ATHLETIC BOARD AWARDS LETTERS IN TWO SPORTS

Class and College Insignia Are Granted at Same Time

Letters in two major sports were awarded by the Athletic board in its regular meeting at the armory yesterday noon. Class and college insignia were granted at the same time.

Water-basketball was made a minor sport, and the basis for earning a "W" was set as thirty-two minutes of play in games against conference schools. Games are sixteen minutes in length which necessitates playing of two full games to receive the award. Letters were voted for the men who earned "W"s last year on this basis.

Clark is Chairman
Norman Clark '24 was appointed chairman of intra mural sports committee for the furthering of Intra mural sports and activities among men for the coming year. Appointments of heads of Intra mural sports in the various colleges were as follows: G. T. Roberts '24, Letters and Science; L. T. Sogard '24, Engineering; Paul Eschweiler '24, Medicine; E. E. Wheeler '25, Commerce; E. W. Callenbach '25, Agriculture.

The men who received the major "W" in football are: Capt. M. P. Below '24, R. J. Irish '24, H. H. Holmes '25, W. W. Harris '25, A. J. Bieberstein '24, O. W. Teckemeyer '25, E. C. Gerber '26, H. J. Bentson '24, R. J. Stipek '26, T. C. Nichols '24, P. M. Nelson '26, T. M. Blackman '25, R. E. Williams '26 M. E. Taft '24, A. W. Schneider '24, C. J. Miller '26 and L. S. Eagleburger '24.

Seven Get "aWa"
Those to receive the "aWa" in football are: R. B. Coleman '26, D. R. Paige '24, E. E. A. Alton '25, G. A. Carlson '24, A. O. Johnson '26, H. C. Opitz '25, M. F. Stangel '25.

The men to receive the major "W" in cross-country are: Capt. G. A. Finkle and G. A. Piper.

Awards of "aWa" in cross-country were given to: L. M. Valley, J. L. Bergtresser, E. B. Swingle and J. C. Read. The manager's "W" was granted in cross-country to R. W. Black '25.

FRESHMAN WOMEN NOMINATE TONIGHT

New Ruling Permits Keystone To Advance Complete Ticket For Election

A new ruling for Green Button elections by which Keystone, inter-organization council, nominates one set of candidates in addition to the other two groups of candidates which will be named from the floor, will take effect at the massmeeting for freshman woman at 7 o'clock tonight in Lathrop gymnasium.

"The aim of this change in nominating is not to have an election by upper classmen, as has sometimes been claimed was the case, but to make it a purely freshman election," declared Lois Jacobs '24, president of S. G. A., which has supervision of freshman elections.

Fifty freshman girls met in conjunction with Keystone and nominated a candidate for each of the class offices. The candidates will be announced at the massmeeting tonight when the other nominations will be made. For the purpose of making the Keystone representative of freshmen, the group of fifty were chosen from the seventeen S. G. A. districts and from the freshman group meetings. The freshman groups have been meeting frequently, since the opening of school with a view of selecting candidates.

A "baby" party for the Y. W. C. A. freshman groups will be held in the gymnasium after the mass meeting. Dorothy John '25, is in charge of the frolic.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED FOR SUCCESSFUL PROM

The need of hearty cooperation on the part of every committee and every individual worker for the 1925 Prom was stressed by Cliff Nolte, Prom chairman, at the meeting of prom committees yesterday noon in 165 Bascom hall.

The 23 committees have been divided into several groups, each under the supervision of one of the five assistant general chairman. By this method every committee will be kept in direct contact with the assistant chairmen and the Prom chairman.

Nolte stressed the importance of the committees in the making Prom a success and suggested that each committee do as much of the mechanical work involved as possible before the Christmas holidays.

Expenses of Prom are to be kept as low as possible and each committee must work within the budget limit.

SENATOR OBJECTS TO RHODES HONOR

Cashman Believes Scholarship is Attempt to Extend British Rule

On the eve of the election of two Rhodes scholars from Wisconsin, State Senator Henry Cashman, a member of the board of regents, objects to University of Wis. professors lending their aid to a plan which, he says, "has for its object the extension of British rule and the ultimate recovery of the United States by England" and besides "makes traitors of some of America's finest young men."

This objection was expressed at a meeting of the board of regents held here yesterday. President Birge told Mr. Cashman that he was misinformed.

"Practically every university in the country has its students competing for these scholarships," President Birge said. "And I have heard for the first time, just now, that the purpose of the scholarships is to extend British rule."

"The Rhodes scholarships afford, in my opinion, an exceptionally fine educational opportunity that any American boy might be proud to win," Dean Goodnight said.

"Several faculty members were formerly holders of Rhodes scholarships, and I have noticed no decrease in their patriotism, nor do I believe any of them were not good citizens after returning from Oxford."

The Rhodes scholarship award will be made to one of fifteen candidates for the honor when the committee on selections meets here, Saturday. The candidates, who have been selected by the university and other Wisconsin colleges, will appear in person at the meeting of the committee before the final selection will be made.

The university will be represented by five men who were chosen by the local committee early in the fall. John Dollard, Oscar E. Kiesling, Clement P. Linder, Carleton Meyer and Gamber Tegtmeyer are the applicants who were chosen from this school. Lawrence college will have three candidates and the other seven will represent various other state institutions.

BADGER HAS MOST ALL CAMPUS ORGANIZATIONS

Practically every organization on the campus will be included in the organization section of the 1925 Badger. Material for the section is now nearly complete and will be one of the first to go to press.

"Every organization from organized rooming houses to honorary societies will be included in the section this year," Cliff Huff '25, editor of the section, said yesterday.

"There are only a few organizations which have not been included in the past few years and it is expected that they will take space this year."

Organizations planning to be included in the section must notify Huff at the Badger office immediately.

REGENTS TO ACT AGAINST LIQUOR AT UNIVERSITY

Receive Resolutions From Committee Asking to Curb Menace

Preparation for the consideration of affairs dealing with the university and student life were made at the meeting of 11 committees of the Board of Regents which met yesterday to plan for the regular meeting of today.

Resolutions recommending that the regents take steps to abolish the drinking evil, particularly at homecoming or to abolish events leading up to this practice, were forwarded to officials of the university and the board last month.

Birge Gives Thanks

That President Birge thank the men's forum of Kingsley Methodist church, Milwaukee for the interest shown by that organization in the university and assure them that steps are being taken to curb drinking among the students was recommended by the board.

"More has been done to stop drinking this year than ever before," President Birge said in a talk before the regents. "During the Homecoming celebration Dean Goodnight and myself thought that there had been less drinking than during the previous Homecoming games."

Consider New Property

The recommendation of Dr. Gilbert E. Seaman as head of the subcommittee to select the property for the new university extension division in Milwaukee will be considered.

The property under consideration is the old Milwaukee University school, formerly the German English academy at 558-568 Broadway.

A project for cooperation with the state board of vocational education in founding a course for the training of vocational education teachers at the university will be considered.

Foreign Flashes

PIERRE, S. D.—The South Dakota proposal convention on a rising vote of the Republican supporters, gave President Coolidge unanimous endorsement for the summer presidential primary.

PARIS—Considering the policy of passive resistance in the Ruhr almost a thing of the past, the French military department is proceeding to loosen the iron grip that has throttled industrial Germany. Requisitioned buildings are being turned over to their original owners as a preface to the gradual restoration of German control.

WASHINGTON—The two day deadlock which has tied up the sixty-eighth congress came to an end today when a peace was effected between the G. O. P. and the insurgent La Follette bloc. The insurgents agreed to the election of Representative Gillett of Massachusetts as Speaker of the house.

NORMAN, Okla.—Freshmen medical students here at the University of Oklahoma are to cultivate mustaches so that they can be easily distinguished from other medic students.

VARSITY MOVIE AGAIN TO BE SHOWN HERE

That there will be a showing of the Varsity movie sometime this winter was reasserted yesterday by Willet M. Kempton '25, who was manager of the movie when it was produced two years ago. Announcement of this re-showing was made earlier in the fall, but no other information has been given out concerning it.

"We have secured permission from the university to use one of the campus buildings, but at present we are trying to make satisfactory arrangements with one of the up town theaters to show the movie there," Kempton said.

The Varsity movie, which was produced and cast entirely by university students, met with great success when it was first shown in Madison. After its showing here it was sent all over Wisconsin and to other states.

BIG TEN EDITORS CONVENE FRIDAY

Three Wisconsin Scribes Leave Today For Press Meeting at Ann Arbor

Three delegates will represent Wisconsin publications at the third annual convention of the Western Conference Editorial Association to be held in Ann Arbor, Mich., this week end.

The Cardinal will be represented by Porter F. Butts '24, managing editor, and Walter H. Plewke '24, business manager. The Octopus will send Richard F. Bellack '24, editor. The three men leave tonight and will arrive in Ann Arbor for the convention at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The business program of the editors will deal with problems of Big Ten publications and means of furthering cooperation between the publications and the universities they represent.

The principal speakers of the convention are George G. Booth, president of the Detroit News and the Evening News association, and Willis John Abbot, editor of the Christian Science Monitor and former editor of the Chicago Times. Both men, Mr. Booth, as a manager and administrator and Mr. Abbot as an editor and editorial writer, are leading figures in American journalism.

The two-day program also includes an inspection of the campus and a showing of the annual Michigan opera, "Cotton Stockings," on Saturday.

The Western Conference Editorial Association was formed three years ago at Ann Arbor with its purpose ". . . to foster friendship of understanding and common aims among the universities of the conference, and to provide yearly conventions of representatives of all student publications, by whom campus and journalistic problems may be discussed and common decisions reached."

The conventions are ordinarily held in May, but due to the inability of Northwestern university, official convention place for 1923, to entertain the delegates at the scheduled time, the meeting of the editors, was postponed until this fall and moved to the University of Michigan.

PRIZE PLAY BY ALUMNA TO BE GIVEN TONIGHT

A prize play, "His Father's Boots" by Carol McMillan an alumna of Wisconsin, will be presented at Lathrop parlors at 8:15 o'clock tonight. The presentation of the play will be open to the public.

This was a prize play in a contest held last year by the Hollywood Community theatre. Carol McMillan, the author, was a Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Beta Kappa, and a member of Red Domino when she attended the university here. She is on the faculty of Northwestern School of Speech now, and has done dramatic work in the east.

Margaret Campbell is directing the reading of the play.

FORTY SELECTED BY PHI KAPPA PHI FOR HIGH HONORS

Society is Only One to Include Students in All Colleges

Forty members of the senior class were announced yesterday as elected to Phi Kappa Phi, the only honor society which includes and represents all colleges of the university. The basis of selection to the fraternity is high scholarship plus representative and creditable work in activities.

For the present election the colleges were represented in the following manner: Letters and Science 25; Engineering 7; Agriculture 3; Home Economics 2; Law 2; Music 1.

This is the first time in the history of Phi Kappa Phi that the Wisconsin chapter has elected in the fall of the year. It was felt by the present members this year that by holding elections for seniors in the fall, those elected would be able to obtain a greater benefit by being members during their college career.

Is High Honor

Phi Kappa Phi is a national organization and the various colleges of the country consider it as one of the highest of honor societies. To be eligible for membership a student must have maintained an average of good in his scholastic work and to have entered successfully into recognized student activities.

The following seniors of the class of 1924 have been elected for the year 1923:

College of Letters and Science—Mary Ball, Robert L. Benbow, Mary J. Burchard, Porter F. Butts, H. J. Walter Coutu, Margaret A. Callsen, Harriette L. Greene, Anita K. Haven, Clark Hazelwood, Helen S. Kingsford, Howard B. Lyman, Marian J. Metcalf, Carleton W. Meyer, Rosamond R. Nolte, Calvin C. Oakford, Arthur J. O'Hara, Delbert R. Paige, Gorton Ritchie, Carl R. Rogers, Edwin L. Schujahn, Harold A. Seering, Josephine F. Snow, Allan W. Walter, Frances H. Warren, Charles Y. Wu.

Engineers Place

College of Engineering—Harold J. Bentson, Hugo E. Czerwonky, Walter A. Kuenzli, Edgar D. Lilja, Frederick J. Mollerus, William E. Ouweeneel, Walter H. Plewke.

College of Agriculture—John C. Read, Walter F. Renk, Marvin A. Schaefer.

Course in Home Economics—Nina C. Faris, Elizabeth M. Knott. Law School—Leroy J. Burlingame, Morris Karon.

Music School—Grace M. Jones.

The initiation and the initiation banquet for Phi Kappa Phi will take place sometime next week, according to Prof. R. H. Whitbeck, president of the organization.

VARSITY "FOUR" SING AT BANQUET

Central High Football Team is Entertained By Sheriff Krug

The Varsity Quartette entertained with several numbers at a banquet given Tuesday evening by Sheriff Julius Krug at his home in honor of the Central High school football squad.

In addition to singing with the quartette, Marty Below spoke for a few minutes to the prep school athletes urging them to consider attending the University of Wisconsin as they approach high school graduation. Joe Steinauer also gave a short talk.

More than 30 players attended the banquet, given in recognition of the successful efforts of the team and coaches to build up a powerful eleven.

Central High defeated most of its opponents this year and won the cup awarded by the Knights of Columbus to the city champions.

ORIENTAL ROMANCE REIGNS AT BAZAAR

Aladdin's Lamp and Turkish Beauties Color Y. W. C. A. Affair at Lathrop

For one whole afternoon you may dwell in the land of romance simply by rubbing Aladdin's magic lamp at the Y. W. C. A. Oriental bazaar, Saturday. The lamp will be placed just outside Lathrop parlors at the foot of the stairway leading up to the concert room.

Between dances in the parlor, languorous Turkish maidens will entertain with strains of Oriental music from a balcony overlooking Aladdin's booth. Rena Grubb '26, with the assistance of Eleanor Goodnight '26 and Genevieve Ellis '26, is planning this part of the entertainment.

In an Arab tent dark-eyed girls in bright costumes will display their wares, including a line of attractive Christmas gifts. Serviceable wool hose, stationary, handkerchiefs, and dainty silk novelties will feature the gift shop. Members of Vespers' club will be the vendors.

The Bazaar tea room will be a quiet place to meet and talk to your friends. Fragrant incense, the dim light of ancient lamps, and luxurious Oriental rugs will form an appropriate setting. Cigarettes for the men will be passed around by girls costumed as Turkish slaves. Plans for the tea room are being carried out by Larch Campbell '26, Barbara Hornby '27, Louise Zimmerman '27, Elizabeth Nell '27, and Emma Happert '27.

A gondola suggestive of romance and warmer climes will be the setting of the flower booth. Members of the Y. W. Freshman club will stroll among the dancers and feasters with gay offerings of violets, roses, and all manner of pretty corsages. Margaret McGovern '26 is the chairman of the floral booth. Her committee consists of Miriam Inglis '26 and Dorothy Morris '26.

Blossom Heath to Feature Orph Bill On New Program

For the new show starting today the local Orpheum has booked another of those high class bills that are pleasing the vaudeville fans of the city.

For the headline attraction Blossom Heath entertainers have been secured. They are direct from a fourteen week engagement at the Blossom Heath Inn one of New York City's most exclusive Road houses and are known as Virginia's Original Serenaders.

Second place on this bill has been given to Maurice Diamond and his company. He is accompanied by two very sweet little Misses who are widely known for their dancing.

Geo. Mack in songs and stories bills himself as something different and he does several songs that are different and clever. His songs are tuneful and clever.

Conn, Downey & Willard present a sketch called "Doings of Doctor Lauder." Louder and "The Pest House." The skit tells of an old gentleman who is very deaf who goes to the physician for advice.

Chamberlain and Earl in "His First Lesson," and the McRaes in "Going Up" conclude the extra good program.

Coming Sunday, "Miss Louise Loely" who will direct moving pictures on the stage of the local theater using local people for the cast.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK TO M. E. STUDENTS

Charles C. Braden, missionary and teacher for nine years in Chili and Bolivia, and now in charge of the Chicago office of the Methodist Episcopal church which sends out teachers and other Christian workers to the Orient, will speak at the Wesley Foundation at 6 o'clock tonight at a supper for all Methodist students.

Mr. Braden is visiting Madison under the auspices of the Student Cabinet of the Wesley Foundation to present the field for service of the Methodist church.

The supper tonight will be for all Methodist students working in the membership department and others interested in foreign service as teachers, doctors or missionaries.

There will be a meeting of Phi Lambda Epsilon in room 253 of the Chemistry building at 8 o'clock tonight.

"On Wisconsin" Was Written For Prize As "On Minnesota"

Wisconsin never will forget the name of William Purdy, who composed "On Wisconsin," known almost throughout the world.

But for the intervention of fate "On Wisconsin" would have been "On Minnesota."

A Minneapolis newspaper offered $100 for a University of Minnesota football song, and Purdy, then living in Chicago, wrote a tune for the purpose. Purdy never had attended Wisconsin but was a graduate of Hamilton college. His roommate, Carl Beck, however was a Wisconsin graduate, and suggested that it be made a Wisconsin song. He himself then wrote the words and later designed the title page.

In the fall of 1909 the University of Wisconsin campus was seething with excitement over the annual Homecoming game. A song was needed and a mass meeting was called the night before the game to find out what could be done.

An unknown person went to the piano playing a tune that set the audience wild with delight. It was "On Wisconsin," and the university immediately adopted it. Later it became a state song as well.

Purdy later contracted tuberculosis and in an attempt to regain his health expended all his money. Members of the university who were interested in Purdy started a "pass the hat" campaign for him. Editorials written in the State Journal aroused the sympathy from outsiders, and contributions from high schools, woman's clubs and many other organization came in. The amount was somewhere between 2,000 and 3,000 dollars with Dean Goodnight in charge of the funds.

Although Purdy died before the news reached him the money was received by his widow and children.

S. G. A. LIBRARY LOSES TWO BOOKS THIS YEAR

Only two books have disappeared from the S. G. A. library this year, and many new books have been added. This is in marked contrast to the record made last year when nearly 15 books were lost by Christmas. The two books lost are: "Beasts, Men, and Gods," and "The Soul of an Immigrant."

"The Sun Field," a humorous production by Heywood Broun, and the Atlantic "Book of Modern Plays" edited by Prof. S. A. Leonard, are two new books lately added.

Plan Series of Open Games Between Varsity and Frosh Teams

Stiff drill and scrimmage is the dose being handed out to the varsity basketball men by Coach Meanwell in preparation for the competitive season which will begin Saturday night when his charges mix with Rollie Williams' Milliken five.

A series of open games against the freshmen is expected to accustom the regulars to the "feel" of playing before a crowd of spectators. The first two played against the yearlings last Friday and last Tuesday resulted in decisive victories for the varsity.

Wackman at Center

Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock the third game between the Meanwell and Lewis factions will be played.

With the Badger team going in fast mid-season form, hopes are strong for a successful preliminary period before the conference race begins. While the team has not taken final shape, it is gradually taking the form which it will probably retain throughout the season.

At center, Captain Gibson is working with Wackman as his understudy. Wackman, who was on the team during part of last season, is working in excellent form, and alternates regularly with Gibson.

Frosh Team Improves

Barwig and Diebold seemed stationed at the guard positions. Spooner and Elsom are used at forwards. Elsom is also used at a guard position when Varney is injected into the play at forward.

Of this team, all except Varney and Wackman are veterans, the other men either having played on the team last year or having been on the squad.

The freshman team, under the tutelage of Coach George Lewis, former Wisconsin player who knows the Meanwell system, is coming along in fair fashion. The greater part of the time has been spent on fundamentals of play, however, and the yearlings have not yet had enough actual play to provide the varsity with any great amount of competition.

BLODGETT SOUGHT AS HOCKEY COACH

Former Badger Player is Probable Coach For Coming Ice Season

Bob Blodgett, former Wisconsin hockey star and generally recognized as the man who put the ice game on its feet here, will coach the 1924 Badger hockey team, if plans of the athletic council go through. T. E. Jones, director of athletics states.

At a meeting Tuesday, the council voted favorably on Blodgett, who is known to want to come here. Blodgett would like the job of tutoring the Badger puck chasers and probably will sign without trouble, Jones stated. The new prospective coach is now in Minneapolis.

Discussion of next year's football schedule occupied most of the time at the meeting, the director said, but no information has been given out as to what teams may come here. The council approved the baseball, wrestling, gym, swimming, hockey and other schedules drawn up at the conference meeting, and put its stamp of approval on a soccer game between Minnesota and Wisconsin this winter.

JUNIOR VOLLEY BALL PLAYERS UNDEFEATED

The volleyball tournament, which owing to the favorable fall took place at Camp Randall instead of Lathrop gymnasium, concluded with the undefeated juniors gracing the ranks of varsity with five players. The freshman came next with two, while the sophomores and seniors contented themselves with one each. The following players were chosen: D. Burdick '25, M. Fish '25, A. Fox '25, M. Hatfield '25, E. Hunt '25, I. Hatch '27, G. Miller '27, M. Rasmussen '26, M. Carpenter '24.

BIG TEN RIVALRY FOR SOCCER TEAM

Game Arranged With Gophers; To Schedule Other Games

Latter

Wisconsin will enter Big Ten competition in soccer when the team meets Minnesota. The athletic department has arranged a game with the Gophers for some time within the next two weeks. The date has not been definitely settled and it is not certain where the game will be played, but it is sure that it will be played off before Christmas vacation starts.

The arrangement of the game marks the first step towards the recognition of soccer as a sport at Wisconsin and will undoubtedly be followed by more games and more enthusiasm and support of the game.

Most of the Big Ten universities have soccer teams and more games will not be difficult to arrange. It is hoped when the spring season opens, Wisconsin will have a full schedule of soccer games with several other universities.

The men who make up the present squad have played practice games all last year and part of this year in the hopes that some outside games would be arranged for making the game a recognized sport with suitable numerals or letters for the members of the team. As things stand now the future of the game is bright.

Rifle Club Men to Compete For Silver Cup Prize

An interclub rifle match is being planned by the Rifle club for the week ending December 15. Each member of the club will shoot in four positions, prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing. A silver cup will be given the man making the highest score in the match.

"This match will give us an idea as to the probable selections for the team which will fire in the Hearst trophy competition," said Sergeant Shire, executive officer of the club, last night. "We are expecting keen competition for the cup and some excellent scores ought to be turned in."

About twenty-five men are expected to shoot in the match. Varsity rifle team members will also be eligible. George H. Ross '26, L. P. Drake '26, and A. Paroni '24 are doped to give some of the strongest competition in the match.

Pabst, Sauger, Tappert, Straubel, Schwarze, and Wilke.

Those to receive numerals alone for freshmen football are: Bratton, McCartney and Schafter, manager.

Numerals were granted for Intra mural cross country work to:

Clayton Cassidy, Ray Kubly, H. J. Hardy, C. M. Lister, Theo. Goers, John Petaja, and Parker Shafer.

Letters and Science insignia was given to Kubly, Gaudynski, Dickinson, Schwenger, and Merrill. Hard and Shafer received engineering insignia.

Below, Irish, and Taft on First Team; Grange on Second

Three Wisconsin men grace the all-conference eleven picked by the Michigan Daily, University of Michigan's student newspaper. The men are Below, right tackle, Irish, right end, and Taft, fullback.

The most peculiar thing about this latest election is the fact that Red Grange is not given a berth on the first team. Kipke takes his place at left half. The howl of protest that will probably go up over the elimination of the great Illinois redhead will be somewhat assuaged, however, because of the fact that he is on the second team.

Four Wolverines On

Illinois is the only other Big Ten school represented, McMillen being its representative.

Varsity Swimmers Prepare For First Dual Competition

Not discouraged at the terrific beating administered by the freshmen swimmers Tuesday night, Coach Steinauer's varsity squad began practice yesterday for the first preliminary meet of the year to be held soon with the Milwaukee Athletic club.

The varsity proved to be strongest in the plunge, winning all three places in the meet against the frosh. Dummer, a consistent worker, made the length of the tank in 34 seconds. Daily practices are bringing down the time materially and Wisconsin ought to be strong in this event this year.

The regulars were especially weak in the free style dashes, and lack of fast men in these events cuts down on the relay time. With the presence of Johnnie Bennett on the relay team and with a long period of practice ahead, Steinauer hopes to iron out the slow kinks and put out a winning relay quartet.

CO-EDS TURN OUT FOR BASKETBALL PRACTICE

Winter weather cannot temper the basketball "fever" raging high among many co-eds. At night, when others are languidly enjoying the cold, December air or are curled up over some "racy" novel, these are struggling and panting on the large gymnasium floor at Lathrop.

More than 130 girls turn out for basketball practice at night to try out for class teams, 20 seniors, 35 juniors, 35 sophomores, 40 freshmen.

Managers were chosen last week: Dorothy Dodge for the seniors; Mabel Rogen, juniors; Lorraine Maytum, sophomores.

Teams will be picked after Christmas and the inter-class games will be played in February.

BURKE ASKS ATHLETES TRAIN FOR OLYMPICS

"The coming Olympic games should furnish an incentive to athletes, track men especially," Mead Burke, track coach, told track candidate's meeting in the men's gymnasium last night. "Teams representing America at the games will have a large proportion of college men in their line-up."

"Wisconsin should be represented on these teams. The track meets will be watched closely by those who have the choosing of America's athletes. It is up to the man who can run to keep eligible so they can compete in these meets."

The final tryouts for Olympian candidates will be held at Harvard university, June 14.

Cornell University this year has new indoor tennis courts.

FROSH AND SOPHS TO RACE SATURDAY

Freshmen and Sophomore track men will meet in the gym annex Saturday at 2:30 o'clock to decide which shall lead on the cinder path.

The cross-country and track races held so far this fall have given the men of both classes a chance to find out their own speed and the speed of their opponents. Many old men are back on the sophomore squad.

The winners in this race will receive numerals.

Among the runners who will represent the sophomores, are Zillisch, Koehler, Brown, Olson, Schutt, Lister, Goers, and Lewis. Thompson, Oller, Shrader and Finley will compete in the shot put. N. V. Smith, Lith, Held, and G. J. Smith will enter in the 440 yard dash. Cassidy is listed for the 880.

The freshmen track men expected to enter are McGinnis, Schilke, Meissner, O'Neill, Frackleton, Bebe, Hardy, Shafer and Kubly. Eisele and Millman will compete in the sprints, Annis and Holmes in the 440, and Tobieson and Clasman in the hurdles.

BOXING PROGRAM TO START FRIDAY

Stress Scientific Boxing in Classes; Good Men Out For Practice

The winter's fistic program is well under way the announcement that open boxing practice will be held from 3:30 to 6:30 o'clock every Friday afternoon in the boxing room.

"We are trying to teach the art of self defense here not prize fighting," Ray Moor, in charge, said today.

Scientific boxing is stressed in all of the classes. The men are given 12 ounce gloves and are taught to hit effectively, rather than heavily. Speed and accuracy are the working points in all of the matches, which take place between men of equal weights. Merely fundamentals are taught at first with the more complicated points of ring generalship stressed later.

Two tournaments have been arranged to take place sometime in March. The first will be an inter-class affair, the winners in each weight to be given numerals. The second will be an all-university event with sweaters and numerals awarded.

Some exceptionally good men have signified their intention of going out for the sport this year. Mahtin, Medillo and Kojis, respective champions in last year's welterweight, inter class welterweight and light weight divisions are back for the workouts this year, who, with Stratford Corbett, nephew of Jim C. Corbett, former world's heavyweight champion, should form a strong corps of contenders in their class this year.

There are four regular half hour boxing classes a day, starting at 3:30 and lasting until 6:30 o'clock. All men interested in the sport are invited to come up to the boxing room Friday afternoon.

SENATE TO CONSIDER LEGISLATIVE CHANGES

Reports of committees elected at organization meeting of the senate occupied the greater portion of the time at the meeting of the body last night. A number of legislative changes were presented by the executive committee which will be acted upon soon, probably at a special meeting.

The constitution of a new fraternity, Chi Epsilon, was approved, and the group will be permitted to go ahead with its organization plans.

A new system of elections has been proposed for the senate's consideration, but action will be withheld pending recommendations which are expected to be made to the senate by the court when its investigation of the recent election is complete.

SECOND VARSITY AND FROSH GYM MEET SCHEDULED

Varsity Performers Getting in Condition For First Contest of Year

The second varsity-frosh gym meet will be held in the gym next Saturday at 2:30 and the varsity candidates are determined to show the yearlings that the first meet, which took place last Saturday and resulted in the frosh having a slight edge, was not typical of what the first string men can do.

The purpose of these meets is to get the varsity in condition for the first contest of the year with the Milwaukee Y. M. C. A. club. This meet will be held at Milwaukee December 15.

Many Men Out

Coach Schlatter has a great bunch of frosh out this year. They are working out daily and are all ready to make the first string men show all they have got. The varsity men go through the exercises prescribed by the Milwaukee club and Coach Schlatter promises that any man who does not know the exercises will not go to the meet at Milwaukee.

The freshmen rolled up a total of 577.5 points in the meet last Saturday against the varsity's 294.5, but the freshmen had the advantage of having two more men than the varsity had.

Following is a summary of individual points made in last Saturday's meet:

Freshmen—Huxley, 112; Naively, 107; Youngs, 98; Weiss, 91; Janssen, 86; Dale, 43.5; Thorson, 40.

Varsity—Schmidt, 71.5; Kreiger, 49; Wiegender, 72; Stevens, 62.5; Hienke, 39.5.

TEAMS CHOSEN IN WOMEN'S SPORTS

Championship Teams Do Not Supply Varsity With Most Players

With the close of the fall season, varsity teams have been announced in women's sports. The teams that won the championships, however, in no case supplied the varsity with the greatest number of their team-mates.

In hockey, for example, the junior champs can boast of only three varsity players, while the seniors who stood third put forth five. The sophos tied the juniors with three.

The line-up: Daisy Simpson '25, center; Janice Boardman '24, right inside; Martha Williamson '25, right wing; Margaret Callsen '24, left inside; Nina Faris '24, left wing; Grace Sherman '26, center half; Lorraine Mytum '26, right half; Edith Jorris '26, left half; Esther Bilstad '24, right full; "Tommy" Hellebrandt '24, left full; Dorothy Haskins '25, goal.

In swimming, the juniors, who splashed so vigorously against the victorious sophos for the championship, beat them in the number of varsity swimmers, claiming three against the sophos' one. The frosh are second, giving two, while the seniors, who dripped out of the tank with merely 55 points, tie with the sophos.

The team: "Jo" Snow '24, Lois Barry '25, Helen Robinson '25, Rhoda Koch '25, Elna Mygda '26, Miriam Wollaeger '27, Marcella Steele '27.

ESCHWEILER TO LEAD WATER BASKET TEAM

Paul Eschweiler was elected captain of the varsity waterbasketball team at a meeting of last year's team Wednesday.

Interest in this branch of swimming has been greatly increased with the probability of letter awards by the athletic council.

A meeting of the representatives of fraternities to participate in the interfraternity tournament has been called to be held at 7 o'clock Friday night in the trophy room. An entry fee of $5 will be paid at this time.

SCHOLARSHIP PLUS

It is never difficult to point out one group of individuals as students, in the real sense of the word, and another group as pure "activity persons" who place all sense of academic value subservient to empty honors. But to find a group of individuals who have maintained a fine sense of equilibrium and kept up a creditable standard of scholarship as well as a high position in recognized activities, is more difficult.

But when these individuals are found and their names are recorded, an honor is compiled which is assuredly a just reward. Something exceptional and rare and fine always should receive special recognition.

In this light, Phi Kappa Phi has elected a certain number of seniors to membership as a recognition for their service to school and themselves in these things. These seniors are those who have lived as well as learned in their school career. They are the men and women who from their present activity and ability have success ahead.

The fact that Phi Kappa Phi draws its material from all the reaches of college life is indicative of its high honor. These few chosen should feel proud and honored and take upon themselves an added responsibility because of this expression of confidence and reward for things already done.

JUST IN THE SWIM

The criticism has come time and again that the students of the University of Wisconsin who this year have taken an active stand against illicit drinking in the school have unduly exposed the institution to unfavorable publicity and sensationalism.

Regardless of the beneficent results of the stand or the detrimental injury, however, it is interesting to note that the university is not alone this year in its discussions of this question. Many of the eastern schools including Yale and Dartmouth have raised the issue and here in the west Illinois took a definite stand before their Homecoming.

The latest and most interesting case, however, which also brings with it a suggestion which might be applicable here comes from Brown University. Recent news dispatches indicate that a student from that college was suspended by the Inter-Fraternity council for selling liquor on the campus.

The interesting part of this communication is not the man who was suspended but the agent by which the action was taken.

Whether it is justifiable or not, the fraternities in questions of this sort always come in for a great deal of abuse and criticism as well as definite charges. Certain it is that the Inter-Fraternity council at Wisconsin has taken no united stand on the matter.

Couldn't something constructive be done, if the fraternity association here, which should be a powerful organization, would take action and would judge on all offenders as the Brown group did?

University groups on every hand are lining up in a definite expression of repression of booze in the university and among visiting alumni. Here's a job for the council.

A FURTHERABLE IDEA

Last year a woman on the university campus, whose fame and glory shall go down in the annals of the institution along with other persons who have used their originality and talent for the furthering of the Wisconsin idea, had a great idea when she instituted and sponsored a series of student dances during the Christmas holidays all over the country, the proceeds of which went to the Memorial Union.

While in actual money value, the venture in its first year netted no tremendous sum to the Union, it was a highly significant action because it marked the first spark of work and progress for the Memorial which was originated outside of the Memorial Union office.

One woman had an inspiration and she had the commendable devotion to see it through. Since that time the Memorial Union idea has caught fire and suggestions and enthusiasms are arising on all sides, both in and out of school.

But while there have been many expressions of enthusiasm this year, nothing has been said about a repetition of the holiday dance idea.

The idea, which merely provides that present students should organize a Wisconsin dance in their home town during the vacation and to give the proceeds to the Union, is too good a one to lose.

The student body appreciates the work done by this student and hopes that either she or some other person continue last year's good start.

CLASS ATTENDANCE

We are told that at Princeton undergraduates are no longer required to attend classes, their presence or absence being left entirely to their own discretion. Theoretically, the case is practically the same at Wisconsin. With the exception of classes before and after holidays, the student may cut as much as he pleases, providing only that if his cuts exceed a certain fixed percentage he is required to take a special additional examination at the end of the term. This latter provision is negligible, however, as anyone who can pass one final in a subject can just as easily pass two.

All this is theoretical, however. In actual practice, students quickly find that the cutting of classes is strictly discouraged by the faculty. Instructors do not hesitate to mark down their absences, as a penalty, presumably, for not availing themselves of the opportunity to be charmed by pedagogical disquisitions—and this without any regard to the student's knowledge of the subject involved. Their theory seems to be that anyone who does not attend classes cannot possibly know anything about the course, and they mark accordingly.

We do not object to this procedure, particularly, but if it is to be generally followed, it might as well be made official. Some students are still under the impression that they will be marked according to how much they know about the subjects they are taking, instead of according to the number of classes they attend.

NEEDED—ROUND-ROBIN SCHEDULES IN BIG TEN FOOTBALL

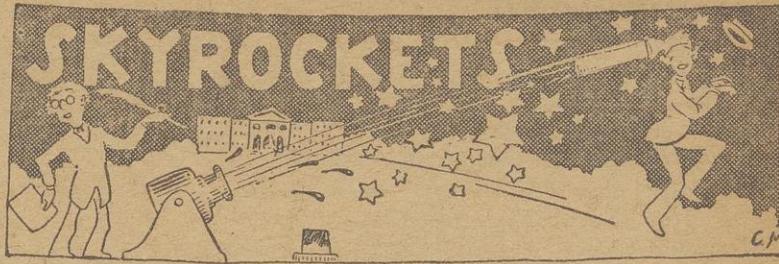

At a conference of Big Ten basketball coaches two years ago, the round-robin system of drawing up schedules was adopted, and all Big Ten basketball games last year were scheduled under this plan, which provides that each team will meet each other team every other year.

Big Ten Conference football today needs similar reforming. At every meeting of football coaches the last few years, there has been much wrangling over schedules for the next season. Many coaches try to get as attractive and still as easy games as they can for their teams. "Bill" Spaulding last year had difficulty in getting games, other teams evidently fearing the 1923 Gophers.

Universities that turn out poor teams two or three years in succession are usually in great demand. Practically every Big Ten football coach desires games with Purdue, Northwestern, and Indiana, and avoids, when possible, the scheduling of games with the stronger teams, such as Michigan, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Two years ago Minnesota was generally considered a "weak sister," and all Big Ten coaches were willing to put Minnesota on their schedules. Last year, however, with the advent of "Bill" Spaulding, Minnesota was feared by every team in the conference. This year she had one of the strongest Big Ten teams, yet one defeat was enough to put her out of the race for the conference title.

To do away with politics in making schedules, where championships are often not won by the very best teams, Big Ten football coaches, at their conference this year, should adopt the round-robin system of scheduling all future Big Ten gridiron contests. Minnesota Daily.

That the people must have the

He indicated, in his lecture on
"Oil and the Germs of War" under the auspices of the Wisconsin Social of oil fields between the Shell not the religious war we were led to believe it was.

"The United States," he said,

ST. JOHN'S CADETS TO DRILL AT BALL

Detachment From Delafield
Will Add Color to Military
Hop, Saturday

A military exhibit by a detachment of cadets from St. John's Military academy, will be one of the features to be introduced at the Military ball, Saturday night.

The detachment, commanded by their officers will come to Madison in full dress and give the exhibition of close order drilling and the manual of arms in the gymnasium at Lathrop hall, where the dance will be held.

Cadet Lieutenant-Colonel L. B. Rutte, a graduate of St. John's secured the permission of Col. R. F. Farrand, president of the Delafield academy, to bring the detachment to Madison. The cadet corps of St. Johns is rated among the best in military schools in the country for perfection of military tactics, and is one of the few to enjoy the ranking of distinguished service academies.

"Other features will be announced later," George Walsted, chairman of the features committee said last night. We are glad to have secured the St. Johns cadets. They will make an excellent showing."

Rugh Says Childs Aims Most Directly At China's Problem

That the University of Wisconsin through its representative Jack Childs, student secretary of educational work at Peking, China, is aiming more directly at the solution of China's problems than any other American university is the opinion of Arthur Pugh who has been doing student work in China for the past 20 years.

Mr. Rugh spoke to the faculty at luncheon Tuesday noon at the University club. While in the city he is the guest of F. O. Leiser, secretary of the City Y. M. C. A. and Frederick E. Wolf, secretary of the University Y. M. C. A.

"Mr. Childs promoted a Christian movement in Peking, and as a result has succeeded in bringing them into a strong union. For Wisconsin to send a man to take the leadership in China's educational problem in Peking is the most direct way to get at the solution of China's problem."

"Mr. Childs is making good and has the confidence of 17,000 Chinese students, but he ought to have a staff to work with him. One man can not attend to 55 colleges and high schools," said Mr. Rugh.

Mrs. Brown Explains Beauty of Japanese Wood Carving Art

"Every piece of a Japanese wood-block print is delicate hand work. That is why the best Sunday supplement can never equal a Japanese print," was the comment of Mrs. Lucy Fletcher Brown who spoke on the appreciation of this form of oriental art, in the exhibition room of the historical library yesterday afternoon.

"A Japanese print audience divides itself into two parts," Mrs. Brown observed, "those who know all about them and those who know nothing about them and don't want to."

Her advice for those who do not like them but want to learn to appreciate the prints is to relax, to forget the unusual faces, and to note the color as the chief beauty.

Mrs. Brown has lived in Japan for several years and was able to explain the process of making the prints, one of the most intricate arts known.

"Three artists are necessary to make one Japanese print," the speaker said. "One designs it, another engraves the design on a block of cherry wood, and a third prints it."

"The artist who does the designing sends his black and white drawing to the engraver who pastes it over the block of wood with rice paste and carves between the lines, making a sort of relief map."

"The printer covers the block with black ink, making a black and white drawing. The print then goes back to the designer who decides the colors it must have. The engraver again carves blocks of it, but this time there is a separate block for each piece of color. The printer covers each of the innumerable blocks with paints and the paper is pressed upon it, with varying degrees of pressure. All the various shadings of a print are made in this manner."

A collection of prints, a large number by Hiroshige, whom the lecturer described as one of the greatest landscape artists ever known, by Kunisada, Tsuchiyana, and several other of the older Japanese artists were on exhibition and illustrated the talk.

A number of Japanese stencils with lines artists of the Occident would call unbelievably fine and delicate were exhibited in connection with the lecture. Mrs. Brown explained that the valuable prints were considered of little worth by the Japanese and were the by-product of dye-houses who used them for designs on textiles.

LONDON QUARTET TICKETS ON SALE

Students With Fee Cards to Receive Special Rates

Tickets were placed on sale yesterday in the office of the School of Music for the concert of the London String quartet to be given at Music hall auditorium Wednesday night December 12 under the auspices of the School of Music.

Special rates are offered students upon presentation of fee cards. Only one ticket will be allowed for each fee card, which will be stamped to prevent further use.

The quartet played in Madison last March on its first extended tour of this country and Canada. It was received with such enthusiasm in all the large musical centers that a second tour was planned.

Such an enviable reputation was gained by the London quartet when they played in concert on the continent last year before coming here that the Columbia Phonograph company engaged them after their arrival here. Some of their most popular numbers have been recorded, such as "Londonderry Air" by Bridge, "Andantino" by Debussy, "Sally in Our Alley" by Bridge, and "Cherry Ripe" by Bridge.

$1,500 Cash Prizes Offered Students By Cereal Company

The Postum Cereal company is offering $1,500 in cash prizes for the best ads, written for college publications by any undergraduate college students in the United States, on the world famous cereal products—grape-nuts, post toasties and Post's bran flakes.

The awards will be: first prize $200; second prize, $125; third $75; and fourth, $50. In addition special prizes of $25 each will be given for the best ad received from each college.

The rules of the contests are:

Each student may submit any number of advertisements, but each ad should be confined to one product.

Ads may be all text or illustrated, as the individual student prefers.

Ads should be designed to fit a space five inches deep by two columns wide. Copy should be brief and to the point.

Advertisements must be mailed on or before January 15, 1924.

Each advertisement offered must be written on a separate sheet. Write name and address plainly on each advertisement submitted.

In the event of a tie for any prize, the full amount of the prize will be sent to each one tying. No advertisement will be returned.

It is not necessary to purchase Grape-Nuts, Post Toasties or Post's Bran Flakes.

The Postum Cereal Company will be the sole judges of the contest. Checks will be mailed to the winners February 15, 1924.

Further information concerning the contest may be had by consulting Harold Laskey '24, advertising manager of The Cardinal, or writing to the Intercollegiate Ad-Writing Contest department of the Postum Cereal company, Battle Creek, Mich.

EDUCATION VALUE IS $16.66 PER DAY

State Treasurer Compiles Statistics to Show Worth of Schooling

If you are thinking of quitting school in favor of carrying bricks, paving streets, working in a restaurant, or taking up some kind of work which will assure you three square meals a day, think again.

State Treasurer Solomon Levitan has figured it all out for you, and according to the statistics every boy and girl attending school is drawing down a principal salary. Every day is worth $16.66 to those getting the favorable marks on the blue books.

"The average day laborer earns about $900 a year," Mr. Levitan says. "The high school graduate earns an average of $1800 a year.

"In the ordinary span of 40 years, the graduate would earn $72,000. This represents an investment of 12 years of 180 days."

BOULDER, Colo.—Men of the University of Colorado here who bummed their way to the Utah game in Salt Lake City will form the Vagabond club on their return.

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—Fencing is being revived at Purdue university here. It is rated as a minor sport. Meets have been arranged with Illinois, Northwestern, Ohio State, and Chicago.

ORCHESTRA GIVES CONCERT SUNDAY

Edward Otis is Soloist at Season's First Musical Program

Edward N. Otis, '24, will be soloist with the university orchestra when the orchestra gives its annual first-semester public concert Sunday afternoon, December 16, in Music Hall. The concert will be open to the public without charge.

Major E. W. Murphy, director of the orchestra and of the bands will conduct the orchestra of 56 student musicians. Instrumenetation of the orchestra this year is of complete symphonic proportions, identical with that of the large symphony orchestras.

The program will include the overture to the Schubert opera "Rosamunde," the second movement from the Tschaikovsky symphony "Pathétique," and the entire "Siegfried Jorsalfar" suite, by Grieg.

Mr. Otis will sing two songs in English, "Pleading," by Elgar, and Chadwick's "Bedouin Love Song." He is a baritone singer, a student in the voice department of the school of music, and a senior in the college of engineering.

PROGRESSIVE MEN FORM CAMPUS CLUB

New Organization Will Hear Blaine's Secretary at Capital Tuesday

Cardinal editorials, asking for greater student interest in modern political and economic affairs, were responsible for the organization of the Young Men's Progressive association of Wisconsin.

The modern student, it has been said, cares little for the affairs of the campus. He allows no time for the newspaper or current periodical. He knows few things about his state government.

The approaching political campaign has focused attention on Wisconsin and its representatives. The last session of the legislature was watched by all newspapers of worth throughout the country. Following the close of the session these newspapers tried to summarize the most important event, but the yfailed to hit the high spots, for the latter were secrets kept close in the governor's office.

The secrets will come out of the bag on Tuesday evening, when Frank Kuehl, prominent graduate of the law school, and private secretary of Governor Blaine will address the young progressives in the Capitol. His subject will be "The Relation of the Governor to the Last Legislature." Arrangements are in charge of Phil Gault '25.

CLEF CLUB PROBATION MEMBERS GIVE PROGRAM

The new probation members of the Clef club will present a program tonight in Music Hall on MacDowell, the American composer. Miss Grace Plumlee will play "To a Wild Rose" and "To a Water Lily" on the piano. Miss Goldine Sterling will give an account of MacDowell's life. Miss Lucille Scott will play one of his compositions on the violin, and Miss Helen Brodd will give "To an Indian Lodge." Not all the selections have been made, as yet, according to Miss Anna Margaret Clifford, chairman of the new probation members.

BETHEL Y. P. S.

Misses Elsie and Lila Eken will entertain the Young People's society of Bethel Lutheran church tonight at 7:45 o'clock in the church parlors, North Hamilton and Johnson streets. Arthur Gulson will entertain with a cornet solo.

Dean Lucy M. Van Cott was selected as the most beautiful woman of the University of Utah campus when male members of the school cast their ballots in a beauty contest just closed. She is the dean of women and won by a large plurality.

An Ohio State Alumni club was recently organized at Harvard by some thirty alumni of that university now enrolled in school. The club is strictly social.

The Y. W. C. A. at the University of Kansas plans to send a Christmas box to sixty students at the Arizona Indian school.
