PLANS FOR HIGH SCHOOL BASKET MEET COMPLETED

Four Committee Chairmen Chosen By Spooner to Help Direct Tournament

Preliminary plans for the tenth annual high school basketball tournament were completed yesterday with the announcement of committee chairmen by Dwight Spooner '25, student chairman of the meet.

Committee chairmen chosen by Spooner are:

Programs, Frank Lathers '26; publicity, Robert Pease '28; arrangements, Charles Nelson '25; banquet, Gordon Walker '25; reception, Steven Polaski '26.

The tournament will be held from March 25 to March 28 on the varsity court of the men's gymnasium. The winners of the 16 sectional tournaments now being held throughout the state with 128 high schools participating, will take part here.

A committee of three consisting of Coach Walter E. Meanwell, Athletic Director George Little, and Byron Barwig '25 will act as an advisory body. Frank Nickerson will take charge of the tournament finances. Although the meet is being directed by the Wisconsin Inter-scholastic Athletic association, Dwight Spooner will have personal charge.

Four days have been allotted to the meet this year instead of the usual three in order that the teams may have more rest between games.

Under the new schedule 27 games will be played instead of 22 as formerly. The new arrangement, while adding five games, does not eliminate any team from state tournament play until it has been defeated twice.

Working to Select Mrs. H. Glicksman Award Candidates

Dean Louise Nardin and Miss Ruth Garwood are now working to select a senior woman who is to be awarded the Mrs. H. Glicksman Memorial prize of $50.

This prize is the annual income from a fund established by friends of the late Mrs. H. Glicksman, and is given to perpetuate her memory and influence. It is awarded annually to the woman in the senior class distinguished for intellectual attainments, womanhood, and university service.

In 1923 Mildred Martha Downie was awarded the $50. The 1924 winner of the prize was Lois Jacobs of Cleveland, Ohio. The committee will announce its choice in May.

CLASS '28 PLANS LATHROP DANCE

Kinhead Heads Committee in Charge of Freshman Affair For March 21

As a result of the freshman mixer idea which recently proved so successful, a dance committee headed by Eugene Kinhead '28 has made plans for a regular freshman dance, which will be held Saturday evening, March 21, in Lathrop gymnasium.

This dance is not to be confused with the mixers, as it will last through the course of the evening and is a couple dance, with an admission of $1.50. Joe Duren's orchestra has been secured by the committee.

"Judging from the attendance at our mixers," said Kinhead yesterday, "the class should be unusually well represented at this bigger and more important dance. Through the means of the mixers we have tested the spirit of the class, and now that we have found it so satisfactory we have undertaken a larger social affair."

Assembly Passes Resolution Inviting Mitchell to Talk

Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, recently demoted to colonel by the naval department, was invited yesterday to speak before the state legislature Tuesday, following the illustrated lecture he will give Monday night in Music hall under the auspices of the Forensic board.

The resolution embodying the invitation includes a confirmation of a previous resolution commending the officer's fight for an adequate air defense.

General Mitchell is being brought to Madison by the Forensic board. While the subject announced is "The War Department and National Defense," the brigadier general will deal primarily with his dispute with the war department, it is understood.

UNIVERSITY CLUB OPENS FORMALLY

Musical Numbers and Dancing to Entertain 250 at Banquet Tonight

The completion of the new $134,000 addition to the University club will be celebrated with a formal dinner at 7 o'clock tonight in the club dining rooms. It is expected that more than 250 will be present at the event.

During the dinner there will be musical numbers and dancing. Following the meal William Ross, grad, and Katherine Reid '26, will present their act, "Moonlight Madness," and Pauline Mendenhall '28 will offer a specialty dancing number. The guests will then inspect the building. Those in charge of the entertainment are planning dancing, cards, and radio for the remainder of the evening.

The clubhouse, with its new addition, now contains 90 rooms for members and guests, a large dining room, five smaller dining rooms, a billiard hall, two reading rooms, a ladies' parlor, and several offices. The club has been financed by its 450 members, which include faculty members, alumni and graduate students. The club was launched in 1907 by President Van Hise and has so increased that at the present time it does a business of approximately $100,000 a year.

RED GAUNTLET GIVES PARTY FOR '27 TODAY

Red Gauntlet's first appearance before the public under the auspices of the class of 1927 will be made this afternoon at a St. Patrick's party in the Lathrop hall concert room. A matinee dance from 3 to 5 o'clock, bridge, and special features make up the program. The admission is 35 cents, and tickets will be sold on the hill and at the door.

BORTNICKER TO SPEAK TO JUNIOR HADASSAH

E. N. Bortnick '25 of Palestine will describe phases of Palestinian life at a meeting of the Junior Hadassah to be held at the Hillel foundation at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The program will include also a Spanish dance, "Carmen," taken from the opera Carmen, by Merle M. Moses '28, accompanied by Marjorie Rachlin '28 at the piano.

Friday the Thirteenth Arrives With Exams and Initiations in Its Wake

Three days ago, young swains, imbued with the spirit of spring, rushed to the telephone and made dates for the week-end, thinking about the stroll along the drive in the warm spring breezes; co-eds gladly accepted, in turn thinking of the new printed silk dresses they bought the day before. And Friday, the thirteenth, came along with snow, galoshes, sprained ankles due to slippery walks, and provocation.

What could be more appropriate than to have this fateful day fall in the first week of the semester

Glee Club Sings for Capacity Audience in Spite of Blizzard

By K. E. C.

Embodying Wisconsin spirit in song a championship Glee club last night sang its way into the hearts of an audience which filled Music hall almost to capacity despite the snow storm. The performance of the club left nothing to be desired. There is volume, there is flexibility, there is precision of swing and tone, there is clear enunciation, there is emotion, everything, it seems that one looks for in a glee club.

From the majestic strains of "Varsity" to the final melodious notes of "The Bells of St. Mary's" the club held the never-lagging interest of its audience. The singers were called back for three encores, and still part of the audience remained seated at the end of the concert.

Of all the numbers which the club sang we found the "Dance of the Gnomes" by McDowell the most delightful. It is a light, fairy-like selection which the club interprets well. Of the heavier numbers "Goin' Home" by Dvorak-Fischer is the most difficult and moving.

All of the work of the club is characterized by a swing that is stirring. The voices of the club blend almost perfectly and seem well fitted to each other. At times one gets the sensation of listening to an organ.

Harry Sisson '26 played four violin selections in which he demonstrated unusual ability. His tone is clear, and his technique is well developed. In "Gavotte Rococo" by Haesche his bow trips lightly over the strings leaving pleasant sounds in the ear of the hearer. In "Adoration" by Borowski he displays power and versatility.

Eugene Leonardson '26 of the club sang two solos. He has rich baritone voice which carries well. In "Tally Ho" by Leoni he demonstrated skill in technique and a power to emote.

To Robert E. Nethercut mention is due for his work as accompanist and in his solo "Sextet from Lucia" by Donizetti played by the left hand.

Professor E. Earle Swinney of the Music school conducted the club and is largely responsible for its excellent performance.

Activities, Subject of Talk By Birge Tomorrow at Y. M.

President Birge will speak on the subject, "Activities—Outside and Inside," in the parlors of the university Y. M. C. A., from 4 to 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Y. M. C. A. office has sent letters to the university students urging their attendance at these meetings which are advertised as "means of dealing a death blow to those who are responsible for the negative advertising in regard to the university."

Other speakers in the series, which began with an address by Dean F. Louise Nardin last Sunday afternoon, are Athletic Director George Little, who will speak March 22, and Henry Emerson Fosdick, who will address the group March 29.

DATE FOR CONDITION EXAMS SET APRIL 18

Examinations for the removal of conditions will be given April 18, is the report from the office of C. A. Smith, secretary of the faculty. Schedules will be posted on the bulletin boards later giving necessary information on the time and place of writing. Registration for any condition examination must be made by April 11.

JOHN W. LOGAN, GRAD, IS SHOT IN GREECE

John W. Logan '23 was badly wounded when he was shot by a bandit near Argita, Greece, Wednesday.

Logan, who is from Georgia, is attending the American School of Archeology at Athens. He holds the Markham traveling fellowship to that school from the university.

Kenneth Scott, Watertown, Conn., a fellow in the College of Letters and Science, is an intimate friend of Logan, and Prof. A. G. Laird and other members of the classics department know him well.

15 PER CENT SET AS CO-OP REBATE

Students May Call For Their Discounts Any Time After Monday

Rebates from the Co-op again will be 15 per cent this year, as they have been for the past three years, it was decided at a board of directors' meeting held yesterday. Previous to three years ago the rebate was 20 per cent.

Students may begin calling for these rebates any time after Monday. The amounts are figured on the basis of the purchase of goods from the store during the period from January 1, 1924, to December 31, 1924. The rebates being issued at this time may be redeemed until December 31 of this year.

According to E. J. Grady, manager of the Co-op, the largest single rebate that will be paid this year will be $90. In the last three years the amount of rebates has amounted to more than $100,000. At the present time 29,436 tickets have been sold to students, though many of these now are not being used. Purchases made since January 1 this year will count toward next year's rebate. The rebate is used by applying it on purchases. No cash is given for the rebate.

MARCH 15 IS DEADLINE FOR Y. M. C. A. ELECTION

Only members of the Y. M. C. A. on March 15 will be eligible to vote for the spring elections, Clifford Franseen '25, president of the university association, said yesterday. Election of officers will be held just before the spring recess, but the definite date has not been set as yet, it was announced.

UNIVERSITY BUDGET'S FATE TO COMMITTEE

The fate of the university's budget requests is now in the hands of the finance committee. No report from the committee is expected for several weeks. Three members have declared themselves opposed to giving any considerable increase in finances for building purposes.

Big Ten Honor Basketball Team

The Daily Cardinal All-Conference basketball selections, picked by Ken Butler, sports editor, will appear in tomorrow's Cardinal. Three teams will be picked. Watch for it.

BUDGET REDUCES EXPENSE OF BALL CLAIMS DIRECTOR

Standard of Military Dance Will Not Be Lowered, Says Tyler

"Every effort is being made to make the thirteenth annual Military ball as democratic as possible this year without any departure from the quality which has characterized the affair in the past," George A. Tyler '26, director of the budget for the military ball staff, said yesterday.

The entire budget, covering the expenses of all the committees, has been made out, according to Tyler. All expenditures are to be carefully checked to eliminate any danger of financial failure of the ball. A larger margin than last year is being figured in the budget, he said.

"All features of the ball are to be of the highest standard, but through special arrangements in purchasing and a revised budget we expect to put the ball within the reach of all who want to go," Tyler stated.

Other members of the budget committee are Russell J. Fosbinder '25 and Robert E. MacArthur '27.

BADGER TRACK MEN FAIL IN CONFERENCE PRELIMINARY HEATS

Kennedy in 440 Final; Krieger in Pole Vault
Contest

By GEORGE DENNIS
EVANSTON, Ill., March 14.—
(Special to the Daily Cardinal).—
The failure of Wisconsin to qualify as expected in the preliminaries of the 440, 880, and pole vault greatly reduced its chances for victory.

In the three heats of the quarter mile, Kennedy was the only Badger to place, getting a second to Coulter of Iowa in the first heat. Hil-berts, Plueck, and Hill failed to place. This disadvantage, however, is offset by the fact that they will be fresh for the mile relay.

Captain Valley, Carter, and Bergstresser failed to come through in the 880 preliminaries, so Valley and Bergstresser will concentrate on the mile in the finals today.
Michigan boosted its stock by placing both Reinke and Friedburg for the 880 final.

Krieger Qualifies Krieger was the only Badger to qualify in the pole vault for one of the six finalists in the event.
Illinois doped to be one of the strongest entries, failed to show any great strength, as the Illini only placed one man in the 440 and one in the 880. Brownell, premier Illinois vaulter, was at last minute declared ineligible for certain. This setback will weaken Illinois' prospects for victory.

Wisconsin alumni in Chicago are backing the team to the limit, and will be 100 per cent strong at the finals tonight.

Summaries of the preliminaries are:

440-yard dash—Coulter and Roberts (Iowa), Kennedy (W), Cole
(NW), Shock (ILL), McFarlane (Chi).

880-yard dash—Martin (NW), Cusack (Chi), Reinke and Friedberg (Mich), Ponser (Ill), Arnold (Ohio).

Pole vault—Brooker (Mich),
Bouscher (NW), Krieger (W). No other names were given.

No times were given out, preliminaries in hurdles, dash and high jump will be this afternoon.

TO AWARD NUMERALS IN TRACK MEET TODAY

While the Wisconsin varsity athletes compete in the annual Big Ten Conference Track and Field meet that will be held in Patten gymnasium, Evanston, Ill., tonight, track and field men who remain home will perform in the gymnasium annex this afternoon at 4 o'clock. College insignia will be awarded to all athletes who win the required amount of points.

Three Speeders Fined; Two Pay For No Lights

Fines of $10 and costs were imposed upon B. R. Wayne, I. N. Olson and J. D. Ainsworth when they pleaded guilty in superior court Thursday to charges of speeding. Fred Palmer and A. Eighmy were fined $5 and costs each for violating the parking light ordinance.

GYM TEAM MEETS PURDUE TONIGHT IN LAST HOME MATCH

Meeting Purdue in the last home meet of the year at 7:30 o'clock tonight on the third floor of the gymnasium, the gymnastics and fencing squads hope to end the season with a victory. The contest tonight will be the only home meet for a Badger team this weekend, the wrestling, swimming, and basketball squads are contesting away.

Capt. "Huck" Schmidt, all-around performer; George Kress, side-horse man, and Earl Hicks,
who is best on the flying rings, enter their last intercollegiate dual meet tonight, and they will try hard in this final exhibition.

These three men have spent many hours with the apparatus trying to attain perfection and skill, and together with Huxley, Hiemke, and Snively have formed a well-balanced team this year.

Purdue has a strong gymnastic and fencing team, but the Badgers believe that Purdue can be beaten. The Wisconsin team will have the advantage of working with bars and rings on which they have spent many hours of practice.

PRINCETON CERTAIN OF EASTERN CAGE TITLE

Princeton can not get worse than a tie for first place in the eastern intercollegiate basketball race.
Dartmouth, tied with Princeton a week ago, dropped games at Pennsylvania and Cornell and now has only a remote chance to tie the Tigers. Dartmouth, Columbia and Pennsylvania will fight it out for second place. Cornell, last year's champion, has no chance, and Yale is hopelessly outclassed. Princeton has not lost a league game yet and boasts of an early season victory over Ohio State, the new champions of the Big Ten conference.

FIVE BADGER COACHES REFEREE H. S. TOURNEY

Five coaches from Wisconsin are busy this week-end officiating at high school basketball tournaments.
Guy Lowman is at Etu Claire, A.
L. Masley at Monroe, George Berg at La Crosse, Guy Sundt at River Falls, George Levis at Stevens Point, and Irving Gerber at Platteville.

blocks around the university, will open the season with basketball play on Monday night. Track and free throwing will follow basketball.

Independent League Games
The final elimination tournament in the Independent league will open Monday night. Eight of the teams mine the championship. These eight will be the leading teams from the two divisions that first composed the league.

Individual Averages in Greek Bowling

POSTPONED SKI RACE TO BE THIS AFTERNOON

The oft-postponed ski race will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon and the contestants will meet at the pump house at the foot of Park street for the start. Anyone is eligible to compete, according to George Martin. The race will be followed by a two-mile course on the campus, but none of the contestants will know the exact route.
Red paper will be scattered to designate the trail. A pair of hickory skis will be awarded to the winner, and snow shoes to the second person to finish. The third place winner will receive a ski harness.

Sen. Couzens Assessed $10,000,000 By Mellon

WASHINGTON—The treasurer has prepared for delivery to Sen. Couzens of Michigan tomorrow a notice of an arbitrary assessment on profit alleged to have been made by him in the sale of his minority holdings of stock in the Ford Motor Co. in 1919.

While the computation of the assessment is practically complete, it is the intention of the treasury to withhold it for one day to give the Michigan senator, who is chairman of the special committee investigating the internal revenue bureau an opportunity to sign a waiver of the statute of limitations if he desires.

The treasury sent to the senator,
Monday, a copy of a memorandum

MATMEN BATTLE OHIO TODAY FOR BIG TEN POSITION

Two Badgers on Injured List; Wisconsin Strong in Heavy Class

Fighting for second place in the conference race with Ohio, the Wisconsin wrestling team will meet the Buckeyes this afternoon at Columbus.

The meet will be a hard contested one, and no doubt will be close.
The Buckeyes are exceptionally strong in the lighter weights, while the Cardinal team is strong in the heavy half of class.

Badgers Handicapped

Wisconsin will be handicapped by injuries due to Haas, 125-pound man. He has a sore shoulder, and Bundy had to go to Columbus as a substitute. Splees, 175 grappler, has a bruised shoulder and it will probably hinder him in his bouts today.

Coach Hitchcock said yesterday that if he can win one decision in the lightweight class, the team no doubt will come through with a victory.

The Lineup

The lineup of the Wisconsin mat-men:

Elmer, 115-pounds; Bundy, 125-pounds; O'Laughlin, 135-pounds;
Captain Zodtner, 145-pounds; Chada, 158-pounds; Splees, 175-pounds;
and Spiek, heavyweight.

from a private source outside of the treasury, purporting to show that profits he had made on the sale of the stock to Henry Ford has been under-assessed and that between $10-000,000, and $11,000,000 still was due the treasury.

The Purple accumulated a score of 35 counters for first, while Michigan amassed 16 for third and Minnesota came fourth with an accumulation of 14 points.

The meet was exceptionally fast, four new records were made and one was tied. Outstanding was a new conference record by the Badger 160-yard relay quartet. ADVERTISE IN THE CARDINAL

Cage Jottings

"BEAT THE BUCKEYES" is what the Wisconsin team wants to do tonight. A victory over the new champions will be a happy climax for a disastrous season. The team is set to fight the fight of its life, and will strive to eke a victory from the Ohio team.

Reports from the United Press last night put two Buckeyes on the U. P. first all-conference team. They are Miner, forward, and Cunningham, center. These two men form a powerful scoring combination, and if they can be stopped, the Cardinal stands a fair chance of coming out ahead.

Brooks continues to shine at the center position. He has shown a continued improvement, and in the game with Purdue he obtained a quartet of two-point counters. His ability to get the ball off on the tossup has helped the Badger offense materially. He should be a big cog in tonight's contest.

The Ohio championship is the first one the Scarlet and Gray have won in the cage game since their admittance to the conference in 1913. Twice the Bucks have made strong bids for the title, but from 1916 to 1924 the team sank to a low ebb in the big winter game. Last year, with Olson as coach, they came back again and finished well up in the race.

Two Big Ten captains for next year have been elected already. Van Deusen, sophomore guard, has been voted to lead the Hawkeyes in their next winter's campaign. At Michigan, Doyle, two year veteran back guard, will pilot the Wolverines through their season.

The total championships in Big Ten basketball including the 1925 one are: Wisconsin 9, Chicago 6, Purdue 4, Minnesota 4, Illinois 3, Iowa 1, Michigan 1, Ohio State 1, Indiana 0, and Northwestern 0.

So, after all, Wisconsin has not fared badly in basketball at all. This seemed to be its off year, but the fight of the team and its valiant efforts have kept it popular.

For the last time this year, the call of basketball with a fight slogan is tonight. It is "BEAT THE BUCKEYES."

Simon Farness Goes To County Board Convention

Simon Farness, chairman of the Dane county board of supervisors, will represent this county at the annual convention of the Wisconsin County Boards' association at Kenosha March 17, 18 and 19. John T. Donaghey and Frank A. Cannon of Madison will be on the program.

BADGERS, BUCKEYES DROP CURTAIN ON CAGE YEAR TONIGHT

The Badgers and the Buckeyes complete their 1925 basketball season at Columbus tonight when the two teams clash. There is nothing at stake for either team, Ohio having the Big Ten title cinched. There will be a real battle, however, for Ohio is anxious to finish up the season with only one game lost, while the luckless Badgers, in the best condition of the season, are battling to raise their percentage.

On tonight's game it is likely that "Johnny" Miner, of the Ohio quintet, will raise his scoring over that of Logan of Indiana to lead the conference in individual basket shooting.

Captain Cameron, Miner, Cunningham, Saiffer, and Shaw, the Ohio regulars will probably start for Ohio, while Coach Meanwell will probably use Merkel, Barnum, Brooks, Barwig and Diebold.

Coach Harold Olsen, Buckeye mentor, is a former player under Dr. Meanwell, and is a former Rice Lake, Wisconsin, man.

TO DECIDE FIGHT TITLES MARCH 28

Boxers May Sign Up With Coach Moore Until Next Wednesday

Who will retain his crown and who will be relieved of a championship title, will be two queries ultimately settled in the all-university boxing tournament which will be held March 28 at 2:00 o'clock in the varsity basketball arena.

Wednesday will be the last opportunity for boxers to sign with Coach Ray Moore signifying their desire to compete in the finals of the tournament. Entries must be willing to meet opponents up to 10 pounds over their own weight if they are so matched.

A regulation ring will be imported to the gymnasium for the fights. The gloves to be used by the men will weigh eight ounces. During the intermissions between the rounds, the spectators may watch the wrestling matches which will be held at the same time in another section of the gymnasium.

Coach Moore has announced that Coaches Little and Sundt will be used to judge the bout, Coach Stenauer to do the refereeing, and Coach Vail to keep time.

FROSH CAGEMEN WORK OUT DAILY

1928 Men Drill on Meanwell System; Several Likely Players

While the varsity cage team is away the freshman cagers are being sent through daily workouts under the direction of Spooner, former star on Meanwell's championship team of last season.

The first year men are being carefully coached in the fundamentals of the Meanwell system. With the instruction given them this year, they will have a good foundation for varsity competition next season. Passing, pivoting, and floor-work is being drilled on this week. The freshmen have shown real ability and several likely candidates for the varsity already appear among them.

Hotheliss, Moutcher, and Barr are three of the best guards on the squad. With the loss of both Diebold and Barwig from this year's varsity, the two guard positions will have to be filled from the present freshman squad and the varsity reserve.

Eye is a tall, fast center, who is showing good form at the position. Hilliard is fast, and a good shot and is rapidly developing into a real center. Nelson, Sanders, and Behr are forming good combinations at the two forward positions. Several of these men are working under Coach Meanwell for the rest of the season.

FOOTBALL PRACTICE FOR THIS AFTERNOON

Football practice will be under the supervision of Coaches Sundt and Uteritz in the annex at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. Coach Little is attending the conference meet at Chicago. The coaches want 150 men out for practice. Men should report in old clothes. For the present work on fundamentals will be taught, and later when the weather warms up, and the field gets in shape, outdoor work will be held and uniforms will be issued.

HARRISON, GUARD, IS IOWA 1928 CAGE HEAD

IOWA CITY, Ia.—Lawrence Harrison, guard, has been elected captain of the University of Iowa freshman basketball team. He is a graduate of the University high school of Iowa City.

Vail Expects Lake to Open in April; No Regulars Yet

While all of the other big crews in the country are entering their period of training for the big spring regatta at Poughkeepsie, now, the Badger rowers under Coach "Dad" Vail are still on the machines in the annex, where they have been rowing every night since the beginning of the semester.

"Dad" does not expect the lake to open up until the middle of April, but as soon as the ice clears the Cardinal boys will fill four shells and speed up and down the course by the side of the coaching launch. It will not be until the varsity candidates are on the lake that the regular crew will be selected, and then only temporarily.

Badgers Handicapped
"Rowing at Wisconsin is struggling along under a great handicap," said Coach Vail yesterday. "Other universities with crews more favorably situated have been rowing on the water all year, and just at the time when we take the water gradually, working easily to get the fine points of the game, at that same time the other crews, who will compete with us at Poughkeepsie, will enter a strenuous period of training, already having the fine points tucked under their belts by a whole winter of actual practice. Rowing here can never hope to reach the heights and attain the emphasis that it has at schools where there is a body of water always open."

When the ice does finally melt, there will be more than one reason why the oarsmen cannot train with a bang. As "Dad" says, they must pick up the fine points of the game by careful, slow, methodical work. If they were to be plunged immediately into hard training, they could never develop their rowing skill, even though they might condition themselves sooner. And "Dad" feels that he cannot work the men hard at first because of their health. "If, as soon as the lake opens, I were to make the boys give all their strength to the oar, it would mean the physical ruin of many of them. There is more strain in rowing than in any other sport," is the way he expresses it.

Vail Compares
In comparing crew work here at Wisconsin with the other universities, "Dad" has a unique analogy. "It's just as though you and I were to have a race, and after you had gone fifty miles, then I started. That is just the handicap the Wisconsin crew is working under; we have to do all that the other crews do in the matter of training, and do it in less than half the time."

THE PROSPECT OF A MAJOR CHAMPIONSHIP

Today Wisconsin's track team is fighting for every available point in the conference indoor meet in Patten gym at Northwestern in an effort to win the conference indoor championship.

A victory will mean everything to this university. It will not only be the first major championship of the year, but it will be the first major sport to have what might be called even a successful season, from the standpoint of the percentage column. It will go a long way toward quieting irascible alumni and pool hall fixtures who consider athletics to be the chief function of an institution of learning. It will give the track team added prestige for its trip to California in April, and it will be a glorious way of ushering in the new era in Wisconsin athletics that was heralded by the coming of Director George Little.

The hopes and interests of the campus are fixed on Patten gym today.

AN OUNCE OF GOLD

A letter sent out on Wednesday to all members of the faculty by Prof. Pitman Potter, as an appeal for contributions to the student friendship fund, contains the following sentence:

"International organization must constitute the only effective path toward peace and international cooperation, but it is impossible that international organization should produce its best results unless it is supported and informed by a spirit of human brotherhood and international friendliness."

Professor Potter in these few words picked the kernel right out of the nut. The relief work that has been done through the student friendship fund, and all the self help bureaus, kitchens, student homes, etc., which are now being maintained, are after all only a shell. They represent a rather flimsy structure that doubtless has enabled some thousands of fine young men and women in Europe to receive an education since the war, but in themselves they have very little to contribute toward straightening out the chaos that confronts the world in the advent of another great struggle such as that of 1914-1918. They cannot in themselves do much to stabilize economic conditions; they can hardly overthrow autocracy or determine the foreign policy in any nation.

It is the spirit behind the movement that counts.

Money cheerfully given here and in other fortunate countries, and gratefully received in those nations which have suffered most as a result of the war, is the medium through which international sympathy and good will are established. The student friendship fund is based on the supposition that the youth of the world today wants a permanent universal peace. The greatest task of the fund, therefore, is to spread this doctrine, and to put the students of all nations into such a harmony of feeling that they will never allow any strife to upset their new brotherhood.

In this sense the student friendship fund has as big a task in this university as it has in the stricken countries of Europe. It must educate us to an admiration and friendship for all nations. The bit of money that the university will contribute will be of little significance in comparison with the spirit that goes with the gift.

The recent announcement of two new fraternities along the well known lake shore that will cost at least $150,000 makes us wonder just where this race for fraternities is going to lead Wisconsin. A campus conference for the limitation of expenses on chapter houses is perhaps a timely suggestion. Such limitation would probably be welcomed by all concerned, for there would be no desire for more palatial residences if all groups were held down to the same limits.

Quarterly examinations began last week and probably will continue for another two weeks. Realizing the difficulty of concentrated study later in the spring, students will do well to put in their besticks at this time, rather than trust to making up what they are tempted to omit now. Then, too, spring vacation is but several weeks off and those who will most enjoy this brief holiday from work will be those who already have begun preparation of their topics and other work that promises to press for time later.

Hear your championship Glee club tonight.

Wisconsin lacks funds. Write home about it.

Wisconsin Should Know

TEACHING THE STATE TO PLAY

Wisconsin is essentially a rural state, but its citizens have learned to regard a well-rounded social and community life quite as highly as pedigreed dairy herds. They have found the university a ready helper in developing both.

Assistance in social self-expression has been given regularly by the Bureau of Community Development of the Extension Division through all kinds of community programs—singing, choruses, plays, pageants, and celebrations—and through correspondence, conferences, and the distribution of informational material. Those most interested in the better organization of social life—rural teachers and other group leaders—have been given by the bureau the opportunity to take short courses in social leadership. Six thousand people in 20 counties have shared in the training, many of them often walking miles through snow and cold to attend the institute meetings.

This newly acquired leadership in community recreation—social games, sports, music, and folk dancing—has transformed the whole social life of many neighborhoods. Interest in folk dancing has spread to such proportions that a county-wide folk dance society is now being organized to conduct a large competitive folk dance festival next summer. The Community Development bureau ventures the assertion that work of this character is better calculated to affect permanently morals, manners, and general attitude toward life than any other form of service available to the people of the state through the university.

$90,000 to the Good—and Then Some

To most people the community farthest north in Wisconsin is Superior, but to some of the university faculty Port Wing, on the shores of Lake Superior, 20 miles from a railroad, almost inaccessible, is well known as holding that distinction. The Port Wing high school each commencement time calls on the Bureau of Lectures of the Extension Division for commencement speakers from the university; it has never been disappointed.

The Bureau of Lectures furnished lectures, concerts, and lyceum courses to 368 communities of the state during the last biennium. Of this number 231 had a population of less than 1,000. In all 2,060 individual engagements were filled, 340 of them by faculty commencement speakers and the rest by faculty lecturers, concert artists, and entertainers. In 1923-24 alone the Extension Division saved state communities $90,000, the amount it would have cost them had they secured the same lyceum programs through other sources. And yet the fees covered the university's cost.

MY! MY! SOMETHING'S BURNING!

Stew is absent today mine kina kinder, the deah chap is learning to be a Greek this week-end—in fact he is—ah—learning very rapidly—with some—er—slight assistance on the part of his devoted lodge brethren.

His poor little co-ed has been so desolate without her playmate that it is taking a great deal to help her bear up under the strain—two Alpha Deltas and a Kappa Sig, in fact! (not to mention a Chi Psi or so—but why should we—they will do it themselves). All of this, is, of course, adding greatly to Stew's fun—Bless us, yes! And Jay—ah, yes, Jay—well he is right behind Stew, pushing him rapidly to the front, as usual. (The big brute!)

AWWWAK!

Not that we think you care—but one of the goldfish over at the house died Thursday night (shut up! We said "GOLDFISH," silly.) The next day being Friday (decidedly unusual—what?) Well, several of the weaker stomached lads had to leave the table during the meat course—just because we said something.

"HAVE A MALTED, OLD THING?"

"Oh, your generosity is very touching," said the recipient.
"Yes,—touching me," said the donor.

BY REQUEST

Due to the efforts of Cliff Franseen and Bill Rorison we will say something about the Military ball—most anything in fact. Personally we're all ready for it—except the date, army trou and coat. (We have the army shirt and medals.)

Keeping up their usual policy of being a great help to the college the parents of this column append a few hints on how to get by heavily at the dance. Per instance:

Remark—1—To be used when you have to dance with the pledge brother's fat date—"Don't you think the floor is unusually flat tonight?"

Remark—2—Upon bumping into some one. "Pardon me—I really meant to hit you harder."

Remark—3—(For the girls, darn 'em). Upon noticing that the R. O. T. C. friend's spurs are tearing the stockings. "Whadda you think these are—golf sox?" When he sez, "Why?" answer—"Well you made eighteen holes in the last round."

Remark—4—When dancing with the old grad's wife. "Oh, yes, I knew Bill when he was in college—used to have an awfully good-looking girl that worked in the telephone office." (then forget to see Bill again!)

Remark—5—"Oh, I must be in by eleven tonight—ah—I have an exam next week that I MUST study for!"

"THEN THERE IS THE SAD, SAD STORY OF THE MAN WHO SIPPED AND FELL."

"WANT A DATE, WINNIE?"

Dear Say:

When the milk bottle on the steps of the Union building gets tired of making the place look domestic, "I'll make cottage cheese out of it. We'll have pickles, too, if nobody's mumping."

WINNIE WINKLE.

SOCK!

"I'll have the next dance, if you don't mind."

"Gracious, I'll be good."

Well, well, it has often been commented upon, but we wish to bring it up again—you know, the idea that the mannish bob has often been followed by the boyish high water mark around the neck—however we think that the pinnacle of crust was reached by the young man who locked a Theta pin to take a Pi Phi out on a date!

All right—continue the breakfast!

FROSH BASKETBALL TRIP

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

Attention of the student body should be brought to the fact that local merchants, fraternities and sororities were responsible for the freshman basketball team's trip with the varsity cagers to Ohio this week-end.

The impression which I gleaned from reports in the Daily Cardinal was that the Athletic council was providing the funds for the freshman team as a reward for its hard and meritorious work in practice with the varsity team.

That the student body or local merchants were solicited for this purpose seems to me a stigma on the university. The argument advanced, reported one local storekeeper, was that the freshman team was not a member of the Athletic association. Yet, judging from the pre-season practice, the efforts of the freshman team were indispensable. It seems altogether too one-sided to expect an athlete to devote a whole season to practice and then kindly ask him to go out and solicit funds for a trip which will be given him, provided he obtains the money.

Thanks to the generosity of the merchants and student organizations, the team left yesterday, but not, it should be emphasized, without casting an ugly reflection on the Athletic council.

Error Reports Smallpox In City; Was Chickenpox

Due to a typographical error in reporting the monthly report of the city board of health it was erroneously stated Wednesday night that there were 39 cases of smallpox in the city. This should have read chickenpox as no smallpox cases were reported in the city during the month of February.

Being good at argument has one disadvantage. You prove to yourself the other fellow is wrong, even when he is right.

FORMER UNIVERSITY WOMAN WINS SUIT

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y.—Damages of $500 were awarded today to Miss Jennie Peterson, formerly of Madison, Wis., and now of Washington, D. C., in her breach promise suit against Grant Wells, a civil engineer, of Peekskill, N. Y.

The jury had reported a disagreement, but on order of Justice Taylor it fixed the award at $500.

Miss Peterson testified that she met Wells while he was an official of a Madison, Wis., school. He gave her an engagement ring in 1919, after an extended courtship, she said, but in 1921 he married a Peekskill girl.

STUDIED AT MADISON

Grant Wells was a student at the engineering college of the University of Wisconsin between 1910 and 1916, according to records of the alumnae association here. In 1916 he won his degree as an engineer. During 1917 he was an instructor for the Milwaukee district of the university's extension division.

State Attacks Delays In Boundary Hearing

Wisconsin will seek a supreme court citation on the question as to why the boundary dispute should not be pushed along faster and brought to a conclusion. Atty. R. M. Rieser, special counsel for Wisconsin, warned M. P. Sawyer of Michigan when the latter asked for another indefinite adjournment at the close of today's session.

Ship channels into Green Bay were the subject of most of the testimony today.

LIBRARY STUDENTS GO TO 28 CITIES

Practical Experience is Offered to the 37 Students Registered Here

Libraries in 28 cities and five state departments have been designated as laboratories for students of the Library school of the university during February and March, according to Mary E. Hazeltine, preceptor of the Library school.

The practical work in these libraries is part of the regular course of study. It gives opportunity to test the theories that have been taught in the class room.

Thirty-seven students in the library school are now scattered through the state getting this practical training and aiding the various libraries by making card catalogues and by doing many kinds of reference work. Four students in Green Bay are making a catalogue for the State Reformatory there.

"The students are doing real work and therefore getting real experience," Mrs. Hazeltine, preceptor of the school, stated. "Not only do they do reference work but they tell stories to children, address club meetings and a score of other things that make up the day's work in a library."

PROF. COMMONS LAUDS HECK BILL

Senate Committee Closes Hearing on Unemployment Insurance Bill

It will bring stabilization to industry, protection to employees, claimed the affirmative; it will mean chaos and idleness endowment, cried the opponents, in the three hour discussion at the hearing on the Heck unemployment insurance bill before the senate committee on agriculture, labor and industries, in the Senate chambers yesterday afternoon.

The hearing did not fail to bring out the usual crop of personal digs. F. H. Clausen, president of Wisconsin Manufacturers association, was painted as the czar of the state's industrial concerns when Prof. John R. Commons declared that many manufacturers of Wisconsin are in favor of the Heck bill but do not come out with their approval for fear of the wrath of Clausen that would descend upon their heads.

Roger Sherman Hoar, Milwaukee, asserted, after Prof. Commons explained in detail the resemblances between the Heck bill and Workmen's compensation, that nobody with a straight face can claim that there exists any analogy between the two measures.

Verbal Tilts at Hearing

Short verbal tilts broke out of en between Sen. Joseph Padway, on the committee, Sen. Henry A. Huber, leader of the affirmative speakers, and the opposition members.

Hearings on the Heck bill are now definitely closed. Recommendations of the committee are to be presented shortly to both houses.

Prof. Commons led the proponents of unemployment insurance, declared that the bill is modeled precisely along the lines of the accident compensation law and will be administered by the industrial commission. He described the success of a similar voluntary plan, which he is supervising, in the clothing industry of Chicago.

"It is primarily a preventive measure," Prof. Commons stressed throughout. "It is sound and justified by experiment. It will reduce unemployment in industry and thus bring greater profits to the employers.

Employer Is Responsible

"It makes the employer responsible for unemployment compensation for a limited period when it is his fault that unemployment occurs. The law will make the employees truly interested in their plants instead of mere commodities thrown about hither and thither at the whim of employers.

"A six year period is allowed under the bill before it comes fully into effect thus permitting the employers to effect stabilization in the meanwhile. Manufacturers can organize mutual insurance companies and greatly reduce payments to workers if employment in their plants is steady. It will make money for the state's industry. It has done that in Chicago."

The most fiery address on the part of the opponents of the bill was that of A. J. Engelhard, lawyer, representative of the Milwaukee Employer's council, who maintained that the measure was utterly unconstitutional, that the legislators have no right to pass such a bill, and that if passed it will in a short time be declared unconstitutional by the supreme court through suits brought by the opposition.

Fiery Attack is Launched

"You legislators have no right to compel any man to pay for something for which he receives no return," declaimed Mr. Engelhard. "This law can't stand the test of the 14th amendment. You can't interfere with the right of free contract. It is slavery to order employers to thus insure laborers.

"When a man's job ceases he has no further rights on his employer. It is natural law not the individual employer that controls employment. Where in world lies the power to give doles to full grown men. There is no authority in the state to levy such tribute. The courts will void it. That is inevitable."

Tells of New York Effect

Ernest G. Draper, of the Hills Bros. Co., of New York, appearing in defense of the bill, told of the stabilization that has been brought about in his plant, engaging in the formerly considered highly seasoned industry of packing dates.

He spoke of the voluntary insurance plan that his company is planning to install, modeled along the lines of the local Heck bill and told of the more than 200 firms in the nation that have at the present time some form of unemployment insurance.

"A law such as the Heck bill," he maintained, "will satisfy the employer who has the human welfare of his workmen at heart and also the cold employer who thinks only in terms of machines, for it will bring this latter species greater profits."

"Through the stabilization in our plant into all year work we have abolished wasteful methods; we have produced a better product; we have earned more money; we have increased wages and made our employees happier. The plan is sound in theory and practicable in fact. It is the American idea of prevention combined with the English idea of relief."

Max Leuterman, on behalf of the Catholic Society of Wisconsin, appearing in favor of the bill, claimed it would abolish the greatest fear of the workman—that of unemployment.

Ridiculing the argument that the Heck bill was paying men for loafing, J. J. Handley, secretary of the Wisconsin Federation of Labor, stressed the fact that the employee is helpless to control industrial depressions, that is the duty of society, and in this case, employers, to protect the men and their families.

Mrs. William Kittle, Madison, of the League of Women Voters, told of the nation wide study of that organization into unemployment and of the endorsement it soon expects to give to the Heck bill.
