U.S. Ship Dropped Bomb To Warn Nazi Sub--Knox

By DAN ROGERS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
A U. S. patrol vessel recently dropped a depth bomb to "warn" an approaching submarine, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox reportedly told a senate committee investigating the United States' expanding role in the battle of the Atlantic Friday, as the bloody Russo-German conflict roared into its second phase with the Germans battering at the Stalin line.
Linked with Knox's secret testimony before the senate naval affairs committee was a non-interventionist charge in Washington that a plan already is afoot to pool the British and United States navies to keep open the vital sea lanes.

WHEELER PREDICTS PATROL

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, who correctly forecast the American occupation of Iceland, charged that American and British officials were discussing a pooling arrangement whereby U. S. warships would patrol the entire north Atlantic and the British navy the English channel and the south Atlantic. The navy department made no immediate reply to the charge.

President Roosevelt, questioned at a press conference on reports that the United States was building bases in northern Ireland and Scotland, said American steel and American workmen probably were being legitimately employed on as many as 50 bases scattered over England, Scotland, Ireland, Canada and elsewhere.

CHARGES CHURCHILL 'DICTATES'
Wheeler also charged that Prime Minister Churchill was dictating American foreign policy and that "what Mr. Churchill wants is what we do sooner or later."

War developments included:
1. Russia rushed her three top-ranking military leaders, all marshals, (Continued on Page 12)

WISE CRACK KICKS BACK

Embarrassed?
Well, slightly.
A summer session co-ed, ready to leave the Anatomy 120 lab yesterday afternoon, was stopped by a young boy, about 14 years old.
"Can you tell me if Dr. Mossman is teaching?" the child asked.
"Now, he's not teaching—he just thinks he is," cracked the Anatomy brain-truster.
"Thanks. Will you please tell my daddy I was here?" came the unruffled reply.
Oh, well, Anatomy 120 always was a tough course.

Foreign News Expert Tells 'What to Believe' in Reports

By HOWARD SAMUELSON
The biggest news stories in the annals of American journalism are happening today. Yet the average reader in the United States wonders how much on the front page he can believe.

Last week the Germans reported that 500,000 Russian soldiers had been killed at Bialystok. It was said to be the biggest battle in world history. Russian dispatches, however, made no mention of the battle.

How much of the war news can I believe, asks the American reader. How much of the news from Europe is fact? How accurate is the current war picture?

HE SHOULD KNOW

NO COATS, TIES AT INFORMAL DANCE TONIGHT

Tonight is the night for "Wisconsin's most informal informal," Shirt Sleeves Shuffle, at 9 p. m. in Great hall of the Memorial Union.

At this dance, which is either date or dateless, the keynote of informality will be struck by dancing couples in shirt-sleeves and slacks or other "ultra-informal" dress. According to Ray Ender, student board member in charge of the dance, officials will be stationed at the door to confiscate all neckties and to impound all suit coats.

Added features at the dance will be a "watermelon eating contest," a terrace serenade before the dancing, and the selection of two co-eds as candidates-at-large for the position of summer prom queen. The two candidates will compete on an equal basis with those of organized houses and the two at-large chosen at the last dateless dance. John Duffy and his orchestra have been engaged to furnish rhythm for the dance.

UW Students and Faculty Lead Dane USO Drive

HARRY STUHLDTREHER

Rev. Blenker Called From Student Charge

Minister to 1,000 Lutheran university students for the past two years, the Rev. Edward J. Blenker will resign that position to take a pastorate at The Dalles, Ore., on Sept. 1, it was disclosed yesterday.

The Rev. Mr. Blenker has headed youth groups at Bethel Lutheran, Central Lutheran, St. John's, and Luther Memorial since 1939. He was graduated from Lawrence in 1926. The pastor, who once was what he describes as an "out and out agnostic," talked the students' own language as a result of his experience.

* If everyone in Dane county supported the United Service Organization's $25,000 drive like the university staff members and students did, the drive would be over now, Harry Stuhldreher, University of Wisconsin athletic director and director of the Dane county USO drive said Friday night.

UW DONATIONS LARGE

He revealed that University Comptroller A. W. Peterson, who has charge of the university coverage of the drive, has turned in a total of $1,426.62 at the drive headquarters in the Madison city hall.

"And that's much more than we expected university people to give," Stuhldreher added.

Comptroller Peterson said that the full total of the university donations isn't in yet. He urged all university employees who still have their donation cards to send them in immediately "so that we can clean this thing up."

DORM STUDENTS CONTRIBUTE

Peterson said that student and faculty donations haven't been classified separately, but he pointed out that in the university dormitories alone, more than $67 was turned in by students.

There has been no report as yet from the donations received at the Wisconsin Union, and in several other places where donation boxes were placed for the convenience of students who wished to donate to the USO campaign.

Though the county drive is scheduled to end this noon, Stuhldreher says that it will be extended into next week. The city of Madison quota of $15,000 already has been reached, he reported, and gave as the latest complete county figure, $19,873.50.

PREDICTS 'TOUCHDOWN'

NAZIS CROSS DNEPER, CLAIM

Berlin, Saturday, July 12—(U.P.)—German armies driving on Moscow were reported last night to have crossed the Dnieper river, but newspapers today warned the German people that the Russian army "naturally is large enough to postpone a decision for a while."

The Morgenpost said that the Russians "presently are engaged in organizing new, heavy resistance" along the Stalin line—which seemed to indicate that the Nazi spearheads have not yet decisively broken through this line of fixed fortifications.

CONTINUE RAIDS

London — (U.P.) — Britain's heavy bombers carried on the pounding of occupied France Friday after a seven and one-half hour night bombardment of the channel coast and broadside attacks on German industrial centers from which women and children were reported fleeing in large numbers. The air ministry announced that nine

Nazis Launch New Offensive, But Russ Hold

By FREDERICK F. KUH
(United Press Staff Corres.)

London, Saturday, July 12—(U.P.)—Germany was reported early today to have thrown masses of men, tanks, and planes into a big new offensive aimed at cracking the so-called Stalin line but the Moscow radio claimed that the Red army has seized the initiative after "completely halting" the Nazis.

"The German offensive has been completely halted and in many places the Russian armies have begun counter-offensives," said the Russian radio shortly before midnight, broadcasting in German.

Informed military quarters here said that the new German offensive, which admittedly menaces the entire Soviet defense line from the Gulf of Finland to the Black sea, follows several days of cautious "feelers" seeking a soft spot in the Red army defenses. SAY THREAT SERIOUS

British observers said that the new Nazi offensive, should it match the pounding gains of the first 10 days of the assault on Russia, might be "most serious."

FORMER UW STUDENTS TRAIN WITH 'FLYING CADETS'

University Men in Flight Training For U. S. Land and Naval Forces IN THE NAVY

Wisconsin students and graduates who entered the navy's Flying Badgers this spring lined up in their first uniformed review before Lieutenant Commander Richard K. Gaines at the Naval Reserve air base at Glenview, Ill., this week.

The Flying Badgers are University of Wisconsin students and graduates who are now in their "first semester" of training as Naval Aviation Cadets, which includes a four week period of flight training, flight theory, radio drill and other phases that start the boys on their way to win Navy Wings. BADGER ATHLETES

FLYING CADETS AT RANDOLPH FIELD

With the order, "Man your planes!" fledgling pilots at the "West Point of the Air" at Randolph Field, Texas, move to their basic training ships for a morning aloft in the Texan blue. Within a few minutes, the 150 student pilots will be in flight, taking another step forward toward America's goal of 30,000 pilots each year.

With their 10 weeks and 70 hours aloft completed, classes of almost 400 Flying Cadets leave the south Texas school every five weeks for advanced training fields to complete their instruction and to receive their wings and commissions.

Six-Year-Old Refugee Flees From Bombs to Lab School

By CAROL EVANS

From dropping bombs and irregular classes held within a stone's throw of specially equipped air raid shelters in London, to the peaceful surroundings and rich, relaxed educational opportunities of the university Laboratory school, that's the story of little six-year-old Pamela Hunt, British war refugee here.

A chubby, blue-eyed and rosy-cheeked child with blond curls, Pamela came to the United States last November with her mother, Mrs. Alfred W. Hunt. Before coming to Madison a month ago, the Hunts spent the winter visiting relatives in Eau Claire, where Pamela finished the first grade.

Pamela and her mother decided to leave England and the fashionable new residential suburb of Chingford, 10 miles from London proper, after their home was destroyed by bombs while they cowered in a concrete shelter in their garden which "shook so that we were afraid it would come down on our heads any minute," according to Mrs. Hunt.

The bombing occurred early in September, and the Hunts were forced to wait three months for steamship passage. Mother and daughter spent several weeks of that waiting period with Mrs. Hunt's mother in comparatively quiet and peaceful Oxford, which still has not suffered a single raid.

Robert Pohl Elected Scabbard and Blade Captain at Ft. Custer

By LEE CARTERON
(Cardinal ROTC Correspondent)

Fort Custer, Mich.—(Special)—Robert Pohl, Milwaukee, Scabbard and Blade military society captain at Wisconsin, has been elected captain of the provisional Scabbard and Blade unit at Fort Custer ROTC camp. This provisional unit is composed of students from seven midwestern colleges.

William Van Cleef, West Allis, another Wisconsin student, was named social chairman, while Steve Baisch, Lake Geneva, was elected to the executive council. The group will serve during its stay in camp, and promote social activity.

Schools represented in the composite ROTC company here are Ohio State university, the universities of Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, and Wisconsin, Michigan State university, and Knox college.

Six Teams Compete In Bowling Tourney At Union Wednesday

Six five-man teams will fight for the championship in the finals of the Interstate bowling tournament next Wednesday night, July 16, at 7 p. m. on the Memorial Union alleys.

These 30 bowlers were selected on the results of last Wednesday's bowling in which each entrant bowled three single games. Because not enough bowlers from each state moved to the finals to make a full team, the teams will be regional rather than state.

Honors for the highest single game of last Wednesday's bowling go to a co-ed, Norma Denny, Illinois, for a game of 207. Denny came close to having the highest three-game total with a count of 491 only to be beaten by Raymond Pfeiffer, Ohio, with a 493 total. Leland Winch, Indiana, bowled the highest single game for men with a total of 173.

The following teams will compete in next Wednesday night's bowling:

Southern states team—Fannie Stollenwerck, Ala.; Jane Anderson, Ark.; Belmont Forsythe, Ky.; Enola Verlander, La.; and Jessie Jutter, Mo.

Central states team—Norma Denny and Mary Strand, Ill.; Harriet Winch, Leland Winch, and Elizabeth Mackay of Indiana.

Northern states team—Virginia Lindblad, Iowa; Alice Bond, Iowa; Helen Johnson, Minn.; Leonard Bannach, Neb.; and Shelah Woodland, Utah.

Eastern states team—Betty Hall, James Kauffman, and Raymond Pfeiffer, Ohio; Freda Bartha, Pa.; and Elizabeth Johnson, W. V.

Northern Wisconsin team—Margaret Laurant, John LeFevre, Louise Kellerman, Ruth Hessler, and Pearl Sinclair.

Southern Wisconsin team—Letta Cote, Vernon Rainberg, Doris Drewry, Edith Perren, and Virginia Filaster.

Arboretum Will Be Site for Outing

The university arboretum, 1130-acre outdoor laboratory of the university, will be inspected by guests of the second of a series of outings sponsored by the Union outing committee on Saturday, July 19.

Prof. George Longenecker, executive director of the arboretum, and Dr. Charles Brown, director of the State Historical museum will conduct the tour.

Developments at the arboretum including the lagoons, bird sanctuaries, shelters, migratory water fowl ponds, and tree planting sites will be seen.

Stops will be made at the Wheeler Council ring, which overlooks much of the area; and at the Stevens Memorial Aquatic garden. Plans for further development of this garden will be discussed.

The cost of the trip will be 50 cents including transportation and refreshments. Those traveling by private car will be charged 10 cents. Reservations can be made at the Union desk up until 2 p. m., Friday, July 18.

Gymnasium Annex Gets New Field, Track

Workmen are busy this month laying a new clay field and track in the university gymnasium annex, with about three weeks of work left before final touches are applied.

Nearly 30 cubic yards of clay have been dumped on the track and field, and the entire floor will be dragged and rolled in preparation for next winter's indoor track work. The clay is brought from Oregon, Wis.

New shavings will be placed in the high jump and pole vault pits at the lake end of the annex before the job is finished.

USO--

"We haven't called a halt to this football game which is the USO drive yet, and we're not going to until we have the money raised that we promised to raise," he said.

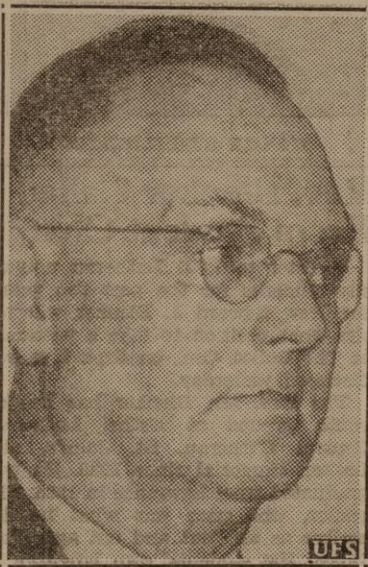

"This cause is one of the most important that has developed in this county since the defense drive began. We need every cent we can get to provide morale-building entertainment and recreation for the armed forces and defense workers in the nation," Stuhldreher said.

IT'S "DUNKER'S DELIGHT"

Philadelphia—(U.P.)—The Pennsylvania Bakers' association at its annual convention displayed a "Dunker's Delight"—a doughnut with a handle for dunking purposes.

U. S. THERE—Strategic position of Iceland, occupied by U. S. Marines, is shown on map, with distances from North America and Europe. Island is about 900 miles from German-occupied Norway, and President Roosevelt ordered occupation to forestall German seizure.

NEW WARDEN—Robert J. Kirby, 52, who succeeds Lewis E. Lawes, resigned, as warden of New York's famous prison, Sing Sing. Like retiring warden he is opposed to capital punishment, although he must direct executions at prison. He was formerly head keeper at Attica, N. Y., prison.

DISCIPLINE—Lieut. General Ben Lear, above, commander of Second Army, was on Memphis golf course when passing battalion of 35th Division hooted at girls wearing shorts on course. General Lear ordered men to return from Camp Robinson, Ark., then hike properly 150 miles to camp.

Museum Contributions May Be Inspected By Contributors' Families, Says Director

Wisconsin residents have a right to inspect the historical contributions of their families to collections in the Wisconsin historical museum, Philip Kelsey, assistant to the museum director, reminded 35 summer school students and Madison residents Wednesday afternoon, as he conducted a tour through the museum.

The group was shown the entire museum collection, from Indian arrowheads and relics to early colonial dishes in collections donated to the museum by Wisconsin residents.

"We have more things than we have room for," Kelsey declared. The many gifts crowd shelves with relics of old settlers who came here in the last century.

ARROWHEAD DISPLAY Indian relics are highlighted by an unusual display of arrowheads. Casual observers in the tour group were surprised at the beauty of their workmanship.

"The copper arrowheads in this group are considered the finest in the country," Kelsey told the visitors.

The collection was contributed by a Two Rivers printing supply merchant, who acquired the quartzite and flint arrowheads from the Snake river country in Oregon. The arrowheads show the same patient exactness as the group of carved ivory balls displayed among the Chinese articles.

The colonial kitchen, brought from New Hampshire, serves as a gathering place for the homely items of everyday living. Modern pots and pans may be streamlined, but the old time instruments covered the range of cooking activities just as well, even to a primitive waffle-iron. Only the present-day bride's standby, the can opener, was missing.

Love of the beautiful in those early days is apparent in their table appointments. The museum's collection is not unusual in size, but outstanding both as to variety of color and patterns. The set of white dishes with red decorations, the vaseline glass, and the etched patterns all appeal to old china and glass hobbyists.

It was just as hard to get up in the morning then as now. John Muir's desk clock, which he made and used in 1860 while a Wisconsin undergraduate, proves that Muir later became a world famous geologist, and Muir knoll on the campus is named for him.

Besides providing a drawer for his books, the clock had an ingenious arrangement for tilting Muir's bed and pushing him out on the floor at an early hour.

"The Blue Danube," last on a roll of six pieces played on an old music box, is one of the museum's choicest articles. This gift of a Wisconsin resident might be the forerunner of the player piano.

Boston—(U.P.)—The Institute of Modern Art has invited artists to try their hand at designing "juke boxes" in competition for a cash prize offered by a manufacturer.

Badger Club Skins Phi Delts' Softballers

Badger club and the Interfraternity sluggers turned up the power outfits of the athletic department's summer intramural softball league, in opening games Thursday on the lower campus.

Badger club walloped Phi Sigma Delta 18-4. A terrific fourth round barrage brought in 10 tallies. Johnson scored three times for the Badger club, while Tolles, Erickson, O'Mealy, Lee, and Porter went around twice. Pfeiffer was the winning pitcher, and Mirman started for the losers.

The Phi Eds scored a 6-0 triumph over the residence halls ten, with Van bearing down hard to allow the losers only four hits as his mates shut off all runs with competent fielding. Larsen came closest to scoring for the residence halls in the third stanza, but two strikeouts tied him to third base. Phi Eds piled on three runs in the second and three in the sixth innings, but collected only four hits.

Hits rattled all over the diamond as the Interfraternity outfit slammed YMCA 13-5. The Greeks went through Engelke's chucking for 11 base blows, and walks and errors helped I-F runners around. Gardner of the I-F club allowed 10 hits but had better support. Engelke homered for the YMCA, while De Hartog and Sullivan got circuit clouts for the winners.

Professor Finds 'New Poet' in Work of English Ruth Pitter

The discovery of a new poet was the experience of those who attended Prof. Ruth Wallerstein's lecture in Bascom hall on Thursday afternoon. Professor Wallerstein read from the works of Ruth Pitter, an English poet whose home for many years was in a quaint fishing town on the east coast of England.

By way of introduction, Professor Wallerstein summed up for her listeners the main trends of modern poetry; namely, its rebellion against anything that smacks of Victorianism, and its consequent desire for objectivity, impressionism, and firmness of line.

"This desire for objectivity has led modern poetry back to the spirit of the 17th century," said Professor Wallerstein. "It was then that Ben Jonson, in his 'Drink To Me Only With Thine Eyes' took one single image and summed up an entire emotion. Characteristic of this period, also, were simple, controlled lines whose meters recalled the music of Mozart, and a type of writing known as 'emblem poetry,' in which simple ideas were expressed in complex patterns."

By reading from Miss Pitter's three volumes, "A Mad Lady's Garland," "Trophy of Arms," and "The Spirit Watches," Professor Wallerstein showed how the poet's works contain these 17th century elements.

"Because of the small quantity of her writings Miss Pitter will always be a minor poet," said she. "But her poems have the distinction of being perfect in quality."

Horse Shows, Phy Ed Keep Sisters Busy

Langdon hall has a double feature in sisters Polly and Mary Jane Sattler of Mockton, Md. They're pretty, and dark; they win prizes in horse shows; and they're both physical education majors.

Polly, last year's president of the junior class at the University of North Carolina women's college in Greensboro, was selected by Governor O'Connell of Maryland to represent that state in the Rhododendron festival in Asheville, N. C. One girl is chosen from each state on the basis of beauty, charm, and family background. Polly has them all.

The two girls say that they have their four-postered bed surrounded by a string of ribbons won at horse shows. Polly Sattler, the younger of the two, took first place in horsemanship at the Harrisburg, Pa., horse show last year, entitling her to the Horsemanship class at Madison Square Gardens, N. Y.

Mary Jane will receive her degree in physical education from the University of Wisconsin this August. She plans to teach in the fall.

Polly, elected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities this spring, will finish her course next year. She wants to do recreational work after receiving her degree.

The girls live on a turkey farm, plantation 'tis called in the South, where they hunt fox for recreation.

who is in the government service and holds an executive position in the rationing and price control division. He has been exempted from military service until now, but may be called in the future, Mrs. Hunt explained. He had been in the government service for several years prior to the war.

Hunt corresponds regularly by air-mail with his family here, the letters taking 10 days to reach their destination. During the heavy Christmas rush period last year, it took eight weeks for letters to reach their destination, Mrs. Hunt said.

"It does no good to write any real news, for all that is censored, so that way we don't hear much out here," she pointed out. "But when we left, the people were confident and never doubted that England would win, and I get the impression from my letters that this attitude is unchanged despite reverses."

SHIP MADE DETOUR

The Hunts had a "rough crossing," coming to this country. The voyage required 12 days, and they were forced to make a far northern detour, going up by Greenland.

"We had passage on the Western Prince which was torpedoed on its return journey," Mrs. Hunt recalled. "A ship 50 miles behind us was bombed by German planes, and we were told that there was a submarine hunting for our own ship."

These nerve wracking experiences have had little effect on Pamela, Mrs. Hunt said.

"She is a very happy, placid child, who takes everything in her stride. She knew, of course, what was going on, but she slept through many raids," she added.

According to Leroy Luberg, principal of the Laboratory school, Pamela has adjusted herself to this new educational method with ease, and shows much initiative and ingenuity in the classroom.

Pamela is very enthusiastic about the Laboratory school, her mother affirmed, and is "especially keen" on swimming.

The Hunts came to Madison because Mrs. Hunt intended to take some university courses, but instead she enrolled in the Madison Business college where she is taking up typing and shorthand.

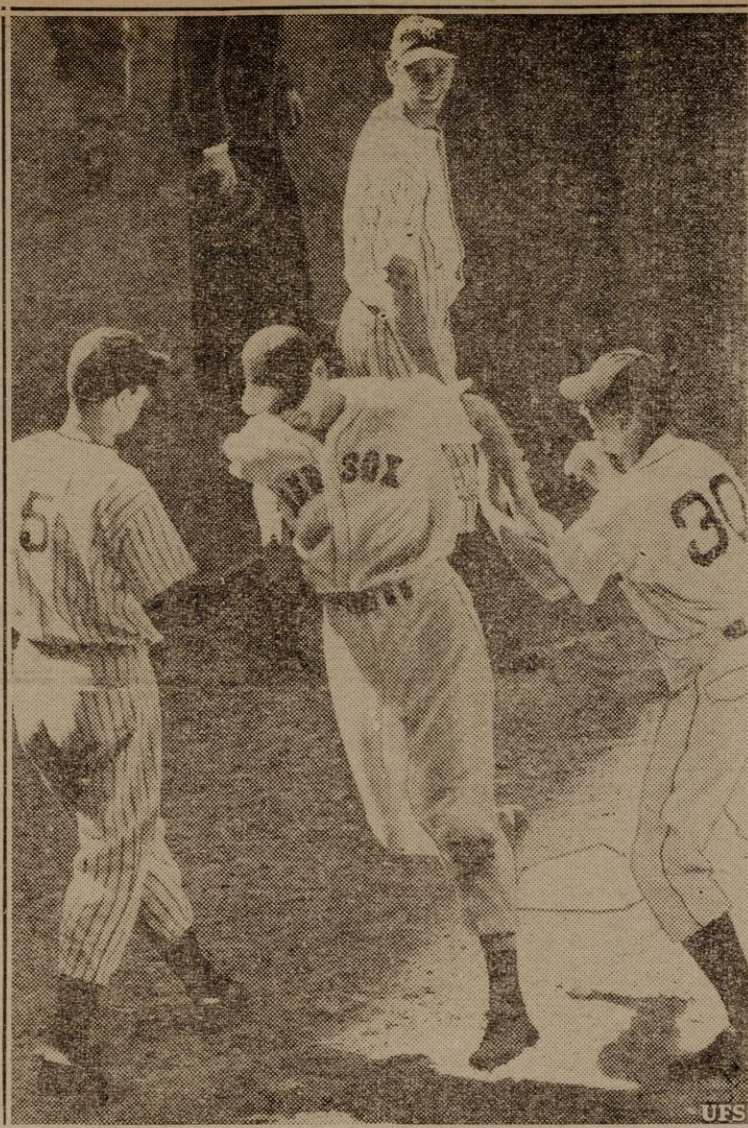

"We like Madison and the lakes, and the people here and everywhere we have been in this country have been very kind, sympathetic, and hospitable to us," Mrs. Hunt declared. She plans to remain in Madison next winter, and send Pamela to school here.

Mother and daughter expect to stay in this country only "for the duration," and hope to be able to return to England as soon as the war is over or earlier, Mrs. Hunt explained.

Union Committee Plans Outing to Blackhawk Lodge

Blackhawk lodge, the Union's outing cabin, is the goal of a three-mile hike planned for Sunday afternoon, July 13, as the first in the series of informal outings to the lodge sponsored by the Union outing committee.

The hike will begin along the Lake road which was paved this spring by some 1500 students at the memorable Work day organized by the student board. The group will continue along the lakeshore paths past the university experimental farms; U. S. Forest Products laboratory; Picnic point, which has recently been purchased by the university for use of students; and the tent colony.

Blackhawk lodge is located on the lakeshore near Eagle Heights and the famous Blackhawk's cave just beyond the tent colony. Excellent bathing facilities are available, and guests are urged to bring their swimming suits.

Reservations may be made before 6 p. m. Saturday, July 12, at the Union desk. Each guest is required to bring his own lunch. Lunches and swimming suits will be taken to the lodge in a car.

Theft of Ring Ball Is Mystery for Union

Ring ball is popular on the Union terrace—in fact, it is so popular that someone has uprooted the stationary equipment for one entire game, posts, rings, and all.

The game which has been drawing quite a number of players to the two—now only one—courts on the terrace beneath the shade trees, consists mainly of trying to hit a suspended ball into two iron rings placed on posts about six feet to either side of the center post from which the ball is suspended. It is a fairly fast game and a good tennis backhand is an ultimate aim of the game.

What worries the Union officials now is what the culprit wants with these lengths of 2x4s with large iron rings attached. They could possibly be used for fishing nets, basketball hoops, or perhaps even to set up a ringball court at home.

"If in any case," says Sue Poston, terrace supervisor, "the person taking the posts has found no use for them, will he please return them to the terrace?"

on "Interpreting the Foreign and War News."

"The United States is getting an excellent account of the war," he said yesterday. "The war picture we are getting from the American press and radio is infinitely better than the picture received anywhere else in the world."

Neal said the superiority of our press coverage was due to the pre-war quality of our news-gathering machine, which has been able to meet new conditions and overcome them. The Summer Cardinal uses news reports from a full leased wire service of the United Press, one of the greatest news-gathering services in the world.

ABOUT CENSORS

"Censorship," the journalism professor said, "is an irritant, of course, but little more than that. What one side doesn't tell, the other side is anxious to tell, and thus the two censorships 'cut each other's throats.'"

This situation, according to Neal, is completely different from World War I, when the British, who controlled the cables, had no news-opposition from Germany.

How much of the war news is accurate?

"Official statements or communiques from the German army high command have a good record for veracity and reliability," Neal said.

Statements from other German sources, such as the propaganda ministry, the air force, and the navy, however, are much less reliable and must be examined closely to see if they seem reasonable. Often they betray themselves by clumsy exaggeration and over-statement.

MOSCOW COMMUNIQUE

Russia, Neal said, is too new a combatant for us to know how much of a Moscow communique to believe. The fact that Russian dispatches last week made no mention of fighting at Bialystok, said to be the biggest battle in world history, does not mean the Russians have taken such a beating that they are unwilling to admit defeat.

"It may mean the Russians just haven't got enough reports and information to know how a battle is going," he explained. "In the early days of a conflict reports are so incomplete that those in command really do not know."

Italian communiques have ranked low for veracity. English governmental statements, however, have averaged high except for the Yugoslav and Greek campaigns. In these campaigns, Neal said, the turmoil was so great that the British quite well may have been inaccurate because their information was incomplete, rather than because of a desire to mislead the world.

As readers, people in the United States today make one great mistake, according to Professor Neal.

"We are too eager to know who won a battle that is still in progress. The Russo-German fighting is an example. The decisive break hasn't come yet, but some of us are complaining because we haven't been told who won."

This class of pilots-to-be entered the enormous south Texas basic training school on May 2 after having completed 10 weeks of primary training. At primary schools they logged some 65 hours of flying time in 200-horsepower planes and gained the experience necessary to handle the 450-horsepower basic trainers at Randolph. GO TO ADVANCED SCHOOLS

Having completed their basic training these embryo pilots go now to advanced schools where they will specialize in either single or multi-motored equipment, preparatory to taking their place with the newly-created Air Force Combat Command. And in September these youngsters will win their wings and be commissioned as second lieutenants in the Air Corps Reserve.

Every five weeks finds new classes of American youths between the ages of 20 and 26 entering the 30-week course, destined to become military pilots. Former students and graduates of colleges and universities are finding in the Flying Cadets an opportunity to capitalize on their specializations in our rapidly expanding air force.

Flying Cadet training has become even more attractive to high school graduates and college men with recent changes in the allowances and qualifications. In addition to $75 a month, plus uniforms and equipment, food, quarters, and medical and dental care, Flying Cadets now receive a $10,000 life insurance policy in effect during training, and upon graduation receive a uniform allowance of $150.

Under new regulations former college students who have not completed the required two years of college may, however, be exempted in the mental examination from subjects which they have completed in college.

As a second lieutenant on active duty with the Army Air Corps, the young officer receives $205 a month, plus quarters, or $245 a month.

... THE HILL

By Dick Gross

If the couples at Great hall's Shirt Sleeves shuffle this evening are as scantily clad as Ray Ender and Anne Haight were on the front page of Thursday's issue in their picture plug for the affair, the dance should be a bang up success with the Madison cops dropping around about 9:30 to chaperon.

STAG PARTY

Add to your list of embarrassing moments the birthday party thrown for E.W.H.'s Barbara Taylor at which all of the invited guests except boy friend Howie Samuelson failed to show up. Was Howie's face red when he marched into Elizabeth Waters all smoothed up in his palm beach suit with a birthday cake tucked neatly under his arm only to find that the rest of the party folk including Barb's roomie Helen Arpin were nowhere to be seen. The pay-off was that Barb, who waits on tables, had to serve little Howie who was sitting there all by his lonesome.

VAN HISE DANCE TONIGHT

Residence halls' guys and gals will swing out to the scintillating rhythms of Larry O'Brien and his orchestra tonight at Van Hise. The time—9 p. m. Admission with halls' association fee card.

Speaking of social successes: Chalk up one for Thursday evening's formal dinner at the Van Hise dining rooms.

... One hears so much, both pro and con about married men, that we hardly now what to think of those fortunate (?) boys. The fact that the Gilman-Turner married men's softball team is at present tied for the lead in the Men's halls league with Mack house may decide you one way or another.

YOU'RE IN THE ARMY NOW

Johnny Van Dam, Faville house, received his 1A classification from his local draft board yesterday and was so upset by the news that he tried to get into someone else's room for 10 long and unsuccessful minutes, wondering why his key wouldn't work.

Soon our boy John discovered the reason why he was having trouble: He was trying to get into a fourth floor room instead of his own on the third.

Private Bud Karberg, UW alumnus and Billygoat founder writes us that he is visiting the Goat's Alpha chapter at the University of California. . . . Ralph Sheer, long a Wisconsin summer session devotee and Gregory resident during regular session is back on furlough from Camp Grant, Rockford, Ill., visiting his old cronies. . . . Fritz Wahl who barely moved out of Bashford house in time to let the women move in a few weeks ago, enlisted with the Royal Canadian Air Force and is back in town now visiting Adams hall's Pres Lustig after his first taste of army life with the RCAF. Fritz is expecting to solo next week. . .

Warren Scadren, fickle Adams casanova who has been squiring a different Tripp and EWH gal each night claims that "at last I've found her," which must be the truth as Warren has made it two nights in a row now with Wellesley's gift to EWH, Edith Surrey. Should the great lover dare seek other fields to conquer before the summer's end, however, he must row Lil Kreienheder, Jane Heitland, Bob Mecker, Ralph Neuhoft, and Bill Wyatt around Mendota's murky waters.

Dawber Says Democracy Is Out for City Life

Asserting that democracy can only be preserved in a rural environment, Dr. Mark A. Dawber, executive secretary of the Home Missions Council of North America, keynoted the opening session of a special two-day conference on "The United Christian Advance in Rural America" in the Ag hall auditorium Thursday morning.

Sponsored by the College of Agriculture in conjunction with the town-country leadership summer school which closed Friday, the conference attracted an attendance of about 100 rural clergymen, Prof. J. H. Kolb, of the rural sociology department, was in charge.

"The enduring factors of democracy have a greater chance of survival in a rural environment than in the city," Dr. Dawber declared. "The breakdown of democracy in this country today is due to the increasing dominance of urban influence in national life."

Democracy cannot be preserved in the city because the latter tends more toward dictatorship and boss rule, he added.

The basic factors for revitalizing democracy and "rescuing it from the forces now engaged in strangling it," can best be realized in the rural community, he asserted. These basic factors are discipline, work, "old-fashioned integrity," economic democracy, biological factors and religion.

The church, which represents the principal dividing force in the rural community today, must find a way for united effort, he insisted.

The conference program consisted of a series of group discussions and general sessions dealing with various phases of the meeting's theme. Highlight was an anniversary banquet in the Memorial Union Thursday night. More than 100 persons attended.

FOOT OPERATION FAILS ARMY-MINDED PATRIOT

Philadelphia—(U.P.)—Vincent Catroppa, 25, is having a hard time getting into the army, but he's a step nearer now.

Catroppa was rejected by his draft board last September because of flat feet. He underwent a painful operation and spent 38 days in a hospital waiting for his feet to heal before returning to the draft board for another examination.

But he again was turned down. Physicians said his left foot was all right but his right one has not responded fully to treatment. He was told to come back in six months.

INSURANCE BUSINESS GOOD BUT PROFITLESS IN ARMY

St. Louis—(U.P.)—The insurance business is booming for two salesmen at Jefferson barracks—they sell $1,000,000 worth a day.

But there's a catch in it—they don't get commissions.

Robert Brown, one-time St. Louis insurance salesman, and Capt. John E. Gibbs, former manager of an Omaha, Nebr. department store, are the ace risk peddlers.

As members of the reception center at the barracks, Brown and Gibbs mention the fact that Uncle Sam is offering low cost insurance to selectees.

MORE GIRLS TRY TO GAIN ADMISSION TO COLGATE

Hamilton, N. Y.—(U.P.)—The ability to determine the sex of letter writers by their handwriting is a prerequisite for a college admissions director, according to James D. Howlett of Colgate university.

Howlett said Colgate, for men only, annually receives 20 to 40 inquiries about admission from girls, each of whom must be discouraged from filing formal applications. He believes the difficulty is increasing because of wider usage of Marion, Jean, Vivian, Eustace, Francis, Hilary, and Jessie as names for either men or women.

YOUNGSTER BATTLES FIRE

Berkeley, Calif.—(U.P.)—Smelling smoke, adults in the Whitehurst home rushed to the room of Edson Whitehurst, Jr., to find him trying to put out flames in his bed. Asked why he had not called for help, Edson said, "I wanted to handle this myself." Edson, suspected of having played with matches, is four years old.

Music Clinic Faculty Gives Annual Concert

Fifteen members of the music clinic faculty, several of them outstanding musicians of national reputation, displayed their musical wares in what may be considered the highlight of the university summer session musical calendar at the annual clinic faculty concert in Music hall Thursday night.

The concert presented a balance of vocal and instrumental solo and ensemble numbers. More than 700 hot but enthusiastic clinic students, faculty members and townspeople attended.

Some pre-concert excitement was provided by a lone bat which fluttered around the hall, putting on unexpected power dives toward the audience, accompanied by excited squeals. The little animal's antics delayed the concert for several minutes, until the audience could quiet down.

Later someone slammed a door on it amidst much applause, and the recital went on without further interruption.

HORSEPLAY WAS MISSING

Missing from this year's concert was the customary musical horseplay which in past years made this affair such an enjoyable event, and for some this year's offering tended too much to the modern side.

Highspot of the concert was a series of five violin solos by Samuel Gardner, violinist and composer, a faculty member of the Julliard and David Manners School of Music, N. Y. He was accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Gardner.

An accomplished artist, he endowed his renditions with a warm, sure technique and expression. Especially outstanding was his playing of Bach's "Air on the G String."

Included in this group were two of Gardner's own compositions, the charming "Coquette," reminiscent of a Viennese waltz, and "From the Cane Brake." He performed Foster's beloved "Swanee River."

SOLOISTS HIT HIGHSPTS

Other highlights of the concert were the cello and clarinet solos, respectively, of Arthur Knecht, tall, youthful looking cellist with the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, and Robert Woolen.

Knecht presented a group of four cello pieces including one of his own compositions, "Humoresque," a light bit of musical whimsy written "with nothing serious in mind," and intended as a burlesque of formal instrumental techniques. His best selections were Kreisler's "Andantino" and the intricate "Scherzo" by Van Goens. The piano accompaniment was played by Prof. Carl Bricken, director of the Music school.

Woolen presented a remarkably clear and well-defined interpretation of the Adagio from Mozart's Concerto in B-flat. His accompanist was Wayne Hugoboom.

Outstanding among the ensembles was a string quartet, composed of Gardner, Knecht, Raphael Flanagan, violinist, and Harold Klatz, violist. This group closed the concert with a group of English folk tunes.

Also deserving of mention was the work of a wind quintet which opened the program with three selections by LeFebvre and LeClaire. Alfred Barthel, oboe; Douglas Steensland, flute; Richard Church, bassoon; Alvin Johnson, French horn, and Woolen, made up the personnel of this ensemble.

Others on the program were Mary Nevery, Boston soprano, accompanied by Paul Jones; Kenneth Cuthbert, cornetist, with Mrs. Cuthbert as accompanist, and a vocal quartet composed of Miss Nevery, Charlotte Natwick, alto; Marvin Fennema, tenor, and Orville Shetney, bass.

Zimmerman's Speech Lecture Is Questioned

Not all high school teachers agree with Prof. Jane Dorsey Zimmerman, of Columbia university, who told the university speech department and summer session students last week in a Bascom hall lecture we must "change our idea of what is good speech, or else do something about American speech to revive standards."

Interviewed in various secondary education classes this week, some teachers said Professor Zimmerman has "over-weighted the balance in condemnation of American speech."

Professor Zimmerman told her audience last week speech teachers must take the lead in bringing back pure English pronunciation, which might require them to seem "affected" for some time.

An Illinois Latin teacher counters, "If it took affectations to bring about Miss Zimmerman's standard of good speech, we would prefer to remain 'unaffected.' In time our manners of speaking would become the accepted form and would therefore be considered good speech."

A New York commercial teacher adds "Since usage has always eventually determined correctness, then this common fault will in time no longer be considered incorrect."

But an Illinois English teacher agrees with Professor Zimmerman.

"If you want clarity, you must have uniformity, and to have uniformity, you must have standardization," she commented.

A junior high school mathematics teacher agrees with all of Professor Zimmerman's statements, and feels that something should be done about American speech habits, especially enunciation and tone quality.

Still another Wisconsin pedagogue claims, "What seems like beautiful musical American speech to one person might sound foreign to another. There are certain individuals whose voice tones are extremely nasal and harsh; irritating to listeners. If instruction at school fails to remedy these cases, their employers will when they go job hunting."

"Let's keep our speech individual," she urges. "It is the American way."

Things To Do and Places To Go . . .

This Weekend in Madison

- Where to Go
- What to Do

By HOWARD SAMUELSON

How can there be so many lonely people in such a crowded world? How can there be so much boredom with so many things happening? No one, it seems, has been able to figure it out. In a fast-living, fast-moving world, why should people be bored?

When you get right down to it, we have less reason to be bored than our ancestors. Imagine the monotony of winter in a medieval village. People could not read or write, they had only candles to give them light after dark. Roads were impassable, so that one hardly ever saw anybody from another village. There were no radios, no movies.

It's different today, something is happening every second. Every co-ed expects at least three times a week as much excitement as would have lasted a Jane Austen heroine throughout a whole novel. There are places to go and things to see and fun to have.

Clip this column and use it as your weekend guide to real fun and entertainment in and around Madison.

• NO BOOTS IN BED—July 17 and 18 in the Union theater. An original comedy of the War of 1812, No Boots in Bed won the Etheredge award for comedy last August. This second production in the theater series was written by Ronald E. Mitchell, assistant professor of speech here. No Boots is laid in a Connecticut tavern, and is based on an historical fact that during the British blockade of the New England coast, a party of British marines was led up the difficult waters of the Connecticut river for a considerable sum of money by an American traitor. Tickets for the production are on sale now.

Play Circle

• PLAY CIRCLE—Sunday-Monday-Tuesday in the Union. If you are shopping for something unusual in foreign films, you won't want to miss "Daybreak," the French film coming to the air conditioned Play Circle this weekend. The last picture completed in France before the German invasion, it deals with a group of ordinary people caught in a fate beyond their understanding. In the cast are Jean Gabin, France's biggest box office star, Jules Berry, Jacquelin Laurent, and Arletty. Compelling and heart-rending, "Daybreak" is a picture you should see. 15 cents to 6 p. m.

Dateless Dances

• SHIRT SLEEVE SHUFFLE—Tonight in the Memorial Union. You don't have to read this, but if you like to dance and are looking for a good time you'd better.

2,000 Attend First Summer Band Concert

Over 2000 students and townspeople gathered at the university stadium last night to hear the university band give its first summer concert under the direction of Prof. Ray Dvorak. With the sky clouded, a mild north wind kept band members grabbing for their music, but these distractions proved no handicap in rendering a good concert.

The concert opened with Mesang's Symbol of Honor March. About half the crowd had assembled to give the first applause. The second number, Overture-Orpheus in the Underworld by Offenbach, featured a clarinet solo answered by an oboe and accompanied by the other instruments. The Dance of the Bayaderes from "Feramors," a suite by Rubenstein, made its greatest appeal to the more music-wise of the audience.

Edgar Wiperman proved highly entertaining as a cornet soloist. His encore was even more appreciated as he pictured the Indian waters of Wisconsin in the familiar selection, By the Waters of Minnetonka.

The classical number, Symphony in B Minor (First Movement) by Schubert ended the heavier part of the program.

The audience's familiarity with Wisconsin Pride March by Carl King, and with Country Gardens by Grainger made them more interesting. The Mosquitoes' Parade by Whitney lacked the mosquitoes to parade because of the breeze, but the crowd preferred coats and cool weather to marching mosquitoes.

In his usual clever manner, Prof. Dvorak asked the audience to become familiar with "On the Mall March" by Goldman. So the audience sang or whistled while the band played.

Concluding the program, the audience sang Wisconsin's university march, "On Wisconsin."

The next concert will be held Saturday evening of next week, since Prof. Dvorak will be in Milwaukee with the music clinic Friday night.

and all members of the supreme military council, to take active command of the three vital sectors—Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev. The Russians said the Nazi offensive had "fizzled out" after losing more than 1,000,000 German casualties and in the light of Friday night's communique, it appeared that the three marshals—Voroshilov, Timoshenko and Budenny—were charged by Stalin with counter-attacking.

HIGH COMMAND SILENT

2. The Nazi DNB agency, in the continued absence of high command information on the fighting, claimed that German armies driving on Moscow had crossed the Dnieper river and asserted that Soviet losses after 20 days of smashing German assault were over 1,000,000 men. A spokesman said the German offensive was "steadily accelerating" and that new German successes would be announced soon.

Both DNB and the German radio had admitted that the German advance at several points had been held up for several days but said this was largely because wrecked Russian vehicles had to be removed from roads. They added, however, that "pauses" for men and machines to recuperate were necessary and must be allowed for in the Russian campaign.

3. The French government at Vichy rejected British terms for an armistice in Syria, which had been sought by the French, and threw back to Gen. Henri Dentz the responsibility for surrendering to British and free French forces constantly increasing their pressure or to continue the apparently hopeless fight.

Frustrated Local Draft Board Quits

Jackson, Mich., July 11—(U.P.)—Charging that selective service regulations change so rapidly that "we can't keep up with them," three members of a Jackson county draft board today submitted resignations to Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner.

They were Harry W. Helmer and Leo Miller, members of the county board of supervisors, and County Treasurer Verd Easton.

"We just got sick of the whole works," Easton explained. "The rules change so fast we can't keep up with them. About the only boys we can send any more are those who are not doing anything, if we can find any like that."

Tannenberg, were sunk with heavy casualties, it was understood Friday. Reports indicated that the convoy struck a mine field. Some versions said the Nazi ships were driven into the mines in a fight with Russian warships.

PERU CONCENTRATES FORCES

Quito, Ecuador — (U.P.) — Peruvian forces and artillery are concentrating in the areas of Latina and Cerro de Masa and other sectors near the Ecuadorian border, an official communique said Friday. The communique said that "Peruvian planes this morning flew over Cerro and Colaisaca and in the vicinity of the Ecuadorian village of Amaluza." A Peruvian soldier, belonging to the Seventh Cavalry regiment, was captured in the village of Catamayo, the communique added.

REPORT 'ALL QUIET'

Lima, Peru — (U.P.) — Dispatches reaching this capital Friday reported "all quiet" on the northern frontier with Ecuador where Peruvian and Ecuadorian forces have clashed sporadically since Saturday in a sudden flareup of the century-old border dispute.

PERU ACCEPTS OFFER 'IN PRINCIPLE'

Buenos Aires — (U.P.) — The Peruvian ambassador has informed Foreign Minister Enrique Ruiz Guinazu that Peru accepts "in principle" the offer of the United States, Brazil, and Argentina to mediate the Peruvian-Ecuadorian border dispute, it was announced officially last night. The announcement was made by Argentine Under-secretary of Foreign Affairs Roberto Gache, who said that the Peruvian acceptance contained reservations "which are not insoluble."

TRY TO DISTRACT BEIRUT OFFENSIVE

Halea, Palestine — (U.P.) — Military reports from the Syrian front last night indicated that Gen. Henri Dentz is shifting part of his French forces to the Damascus area in effort to distract the British troops and relieve the pressure on Beirut. British land and naval guns continued to pound the area north and south of Beirut yesterday but did not fire on the city itself. Beirut was well lighted last night, and observers believed that if the British should break through the weary French defenses sooner than General Dentz expects, they will walk into an open town.

RUSS LAND PARACHUTISTS

Helsinki — (U.P.) — The Russian air force has landed Soviet parachutists in the Helsinki region and is offering rugged resistance to German-Finnish aerial thrusts all along the 600-mile Arctic front, Finnish military reports said last night.

NAZIS USE 'POISON'

Moscow — (U.P.) — The official Soviet spokesman, S. A. Lozovsky, alleged late Friday that evidence has been obtained of the Germans' use of "poisonous substances" against the Russians. Lozovsky, vice-commissar of foreign affairs, said that Russia had not resorted to such poisonous substances but had warned in a communique on June 28 that the Germans were preparing to adopt such inhumane methods of warfare.

U. S. WORKERS IN EIRE

London — (U.P.) — Many American technicians and laborers are working on war projects in northern Ireland, the United States embassy revealed Friday in connection with reports, denied by the British foreign office, that American air and naval bases were being constructed there. The embassy emphasized that the Americans were hired by Great Britain and were working solely under British direction. In its parallel statement the foreign office stressed the same point.

SEIZE 16 AXIS SHIPS

Washington — (U.P.) — The United States last night took over 16 Axis ships on grounds their German and Italian owners had forfeited their rights to the vessels by permitting them to be sabotaged. The seizure was ordered by the treasury department under authority of the espionage act of 1917.

Taken over were 15 Italian and one German vessel. They were among the 28 Italian and two German craft taken into "protective custody" by this country three months ago.

PLANE PRODUCTION HIGH

Los Angeles — (U.P.) — The Southern California aircraft industry Friday night revealed that production of war planes has reached an all-time high and that the planes rolling off the assembly lines are equal or superior to any in the European skies.

The mammoth Douglas Aircraft company jubilantly disclosed that its dive-bombers out-perform any aircraft of a similar type engaged in actual combat in the Nazi drive against Russia. These planes are in quantity production now.

OPPOSES DRAFT EXTENSION

Washington — (U.P.) — Speaker Sam Rayburn said Friday after a conference with Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and Army Chief of Staff Gen. George C. Marshall that he still opposes legislation to retain selectees beyond their one year of service.

DRAFT OFFICIAL SENTENCED

New York — (U.P.) — Irving Schiller, former member of Brooklyn draft board 182, was sentenced Friday to three years in prison for accepting a $100 bribe to aid a registrant to evade military service. He was the first draft board official in the nation sentenced to prison for accepting a bribe.

13 INJURED IN DERAILMENT

Fort Wayne, Ind. — (U.P.) — Thirteen passengers and crewmen were injured Friday when six cars of a combination passenger, mail, and express train of the Pennsylvania railroad were derailed at Monroeville, Ind., 16 miles east of here.

fenses and smash through the main Russian line they might drive on with lightning speed toward Moscow or wheel southward and envelop the Red army forces in the Ukraine, gaining a springboard for the Caucasus.

Obviously, it was said, the Germans have suffered great losses in the initial phase of the battle of Russia but the best available reports indicated that the Germans lack neither manpower nor materials to push the attack.

The new German offensive was presumed to have been launched on the vital central sector of the front where, with the exception of the relatively easy push across the Baltic states, the Germans have made their deepest penetration.

RUSS CLAIM TO BE HOLDING

The key points on this central front are Polotsk, Lepel, and Bobruisk. The Russians claim still to be in possession of both Polotsk and Lepel where they have undertaken strong counter-assaults but the situation around Bobruisk remained obscure last night and the Nazi penetration there may have developed considerably, it was reported.

Informed quarters in London said that, after the bitter fighting of the last two weeks along the Russian front, the Germans had been compelled to slow down their drive due to difficulties of supply, fatigue, and the necessity of reorganizing the panzer forces.

The German strategy was believed in British military circles to involve an attempt to repeat the breakthrough at Sedan at the western end of the French Maginot line just a year ago which opened the way for the Nazi panzer units to strike through the channel coast.

NAZIS TRY 'TURNING MOVE'

In the same manner, it was speculated, the Germans apparently are trying to turn the Stalin line in the Ostrov sector, where they are said to be throwing enormous mechanized forces and waves of dive-bombers.

German unofficial claims of the capture of Ostrov, thus far lacking high command confirmation, would place the Nazis astride the important Berlin-Warsaw-Leningrad railroad as well as the main arterial road known as the Petersburg-Chaussee connecting Berlin, the Latvian capital of Riga and Leningrad.

It is believed here that the Russians have ample reserves and mechanized equipment in the Leningrad military district to meet the German threat there.

Even Super-Cops Get Tickets

Iowa City, Ia., July 11—(U.P.)—When Iowa City police found a car that had been left for two days and two nights in a 10-minute parking zone, they left a ticket for its owner.

Late today, the irate owner appeared at the station.

He was Karl Fischer, Iowa commissioner of public safety, here to assist with a police officers' short course.
