Will Present Shakespeare's Plays in July

Dramatic Series Will be Given
By New York
Group

SHAW'S WORKS ON LIST

A modern play, two Shakespearian comedies, and a group of four one-act plays comprise the varied and interesting dramatic series to be given by the Shakespeare players of New York, July 6, 7, and 8, in the Open Air theatre.

"Camida," one of George Bernard Shaw's brilliant comedies, will be presented Thursday evening and the following night Shakespeare's comedy of romantic love, "Twelfth Night," will be given. Saturday afternoon's entertainment will be another Shakespearian play, "The Taming of the Sow," while the evening's program will consist of four one-act plays.

The first of these short plays is "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets" by Shaw. Two other of these short plays are from the pen of John M. Synge, and the fourth is by Lady Gregory. Of these plays, "Riders to the Sea," by Synge is a tragedy of the highest order, lightened only by the queer twists of Irish peasant speech. It is a play which is full of emotion although quite short. "The Shadow of the Glen" by the same playwright, is a skit in which the humor and pathos are mingled in the manner so characteristic of Synge. Lady Gregory's "Rising of the Moon" is a dramatic incident treated with such skill and power that critics have admired it as greatly as playgoers have enjoyed it.

The Shakespeare company is directed by Frank McEntee, who for a number of years was an actor with the original Ben Greet players, and later, associate director of the Copley theatre in Boston. Mr. McEntee plays leading roles in his own company which is making a tour of the middle-west this summer.

It has been through the efforts of Dean S. H. Goodnight, director of the summer school, that the company will appear here. This will be the initial performance of the Shakespeare Players company in Madison. Miss Elsie Herndon Kearns, a present member of the cast, appeared here, however, in her own company which played in the open air theatre three years ago.

MILITARY CAMPS CALL EIGHTY MEN

Over eighty University students have joined the military camps. The cadets left for camp June 15 and will remain there for 6 weeks. A group of 25 infantry men were sent to Camp Custer, 27 field artillery men were sent to Camp Knox, 14 men from the ordinance department went to Camp Aberdeen, 14 signal corps left for Camp Custer, and one infantry man went to Fort Snelling.

All the students will receive all their expenses including railroad fare. However, the advanced students will get $1 a day in addition to expenses, whereas the basic students receive only expenses.

To Show Hugo Movie Tonight

"Les Miserables" Will Be On Program in Music Hall

The motion picture production of Victor Hugo's "Les Miserables," a Fox production, in which William Farnum is starring as Jean Val Jean, will be shown tonight in the auditorium of Music Hall. There will be two performances, one at 7 o'clock and the other at 8:45 o'clock. Although the first performance is often crowded, there will be plenty of room to accommodate the overflow at the second showing of the famous Jean Val Jean.

In conjunction with this Fox release will be shown a comedy, "Home James," which promises as much amusement as its name suggests.

Next week the historical story of the "Man Without a Country," in which the scenes were taken in the actual spots in which they occurred. All the naval scenes were taken on board the U. S. S. Constitution.

"My Own United States" is the title under which the film is released. Arnold Daly is starring.

"Striking Tires," an industrial cartoon, and a juvenile film, "The Pied Piper of Hamelin," will be shown that night also.

The University Extension Bureau intends to conduct these weekly performances during the entire summer session.

Youthful Band To Appear In Open Air Concert Tomorrow

Wild Rose Boys and Girls Are Example of Rural Spirit

An open air concert on Lincoln terrace will be given tomorrow night by the Wild Rose community band, composed of 22 boys and girls who will travel more than 100 miles by auto to get here. The band is under the leadership of The Rev. Mansfield, pastor of the community church at Wild Rose. Reverend Mansfield planned to bring his boys and girls to Madison for the entertainment of the Rural Church conference. Dean Scott H. Goodnight persuaded them to give their concert in the open air in order that the summer school students as well as the residents of Madison might enjoy their program.

"This is one of the finest examples of real community spirit which we have to offer," said J. H. Kolb of the College of Agriculture yesterday. Kolb is in charge of a flock of stars one season and which is being held this week and next.

"The loyalty to their little group, the pure enjoyment which these young people get out of their work, and the pleasure they afford others are making Reverend Mansfield's community church a vital force in bettering rural living. It is methods and problems like this that the 65 country and village clergymen are coming to Madison to talk over."

Subscriptions for the Summer Session Cardinal are being received at the Union building office, 752 Langdon street. Price for the six weeks is $1.00.

Today's edition of the Cardinal is the first to be delivered on regular routes. If you do not receive your copy call B 6608. Reliable carriers leave the paper at your address Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings between six and seven o'clock.

Look For New High Mark In Registration

Expect Late Arrivals to Boost
Enrollment to At Least 48000

EVERY CLASS IS LARGE

Promising to exceed by at least 200 students the high record set last year the summer session enrollment late this afternoon continued to increase setting a new mark well above 4500.

Late arrivals that will continue to drift in for the first two weeks are expected to top the final check with at least 4800. Practically every course shows a marked increase in attendance, and in some cases dangers of over-crowding are threatened. Several classes have been moved to larger rooms to accommodate the unusual attendance.

Classes Run Smoothly.

Lectures and classes were running smoothly this morning, due to the new scheme of starting off on the first day rather than devote it also to the process of registration. Efficient operation of the machinery essential to matriculation enabled this year's summer session student to enroll with a minimum amount of effort. The customary long lines in waiting before various offices were considerably reduced in size.

This year's record registration boosts Wisconsin well up among the high ranking summer institutions. Records have been shattered completely in the last 12 years. A steady increase can be noted in the figures for these sessions which show the following facts: 1905, 528; 1909, 1128; 1915, 1825; 1919, 3217; 1920, 3600.

"DISTINGUISHED" IS AGAIN AWARDED TO R. O. T. C. UNIT

Honor Rating is Given For Fourth Successive Year

Honorable mention has again been accorded the Cadet Corps of the University by the War department. For the fourth consecutive year the R. O. T. C. has received a "distinguished" rating for excellence in military work.

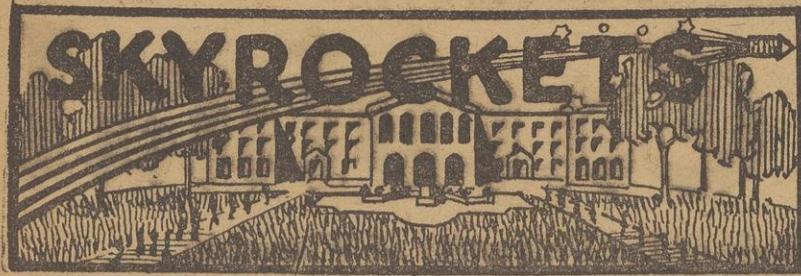

On May 30, over 1,500 University cadets were inspected by General George Bell, Jr. of the Sixth Corps of the U. S. army, and his staff. All phases of the department's work were reviewed by the General and it is on the basis of this exhibition that the rating was given.

In a letter to President Birge from the War department Secretary Weeks said, "The Secretary of War has directed that his sincere congratulations be conveyed to you for your excellent showing."

The R. O. T. C. was subjected to competitive review along with a majority of the universities of the country. Only 11 others received a similar honorary rating.

In view of the fact that this is the fourth consecutive year that the University's military department has received recognition from Washington, this record sets a standard which will be the goal of all future undertakings of the military department.

Calumet county sent 44 students including 34 men and 10 women, to the university during the past year.

Food Values Stressed At Advent Meet

Dr. Ingersol in Report
And Demonstration of Hospital Work

A discussion of food values and proper treatment of the human body to keep it holy in the sight of God, featured the conferences of the Seventh Day Adventists, encamped at Monona park, yesterday. At a meeting of the Wisconsin Medical and Missionary and Benevolent association, which represents the constituency of the Madison sanitarium, Dr. Ingersoll, medical director, gave a report of the sanitarium for 1921. The treasurer's report was also submitted and read by P. L. Larson, the secretary of the board of trustees.

Dr. Ingersoll spoke on the importance of the use of nature's remedies which he said are pure air, pure water, pure food, regulation of work and exercise with proper relaxation, and simple trust in God. He emphasized the idea that if men and women would devote themselves to such a program they could expect their Creator to guide and protect them in times of danger and epidemics.

The talk was followed by demonstrations of food showing the importance of making a simple selection of those foods which are most nourishing in preference to manufactured and concentrated foods which are deficient in health producing properties. The fruits and vegetables and legumes, dairy products and cereals were arranged in groups showing the comparative caloric value. In connection with the demonstration, the special health giving properties of each class of foods was explained and advice given regarding dietetic principles. Special stress was laid on the fact that the use of meats is not essential to proper nutrition, but all the food elements together with the necessary salts and vitamins are obtained from the vegetable kingdom. The use of whole wheat bread and unpolished rice was urged very emphatically instead of the common white bread and polished rice.

Special demonstration was made of a few articles which would be of practical service in every home in the giving of simple treatments. Mrs. Karr, in charge of the ladies' treatment rooms at the sanitarium, explained how these articles can be used to give various tonic and sedative applications by water as they are used in the sanitarium.

Today was devoted to home missionary features of denominational work. Tomorrow will be educational day.

The Speech Clinic which was held in the Madison high school last summer will be opened again in the auditorium of the central high school Monday under the direction of Dr. Smiley Blanton. Hours will be from 1:30 to 2:30 daily, except Saturday and Sunday.

Oh Boy! 14681 Cars of Melons Is Shipped North

CHICAGO—Increased movements of fruits and vegetables to markets generally brought price declines, the U. S. Bureau of Markets weekly fruit and vegetable review issued today, indicated.

Heavy shipments of watermelons, the movement to date of 14,681 cars, being nearly double the shipments of the corresponding period last year, caused declines of $100 to $300 a car in eastern markets. In Chicago the market closed strong at $250 to $500 a car. Texas stock sold in Kansas City at $2.50 to $3 a hundred pounds.

Cantaloupes likewise declined with increasing supplies. California Salmon tins standard 45's dropped to $2@$4 per crate in eastern cities and $1 to $1.50 in the middle west, closing at a general range of $3 to $3.75.

Peaches generally were lower, due to heavy shipments. Georgia Hileys in sixes and bushel baskets declined $1 to $1.50 in most cities.

Potato shipments, however, decreased and the market strengthened. Virginia was the heaviest shipping state and Irish Cobblers from the eastern shore brought $4.50 to $5.50 a barrel in leading eastern cities. A loss of 75c in Chicago brought prices there to $5@$5.15 a barrel.

LAKE REGULATIONS

1. All canoes to be off the lake at 10 p. m.
2. Whistle blows at 9:30. The university boat house closes half an hour later.
3. One life preserver must be carried for each occupant.
4. Canoes are not to be overloaded.
5. No canoes to be taken out in bad weather.
6. In case of trouble observers should telephone the university boat house or pumping station. The siren whistle will then notify Capt. Isabel of the direction in which the trouble has occurred.

A few students are violating the lake regulations again this summer. These few probably belong to the class which advocate personal liberty, not realizing that the rules were made for their own benefit.

The six simple regulations listed above should be observed, for Lake Mendota has a habit of springing into sudden fury on a summer afternoon or evening. Storms come up with amazing rapidity, overloaded canoes are caught in the middle of the lake without sufficient life preservers, and Captain Isabel is called upon to exercise unusual efforts to prevent another student drowning.

Students attending the summer session may not be aware of the dangers lurking in the waters of Lake Mendota. Others are careless in observing the regulations. It is these careless ones who jeopardize the lives of those who are with them.

If another victim is claimed for Mendota this summer as the result of carelessness or unwillingness to obey the rules, it will probably result in more stringent regulations.

MORE PARKING SPACE

New occasions teach new duties. What formerly was adequate to fill the needs of the time has become but the proverbial drop in a full bucket.

We speak of the parking space for cars in the rear of Bascom hall.

Until this summer this parking space has seemed ample for the needs. Now it is wholly inadequate. On Tuesday morning there were more than 75 cars parked in this little space. Those who drove their cars up the hill to eight o'clock were unable to get them out until after twelve for other cars, driving up behind them, closed the exits. The drivers of the blocked cars were forced to wait until the cars around them were removed before they could get their own. Thus proving that it may not always be handy to own an automobile.

It proves also that either more parking space must be provided or that some rules will need to be made so that there will be a known and efficient system for the utilization of the space already given to that use.

There is a third alternative,—that of leaving the automobiles at home. This would assuredly not be popular, nor do we believe that it is necessary. Surely there is a way that parking may be accomplished which would work hardship on no one and benefit all. While the proper authorities are evolving the means it devolves upon all car owners to use as much consideration as possible when parking their cars in the space provided.

The situation can be much improved by the drivers themselves. They can observe the directions posted on the various approaches to the hill. They should not park their car on the driveway nor in front of the Biology Building or Bascom hall. With a little co-operation between car owners and the university authorities the present parking difficulty may easily be avoided.

YOU HAVE TO FIT

"Education helps you to fit in."

To the employment secretary of a large dry-goods store this statement is attributed. Never were words more true, for to make one "fit in" is one of the greatest results of a successful education. If one is not trained to adjust himself rapidly, his education has been unsuccessful.

The world is full of those who do not "fit." The number of "failures" in life is larger than the number of "successes." They are seen in the office, in the shop, on the farm, in the schools. They belong to the great class of misplaced mortals who go sooner or later into the ranks of the down-and-out.

To "fit," one must have a well-rounded education. This must not be considered only in its relation to academic work. It means also that the student must branch out into college activities, read the current papers and magazines, study the trend of the times, and participate as far as possible in the march of events.

The student who goes through school neglecting the social side of college life has not obtained an education. He must learn to meet people with an absolute lack of self-consciousness. He must feel at ease in the presence of his superiors, equals, and inferiors. He must acquire a self-reliance that makes him at home anywhere. Only then will he "fit."—Ohio State Lantern.

PHONOGRAPH BRAINS

One of the frequent complaints made against our system of education is that it does not afford adequate training of the memory. The average individual who is graduated from high school or even from college is found to be deficient in memory.

A statement was made recently by one of the leading memory experts of the country to the effect that man ordinarily uses but one percent of his eight to ten billion brain cells through not understanding the correct use of his mental faculties. And the memory experts believe that a great number of the unused cells are those in the seat of memory.

The scientist concludes that the trouble is not that our educational system does not try to develop the memory but that it takes the wrong methods. Training is the grade schools aim to develop the memory by the old mechanical method of teaching by repetition—a method which consists in merely learning how to think through association similarity or contrast, can never be developed in a life time devoted to the repetition method.

The only kind of memory which seems worthwhile to spend time in developing is that which insures the trained power does not result in the power to think in a straight line and to visualize it stands to reason that such development is a failure for all practical purposes.

Until our educational system succeeds in discouraging the repetition method of memory development it can expect to turn out human parrots whose memory will not exceed the bounds of their filing-cabinet brains.—Daily Iowan.

Alderman Of Madison Opposes Carnivals Here

Alderman A. R. Rhode — I am opposed to the carnivals coming to this town. At the last common council meeting Asa B. Groves of the first ward opened a discussion on the carnivals and I agree with him and several others in the council that the license fees should be raised to such an extent that it would prohibit their coming to this town. The fee is now $150 a day. The carnivals are nothing but a bunch of junk anyway and take the money out of the city that should be kept in our community.

Alderman Roy H. Proctor, fifth ward — I am opposed to the carnivals coming to this town. It will not do any good to raising the license fees will not as long as the custom of refunding the license fees to the different associations that bring carnivals here continues. There must be some sort of definite action taken, such as absolutely prohibiting the carnivals from showing in this city. I put my name with those who are against the carnivals.

Alderman E. F. Gibbs, second ward — We should abolish carnivals in this city altogether. There should be no compromising in any way. Merely raising the license fees will not do any good. We should take action to keep them out of the city entirely. They are a menace to the moral and economic welfare of our community.

Alderman W. L. Dowling, fourth ward — Drive them out of town; refuse to grant them a license. They are no good. They take the money out of the city and bring us nothing but bad morals and give the youth of the city a bad impression. Let us do something that will abolish this nuisance.

HEROINE DEFIES SEA TIGER TO SAVE FRIEND

A tale of heroism, seldom equaled and never excelled is that of Miss Mary Buhner's vain attempt to rescue Miss Dorothy McClatchie after the latter had been attacked by a vicious sea tiger in the ocean off St. Petersburg, Fla. Defying the monster which had attacked her chum and almost severed a leg, and a mile out in the Atlantic, Miss Buhner swam to the rescue of Miss Mc-

PLAN STUDY OF LOCAL GEOLOGY

Course Will Begin After Close Of Summer Session

A four weeks' course in field geology will be given by the university immediately after the close of the summer session. The general work in the course will be relative to geology, physiography, and local geography of an area around Devil's Lake, with field work covering a wide range of problems. A few days will be spent in studying features near Madison, Waterloo, Camp Douglas, and the dells of the Wisconsin River at Kilbourn. During the remainder of the period the class will camp at Devil's Lake, working out from there. Evenings will be set aside for study and discussion of field work.

Grants Six Credits.

Six university credits will be given for satisfactory work in the course including a topic covering the essentials of the work. The credits may be counted toward the science requirements provided that the remaining credits are secured in residence in geology. The credits may also count for graduate work.

The course is open only to men, preferably those who have had some work in geology or geography, but mature students and instructors may take the course without prerequisites.

Full information concerning details of the course may be obtained by application to Mr. G. H. Smith, 318 Science hall.

Includes Rocky Mountains.

Field studies of the physiography of the Rocky Mountain region and of the physiography and geology of the area around Devil's Lake and the Baraboo district, Wisconsin, will be made by those enrolling in the two field trip courses.

The other courses given will make use of a large amount of illustrative material, besides including short field excursions. Lantern slides, pictures, maps, and models showing the topographic form and geological structure of various regions will be used to illustrate the lectures.

About 80 students in the College of Engineering will take the course in railway surveying in the camp near Devil's Lake.

The camp opened June 9, and is under the direction of Prof. Ray S. Owen of the College of Engineering. Prof. Leslie F. Van Hagen will direct the preliminary surveying in connection with railway construction work.

The nine courses to be given here are: 1. general geology with weekly field excursions; 2. physical geography, with visits to Devil's Lake and the Dells of the Wisconsin River; 3. commercial and industrial geography for teachers; 4. the new world, a study of some of the important changes, especially in Europe, resulting from the World war, and of the commercial and other relations of the United States and Latin America and between the United States and the Far East; 5. the geography of Latin America; 6. overseas commerce; 7. agricultural geography; 8. glaciers and glaciation; and 9. climatic factors in geography.

New Maternity Ward For St. Mary's Hospital Plan; Will Provide Child's Room

In the proposed development of St. Mary's hospital, one of the major plans is the addition of a maternity ward. With this special equipment, which will include a nursery for the newborn, St. Mary's will have facilities for general hospital service equal to any in the middle west. The present limited equipment makes impossible any special emphasis on maternity work. The needs in this line have been felt for so long that the hospital management has deemed this improvement heavily justified in the prospective expansion program.

St. Mary's has operated under a handicap in receiving maternity cases because of this lack of equipment, and has had to require that all obstetrical cases be cared for by special nurses brought in by the patient. The existing operating rooms serve for obstetrical rooms at present, and private rooms must be utilized for the purpose when the overtaxed facilities fall short during emergencies.

A maternity department would not only be a boon to St. Mary's in filling the demand, but, according to Dr. H. M. Carter, secretary-treasurer of the hospital, it will greatly relieve the situation in the city. Other hospitals receiving maternity cases are as crowded as St. Mary's as a rule, and the addition of from 25 to 50 beds for these cases will enable the hospitalization of hundreds yearly that otherwise must depend upon care in the home, which invariably involves handicap and usually is more expensive to the patient.

Dr. E. V. Brumbaugh health officer stated that Madison's exceptionally low infant death rate is largely attributable to the fact that the majority of maternity cases are now hospitalized.

In no hospital in Madison at present, except Bradley Memorial, is a children's room provided. It is pointed out that such rooms in general hospitals are necessary to the care of sick children, because here they may be cared for by nurses, especially trained for such work, and the mothers relieved of the responsibility while the cases are within the hospital walls. At present only private rooms are available for such cases as St. Mary's, and private nurses often must be called for such duty. A children's room, in prospect in the new plans for St. Mary's, will contribute to better care and more economy for the parents of child patients.

Fox Hound, Thought Mad, is Killed

Hubert W. LeBre, Madison attorney, lost one of his month old pure bred fox hounds, shot by Patrolman Carroll Seaman near the Gould, Wells & Blackburn Co. warehouse, W. Main st., Monday night.

According to Mr. LeBre, the dog was sick and seemed to be attacked with a sudden acute pain. He fled up Main st. and stopped at the vacant lot near the warehouse and began rolling around. Patrolman Seaman, thinking the dog to be mad, shot him. The dog was one of two very valuable hounds which Mr. LeBre was training to use for fox hunting. The other dog was injured a few weeks ago and may not recover.

The Daughters of the American Revolution have just announced their purpose to raise a fund of $80,000 for the purchase of "Kenmore," at Fredericksburg, Virginia, the former home of Col. Fielding Lewis and his wife, Betty Washington, George Washington's sister. Aside from the historic associations connected with this old colonial mansion which Washington visited frequently and where he was entertained for long periods at a time, the fact that many of the artistic frescoes were designed by young George Washington adds interest. At that time the ornamenting of ceilings and mantels was all handwork and Washington sent two Hessian prisoners, artisans, captured at the battle of Trenton, to carry out his designs.

"Cool and Colorful"—New Display In Museum Gallery for Artists

The Historical library was reopened today with a new selection of paintings by C. Raymond Johnson. Mr. H. Brown, curator, has just returned from a week's absence. He promises many interesting exhibits and is featuring the paintings of C. Raymond Johnson. Mr. Johnson although only thirty-one years of age, has painted extensively. His approach to art is through the imagination.

The walls are hung with some twenty-eight pictures painted by this young artist. A glance shows the artist, in his placid representations of nature, to have a "sense of art all his own." The bright shades of blue with which he has painted cast a blue light over the room. The "Mood of Night" with its blue tinged mountain over-shadowing the house in the valley catches the eye. "The Decree" with its flash of lightning striking the toppling rock—all a study in blue—is appealing.

"The Window," "Sea Mood," "Shylock," "Silent Spaces," "Violet Light,"—all are there.

The museum is cool. The calm of this artist's restful scenes makes it cooler.
