred by students unable to take the regular semester examinations, has been issued from the office of Prof. M. H. Haertel, secretary of the faculty.

Due to a misunderstanding on the part of many students as to the method of applying for permission to take these examinations, the time limit for applications has been extended to 5 o'clock Friday afternoon. Students wishing to take the make-ups must apply to the clinic for excuses and to Professor Haertel for permission to take the examinations.

Any announcements which have been made as to the time and place of the examinations should be disregarded unless they conform to the schedule. Instructors having less than five students in any one course will be permitted to give the examinations at a time convenient to all.

Announcement of the rooms will be made by a special bulletin which will be posted in the rotunda of

JANESVILLE IS CRITICISED

J. A. Craig of Tractor Company Says Citizens Do Not Appreciate Expansion Opportunity

JANESVILLE—J. A. Craig, president of the Samson Tractor company in issuing the order yesterday afternoon in laying off more than 1,000 men said:

Present housing conditions are such here in Janesville that it is absolutely impossible to bring more families to the city.

"We have reached such a congested condition that there is only one thing to do, wait until the town can catch up with the rapidly expanding population.

"It is also apparent from the way the citizens have supported the plan for raising funds for a new hotel that it is either beyond their reach or they do not feel the necessity of backing such a project. Some way will have to be provided for the erection of a new hotel, which is just as essential as the building of homes.

"At present there does not seem to be a united, sincere effort on the part of the citizens to provide ways and means to carry forward such a program as will be necessary if Janesville rises to the opportunity of making a home for a large industry."

M. D. AYERS HEADS CATTLE BREEDERS

Prof. B. H. Hibbard Elected Secretary; L. J. Cole is Speaker

M. D. Ayers, Burlington, and Prof. B. H. Hibbard were re-elected president and secretary-treasurer of the Wisconsin Brown Swiss Cattle Breeders' association at the convention held yesterday.

Among the prominent breeders who attended were: Ira Indman, Beloit; Fred Reuter, Lone Rock; Louis Miller, Mazomanie; Jacob Voegeli, Monticello, and John Ingold and N. C. Smith, Monroe.

Prof. L. J. Cole of the department of experimental breeding, who addressed the convention on The Advantages and Dangers of Inbreeding, pointed out that, although modern study of heredity and eugenics had given an insight into the problems of inbreeding, experts were not yet in a position to do much to help the breeder. He declared inbreeding, although understood in simple cases, was still essentially a gamble and that the safest ground for the cattle man to take was not to inbreed too closely.

Madison Workers Are Not Affected

Few, if any Madison men have returned home because of the tieup of building operations at the plant of the Samson Tractor company at Spring Brook, near Janesville, when 1,000 men were laid off Monday afternoon, according to officials of the building trades. Men who were working on the tractor plant have gone to work for other Janesville contractors, or have gone to Kenosha, Beloit and Racine, they said. The carpenters were receiving from 70 to 90 cents an hour at Janesville. The other cities are paying as much or more, according to the building trades men.

The student senate last night ratified the articles of incorporation of the new Wisconsin Octopus. At the same time the senate revoked the charter previously granted to Maurice E. Field and Lowell J. Ragatz.

The new organization which is incorporated under the statutes of the state of Wisconsin, is non-stock corporation in which "no dividends or pecuniary profits shall be declared to the members thereof." Organization of the new magazine is similar to that of the Harvard Lampoon and the Pennsylvania Punch Bowl. There is a board of directors, six holding office for two years and three serving for one year. This board will function as a board of editors. The present board is composed of Bertram G. Zilmer, Louis Pradt, Dorcas Hall, Marion Roth, Laurence Meyers, Horace Carver, and Walter O'Meara. There are two vacancies that will be filled by competition.

Robert T. Herz is the new managing editor; Fred Sperry, editor; Marie Bodden, associate editor; John McPherrin, business manager; Alphonse Mueller, advertising manager; Lela Hendricks, circulation manager; Rodney Welsh, publicity manager; and Joseph Chamberlain, business assistant.

Easter Monday, April 5, was the date set by the senate for freshmen to begin wearing their green caps. Any freshman not wearing a green cap on that day will be guilty of violation of a university tradition.

A resolution was passed requiring that any group of students wishing to form an organization on the campus must present to the senate a petition for recognition before holding a formal meeting, and providing that if provisional recognition is granted, such organization shall be on probation for four months. This ruling will be rigidly enforced in order that organizations with which the student body is not in sympathy or which are objectionable may not be permitted to operate on the campus.

The Square club, a Masonic social organization, was provisionally recognized by the senate.

What the College Editors Say

Style and Our Necks

Someone has risen to remark that next summer will usher in the stiff collar again. If he speaks with authority the comfort of the soft collar must give way to the fashion, for if they become the style no amount of common sense will keep us from wearing them.

But it seems that the style makers would use a little caution if they would keep us from rebelling. Pointed shoes and tight trousers are insignificant grievances when compared with the linen collar or its forefather, the high waisted rubber collar.

Five years of freedom has not made us forget a few of the torments which we associate with the stiff collar. The first memory brings us back in front of the dresser with our right hand holding the long end of a Zebra necktie. The long end is too short for a good knot, however, and we are tugging for more length. But the short end does not get any shorter. The stiff collar merely crumples and twists. Eventually, if we can continue looking straight into the mirror without seeing double, we compute a knot a la shoe string style.

If the day is hot our trouble is only begun. The stiff collar begins to melt and shrink at the same time. It is no longer a collar but a dishrag and displaying all its beauties. About this time of the

LABOR SURVEY TO GIVE STUDY OF 30 PLANTS

Economics Department Makes Report on Industry Facts

A study of industrial government experiments tried in various American factories as they appeared in investigations in industrial plants made last summer by a joint commission, composed of members of the economics department of the university and of several eastern schools, is being prepared by the department of economics under the direction of Prof. John R. Commons.

About 30 establishments were visited by the commission and various experiments in industrial government were studied intensively, with a view to bringing to the Wisconsin manufacturers who financed the investigations the ideas and practices that are successfully being carried on in the east and elsewhere.

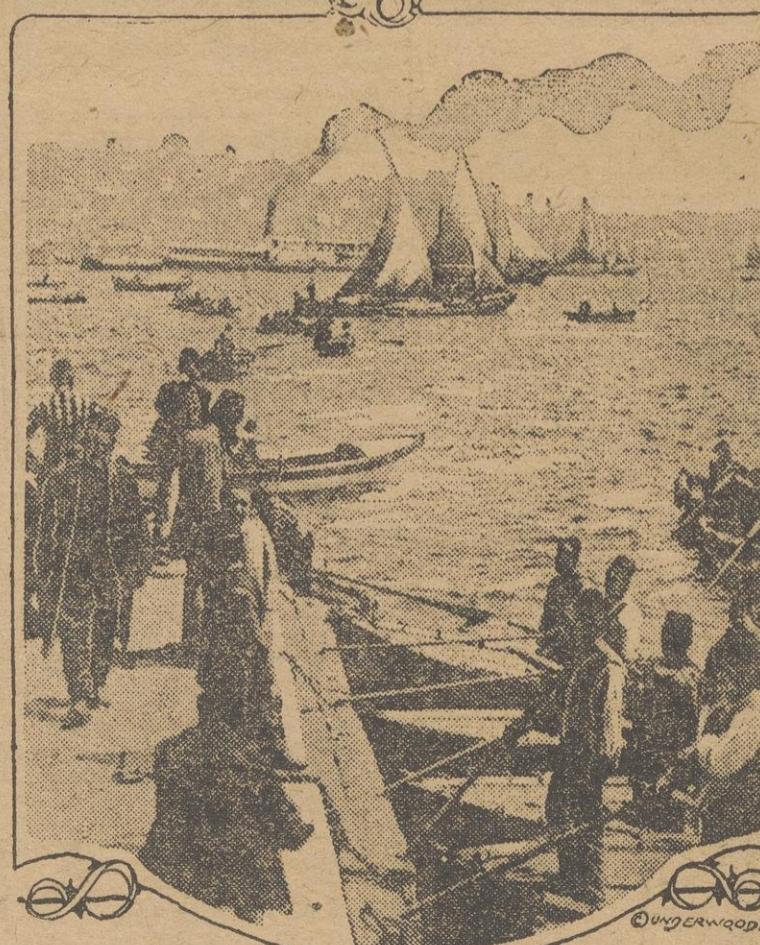

The commission included Prof. John R. Commons, expert in industrial problems, A. P. Haake, instructor, O. F. Carpenter and Malcolm Sharp, assistants in the economics department, Mrs. Jennie McMullin Turner, of the Wisconsin legislative reference library and member of the minimum wage bureau, Miss Ethel B. Dietrich, instructor in economics at Mt. Holyoke college, Miss Jean Davis, instructor at Albert college, Atlanta, Ga., and John A. Commons, senior.

Each member of the commission, in preparation for the investigation, studied all available material on industrial government and specialized on a different phase of capitalism, unionism, or individualism.

If it must come let's make it as low as last semester's grades and line the inside with ball bearings.—Daily Kansan.

GOLDEN HORN IS LOST TO TURKEY

Typical view of Constantinople and the golden horn.

Although the allies have agreed to allow Turkey to retain possession and control of the city of Constantinople, the Golden Horn, a bay of the Bosphorus, with the Dardanelles, has been taken from Turkey and internationalized. The photo shows the types of freighters, liners, smacks and smaller craft in the bay.

COMING TOMORROW

OWEN MOORE in "PICCADILLY JIM"

WRITE 600 MILES OF EXAMINATIONS

"g's." K. P. duty is detailed to the "p's," and "flunks" are shot at sunrise.

Enough blue books were mutilated in one way or another during those two exam weeks to form a bridge across Lake Mendota from the boat house to Maple Bluff.

In freshman English alone the line of blue receptacles for bluffing would extend from the august portals of learning at the top of the hill of knowledge to the bank on State street, where it turns in at the door and stands patiently at the window to draw out its money.

The engineers' books would reach from the Engineering building to within just a few yards of Morgan's. But perhaps a space a fraction of an inch wide could be left between each one so that it could extend inside and up to the counter.

The 4,407 books written in the economics department would reach from the P. E. P. building to the "libe" and nearly twice around the reading room.

Will some dauntless wielder of figures volunteer to compute the size of the river of tears (and perspiration) resulting from the blue book and its associations?
