WOMEN'S GROUPS CHANGE REGIMES, ELECT MEMBERS

Alberta Johnson Takes W. S. G. A.; 32 Elected to Freshman Commission

W. S. G. A. and Y. W. C. A. administrations changed from the old regime to the new last night when the twenty-eighth year of the W. S. G. A. was closed at the W. S. G. A. board meeting, by Alice Corl '25, retiring president and the Freshman commission of 32 women was picked by the retiring executive council of Y. W. C. A., at the annual banquet which was held in Wesley foundation hall.

"Administrations in W. S. G. A. can come to an end but the work for the women of Wisconsin will never be finished as long as there are any Wisconsin women," Miss Corl said as she turned the executive chair over to Alberta Johnson '26, president of W. S. G. A.

Nardin Gives Praise

The newly elected officers took their installation vows before the old officers and the board, following an informal banquet for the old and new officers held in Lathrop. Margaret Ashton '26 succeeded Helen Clausen '25 as vice president; Peggy Read '27 succeeded Margaret Ashton '26 as secretary; Genevieve Ellis '26 succeeded Elizabeth Tompkins as treasurer; Jane Gaston '27 succeeded Dorothy Strauss '26, as census chairman; Gwen Drake '26 was installed as chairman of the judiciary committee.

"The retiring administration has worked through a year which has needed intelligent leadership and courage and I feel that they have met the situation wisely and they leave a definite challenge to the new officers," Dean F. Louise Nardin said.

BOWMAN TO GIVE LECTURE SERIES

Noted Geographer to Address
Students Today, Tomorrow and Saturday

Dr. Isaiah Bowman, director of the American Geographical Society, will give a series of three lectures relating to different phases of geology and geography today, Friday and Saturday.

At 4:30 today in the Biology building auditorium he will speak on "Geographical Aspects of International Relations." In this talk citations will be made from Dr. Bowman's personal experiences when he was in charge of the changing of boundaries at the peace conference at Paris. He has also been an explorer in South America.

Dr. Bowman's second lecture will be delivered at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the auditorium of the Biology building and will be on "Man and Nature in the Central Andes." This talk will be founded on Dr. Bowman's experiences in exploring South America.

"Geographical Influences in Human Affairs" will be the third address of Dr. Bowman's to be delivered at 11 o'clock Saturday morning in 217 Science hall.

Engineers to Cast Final Ballots For Patron Saint Today

At the closing of the polls yesterday in the engineers' St. Pat elections Robert N. Morris '26, civil engineer, was leading the field with Daniel Kelly '25 and Bruce F. Reinhardt '25 following closely behind him. The election will close promptly at 5:30 o'clock today. The candidate receiving the largest number of votes will be honored as St. Pat.

Following the regular monthly meeting of the Mining club last night a large collection was taken to back its candidate in the finale of today's balloting.

After several days of anxiety the mystery of the missing blarney stone has been solved. The historic treasure was found in a safe hiding place in the applied arts building. This is the original blarney stone, and it is being carefully guarded.

All departments of the university are being placed under the scrutinizing eyes of the engineers. Any irregularities or unconventionalities of any department or college will be presented before the spectators in an original manner. Even the truce with the lawyers may be broken.

PLAN TOURS FOR VISITORS TO EXPO

Guests Will Be Taken on Excursion Around the Campus and City

In connection with the exhibits of the university exposition, a large number of entertainment features and conveniences for the visitors are being planned by the special features department under the management of Mary Devine '25. Auto trips and boat tours, a new feature, will be operated during the exposition, according to Miss Devine '25.

De Longewill be taken on tours around the campus and city, and boat rides have been arranged to show them the scenery around the lakes. Hours for these excursions will be announced later.

Those in charge of the tours are Elizabeth Sears '25, chairman, Robert Pabst '27, Alfred Moorehead '27, James Sheldon '27, Helen Blake '25, and Anna Fox '25.

Entertainment during the exposition will consist of music furnished by university groups, including the concert band, orchestra, the Girls' Glee club, and the men's quartet. Special vaudeville and features will be given every afternoon and evening. The entertainment committee members are Sally Fletcher '25, chairman, Helen Cody '27, Malcolm Beardmore '28, and Edwin Sorenson '27.

The department will maintain a bureau of information regarding the exposition at each of the depots and bus stations. In front of the men's gymnasium there will be a booth at which all who visit the exhibits will be registered. This feature is being handled by the information committee, in charge of Dorothy King '25, assisted by Lois Bacon '26, Doris Burdick '26, and Robert Earle '27.

CLEAN UP YOUR CANOES, FOLKS! "CAP" LAUNCHES ISABEL IN WEEK

Get your canoe out, folks, we're going to beat the open-lake record of last year by three weeks," "Cap" Isabel says.

Lake Wingra is free of ice already, and Mendota and Monona are following suit rapidly. If a few more of the vagrant spring breezes will shove the ice-sheet around a bit more, George Martin of the athletic department will not be the only one to take an early morning dip in Mendota. George tried his hand at the lake yesterday morning, and some time later in the day a few of the university canoes tried theirs.

"Cap" Isabel and "Bill" Bernard don't agree perfectly about the exact day on which we will bid the last signs of winter farewell, but they both tell us the lifeboat will be out by April 1.

VISITS TO INFIRMARY BARRED BY DISEASE

Necessity of preventing the spread of contagious diseases has barred visitors from the infirmary during the past week. There have been approximately 25 cases of mumps, eight cases of measles and four cases of scarlet fever reported there during the past week. Mumps cases are quarantined for a minimum of two weeks. The infirmary is filled to capacity at present.

APPROVE GREEK SCHOLARSHIP PLAN

Interfraternity Council Recommends Measure Designed to Raise Averages

That each social fraternity shall maintain a definite average of grade points equal to credits is a proposed new scholastic regulation for fraternities which was approved by the Interfraternity council at a recent meeting.

This regulation, which will be recommended to the faculty by the committee on student life and interests, remains to be adopted by that body. However, no opposition to the plan is expected, according to S. H. Goodnight, dean of men.

The regulation also states that a fraternity failing to reach the minimum standard of grade points equal to credits goes on probation for a semester without penalty. A fraternity which remains on probation more than one semester in succession forfeits social privileges and the privilege of initiation until it attains the prescribed average. A fraternity may appeal to the committee on student life and interests for relief for any apparent injustice.

According to Dean Goodnight the plan is a perfectly feasible one, and will no doubt boost up some of the fraternities which have had consistently low scholastic averages.

MATHEWS GIVES ADDRESS TONIGHT

Professor Will Trace Progress of Chemistry During Last 25 Years

Prof. Joseph H. Mathews, director of the Course in Chemistry, will speak on the progress of chemistry in the last quarter century at 8 o'clock tonight in 165 Bascom hall under the auspices of Phi Kappa Phi.

Professor Mathews will tell how chemistry has made especial progress during the last quarter of a century, and how war did much to popularize the work of the chemist. He will give a brief outline of the constitution of matter, taking up the subject of catalysis, and will tell of the tremendous change in the rate of chemical reaction which results from the minute traces of foreign substances under the fixation of nitrogen.

Phi Kappa Phi has presented a series of lectures this year covering the significant lines of progress in the last quarter of a century. The fields covered were medicine by Dr. Arthur S. Loevenhart of the Medical school, capital and labor by Prof. J. R. Commons of the economics department, zoology by Prof. M. F. Guyer of the zoology department, and radio communication by Prof. E. M. Terry of the physics department.

The lecture tonight will cover the chemistry field, while the last lecture of the year will be one on international relations, which Prof. F. A. Ogg of the political science department will give April 23.

KHAKI, TUX ARE DRESS FOR BALL

Service Men and War Veterans Will Wear Their Respective Uniforms

Either uniforms or tuxedos will be the proper dress for the thirteenth annual Military ball which will be held in the capitol on April 3, was the statement made yesterday by Horace S. Fries '25, adjutant.

"We are encouraging everyone who has a uniform to wear it," said Fries. "Uniforms will be strictly in keeping with the military atmosphere of the ball, and every member of the cadet brigade and staff will be expected to wear it." — De Longe Fries '25

Those who do not have uniforms will wear tuxedos or dress suits."

Ex-service men, army and navy officers, Spanish war veterans, members of the Officers' Reserve Corps, and members of other military organizations are planning to wear their respective uniforms, according to Clifford C. Franseen '25, chief of staff.

"Many inquiries have been received in regard to the proper dress for the ball, and we are urging everyone who has a uniform to wear it," said Franseen. "The vari-colored uniforms should lend a decidedly military aspect to the function, and make it entirely in accord with our policy for the ball."

FOSDICK RECEIVES FACULTY PRAISE

Leader of Religious Conference Tomorrow is Outstanding Preacher

A real man who makes friends quickly and who captures audiences both with his style of speaking and his thoughts. Such a man is Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick who opens the religious conference tomorrow night in Lathrop hall, according to faculty men and others who know him and have had contact with him.

"Fosdick is undoubtedly the outstanding preacher of the twentieth century and his appeal rests on the fact that he interprets in the modern way the bible and spiritual doctrines which have become dry to so many people. He brings spiritual thoughts and the bible up to date in a manner which interests students," Prof. A. B. Hall said yesterday.

Expressions in praise of Dr. Fosdick were made by Dean S. H. Goodnight, Dean F. Louise Nardin, Prof. C. V. Hibbard, C. G. Dittmer, and other members of the faculty.

Dr. Fosdick is the author of "The Manhood of the Master," "Twelve Tests of Character," and "The Meaning of Prayer," and other books. He has been a pastor and professor in Union Theological seminary since 1905, and recently left the New York Presbyterian church after a doctrinal controversy with the Presbyterian synod.

WEST HAS STAR WEIGHT MEN, BUT JONES' HOPES HIGH

Schwartz Sure to Be Near Front, Tressler Looks Good

The climate of California seems conducive to producing powerful weight men and the Golden Bears will have a strong array of shot putters and discus and hammer throwers to pit against the Wisconsin entries. In spite of this formidable outlook Coach Jones is planning on the Badger strong men to place in all the weight events. Schwartz is the recognized king of shot putters in the Big Ten and as long as he tosses the shot around the 47 foot mark he will force any of the Golden Gate stars to go the limit.

Besides his prowess as a shot putter, the big Wisconsin sophomore is a discus tosser of no mean ability. Of late he has been hurling it in a fashion similar to Arlie Mucks. Out at Camp Randall his marks are close to the 150 foot mark, and before he graduates two years hence it will be no surprise to see him holder of the records in the shot and discus now held by Mucks.

Tressler at Hammer
Tressler, heaver of the hammer, is another coming weight man who will account for himself against the touted western stars.

Other weight men who are fighting for a place among the squad of three weight men which Coach Jones plans to take to the coast are Aller and Schroeder in the discus and shot, and "Red" Kreuz in the javelin. Both Allen and Schroeder have been getting good distance in the javelin, and one of them may see action in the meet April 11. Kreuz has been devoting his time to javelin throwing for the past two weeks and appears to be the best bet for Wisconsin in the event. Coach Jones hopes to have him hurling the javelin close to 190 feet before the end of the season.

PRESBYTERIANS PLAN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

A campaign to increase the membership of the university Presbyterian church by 100 members before Easter Sunday is now being made by the staff and members of the church. In the past three Sundays 30 persons have been taken in, either to affiliated membership or regular church membership. Students who have their letters in their home churches may have an affiliated membership in the student church during their stay here without affecting their home membership.

Badger Gridders To Hold One More Indoor Practice

Badger Diamond Leader

Probably Will Work Out Outside From Now on; Good New Men

Today at 4:30 o'clock in the annex, the Badger gridders will gather for what promises to be the last indoor session of the year. At least twice a week this month, Coach Little has had the men working out in the annex in their old clothes, instructing them in the rudiments of the game.

The excess of warm spring weather has already given the track men an incentive for outdoor work and it is the belief of Coach Little that he can get his moleskin warriors into football togs and send them out to their old stamping ground at Camp Randall for some real work on the gridiron.

Talent Found

During these practices some high class talent in addition to last year's varsity material has been uncovered. Of course, a final opinion cannot be passed until the men workout on a real gridiron but from the work so far Cameron, a frosh end, looks like a likely candidate for a wing position along with Captain Polaski.

Several other frosh and all-American linemen have been showing up well and will give last year's varsity linemen, who will be back next year, a real battle for a berth on the Badger line of 1925.

Muegge Good

Muegge, a backfield man on the frosh team a year ago, but who shifted to tackle in trying out for the 1924 eleven, has reverted to his old position of fullback and is being watched favorably by the coaching staff. Muegge is heavy and fast and has developed an iron constitution from his work on Hitchcock's wrestling squad all of which fit in admirably with his work as a plunging back.

OUTING CLUB WILL HOLD MEETING IN LATHROP

The members of Outing club will hold their regular business meeting at 7:30 o'clock tonight on the fifth floor of Lathrop hall. New members will be admitted, and pins will be awarded to the women who have earned their points during the past sport season. Outing club is planning a program of outdoor events for the spring season which will be completed at the meeting tonight. Final arrangements for the breakfast hike that is to take place Sunday morning on the drive will also be made.

ADVERTISE IN THE CARDINAL

Ellingson, who is a stellar shortstop, will lead the Badger diamond squad on its spring campaign this year. The team leaves on its annual southern training trip on April 3.

A writing on papyrus, 3,500 years old, reveals a recipe for changing old men into young men. There were probably remedies for making the old young long before that papyrus was written. Adam probably thought about it, and Eve undoubtedly asked "Do I look older, dear?" after her first baby was born.

Scribes to Inspect Chicago Newspaper Organization Soon

The annual inspection trip to Chicago is being arranged for students by the Course in Journalism. The trip will be made Wednesday, April 8, the first day of the spring recess.

The party will leave Madison early Wednesday morning and upon arrival in Chicago will first inspect the Western Newspaper Union plant. Half-tones, zinc etchings, and color plates will be studied at the Barnes-Crosby company, Madison and Franklin streets. The receiving by wire, editing and distributing of news by the Associated Press, for which Chicago is the headquarters of the central division, will be watched.

The editorial room and business office of the Chicago Tribune will be inspected, and the printing of the Chicago American will also be witnessed.

ADVERTISE IN THE CARDINAL

Summer Session Has Steady Increase in Enrollment Numbers

Summer session enrollment has grown from 200 to nearly 5,000 students in the past 26 years.

The first session was inaugurated at Wisconsin in 1887, but no records have been found of the enrollment. In 1889, 104 students were enrolled. The 200 mark was not reached until 1898, but the number steadily increased, reaching 1,026 in 1908. The increase was constant until 1917, when the United States entered the World war, at which time there was a decrease of 794 students in the enrollment and a decrease of 1,032 in the preceding academic year.

In 1919, the summer session enrollment picked up rapidly, and exceeded any previous mark, the figure being 3,213. Now it is practically 5,000.

The distribution among the various colleges is first, the College of Letters and Science, second, College of Agriculture, third, College of Engineering, fourth, Law school, and fifth, Library school. The number of women taking summer session work in 1923 exceeded the number of men by 574.

other years, namely, Appleton and Superior.

New Glarus sent its squad of stocky athletes to the contest with small hopes for a victory, but the deed was done, and Appleton, third place winner last year, met defeat, 24-8.

Eau Claire and Superior played a hard fought game which Eau Claire safely stowed away, 23-18, and thus Superior was sent to the consolation round for the first time in its tournament history.

Some spectators at yesterday's games were enthusiastic over Waukesha's performance in its tilt with Montfort and look for Waukesha to end up on top, others see either Eau Claire, New Glarus, or La Crosse as the final champion after the hard games still remaining on the Badger court are finished.

Consolation Losers Out

Losers today in the consolation round will have finished their playing; losers in the championship series have one more chance in the third place series, an innovation this year.

A larger crowd than was present at the forenoon and afternoon sessions witnessed the three games last night and officials of the meet look forward to a larger attendance each day as the interest culminates in the battle royal for the championship Saturday night.

Gymnasts Will Perform

The Badger gymnastic squad will give an exhibition of parallel bar periods of the tilts.

New Glarus Surprises

Springing the first surprise of the tournament, New Glarus handed the expected title-contending Appleton quintet a bad defeat when the New Glarus men won the first game of the initial round of the tournament by a 24-8 score. The powerful offense of the New Glarus men was too strong for the weak Appleton defense, and the victors were able to sweep down the floor almost at will.

Sarbacher led the scoring for
New Glarus with six field goals.
Appleton attempted as many shots as the victors, but made only three field goals in the entire game. The Appleton men showed flashes of ability at times but these were short lived and brought them few goals:

Beloit Wins Game

In a hard fought game Beloit beat River Falls 16 to 11. The game was hotly contested and the score at the end of the first half was 9 to 7 in favor of Beloit. Fredendahl and Moldenhauer showed up well for the winning team with three basketse ach.

Bliss and Manion starred for the losers. The River Falls five displayed better teamwork than Beloit, but they were off form on basket shooting. The passing and the handling of the ball by River Falls was better than that of the Beloit quint.

Lineup:

Beloit River Falls
Drager RF Carisch
Fredendahl LF Standish
Johnson C Manion
Howell RG Bliss
German LG Segerstrom

Scoring: Beloit—Fredendahl, 7;

Falls—Carisch, 3; Standish, 2; Manion, 2; Bliss, 1; Segerstrom, 3.

Shawano 27, Bloomer 11

With both teams displaying rather poor basketball, Shawano defeated Bloomer, 27 to 11. Andrews, lanky Shawano center, led the scoring with four field goals and two free throws exhibiting good playing at times.

Little teamwork was shown by Bloomer, and the team was unable to work the ball down the floor with success. Dettloff, center for Bloomer, accounted for four of his team's 11 points.

Lineup:

Bloomer Shawano
Dettloff RF A. Schumacher

Scoring: Shawano—A. Schumach-

Eau Claire Looms Strong

Battling furiously throughout the 50 minutes, Superior and Eau Claire played an even game with Eau Claire forging ahead steadily until the final whistle blew with the score 23-18, and Superior eliminated from the championship series.

Superior, last year's second place winner, and playing with three men of that team in the lineup was expected to finish high in the tournament.

Gibertson starred for Eau Claire the first half, and with almost perfect shooting scored four field goals and two free throws. Peterson took up the burden the second half and performed well. Gurenau, second all-state forward last year, found his match the second half and was in every play for Superior.

Lineup

Eau Claire Superior
Peterson R. F. Wickland
Gibertson L. F. Cass
Everson C. Gurnean

La Crosse Advances

The Tomahawk team proved but a small obstacle to the better teamwork and basket-shooting ability of La Crosse, and fell 24-8.

La Crosse worked the ball up the floor and dropped it in regularly, while the Tomahawk men could not become accustomed to the large gymnasium and employed long shots with but little success. A.
Smith made Tomahawk's lone field goal.

By maintaining a lead of two points during the first three quarters, and then opening up with a fast offense in the final period, the Watertown cagers won their first round of the tournament from the Manitowoc five by a 12 to 5 score.
Manitowoc had shot after shot under the net, but were off form on their close shots which cost them a place in the championship fight.

Geittman and Captain Bischoff of Watertown were the stars of the game and tied for high honors with four points apiece. The Manitowoc five ran up a number of fouls, but none of the men went beyond the three foul limit.

Lineup:

Watertown Manitowoc
Bischoff (capt.) RF Peppard
Huebner LF Maugin
Geittman C Schmitz
Bredow RG Vogel
Frattinger LG Shimek (capt.)

Scoring: Watertown—Bischoff,
Huebner, 3; Geittman, 4; Bredow,
2; Frattinger, 1; Shimek, 1. Manitowoc—Schmitz, 2; Vogel, 2.

Waukesha Shows Power

Outclassing their opponents in every department of the game the Waukesha five clearly demonstrated that they will be one of the strong contenders for high honors in the tournament. Their score of 18 to 12 over Montfort does not indicate the real power of the team.

Winde for the victors, and Chandler and Burroughs for the losers were the chief cogs in their respective scoring machines, gathering six,
six and four points respectively.

WOMEN'S CAGE

TEAMS MEET IN FINALS TONIGHT

Seniors Oppose Juniors While Sophomores and Freshmen
Are Opponents

With the championship at stake, the women seniors and juniors will battle for supremacy in the final game of the interclass basketball series tonight, while the sophomores will meet the freshmen. Neither the seniors nor the juniors have been defeated, and the scrap promises to be of Big Ten calibre.

Fortunate with having an invincible center combination in Streng and Smith the senior forwards should get plenty of opportunities to shoot if they are fast enough to evade Jorris and Gray, who will undoubtedly guard for the juniors.
Even if the seniors do get the tip off, which is in doubt, the stellar playing of their centers will be severely challenged by the Graham-Drews pair.

Bigelow Good

Bigelow, with her deadly one arm shot, and Maytum, speedy junior forwards, ought to roll up a score once they get their eye on the basket. Still, Robertson and Lallier, senior guards, are close stickers and should be capable of preventing a running score.

Sophs Have Edge

In the sophomore-freshman match the sophomores seem to have a slight edge on the frosh, if they can keep all of their regular players in the game. The frosh, however, displayed an enviable brand of teamwork in their game with the seniors last week that should net them a sufficient number of points to make the game a tight one.

noon. Andrews, Chawano center, is easily the best man on the floor, and his playing was good.

The Superior-Eau Claire was the outstanding game of the day. The northerners, one of the big favorites to win the tourney, were outplayed and outshot, and throughout the contest did not have a chance.
The Eau Claire combination seems to be a powerful team with plenty of fight. It plays New Glarus tomorrow night, and if it beats New Glarus it should win the title.

TOMORROW NIGHT

It will be our great privilege tomorrow night to hear one of the leading speakers of our time, Harry Emerson Fosdick. As Mr. Fosdick is coming here under the auspices of the Campus Religious council, many of us will not go to hear him because we do not want to be told to be good. This attitude is prevalent everywhere. In this case, however, there is no danger of any such thing, for Mr. Fosdick realizes that there are several kinds of good people.

The little girl's prayer, "O God, make all the bad people good, and make all the good people nice," can be easily understood, says Mr. Fosdick, when people have that goodness which is not radiant. People whose goodness makes life seem cramped and unhappy have not true goodness.

Mr. Fosdick's plea is to put first things first, to weigh the true value of the things we do. He says that happiness of the contagious and radiant kind is an essential of Christianity, a very different message from that preached by the so-called "Blues."

DREAM THOU

The things round about exist—you have not yet the power to destroy them even in imagination. But dreams—they are your own creatures, may be created, destroyed, rebuilt. And they are as real as honor, glory, even as love. "A dreamer lives forever, a thinker dies in a day."

Disease can take your health, accident your eyesight, fortune your success, death whom you love, but dreams can perish only with your soul. But make not the mistake of building your dreams upon reality, for they may be shattered. "Build them of the stuff whereof dreams are made." "Dream thou, perchance thy dream will stay!"

DEDUCTION

All the rooms were full, so the clerk said, when the dean of men of the University of Illinois inquired if he might occupy his regular room. Therefore he had to take the room of a regular member who was away at the time.

This room contained a few rows of books on the open shelves, the walls were covered with pictures, and the draperies around the windows seemed to be the property of the man whose room this was. Evidently he had been a college man, much interested in athletics, for pictures of football teams and men in track suits predominated. That man was orderly was also evident, for every single thing seemed to have its place.

On one wall hung a picture of himself in the uniform of a major with several decorations which showed that he had served with distinction during the war. His choice of books was discriminating, showing a decided leaning toward the literature of the out-of-doors. His whole character was shown by these material things, the mere contents of a room.

Just as this man's room showed this visitor, who knew nothing whatever about him, the kind of man he was, so do our every actions tell the people about us what we are!

Support the Memorial Union!

Only 13 days left before spring vacation.

The university lacks funds. Write home about it.

Don't miss hearing Dr. Fosdick at the Religious conference which opens tomorrow night. He has a message for all to hear.

Spring certainly must be here! Last night a crowd of more than 200 students and 20 automobiles followed a group of singers who started their harmony in Sterling court and continued up Langdon street into Lake Lawn place. The announcement of the launching of the Isabel soon is no surer sign of winter's end. Only a few weeks now and the Haresfoot boys will be out on their annual tour of the Latin quarter.

An all-university Mothers' reception is being planned for May 29, 30 and 31. This will be the first occasion of its kind at Wisconsin and is in accordance with the policy inaugurated by Fathers' day last fall of having parents visit their sons and daughters at the university. Invite your mother now so that she can plan to be here.

Wisconsin Should Know

In concentrating on the dormitory program the regents happily have not overlooked the athletic program; the two are being closely coordinated—with advantages to both. Near the dormitories a large tract has been secured which will be developed as an intramural playing field, with baseball diamonds, soccer fields, basketball courts, football fields, and tennis courts enough to care for all the outdoor athletic interests of students in the future. Located across the campus and near the football stadium is projected the complement to the outdoor field, a hall that will accommodate adequately the indoor sports. The first impetus to the plans for this building came January 29 when Harry Sauthoff '02 introduced a bill in the legislature which, if passed, will make it possible for the regents to build an athletic hall as they are building dormitories—with the profits of the building's own operation. One who has visited recently our rickety red gymnasium of 30 winters will be heartened by the news that an athletic hall may come soon. The students who wait hours to play handball, who can play basketball only at supper time, and who stand in line for a shower and a chance to plunge in the swimming tank welcome the news even more joyfully. The new athletic hall, or field house, contemplates facilities for all sorts of indoor games, including baseball and football, and a basketball auditorium that will seat 8,000. After all, the intercollegiate teams of the university are but an offshoot of the central athletic development scheme. They furnish spice in one's sporting menu and interesting newspaper headlines, but the solid, important test of an institution's athletic success is in the quality of the physical development of the whole student body and in the interest which the student takes in his personal participation in games. Wisconsin can give a good account of herself under such a test. George Berg, director of intramural athletics, reports that there were 3,533 participants in the intramural sports under his direction last year. This winter there were more than 300 students taking part in the organized skating and skiing activities conducted by the university besides the hundreds that daily thronged the skating rink on the lower campus, the lakes, and the toboggan slides. These healthy sport interests, aided tremendously by the university's natural advantages, haven't slackened, and they won't.

The university isn't persuaded that it has fallen in an athletic slough because its football team didn't win games. Instead it points to its championship cross country team, to its winning hockey, swimming, wrestling, gym, water basketball, and track teams, to its good record in all sports over a period of years, and to its success with intramural development. But it is not satisfied to be a loser in anything. And one of the factors that is going to throw sunlight in the dull places is George Little, a hearty young man from the University of Michigan, who comes here as director of athletics. Everyone believes that things have taken a turn for the better.

It does seem queer, but the house where the girls retire earliest always gets the longest serenade.

Speaking of serenades, this is the time of year when I. C. S. under-studies work off their apprenticeships.

Forsooth, the call of the serenade doth beckon so persistently that Argon, Rab, Meth, and my father's only son have practically decided to form an official Rocket Quartet. Zounds, 'twill be a knockout, what with Argon carrying the melody and the rest of us rendering it somewhat obscure.

Initial practice was held at the stock pavilion last night—most of the stock and poultry are doing nicely this morning. We sing only tried and trusted folk and love songs—though the latter are more to be tried than trusted.

Because of innate humility and a cultivated devotion to study, we will be available for serenade purposes only from nine till midnight any night except Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, when sororities in good standing may name their conditions.

Lest we forget, our only stipulations are that after the serenade there shall be no dearth of eats, etwas zu trinken, dance music and partners—or what have you?

TO THE STUDENTS:
Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

Is our university sinking into mediocrity, or even into oblivion? A spectator, attending the inter-collegiate debate might easily have arrived at this conclusion. At least 150 people had enough interest and ambition to attend. Many of the foreign students showed a keen interest in this debate. Must we admit that these foreign students show a greater interest in our university activities than we ourselves show?

Upon the termination of the debate, a faint rousing cheer arose but died before it reached its natural zenith. Where were our cheer leaders? Would we expect our basketball team to show a great deal of spirit if they only had a few spectators? Has our interest become so concentrated in other activities that none remains for debating? May I ask you to consider carefully these questions?

DEFEAT OF ELVER
FEATURES VOTING

Nell Purcell Nominated; May Ask Recount in Ninth Ward

The defeat of Ruthwin F. Elver, 717 Center ave., alderman from the sixth ward, and the nomination of Miss Nell Purcell, 219 Lake Lawn pl., as a candidate in the first ward, were the principal features of the aldermanic primary election on Tuesday. Several unexpected close contests developed during the days voting, however, which will put a new interest in the coming general election April 7.

Ald. Elver was eliminated as a candidate for re-election to the position he has held for three terms by Charles P. Ingold, 616 Center ave., an employee of the Gisholt Machine Co. Mr. Ingold is an election official serving at the booth in the sixth ward. His name was written in on 248 ballots in the three sixth ward precincts, giving him a plurality of 59 votes over Elver. John W. Fahning, who opposed Elver, polled 272 votes. Ald. Elver ran third with 189.

Woman Is Nominated

Nell Purcell received the second highest count in the first ward and eliminated F. W. "Billy" Huels by six votes. Ald. Thomas Ross was a good first choice in the balloting.

In the tenth ward Thomas D. Williams ruled better than a two to one favorite over Ald. Joseph H. Brown, and Prof. James B. Read ran a low third. It was a surprisingly light vote, smaller even than

GIRL WORKERS DINING ROOM

This is one of the many ramifications of modern big business about which the layman knows little. None the less it is interesting because it has to do with the welfare of workers; the folk who make the wheels go 'round.

The accompanying illustration shows one of the several dining rooms in which the Prudential Insurance Company of America feeds its more than 5,000 home office employees each day. This luncheon is served without cost and is prepared under the direction of experts employed by the company for that purpose.

the responsibility for buying and supervising the preparation of the vast quantity of food consumed and he has statistics which prove his task is no sinecure.

During the last nine months of 1924 these employees of the Prudential ate 211,550 pounds of meat, or more than 100 tons of this sort of food alone. In addition they made away with 37,206 pounds of poultry, 7,713 quarts of cream, 228,602 quarts of sweet milk and great quantities of butter, eggs and bread. In addition there were thousands of gallons of vegetables and fruits used and a proportionate amount of the staple foodstuffs, such as sugar, coffee, tea and spices.

Mrs. A. M. Vezin is the Prudential's director of welfare work, having supervision over the 3,276 women and girls employed by the company and she is as careful of their dieting and working conditions as though they were members of her immediate family.

It has been the experience of the Prudential, as it has of other large business organizations, that the hot luncheons served without cost to the employees is a profitable investment. It assures each worker of a nourishing meal when it is needed most, at the height of the day's activities, and is a significant item in saving to the worker.

election officials estimated it would be late yesterday afternoon. There are 3,500 votes in the tenth ward, past election figures show.

Real Fight in Ninth

Probably the biggest fight of the day took place in the ninth ward, where four candidates were pitted against each other in a race to secure the two nominations from that ward.

Sidney L. Gay and Walter L. Plaenert were the successful candidates, although Harold Togstad polled only three votes less than Gay, and W. F. Nelson was not far below Togstad's count. Plaenert was high man with a vote of 382.

A recount of the votes in the ninth ward may be asked by friends of Harold Togstad, who was eliminated by the primary results, it was learned today. The count gave Togstad L. Gay. As the count was announced last night Gay and Walter L. Plaenert were nominated. Gay received 315 votes to Togstad's 312.

High Kid Boots From Paris

SMART high boots of kid are quite the season's sensation in footwear, for they answer the demand of women for shoes that are both comfortable and stylish. Their initial appearance on the avenue created a flurry—first of curiosity and then of approval, until now they are not an uncommon accessory of the street ensemble. Quite different from the high shoes of old, these are not stiff or binding, for they are fashioned of soft, pliant kid, the only leather that is flexible enough to conform to the lines of foot and ankle. Like the popular French boots, they lace snugly up the inside so that the fastening is practically invisible.

High shoes are considered not only smart by women of discrimination, but beneficial as well. Women instinctively question style if it embodies correction, but this shoe successfully combines these

Parties Planned This Week Include Spring Formals

Spring brings spring fever, and spring fever brings the desire to play rather than work. This contention is borne out when we notice the number of parties planned for this week-end. There are nine campus organizations giving dancing parties on Saturday night. Spring formals have already begun, and the numerous groups will continue having them from now until June. Among the Saturday parties are the following:

The spring dresses are fuller than we have been accustomed to, but they give a slimmer silhouette, because it is achieved without severity or apparent effort.

SOLONS BOAST OF HOMEMADE LIQUORAgitate to Change Law; Admit Having Wine-filled Cellars

A committee resolution memorializing congress to modify the Volstead act to permit the manufacture and sale of 2.75 per cent alcoholic content beer was recommended for adoption last night by the senate committee on state and local government of the legislature.

Two state senators appeared before the committee and declared that they and their wives are violating the Severson state dry law.

Sen. Bernard Gettelman, Milwaukee, added to his remarks by declaring that he defied anyone to come to his home in Milwaukee and cause an arrest and he shouted his home address in a voice that carried to all corners of the crowded room.

Keeps Three Kinds
Sen. James A. Barker, Antigo, informed the committee and the audience made up mostly of prohibition workers that since prohibition has gone into effect he has always had three kinds of wine in his home. His home had no wine before the eighteenth amendment was adopted, he asserted.

"Mrs. Barker makes wine and I want to tell you she makes it with a kick in it," he declared.

The two senators appeared in support of the Gettelman bill which would change the state dry law to permit the manufacture for home use of beer, wine, and cider.

Sen. Gettelman declared that the Volstead act permits the making of

REDUCED RATES FOR EXPOSITION

Larger Crowd Expected as Result of Increased Publicity and Decreased Fares

A larger crowd than could ordinarily be expected will be drawn to Madison and the exposition by the reduced railroad rates which will be in effect, according to a statement by Orin Wernecke '25, publicity manager. The most likely arrangement is that of fare and a half for the round trip. Final announcement of these rates will be made within the next few days.

"That the 1925 exposition will exceed those of the past in its scope seems to be the present indication if one can judge from the care with which it has been organized," Wernecke said.

The work is progressing smoothly so that everything will be ready for the 50,000 visitors who are expected to witness it. Since intensive activity was begun in December, more than 1,000 students and members of the faculty have been enlisted for the work and are now busy completing all the plans and preparations.

This university, in the field of exposition, stands first. The whole exposition idea as it is now being used in American colleges and universities was originated and brought to its present state of development at Wisconsin.

Business men from all over the state, having realized the educational value of the event, and the credit which it cannot help but reflect on the university, are assisting those in charge by aiding the publicity work as much as possible, placing advertisements where they will be most effective. Hundreds of letters have been received from

BADGER SENATORS KILL PEACE PLAN

Favor Army and Navy Cut; Also Defeat Wife Beater Bill

The state senate engaged in a war and peace session, both marital and martial, last night when several matters pertaining to conflict and a proposal for punishing convicted wife beaters came up.

The Hunt resolution memorializing congress to reduce the standing army of the U. S. to the strength of the national guard and to likewise keep down the size of the navy, was rejected without a record vote.

resolution offered several weeks ago by Assemblyman Frank J. Weber declining the gift by the government of World war trophies was concurred in without record vote.

The remaining war resolution, that of Mrs. Helen Brooks to "outlaw war through a code of international law of peace based on equality and justice between nations, amplified expanded and brought down to date," was rejected by the senate, 22 to 7.

The roll call on the rejection of the Brooks resolution follows:

For rejection — Barber, Barker, Boldt, Carroll, Cashman, Chase, Daggett, Garey, Heck, Hull, Hunt, Johnson, Kemp, Keppell, Lange, Mehigan, Quick, Roethe, Sauthoff, Smith, Staudenmayer, Titus—22.

Against rejection — Casperson, Padway, Polakowski, Schumann, Severson, Teasdale, White—7.

Absent—Bilbri, Englund, Morris—3.

Sen. John E. Cashman, Denmark, made the only speech on the Brooks resolution, and this was against the adoption of the measure.

Alda Thrills Radio Audience In Second Victor Presentation

MME. FRANCES ALDA

The joint effort of the Victor Talking Machine Company and the American Telephone and Telegraph Company to present the radio public with programs of a higher musical standard had its second test on January 15 when Madame Frances Alda, prima donna of the Metropolitan Opera, sang to an unseen audience of more than 6,000.

The famous soprano, whose voice has been characterized as capable of remarkable color-shading, appeared before the microphone for the first time in her career of many triumphs, and before the last notes of her final selection had gone out on the ether she had scored another triumph. In fact, long before the program had come to a close telephone messages and telegrams of congratulation poured into the studio of station WEAF, New York, from which the prima donna broadcast.

On the program with Madame Alda were Frank La Forge, composer-pianist; the Florentine Quartette, and the Victor Concert Orchestra, Rosario Bourdon, conducting.

Victor radio recitals, which began with the McCormack-Bori concert New Year's night, will continue for a time to be given twice monthly, according to officials of the company, to determine to what extent music of the highest character, rendered by the world's most famous artists, is desired by the public. In this connection, Victor officials have frankly stated that they hope to stimulate sufficient interest in the records of these artists, since this is the only return the public can make to the artist, to inspire a wish on the part of their listeners for constant contact with their favorites through the medium of the phonograph.
